ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS???

If so, then how would you like to have not one but two black cats in the family? That is the plight of Mr. and Mrs. John Nutting and Nancy, at 1100 N. Stark-weather, but they are not superstitious. Here, on Friday 13, the large black cat, "Panther," examines closely its half-brother, a three-day-old kitten. The small cat is one of a litter of small kittens by "Digame," the talking cat. It doesn't really talk, but it does "Meow" when its name is called. Two black cats are not a sign of double bad luck. (News photo)

Federal Flood Insurance Program Heads For Senate

WASHINGTON — UP — A federal flood insurance program is headed for the Senate floor for the first time in history. The Senate Banking committee approved the $5 billion program Thursday as a compromise between plans proposed by President Eisenhower and Democrats. Tentative estimates show homeowners taking part in the program would pay $2 to $10 for each $1,000 of insurance.

The program would put the government in both the insurance and the re-insurance business, selling insurance directly to property owners and re-insuring private insurance. The government would pay 40 per cent of the cost of the program, the property owner 60 per cent.

Parking Lot Construction To Begin

Work on a new parking lot at Highland General Hospital will begin next week, according to the Hospital Board of Directors. The parking lot will be located in the area south of the ambulance drive and is expected to help in replacing some of the parking lot due to construction of the new wing of the hospital.

Dr. M. C. Overton, chief of staff, asked the board to hear Dr. Raymond W. Laycock and Dr. Frank W. Kelley who had been selected by the staff to discuss some suggestions with the board.

Dr. Kelley asked the board to consider using rooms located in the basement for patient rooms so that patients would not have to be placed in the hall. The board, after discussing the matter, instructed Chief Lander, hospital manager, to see what arrangements could be made.

Lander reported that the hospital had the largest number of patients last month since it had been open.

FOREIGN SERVICE

Confession Of Ex-Con Solves Girl Mystery

CHICAGO — UP — An ex-convict's confession has solved the mystery of a runaway school girl whose nude body was found in a hotel room bed.

The ex-convict, John Buser, 26, told police he was with 16-year-old Carla Fisher when she suffered a fatal heart attack Monday night. Previously, he volunteered a story that he registered for the room where the girl's body was found. But he insisted that she was in good health and fully clothed when he left her.

Buser changed his story when he was faced with a lie test Thursday.

President And Advisors To Discuss Controversial Bill

By MERRIMAN SMITH
AUGUSTA — UP — President Eisenhower Friday summoned Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson to his vacation retreat for conferences on the controversial farm bill.

Benson was scheduled to arrive Friday night with a group of other presidential advisers and confer with Mr. Eisenhower at his vacation headquarters Saturday morning.

Presidential Press Secretary James G. Hagerly declined to say whether the President's highly unusual conference with his Cabinet members might relate directly to a decision to sign or veto the bill. It was pointed out that the President has scheduled a major political address in Washington for next Tuesday night before a gathering of Republican state chairmen and finance committee leaders.

Benson will be accompanied on his trip to Augusta by True D. Morse, assistant secretary of agriculture, Don Paalberg, one of Benson's specialists on public relations; Gabriel Hauge, economic adviser to the President, and Kevin McKann, chief White House speech writer.

The President has seldom called a Cabinet member to a vacation headquarters since he has been in office. The only previous ones have been with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Benson's forthcoming trip to the Little White House on the edge of the Augusta National Golf course couples in one event one of the most controversial figures in government and a top 1956 campaign issue.

Since Congress passed the farm bill providing for the unwanted fixed price supports the Democratic campaigners have filled the air with challenges for the President to sign it, or face what they tried to paint as ominous political consequences.

Kansas City Times Reports Ike Will Definitely Veto

KANSAS CITY — UP — The Kansas City Times, morning edition of the Kansas City Star, said Friday that President Eisenhower will veto the farm bill.

A dispatch by Duke Shoop, the Star's Washington correspondent, said the final decision was "made definite" Thursday night in word received by the White House staff from Augusta, Ga., where Mr. Eisenhower is vacationing.

