Greeks, Turks Clash In Battles On Cyprus

British Send Troops To End Second Day Of Rioting

NICOSIA, Cyprus — UP — Greeks and Turks clashed in mass battle with knives and clubs on the streets of Larnaca Friday. Britain sent its Middlesex regiment into action to stop it.

It was the second straight day of rioting between Turkish and Greek Cypriots. Thursday, Turks stoned Greek shops in at least three cities in demonstrations broken up by British troops using tear gas.

Fear of open civil war between the 100,000 Turks on Cyprus and the 400,000 Greeks has been a major worry for the British. The Greek Cypriots demand union with Greece; the Turks oppose it and have accused the Greeks of using "terrorism" to win their demands.

Turks and Greeks turned the main street of the south Cypriot city of 15,000 persons into a bloody battleground with the outbreak of rioting.

They boiled into the street in the early morning swinging knives, poles, clubs and barrel staves and locked in a mass brawl.

Women and children joined their men in the melee.

The fighters overturned automobiles and burned them.

British headquarters ordered the Middlesex regiment out in full force. The Tommies waded into the battle and broke it up but before dozens were hurt.

Thirteen persons were sent to a hospital, four in critical condition. Those hospitalized included seven Turks and six Greeks, four of them with critical injuries.

Capitol Hill Roundup

WASHINGTON — UP — The Senate has passed a housing program calling for construction of 125,000 public housing units during each of the next four years.

But Chairman Albert Rains of the House subcommittee on housing predicted Friday the House will severely slash the Senate program.

He predicted Congress will send President Eisenhower a bill calling for somewhere between 45,000 to 60,000 units.

That would be more to the President's liking. He requested a bill calling for only 35,000 units during each of the next two years.

Senate passage of the much bigger housing program Thursday was a sharp defeat for administration forces.

Other developments:

The House Appropriations committee met to act on a big capitol face-lifting program. The program is expected eventually to cost nearly $150 million.

UNIFORMS

The Senate Investigating subcommittee called capmaker Sol Schlesinger of Lawrence, N. Y., and Col. Louis H. Shirley of Ft. Lee, Va., for questioning about alleged "kickbacks" on military uniform contracts.

PASSPORTS

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said he has ordered a transcript of testimony by Louis Whelan, of New York, forwarded to the Justice Department for consideration of prosecution for treason.

LOBBYING

Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.) said he is "very pleased" that the Special Senate Lobbying committee found "no substance" to the charge Young "sold out" on the now vetoed natural gas bill.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland predicted "a substantial part" of President Eisenhower's 18-point priority legislative program will be passed by Congress this year.

MARVIN

Congressional testimony revealed that ex-lobbyist Langdon P. Marvin Jr. has been using free office space in the Library of Congress since 1947.

FIREMEN HAVE ONE CALL HERE

The only fire answered by the local fire department Thursday was at 11:05 a.m. at the Lewis Service Station, 200 N. Hobart.

"A Fordson tractor owned by the Western Fence Co. was on fire as a result of a wiring shorting and igniting the gas tank. Firemen answering the call reported that no damage resulted from the fire.

Ike Talks At Baylor

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WACO, Tex. — UP — President Eisenhower denounced world communism Friday as a "gigantic failure" and advised the Iron Curtain people to "walk fearlessly in the fullness of human freedom" behind the leadership of the West.

Mr. Eisenhower in the academic background of Baylor University, proposed an antidote to world communism: the creation of a worldwide belt of technical and scientific schools to provide "a great two-way avenue of communication" between the East and West.

President Eisenhower ... makes Texas talk

Crowds Throng To See Ike

By O. B. LLOYD JR.

WACO — UP — President Eisenhower returned to his native Texas Friday to deliver a major foreign policy speech, and only the weatherman failed to get into the spirit of welcoming the chief executive.

Waco's hotels were crowded with thousands of persons who either had tickets for the President's speech before a special University convocation or hoped to get a look at Mr. Eisenhower as he drove through the city in an air-conditioned automobile.

The Waco weather bureau predicted scattered showers during the day.

Observers intrigued by the question of whether the President planned any political conferences. Some 30 minutes at the end of his schedule was devoted to "seeing some people."

Inflation Threatens German Economy

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BONN, Germany — UP — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was deadlocked in disagreement with his top economic aides Friday on how to block West Germany's mounting threat of inflation.

He failed to resolve their differences at a five hour cabinet meeting Thursday night and said they would have to hold another session. They did not say when.

Adenauer called the emergency session to lay down a straight government policy line on measures to prevent the business boom from breaking into runaway inflation.

He ran into opposition from economic minister Ludwig Erhard, finance minister Fritz Schaeffer and the bank Deutscher Laender, West Germany's central note-issuing bank.

