Peron Emerges More Powerful Than Ever

Violence Campaign Called To Keep Chief In Power

By WILLIAM F. L. HORSEY

BUENOS AIRES — UP — The followers of President Juan D. Peron Thursday were under orders to engage in a campaign of violence to keep him in power.

Peron who Wednesday offered to resign in the interest of political peace, withdrew the offer Wednesday night in response to inspired demonstrations of protest. And he told his Peronistas they were authorized to kill anyone who has after rises against his government.

He gave them this new party watchword:

"Reply to violent action with more violent action."

(Political observers and Argentine refugees in Montevideo said the proffered resignation was a carefully contrived scheme designed to whip up new enthusiasm among his followers and re-inforce his waning hold on the nation. Some sources suggested he had emerged from the dramatic maneuver "stronger than ever.")

A general strike called by the 6 million-member General Confederation of Labor (CGT) to protest his resignation was called off at 6 a. m. (3 a. m. est.) Thursday and Argentina began returning to normal. Strong police re-inforcements guarded key points but no deaths were reported.

The only casualties were seven persons killed and 31 injured, victims of a train accident at the village of Tucuman.

The victims, railroad workers en route to Buenos Aires to attend the mass rally for Peron at the Plaza de Mayo, were sitting on the roof of an overcrowded train. The high tension wires of a trolley line decapitated some of the victims when the train passed underneath it and flung others against big advertising posters lining the track.

Had Peron insisted on resigning Argentina would have been with a government, a congress or court. Members of the supreme court, the vice president, Peronista senators and deputies en masse threatened to quit if he did.

All buses operated by Waco Transit Co. were idled. There were no negotiations between the union and company were scheduled Thursday.

Waco transit buses carry 300,000 persons a month, a company spokesman said.

Another report by Arnold M. Rose of the University of Minnesota dealt with mental breakdowns among soldiers in combat. A study of 403 soldiers who broke down showed that ability to adjust to army life was "not an important" standing up to enemy fire.

Rose said GIs who heeded the loudest about the army and those who shrugged off "AWOL" were among those holding up best under combat.

Guaranteed Wage Benefits
Chrysler plant workers under the new contract won the same guaranteed wage benefits as Ford and GM workers. The plan guarantees laid off workers up to 85 per cent of their normal take-home pay during a half year of unemployment.

The Chrysler workers also won six-cent hourly pay increases for each of the next three years, improved pension, medical and insurance plans, and an additional eight-cent hourly increase for skilled workers.

Thursday settlement brought the last of the auto industry's "big three" producers into the guaranteed wage fold. Still remaining were the "little three"—American Motors, Studebaker-Packard and Kaiser-Willys.

American Motors' contract which covers 24,000 workers in Michigan and Wisconsin expires at midnight Thursday. The company and union were expected to settle on basically the same terms as the union negotiated with the "big three."

The union has begun preliminary talks with the other two members of the "little three" but they have not settled down to steady bargaining.

The union scored a victory when the company agreed during the post-deadline to include 8,000 office workers in the "guaranteed semi-

Kidnap Ransom Clues Are Checked

By PAUL T. DIX

ST. LOUIS — UP — Roger Lind, an airport employe, walked into a Minot, N. D., bank some weeks ago to cash his paycheck. He left the bank with the first clue to a $300,000 mystery that has baffled the shrewdest investigators in the United States for almost two years.

The clue Lind carried from the North Dakota bank was a $20 bill — one of 17,000 bills paid to the kidnap-killers of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

In the days that followed three more of the ransom bills turned up. Then they stopped.

It was the first time any of the ransom notes had been seen in circulation since two business associates of wealthy automobile dealer Robert C. Greenlease stuffed $600,000 into a duffel bag and tossed it from a speeding car near a culvert on a lonely road outside Kansas City.

The ransom, largest ever paid in a kidnap case, was delivered according to instructions of the kidnapers in early October. Within 48 hours the body of Bobby Greenlease was discovered in a shallow grave in St. Joseph, Mo., and Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Heady were arrested in St. Louis for the crime.

When he was captured Hall had thousands of the ransom bills packed in his luggage. The luggage was opened at the Newstead district police station. It held $293,000 of the $600,000 delivered by the Greenlease family.

PROSECUTION PLANNED FOR KIDNAP-KILLER

GREENWOOD, Miss. — UP — Local authorities Thursday planned an all-out murder prosecution in the kidnap — killing of a Chicago Negro boy who purportedly insulted a white woman at a rural store.

Sheriff George Smith of Leflore county said storekeeper Roy Bryant and his half-brother, J. W. Milam, definitely would be charged with murdering 15-year-old Emmett Till, a victim of polo.

Bryant and Milam, both white, admitted kidnaping the boy but claimed they released him unharmed. The boy's nude body, shot in the head and weighed with 125 pounds of metal, was found in a river Wednesday morning.

News of the "discovery of the body brought an immediate angry reaction from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and denunciations of the state of Mississippi.

In New York, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, said the slaying was a "lynching" in Chicago. Henry Huff, chairman of the NAACP legal redress committee, protested to state and federal authorities.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, Till's mother, said in Chicago that she would "fight to the end to see that justice is done," and added, "the state of Mississippi will have to pay for this."

Huff called on U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell for a federal investigation and protested to Mississippi Gov. Hugh White that "those who commit such dastardly acts are themselves enemies to our country."

A spokesman for the FBI in Memphis, Tenn., said the FBI was not investigating the case because no federal violation was indicated. White disregarded the NAACP protest.

Till, or someone, was said to have directed a "wolf whistle" at Mrs. Bryant during a visit of several Negro boys to the store and upon leaving said "goodbye" in a manner that Bryant and Milam considered insulting.

Bruce Wright, 36, Till's second cousin told United Press this account of what occurred at the Bryant store last Saturday night:

"Emmett went into the store and asked for some bubble gum and left after telling the women 'good-wolf call.' I told Emmett to be careful of what he said in the store."

Sunshine Dairy has 29 employees and will keep about the same number under the new management.

Goldsmith Dairies started in Dallas 12 years ago, and later moved to Borger, under the management of Odell Nelson. At present they are the largest independent milk plant between Denver and Dallas. Expansion in Amarillo has seen the plant double in floor area twice within the past 5 or 6 years.

IKES'S MAIL IS MIS-SENT

DENVER — UP — The Post Office delivered to the President's Summer White House Wednesday a letter that earlier had been sent to the wrong address.

The letter, addressed to "The Chief Executive, Office of the President, Denver, Colo.," was mistakenly sent to the Rev. Richard F. Ryan, president of Regis college.

"I get Ike's mail and he gets my trout," Father Ryan said.

B-I-E Day Planned For October 17

Business, Industrial and Education Day, the day set aside for Pampa school teachers to visit local business and industrial concerns will be held here Oct. 17.

Members of the faculties of Pampa schools will be taken on tours of the various businesses in and around Pampa in order to promote a closer understanding between the schools and to observe free enterprise at work.

Approximately 200 school teachers are expected to take part in the activities and there will be no school held on that day. The affair is an annual one and will begin with an assembly of the teachers and the 17 or more business concerns taking part in the activities in the Palm Room of City-Hall at 9 a. m.

The program of the general assembly will center around short talks by business executives and announcements of the day's activities. A tour and orientation of the various businesses will then be conducted.

