Rogers Gives Peace Plan To Conference

HELSINKI (UPI)— Secretary of State William P. Rogers, declaring that "Europe's security is indivisible from our own," proposed a five-point plan for peace today at the European security conference. The proposals which Rogers placed before the meeting of 35 foreign ministers ranged from an exchange of military information between East and West to lowered barriers to trade, and "of paramount importance," a freer flow of both people and information between the two halves of the continent. Rogers stressed the need to outlaw "the use or threat of force" between nations. He called this "the keystone in the arch of a durable peace."

threatened, a continent open to the free flow of people and ideas." Rogers, alluding to European fears that Russia and America may make deals behind Europe's back, assured the ministers that "the United States and the Soviet Union have a major contribution to make to a secure and cooperative Europe. The recent improvement in our relations is helping to bring Europe together again."

Another Western minister challenged Russia to "move from words to deeds" in guaranteeing the security of Europe. Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, told the European security conference that the Soviet proposals presented Wednesday, which set out general principles for a "code of conduct for Europe," are "impeccable."

But he said, "We cannot leave such sentiments hanging in the air. We must come down to earth. The people of our countries will not thank or congratulate us for adding more solemn declarations. It is time to move from words to deeds."

Kissinger Goes To China Again

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)— President Nixon is dispatching Henry A. Kissinger to Peking again next month apparently to enlist Premier Chou En-lai's support in a negotiated settlement of the Cambodian conflict. Diplomatic observers speculated that Kissinger also may urge Chou to pick up Nixon's invitation to visit Washington, perhaps this autumn during the United Nations' General Assembly meeting.

Chou has a standing invitation to visit the United States. He has said he will not travel to Washington while the U.S. has formal ties with the Nationalist government on Taiwan. But that could change. A Chou address to the U.N. and a trip to Washington for informal consultations while he is attending the general assembly meeting was considered a distinct possibility.

Livestock Feeds Export Control Plan Broadened

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The administration today broadened its export control program for livestock feeds in a further move to keep adequate supplies on hand this summer for U.S. producers of meat, milk and poultry. Expanding on last week's export crackdown which involved soybeans and cottonseeds—and animal feed meals made from those crops—Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent today placed controls on 41 commodities including other livestock protein feeds, animal fats and edible oils.

However, Dent said orders accepted after June 13, for shipment between now and Oct. 1, will be subject to restriction. He said no export licenses will be issued until a new system of shipping allocations—which presumably could allow export of a portion of the orders—is announced "subsequently."

Officials said a determination on licensing of any exports earmarked for shipment after Oct. 1 will be made later. They said today's actions would not apply to shipments which were in the process of being loaded or were in transit to a port at 10:30 a.m. today.

Today's action, officials pointed out, reversed a decision announced Monday to exempt soybean and cottonseed oil from export licensing control. Officials said those food oils had to be brought back under control because it appeared exports would reach levels creating shortages in the United States.

The formal government announcement said that the question of whether export controls will remain necessary after September "will depend on the amount of the harvest, the level of export demand and the level of prices in the United States."

Police Arrest Two On Drug Charges

Don Ray Thompson and Charles Richard Spain of Pampa was arrested at a local lounge yesterday after police received a telephone tip that the vehicle the men were using had drugs hidden in it. After taking the two to the police station, law officers contacted the owner of the vehicle and asked his permission to search it. He gave officers his permission and they found two rolled-up plastic bags containing suspected marijuana and 15 foiled aluminum foil packages containing suspected "speed."

The two were lodged in city jail overnight in lieu of bond. In another incident involving suspected drugs and a phone tip, police found three plants of what they think are marijuana growing in a back yard garden yesterday. After receiving the tip and seeing the plants through the open back gate at the residence, the officers took the smallest plant for analysis. Police also investigated a case of vandalism in the city last night. The tires on a car belonging to Rowdy Bowers, local attorney, were shot out early this morning at his office.

There is speculation that Kissinger's return to China was being put off until after Nixon meets July 31-Aug. 1 with Japanese Prime Minister Ka-

Warner said there is no indication when the jury will report its findings. "It all depends on how long it takes to complete the questioning of the additional witnesses," Warner said. Warner also explained that the current grand jury is operating under a 90-day extension of service which was requested by the jurors and granted by District Judge McIlhenny. "Of course," Warner said, "We are not expecting it will take that long, but it does give the jury plenty of time to wind up its investigation and return its findings."

