Committees To Probe Service Controversy

Secretary Of Defense Wilson Says Disputes 'Exaggerated'

By CHARLES CORDRY
WASHINGTON — UP — Two Senate subcommittees Tuesday served notice they will investigate inter-service controversies over missiles and air power despite Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's claim that squabbling has been exaggerated.

Capitol Hill Roundup

WASHINGTON — UP — Senate-House negotiators expected to reach final agreement Tuesday on a new compromise farm bill acceptable to President Eisenhower.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), announced that his armed services subcommittee on air power will take testimony this week on the "positions" of the Army, Navy and Air Force in the missile field.

The subcommittee, Symington said, also will inquire into the Navy's mission in the field of air power, including both its primary and secondary missions.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) said his military appropriations subcommittee also will "look into this mess" stirred up by bitter inter-service rivalries over roles and missions.

Wilson drove the feud underground at least temporarily Monday with disclaimers from top military leaders that their differences on strategy have reached the shuffling stage.

Meanwhile, the Army continued to make proud claims for its Nike anti-aircraft missile — a main bone of contention in the dispute.

Elimination of the alternate plan approved by the House which would raise supports for these crops about 16 per cent this year for those producers who cut acreage restrictions program.

Adoption of the Senate — voted plan to boost price supports for oats, rye, grain sorghums and parity from the already-announced 70 per cent level. This provision is acceptable to the administration.

Other developments:
FOREIGN AID
The House Foreign Affairs committee was expected to complete action by nightfall on the administration's $4.9 billion foreign aid program.

FLOOD CONTROL
The House Appropriations committee sent to the House floor for action a $42.9 million appropriation bill for flood control and navigation projects in fiscal 1957.

SOBELOFF
Southern Democratic Senators again attacked the long-stalled nomination of Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff to the federal bench.

WHITE
Senate investigators disclosed that alleged Communist spy Harry Dexter White tried to block harsh gold shipment to Nationalist China in 1945.

RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Four Pampa High School students have been awarded scholarships, three of which were given by individuals, Miss Evelyn Milam, high school counselor, has announced. Receiving the two scholarships given by M. K. Brown were Ted Swindle, left, and Miss Jowannah English, center; while Miss Paula Stephenson, right, was awarded a scholarship to Draughan's Business College for being the outstanding commercial student. Not shown is Bill Hogan, who received a scholarship given by Dr. T. J. Wright.

Air-Dropped H-Bomb Called 'Sanitary'

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY AT KWAJALEIN — UP — Atomic officials disclosed Tuesday that the air-dropped hydrogen bomb lived up to its advance billing as a radio-actively "sanitary" weapon.

Reports from radiological stations throughout the Marshall Islands showed "no increase in background radiation" as a result of Monday's explosion.

That was because the shot was a high air burst. Most of the radio-activity speeded into the atmosphere, where it was widely diffused without a heavy early fallout.

Cloud Drifts Harmlessly
The 100-mile long radio-actively cloud was reported drifting harmlessly over the open ocean north of the Marshalls.

Reports from ships, planes and land stations throughout the region surrounding the proving ground "showed no significant radio-actively fallout at any point outside Bikini atoll." And at Bikini atoll, the fallout was "relatively little."

Fast officials also disclosed that Namu Island, the flat pancake of coral in Bikini lagoon 10,000 feet below the burst, suffered little damage. The principal reason was that there was relatively little construction on Namu.

Instrument Towers Damaged
However, instrument towers and other structures on nearby islands showed the effect of the bomb's slamming blast. Officials gave no details, but they said these structures showed "varying degrees of damage, depending on their proximity to the burst."

Estes And Adlai In Quiet TV Debate

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON — UP — Sen. Estes Kefauver's absenteeism in the Senate was the only issue which produced anything like verbal fireworks between Adlai E. Stevenson and Kefauver in their nationally televised debate Monday night.

Otherwise, the rival Democratic presidential hopefuls found little to disagree over. Even the absenteeism discussion was mild in tone.

Kefauver started the exchange by saying he had refrained in his campaign from personal attacks on Stevenson. But he said was "shocked" when Stevenson recently accused him of having a record of high absenteeism from Senate sessions.

Kefauver did not deny the absenteeism figures Stevenson had cited but said there were reasons for the absenteeism which Stevenson should have realized. Kefauver said most of the absenteeism occurred during periods when he was conducting his crime investigations across the country, when he was out campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952 and when he was involved in a hot re-election battle in 1954.

He commented that Stevenson himself was frequently absent from his former post as governor of Illinois during the 1952 presidential campaign.

Stevenson replied that the figures he cited came from the Congressional Quarterly. But he said he would "accept" Kefauver's explanation of the absenteeism.

Only one other time in the debate did the two candidates seem to be on the verge of a major disagreement. That occurred when Kefauver said it was "inconsistent" to criticize the Eisenhower administration for lagging in guided missile and nuclear weapon production and at the same time propose that nuclear tests be stopped.

Stevenson quickly retorted that while he had proposed a halt to new nuclear tests, "I never suggested halting development of guided missiles. . . all weapons should be developed so we can keep ahead of our enemies."

Under the terms of the resolution, the convention, after firing the committee, would then hold a caucus by senatorial districts to recommend new members.

Present members of the committee would be invited to return to the committee if they took a pledge to support the nominees named at the national convention.