A luncheon will be held in the high school cafeteria at noon, and after a short rest period following lunch, discussions and reviews will continue. The luncheon will feature an address by an outstanding business executive and special entertainment will be provided.

George Newberry is general chairman of the event, which is sponsored by the local chamber of commerce. E. G. Wedgeworth asks that business firms interested in persons a month, a company spokesman said.

Chrysler, CIO Come To Terms

By LEE LINBERG

DETROIT — UP — Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers Union agreed Thursday on a new three-year contract giving 139,000 striking employes the same guaranteed wage benefits that Ford and General Motors granted earlier this summer.

The settlement came a little more than six hours after a midnight strike deadline sent workers streaming out of 61 Chrysler plants in seven states.

The union said the settlement automatically signalled the end of the first major Chrysler strike since its plants were shut down by a 100-day walkout in 1950.

Move to Return to Work
Emil Mazey, UAW secretary treasurer who has been pinch-hitting for CIO President Walter Reuther as head of the union's bargaining team, said the union would do everything possible to "get the workers back on the job as quickly as we can."

Settlement of two key issues paved the way for agreement on the new three-year Chrysler contract — a union demand that white collar workers be included in the jobless pay plan and the question of the effective date of the contract.

The union scored a victory when the company agreed during the post-deadline to include 8,000 office workers in the "guaranteed semi-

Beer Drinking Costs Going Up

Pampa's beer drinkers will find their thirst has become more expensive today with a price increase in effect at taverns and package stores.

A double-barrelled increase, state taxes and higher tin prices, boosted the retail price of beer 25 cents per case.

New prices generally went into effect today, though the new tax increase is not effective until next Tuesday.

The tax increase is seven tenths of one cent on a bottle of beer.

Indications were that beer prices in taverns would be 30 and 35 cents per bottle.

Other tax increases to affect Pampans include one cent per pack on cigars and one cent per gallon on gasoline.

According to a United Press report today the new tax levies will provide revenue for the state's allocation of a record $1,324,000,000 voted at the last session of the legislature.

The United Press report stated:

AUSTIN — UP — Increased taxes on cigars, gasoline, beer and corporate franchises, voted by the legislature earlier this year, will become law next Tuesday, Sept. 6, heralding price rises on the three consumer items.

The state's new fiscal year begins Thursday, when the first year's allocation of a record $1,324,000,000 appropriation takes effect.

The biggest yield among the higher taxes will come from a one-cent boost per gallon on gasoline, hiking the state levy to five cents a gallon. The increase was expected to bring in $55 million over the year.

Altogether, the higher levies will raise some $98 million for the state over the coming two-year period.

Pay More for Licenses
In addition, motoring Texans also will start paying $1 more for their driver's licenses after next Tuesday.

A bill enacted by the legislature and taking effect then will boost license fees from $1 to $2 for a two-year operator's permit. Commercial licenses, good for one year, will be boosted from $2 to $3, and the one-year chauffeur's license will go from $3 to $4.

The increased fees are expected to bring in $2.5 million a year. The additional revenue will be devoted to increasing the state highway patrol force from its present 470 men to 570 during the coming year and an additional 100 the following year.

He said he wouldn't give his name because he was parked with a married woman when he heard the shots.

Authorities quickly reached the scene and found shotgun wadding, pellets and blood dotting the concrete top of the well. The bloated body, wearing a shirt and trousers but no coat, was recovered about two hours later, pulled to the surface by fire hoses stretched underneath it.

Approval was made for 40 new teachers in the Pampa public schools by the school board yesterday at 5 p. m. during a called meeting in the business office of the City Hall. Resignations of 15 teachers, who have resigned since school was out, were accepted.

Paving of streets was approved in the area of the proposed junior high school site on 23rd St. west of the Top o' Texas Drive in Theater.

B. R. Cantrell, architect, has favored the site. Proposed paving plans call for 900 feet on 23rd St., curb and gutter work on N. Charles, and one block on Deane St. (in back of the Pampa High School) between Charles and Russell.

Location of the site, already purchased by the school board, was referred to . . . "as near ideal as we're able to get" by Aubrey Steele.

Ike To Hold Strategy Meet

DENVER—UP—The White House announced Thursday that President Eisenhower will have breakfast here Sept. 10 with the Republican state chairmen of all 48 states as part of a GOP campaign clinic. The 48 GOP leaders and Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall will fly here by chartered airliner from Washington for the Saturday morning breakfast session next week. The GOP leaders will be attending a campaign clinic and training school in Washington next week and will return to the capital after the breakfast. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the meeting will be held only for the state leaders "to get together with the President." He said the session was set up at Hall's request. Hagerty refused to speculate that the occasion may indicate a more active role by Mr. Eisenhower in the 1956 campaign. Besides Hall, the state leaders will be accompanied by Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.), chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee. Hagerty said the Washington session next week is designed to "improve party techniques, stimulate organizational activity, and broaden precinct activity."

MAKING A GOOD LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Matthew 5:24-26
Life must be unified. Modern psychology is very positive at this point; no divided life has ever proved satisfactory. Of all men he is most miserable who tries to maintain two conflicting loyalties. Championships in every area of life are achieved and sustained on this principle. The athlete persists until every nerve and muscle has been taught to obey one order. It is called "perfect coordination." The singer applies the same principle in another field and sweeps her audience off their feet by singing with utter abandon, all her personality emptied into her song. He was the son of a famous surgeon of a Midwestern city, and the first baseman on the college team. One day a slight mischance left his index finger badly swollen and lame. That night his physician father noticed him shielding it as he ate dinner, and after the meal was over he took the young man into his office for a careful examination of the injured member. When he had assured himself that no permanent damage had been done, he turned to his son and said: "You have told me that you want to be a great surgeon. Maybe you'll have to choose between surgery and baseball. Wouldn't it be a terrible thing, 20 years from now, to have a little child die on the operating table under your hands because that first finger was too stiff to allow you to perform the operation with speed and skill?" The next day the youth turned in his glove and ball. "I am going to be a surgeon," he said to the coach, "and I don't intend to let anything interfere with that purpose." He had learned to unify his life. "You had given me but one life to live, O God, and I must bring it with all its powers, to focus upon the greatest purpose I can know. I will achieve. Keep me ever mindful of my major goal. Prolong and probe me that I become ennobled by small and petty things. How many times have petty matters distracted you in your efforts to discharge great responsibilities? Have you allowed your temper, your jealousy, or your conceit to shut you away from your life's chance? Is complete mastery not worth a supreme effort?"

Galveston Vice Feud Flares Anew

GALVESTON—UP—Mayor George Roy Clough's simmering feud with Police and Fire Commissioner Walter L. Johnston broke out again Thursday in a declaration of "war" by Johnston. Johnston charged Clough—who has sought to wield all city officials together to make Galveston an "open but clean" city—with "meddling." Johnston two months ago ordered his police to "obey the orders of the mayor." Since then, Clough has been generous with issuance of directives to police in his clearing campaign. Wednesday Clough ordered police to quit using squad cars to run errands, specifically, to stop delivering morning papers to the homes of Johnston and Police Chief Willie Burns. Johnston countered with a directive of his own which instructed police "not to follow any orders from any person outside the department unless channeled through the commissioner, the chief, and on down." "This order cancels all previous orders to the contrary," Johnston said. He made it clear that included cancellation of his order to "obey the mayor." Johnston said he's going to "call Clough's hand" and see just how far he (Clough) can go "with his meddling." Johnston said he will ask city commissioners to demand "hands off" policy as far as Clough is concerned.

