FBI Agents Arrest 4 After Theft Of Classified Document

NEW YORK — FBI agents arrested an Air Force sergeant and three civilians Thursday for the theft and copying of a mysterious classified document from the Brooklyn Army Terminal. The government refused to give any hints as to the nature of the document but did not indicate any of the four were working for any foreign government. It was believed that the document was of commercial rather than strategic value. The four men were arraigned Thursday and released on bond. Sergeant Charged With Theft The Air Force man, Staff Sgt.

Convicts Being Questioned After Florida Prison Riot

RAIFORD, Fla. — UP — Prison authorities began questioning dozens of convicts here Friday in a search for ring leaders of a riot that ended in a 15-second fusillade of gunfire from guards. The volley, fired at 50-foot range into a band of some 75 charging convicts armed with

British Talk Death Penalty

LONDON — UP — A new controversy over abolishing the death penalty broke out Friday when parliament was asked to debate a proposal calling for murderers to be hanged instead of hanged. Six conservative members of parliament introduced an amendment to the death penalty abolition bill in the House of Commons proposing "private whipping" for persons convicted of murder in the course of robbery, house-breaking and burglary. The amendment proposes that the whipping should take place in the first six months of a sentence. In the case of a man jailed for life it would be carried out before the sentence begins, with the court specifying the number of strokes and the instrument to be used. Commons will discuss the proposal on Tuesday, May 29, when the committee stage of the no-hanging bill is completed. Those leading the drive for abolition of hanging were expected to oppose the new proposal violently. Britain still retains the practice of flogging. It is sometimes used in prison as punishment for inmates who attack prison guards.

Williams Wants Employment Layoff Help From U.S.

LANSING, Mich. — UP — Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit launched a double-barreled attack Friday against growing unemployment in Michigan. Both leaders appealed to the federal government to declare Detroit and five other Michigan cities labor surplus areas, making them eligible for special defense contracts. The two officials blamed declining auto production with its subsequent layoffs for the fall in employment. "Unemployment has reached serious proportions in Michigan," Williams said. "Our latest figures indicate more than 125,000 jobs in Detroit and more than 190,000 in the state as a whole."

RRC Slashes Oil Allowables

AUSTIN — UP — The Railroad Commission Friday slashed Texas oil allowables for the fourth straight month, cutting permissive production for June 74,486 barrels to a total of 3,261,799 barrels. The commission, after a protracted hearing, set a general statewide 15-day production schedule for June, one day less than the current level. "The East Texas field also was trimmed one day to a 13-day schedule next month. The Pantex field also will observe 15-day production during June. Special field allowables included: Fifteen days, Block 12 East Ellenburger, Shafter Lake Devonian, Shafter Lake Wolfcamp, Elkhorn Ellenburger; 14 days, round top (Canyon sand), round top (Flippin lime), round top (palo Pinto red); 13 days, Fort Chadbourne, Adam Devonian, Jigger "Y," Pennylvania, McElroy, Sandusky (Oil Creek), South Leuders (King Sand), Shafter Lake Yates, Foster and Veslmoor. The next statewide oil hearing will be held in Austin June 19. Similar cuts were ordered by the commission for April and May, and a smaller reduction was made for March.

Truman Welcomed In Rome

ROME — UP — Former President Harry S. Truman was given a rousing welcome in Rome Friday. A crowd of some 400 gathered at the railroad station to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Truman on their arrival from Paris. Shouts of "We want Harry" and "Viva Truman" greeted the former U.S. President as he started to step from the train. Mr. Truman, wearing dark glasses and a brown hat, started to step to the platform, but took a look at the crowd and retreated back into his car. Police had difficulty keeping the crowd under control to make a path for the Trumans through the station. Trumans Welcomed U. S. Charge d'Affaires John D. Jernegan, acting in the absence of the ambassador, Clare Boothe Luce, and Alberto Tarchiani, first postwar Italian ambassador to Washington, gave the Trumans an official welcome aboard the train. Mr. Truman told a hurried press conference he favors appointment of an American diplomatic representative to the Vatican "to help the peace of the world."

Department Backs Sedition Bill

WASHINGTON — UP — The Justice Department has thrown its support behind a Senate bill that would restore the authority of the states to prosecute sedition cases. Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers told Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) of the Senate Judiciary committee in a letter Thursday that the department favors the bill introduced by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.). The Supreme Court ruled recently that Congress made the federal government the exclusive prosecutor of sedition cases when it passed the Smith anti-subversive act in 1940. The decision invalidated the sedition laws in effect in 45 states. Bridges and other lawmakers have introduced legislation to restore these laws to the statute books. Rogers said Congress has the constitutional right to "determine the extent, if any, to which it intends that the state law must yield to national law." The converse is also true and Congress may elect to share its power in this area," he said. "This department believes that the Congress should do so."

Technical Shortage Hurts U.S. Air Power

Oilers To Continue To Play This Month

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pampa Community Baseball Association with over 50 interested fans in the County Court Room this morning, plans were made to continue the operation of the Pampa Oilers for the remainder of the month of May. Another meeting is called for this afternoon at 5:30 in the court room when the directors will meet again with fans to decide whether or not the Oilers will be able to continue operating for the remainder of the season. The meeting this morning was presided over by Mayor Lynn Boyd. Donations are being taken to help pay the operating expenses for the remainder of May. In order to meet expenses, with the help of the donations, at least 1,000 paid admissions must come in at each of the home games for the remainder of the month.

Trouble Reports Mount For Johnson At State Convention

By UNITED PRESS Reports mounted Friday that Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson is going to have a tough time enforcing moderation upon old-line Democratic party loyalists in next Tuesday's Democratic convention in Dallas. The loyalists want to boot out the whole Democratic state executive committee, Democratic national committee chairman Ben Ramsey and Democratic national committee chairman Hilda Weinstock of Seguin. Johnson, who has made a national reputation out of being a moderate, able to bring divergent elements of the party together, doesn't want to dismiss the state executive committee at the convention Tuesday, according to reports. He's Willing to Wait He is willing to wait until the state convention next September, when a new executive committee normally would be selected. The national committee chairman and committee woman will be selected Tuesday, but won't be confirmed and won't take over until September. State Democratic chairman George Sandlin said Thursday night that the proposal to kick out the executive committee "is coming from two or three people" and "does not in any way represent the thinking of the people."

Mommy, I Miss You

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — UP — A letter addressed to "Mommy, c-o God, Heaven" was being held by Postmaster Wayne Parker Friday. Parker said the letter has no return address. The letter reads: "Dear Mommy, I miss you very much since you went to live with God. I'm lonesome without you and daddy since you went away. Please tell God to help me be good so I can come to you. Your baby, Mickey."

Air Force Head Says Reds Still Lag, However

DETROIT — UP — The United States is losing its lead in the air-power race to Russia because of an acute shortage of technical people, Gen. Nathan F. Twining believes. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, said he will lead Russia but in order to retain this lead we must wipe out "our shortage of technical people — scientists, chemists, physicists, electronic specialists and so on." Twining, here to participate in an armed forces week celebration, warned: "The inadequate numbers of technically trained people could take on the nature of a national emergency, if it has not already done so." "One of the reasons for the increasing lack of interest in scientific careers is our national shortage of science teachers, particularly on the secondary school level." "The Air Force has aided in other emergencies and we are now offering our help in this one. We have thousands of technically trained men who could teach science subjects. We see this as one way to help until the current teacher shortage is remedied," he said. The general said the Russians are concentrating on long range bombers and "large bombs" because they could not beat us in a "world war two type war" but could "neutralize us by direct air attacks."

