Fourth Postponement

H-Bomb Air Drop Is Delayed Again

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
ABOARD U.S.S. MT. MICKINLEY OFF ENIWETOK — UP—An unfavorable switch in the wind forced atomic task force officers Thursday night to postpone for the fourth time this week the scheduled air drop explosion of the hydrogen bomb.

The explosion was to have taken place over Namu Island in Bikini atoll shortly before dawn Friday (about 12 noon est. Thursday).

In announcing the postponement, task force officials said they were hopeful that the explosion could be held on Sunday (Saturday, U.S. time).

"It now appears that Sunday will be the earliest possible date on which conditions might be favorable," they said.

The news about the bad weather was given to Rear Adm. E. Hall Hanlon, task force commander, at a briefing an hour and a half before midnight. At that time, the explosion time was less than seven and one-half hours away.

A report from the task force command ship, U.S.S. Estes, said that the expected favorable wind pattern had dissipated during the evening. Replacing it was a light flow of wind from the northwest.

This wind would have deposited the bomb's deadly radio-active fallout on the uninhabited atolls southeast of Bikini. Task force officials were anxious to avoid at all costs a repetition of events following the March 1, 1954 atomic test when Marshall Islanders, Japanese fishermen and some U.S. servicemen were subjected to radiation.

The postponement sent atomic task force ships steaming back to Eniwetok lagoon 10 hours and 40 minutes after they had left for Bikini to observe the blast.

Tokyo Rose May Be Without Country

Propagandist For Japanese Is Fighting Deportation

CHICAGO — UP— Downhearted Tokyo Rose "let" Thursday on the Kramlin's down-with-Stalin movement is sincere he sees no reason why Russia cannot eventually "join in the spirit" of the Atlantic pact.

The 34-year-old former prime minister, here to be honored for his own aid to European unity, said the West's best hope of achieving it lies in the pact's "broad alliance of the European powers, linked with Canada and the United States."

He added that, although the United States has so far taken the lead in cementing the historically divided nations of Europe, Russia also "must have her part" in a real unification of the continent.

Churchill told a blue-ribbon audience that Europe's problems can be solved more easily by united East-West action than "by rival blocks confronting each other with suspicion and hostility."

The British veteran's unofficial proposal amounted to endorsement of the Russian idea — rejected by (See NEWS, Page 4) whose real name is Mrs. Iva To-guri d'Aquino, will make San Francisco the headquarters of her fight to escape deportation from the country she betrayed.

But Mrs. d'Aquino, 38, admitted "I'm very depressed and I don't see much chance of ever coming back here."

Tokyo Rose, whose sultry voice taunted G.I.s in the Pacific war, is already married six years of a 10-year sentence in the U.S. prison for women at Alderson, W. Va.

She was released Jan. 28 and came to Chicago to live with her father, Jon. She said she wanted to fade into obscurity, but the immigration service issued a warrant for her deportation on grounds that she is an "undesirable" resident of the United States.

If she loses her fight, she may rejoin her husband, Philip d'Aquino, in Japan. But she has said she does not want to go to Japan. And if Japan and other nations refuse to admit her, she could become a "woman without a country."

As such, she would have to spend the rest of her life aboard ships with no place to land.

Mrs. d'Aquino claims she can be deported because she is a native-born citizen and cannot be deprived of her citizenship.

The immigration service has granted her permission to go to San Francisco. She wants to be in the West Coast city because her lawyer and several possible witnesses live there.

Johnson Wants Harmony

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON — UP— Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson views his Texas triumph as an invitation to northern Democrats to go part of the way to meet the South at a national convention keyed to compromise and moderation.

This viewpoint was attributed to him by associates who are convinced that he will play a major role at the convention both in the drafting of a platform and the selection of a presidential nominee.

Teamed with Speaker Sam Rayburn, Johnson won control of the Texas national convention delegation last weekend in a contest with Gov. Allan Shivers, who supported President Eisenhower in 1952.

Johnson will also be Texas' favorite son candidate for the presidential nomination.

It was virtually a unanimous reaction among Democrats that Johnson's victory minimized if it did not eliminate the threat of a southern bolt from the Democratic party this year.

This belief, however, is based on the assumption that the convention will adopt a platform and pick a nominee which the south can swallow. Johnson and Rayburn, who will preside over the convention, can both have a voice in these decisions because the influence of each reaches far beyond the South.

The big test will come in how the platform deals with the race issue, which has plagued the Democratic party for years. It is on this issue that Johnson will be soliciting northern as well as southern support for a course of moderation.

Other developments:
Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Adlai E. Stevenson continued their campaigns in California for votes in that state's June 5 Democratic presidential primary.

Stevenson, in a Los Angeles speech Wednesday night, accused the Eisenhower administration of following a "policy of drift" at home and abroad.

Former Georgia Gov. Herman E. Talmadge, a strong segregation advocate, announced that he will run for the Senate seat held by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.). George Wednesday gave up his earlier plan to see re-election.

Nation's Big Companies Claim Anti-Trust Difficulties

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
WASHINGTON — UP— The nation's big insurance companies have rejected President Eisenhower's plan for creating a voluntary insurance pool to provide Americans with more health protection.

Insiders disclosed Thursday that these firms "reluctantly concluded" they could not join a pool without running into insurmountable difficulties under the antitrust laws.

Administration sources insisted, however, that the pool idea is not dead. They said some small concerns are interested and that something may yet be worked out.

Suggested in Message
In his health message to Congress in January, Mr. Eisenhower suggested that a voluntary insurance pool, in which companies shared the risks, would speed the expansion of health insurance benefits to cover such things as catastrophic illnesses, the aged, and the persons in rural areas.

He warned that if such a pool could not be worked out with the insurance industry, he again would urge Congress to enact the federal health re-insurance program which he proposed in 1953 and which Congress subsequently rejected.

Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health and a hard campaigner for more health benefits, has been discussing the pool idea with the insurance industry for months.

'Sympathetic' Consideration
Informed sources said that the big companies, which write the bulk of the nation's insurance business, gave the proposal a great deal of "sympathetic" consideration. In the end, however, they generally decided they couldn't go along because:

1. They already are expanding their policies to cover such things as catastrophic illness.
2. The anti-trust problem—even if the administration could obtain a congressional exemption—would be too great.
3. The pool inevitably would involve some federal regulation which would be repugnant to some firms.
4. They already have substantial resources so they do not need a pool, even though it might speed expansion of benefits.

Capitol Hill Roundup

WASHINGTON — UP— The new defense budget came up for a vote Thursday in the House.

House leaders forecast easy passage of the $33.6 billion program despite some Democratic complaints that it doesn't give the Air Force enough intercontinental bombers to keep pace with Soviet air power.

The House faced only one stiff fight in connection with the bill: The "government in business" issue.

The dispute is over what Congress should or should not do about letting the Pentagon dispose of government commercial-type operations that compete with private industry.

Other developments:
FLOOD INSURANCE
The Senate called up for debate legislation to establish a $3 million, federally-subsidized program of flood insurance for property and home owners. The bill was expected to be approved after limited debate.

SCHOOLS
A House source reported the House is considering the possibility of bringing the administration's civil rights bill up for action ahead of the $1.6 billion school construction bill. This would give civil rights proponents an opportunity to get on the record with a clear-cut vote. School bill backers figure that would help them later to block addition of an anti-segregation rider to the school bill.

FARM
Senate Democrats and Republicans agreed that a compromise farm bill approved by the Senate Agriculture committee will be acceptable to President Eisenhower. The bill would authorize a $1.2 billion soil bank requested by the chief executive. But it also includes some price support increases opposed by the administration.

FOREIGN AID
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was called before the House Foreign Affairs committee to argue for the administration's $4.9 billion foreign aid program. However, sources said Dulles would tell the committee a cut of from $50 million to $300 million would not jeopardize the program and the nation's security.

HATKIN
Staff members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities scheduled a secret meeting with Sidney Hatkin, an Air Force statistician suspended on security charges. Staff members want to discuss an alleged Russian attempt to get U. S. aircraft data from him.

G. O. P., Demos Think Farm Bill Is Acceptable

WASHINGTON — UP— Senate Democrats and Republicans agreed Thursday that they have a compromise farm bill acceptable to President Eisenhower.

It would authorize a $1.2 billion soil bank requested by Mr. Eisenhower, but makes no provision for the controversial advance payment feature the President sought.

The bill was approved by the Senate Agriculture committee 13 to 1 Wednesday. It also would boost price supports of feed grains a per cent this year.

Mr. Eisenhower and Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson were known to prefer that some of the bill's provisions not be included. But none was considered objectionable enough to result in another veto.

The President recently vetoed a Democratic farm bill because it included a provision for 30 per cent of parity price supports and other features highly objectionable to him. The high, rigid price program was left out of the new bill.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), Senate leader of administration farm forces, told reporters that it is "not likely" that Mr. Eisenhower would veto the bill as approved by the committee. Committee Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) agreed.

Ike Enters Hospital For Medical Checkup

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON — UP— A noticeably lean President Eisenhower enters Walter Reed Army hospital late Thursday for a "head-to-toe" medical checkup, including a new appraisal of his recovery from a heart attack.

His physicians agreed that the President appeared to be in good physical condition, but they will have a more definite picture when he leaves the hospital at midday Saturday.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist, and the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Mcc. Snyder, agreed that the President was in good health. "He seems to be in good physical shape as far as we can tell," Snyder said, "but we'll give him a good, thorough physical exam this weekend."

White listened to the President's heart through stethoscope Wednesday and said he thought Mr. Eisenhower was in good health. White will not participate in the Walter Reed examinations.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that his examination will be a "head-to-toe . . . major medical checkup." He said the doctors will "of course" check for any "cardiac difficulties" but that the exam was a routine annual physical not directly related to "my late difficulties."

Mr. Eisenhower's weight is 168 pounds. The day before, his Sept. 24 heart attack in Denver last year he weighed 178 pounds.

Diet and activity have stripped off the 10 pounds. His exercise is not rationed. Golf at least once a week and daily swimming are encouraged by the doctors, who reported, however, against undue fatigue.

His weight is lower than his physicians have requested. They would prefer it at around 172 pounds. Snyder, however, did not seem concerned by the President's current weight.

Panhandle, Oklahoma Milk Hauling Dispute Continues

OKLAHOMA CITY — UP—Bhoses from an explosive hearing over milk hauling in western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle subsided Thursday while the Oklahoma Corporation Commission studied a trucking application that brought a feud among dairy farmers and milk haulers out into the open.

The commission took the application under advisement after several witnesses directed fire Wednesday at the Borden Milk Co. plant at Amarillo, Tex., a principal market for milk producers in the area.

Six persons testified, and several said Borden representatives had encouraged producers to quit the Tri-State Milk Producers Association, a co-operative, and let independent haul milk to Amarillo.

M. B. Luttrell, Wheeler, Tex., who has applied for the hauling permit, denied he was backed by Borden but conceded he has worked "with Borden" for 10 years and that Borden agents had suggested he could get Oklahoma customers in Beckham and Roger Mills counties.

Stuart Russell, Oklahoma City attorney for the Tri-State Association, said the fight is one between the Borden firm and the association.

He said it has been the result of "duress, coercion, threats and promises" by Borden.

"They have tried to keep producers from joining the association," he said.

Youth Talent Show Is Tomorrow Night

Pampa High School students will present the "Youth for the Youth Center" talent show tomorrow night at 8 in Harvester Fieldhouse, and all proceeds are designated for the proposed Pampa Youth and Community Center.

Lee Ledrick, president of the Student Council, originated the show composed of a cast of 47 plus the A Cappella Choir, directed by Bob Irby. Malcolm Brown, Jr., is in charge of talent for the show and has held many of the rehearsals at his home.

Bill Atkinson is in charge of publicizing the show and stage sets and properties. Mrs. Ruby Capps is sponsor.

Ticket sales have been going briskly thus far, according to reports, and indications are that a full house of over 3,000 people will be present tomorrow night.

