The vetoed bill would have conferred special powers on counsel for the Senate investigating committee and cleared the way for the president's good friend, former Democratic Senator Burton K. Wheeler, to take a job with the committee as special counsel.

Mr. Truman vetoed it yesterday. He said it was too broad and would give the special counsel some of the justice department's powers. Then it developed that he was mistaken-that legislation of that nature has been passed many times. Once was when Mr. Truman was a senator and wanted for the defense committee, which he then headed, the same powers now asked. Ross made clear that Mr. Truman had simply

Foreign capital is needed because Mexicans, traditional invesonly now are beginning to trust their money in business. Foreign capital can be attracted here. Mexicans think, because interest and dividend rates are double what they are in the United States

Secretary of the treasury Ramon Beteta recently said with regard to Mexican securities: "Since the expectation of profits is higher than in more industrialized countries, it is likewise reasonable to expect a higher risk."

The Aleman program starts with unimpressive land, noted for a great surplus of mountains and a critical lack of water at the right times. Only an eighth of Mexico's total surface is arable, and over much of this it rains three to four months straight, and then a scorching sun bakes it into dust bowls for the remainder of the year.

The answer is irrigation, and Aleman boasts his administration will irrigate more land in the next six years than former governments did in 21 years, or than the US Bureau of Reclamation in its first 30 years. Though only 219,875,000 pesos ($42,000,000) were earmarked directly for irrigation in the 1947 budget, the government has promised to spend one and a half billion pesos ($300,008,000) in six A regulated water supply will be brought to 300.000 hectares (850,000 agres) of already cultivated soil, and it is planned to bring 1,400,000 hectares (3,500,000 acres) of new land into production.

Your Electric Refrigerator is a Priceless Possession Give It Good Care

Your electric refrigerator is built to give long service. Like all equipment, it serves you best if you give it proper care. To help your refrigerator operate better and last longer, here are some timely suggestions:

- · Defrost your electric refrigerator regularly-at least once a week in the summer, or when the layer of frost becomes about as thick as a lead pencil.
- · Avoid using a knife, ice pick or other sharp instrument to loosen ice trays. You might puncture the freezing coil.
- · Your refrigerator needs breathing space. Be sure there is air space in back of the refrigerators and over the top.
- If your refrigerator has an open type mechanism, it should be oiled according to the manufacturer's instructions.

Should your refrigerator need adjustment or repair call the dealer from whom it was purchased, or some other reliable service man who is experienced with your make of refrigerator.

summer session was made by Howard County Junior College here Thursday.

Registration dates for the session, divided into two six-weeks terms, has been set for June 9-10 with classes starting on June 11. Only one holiday is contemplated -July 4- and the first period ends July 18, the second starting on July 23 and terminating Aug.

Normal student load during the summer session is six semester hours each term or a total of 12 semester hours for the session. Maximum is 14 semester hours.

According to an announcement from the office of E. C. Dodd, president, any course on the accepted freshman or college level for which there is sufficient demand will be offered. In connection with the American Red Cross, the college will offer a lifesaving and water safety course from June 9-20, and it is possible that evening classes will be conducted during the summer if there is ample demand.

Students may be admitted to HCJC by an approved certificate of high school graduation, by examinetion, by individual approval of the college president, or by transfer from another reputable college. Veterans attending under the GI bill of rights will be asked to present a certificate of eligibility and entitlement or written evidence that application for same has been made. Full GI subsistence will be granted for six hours per term, and half of the subsistence for a three-hour course.

Howard County Junior College is advertising air conditioned classrooms for summer-making it unique in this field, for equipment used by the army is still in efficient condition. Tuition cost is $5 per semester hour.

The Senate lifted the House passed natural gas bill from under the jurisdiction of the state affairs committee, and put it in the hands of the finance committee.