Crowds Gather To See Annual Fireworks Show

Despite the dark, gray clouds which threatened rain that never came, thousands of area residents gathered last night to observe the annual Fourth of July celebration, cut short by an accident during the fireworks display. Phillip Gatewood, of Shidler, Okla., was seriously injured when fireworks misfired on the ground. He was taken to Highland General Hospital by ambulance, where he underwent emergency treatment. advancements, in all fields of endeavor in this country. These blessings have come because the country was organized as "one nation, under God," Rev. Cone said. He stated the founders of the nation were all strong in religious faith. "They knew the Bible inspired our beliefs in life, liberty, freedom and land," he said. "God has led us and we ought to be thankful," the pastor added.

He listed a number of patriots, politicians, scientists, musicians, artists and others who have achieved greatness because of the blessings obtained in this nation. The inhabitants of the country have generally been "people of faith and people of prayer," he said. "Let's be thankful for the past and prayerful for the future," he said. Jerry Sims, Chamber of Commerce president, served as master of ceremonies for the various activities on the program. Noting the reason for attending the Independence Day observance, Sims said, "I think it is an honor and a privilege which we should not abuse."

County Petroleum Sets High Record

The petroleum industry in Gray County played a significant role in 1972 in helping to satisfy the unprecedented demand for Texas' crude oil and natural gas. Gray was one of 190 of Texas' 254 counties which produced oil and gas valued in excess of $100,000 in a record production year for the state's No. 1 industry, according to figures compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. The county ranked 50th in the state in the value of petroleum produced, $34.1 million. The sale of crude oil brought $22.4 million; natural gas, $11.7 million. Despite this record year, due in large part to nine months of production at 100 per cent of the maximum efficient rate, the nation's largest producer of petroleum could not produce enough to satisfy demand.

petroleum products to the most efficient and highest priority uses; second, it would help provide part of the capital needed so desperately to build refineries and superports and to carry on expensive exploration and production activities." Buschman added. The study by the Association also shows production last year in Gray County resulted in the payment of $4.3 million to royalty owners. The state of Texas received $1.9 million in production taxes from county wells; $1 million from crude oil output and $878,000 from natural gas production. Oil and gas producers and developers spent $2.3 million drilling 22 wells in the county last year, with $379,000 of that figure lost in two dry holes. According to the Texas Employment Commission, 1,693 oil and gas industry employees worked in the county in 1972 and shared a payroll of $16.8 million. Various processing plants also added to the county's economy. The "Oil and Gas Journal" lists one carbon black plant, one petrochemical plant, as well as 16 natural gas processing plants with a total daily capacity of 245 million cubic feet.

The colors were presented by a color guard of the Rodeo Club, with invocation by Rev. Ralph Palmer, First Christian Church.

Death Toll Reaches 156

A United Press International count at 8 a.m. CDT showed that at least 156 persons had died in traffic since the holiday period started at 6 p.m. local time Tuesday. The period ended at midnight Wednesday. The breakdown of accidental deaths: Traffic 156, Planes 9, Drownings 70, Others 19, Total 254. Ohio reported 22 traffic deaths; Michigan 11, and both Texas and Florida reported 9. In one of the worst accidents of the nation's highways, five members of a Nogales, Ariz. family died Wednesday night when their car lost its brakes on a steep curve on Kolob Mountain near Virgin, Utah.

UNDERGOES SURGERY Rocket Hits Fireworks Employe During Show

Phillip Gatewood, 59, of Shidler, Okla., was injured last night at the rodeo grounds when an aerial rocket ignited prematurely and struck him in the side. Gatewood, an employe of the Burnett Fireworks Co. of Enid, Okla., is in satisfactory condition today at Highland General Hospital following three hours of surgery. The rocket, which struck him in the side, caused massive shrapnel-like wounds. It was not definitely known at press-time whether or not skin grafting would be necessary to close Gatewood's wound. He had been a July 4 employe of the fireworks company for many years and had been to Pampa on several occasions before. This was the first accident he had ever had while working with the fireworks. The accident occurred shortly after 10 p.m. before the annual fireworks display had reached the halfway point. Officials called off the remainder of the show.

Ambulance took the scene had trouble entering and leaving the rodeo grounds, site of the Fourth of July observance, due to the number of cars attempting to leave the area. In other fireworks-oriented incidents in the area yesterday, the Pampa Fire Department made 13 runs. All of them grass or brush fires directly related to fireworks. The department has made 54 runs since June 26. Of that number 47 were grass fires and 40 of those were directly related to fireworks exploded by irresponsible people.