An uninformative communique issued after the meeting admitted the cabinet failed to reach agreement and said the discussion would continue at a later date.

West Germany's purse-string holders have become increasingly disturbed by mounting wages and prices and what they regard as excessive investments by big business.

They fear that once rearmament gets underway the present business boom might explode into inflation.

UDALL, Kan. — UP — A year ago Friday Udall was a typical south central Kansas farming community of 600—until nearly midnight when in 30 seconds the town was gone.

A giant tornado, which a few minutes before had flattened parts of the south, rode in on a heavy rain to obliterate the entire town of Udall.

When daylight came, Udall counted 83 dead. Every house and every business building was demolished or so heavily damaged that repair was impossible.

Families Wiped Out

For hours during the gray day that followed volunteer bulldozer drivers from Wichita, Kan., and other nearby communities poked their plow blades under fallen buildings, lifted them gently so searchers could peer underneath. Frequently a body was there. Entire families lost their lives in those awful 30 seconds.

That was the picture of Udall a year ago. It is a different place today.

The rubble that once was Udall—55,000 cubic yards of it—was bulldozed into a ravine near the demolished new high school, atop which a new high school playground is located.

New Buildings Rise

New residences and business houses have gone up. But the most imposing structure in the town is the new watch tower in the southwest corner of town. It is manned daily at this time of year from dusk to dawn in fair weather or foul.

Three times this year the whine of the tornado alarm atop the tower has sent Udall to newly constructed private and community storm shelters. They were false alarms, but Udall isn't taking any chances.

"We can get everyone at school in the Kennedy storm cave in four minutes," said Mrs. W. R. Creech, wife of the principal.

Pensions Issues In Primaries

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON — UP — The old age pension issue crowded into the Kefauver-Stevenson campaign Friday as a factor which may affect the outcome of their presidential primary contests in both Florida and California.

Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, contenders for the Democratic nomination, were both in Florida in the home stretch of their campaigns before the primary next Tuesday.

Florida Democrats will elect pledged delegates with 28 votes at the Democratic national convention. The California primary, involving 68 convention votes, comes a week later and ends the series of presidential primaries involving these two candidates.

Both states are havens for elderly citizens. In both the old age pension issue carries more weight than in many states.

Kefauver and his Florida backers have attacked Stevenson this week for his record on old age assistance while governor of Illinois. Stevenson supporters have cried "foul" and accused the Kefauver camp of distorting Stevenson's record with false statements and half-truths.

In a reply to Kefauver Thursday, Stevenson said that Kefauver "knows very well" that he, Stevenson, vetoed an old age pension bill while governor of Illinois only because "the Republican legislature refused to make the payments it authorized."

ILA Wants No Merger

BROWNSVILLE — UP — The International Longshoremen's Association was on record Friday as strongly opposed to a merger with the united AFL and CIO.

District President R. A. Massey said in a speech before the ILA's district convention here that the Longshoremen had invited the ILA to join them in a merger with the AFL and CIO.

"We are not interested in the invitation," he shouted. Delegates cheered enthusiastically.

William Bradley of New York, president of the national ILA, also drew cheers when he denied that the union ever "made a deal" with the Communist party.

He said he had been informed that an ex-Communist testified Tuesday before a Senate investigating committee that a "deal" was made last year between the union and Communists to fight the New York waterfront Commission.

Bradley contended that what actually happened was that someone asked his office for a letter of endorsement in an election "sometime in 1954 or 1955."

"We wrote the letter," he said, "which is the usual practice. But when we checked up on him we found he was a Communist and we had nothing more to do with him."

He said he could remember what election was involved in the incident.

Bradley made no mention in his speech of the fight between him and ILA vice president Tony Anastasia for control of Brooklyn Local 1816.

He had said earlier that the dispute would be settled at a meeting of the executive council of the ILA at New York sometime after the end of the convention.

Cancer Drive By Postmen Underway

Roy Bourland, president of the Gray County unit of the American Cancer Society, has announced a "Postmen's March on Cancer" will be held from now until the end of the month in an effort to reach the unit's Cancer Crusade goal.

Arrangements were made with Carl Moore, president of the Letter Carriers' Association, by Mrs. H. H. Hicks, who originated the Postmen's March in Pampa several years ago. It has been adapted since then by several cities in Texas, including Amarillo.

Pampans wishing to take part may place their contribution to cancer in an envelope addressed to "Postmen's March on Cancer, Pampa, Texas," place a 3-cent stamp on it and put it in their mailbox for pick up by the postmen.

Gray county's goal this year is $4,000, of which $2,300 has been raised. In previous years, the Postmen's March has netted as much as $600, Mrs. Hicks stated.