Final Vote On Farm Bill Is Expected

By DAYTON MOORE WASHINGTON — UP — Senators were called into session two hours earlier than usual Friday in an all-out effort to get a final vote on a new farm bill by nightfall. The bill, which was a modified version of a House-approved measure, would authorize President Eisenhower's $1.2 billion soil bank. It does not include, however, his controversial proposal to pay farmers in advance for taking acreage out of production. At the opening of the second day of Senate debate the bill contained two provisions opposed by the administration. They called for mandatory increases in price supports of feed grains and export sales of surplus cotton at world market prices. The cotton provision would require Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to offer surplus U.S. cotton for export sale at a maximum price of 25.5 cents a pound. This was nearer the world market price than the 27.5-cent level Benson had planned to put on the cotton. Cotton — state farmers favored the lower price to attract more buyers. But the administration feared other cotton-producing nations would accuse the United States of trying to drive them out of the world market by dumping its surplus at subsidized prices.

Explosion Blasts Brewery Plant

MONTREAL — UP — An explosion early Friday shattered the $4 million cooling plant of Molson's Brewery. One man was killed and another injured. Company officials said the blast apparently was caused by an ammonia leak. It wrecked the nearly-14 store plant near the waterfront — blowing out its east wall and leaving big holes in three others. The dead man was identified as Paul Chees who was in charge of the plant. "The state executive committee is a state body and has no function at the national level," he said. He said the law specifically provides for election of the committee and the September convention and he had never heard of it being done in May. Sandlin said he had not been advised of the progress of petitions being circulated by the "Texas Referendum Committee," headed by Robert Cargill of Longview, seeking to place the question of segregation of the July 28 Democratic primary ballot. He said such a move would have to be brought up at the executive committee meeting Monday at Dallas on the eve of the convention. The petitions call for a vote on mixing of white and Negro school children, racial intermarriage and interposition. Shivers has said he will not attend next week's convention, at which Johnson is almost sure to be chosen as a favorite son presidential candidate and chairman of the Democratic national party in Chicago. But Shivers urged his supporters to be present.

Spinster Gets Ten Years On First Of Many Charges

By LON K. SAVAGE NORFOLK, Va. — UP — "Miss Minnie," a short, plump spinster who allegedly embezzled nearly $3 million, faced new trials Friday on indictments carrying possible sentences totaling hundreds of years. Miss Minnie C. Mangum, 52, was sentenced to a maximum 10 years in prison at Thursday's first trial on a relatively minor charge — knowingly giving false information to Virginia's Corporation Commission about her company's financial condition. Dabbling at her tear-filled eyes with her small white lace handkerchief, Miss Minnie, a Sunday School teacher, was led from the courtroom by relatives. A million dollar embezzlement trial begins Monday on 23 counts of theft ranging from $1,500 to $1,185,000 covered during 33 years of the 28 she worked for the Commonwealth Building and Loan Association of Norfolk. Conviction on any of the counts could add another 10 years in prison. After that trial, the little old lady who had lived all her life with community respect faced trials on 14 more indictments, most indictments, most with multiple charges, her with stealing $2.9 million. The amazing complex of charges against Miss Minnie was filed when federal auditors discovered last December a shortage of nearly $3 million in the reserves of the building and loan company. Miss Minnie had worked there as bookkeeper and rose to the position of a $9,000-a-year assistant secretary treasurer. The state further charged that she gave away thousands of dollars of company money to friends and relatives.

Capitol Hill Roundup

WASHINGTON — UP — The Senate hopes to get a final vote on the new farm bill by nightfall. The bill, a modified version of a House-approved measure, contained President Eisenhower's $1.2 billion soil bank. However, it did not include his controversial proposal to pay farmers one-year in advance for taking acreage out of production. The administration strongly opposes two of the bills provisions — mandatory increases in price supports of feed grains and export sales of surplus cotton at world market prices. Other developments: FOREIGN AID Chairman James P. Richards (D-S. C.) said he expects his House Foreign Affairs committee to complete work by Friday night on President Eisenhower's $4.9 billion foreign aid program. TAXES New congressional talk of a tax cut developed following a Treasury forecast that the government will wind up fiscal 1957 with a $1.8 billion surplus. DEFENSE The Senate Armed Services subcommittee in military construction will call for a showdown duel between the Army's Nike and the Air Force's Talos guided missiles before it authorizes any more money for either. AUTO DEALERS Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and four other senators proposed a bill that would enable auto dealers to collect double damages from auto makers who terminate dealers franchises without acting in "good faith."

Scientist Is Disgusted

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY AT SEA, Friday — UP — When he got the word of the latest bomb-drop postponement, a semi-scientific type aboard this ship growled: "Nuts — to the 12th power." Others in the observer group of 15 newsmen and 16 civil defense officers were grateful for this exponential expression of their deep disgust. His education expression was so much more vigorous than just plain, "nuts." Wrong-way winds have blocked the shot daily since May 8. Once the operation was less than two hours from detonation time. Another time the scheduled shot was only 51 minutes away when a wind shift forced cancellation. That was Friday morning. The shot was reset for Sunday morning (Saturday est).

Chuckle Corner

By HAL COCHRAN Some kids are made to go to bed early so they'll get up in the morning nice and fresh, and then are too fresh all day. It gets monotonous sometimes, sitting back and waiting for your neighbor to get his lawnmower sharpened. Girls in love find that the smartest way to keep a diary is under lock and key. It's startling to think of the number of acres of skin that will be scratched by vacationists this summer. To many people want to make the best of what they have in mind, but don't want to work for it.

IN A RUT—Sally Forrest, once hailed by Hollywood as "just like the girl next door," seems caught in the never-ending cycle of "nice girl" roles. That's the type she plays in her latest film, "While The City Sleeps." Sally, above, is struggling to keep from being typed. She wants to try some livelier roles.

Price Of Treason

The price of treason has never been particularly high.

Benedict Arnold betrayed General Washington and the American for a few British pounds and a minor office. Alger Hiss betrayed his country for Communist recognition and some moth-eaten ideas.

Judas Iscariot betrayed Christ for 30 pieces of silver. And currently the United Nations is betraying the American people for 54 pieces of copper. Yes, just 54 cents.

At least that is the published figure released by the United States Committee for the United Nations. This committee untruthfully reports that this is all the money it takes from every American taxpayer each year to provide all the goodies on the collectivist Christmas tree. It is really much, much more. But on the basis of the current inflation the 54 cents is about what the U. N. is worth all told.

For the U. N. is a global gimmick designed in part by Stalin and in part by Hiss for the purpose of cutting free enterprise out of the world and reducing the United States to serfdom status among the nations of the world.

Don't take our word for it. Here are two reports put out by the "Chronicle of the United Nations Activities," a relatively unbiased sheet devoted to telling what goes on inside that gilded and glass gangorium called U. N. headquarters.

"There has been a marked weakening of support for United States voting policies in the United Nations. Two out of three countries agreed less with the United States in 1955 than in 1954." And again: "There has been an increase in agreement with U.S.S.R. voting policies in the United Nations in 1955 as compared with 1954. Almost three out of five countries agreed more with the U.S.S.R. in the 1955 General Assembly than in 1954. In 1954 there were 11 countries that disagreed with the U.S.S.R. more than 50 per cent of the time. In 1955 this figure had decreased to 4 countries."

Which countries are now agreeing with the U.S.S.R. more frequently than they were? Here is the list: Afghanistan, Australia, Belgium, Bolivia, Canada, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, El Salvador, France, Guatemala, India, Indonesia, Liberia, Luxembourg, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Panama, Peru, Saudi Arabia, Sweden, Syria, Thailand, Turkey, Ukraine, United Kingdom (Britain), Uruguay, Yemen and Yugoslavia. Please note that this list includes nearly all of the major beneficiaries of our foreign aid.