Saigon Reports Low Number Of Violations By Communists

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese officials said today the number of Communist cease-fire violations fell to 51 for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m., the lowest number since the Jan. 23 truce came into force. But they said heavy fighting continued in the Central Highlands west of Kontum where 13 Communists and two government soldiers died in skirmishes just west of that city. Fighting in that area has been underway since June 7. South Vietnamese government figures showed that the previous low for a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. was 53, reported May 24. South Vietnamese sources also said the Communists were preparing for a major offensive against Kontum, but sources on the international truce supervisors' team said members who flew over Communist-held territory west and northwest of the city saw no evidence of a buildup. A top South Vietnamese general, Brig. Gen. Tran Van Cam, said he would launch a counter offensive June 28 if the Communists did not pull back. But the Communists said Wednesday that the South Vietnamese had launched such an offensive June 16. It was the first time the Communists had made the charge. The Viet Cong's Radio Liberation, in a broadcast reported by the North Vietnam news agency, accused the South Vietnamese of violating the latest Paris truce agreement by launching "many nibbling operations" in the Kontum area. The broadcast threatened a Communist counterattack.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Legionnaires merit praise for trying to teach school children why they say "Republic" in the "Pledge to the Flag." Our Republic differs from a democracy as "order" differs from "chaos." Democracy means mobocracy where "might makes right" and minorities are pillaged.

CASE X-552: Halsey F., aged 51, is head of his American Legion Post.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "when we recite the Pledge to the Flag, we always call this country a Republic."

"Yet most of the political orators keep talking about our 'democracy' and Woodrow Wilson coined the phrase about making the world safe for democracy."

"Is our Republic the same as a democracy?"
"If not, can you explain the exact differences so grammar schoolers can understand; for our Legion Post wishes to revive patriotic education?"

REPUBLIC VS. DEMOCRACY

Chief Justice John Marshall, who presided over the U.S. Supreme Court for 34 years, said "the difference between our Republic and a democracy is the difference between order and chaos!"

Please note that "order" and "chaos" are opposite terms and not remotely alike. They are antithetical! And never let wooly politicians try to delude you by saying that our country is a "representative democracy."

For whether a country operates as a "true democracy" or a "representative democracy," they both come under John Marshall's term "chaos."

For in a democracy the rule of the majority prevails with inexorable speed and danger. If we were thus a democracy and 51 percent of our Congress voted to confiscate all property of blonds, then all blonds would instantly lose such money, stocks and bonds, real estate, etc.

But our wonderful Republic protects every smallest minority group by our famous written Constitution, presided over by a diligent watch dog, called Supreme Court Justices. Asst. British Prime Minister Gladstone called our Constitution "the greatest document ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

Pontius Pilate showed the hazards of democracy, for although he interviewed Jesus and pronounced Him innocent, he wished to curry favor with the populace.

So Pilate let the democratic concept of "majority rule" change the usual Roman Republic.

"Whom will ye," he asked the mob, "that I release unto you - Barabbas or Jesus?"

And that propagandized crowd voted 100 percent to crucify the innocent Christ and release a multi-murderer!

Pilate's courtroom was the most perfect democracy in all human history, for apparently he let EVERYBODY vote - men, women and children. But they voted 100 percent wrongly!

In our Republic, even if all our 435 Congressmen and 100 U.S. Senators pass a bill unanimously, and even if the President then signs it, if that bill invades the guaranteed rights of minorities, either in race, religion or occupation, an appeal can be made and that bill becomes invalidated by our Supreme Court!

That's why John Marshall warned us that our Republic stands for protection of minorities, whereas a democracy means "might makes right."

The word "democracy" was alien to our Founding Fathers, for it doesn't even appear in the Declaration of Independence or our U.S. Constitution.

Send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

Bridgeport: Watergate leads the list

Bridgeport, Connecticut (pop. 156,542), is situated on the north shore of the Long Island Sound and is regarded as the industrial capital of its state. The city, which grew from an Indian village called Pequonnoek, was established as a city in 1836.

By AVRIL WESTMORELAND

In Fairfield County, Connecticut, the first topic of conversation and concern is Watergate. It's difficult here, in what is described as the richest county in the country, to get people to talk about anything else.

Difficult, that is, until the topic turns to something that affects the individual and, therefore, his family, property, and pocketbook.

Of prime concern are the rising cost of living, mounting meat and food prices, skyrocketing rents, and rapidly rising gasoline rates attributed to the nation's fuel shortage.

One of the state's congressmen, an outspoken advocate of the consumer, recently predicted the cost of eggs would climb to $1 a dozen by fall, this in the midst of the never-before experienced 80 cents for a head of lettuce.

This country is responding by having led the nation in a recent meat boycott, inundating the White House with letters of protest, and demanding the government institute wage-price controls.