This action came just a few hours after Jester had warned that passage of the $55 per capita bill and the $2,000 minimum annual salary bill for teachers would make it necessary to cut or abandon some pending appropriations He reminded the legislators that in his first message of the season, he had recommended a doubling of state expenditures but in such manner as to leave the treasury with a balance of $12,000,000 at the end of the next fiscal bien-

The same day the governor's statement was issued, the House approved a Senate bill making the largest appropriation in history for eleemosynary institutions, $23,-171,886 for the two year period. It pared about two and one-half million dollars from the Senate bill and the Senate must now either concur or send the measure to a conference committee.

The C. S. McLellan tax bill to raised $29,000,000 annually was passed by the House and had been stalled in the Senate state affairs committee since April 1. Chairman George Moffett had appointed a sub-committee to study revenue needs and report back. House tax advocates considered the Senate action favorable to their cause, although they did not regard the 18 to 8 vote on the question an indicator of how the Senate might stand on a tax show

He said that he made eight basic charges, including: The administration of A&M President Gib Gilchrist was frequently questioned; that new rulings of the school have relieved students of representation essential for training and leadership; that Gilchrist's presence threatens loss of students for the school; that rents raised during the war to offset small attendance had not been lowered d spite a record enrollment this year.

Shultz contended that the impression Dr. T. O. Walton, former A&M president, had helped to draft a letter prepared by Shultz and distributed by the class of '46, was not correct. Dr. Walton furnished some fiscal figures as his request, according to Shultz but had nothing to do with the letter.

Concerning the report that he (Shultz) had left school because of deficient grades, Shultz said that he told the committee that he had been told by a Dr. Mayo in the English department that his work had been completed, and that he left because a student affairs committee, influenced by Benny Zinn, in the office of the dean of men, had informed him his presence on the campus was objectionable to the president,

Clean Up Drive Sets New Record

The spring clean-up campaign netted 218 loads of trash and rubbish, which is believed to be the largest volume ever collected in such a drive here, city officials announced today.

City trucks completed pick-up work Tuesday afternoon, six days after the campaign was scheduled to close. The pick-up work was continued past the deadline automatically when the volume reached the unexpected proportions.

City officials expressed belief that a number of sanitary problems and fire hazards were corrected during the drive, and the chamber of commerce civic and beautification department, who sponsored the campaign jointly with the city, praised citizens for increased support of the 1947

However, Senator Moffett says this: The resolution doesn't have much chance unless the legislature is convinced that the people want it, and so far the people haven't evidenced too much interest in it, The plain fact is that most people don't even know the names of their representatives particularly in the cities-much less care about how many members there are, or whether the population is equitably represented. There seems no reason to believe that public apprehension has increased since the January Bolden Poll when it was disclosed that only one person in five know what legislative redistricting was all about.

That any great public movement could be launched for redistricting this late in the session is gravely doubtful. It looks like that redistricting, passed up since 1921, will go by the boards again at Daingerfield, Texas.

Titled "The Story of Big Spring" the article gives a detailed decription of area growth, with special emphasis on oll development in Howard and Glasscock counties. The arrival of the T&P railroad is marked as the beginning of Big Spring's greatest era of growth. How this event touched off the spark that flamed into valuable agricultural and cattle industries is retold, before the oil development is dealt with at length.

The discovery of oil in Howard and Glasscock counties is attributed to the firm convictions of Fred Hyer, who steadfastly maintained that "black gold" lay beneath the terrain, despite contrary views of other oil men of that day. The article recounts how Hyer severed his connections with a concern who wanted to drill for oil in Kentucky instead of this area. After some financial difficulties, Hyer succeeded in putting down a well on the H. R. Clay ranch, which made the area's first producer. Continental's present-day operations are described as the largest Several Valley and West Texas in the Howard-Glasscock field. The produce 4,030 barrels a day, main-

The high school of Big Spring is undergoing a thorough evaluation this week. It is significant development, not within itself, but within the scope of preparations and utilization.

It axiomatic that before it is possible to solve a problem, it is first necessary to understand the problem.

Thus, it is fundamental in education that maintenance of virtues, strengthening of averages and overcoming of weaknesses must rest first of all upon the recognition of these conditions where and as they exist.

