Shivers Asks Morrow To Resign Dem Post

Committeeman Vows To Fight For Position

HOUSTON, June 25 — UP — Wright Morrow, Houston attorney and the unrecognized Democratic national committeeman from Texas, disclosed Saturday night that Gov. Allan Shivers has asked him to resign.

Texas Democratic Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin of Austin joined Shivers in urging his resignation, Morrow said. He made the disclosure in a formal statement and indicated he would fight to retain the post.

Ike Wants Quick Hoover Decision

WASHINGTON, June 25 — UP — The citizens committee for the Hoover report disclosed Saturday that President Eisenhower has ordered "early and vigorous" action to carry out most of the Hoover commission recommendations for improving the government.

Bears Out Earlier Hint

He accused Shivers of deserting his principles for the sake of appeasing national Democratic party leaders. But his statement would bear out what Shivers said earlier this week at a press conference in Austin.

The governor said then that Texas is entitled to have someone who can work with the national committee and who is friendly with the committee workers. He made no reference to Morrow at that time.

Attempt to Mend Fences

Butler made a flying tour of Texas only last week in an effort to mend party fences in Texas and bring the state back into the Democratic fold.

'Right to Elect'

"I have consistently taken the position that Texas Democrats or the Democrats of any state have the right to elect their national committeeman without dictation or interference from Washington or anybody," Morrow said in his statement.

"I have always felt that it is not necessary to appease any of the big names of the state."

"Gov. Shivers took a fortnight position in 1952 and all the members of my family supported that position with all the vigor and strength at our command."

Gas Bill Decision Up To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, June 25 — UP — President Eisenhower Saturday appeared to hold the key to whether the House will pass a bill exempting independent natural gas producers from federal price controls.

Informed sources told the United Press that if the President throws the full weight of his influence behind the measure it may stand a fair chance of passage. But if he remains silent, the bill is in serious trouble, with passage—at least at the present time—extremely doubtful.

Democratic supporters of the bill led by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, are reported to have decided to delay floor action on the legislation to give the administration time to muster strength for it.

A delay, even until next year, was not ruled out as a possibility.

Gets Bare Approval

The measure was approved by the House Interstate Commerce committee on June 8 by vote of 16-15. While it would exempt producers from price-fixing jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission, the commission would have the right to review new sales contracts between producers and pipeline companies and contracts which provide for automatic mark ups in prices to consumers.

Chairman J. Percy Priest (D-Tenn.) told newsmen the close vote indicated the bill is in for serious trouble on the floor.

The opposition cuts across party lines, with Democrats and Republicans from gas consuming northern cities overwhelming against the measure. They fear their constituents will have to pay millions

Then the floor collapsed, plunging 50 bidders eight feet into the cellar.

U.S. Has Plans For Formosa

Decide To Make It Major Defense Link

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 25 — UP — The United States has laid down a long-range plan designed to make Formosa a formidable link in the Western defense chain, it was disclosed Saturday.

American sources said that the plan calls for an expenditure of about $300 million a year over a long period to keep this Nationalist Chinese island out of Communist hands.

Direct military aid is expected to total $200 million.

Points Listed

The principal points in the United States plan are:

1. To keep 23 Chinese Nationalist regular Army divisions at full strength and in top combat condition. In addition, a crack Chinese Marine division and several reserve divisions would receive United States support.

2. To build up a Chinese Nationalist air force of eight wings of jet fighter and fighter bomber planes. A wing consists of about 75 planes.

3. To give the Nationalist Navy two additional destroyers and a number of landing craft and patrol boats. Nationalist sources say this would bring the Navy strength to four destroyers, five destroyer escorts, more than 30 gunboats and a fleet of auxiliary ships.

U. S. Group Strengthened

It is planned to bring the strength of the United States military assistance advisory group on Formosa to 1,700 officers and men. Officers of this group will be sent to even the lowest units levels to supervise training and re-equipping of Nationalist troops.

Under the plan, the United States Seventh Fleet would continue to guarantee Formosa against Communist invasion for "years to come," informants said. They emphasized that the long-range plan depends a great deal upon the situation in the Formosa Strait. Things are quiet now. But renewed Chinese Red threats to "liberate" Formosa or an attack on the Quemoy or Matsu Island groups might necessitate greatly increased aid.

Bond Petition Report Called

Paul Crossman announced Saturday that he would call for reports from all Gray County Committee petition canvassers by June 30 on the hospital bond issue. A tabulation of signatures is expected around July 3, preceding the final drive of the committee.

To date over 300 names have been turned in by workers, out of a total of 700 required to call the $300,000 bond expansion program for Highland General Hospital.

Vinson Confident House Will Pass Ike's Military Bill

WASHINGTON, June 25 — UP — Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) confidently predicted Saturday that the House will pass a compromise version of President Eisenhower's Compulsory Military Reserve bill despite threats of a new row over racial segregation.

Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services committee which will vote on the measure Tuesday, said the committee will approve it.

"The measure would compel every man who goes into military service to spend a combined total of at least five years on active duty and in the ready reserve. That would mean a draftee would spend two years on active duty and three in the ready reserve."

It would also inaugurate a new six months training plan for draft-age youths, followed by 7-12 years in the ready reserve.

The administration's previous bill was shelved by the House after the chamber adopted amendments by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-

Attack On Plane Feared Deliberate

Several other members of Congress voiced fear that this latest incident may seriously affect the Big Four meeting to be held in Geneva next month.

Reply Awaited

State Department officials gravely awaited a reply from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to an American protest. Some diplomats said that if the reply is conciliatory—not the usual countercharges which Russia has lodged in the past—the incident may raise no menace to the Big Four meeting.

Gift-Laden Ike Ends Holiday

By MERRIMAN SMITH

PARMACHENESE LAKE, Maine, June 25 — UP — President Eisenhower ended a three-day visit to New Hampshire Saturday with a promise to return again as soon as he leaves the White House—but he did not say when that would be.

The President sent that message to the residents of New Hampshire and then drove into the rugged Maine woods for a weekend of fishing and relaxation.

Mr. Eisenhower has been keeping people guessing for some time about his future political plans. On Thursday, in Concord, N. H., he made veiled hints that he might possibly run for a second term.

But he referred to a possible job change Saturday in a broad-but-brief statement to every citizen who turned out to see him on his tour of New Hampshire.

Hospitality is Touching

He said he had been "impressed by the obvious hospitality and a cordial welcome that has touched my heart."

And he promised to return to New Hampshire again—"as soon as I am in another kind of livelihood than I now enjoy."

The President made his final New Hampshire speech to an enthusiastic audience in Berlin. He thanked the state for the many gifts it had heaped upon him and jokingly observed that only one present had been forgotten.

"They should have provided a truck to carry them away," he said.

On his way to this private fishing lake near the Canadian border, Mr. Eisenhower paused in New Hampshire's north woods "Christmas tree country" to watch a demonstration of the latest lumbering techniques.

Gray Farmers OK Quotas, 178 To 47

Gray County wheat farmers voted 178 to 47 Saturday in favor of marketing quotas for the 1956 crop of wheat.

Mrs. J. V. Young, chief clerk in the Gray County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, announced the official tabulation late Saturday.

Farmers all over the nation went to the polls in a nationwide wheat referendum. If quotas are approved by two-thirds majority of the farmers over the nation, wheat producers who stay within their wheat allotments will be eligible for full price support. Farmers who exceed their wheat allotments will not be eligible for price support and will also be subject to penalty determined at 45 per cent of the wheat parity price on May 1, 1956.

If quotas are disapproved by more than one-third of the farmers over the nation, producers who seed within their wheat allotments will be eligible for price support at 50 per cent parity. Farmers who exceed their wheat allotments will not be eligible for price support and also will not be subject to penalty.

Wheat allotments will be in effect for 1956 regardless of whether marketing quotas are approved or disapproved.

Polling places for Gray County farmers were Grandview, which voted 59 for and 3 against; Laketon, 15 for and 28 against; Pampa, 87 for and 16 against; and McLean, 17 for and none against.

U.S. Wheat Farmers Vote For Quotas

CHICAGO, June 25 — UP — The nation's wheat farmers apparently voted by a slim margin to accept government marketing quotas on their 1956 crops, first returns in Saturday's nationwide referendum indicated.

Kansas, the nation's largest producer, voted 36,473 for controls with 13,141 against. The yes vote totaled 73.5 per cent with just two precincts missing.

With 11 of the 36 states in which farmers voted reporting, the vote was 48,004 in favor of controls with 19,785 against, roughly 70 per cent approving quotas.

Smaller wheat-producing states which would be expected to vote against controls, such as Georgia, Delaware, and South Carolina voted for quotas.

Rejection of controls could lead to unrestricted wheat production in 1956, adding to an already huge surplus.

Teen-Agers Arrested In Murder Case

NEW YORK, June 25 — UP — A pint-sized teen-aged hoodlum who calls himself "Caesar" was picked up Saturday as the suspected "lord high executioner" of a juvenile "Murder, Inc.," which assassinated a member of a rival mob in a feud over a 14-year-old girl named Carmen.

Police tracked down and arrested curly-haired, five-foot-tall Victor Louis Diaz, 19, in his family's third floor Third Avenue tenement.

After hours of questioning, Diaz was reported to have become cooperative and took police on a tour of his East Harlem haunts.

The youth was picked up on a tip from some of the members of his "Dragon" gang who allegedly were involved in the botched slaying of Carlos Louis Feliciano, 17.

Carlos was killed Thursday night with a single shot from a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle as he stacked groceries on the shelves of a store where he worked. Police said Feliciano, a member of the "Viceroys" gang, was killed in revenge for his knife attack on a "Dragon" in a school-ground fight over Carmen.

It was Carmen, according to police, who carried the gun and handed it to the youth who shot down Feliciano.

Under arrest in addition to Diaz were Florentino (Hammerhead) Vallerin, 17; Louis (Dillinger) Esimirez, 16; Angelo (Apache) Dalmau, 15; Emanuel (No-No) Granna, 17, and the girl, Carmen Machuca.

Hit Plans For Atom Ship

WASHINGTON, June 25 — UP — Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the Navy's top atomic expert, warned in testimony released Saturday that building President Eisenhower's proposed "around-the-world" peace ship would delay the Navy's own nuclear ship program.

At the same time, members of the Atomic Energy Commission insisted "we are not going to build this ship at the expense of submarines or the airplane or any of the military programs."

The various views were given at a recent secret hearing before a subcommittee of the Senate House Atomic Energy committee. The heavily censored testimony was made public Saturday.

Rickover, developer of the atomic submarine Nautilus and controversial enthusiast for military use of nuclear energy, pleaded against being required to comment on the President's proposal to build an atomic peace ship and send it on a world good-will tour.

Pullman Service Returns To City

A communication was recently received from the Santa Fe Railroad in the Chamber of Commerce office announcing that pullman service out of Amarillo will start through Pampa effective tomorrow, on trains 3 and 4 of the Grand Canyon line.

E. Kencher, the freight and passenger agent in Amarillo, made the announcement. According to Red Wedgworth, the Chamber of Commerce had been trying to arrange this service for several weeks since it was last discontinued.

Humphrey Speaks

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told young Lutherans Friday night that "the principles of right and justice can come into the world only out of the hearts and actions of people like you."

The Minnesota Democrat, in town for the United Nations commemorative session, made a surprise appearance at the biennial convention of the Young Peoples Luther League and received an overwhelming ovation.

Steelworkers Ask Pay Hike

PITTSBURGH, June 25 — UP — The CIO United Steelworkers told giant U. S. Steel Corp. Saturday it must make a hefty increase in its original wage settlement offer to head off a possible industry strike of 600,000 workers next week.

John A. Stephens, vice president and chief negotiator for the nation's top steel producer, was understood to have stood firm on a proposal boosted down by union negotiators two days ago. The company offered wage boosts averaging more than 10 cents an hour.

Stephens and USW President David J. McDonald talked secretly for two hours Saturday in their first face-to-face discussion since Thursday night when the company offered a flat across-the-board wage increase of 6 1/2 cents an hour. The rejected offer also provided for 1-2 cent increases in 32 job classification rates giving the proposal a top range of 22 cents an hour.

FREAK OF NATURE

The only other animal of this type, as far as S. V. Whitehorn could determine, was shown at the Texas Centennial in Dallas in 1936. The animal above is owned by A. L. Bowers, a rancher in Hemphill County, and is ridden by his son, Guy. The scene of a colt nursing is not uncommon but a colt nursing a mule is. The mother of the colt is a cross between a paint stallion and a female donkey. The colt was sired by a shetland pony. (See Panhandle Outdo or Life, page 11, for story.)

New Hangar Rites Set

Plans are complete for the Fly-In Breakfast and open house of the new hangar at Perry LeFors Field next Sunday, July 3.
The National Guard will set up a field kitchen to serve breakfast from 8:30-9:30 a. m. A brief program will follow with Ed Myatt acting as the master of ceremonies.
Between 50 and 60 planes are expected to arrive in town for the informal occasion. The public is invited, and invitations have been sent out to aviation enthusiasts within a 200 mile radius. A charge of .50 per person will be made for the breakfast.
Col. J. B. Buck, Commanding Officer of Clovis Air Force Base, announced last week that four F-86-H jet aircraft will fly over the field at 9:15 a. m. Sunday.

Body Of Assault Victim Found In River In Georgia

ROME, Ga., June 25-UP-The trussed up body of pretty 14-year-old Patricia Ann Cook was found in a river Saturday after a paroled ex-convict who confessed raping and killing the girl directed searchers to the spot.
The finding of the girl's body in the Etowah River near Cartersville, Ga., climaxed an exhaustive hunt of almost two days which was touched off by the admission of Willie Gray Cochran, 37-year-old sawmill worker, that he murdered the teen-ager.

but police traced Cochran after a rural store operator reported a man resembling Cochran bought soft drinks for himself and an apparently frightened girl.

17 Tornado Warning Sites Planned

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., June 25-UP-Seventeen tornado warning stations have been set up or authorized in Texas, the second annual Texas tornado conference was told Saturday.
Federal, state and local officials gathered for the conference, held at Texas A&M College.

The state defense and disaster relief office said the stations are manned on a 24 hour a day basis by U. S. Weather Bureau personnel, and warnings are passed on to the Department of Public Safety.
William L. McGill, state coordinator of defense and disaster relief, spoke at the conference. Other speakers included Dr. Francis Reichelderfer, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau.
Erle L. Hardy, regional director of the U. S. Weather Bureau, pushed the button which placed the radar set in operation.
"It is a historical fact that something good comes from every invention of man," Hardy said. "The Texas tornado warning network has passed the trial stage and it is appropriate that A&M be the site of this dedication ceremony."
Also taking part in the ceremony were Mayor O. B. Robertson of Waco; J. P. Abbott, dean of Texas A&M; and the Rev. Norman Anderson, who gave the invocation.
At a luncheon which ended the two-day meeting, Capt. H. T. Orville, USN (ret.), suggested the network be considered a memorial to all the people of Texas "who have lost their lives in these destructive storms."
Orville said the "damaging effects of high winds on various types of buildings indicate a need for tightening building code regulations in many states."