This commuter-oriented segment of Connecticut is also deeply concerned and directly affected by the problems of the Penn-Central railroad, emphasized by recent rail accidents caused by insufficient personnel and inadequate equipment. Much of the area is sustained by income derived through employment in New York, to which the major source of transportation is the railroad. Government takeover and support is urged by many commuter groups.

Also taking a huge toll on the residents of Fairfield county is the extensive drug traffic directed throughout the area from New York City. Tighter restrictions are urged, as well as stricter punishment and prison confinement for narcotics pushers.

(Teeth in a series)

In an area rich in natural resources and beauty, ecology is a household word, and environmental groups daily campaign against pollution-causing individuals and corporations, including those supporting airport expansions throughout the state. Here again, government control is urged to maintain a balanced ecological environment.

The search for rights and privileges of women is spreading here, especially with the recent passage by the state General Assembly of the Equal Rights Amendment. Some individuals, however, fear that the legislation could have disastrous consequences for women in the event hostilities break out between our country and another.

With the amendment, they state, the status of women would become that of the foot soldier or seaman, with neither the right to privacy nor any unique physical characteristic justifying different treatment of the sexes as members of the armed forces.

The President's cutbacks of federal funds for programs to aid the poor, infirm, and elderly are being protested by individuals and agencies. They call for retention of the funds, not only for the benefit of the direct recipients, but for those who gain employment through the programs.

Bar's Support

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. solicited the support of the State Bar of Texas Wednesday to convince voters to adopt constitutional amendments raising legislators' salary and requiring annual legislative sessions. "I request your help in trying to clean up our politicians' images by adopting amendments on the November ballot for higher pay for legislators and annual legislative sessions," Daniel told the 91st annual bar convention.

Bar President Jim D. Bower of Temple presented Daniel with a commendation for the House's passing of the penal code and family code revisions.

 Galahad the pure in spirit seldom got into the bridge games at the square table. He felt that card playing did not go well with the search for the Holy Grail.

At the same time, Galahad was too much of a gentleman to refuse to make up a game when he was needed and we find him sitting West in the "Siege Perilous."

Whatever Became Of Honeymoons?

They're bigger, better (and more expensive than ever in the 'love capital of the world.'

By HELEN HENNESSY
 NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—After all the fuss and talk about immorality in America and the carefree life-style of our youth, and the older generation's wailing that marriage is becoming obsolete, the fact is that there is a higher percentage of our total population married now than ever before. Last year alone there were more than two million weddings in the United States.

Maybe Mendelssohn's wedding march has a rock over-tone to it these days. Maybe the marriage ceremony itself has adapted to change with a new concept expressed in the vows.

Maybe some brides choose gingham instead of traditional white for their nuptial gowns. But the fact remains that Americans are still getting married and are following tradition—even to honeymoons. One set of statistics says that at least 80 per cent of the couples planning to marry still set time aside for that old conventional ceremony follow-up—the honeymoon.

"The only difference we've noted today is that a honeymoon couple doesn't seek the seclusion that two-somes of 10 or 20 years ago sought," said Robert Uguccioni, director of the famous honeymoon centers in Pennsylvania's Poconos. "Though newlyweds do like some privacy, they are equally eager to socialize with other brides and grooms."

Uguccioni knows whereof he speaks. He has a front row vantage point from which to observe the newly-wedded couples. He is based in an area that has become the "love capital of the world." Within the last 25 years the Pocono honeymoon resorts have been hosts to more than one million honeymoon couples.

"Here," Uguccioni said, "the new Mr. and Mrs. find other couples who are in the same boat. They are not exposed to people who might tease them."

"As a matter of fact," he added, "friendships have developed between the couples that endure for years. And many meet here in this area on their first anniversaries."

Another factor that attracts young honeymooners to the "honeymoon center" is that they know before they leave home how much their vacation will cost and so won't be caught without sufficient funds.

