NEW YORK — UP— Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said Tuesday, after a six-week tour of the Soviet Union, that there is "no doubt about the sincerity of the friendliness of the Russian common man toward American visitors."

Justice Douglas and his wife who spent 10 days with him in the Soviet Union arrived by plane from Helsinki, Finland.

Douglas said he toured Russia as a "sightseer" on a purely social visit.

He said "the people everywhere were very hospitable, very friendly, and very curious about America. I was treated cordially everywhere."

Douglas said the only incident during his tour of 11 republics of the Soviet Union occurred in Stalingrad, the capital of the Republic of Tadzhikistan in southern Russia, where a policeman threatened to arrest him after he took a flash-bulb picture on the street at night.

A Soviet Intourist agency interpreter who was with Douglas talked him out of it.

"Apparently, the word had not gotten down that the patrolman was supposed to be friendly," Douglas said.

Douglas said he observed that food was plentiful "but wages do not compare with those of the worker in the United States."

QUIETING A BIG NOISE—Jackie Fridrich sizes up the world's loudest siren, being tested in Chicago, Ill. in the world's quietest room. The 10-horsepower siren, which stands 89 inches high, is so powerful that it hurts your ear if you stand too close. So this fibreglass-lined room, almost 100 per cent soundproof, was built to reduce the sound for testing purposes. The siren will be used as an air raid warning.

Barbershop Quartet Singing Seen As GI Morale Booster

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS WASHINGTON — UP— Here's a man with a novel idea for pepping up the morale of our servicemen in peacetime.

Edward H. Place, who can swing low in a sweet chariot as harmoniously as you please, thinks that barbershop quartet singing is what the GIs need to enliven dull nights in the barracks.

So, as a labor of love, Ed has volunteered to be chairman of an armed forces collaboration committee for the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing in America, Inc. The barbershop outfit has one of the longest histories so far as titles go of any organized group in the land.

Anyhow, Ed got together with an old singing pal, Dean Snyder, who works in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Dean is a member of a government quartet called the "Singing Squires." And that's kind of how it started.

Correction On News Story

A news story published in The Pampa News August 7 stated incorrectly that William David Fink was arrested here for Dallas officers on charges of fourth offense driving while intoxicated.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said today that Dallas authorities have informed him that no driving while intoxicated charges have been filed against Fink.

Fink was wanted in Dallas on multiple charges of traffic violations.

He was held by sheriff's officers in Pampa until Dallas authorities arrived and returned him to Dallas.

Godfrey Says Charge False

NEW YORK — UP— Arthur Godfrey denied Wednesday that he flew his private DC-3 dangerously close to an airliner as both took off from a Chicago airport.

"I've been flying for 26 years," the red haired entertainer said. "You don't fly that long if you take chances. I hope to fly another 20 years."

Puffing smoke from a big cigar, Godfrey cracked, "if they (Ozark Airlines) wanted the publicity, why didn't they tell me — I'd have given them a plug on my program. I've averaged 350 hours a year in the air — that's a hell of a lot of time for an amateur."

The Civil Aeronautics Administration was investigating the complaint of an Ozark Airlines crew that Godfrey's plane crowded the airliner a week ago after both had taken off from Midway airport at Chicago.

Ralph Horn, a CAA investigator, said the formal complaint accused Godfrey of flying only 100 feet from the commercial plane's right wing, then crossing in front of it.

Godfrey said he was 1,000 feet away and 200 to 300 feet above the airliner.

According to Ed and Dean, the Army has the best organized singing groups. Largely because there is a man by the name of Dr. Harold W. (Bud) Arberg on the job as "musical adviser to the adjutant general." "Bud" has done a lot in developing harmonizers and choruses.

The idea of organized singing in the forces is not new, but it has been lagging a little lately.

A new needle was inserted a couple of years ago when the adjutant general's office promoted an all-Army soldiers' singing concert. There was popular music, opera, and the kind of folk songs that were born in the coal mines and in the fields of cotton.

Long playing records were made of the winners — and those lads ought to be on television. I have the album, and I can testify it's mighty good listening.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read II Timothy 1:4-11

We must trust our highest. We must learn to trust our deepest spiritual impulses. This sounds very elementary and it is, but it is also basic. Just as we trust our physical sensations, so also we must have confidence in the out-reachings of our spirit. One of the amazing facts with which every teacher of spiritual truths is familiar is the way people repudiate their high moments. "Something stirred deep down inside me," said a cultured woman who prided herself on her dignity and poise, "but it did not last long. I soon got hold of myself." Just for a minute I felt like doing something rash," said a businessman, after attending a religious meeting where the spiritual tides were running high. "but I got out before I made my self ridiculous." A young newspaper reporter, in describing an interview with the late Gypsy Smith, the beloved evangelist, paid the preacher a high tribute and then said: "If I had stayed another 10 minutes he would have had me too!" He escaped a great experience by just 10 minutes!