"A veto by the President," Shoop said, "will play into the hands of the Democrats and pave the way for a bitter fight between the Democrats and Republicans for the farm vote in the November elections. It will keep Eisenhower in character. It will prove that he sticks to his principles and ignores politicians who think only of the reaction at the polls." Shoop wrote.

Cancer Marathon Goal Is Set At $2,500

A goal of $2,500 has been set for the cancer benefit radio marathon, slated to begin at 3:30 p.m. Sunday over station KPND, according to an announcement made today by Roy S. Bourland, president of the Gray County unit of the American Cancer Society.

Four Dead In Shooting

ANTLERS, Okla. — UP — A 22-year-old husband blasted down his estranged wife, his mother-in-law and his brother-in-law with a shotgun Thursday night and then killed himself with a .22-caliber pistol bullet.

A hastily assembled coroner's jury early Friday labeled three of the deaths murder and the fourth suicide. Sheriff Lawrence Wade said the husband, Donald Sikes, took the shotgun and pistol to the rural home of his father-in-law, Joe Watts, about 23 miles east of Antlers, an southeastern Oklahoma town.

Wade said Sikes apparently saw his estranged wife, Thelma, through a window. She had returned to live with her family after she and Sikes separated two months ago.

Fires Through Window
Sikes fired his shotgun through the window into the Watts living room, killing her instantly. She was 29 years old.

Mr. Watts, Wade said, then ran into the living room and was also wounded. Sikes again fired through the window, killing the 45-year-old woman.

Watts, who had been in bed with his wife, ran out the back door and summoned authorities from the home of a neighbor.

Wade said Sikes next killed his brother-in-law, 17-year-old Thomas William Watts, as the youth got out of an automobile. Young Watts had driven up shortly after his mother and sister were killed, but knew nothing of the murders.

Body Found In House
Sikes' own body was found beside the house. He had discarded the shotgun and ended his life with the pistol.

Wade theorized that Sikes had entered the house in search of Watts, with whom Sikes had had a gun fight about a month ago.

Watts Had Returned
Watts had returned the fire, wounding Sikes in the head. The younger man was released from a hospital a few days later.

Sikes was free on bond on the assault charge and was also under a court order restraining him from having any contact with his wife.

Grace Kelly Arrives

MONACO — UP — Grace Kelly walked alone through her palace gardens in early morning mists Friday, but sunshine burned away the rain clouds when Prince Rainier arrived for lunch.

The prince rushed impatiently from a night in his bachelor villa to an 11 a.m. reunion with Miss Kelly in his castle where she is staying with her parents.

The Friday the 13th had started badly — rain and a forecast of more rain during the next five days before she marries the prince.

While waiting for Rainier to return from his villa Friday morning Miss Kelly took an 8 a.m. stroll in the garden and then worked hard at answering her mail.

Half an hour before Rainier arrived, his chaplain, Father Francis Tucker entered the palace gates with Father John A. Carlin of Philadelphia, Grace's hometown parish priest.

The two priests made their way through a crowd of American sailors who crowded around the palace, adding yet another American touch to a scene already backgrounded by massed American flags.

The sight — seeing sailors wear on shore leave from the big American aircraft carrier Intrepid, now anchored at Cannes.

"The prince is getting a good deal," said CBS' Eugene G. Herick of Clarkburg, W.Va.

"He's getting a better deal than she is," added AD-1 James A. Cochran of Hattiesburg, Miss.

The whole camera-carrying contingent of American busjackets seemed to beamers of Miss Kelly's beauty.

Sunday Editor Of Oklahoman Died Thursday

OKLAHOMA CITY — UP — Funeral arrangements were pending Friday for Harold F. Johnson, assistant managing editor and Sunday editor of the Daily Oklahoman, Johnson, 55, died of a heart ailment Thursday night at his home.

Johnson had been with the local newspaper since 1927, having served as telegraph editor before being named assistant managing editor in 1936. He had been Sunday editor since 1944.