H-BOMB BLAST

Hydrogen bomb fireball erases pre-dawn darkness over Namu Island in Bikini Atoll where the United States made its first airdrop of a thermo-nuclear weapon. Fireball is shown 15 seconds after detonation. The bomb was dropped from a B-52 jet bomber at 50,000 feet and exploded two miles above the target.

Monday's case was started by some Union Pacific Railroad workers who objected to joining the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. The Nebraska Supreme Court ruled in their favor — against the railroad and 14 unions — on grounds that the federal law impermissibly works "freedom of association."

But Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said "the requirement for financial support of the collective bargaining agency by all who receive the benefits of its work is within the power of Congress under the commerce clause . . ."

Monday's case was started by some Union Pacific Railroad workers who objected to joining the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. The Nebraska Supreme Court ruled in their favor — against the railroad and 14 unions — on grounds that the federal law impermissibly works "freedom of association."

George Harrison, president of the clerks union, called the decision a "setback for anti-union forces and utopian." He said unions will continue to work for a change in Taft-Hartley and repeal of state right-to-work laws.

Board members present were Branson, president; R. M. Brown, vice-president; Joe Fischer, secretary; John Pitts, business manager; Bernard Johnson, Delmar V. Carr, Frank Dial, Jake Osborn and M. C. Overton. Branson was the presiding officer.

Another board meeting will be held Friday afternoon at 5:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce conference room to see how the pledge campaign is progressing.

The Pampa News will publish the names of Oiler supporters, those contributing to the team, each day in the paper.

Follows in Brother's Footsteps
One of the gunmen, Albert J. Vito, 21, was trying to follow in the bloody footsteps of his brother, Sheriff mariner Kohman said. The brother, Frank Vito Jr., was killed in an attempt to hold up the Southwest Bank of St. Louis, Mo., in 1953.

The wounded woman, Mrs. Yvonne M. Sielaff, 27, was in good condition at a Marinette, Wis., hospital six miles from Peshtigo. But Kohman said the bullet had shattered her jaw and doctors will have to operate, perhaps leaving some of the lead in her jawbone.

Open Fire With Pistols
The Chicago youths burst into the bank with the hammers back on their pistols and opened fire "without even hollering it was a holdup," the sheriff said.

The bullets zipped among the four persons in the bank and one hit Mrs. Sielaff as she sat in a chair. The Chicagoans, apparently flustered by their own gunfire, snatched about $900 from Mrs. Sielaff's husband, also a bank teller, and fled in a red and white car.

Deputies and volunteer posse members were on their trail within minutes.

G. O. P., Demo State Conventions Underway

G. O. P.
HOUSTON — UP — Texas Republicans gathered Tuesday to go through the formality of endorsing President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon, but four controversial issues were expected to bring perhaps some lively debate.

J. A. Gooch, Fort Worth attorney, was to bring the keynote speech as the GOP state convention opened at 10 a. m. in Sam Houston Coliseum. Gooch also is to serve as temporary chairman of the convention.

None of the four issues is expected to interfere seriously with the principal business of the convention — the election of 54 delegates to the national convention Aug. 20 in San Francisco.

The biggest controversy is expected to come up over an attempt to endorse the Bricker amendment. But a proposal to define the party's stand on the delicate desegregation issue may also bring a lively debate.

Other issues, perhaps of less controversy, include a resolution favoring a reduced foreign aid spending program and a resolution dealing with the farm problem.

"We realize we're playing with dynamite when such things as desegregation are brought up," one delegate said. "Maybe it's not smart politics. But we feel we should clarify the issue insofar as the party is concerned whether it's smart politics or not."

But the adoption of resolutions is not expected to interfere with the harmony of electing delegates and backing the President and the vice president.

It will be in marked contrast to the stormy state convention of 1952 that saw two delegations going to the national convention.

Demos
DALLAS — UP — The largest county delegation in the state will go against the will of Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson Tuesday and try to pressure the state Democratic convention into firing its executive committee.

The huge Harris county (Houston) group of loyalists want to throw out the committee that followed Gov. Allan Shivers into the Republican voting column four years ago.

It will be a direct rebuke to Johnson, who pleaded at a rally Monday night to let the committee members stay in until their terms expire in September in the interests of harmony.

Few Controversial Points
The dismissal issue will be one of the few controversial points as Johnson is expected to get an overwhelming endorsement as a "favorite son" candidate for President and easily gain control of Texas' whopping 56 votes at the national Democratic convention.

Johnson won a landslide victory in precinct and county conventions earlier this month to gain control of the Democratic party in Texas from Shivers.

But he was booed loudly Monday night when he issued his plea not to fire the committee of Shivers conservatives.

Amid a chorus of cat calls, one loyalist shouted, "they threw us out."

"I do not want to emulate them in any way," Johnson replied.

Rayburn, who will not be at the convention Tuesday because his sister, Miss Lu is gravely ill in Boston, earlier had made a plea for "temporary tolerance."

Johnson said the most important job was victory for the Democrats in November.

"Personally, I would welcome the prodigals," Johnson said, in a personal invitation for those who voted for Eisenhower in 1952 to return to the party.

Gerald Mann of Dallas, former Texas attorney general and now chairman of the Dallas Council on World Affairs, will keynote the convention Tuesday.