Many of the resorts offer such luxuries as Roman style sunken bathtubs and carpeted walls and ceilings.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

FRIDAY, JULY 6
 Your birthday today: Changes, challenges, excitement are staples in this year of inner growth and heavier personal responsibility. Friendship, sentimental and romantic contacts multiply and flourish despite a shortage of leisure time. Today's natives are generally astute with figures or another comparable skill.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Sticking near home base saves resources, time, energy, perhaps averts undesirable permanent changes.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Put your main attention to what you're supposed to do. Let others fish in today's turbulent crosscurrents.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Luck seems right with you today despite much scurrying about, misplaced information. Gather your clan for a general celebration.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: Plan, organize, meet fresh contacts. Tackle the heaviest chore first, get done with it, keep rolling.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: Use your most persuasive pitch to promote your plans. It's prudent to avoid people with more authority than yourself.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Group stability is at stake. Basic facts must be clear in the minds of all concerned before action is attempted.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: It's your turn at bat, so to speak. Pause to gather inner conviction, make a stand—stick with it, and prevail.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Demands on your time and attention are extreme, whether quiet or noisy. Set quotas, fill them, then move on.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Be brisk and cheery, don't waste a minute getting to the point. You can clear away an astounding backlog of work.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Believe little of what you see, less of what you hear. Appraise emotional concerns at top priority.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Urgent business details are apt to require inconvenience and extra moves. Go in good faith regardless of reservations.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Promote teamwork, expecting people of great responsibility to be quite distracted. You've got quiet persistent backing.

She was named to be cook of the week, by members of that group.

3 cups sugar
3 cups flour, sifted
17-oz. can angel flake coconut
1 t. vanilla
1 t. almond extract
3 sticks oleo
1 small can evaporated milk (add water to make 1 cup).
Cream sugar and oleo. Add eggs one at a time. Add milk and flour. Fold in coconut and flavorings. Bake in a well-greased and floured tube pan 325 degrees for 1 hour and 20 minutes.

BY MRS. CARL SMITH
APPLE SALAD
2 apples, coarse grated
2 bananas, chopped
1/2 cup pecans
1/2 cup walnuts
1/2 cup brown sugar
Mix together and set aside until sugar melts, then serve.

GRAHAM CRACKER CAKE
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
one-third cup Crisco oil
1 cup pecans, chopped
1 cup coconut
1 t. vanilla
2 t. baking powder
40 graham crackers, crushed fine
Mix above ingredients well and pack in greased pan. Bake 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

TOPPING
1 small can crushed pineapple
1 cup sugar
2 t. oleo
Mix well and boil slowly for 20 minutes. Spoon over cake while both are still hot.

HO BO BREAD
2 cups raisins
2 cups boiling water
4 t. soda
Soak over night, then add:
1 1/2 cups sugar
4 t. Crisco oil
4 cups flour
1/2 t. salt
Mix well. Grease and flour three 1-pound coffee cans. Spoon batter and fill 1/2 full. Bake 350 degrees about 50 minutes.

CORN RELISH
5 1-pound cans whole kernel corn, undrained
1 green pepper, chopped
1 sweet red pepper, chopped
1/4 cup onions, chopped
1 cup celery, chopped
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 t. mustard seed
1 t. salt
1 t. celery seed
1 t. turmeric or mustard
2 two-thirds cups vinegar
Mix and boil slowly, about 20 minutes. Pack in sterilized jars and seal.

HUSH PUPPIES
(Temperature deep fat 370 degrees)

"A delightful addition to our meals, especially of fresh garden vegetables, is HUSH PUPPIES. There are a number of legends as to the origin of the name 'Hush Puppies' — there is one that connects them to the early fish fries of the South. It seems everyone attended those gatherings — especially the dogs, who made a definite hazard around the deep fish-frying kettles. To quiet their hungry yelps, the cooks would fry big lumps of cornmeal batter and toss them to the hounds saying, 'Hush, puppies, hush, puppies.' This worked so well that the cooks sampled some themselves and, according to legend, this is the way HUSH PUPPIES were born."

2 cups cornmeal
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
6 tablespoons chopped onion (optional)
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
3/4 to 1 cup buttermilk
Mix dry ingredients, add milk and egg. Should be thick enough to drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry until nicely browned. Drain. Serve piping hot.

Cleaning No-Frost Refrigerators

COLLEGE STATION — No-frost refrigerators need regular cleaning, one authority emphasizes.

"Just because it doesn't build up frost is no reason to overlook cleaning," says Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Uncovered and stale foods — as well as accidental spills — create "off" odors in any refrigerator, the specialist continued.

"Regular cleaning removes these odors and sweetens an otherwise stale refrigerator." Mrs. Myers recommended using a solution of two tablespoons soda per quart of water to "sweeten" or neutralize odors.

She outlined six steps for thorough cleaning.
1. Remove frozen foods from the freezer section and wrap in layers of newspapers — or place in an insulated chest — to keep frozen.
2. Wash freezer compartment with soda solution. Rinse with clear water, dry and return frozen foods to section.
3. Remove all foods from refrigerator. Wash the bottom, top and walls. Clean all drawers, shelves and racks thoroughly with soda solution. Return to proper place.