If we trust our physical sensations, and if we put confidence in logic and reason, why should we not also hold these out-reachings of the spirit in high respect? They are the holiest expressions of our personalities and can be relied upon. These wistful aspirations after righteousness are the most hopeful aspects of our lives. "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness," said Jesus, "for they shall be filled." (Matt. 5:6.) Such experiences are not delusions; they are of the very essence of life, and are to be saved at all costs. They are proof of the presence of God in your life.

I will respect these longings of mine, O God, in the sober and calm conviction that they are of divine origin and therefore sacred; I will treat them as a trust from thee; I will listen reverently to them; I will follow their leadership as I would follow thee myself. Amen.

What deep longing has come up within you as you have read the last two or three pages? Have you wished you might be pure, devout, and godly? Are you willing to act on that wish? Will you do something to make that wish come true? Do it now!

U. S. Asks For Import Cuts

WASHINGTON —UP— Defense mobilization director Arthur S. Flemming warned 18 oil importing companies Tuesday to curb their imports voluntarily or face government import restrictions.

Imports are running at a rate of 15 per cent of annual domestic production, causing independent American producers to protest that their markets are being taken over. Congress threatened to enact import curbs at the recently adjourned session but withheld action after Flemming promised to investigate.

He told the 18 companies Tuesday to submit him by Sept. 21, their own recommendations on the problem. Some of the firms already have invoked voluntary curbs. Others refused to do so and instead increased their imports by more than 100 per cent.

Farm Income Has Drop

WASHINGTON —UP— The nation's farmers have suffered a loss of four cents on the dollar in their cash income so far this year.

And a further drop in their income is expected, the Agriculture Department warned.

The income losses—if continued—would make 1955 the worst year for farmers since wartime 1942.

Falling farm income, a politically explosive question with national elections in the offing, has Republican strategists seriously worried.

The Agriculture Department reported Tuesday that cash income received by farmers for their crops and livestock during the first eight months of this year fell 4 per cent below the comparable period of 1954.

It also said the farmers' net income for the first half of this year was at an annual rate of $11.1 billion—also down 4 per cent from last year's $11.6 billion.

This is the lowest rate since 1942's $8,849,000,000.

Cash income is the gross receipts received by farmers for their goods. Net income is what is left after they pay for their production expenses.

Janie Clark returned home with them after visiting several weeks with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bateman and Family spent the day at Skellytown recently.

Flood Hatches Dormant Eggs

LOS ANGELES —UP— Eggs of a small water animal which apparently had lain dormant on the dry Mojave Desert floor for more than 100 years hatched out in water from a flash flood and resulted in a "veritable animal explosion," a scientist said Wednesday.

Dr. James P. Welsh, assistant professor of zoology at Los Angeles State College, termed "incredible" the discovery of the animal, resembling a small version of the king crab, at formerly dry Bicycle Lake on Camp Irwin east of here.

Eggs Long Dormant

There is evidence the animal's eggs might have lain for several centuries on the lake bottom—so hard it was in use as a landing strip for jet planes and transport craft until the flash flood last month.

Welsh said the apparent time the tiny eggs had lain dormant was the longest to come to his knowledge.

The discovery led scientists to many conjectures.

"I'd like to be the first guy with a watering can on Mars," Welsh said.

Animal Is Pink

Welsh said he believed he had identified the animal as a type of fairy shrimp—a branchiopod crustacean, of the order Notostomatidae, genus Apus or Lepidurus.

The discovery raised much excitement earlier since the creature at a glance resembles the trilobite, a water animal that has been extinct for 450 million years.

The animal is one to one-and-a-half inches long with 30 to 40 body segments surrounded by a sort of shell, with many "legs" tucked underneath. It is bright pink or white in color.

Air Force Sends Another Balloon Up

DENVER —UP— The Air Force launched one of its huge plastic weather balloons before witnesses Wednesday to prove they don't transport "little green men" from Mars and cannot harm anyone.

Shaped like a monstrous onion, the 120-foot-diameter, clear-colored balloon sailed upward at a rate of 800 to 900 feet a minute as reporters gawked from below. The hydrogen-filled balloon took to the stratosphere with an awesome "swoosh" from a site on Lowry Air Force Base, the summer White House headquarters here.

