

LUCKY—Actress Ava Gardner counts herself lucky after having her car flip over on her in Spain. She was driving her new Mercedes from Madrid to Barcelona airport to meet friends when the car went out of control, careened across a two-lane speedway and rolled over. Shaken, but unhurt, she walked back to her hotel.

JayCees Hear Football Talk By Lockett

Jack Lockett, Pampa High School head football coach, discussed the condition of the Pampa Harvesters at the meeting of Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday noon.

Accompanied by his assistants, Duane Lyon and Marvin Bowman Lockett briefly outlined the game last Friday night, saying "We were lucky to get out with a tie. . . El Paso has a very fine team."

While describing the weaknesses of the team, he was presented with a "crying towel" by District Attorney Bill Walters.

Lockett indicated that Buddy Stimp is subject to a possible operation, and that Doug Simmons will be out for awhile with an injured knee.

"We certainly need all kinds of support, both moral and your presence," he concluded.

Announcements were made by Solon Blundell concerning the Board of Director's project's plan at their meeting Monday night.

A welfare project, under the direction of a committee to be appointed, will take care of a needy family with food baskets and other needs. Working through the County Welfare Office, the JayCees will help to take care of a mother with two boys.

A pancake supper, scheduled for Nov. 14, will be under the direction of Johnny Campbell and J. C. Hopkins. Other projects include a recreation right to be held weekly or semi-monthly, with volleyball games and bowling, under the direction of Johnny Campbell and John Jones; and a Hobo Party sometime next month to be directed by Horton Russell.

Bob Carmichael, president, announced that a Region 1 workshop conference would be held in Borger tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., for the coordination of JayCee projects.

DANIEL BOONE

Seeking to nullify Judge Henderson's land claims in the courts, Virginia organized Kentucky as a single county.

In the face of British-inspired Indian raids, Don't Boone was named militia captain, and George Rogers Clark a major.

Thrice in one raid, Simon Kenton, later a famous Indian fighter, saved Boone's life.

"I'm glad you're here," Boone told Kenton. "You're a very fine fellow indeed." Kenton never forgot that praise.

Peron Finally Learns Bread, Circuses Are Not Enough

By LEROY POPE
United Press Foreign Analyst

Like the Roman Caesars, Juan Peron finally discovered that bread and circuses aren't enough.

The Argentine dictator has fallen after nine years of personal rule because he trusted no one in the country except the mob of "descamisados" or "shirtless ones" in Buenos Aires.

Like the Caesars who wooed the favor of the mob with distributions of grain and gladiatorial combats, Peron wooed the Buenos Aires laboring classes with wage raises, a welfare state of sorts and huge parades and demonstrations.

But his policies inflated the Argentine currency so far it ate up the wage increases. As a result, although the descamisados were willing enough to come out and shout for the president, apparently they decided when the crisis came that fighting for him was quite another matter.

Historians don't agree. Peron — and much of the outside world — seems to have been under the impression all along that he owed his power to descamisados in the first place and could always maintain it with their support.

But sober historians took a different view. They said that it wasn't really the vast demonstrations of the descamisados that caused the army leaders to allow Peron assume power in 1946 after they had jailed him. Rather, the historians say it was the hesitancy at that critical moment of the leaders of the old-time political parties in trying to form a new government.

The generals waited on the politicians — and when the politicians failed to agree — reluctantly decided to support Peron. As the historians see it, if the politicians had agreed on a president, the army would have put down the descamisados in a few hours.

Begins to Mistrust Generals
Peron at first repaid the generals — and the lesser officers — by loading them with medals and pay raises. But in time he began to mistrust them — and here again he acted like the Caesars. He moved army brigade and even regimental commanders about constantly. He kept them on the skimpiest of rations in the matter of ammunition and gasoline. Most of the country's whole store of munitions was kept in Buenos Aires under Peron's watchful eye.

The military men began to feel cheated, frustrated and oppressed. But Peron's skillful maneuvering made it hard for them to hatch a revolt. Nevertheless, they kept on trying — especially the admirals. Their chance came when Peron became involved in a mortal struggle with the Catholic church. Resentment against the dictator's church policy allowed the military men to find a quick popular base for a revolution.