Temporary officers, named by the executive committee Monday in consultation with the Johnson forces, will be:

South had to lose a spade and a club in today's hand. In a manner of speaking, he was lucky to go down only one, but South didn't see it that way. He thought he was unlucky to have a partner who wouldn't give him an inch of leeway in the bidding, and South was quite right.

of bidding the hand intelligently, but in effect he bid six spades right over one spade. South never had the chance to get out from under before the slam level was reached. Mind you, North had a very good hand. It was correct to dream of slam when South opened the bidding. But North should have shown his strength and left the rest up to South.

The best way to handle such hands is to make a jump response to start. North should have jumped to three diamonds at his first turn. South would rebid the spades, and North would then raise to four.
This sequence of bids had, with slam possibilities. And this is exactly the message that North would want to transmit—a sort of slam invitation without going beyond game.
South would be tempted, but he would resist temptation. His opening bid is a minimum, and he has three small cards in an unbid suit. Making slams without high cards is like making bricks without straw: it can be done, but the odds are against it.
If South passes at four spades, the game could be made with ease and comfort.

Farmers Must File Forms For Security

"Self-employed farmers past age 65 who had net profit of at least $400 or gross income of at least $800 from their farming activities in 1955 should discuss their cases with a Social Security representative as soon as they have grossed $800 in farm income in 1956," said John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo District Office, recently.

Sanderson explained that optional methods of determining the amount of farm earnings to be credited to their Social Security accounts are available to farmers in the above brackets under some conditions. He added that it is important for an accurate Schedule F to be filed with Internal Revenue Service as part of the income tax return in order for proper Social Security credit to be given.

To assure accurate advice with respect to their specific cases, these older farmers are urged to take with them a copy of their complete 1955 tax returns, including Schedule F, and a statement of their gross farm receipts and expenses so far in 1956 and meet their Social Security representative as soon as their gross receipts in 1956 reach the $800 level.

A representative from the Amarillo District Office will be in Pampa every Monday at 9:30 a.m. and can be contacted at Texas Employment Office.

One Dies From Polio

HOUSTON—UP—A two-year-old boy died of polio and four other new cases were admitted for treatment over the weekend, the Houston city health department reported Tuesday.

The new cases brought the total in Harris county so far this year to 47 cases and one death compared to 57 cases at this time last year.

The victim was Thomas Lynn Marshall son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Marshall.

It caused Wilson to stage an unprecedented news conference with all his military and civilian chiefs Monday.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, blamed the Defense Department for lack of co-ordination of service missile programs. He said he was sure the air power subcommittee, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), would look into the matter.

A circulation report from Lovett Memorial Library was read and considered. The report discloses that a total of 2,980 patrons used the library during the past seven months and that a total of 35,269 books were circulated. Patrons within the city limits total 2,744 with an average number of 12 books per patron. The monthly average number of books circulated total 5,038 or an average number of 17 per patron a month.

The north-south progression of traffic on Somerville was considered, and it was brought out that the traffic lights have recently been changed. An interval of 27 seconds now passes for both red and green lights on Somerville.

The five men said they have nothing against unions, but "will not stand for union membership being crammed down our throats."

A NEW WASHABLE LEATHER GOLF GLOVE — just now available — is a boon to the golfer who really works at the game. A rough 18 to 36 holes leaves a golf glove begrimed and moist from the perspiration that inevitably collects on the hand. And, sometimes, it leaves the hand a rather unusual color from the dye that has "bled" off the glove.

WASHABLE LaunderLeather gloves solve both problems: They can be washed easily with ordinary soap or detergents, and they are absolutely color fast.

The new LaunderLeather which was introduced in women's dress gloves several months ago — has now been made in a slightly heavier and more comfortable — to withstand the rigors of constant hard use on the links.

And for the feminine golfer who wants a bit of fashion, the new gloves come in many smart designs and in more than a dozen different colors to coordinate with any costume.

The new golfing gloves are available in both butter-soft capekin and distinctively grained pigskin. Choice leather in a sturdy, heavier-duty weight is used for the palm-side and thin, feather-weight leather is used for the back.

Golfers who have been testing the gloves in use during the past couple of months report that they just leave the gloves on their hands when washing up in the clubhouse. After a few hours of drying at home the glove is fresh and clean, and ready for use the next time around. In laboratory tests, these golf gloves have been washed more than 135 times and still retained their color, suppleness and showed little signs of wear.

LUCKY MAN, the jeweler. He's in on most of the happy events in his customers' lives — from an engagement to a fifteenth wedding anniversary and right through each year's gift-giving calendar. He's famous for his wide selection of gifts for all important occasions and the Jewelry Industry Council reminds us that he has a host of ideas on gifts for infants as well as their elders.

Pleasant news for the new mother is one of the jeweler's most recent acquisitions — a long-handled feeding spoon in sterling silver. The shallow bowl has rounded edges to protect a baby's mouth and the spoon's length permits feeding directly from baby food jars. One manufacturer has personalized these new spoons with the addition of a genuine birthstone mounted on the handle.

There is, in fact, appropriate silver for every stage of a baby's life. When he begins to show an interest in feeding himself, there is the bent-handled spoon or small fork, and spoon set tailored to his tiny hands. Many of these sets are available in the popular sterling and silver plate patterns so that they may be matched to the family flat silver.

Another way to honor a new arrival is with a piece of silver hollowware. The lovely cups and porringers have two-fold appeal; first, as a very useful gift and, second, as an attractive and significant piece of silver to be enjoyed for years to come in new capacities. The multiple uses of these pieces are well known to most of us, and also to be appreciated is their heirloom quality, making them meaningful possessions to hand down to new generations.