Maj. Joe R. Collins, operation officer, said that "despite reports of little green men and that these balloons are dangerous, there is nothing they carry that could hurt anyone."

He said the balloon was similar to one forced down in Indiana Sunday. Other balloons have scared residents as far away as California.

"We always turn up a lot of them when the hunting season opens," said Collins. "A lot of them land in some mountainous areas or isolated spots and the hunters happen on them." He said more than 1,000 balloons had been released from various points throughout the nation since the program began 18 months ago.

Attached to the bottom of Wednesday's huge bubble was a 500-pound gondola equipped with machines and devices to record high altitude weather data.

Lowry officials said the balloon, which would reach a height of 70,000 to 80,000 feet, would near the end of its flight in about four or five days. A pre-set mechanism will cut loose the gondola carrying the instruments. The balloon itself ascends until the expanding gases cause it to burst.

Airman's Death Investigated

NEW LAREDO, Mex. —UP— A traffic accident in which a U.S. Airman from Texas was killed in downtown Nuevo Laredo was being investigated Wednesday. The victim was John T. Costello, 35, of Kingsville Naval Air Station. He and four children live in Pampa, Okla. He was killed when he was run over by a car from which he had just alighted.

Any Hour Rated Time For Picnic

Whatever the hour of the day, there can be plans for a picnic. Here are menu ideas for various picnics, suggested by home economist Reba Staggs:

Breakfast or Brunch - Fruit pineapple rings, toasted pecan rolls; Cantaloupe slices, bacon strips, scrambled eggs, fried potatoes, bread toasted over fire; Orange juice, blueberry pancakes from mix, syrup, sausage links.

Mid-Day Dining - Hamburgers in toasted English muffins; cucumber bars in sour cream, fresh pineapple wedges, refrigerator cookies; Grilled Canadian-style bacon in buns with tomato slices, lettuce, raw relishes, gingerbread cup cakes.

Company Grill - Barbecued spareribs, corn on the cob, garlic French bread, tomato slices, sautéed green beans, watermelon wedges; Grilled barbecued luncheon loaf slices, rye bread, potato salad, tomato-cucumber slices, assorted fruits, cookies.

Tongue Is Ideal For Quick Meals - Wise homemakers during summer months plan their meals around foods that give them more leisure time. This calls for meats that can be cooked, then sliced and served cold in various ways for succeeding meals.

For your first meal you can serve the tongue hot. Then, for later serving, return the tongue to the cooking liquid and cook rapidly. This makes the tongue more juicy.

Large quantities of pies can be prepared in advance and stored in the home freezer. This saves work for the homemaker and provides her with a handy inventory for family meals and special occasions.

Best results are obtained with frozen pies when they are baked after being removed from the freezer rather than prebaked for freezing.

The test kitchen recommends the practice of preparing crusts and fillings separately for large amounts of pies to be frozen for baking in the future.

From rolled pie dough, circular crusts are cut out, allowing an extra inch for the sides of the pie shell when it is formed.

THEY'RE DUE SOMETHING FROM UNION — Pasadena, Calif., police department criminologist Don Harding checks one of four safes burned open in Pasadena's Labor Temple by thieves with a thwarted sense of humor. They escaped with some $500, incinerated another $500 worth of cash and checks with their torches, and left a "This Job Is Non-Union" sign in front of the wrecked safe. Union members will be glad to put in a little free overtime going over the thieves, if they catch them.

Plush Nevada Gambling Spots Facing Sparsest Winter Yet

EDITOR'S NOTE — The second in a two-part series on what is happening to Las Vegas.

By ALINE MOSBY
LAS VEGAS, Nev. — UP — Business picked up in this Monte Carlo of America during the summer. But some folk here agree the palatial gambling palaces this winter face what may be the sparsest business in the history of this fantastic community.

Three new plush casino hotels — the Lady Luck, the Tropicana and the 1962-room Stardust — are scheduled to open in December. The town may suffer another recession similar to one that began when another three hotels — the Dunes, the Royal Nevada and the Riviera — opened virtually at once last spring.

Has Las Vegas overextended itself? Is it headed for a costly bust?

The answer to Las Vegas' future lies in a series of paradoxes. In the hotel boom itself apparently is the reason for the town's current business woes.

Hotel owners, cab drivers, showmen and dealers I talked to in this gambling capital believe the recent recession was not caused by "bad business."