Included in the cast are the following: the King's Caribbees, a girl trio; the Four Spades, a boy's quartet; Malcolm Brown and Ramona Hudgins on the piano and organ; Ted Swindle, the "English" clown; the Pampa High School Pep Band; Don Cox and his guitar; a boys trio, composed of Johnny Nutting, Darryl Ammons and Rodney Davis; a tap dancing routine by Maynette Loftus; Loris Schneider performing with a baton; Phil Grommon, Rhona Finklestein and Charles Lockhart in dances.

Singers will include Eddie Swinney, Betty Lou Hoggett, Jo Ann Jones and Joan Robertson. Gale Lee Harris will do a humorous reading skit, Jimmy Goff will play the flute, and Dan Teed will play a saxophone solo.

Tickets, also to be on sale at the door, are priced at 30 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

British Hang Greek Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus — UP— British hanged two Greek Cypriots before dawn Thursday to the shouts and screams of other prisoners and heavy street fighting broke out a few hours later against British troops.

Cypriot Greek youths and girls looted a barrage of stones at British soldiers outside the Greek Phanomenon Church soon after word of the executions spread through the tense city. Turkish Cypriot police moved in swinging batons. British troops loosed a tear gas barrage that dispersed the crowds.

Cypriots throughout the island were reported ready to call a general strike in hopes of paralyzing this British bastion. Already many shops were closed in expectation of bloody riots against British rule.

Violent demonstrations against the executions already had swept Greece. Four persons were known dead and hundreds injured in fights between police and rioters who stormed the U.S. information agency Wednesday and burned British flags.

Athens newspapers published extra Thursday telling of the executions. The first reaction was one of outrage and fears of more violence against the heavily guarded American, British and Turkish embassies.

A general strike was called in the big port city of Limassol and was expected to spread throughout the island.

Rodeo Group To Take Bids

Plans and specifications for the receiving of bids on 13 concessions at Recreation Park for this year's "Top O' Texas Rodeo, Rodeo Association attorney, and will be ready for distribution next week.

The plans will be distributed among all organizations of the city sponsoring youth programs.

Bob Andis, president of the association, indicated that bids would be received on the 13 concessions, although the association reserves the right to refuse any or all bids. They plan to award the concessions to the groups capable of doing the best job.

Personnel Group Sets Meeting

Cabot, Celanese, and the Chamber of Commerce will act as hosts for the Pampa Personnel Association's meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, May 15, in the Country Club.

Dr. R. M. Bellamy will bring the main address on the subject of "Back X-Rays in Industry." The welcoming address will be extended by Mayor Boyd.

Elmo Bonfield, Berger, is president of the association and H. S. Prince, Pampa, is vice president. Special entertainment is being arranged from the high school by Malcolm Brown, Jr., who will furnish dinner music on the Hammond organ.

Algerian Rebels Swarm French

ALGIERS — UP— Rebel bands shouting "Jihad" (holy war) swarmed out of the hills in a spring offensive against French rule Thursday but found themselves outnumbered by French forces, three-to-one.

British Press Rips Eden In Mystery

LONDON — UP— The British press ripped into Prime Minister Anthony Eden Thursday for failing to tell the full story of the mysterious disappearance and "presumed" death of a frogman-nero believed to have died beneath a Soviet cruiser.

His explanations to the House of Commons which hinted that the frogman was engaged in espionage work were described as "inept" and "unsatisfactory." There were widespread demands that he tell all.

Unconfirmed rumors said an American espionage agent may have been involved and that this led to Eden's refusal to give out details "in the public interest." A U.S. Navy spokesman denied Thursday any American was involved.

The frogman was former Cmdr. Lionel (Buster) Crabbe, a hero of World War II who disappeared in the waters of Portsmouth naval base only one day after Soviet's two top leaders arrived in the cruiser Orjonikidze for a state visit.

The opposition Labor party also attacked Eden heavily and demanded that he give the full story although nearly everyone admitted that to do so could lead to serious international repercussions, particularly with the Soviet Union.

Tito Getting To Be Popular Man

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

President Tito of Yugoslavia's getting to be an increasingly popular man.

Soviet Russia and its satellites, the Western Allies, and the Asian African "neutrals" are all seeking his favor.

Tito is in Paris Tuesday, on a state visit. He is to go to Moscow next month to return the visit which Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev paid him last May. Premier Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, the "neutrals" leader, is to visit him in Belgrade on June 30.

It might be a good bet that Tito will pay a visit to the United States before Mr. B. and Mr. K. do. That is something for the future.

Tito seems to be quite satisfied with his present situation. Apparently he has made up his mind to refuse alignment with any of the big blocs.

May Start Own Bloc
But it would not be surprising if Tito made another bid soon to form a bloc of his own. This would include Bulgaria in start with, and might be extended to Romania and other Iron Curtain countries.

There are suggestions that Tito may raise this question when he visits Moscow.

It seems hardly likely that the Kremlin would be receptive. Its big job at present is to keep its satellites under tight control after the debunking of Josef Stalin. And the friendlier Tito gets with any of Russia's satellites, the harder the control job will be.

Back in the years just after World War II there was much talk of what was variously called a South Slav Federation, a Balkan bloc and a Danubian entente.

Tito and the late Georgi Dimitrov, then premier of Bulgaria, were the active promoters of this movement.

Stalin got suspicious and instructed Dimitrov to have no parts of it.

A few months later, when Tito rebelled against Kremlin domination, he was drummed out of the Communist bloc.

Stalin, and a lot of people in other countries, expected that to finish Tito. Instead, his successful defiance of Stalin strengthened him.

Made Many Friends
At the moment, it might be argued that Tito is Europe's leading Communist in point of prestige. He has made a lot of friends and no enemies. The visits he has paid to other countries have gone well.

Especially, Tito's visit to Great Britain three years ago was in startling contrast to the recent visit by Mr. B. and Mr. K.

Tito's visit was something of a sensation at the time. He was the first big Communist leader to visit Britain. He materially strengthened his position, Bulganin and Khrushchev will hardly look back on their visit with any self-satisfaction. Whatever the diplomatic results of their visit may turn out to be, it was a personal failure for them.

Just what may develop when Tito goes to Moscow remains to be seen. But Mr. B. and Mr. K. are unlikely to get better than an even break.

You must time plays correctly to make four spades in today's hand. No single play is difficult, but you must put them together in the right order.

Any line of play will work if the missing trumps split 3-2, and probably no line of play will work if West has four trumps headed by three honors. The only bad break to guard against is the East hand.

To begin with, you must win the first trick in your own hand rather than in the dummy. After taking the queen of hearts, you lead a club to dummy's ace. Then you can afford to start the trumps.

East plays a low trump, and you put up the queen from your hand, holding the trick. The next step is to cash the king of clubs and ruff a club in dummy. Now you can lead another trump toward your hand.

East must step up with the king of spades. His best defense is to lead a diamond, and you win with the ace. Only now is it correct to win in dummy with the ace of hearts in order to lead trumps for the third time towards your hand.

Notice what happens if you win the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts in order to lead a trump at once. East lets you win the first trump, and you get to dummy with ace of clubs to lead another trump. East now leads out three rounds of trumps, preventing you from ruffing a club. Now can you ruff a club before leading a second trump for East can make sure of three trump-tricks by careful defense.

Nest-To-Nest Survey Shows Birds Can Out-Eat Mere Men

By HARMON W. NICHOLS mere men or even pachyderm. WASHINGTON - UP - The National Geographic Society saw "appetite like a bird", etc., which is interested in looking into what goes into the crawls of our fine feathered friends, has put their beaks to the important conclusions are interesting. Fact is, little birds, when they made a nest-to-nest survey. The business of survival, can out-eat I'll bet you didn't know that the little critters that taught man to fly eat more as youngsters every day than their own weight. Take the black tern, which weighs 31 grams. It gulps down 48 grams of wiggly worms in a single day. A house wren, which the society kept an eye on for 15 hours, fed her brood 1,217 times. Can man or mammoth live under the strain of that many snacks? And at Yosemite national park it was observed that the tummy of a flicker, a quail and a nighthawk contained respectively 3,000 ants, 500 chinch bugs and 500 mosquitoes and that doesn't include a dessert of weed seeds. In order to carry on at the grub board like that a member of the human race would have to gobble two or three lambs or a whole calf a day. The kids we raise these days would bust at that. And grownups in our set—those weighing in at say 150 pounds—eat only 1,531 pounds of food-stuffs a year. I am here to tell you that we humans should not run around kill-

Dotted lines show where leading edge of barge is carried before launching.

Key to operation is hydro-lift combination of skis and wheels that enable plane to land on water and keep on the surface on long forward speed is maintained.

Pampan Is Sentenced After Wreck

Four collisions within the city limits Tuesday resulted in two women being hospitalized and one receiving a sentence of 90 days in the county jail.

Mrs. Mildred Faye Kingham, 813 W. Thut, and Mrs. Tressie Williamson-Mangum, Okla., were injured when the '64 Ford they were riding in, which was driven by Frank R. Kingham, was struck in the rear by a '47 Chrysler driven by Leo Medley of 488 Crest. The collision occurred at 7:40 p.m. on the Perryton Parkway, 10 feet south of the city limits.

Medley was cited on in County Court yesterday for aggravated assault with a motor vehicle. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to 90 days in county jail by the court.

Medley left the scene of the accident and was apprehended by Sgt. Dennis Roan about an hour later. While a passenger of his vehicle was being questioned at the station, Medley and his wife left the station and a search for them was launched. Policeman Dan Lewis and Harold Kay spotted them near the Chrysler which had been abandoned near the intersection of Brown and Hobart and a chase on foot resulted.

Medley was returned to the city jail about 30 minutes after he had left.

As the patrol car being driven by Sgt. Roan approached the Brown and Hobart intersection to help Lewis and Kay apprehend Medley, they came upon another of the collisions which occurred Tuesday. The collision occurred five feet south of the intersection at 8:30 p.m.

Hollie Boynton, 1035 E. Hobart, driving a '48 Chevrolet, was in collision with John Joseph Shannon, 848 Crawford, driving a '48 Plymouth. Damages to the Chevrolet were estimated at $150 and the Plymouth met with damages estimated at $100.

Two other collisions occurred earlier in the day. The first of these was at 11:30 a.m. at the intersection of Christine and Louisville. James Dullen Owensby, 507 N. Cavalier, driving a '49 Ford, was in collision with Jewel James Kuntz, 1207 E. Francis, driving a '53 Plymouth. The Ford encountered damages estimated at $250 and the Plymouth met with damages estimated at $175.

The fourth of the collisions reported Tuesday occurred at 8:30 p.m. on Hobart, 100 feet north of Kentucky. James Oliver Wilson, 2104 Coffee, driving a '54 Ford, was in collision with Richard Preston Barrett, 1321 N. Russell, driving a '51 Ford.

Damages to the '54 Ford were estimated at $30 and the '51 Ford encountered damages estimated at $50.

With Coffee - A Springtime Cake

Are you lucky enough to have a birthday in the balmy month of May? If you are, this May Pole Cake is designed for you. Rising in four proud tiers, decked out with pastel icing, boasting a miniature "pole" wrapped in ribbon, it's just about the prettiest cake that ever brightened a festive table.

In fact, it's too pretty and tastes too good for anyone to pass it up. Why not enjoy this pastry creation even if you were born in blustery December? To complete the party spirit, make certain there's a pot of steaming coffee in the picture. Cups of robust, aromatic coffee are perfection with slices of freshly-baked May Pole Cake.

May Pole Cake

1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 cups pineapple juice
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup pineapple juice

Mix and sift first four ingredients. Add oil and pineapple juice and beat until very smooth. In a separate bowl, beat eggs until thick and foamy. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until well blended. Fold egg mixture thoroughly into batter. Pour into 4 greased and floured tier cake pans. Bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 25 minutes for 3 smaller layers, 30 minutes for largest layer. Put together and frost with delicately tinted 7-minute frosting. Insert slender wooden stick about 4 inches taller than the cake, wrapped in ribbon, in the center. Top with a small bouquet of May flowers or other small flowers. Attach ribbon streamers to simulate a May pole. Place candles on tiers. Surround with a wreath of May flowers.