"The incidence of cancer in Gray County has nearly doubled this year over last year," Bourland explained. "Contributions to cancer help save lives through the Society's three-fold program of research, education and service."

'Little Mo,' Circus Elephant, Really Republican At Heart

By HARMON W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON —UP—"Little Mo," aged two and weighing 1,300 pounds, stuck her eating equipment through the iron pickets before the White House. She liked the grass and gobbled in some scattered blades left by the mowers. "Little Mo" is a baby elephant, one of the star performers here for Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus. "Dag-bumdest thing I ever saw," said circus press agent Zac Freedman, a man who has been rigging publicity stunts for a long time. "I could get away with this sort of thing at Hollywood and Vine, or in New York," Zac said. "But I expected to lose one valuable elephant not to mention my own life when I unloaded 'Little Mo' right outside the White House. It was wise, that's what you could call Washington."

The press agent maintains that the baby pachyderm, one of the principals of "The Greatest Show on Earth" is really a Republican at heart. "She liked the GOP grass she tramped in," he said. "She even had an eye cocked on Ike's putting green. She is so Republican she likes golf balls." The big show this year is featuring 10 baby elephants, who together tip the scales at something like 13,000 pounds. They form an elephant band, really. The kiddie trumpeters trumpet with their trumpets while keeping time with their feet on the cymbals. They rock and roll and do something that sounds a little like the song "Davy Crockett." These jungle critters were caught when very young and tender and were easy to train. They took a hankering to the hay from the fields of Illinois and Minnesota and Iowa and they like their purified water coming from tubes and buckets, instead of that out of pools populated by crocodiles.

Time was, right after World War II, when the big top had trouble with its elephants. The circus picked up a boatful of tired old beasts from the Germans as war surplus. These big tubs arrived here and a bunch of American handlers took over. The Americans spoke nothing but English. The elephants understood commands only in German. They understood a hook, for sure, but English, no. The crisis was finally solved by the importation of a crew of German handlers.

Jacoby On Bridge
By OSWALD JACOBY

West shrewdly opened a trump in today's hand, suspecting that dummy had ruffing power. In such cases every trump lead tends to deprive declarer of a ruffing trick. Declarer won the first trick in dummy with queen of hearts and saw that he could make his own five trumps, two ruffs in the dummy, and two top spades if he began to cross-ruff at once. One additional trick was needed. Declarer therefore led a diamond from the dummy at the second trick. East naturally played low, and South hopefully finessed the jack. This lost to the queen, and South quailed inwardly as he waited for another trump lead. Much to South's relief, West returned the ten of spades. South properly deduced that West was out of trumps since there was nothing in the dummy to make West change his defense if he had another trump. Declarer won the spade in dummy with the king and returned dummy's last diamond. East played low again, and South had to decide between the king and nine of diamonds. This might be a difficult problem if East were an expert with card-iron nerves. Such a player might nonchalantly play a low diamond even if he had the ace. In this case South didn't credit East with such nerve and gullie. South assumed West had the ace and he finessed the nine. West had to win with the ace of diamonds. His spade return went to South's ace, and declarer made sure to cash the king of diamonds before the mice got it. Now he could ruff spades in the dummy and clubs in his own hand, making his ten tricks.

New Officers Of El Progresso Club Are Installed During Luncheon Meet

A covered-dish luncheon and installation service was held by El Progresso Club Tuesday in the ranch home of Mrs. Grundy Morrison, north of city. The luncheon table was decorated with miniature ranch scenes, and a saddle and boot motif was used on the place-cards.

Mrs. Sam B. Cook conducted the installation service in the absence of Mrs. Carlton Nance, outgoing president. Installed were Mrs. Bob McCoy, president; Mrs. S. A. Blundell, vice-president; Mrs. Roy Johnson, secretary and reporter; Mrs. Howard E. Johnson, treasurer; and Mrs. D. V. Burton, parliamentarian.

For the ceremony, Mrs. Cook read a notarized letter from Mrs. Nance, using a "Lazy El P Ranch" theme.

"This is a good spread," the letter stated. "I have had a good life on the ranch. But the time comes when the reins have to be handed to another person. Mac (Mrs. McCoy), you have been on this range for several years and know how it should be done. So, you are to be the boss and run the spread to the best of your ability. Don't forget to call all the hands together about twice a month and consult with them about the business of the spread."

"Since you have been my foreman up to now, you will need someone else for that job," Mrs. Cook read. "I am asking you to use Blundy (Mrs. Blundell), who is a good worker and will be able to keep all the work well-planned and keep all the hands at work."

"Smiley Johnson (Mrs. Roy Johnson) will be able to do the book work and is at the ranch all the time," the letter continued. "Smiley will be glad to do this for us, I am sure. . . We are going to have to get someone on the ranch to handle the money. Honest Slim Johnson (Mrs. Howard Johnson) is the one I would suggest. You may have problems about laws of the range. When this happens, you can always depend upon Sheriff Burton (Mrs. D. V. Burton) to tell you what is the thing to do."