The evaluation here is not merely a serious study of our situation, but a comparison. Now comparisons may be odious, but they are less likely to be so when the comparison is with a high standard or ideal. Such is the case with an evaluation criteria, for it places a particular school not against another, but against some 200 of the outstanding high schools of the nation. Against an admittedly weak school, we might appear to great advantage; against an educational ideal, we might suffer unduly. Compared with a worthy standard, however, we are apt tocome nearer justice, even though the requirements are high.

It will be interesting to many to know that the high school and its functions are not alone under scrutiny, but the community as well. It would not be fair to appraise a child without appraising the par-

It would not be surprising if we rank well in some fields when final reports from the survey are received; it will not be surprising if we fall short on others. Regardless of what the whole reveals, it should not be used as basis for complacency or alarm. It should be used for what it is intended-a measuring stick for revealing our problems so that our schools and our people may come to grips with them more intelligently, vigorously and tenaciously.

Visit The Boy Scouts In Camping

One of the backbones of the Boy Scout program, which, incidentally, has been proven over a period of nearly 30 years, is camping and hiking activities. In fact, leaders are constantly reminded never to take the (sc) OUTING out of scouting. It is just that essential.

Big Spring people will have an excellent opportunity this evening, Friday and Saturday to see a scout camping program in action. The occasion is the annual Round Up, held annually in Big Spring, and attracting hundreds of boys from the entire Buffalo Trail council.

Boys will set up model camps, will do their own cooking, provide their shelter, engage in good housekeeping and sound sanitation as well as finding plenty of time for a balanced round of scoutcraft and recreational activities.

You will enjoy it almost as much as the boys if you take time to drive out to the Round Up grounds, southeast of the city park, during the next few days.

Two Labor Bills On Last Lap

WASHINGTON. (AP)- Two of the most important measures this Congress will handle are on the last lap there now.

Both are more far-reaching than anyone at this time perhaps can tell. But together they show the mood of Congress at home and abroad.

The two are: 1. A bill to give $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey. 2. A bill to restrict labor unions. From what has happened with those bills so far it is clear Congress is determined to stop the spread of communism abroad and to curb unions here. The Senate passed the Greek-Turkish aid bill Tuesday. Now it shuttles over to the House for President Truman, who asked for the bill, will sign it into

Last week the House approved a labor bill, the toughest in history. And today the Senate was to start debate on a labor bill, also very tough.

But when Mr. Truman gets the finished labor bill he may try to kill it with a veto. It will be tougher than the one he wanted. (Congress could pass it into law over his veto with a twothirds vote). But take a look at the two bills and what the future may hold if both become law. The air to Greece and Turkey - money and arms - starts this country on a new policy in foreign affairs. It throws us into the internal doings of at least two European

But once we start with Greece and Turkey, we may have to go on giving similar help to other countries which ask help against

No one knows where that may lead us, or whether eventually it will mean war with Russia, As to the labor bill-

The congressmen who voted for this bill said strong measures are necessary to put some curbs on labor union activities. Enemies of the bill talked this

It goes so far that it will, in effect, smash unions. They predicted the result would be chaos In this country.

There's a good chance that, if Mr. Truman vetoes the laber bill, Congress can't get up the necessary two-thirds vote to make it law anyway.

In that case this parent Congress may wind up the year without having passed any labor has cabled from Moscow that he regards the Greco-Turkish aid program as indispensable and urgent, but thus for he hasn't explained publicly what he figures will happen if these two Balkan states aren't given assistance to safeguard themselves against communist aggression.

To a good many people the position apparently presents a picture of huge red armies rolling out of the north against Greece and Turkey. The fact that Marshall is credited with being the greatest military expert of our time may tend to encourage this martial thought. However, the immediate threat doesn't strike me as presenting any such contingency.