Breakfast Bread Starts Day Right

A warm, sunny day cheers us all, but an attractively served, delicious breakfast assures a slightly different first meal, serve cups of bacon, banana nut bread with butter, and coffee or milk. The light, soft texture of the bread in the following recipe comes from using lard as the shortening. There is just a whisper of lemon flavor in it.

BANANA NUT BREAD

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup lard
2 eggs
1 cup mashed bananas (3 medium bananas)
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup lemon extract
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Sift flour with baking powder, and salt. Cream lard and sugar, add well-beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with bananas. Add lemon extract and

Right Spices Make Veal Dish Delightful

Great chefs, both in our country and abroad, for years have created culinary masterpieces with veal. Their success in cooking the meat depended on two principles: slow cooking of veal in moist heat, and the addition of interesting seasonings - spices, herbs, and flavorful foods.

Because of its mild flavor, veal takes kindly to a great variety of seasonings. A few dashes of a spice - cloves, curry, majoram, mustard, paprika, or thyme - give pleasing flavor to the meat. Other good seasoners are sour cream, lemon juice, parsley, and caraway seeds. Sometimes veal cutlets and steaks are cooked in a cream of mushroom or tomato soup and served with a fresh seasonal vegetable such as asparagus, potatoes, peas, or tender young greens.

Veal and mix well. Pour into a greased loaf pan (8 1/2 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches) and bake in a 350-degree oven for one hour. Cool 10 minutes. Frost with lemon juice and nuts. F. turn out on a rack. 1 loaf.

FAMOUS TEXANS' RECIPES

Curried Beef Appeals Hunger, Says Houston Theatre Director

Nina Vance, one of America's outstanding theatre women, says her favorite beef dish is "Bengal curry of beef, a hearty one for hungry actors."

Founder and director of the Alley Theatre nine years ago, following study at Texas Christian University and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, Mrs. Vance is a what ravenous appetites actors have when they finally take time out from script study, rehearsals and performances to eat. Actors are notorious for unlimited capacities, and Mrs. Vance's favorite recipe is a good "filler," especially on opening nights when the cast has been too jittery before the performance to eat.

Work with her Alley Theatre, which is famous throughout the United States, has brought her in contact with such famous actors and actresses as Spring Byington, Joseph Calleia, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Albert Dekker and Fay Bainter, some of whom have been delighted to give her one or two of their favorite recipes. Mrs. Vance is known for her courage and ambition for Houston theatre in introducing works which challenge these famous theatre personalities on her arena stage.

A native Texan from Yoakum who "knows good beef" when she eats it, Mrs. Vance was chosen as the only theatrical personality to be featured in Charm Magazine recently on famous career women. The magazine compares her struggle in Houston to bring good theatre to audiences to that of any wildcat drifter. Each play has been a gamble on a gusher or a dry

BENGAL CURRY OF BEEF

1 pound top round or sirloin, cubed
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 tin tomato paste
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, chopped
1/4 teaspoon mustard seed
1 small piece cinnamon stick
1 tablespoon curry powder
(Light or heating as your taste dictates; but don't overdo it)
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon paprika
salt to taste
water
white wine
Sauté onion, garlic, mustard seed and cinnamon in fat; add beef, curry powder, paprika and thyme. Brown about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Scrape brown from pan; add tomato paste and salt. Cover with white wine and water (half and half) and simmer until meat is just tender - about 20 minutes. Correct seasoning and transfer to casserole and refrigerate.

Serve with saffron rice and the usual condiments - shredded fresh coconut, peanuts, raisins, chutney, hard-boiled eggs. While the rice is cooking, re-heat curry in hot oven (425 degrees) about 20 minutes. Serves 4.

Revolutionary, New 3-D Circus Cookies

What one word brings a look of gladness to all faces in Spring? Circus! Why not bring some of the fun and excitement of this great event right into your own home by having a circus party for the youngsters?

Let them make their own fun and refreshments by assembling cookies that look like their own favorite animals. Not flat ordinary cookies but brand new stand-up ones with three dimensions. Cookies that stand on their own feet - Baxter the Bunny, Virgil the Turtle, Katie the Kangaroo. They're crisp and delicious and have a recipe all their own developed especially for them by Crisco Kitchens. It's an easy-to-do recipe for a firm cookie that can be handled by tiny hands without too much breadage.

These new cookie cutters come in parts like a puzzle, with notches for fitting the various parts together after baking. They're available for 25 cents and a label from a popular vegetable shortening. Once you've made the little animals and had the fun of assembling them so they stand you'll find many occasions to show them off - besides the circus party for the young ones. Of course, they look most attractive when they're frosted in bright and realistic colors.

3-D COOKIES
(Makes 12-14 animals)
1/2 cup Crisco
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon flavoring

Blend Crisco, sugar and egg. Add mixed dry ingredients alternately with milk and flavoring. Mix thoroughly. Roll small portions of dough to 1/4" thickness on cookie sheets. Cut with 3-D cookie cutters, repeating with each cutter as many times as necessary to make the different animals. Remove excess dough from cookie sheet. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 7-10 minutes, or until browned. Remove from baking sheets immediately.

Frosted Meat Loaf For Company Meal

If your family thinks of meat loaf as something that just happens when you've run out of ideas for dinner, they'll think differently when they taste this company-mannered Frosted Meat Loaf.

After baking, unmoild the loaf on a baking sheet, and frost with seasoned mashed potatoes, topped with a sprinkling of Corn Flakes crumbs which have been mixed with melted butter. Then put the loaf back in the oven for about 20 minutes, or until the "frosting" becomes golden-brown.

FROSTED MEAT LOAF

4 cups Corn Flakes
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped onions
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/4 pound ground pork

Crush Corn Flakes slightly; combine with remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Spread in greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Unmoild loaf and place on greased baking sheet or oven proof platter.

4 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
1 cup Corn Flakes
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
Frost loaf with mashed potatoes. Crush Corn Flakes into fine crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over mashed potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes longer. Yields 8 servings.

Dairy or commercial sour cream is made from sweet cream which is pasteurized, homogenized and inoculated with a culture of lactic acid bacteria. It is then allowed to develop acidity until the desired qualities are reached.

Ideal Dinner

Enjoy comfort in summer while getting the family a satisfying meal. Cooking is easy when you use canned foods. Try this one-dish recipe for good eating. Cook it inside and serve it outside if you wish.

Boiled Dinner Summer Style

6 carrots
1 small head cabbage
2 cans (12 oz. each) corned beef
1/2 cup water
Salt and pepper
1 can (16-oz.) whole white potatoes
1 can (16 oz.) whole onions
2 cans (12 oz. each) corned beef
1/2 cup melted butter, or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Put halved carrots, cabbage cut in wedges and water in saucepan; sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Cover and cook until vegetables are almost tender. Add drained potatoes and onions, and corned beef cut into large chunks. Cover and heat through. Put in serving dish and drizzle butter over it. Sprinkle with parsley. Six servings.

Fruit Dessert Delight

1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) pineapple chunks
1 pint fresh strawberries
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 can (12 fl. oz.) apricot nectar

Combine pineapple chunks, 1/2 cup syrup drained from pineapple and strawberry halves; chill. Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch in a saucepan; add apricot nectar, and cook until thickened and clear stirring constantly. Chill. Combine fruit and sauce. Eight servings.

Unusual And Exciting Foreign Dishes

Featured In Cookbook Just Released

Unusual and exciting foreign dishes are now as close to housewives as the nearest store, with the help of "The Round The World Cookbook," by Myra Waldo. A Bantam April release, this book contains over 300 zestful recipes gathered from 84 different countries by Pan American Airways.

All weights and measures have been translated into American terms, and all ingredients are available at neighborhood stores. Samples of these delicious foreign recipes below.

MEAT SOUP (Picadillo)

The Philippines
2 lbs. salad oil
3 cloves garlic, minced
4 onions, chopped
1 1/2 lbs. beef ground
2 potatoes, coarsely chopped
4 tomatoes, peeled and cubed
2 quarts water
1 cup stock or 1 cup consommé
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper

Heat the oil in a saucepan. Add the garlic and onions and sauté for 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Add the beef and cook over high heat for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add the tomatoes and potatoes and continue browning for an additional 5 minutes. Add the water, stock, salt and pepper. Reduce heat to medium and cook for 25 minutes. Correct seasoning. Serve hot.

VEAL WITH CASHEW NUT SAUCE (Escalope aux Noix)

Haiti
2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. black pepper
2 cloves garlic, minced
3 lbs. veal, cut into 1-inch cubes
4 lbs. butter, cut into 1-inch cubes
2 cups cashew nuts
1 lb. tomato sauce
1 1/2 cups water
2 onions, chopped
1 tsp. flour
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Mix the salt, pepper, and garlic to a smooth paste. Roll the veal in it. Melt the butter in a casserole or Dutch oven, brown the veal in it. Add the nuts, tomato sauce, water, and onions. Cover and cook over low heat for 1 hour. Mix the flour and Worcestershire sauce together and add to the gravy, stirring constantly. Cook, uncovered, for 30 minutes, or until veal is very tender. Correct seasoning. Serve with boiled rice.

Pineapple Chiffon Pie Gives Delight

The little phrase, "as easy as pie" might well have been coined to describe this Pineapple Chiffon Pie, made with a butter-rich Corn Flakes crust that couldn't be easier to prepare. This cereal crust requires no bakin and is simply made by combining crushed Corn Flakes with butter and sugar, pressing it firmly around sides and bottom of pie pan, and setting it aside to chill. The delicately textured pineapple-chiffon filling is the perfect choice to complement the flavor and crunchiness of the crust.

CRUST

4 cups Corn Flakes
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar

FILLING

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
3-4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup undrained crushed pineapple

Crush Corn Flakes into fine crumbs. Blend butter and sugar; stir in Corn Flakes crumbs, mixing thoroughly. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of 8-inch pie pan. Chill.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks slightly; combine with 1/2 cup sugar, salt, lemon rind, lemon juice and pineapple. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Re-

Tangy Sauce Adds Zip To Beef Tongue

Buying food on a budget is simpler when you select thrifty meats. Fresh beef tongue, a thrifty meat, makes a hearty family main course when served with a piquant onion sauce. Here is the recipe:

BEEF TONGUE WITH SAUCE

1 fresh beef tongue
1 clove garlic, sliced
1 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon thyme
4 whole cloves
10 peppercorns
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup vinegar

SAUCE

3 medium onions, sliced
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups meat stock
1 branch celery, chopped
1/2 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons pickle relish
1 tablespoon vinegar

Wash tongue, place in a pan and cover with cold water; add seasonings. Cover pan, heat to boiling, then lower heat and simmer 50 minutes per pound of meat or until tender. Remove skin, slice and serve with the sauce.

Sauce: Brown onions in butter;

A Baby fresh from the hospital is move from heat. Add softened gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Cool until mixture begins to set. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; beat in remaining sugar. Fold into gelatin mixture. Spread lightly in Corn Flakes crumb crust. Chill. Yields 1 8-inch pie.

Manners Make Friends

Unless every guest has a table to put his plate on the meat served at a buffet supper should be something that need not be cut with a knife. One of the main requirements of a buffet style meal is that it be easy to eat. Guests don't like to appear awkward or risk the possibility of having a plate of food end up in their laps.

The best way to keep bread fresh is to keep it cold - in the freezer or frozen food compartment, blend in flour and brown slightly. Add stock, celery, bay leaf, salt, and pepper. Simmer 1/2 hour or until onions are tender. Remove bay leaf. Slice and cook 10 minutes longer. Mix in relish and vinegar and serve. 6 to 8 servings.