"With the help of these people and all the hands, the ranch will be well-bossed and run," the letter concluded. "Lawyer Cook will give you this letter which is your authority to take over the Lazy El P Ranch and run it this next year."

Following the installation, Mrs. D. V. Burton outlined the program for next year. Mrs. McCoy announced her committee members, who were Mmes. J. F. Curtis, Grundy Morrison, Tom Perkins and George Newberry, social; Mmes. S. A. Blundell, Richard Crews, D. V. Burton and J. E. Kirby, yearbook; and Mmes. Harold chin, a touch at each nostril and on the earlobes. Powder, in a shade echoing the foundation, is then applied.

Next the eyes are carefully outlined, both upper and lower lids, with eye pencil — in a "smiling" manner. This is intensified with an even application of eye shadow on the upper lip. Mascara is then applied on the upper lashes only. The lips are fully rounded in a pert, mysterious smile, and filled in with a lustrous shade of lipstick.

Hairstyles by Michel of Helena Rubinstein complete "The Etruscan Look". These are fashioned after authentic coiffures form the Etruscan paintings. They are high coils, with saucy chignons, apiculis and pony tails to complement the graceful features of the make-up and give an added note of beguiling youthfulness.

Pampa News Women's Editor

COMBINING INSPIRATION from the 5th century B. C. paintings of ancient Etruria — which she studied in Italy recently — with 20th century A. D. fashions just introduced for this spring by the haute couture, Helena Rubinstein has created a new make-up. She calls it "The Etruscan Look."

WHILE IN PARIS recently, Madame Rubinstein visited the Etruscan exhibition at the Louvre. Her sensitive eye immediately saw the flattering possibilities of transposing into modern idiom the ageless beauty of Etruscan women. Never doing things by half, she then travelled to Italy, where she pursued her research among the famous Etruscan shrines at Tarquinii and Chiusi. Back in Paris, she set to work evolving "The Etruscan Look", which she then introduced in her famous salon on the Faubourg St. Honore. Immediately, it caught the vivid imagination of Frenchwomen — and now it is available to their American sisters.

The first impression given by "The Etruscan Look" is that of a serene and smiling countenance touched with sophisticated mystery and a trace of mockery. The features are refined and faintly aquiline — giving, with the arched eyebrows, upturned lips and pointed jaw, a delicately fluted look.

Archaeological and linguistic records of the Etruscan national history relate to a period covering at least 700 years — from the 8th to the 1st centuries, B. C. They formed a homogeneous nation on the Tyrrhenian side of Central Italy before its conquest and unification by the Romans. In fact, their painting constitutes the only extant group of large-scale paintings of the classical world before the Roman period, and thus it's from ancient Etruria that the first chapter of the history of Italian painting comes to us.

Women of all types will be flattered by this "Look" because of its beautiful simplicity and the fact it's a "natural" to blend with the slim and uncomplicated lines of current fashion. The only difference between a fair and dark skinned woman wearing "The Etruscan Look" is that one wears a light shade of foundation and the other wears a darker shade — and similarly harmonized lipsticks, rouges, powder and eye make-up.

To achieve this "Look" the features are gracefully slenderized with make-up. This is done by applying liquid rough over the chosen foundation in a half-moon on the cheekbone, and gently blending upward. For added drama a dot of rouge is applied at the tip of the Following the meeting, a household shower was held for Mrs. Elmer Fisher.

Guests present were Mrs. W. O. Day of Independence, Kans., and Mrs. Don Morrison of Pampa. Members present were Mmes. S. A. Blundell, D. V. Burton, Sam B. Cook, Richard Crews, J. F. Curtis, W. R. Ewing, Howard E. Johnson, Roy Johnson, Knox Kinard, P. C. Ledrick, Bob McCoy, Grundy Morrison, George Walstad, Harold Wright and Tom Perkins.

SISTER "CASEY JONES"—It's not often you'll see a nun in the cab of a locomotive. Sister Ann Dominic decided she'd learn more about trains and what makes them run some BIE day in Cincinnati, Ohio. That's the one day a year when the local public and parochial schools are closed so that the teachers may learn firsthand the workings of business and industry. Giving Sister Ann some pointers is engineer E. R. Epperly.

His former pastorates were the First Baptist Church of Halle and the First Baptist Church of Miami. Rev. Gene Garrison will be the guest speaker at the 8 p.m. evening service.

Monday, the Training Union council meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. The film, "Take the Fourth Part," will be shown. Wednesday, the Mid-week service will be held at 7:45 p.m. with Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor, leading the service.