Galveston Vice Feud Flares Anew

GALVESTON—UP—Mayor George Roy Clough's simmering feud with Police and Fire Commissioner Walter L. Johnston broke out again Thursday in a declaration of "war" by Johnston. Johnston charged Clough—who has sought to wield all city officials together to make Galveston an "open but clean" city—with "meddling."

Johnston two months ago ordered his police to "obey the orders of the mayor." Since then, Clough has been generous with issuance of directives to police in his cleanup campaign.

Wednesday Clough ordered police to quit using squad cars to run errands, specifically, to stop delivering morning papers to the homes of Johnston and Police Chief Willie Burns.

Johnston countered with a directive of his own which instructed police "not to follow any orders from any person outside the department unless channeled through the commissioner, the chief, and on down."

"This order cancels all previous orders to the contrary," Johnston said. He made it clear that included cancellation of his order to "obey the mayor."

Johnston said he's going to "call Clough's hand" and see just how far he (Clough) can go "with his meddling."

Johnston said he will ask city commissioners to demand "hands off" policy as far as Clough is concerned.

Ike To Hold Strategy Meet

DENVER—UP—The White House announced Thursday that President Eisenhower will have breakfast here Sept. 10 with the Republican state chairmen of all 48 states as part of a GOP campaign clinic.

The 48 GOP leaders and Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall will fly here by chartered airliner from Washington for the Saturday morning breakfast session next week.

The GOP leaders will be attending a campaign clinic and training school in Washington next week and will return to the capital after the breakfast.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said the meeting will be held only for the state leaders "to get together with the President." He said the session was set up at Hall's request.

Hagerly refused to speculate that the occasion may indicate a more active role by Mr. Eisenhower in the 1956 campaign.

Besides Hall, the state leaders will be accompanied by Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.), chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee.

Hagerly said the Washington session next week is designed to "improve party techniques, stimulate organizational activity, and broaden precinct activity."

MARKET NEWS

Read Matthew 5:24-34

Life must be unified. Modern psychology is very positive at this point; no divided life has ever proved satisfactory. Of all men he is most miserable who tries to maintain two conflicting loyalties. Championships in every area of life are achieved and sustained on this principle.

The athlete persists until every nerve and muscle has been taught to obey one order. It is called "perfect coordination." The singer applies the same principle in another field and sweeps her audience off their feet by singing with utter abandon, all her personality emptied into her song.

He was the son of a famous surgeon of a Midwestern city, and the first baseman on the college team. One day a slight mischance left his index finger badly swollen and lame. That night his physician noticed him shielding it as he ate dinner, and after the meal was over he took the young man into his office for a careful examination of the injured member.

When he had assured himself that no permanent damage had been done, he turned to his son and said: "You have told me that you want to be a great surgeon. Maybe you'll have to choose between surgery and baseball. Wouldn't it be a terrible thing, 20 years from now, to have a little child die on the operating table under your hands because that first finger was too stiff to allow you to perform the operation with speed and skill?"

The next day the youth turned in his glove and ball. "I am going to be a surgeon," he said to the coach, "and I don't intend to let anything interfere with that purpose." He had learned to unify his life.

How many times have petty matters distracted you in your efforts to discharge great responsibilities? Have you allowed your temper, your jealousy, or your conceit, to shut you away from your big chance? Is complete mastery not worth a supreme effort?

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Burns and Shirley and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Burns visited Tuesday in Borger in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Len Myers and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson and family.

Thursday night of last week, Mrs. Grady W. Harris was in charge of a program at the Childrens Preventorium in Amarillo. Misses Marcella Patterson and Betty Sue Newman assisted with the program by singing a few vocal selections.

Hearty Steak Dinner Pleases Most Males

Even on a warm day most men like a good old-fashioned, hearty meat dish such as Beef Steak Smothered with onions. According to meat expert Reba Stagg's to be at its finest, the arm steak should be cooked slowly. Let the meat simmer over low heat in a covered utensil until it is tender. Beef Steak Smothered with Onions
Beef arm steak, cut $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 inch thick

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup enriched flour
Lard or drippings
6 medium onions, sliced
Pepper
Salt
Dredge steak with flour. Brown on both sides in lard or drippings. Cover and cook slowly for 1 hour. Add onions. Season. Cover and continue cooking for about 30 minutes or until meat is tender and onions are done. 6 to 8 servings.

Canned Meats Give Base For Planning Easy Summer Meals, Informal Parties

Easy menus for every kind of summer meal can be planned around canned meats. Canned hams, luncheon meat, corned beef hash, beef steaks in gravy and canned hamburgers are only a few of the more than seventy kinds available.

Luncheon meat, best seller of the canned meats, often is combined with other meats and cheeses on a cold cut platter. Here's a recipe for glazed luncheon meat:
APRICOT GLAZED LUNCHEON MEAT
2 (12-oz.) cans luncheon meat
2 cans strained apricots with apples (baby food)
6 tablespoons brown sugar
Score surface of luncheon meat and place in a baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and spread over top and sides of meat. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Slice and serve topped with sauce from the bottom of the pan. 6 servings.

SUMMER ENTERTAINING
A canned ham is a handsome meat for summer entertaining. A simple way to make a canned ham into an elaborate meat dish is to glaze it. First have the ham sliced by your meat man, then tie the slices together so that the ham is in one compact piece. Use clean string, tying it around and around the meat in several places. Spread a glaze over the top of the ham and place in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes.

Corned beef hash is another canned meat item you'll want to have on hand for summer meals. Here's an unusually tasty corned beef hash-vegetable dish.
CORNED BEEF HASH PIE
1 pound can corned beef hash
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup catsup
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 package frozen lima beans
1 cup shredded cheese
Mix hash with catsup and egg. Press into a greased 9-inch pie pan and bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Cook lima beans until tender. Spoon on top of hash. Top with cheese and return to oven to melt cheese. 4 servings.

EATING AT THE COTTAGE
It's a smart idea to have a supply of canned goods on hand at the summer cottage or on a camping trip. When everyone comes home from a day at the beach, nothing could be easier than to open a can of meat and have dinner ready in jig time.

Two products which are becoming more and more popular and which make quick dinners are canned beef steaks in gravy and canned hamburgers. For a hot open-faced meat sandwich, heat the beef steaks in the gravy and serve on rye bread with gravy poured over the top.

You can serve canned hamburgers just as you do regular burgers with tasty spreads and spoon-on sauces. Here's one good topping: add 2 tablespoons of chili sauce, 1 teaspoon of prepared mustard, and a pinch of chili powder to 2 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine.

Pair off hard-cooked eggs with liverwurst for Liverwurst Egg Sandwiches that go on a trip in the sun. These foods make excellent fillings if the liverwurst is mashed and combined with chopped hard-cooked eggs and seasoned with chopped onion and Worcestershire sauce. Blend with mayonnaise. A perfect filling for those who enjoy the flavorful taste of rye bread.