4. Wipe door and gasket with a cloth that has been dipped in detergent water and then wring out. Rinse and dry well. Avoid touching the gasket as it will deteriorate.

The specialist warned that food — or grease build-up on the gasket can cause an incomplete seal. As a result, the refrigerator works harder to keep cool.

5. Wipe outside of food containers, jars and bottles with a damp cloth before returning them to the clean refrigerator.
6. Clean appliance exterior with detergent water. Rinse with clear water and wipe dry. In addition, the drip tray under the appliance should be washed and dried regularly. Occasionally dust the coils with a vacuum cleaner, she concluded.

Don't skip meals to lose weight — research indicates that only a permanent change in eating habits causes permanent weight loss, says Karen Kreipke, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Slice red onion and separate into rings. Alternate with slices of ripe tomato and add an oil-and-vinegar dressing. Add a little prepared or dry mustard to the dressing.

Weekly Market Report

COLLEGE STATION — An usually late spring has delayed ripening of products in most Texas growing areas resulting in relatively short supplies. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

Specifically, the consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, pointed to dry onion prices, noting some moderation, but added they're still "on the high side."

"Cabbage, carrots, potatoes, corn, celery, mustard greens, squash, turnips, radishes and green onions generally are the most economical vegetables."

Also oranges, grapefruit, bananas, lemons, and avocados.

"There's a wider choice of small fruits as new items make their appearance on Texas markets.

"These include apricots, cherries, peaches and nectarines — mostly in the high-price bracket.

"Watermelons are more plentiful with more attractive prices.

"Honeydew melons, mostly from the Texas Valley, are on the market now with price likely as low as they will be this year. Their season is relatively short, so enjoy them now," she advised.

Turning to meat and poultry counters, the specialist suggested chuck roast for family cookouts.
"Cut it into cubes, marinate for kabobs and grill.
"Also, ground beef and liver make good menu choices — no bones, no waste."
At the pork section, Mrs. Clyatt cited values on smoked picnic, ham portions, some brands of bacon and sausage.
"Fryer chickens are featured at more attractive prices in some markets — but not near last year's bargain prices. Grade A, large-size egg prices offer the best combination of quality and economy for the money," she concluded.

Abby flunks teachers' test

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Let's review the situation: During a written examination, one student whispered to another, "Gee, this test is hard."
The other replied, "I know."
The teacher observed the pair, so in grading them she added both their grades together and divided by two.
The student who suffered the reduced grade complained to you, and you supported his right to complain since he was not cheating.

Abby, I teach school, and I insist upon absolute silence during examinations. If I didn't, the students would be "commenting" about the weather, the time, how hard the test is, etc., all during the examination, and it's impossible to tell which comment is legitimate and which is to help a friend pass a test.

Furthermore, some students need absolute silence in order to concentrate, so any noise is not fair to them.
Those students were lucky they weren't in my room: I'd have given them both a zero.

DEAR TEACHER: And judging from the number of teachers who wrote to express the same opinion, were they to grade my answer I, too, would have rated a zero. I hereby reverse myself. The only comment which can be considered legitimate during a test is, "Call an ambulance!"

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a marf who refuses to bathe or brush his teeth? He's a Saturday nighter from way back. He thinks if he takes a two-minute shower on a Saturday night it's good for a week.

I have hinted, nagged, told him outright, and even threatened to leave him. Nothing helps. He won't even use a mouthwash. And then he wonders why I don't care to kiss him. ICK!

DEAR HAD IT: In answer to your question: "What do you do with a man who refuses to bathe or brush his teeth?"—NOTHING!

DEAR ABBY: Since you are a professional woman, will you please give me your opinion on something that has caused a great deal of friction in our marriage.

I have been a private investigator for nearly 30 years and never have I discussed—nor will I ever discuss—any case I am working on. I have never told my wife the names of the people involved. My work is strictly confidential: Tailing someone, surveillance, whatever. Even the occasional humorous things that come up in my work I keep to myself. All the information I have concerning people and their private affairs is locked up in my file and my mind, and the same goes for my secretary and the other agents in my organization. If any employe of mine leaks so much as the name of a person who has hired me, that employe is out on his ear.

My wife feels that I should trust her enough to share my cases with her. I feel she has no business knowing any of the facts concerning my cases, even the chances of her violating a confidence are small.

She insists that husbands and wives should have complete trust in each other and that my attitude shows I don't trust her. What do you think?

DEAR TOO: No one can be too ethical. You sound like a first class professional and your wife should be proud of you.