After several hours of wading through the swirling waters, guardsmen found the girl's body still clad in the bathing suit in which she disappeared five days ago.
A quilt was wrapped around the body and heavy chains and a monkey wrench weighted it down.
Cochran admitted after prolonged questioning Friday that he lured the blonde, blue-eyed girl from her home here Monday after he saw her sun-bathing in the backyard.
He told police he persuaded the girl to get into his truck with a promise to take her swimming. Instead, he said, he drove her to an old sawmill road near a logging camp, attacked, then killed her.
The child's parents were working at the time she disappeared.

The second mishap occurred on 200 N. Frost at 11:45 a. m. Friday. Joe E. Borden of Miami, driving a '48 Chevrolet, was in collision with the parked '50 Studebaker of Guy Harris, 1333 Christine. Both parties encountered minor damages.

The third collision took place on 200 E. Francis and E. Ballard at 12:10 p. m. Friday. Otis E. Watson, in a '53 Ford, encountered damages estimated at $75. George R. Bagley from White Deer, driving a '42 Chevrolet met with no damage.

The final mishap on Alcock, 75 feet east of Wells, took place at 5 p. m. Friday. Milford L. Robinson, 520 N. Perry, in a '53 Plymouth, was in collision with the parked car of David W. Parker, a '50 Chevrolet. Damages were estimated at $200 for both parties.

Molotov 'Regrets' Downing Of Plane

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25-UP-Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Saturday told U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the Soviet government regretted the forcing down of a Navy Neptune bomber over St. Lawrence Island June 22, and offered to pay 50 per cent of the damages.

In a statement released following a hurried arranged meeting between Dulles and Molotov late Saturday, Dulles stated that "while he accepted with satisfaction the Soviet government's expression of regret, the offer as a whole fell short of what he had expected of the Soviet government in light of the information received."

Dulles immediately contacted President Eisenhower and planned to confer with the chief executive in Washington Monday on the matter.

The State Department release said that the Soviet government asserted that the Neptune was over Soviet waters when it was forced down in the Bering Straits last Wednesday. However, the statement continued, the Russians admitted that atmospheric conditions "made possible an error on one side or another in regard to the exact position of the plane at the moment of the incident."

Took Call While Swimming
The secretary had just finished a swim at the home of the Marquis de la Pina in Rutherford, Calif., when he received a telephone message that Molotov wanted to confer with him. The secretary returned to his suite in the Mark Hopkins hotel by California highway patrol squad car.

Convening in the 25 minutes conference were Dulles, Charles E. Bohlen, U. S. ambassador to Russia, Molotov, Russian Ambassador to the U. S. George Zarubin, and an interpreter.

The meeting adjourned at 3:25 p. m. Molotov and his party sped across the San Francisco Bay bridge to Oakland where they caught the 8 o'clock Pacific streamliner, the City of San Francisco. The train, scheduled to depart at 6 p. m., was held for the Soviet foreign minister's arrival and left seven minutes late. Molotov will journey to New York and then will depart for Moscow.

Achieve 'Positive Results'
At a press conference earlier Saturday, Molotov said he felt the United Nations meetings this week achieved "positive results."

County Funds For Park Opposed

PERRYTON — (Special) — The "No" to a question put by County Ombudsman Judge H. R. Slaughter, "If the people of the county voted a putting county funds into the Wolf Creek Dam project, thus stopping any immediate plans for a bond election to rebuild the recreation and fishing center. The engineer's estimate on rebuilding the dam was $240,000. Under the law, only a 10 cent levy can be made for a park or recreation center such as the one proposed, and a bond issue of $150,000 is about all that can be voted and retired in 25 years. Larger issues cannot be handled by bonding companies. In 1954, Americans spent an unprecedented 234 billion dollars for goods and services.

INDIAN PUEBLOS — In Taos, N.M. is the largest of the 18 Indian pueblos in New Mexico. These Indian sections and Taos' famed art colony are main attractions of the colorful vacation spot.

Vacation Spots Of The Southwest: I

Pueblos, Art Colony Lure Tourists To Taos, N. M.

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Sacred Mountain, or Pueblo Peak, looks down on the largest and oldest of New Mexico's 18 Indian Pueblos. Taos Pueblo dates back to at least the year 1,000 and Pueblo Indians were living in these apartment type dwellings 800 years before anything comparable was built in Europe.

In the uprising that followed the arrival of Alvarado, a Spanish explorer, the pueblo was burned and the Indians fled to the nearby mountains. About a year later, Onate and three Catholic Priests arrived and successfully induced the Indians to return and rebuild the present Pueblos.

Today the two adobe structures, one four story, and the other five are built on a plain surrounded by a quaint little Indian village. At night the Indians stand on both sides of the Pueblo creek, the men on one side and the women on the other, to chant ancient songs. Few whites have ever witnessed this traditional ceremony.

New Mexican author. This is the place where people from many lands and cultures have chosen for their home; a place so remote that the closest railroad is 70 miles away; a place that is constantly thronged with artists, writers, and tourists.

The Taos Indian is friendly, industrious, and proud; he excels in farming, bead work, pottery, and blanket weaving. Many of them are becoming well known through their art works and crafts, notable silk screen prints and hand woven blankets.

The Indian woman's dress is colorful. Her boots are snow white and made of soft buckskin, they are high with four folds at the top. Her dress is usually a full skirt, often with a colorful Indian motif and the blouse is usually an Indian print. The men wear blankets in winter, over the head and face. In the summer, a sheet is usually worn around the waist.

The Taos Indian clings to his old traditions, dances and ceremonies which are the same today as they were 500 years ago.

events for the remainder of the tourist's season.

AUGUST — (10) Feast Day of San Lorenzo (St. Lawrence), Picturis Pueblo (28 miles from Taos). Summer Corn Dance, Annual Fiesta and Dance, Pecos.

SEPTEMBER — (28-30) San Gerónimo Fiesta. (Indian celebration of patron saint begins with sundown dance on the 29th and ends with greased-pole climbing on the 30th.) Village Fiesta of San Gerónimo. (30) Fire Dance by Taos Indians in the Village.

OCTOBER — (3) San Francisco Day, Ranchos de Taos Fiesta. Procession.

From June 1 to September 1 — Taos Indian dances in the town Plaza every Monday and Friday night; Spanish Colonial folk dances on Wednesday nights.

Indian Revolts

It's hard to imagine that in the quiet kivas of the Pueblo, Pope plotted the Pueblo Revolt of 1680 that drove the Spaniards from the land for 13 years. In 1837 Taos figured in another revolt. Egged on by certain rícos, a band of Indians and whites set out for Santa Fe. They chopped off the Mexican governor's head, and put Jose Gonzales, a Taos Indian, in the governor's chair for a brief period. Taos has played an important role in every Indian revolt that has taken place in New Mexico.

Taos Today

"There are places so deeply steeped with the spirit of the past that change can touch them only lightly — such a place is Taos," according to Harvey Fergusonson,

Five Given Prison Terms

Five men received sentences from District Judge Lewis Goodrich Friday afternoon. All pleaded guilty.

Bobby Glen Hudson and Harold Ray White of Berger pleaded guilty to burglary charges and each received a two-year sentence. Hudson was indicted by Hutchinson County Grand Jury and will be subject to another trial.

Robert Gerald Early, on probation from Michigan, charged with burglary and sentenced to two years with credit for two months spent in the county jail.

Ford Gaston Walker, on probation from California, was charged with forgery and passing of checks and was sentenced to two years.

James Luther Watson, Jr., received a two-year suspended sentence for his second DWI offense.

Crosby Clan All Musical

It seems the entire Bob Crosby clan is destined to carry on the musical tradition of the Crosby family.

Cathy, Bob's oldest daughter, is making her debut as a singer this summer on her dad's afternoon "Bob Crosby Show" (CBS-TV Mon-Fri 3:30 p.m. NYCT). Bob's oldest son, Chris, plays the bugle at Harvard Military School, while Bobby is a drummer at St. Catherine's School. The youngest son, Steve, is a gifted piano player.

Junie-Malea, youngest of the clan, has a love for dancing which proves to papa that she too has the Crosby rhythm in her soul.

Art Center of Southwest

First and foremost, Taos is famous as an art center, being the only important art colony in the Southwest. Paintings, prints, drawings, and water-colors are in evidence all over town — in hotels, restaurants, shops, private homes, and, of course, the five outstanding art galleries. The Blue Door is the oldest of the galleries, and shows the work of Taos artists along with old masters. The Harwood Foundation, art school branch of the University of New Mexico, shows works by various outstanding New Mexico artists. La Galeria Escondida specializes in modern paintings and sculpture, located just off the old Plaza, it always offers an impressive showing. Other galleries include: La Fonda Hotel, Taos Inn, and Taos Artists' Association Gallery and Historical Museum.

Taos artists that have won renown throughout the country are: Bert G. Phillips, J. H. Sharp, Emil Biaztram, Louis Ribak, Tom Benrime, Charles Adams (University of New Mexico), Dorothy Brett, and Georgia O'Keefe (who has painted the Taos scene). Many more, representing all schools, are well known, including several Pueblo dwellers.

There are writers in Taos, too, although not as numerous as the artists. Probably the best known are Mable Dodge Luhan ("Taos and Its Artists") and Frank Waters.

Three Towns in One

Actually Taos is three towns in one: Don Fernando de Taos, the main village of about 2,000 people; Ranchos de Taos, three miles to the south; and San Gerónimo de Taos, better known as the Pueblo, where several hundred Indians live.

The most interesting sight in the village of Ranchos de Taos is the Mission Church of St. Francis of Assisi, claimed to be the oldest unreconstructed church in America. It is probably the most photographed, most painted church in the country. Viewed from the back, the church has the appearance of crooked walls, beams, and towers; there is not a straight line to be seen. Inside is a painting of Christ done by Henri Aulif, a Canadian artist, in 1896. The painting is unique in that at night it is luminescent, outlining the figure, with the shadow of a cross mysteriously appearing behind. Though many have tried, scientists have been unable to discover the secret of the luminescence.

The Taos Chamber of Commerce puts out an informative folder. From it are taken the calendar of

North Plains Fair Program Announced

PERRYTON — (Special) — The program for the North Plains Fair was set up at a Tuesday night meeting of the executive committee of the North Plains Fair Association, and other plans for the Fifth Annual fair to be held August 18-20.

Arrangements are being made for an exhibition by the famous Koshare Indians of La Junta, Colo. If they can be secured this event will take place Wednesday.

Judging opens Tuesday, Aug. 18, for all entries except flowers, swine, beef cattle, and poultry.

The entertainment begins Thursday night with the Kid Pony Show. On Friday, there will be a baseball game, rodeo, and square dance.

The program for Saturday, biggest day of the fair, includes the parade, Old Timers Reunion, student reunion, jackpot roping and cutting horse contest, midget auto races, Wheatheart contest and a dance.

The "Miss Perryton" contest will be held a week before the fair. Concessions will be let by bid, plus 25 per cent of the gross, as has been done for the past two years. Dates for submitting bids for concessions is July 1-16.

Commercial exhibit space will be reserved first for those firms who had space last year. No automobiles or machinery will be placed inside the building this year.

Narrow strips of material, cut with pink shears, make attractive hair bows to match children's dresses.

Zoologists are agreed that there is only one species of lion existing at the present time, whether found in Africa or Asia.

The ancient Egyptians belonged to the Hamitic race, which takes its name from Ham, the second son of Noah.

The world's largest non-citrus fruit market area is located around Benton Harbor, Mich.

Perryton Boy Enroute To Iran

PERRYTON — (Special) — Cecil Regier of Perryton left Quebec, Canada, Saturday, June 18, via the S.S. Arosa Star, en route to Iran where he will live and work with farm families as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate. He is scheduled to return to the United States in November.

Cecil, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Regier, is one of a group of 20 IPYE delegates leaving the same date to visit rural families in nine countries. A total of 76 "Grass Roots Ambassadors" will leave the U. S. in four groups this month bound for 26 countries in Europe, the Near and Middle East, Latin America, and the Pacific. They represent 32 states.

The Perryton Lions Club put up $700 to sponsor Cecil's visit to Iran. This sum represented about half the cost.

Regier attended an orientation program in Washington, D.C. before leaving the United States. The program included discussions on subjects such as understanding people, world agriculture, trade, and U. S. Foreign policy.

Perryton Man Is New Citizen

PERRYTON — (Special) — Lore Srof of Perryton, was among 12 people who received American citizenship in a ceremony held in Amarillo recently. He has lived in the United States five and a half years.

Srof is a native of Hungary. Srof was a prisoner of the Nazis in a German prison camp and then spent a year in a detention camp of the U.S. Army, finally being released in August 1946.

While in this camp, he became friends with an American soldier, Max Blasdel of Freedom, Okla. It was Blasdel who made arrangements for Srof to come to America in September, 1949. He came to Perryton in 1950.

Srof learned the butcher trade in his native land, and he still follows that trade, being associated with Dean Bennett and Mart Wagner in the B&W Meat Co. Bennett taught Srof most of the English he knows.

WIN SCHOLARSHIPS -- James Ayres, 923 E. Browning, and Donna Franklin, west of Pampa, were awarded scholarships by the Cabot Committee at the June 18 meeting in Dallas. James plans to attend Texas Tech and Donna will go to McMurry this Fall.

Cabot Scholarships Announced For '55

James Ayres and Donna Franklin were awarded scholarships by the Cabot Scholarship Committee, of the Southwestern Division, at the annual meeting held at Southern Methodist University in Dallas on June 18.

Both graduated from Pampa High School this Spring. James Ayres, 18, 923 E. Browning, plans to study mechanical engineering at Texas Tech next Fall. Donna Franklin, 18, west of Pampa, plans to study pharmacy at McMurry College in Abilene next September. The four-year scholarship is awarded to sons and daughters of the Cabot organization employees selected by the Committee on the basis of their scholastic record, character, and leadership.

This year the scholarship committee was made up of representatives from the University of Texas, University of Oklahoma, Southern Methodist University, and Louisiana State University. Applicants are selected from Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, and Texas.

Charles McCray and Julia Ann Bradford were awarded vacancy scholarships, due to the termination of students attending college on a previous company scholarship. McCray will be a Junior next year at John Tarleton, Bradford will be a Senior at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla. Several local students received renewals.

Other winners in this division were: Joycelyn Pitre of Ville Platte, La., and Glen Pursell and Larry Franks of Kermit.

The Good And Bad Of Week's News

By CHARLES M. McCANN

United Press Foreign Analyst

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Good News

1. President Eisenhower reaffirmed the "unswerving loyalty" and "tireless support" of the United States to the ideals on which the United Nations organization was founded. Addressing the 10th anniversary meeting of the UN in San Francisco, the President asked that the second 10 years of the world organization be dedicated to a search for a new kind of peace — one in which "the world will think anew and act anew." The basis for success in the approaching Big Four conference of heads of government, he said, is "that every individual at that meeting be loyal to the spirit of the UN and dedicated to the principles of its charter."

2. The foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain and France presented to Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, also in San Francisco, their ideas on the way the Big Four conference should be conducted. The main purpose of the meeting, they said, should be to create an atmosphere which might help to reduce world tensions rather than aim at specific agreements. The meeting opens in Geneva, Switzerland, July 18.

3. Officials of the stevedores union called a series of mass meetings in an attempt to induce British dock workers to end a five-week strike. The strike had been even more costly than the recently ended British railroad strike. At the same time the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth sailed for New York with a full crew and it was hoped that a seamen's strike which kept seven other Cunard liners in port at the height of the American tourist season might be ended.