Mrs. Tinnin's Ring Loaf
Good Fall Company Dish

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor
Mrs. G. E. Tinnin, 618 N. Frost, has a recipe for a casserole that is especially nice for company. Called a pea ring, the dish is good for fall, she added, and easily prepared.
A Pampan for 20 years, Mrs. Tinnin is a native Texan, having been reared in Tolar, near Fort Worth. She now cooks for herself and her husband who is associated with the Southern Production Company. Mrs. Tinnin says she likes to cook and always has.
In addition to her household duties, Mrs. Tinnin makes ceramics and does copper tooling as a hobby. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, for which she is serving as program chairman, and belongs to the Pampa Art Club, for which she was secretary-treasurer last year. She is affiliated with the First Presbyterian Church and belongs to the Women's Association and to Circle II.

1 No. 2 can corn
1 No. 2 can peas
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 small green pepper
1 small pimiento
2 eggs
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook noodles in boiling water 7 to 11 minutes and drain. Add corn, eggs, butter, green pepper, pimiento, salt and pepper. Place in well-greased ring-mold pan. Bake 30 to 40 minutes at about 350 degrees. Open can of peas and season to taste. Remove loaf from pan. Pour peas in the center and garnish loaf with pimiento and green pepper. Serves six persons.

Frankfurter Favorite

Here's a frankfurter serving that will make a lunchtime or picnic time hit. Plump frankfurters are cut lengthwise just enough to slip in thin strips of American cheese. They were then wrapped with bacon and broiled until the bacon was cooked and the cheese bubbly. They're served on bun halves with pickle relish. Shoe string potatoes, and a salad of tomato and cucumber slices complete this lunch.

A Party Sandwich Pie For Appetizer, Snack

Here's a canape-size sandwich that's ideal for use as an appetizer before meals or as an afternoon or evening snack. It starts with big, round slices of rye or pumpernickel bread and is served in tiny, pie-shaped wedges.
PARTY SANDWICH PIE
1 — Cut 4 crosswise slices $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thick from a large, round loaf of pumpernickel or rye bread. Spread with mayonnaise or butter.
2 — In the center of each slice, spread a 3-inch circle of cottage or cream cheese seasoned with salt and chopped chives. Surround each circle with a ring of canned deviled ham which has been chilled and seasoned with a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Then, spread an outer ring on each of deviled egg spread made by mixing chopped, hard-cooked eggs with mayonnaise, prepared mustard and salt.
3 — Decorate rims of pies with chopped parsley and cut each into 12 pie-shaped wedges. Serve as finger food.

Shrimp, Macaroni Highlight Luncheon

Here's that old standby, macaroni, again—but fancied up for company with shrimp and broiled mushrooms. You could have quite a good and gay luncheon with this casserole as the high point—just add a tossed salad and your favorite quick dessert.
SHRIMP-MACARONI CASSEROLE
4 ounces elbow macaroni, 1 cup 3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely diced green pepper
3 tablespoons flour
1-2 cups milk
6-ounce can sliced broiled-in-butter mushrooms
2 eggs, slightly beaten
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
1 pound cooked fresh shrimp, or 2 7-ounce cans shrimp
Cook macaroni until barely tender in boiling salted water. Drain well. Melt butter in small saucepan. Add onion and green pepper. Cook over moderate heat, stirring frequently, until barely tender, about 5 minutes. Blend in flour. Add milk and broth from can of mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils. Beat eggs and stir in small amount of hot sauce. Stir blended mixture into remaining sauce. Add seasonings, sliced mushrooms, macaroni and shrimp, mixing well. Place in greased $1\frac{1}{2}$ -quart baking dish. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees F., until firm, about 1 hour. Yield: 4 servings.

When cooking apples or pears for a chilled fruit compote, toss two or three whole cloves into the liquid for added flavor. Remove the cloves before serving the fruit.

South Views In Contrast On Segregation Issues

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three dispatches on the school segregation picture in the south on the eve of the new term.

By AL KUETTNER
ATLANTA —UP— "Travel the South looking for facts about school segregation as classes open for the fall term and you would find Dixie a land of contrasts. It all depends on where you look. You would find Negro and white children sitting side by side in Wilmington, Del., San Antonio and St. Louis. In Georgia you would discover that some Negro schools are the last word in modern, fireproof construction while many white children still get education in one-room buildings with outside toilets. You could find it the other way around without difficulty.

People on Edge
Young would find people on edge about the segregation question everywhere — even in the so-called liberal states, North Carolina is such a state. At Old Fort, N. C., five Negro children accompanied by a Negro adult appeared for admission last week to the white school. They had been attending a modern, well-equipped Negro school, but it was 15 miles away.

The incident attracted to the school yard a crowd of some 500 white persons, a squad of state troopers, sheriff's deputies and deputized volunteer firemen. The Negroes were turned down. There were no incidents. They are expected to appeal first to the local board of education and then to the courts.

Denison Gives Like A Boal
DENVER —UP— The citizens of Denison, Texas, — which is President Eisenhower's birthplace — Wednesday presented their most famous native son with a 15-foot plywood rowboat for use on his fishing trips. But the President, who immediately named the little craft "The Bluebonnet" after the official state flower of Texas, did not plan to use it on any of his current Rocky Mountain trout expeditions.

The chief executive's vacation angling in Colorado has been confined to small shallow streams suitable for fly-casting. The boat, built by the Yellow Jacket Boat Co., of Denison, will be sent to the White House in Washington.

A delegation representing Denison citizens, presented Mr. Eisenhower with a certificate for the boat, which can carry an outboard motor, at the summer White House offices on Lowry Air Force Base. Heading the Texas group was C. A. Weideman, mayor pro tem of Denison, acting for Mayor Harry Glidden. The delegation also included City Attorney Charles Gullett, Lee Seibert of Kansas City, vice president of the Yellow Jacket firm, and Max Ogden, an official of a boat firm of Denver.

Some to Be Re-enacted
The Old Fort scene undoubtedly will be re-enacted many times in the long process toward the integration of public schools ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Ailing Elephant Shot By Officer
DALLAS —UP— Zoo Director Pierre Fontaine revealed Wednesday that Homicide Capt. Will Fritz was called on Monday to shoot an ailing elephant.

Fontaine said the elephant, Queenie, was 55 or 57 years old and had developed tumors. "It was the humane thing to do," he said. "She was in great pain and we had been giving her shots for several months to ease the pain. Monday she refused to let anyone get near her and she lay down."

"That means, in elephants, that the end is near. We called for Capt. Fritz to dispose of her." Queenie was the last adult elephant at the Dallas zoo. Tootsie died several months ago of old age. The life span of elephants is about the same as human beings.

The zoo has a three-year-old female elephant, Savannah.

HIT URANIUM JACKPOT IN JUNK YARD—The happy grins of this quartet were set off by the high-side swing of their Geiger counter in a Denver junk yard. The scrap yard is located on the site of an old radium mill, out of business since 1910. It processed pitchblende and dumped the tailings into a fill, which today constitutes most of the junk yard. Uranium ores, of little value then, went into the fill, too. Uranium hunters who hit the jackpot are, left to right, Hyman Waldbaum, Edward Steele, who hunched the turn because his father once worked in the radium mill, Roger Steele and Morey Duman. They turned up a deposit believed to be worth more than $1000 a ton. Said Duman: "Only difficulty is we'll have to move tons of scrap to get at the stuff. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO."