Further, this is a trend which is increasing in 1956 though tabulations on voting are not yet available.

Certainly, to many of our politicians the U. N. looked like a good thing. By opening ourselves to majority decisions by alleged representatives from various nations it has been made to look in the past as though the United States was proceeding on a thoroughly popular course of action.

But, by permitting other nations to decide what this nation ought to do, we entered a two-way street where decisions could go against us. This is now happening to a large degree. We are caught up on the horns of socialism and communism and our own struggling capitalist system is being taxed mercilessly, both by direct action on the part of our government and by indirect propaganda and majority decisions emanating from the U. N.

We have been betrayed. The principles of liberty which are enshrined in our sacred heritage are the pearls tossed to international swine there to be trampled and ground in the muck of political expediency.

The will of the people of the United States is thus subjected to treason. Whatever our desires, they are set aside through the fulminations of internationalists who dream in terms of global dominance and are restless and unhappy in the presence of national integrity.

There is only one reasonable course for all good Americans. That is to demand immediate and permanent withdrawal from the United Nations and to resist with determination any future attempts that might be made to lure us into the quicksand of a one-world government.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

A number of readers, including E. H. C. M., and E. R. have recently inquired concerning a disease known as hepatitis. It should be said at the start that the word hepatitis means inflammation of the liver. At the present time there are two major varieties which are receiving particular attention: serum hepatitis and infectious hepatitis.

The probabilities are that both forms of hepatitis are caused by a virus but there is some doubt as to whether the virus is the same for both.

Serum hepatitis is acquired from the transfusion of blood or its products, probably because the responsible virus was present in the blood of the donor. It is in order to avoid this risk that so much care is taken not to use blood for transfusion from a person who is, or has recently been, jaundiced.

MORE FREQUENT is the disease known as infectious hepatitis which is a growing health problem. Fortunately, however, the disease is usually mild though weakening and the chances of recovery are ordinarily good.

Infectious hepatitis can strike at any period of life but it seems to be most frequent in children of school age.

There are a number of puzzling aspects to the disease.

Several epidemics have been traced to person-to-person contact or to contaminated water or food but in most instances the pathway of transmission has not been traced. There are some reasons for believing that healthy persons — carriers — who have not been apparently ill with the disease, can spread it. If this is the case it is similar to some of the other viral diseases.

IN MOST OF THOSE patients who have diagnostic infectious hepatitis there is a period of the onset lasting a few days in which there may be easy fatigability, slight nausea and loss of appetite. Following this it is usual for the jaundice or yellowish coloration of the skin to appear, and sometimes this goes on to an extreme yellowness and sometimes not.

If a person is known to have been exposed to infectious hepatitis, it is sometimes possible to prevent the disease by giving a substance known as gamma globulin which is derived from the blood.

ONCE THE DISEASE has developed, however, there is no specific treatment for it. A good deal of rest in bed is usually indicated, the diet must be low or lacking in fats, and alcohol must be strictly prohibited.

In the usual attack there is a rather long convalescent period sometimes going on for months before the victim really feels normal again.

Afraid Of Liberty Or Lack Of Confidence In Self To Compete

I recently had an article under the heading of "Afraid of Liberty." It set forth that most people were afraid of liberty.

Now I have a very interesting letter from one of my associates on whether or not people are afraid of liberty or afraid that they cannot compete. This is probably what they are afraid of rather than afraid of liberty. They, of course, want liberty for themselves but do not want others to be free to compete to have liberty.

Probably the reason they are afraid of other people having the right to compete, and thus having liberty, is that they do not realize that producing wealth under a competitive system is entirely different from getting wealth by gambling or by war or by gifts or by the use of aggressive force or by fraud. Under these cases, the gain of one is the loss of all. But under free competitive system in producing wealth, the gain of one is the gain of all.

Everyone is benefited when anybody adds to the wealth of the world and no one is injured or loses anything because no one owns the exclusive or monopoly right to produce anything, and so they haven't lost anything when somebody undersells them. But let my associate set forth his views on being afraid of liberty. This is the way he put it:

"It was a very stimulating thought and I have read it several times."

"But the thought comes to me that this fear of liberty is probably more a fear of the individual's own ability to make his way rather than a concern for his neighbor's abilities."

"This lack of confidence in one's own ability is probably both cause and effect of our growing collectivist thinking."

"I have thought a lot about this, but have not been able to reach a conclusion as to whether it is more cause or more effect."

"I believe it is an effect of collectivist thinking where the youth of the land is concerned because they are taught to rely on the planning of adults for so much of their activities."

"The organized recreation programs in our cities have reached the point to where young boys and girls have no need to develop their own imagination and devise means for their own recreation."

"It seems to me that this is the beginning of end of the otherwise normal tendency to grow. That the youth has this normal tendency to do something on his own could well be in part the explanation of so-called delinquency. He rejects the planned activity, and the only place he can go on his own is into the realm of 'unwholesome' activities. There doesn't seem to be any intentional planning in that field."

"I don't know whether I am prepared to say that, after all, the 'delinquent' is probably a better man than the conformists. You could not condone his lack of respect for private property, to be sure, but there seems to be the germ of something good in the spirit of freedom in this type of youth. He wants to be different, an individual, and he doesn't know how."

"No, I do not think this person has the spirit of freedom. He has the spirit of revolt against his natural rights that he received from the Great Legislator of the Universe."

Then my associate continues: "The people I have discussed this with have defended the city recreation programs by stating that they want their children to have a better time, an easier time playing than they had when they were young."

"Wouldn't it seem logical that a child who was brought up with the idea of everything being easy would lack confidence in himself when he finally leaves the nest?"

Yes, I am always glad to get criticisms and suggestions on what I have written for readers or associates or non-subscribers.

One of Kipling's trees was injured by a bus, the driver of which was also a landlord of an inn. Kipling wrote this man a letter of complaint, which the landlord sold to one of his guests for ten shillings. And the angry author wrote, this time a more violent letter, which immediately fetched one pound.

A few days later Kipling called on the landlord and demanded to know why he had received no answer to his letter.

"Why, I was hoping you would send me a fresh one every day, and the cool reply he said 'I'd give a good deal better than any driving.'"

Joe was having trouble getting up in the morning, so his doctor prescribed some pills. Joe took them, slept well and was awake before he heard the alarm. He took his time getting to the office, stropped in and said to the boss: "I didn't have a bit of trouble getting up this morning."

"That's fine," replied the boss, "but where were you yesterday?"

Demo Assault On Ike Holds Up Legislation

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON —Sorely needed legislation affecting foreign, farm and conservation problems will be held up or enacted in mishap form because of Capitol Hill Democrats' decision to launch a grand assault upon the Eisenhower forces during the remaining weeks of the current session of Congress.

The Republicans must also bear their share of responsibility, for they are playing their political cards close to their chest, too.

Although many leading Democrats agree that Russia's wily economic moves require greater American efforts in this field, they insist on cutting President Eisenhower's $4.9 billion request for military and industrial aid. Indeed, they may give him only a nominal sum, in view of his admission that our whole overseas adventure should be re-examined and re-evaluated.

Any delay or reduction will encourage the Communists and discourage our Allies, already fearful lest Russia's determination to combat Russo-Chinese penetration into new territory. But it will be welcomed by millions of voters, who prefer that these vast amounts be devoted to lightening the tax burden and humanitarian purposes.

The strategy marks a radical departure from the Democrats' historic program. They are, in fact, describing the international standards first raised by Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman over the protest of isolationist Republicans.

The Democrats may hand like a farm bill which will feel compelled to sign. With his eye on the agricultural vote, he hopes Congress will send him a compromise that will not violate his philosophy too violently.