Bad News

1. Pro-American, anti-Communist Premier Mario Scelba of Italy was thrown out of office by enemies in his own Christian Democratic party. In Italy, as in France, there are numerous political parties. The Christian Democrats, holding a majority in the chamber of deputies, must depend upon the support of other parties to stay in office. Dispatches from Rome said that as the result of Scelba's downfall Italy might be faced by a series of cabinet crises until elections are held next year.

2. "Neutralist" Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India ended a 15-day visit to the Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin which closely coupled Indian and Russian policies. Nehru and Bulganin expressed the "earnest hope" that "it will be possible by peaceful means to satisfy the legitimate rights" of Red China to Formosa. This would mean surrendering Formosa to the Reds.

3. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, speaking at the UN anniversary meeting in San Francisco, was sharply critical of the United States and its allies. The meeting was supposed to be strictly non-controversial. Molotov's tone did not raise hopes for the success of the Big Four conference. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, annoyed by the speech made if known that he would reply to it Friday.

880,000 Canadians Vaccinated
TORONTO — Anti-Polio vaccinations have been given to 880,000 children in Canada and only two known cases of polio have occurred among them, Health Minister Paul Martin said Thursday.

Water Safety Program At Capacity

The water safety program sponsored by the Red Cross in cooperation with the city recreation program has reached a peak capacity, according to Red Cross Director, Mrs. Libby Shotwell.

Instructors are asking that no more children be admitted to the classes, and mothers are urged to bring their children at the appointed time. It is recommended that the children wear swim suits prior to entering the pool area and that each one bring his own towel. The city recommends showers before entering the pool.

The schedule for next week is as follows:
Monday - Wednesday - Friday, high school group swim.
Tuesday-Thursday, high school group will play at the high school field house.
Monday - Wednesday - Friday,

Baker school group swim.
Tuesday - Friday, Baker group will play at the Baker gym.
Monday - Wednesday - Friday, housewives class.
A meeting of all the aides will be held at 8:40 a.m. Monday.
Red Cross instructors in charge of the program are: John Darby,

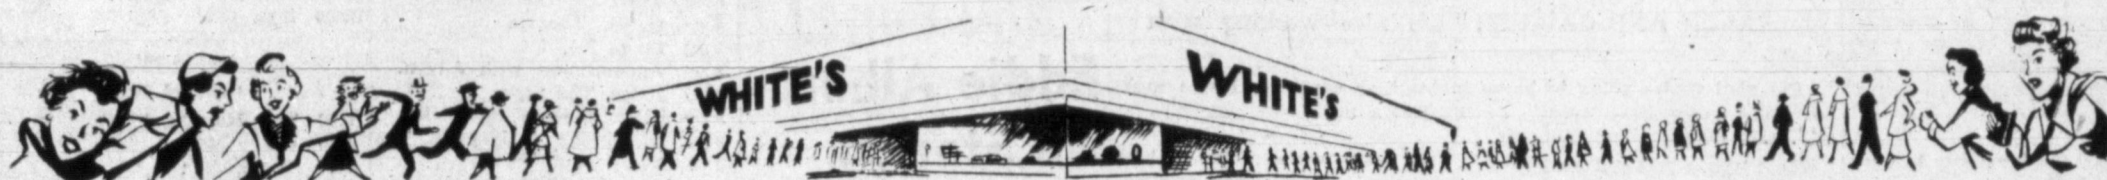

W. A. Dow, Mrs. George Hofessa, Mary Mitchell, and Mrs. Billie Basfington who is visiting in Pampa this summer to assist in the program.
Dust or some other minute foreign body is necessary for the formation of a raindrop.

Closeup On Gleason

How Jackie Looks To Art Carney

Almost everybody knows how Jackie Gleason looks on the TV screen. But how does he look to those who work with him? Here's the first of four off-camera closeups of Gleason by those closest to him — this one by screen-mate Art Carney.

By ART CARNEY As Told To Dick Kleiner NEA Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — (NEA) — I'll tell you in one sentence how I feel about Jackie Gleason as my boss: I could have had my own show, at more money, but I preferred to stay with Gleason. And, incidentally, he never once tried to persuade me to stay.

This has all happened recently. My contract is up in June. I've had lots of offers — good ones — to do a show of my own. And, quite frankly, I'm pretty sure I could turn out a good program. Now I know Jackie wanted me to stay with him. He never said so in so many words, but I know it. After all, the program is successful and we get along fine together, so he'd be silly not to want to keep the team together. But he never tried to influence me.

When I finally agreed to sign a new contract and stay with him, he just said, "That's fine, Art. Glad you're staying." No big speeches or fuss. Which was all right with me. And, by the way, that's one of the reasons I decided to stay — there's never any emotion or temperament around Gleason.

He's about the ideal guy to work for. For one thing — and a very important thing — our comedy styles seem to be made for each other. That just happened, we didn't plan it that way.

In fact, when I first worked for him, I had no idea what he was like, or what kind of performer he was. I may have seen him in vaudeville several years ago, but I'd never seen him on television. When they called me to do a part on his old DuMont show, "Cavalcade of Stars," I didn't know Jackie Gleason from a hole in the ground.

But we clicked right away. And they asked me to come back again, and I did. We kept going like that for a long time — no contract, no regular job, nothing official. Just a verbal agreement.

After the third show I did with him on DuMont, he called me.

GLEASON AND CARNEY: "It's nice working with you."

"I'm glad you're going to be on the show again next week," he said. "It's nice working with you."

Which was a pretty decent thing for a boss to do, I think. He's always that way; never comes up to you and says he likes your work, but he'll let you know about it. A few weeks ago, after a particularly tough show, I got a note from him.

"Thanks for your help," it said. "Nothing like a little praise to make you happy in your work. I guess he just prefers to do it over the phone or in a note."

(Editor's Note: But he doesn't have any hesitation about telling others how good Art Carney is. Or Audrey Meadows. He praises them to the skies to everybody else, but he doesn't tell it to their faces.)

While praise is good for the ego, cash is nice to have around the house, too. And Jackie is terrific in that regard. When we started together at DuMont, we had no room" — I made up myself, and he told me to keep it in.

And our sense of the comic is so parallel that we usually arrive at the conclusion that we're overdoing a catch phrase at the same time. He doesn't have to say, "Art, let's drop that 'va-va-va-voom' of yours." Somehow, we both realize it's time to drop it simultaneously. And we drop it.

So, as far as I'm concerned, he's a terrific guy to work for. We've never had a fight or any trouble at all. We may discuss a scene — he'll say, "Let's play it this way" and I'll say, "No I think we should play it this way." If he thinks I'm right, he'll say, "OK, I think your way is better." If he thinks he's right, he'll say "Art I think I was right in the first place." And I'll generally concede. He knows what he's doing.

We don't get out socially together very often. That isn't because we don't like each other — we do. We were on a vaudeville trip together and got along wonderfully. It's just that I'm pretty much of a home-type guy. When I'm through rehearsing I like to go home to my wife and kids. So we're usually together just during working hours — a boss and his employe.

And a mighty happy employe.

Eddie Albert To Star In Belinda

Eddie Albert will star in the role of young Dr. Davidson, the rural physician who brings understanding and hope to deaf mute Belinda McDonald in "Johnny Belinda," the poignant drama to be presented on "Front Row Center" from CBS Television City, Hollywood, Wednesday, June 29 (CBS) Television, 10:00-11:00 p.m. EDT.

In the role of the pathetic, wistful farm girl will be Katherine Bard, veteran Broadway and television actress. Tudor Owen will portray the father in the story, which won acclaim both as a play and as a motion picture. Maudie Prickett plays the mother, and James Gavin is cast as the brushy Nova Scotian farmer who takes advantage of the girl's handicap to mistreat her.

"Front Row Center" is produced by Fletcher Markle who also directs "Johnny Belinda." Vincent McConnor is associate producer.

The series will alternate weekly with the United States Steel Hour" after the June 29 program.

Czechs Asked to Return WASHINGTON — UP — Czechoslovakia published notices in American newspapers Wednesday telling Czech refugees they will be pardoned if they return to their homeland. U. S. officials said it is part of an intensive campaign by the Soviet bloc to woo back refugees but relatively few refugees have returned.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Behind the Screen: It's still a No-Surrender-To-TV flag flying over Humphrey Bogart's home even if he is starring May 30 in an NBC television of his first big movie hit, "The Petrified Forest."

"I've turned down straight drama offers ever since TV began," he told me between scenes of "The Left Hand of God." "I'm only doing it this once because I happen to like the play — it was lucky for me — and it gives me a chance to work with my wife."

More movies with Laren Bacall now that they're reuniting as a team on home screens?

"It's a matter of finding the right story," Bogey shrugged. "Anyhow, I have a sneaking suspicion that she prefers a younger leading man — somebody named Biff or Bam or something."

Errol Flynn forked over another $10,000 check to ex-wife Nora been partners for 57 years — can dish up some good advice to Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in the how-to-get-along-together department.

Joe Smith told me the team's friendship-blendship secret.

"We're never jealous of each other and have never blamed each other for anything. Any argument about the act is left behind in the dressing room. And we always trust each other's integrity in money matters. It's that simple."

Clothespins and Longshots: Marlon Brando is receptive, I hear, to that Las Vegas loot. He'd love to play those bongo drums in pictures.

"Fernando Lamas and wife Ariene Dahl don't want to become a team. The reason she will not costar with him is he takes Ibsen's "Doll House" to Broadway in the fall."

BETTY HUTTON's ex-hubby, Charlie O'Curran, is whipping up calms, are swamping the TV op-Roberta Linn's night club act.

Venetia Stevens, daughter of famed director George Stevens, is embarking on a screen career. She's 17 and beautiful.

A director passed on this gem about Robin Raymond, the zippy comedienne, who's back in acting harness. A few years ago Robin had a top role in a film based on a literary classic, but changed beyond all recognition in its screen form.

On the first day of shooting the assistant director yelled for silence, pointed to the camera and bellowed: "Turning."

Commented Robin, "The camera or the author in his grave?"

CHICAGO — James E. Conant, U. S. ambassador to Germany, said Monday West Germany plans to exercise "strict civilian control" over its new army. Conant discounted fears that a rearmament Germany may lead to a re-birth of traditional German militarism.

Rock Hudson aims to stake out a claim to those Gary Grant comedy roles. Right now U-I's remake of "My Man Godfrey" belongs to Hollywood.

This is Hollywood. Mrs. Jones, Lili Kardell, the U-I stilet, showed up at Ciro's with Aly Khan. A week before she was at the Crescendo with the parking lot attendant of an Italian restaurant on the Sunset strip.

CENSORED: Hollywood's "Our Gang" comedies, filmed 25 years ago and now titled Little Rascals in position in the later afternoon in "nearly 50 cities."

Interesting sidelight: Fifteen of them are on the "Censored" shelf at CBS TV in Hollywood labeled "too frightening for kids and anti-racial."

BOOK PATTTER

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

For some reason virtually every British traveller in America during the 19th century went home to write a book on the subject — many of which became best sellers. The University of Texas added to this number by publishing the journal of a cultivated young Englishman who in 1940 spent several months around Galveston.

Francis Sheridan, a member of the British diplomatic service, who through his report to the British Foreign office was to contribute to Lord Palmerston's recognition of the Texas Republic, has left a lively, descriptive footnote to his story, mainly on the manners and customs of early day Texans.

Realizing that what he wrote was not to go down with de Tocqueville's "Democracy in America" as a classic commentary on the American scene, and noting the journals ephemeral quality, Sheridan in his dedication to the "But-termen of Great Britain" amusingly states that "to conciliate your feelings so far as my favor, that when wrapping up your wares you will select these papers for the fresh in preference to salt butter."

Pocket Knife

Sheridan comments on the everyday happenings he encountered while in the Republic, and through found many faults, he basically was impressed with the growing young country. Statistics do take up some of his incisive observational notes, but when he comments on everyday living he is admirably amusing.

Commenting on the average Texan's competent and dexterous use of the pocket knife, he echoes what 19th century British travellers had observed in other parts of the country — Texans certainly hadn't cornered the market in its use. "The practice here — a very dangerous one — is to feed oneself chiefly with the knife. The size of Mrs. Sharpe's mouth (a guest with whom he was dining and the wife of a United States consul-general at Velasco) made me easy enough about her but I trembled for the rest of the company. How

Chewing and Spitting

Bars he found were usually crowded in the afternoon with men talking, and spitting. "High and low, rich and poor, young and old chew, chew, and spit, spit, spit all the blessed day and most of the night and as the spitting-box is considered generally speaking a superfluous luxury the floors of the rooms and fireplaces bear ample testimony to the beastly habits of their occupants."

"I have been often led to believe the art of spitting with frequency is considered desirable to be attained "and a feather in the cap of youth" in these parts, at all events I once saw a man in Galveston teaching his child (who had not arrived at a chewing age, being not quite two years of age) to spit and loudly applauding every successful effort of the precocious prodigy."

Impressed With Texas

Sheridan's journal has all the earmarks of an accomplished young traveller, who didn't come to the shores with set opinions as to what he would find; but most important he did not approach his subject with the air of many of the printed mouthings of his countrymen. He didn't use "England as the standard against which to measure all things American, unlike, "Mrs. Trollope or Charles Dickens. The volume is a fine contribution to the vast growing field of Western Americana, and the University of Texas is to be given a plaudit for publishing this journal over 100 years after it was written.

Willis W. Pratt has done a fine job of editing the thin volume, by identifying many of the personalities with whom the average reader would be unacquainted and in addition identifying many of the quotes of the classically educated Sheridan. As to the illustrations, they prove an amusing as well as informative supplement to the volume.

Old Cars Make Rare Film Props

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Your automobile may become a vehicular film star — if it can hold together long enough. Motion picture makers have found that cars which last through the "old" classification into the "period" era become valuable and are needed in films with period backgrounds.

In the case of "Pete Kelly's Blues," a musical melodrama with Jack Webb directing and starring for Warners, a search for older cars ran up quite a bill.

Webb, long known for insisting on authenticity in theatrical productions, let it be known he was in the market for cars of about 1927 vintage, time of the CinemaScope film. He received nearly as many letters as if he had advertised for a young actress for a part in the picture.

Webb screened the mail and came up with 18 purchases — a sad, battered lot of ancient machines. Some could still move a little, others vibrated but the majority were strictly tow-bait.

By the time they had been rendered mobile under their own resources, the cost had come to some $700 per car.

Makes included Ford, Peerless, Chevrolet, Studebaker, Willys-Knight, Hupmobile, Falcon-Knight, Stutz, Pierce-Arrow and Nash. Webb, in pursuing his love of authenticity, didn't stop at having them made motorworthy; he made sure each was painted as it should have been and had correct accessories such as bumpers and lights.

Webb won't take a loss on the operation. He has learned that each now is worth $1,200 to $1,400, and he will sell or rent them to other motion picture units for use.

Of course, he also can lend them to youthful players like Jayne Mansfield, 22, who is cast as a cigarette girl in the film.

Miss Mansfield said that she got more stares when she rode in a 1927 Stutz down Sunset Boulevard than she would in a pink Jaguar. Maybe she should be told that only some of the pedestrians were looking at the car.

Victor Borge Shows No Sign Of Losing Pull

By JACK GAVER
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — UP — The incredible run of Victor Borge's one-man comedy and music show on Broadway shows no sign of ending.