Milton Berle's Trademark Was The Flannel Suit

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Aline Mosby is on vacation. In today's guest column Jack Berle, one of Uncle Milton's many brothers who work for him behind the scenes, recalls some anecdotes about the comic).

By JACK BERLE
Written For The United Press

HOLLYWOOD — UP — The man in the gray flannel suit is nothing new to me. This used to be my brother Milton's trademark when he was touring the vaudeville circuits. I've traveled more than 100,000 miles with him, and we've had every experience from missing train to accidents.

Getting back to the flannel suit. It was Milton's steady dress, along with a soft felt hat turned up at the brim. In 1932, when Milton signed to appear in Earl Carroll's Vanities at the Broadway Theater, Carroll wanted him to wear a tux and Milton refused. Carroll finally told Milton he didn't have to wear special clothes to be funny — and he could get as many laughs in a tux.

I've traveled with my brother on and off since 1922 as have my other brothers and sister. We all took turns working on stage and behind scenes. I remember one day in 1926 I was standing in the wings watching the chorus. My sister, Rosalind, was a member.

A stagehand came along, pointed unknowingly to my sister and said "boy, what a figure. I'd sure like to take her out." Milton turned to him and said "I'll see what I can do, she's my sister." The guy got so embarrassed that we never saw him again during our three-day stay there.

Another time we hit a town that had a shortage of dressing rooms. Milton had to share a room with a brother act. Every time Milton came in to change they'd start fighting with each other. Milton got so upset he began to cry. When the act left the theater they told Milton it was just a gag.

He was so relieved he started to cry again. He's that emotional. I've seen Milton go out of his way to help fellow actors a thousand times. He's gone without sleep to do benefits for worthy organizations more times than I can count.

Air Sampler To Test For Radioactivity

AUSTIN, May 10 — A high volume air sampler installed on the roof of the State Department of Health here will show any increase in radioactive "fallout" resulting from nuclear bomb tests now being conducted in the Pacific.

The air sampler, capable of sampling more than 1500 cubic feet of air every day is designed to trap air-borne radioactive particles on a thin pink filter pad. When read daily, increase in radioactivity occurring on any given day is apparent.

The instrument was installed two weeks ago as part of a sprawling effort to coast network of 39 monitoring stations. It was provided by the U. S. Public Health Service and the Atomic Energy Commission to get quick, first hand records of radioactive fallout reaching the United States from the Eniwetok Proving Grounds where test firings began last Friday.

"Fallout" is the term applied to particles of matter atomized and made radioactive by exploding super weapons and drawn into the atmosphere by updrafts. The particles eventually settle back to earth as "fallout."

The distance they travel, wafted by air currents at tremendous heights, is one of the questions the detection network is expected to answer.

State Health Commissioner Henry A. Hollis said first readings from the 24-hour operation were made April 18, well in advance of the actual beginning dates of the nuclear weapons tests.

State Health Department radiation engineers in charge of the air sampler say radioactive particles are constantly present in the atmosphere in small but measurable quantities, coming chiefly from materials contained in soils blown from other areas. The filter readings obtained prior to the Pacific tests helped establish existing levels of natural radiation.

Readings taken to date have shown variations in normal background radiation up to five times greater than minimum values. These values are all within safe ranges, engineers report.

A second network comprised of first order weather bureaus throughout the country will furnish more leisurely studies of fallout. Sheets of film will be exposed to the atmosphere at each weather bureau for 24 hours. When samples are reduced to ashes at a central laboratory, minute amounts of radioactivity can be measured.

Weather stations in Dallas and Corpus Christi are cooperating in the latter network. The two networks will complement each other, sponsors of the operation said.

Student Is Third In Reading

WHEELER — (Special) — Sharon Green, Junior student at Wheeler High School, placed third in the State Poetry Reading Contest of the 'B' Conference of the State Interscholastic League Meet held in Austin Friday.

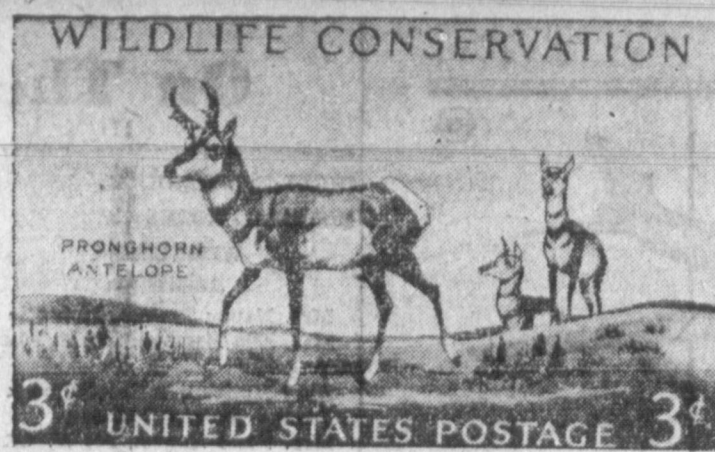

"Silence," by Edgar Lee Masters, was read by Sharon as her selection and "The Fisher's Boy," by Henry David Thoreau, was given to her for the extemporaneous reading selection at the state meet.

In order to be eligible for the state contest, Sharon had placed first in the District Contest held in Wheeler, April 13, and then took ves-top honors in the Regional Contest held in Lubbock, April 20. There were seven Regional Contest winners who participated in the State Event.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roe H. Green of Wheeler, is serving as president of the Student Council, she has been active in all sports and extra-curricular activities, and was voted 'best all-round' girl in Wheeler High for the current year, as well as 'most beautiful.' She was named Basketball Queen and she is a member of the Corral Staff.

PRONGHORN ANTELOPE
3 UNITED STATES POSTAGE 3
WHERE THE ANTELOPE PLAY—A stamp emphasizing the importance of wildlife conservation will be released at Gunnison, Colo., in late June. The pronghorn antelope, subject of the issue, has been protected, studied and transplanted under scientific guidance so that its numbers have increased from a low of 17,000 to herds large enough to allow hunting in five western states. The occasion of the stamp sale will be the annual convention of Colorado's Isaac Walton League.

Gets Free Trip
ABILENE, Tex. — UP — Abilene Christian College President Don H. Morris and his wife will leave late in June on an expense paid, two-month trip to Europe and the Far East. The expenses are being paid by individual members of the college's board of trustees. Board member J. C. Rigney of Lubbock said members felt Morris, who has been ACC president since 1940, deserved "a complete and well-earned vacation."

SWOOSH! THERE GOES TRANSPORTATION—Jet travel makes another move into the commercial field, as Convair announces the new "Skylark 600." The 80-passenger all-jet plane is expected to be the world's fastest commercial transport. The chart, above, shows the representative trip from take-off to touchdown between major cities. Both trip times and cruise speed, 609 miles per hour for the Skylark, are expected to set records for commercial airliners. The $3,300,000 plane has an 118-foot-long fuselage with sharply swept-back wings. But don't rush—it won't be available until 1960.

Senator George Will Not Run Again

By WARREN DUFFEE
WASHINGTON, May 9 —UP—Sen. Walter F. George, 78-year-old Democratic dean of the Senate, withdrew his bid for re-election Wednesday. President Eisenhower promptly invited him to join the Republican administration in a top foreign policy role. George, who faced strong opposition in this year's Georgia Senate race, made his surprise withdrawal announcement in a terse one-sentence statement which he read to newsmen in his Capitol office.

Even as he was speaking, Mr. Eisenhower told a White House news conference he wanted George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, to accept some government post where his knowledge of world affairs could be used.

The President also sent the senator a "Dear Walter" letter in which he explained what the post would be — "to act as my personal representative and special ambassador" in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Indicates Acceptance
George, who read the letter to reporters, indicated he would take the job but did not commit himself specifically. He said he had told Mr. Eisenhower he "would not shirk my duty... or any responsibility that might be requested of me." George told the United Press later he will inform Mr. Eisenhower personally of his decision with a call to the White House, probably some time next week.

The senator said he would decide later whether to complete his term or resign after Congress adjourns. This would give his successor a seniority break over other new senators who will not take their seats until January.

The announcement that he had decided not to seek re-election stunned his colleagues and his office as they assembled in the crowded room to hear his political "swan song."

Despite his age and the fact that he was expected to meet stiff competition from former Georgia Gov. Herman Talmadge, George had indicated a determination to go through with his campaign for an unprecedented seventh term.

Health May Be Factor
Although he still is vigorous, his health may have had a bearing on his decision, George's physician, Dr. Worth B. Daniels, said the senator has had a "mild difficulty with his heart and mild diabetes." He said George was "wise" in not engaging in another strenuous election contest.

"George, who is serving his 34th consecutive year in the Senate, bowed out of political life with this statement:

"For good and sufficient reasons on which I will not elaborate at this time, I will decline to offer again for the Senate after the present term."

Administration officials and senators of both parties deplored his announcement and praised his long and distinguished service. As president pro tempore of the Senate, he is the chamber's presiding officer in the absence of the vice president and third in the line of presidential succession.

Truman Glad Shivers Got Booted Out

NEW YORK —UP— Former President Truman said Wednesday he was glad Gov. Allan Shivers "got a kicking around" from Sen. Lyndon Johnson in the battle for control of the Texas Democratic convention delegation.

"I think Johnson's victory is a great thing," Mr. Truman said. "I am very happy to see Mr. Shivers get a kicking around, and that's what he needs. He is of no help to the (Democratic) party."

Mr. Truman, accompanied by Mrs. Truman, arrived here Wednesday en route to England where he will receive a doctor of laws degree from Oxford University.

The former President was met at Pennsylvania station by his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Truman Daniel, and two members of the board of directors of the Four Freedoms Foundation, Inc.

More than 1,000 persons will attend a dinner Wednesday night at the Waldorf Astoria hotel where Mr. Truman will present the 1955 Four Freedoms Award to Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Mr. Truman called the Shivers supporters in Texas "Shiverscrats" and said the Texas governor was "shivering all the time."

Mrs. Clark Gets Keys To Mansion

FORT WORTH —UP— Mrs. Mary Clark Wednesday got the keys to the 23-room Fort Worth mansion in which her millionaire husband was slain and, with them, a $125-a-month tax bill.

District Judge Bob Young approved a settlement which allows Mrs. Clark to use the big Gothic style structure the rest of her life. Judge Young said she could live in the mansion or rent it.

But Elvin Tackett, one of her attorneys, indicated the blonde widow would do neither. Tackett said she would try to work out an agreement which would put the big house up for sale.

"Mrs. Clark would like to live in the house," Tackett said. "She would have no qualms or misgivings. But the overhead would be prohibitive since taxes alone total $125 a month."

Mrs. Clark, who was found innocent of plotting her husband's murder, cannot sell the home. Her husband, oilman W. P. Clark, cut her off with only $10 in a will leaving the mansion to Boys Ranch near Amarillo and the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

Group Favors Small Dams

LUFKIN, Tex.—UP—The Texas Forestry Association went on record Wednesday as favoring small dams and opposing larger ones as wasteful.

The executive committee of the association adopted a resolution at a Lufkin meeting Tuesday calling such dams as the proposed McGee Bend dam on the Angelina River north of Jasper as "wasteful projects."

Action of the committee was in line with other groups which have urged further study of the McGee Bend dam project before final congressional action is taken on a $4 million appropriation for construction.