But the prospective measure will not solve the basic difficulty of a continually mounting food surplus. It will carry enough parity payment inducements to lead farmers to grow more than the domestic or foreign market can consume.

The soil bank, for instance, is the chief virtue of the pending legislation. The politically shrewd Eisenhower wants authority to make pre-election payments to farmers on their mere promise to reduce acreage next year. But the Democrats refuse to give him this kind of political bait, although they favor the scheme if the rewards are not distributed until after the November election.

Farmers' letters to Capitol Hill indicate that they look upon this spectacle as disgusting and discouraging. Many will stay away from the polls altogether.

But the petriest exhibition involves delay in development of billions of industrial power at two of the nation's finest sites for this source of essential energy — the Niagara River and Hell's Canyon.

The naive Democratic National Chairman, Paul M. Butler, says that the return of two Democratic Senators may hang upon the outcome.

The House, by a large majority, passed a bill for private sponsorship of Niagara River facilities. Public power enthusiasts, headed by Senator Lehman of New York, who faces re-election, persuaded the Senate Public Works Committee to report out a measure turn-

FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. ROBERTSON, President, Spiritual Mobilization

Florence Paulmier, headmistress of Media Friends School, Pa., in an article on "The Importance of Feelings in Learning" in a recent issue of Friends Journal, says:

"It has gradually become clear to me that there is a communication that takes place between people on a higher level, independent of and more powerful than speech. This communication is at the feeling level; it includes the spiritual and determines the effectiveness of the relationship between people."

"I have come to the conclusion that (this is) the factor which all good teachers have in common. . . . Children have long antennae and catch feelings like the measles."

Paul de Kock, writing in the Ladies' Home Journal, declares, "Children divine those who love them; it is a gift of nature which we lose as we grow up."

Well, perhaps we don't really lose it. We overlay it with sin, cynicism, and sophistication, but it is likely still there. Hence to truly communicate with people—to reach through their outward defenses into their hearts—we must love them. Most children respond quickly and easily to love, "for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Most adults don't, because they have rejected the kingdom of heaven for the kingdom of this world. But, in the final analysis, even with adults love reaches in and unlocks hearts that remain closed to every other force. Hence, if we are to be fully effective in communicating with others, we must obey Christ's commandment to "love one another; as I have loved you. . . . love (ye) one another."

Pulitzer Awards Are Ballyhooed As Noble

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York — The Pulitzer Awards in journalism are ballyhooed as expressions of a noble ideal. Kent Cooper, the retired executive director of the Associated Press, recalls, with excessive pride of authorship, that in a speech at Temple Emanu-El, New York, in 1945, he originated the expression "The people's right to know."

He has just now retired from the Pulitzer Advisory Board, which recommends individuals and papers to the trustees of Columbia University for the so-called Pulitzer prizes. Some members of this board, by their own conduct as editors and publishers, have shown themselves flagrantly unfit for the trust by suppressing and slanting news.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, of which Barry Bingham is editor, strove with all its might to frustrate a local grand jury and due process when a member of its own editorial staff was arrested in connection with the dynamiting of a Negro family's residence in a white neighborhood by members of a local Communist cell. This editorial employee was a member of that cell. Far from helping to solve an outrageous and dangerous crime, obedient to the "right to know," the Courier-Journal, on paper and by its radio station, hampered the constituted law enforcement agencies so strenuously that the grand jury formally protested. The employee was convicted of advocating sedition and sentenced to prison.

Then and only then, Bingham's paper cut him off the payroll and fired him.

Meanwhile the Courier-Journal had done its utmost to prevent the people from knowing the truth about a violent crime within their midst. The members of the Pulitzer advisory committee, all professing loyalty to "the people's right to know" what goes on in the mysterious process by which Pulitzer prizes are awarded, usually to papers on the left side of politics and to their employees. Last year I inquired about this by letter to Carl Ackerman, dean of the graduate school of journalism of Columbia University. Ackerman was in Berlin for the United Press when I served in the London bureau and as correspondent with the AEP in France in the first world war.

I wrote Carl from Rome asking specific information about two Pulitzer awards which had been challenged as false recognition bestowed on underserving recipients.

One case was the first prize for reporting given to Bert Andrews, chief Washington correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, in 1948, for a hoax called "Washington witch hunt." This feat was actually nothing but a lawyer's bribe for a Communist in the Washington bureaucracy who lost his case, went to prison and was murdered there. The second instance has not been clearly decided and therefore will not be discussed in particular at this time.

Ackerman had now retired from the post of secretary of the advisory board and therefore could no longer communicate with the members of the Pulitzer Board or speak for the university. Therefore, last September he was referring the inquiry to his successor, Prof. John Hohenberg, who has not answered to this day. However, Carl said that the two cases referred to did occur during his incumbency so he would answer "personally."

The Advisory Board itself, on which, mind you, Kent Cooper served until recently, decided on its own authority to keep its decisions secret.

"The Advisory Board during my term as secretary authorized no minutes of who nominated any prize winner and no minutes of who voted for or against any non-nominations and the record of all nominations at board meetings and the voting. These records have been maintained. I believe they are accurate. But, by vote of the board, they are also secret. This policy of secrecy is imposed on the university by the newspaper members of the board. Therefore I cannot personally or officially answer in regard to either of the cases" which I had brought into question.

John S. Knight, whose own string of papers has received many "prizes" from the board, wrote that he was a member when Bert Andrews got the prize.

"Frankly," he said last Jan. 28, "We had no way of knowing whether it (the Andrews) was a handout or not. My Washington office suspects—that it may have been."

Another member who voted for Andrews did know that the job was a lawyer's bribe for a guilty client. And a third had admitted that he had suspiciously voted for Andrews anyway. Nevertheless, the board repudiates the right to know. Over to you, Mr. Cooper.

Saying, 'Free as Air' Headed For Boneyard

By HENRY McLEMORE

"Free as the air."

There's an old expression that won't be with us much longer. Soon it will be as dead as "Twenty-Three Skidoo" and "You tell 'Em, Kid—I'm Hanging Out the Ice to Dry."

It avar isn't safe to say now in certain circles. I said something was "free as the air" the other day at a party, and a man ran clear across the room to question me.

"What free air are you talking about?" he asked.

"Why, the air all around us," I said, puzzled by his attitude. "All the air there is."

The man turned out to be an international lawyer, and did he seem straight on free air!

He told me there wasn't any such thing any more. Now that man has perfected missiles which penetrate into upper spaces for heaven knows how far, and is planning to send satellites galloping around up there, nations are staking out claims.

The lawyer told me that in a few years lawyers would be arguing from morning until night trying to settle the question of how much air is owned by various nations.

One of the problems is to find an answer to that age-old quiz question: "How high is up?" Does American own all the air above it, right on to stertinity and whatever is beyond that? Or does America's sovereignty cease at the city limits of the Moon?

Does Russia own all the ozone straight over its borders, or will its spacemen have to have a passport and visas when they cross the county lines of Mars and Venus?

Things could get so tangled up in a few years that boys won't dare fly kites, lest they trespass on the aerial rights of a rival country and get a court summons.

I don't know much about meteorology or astronomy, but I do know that "way up there in the sky" things are always moving around, and do not stay put like a horse hitched to a post. And the air itself — well, it is always traveling. What was Russian air on day, could very well be over Australia a few days later, and it's easy to

IF YOU'RE FLOCKING TO THE SUN on Decoration Day to tap its gold, some words of warning from Max Factor, Hollywood expert, may come in handy. Rather than pay Old Sol a stiff price for a handsome tan, take a few riches from the sun slowly, wisely and take the rest from a tawny make-up cake. That way, this expert maintains, you can look as brown as a walnut and escape the penalty of a lined, parched or leathery skin.