On Thursday, the Business Women's Circle of the W. M. U. will meet at 8:45 p.m. for a supper meeting. The youth organization will have their regular meetings during the week.

The following members of the Church will attend the Southern Baptist Convention, which will convene in Kansas City Monday: Mrs. H. M. Stokes, Mr. & Mrs. R. L. Edmondson and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stroble.

Christian Science Services

Man's God-given ability to cope effectively with the false suggestions of evil will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday. Nehemiah's monumental achievement in rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem in the face of false rumors, treachery, and other evil works, will be featured in the Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson-Primer entitled: "Ancient and Modern Neoromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, 393-12: "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

Three young Chinese Christian nurses, two of them from the Malay Peninsula, are now at work traveling from village to village (or, more correctly, "from long-house to long-house" — a whole village of related families living in one vast house) in the Kapit district of Sarawak, Borneo. Serving there under the Methodist Church they are ministering to the physical needs of the Ibans, or Sea Dyaks, a primitive people who a few decades ago were the famed and the feared head-hunting "wild men of Borneo." Miss Pearl Lee is nurse at Nanga Mijong, where she is in charge of the Methodist Clinic and Dispensary. Among the long-houses, Miss Yong Lo Lian is at the central station in Kapit and has a Child Welfare Clinic. Miss Wang Yu Tian, of Penang, Malaysia is at Nanga Mijong.

Women In The Church

The Women's Division of Christian Service, Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, is planning for the establishment of a hospital and a training center for nurses near Wonju, Korea. This is the center of a great industrial section, southeast of Seoul, where there is little medical service for hundreds of thousands of people. The Division hopes this year to erect a 120-bed hospital, and to recruit personnel for the project.

Miss Eleanor Powell, of Beverly Hills, Calif., who teaches the Sunday school class in the "Faith of Our Children" TV program over Station KRCA, won two out of the eight local "Emmies" of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Miss Powell was acclaimed by the 8,000 people attending the awards ceremony. She was named by the Academy as "the most outstanding female personality" for the second consecutive year, and was cited as having the best children's program. Her program is televised at Beverly Hills Presbyterian Church.

Monday, the Training Union council meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. The film, "Take the Fourth Part," will be shown. Wednesday, the Mid-week service will be held at 7:45 p.m. with Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor, leading the service.

Women In The Church

Dr. Gordon Bennett, executive vice-president of McMurry College, will be the speaker for the two morning worship services at the First Methodist Church at 8:30 and 10:55 o'clock on Sunday. The Carol and Wesley choirs will sing "At Thy Feet, Our God and Father" by Rousseau, for the 8:30 service. The Sanctuary Singers will sing "Open Our Eyes" by Macfarlane, with J. W. Edminister as soloist, for the 10:55 service.

For the 7:30 p.m. service a special religious film will be shown. The morning worship service is broadcast over radio station KPND every Sunday from 10 to 11.

The Holy Souls' Youth are honoring the 8th grade graduates and the Pampa Senior High graduates who are members of the church with a breakfast in the Parish Hall, Sunday morning after the 8 o'clock Mass.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. CLARENCE M. BROWN
Pastor of Foursquare Gospel Church
Pampa, Texas

THE NEED OF PRAYER IN THIS HOUR

Luke 11:1 "Lord teach us to pray."

Prayer is to the Christian life, what food is, to the physical body. If a child does not have the right food, it will become weak and undernourished, and sickly. We find that many Christians will be the same way in their Spiritual life if they are not instructed to pray for their needs and also to realize the strength and power through prayer for others.

D. L. Moody always instructed his converts to pray and read their Bible 15 minutes every day and they would never turn away from serving the Lord. I believe that you will find it will be easy to contact the Lord in time of trouble when you have prayed and read the Word before hand.

II Timothy 2:15: "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of truth."

I have used this Scripture to shew this, That the man who has prayed well has studied well. . . . For when man begins to study God's Word he will find himself on his face before God in prayer. As Isalah of old when he saw the Lord, he cried "woe is me . . ."

The Word of God is as a mirror shewing us ourselves as the Lord sees us, and Prayer is the Remedy for the weak vessel.

There is mighty power in prayer. It links together two great extremes, the weakness of man, and the almighty power of an infinite God. He waits to work in behalf of that one who will put his trust in the Lord, and not fear.

God has promised to answer the weakest child, when He said, "Ask, and ye shall receive; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you." The Lord is the same today, and He hears and answers those who will seek His face in prayer, and call upon Him for others.