The newspaperman is survived by his widow, Edith, two sons and a daughter. Services, to be announced by Smith & Kerke funeral home, will depend upon the arrival of one son and the daughter from their homes at Seattle, Wash.

Johnson was born at Decatur, Ill., attending schools there and the University of Texas at Austin. In June, 1920, he became a news staffer on the Wichita Falls, Tex., Daily Times. Later he was managing editor of the Wichita Falls Record News. He served on newspapers at Austin and in Decatur before coming here.

Elijah Refuses To Be Rescued

BURNA VISTA, Colo. — UP — A rescue party that climbed to a mountain pass to rescue Elijah the torii horse, said Friday Elijah really is an individualistic named Bugs and he doesn't want to be rescued at all.

A Denver Post rescue party which climbed the Rocky Mountain heights Thursday confirmed the suspicions of Al and Bill Turner that the horse spotted by an airplane pilot is their pack horse, Bugs.

The Turner brothers advised against rescuing Bugs. They said he likes to take off for the mountains during the non-working winter months when there isn't any packing to do. They also described Bugs as a particular pony who Mrs. Williams likes to see women wearing skirts and has a violent dislike for parked cars.

George McWilliams, a Denver Post reporter and a member of the party, said no attempt was made to bring the horse down because of the deep snow drifts in the area.

McWilliams was accompanied on the expedition by Denver Post photographer Dean Conger and copy boy Irv Moss.

McWilliams said he found the Turner brand on the animal which fitted the description the Turners had given of Bugs before the expedition.

The Denver Post reporter said there also was very little if any danger that the horse might be attacked by wild animals. Reports of timber wolves near the animal on Wednesday prompted the rescue attempt.

McWilliams said Bugs would remain in the mountains until the late spring thaw and make his own way down.

Under the name Elijah, Bugs attracted national attention last February when Wallace Powell, a Gunnison, Colo., pilot, spotted him snowbound on a ledge between the 14,000-foot peaks of Mt. Harvard and Mt. Yale.

Mayor Ben Johnson of Gunnison heard about the stranded animal and put up $24 a week for a hay-lift. The horse got so he expected his meals regularly, and people started calling him Elijah — the name that stuck with him until his true identity was learned Thursday. Elijah was a Biblical prophet who was fed by ravens in the wilderness.

New Ink Makes It Hard To Make Dishonest Living

WASHINGTON—UP—With a new ink on the market Tuesday the modern crook is going to have a rough time making a dishonest living.

This ink, perfected by a pen company, defies the scoundrel. Say you are the scoundrel. You have a check for $500 and want to hike it into $5,000. You rub it out and change the 500 to 10 times its size and do the same on the list where you put a "no-100."

Well, Sir, with the new ink any expert can turn on the black or ultra violet light, and a lumines-cent additive goes to work. When exposed the original writing shows up fine.

Banks are interested. So are other catchers of forgers.

Which brings up the subject of how did ink really start? Nobody knows really, but a little research at the Library of Congress and other places is of more than considerable interest.

The Chinese claim to have invented the stuff 4,500 years ago. But the first mention of it is said in the oldest books to run back to the Sixth Century B. C. — back to Jeremiah, in the Latin vulgate written by St. Jerome about 380 A.D. Jeremiah is quoted as "writing with ink."

Incidentally, not all of the writing fluids across the centuries have been made by man. One was made by a fish. It was the "inky" fluid shot out by the cuttlefish to hide himself from his natural enemies while fleeing. The Spartans following the fish, captured the protective juice and put it to work in the writing business.

The golden days of Rome, and ahead of it Greece, were said to have been written in ink. Horace, the Roman poet, mentioned the word "ink" in his odes.

Pliny, the Roman historian, wrote that "ink is made of soot with burnt resin or pitch, x x x Wormwood preserves manuscripts from mice."

In ancient Egypt, inks were made of a fine powder of carbon stirred with gum water to keep it in "suspension." Often copper preparations were used for dyes. Most of the early inks were

Mosquito Goes To Work For Mankind

DALLAS—UP—The mosquito has been tamed and put to work as a detective "in the service of mankind," two Oregon State College chemists said Thursday.