Holy Souls' Class Feted With Banquet

Mothers of the seventh-grade students of Holy Souls' School entertained members of the eighth-grade graduating class and their parents with a banquet Saturday night in Parish Hall.

Featured speaker was Father Francis Murphy, C. M., of St. Louis, Mo. In his talk, he brought out that parents should show more interest in their children's activities. Such an interest, he explained, would make parental care much easier and result in fewer delinquents.

Decorations followed a Spanish theme. Place cards were miniature sombreros and favors were miniature stray Mexican hats.

Other table decorations were wax-dipped bottles containing fiesta candles, and around the hall were placed Yucca plants, gourds, a large sombrero and serapes.

Dinner music was provided by Miss Judy Neslage.

Master of ceremonies was Stanley Minchco, a seventh-grade student. The program consisted of pantomimes by Jimmie Champagne, Charles Dillman and Jimmy Jamieson; and dance numbers by Danny Bond and Toni Eppey and Misses Verena Hunter, Patty McNeil and Carmen Lee Long.

During the business session, it was announced the Panhandle Circle will meet in Pampa at 8 p.m. Thursday.

When moving large household objects, be sure to hold or push them in a way which allows you to see where you're going.

Miss America People Are Getting Smart

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON — UP— The Miss America people are getting smart. They have appointed a former Miss America to some sort of job.

This young lady would be Bebe Shopp. She was and is a dolly. And now she is with Portfollo as New England director for the Miss A business.

She ought to do a good job because she knows and has all the angles.

First time I ever saw this lovely blond from right outside Minneapolis she was fresh off the farm and had displayed a rare musical talent. The kid could play the xylophone, which has to be hammered properly if you want the right music come out.

Bebe could hammer all right, as witness the fact that she wound up Miss America in 1948.

All of which brings us up to the very present and one Norman Reed, who handles the annual contest for Miss Washington.

Norman tolls for radio station WWDG. His long-standing rule is that the contestants can never ever be embellished with any phony padding — like er, ah... falsies.

That's the rule in the big time at Atlantic City, too. But Norman is fussing over something that the makers of bathing suits are offering to lady bathers every built-in falsies. And he wonders if the new padding might not get into the Atlantic beauty pageant.

I can tell him he need never fret.

Righ there in the dressing room at convention hall sits a registered nurse. Her job is to see to it that each contestant puts into a bathing suit only that with which nature endowed her.

Innocent Heroines Missing From The Hollywood Scene

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD — UP— One thing missing from the movies are those sweet, innocent heroines with long hair and soulful eyes — instead of so many sexy Marilyn Monroes.

The lady who made that statement looked out of soulful eyes herself and patted hair that once was red and long. Now it's chic, short and graying. And Mae Marsh, that wistful ingenue of such great silent films as "Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance," is now a bit player in modern movies.

Today's actresses, she thinks, are either pixieish like Leslie Caron, sexy like M. Monroe or sophisticated like Grace Kelly.

She says the only star in Hollywood today who is like Mae Marsh and Lillian and Dorothy Gish in their heyday, the early 1900, is Eva Marie Saint.

"Possibly there aren't parts written like that any more, but the actresses aren't like that, either. Isn't it funny how they all try to be like 'Marilyn Monroe?' she smiles as we sit in her Hermosa Beach home.

"I think there will be a return to the innocent-heroine type. But it will take a long time to get back from this sexy business. Eva Marie Saint really is the first of that type since Janet Gaynor."

Too many Marylins have hurt young girls of America, she added.

"It would help the children a great deal if the sweet innocent type would return," she said.

"It's pathetic hoday how they all get bosom conscious, even my 12-year-old grand daughter. Young people think sex appeal is all they need to attract a man."

When Miss Marsh was a big star her director, D. W. Griffith, "wouldn't let us be sophisticated."

"We were told to be reserved, ladylike, kind, gentle and polite and never to raise our voices," she said.

"One day a group of us left his studio and decided to hitch hike home on Sunset Blvd. He heard about it and docked me a week's salary — for not being ladylike."

Miss Marsh still is married to her first husband who was a publicist for one of her films. They have three children and six grandchildren.

She continued to act "to have a pastime and an interest, otherwise you vegetate." Recently she played a squaw in "The Searchers" and an airplane passenger who screams over a murder in a Doris Day whodunit, "Julie."

American Iron and Steel Institute reports that our capacity for steel production has increased by 36 million tons or 46% since the end of World War II. As shown on above chart, today's capacity of 128 million tons will be increased to 143 million by 1959.

LINCOLN

The longest, lowest, most powerful Lincoln ever built

People who know fine cars are changing to Lincoln

More fine car buyers are changing to Lincoln this year than ever before in Lincoln's entire history—because they recognize that this longest, lowest, most powerful Lincoln of all time is unmistakably... the finest in the fine car field.

Naturally, most of these people are turning to Lincoln because of its fresh, trend-setting new styling. But after owning Lincoln, they praise this car's other fine qualities.