I am made to think of Daniel as a great prayer warrior, who sought God beforehand, and when the trouble came his way he did not have to cry unto his God all day as did the worshippers of Baal. . . . They cried from morn until evening cutting themselves and crying out for their god to answer. Their god had eyes, but could not see; ears, but could not hear; a mouth, but could not speak. But, Thank God, any man, woman, boy, or girl can speak in the faintest whisper and "OUR GOD" will hear. . . . and He will answer. Isa. 59:1 "Behold the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither His ear heavy that it cannot hear."

One who cannot see outside the circle of his own needs is one who says prayers and not one who prays. . . . for prayer will make one see the needs of others. And his concern will be for others, that his neighbor will have the same opportunity of knowing Christ as his Saviour, and not just One Whom he can receive benefits from in time of trouble.

Men who have most fully illustrated Christ in their character, and have most powerfully affected the world for Him, have been men of prayer that have spent time alone with God.

Charles Simeon devoted the hours from four until eight in the morning to God. Mr. Wesley spent two hours daily in prayer; he began at four in the morning. John Fletcher stained the walls of his room by the breath of his prayers. John Welch, a Scottish minister, spent eight to ten hours in prayer. He kept a blanket to wrap up in at night as he cried out for the souls of men. One his wife complained when she found him weeping on the ground in prayer: "O woman, I have the souls of three thousand to answer for, and I know not how it is with many of them."

This is a day when men ought to pray and not to faint. Realizing we are our brothers keeper, and Prayer is the key that unlocks heaven's door.

Mantle Homers Again, Leads Yankees To Win Over Tigers

By UNITED PRESS
Make believe there really is a lucky Mantle and then concede it'll continue his current slugging prowess through the entire season. If you can — and why not team for a while? — Then the New York Yankees' 24-year-old center-fielder is going to be a composite of Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Al Gehrig and George Sisler in his greatest years!

It sounds fantastic but that's not you get if you promote Mantle's slugging in the Yankees' 25-35 games over the 154-game campaign. Besides, isn't that what a Yankee publicity man have us saying all along?

The red-hot Oklahoma kid went another rampage Thursday when he smashed five hits, including his 17th homer of the year in four singles, leading the Yankees to an 11-4 victory over a Detroit Tigers.

Leads Other Departments
In addition to homers, he now leads the majors with a .421 average—66 hits, 39 runs scored, 39

January Is in Lead in Dallas Open

By ED FITE
DALLAS—UP—Slender Don nary, a fledgling professional who has never finished higher than fourth in his year and four years as a pro, carried a one-hole lead into the second round of the $30,000 Dallas Centennial on Friday.

A hometown product who flirt with golf fame amateurwise as member of three NCAA championship golf teams at North Texas State College, January toured short, but tricky par-35-35-70 eastern Hollow Country Club layout in 33-31-64, a new course record, in Thursday's first round.

He had his short iron game kicking to near perfection as he chipped up lead to the pin on all 12 holes and carded a 65 on 35, he calmly rammed home 10 of 10 and 20 feet for birdies if gave him his working margin toward the $8,000 top money. Missing him was a real veteran of the links was 45-year-old Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, who spends more time on his golf course, with a 32-33-65 and was devoid of a single except a golf shot. "I just hit 'em there and sank 'em," the aged Ransom said.

Strike further back with four-teeed 65's were massive Mike Sank, the season's second money winner from Gossingers, young Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., and the lean one from Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, Mario Gonzales.

Jackson Bradley of Houston, Fred Haas of New Orleans, Fred Williams of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.

Overall, 35 players bested par. Some of the better-known names of golf were not among them. Ben Hogan, for example, tied up with a 71. Cary Middleton and Dutch Harrison with 72. Byron Nelson withdrew after finishing a 28 on the front side.

runs batted in and 117 total bases. It helps to explain why the Yankees lead the American League by three games when those figures are translated into a 154-game season. For 154 games, he'd get 585 at-bats, 171 runs, 246 hits, 35 doubles, 4 triples, 75 home runs, 514 total bases, 171 RBIs for a .421 percentage.

Fantastic? Look at it this way: Such a performance would break Ruth's season homer mark by 15 and the Babe's total base record of 457. It would top Cobb's 430 average in his greatest season. In addition, it would fall six short of Ruth's run scored mark, 11 shy of Sisler's record for hits and 13 below Gehrig's RBI standard.

Yankees Get 17 Hits
Mantle's slugging proved catching Thursday as the Yankees blasted out 17 hits for the second

Baylor's Relay Team To Pay Own Way To Relays

By HAL WOOD
SAN FRANCISCO—UP—In a scandalized era of "slush funds," "under the table pay-offs," and big recruiting programs, it is interesting to note that some amateur athletes still are playing for the fun of it.

Did you note, for instance, a small story the other day that said Baylor University was sending its sprint relay team all the way from Texas to Modesto, Calif., to run in the California relays — and paying its own way?