American Males Vs Europeans Firey Rita Takes Americans Side

Editor's Note: Gloria Swanson wrote in a United Press extra from Rome that American men don't make as good husbands as Europeans — especially Latin. She said Americans are good providers but they don't spend enough time away from the office to be good lovers. Here film star Rita Moreno takes up the cudgels for U.S. males.

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD — UP — Firey Rita Moreno came to the defense of American males Thursday in answer to Gloria Swanson's blast from Rome that U.S. males make inferior lovers, husbands and fathers.

"It's not true at all," Rita says. "From what I've seen of men in this country and abroad, American men are the best of all. This Latin lover business is nonsense. European men hold up pretty well during the pre-marriage campaign," she laughed, "and that's why they have such wonderful reputations. But over the long haul they don't stand up so well."

When Rita says "Latin," she means Frenchmen, Italians, and all the handsome guys south of the Rio Grande.

Differs on Time
The shapely little Puerto Rican-born peppercorn jumped on Gloria's statement that American men don't take enough time from the office to treat their womenfolk to dining, dining and dancing.

"A Latin husband may not spend as much time in the office as an American, but from what I've seen of husbands of friends of mine in other countries, the time he saves is not spent at home with the little wife."

"He's out with the boys or ogling ankles along the boulevards," she said. "An American works hard and tries to earn as much as possible. With the money he buys washing machines and vacuum cleaners which make it possible for him and his wife to go dancing or out to a party."

"Sure, in Europe or South America a man can sit for hours over a cup of coffee at a sidewalk cafe because his wife is home doing by hand all the chores she didn't have time to do during the day."

Reputation from Duenna System
According to Rita, Latin men in many countries have a romantic reputation because of the duenna system.

"It's because of a stern-faced duenna that Latin men strum a rented guitar and sing offkey beneath a girl's balcony," she sniffed. "But after the official visit to the local cathedral the wife becomes just another accessory around the house while poppa goes looking at other retty girls."

To Gloria's charge that Americans aren't romantic, Rita ticked off the names of Clark Gable, Bill Holden and dozen others. "Who says they are not romantic. This country is full of handsome, dashing men."

La Swanson also mentioned that in Italy and Spain men have the take it easy attitude of "wait till tomorrow" — "manana" and "domani."

"Who cares about tomorrow," Rita answers. "It's today that counts — especially where romance is concerned."

Not Behind Others
"And don't think European and Latin countries are behind the United States when it comes to the do-it-yourself craze," she added. "It's been popular in Latin countries for centuries."

"Whenever a wife asks her husband to help with something around the house, he tells her 'do it yourself.'"

Rita emphasized that she isn't knocking Latin men. It's just that she thinks American males are the best in sight.

"When I am ready for home and health, I'll choose a 100 per cent red-blooded gringo American. They're romantic AFTER a marriage, not just while they're courting."

Convict Gridlers Escape
MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 27 — UP — Five long-term convicts who were playing football dashed off the field Saturday to stage a mass escape from Melbourne's central jail. Two of the prisoners were quickly captured by guards who fired a flurry of rifle shots. But the others were still at large, armed with rifles stolen from guards.

Grand Canyon National Park encloses the home of the Havasupai, possibly the smallest and certainly the most isolated Indian reservation in the United States.

Americans Poor Hubbys - - Gloria

By GLORIA SWANSON
Written for United Press

ROME — UP — When I say the American man is not the best lover, husband or father, I know I'm pouring oil on the age-old argument of American males vs. their foreign brethren.

I can hear my male compatriots shouting in self defense: "Wyaddy mean? I'm a money-maker — a good provider!"

In answer to that I shout back: "You're right. But where do you go from there — except to an early grave? Human money machines die young!"

With these words a good healthy fight should be on. Fortunately for me I have the Atlantic between us. Also I'm sure I have legions of females on my side of the fence to encourage my brave attack.

Nobody can say I'm too young to know what I'm talking about. I've been observing the opposite sex for 47 years, starting with my first beau at the age of nine (I don't mind if you add it up). Therefore I feel qualified to make the statement that something dreadful has been happening to the American man. It's not good. It's sad.

Maybe in the process of making our nation the most powerful and the richest the American male has personally lost something. That precious something cannot be manufactured or produced by machines. It is called TIME. Time in which to LIVE the role of lover, husband, father — not just to work, not just to exist. Just because a man is breathing doesn't mean he is living!

What I mean by living can best be illustrated by other countries, other men. "Foreigners," we would call them. In Italy, where I am now, and Spain, where I was last year, they have words for "tomorrow" — "domani" and "manana."

And they wouldn't think of exchanging one of those words for an American word like "ulcer" or "breakdown."

Can you imagine these people exchanging their coffee shops where they can sit for hours mulling over one five cent cup of coffee — exchanging that for a quick slug at a bar?

Can you imagine them calling a drugstore sandwich "lunch"? Or something out of a can "dinner"? Or taking the empty phrase "I love you" and calling it "love-making"?

Why oh why does the American male imagine that because he says he loves you and has taken out a life insurance policy, that's it!

Love needs fantasy of romance to keep it alive. Romance needs time, and this, Mr. America, you don't have. Granted, you steal a little time for watching football, baseball and basketball. Why not steal some for love?

Love is the greatest game on earth!

You use the word "finesse" in bridge and golf, even in your business, but what becomes of it in love? Your foreign brethren use it — and how!

When you become a husband and father why do you immediately shirk the role of "head of the house" and instead become "the biggest boy in the family"? It's a hardy fair to your wife to have to be a mother to you, too. And how conducive to romance do you imagine this ridiculous game is?

You may argue with me but I believe this "foreign" approach to time...to living...to love...really has something!

Why Does Rita Hayworth Have So Much Trouble At Marriage?

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Why do Rita Hayworth's marriages hit snags? A noted psychoanalyst offered one opinion Wednesday: She is the perennial "little girl" who wants to be constantly admired, loved and dominated.

With the movie colony speculating as to why Rita walked out on crooner Dick Haymes, the doctor's idea is that she is a virtual Trilby constantly seeking a dominating Svengali.

"A woman like that has a great need to be admired and loved by everyone, and the least lack of attention upsets her," he said.

"As long as these husbands are good daddies and run her life, fine — but when the chips are down, she can't take it."

A glance at Rita's romance rating shows it to be one of the most unhappy in filmdom.

The Brooklyn-born dancer of Spanish descent worked with her father until she was 14. Then she married oilman Ed Judson, nearly twice her age. Five years later she divorced him on the charge he considered her an "investment" and tried to "exploit" and "dominate" her. She even accused him of threatening her with scandal unless she paid him alimony.

Husband No. 2, Orson Welles, introduced her to "intellectual things, good music, books and conversation," friends say. Rita, they believe, liked the idea that Orson was her "teacher," but "the teaching didn't last."

But in 1947 she divorced him, complaining that "I couldn't stand his genius any more." She also complained he left her alone too much and showed little interest in her or their daughter. Friends add, "She couldn't keep up with him — he was too high-powered and had too many interests."