In a paper prepared for the meeting of the American Chemical Society Thursday, Dr. L. C. Terriere and Ulo Kligenagi said scientists have finally found a use for the pest.

Mosquito larvae are used, they said, to measure tiny amounts of insecticide residues on agricultural products.

"The mosquito," they said, "being extremely sensitive to many of our modern insecticides, has been found to be very useful in the detection of these insecticides when they are present in our food."

"Researchers at Oregon State College are interested in helping farmers produce food with a high degree of purity," they went on. "To do this, they must be able to detect microscopically small quantities of insecticides which are present in the crop after the normal pest control season."

"The amount of insecticide which would normally be present in or on a harvested crop is very small," they said. "There is no chemical method sensitive enough to detect this amount of insecticide, but the mosquito larvae can do it."

Pampa News Women's Editor

WITH GRACE KELLY'S AND MARGARET-TRUMAN'S wardrobes dominating the news, other brides-to-be would like to use more professional methods of making themselves look like story-book princesses which these actresses know so well. As important as bridal wreath, hat, shoes, gloves that complete an outfit in your trousseau, says Max Factor, Jr., Hollywood's expert, is the correct make-up for each.

IN CHOOSING make-up, bear in mind where the trousseau is going to be worn — in Monaco or Bermuda, at Niagara Falls or the Rocky Mountain National Park — in what kind of light and for what occasion, urges Factor.

While you're in the fitting room, he says, is the time to visualize a make-up for the dress you're buying. The girl who takes fabric swatch, belt or something for matching to the cosmetic counter will be better resembled than brides-to-be who don't take plans with make-up shades. If you're wearing colors you've never worn before, this practice is particularly important, says Factor.

If, for instance, you're planning to wear this season's favored blonde-to-beige shades — Margaret Truman will be married in beige, Grace Kelly has for her trousseau blonde shades the skin out — plan to wear a make-up foundation on the pink side. Yellowish pigment in make-up foundation will make you look drab. Lipstick choices should be either a clear ruby red or a rosy flame shade — the latter would be lovely, says Factor, if like Grace Kelly's blonde shantung, your dress were also washed with orange-colored chiffon.

If pink or rose is a trousseau color — in anything from a linen sheath to a chiffon ball gown, like Grace Kelly's gray-and-rose layered chiffon — Factor suggests a sun-tan make-up for a light pink dress, a pale make-up for a rose-colored gown. Lipstick for a pink or crushed rose-colored costume can be an exact match, or you can assert your sophistication by wearing a brilliant red shade.

If your honeymoon will be spent outdoors inviting the sun, anticipate your sun-tan make-up needs when you pack. Your favorite brands may not be so easy to find in Hamilton, Bermuda or along the Beach of Waikiki, Factor warns. Another bit of pertinent advice:

from this expert: Club your impatience to wear white or pastel resort clothes until you've acquired the tan you intended for these trousseau duels.

If you're spending your honeymoon in a rustic environment, use a minimum of daytime make-up and not much more for evening, if the dude ranch is lit by candles and pinelike fire. Nothing, says Factor, looks so incongruous as an overdone face with a pair of blue jeans, nor so well as a freshly scrubbed face with a crisp white cotton shirt.

But if brilliantly lit night spots are on your itinerary — like the gambling casinos in Las Vegas or Monte Carlo — pull all the "pro's" tricks out of your sleeves. Take eyeshadow in several shades. Draw colorful lines above your upper lashes with an automatic eye pencil that feeds you color in different shades.

WANT TO LOOK like a beauty stepped from a Renoir painting in your new romantically-styled hat? Because shapes, sizes, designs are so revolutionary — more hat... more contour dominating the crown than some women have ever known — Factor, draws up a set of rules by which to judge a hat's flattery before you buy it. Study these, and you won't come out of the millinery shop with a white elephant lurking in your hat box.