"They just opened too many hotels at once," one hotel executive said. "There'll be more thinning out in December. The town needs a chance to absorb the new hotels and bring in more customers."

Jack Entratter, producer of shows at the Sands and Dunes hotels, put it this way: "The new hotels were in a rut and couldn't get out of it. But business will continue to grow under good management. Las Vegas is doing more business than it's ever done. The Sands is running capacity."

There are other signs of a slow-up, yet counteracted by more signs of a rosier future.

The plush hotels on the suburban "strip" have hurt business in the dime crap parlors in downtown Las Vegas where the best well-heeled tourists play. Yet 50 feet of frontage on the main street sold for $150,000 this week — a record for the town.

"You can't get a room in Las Vegas on weekends," one cable says.

Yet the new Riviera managers admit they are trying to save their hotel from its "too big overhead" by firing "hundreds of excess help." They bounced Edith Piaf ("limited appeal") from their show and brought in Spike Jones ("mass appeal").

The Sands hotel insists its business is 30 per cent higher than last year. In the next breath Sands owner Jack Freedman suggests the county limit the number of hotels on the swanky strip (Now there are 11).

Prices are higher in Vegas. Most hotels slipped on a $2 minimum for floor shows. Rooms on the strip that four years ago cost $5 to $10 and now go from $12 to $16. Drinks are up to 90 cents, steak dinners $5 and up.

Yet that tab still is cheaper than at top resort hotels in Palm Springs or Miami Beach.

Sears Head For Credit Buying

KANSAS CITY — UP — The head of the world's largest retail merchandising business took exception Tuesday to recent statements that the huge volume of credit buying constituted a danger to the economy.

Theodore V. Houser, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., said the buying public itself would keep the proper reins on credit buying.

"When people think they have bought a little more on credit than they can actually afford," Houser said, "they pull up and wait until they have paid off a few things before they buy any more."

"I, for one, see no concern over credit buying at this time," he said.

Houser predicted Sears would do more than $3 billion worth of business this year.

"There is no question about the present high level of economic activity, both in the field of manufacturing and the field of distribution," the merchandiser said.

"Our surveys indicate that the more overall production increases the more sales go up. At the present time we are witnessing both a climb in production and a climb in sales."

Ike To Hear U.N. Report

By WARREN DUFFEE DENVER — UP — The summer White House announced Wednesday that Harold E. Stassen, presidential assistant for disarmament, will give President Eisenhower a personal report Friday on the developments at the United Nations disarmament conference in New York.

Stassen, the deputy U.S. delegate to the UN parley, has been keeping Mr. Eisenhower informed regularly on developments. The summer White House said, however, that he will fly here to give the president a personal report on certain phases of the conference.

Anderson Files Back Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said Stassen's trip is not due to any particular development at the talks. The Stassen visit was announced after the President had conferred for the second day with Dillon Anderson, his special assistant on national security. Anderson was flying back to Washington.

Meantime, it was announced that the president will leave Monday morning for several days of fishing at the Fraser, Colo., ranch of Aksel Nielsen, Denver banker who was his host for a five-day stay when the President first began his Colorado visit last month.

Will Host Golfers The summer White House also announced that the President will play host to 14 golf and business friends at a stag weekend here. The group includes two famous golfers, Francis Ouimet of Wellesley Hills, Mass., the 1913 U.S. open champion, and Charley Yates of Atlanta, former British amateur champion.

Many of the group are members of the Augusta National Country club where the President frequently golfs. Stassen is expected to bring the President a generally optimistic report on developments at the UN arms talks.

Oilman Hits Price Laws

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — UP — The chairman of one of the country's biggest oil companies Wednesday condemned the price wars plaguing the gasoline industry but said any legislation to stop them "would do far more harm than good."

"It is impossible to saddle a competitive industry with government controls without losing the advantages which the public has come to expect from competition," B. Brewster Jennings, board chairman of Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc., said.

Jennings told a National Petroleum Association conference here that if the government steps in, "there is no logical stopping point short of a completely regulated economy."

Dislikes Price Wars "That means stagnation and ultimately, tyranny," Gasoline price wars currently are being waged in different sections of the country, particularly the Connecticut River valley and northern New Jersey.

"We do not like price wars," Jennings said, "partly because they cost us a lot of money, but primarily because of their impact on our dealers, through whom most of our products are sold."

"However, we have not been able to convince ourselves that any of the proposals to eliminate price wars would not equally eliminate free competition, and so do far more harm than good."