2 Million Acres Bought By Land Board

AUSTIN — UP — Almost 2 million acres, roughly an area the size of Delaware and Rhode Island combined, have been purchased by the Veterans Land Board at a cost of more than $100 million, it was revealed Tuesday.

Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder announced at the same time 111 veterans' accounts previously held under a suspense order have been released after investigation showed the purchases were made in good faith.

However, 1,400 other accounts, representing an investment of $3 million in state money, remain in suspense pending completion of investigation.

Rudder reported some 16,333 veterans have purchased land under the program, and of that number more than 500 have paid off their loans in full.

The commissioner also said that under new procedures recommended by the state auditor's department, "closer tab" may now be kept on accounts of the Veterans Land Board.

"The auditor's department has been most helpful. When I came to the land office, it was taking three days to handle peak incoming mail. Using the auditor's suggestions, we now distribute all mail by 10 a.m. the day it is received," he said.

Rudder was appointed commissioner of the general land office by Gov. Shivers after Bascom Giles quit last January in the midst of mounting scandals surrounding the $100 million veterans land program.

In 1954, Nebraska ranked fourth in the country in the number of growers actively engaged in the production of certified seed. Last year there were 1,430 producers of the high grade seed.

Guild Begins Study, 'Indian Americans'

Mrs. J. B. Austin was hostess to the meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church in the parlor Monday evening.

Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, president, led the business session during which Miss Minnie Allen reported on the district guild meeting in Shamrock Sept. 11. Five Pampa members attended.

Mrs. Lee Harrah, study leader, and Mrs. Melvin Stephens introduced the study, "Within Two Worlds," on the Indian Americans. Purpose of the study, they stressed, is to acquaint members with the traditions, standards and hardships of the Indian Americans. Through concentrated study by large groups of Christian women everywhere, it is hoped that some action will be taken to alleviate some of the difficulties of Indian Americans as a result of suppression by and complacency of the American people, the women were told.

Miss Alma Wilson presented the devotional, and the "interest center" was under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Turner.

Those attending were Meses. Ila Pool, Inez Clubb, Minnie Allen, Wilson; Meses. J. M. Fitzgerald, Irl Smith, Aubrey Jones, Malcolm Denson, Sherman White, R. M. Wells, J. B. Austin, W. C. Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

PLENTY OF AMMUNITION is needed when entering into the battle of sexes, so Pageant, in a recent issue, provides interesting facts that will help answer, "Just who's world is it anyway?" "Sex Makes a Difference" lists eighteen ways in which men and women differ — proving there's more than meets the eye when making comparisons.

1. THOUGHT PROCESSES. Men usually have more practical minds and can think more concretely, while women are better in abstract thinking. If you need an income tax report or the blueprint of a house—consult a man. If you need a list of wedding anniversaries or some historical data, ask a woman.

2. DREAMS. Women also dream more frequently and are awakened more often by their dreams than are men.

3. BREATHING. Women have smaller lungs and hearts, quite out of proportion to their size. That means they need less oxygen. Women also breathe more often per minute than men and they breathe less deeply. This may explain why they have never equaled men's reputation for snoring. Or, this habit among men may conceivably be a hangover from those primeval days when men, by making menacing sounds, warned off dangers from their caves.

4. PAIN and COLD TOLERANCE. Women are the stronger sex when it comes to bearing pain. Although they have a higher sensitivity to pain, pressure, heat and other contacts, which means they feel it sooner than men, their ability to stand it is greater. Women are also able to endure cold much better than men, as anybody who has seen them in low-cut evening gown and thin sandals on a winter night can testify.

IN AN ARTICLE entitled "Let's do Away With Distaff Dilemma," in "Success Unlimited," author B. J. Stearns pleads for a common-sense approach to the problem of working mothers.

And it's a big problem. Stearns notes that half of the 19,000,000 women who are working in America today are married, and 40 percent of the married group have children. Most of the mothers work to supplement the family income—to help provide a vacation trip, a new appliance or a new car.