It is true that the durable Dane, who started his run on Oct. 2, 1953, begins an eight-week absence from the John Golden Theater next week, but this is merely a vacation such as he took last summer. The box office will be open through out the period, selling tickets for Aug. 29 and beyond.

During part of the vacation period, you might say that Borge will serve as his own road company. He'll do his "Comedy in Music" show in Atlantic City in the Warner Theater July 6-13, inclusive.

When Borge resumes at the John Golden on Aug. 29, he will play his 639th Broadway performance.

"The Teahouse of the August Moon" hit the $3,000,000 mark in gross receipts for its local engagement at the Martin Beck Theater on June 21. More than 880,000 persons contributed that sum.

In addition, of course, there is a touring company that has been abroad since late last year, and a second road troupe of the John Patrick comedy will begin operations Oct. 5 in Columbus, O.

Visitors planning to hit Stratford, Conn., this summer to see the first production of the new American Shakespeare Festival Theater will be able to find overnight accommodations in some homes in the town.

More than 200 single and double rooms in Stratford homes have been registered with the theater people as available. Other homes in nearby Bridgeport and New Haven, which have bus connections with Stratford, also will offer accommodations, in addition to some motels in the area.

Moderns Play Liszt With No Apology

NEW YORK — UP — It's pleasingly exciting to hear Liszt played by the newer generation of pianists, with conviction and without implicit apology. The older generation seems to feel Liszt must be slipped in through the side door. Times change; so do aesthetics.

Geza Anda's recording of the B minor sonata, the Mephisto Waltz, the third concert étude, and "La Campanella" represents both very clean, sensitive playing and a kind of tour amidst the wonders of the Lisztian piano (Angel).

Samson Francois, a quite young Frenchman whom some of the French refer to as "le fantastique," makes the first Liszt concerto sound both sincere and serious. It may be because he lets go without trace of self-consciousness. On the same record is his ultra romantic playing of Chopin's first concerto. The orchestra for both was the Paris Conservatory's (Angel).

Of the newly recorded displays of the violin virtuoso, a stand-out is Tosay Spivakovsky's playing of Menotti's concerto which is a piece that suits his manner admirably and also grows on the listener. The orchestra is the Boston Symphony which completes the record with Honegger's second symphony (RCA Victor).

A curiously interesting record is of Campoli playing Elgar's B minor concerto, with the London Philharmonic under Boult — curious because you so rarely hear it, interesting because it has meat as well as novelty — and also length, seemingly interminable length (London). The Russian virtuoso, David Oistrakh, has recorded two stand-bys of the repertoire — Branch's G minor and Prokofiev's D major concertos, with the London Symphony (Angel).

Brahms' songs for quartet deserve rather desperately to be better known, but there are few vocal quartets these days. More the credit, then, to Nadia Boulanger who organized and rehearsed one to record the "New Love-Song Waltzes" plus six others of Brahms' some 60 compositions for four voices (Decca).

New orchestral recordings of high quality: The New Symphony of London under Rudolf Schwarz, playing Dvorak's "New World" symphony (Capitol); The NBC Symphony under Toscani playing Schubert's fifth symphony and Mendelssohn's octet (RCA Victor); the Amsterdam Concertgebouw under Duard van Beinum playing Brahms' second symphony (Epic).

Mutual System Begins New Show Idea July 4

Mutual Morning, first of the new programs embodying "Companionate Radio," bows on the coast-to-coast Mutual Broadcasting System Monday, July 4.

Drawing material from many phases of human endeavor, Mutual Morning is to be heard each weekday from 11 to 11:25 a.m., N.Y.T.

Included in the format, according to the MBS program vice president Robert Monroe, will be vital statistics, interviews, short stories, simulated broadcasts of events in the "yesteryear," baby and child care tips, feature articles, help at home hints and opinions of listeners or a well-known person.

In the coming months, Mutual Morning will be followed on the MBS schedule by other programs actualizing the "Companionate Radio" concept. Basic theory of the idea, Monroe reports, is to take radio off the stage or out of the studio and into the seat beside the listener.

Dropping all formality, all stylized show patterns, "Companionate Radio" will present a friend, in place of unknown voices being heard, a Mutual "family of friends" is to be created, personalities whose voice will denote and signify the Mutual network.

Pampa Man Building Own Luxury Cruiser

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer

"Lorelei" was once known as the siren of Greek mythology who lured sailors to destruction by her singing, but she is now taking on a new form — a six passenger cabin cruiser being constructed by Clifford Jones, co-owner of Jones-Everett Machine Co.

The all-mahogany cruiser has many unusual features, all due to the untiring efforts and ingenuity of Clifford Jones and Jean Douglass. They have been working on "Lorelei" for 11 months, and hope to complete it within another month. This will be the twelfth boat they have completed together, besides three airplanes.

Top to Bottom

From top to bottom, the Lorelei possesses unique features not commonly found on a cruiser or on most boats. Most of the small metal work was done by Clifford, who also originated many original ideas such as: a trailer with a telescoping tongue, making it possible for one man to launch the boat; a one-finger mechanical steering wheel, and a ventilating system for dispersing stale air, smoke, and dirt from the inside of the cabin or "galley."

The boat is practically unsinkable, according to Jones. "You could knock a hole in the front of our boat and we could still make it to shore, with the passengers standing in only seven inches of water." This is due to the unusual amount of flotation that will be produced by adding 20 lbs. of styrofoam (a nylon product) along the sides and underneath the express cruiser.

Other outstanding features of "Lorelei" are: a 9½ gallon water tank for drinking and cooking purposes "hidden" in a box structure that can be detached or used as a tray; the "grub deck" above the 40 horsepower, two cycle outboard motor which stores four tanks of gasoline — each holding six and one-half gallons — that feed the motor automatically; and the back seat adjacent to the "deck" that stores a davit type of hoist that is used to bring the motor aboard to install after the boat is in the water. The block and tackle of the hoist weighing only 22 oz. utilizes a parachute shroud nylon line capable of lifting 1,000 lbs.

The "Galley"

The "galley" or cabin is quite luxurious in comparison with most boats of this type. A compact cabinet contains a sink and faucet, several drawers for storage, a pull-out picnic-type of ice box, and a shelf set behind the cabinet that pulls up and is used for storing glasses, dishes and seasoning. An alcohol burner stove sets on top of the cabinet. Jones declares that such "cubic foot wise" we have such a limited space that we have to take advantage of all available space." This is evident throughout the boat. A "U"-shape bunk sets in the front part of the cabin with storage bins beneath for personal belongings. The anchor and rope locker is in front of the boat, situated so that the anchor can be thrown out on either side.

In the back part of the cabin, slightly above head level, is a "V"-type fly bridge windshield that protects the "captain" from the wind and waves. Commenting on the difficulties of building the bridge, Jones replied: "...that was the job that almost floored us, we just about quit."

On top of the cabin is a telescoping anchor light and close to the front is a rotating search beam. The search light sets on a metal pivot base that was made by Jones so that the light could be rotated in a 360 degree radius from the steering position.

Trial Run

After the trial run on Lake McClellan, the boat will be taken via trailer to St. Louis by the Joneses. "I can get it out (of the garage) because I got it in," commented Clifford. At St. Louis the boat will be inspected by the Coast Guard, later they intend to race the barge shipping their car and trailer to New Orleans.

Jones is already planning ahead to his next construction. "We're going to build another one someday. Our fun comes more in building than in using it. We don't know anything about owning a boat."

It's all part of Clifford's hobby... "to build something with wood, that's my hobby. I like to build furniture, machinery, and so forth, but best of all I like to build boats."

Another unique accomplishment of Jones is the three airplanes and glider that he designed, built and flew. He built his own propeller and motor for one of the planes. Commenting on his flying experience, Jones recalled: "...I learned to fly in 1928, one year after Lindbergh flew to Paris... I've been flying steadily since '42, and have had several planes in that time." When asked if there was anything unique about the planes he constructed, Clifford replied quickly, "Yeah, nobody ever got killed in one of them."

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hill spent Father's Day week end in the home of Mrs. Hill's father at Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Bates and children, Tommy and Vicki, spent Sunday in Groom, visiting Mr. Bates' brother, W. M. Bates, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore and daughter, Becky, were week-end visitors in Amarillo. They visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Greef and Mr. and Mrs. C. Q. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sport and daughters, Elberta and Deborah, of Lubbock, were week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Townsend and family here.

W. J. Stubblefield, W. L. Potter and Rev. Lee Baker attended a recent meeting for the churches of the Amarillo District of the Methodist Church. Dr. E. D. Landreth, newly-appointed district superintendent, presided over the meeting, in which plans for the coming church conference year were discussed.

Mrs. Wesley Langham of Pampa is visiting this week in the home of her sister, Mrs. Florette Burns here, while Langham is in Austin on business. Paulett and Jackie, children of Mrs. Burns, have recently returned from Vivian, La., after an extended visit with their grandparents there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Shaw are at home following a recent visit in the home of Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Liggett, in Bellevue. They will leave again Sunday, to attend a school principals conference in Boulder, Colo., and will vacation and fish in southern Colorado.

Rev. L. V. Ratliff, minister of the local Baptist Church, is attending the summer term at the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth, doing work toward his M.R.E. Degree.

He will return to White Deer each weekend and will be in the pulpit for regular Sunday services.

Coach and Mrs. Sam Christy are attending summer school at Sam Houston State College, Huntsville. They will return to White Deer at the close of the session, and Christy will resume his coaching and teaching duties here.

First Wheat Harvested In Ochiltree

PERRYTON — (Special) — The first load of 1955 wheat was harvested in Ochiltree County Tuesday afternoon by Harlan and Doug Hawk, but most of the county's wheat acreage is expected to be delayed at least a week.

The Hawk wheat was irrigated Early Triumph, estimated to be making from 20-25 bushels per acre. The wheat was grazed all winter and was damaged an estimated 15 per cent by hail about a week ago.

The wheat being harvested is of excellent quality, testing 60 pounds and with a 10.88 moisture content.

The county's dry land wheat is still green, for the most part, and while it was revived by the late April and May rains, will fall short of normal production.

It is estimated that 90 per cent of the county's wheat acreage was lost to drought. There are about 20,000 acres of wheat which will be harvested, and it is believed that this will be kept for seed wheat.

JIM KONSTANTY

Konstanty, Yanks Nip Tribe Second Straight Day, 3 To 2

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Jim Konstanty, the comeback kid of the year, turned in his second sparkling relief performance in less than 24 hours Saturday to gain credit for the New York Yankee's triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Konstanty, who won Friday night's 2-1, 10-inning opener of the four-game series, limited the Indians to one hit in three innings Saturday to pick up his sixth triumph of the year without a loss. The six victories already give him the fourth highest single-season win total of his career.

The victory stretched the Yankees' lead over the third-place Indians to six games and left them two ahead of the second-place Chicago White Sox, who beat the Boston Red Sox, 8-3. The Detroit Tigers downed the Washington Senators, 4-0, and the Kansas City Athletics played a rainhalted, 10-inning, 3-3 tie with the Baltimore Orioles in the other American League games.

Dodgers Win Again

In the National League, the runaway Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Milwaukee Braves, 5-3, as Don Newcombe won his 13th game, and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4. Philadelphia at Cincinnati was rained out.

Al Smith homered behind a walk to Bobby Avila to give the Indians a 2-0 lead in the sixth inning but the Yankees tied the score again in the bottom of the frame, when Gil McDougald singled and Yogi Berra homered. The Yankees scored the winning run off Art Houtteman in the next inning when Andy Carey doubled and pinch-hitter Bob Cerv singled.

Jim Busby, Sherman Lollar and Walt Dropo hit homers to feature an 11-hit White Sox attack that gave 35-year-old rookie Dixie Howell his first major league win. Howell yielded only six hits and one run in 6 1-3 innings of relief hurling.

Gromek Tosses Four-Hitter

Steve Gromek tossed a four-hitter for his seventh victory as the Tigers dealt the Senators their eighth consecutive defeat. Earl Torgerson drove in two Detroit runs and every Tiger hit safely except Bill Tuttle.

Doubles by Hal Smith and Hoot Evers in the ninth enabled the Orioles to tie the Athletics in a game played in a steady rain and finally halted after 10 innings. The contest was halted for 45 minutes in the first inning and the remainder of it was played under the arc lights.

Newcombe became the first National League pitcher to beat every rival and also treated himself to three hits that raised his season's average to .451. Brooklyn's Paul Bunyan needed help in the ninth inning, however, and got it from Karl Spooner, who got the last out.

The loss was charged to Gene Conley, who yielded three runs in the fifth inning after being hit on the arm by a liner by why, Newcombe, of course.

Warren Hacker retired 20 of the last 22 Pirates to gain his eighth victory for the Cubs. Eddie Miksis, Dee Fondy and Walker Cooper drove in all Chicago's runs while Jerry Lynch homered for Pittsburgh.

New York was at St. Louis in a National League night game.

Richards Bests AAU 220 Mark

BOULDER, Colo., June 25—UP

Rod Richards of the Army broke the National AAU 220-yard dash record around one turn Saturday as he turned back the challenge of two Texas hot-shots in the fur-long dash finals in 21 seconds flat.

That mark bettered by a tenth of a second the old AAU record of 21.1 set by Art Bragg last year and sent him home ahead of Dick Blair of Kansas, timed in 21.1; Andy Stanfield of New York Pioneer Club, Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian and Dean Smith of Texas.

Smith had been timed in 21.1 in his semifinals heat as he beat Blair to the tape, while Morrow had posted a 21.2 in nosing out Richards and Stanfield in the other semifinal.

Fade In Finals

But in the finals, Morrow had a 21.3 in fourth place and Smith a 22.8. Morrow had won the 100-yard dash in a 9.5 photo finish Friday.

Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh voted the "outstanding athlete" of the meet, unofficially bettered the world-record for the 880-yard run in one of the day's other top performances. Sowell received 23 votes to one each for Morrow and Parry O'Brien in the balloting.

Sowell driven by a desire to vindicate his laxy failure in the NCAA championships last week, unofficially bettered the world mark by a full second.

Despite the rare atmosphere of the 5,000-foot altitude at the University of Colorado here, Sowell set such a blistering pace from the start that four other runners beat the AAU meet record trying to keep up with him. Lonnie Spurrier who earlier this year also bettered the world 880-yard mark of 1:48.6, matched Sowell stride for stride for the first 440 yards but finished fifth.

Sowell's time was 1:47.6. Spurrier's mark of 1:47.5 is now being considered for official world record status. If it is rejected, then Sowell's time will have a chance at world recognition.