Elements May Be Named For Scientists

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. — UP — Scientists at three Atomic Energy Commission laboratories Wednesday suggested that two recently discovered elements, which now bear only a number, be named after the late Albert Einstein and Enrico Fermi.

The suggestion was made in a letter signed by scientists at the Los Alamos scientific laboratory, the Argonne National Laboratory at Lemont, Ill., and the University of California radiation laboratory at Berkeley, Calif.

The letter was addressed to the editors of the Physics Magazine. Scientists at the three laboratories worked co-operatively to discover what they call Elements 99 and 100. These were separated during experiments on thermonuclear test debris from the 1952 test in the Pacific Ocean.

The scientists urged adoption of the names Einsteinium, Symbol E, for Element 99 and Fermium, symbol F, for Element 100. Scientists opened the door to the idea with his theory on relativity and the Fermi, who gave birth to the atomic bomb, by only a few days. The letter says in similar super-

Builders Invite Reds

WASHINGTON — UP — The National Association of Home-builders has invited Russia to send a group of Soviet housing officials to this country to see how the free enterprise system produces new homes.

The invitation was issued by Earl W. Smith, El Cerrito, Calif., president of the association, with advance consent of the State Department. It came on the heels of the highly successful exchange of farm experts between the United States and Russia.

In a letter to secretary of state John Foster Dulles explaining the proposal, Smith said the home builders want to show the Russians the techniques which have made the United States the world's best-housed nation.

Among the cities and projects the association suggested the Russians visit were:

New Orleans, workers' housing; Austin, Tex., air conditioning in middle-income housing for city workers; Tyler, Tex., prefabricated home assembly plant and farm housing.

Junior High PTA Board Has Meet

The executive board of the Junior High Parent-Teacher Association was held recently in the home of Mrs. Jack Foster, president.

Due to the fact that two board members are moving from Pampa, two new officers were elected. Those chosen were Mrs. Fred S. Vanderburg, secretary, to replace Mrs. Sam Gerald; and Mrs. Elmer Darnell, council representative, to replace Mrs. Joe Schroedel.

Mrs. Foster announced a general board meeting will be held Sept. 8. Projects for the coming year, to be presented at the general board meeting, were discussed.

Vera Maxwell Will Be Given Citation For Her Timeless, Classic Creations

The Metropolitan may have lost a great ballerina, but American fashion gained a great designer in Vera Maxwell, who will receive a 1955 Neiman-Marcus Award at the special store's 15th annual Fashion Exposition in Dallas September 5th and 6th. Her famous signature on classic, timeless clothes has been more important in the lives of American women than any stellar ballet role.

From her comfortable office on New York's Seventh Avenue, Vera Maxwell can look diagonally across the street and see where her career in fashion began — the Metropolitan Opera House. Here, at 16, she was a member of the famous "Met" ballet, after falling under the spell of the beautiful Pavlova.

The satin shoes, the footlight and the applause lasted only a few years, but the discipline, exercise and training of the ballet is projected in her elegant clothes designed from her sure knowledge of how the human body works. Cut with a feeling for motion rather than insistence on static line, she designs for perfect comfort and fit as well as fashion.

Born in New York of Viennese parents, Vera Maxwell expressed an early interest in fashion design when she was taken to Vienna as a child. There the brilliant husar's uniform, the velvets and braid-trimmed broadcloths of lovely Viennese ladies made an impression later evidenced in her deep-colored suits, her fencing jackets and caped coats with the half-romantic, half-military flavor of Vienna.

A recent trip to Italy and the compelling charm of the city on the banks of the Arno inspired her 1955 fall collection, blending the colorful glow of Florentine art with the sturdy quality of wools from many lands.

While Vera Maxwell possesses the faculty to steep herself in a foreign atmosphere and to recognize the qualities of European fabrics, there is probably no other designer who better understands and interprets the needs of the American woman. She believes that fashion must meet the requirements of many activities and be adaptable to all occasions.

This year, recognizing the prevalent trend from town to suburban center, the designer presents a costume called "Country Elegance" designed to serve the woman living in the country or the town dweller who is country bound for a party. She adapts still other formulas for dinner and the theater, a trip to Farmers' Market or a day in the city.

In the accepted and authoritative Maxwell technique, dresses are smoothly fitted and flattering, suits and coats are deftly and gently tailored — all lines and proportions are planned for graceful easiness. Her sleeves, for example, usually have the turnback cuff, or a push-up fulness, rarely light or close to the wrists; coats and suits often have contrasting facings, or can be buttoned to either side, for a look of variety and changeability.

Vera Maxwell's famous wrapped blouse, a standard for many fashionable wardrobes, came about by accident when she wrapped an old cashmere sweater to the side and fastened it with a handsome silver pin. Now the design has been translated into jersey, Italian shirting, print cottons and even lacy wool boucles.

Fabrics are a Maxwell enthusiast's favorite. Her best designs have developed naturally from a fine, smooth wool, an outdoor tweed, or a supple jersey. As a young designer, she worked in a Scottish mill to learn the intricacies of wools, but she has since learned the art of selecting and combining fabrics. She often designs her own fabrics, and their intrinsic character and quality assure that a Maxwell suit or coat will stay in fashion rather than date by year. It was this ageless taste in design that earned Miss Maxwell the Special Award of the New York Fashion Critics in 1951.

Since she started her own business in 1947 she has disproved the "high fashion-high blood pressure" theory. A successful designer and businesswoman, she maintains the same friendly manner in her business as in her home. Her personal warmth and charm is reflected in her showrooms which are a pleasant surprise with their antique furniture, early American prints, and well-tended plants. Her own wide-windowed office in a pleasant country house rather than high above bustling Seventh Avenue.

Miss Maxwell divides her time between a New York apartment and relaxed week-ends at her Bucks County farm. This same combination of city-country sophistication and ease is found in the clothes she creates. There is about them a certain aristocratic simplicity that makes them unique.

It is this classic quality in a Vera Maxwell coat, a new edition of the Maxwell coat-dress, or a suit for traveling for which women return again and again — much as they would for a "repeat performance" of their favorite ballet.

LEISURE, EFFICIENCY, VERSATILITY — these are the key words of modern living. And the products that fit best with this scheme of life are the ones most in demand. Electric housewares, including a wide range of products, and performing a variety of functions, are an integral part of modern life.

TODAY'S AVERAGE HOUSEWIFE runs her household with one hand, the local PTA, League of Women Voters and various fund raising drives with the other, and still seems to have enough time to be an interesting and charming person. How she manages to do all this even without servants is an often asked question.

The answer lies in the fact that she has a "host of servants" in the form of electric housewares. They make her homemaking duties easier and help keep the family healthy and happy.

Preparation of meals, which used to consume so much of the housewife's time, has been made easy by electric cooking housewares that do the job automatically and assure delicious results. A deep fryer makes possible light, crisp, fried delicacies for every-day use. Food mixers make it easy to keep the family in cakes and cookies as well as eliminating hand stirring and beating of other dishes. Egg cookers take the family breakfast order — "soft, medium or hard boiled" — and deliver without clock watching. Coffee grinders and coffee makers prepare perfect coffee — every time and anytime. Roasters, broilers, waffle irons and sandwich grills meet today's work and time saving needs. Toasters, trivets, hot plates and corn poppers round out but by no means complete the picture.