Greeks Storm U. S. Embassy In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (UP)—Thousands of rioting Greeks stormed a U. S. embassy building here Wednesday and burned the British flag in furious street demonstrations protesting British plans to hang two extremists in Cyprus. At least two persons were known dead and almost 200 injured. One unconfirmed report said as many as seven demonstrators died in the disorders. The known injured included 130 rioters and 59 police. Police resorted to gunfire when an anti-British protest meeting roared out of control and mobs raged through the city to attack U. S. and British embassy buildings. The demonstrators surged against the U. S. information agency headquarters in wave after wave, smashing its windows with rocks and sticks. But they were repulsed in two hours of pitched battle with police, mobilized in the greatest force seen here since the Greek civil war. Police clubs failed to halt the crowd trying to smash into the information agency building, and police opened fire to break the back of the assault. They aimed over the heads of the crowd, but some of the bullets were reported to have struck rioters. The demonstrators, who earlier had burned the British Union Jack in a public square, then tried to attack the British embassy. But there, too, they were hurled back by police re-inforcements. It was the second time in recent months that Greek anger over British policy in Cyprus has boiled over into riots that spread to include attacks on U. S. installations. Last December, Greek mobs tried to storm the American embassy in disorders that injured scores of persons. This time, the Greeks were engaged by a British refusal of clemency for two 22-year-old Greek Cypriot youths, condemned to death for the murder of a policeman and a British civilian in Cyprus. British Gov. Gen. Sir John Harding rejected the appeals of Michael Karaolis and Andreas Dimitrios Tuesday.

Students Take Austin Trip

PERRYTON (Special)—Perryton High School was represented at the state meet last week end by five students, four of whom were entered in debate and one who was entered in the broad jump contest.
The group arrived at Austin Wednesday, May 2. They toured the Capitol, blind school, and mental hospital before the contest, held Friday.
There were seven debate teams entered in Conference A boys and girls division. The boys team, Ray Castle and Larry Watson, placed third. They won their first debate over Raymondsville which qualified them for semi-finals. They lost in the semi-finals by a split decision to San Marcos.
The girls team, Jo Morris and Barbara Powell, placed second. They won the first two debates with Quannah and Pittsburg, which qualified them for the finals. In the finals, held Saturday morning, the girls lost to Cypress by a 3-2 decision.
Dempsy Gyger represented Perryton in the broad jump.
Sponsors for the trip were Mrs. Powell, Coach Joe Ogden, Mr. Mize and Mrs. Virgil Castel.

Shedding Conifer — Every autumn, it sheds its brown or yellow leaves and immature twigs. Nickname of the scarlet tanager is "robin with a sore throat" because of its hoarse-cawing.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

EVERY WEEK, IT SEEMS, is some special kind of week. That sounds rather silly, but I mean it's either Baby Week, Health Week, Music Week or something like that. In addition to being National Music Week, this is also Nutrition Week, with a slogan "Meal Time is Family Time." It is dedicated to emphasizing food as it relates to health and to encourage homemakers to follow good nutrition practices every week of the year.

NUTRITION Week's accent on better health through good nutrition reminds us that meals are a family affair, to be enjoyed by every one. They are more satisfying and much more fun when the whole family shares in the plans for them. As a guide in planning balanced meals, it helps to know about recent findings in nutrition research.

Research, supported in part by the Nutrition Foundation, continues to spotlight proteins... needed to form new cells and rebuild body tissues. Recent findings are helping us to understand more clearly how proteins act as regulators in maintaining body tissues in the best state of health.

For example, University of Wisconsin scientists found good quality protein, rather than mere quantity, to be a decisive factor in maintaining the liver in a healthy state. Amino acids, the units that link together to form proteins and are set free again when foods are digested, were studied in detail. When amino acids were not balanced as they occur in the good quality proteins of milk and milk products, meats, fish, and eggs, the amount of fat deposited in the liver increased considerably, endangering health. It was discovered, too, that proper balance of amino acids was needed for the normal development and activity of enzymes that act as regulators in all parts of the body. And that balancing amino acids improves the way our body makes use of all food eaten.

As a practical way of supplying an efficient, healthful balance of amino acids, nutritionists recommend that some animal protein be included in each meal. This can be done by serving cereals with milk, for example, or a sandwich made of whole grain or enriched bread with a meat or cheese filling. Besides good proteins and cereal foods at each meal, include generous servings of fruits and vegetables together with spreads and desserts to supply additional energy, minerals, and vitamins. In this way wise homemakers assure their families of well balanced meals that provide enjoyment and help to keep a sense of humor.

A SHINING SILVER pitcher on the sideboard won't make it any easier for Mother to cram Junior's feet into his overshoes, nor will a new necklace turn her last year's dress into a 1938 Paris creation.

The Jewelry Industry Council reports, however, that there is a new philosophy asserting itself on the subject of Mother's Day gift-giving — one that acknowledges greater everyday importance of such things as fine silver and jewelry.

This new way of thinking recognizes the fact that mothers everywhere love a real taste of beauty on their special day, one that can keep on contributing to year-round happiness. That's why the choice of gifts ought to be one that does not stint on the loveliness you know Mother will appreciate, for it can put a gilt edge on her busy world of practicalities.

The Council does not intend to shun practicality. Their suggestions, in fact, prove that beauty and usefulness are full-fledged partners in most of the gift ideas you'll find at your jeweler's. A silver bowl, for instance, handsomely decorative in itself, has a list of multiple uses limited only by its proud owner's ingenuity. So do most other pieces of silver hollowware — trays, vegetable dishes, pitchers and platters, to name a few. A gift of silver flatware, perhaps some additions to Mother's pattern, is another suggestion which combines utility with a form of beauty she has long cherished.

In the same way, a piece of fine jewelry does more than cater to a lady's appreciation of gems and precious metals. It brightens her whole appearance with well defined elegance. Rings, brooches, earrings, necklaces and bracelets, featuring diamonds or colored stones and designed with a fashion correctness which transcends the calendar, are to be had in generous-price ranges, as are wrist watches and gold or gold filled watch bracelets. Gold filled jewelry, as well, is available in more variety than ever before, some of it set with cultured pearls and all of it kind to your budget. And jewelry, like silver, has the all-important appeal of sentiment, tripling its significance for the lucky mother who receives it.

The way you look on a rainy day is just as important as the way you look any other day. Don't go about looking as if you'd assembled raincoat and accessories in your supermarket. On a day that's sunny, when you've time, pick out rainboots, umbrella and raincoat that harmonize.

Sorosio Club Holds Installation Service

Officers were installed during the meeting of the Perryton Sorosio Club in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, Perryton.

Installed were: Mrs. Clifford Beck, president; Mrs. A. P. Spicer, first vice-president; Mrs. T. R. Shirley, second vice-president; Mrs. Goltz L. Tandy, third vice-president; Mrs. C. W. Foot, recording secretary; Mrs. E. W. Hearn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joe Erickson, treasurer; Mrs. Carl Blackmore, auditor; and Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, parliamentarian.

The musical program was under the direction of Mrs. Bob Urban, who played Chopin's "Nocturne in C Minor," Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor," "Perfection on the Water" and "Gardens in the Rain," both by Debussy. Others taking part, and their selections, were Miss Sara Mize, "Sonata in G" Mozart and "Little Nigger" by Debussy; and Miss Lunette Castle, who played "To Spring" by Grieg. Mrs. T. R. Shirley was program chairman.

During the business session, led by Mrs. Oulan Bell, Mrs. Horace Glasgow was appointed project chairman, and Mrs. R. T. Correll was named delegate to the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Dallas. Chosen delegate to the General Federation of Women's Clubs meeting in Kansas City, Mo., to begin Monday, was Mrs. Goltz L. Tandy.

Merten Club Told Of Correct Ways To Freeze Foods

Mrs. Jack Prather was hostess to the Merten Home Demonstration Club, with Mrs. V. Smith in charge of the business meeting.

Miss Helen Dunlap gave the program on freezing of foods. She stated freezing is the most popular way of preparing foods and it saves more Vitamin C than any other method.

Start with good quality foods and use the types that freeze best, she advised the women, cautioning them to prepare the foods carefully for freezing, handling them as little as possible.

Miss Dunlap pointed out that it is vital to use the proper packages, explaining that old milk or cottage cheese containers should never be used. She stated it is all right to use empty tin cans. There are plastic lids to fit these, she explained, but since they are not yet on the market, they must be ordered directly from the company.

Cakes may be frozen unbaked, in the pans in which they are to be cooked, she stated. However, the cakes keep longer if they are first baked. She said that angel food cake keeps about six months, plain cake about four months and sponge cake only two weeks.

Following her talk, Miss Dunlap showed the women how to freeze spinach and strawberries.

Attending were: Mmes. Jack Howard, L. F. Watt, V. Smith, Jack Prather, and Miss Helen Dunlap.

Pleasant smells will often soothe a restless, nervous child who's getting over an illness. A spray of pine, fragrant flowers, a geranium leaf or a stick of cologne may be used.

Luncheon Is Held By Church Women

The May Fellowship luncheon of the Pampa Council of United Church Women was held in the Church of the Brethren, with Mrs. George Hancock in charge of the program.

A skit, "They Say," was presented by nine ladies from the various member churches. Taking part were Mmes. Charles Beard, R. I. Davis, B. R. Gray, W. E. West, A. W. Skewes, Prian T. Smith, J. B. McCreery, Alvis V. Smith and H. B. Ormsion.

The devotional was presented by Mrs. Joe Shelton and Mrs. George Hancock. Mrs. H. J. Pickett led the business session, during which plans were made for a Primrose Party, to be held in June.

Shower Presented For Betty Norman

Miss Betty Norman, bride-elect of Dick Walker of Luling, was complimented with a shower in the parlor of the First Baptist Church. Hostesses were Mmes. B. E. McBrayer, W. C. Wilson, Lee Garrison, G. L. Wilson, R. W. Rial, G. E. Groninger, R. E. Stepien, Jarvis Johnson, Dewey Johnson, Parker Mangham, C. E. McKinn, A. L. Primm, E. C. Burba, G. L. Wilson, Foy Satterfield, and Miss Ruth Ramsey.

Mrs. Jarvis Johnson and Mrs. B. E. McBrayer presided at the guest register. Decorations followed the bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white and crystal appointments were used on the serving table. Miss Fae Marie Beck and Miss Ruth Ramsey assisted with the serving.

Out-of-town guests include Mrs. Byron Walker of Luling, mother of the prospective bridegroom; and Mrs. Pat Thompson, Mrs. Clessie Dunn and Miss Fae Marie Beck, all of Borger. Approximately 50 others attended or sent gifts.

Going-Away Party Honors Mrs. Day

Mrs. V. S. Day was honored with a going-away party recently in the home of Mrs. V. Smith, with Mmes. L. E. Watt, T. G. Groves and Archie Maness as co-hostesses.

Gifts were presented to the honoree, and moving pictures were taken during the party.

The serving table was covered with a white cutwork cloth, centered with an arrangement of pastel spring flowers. Mrs. L. F. Watt served the cake which was decorated with the message "Good Luck, Marie." Mrs. Archie Maness presided at the punch bowl.

Attending, other than the honoree and hostesses, were Mmes. Worth Nelson, M. T. Buck, Clifford Taylor, Jack Howard, Jack Prather, R. V. Lewis, Clyde Edmondson, Douglas Flynn, and Miss Helen Dunlap.

Sunshine HD Club Has Business Meet

The Sunshine Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. John Mobley, 2314 Alcock, who also led the business session. Members answered roll call with their favorite party ideas.

Mrs. Ray Frazier gave a demonstration on the use of a new-type plastic bag and on the making of aluminum trays.

Refreshments of homemade ice cream and cake were served.

Hobbs Blasts Oilers 22-7 For Worst Loss

HOBBES, N.M., —UP— The Hobbs Oilers unleashed a blistering 27-attack Wednesday night to rout the Pampa Oilers by a 22-7 score in a game played at Pampa.

One of the highlights of the game was four double plays by the visiting Oilers, including two unassisted by Fortin to end rallies by the host Oilers.

The brawl occurred when Pampa's third baseman, Cross, and Hobbs' Carlos "Patato" Pasqual exchanged words when a squeeze play attempt failed with Pasqual on third. The two men tangled. Players roared out of the dugouts and after a few punches were exchanged order was restored by the police and the game continued without the services of either Pasqual or Cross.