These two countries are in the path of the communist advance all right and are in danger. But there isn't the slightest sign that Russia plans to intervene militarily. To do so would be to precipitate another world war, and that's the last thing which Moscov want at this time. That's true for several reasons

Secretary of State Marshall but one is enough - the Soviet Union is too exhausted from the late war to embark on another

> Communism is boring from within Greece, trying to create rebellion which will overthrow the monarchy and permit establishment of a Soviet republic. The Greek government charges that rebellion is being fostered and aided by neighboring Albania, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia, all satellites of Moscow. The United Nations security council has a commission on the northern frontiers of Greece watching this explosive situation.

The aid which America proposes to give Athens is to enable the Greek government to defend itself against this agrressive communism. And where does Turkey come into the picture? The answer is one which this column has given before: Greece is the strategic bastion that guards the Turkish flank, including that allimportant Dardanelles strait. If Greece should fall then Turkey would be trebly vulnerable.

Now of course such a situation might produce a war, that is, a conflict among the Balkan states. However, one would expect Russia to keep her little satellites sufficiently in leash to prevent the present maneus vers from causing another war. "And surely if a Balkan conflict should break out Moscow would do everything possible to avoid becoming militarily involved, because that would again set all the mills of the war gods to grinding for another global upheaval.

So, to repeat, American aid would be calculated to equip Greece and Turkey so that they could stand off communism by themselves, without active help from outside. That will be a hard fight, for communism will continue its fifth-column activities from within and its pressure. from the red countries on the north. There will be no quarter. The point which Washington had made in urging the aid to Greece and Turkey is that the security of the Western World would be endangered at some distant date if these strategic countries came under the domination of Russia.

Girls, Pick Swim Suits Carefully

HOLLYWOOD. (P)- Esther Williams, who ought to know, advises you gals to exercise a little care before you snap up your summer bathing suit at the bargain counter.

"Girls take all the trouble in the world to purchase a suit, a coat or a dress," said the swimming star. "They make sure that they are the right color and fit correctly. Yet when htey go to buy a bathing suit, they just say, 'I'll take that one.'

"After all, when a girl is at the beach with her boy-friend, he really gets to see her in the raw. She should do her best with what she has - to look her

The MGM actress frowns on the French type of suit that leaves little to the imagination. "It is not how much of the body that is exposed that makes girl look sexy," she opined. "It is rather how she shows off the curves to best advantage."

"What could be a better example than the sweater? Nothing is bared, yet the curves do the trick. The same can be done with a bathing suit."

But what about the girl who likes to swim, but doesn't have the figure to go with it?

'Then she should buy herself a nice beach robe and stay in It - except when she's actually in the water."

Texas Heaven Shifted

HOUSTON, (A) - There is an old vaudeville gag that the average man wants to go to heaven when he dies, but a Texan would prefer to ascend to Dallas.

However, a lot of live-Texans now - as well as thousands of outlanders - seem to want to go to Houston. It's one of the. boom capitals and fastest growing large cities in America,

It is expanding like a balloon tied to the mouth of a circus barker. The super markets here are so large a customer can wear out his shoes walking from the aspirin counter to the pork chop case. One huge grocery store with enough neon light to illuminate a world movie premiere operates on a 24-hour basis. If the baby cries at 3 a.m. you can wheel him down and buy him a fresh pint of milk:

A visitor gets, the impression that if a man's cigaret lighter runs dry, he just buys another oil well to refill it. You have to stand in time to get a building permit for anything smaller than skyscraper. The music of Houston is a symphony of ham-

The only thing Houstonians admit is even remotely wrong with their city is the climate. But they are ready to import another one if enough citizens want it changed.

Typical of the boom mind here is enterprising J. C. Smith, Jr. who operates a taxicab which he says is "the only one in Texas equipped, with one of the new telephones - certainly the only one in Houston."

Smith came to Rouston two years ago with $100 in his pockets. He hacked for others until he saved up enough to buy

Smith has saved up enough to order two new seven-passenger cabs. He has a one-sentence philosophy:

"There's a lot of money to be made around here, and I'm out to get my share."

His very fondness for his cab is like that of a cowboy for his pony. It broke up his last romance.