Whitfield Owns Record

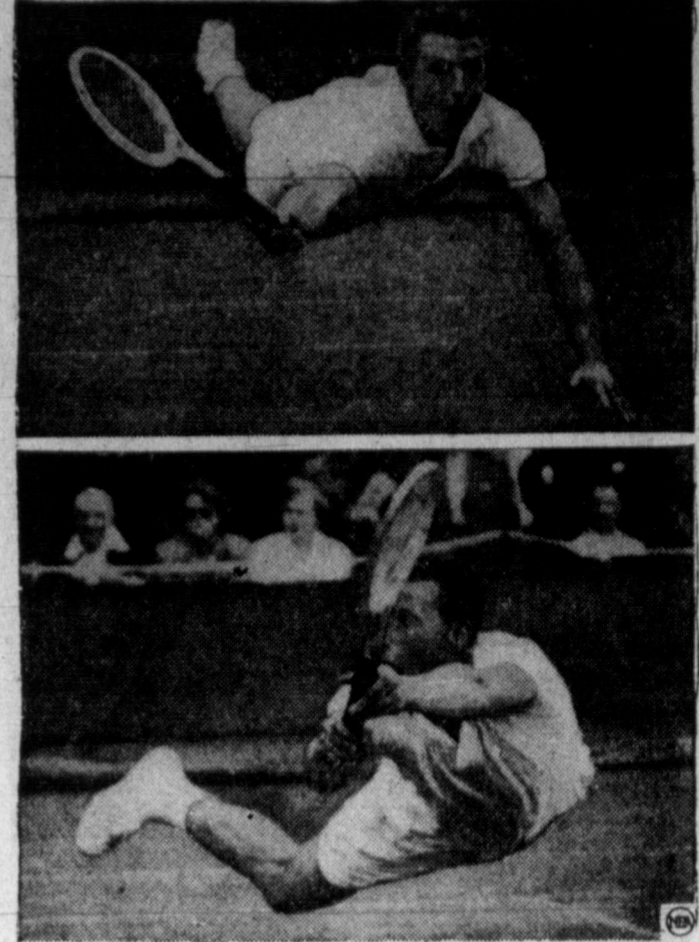

Mal Whitfield established the recognized world-record in 1953. Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark tied it in 1954.

Sowell "fell asleep" last week in the NCAA meet at Los Angeles and failed to qualify for the 880-yard finals. He considered himself disgraced, and came here vowing to "set the pace if it kills me."

When he burst through the tape, the full effect of running in an atmosphere 20 per cent less dense than at sea level hit him and Sowell collapsed into a near-faint. But he recovered in time to receive the accolade of "outstanding athlete" at the end of the AAU championships.

"I wanted to make up for last week's fiasco," Sowell said happily.

After Spurrier dropped out of contention, Tom Courtney of Fordham and Billy Tidwell of Kansas State Teachers College came on to challenge Sowell. Courtney, clocked at 1:48.0, placed second, a stride behind the inspired Sowell.

JUMPING AHEAD—Alfred Huber certainly tried hard to get the jump on the ball during his match with Geoffrey L. Ward of Great Britain in the All England Tournament at Wimbledon. The Austrian had as difficult a time as the pictures indicate winning, 9-3, 3-6, 5-2, 11-13, 7-5.

Second Half Begins Monday In Local Church Softball Play

The second half races in the Pampa Church Softball League will get underway this week.

Six games are on tap Monday in the second half schedule.

First half of play was completed last week with exception of one game. Holy Souls and Central Baptist will meet Tuesday night in a Senior Boys League make-up game from the first half schedule.

Holy Souls is leading the Senior Boys League with a 4-0 record and must defeat Central Baptist Tuesday to claim the undisputed crown. Should Central Baptist win Tuesday, Holy Souls would drop into a two-way tie for the first half crown with First Baptist.

First Baptist has already completed its first half slate with a 4-1 record. In the event of a tie for the first half crown, a playoff would be necessitated.

Play in the other two leagues have been completed with First Baptist winning the Senior Girls title with a 4-0 record and Progressive Baptist taking the Junior Boys crown, also with a 4-0 slate.

Following is the final standings of first half play and the second half schedule:

Gerald Meyers To Texas Tech

LUBBOCK, Tex., June 25—UP—Gerald Meyers, an all-state basketball player from Borger, and two Artesia, N. M., football stars have indicated they planned to enroll at Texas Tech this fall.

Meyers, who averaged 17.7 points per game for Borger while hitting 81 per cent of his foul shots, rates highly as a floor man and as a rebounder despite his comparatively short five foot, 11 inch stature.

The two Artesia gridders were center Ray Gressett, 205 pounds, and quarterback Johnny Riddle, 165.

Orioles Add Coach
BALTIMORE, Md.—UP—Lloyd Brown, who pitched for five major league teams between 1925 and 1940, was added Saturday to the Baltimore Orioles' coaching staff. Brown had been managing the Cordele, Ga., club in the Georgia-Florida League.

U.S. Chances At Wimbledon Slim

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25—UP—United States prospects of winning the Wimbledon men's tennis championship became the bleakest in several years Saturday when only Tony Trabert survived an American "Black Saturday" to join Budge Patty in the quarterfinal round.

Trabert, the top-seeded tournament player from Cincinnati, Ohio, scored a 6-4, 6-2, 6-2 victory over Nareesh Kumar, India's Davis Cup captain, but appeared to be below his best form.

Three Californians, who had reached the fourth round—Art Larsen of San Leandro, Gil Shea of Presidio and Bob Perry of Los Angeles—all were eliminated. Patty seeded seventh, gained the quarterfinals with a victory on Friday.

Aussies In Way

Lairing in the path of an American men's singles champion were Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, Australia's two top stars who impressed the teeming Wimbledon galleries with their victories Saturday far more than did Trabert.

As a result of the Aussies' excellent performances, British bookmakers revised their odds on the tournament entries. Rosewall was installed a 6 to 4 favorite to win, while Trabert was knocked down to second choice at 2 to 1. Hoad was moved up to third choice at 7 to 2.

Hoad, the fourth-seeded men's competitor, demonstrated an overwhelming service and a casual grace that indicated he was in peak form as he eliminated Larsen, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3. Jaroslav Drobný of Egypt, the defending champion, eliminated Perry, 8-6, 6-3, 6-4, while Shea was beaten by Nicola Pietrangeli, Italy's unorthodox Davis Cupper, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Rosewall gained the quarterfinals by beating Giuseppe Merlo of Italy, who retired because of an injury from a fall in the third set. Rosewall led 6-4, 6-1, 2-1 at the time Kurt Nielsen of Denmark also reached the round-of-eight with a 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3 triumph over Abs Segal of South Africa.

The quarterfinal pairings will be: Rosewall vs. Sven Davidson of Sweden, who reached the quarterfinals on Friday; Pietrangeli vs. Nielsen; Patty vs. Hoad, and Drobný vs. Trabert. Both Americans are in the bottom half of the draw. Pietrangeli and Nielsen are the only unseeded quarterfinal survivors.

Trabert combined with sore-shouldered Vic Seixas of Philadelphia to score a brilliant third round doubles triumph, coming from behind to defeat Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola of Italy, 4-6, 16-18, 6-4, 6-1. Last week the Italian pair had beaten the top-seeded American duo in the British Grass Court Championships.

U. S. women fared far better than the men, advancing four players to quarterfinals. Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla.; Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Dorothy Head-Knodel of Alameda, Calif., and Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., all won in straight sets. They are seeded 1-2-3-6 in that order. Still another U. S. girl in the fourth round—third-seeded Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., was not scheduled to play Saturday.

Despite the fact that he won his fourth consecutive straight-sets match, Trabert did not appear sharp Saturday. He appeared to be playing only at half-pace against the nimble but outclassed Kumar. The 24-year-old American made unnecessary errors on his ground strokes and the only strong part of his game was his slashing backhand. There were many observers who felt that the lack of tough competition thus far has hampered Trabert from reaching his best form.

Fans Boom Klaus For Top AL Rookie

By JOE PHELAN
BOSTON, June 25—UP—Red Sox fans are booming Billy Klaus, the unexpected answer to Boston's shortstop problem, as a candidate for American League Rookie of the Year honors.

is proving the surprise of the year at Fenway Park. He certainly wasn't tabbed for regular duty when the New York Giants traded him from their Minneapolis club to the Red Sox last December.

Although Manager Mike Higgins "liked the way he operated" Klaus was destined only for utility jobs. He had experience at every infield position except first when the club gathered for spring training.

Milt Bolling had the regular shortstop position nailed down when a broken elbow put him on the injured list. Higgins skipped over Klaus and put Owen Friend in the lineup. Friend failed to last and Boston bought veteran Eddie Joost to fill the gap.

When Joost was hurt early in the season Higgins turned to Klaus. Now both Bolling and Joost are sitting on the bench while the tough little battler from Spring Grove, Ill., draws daily cheers for his fielding and hitting. His .302 average at mid-week put him in the No. 5 position in the American League batting race—the highest a Red Sox player has been since the season opened.

Has Batted Zero
If Klaus can keep up his present pace, Boston fans feel he will be a top contender for rookie laurels despite two brief appearances in the National League. In his two "years" with the Braves, both Boston and Milwaukee varieties, he appeared in nine games and had six official trips to the plate for a .000 average.

Rosen Confident He'll Start Hitting Before Season's Out

NEW YORK—UP—Slumping Al Rosen of Cleveland claims to feel "totally lost" at the plate but even so, he is positive his name won't be found among the 250 hitters at the end of the season.

Rosen, batting a sickly .239, is smack in the middle of his "poorest season since I've been in baseball."

Fans, teammates, and even umpires have offered reasons for Rosen's protracted slump.

"The consensus is I'm swinging good but I'm not meeting the ball right," he said. "Frankly, I don't know what the reason is but I'll guarantee this much. I won't be hitting .240 or .250 when the final average is compiled."

Rosen holds himself as much to blame for the Indians' current third place status as any one else. "We could have won a lot more games if I only had hit like I normally should," he said. "What bothers me most is that I am making those easy outs. In the past, if I made outs, I usually hit the ball with something behind it."

Manager Al Lopez says Rosen's decline is due to the fact that he was injured twice this season, but the veteran 30-year-old infielder refuses to accept that as an excuse for his poorest showing thus far.

"That's mighty charitable of Al to say," Rosen declared, "but I never believe in using injuries as an excuse. Besides, I'm not injured now."

Both Lopez and Rosen agree, however, that there have been encouraging signs during the past week.

"I have been hitting the ball better," Rosen conceded, "but in my book I still should have a lot more than 49 runs batted in and nine home runs."

He neglected to add that despite his slump, he tops the Indians in RBI's and ranks second on the club in four baggers.

Card Rookie Gives Dixie Walker Credit For Making Grade

ST. LOUIS—UP—Luis Enrique Arroyo, a 27-year-old Puerto Rican who was promptly nicknamed "Yo-Yo" by his St. Louis Cardinals teammates, is running up an imposing string of victories.

The stubby little southpaw is very much in the running for rookie of the year honors with eight victories in 10 starts and a flashy earned run average of 1.91.

"I had a bad time in spring training," he said, "and that was a make-or-break game for me."

Atlas Tank Outhit But Nips News 6-4

Although held to only two hits Atlas Tank scored a 6-4 victory over the Pampa News in a Teen Age League game Friday.

Cecil Reynolds went the distance for the News and gave up only two singles. But the Tankers made good use of three News errors for the victory.

Harlan Boyle went the route for the Tankers and gave up five hits. Boyle, in addition, issued 10 bases on balls but he pitched beautifully in the clutch as he left nine News base runners stranded.

All of the Atlas Tank runs came in the fourth inning. The News scored once in the second, twice in the third and once in the sixth. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning because of darkness.

PANHANDLE OUTDOOR LIFE

By S. V. WHITEHORN
The most unusual thing encountered in the Panhandle during the last few years, was a saddled mule down on the A. L. Bowers ranch in southern Hemphill county.

The unusual thing about this animal was the fact that it had a colt at its side. We understand that this type of animal is sterile and will not produce offspring.

However the fact was there before your eyes. This so-called mule (jenny) a cross between a paint stallion and a female donkey produced a colt that was sired by a shetland horse.

This off-spring (we won't attempt to name it) was born June 16, 1955. The mother of the colt is a paint mule and is used about the ranch much as a saddle pony would be used by Guy.

The purpose of the training was to teach the Warden how to improve the native habitat of the bob-white quail. There were field trips, weed collectors and general discussion of the problems.

By the time the wardens were through with the training they were quite able to identify practically all the quail foods available in this part of the state, to tell in a moment what any given section of land needed to improve the range.

Artificial foods, feed patches, artificial cover were just a few of the many things that were discussed. Toward the close of the training Captain Maggard remarked:

One report was to the effect that a bass angler, over at Lake Marvin, made four casts with one. The first two produced two bass that weighed in the three pound bracket, the third cast produced a strike while the fourth resulted in the fish taking plug, line and all, and breaking a strong leader.

Knoblauch Climbs Into TL Bat Lead

By UNITED PRESS
Eddie Knoblauch, veteran Dallas Eagle outfielder, climbed back atop the Texas League batting averages the past week as big Les Fleming's inconsistent batting eye failed him again.

Knoblauch, who leads the league with 23 doubles and 104 hits, kicked his average up three points to .344, while Fleming's nosedived 24 points to .33—still good for second place for the Shreveport club.

Willie Brown of Houston was the only other non-Dallas player to break into the top five as his .321 average put him ahead of the pace setting Eagles' Ray Murray at .317 and Bill White a .316.

Other individual leaders included Art Dunham of Dallas, triples (6); Ben Taylor of Beaumont, home runs (19); Jim Pisoni of San Antonio, RBI's (65); Sherwin Dixon of Houston, stolen bases (24), and Chuck Oertel of San Antonio, runs (60).

Red Murff, the Dallas ace who bids fair to become the loop's first 30-game winner in nearly two decades, boosted his record to 17-8, but Al Pappai of Oklahoma City had a better percentage at 12-2.

Mel Waters, the Fort Worth dark horse, who has appeared in 33 games without having pitched a complete game, had a 6-0 record, mostly in relief.

Murff had the most complete games (15) and most innings (160) while teammate Pete Burnside led in strikeouts (133).

JayCee Net Meet At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., June 25—UP—Texas entrants in the national Jaycee Tennis Tournament next month in San Antonio will be decided here this week as the state's top tennis stars in the 18-and-under and 15-and-under age brackets compete in the third annual Jaycee state tennis meet.

Some 150 contestants representing more than 30 Texas cities will vie in the three-day tournament starting Thursday. Winners in both boys and girls singles and doubles in each age division will receive trophies.

Favored to top the Junior (18-and-under) field by the time Saturday's finals roll around are Billy Max Dixon of Baytown and Carol Cummings of Wichita Falls, recent winner of the state women's championship.

D. H. Powell At Fort Hood

FORT HOOD — Army ROTC student Darryl H. Powell, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Powell, 1817 Christine Pampa, who is enrolled at West Texas State College and majoring in Chemistry Monday began a period of intensive field training at Fort Hood as part of the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps advanced course in Military Science.

He is participating in a General Military Science summer camp along with approximately 1250 other Army ROTC students from most of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Canal Zone, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, representing 27 colleges and universities in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Powell was welcomed to the camp by Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Harrold, camp commander, who addressed the students during the opening exercises.

DISCHARGED

Bill Chapman, formerly of Pampa, was recently discharged from the Air Force and, with his wife, is now in Pampa visiting relatives and friends. Mrs. Chapman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Roberts, west of city. The Chapmans will make their home in Oklahoma City after the first of July. Bill's uncle is A. E. Hickman of Tulsa and formerly of Pampa.

Area Couple On Guam Have Baby

GUAM, Marianas Islands — a baby girl weighing 7 pounds 4 ounces was born June 13, to Mrs. Minnie C. Stucker, wife of Oran B. Stucker, hospital corpsman second class, USN, at the Naval Hospital here.