Little, Pony Leaguers To Get Uniforms This Week

An estimated 450 boys will be getting their uniforms this week in preparation for the regular season of the Pampa Little and Pony League play.

Only an estimated 200 will get the full dress uniform but the remainder will be getting caps and tee shirts and will be assigned to the farm system.

Boys and men have been working hard during the past week in preparation for the "cutting" which takes place throughout the city today.

All boys, who make the major league teams, will be notified and managers for the farm teams will take over the remainder of the boys.

Any boy who has not actively participated in the workouts may now register with any coach and be included as part of the farm system with a chance to work up to the major leagues.

Many of the boys who get uniforms at the beginning of the season will, for some reason or another, be unable to complete the season. Boys will then be brought up from the farm system to take his place.

League play will begin Tuesday in each of the major leagues.

Opening day ceremonies are scheduled for the Pony League park at 5 p.m.

All boys will be introduced along with their coaches and the officers of the respective leagues.

This will begin the third season of the "Kid Baseball" program sponsored by the Pampa Optimists.

A regular schedule is to be drawn up for both the major and minor leagues and boys who don't make the major league teams are asked not to become disinterested as lots of baseball is in store for them during the coming summer.

Baseballers Meet Memphis In Twin Bill

The Pampa Harvester seniors will contest the Memphis baseballers in a twin bill Saturday. The game is set to get underway at 1 p.m. in Memphis.

Only the Pampa seniors are going to make the trip as they are playing their last game of their high school career.

The seniors on the Harvester squad include Co-Capt. James Evans and Jim Parrish. Others are Cecil Reynolds, Buddy Sharp, Jerold Clark, Gary Herr, O's White, Bill Hogan, Tommy Richardson, and manager Earl Evans. Don Babcock has been invited to fill out the 10-man squad in case someone has to leave the ball game.

Coach Dick Woldt, who has produced the best squad of baseballers in Pampa history, will be starting pitchers Cecil Reynolds and Otis White in the doubleheader.

Reynolds and Richardson are expected to handle the catching duties.

Gary Herr will play second, Buddy Sharp will fill the shortstop post and Clark will be at first. Don Babcock will probably play third base.

This will be the last game of the season for the Pampa high school baseballers.

Cherokee Leading Indians On Warpath To First Place

The man with the Cherokee blood running through his veins is six-foot-three, 225-pound Hershel Freeman and it was his brilliant relief pitching that earned him his third victory Wednesday night, a 6-5 triumph over the Giants which moved Cincinnati into a virtual tie for the league lead.

Freeman, claimed on waivers from the Red Sox last season, told Manager Birdie Tebbetts immediately that what he needed most was work.

"Brother," Tebbetts replied, "you came to the right place."

Redlegs Lose 11 of 13
 Coming to Paul LaPalme's relief Wednesday night, the 27-year-old right-hander limited the Giants to one hit over the last three innings to nail down the Redlegs' 11th victory in their last 13 games.

The Cardinals, also in a virtual first-place tie with Cincinnati and Milwaukee, handed the Phillies their seventh straight loss 3-0.

Tom Poholsky pitched a four-hitter for his third victory, getting all the margin he needed when rookie catcher Hal Smith homered off Herm Wehmier in the fifth.

Rain washed out the games between Pittsburgh and Milwaukee and Brooklyn and Chicago.

In the American League, the Red Sox rallied for three runs in the sixth inning to hand the White Sox their fifth straight setback 7-5.

Five consecutive hits off loser Mike Fornieles and Joe Dahlke did the damage. Billy Goodman led Boston's 13-hit attack with three doubles and a single while Sherm Lollar connected for four hits, including a homer, for Chicago.

Errors Lose Game
 Ninth inning errors by Mickey Mantle and Tom Morgan enabled the Indians to beat the Yankees 6-5. Fireballer Herb Score was credited with the victory. Al Rosen and Yogi Berra each homered in a game which saw the Yankees blow a four-run lead.

Paul Foytack of the Tigers recorded his first major league victory by beating the Senators 7-3. Each team collected only five hits but three of Detroit's hits were a bases-loaded triple by Frank House and homers by Charlie Maxwell and Al Kaline. Roy Sievers homered for the Senators, who suffered their fourth licking in a row.

Kansas City snapped Baltimore's four-game winning streak 4-0 pitching Art Dimar's seven hit pitching. Jim Wilson, who had won three games previously, yielded 10 hits in suffering his first defeat.

Wednesday's Star
 Hershel Freeman, whose fine relief pitching helped the Redlegs to a 6-5 triumph over the Giants.

Patterson Ready To Take On Anyone

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK.—UP— Floyd Patterson, who will could be the next heavyweight champion of the world, admitted Thursday in the wake of Rocky Marciano's retirement that "I'm ready for the guys who are left."

Patterson, the 21-year-old former Olympic middleweight champion, took his first major stride toward the title when he signed to meet Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson. They'll go at it in Madison Square Garden on June 5 with the winner probably meeting Archie Moore in September for the crown.

"Which shows you how lucky I am," Patterson says slyly.

Actually the wide shouldered, lean-lipped boxer with the kayo punch is a lucky man. Else long ago he might have been claimed by Brooklyn's concrete jungle.

A devotee of "pork chops and yams," which is the only hoodoo from his infancy in Waco, N. C., Floyd and his 10 brothers and sisters were raised in a poverty-stricken section of Brooklyn. Floyd didn't like school and, breaking into stores and playing around other people's automobiles, he was in danger of going the wrong way.

His mother took the young bull by the horns.

She had him committed to a rural school for problem children and, after two years there, it was a new Floyd who returned home. He embraced Catholicism and "stayed off the streets by staying home."

Two of his brothers had been boxers and young Floyd began carrying his gear to the gym for them. Soon he was in training, too, and capped an amateur career of distinction by winning the middleweight title at the Olympic games in Helsinki in 1932.

Almost immediately he turned professional.

"It seems like a long time ago," Floyd reminisces. "Sometimes it seemed, too, like I'd just never got a chance at the big boys. But I knew I had an awful lot to learn."

There, too, Floyd was lucky.

He had a manager named Gus D'Amato and white-haired Gus knew, after years of working with ordinary pug, that here at last he had hit the jackpot. So he brought Patterson along with personal care, selecting opponents to suit his fighter and not the public.

Only once did he err, and that was in putting Patterson in against wily Joey Maxim for the light heavyweight title. Even so, it was close.

But that loss is the only blot on Patterson's record, one which shows 26 wins in 30 starts, 21 by

Youngster In Limelight Of Boxing World

TODAY'S SPORT TRAIT

By MICHAEL POSNER

BOETON—UP— Young Larry Boardman, conqueror of two world champions in two months, is a new, surprise candidate to succeed retired Rocky Marciano as the boxing idol of New England.

Boardman, only 20 and just a lightweight, delighted local and television fans with his crowding, non-stop style as he walloped out non-title decisions over both light-weight king Wallace (Bud) Smith and featherweight ruler Sandy Saddler.

They went to see more of the young socker and Boston promoter Sam Silverman, who calls Boardman "the nearest thing to Dempsey's style in years," will be delighted to oblige.

Larry's father, Sam, who doubles as manager-trainer, said, "The kid is really good with either hand. He lives clean and he gives the fans a good show."

Larry's three-and-a-half year record is 30 victories, 18 by knockout, and two losses. He has been fighting out of Marlboro, Conn., but in September his family is moving to Boston.

Big-looking for a lightweight, the blond-haired, flat-nosed youngster said, "I was always scrapping in school and I loved it. I told dad I wanted to be a fighter and asked him to train me."

Larry quit high school in his junior year. Then the elder Boardman himself a pretty fair fighter in the 1920s, began schooling Larry on training methods he picked up in the ring and "tricks I knew from hanging around gyms since I was a kid."

Six weeks before a fight, Larry starts trimming from 160 to his best weight of 135 pounds with four miles of roadwork every dawn and plenty of wood-chopping.

"I keep fighting regularly so I don't really need too much work to keep in shape," Larry said.

Larry's ambition: To win the lightweight title, build a bank account and buy his mother a nice home.

Boardman's paydays have been lean. In Boston he made $2,200 on the Saddler fight but lost $400 on the Smith encounter, when he substituted for the ailing Tony DeMarco last February, also in Boston.

But it's New York and Madison Square Garden next for Boardman. He meets Frankie Kytt June 5 in a nationally televised bout, the first in his short but successful career.

Needles Rounds Pimlico Track For Practice

BALTIMORE—UP— Needles, winner of the Kentucky Derby last Saturday, and Fabius, who finished only three-quarters of a length farther back, will be out for a familiarization romp over the Pimlico oval Thursday.

Both colts arrived here Wednesday to begin training for the $100,000 added Preakness Stakes, the second jewel in the triple crown classic, on May 19. Also arriving on the scene were a pair of California colts—Count Ch'c and No Regrets, which finished fourth and seventh, respectively, in the mile and one-quarter Derby.

A field of about 12 is anticipated for the Preakness, which would boost the gross purse to $125,000.

Nieman Hurts Hip

NEW YORK—UP— Chicago White Sox outfielder Bob Nieman injured his right hip attempting to catch a home run by Yogi Berra in the opening game of Sunday's doubleheader at Yankee Stadium. One stitch was taken by Yankee physician Dr. Sidney Gaynor said the injury was not serious.

Bob Baker Wants Shot At Jackson-Patterson Winner

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—UP— Beefy Bob Baker claimed Thursday his unanimous-but-dull victory over Johnny Holman has earned him the right to meet the Hurricane Jackson-Floyd Patterson winner in the next step towards the heavyweight championship.

But indications were strong that Wednesday night's nationally televised Baker-Holman fight here was so lackluster that it eliminated both men from title contention.

Baker, scaling 211 pounds to Holman's 208, did the most damage in the 12-round bout, especially with a sixth-round blow that opened a big gash over Holman's left eye. But there was not the slightest hint of a knockdown in the bout opening the "tournament" to find a new heavyweight king.

Dusty Beltore, manager of Baker, asserted after the bout that he has a "verbal agreement" with President James D. Norris of the International Boxing Club that Baker would be rewarded for this victory with a shot at the winner of the June 8 meeting between Jackson, the No. 2 heavyweight contender, and Patterson, ranked No. 5.

But in New York, an IBC official hinted that the promise to Baker's manager hinged not merely on his beating Holman but also doing it in "very impressive" manner. The official thought big

Home Run Power Paying For Fort Worth League Leaders

By UNITED PRESS
Home run power continues to pay big dividends for the Fort Worth Cats as they ride a two-game cushion atop the Texas League standings.

The front-running Brooklyn Dodger farm club got only one four-base blow Wednesday night, but that one—by Dick Gray—found the bases choked and was all the Cats needed to beat Houston 4-3.

Tulsa defeated San Antonio 4-2 to drop the Missions two full games back of Fort Worth. Austin shunted Oklahoma City deeper into the league cellar with a 3-1 victory and Shreveport turned in its second straight 7-6 triumph over Dallas in other games.

The teams wind up the current series Thursday night with Fort Worth at Houston, Dallas at Shreveport, Oklahoma City at Austin and Tulsa at San Antonio. Houston was coasting long behind the two-hit pitching of Tom Hughes until the Cats woke up to fill the bases in the eighth and bring in reliever Billy Joe Bowman. Gray promptly greeted him with the grand slam homer and

Lincoln Lashes Gold Sox, 18-0

By UNITED PRESS
Bats were all but worn out Wednesday night in the Western League and the net result was a resounding of the second division with Topeka bounding out of the cellar into fifth place.

Topeka, idled by rain for two nights, got the kinks out by whipping Albuquerque 5-0 and 5-3 with strong pitching.

Lincoln also got strong pitching—a one-hitter from Ben Daniels—as it hammered the sound-asleep league leader, Amarillo 18-0. Ten of those runs came in the sixth inning.

Colorado Springs, with Richie Di Tusa hitting two homers for four RBIs, handed Sioux City its sixth straight defeat 6-1 and chased the Soos into last place in the standings.