These are the boys who forced Texas to a new world record of 40.1 earlier this year — and they are confident they can beat the Longhorns in another meeting. So they are paying their own expenses to Modesto for the privilege of trying.

Meet Director Tom Moore, who set a world record himself in the hurdles while at California 20 years ago, was so shocked by the offer that he went to bed for a full day just to think things over. Moore, you may recall, was under a bit of a cloud with the AAU a couple of months ago when that August body was investigating over-pay to outstanding athletes. He was completely exonerated.

But to have a group of athletes come to his relays without having expenses paid was like a breath of fresh air to Moore.

"I told the boys from Baylor when they called that I didn't have any more funds to bring them up here," said Moore. "So I was nearly flabbergasted when their coach, Jack Patterson, told me they would pay their own way."

Patterson, incidentally, used to run against Moore in the bygone era of the "Simon game" athletes.

Almost Same Time
The Baylor announcement came just about the same time that UCLA was practically kicked out of the Pacific Coast Conference, and just a day before Coach Dallas Ward pleaded for a $20,000 fund to help recruit athletes for the University of Colorado.

It was as refreshing as a cool drink after all the foul-smelling stories stirred up by the AAU, the college fathers and others interested in purifying the American athlete.

And speaking of purity, now that the PCU is in the act of just about eliminating all its teams from the Rose Bowl, how about a new pact?

The Pacific Coast Conference vs. the Ivy League!

Observers traveling with the club insist, too, that Conley is throwing as of old but then add, tapping a finger against their foreheads:

"The question is, how is he up here?"

Conley, plagued by a sore arm which put him on the sidelines last August after he tore a shoulder muscle, admitted in the spring straight game. Ed Robinson contributed a grand slam homer and Joe Collins and Andy Carey also homered as the Yankees rolled to their eighth victory in their last nine games.

Willie Jones, beamed by Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcombe during spring training, walloped two homers and a single to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-4 victory over the Dodgers in the only other major league game.

'C-Day' For Milwaukee Today; Conley Is Off Disabled List

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—UP—This is C-Day for the Milwaukee Braves. That stands for Conley and a possible championship. Because big Gene, the sore-armed pitcher, comes off the disabled list Friday with glowing medical reports. Nor can you blame the Braves for cheering.

Because there they are, right up at the top, and to date this season they've been completely without the services of the towering spring by Manager Charley Grimm as "the key to our pennant hopes."

It is to be hoped, for the sake of a tight National League race, that the cheering isn't premature. Yet there seems to be a strange concentration on the mental aspects of the Conley case.

"His arm feels great," Grimm reported as he prepared to welcome the six-foot, eight-inch right-hander back to the active playing list. "And he has the right mental attitude."

Observers traveling with the club insist, too, that Conley is throwing as of old but then add, tapping a finger against their foreheads:

"The question is, how is he up here?"

Conley, plagued by a sore arm which put him on the sidelines last August after he tore a shoulder muscle, admitted in the spring

straight game. Ed Robinson contributed a grand slam homer and Joe Collins and Andy Carey also homered as the Yankees rolled to their eighth victory in their last nine games.

Willie Jones, beamed by Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcombe during spring training, walloped two homers and a single to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-4 victory over the Dodgers in the only other major league game.

Kurrell Still Hopes To Make Girls Track Olympic Squad

TODAY'S SPORTRAIT
By SCOTT BAILLIE
SAN FRANCISCO—UP— Pamela Kurrell, one female discus thrower who actually doesn't scare you to death, trained her sights Friday on winning a trip to the Olympic Games even if she has been kicked off a local track squad for being "too high and mighty."

"Mrs. Roxanne Andersen, the Olympic coach who handles the Laurel Club here, told me I had better find somebody else to work with because I was getting too high and mighty," the 17-year-old blonde declared with a toss of her honey tresses. "Heck it wasn't my fault if I was an hour late for practice once. I'm not sure where the money will come from to get me to the Olympic trials but I still intend to be in Australia this fall."

Pamela, who weighs 128 pounds and stands five-foot-six, recently opened her campaign by taking first place in the team standings of a regional AAU meet won by Mrs. Andersen's club.

In the process, she set a Pacific Association women's mark with a discus throw of 125 feet, seven inches. She also won the javelin with a 113 foot toss. Her best effort in the spear is 120 feet.

Such distances are peanuts compared to the world records but Miss Kurrell figures she may break at least the discus standard of 185 feet, 1-2 inches by 1960.

"She has terrific potential," Mrs. Andersen says of her former charge.

And Dink Templeton, the famed track coach, adds, "I've never seen a girl athlete with more ability. If she wants to buckle down she doesn't have to worry about anybody. But my gosh, have you seen the kind of a field she trains on?"