Cooking is no longer confined to the kitchen. These electric housewares are attractive and versatile enough to be used at dining or buffet tables, and to be taken to summer cottages and college dorms. They can be used on the terrace or patio, too, following the trend toward outdoor living.

THERE ARE ELECTRIC housewares to take the work out of housework, too. Electric irons that are either all steam, all dry or a combination of both, make ironing a breeze. And to meet traveling needs or for fast touch-ups at home, there are special travel irons. Electric bed coverings make for easier bed making, with just one basket per bed as well as providing for healthful, comfortable slumber. And when it comes time to launder them, the washer load is that much lighter.

For the do-it-yourself enthusiast, comfort is as important a factor as the tools in his workshop. An electric fan or portable heater, depending on the weather, is an aid to an even temperature.

Vaporizers help maintain the good health that is vital to the enjoyment of modern living. And for tired, aching muscle relief, there are heating pads, massagers and vibrators.

A basic list of over 30 electric housewares that make for modern living has been compiled. How many do you have?

Bed Covering, Blender, Bottle Warmer, Broiler, Clock, Coffee Grinder, Coffee Maker, Corn Popper, Deep Fat Fryer, Egg Cooker, Fan, Food Mixer, Hair Dryer, Heating Pad, Hotplate, Iron, Ice Cream Freezer, Juice Extractor, Knife Sharpener, Massager, Portable Heater, Roaster, Sandwich Grill, Shaver, Skillet, Toaster, Trivet, Vaporizer, Vibrator.

Tensions Decrease With Larger Home, Experts Say AUSTIN — UP — Family tensions decrease as living space expands, a University of Texas psychologist reported Wednesday. This and other preliminary findings from an extensive youth study will be presented during the American Psychological Association's annual convention next week in San Francisco by Dr. Wayne H. Holtzman, university psychologist and associate director of the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene. Other findings to be discussed by Holtzman include these: Among "lower middle class families" there is less family tension when the mother works than when she doesn't. In general, there are fewer differences in families where both parents work than where one does. There are greater family tensions where parents have been separated than when they are living together. There is "greater resentment of dependency" when there is only one parent in the family.

Disaster Area Need Is Growing In a Red Cross disaster bulletin recently received by Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, executive secretary, there is a special notice to the effect that minimum needs for rehabilitation assistance has risen from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 to take care of additional flood victims. Registration of families for Red Cross aid rose from 8,000 to nearly 14,000 families over the last week end. Latest surveys of the stricken area also show hundreds of additional homes destroyed or damaged. E. Roland Harriman, national Red Cross chairman, said a survey of people expected to require Red Cross rehabilitation assistance is not yet complete. Ellsworth Bunker, American Red Cross president, asked the public to disregard any rumors that Red Cross is selling food and making loans to victims in the devastated areas. He said, "Red Cross disaster aid is an outright gift from the American people through their Red Cross. No charge of any kind is ever made for any disaster services given — whether food, clothing, or the rebuilding or repair of homes. One thousand comfort kits arrived by U.S. Air Force planes from Junior Red Cross of Austria. Each contained articles as "friendship" gift from Austrian children. They were immediately dispatched to the affected states. A total of $507 has been received by the local chapter of Red Cross to date for the disaster funds. THE OILERS HAVE FOUR MORE home dates left on their 1955 schedule and the club is aiming at a mark that probably has never been attained by an Oiler club...

These attendance figures are good, of course, but the local baseball-outlook here isn't as rosy as it may appear. To get straight to the point, the Oiler bankroll at present is $600 with a payroll day coming up to day.

Sinton Loses 1st Game In Semi-Pro Meet Qualifying Tomorrow For 20th Annual TOT Tourney Oilers Rally In 9th To Even Series

WICHITA, Kan. — UP — The ex-champion St. Joseph, Mich., Auscos will seek to catch the defending titleholder Wichita Boeing Bombers in the fifth round of the National Baseball Congress tournament Thursday night as they move against the Huntsville, Ala., Parkers.

Tomorrow is official qualifying day for the 1955 Top O' Texas Invitational Tournament at the Pampa Country Club. Host pro Hart Warren and his tournament chairman, Ham Luna, have everything in readiness for the big event.

AMARILLO, Sept. 1 — The Pampa Oilers stayed in contention for first place honors in the West Texas-New Mexico League here Wednesday night with a breath-taking 5-3 decision over the Amarillo Gold Sox before a crowd of 3,500.

Wichita Boeing got the jump on the Auscos Wednesday night as it moved unbeaten into the fifth round with a 5-2 victory over the Sinton, Tex., Plymouth Oilers. The defending champions scored three runs in the ninth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock, on singles by Minor Scott, Jim Mitchell, and Ernie Logan, a walk, and an error.

Something new has been added to the 1955 tournament. The champion will be determined by medal score and not by match play as has been done in the past tournaments. The championship fighters will play 72 holes of medal play, 18 Saturday, 18 Sunday and the final 36 on Labor Day Monday.

Big tournament at Harry Wilbur, the newly crowned Pampa City champion; John Forman, Dr. J. F. Elder, the 1954 Pampa City champ; Bud Abbott of Borger; R. M. Samples, of Pampa and a host of others.

By winning last night, the "magic number" for the Oilers is one in making the playoffs. The Oilers can win one of their remaining six games and clinch a playoff spot or the fifth place Blue Sox can lose one of their remaining seven games and the Oilers will be in.

Buddy Woods and Curtis Hardaway shared the glory last night for the Oilers. Woods went the route to pick up his 10th win of the season.

Hardaway was the batting star, pounding out four hits, a homer, double and two singles. It was one of his singles that drove in the winning marker after his homer had earlier tied the game.

Souls Close With Victory

The Holy Souls closed out their softball season with a 3-1 victory over the 4-H boys of Pampa last night. It was the Holy Souls' 31st straight victory. Twenty-two of these victories came this year while the other nine came in at the end of the 1954 season.

Thursday is the first official day the teams could suit out and practice for the long grind that starts 16 nights from now and ends Nov. 26 for all but the circuit's post-season club or clubs. The air was cooler than normal for this time of year, ranging from downright frisky low 50-degree readings on the Arkansas campus at Fayetteville to the upper 60's and low 70's all the way to the usually-muggy Rice campus at Houston.

Dukes Narrow G-Sox Lead

Albuquerque promised to make it a race right down to the wire for the straightaway championship in the West Texas-New Mexico League Wednesday night when the Dukes narrowed leading Amarillo's margin to one and a half games. The Dukes topped Abilene 5 to 3 while Amarillo fell to Pampa 5 to 3. Clovis beat El Paso 14 to 10 in 12 innings and Plainview crushed Lubbock 17 to 3 in other league games.

Nashua Wins Big Race From Swaps

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO —UP— A "right" horse beat a "wrong" horse in Nashua's 6-1/2 triumph over Swaps match race, and Thursday Swaps owner, Rex Ellsworth, wanted to know why he had the "wrong" one.

"I don't know what was wrong," he said. "Maybe in a couple of days or so, we'll know better. All we know is that he wasn't right. All you have to do is to look at the time (2:04 1-5), and you know he wasn't right."

But right or wrong, Swaps' chance to be acclaimed as three-year-old of 1955 went glimmering when William Woodward Jr.'s colt, a son of the imported Nasrullah out of Segula, came winking down Washington Park's long home stretch under a whipping prod from jockey Eddie Arcaro.