DEAR ABBY: It's reassuring to know that you do not only give advice, you yourself do what you tell others to do. I refer to the fact that you carry on your person two cards indicating that you have donated your eyes and kidneys after your demise. Can't you make it three cards? As the father of a child who has a growth problem, I beg of you to mention the Human Growth Foundation. The pituitary gland is the major source of cure for dwarfism. Information is available by writing to P. O. Box 1368, High Point, N. C. 27261.

DEAR FATHER: Consider it done!
Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest.
For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90065. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Watermelon Shortage Possible

AUSTIN — Texans who love watermelons must face up to another crisis: There just might be a shortage of Texas watermelons this summer.
"Demand is exceeding the supply of Texas watermelons at present, and it's entirely possible that there might not be enough melons to go around for all of the July 4 celebrations," Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Weather and transportation shortages are given as the reasons for the impending watermelon crisis.

This year, the quality of Texas-produced watermelons is the best in almost a decade, according to market news reporters with the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Harvest of the crop now is generally located in the San Antonio area. It will then move to Central and East Texas. Normally, the watermelon harvest season in Texas runs through the middle of August. However, some melons are grown in the High Plains area into October.

Texas, naturally, leads the nation in production of watermelons. Last year, Texas' producers grew 70,000 acres of watermelons. The most popular variety is the Charleston Grey.

Frio County is Texas' leading county in watermelon production. Other top 10 counties are La Salle, Duval, Rusk, Jim Wells, Brooks, Hidalgo, Atascosa, Yoakum and Gonzales.

Weather conditions of the next few weeks will continue to determine the availability of Texas watermelons. It appeared earlier this year that few, if any, watermelons would be planted due to wet weather.

Producers still have the worry of hail or hard rains, but we hope they will get a break with the weatherman and will be able to harvest the acreage now ready. Total acres likely will be down this year from last because of the weather," White said.

He urged consumers to be sure and look for the Texas-produced watermelon. The marketing division of the Texas Department of Agriculture has promotion programs now going on pointing up the quality of Texas-produced watermelons.

HE BILLED UNCLE SAM NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — While prosecutors worked on the fifth floor of the Federal Building here charging people with crimes, Albert Smith was down in the basement committing one.

Smith, 52, admitted that while he managed the government's self-service store in the Federal building basement, he billed Uncle Sam $650 which he spent on his own personal stereo equipment.

Smith pleaded guilty to shuffling invoices and making fraudulent statements so the government paid for what it thought were legitimate items required by federal employes. He could get up to five years in prison.

Norwegian exports to the United States increased 17 per cent in 1972 over the previous year.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, July 5, the 186th day of 1973 with 179 to follow.
The moon is approaching its first quarter.
The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.
The evening stars are Mercury and Venus.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Cancer.
American showman P. T. Barnum was born July 5, 1810.
On this day in history:
In 1865, William Booth founded the Salvation Army in London.
In 1935, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Wagner-Cannery bill, officially known as the National Labor Relations Act.
In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the liberation of the Philippines as World War II approached its end.
In 1972, two hijackers and one passenger was killed and two wounded in a jet liner in San Francisco.

A thought for the day: American circus operator Phineas Taylor (P.T.) Barnum said: "There's a sucker born every minute."
The water in 22-mile-long Lake Tahoe could cover a flat area the size of the State of California to a depth of more than 14 inches.

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The continuing saga of CBS-TV's efforts to restore Dick Van Dyke to his former television prominence takes a fresh twist this fall.
And if the plans for his weekly half-hour comedy series work out as well on film as they look on paper, viewers may well have a delightful season of Van Dyke shows in store for them.
In the series thus far he has portrayed a television talk show host living and working in Arizona. In fact, the series was done basically in Arizona, near Van Dyke's home there.
No more. In the new season, the locale shifts from Arizona to Hollywood. As CBS-TV summarizes Van Dyke's situation, he and his wife in the show (Hope Lange) "have moved to California so (he) can pursue an acting career."

No Big Deal Actor.
He will not, in short, be a big deal actor in the series. He will seek assignments as a freelance performer. And, also in the series, he will have a running part in a daytime soap opera called "Those Who Care"—playing a doctor, the second lead in the show.
The premise is charming. And giving Van Dyke the role of a hard-working, non-star actor is good perspective because he is ideal as an average guy who is trying to get ahead—and happens to be very funny.
Furthermore, casting Van Dyke as an actor has splendid possibilities for several reasons. First, it allows him to display, in just the right context, the very talents he has, which include a droll, balanced and keen attitude toward the performing profession.
Second it allows Carl Reiner, who has taken over as producer, to operate in a substantial way—in comedy material and tone—in the Hollywood show business milieu he knows so thoroughly and sees with such amusing discernment.