Perryton Bride Feted At Shower

PERRYTON — (Special) — A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Dent Lenderman was held in the home of Mrs. Lyndon Balzer, 621 S. Colgate Street.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Walter LaMaster, Hute Throckton, Cal Day, Virgil Fleming, Clair Larky, Daniel Farles, Coy Thompson, Mack Sutor and Spencer Whippo. Corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Oras Busch, and to Mrs. Betty Cunningham and Mrs. Vernie Lee Wilson, sisters of the bride.

Mrs. Lyndon Balzer received the guests and Mrs. Betty Cunningham presided at the guest register. The serving table was covered with a white "ice cloth" and decorated with an arrangement of white asters centered with an orchid lace heart, satin streamers, with names, "Lora and Dent" in silver. At either side were orchid tapers in crystal candelabra. The white cake was decorated with orchid-colored hearts and wedding bells. Mrs. Wilson, sister of the bride, presided at the crystal punch service.

Some juvenile authorities say that working mothers are contributing to delinquency by removing their influence over their children. But Stearns says it is manifestly unfair to say that every mother who is working is turning her child into a delinquent.

On the other hand, mothers who stay home and take care of the children often apologize that they are "just a housewife," an outlook that is unfair to them.

Stearns pleads that whatever a woman does, she should stop apologizing for it.

"If you work, and you know that your children and your husband are healthy and happy, stop blaming the rising rate of divorce and juvenile delinquency on yourself," he says.

"If you want to devote all your time to running the house—don't refer to yourself as 'just a housewife.' Consider yourself a career woman with the honest title of homemaker."

The program consisted of short speeches by Miss Jerry Hill, on citizenship; Miss Carol Henry, on friendship; Miss Cynthia Cantrell, on service; and Miss Marcia Monahan, on loyalty. Miss Rhona

Finkelstein spoke on the club as a whole.

The initiation rite was opened with a vocal solo, "One Little Candle," by Miss Cynthia Duncan. Each new member took her pledge and lit a candle. The ceremony was closed with the vocal solo, "The Lord's Prayer," by Miss Duncan.

Members attending, other than the new members, were Misses Cynthia Cantrell, Sheila Chisholm, Cynthia Duncan, Carolyn Ford, Carol Henry, Jerry Hill, Mary Innom, Jeannine Leith, Marcia Monahan, Martha Skelly, Wadene Thomason, Anita Wedgeworth, Lottie Wills and Rhona Finkelstein.

TOTED TOTS—These British youngsters got all the thrills of a carnival ride without even going on one. Old Army Regulations Tough On Grass Cutters

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON—UP—Any GI griping about cutting the grass around the post might take a look at some old Army regulations. Those fellows in earlier Army history who were in charge of lawn mowing did not have any power driven mowers — or even hand pushed mowers.

The Pentagon tells us that the laws in the service in the 1860s had some rather difficult problems. There was a regulation in 1861, for instance, which was relaxed a little a couple of years later, which read:

"This is under Article 5. All grassed surfaces, except grass (slopes and hills) will be carefully and frequently mowed (except in dry weather) and the officer the better, while growing rapidly — the grass never allowed to be more than a few inches high."

That was a rough enough order in those days. There were no push mowers. It was all hand work.

"In order to cut the grass even and close, upon small slopes, a light one-handed scythe should be used. And mowing the steep slopes, the mower (or man) should stand on a high ladder resting against the slope and not upon the grass."

Daily Oil Production Increasing

TULSA—UP—The nation's daily average oil production is rising for the first time in several weeks, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

The average for the past week was 4,950 barrels more than that of the previous week. Daily output for the week ended Sept. 17 was 6,682,900 barrels, bringing the year's total to 1,732,159,850 barrels compared with 1,637,597,505 at the corresponding time last year.

By contrast, production fell 6,150 barrels in the week ended Sept. 12 and 13,100 barrels in the week ended Sept. 3.

Oklahoma led the revival with a gain in daily average output of 2,750 barrels. Other increases were reported in Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, and Nebraska.

Kansas reported the steepest drop in production—2,200 barrels. Other declines were in Indiana, Kentucky, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah and Wyoming.