1. Se that size of hat is properly scaled to your figure. To wear the new parasol, matador or highwayman hats — or any of the new ones of extravagant size — you should be at least 5' 6" tall in your socks, and SLENDER. If shorter than that, but slim, try a smaller-sized "big hat", but look for thickness that'll add inches to your height. A tambourine or a drum pillbox, for example.

2. If you're Junoesque, look for a not-too-large hat that sweeps up — a sizeable, side-slanting beret, for example — which will add height, length of neck, make you look more the Olympian lady you're built like. Avoid, like the plague, a downturned cloche, or a hat with a droopy or rippling brim.

3. Before settling for a so-called sechior ("hair-dryer" hat), flower pot or peach-basket that leaves no more face exposed than a Grenadier Guard's, be sure you can handle this strong fashion. This is potent stuff which should help, not hinder, you achieve a fashion-plate look.

4. Wear a wig of flowers or a

Houston Nurse Awarded Fellowship
By TFWC For The Study Of Cancer

AUSTIN — Miss Catherine Carruth of Houston has been awarded a fellowship for study in cancer by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, it was announced recently by Mrs. L. E. Dudley, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

The award provides for six months study by Miss Carruth at the Vincent Memorial Laboratory of the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, Massachusetts, where she will receive training as a cytologist. Upon completion of her training, Miss Carruth will return to Houston to work with Dr. William T. Arnold in the diagnosis of gastric lesions and malignancies from smears taken from hospital patients.

5. If your face is in the roundish category, a small, rather thick-crowned hat is a good choice. This might be a boater-size beret, worn at a tilted angle. A new pillbox — small but thick, like an archbishop's cap — could be flattering. So could a softly draped turban. Each type suggested has thickness to eke out length of face and figure. Neither has the size or width to defeat that aim.

6. If your face is in the long, slim category, good types of hats for you are the deep-set. One of the best is the cloche with a brim that cuts length of face.

7. Look at yourself profile-view when buying a hat. If you think your nose is more prominent than your chin, a forward-perched hat — especially lovely are the new cloudbanks of tulle — will work wonders to idealize a profile. A jutting chin, on the other hand, needs just the opposite number in a hat: yorn well off the face with hair also pushed back.

"Penned-Up" Office Personnel Collect
Fat And Irritation, Says Fitness Expert

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series on physical fitness, written by the director of the Institute for Physical Fitness.

By BONNIE PRUDDEN
Written for United Press
NEW YORK — UP — What would happen to one of those sleek, shiny, high-stepping race horses you see at the track if you shut it in a box stall, fed it too much, never let it out or fresh air in, never exercised it, periodically irritated and annoyed it and rang a bell in its ear at 15-second intervals?

That beautiful animal would soon become a mess. The horse is a living creature, and so are office workers, lawyers, doctors, salesgirls, factory personnel and shop attendants. Penned in by walls, superiors, co-workers and accumulating work, they sit or stand collecting fat and irritations.

The fat they keep. The irritations they often hand on to their families and friends. This does not make for popularity. Lack of time harrs them. Bells ring. Deadlines spring up. Office politics interferes with digestion. Monotony and repetition wear them down. For relief they turn to the movies, TV and the cocktail bar.

One day in the spring of the year, they go to buy a suit, and it's no longer a size 12. The day the bottom fell out of the market was never as black.

Just Hadn't Noticed
The odd thing is they hadn't noticed what was happening, and even odder, they give up without a squawk. Oh, they may wiggle once or twice, go on a diet, try bowling or a steam bath. But seriously get down to cases? No.

The southern view of a lady walking north is supposed to be attractive. If you sit on it eight hours a day, five days a week in an office, then at home as often as possible and in the movies the rest of the time, it settles, consolidates and spreads.

It can be kept from looking like the side of a barn only by wearing a girdle. Girdles have a way of destroying rhythm and sway, and pretty soon you look like a tightly-stuffed sausage. And who admires a sausage?

There's only one way to keep that mane-tossing, glistening, dancing race horse in good shape. Exercise.

The same goes for human beings. If you can't follow the sun with the Texas Division in spreading the knowledge of cancer throughout the state and has supported its programs.