The girl usually is found working out in her Pan American sweat togs at a rundown playground in the city's gas-house district. There she sticks to easy throws with discus because the javelin might impale somebody in the crowded area.

Fam had her chance to deliver that sore arms can become a mental hazard.

"A lot of pitchers worry after having a sore arm," he asserted. "Many of them are afraid to cut loose again for fear that the arm will go bad again. But that isn't going to happen to me."

So what happened?

Conley's arm went bad again in spring training and he was left behind in Florida to bake it out as the club came north and opened the season without him.

You can understand why Grimm is a bit jittery as he welcomes Conley back with the club.

Grim needs a pennant, according to reports, to hold his job. A Conley who was sound in every department would, Grimm admits, "be a tremendous lift."

The 25-year-old Gene was the wonder of the American Association in 1953 at Toledo, where he was sent to develop a curve after an 11-4 season at Milwaukee. Returning in 1954 he had a 14-9 mark and was hotter than an electric blanket with a short circuit early last season. By mid-July he had won 11 games. Then came the arm trouble and he was through.

"I've been watching him throw and he looks great," Grimm says. "We'll know for sure when he makes his first start, when we get home from this road trip."

It will be an interesting afternoon for Conley, Grimm and the entire National League.

Pioneers Victims Of Pampa Oilers

After taking a night off, the Pampa Oilers came roaring back to topple the Clovis Pioneers in the first of a three game series, 11-9, here Thursday evening.

Pampa leading by three runs in the ninth found the Pioneers able to sneak across one run. Then the Oilers Buddy Woods came in rolled after Clovis' Thomas had come through with a double. Woods was then able to retire the side without getting into any serious trouble.

The Oilers had been decked with the Pioneers at eight apiece till the locals came to bat in the eighth. Pampa's Frank Kempa got a free pass to first, being hit on the wrist by Pioneers pitcher, Derring. Kempa scored as visitors Walt Koopman made a bobble to first baseman Gordon Thomas. Oilers Lynn Tucker then hit a screaming double to center field driving in two runs before Clovis could put out the fire.

Rightfielder Line Boyd hit two homers for the Pioneers, one with two aboard and the other with nobody on. Oilers Jimmy Robinette also collected a four bagger with one on.

Pampa's Robinette and Lynn Tucker had a night on the base paths with each getting a stolen base which ran Tucker's total to 11. Only two errors were committed in the game being made by Clovis' Walt Koopman.

The Oilers striving to stay in operation for the remainder of the season had only an attendance of 359 which was hampered due to cold weather. Pampa and Clovis meet again tonight at Oiler Park with Red Dial slated to twirl for the Oilers.

Nehru Has Added Algeria To His Diplomatic Interests

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India has added the Algerian situation to the long list of his diplomatic interests.

He has offered a detailed proposal to bring France and the Algerian Nationalists together to end the increasingly dangerous revolt.

Nehru made the proposal in his role of Asian "neutralist" peace maker.

In the same role, he is likely to have something to say soon about the breakdown of Singapore independence talks in London.

Chief Minister David Marshall, who led the Singapore delegation in London, stopped off in New Delhi on his way home to ask Nehru's advice about the next step.

An Outspoken Man
That he will get it, there can be no doubt, Nehru is an outspoken man with advice on world problems.

He is also a very influential man in parts of Asia and Africa, two continents which are emerging from "colonialism."

Marshall, arriving in New Delhi from London, called Nehru "the leader of Asian democracy."

Nehru is unlikely to decline that title. He assumed the position of

Montgomery's TV Series To Take Breather

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK — UP— Robert Montgomery's regular TV drama series will take its fifth breather this summer with a stock company again dropping into the abandoned slot.

"It's a matter of economics," Montgomery explains frankly. "It takes money to keep a show like our regular one on the air and we just don't have the budget for it in the summer."

"What makes our summer stock company cheaper are the limitations in production—fewer cameras, fewer sets, lighter fare. But when I say lighter fare, I don't mean poorer fare—some of the things we've done in the past on our summer show, I would have liked to have had on our winter program."

Montgomery's summer company, a July 2 through Sept. 8 entry, will include Jan Miner, Charles Drake and Tom Middleton. Montgomery would like to add his daughter, Elizabeth, to the summer crew, but she has a banking to do a Hollywood film.

His immediate problem, however, is his show next Monday—"Who"—one of the most ambitious projects he's tackled on his NBC-TV hour.

"It's a play that proceeds on the theory that man can be seen in different ways by those around him," said Montgomery. "One fellow may think of him as brilliant; another think he's an idiot. He may be a brave guy to his wife, but a coward to his assistant."

"We're having different scenes play the same man in different situations. It's a pretty interesting approach."

Montgomery, who keeps a firm hand on the script chosen for the show, is looking for one for himself right now.