Pueblo, saving ground in the first division, drubbed Des Moines 13-2, with a steady attack on three Bruin hurlers.

Cards In Race As They Hit Left Handers

ST. LOUIS—UP— The St. Louis Cardinals did not get left at the post this year mainly because they are no longer Patsies for left-handed pitchers.

This news is a bit slow to get around and the opposing managers to date still think southpaw thoughts when the Redbirds are on the agenda.

In their first 18 games, the Cards faced 10 lefties to eight right-handers—a heavy percentage when the ratio on league slabs is weighed about 70 to 30 per cent in favor of the right-handers.

Of the starting port-siders, only one, Joe Nuxhall of the Cincinnati Redlegs, stayed all the way. And they beat him.

The St. Louis club, fortified by big bats on the right side in the hands of Ken Boyer, Bill Sarni and more recently, Rip Repulski, has demote some of its old pugaboons in climbing to the top of the standings.

Blue Sox Lead Big Stalers Via Eight-Game Win Streak

By UNITED PRESS
The Abilene Blue Sox have ridden an eight-game winning streak straight into first place in the Big State League baseball race.

The Sox had to muster a three-run burst in the 10th inning Wednesday night to turn back Victoria 9-8 to climax the drive from the second division. Meanwhile, Waco knocked Corpus Christi out of the top perch with a 17-4 verdict. Port Arthur beat Lubbock 4-1 and Beaumont edged Wichita Falls 5-4.

The same teams will be paired again Thursday night with Abilene at Victoria, Waco at Corpus Christi, Wichita Falls at Beaumont and Lubbock at Port Arthur.

Trailing 6-2, Victoria drove Abilene starter Chuck Kowalski to the showers in the seventh, but reliever George Brunet smuffed out the Victoria threat after only one run only to have help from Al Chester in the following inning. The Eagles got to Chester for a run in the eighth and tied the game off him in the ninth, but Abilene came back to batter Ed Sassone, third Victoria pitcher, for the winning runs in the first extra inning.

Outfielder Buddy Wize paced an 18-hit Waco attack with a grand slam homer in the third and another with a mate aboard in the next inning, then Jim Harrison came in with a brilliant one hit relief stint to keep Corpus Christi at bay.

Beaumont outbit Wichita Falls 14 to 8 but had to come back for single runs in the sixth, seventh, and ninth to eke out the one-run victory for Bill Getz, who went

Landy Arrives On West Coast For Relays

FRESNO, Calif.—UP— Modest John Landy, the Australian who cracks the ana-impossible four-minute barrier nearly every time he runs the mile, landed here Thursday to compete in the West Coast Relays Saturday.

Landy will get in his first workout on the track at the Ralcliffe Stadium Thursday afternoon.

"I feel in excellent condition," said the Australian who ran a 3:58.7 mile at Los Angeles last Saturday, only to lose to Oregon's Jim Bailey, who was timed in 3:55.5.

"Now if the weather stays good and the track is as fast as they say it is, there is a possibility I did could do even better than I did at Los Angeles—even break my own world record (3:58)."

So far, meet Director Flint Hunter is content to let the mile event start with only four men as opposition. These are Ron DeLaney of Villanova; Jerome Walters of Los Angeles; Dan Schweisart, former Occidental star of Los Angeles; Dan Schweisart, former Occidental star of Los Angeles; and Mike Stanley, ex-Yale ace now in the Armed Forces.

However, no matter how many men Landy plans to run against him—with the avowed intention of running as fast as he can for each quarter.

While the Landy mile is the major item on the agenda, the 30th annual Relays, oldest in the West, will attract more than 1,400 other top-notch athletes.

Alliance In Congress

Leaders of a new North-South coalition are mustering forces for their first test of strength in Congress. Clarence E. Manion, co-chairman of For America, which represents the northern part in the new alliance, indicates the importance of the issue. "Any Congressman or Senator who does not go all out for the speedy passage of this bill is either dumb or the constitutional wickedness of judicial legislation or in league with those who are determined to destroy states rights. In either case such Congressman or Senator is disqualified for service in this emergency and should be retired by the voters."

The bill is a little-noted states rights measure pending before the Judiciary Committees of the House and Senate. Hearings have been held on the House bill, sponsored by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D Va.), and are promised for the companion Senate measure introduced by Sens. William E. Jenner (R Ind.), John L. McClellan (D Ark.) and 11 other southerners. Manion's sentiments are fully shared by members of the Federation for Constitutional Government, the coordinating agency for white citizens councils in 11 southern states. The southern federation and For America have come together on both political principles and a strategy for 1956, aimed at throwing the Presidential election into the House of Representatives.

The southern federation was born to fight the Supreme Court's segregation decision. Smith says his bill "has nothing to do with segregation." Nevertheless, it is the focus of the new coalition's first legislative effort. Smith's bill was prompted by a 1954 Pennsylvania supreme court decision invalidating that state's anti-subversive law. The decision, involving a Communist leader named Steve Nelson, was affirmed April 2 by a 6-3 majority of the United States Supreme Court.

The majority opinion held that the anti-Communist laws passed by Congress in recent years imply "the inescapable conclusion" that "Congress has intended to occupy the field of sedition" legislation and leave "no room . . . for the states to supplement it." The court's minority said it "should not void state legislation without a clear mandate from Congress." Since the early 1800's the Supreme Court has assumed the power to decide in cases like Nelson's whether Congress does or does not intend to exclude parallel state legislation. Critics of this practice call it "preemption by implication" and "judicial legislation."

Smith intends to stop this. He was the author of the 1940 Smith Act, one of the bills cited by the Supreme Court as indicating an intention by Congress to occupy the entire field of anti-sedition legislation. But Smith says, "I never dreamed . . . the states (would be) precluded from enacting a law to protect themselves." The Nelson case, he says, "is merely a symptom of the dangerous disease that threatens to destroy completely the sovereignty of the states." His remedy therefore, is stated in general terms. It says: Courts shall not assume that an act of Congress is intended to bar state legislation on the subject "unless such act contains an express provision to that effect" or there is a "direct and positive conflict" between the federal and state law "so that the cannot be reconciled or consistently stand together." Smith's bill would protect states rights not only in the field of anti-sedition laws but also in the broad areas of public welfare, commerce, public power and natural gas, aviation and labor legislation. Support has come for the bill from many persons and groups who do not share the specific political goals of For America or the Federation for Constitutional Government. Lined up in favor of it are the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce and committees of the American Bar Association and the National Association of Attorneys General. The only opponents on the record are the Justice Department, the AFL-CIO and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The new-found allies of the southern segregationist and northern nationalist movements welcome outside support for the measure. But they have their own reasons for backing it: To slap at the Supreme Court, strike a blow for states rights, demonstrate the success of their collaboration and, most of all, encourage their backers to further political ventures inside and outside Congress.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Thanks For Reader's Comments

I want to reproduce a letter from reader Clyde Dawson in regard to my article under the heading "Was There Ever a Need for Labor Unions?" It is readers like Mr. Dawson who help a writer be more careful in saying what he means.

I was careless in saying that increased production was beneficial because whatever is produced willy-nilly has to be distributed in order to benefit the owner of this production. I should have qualified this by saying, "Under a free and unhampered economy where the government did not interfere by subsidies every one was benefited."

I also should have qualified my statement that an arrangement that increases total production is beneficial to mankind. I should have limited this by saying that anything that increased production that people wanted and were willing to pay for benefited mankind. I thank Mr. Dawson for pointing out my errors in my statements. Here's the way he put it: "Mr. R. C. Hoiles, Santa Ana, California, Dear Sir: Under the heading, 'Was There Ever a Need for Labor Unions?' you write, 'And any arrangement that increases total production is beneficial to mankind.' I presume this means durable goods as well as agricultural products. You continue, 'It is beneficial because whatever is produced willy-nilly has to be distributed in order to benefit the owner of this production.' Later you ask if there are any questions. 'Recently the President of the United States told us that we are paying $1,000,000 per day for storage for crops for which there is no demand in the markets of trade. Government agencies have for years tried to cut total production of livestock and grains. Just today I heard of a plant near here which supplies parts for automobiles, being closed because of an over supply of cars. The rulers of many labor unions have tried to curtail production. One example is prohibiting the use of spray guns in painting and limiting the size of paint brushes. 'You say increasing total production is beneficial because whatever is produced has to be distributed in order to benefit the owner of this production. At present only a portion of his production is distributed — the balance is bought with tax money and either destroyed or stored at a fraction of its market value. 'I don't see how an increase in total production is beneficial to mankind until a better method of distribution is devised. When this country is unable to distribute what it produces today, would not an increase in production merely add to the problem? We know that the price system of distribution ceases to function in the presence of an abundance. Recently a rancher near Anaheim, Calif., plowed under ten acres of cabbage because he could not sell it for enough money to pay for harvesting. 'For about twenty-five years the government has been buying and withholding from distribution a portion of our production in order that the balance could be sold at a profit. And during this same period, many of our citizens have had to do without the things they needed. Since we the people have subscribed to bureaucratic rule of our lives and property, why wouldn't it be a good idea to just have the government tax us enough to buy up all that we produce and distribute it evenly? At least we wouldn't be paying twice for the same goods. Clyde Dawson."

If free market prices were the guide, the price would tell people what to produce. Of course, producing a perishable commodity, one runs the risk of erasing in what people want produced. With too many people produce cabbage or tomatoes or any other perishable crop and they run the risk of a loss. That is the risk all must take under freedom. If prices, however, in surplus crops were permitted to drop to merely pay for the marketing and there were no artificial costs in marketing due to labor monopolies or any other monopolies, the amount of surplus consumed would be a great deal larger than it is where prices are maintained artificially. While the producer often takes a loss in producing perishable products he often also makes a large profit. This averages out over the years to the profits from producing products that will keep.

The customer is the boss of what he wants produced when the government does not intervene. As the Bricker - Benson - Campbell indictments indicate, even administration spokesmen have become concerned about certain aspects of "Eisenhower prosperity." Indeed, this same uneasiness was the basic reason for the Federal Reserve Board's decision to tighten money rates a few weeks ago. An over optimistic industry, according to this theory, is inflating and expanding too rapidly and lavishly. They may be turning out products that will not sell, and building plants that may not be used, all on huge profits. The critics warn that unwarranted expansion of the nation's physical plant can be as dangerous as the stock market boom of the twenties. It can result in overproduction, a topheavy accumulation of inventories, idle factories, unemployment and general hardship. Nobody can agree on an overall cure for these conditions. Some propose a stiff excess profits tax. But the majority opinion calls for passing on the benefits to consumers in the form of lower retail prices — for food, autos, furniture, homes, clothing, gasoline and oil, television and radio sets, transportation and utility charges.

A recent article in the conservative Wall Street Journal, which was inserted in the Congressional Record, has attracted unusual attention on and off Capitol Hill. It records the earnings increases of key industries in 1955 over 1954. Here are the reports of a few major lines: Airlines, up 38.8 per cent; autos and equipment, 64.8; building ma-

Congress Worried Over Excessive Profits

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — When such an unreconstructed Republican conservative as Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio charges that the relatively new-born television industry makes excessive profits at the expense of purchasers, it signifies that the Congressional restlessness over huge corporate gains of recent years has assumed spectacular proportions. Not in years has there been such severe and general criticism of record earnings. Bricker's amazing attack is symptomatic. Almost every other basic industry, from automobiles and steel to food and transportation, rates on railroads and airplanes, has been denounced for allegedly excessive gains. Oddy, the profit and free enterprise system as well as economic reformers and anti-Eisenhower Democrats. Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, for instance, blames the tremendous spread between farmers' returns and retail food prices on the middleman's take. Controller General Joseph Campbell, an Eisenhower appointee from the ranks of business, pillories the Civil Aeronautics Board for being too soft on commercial airlines at the expense of taxpayers and the traveling public. Solid Republicans from agricultural areas attribute their constituents' plight to the high cost of farm equipment, trucks, autos, chemicals, wire, feed, fertilizer, etc. While hitting at corporate profits, they agree with Benson that the unions are partially responsible. For the sake of maintaining current profit percentages, they add, key industries, eagerly bow to demands for higher pay year by year.