Texas, Mississippi, Florida and eastern fields production was unchanged.

Highway Dept. Vows To Solve El Paso Woes

AUSTIN—UP—The State Highway Commission Tuesday assured an El Paso delegation it will do "whatever it takes" including spending of $50 million to $100 million to solve El Paso's highway problems.

Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton Jr. gave the assurance to a five-man delegation headed by El Paso Mayor Tom Rogers and El Paso County Judge Hugh J. McGovern.

The group outlined a proposed expressway program for both the city and county designed to provide better access to the expanding West Texas gateway area.

"We assure you now we're ready to do whatever it takes to do it right," Thornton said. He specifically mentioned figures of $50 million to $100 million, which he said would be spent if necessary.

Rogers told the commission that "we in the city have been rather lax in acquisition of right-of-way—but we're moving along now."

He added, "to be frank with you, nothing had been done until the last six weeks."

Thornton told the group, "we're as anxious as you are locally to get a solution to this problem. We are tickled to death to know we're in agreement."

The commission chairman said that now the local officials and the state need to agree on priority of construction.

The mayor outlined this proposed construction program:

1-A Campbell Street to Cotton, eight-lane expressway; 1-B, Cotton to Piedra; 2, Piedra to Loop 16; 3, Loop 16 to U.S. 80, or a suitable connection, including grade separation at intersection of Womble-U.S. 80, Farm Road 76; 4, U.S. 80, Ascarate to Ysleta, six-lane city type section; 5, Farm Road 2233, Loop 16 to Farm Road 659, and 6, an expressway section, north city limits to either U.S. 80, near Courchesne school or Main Street north of Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroad tracks.

Lubbock Plans Expressway

AUSTIN—UP—Long-range planning aimed at ultimate construction of an expressway loop around the city of Lubbock was launched Tuesday by the State Highway Commission.

The commission pointed out at the same time that an expressway loop with appropriate interchanges will provide "adequate service for local and through traffic on the present U.S. 82, and will eliminate need" for relocating the highway to connect with the circle south of Lubbock.

State highway engineer Dewitt C. Greer was directed to proceed with location studies, the first step toward determining right of way requirements.

Funds are not now available for the project.

October Draft Quota 1,006

AUSTIN—UP—A November draft call for 1,006 Texans, almost twice the October quota of 534, was announced Tuesday by state selective service headquarters.

Quotas were hiked after the Navy recently announced it will ask for 10,000 draftees in November.

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft chief, said the 1,006 quota for Texas is the state's share in a national call for 20,000 men—half for the Army and half for the Navy.

TEEN TOPICS

By HELEN STEWART

It's fourth week and everyone knows what that means—book reports are due next week and six weeks exams are only one week away. It means too, that Pam-

High has passed the confusion of starting a new year and has settled down on its routine. A lot has been accomplished at PHS during the first four weeks. Student Council has elected officers, appointed committees and has gotten off to a good start—Junior Red Cross has elected representatives—Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs have started their activities—devotional at lunch period has become a custom—everyone has gotten used to the spooky voice of the PA coming out of the wall—sophomore who were "poor lost souls" at first, are running around as madly as everyone else—FHA has organized and is planning a trip to the fair. And there's even more to come at Slide Rule Club, Debate Club, Future Teachers and other clubs get things rolling for another year.

Tomorrow night the Shockers will meet their second foe, Palo Duro High School B Team, in Harvester park. Last week the Shockers beat the Berger Pups 13-6 in the first game of the season.

Tomorrow night's game starts at 7:30; admission is 25 and 50 cents. The cheerleaders will be there to lead the yells.

Everyone get out and support the Shockers. On Friday night the Harvesters make their 1955 debut in Harvester Stadium as they meet the Vernon Lions.

As everyone knows, last week the Harvesters tied with El Paso, 6-6, in the season opener. That was 'way, way down yonder where they didn't have any backing, 'too. But this week they surely won't be 'lacking for backing' as all good Pampanos will be at the game yelling their heads off.

High School students will have their heads yelled off already, though, because a pep rally is scheduled for Friday morning. Carol Henry, head cheerleader, says it is gonna' be a good 'un.