Nothing Accomplished Jennings told the association there is not "a shred of evidence" to support the thought the oil industry would serve the consumer better without competition.

He said a government bureau could do one of three things: raise the price, lower the price or keep it the same.

"The net result would be saddling taxpayers with the cost of a regulatory commission which accomplishes nothing," he said.

Lake Baikal in Russia is believed to be the deepest (5,711 feet) lake in the world.

DANIEL BOONE

On March 17, 1775, the Watauga treaty for 20,000,000 acres of Kentucky land was made by the Transylvania Company and the Cherokee nation.

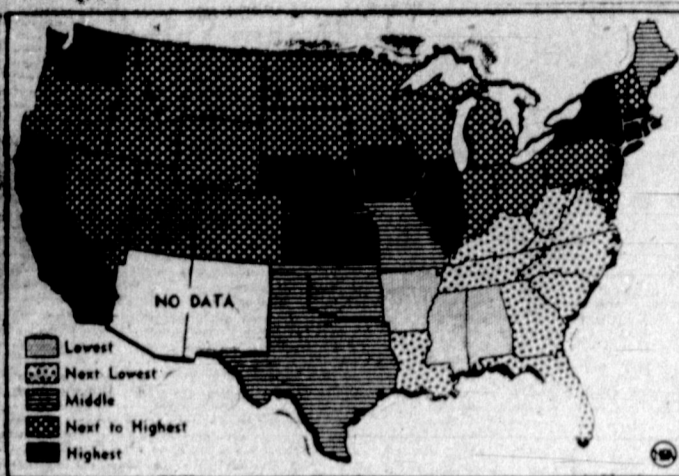

The Indians had retained a white lawyer and were paid 10,000 pounds in merchandise, but many were disgruntled over the deal.

Five days earlier, Boone had started to mark his famous "Wilderness Road" for 500 settlers heading into Kentucky.

HOW WELL FARMERS LIVE—This map gives you a rough idea of how U.S. farmers—on the average—live in a particular area as compared with those in other areas, as ranked by the Dept. of Agriculture. Families of farmers in black areas live unusually well. If you live in one of the "lowest" areas, it doesn't necessarily mean that your own living standard is low. The area rating is on averages and your own level may be above the average of your area. And even the average family in the lowest category doesn't necessarily have a poor standard as compared with other standards in the world.

White Critical Of U.S. Farm Sales To Reds

OKLAHOMA CITY —UP—Tex. Agriculture Commissioner John White warned Thursday that by selling American-made farm machinery to Russia this nation may provide the Soviets "with the rock on which to build their war machine."

White, in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the Associated Petroleum Employees, commended "affiliate members of the AFL" for summarily rejecting a Russian proposal for an exchange of labor representatives.

"Organized labor deserves commendation for the attitudes. The United States has nothing to gain studying from Russian slave methods. But, we should weigh carefully what we may lose by letting Communists circulate freely in our vital industrial areas," White said.

"Our State Department," he suggested, "should take its cue from labor when considering Russia's third proposal—the increase of tourist activity."

Earlier, White expressed belief "some of our national agricultural officials went a little overboard" in their efforts to please a 12-man Russian farm delegation which recently toured this country.

"I do not believe for a minute that Russia has the least interest in our farming system. But, they

Airman Faces Kidnap Charge

CUERO, Tex. —UP—A kidnaping charge was filed Wednesday against an 18-year-old airman who left here last Friday with a 13-year-old Cuero girl.

The girl and airman were located Tuesday night in Biloxi, Miss., where the airman reported to Keesler Air Force Base for duty. He recently had been at Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

District Attorney Wayne Hartman will confer Thursday with De Witt County Sheriff Ray Markowski and Police Chief Jess Taylor about extradition of the airman.

The girl is being held in police custody at Biloxi pending arrival of her father from Cuero. He left Tuesday night when the couple was located.

Keesler AFB authorities said the serviceman would be returned to Cuero only through normal extradition proceedings.

Advertising Increases

NEW YORK —UP—National advertising in the first seven months of 1955 gained by 11 per cent over the similar 1954 period. Printers' Ink magazine said Wednesday. Ad expenditures for July held constant with June, but were 12 per cent ahead of July, 1954, said the magazine in its current issue.

In a breakdown the magazine reported July ads in magazines dipped 1 per cent from June, while in newspapers and business papers they fell 5 per cent. Gains were shown by Network Television, outdoor and network radio.

Compared with a year ago, July ads in magazines gained 12 per cent, in newspapers 19 per cent and network television 28 per cent. Network radio dropped 18 per cent.