IF YOU COVET a deep tan, give your skin time to develop it. It's better to be able to sport a suntan two weeks later than your friends, than to have one that blisters and peels and puts you right back where you started among the pale-skinned.

Every time the sun has gotten a good whack at your skin, anoint it with a rich emollient. Even before you see that bedeviling redness creep over your face, beat it of the punch by slapping on a hat or crawling under a beach umbrella, or shade of a tree.

Don't take you sun baths in new halter neck or multiple-strap bathing suits. Swim in 'em, but change into strappies suits for sunning. If their decolletages aren't cut as low

Scout Troop Has Court Of Awards

A Court of Awards during which Miss Jenny Davenport received curved bar, and seven other Scouts received five-point pins was held during a week-end campout of Senior Girl Scout Troop 34 at Camp Mel Davis, near Lefors.

Receiving their five-point pins were Misses Sharon Fletcher, Shirley Wright, Marcie Glisson, Laura Walkup, Wanda Goodnight, Jeannie Hopkins and Pamela Goodlett.

During the campout, the girls completed requirements for their five-point Senior program in cooking, hiking and nature study. Sunday the girls held a "Scouts Own" worship service.

Leaders accompanying the troop were Mmes. J. D. Wright Jr., Verne Fletcher and Clifford Davenport.

Make Friends Manners

When a man and his wife are having dinner guests and serving drinks beforehand it is the duty of the host to take charge of making and serving the drinks. It is he, and not the hostess, who should notice when a guest's glass is empty.

The hostess who keeps giving her husband orders and offering advice would be better off in the kitchen. (News photo)

Pampa Bridge Club Winners Are Tied

The Pampa Duplicate Bridge Club met in the Elks' Lodge with 24 persons playing the Howell movement.

Tied for first place honors were M. G. Rogers and Mrs. Jim Nation, and Mrs. Knox Kinard and Mrs. W. B. Murphy. Second-place winners were Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Rowe.

The Pampa Bridge is a member of the American Bridge League Association and winners receive points that count toward the goal of master points. Anyone interested may play at the meetings for a 50 cent fee. Membership dues are $1, plus a 50 cent fee for each time a member plays.

A door prize is awarded each week to a member, who must be present to be eligible.

Next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Elks Lodge.

Most parents know that the rate at which Baby gains weight keeps on slowing down. He may double his weight in the first five months and not do it again for a couple of years or more. But often parents become alarmed when Baby gains only a few pounds between his second and third birthday. This is usual.

At around age two, Baby can learn to wash his hands (dabble in the sink and wipe his face (swish) with the washcloth. These are useful skills and shouldn't be discouraged by an overzealous cleaning by mother.

Mrs. Jack Howard Speaks On Polio During Meeting Of Merten HD Club

Mrs. Jack Howard spoke on infantile paralysis at the meeting of the Merten Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Archie Maness, 431 N. Summer.

Following Mrs. Howard's talk, Mrs. Jack Prather spoke briefly on wedding etiquette.

During the business session, led by Mrs. V. Smith, it was decided to change the meeting time from 1 p.m. to 9:30 a.m.

Recreation was led by Mrs. Prather, and refreshments of cake, mints and punch were served.

Mrs. Carl Smith was a guest. Members present were Mmes. V. Smith, Jack Howard, L. F. Watt, T. G. Groves, Jack Prather and Archie Maness.

Next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. June 5, in the home of Mrs. Douglass Flynn, Sinclair Merten Camp.

Mrs. Howard pointed out, as a tiny virus of which there are three known types," she told the women. "Polio outbreaks usually begin in June, rising to a peak in late August or early September. However, there are some cases every month."

She went on to list the symptoms as headache, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, dizziness, stiffness or soreness of the neck and back, fever and occasionally difficulty in swallowing or breathing. She told the women these signs may appear singly or in various combinations.

The three types of polio, Mrs. Howard pointed out, are spinal polio which damages the nerve cells in the spinal column which control movements of the body below the neck; bulbar polio, which damages nerve centers in the base of the brain most vital of which controls breathing, circulation and swallowing; and spino-bulbar polio a combination of the two which is usually the most serious form.

Mrs. Howard explained that 50 per cent of all cases recover completely, 30 per cent have muscular weakness, but not enough to interfere with normal life; 14 per cent are seriously and permanently disabled; and 6 per cent die.

"Inform your doctor promptly if someone is sick during polio outbreaks," Mrs. Howard advised the women. "Early bed rest and supervision by a physician may prevent serious consequences, if it is polio."

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. O. E. ELDRIDGE
Bethel Assembly of God
Pampa, Texas

OUR PLACE: IN THE CHURCH AND SUNDAY SCHOOL

(Psalms 5:7) But as for me I will come into Thy house in the multitude of Thy mercy.

God intended that His house be full (Luke 14:23). The greatest provisions were made for it. He paid the price (1 Corinthians 6:20). For ye are bought with a price, therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's.

Can we say that? I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the house of the Lord. It is not enough for man to say that he can pray, sing and read his Bible at home. Nothing will compensate for united worship. Let him that heareth, say "Come." Can you feel that the hour and a half that you spend at church once a week will suffice? Or are you like a child who will do something half-heartedly if he can not get out of doing it at all?

(Heb. 10:22) "Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith." (Zeck, 8:21) "Let us go speedily to pray before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of Hosts. I will go also." Note the personal "I." I will go also — not leaving it up to others, but — I will go.

The family who goes to Church and prays together is a family who will stay together. Some one has said the "Sunday School is the savings bank of human existence."

You are loyal in making your livelihood. Why not be loyal to God? Our happiness depends on our relationship to God and the attitude we take toward Him. A life dedicated to God will receive the power and blessings of God.

Find your place with God, in the Church, and you will be richer for doing it.

Navy's Olympic-Winning Crew Working Out Again

By OSCAR FRALEY
"Admirals" probably are wishing that they were back in bigger boats but there is modern inspiration available so they "don't give up the ship."
The "Admirals" are the members of the 1952 Navy crew which won the Olympic championship at Helsinki. Their current ship is just such an eight-oared shell as four years ago.
But it has been rough sailing since they were recalled as a group in an effort to score another Olympic triumph.
Yet there is another rowing group which probably could hearten the "Admirals" greatly as the officers strive grimly to recapture their rhythm and condition. That would be the Harvard crew of 1914.
To steal an Army line, if the sailors will pardon the expression, while "old soldiers never die" neither, apparently, do old oarsmen.
For that Harvard crew of 1914, which won the Grand Challenge Cup symbolic of world rowing supremacy at Henley 42 years ago, still is intact to a man.
What's more they rowed a mile for the fun of it just two years ago and looked exceptionally well doing it.

U.S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, former governor of Massachusetts, was the bow in that 1914 Harvard boat with Jim Talcott at two; Henry H. Meyer at three; Harry and John Middendorf, four and five; David P. Morgan, six; Louis Curtis, seven; Charles C. Lund, stroke, and Henry L. F. Kreeger, coxswain.
Eight crews were in the Henley Regatta that July 4 of 1914 and no American shell ever had won the "Grand" Pacing Harvard were Leader, The Thames Rowing Club, London Rowing Club, Jesus College of Cambridge, Mayence of Germany, the Union Boat Club of Boston and the Winnipeg Rowing Club of Canada.

One month after his friendly competition among Americans, Englishmen, Canadians and Germans, the German army marched into Belgium and the first world war was on.

But that day, the men of the Crimson proved themselves the best — and have been doing so ever since with rowing reunions in 1929, 1939 and 1954. This despite the fact that now they range in age from 61 to 64.
So the "Admirals" can take heart and expect to be in good shape before the Olympic trials roll around. Oarsmen, somehow, seem to go that way.