Stucker, who is serving here at the Naval Air Station is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross S. Stucker of Higgins, Tex. Mrs. Stucker is the daughter of William Mixon of Mobeetie, Tex.

The baby, named Patricia Coleen is the second child for the Stucker family who reside here on Guam.

Williams Trial Delayed

GALVESTON — UP — Trial of Mrs. Ann Williams, 28, charged with killing and butchering her two small sons last Feb. 13, has been postponed by agreement until October. The trial was originally set for May 23 and then was postponed to July 11.

Canadian Set For 'Oldest Redeo'

CANADIAN — A free night fireworks display, a reunion party for old settlers, and the final performance of the 1955 edition of the world's oldest rodeo are all on the program for Fourth of July visitors to Canadian this year.

The Canadian Rodeo, first staged in 1858, will open the 1955 season with a night show Saturday, July 2, followed by afternoon performances on Sunday, July 3, and Monday, July 4, at the Canadian Rodeo arena on U.S. Highway 60 at the northeast edge of town.

Strictly amateur, this year's show is the first to be presented under authorization from the recently organized Amateur Rodeo Association. Hundreds of dollars in cash prizes, plus special merchandise awards, will go to top riders and ropers in six big events.

The annual Old Settlers Reunion, a traditional feature of the Canadian Fourth of July Rodeo Celebration, will open Monday morning, July 4, at the American Legion Hall. Registration begins at 9 a.m. On the program for the Old Settlers . . . and for other visitors to Canadian on the Fourth . . . is a free concert at 11 o'clock by Hurschel Clothier and his orchestra. Old Settlers will be entertained at a free lunch at noon at the Legion Hall, as guests of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

A free Fireworks Show will be staged Monday night, July 4, at Canadian's new City Park, bordering Highway 60 near the new Canadian River Highway Bridge. The fireworks display will be staged by the City of Canadian.

There will be public dances on Saturday night, July 2, and Monday night, July 4, at the Canadian City Auditorium under auspices of the Canadian Roping Club, rodeo sponsors. Music will be by Hershel Clothier and orchestra.

Cash prizes for Rodeo winners will be split $50-50-50 among the top three performers in each event at each of the three shows. On the program are saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, and bull riding; each paying purses of $80 plus $20 entry fees added; bulldogging, which pays $80 plus $25 entry fees added; calf roping, which pays a jackpot plus $30 entry fees; and barrel races, which pay jackpot plus $20 entry fees.

Entries close at 5 p.m. Saturday, July 2.

Rodeo stock will be furnished by Tom Harlan of McLean, Gilford Nolan will be the rodeo announcer. Admission prices will be 50 cents for children under 12; $1 for adults. Reserved seats for each performance, now on sale at the Canadian Chamber of Commerce office, are 50 cents extra.

The performances will begin at 8 p.m. on Saturday night, July 2; and at 2 p.m. on Sunday and Monday, July 3 and 4.

The Canadian Rodeo is sponsored by the Canadian Roping Club. John McMordie of Canadian is club president.

A special feature of the show this year will be the awarding of a $125 belt buckle to the show's best all-around performer, provided that the winner is a member of the Amateur Rodeo Association which will make the award.

Pampan Drills At LeJeune

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. (FHTNC) — Sgt. Clarence W. Balson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ratson of 514 N. Faulkner, Pampa, is participating in an artillery exercise at Fort Bragg, N.C., with the 10th Marines, artillery regiment of the 2nd Marine Division.

The exercise, involving troops from all regiments in the division, plus men from Force Troops here, will fire nearly all types of heavy weapons used by the Marine Corps.

Firing started June 4 and will continue through the 18th.

Pampan Promoted

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — Marine Cpl. Joe C. McWilliams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McWilliams of 1318 Mary Ellen, Pampa, was promoted in May to present rank while serving here with the 1st Marine Division.

Tot Too Tough, Sitter Sues

LOS ANGELES — UP — Four-year-old Teddy (The Terror) Levy, who likes to pretend he's Superman, was charged with battery Wednesday in a $150,000 damage suit filed by his 55-year-old baby-sitting grandmother.

The grandmother, Mrs. Ann Rubin, stated in the suit against the boy and his parents that she suffered two fractured vertebrae.

She said her superman grandson collided with her at high-speed and sent her sprawling to the floor.

Patients in the Hemphill County Hospital Thursday were Mrs. W. O. Burton, Mrs. Darryl Wiggins, Mrs. Eva Pavlovsky, Mrs. Margaret Sanders, Mrs. J. B. Harrelson and Creed Petree.

A group of Canadian business men went to Austin Tuesday to make inquiry about Hemphill County obtaining possession of Lake Marvin. Those making the trip were John Wilkinson, Judge Fisher, Ora Curmut, Hardy Childress, Warren Harrington, Stanley Joe Reid, and Charles Callaway.

The Lois Circle of the First Christian Church met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Louis Mitchell opened the meeting with a prayer and Mrs. Valeska Harrington was in charge of the program. The group finished a quilt to be sent to a mission station. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cora Mae Ballard to the following: Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Alma Johnston, Mrs. Floy Williams, Lela Kindel, Mrs. Gracie Norris and Mrs. Harrington. Mrs. Charles Morris, formerly Mrs. Johnny Ashworth of Hereford, visited in Canadian this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brainard and Mary Kay spent Monday in Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Isaacs spend Wednesday in Amarillo. Mrs. Marion Hill and Cindy of Borger visited in Canadian Thursday.

Rubber Company Burns

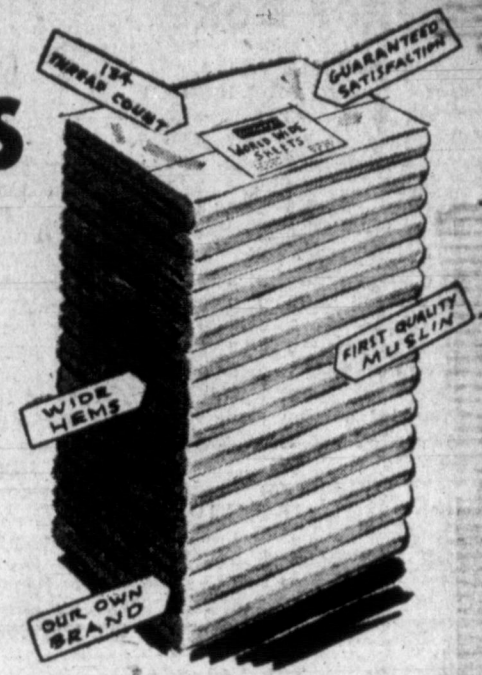

NEW YORK — UP — A raging fire swept through a five-story rubber company building on New York's lower west side Thursday night, sending flames 30 to 40 feet in the air. Firemen from 25 companies battled the four-alarm blaze at the Carlyle Rubber Co.

Ninety per cent of all New England's corporate communities are still governed by town meetings.

GOSSIPING SEEMS TO BE AN age-old problem . . . it's commonly laid to women . . . but Peg has heard men gossiping as bad, if not worse, than women . . . this all leads up to a poem Peg found . . . and liked . . .

THREE GATES

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale to you someone has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.
These narrow gates: First, "Is it True?"
Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind
Give thoughtful answer, And the next
Is last and narrowest, "Is it kind?"
And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gateway's three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.

Miss Orvie McPherson, Roger Watson Wed During Candlelight Rite In Lefors

In a double-ring candlelight ceremony at 7:30 p.m. June 18, Miss Orvie Marie McPherson and Roger Lawrence Watson were united in marriage in the Lefors Methodist Church. Rev. Robert Harris officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McPherson of Lefors, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Watson of Lefors.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of champagne lace over white faille. The fitted bodice was topped with a lace jacket that buttoned down the front with tiny covered buttons, styled with a Peter Pan collar. The long lace sleeves came to petal points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of lace over faille was ballerina length. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a white hat accented with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, centered with an orchid, over a white Bible.

Miss Jan Mounger was maid of honor. Her green gown of pure silk was ballerina length. She wore mits and a green satin headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies.

Gerald Bagwell, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Joe Dan Watson and Jerry Watson, both brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McPherson wore a green linen dress topped with white lace redingote and white accessories. Her corsage was of white daisies. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a gray lace dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

The couple was married before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli and white daisies, palms and candelabra. Miss Carole Nan Graves was pianist, and Mrs. Bill Epps sang "Wedding Prayer," "O, Promise Me," and the "Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. The serving table was covered with a green net cloth over white taffeta. The centerpiece, flanked by white tapers, was an arrangement of green and white daisies. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with white bells and a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Tom Florence presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Earl Atkinson served the cake. Gloyd McKnight.

For the wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore a

TO BE MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Conley, 1032 Christine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Margot, to Ensign John Allen Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Pierce of Dallas. The couple will be married Aug. 6, in the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa. The bride-elect is a junior architectural student at Rice Institute, Houston. The bridegroom was graduated from Rice Institute with a B. S. degree in architecture and a B. A. degree. He is now serving with the navy and is just returning from a five months' tour of the Far East. (Photo by Gittings)

Nuptial Vows Are Exchanged In Florida By Roxie Bennett And Willie E. Brothers

Mrs. Roxie Bennett of Paltaka, Fla., and Willie E. Brothers of Green Cove Springs, Fla., exchanged wedding vows recently in the Peniel Baptist Church, Green Cove Springs, Fla. Rev. Matthew L. Greer officiated for the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Bennett of Paltaka, Fla., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. E. Brothers, 310 N. Frost, Pampa, and the late Mr. Brothers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon. The fitted bodice featured an off-the-shoulder neckline and the pleated skirt was street length. Her accessories were white, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations over a white Bible.

Miss Bertie Bennett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink nylon dress identical to that of the bride. Her accessories were white, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with pink velvet leaves.

Jackie Lee Box served as best man. Ushers were Tommie Bennett and Bobbie Rivers.

Mrs. Bennett, mother of the bride, wore an orchid dress and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother was unable to attend.

The couple was married before an altar backed by palms and ferns and flanked by cathedral baskets of white gladioli. The traditional wedding marches were played, and the vocalist sang "Because" and "Wherever Thou Goest I Will Go."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Black, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth, and the wedding cake was three tiered.

The couple took a wedding trip to points in South Florida and is now residing in Green Cove Springs. The bridegroom will be separated from the navy in October, after which the couple will reside in Pampa.

The bridegroom attended Pampa High School and has served with the Navy nearly three years.

Rebecca Gaines Is Honored With Tea

WHEELER - (Special) - Miss Rebecca Gaines, bride-elect of Marion Lee Guthrie, was honored with a tea in the home of Mrs. Nelson Porter recently. Co-hostesses were Meses. J. C. Moore Jr., Harold Nash, Cora Hyatt, Frank O. Wofford, Harry Wofford and R. William Brown.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Porter, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Lem Gaines, and the mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Lee Guthrie.

Assisting with the serving and at the guest register were Meses Janice Jacob, Pearl Johnson and Gayle Holdeman. Background music was played by Mrs. David Crouch of Denton and Miss Billie V. Brown.

Arrangements of majestic daisies and water lilies in the bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used as decorations.

The serving table was covered with a cut-work cloth over blue and centered with a large fan-shaped floral arrangement of graduated white tapers. Bell-shaped cakes and punch were served. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Approximately 150 guests called or sent gifts.

RUTH MILLET

A wife writes: "Every time we are invited out in the evening, my husband grumbles about having to go. He says he is sick of seeing the same people, eating the same food, listening to the same old yakety-yak."

Needless to say, it isn't much fun going out with him when he is in that mood. But we can't stay home all the time. Is there any answer to this problem?"

Obviously you have been seeing too much of the same people. They're probably the wrong people for your husband's point of view, since they seem to bore him to death.

Why not make a determined effort to branch out a little instead of sticking to a small, close group of friends?

Start inviting some new faces to your own parties. Ask your husband if there is anyone he would especially like to have to dinner.

Get out and do things together where you will meet people so that you can make new friendships.

If your husband has any hobbies, try to get to know people who share his interests.

Because they stay at home so much, most women are pleased to accept any kind of an invitation for an evening out. But men are often more critical.

An evening at home looks better to a lot of men than the prospect of an evening out where the same people will be talking about the same things they were talking about last week and the week before.

Kit Kat Klub Has St. Patrick's Party

The Kit Kat Klub held a St. Patrick's Day rush party recently in the home of Mrs. Fred Thompson, club sponsor. "Holiday Rush" is the general theme of the rushing season.

Decorations followed the St. Patrick's Day theme. The program, presented by club members, included appropriate songs and readings.

Rushees attending were Barbara Hoover, Lynda Lou Bullard, Joy Vandenburg, Pat Falkenstein, Sheryl Sikes, Patsy Gorman, Sydna Morris, Karen Ladd, Rebecca Skelly, Linda Steele, Dianne Zachary, Marcia Morrison, Sherry Hyatt, Karla Cox, Irene Coronis, Nelda Cooper, Margo Burgess, Pat Jones, Jean Caldwell and Jo Ann Jones.

Ex-members honored were Carolyn Dial, Alice Sewright, Joan Rogers, Christine Pierce and Norma Qualls.

Next rush party will be June 30 and will have a "Fourth of July" theme. The party will be held at the Price ranch.

Lowry-Cowart Betrothal Told

SKELLYTOWN - (Special) - Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lowry of Abilene, N. M., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lucille to Max Cowart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cowart of Skellytown. Marriage vows will be solemnized July 24th in Abilene.

MRS. CLARENCE P. ALFREY JR.

Elizabeth Linquist, Clarence Alfrey Jr. Marry In Double-Ring Rite In Houston

Miss Elizabeth Maurine Linquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest James Linquist of Houston, formerly of Pampa, and Dr. Clarence P. Alfrey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Alfrey Sr. of San Angelo, were united in marriage at 7 p.m., June 10, in St. Mark's Episcopal Church of Houston.

Rev. Ernest H. Williams, rector, officiated for the candlelight, double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of blue and white tulle and white veil. The groomed bride, the top of which was covered with shirred Val lace, was styled with a sweetheart neckline. The short sleeves were of shirred Val lace. Her bouffant skirt, with wide, fashioned bands of shirred lace, fell into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of blue and French illusion fell from a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink orchids and stephanotis over a white prayer book that was carried by her mother on her wedding day.

Mrs. David Pobst Jr. of Pampa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. K. Dwayne Bardin of DeRidder, La.; Mrs. Verlon Moseley of Cameron, La.; Mrs. R. Henry Borden and Mrs. Robert Catchings, both of Houston.

All wore identical gowns of pink tulle and white veil. The fitted bodices following long low line were styled with wide, fashioned collars. Their bouffant skirts were floor length. They wore bandeaus

J. B. Gibbins Presented Party

GROOM — (Special) — Relatives of J. B. Gibbins, a resident of Groom since 1910, honored him at a party in the clubhouse in Groom recently.

All of his five children were present. They served a buffet style noon meal.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Black, Donnie and Lyndon, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Snyder, Jerry and Nina, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Black, Doyle, Keith and Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brown, Brenda and Buch, all of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gibbins of Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. of pale pink rosebuds and carried cascade bouquets of pink gardenias and English ivy.

Allen C. Alfrey of Houston, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were David Frank Pobst Jr. of Pampa, brother-in-law of the bride; Dr. Norman L. Prasley and Dr. Alan K. Pierce, both of Dallas; Dr. Robert L. Brusenhan Jr. of San Antonio; and Dr. Fred Taylor Matthes of Houston.