Crazed Man Kills Worker

CHICAGO —UP—Henry George, 45, mail room foreman for the Chicago Daily News, was shot and killed Wednesday by a crazed former employe in the newspaper's press room here.

The man sought as his slayer, Mike Morabito, 28, escaped after the shooting and police were called to search the News building for him or for his car nearby.

Witnesses said that Morabito had been ill and had spent some time in a rest home. He appeared at the mailing room Wednesday, and opened fire without warning; they said, George was shot four times.

Associates said Morabito had spent nine years here, and had received a withdrawal card from Mailers' Local No. 2 going to Los Angeles for employment.

George, the slain man, is married and the father of two children.

Elderly New Yorkers Have Been Adopted By Teenagers

NEW YORK —UP—More than 500 elderly men and women have been "adopted" by teenage girls here in a unique project that is beginning to spread to other parts of the nation.

As adopted grandparents the old people suddenly find themselves getting cards on their birthdays, candy on Easter, unexpected visits from youngsters and even a night out now and then.

One grandfather became so popular that the girls' parents began including him in family outings.

"It is one of our most successful projects," a Girl Scout official said. Girl Scout troops in the metropolitan area started the grand-parent adoptions five years ago, but only recently have inquiring letters begun to come in from other cities and suggestions that this might be at least one answer to the increasing old age problem.

Learn From Old Folks

"The girls gain as much from it as the old people," one director of an old people's home pointed out. "We didn't think of that when we first agreed to let them adopt some of our residents. But the girls learn something about the way old people live. They rarely have grandparents in their homes these days — there isn't room. So this is a good experience for them."

"A man actually started the idea. He was the recreation director for 1,800 old people living in a city-financed home and hospital on Welfare Island. A check of the records showed that 1,700 of the residents were never visited by relatives or remembered on holidays.

"Nobody was interested in them," Arthur H. Holtzman recalled.

Sometimes new medicines cost more... but your illness costs less

Statistics show that illness today costs the average householder less than it did ten or fifteen years ago. And much of the credit must go to "high-priced" medicines. That seems odd, but the significant point is that "miracle" drugs have eliminated lingering illness; weeks of costly convalescence. Remember how long it used to take for pneumonia to run its course—weeks and sometimes months; with doctor and hospital bills piling up all the time! Now, thanks to modern antibiotics, you may be back at work in a little more than a week. And the total illness commonly costs less than $50.

Yes, "high-priced" medicines mean low-cost illness! So we urge that you see your Doctor promptly—take full advantage of the newest specialties; get quickly on the road to recovery. And, may we add the suggestion that you bring your Doctor's prescriptions to this "Reliable" pharmacy. We have all of the newer specialties in stock, to assure prompt and precise compounding. And our prices are uniformly fair.

WHERE DO MANY GIRLS, junior and senior high school age, get their ideas about food? The question has long concerned many parents and scientists. Since I'm not an authority, it is just my personal opinion that food habits in your youth determine to a great extent your health as an adult. And as you grow older, you realize more and more how important to happiness is good health. So, girls, you don't have to eat a lot, but eat wisely.

SOME OF THE ANSWERS apparently are to be found at home. Studies conducted at Iowa State College report a striking similarity between food likes and dislikes of older women and early teenage girls. The shortcomings of the diets of these two generations are so much alike — like mother, like daughter — that it may be assumed that adult food habits begin about the junior high years. What happens is, that about this time, some girls decide to be independent about food. Sometimes, too, in the desire to be grown-up, they "kick over the parental traces" and pick a freak diet.

What help is at hand for the mother who doubtlessly recognizes this as one more adolescent characteristic? She can begin with the mid-day school lunch either carried from home or purchased at school. Its requirements are met in the Type A Lunch in this way: a serving of protein-rich food; three-fourths cup vegetables and/or fruits; one portion enriched or whole grain bread; two teaspoons butter or fortified margarine and one-half pint milk. This lunch furnishes one-third of the day's nutritional needs of a 12- to 16-year-old girl.

Many mothers very wisely take into consideration the school lunch when planning family meals, noting menus sent home by the school. These frequently offer her adventure in serving new foods, which adds variety to family meals.

Mothers want to help their daughters grow into healthy young women. As to what foods should be eaten in addition to the good school lunch, the research at Iowa State College gives some leads. Although teenage girls keep on growing, many do not correspondingly increase their calories, protein, calcium or other nutrients except perhaps vitamin C. Girls usually eat an adequate evening meal but often breakfasts should be more nutritious. Many girls might well join their brothers in a well chosen after-school snack. This might be a glass of milk and a generously peanut butter sandwich. Both peanut butter and enriched bread are excellent sources of B vitamins, protein and calcium.