Penn and then Princeton were the "big boats" for a while and then the Olympic sentiment swung to Cornell and Yale. But you can take a tip from those Harvard veterans.

Will Force Title Fight
BERLIN — UP—The European Boxing Union will meet Thursday to go through a 23-point agenda and the chief item is to force a show-down on a European heavyweight title fight between Francisco Cavichio of Italy, the champion, and Heinz Neuhaus of Germany, the challenger. Cavichio's handlers have not set a definite date for a bout with Neuhaus.

Weather, Betting Unsettled For Robinson. Olson Match

By JACK CUDDY
LOS ANGELES — UP—The weather and the betting are unsettled for Friday night's return middleweight title fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl (Bobo) Olson at Wrigley Field.
From Uncle Sam's bureau came the forecast of "cool, with possible light sprinkles."
And from the Derby Club at Las Vegas support for Olson that might cause a late switch and send the baldish ex-champ into the ring favored to recapture the 160-pound crown.
"Our man-to-man price favoring Robinson has just dropped from 13-10 to 12-10," said a spokesman at the Derby Club. "And some of our friends in the East are quoting even money. Olson may be favored at ring time."
Thirty-five-year-old Robinson, of New York and 27-year-old Olson of San Francisco will start their nationally televised and broadcast 15-rounder at 7 p. m., Los Angeles time (8 p. m. est) even if off Jube Pluvius should be drenching the ballpark of the Los Angeles Coliseum. The sponsors paid $100,000 for the TV-radio rights, and the show must go on, according to the promoters. The ring will be protected by a canvas canopy.
Advance Sale Runs $160,000
As the eight box offices opened at Wrigley Field Friday, directors of the Hollywood American Legion

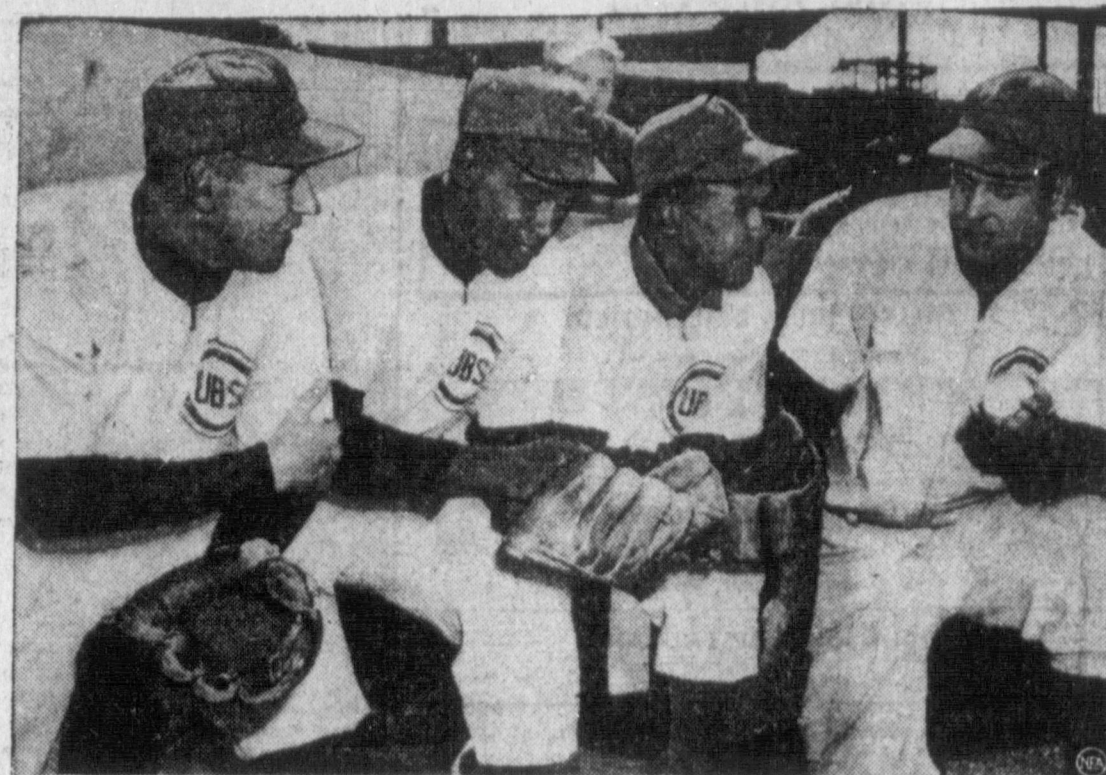

Stadium, who are promoting the fight, estimated the advance sale at $160,000. They were uncertain if the weather would curtail the expected 17,500 fans and $200,000 gate, a record for California.
Although Olson is a three-time loser to Sugar Ray in their trio of previous fights, he is robustly supported for this one because many boxing men believe champion Robinson's ancient legs will tire badly if the bout lasts more than seven rounds.
Aggressive Bobo, who sets a blistering pace, was favored at 3-1 at Chicago Stadium last Dec. 9 because of his youth and stamina and because Robinson had not been impressive while winning five of his six previous comeback bouts. But Sugar Ray cut loose with a burst of head-punches that knocked out Bobo at 2:51 of the second round and made Robinson the first man in ring history to recapture the middleweight crown twice.
The contrasting uncertainties about Olson's "glass" chin and Robinson's legs have made Friday night's twice-postponed fight a tight betting match since it was announced last January.
Meanwhile challenger Bobo, who hopes to be the fifth man in ring history to win back the middleweight title, has insisted that his jaw is as sturdy as ever and that his kayoes by Moore and Robinson resulted from lack of condition rather than lack of concrete in his chin.
Should Olson add another victory to his 65-8-0 record, he will also follow in the footsteps of Stanley Ketchel, Al Hostak, Tony Zale and Robinson, who recaptured the crown. Sugar Ray did it twice. Bobo has registered 30 kayoes in his 73 fights. He has been stopped twice by Robinson and once by Moore.
Sugar Ray's 137-14-2 list includes 89 kayoes. He was stopped only by Max Baer, and he lost only four of his 144 bouts.

Mexican Team Wins Pentathlon

SAN ANTONIO — UP — Mexico took team honors in the International Pentathlon Thursday with 11,926 points, while Brazil placed second with 10,599.
San Antonio's 1st Lt. Edgar A. O'Hair won the 4,000 meter cross-country run to edge Lt. Jose Perez Mier of Mexico for top individual score. O'Hair won the individual honors for the United States although his team was eliminated from competition by the injury of one of its members Sunday by a fall from a horse.
O'Hair ran the rugged cross-country in a time of 13 minutes, 49.9 seconds for a total score of 4,674 points. Lt. Perez had a time of 15:11.8 for a 4,666 point total.
Another U. S. entry, Specialist 3-C Robert K. Miller of Seattle, totaled 4,431 points and ran the cross-country in 14:27.8 to place third.
Rosenburg shot an eagle three on the 480-yard eighth hole for his best play. He reached the green in two and sank a 25-foot putt.
Maxwell, who tied for runnerup spot here last year, had a 35-32-67 while January, a rookie in the pro ranks shot 36-31.
Four players came in with 688. Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn., Al Bolding of Erindale, Canada and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., shot 35-33 each while Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, did it with a 34-34.
Pitcher Gets Collar
NEW YORK — UP— Lefty pitching phenom Don Ferrarese of the Baltimore Orioles took along an unusual gift of a horse collar from George Weiss Monday when he left for Kansas City and a western swing. The gift was not from George Weiss, the general manager of the Yankees, but from a Baltimore fan who makes the leather - tool horse collars by hand. He said he intended to present one to every Baltimore pitcher who turns in a shutout this season.