'I really don't have time for s girls anyway," he said. "I was thinking of getting married, but this girl asked me, which are you going to love more - me or that taxicab of yours?' Since she put it that way, I didn't hesitate to tell her, "this taxicab is the big thing in my life."

Poland's Rebuilding Budget For Year

WARSAW, (AP)-The Polish council of ministers has proved a proposed investme in 1947 of $159,000,000 zlotys by the ministry of national reconstruction.

Twenty-five percent is to be spent in the rebuilding of Warsaw. Forty percent will be used for rebuilding towns, 25 per centfor the countryside, 8 per cent for the building industry, and two percents for experimental building, studies and plans. Sixty-five per cent of the total consists of housing investments.

JESSE WOLCOTT STALLS

WASHINGTON .- Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, now holding hearings on the Army-Navy unification bill, are biting their nails a their chairman, complacent Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota. As one member puts it: "Chan is a lobbyist for the bill rather than committee chairman."

Equally disturbing is the fact that several Army and Navy officials testifying on the bill have let Senators know private y they don't really believe what they told the committee.

"If we didn't say what the top brass wants," they explain, "we'd sure catch it-and maybe lose our rank.'

From now on there vill be more careful cross-examination of Army-Navy witnesses.

REAL ESTATE LOBBY President Truman aimei some barbed remarks at both Congressional "Inaction" and the real estate lobby when he discussed housing with spokesmen for eight national organizations who building homes. Truman's remarks were inspired by criticism from David L. Krooth, co-chairman of the Housing Legislation Information Service, Wesley Pearce of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. and Lee Johnson of the National Public Housing conference who minced no words in telling the president that the nation's hous-

called to protest tragic delays in ing program had failed and why. They pointed first to the tremendous falling off' in home construction in the first three months of this year. Only 45,000 "starts" were made in home building in the first quarter of 1947, they said, compared with approximately 60,000 in the first quarter of 1946. "In other words, last year, when we had government controls, we were getting, more home construction than we are now, though the construction industry and its friends in Congress told us that building would increase when the controls were lifted," said Krooth. The president said he was fully aware of this Grimly, he admitted that the "housing situation" was not improving-if anything, was getting worse.

"We need a lot more rental construction than we are getting." observed the president. "It is way down. Builders are putting their houses up for sale at high prices that the public cannot afford to pay."

a great deal of money to get out misinformation that deceives the public. It's up to you fellows to counteract this propaganda by seeing to it that the public is told the real facts." Veterans of Foreign Wars Spokesman Pearce asked Truman if the government was 6'doing anything further" about industrialized (pre-fabricated) housing. "That is the quickest way to relieve the shortage in an emergency, if housing production can be put on an assembly line basis," declared Pearce. The president agreed that industrialized housing couldn't be over-looked and reported that a Columbus, Ohio, plant for this purpose would soon get into mass production.

NOTE-Organizations represented at the meeting were: AFL, CIO. VFW, National Public Housing Conference, National League of Women Voters, Council for Social Action of the Congregational Church, National Jewish Welfare Councils and American Association of University Women.

CURSE ON BOTH SIDES Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach has to keep his lips buttoned publicly, but backstage he has done some blunt vocalizing about the bull-headedness of both sides in the telephone strike.

It's a toss-up as to which side has run the labor secretary's blood pressure higher...

Schwellenbach considers the don't-give-an-inch position of union Spokesman Joseph Bierne suicidal, because the telephone workers can't afford a prolonged strike. The big telephone companies, on the other hand, can continue operations, especially local dial services, for weeks-

However, Schwellenbach is even more critical of the telephone companies. Privately he points out that if the telephone companies defeat the union, they are, simply asking for more trouble; since Bierne's National Federation of Telephone Workers will be ripe for taking-over by either the AFL or CIO.

"The telephone companies will regret it if this happens, says the Secretary of Labor. "For they will find the phone union much tougher to deal with as an AFL or CIO affiliate than as an independent union."