Ed Sullivan Tells Secrets Of M'cing TV

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK —UP— Ed Sullivan, perhaps the only master of ceremonies who has ever blown a kiss at his audience, blew a gentle razberry Wednesday at emcees "who are all teeth and personality."

"TV audiences have changed, they've become educated to the medium," said Sullivan. "They're sick of falsely cheerful people."

"When I first started on TV, they said I was stiff. But it wasn't that I was stiff. It was just that audiences were used to a different type of master-of-ceremonies—the kind who would come out bubbling and bare his teeth."

The head of CBS-TV's oldest variety hour continued: "As the years went on, people began to say—'this guy, Sullivan, is a relief. He isn't all teeth and personality.' They began to accept my manner not because I changed, but because they did."

Sullivan, never one to talk down to his audience, reserved some sharp comment for emcees who efferresced on all occasions.

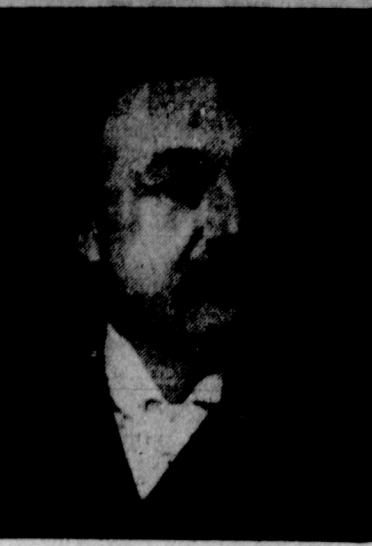

"I may be wrong, but I think audiences are pretty tired of performers who gush things like 'I want to thank you all for the use of your living room' or 'Kiss the little kiddies for me. There are just too many damn kiddies on television,'" he said.

"I don't think there is any doubt that the audience is much smarter than most people in the business think. There's nothing you can put on that won't be accepted. I've had a Christopher Fry verse play, the Sadler's Wells Ballet and Ogden Nash doing Saint-Saens' 'Carnival of Animals.'"

This coming season, Sullivan said, he would continue to lace his show with the kind of entertainment he has featured since he started it in June, 1948.

"I'm not going to change the show radically," said the columnist. "I can't see any reason for breaking up a winning formula at the moment."

Sullivan, who keeps a tight hand on his show ("It's strictly a one-man operation—I don't have to submit it to anyone else"), hopes around constantly in an effort to case new acts.

A. MONTGOMERY WARD revolutionized the merchandising field when, in 1872, he launched his mail-order company with a policy of satisfaction guaranteed.

THE WARD ORGANIZATION which started in a single room in this old Chicago building now serves the entire country through its almost 600 retail stores, over 250 mail-order offices and nine large mail-order houses.

83rd Anniversary Observed By Ward

Montgomery Ward this week is celebrating its 83rd year in business, having operated continuously since 1872. The store here in Pampa was opened in 1928.

In 1872, A. Montgomery Ward started the very first mail order house. Up to that time people in rural areas traded at small general stores, or depended on the itinerant peddler for the necessities and small comforts of life. Only meager stocks of merchandise were offered and the prices were truly excessive.

Ward, a "drummer" for several leading drygoods firms, had a new idea. When America celebrated the completion of the first transcontinental railroad in 1869, Montgomery Ward saw that the time was ripe for a greater merchandising service than had ever before been attempted. Ward started saving his money and by 1871 had $2400 for this venture. Then, the great Chicago fire wiped out everything he had except $65, and the firm he worked for went out of business. He found another job, and by living on a bare minimum, built up his savings to $1600 in only a year. That, with a contribution of $800 by George R. Thorne, who became his partner, launched the first mail order company.

The total space for office-warehouse operations was one room, only 12 x 14 feet, in a building on Chicago's North Clark Street. The first catalog was a one-page list of merchandise and prices. Progress was slow in those early months, but the public was soon impressed by the statement, "satisfaction guaranteed or your money back" which was, up to then, unheard of. The usual policy of the day had been "the buyer beware."