HERES A QUICK vegetable dish for supper or a main dish for lunch. Put 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup uncooked white rice, 2 1/2 cups water and 3 tablespoons catsup in a 2-quart baking serving dish. Place 4 cups coarsely shredded or thinly sliced cabbage over the rice-water mixture. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon salt over the cabbage. Cover the baking dish with a lid or with aluminum foil and place in a preheated 350 degree F. oven for 50 minutes or until the rice absorbs most of the water and is tender but not dry. Uncover the baking dish and sprinkle 1 cup grated American cheese over the cabbage. Place under the broiler and broil until the cheese melts and browns. Serve immediately.

Macaroni Mushroom Salad Ideal For Weekend Picnic

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Hearty, easy, fine eating, this macaroni salad is ideal to have in the refrigerator over the week end — great for the cookout, too.

Macaroni Mushroom Salad (Makes 4 to 6 servings)
Four ounces elbow macaroni, 3 ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1/2 cup well-seasoned French dressing, 1-3 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups celery, sliced diagonally, 1 cup unpeeled sliced cucumber wedges, 1 cup sliced radishes.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain, rinse under cold water and drain again. Drain mushrooms, saving broth for some future use in gravy or sauce, and place in suitable container with macaroni. Add French dressing and mix thoroughly. Cover and chill for several hours, turning ingredients occasionally. Drain off any excess French dressing. Combine and add mayonnaise, lemon juice, mustard and salt. Just before serving add crisp vegetables and toss salad lightly together.

Here's an easy way to broil frank perfectly:
Grilled Frankfurters
Eight frankfurters, about 1 pound, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 8 frankfurter rolls, heated.
Score frankfurters lightly in a spiral form end to end. Brush all over with kitchen bouquet. Place on grill about 3 inches from moderate heat. Let broil from 5 to 8 minutes. Turn and broil on second side about 3 to 5 minutes longer. Serve immediately in heated roll.

AROUND THE SPORTS WORLD

BRING ON THE ROCK—Archie Moore strikes a fighting pose at Kenwood Camp, in North Adams, Mass., where he is in training to meet Rocky Marciano. The light-heavyweight champ will try for Marciano's heavyweight title in their September 20th bout at Yankee Stadium in New York. And may the best man win that bout.

WORD FROM THE WISE—That should be sufficient when cowboy star Roy Rogers instructs a group of boys in the use of firearms at his home in California. Roy explained the use, care and safety features before taking the lads on a field trip on his ranch. He'll soon start his tour in the World's Championship Rodeo at Madison Square Garden.

NET GAINS—Roberta Browne, right, made a nice catch when shapely Carole Nielson dropped into that net, giving no more trouble than a loud scream. However, if Roberta hopes to win a prize in the Sausalito, Calif., Salmon Derby, where this took place, she'd better start snagging salmon instead of people. The Redwood Empire fishing event is sponsored each year by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce.

DUGOUT DOLLS—Mrs. Doris DeSpirito enjoys the company of her favorite fan, one-year-old daughter Donna, during a softball game between jockeys and their wives at the racetrack in Saratoga Springs, N. Y. Doris and Donna are the wife and daughter of Tony DeSpirito, young racing headliner who won 300 races in a single season while an apprentice rider three years ago.

SAFE AT THIRD—Bobby Thomson of Milwaukee is safe at third on a slide during a night game at Ebbets Field on Del Rice's single to center field. Third baseman Don Hoak prepares to throw to second base, where Rice, attempting to stretch his hit, was tagged in a run-down. Umpire is Tom Gorman. The Braves beat Brooklyn, 13-8.

CHANGE IN HORSEPOWER—These sulky drivers, who substituted the horsepower of motor scooters for that of just plain horses, found they had something to sulk about. They skidded around the muddy track much more slowly than if they had stuck to four-footers. The only ones not sulking were the horses which stayed in their dry stalls during the race. This was one of the highlights of a Sunday afternoon variety program on a sports field in the American sector of Berlin.

END OF HIS RIDE—William Gallardo, left, 15, of New York, is taking possession of the bicycle which Bill Grant, right, used to finish his 2400 mile cycling good will tour. Gallardo was selected for the honor by the Police Athletic League because of his leadership qualities. The boy was supposed to get the bike Grant started with, but it was stolen in Camden, N. J., while Grant was at lunch. This is newer.