Spahn Pitches Milwaukee To 7-3 Victory Over The Giants

By UNITED PRESS
Southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee insists he will "settle for nothing less than 20 victories this year" and that comes as distinct pennant news to the Braves, who have been forced to settle for a back seat since 1948.

Spahn kept the Braves atop the National League by defeating the Giants 7-3 Thursday night for his third straight triumph. And he did it in style, too, yielding eight hits and no walks while striking out five, collecting two hits himself and stealing a base.

"I've got my change-up back this year," he said, following the victory. "and my fast ball is more alive than it has been in two years. I missed winning 20 last year but I will settle for nothing less this year."

On Top by 27 Points
The Braves, aiming for their first pennant in eight years, thus remained 27 percentage points ahead of the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, who defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4.

Third baseman Kenny Boyer and 41-year-old reliever Ellis Kinder were the Cardinal standouts. Boyer collected four hits and increased his batting average to .418 in driving in three of the Cards' runs while Kinder picked up his first victory after relieving Wilmer Mizell.

Catcher Hobie Landrith drove in three runs for Cincinnati in a 4-1 victory that snapped Pittsburgh's four-game winning streak. Russ Meyer was breezing along with a four-hitter until the Pirates knocked him out with two more hits in the ninth.
Brooklyn and Cincinnati were idle.

In the American League, left-hander Whitey Ford chucked up his sixth straight victory while pitching the first-place Yankees to 12 hits. The Yankees hammered out 10 hits while Ford gave up eight.

White Sox Runs Unearned
All of the White Sox runs were unearned, coming on two of three errors by shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who also collected three of the Yankees' hits.

Yogi Berra's 11th homer touched off a three-run rally in the second inning and the Yankees finished loser Jack Harshman with a six-run burst in the fourth. The Yankee victory snapped Chicago's six-game winning streak.
Mickey Vernon's three-run homer and Tom Brewer's four-hit pitching led the Red Sox to a 6-1 decision over the Athletics. The loss was Kansas City's fourth in a row and dropped the A's into a tie with Detroit for the cellar.
The scheduled game between Detroit and Baltimore was rained out. Cleveland and Washington were idle.

"I'M ALLERGIC"

You can't eat eggs, chocolate, wheat, oats, nor a long list of other things because if you do, you'll break out in a rash or hives, or stop up and cry with hayfever, or choke with Asthma. You're allergic! So — you are allergic. Now that we have admitted this quite obvious fact, what are we going to do about it? We can check it with drugs, an endless task, or try to find what causes it and remove the cause to end the whole thing.

An allergy is an abnormal condition of your body. Normal people with normal bodies can eat these things with no ill effects. Our allergic body reacts in a pathological manner. Stimulated nerve endings in your nose, or lungs, or skin become red hot and tender causing muscles to tighten and blood vessels to enlarge and fill with blood and the capillaries fill with fluid, all of which produces a hot, tender swelling, which in your nose is hayfever, on your skin is hives and in your lungs is Asthma.

Nerves that are tender and easily stimulated are sick nerves because something is irritating or interfering with their normal function. Our job is to search for and find this interference, then remove it to normal after which they will not react to such stimuli.

Take this case from our clinic files as a good example of how it's done:

This young man, age 16, complained of a nervous allergy. A red swelling resembling a scald would appear on various areas of his face, feet, or body. He was nervous, had frequent colds and had an asthmatic wheeze since a bad pneumonia attack. He was taken to several specialists and had allergy tests and various treatments all of which failed. He was advised to stay away from Chloroform.

Discouraged, he came to the MILLER CLINIC where he was examined and a spinal injury, causing interference to the central nervous system, was discovered. Under corrective adjustments, realignment was made and the interference removed. The complaints rapidly disappeared as normal function was permitted to return. This young man is now serving his country in the Armed Forces, No. 1317.

For health's sake, personally investigate. What have you got to lose except bad health?

HOME RUN — The Oilers' Robinette is being heartily congratulated by his teammates in the above scene after knocking one out of the park last night. The Oilers went on to defeat the Plainview Ponies by a score of 20-2.

Oilers Massacre Plainview's Ponies Here Again By 20-2

By FRED M. PARKER
Pampa News Staff Writer

The Oilers caught fire Thursday night in the second of three games stand against the Plainview Ponies and beat them for the second night in a row, this time by 20 to 2.

The Oilers came out of their recent batting slump and slammed 20 hits all over the park and out of it to score the 20 runs. Five of the hits were homers including one over the wall at the center field flag pole by Robinette.

The Ponies went down in one, two, three order in the first. The Oilers scored five runs in the bottom half of the first to make it a 5 to 0 game. Gusman, the first man up for the Oilers, put one over the wall for the first tally. Robinette got on base on an error by Blaha and Tucker hit a double to put Robinette across with the second run. Fortin and Cross drew bases on balls to load the bases and Flores singled bringing Tucker and Fortin in for the third and fourth runs. Dial singled to put Cross over the plate and the inning ended with Flores being thrown out at second.

The Ponies made their first run in the second when Burns hit a home-run off the scoreboard. They were unable to put another man across the plate as Brown and Kennedy were trapped in a double play and Blaha was thrown out at first to retire the side.

The Oilers were unable to score in the bottom half of the second and the Ponies could not cross the plate in the top of the third.

The host Oilers gained their sixth run in the third when Brungas scored on an error by the Pony second baseman Poppell. The Ponies were unable to score in the bottom half of the second and the Ponies could not cross the plate in the top of the third.

The Oilers were unable to score in the bottom half of the second and the Ponies could not cross the plate in the top of the third.

Neither team was able to put runs across in the fifth and the Ponies went down in the sixth leaving three men on base.

The Oilers went wild in the sixth when they sent 11 men to the plate and scored 6 runs on 6 hits. The Ponies sent in their third hurler for the evening, Anderson. Cross doubled and Martin honored putting Cross over the plate ahead of him. Brungas singled and Dial drew a base on balls. Dial doubled sending both men in to score. Robinette hit the homer over the fence at the flag pole putting Dial across ahead of him and the score stood at 17 to 1 at the end of the sixth.

The Oilers scored two more runs in the seventh on a homer by Flores who batted in Martin ahead of him.

The final run for the Oilers came in the eighth on a homer by centerfielder Tucker.

The Ponies scored their second and final run in the ninth when Hutzler hit a two-baser and scored on a single by Poppell.

Winning pitcher for the Oilers was Dial who went all the way and the losing pitcher for Plainview was Smith.

6-1 victory over San Angelo, while Hobbs was beaten 8-6 by Carlsbad's Gene Summerlin and Alford Diaz in a free-hitting, error-marked game.

Midland and Plainview, the other first division clubs, lost as well. Roswell's Harry Green beating Midland 9-8 and Carroll (Red) Dial of Pampa throttling Plainview 20-2 with a 19-hit attack behind him. In the other game, Ballinger's Ralph Mason and Gene Lippold held Clovis while the Westerners were battering four Pioneer moundsmen for a 16-7 verdict.

Friday night, San Angelo remains at El Paso, Plainview at Pampa, Ballinger at Clovis, Midland at Roswell and Carlsbad at Hobbs.

White Sox Still Want Art Ditmar

By UNITED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox have wrapped up "an attractive package" and offered it to the Kansas City Athletics for pitcher Art Ditmar, it was learned Friday.

The latest offer for the 27-year-old Kansas City right-hander who posted a 19-15 record last year follows a previous one in which the White Sox were willing to turn over such players as pitchers Harry Byrd and Connie Johnson and infielder Sam Esposito.

Chicago has decided to "sweeten the pot" in an all-out effort to land Ditmar, for whom the White Sox first began negotiations this spring.