Couple was married before an altar flanked by blue pink floral arrangements and pink cathedral candles. Mrs. A. D. Hitchcock, organist, played nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recession. Mrs. Hugh E. Fogle sang "O Perfect Love" and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother, Mrs. Linquist, wore a navy blue lace dress with taffeta trim and pink accessories. A blue pink orchid was pinned to her evening bag. Mrs. Alfrey, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a champagne lace dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a pink orchid.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in Iowa City, Iowa, where Dr. Alfrey will intern at State University of Iowa Hospital.

The bride was graduated from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La., where she was a member of Pi Beta Chi, social sorority, and of Phi Kappa Phi, Mu Sigma Eho and Kappa Delta Pi, national honor scholastic fraternities.

Dr. Alfrey attended Rice Institute in Houston and received his Doctor of Medicine degree from Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston. He is a member of Phi Beta Pi, medical fraternity and of Oler Society and Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary scholastic society.

HOLIDAY HISTORY

June is the month of brides, perfect days, and rare days — but one day is so rare as to be totally missing in June. That is a day on which an American President was born. In fact June is the only month of the calendar which contains no birthday of a President of the United States. On the other hand, it contains no less than six "birthdays" of individual states — days on which those states became part of the American Union.

The most popular birth months for American Presidents were October and November, with five birthdays each. October was the birth month for John Adams, Hayes, Arthur, Teddy Roosevelt and Dwight Eisenhower. In November were born Folk, Taylor, Pierce, Garfield and Harding. March and April each had four Presidential birthdays — Madison, Jackson, Tyler and Cleveland in March; Jefferson, Monroe, Buchanan and Grant in April.

In January were born Fillmore, McKinley and Franklin Roosevelt; in February, Washington, Lincoln and William Harrison; in December, Van Buren, Johnson and Wilson. July had John Quincy Adams and Coolidge; August, Benjamin Harrison and Herbert Hoover. Truman was the sole President born in May, and Taft the only one born in September — and June is the only month with no President's birthday at all.

Six states became part of the Union in June, through admission or by ratifying the Constitution — Arkansas, Kentucky, New Hampshire, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. Six were also admitted in January and in November, but "state birthdays" occur in December than in any other month, a total of nine.

People Of Retirement Age Continuing To Work According To Census Report

If 65 is the age at which a working person is supposed to retire, a lot of people are simply not following the rule. Reports of the Census Bureau cited by the Institute of Life Insurance indicate no great rush to quit the job upon reaching the magical age of three-score-and-five.

These are the figures that tell the tale: 8 1/2 per cent of all workers are between 60 and 64 years, in contrast with 5 per cent who are 65 years and older. The comparatively small difference, be-

Revolution Seen In Men's Footwear

Drawing their inspiration from the shoe designers of Italy and Spain, American shoe manufacturers have made radical changes in both the appearance and weight of men's shoes. The chief innovations are shoes that are low-cut at the sides, have one or two eyelets in place of the conventional five or six, and in many cases have no laces at all. In line with this change in the shoe uppers, are lighter-weight leather soles and a generally lightweight construction.

If the present trend continues—and it shows evidence of growing—the man's shoe as we have known it for the past three decades will soon be as outmoded as high-button shoes.

Added impetus has been given this style trend by lightweight leathers for both uppers and soles, as well as woven and perforated leathers. These new developments below the ankle are in keeping with the pace set by the men's apparel industry which has developed lightweight dress and casual clothes for at least six months of the year.

The new styles, which were first introduced in casual shoes, are now available in dress shoes as well. In fact, the woven leathers are pretty much replacing mesh, which many men hesitate to wear for business.

The one add two-eyelet shoes in every leather you can think of—such as shrunken or grained calf, suede leather, shag (which is rugged cowhide with a suede finish), soft, velvety glove leather, smooth calf and a variety of perforated and embossed leathers—are probably the most popular style this season, vying with the slip-on and tasseled moccasin for first place in a man's leisure shoe wardrobe.

The last two models, incidentally, are practically a must with the new Bermuda walking shorts or slim line slacks.

Leather colors — and what colors — are also eye-popping news. Men's sport shoes have blossomed out with gold, heliotrope, avocado green and more pink. Most are not used in over-all patterns, but for trim on charcoal grey, black and white shoes.

A nice sunshady hat with a minimum of bulk is made of nylon seersucker, stiffened. As an added bonus it unbuttons in the back to be totally flat for easy rinsing and drying out.

If you want to substitute toast for cereal during the hot summer months when Baby's breakfast appetite may wane, be sure it's the most whole wheat, whole grain, nutritious bread you can find or Baby will lack any number of vitamins and minerals.

Babies just graduating from the stuffed animal and rattle stage seem very delighted with large stuffed ball toys. One is covered in a moppable plastic, another is foam rubber covered with corduroy and goes through the laundry. Both are fun for Baby to push and bat around.

Luxury Lace!

A luxury-lace tablecloth that will add beauty to festive occasions! Each block is quickly crocheted and set in place to form the eye-catching pineapple design.

Pattern No. 2498 contains crocheted directions; material requirements; stitch illustrations.

It was during World War II, when I made three trips to the front in Africa, the South Pacific and Europe that I learned most of what I know about making a beauty routine. For there, we had to look our best for the soldiers, yet we had the least to work with.

From my wartime practice, I have learned how to utilize home-grown beauty aids that travel with you with a minimum of bulk.

Most of my beauty ideas pertain to the skin, for, like most mature women, I very much need skin care. Younger women do not realize what a wonderful asset soft skin is. We grown women must center effort on keeping ours that way.

I remember one place we went during the War where it was exceptionally cold. My hands had grown so raw that I had to wear gloves while putting on my stockings or I would have snagged my few pairs to pieces. A doctor suggested I try glycerin and lemon juice. It worked very well and I take a bottle with me now wherever I go.

My lips, too, suffer from cold and aw weather. I have found that an application of odorless castor oil, with a touch of bath oil added for sweetness, is a help for my lips. This should be carried in a container that can be very tightly sealed.

Rubber gloves have become a natural household accessory for most women in this day of a variety of soaps and cleaning preparations. But I, as a mature woman, find it a great aid to carry them with me almost all the time. I have a pair that almost lives in my suitcase so I won't forget. I pop them on before finishing out stockings in a hotel room, or polishing shoes or doing anything that might roughen the skin on my hands. It's a big help for soft hands.

Many of us get to be grandmothers at our age and we travel about to visit grandchildren. We travel perhaps even more than we did in our younger years. I travel constantly as a career woman, but I think our wardrobe problems come down to the same thing: how to manage to look well-dressed without carrying 11 suitcases?

I do it by carrying one good black skirt and eight blouses, of considerable variety. Other women who want to be unburdened, but well-dressed visitors might want to try the same trick.

The lovely lady, a top fashion, has brought pink right along with her. So it's no surprise that pink pearls are a top favorite these days. Some are string with pink glass beads to add a note of texture to so-smooth pearls.

Actress Mary Brian Tells Beauty Finds; Believes In Home Grown Beauty Regime

Double-Ring Rite In Holy Souls Church Unites Mary Kretzmeier, William Adair

Wedding vows were exchanged by Mary Elizabeth Kretzmeier and William Joseph Adair at 9 a.m. Wednesday in Holy Souls Catholic Church, with Rev. Myles Moynihan, C.M., officiating for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kretzmeier, northwest of city, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Adair of Audubon, N.J.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle and chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a teen Anne collar and long fitted sleeves that came to petal points at her wrists. The floor-length bouffant skirt of tulle, worn over hoops, was accented by four panels of lace. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a lace hat covered with white sequins seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white orchid, surrounded by stephanotis, ever a mother-of-pearl prayer book belonging to her sister. She carried out the theme of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue," and had a penny in her shoe.

Diet, Care Vital For Lovely Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The teen-ager who has oily skin and wrinkles at the sight of unattractive blemishes should roll up her sleeves and set about improving her skin condition.

If it's only a mild case of skin trouble (if it's serious, see your family doctor) you should look to your diet and beauty routine for the root of your problem.

Every girl knows that in order to have vitality and good looks she must include the essential nutrients in her everyday diet. Plenty of milk and green vegetables, plus meat, is a must for good health. If you're to clear, glowing skin, you must learn to substitute apples, oranges and bananas for sweet candy bars, cookies and cakes. Eight glasses of water per day is a beauty and health aid, too.

Next, you must make certain you've been giving your skin a thorough cleansing. Tie your hair away from your face with a ribbon and really wash your face, working right up to the hairline. Use a mild soap and work up rich lather. Lather it and rinse it with hot water. This will open the pores and permit the clogged dirt accumulated in them to be washed away.

Your druggist can recommend a medicated soap that helps improve oily skin. Wash your face as often as possible with the soap and rinse it several times.

Before going to bed at night, apply calomine lotion to the infected areas. Faithful applications will show a marked improvement. Don't damage your skin forever by squeezing any blemish that doesn't seem to be clearing up. Remember, problem skin is very often a part of adolescence, and time, plus your own skin care routine, are very good healers.

the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow gown of nylon tulle and lace. The fitted bodice was topped by a lace cape, and the bouffant, floor-length skirt was styled with lace insets. She wore mitts of yellow tulle and a half-hat fashioned from yellow flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies.

Miss Roberta Kretzmeier, sister of the bride, wore a blue gown styled identical to that of the matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, also.

Robert Gleason of Audubon, N.J., cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsman was Mark Wehling of San Antonio, uncle of the bride, and ushers were William Hartman and William Nolan, both of Pampa. Altar boys were Charles Dillman and James McNamara.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kretzmeier wore a blue and white shantung dress with blue and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a white lace dress over pink taffeta topped by a white linen duster. Her accessories were pink and white. Their corsages were orchids.

The main altar and the side altar were decorated with fan-shaped bouquets of white gladioli and baby mums. Flanking the altar were palms. High mass was sung

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I am a constant reader of your column and I enjoy it very much. My problem:

I would like very much to know if it would be in bad taste for a grandmother to give a stork shower for her only granddaughter. Please answer soon.

Grandmother
Dear Grandmother
It would be bad taste unless you limit your guest list to relatives and perhaps one or two very close friends.

However you could give a party honoring your granddaughter and then present her with a gift from you as a guest prize. In such a case the invitations would say nothing about a shower but would just say "honoring Mrs. Jack Smith" etc.

BRIDAL SHOWER
Dear Grace
I have been invited to a party honoring a bride-to-be.

The invitation didn't mention anything about a shower so I am not sure whether to take a gift or not. It just invited me to a tea honoring the girl who is the daughter of friends of ours. I believe that most of the invited guests are her mother's friends rather than her own.

I would hate to go and find that everyone had taken a gift but me.

Mrs. P.
Dear Mrs. P.
If the party were to be a shower the invitation would have stated the fact.

It is quite common to give a party honoring a bride-to-be as a means of introducing her to her parents' friends.

Showers should be limited to her own close friends and should also be limited in number since it is a hardship to invite the same people over and over to give gifts to a bride-elect.

CLUB OFFICE
Dear Mrs. Friend
Recently I was elected to an office in a little club when I wasn't present. It is impossible for me to fill the office and I feel that it was unfair to elect me without consulting me.

Shall I just tell them at the next meeting that I cannot accept?

G. D. S.
Dear Mrs. S.
Since it is impossible for you to accept the office you should let the club members know right away. If there is a nominating committee, get in touch with the chairman and explain that you cannot take the office.

I agree that it is a mistake to elect members to offices without consulting them since there can be any number of reasons for their being unable to do the job. If members were asked in advance, the whole business of election would go off more smoothly.

Overweight, one of the major problems of our times, is becoming more frequent among men than among women, reports Dr. James M. Hundley of the United States Public Health Service.

In other words, we eat too much, especially the men of the family. Rich gravies and sauces, pies and fancy cakes may taste good but if they put excess weight on a man they help shorten his life expectancy.

Here is a breakfast the entire family would enjoy. The quantities listed show the amounts to eat for a 400-calorie reducing breakfast. Growing children should have whole milk, a second muffin, and additional butter.

Breakfast: Fresh raspberries (2-3 cup), whole wheat flakes (1 ounce), skim milk (1 cup), spicy oatmeal muffin (1), butter or margarine (1/2 pat), black coffee.

Spicy Oatmeal Muffins
(Yield: 12 muffins)

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 cups quick or regular rolled oats, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1 egg, well beaten; 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine.

Combine flour, sugar, salt, soda, baking powder and spices; sift into mixing bowl. Add rolled oats, combine vinegar, milk, egg and melted shortening. Add liquids to dry ingredients; stir just until ingredients are blended. Fill greased muffin pans 3/4 x 1 1/4 inches, 2-3 full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) until done, about 20 minutes.

Next meeting will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Winnie Slaton, 929 N. Duncan.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served during the social period. Attending were Mmes. A. J. Meloche, Johnnie Dawes, Ann Bryant, Henry Maple, Betty Brown, Winnie Slaton and N. N. Quary.

Miss Adell Roberts, Lt. William Walin Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Roberts, 533 S. Barnes, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Adell, of Houston, to Lt. William J. Walin, formerly of Marquette, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Yari M. Walin of Detroit, Mich.

Miss Roberts, a registered nurse, is employed by the Veterans' Hospital in Houston. Lt. Walin, who is serving with the Air Force, is stationed at Ellington Field, Houston.

The couple will be married Aug. 9, in the chapel at Ellington Field.

Good Posture Vital In Nice Appearance

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Posture is something that's a literal pain in the neck to most teen-agers. Weary to yawning of endless heckling by parents to "sit up straight," they get out of the house and fold up like a wet club sandwich. Comfortable at last, they think.

True, the fault lies with parents, too. Boring nagging promotes nothing but periodic deafness. But a teen-ager coming into young womanhood should take a look at herself in a three-way dressing room mirror before she decides she wants to be permanently slumped.

The cold truth is that clothes just aren't cut for slumped shoulders and a one-hipped stance. Most gals get frustrated when they can't look like the ad after they've bought the dress. A comfortable straight stance (not the ramrod look) will erase dress wrinkles and uneven hems.

It's true that when she first goes into the alarmingly rapid series of changes that turn her from a barrel to a woman with a waistline and a bosom, a gal is unused to her new self. She slumps to hide what she scarcely knows is her own.

But the minute she's ready, and it can't be too soon, a teen-ager should shed the pretzel posture and look full-sized, curves and all. No parental nagging, no gym class, no glamor course can do it — only herself.

Cotton could not be more posh than it is this year. When its coral colored and has a gold flower print in wide stripes, it might be the border of the loveliest of saris. But it's still cotton, with all cotton's practicality.

Who says men's styles don't change? When women get hold of them, they do. Slimly tapered slacks are definitely shorter this year, clearing the anklebone by a couple of inches. They're worn with a shirtwaist jacket, shirttails out.

Pampa Council Of Church Women Gives "Primrose Party" For Elderly Pampan

Pampan 70 years of age and older were honored at a "primrose party" recently in the Lovett Library by the Pampa Council of Church Women. Approximately 70 persons attended the event.

The invocation was given by Rev. James Bell, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church. The program included several readings of Mrs. Otis Nace, who wore costumes appropriate to each selection.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. A. D. Hillis, vice-president of the council, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian, welcomed the group on behalf of the library.