Some Natural Assets
So the Van Dyke series has some natural assets that will flow into its new format. And CBS-TV hopes the comedian will thus win back the top ratings and acclaim that were his in his old, highly successful weekly situation comedy with Mary Tyler Moore.
Miss Moore, of course, has become a big ratings winner for CBS-TV in her comeback comedy series, which is part of the network's potent Saturday night lineup.
And CBS-TV, which almost buried Van Dyke this past season by giving him rough time slots in its Sunday lineup, is shifting him to Mondays, where he will follow two hit shows, "Gunsmoke" and "Here's Lucy," and precede another ratings winner, "Medical Center."
He will still have to face the competition of ABC-TV's prime time pro football games and NBC-TV's movies, and it's possible they will do him in. But if the Van Dyke series does run into ratings trouble again, it won't be for lack of a solid basic idea and top-flight talent to execute it.

Red River Awaiting Tourists

RED RIVER, N.M. — With the "fun-filled" Fourth of July festivities over in Red River, summer visitors are enjoying the multitude of peaceful pursuits that abound in the "Year Round Mountain Playground," according to Mayor David Stults.

"The next three months are some of the best of our year," the mayor continued. "The New Mexico Game and Fish Department has stocked our river and high lakes and the Red River Trout Association has been busy lately putting some 18" to 24" trout into the river here in town.

"But fishing is just one of the popular things to do in our mountain valley," Mayor Stults said. "There is something here for every member of the family. We have jeep trips up into the Sangre de Cristo Mountains to old ghost towns and to the mountain lakes, hiking, horseback riding, all kinds of things for the young folks to do and square dancing and other activities in our Community House each evening."

A Fall Square Dance Festival is slated for Sept. 28, 29 and 30 in conjunction with the Second Annual Red River Aspen Festival and Art Show, the Mayor added.

The first Negro killed for the American Revolutionary cause was Crispus Attucks, who died when British troops fired on a patriot mob in the Boston Massacre of 1770.

Coco Remembers Hungry Days

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — James Coco is a liquid-eyed Italian of Jackie Gleason proportions and Chico Marx gestures who will star next season in a new situation comedy series, "Calucci's Dept."

A raving New Yorker, Coco will play a government unemployment office factotum. He loves Manhattan and is delighted the series will be taped there. He is also familiar with unemployment offices.

"I spent my whole life waiting in unemployment lines," he lamented, rolling his eyes heavenward and flapping his hands in mock despair.

"Until five years ago I worked 20 weeks a year and then collected 26 weeks unemployment. I learned there is humor even in such a place and that's what we're going to capitalize on."

It wasn't until the past five years that Coco began appearing with major stars in television shows and, of course, gave his outstanding performance in "Man of La Mancha" both on Broadway and in motion pictures.

But he hasn't forgotten the old, starving days.

"I've had to take all kinds of jobs to eat regular meals," he said, patting his enormous girth. Clearly, he has not missed many snacks.

"To be honest, I never had a favorite non-acting job. The one I hated most was as a dental laboratory assistant."

"Those people who make false teeth are very temperamental. One day I stepped on a whole tray of false teeth and they fired me on the spot. Can you imagine anyone being that touchy?"

Humdrum Humor
Coco needn't worry about story lines in the new CBS prime time show with Renee Taylor and Joe Bologna as script supervisors.

"They are the very finest in the business," said Coco. "The quality of the writing is what will make our show a great success."

"So far as I know there hasn't been a television show that dealt with the humor in the humdrum life of civil servants. Calucci is coping with problems. He's a beleaguered man who cares about other people."

"Most of the situations and laughs come from the inter-relationship of the regular workers in the office rather than from the people who come in to apply for jobs, although we've got some good ones on nutty occupations, including a streetwalker."

"There will be an Italian flavor to the show because I'm Italian. But the theme of the show is that democracy is a bunch of people pulling together who hate each other's guts."

CONTRACTS DROPPED
AUSTIN (UPI) — Failure of Congress to approve a federal aid highway bill has forced the Texas Highway Commission to cancel plans to let contracts for 18 highway projects in July, highway engineer B. L. DeBerry said Friday. The July contracts were expected to total about $22 million.

World Almanac Facts. Crime in the U.S., as measured by the crime index of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, rose only one per cent during the first 6 months of 1972, compared with the corresponding period of 1971 when it was up 7 per cent. This is the lowest percentage increase for a 6-month period since 1960 when the FBI first began issuing quarterly releases on crime. The World Almanac notes.