As the Bricker - Benson - Campbell indictments indicate, even administration spokesmen have become concerned about certain aspects of "Eisenhower prosperity." Indeed, this same uneasiness was the basic reason for the Federal Reserve Board's decision to tighten money rates a few weeks ago. An over optimistic industry, according to this theory, is inflating and expanding too rapidly and lavishly. Some propose a stiff excess profits tax. ### Mac Keeps Up With His Lodge — the Army

By HENRY McLEMORE

It's close to eleven years since I attended a meeting, but I still like to keep up with what is happening in my old lodge, the Army. I read about the lodge in the Journal, and follow it vicariously in the doings of one, Sergeant, Bilko, on television. It's quite a different army from the one I knew back in the 1940's. Sergeant Bilko is on intimate terms with colonels and generals, and does everything but slap them on the back and invite them down to the PX for a beer and a game of pool.

I haven't been to an army camp lately, but they tell me I wouldn't know the barracks and the mess hall, what with chetonne curtains, gay tablecloth, and from what I gather, sterling flatware and his wedgewood china. Now from Washington come two reports that underscore the fact that, insofar as soldiering is concerned, I was born a full decade too soon. One report concerns the invention of a portable fox hole digger, and the other a new and dashing type of headgear for GI Joe.

The Army, so says Washington, is seriously considering the adoption of green berets to replace the overseas cap. This is a splendid idea, and should have been thought of a long time ago. The overseas cap is all right in its way, but it isn't much for looks, and it doesn't do much for the wearer. That is especially true when worn on top of an army haircut. It gives the wearer's head the appearance of slightly garnished, peeled, hard-boiled egg. If worn on the side to provide a certain rakishness, it invariably

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR F. JORDAN, M. D.

I suppose hundreds of thousands of parents at one time or another have worried about their children's speech — particularly about the most important difficulty, stuttering. One mother asks about her three-year-old child who has never talked except to say "da da" or "ma ma."

A 16-year-old boy says that until a year ago his speech was perfectly normal but now he finds he is beginning to stutter. Another correspondent asks whether there is any scientific basis for the theory that forcing a child who is left-handed to use the right hand may result in speech impairment. THE EXACT CAUSE of speech defects, including stuttering, is not known. Some believe that children may be born predisposed to speech disorders. Also, sex plays some obscure part since there are nearly five times as many boys who stutter as girls. It is my impression that there is not as much weight given now as there used to be to the idea that forcing a left-handed child to use the right hand causes stuttering. It is not wise to make a left-handed child use the right hand. But a broad view expressed by Dr. Barbara in a book on stuttering (Julian Press, $5) says, "Stuttering is not to be considered as an isolated disorder of the speech mechanism but as an outward expression of a more basic character disorganization." THE ATTACK on speech defects (including stuttering) should come as soon as possible after such difficulty is first noticed. It is important to get good advice since the management of speech defects depends to a considerable degree on the understanding by the parents and their handling of the situation. Furthermore, there may be things in the home environment about which the parents are thoroughly unaware which are affecting the child's speech. Much has been learned about stuttering and other speech defects and their treatment during recent years. The results of proper treatment are often exceedingly good. In most cases a stutterer, or a child with some other speech defect, should have expert guidance from one of the speech clinics spotted around the country. Information on them can be obtained from the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 11 South La Salle St., Chicago. THE BOOKLET on stuttering prepared with the advice and guidance of the American Speech and Hearing Association and Society for Crippled Children and Adults is a good source of information as is the book on stuttering by Dr. Dominic Barbara previously mentioned. It is important to remember that a youngster with stuttering or other speech defect will not simply outgrow the difficulty.

THE NATION'S PRESS

MR. MEANY AND THE TEAMSTERS

Chicago Daily Tribune

President George Meany of the merged AFL-CIO has called his executive council to a special meeting May 1 to consider the suspension of the teamsters union, whose 1,300,000 members make it the biggest unit in organized labor. It appears that Mr. Meany has the teamsters dead to rights if he wants to proceed against them. The AFL expelled the International Longshoremen's union in 1953 because it failed to get rid of the gangsters who ran it. Recently James Hoffa, who is the No. 2 if not the No. 1 man in the teamsters union, arranged to lend the ILA $400,000. Meany's protest stopped the loan, but the teamsters went ahead with a working agreement with the longshore bosses for joint organization drives. The AFL-CIO constitution forbids any affiliate to extend "recognition" to an expelled union, and that is the clause on which Meany is proceeding. Dave Beck, president of the teamsters, is prepared to argue that what his union has done doesn't constitute recognition. The executive council will hear a deal of argument that isn't going to affect its decision. What the international union bosses who constitute the council do will be governed by two considerations; how much they fear the teamsters, and what they might hope to accomplish by kicking them out of the club.

Many of them have good reason to be afraid. President Beck has announced his intention of boosting his membership to three million. A worker doesn't have to drive a truck to be eligible. Filling station owners in Chicago suburbs were recently forced to pay dues on behalf of their attendants, who were not consulted in the matter; just because the teamsters could shut off gasoline deliveries to stations that weren't signed up. In theory, at least, Meany and Hoffa feel free to sign up anyone handling a product that is hauled at any time in a truck, and that includes just about all of the workers in the country, including those already affiliated with other craft or industrial unions. A current complaint against the teamsters union is that it has been raiding the brewery workers union, using its power to shut off deliveries from breweries where it meets opposition. When it is remembered that his dues collections are the bread and butter of any union boss, it is plain that leaders of other unions would be happy to join the fight against the teamsters. But they also have to consider what they would gain by suspending them. The AFL and CIO have never been much more than trade associations. Occasionally they have come to the rescue of weaker members, but usually the affiliated unions have run the national body. And not the national body the members.

Navy Training Planes Collide

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. —UP— Two Navy training planes collided in the air near Corpus Christi Wednesday and the pilot of one was killed when his aircraft crashed.

The other pilot — a Navy cadet — landed his damaged airplane safely in a cotton field, but suffered minor injuries. He was identified as cadet John F. Madigan, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Madigan of Buffalo, N. Y.

Naval authorities said the two A-D Sky Raiders, two-place propeller-driven training planes, were approaching Cabanis naval air auxiliary station for landings at the time of the collision. The pilot of the crashed plane was an instructor.

Germans Cold To Churchill's Visit

By CHARLES M. MCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
Winston Churchill, Britain's grand old man, is being greeted in West Germany Wednesday by signs like "Churchill, go home."

Churchill arrives in Germany Wednesday afternoon to receive Thursday, in the ancient city of Aachen, a prize for promoting European unity.

The signs are a reminder to Churchill, and to the world, that Germany wants back the territory which was handed over to Polish and Russian occupation at the Potsdam conference in 1945.

This issue is one that is seldom mentioned among the many that have arisen out of World War II. But it is one which the big powers have got to face some day. Poland and Russia regard the territory as permanently theirs. Germany never will agree.

Churchill's visit is the first he has made to Germany since the Potsdam conference.

The "Churchill, go home" and "Churchill not wanted" signs have been painted on public buildings in Aachen, faster than the police can erase them, by supporters of what is called officially the Association of German Expellees.

The association represents about 10 million Germans who were expelled from the territory east of the Oder and Neisse Rivers which was turned over to Poland and Russia pending a final peace treaty.

Those "expellees" number about one in five of the population of West Germany. They have their own little bloc of seats in parliament.

In their demand that the lost territory be given back, they are supported not only by West Germans but by nearly all of the 18.5 million Germans who live in the Russian-occupied zone.

Thursday, the expellees intend to hold a mourning service while Churchill is being given his prize. They have asked townspeople to fly flags at half-staff.

The award to Churchill is the Karl or Charlemagne prize awarded annually to a man who has helped promote European unity.

It is named for Charlemagne, the great emperor whose tomb according to tradition lies under the dome of Aachen cathedral.

Not Against Churchill
The "expellees" have nothing against Churchill himself. They admire him for his world war leadership even though he was their enemy. But they blame him for his part in the Potsdam conference. They say that he has helped to divide, not unite Europe. Hence they say that Churchill has no right to the Charlemagne prize.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government has tried to minimize the protests. But Adenauer and all his fellow leaders will insist, when the time comes, that Germany must get back its lost territory.

The issue will become a big one whenever the unification of Germany is taken up finally. Now the talk is merely of unifying the Western and Eastern parts of the country. But to Germans there will be no unification until they get back those 47,000 square miles of territory which re-ruled Poland occupies — not to mention the east Prussian territory which Poland and Russia hold between them.

It is highly probable, too, if not certain, that some day, in one way or another, Germany will get back most of it.

Some TV Shows Will Get The Axe

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK —UP— This is the time of year when many sponsors must decide whether to renew their TV programs or sink them to the bottom of their channels.

Next fall, for example, you'll see such new entries on TV as a 60-minute Herb Shriner show and a second one-hour Lawrence Welk show. Also, programs starring Ray Bolger and Tennessee Ernie Ford.

But the chances are you won't be seeing "I Remember Mama," "Our Miss Brooks," "Stage Show" or "Ethel and Albert."

To some viewers, a sponsor's decision to yank a favorite show off the air may seem capricious, but according to slocum (Buzz) Chapin, vice president in charge of sales at ABC-TV, sponsors are rarely governed by whim.

"The old business about the sponsor's wife running the show is pretty much a gag," says Chapin. "Even in the old days, it wasn't really true. I know of only one radio show that was a project of the sponsor's wife."

Chapin, in the broadcasting business for 20 years, said there are two principal reasons for a show being axed.

"The first one is the obvious one," he said, "when a show is launched and doesn't live up to expectations, it's usually taken off the air."

"The second big reason is when a sponsor gets in trouble with the budget — maybe his business conditions change, maybe his costs go up. Nowadays when this sort of thing happens, the show is sometimes saved by taking a co-sponsor in."

There are other reasons, too, for a sponsor's pull-out, said Chapin. "Ethel and Albert," a situation comedy of occasional point and charm, will be yanked off ABC-TV because its sponsor, a cereal, wants to reach kids instead of adults.

Strangely enough, said Chapin, sponsors don't always care if their shows have high ratings. Often, an advertiser will feel satisfied if a low-budgeted show is reaching a select audience — the kind that might buy his product.

Lawyers Guild May Come To Judgement

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON —UP— The National Lawyers Guild, which seemed always to be too hot for the Roosevelt or Truman administrations to handle, is about to come to judgment.

The guild has not been judged yet or, of course, convicted. But there is solid evidence that the organization was whopped up nearly 20 years ago to serve the purposes of the Communist party. It may have changed stripes since. If so, the guild has nothing to fear from the inquiry to which it now is subject by the subversive activities control board.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. ordered the guild in 1953 to register as a Communist-dominated organization. The guild's appeal against that order was in the courts until this week when the Supreme Court threw it out. Attorneys general under former Presidents Roosevelt and Truman did cite a large number of organizations as Communist fronts. But the guild consistently was overlooked although its record of Communist-front activities was notorious.

A. A. Berle Jr., Justice Ferdinand Pecora, both of New York, were among the organizers of the guild. Another was the late associate Justice Robert H. Jackson. Berle, Pecora, Jackson and many others got out quickly when they discovered the Communist taint. "The National Lawyers Guild was formed," said Berle in his letter of resignation, "in the hope that expression might be given to the liberal sentiment in the American bar."

"It is now obvious that the present management of the guild is not prepared to take any stand which conflicts with the Communist party line. I have no further interest in it."

Pecora had been elected guild president before he got the word and quit. The guild was a slickly disguised outfit with enough muscle to prevent a citation during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations despite its public record.