This was the beginning of the mail order business, destined to have a revolutionary effect upon the merchandising methods of the future. Today, in addition to 9 mail order offices, Wards have nearly 600 retail stores.

Not only did Montgomery Ward lay the foundation for one of the world's greatest merchandising successes, but he revolutionized retail trade throughout the country. With Woolworth, who created the "five and ten," and Wanamaker who originated the department store, Montgomery Ward was one of the Big Three who changed the buying habits of the nation.

Today Ward's first "catalog" is considered one of the hundred in the world.

Rocky, Moore Title Match Reset For Tonight

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK —UP— The "boner" postponement that sends Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore into the ring Wednesday night for their heavyweight championship fight left the odds unchanged at 4-1 but may boost the gate toward $900,000.

With the weather lid lifted by a forecast of "cool and fair," officials of the International Boxing Club figured Wednesday's rush of ticket buyers might swell the crowd at Yankee Stadium to 70,000. Fresh sales were in the ratio of nearly 3-1 to refunds.

Despite challenger Moore's nervousness during Tuesday's physical examination and the general belief that the 24-hour delay would bother him more than the ice-cold champion, the betting price remained static.

Unbeaten Marciano and the 38-year-old light heavyweight champion were slated for another physical exam Wednesday by Dr. Ira McCown, medical director for the N.Y. State Athletic Commission. But they need not undergo the ordeal of another weigh-in. The examinations will be made at their hotels.

Weigh Almost Same

Their respective trainers pointed out that the weights Tuesday — Rocky 188 1/4 and Archie 188 — were about what was expected; for Moore had three cups of coffee about an hour before stepping on the scales, and Rocky ate a hearty breakfast after the 10 a.m. postponement announcement.

Their expected weights at ring-time Wednesday night, 8:45 p. m. (est), are 187 for the Brockton blockbuster and 186 for Archibald Moore of San Diego, Calif., and several other "home" cities.

Their only exercises slated for Wednesday were walks in different parks. Tuesday Rocky did two miles of roadwork in Bronx Park. Moore motored to Summit, N.J., and took a workout at Ehsan's Camp.

Called Boner By Some

Many boxing men figured promoter Jim Norris had "pulled a prize boner" Tuesday when he deferred the fight 24 hours because of a bad-weather threat that never materialized. He announced the washout at 10 a. m. in New York but less than an hour later the skies were clearing and hurricane Ione veered out to sea. It was the first time an important title bout had been postponed before the weigh-in.

Norris denied any boner. He explained: "I would do it again. We had no choice. Forecasts from all weather bureaus — government, Navy and flying fields — were hopelessly gloomy. And we were being bombarded by railroads and air companies for instructions whether to start their special flight in rain. Just Closed-Circuit Telecast

There will be no home telecast of the Marciano-Moore bout, but it will be broadcast nationally over ABC networks and to several foreign countries. However, the Marciano Beach fight will not be broadcast. It will be sent to 120 theatres on a closed circuit.

Marciano will receive 40 per cent of all net receipts from gate theatre TV and $35,000 radio fee. Moore will get 20 per cent. The richest fight of the decade will bro-each with the biggest purse of his career.

An upset Wednesday night would make Moore the oldest new heavyweight champion in history, and would make him the first light heavyweight champion to win the heavy crown.

It would bring his 19-year record to 121-19-5. He already has 82 knockouts, but has been stopped four times. He boasts 21 straight victories.

Marciano, seeking his 49th consecutive professional victory and is known as a "quick bleeder." Each is a slow starter and each has promised to warm up lengthily in the dressing room and come out "hot."

Future Draft Choice Traded

PITTSBURGH —UP— The Pittsburgh Steelers have traded a future draft choice to the Chicago Bears for defensive end Ed Meadows, a six-one, 225-pounder who played his collegiate ball at Duke University. The move brought the Steelers roster to 35 men, the legal limit.

Bradley Names Line Coach

PEORIA, Ill. —UP— Bill Zimmerman, former All-Missouri Valley Conference tackle, will return to Bradley University as a line coach. Zimmerman has been engaged to help head coach Billy Stone.