The White Sox' desire to deal for Ditmar intensified recently when Chicago's negotiations with the Yankees hit a snag.

Ditmar already has won three games this season.

Kansas City reportedly is listening although the Athletics have no intention of parting with Ditmar cheaply.

Meanwhile, fiery Frank Lane of the Cardinals, the busiest trader of the ball, announced in Springfield, Ill., Thursday night that he might not be through dealing yet.

"If the team doesn't come up to expectations soon," he said, "my (trades) can be expected."

He made the announcement on the heels of his latest deal sending National League "rookie of the year" in 1955, to Pittsburgh for southpaw Dick Littlefield and outfielder Bobby Del Greco.

Lane admitted it was "a dangerous deal" but added "the club's biggest weakness was pitching, and how to change it was our biggest problem."

Pole Spot Hot In 500-Mile Go

INDIANAPOLIS —UP— A wide-open "battleground" for the pole" loomed Friday, only 24 hours before the start of time trials for the 500-mile speedway auto race. There was unanimous agreement last year's qualifying records will be shattered.

Gasoline Alley disclosed at least 10 veterans of the brick and asphalt classic are ready to assault the records of 148.793 miles per hour and 142.860 for one and four laps, respectively, set by the late Jack McGrath last year.

Speculation on new single-lap marks ranged all the way from 144.5 to about 147, and that for 16 miles to about 145. Nearly two dozen speed merchants have turned in practice laps of better than 140.

The time trials were scheduled to be continued Sunday and completed the following weekend. The 25 fastest cars from an announced field of 80 line up for the flying start May 20.

England Sweeps Tennis Matchup BELGRADE, Yugoslavia —UP—England completed a sweep of its quarterfinal European Zone Davis cup tennis eliminations Tuesday when Roger Becker defeated Ilija Panajotovic 6-1, 6-5, 6-0 and Mike Davies downed Ivko Picovic 6-1, 6-2, 6-1. The victors gave England a 5-0 edge over Yugoslavia in the eliminations.

Tennessee's Johnny Majors Is Strictly A Team Man

By JIM WARTERS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. —UP— Whether he's wearing a track suit or a football uniform soft-spoken Johnny Majors of the University of Tennessee is fast modest and strictly a team man.

On the gridiron Johnny is one of the fleetest men in the South. As a sprinter he may be fast enough to place Tennessee in the 100 and 200-yard dashes in Saturday's Southeastern Conference track meet at Birmingham, Ala.

Although he was the SEC's most valuable player last football season, and the sparkplug of a revived Tennessee eleven, Majors would ask for no greater thrill than contributing some points to his track team's total in the SEC meet.

Whether it's football or track if the team can win, that's good enough for Johnny, no matter who gets the personal glory.

He brushes off his football exploits with the same "team" approach.

"Whoever takes the ball will gain yardage if he's got blocking in the line," Majors says.

Johnny handled the football more than any other player in the conference last year. He led the conference in total offense with 1,133 yards, including 657 rushing and 476 passing. He punted 39 times for a 38.5 average and re-secured best record in the league.

Majors likely will be an All-America prospect in 1956, and last year's Alabama game may have been the beginning of it all.

Tennessee already had lost two key games "and I wasn't sure of my signal calling," the 30-year-old sprinter recalled. But the Vols won, 30-0, and the victory gave Majors' moral a big boost.

"It gave me the confidence I needed," he said. "I knew that we had a well-knit squad and the players could concentrate on executing their plays."

"Majors made the varsity the first game he played of his sophomore year. Against Mississippi State he broke away for an 80-yard touchdown run. Injuries took their toll that first tough year, starter only last season.

The Huntland, Tenn., player learned football with the help of his father. For three years, Johnny played for Coach Shirley Majors' Huntland high squad.

His dad suggested that Johnny enroll at a small college and see how he fared there before trying for a bigger school. But Tennessee Line Coach Farmer Johnson quashed that plan.

"Smaller school, heck," said Johnson after watching Majors perform. "We want that boy."

Sold Out in 21 Hours

WASHINGTON —UP— This year's major league All-Star game is all sold out, and what's more it took only 21 hours to accomplish. The Washington Senators, who host the game this year, report about 25,000 applications on hand. Griffith Stadium seats around 28,000.

Cancer is not contagious. Statistics show that seven times as many heavy smokers (two packs a day) die of cancer than do non-smokers.

Track Stars To Clash At Houston

HOUSTON —UP— Two of the nation's finest young track stars clash Saturday in what is expected to be the feature event of the southern United States track meet.

The most spectacular event will pit Texas University's Eddie Southern of Dallas and J. W. Mashburn, Oklahoma A&M's brilliant runner who has the fastest 400-meter dash in the nation.

The meet is sponsored by the Houston Track and Field Association, and as an Olympic-year special has scheduled many other races that will draw special attention.

The 130-yard high hurdles will feature four outstanding entries. They are Eddie Roberts of Oklahoma A&M, Bill Curtis of Texas Christian, Ronnie Pruitt of Houston and Wesley Hight of Rice Institute.

A scheduled 100-yard dash due to bring together for the second time two great sprinters in Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian and Bobby Whilden is still in doubt after Whilden broke a finger last week end.

The Mashburn vs. Southern clash could produce two really outstanding performances.

Texas' John Tots, winner of the Southwest Conference 440 last weekend, will round out the threesome in Saturday's 440.

The high hurdles race also may produce performances approaching the world's record of 13.8. That even will pit Oklahoma A&M's Eddie Roberts, who ran it in 13.8 last Saturday at the Missouri Valley meet; Houston's Ronnie Pruitt; Bill Curtis of TCU, and Wesley Hight of Rice.

Andre Drapp In Mat Match On Monday

The popular Franchman, Andre Drapp, tangles with the bulky masked Golden Terror in the main event portion of next Monday night's three-event card at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club. Drapp, who last week made his reappearance locally after a two year absence, will be the darling of the fans, who don't care who beats the Terror, as long as he is badly whipped.

His equally masked manager, Marc Anthony, will also appear on the card against the former heavyweight champion of Texas, Sonny Myers. And here again, the fans don't care who whips the sebra-stripe masked manager.

In a one fall opening event, youthful Red McIntyre makes his third appearance in as many weeks against the bearded veteran Frankie Hill Murdock.

Advance tickets for Monday night's program are available at Modern Pharmacy.

Giles Defend Umpire

CINCINNATI —UP— President Warren Giles of the National League defended his umpires Tuesday against charges by Cincinnati President Gabe Paul that they were incompetent. Giles answered, "I think we have a fine staff of umpires in the league this year. Umpires make mistakes, so do ball players, managers of clubs, and presidents of leagues."

Estimated Extra Value Per Gallon To You, of Skelly Supreme Gasoline With Keotane:

(Based on average current premium gasoline prices in the Midwest)	3.9¢
12.7% average gain in mileage	1.9¢
3 octane points extra performance	.8¢
14.4% more horsepower output (h.p. saved or added)	.5¢
Less gum and cleaner carburetors, faster starts with fewer sputters, longer life for batteries	.5¢

Estimated extra value per gallon to you 6.1¢

These extra values are not figured against inferior premium or regular grade gasolines. All tests compared Keotane with Skelly Supreme Gasoline previously made, Skelly Supreme without Keotane.

6.1¢ makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any "cut-rate" gasoline expensive to use;

New Skelly has discovered what petroleum engineers have sought for years — new Keotane formula, now in Skelly Supreme Gasoline. As you drive, Keotane dissolves "glue-like" gum in carburetor and combustion areas. Without gum to stick to, carbon and lead go out the exhaust. Result: so much more power and mileage that you get over 6¢ extra value per gallon, at no extra cost to you. Drive in today and get the complete Keotane story!