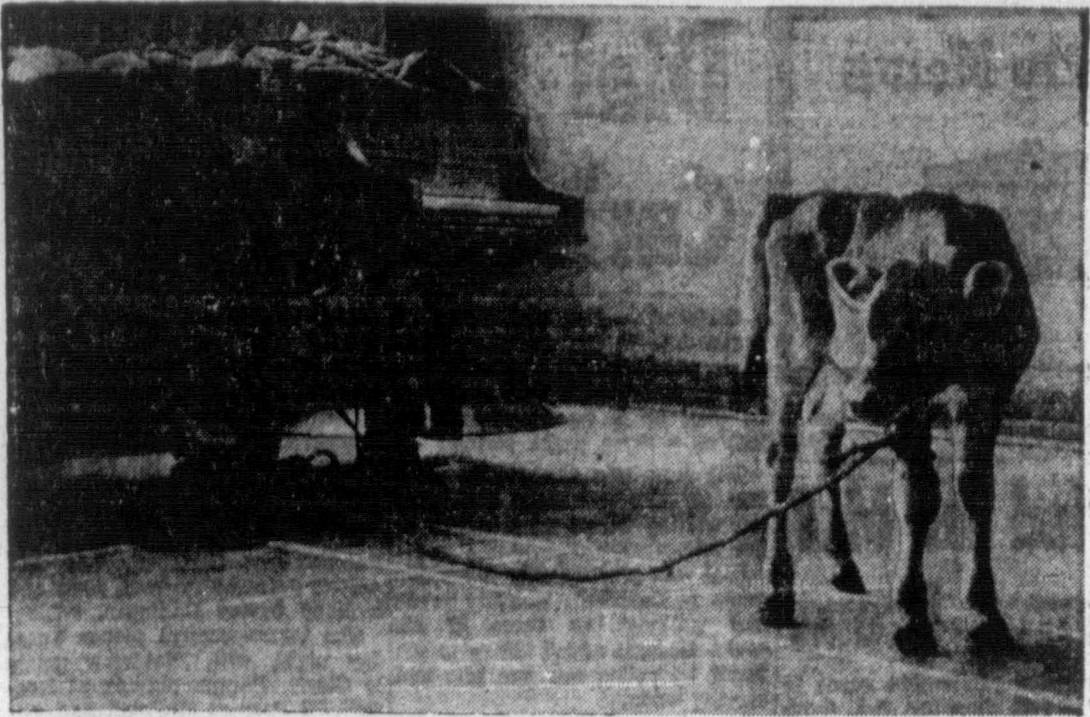

They tell us—time and time again—about Lincoln's exceptional handling ease. They're surprised that such a big, roomy car can be so effortless to drive—and that wives actually prefer this Lincoln over the family's smaller car.

They tell us about Lincoln's outstanding performance, too—in dozens of ways. Those who have never experienced Turbo-Drive are astonished to find that an automatic transmission can be so smooth... and those who take long trips say that this Lincoln makes the ride seem so much shorter.

And they tell us about roadability. They like the way Lincoln rides so firmly through a curve—and the freedom of taking any road they choose... instead of avoiding the bad ones.

If you've been thinking this is your kind of fine car, stop in and see us. We'll put a new Lincoln at your disposal any time you say.

WOEBEGONE AND SOON-TO-BE-GONE—This calf, tied to a piano on the stage of the Perry High School in Pittsburgh, Pa., listens apprehensively to the auctioneer's "Going, going 1, 2, 3," chant that will decide its fate. The calf was only one of scores of items in the Biology Club's tenth annual sale. Contributed by celebrities all over the country, they ranged from the calf, roosters, pigs, dogs, goats through a Lily Dache hat and a Christian Dior gown to a piece of Wedgewood china autographed by Josiah himself and a pair of Sugar Ray Robinson's boxing gloves. Its first auction earned the club only $45. This year's netted $1200, the entire amount going to nursing scholarships, American Cancer Society, other charities and community projects.

Germany Recovered From World War II In Ten Years

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of three dispatches on the astonishing comeback of Germany. The author has covered Germany for the UP since the days when he was stationed in the Berlin bureau before World War II.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, Bonn, Germany. —UP— They call it the "German miracle" and certainly it has to be seen to be believed.

I saw Germany lying in utter ruin at the end of World War II. Its cities were ashes, its great bridges broken, its railroads obliterated, its great Ruhr factories skeletons, its shipyards blown apart, its people beaten, starving, homeless, hopeless.

An American general said at that time it would take Germany 100 years to recover. He was wrong by 10 times.

It took just one decade.

Here is one fact: Industrial production in West Germany now is twice what it was in 1938 — the year that Hitler was bending every sinew in preparation for the greatest war in the world's history.

The path that West Germany takes from now on will be the most important single factor in whether we are to have another war.

The foundations of a new German army are being built.

How has this miracle been achieved?

Partly by some $3 billion of Marshall Plan aid poured by the United States into this country after 1947. Partly by the currency reform of 1948 which made the "hardest" monies. Mostly by the simple hard work of the German people.

For the first eight or nine years of reconstruction the German worker was willing to labor 48 hours a week or longer for low wages simply to rebuild the shattered country. The labor unions backed this policy to the hilt. Strikes were almost unknown.

All this has been achieved despite the fact that West Germany has had to absorb nearly 11 million refugees. This means that in a population of 50 million more than one person in five is a refugee.

TOKYO —UP—Radio Peiping proudly announced Tuesday the name of the first Chinese Communist-constructed automobile, out early this fall will be "Liberation."

Police said Tuesday Medsker's only regret was that he missed two of the meters in the town square.

What's New Around Nation's Capitol

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS, Washington —UP— What's new in Washington?