So the phone strike hasn't mgained anything for anybody, including the public.

UNDER THE DOME

Ed Pauley's shadow is still with us. Chairman Nelson Lee Smith of the Federal Power Commission has had the resignation of Vice-chairman Richard Sachse of California on his desk for several weeks, but hesitates to accept it. He is afraid Ed Pauley will have too much to say about who takes Sachse's job . . . A five-man committee of Western Republicans was appointed to try to save reclamation and irrigation projects. It included: Walt Horan and Hal Holmes of Washington, John Phillips of California, William Hill of Colorado and Frank Barrett of Wyoming, Though they wept, begged and got down on their knees to fellow Republicans, GOP leaders cut the heart out of the Interior Department's appropriations . . . This means Truman will have a good chance to carmy the West in '48 . . . It also means that Gov. Dewey will increase his efforts to team up with California's Gov. Warren, thereby increasing GOP strength on the Pacific Coast. (Copyright, 1947, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Broadway-Jack O'Brian Triple Play In Neckwear Gag

NEW YORK .- Lew Parker, the very funny young comedian star of the recent "Are You With It" and the more recent "Front Page," is troubled consistently with a problem on his radio program. It's the trick of 'warming up" his studio audience to a point where their collective laughter will seem highly impromptu and good-natured over the air and not a forced affair. -"Good evening, folks." Lew starts off, working on a crowd which likely as not is still chilled from the outside winds, "I'd like to introduce myself. I'm Lew Parker? "Now I don't want you to think that I indulge in the low comedy other radio stars use to get studio audiences in the right mood. You look like a more intelligent crowd. Therefore I gan't do pratt-falls or make foolish faces I simply have to anpeal to your more sophisticated comedy tastes and deal with you on a highly cultured plane."

At which point Lew presses a button in his pocket-and his bow tie lights up in a resplendent red, gaudy enough to stop traffic on Broadway. This has been a fine warmup trick Audiences have been caughe with their guards down at its sudden change of pace and usually laugh like a convention of happy hyenas. But the other evening when Lew was arriving for his broadcast. he sat amminute in the hall outside the National Broadcasting Studios talking to friends. Suddenly he spied two youngsters of about eight or ten years.

This was, Lew knew, an emergency. He quickly started conversation with the boys and the woman, and suggested that if they would refrain from illuminating their electrical Sinatras during the broadcast that he'd introduce them at the end of the show as his relatives and all three pressed their buttons let them take a bow. . .

The lads were delighted. Lew gave them added instructions. and went in to do the show. He went ahead with his usual warmup period, including the tie gag.

simultaneousi. "It was the biggest belly laugh I've got in 20 years in show bus-iness." said Lew. 'I told the boys that when they grew up to come on back and work with me. They're natural straight men."

The 'take' of the Steers' first home game with Lamesa last Tuesday was better than school officials had expected, in view of the fact that the game had not been advertised and those spectators who did not care to pay could watch the game from any part of the field.

Once the park is completed here, the high school team bids fair to have its share of followers. There is no reason why high school baseball can't succeed financially anywhere in the state.

The selfish designs of those persons who would strike the game a mortal blow should be defeated.

China. The House abruptly halted its consideration of the measure yesterday in the midst of (A) protests against "excessive" drains on the treasury, (B) demands that Congress first find out the final amount to be needed, and (C), a controversy over banning any aid of the relief job in Europe and to communist dominated nations. The interruption was ordered to give priority consideration, beginning today, to the sharply-pruned "measure carcying appropriations for the interior department.

Secretary-general Trygve Lie fixed 10 a.m. CST today as the dead-line for the nations to turn in proposals to be heard by the

Two major questions have been put on the provisional agenda upon which the assembly must decide by a two-thirds vote.

They are: 1. A British request for appointment of a special committee to prepare for consideration of the Palestine question at the regular session in September.

2. Identical requests by the five members of the Arab league who. are UN states for the special session to consider termination of the British mandate over Palestine and the declaration of Palestine's independence.