"If you take it easy on him," Arcaro said, "he'll pull up. I put some heat into him."

It was Nashua's ninth win in 10 starts this year, and it averaged his only 1955 loss, by a length and a half to Swaps in the Kentucky Derby at the same distance — a mile and a quarter.

But Woodward declared Nashua's pride wasn't "right" for that Derby challenge.

"Two weeks before the Derby, he had a particularly hard race against a hard opponent, Summer Tan. If ruined Summer Tan and Nashua wasn't right. I believe Nashua is a better horse when he's fresh."

Nashua was fresh Wednesday. It was his first race since he won and he came against Swaps after a five-week "rest" ordered by Woodward, with light training on Saratoga's off track.

Arcaro broke Nashua out of the gate in front. Swaps came at him twice and failed both times. After a half mile, under jockey Willie Shoemaker's urging, he fell short by a neck. With quarter to go, under a whipping, he couldn't gain ground on the outside or the inside, and Nashua's won going away, never headed for the route.

"He went beautifully," Arcaro said. "He did everything I asked him to. He took the lead when I wanted him to."

"Swaps tried," Shoemaker said. "But he just couldn't get there. He was laboring all the way and didn't handle too well. I knew when we'd gone a quarter mile he wasn't the horse I'd had earlier. And when we couldn't come up on him at the head of the stretch, I knew we were beat. I quit whipping. There's no point in beating a beaten horse to death."

The victory was a major conquest for Nashua, pride of the east before his match race win, despite his loss in the Kentucky Derby. The $100,000 prize put him less than $20,000 short of a new record for earning in a single year with $89,700 so far this season, compared to Citation's three-year-old record of $709,407.

Also the prize vaulted Nashua to third place in the all-time money-winning column with a total of $882,565, surpassed only by Citation's lifetime earnings of $1,085,760 and Stymie's $918,849.

Swaps, unbeaten in eight 1955 starts prior to Wednesday's downfall, was the heavy favorite of the crowd of 35,282. With only win betting allowed, $174,737 was wagered on the race, $107,359 of it on Swaps to make him the 1-to-3 favorite while Nashua was the 6-to-1 underdog. But the backers of the Woodward entry were rewarded with $4.40 for each $2 wager.

Arrangement Still Balanced

NEW YORK —UP— Cherie Bowens, Arkansas' entry in the Miss America contest, breathed a sigh of relief Thursday. She measured herself after a round of New York restaurants and found her 36-23-36 measurements intact. The five-foot, eight-inch brunette beauty from Helena, Ark., is here for a week of sightseeing — and eating — before going to the contest in Atlantic City, N.J., next week. Cherie brought a tape-measure with her.

Swaps Wasn't Himself, Says Shoemaker

Editor's Note: Willie Shoemaker, who piloted the favored Swaps in Wednesday's match race at Washington Park, tells how he lost the duel with Eddie Arcaro on Nashua.

By WILLIE SHOEMAKER

Written for United Press

CHICAGO —UP— I didn't have the same horse under me that I had in other races.

Swaps didn't run up to his past form, and I know my horse is capable of a lot better than he did Wednesday.

Both horses bore out coming out of the gate. Nashua came toward me and I went toward the stands. It was just a stride or two and I don't think it made any difference in the race.

Both horses bore out coming out of the gate. Nashua came toward me and I went toward the stands. It was just a stride or two and I don't think it made any difference in the race.

We tried to beat him. We came down the home stretch the first time, but by the time we reached the first turn I knew I didn't have my best horse under me.

Then about the half-mile post, we came at him. We got up maybe a neck behind and then he went away from us. Arcaro just had too much horse. I began whipping Swaps at the head of the stretch when we came at him again and we couldn't pick up anything and that was it.

I knew I had a beaten horse at the quarter pole. We came inside later. We weren't trying for better footing. I knew we were beat and we weren't going to win. I was easing up then and I was pulling him up when we finished.

I knew my horse was getting tired and there wasn't any point in beating him to death.

Arcaro bore out on us at the first turn but he was just looking for the best part of the track, and I don't blame him. It didn't help us any to have to go out but I don't think it made any difference in the outcome. I don't think the start made any difference either.

I still think he's a good horse, a lot better than he was today in this match race.

Chisox Hold Lead; Start Road Jaunt

By UNITED PRESS

The league-leading White Sox hit the road Thursday for a three-week trip that could prove a happy ticket to oblivion.

Manager Marty Marion was the picture of optimism as he shepherded his players eastward.

"We've got the feeling we're going to win now and it doesn't make any difference whether we're on the road or at home," he said. "When we started our home stand two weeks ago, we were a game and a half behind. Now that we're out front, we intend to stay there."

The White Sox concluded their home stand on a hopeful note Wednesday when Bob Keegan, fresh off the disabled list, went the distance to beat the Red Sox 4-2 for his first victory of the season. "Jungle Jim" Rivera drove in two of Chicago's runs with a pair of two-run homers off Tom Brewer.

Lead Preserved

The victory not only preserved the White Sox' half-game lead over the Yankees and Indians, both of whom also won, but also made an already optimistic Marion even more encouraged about Chicago's future.

The Yankees stayed on the heels of the White Sox by beating the Athletics 11-8, while the Indians remained tied for second place with the Bronx Bombers by beating the Orioles 5-1.

23 Texas 11s Open Season

By UNITED PRESS

All four state champions and 481 of the state's 504 schoolboy football teams in the top four divisions will be idle this week, but the 23 others will be active on the opening weekend of the season.

The race gets under way with 16 games involving Class AA and A schools less than two weeks after official practice began Aug. 22 and in some instances even before the school's semesters are open.

Class AAAA and AAA teams were not allowed to start drills until Aug. 26 and can't play their first games until Sept. 9.

The champion—Abilene of AAAA; Breckenridge of AAA (although that school now has dropped back to AA, Phillips of AA, and Deer

Cardinals as southpaw Lino Donoso won his first game since July 16. Stan Lopata and Jim Greengrass hit homers to help the Phillies beat the Cubs 13-2.

Wednesday's Star

Herb Score of the Indians, who struck out 13 batters in beating the Orioles 5-1.

Park of A—won't get a taste of competition until Sept. 9.

Then Abilene will play Highland Park, Breckenridge will meet Snyder, Phillips engages Oklahoma City South East, and Deer Park plays LaPorte. Abilene will be a strong favorite in its opener, but the other three may have a tough time getting away on a winning foot.

Only one of this week's games may be classed as a top drawer attraction. That one will involve two Class AA schools, Yoakum and Robstown.

No Twist of Fate

MEXICO CITY —UP— Jorge Sanchez told a judge Wednesday he was willing to marry the wronged girl but drew this protest from her older sister: "My sister is a contortionist and marriage would ruin her career."

IT'S THE LAW
★ IN TEXAS ★

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are thereby set and determined. If the contract is poorly drawn, haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involve the deposit of money by the buyer. Some require the seller to put up a good faith deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations lends additional weight to the often stated admonition that no contract should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must. The street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction, complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration in cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished. The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to easily misconstrued or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pitfall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have just signed a receipt for a house on Blank Street. Will you take over now and see that everything is O.K.?"

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.