A couple of secretaries were chatting away in a State Department elevator. One asked what ever happened to "bill."

"Oh," said the other, "he's over there in Tehran." The first girl said she had never heard of that spot.

"It's some place in India," the second explained.

Las Vegas would love to entertain the American Legion at a future convention.

The Legion is interested, but wrote a postscript, saying there was not a big enough hall.

Las Vegas yelled back: Hall — heck, if you want more room, we will build a new hall. Most likely that could happen.

The lovely Victoria Geaney, hostess at the government's Blair House, got along fine with President Sukarno of Indonesia.

The visitor and his party sent in their menus in advance. Lamb, chicken and fish. No pork.

Carson To Start New TV Show

HOLLYWOOD —UP— Johnny Carson comes out of mothballs to start a new daytime TV show May 28 — but he's one comic who's not bitter his nighttime program didn't last.

Carson was launched on television last fall as CBS' answer to George Gobel — already a strike against him. He won favorable audience reaction to his offbeat, picnic humor.

But after 39 weeks, the sponsor, who, like all sponsors, sits up nights reading the ratings, cancelled.

Now CBS is trying Johnny on a five-days-a-week half-hour comedy music program.

To many a comedian this might seem like being banished to Siberia. But the affable Carson is just as happy to (temporarily) leave the frantic, ulcer-growing life of a night TV show.

"I'm disappointed but not bitter about my Thursday show ending," Carson said. "And I'm happy to be working days. Doing one show a night is much more of a mental strain than doing five a week in the daytime. Now I won't have to be concerned with trying to beat Lux Video Theatre."

"A daytime show is more personal. I won't be on the pan as a 'bright, young' comic, as which if I don't bowl them over with hysterics they say I'm not funny. You don't have to press on daytime TV."

Carson also accused you night time viewers with being fickle. Daytime viewers, he figures, are much more "loyal."

"If a nighttime performer seems to be slipping, viewers will drop him like a cold potato," he said. "Look at how loyal Godfrey viewers are. He started on daytime

Dial Wins Over Carlsbad, 7-4

Carlsbad — Red Dial dialed out seven hits to the Carlsbad Potashers here Monday night and then cut them off with just four runs to pick up a 7-4 victory in the last of a three game series.

The loss was the second in a row for the potashers and gave the visiting Oilers wins in two of the trio. Dial was a completely miserable guest in Carlsbad, whiffing seven and walking but three of his hosts. He also added injury to the insult by poling out two hits and scoring once.

The loss was tagged on starter Gene Summerlin, who gave way in the fourth to Martin Perez, who left at the end of seven in favor of George Payte.

Allan Cross, oiler shortstop, was charged with an error and it also made him mad. He hit three, for Martin, c. Bruggs, sb Flores, lf Robinette, rf 5 0 1 1 0 Dhl, p 5 1 2 0 3

Stewart Thinks Jump Mark Can Be Beat

By CARLTON WILSON DALLAS — Don Stewart, who never jumped any higher than six feet, two inches before this year, said Tuesday he thinks the seven-foot barrier can be cracked and he wants to be the one to do it.

The lanky, 18-year-old Southern Methodist University freshman started his coach last month by clearing the high jump bar at six feet, 10 1/4 inches.

That is higher than any person in the world has jumped this year, although still an inch and a quarter shy of the world's record held by Walt Davis of Texas A&M.

When conditions are right and the competition close enough, I believe someone will jump over seven feet, I hope I am the one who does it," Stewart said.

He compares the seven-foot mark to the four-minute mile, which has been broken many times now. "A lot of the battle is psychological, but it will be done," Stewart is sure.

The six-foot, three-inch 185 pounder from Palestine, Tex. came to SMU on a football scholarship. Spring gridiron drills kept him from practicing jumping, but Stewart has average jumping better than six feet, eight inches in competition despite the later start.

He considered the broad jump his best event until this year. Stewart has no special formula for his jumping ability, except staying in good physical condition and not eating too much.

SMU track Coach McAdoo Keating, who was surprised by Stewart's sudden development, said he "felt sorry at first" when Stewart jumped six-feet 8 3/4 inches to set a new freshman record.

Yankee Fans Are All Hepped Up About Mantle's Homers

White Sox In Trades With Orioles

By UNITED PRESS New York Yankee fans are all hepped up about Mickey Mantle's chances of breaking Babe Ruth's home run record but seven American League clubs just wish he'd quit breaking their backs.

Chicago —UP—Manager Marty Marion said Tuesday he had to trade away George Kell, who has hit above .300 in nine of the last 10 years, because the White Sox were going to finish in the second division if they didn't find another starting pitcher.

Chicago fans are howling that the Sox got the "short end" of the four-for-two player deal with Baltimore. The Sox sent Kell, outfielder Dick Nolan, pitcher Mike Fornieles and another player to be announced later to the Orioles for pitcher Jim Wilson and outfielder Dave Philley, who the Sox got rid of once before.

"We don't make any trades that we don't think will help us," Marion said. "And we needed pitching real bad."

"I couldn't finish in the first division with the pitching staff we had."

Marion said Wilson will give the Sox five starting pitchers and his new 34-year-old right-hander will begin working in rotation with Billy Pierce, Jack Harshman, Dick Donovan and Bob Keegan.

But a reporter making a spot check of White Sox fans hours after the surprise deal was concluded didn't find one fan who thought the Sox made a good bargain.