GOOD CATCH—Taking the air over the waves, pretty Mary Ann Wallace makes a good catch on California's Catalina Island. Mary Ann is a nice catch for the camera, too, as she keeps in shape with some outdoor exercise which helps her stay so full of bounce.

FAST CROWD—Contestants in the Road Cycling Championships tourney swarm up the first slopes in the Alban Hills Circuit at Frascati, Italy. The course to be covered by cyclists from many countries in 14 laps around an area near Rome was 183 miles.

BACK AGAIN—Yankee manager Casey Stengel was on hand at a New York airport to greet infielder Billy Martin. Billy had just returned to the team after two years in the Army. He's on a pre-discharge furlough and started at shortstop in a game with Washington.

SURPRISE!—When Herb Fredman flipped a baited anchovy into some kelp beds at La Jolla, Calif., he was amazed when, 30 hectic minutes later, he brought up that 4-foot yellowtail. The big fish, one of the largest caught during nearby San Diego's 1955 season, flips the pointer to 42 pounds 12 ounces, and measures 26 inches in girth.

FINE-FEATHERED FRIENDS — Feeding pigeons in London's Trafalgar Square is colorfully dressed Kim Worldwar, 74-year-old Korean who served in the Rifle Brigade of the Eighth London Regiment in World War I. The outfit worn by Kim, who has lived in London for 50 years, could almost turn a pigeon's plumage pale.

Perry Como's Son May Enter The Catholic Priesthood

nel swim ... Perry Como's 15-year-old son, Ronnie, is mulling over entering the priesthood. Perry, a devout Catholic, is all for the idea. Incidentally, the elder Como dug out a straight-edged razor he had once as a barber in Canonsburg, Pa., and rode herd on Ronnie's first shave the other day. "Just touched up the character's Adam's apple," said Perry.

Lu Ann Simms has named her new seven-pounder, Cynthia Lee. Arthur Godfrey has gone on a diet — he put on 10 pounds during his vacation. Mike Stokely and Spring Mitchell (she totes in the question cards on his "Pantomime Quiz") head for the altar this October.

Eve Marie Saint, who'll sing in NBC-TV's musical version of "Our Town" this Monday, used to do a singing commercial on TV for a linoleum company. Her pay — $25 per shot — Capt. Richard McCutchen, the cooking Marine of "The $64,000 Question," is also quite an expert at judo. McCutchen owns a championship belt which attests to his prowess.

Dig that crazy quartet, dad: CBS-TV's new series, "Brave Eagle," stars a Cheyenne, a Hopi, a Sioux and Bert Wheeler ... Carolyn Leigh, who wrote the pop hit, "Young at Heart," as well as

Quotes In The News

By UNITED PRESS Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, in an address opening the 22nd season of the Christian culture series in Detroit:

"The Russians fear Communist China more than any other nation in the world. We may not hear anything of this for years but it is influencing those in Russia. The Communists' current bid for peace with the West is caused by their fear of China.

Mrs. Myrtle Power, baseball expert on the $64,000 question TV program, on why she is pulling for Boston or Chicago to win the American League pennant: "I don't like the Yankees because they think they're great and they aren't."

Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians on the American League pennant race: "I think Cleveland should win the pennant. I don't say we will, but we should."

Horace G. Smith, a Los Angeles supermarket operator who formerly operated a numbers racket in Detroit, explaining to a federal judge in Detroit why he did not pay income taxes on the profits of his gambling operations: "I thought I made money during the years I ran a house but my accountants said I didn't. So I didn't pay income taxes."

Reds Reject Inspection LONDON —UP— The Soviets rejected Tuesday a Japanese suggestion for an on-the-spot investigation of missing war prisoners in Russia. Soviet Ambassador Jakob Malik was reported as saying the current Russo-Japanese peace talks in London were the "only channel" for negotiations between the two countries.

Adult Ed. Clinic Set

A leadership clinic will be held in a joint meeting of the adult education groups at the Federated Club room in the Hutchinson County Library in Borger Sept. 22-23.

Dr. Per Stensland, head of the adult education program at Texas Tech, and John V. Gregory, executive associate, will be leaders of the clinic in which skills and techniques of the discussion program will be taken up.

Members of the adult education classes are invited to attend along with civic club members, groups, and the general public. Several members of the adult education board plan to attend the two-day sessions.

The clinic will be a continuation of the program planning workshop held last spring by Gregory and Stensland, according to Miss Jo Battle, head librarian of Hutchinson County.