Following the program, prizes were awarded by Warren Hasse of radio station KPDM. Recipients of the prizes were Mrs. Ellen McAndrews, 85, oldest woman present; John Beverly, 96, oldest man present; Mrs. E. F. Young and Mrs. Doshia Anderson, both of whom have 11 children living; Mrs. Ezereta Pruitt for having 30 grandchildren; and to Mrs. J. R. McFarling for having 23 great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harris were awarded a prize for having been married the longest. They will celebrate their 57th anniversary in the fall. And Mrs. W. H. Brunelle was given a prize for having traveled the farthest to come to the party. She is from Boston, Mass., and is visiting her daughter.

Merchants donating the prizes included Clayton Floral Company, Friendly Men's Wear, Parker's Blossom Shop, Roberta Flowers, Smith's Studio, Richard's Drug and City Drug.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served. The serving table was covered with a pink taffeta cloth. The centerpiece was a pink bird cage filled with pink and violet double-larkspur and white cornflowers. Pink tulle and green leaves encircled the cage and a pink lace fan was attached to it. The serving trays were centered with pineapple tops filled with pink and violet double-larkspur. Flanking the centerpiece were tall pink tapers in silver holders. Appointments were silver and crystal.

Mrs. W. R. Campbell, in charge of the party, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff was in charge of the guest register.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If you are a member of the hostess committee for a party given by a club or organization, be sure to do your share of the work. All too often the chairman of such a group gets stuck with the full responsibility for a party, because the other members all find good excuses for not being able to do their part.

Don't join the slackers.

MRS. TRAVIS W. BROWN

Miss Eleanor Dunn And Travis Brown Are United In Marriage In Sherman

Miss Eleanor Dunn of Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dunn Jr., 1432 N. Russell, Pampa, became the bride of Travis W. Brown of Denver, Colo., son of Mrs. Martha Brown and the late C. N. Brown of Palacios, at 10 a. m. Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of Sherman.

Rev. Lloyd Chapman, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and a Baptist minister from Martin, assisted by Dr. Egbert Tubbers officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white tulle with a fitted jacket that closed in the front with rhinestone buttons, was styled with a scalloped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was waist-length. Her short veil fell from a white lace hat trimmed with blue satin ribbon and seed pearls. Her shoes were of white satin. She carried a Bible topped with a white orchid and a bouquet of pink roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dunn wore a blue line dress with inset of blue lace.

Her bridesmaids were Miss Mary Nancy Procter of Louisville, Ky., cousin of the bride, and Miss Jeanette Chapman of Martin, niece of the bridegroom.

B. K. Baggett of Waco served as best man. Ushers were H. E. Fuller of Waco and B. M. Lane and A. L. Chastel, both of Sherman.

For the short wedding trip, the bride wore a brown silk suit with brown and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. The couple will be at home at 1035 Sherman, Denver, Colo.

The bride attended Christian College and was graduated from Purdue University. She worked as a home economist with the Lone Star Gas Company for five years and was recently employed by Mrs. Tucker's Foods, Inc. The bridegroom attended John Tarleton College in San Marcos.

MATURE INT

By MRS. MURPHY

Joe developed affection for his Uncle Ken when he visited him and at their lake place. It was Ken who gave Joe his first rod — and showed him how to use it. It was he who'd be camping out that unforgettable beside the lake. Though no children of his own, he seemed to know more about fishing than any other people.

When Joe was Uncle Ken died.

When his mother, she started to speak, she shook her head irritably, averted, "Leave me alone to think," he said.

But late evening, the thoughts became oppressive to bear alone. To sudden cry of "Mother!" she him to and him sitting up in the dark. In a high, strident, Joe asked, "It means to see him again, doesn't it, Mother?"

She sat up on the bed, not touching him, Joe, that's what it means said.

She waited, to the darkness, she sat week you came home so happy. You hadn't misspell mark Miss James. She didn't get mad when told her. She was very kind. She said you might see him again, doesn't it, Mother?"

Then as she'd let time pass, she said, "That's almost exactly what Ken would have told you."

There was water. She picked up the aquid hand on the coverlet to between hers. "No, you see Uncle Ken again," she said, "But all the things you see him, you'll see again. In times, you saw a little part when she was so nice about it, she'd let time pass, she said, "That's almost exactly what Ken would have told you."

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Home Ritual Rated A Beauty Necessity

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Many older women think that to be perfectly groomed means spending a great deal of time and money at the beauty salon. "How could I manage to pay a beautician on my husband's salary?" they ask.

Yet, there's another woman in their neighborhood, working with the same budget, who always looks attractive. She is the perfect picture of the poised, well-groomed, mature woman.

She has learned through the years that beauty is an every-day occupation. She follows her grooming routine to the letter and lets nothing interfere with the hour she sets aside each day to attend to her hair, skin, nails, etc.

She gives herself a facial that requires little, if any, cost. It's very simple and takes but a few minutes each day. Using a cleansing cream, scoop out a good amount from the jar and place it in the palm of your left hand. Then, with your finger tips, spread it on your face, beginning at the left side of your throat and working upward. Remove the cleansing cream with facial tissues.

Then, pat your skin vigorously, but gently. Use a small cotton pad dipped in witch hazel and apply it to your chin, forehead, cheeks, etc.

For further stimulation, you might try running an ice cube over your face, especially along the jaw and chin lines.

The woman over 40 who looks after her skin and learns to use make-up to her advantage can't help but look and feel attractive.

A new-type wall socket, with a protective cover which must be twisted one-half turn before a plug may be inserted, helps foil attempts of small fry to connect fingers and forks to the house current.

New plastic tape which combines insulating and waterproof properties in one covering is now available to that man who keeps the home in repair.

48th Year

Take a sheath with a scoop neck. You must have one. Give it a morale-raising change for practicality by adding an over-skirt of organdy. Make it circular with a cummerbund waist and you've got cheery wearing for evenings.

If there's room in your hand-bag, make your work-to-evening costume do a real turn-about. Take along a stout envelope of Pops of beads. When you take the jacket off, put on the beads and no one will suspect you ever saw the inside of an office.

APPETIZER PIES made with seasoned pickle sandwich mixtures spread on rounds of pumpernickel bread are delicious.

COOK'S NOOK

Pickles Add Extra Flavor To Snacks And Roast Veal

By GAYNOR MADDIX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We just experimented with two pickle recipes. Mrs. Paul Bond of New York gave them to us. Her husband is an artist. You'll say she is, too, when you eat her pickle dishes.

Pickle Egg Appetizer Pie
(Makes 1 7-inch pie)
Four hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped, 1 1/4 cup finely chopped gill pickles, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 1/2 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper to taste, 1/4 pound liverwurst, mashed, 1 7-inch cross-wise slice round pumpernickel bread, 1/2-inch thick.
Combine eggs, pickle, onion, mustard, vinegar, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise and salt and pepper. Mix well. Combine liverwurst and remaining mayonnaise; blend thoroughly. Spread egg mixture over bread.
Decorate with liverwurst mixture forced through pastry tube. Garnish with additional pickles and pimento, as desired.

Pickled Veal Roast
(Makes 8 servings)
One 3 1/2 pound veal roast, boned and rolled, 1 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 1/2 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles, salt and pepper, cup sweet cucumber pickle liquid, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup onions and pickles. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Roll and tie securely. Pour pickle liquid over veal and chill overnight. Place veal on rack in shallow pan.
Roast, uncovered, in slow oven (300 degrees F.) 3 to 3 1/2 hrs. or until meat thermometer registers 170 degrees and meat tender. Baste occasionally with pickle liquid.

sides of the neck and is made so comfortably large but not so deep one-fourth to one-half inch of shirt the coat lifts with the reach of the collar shows. Armholes should be arms.

Miss Annette Burns And Bill Wilkerson Are United In Marriage In White Deer Important Hints For Women Who Help Men In The Purchase Of A New Suit

MR. AND MRS. BILL WILKERSON (Photo by Quall's Pampa Studio)

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Miss Annette Burns of White Deer and Bill Wilkerson of Midland were united in marriage at 3 p.m. June 17, in the First Baptist parsonage in White Deer. Rev. L. V. Ratliff, Jr. officiated for the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Florette Burns of White Deer and the late Mr. Ivan Burns, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Wilkerson of Skellytown.

The bride was given in marriage by Wesley Langham of Pampa, her uncle. She wore a white eyelet gown. The fitted bodice was topped by a white eyelet jacket styled with a Peter Pan collar and short sleeves. The jacket closed down the front with pearl buttons. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with unpressed pleats. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a band covered with white tulle and stephanotis. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid over a white Bible, a gift of the Young Women's Association of the Baptist church.

For something old, she wore lace mitts belonging to Mrs. Bob Smith of Pampa, and for something new, she wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. For something blue, she wore a blue garter to which was attached a miniature engagement ring and a miniature wedding ring. The garter belonged to Mrs. Keith Johnson of Midland, and the rings belonged to Mrs. Ralph Pauley of Dej Rio, sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Sue Franklin of White Deer was maid of honor. She wore an orchid-colored gown, styled identical to that of the bride. She carried a nosegay of white carnations. Bob Wilkerson of Midland, twin brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Burns, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue dress with navy blue accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The couple was married before the fireplace decorated with an arrangement of orchid and white gladioli and daisies, flanked by white tapers. Flanking the fireplace were baskets of white and orchid gladioli and daisies.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of orchid-colored daisies in a crystal bowl. The three-tiered wedding cake with white icing was decorated with orchid wedding bells and hearts and was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Miss Hazel Baker and Miss Patsey Moran, both of Skellytown, presided at the punch bowl and served the cake.

For the wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride wore coffee-colored linens and dress and duster with white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

The couple will reside in Midland.

The bride was graduated from White Deer High School this year, where she was a member of the Future Teachers of America, the National Honor Society and was awarded the junior citizenship award.

The bridegroom was graduated from White Deer High School in 1953 and is employed by the Northern Natural Gas Company in Midland.

Feminine preferences and tastes today influence the purchase of almost every kind of merchandise, from homes and automobiles to American Society of Designers.

Here are several important things a woman should know if she is to help a masculine shopper choose a suit that has the qualities he wants; and is a good value for the price he pays.

She should know the characteristics of the various kinds of suitings and the type of wear each is best suited for; which stand up best under hard use and dry-cleaning; which wrinkle least; which hold press and are least likely to become shiny.

An indoor worker, who places high value on appearance and a comfort, may get the service he wants from a fine, soft worsted. But the man who is out in all kinds of weather, in and out of cars, should choose a rugged cloth that will stand up under harder wear.

The first, and most important, consideration in buying a man's suit is correct fit. To wear and look its best, a suit must fit perfectly. Since forty-nine out of every fifty men have some kind of figure problem, it is necessary for them to have clothes made to their individual measure.

An increasing number of men today are solving this problem of correct fit by buying suits, in the popular price range, which are made to measure for their individual chest, waist and inseam measurements. A suit bought by this plan provides for any figure irregularity.

Take time to notice all details of fit. Look at the front, sides and back of the entire suit. Watch as the wearer raises his arms, stoops, moves about and sits down. Observe him as he walks with his natural stride to see if the trousers are cut for walking comfort.

Be sure the coat collar sets up smooth and close to the back and

Cleopatra Belonged To "Bathless Set"

By ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Gloomy as it is to disillusion those who cherish visions of the beauties of old — Cleopatra, Juliet and Guinevere — these gals were nowhere near as beautiful as an average girl today.

Cleo and Helen of Troy belonged to the strictly bathless set. Standards were different then, true, but the function and design of eyes and noses has changed little over the centuries. The swains who drooled over these gals must have paid a pretty uncomfortable price.

Water used in Juliet's day was surface water, from puddles and creeks. It was harder than King John's heart. If a gal had bathed in those days, she would have emerged looking like a piece of cooked sheepskin.

Instead of soaping up for beauty, these leading lights of an earlier day scraped with sharpened pieces of wood.

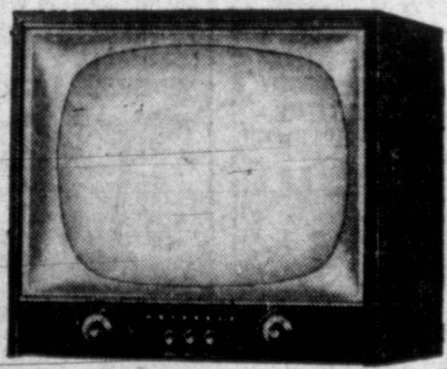

You could make it yourself — a beach or after-bath wrap-up of terry. But with a difference, for the wide lurid stripes go crosswise rather than up and down.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The serving table

Is AMS Indispensable To All Agriculture Folks?

By GAYLORD F. GODWIN
WASHINGTON, June 25-UP-
The Agriculture Marketing Service (AMS) comes close to being indispensable to everyone connected with agriculture.

The AMS marketing research and development programs involve research on the many problems associated with the assembly, transportation, storage, handling, packaging, distribution, and pricing of farm products; structure, financing, and organization of domestic markets, and related activities.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Ervin L. Butts said the Soil Conservation Service will step up survey work in seven Great Plains states as part of a long-range drought program.

Firm Sues To Contest Tariff Cuts

WASHINGTON—UP—A West Virginia glass firm brought suit in federal court Thursday to overthrow the President's power to cut tariffs.

Federal Judge Burnita S. Matthews took the case under advisement after a brief hearing.

The Morgantown Glassware Guild, Inc., contended that under the Constitution only congress has authority to act on tariffs. Roy St. Lewis, representing Morgantown, told Matthews that the 1934 trade agreements act and the United States' participation in the general agreement on tariffs and trade are illegal.

In an amended complaint filed Thursday, he also charged that State Department officials have conspired with the Treasury Department to destroy Morgantown's glassware business by diverting it to foreign producers who do not have to meet minimum wage and social security standards. He asserted that this amounts to an "unreasonable restraint of trade and competition."

Morgantown claims that the Constitution prevents congress from delegating tariff powers to the President as it did under the 1934 law.

The glass firm said tariff reductions since 1949 have cut its business from $1,250,000 to $750,000 a year.

George Hamilton, assistant U.S. attorney, asked Matthews to dismiss the suit on grounds that the U.S. customs court has exclusive jurisdiction over such cases.

Perryton Paper Wins US Award

PERRYTON—(Special)—The Ochiltree County Herald has won the top weekly newspaper prize in the nation.

Mrs. Van W. Stewart, publisher of the Herald, accepted the General Excellence plaque, presented to the winner of the Better Newspaper Contest for 1955, sponsored by the National Editorial Association in cooperation with state press associations, in Banff, Alberta, Canada.

Judging was based on the following points: Promotion of community interest; pictures; general appearance; make-up and style; editorial page; advertising enterprise; general and departmental news; and mechanical excellence.

There were more than 1,500 entries in the NEA contests this year. Second place winner in the General Excellence contest was the Amery, Wisconsin, Free Press, and third place winner was the Cotledge, Arizona, Examiner. Honorable mention in the contest went to the Steamboat Pilot; Northfield, Minnesota, News; and Stuart Florida, News.

In past years the Herald has won first places in many regional and state contests. In 1951 it won the Dallas News trophy for the "Outstanding Weekly Newspaper in Texas."