Ump Boots Ten Cards In Game NEW YORK — UP — Umpire Stan Landes couldn't figure which St. Louis Cardinal benchmarker was protesting his ball and strike calls so vigorously Monday at the Polo Grounds so he ordered all 10 of them to the clubhouse during the second inning.

And the switch-hitting Yankee center fielder, far and away the top early-season candidate for the American League's "most valuable player" award, isn't playing any favorites, either.

None Against Orioles Of his 16 homers, he has hit four apiece against the Athletics and Cleveland Indians, three against the Boston Red Sox, two apiece against the Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators and one against the Detroit Tigers.

John Landy Came To U. S. After Warnings By Friends

By OSCAR FRALEY NEW YORK — UP—John Landy, Australia's magnificent miler, grinned as he said he was a mile surprised that "nobody has slipped any sleeping pills in my coffee."

It seems that maybe Landy, who has smashed the four minute mark six times and holds the world record of 2:58, had a right to be a bit uneasy when he came to the United States for two special races. So did his fans at home.

"Reconsider," pleaded the wire. "Remember Phar Lap and Les Darcy." It was signed: "An admirer."

Darcy was the middleweight who came here in 1917, was accused of being a slacker and died of a "mental disorder" which was another way of saying a broken heart, at Memphis, Tenn.

Phar Lap was the Australian wonder horse which was shipped here in 1932 and, after winning the $50,000 Agua Caliente Handicap in his only race, died mysteriously of colic.

But Landy came, smashed the four minute barrier in both his races and now, albeit with true modesty, is admiring everything and everybody as he awaits his safe arrival home with crossed fingers. So that nobody would take a pot shot at him, as some gamblers did at Phar Lap, Landy placated the young and the old.

No Contest Is Ruled In Mat Match Between Terror, Drapp

Excitement and thrills are what the fans got at the Top of Texas Sports Arena Monday night. Andre Drapp and the Golden Terror in the main event were both disqualified and will be rematched at a later date.

Even more excitement came in the third fall. Slugging, fist fighting, kicking, hair pulling and throwing the opponent out of the ring was the order of the day. In the late stages of the match, the Golden Terror threw Andre out of the ring and followed up outside the mat. The terrified crowd, trying to get out of the way, was caught in the fight. Even the sound of the bell could not stop them, the match was then declared no contest.

The semi-final event found Sonny Myers taking two of three falls from the Masked Manager. Excitement also prevailed in the contest but they were able between them to score two runs and pick up three ribs.

The Oilers moved out following the game and the potashers breathed a sigh of relief. Plainview was in undisputed second place in Southwestern League standings Tuesday after beating El Paso Monday night, 9-5.

Next Monday evening at the Top of Texas Sports Arena the great Gorgeous George will be featured in the main event matched against Jesse James.

STUNT MAN—At Gulfstream Park's infield lake in Hallandale, Fla., jockey Dave Zakoor is getting a new thrill as he skims over the water astride a horse on water skis. The "sea horse" is used in the between-the-races water show at the race track.

OVER THE TOP—It's leap year, and rising beautifully to the occasion in Hollywood is starlet Felicia Farr. That hurdle is also a good device for keeping this shapely gal in such awfully good condition.

FEELING BATTY—Yankee ace Mickey Mantle is performing a balancing act with his hickory to relieve tensions in New York. Mickey's big worry is how to cut down on strikeouts which have plagued him for the past several seasons.

BASEBALL IN PAKISTAN—Youngsters in Zakri are learning America's favorite sport. Here, a nine-year-old swings at a homemade ball, a stone wrapped with twine and covered with cowhide. Regulation equipment is too expensive, so the boys fashion their own. The game is being taught by Adam Sumro, a village worker, as part of the recreational program of the local equivalent of a U. S. 4-H Club.

PICTURE SPORTS NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

SAFE AT HOME—Pittsburgh Pirates right fielder Lee Walls just hit the dirt at home plate to score, as Brooklyn's Roy Campanella waits for Carl Furillo's throw from right field. Walls scored in the game in New York on Johnny O'Brien's single. Brooklyn came from behind to win, 5-2.

SLOGANER — From one golfer to another goes Frank Strafaci's support for President Eisenhower in his campaign for re-election. In Pinehurst, N. C., Strafaci carries a bag painted with an "Ike" slogan. He's a resident of Mineola, N. Y., and was golfing in a tournament down south.

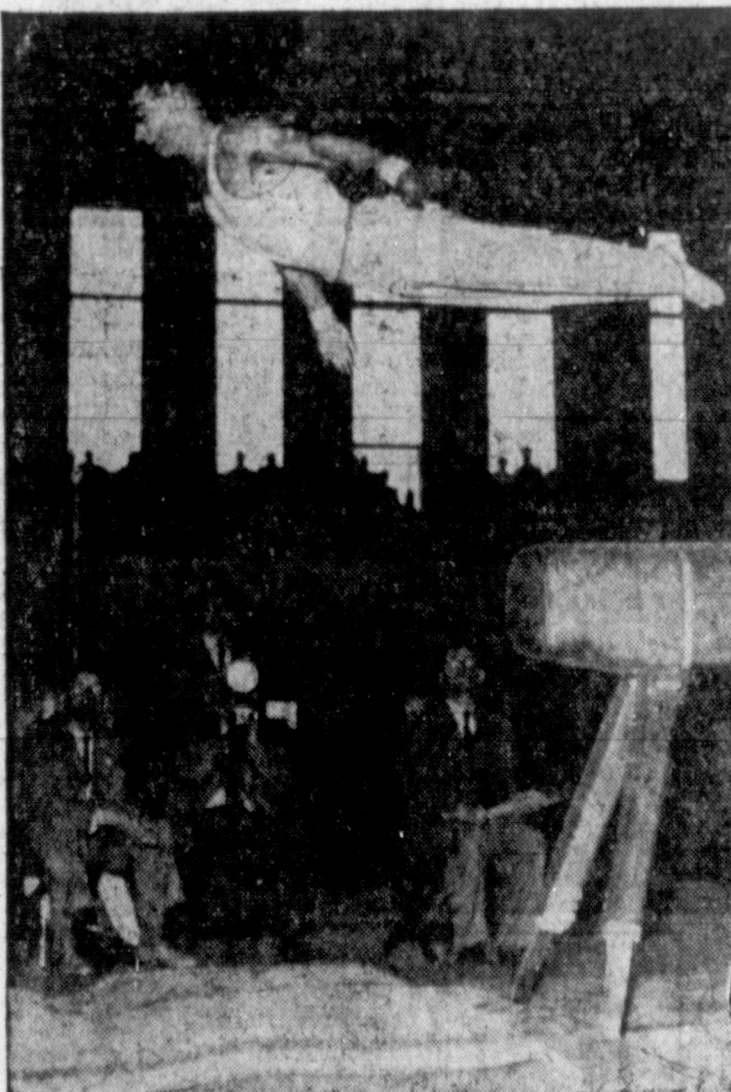

THEY'RE BEACHED—It's a long way to the Lake of the Ozarks, at Gravois Mills, Mo., because it's about 20 feet below full reservoir. This fishing pier and boat dock usually see a lot of activity at this time of year, but spring rains will help a lot.

IT'S JUST THE START—The Right Reverend D. Wall, Bishop of Brentwood, isn't leaning over backward to get a soccer game started in London. He's just finished throwing the ball to begin a game between Kerry and Dublin which was put on by the London Irish.

IN MATCHING OUTFITS—Mrs. George T. Thompson, of Santa Rosa, Calif., is suitably dressed to ride her handsome Arabian mare, Aakafa, as they prepare to compete in the All-Arabian Horse Show at the local fair grounds. Aakafa was purchased from the stables of Arthur Godfrey, and Mrs. Thompson is hoping he'll make a mighty good showing.

HE'S HARD TO BEAT—Skimming gracefully overhead in Hof, Germany, is that country's champion gymnast, Helmut Bantz. He is shown performing a spectacular horse-jump in the 1956 German Gymnastics Championships. With skill like this, Bantz claimed the title for the fourth consecutive year.

RELAXING TIME—During a practice session backstage in Chicago, two members of an ice show take things easy. Terry Brent, left, is seated on a pile of rope, rocking Rosemary Henderson who's resting her tired feet in a prop cradle that's serving as a chaise longue. There's not much space for relaxing, so they make do with what's at hand.

This is a sample of the rugged terrain the French forces are up against in Algeria. From hide-outs in mountains like these, rebel guerrillas swoop down, burn farms, attack towns, sabotage communications, ambush French patrols and fade back into their hidden strongholds.

Backstairs Scenes At White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON — UP — Backstairs at the White House:

What happens when the President of the United States goes out of the White House for dinner? Several days before the actual date, agents of the United States Secret Service arrive at the hotel where the dinner is to be held. They get a blue print of the hotel and track every foot Mr. Eisenhower may follow on the day of the occasion.

If hotel personnel has changed substantially since the President last visited the place, names of the new help are furnished to the Secret Service several days in advance.

Someone started a story last weekend that the President goes to dinner only when a special White House chef precedes him. Not true.

If the Secret Service ever became so worried about the President's safety that a special chef was indicated, they probably would not let the President enter the hotel. Recurrent stories about White House food tasters, special chefs, eagle-eyed special waiters are interesting, but mythical.

When he President attends a banquet at, say, the Statler Hotel his parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Burke, attended the L. J. Seitz funeral services, Wednesday.

Mrs. Bert McLean was admitted to the Highland General Hospital in Pampa, Monday, for observation and treatment.

R. J. Tyson was released from the Highland General Hospital Friday morning.

here or the Sheraton Park, the managers, wanting to have the best possible service, usually stick one of their best waiter captains behind him. This is not a security measure, but an effort by the hotel involved to give the President the best service possible.

The Secret Service has a rather detailed, working record of the hotel help in Washington. In advance of the late President Roosevelt's appearance at one local hotel, the agents of the Secret Service say to it that nearly 50 persons on the hotel payroll were let off for the night, at least.

Why did the Secret Service sack these men and women? The bulk of them had records of minor crimes. But crimes involving violence. Like cutting a husband's neck. The Secret Service does not like the idea of domestic knife slingers being in close proximity to the President.

The vehicular tunnel under the Detroit river, connecting Detroit, Michigan, and Windsor, Ontario, is the only international tunnel in the world.

Doesn't Peck

The Lewis woodpecker of the far west does not dig into wood for its food, but catches insects on the ground, in the air, or bores into fruit for them.

Acorn Meal

Wide usage of acorns as human food revealed during pioneer days. Meal from them was leached with hot water to remove the tannic bitterness.