Miss Carruth was graduated from the Touros Infirmary School of Nursing in New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1947, and has been engaged in the nursing profession since that time. For the past two and one-half years she has been associated with Dr. William T. Arnold in Houston.

Christian Science Services

The scientific unity of God and man, as taught by Christ Jesus, will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from John (3:17): "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage" (18:1-5).

Readings from the Bible will include the following (Luke 1:88): "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people."

Brotherhood To Hear Dr. Bishop

Dr. Ivyloy Bishop, assistant professor of religious education at Wayland College, Plainview, Texas, will be guest speaker at Hobart St. Baptist Church Brotherhood dinner at 8 p.m. Tuesday according to Paul Gobin.

Dr. Bishop, who joined the Wayland College staff this season, is an authority on young people's organizations of the Southern Baptist Convention, having served as executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Royal Ambassadors for 13 years with headquarters in Birmingham, Ala. During this time he was editor of the Southern Baptist publication, "Ambassador Life" for seven years.

Dr. Bishop's other writings have included "A Curriculum of Missionary Education through the Royal Ambassador Organization" and "Guide for Counselors of Royal Ambassador Chapters." His articles have appeared in many Southern Baptist periodicals.

At Wayland College, Dr. Bishop is helping to meet the increasing demand for trained workers in Baptist churches. He came directly to Wayland from Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, where he received the Doctor of Religious Education degree in the summer and where he has been on the teaching staff. Dr. Bishop holds the B. A. from Howard College, Birmingham, and the Th.M. from Southern Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

Since joining the Wayland staff, Dr. Bishop has been in great demand as a speaker, especially for Baptist Brotherhoods which sponsor the Royal Ambassadors.

Skellytown Revival Continues

Revival services at the Skellytown Community Church which began April 4 will continue through Sunday. Rev. Robert Richmond is bringing much needed messages and everyone is invited to attend the remaining services of the revival.

Tomorrow the Community Church plans to have a fellowship conference at the church beginning at 10 a.m. Lunch will be served at the church at noon and the fellowship will continue after the lunch.

Speakers at the fellowship will be Rev. Eugene Brand, First Baptist Church, Skellytown; Rev. L. A. Harper, Assembly of God, Skellytown; Rev. Paul Fitch, Evangelical Methodist Church, Pampa; and Rev. James McCoy of Skellytown who is a student at West Texas State College, Canyon.

The public is cordially invited to attend the fellowship meeting Saturday.

Women In The Church

The Chicago Council of Church Women has organized an eleven-member committee to tackle the relocation problem of the 5,000 to 6,000 American Indians who have moved in recent years from reservations to the city. A study of the problem will be conducted by the Council in cooperation with the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches.

Women of the United Church of Christ in Japan (Kyodan) have been the most active group in supporting the home mission evangelism program of the church. During the past year the women raised one million yen toward the nine million yen budget for home mission work.

In a recent meeting in Tokyo, chairmen of the Women's Departments of each of the fourteen districts of the Kyodan met with the national Women's Department committee members to evaluate their work and make plans for the coming year. In order to train women of the church for their job in the Christian education of children and youth in the home, there will be six district training conferences in the coming year. These conferences are part of the youth emphasis in the Kyodan church this year. The women will be concerned both with evangelism — their homes and evangelistic efforts to reach other homes. Plans are being made for closer cooperation between the women of the church and women missionaries in their areas. Two women missionaries will be appointed to the Central Women's Department Committee.

Women leaders of the Methodist Church, in all sections of the United States, are "exceptionally well-informed, intelligent, and efficient," in the opinion of Miss Eva Shipstone, professor of psychology at Isabella Thoburn College, Lucknow, India. Miss Shipstone believes further that this high-caliber leadership affords a great hope not only for this country but also for the world. Miss Shipstone, one of a three-member team of women from overseas, has been travelling extensively in the United States in recent months participating in interracial workshops arranged by the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities of the Woman's Division of Christian Service.

Panhandle Plans Clean-Up Drive

PANHANDLE (Special) — A city-wide clean up campaign is being planned by the City Council of Panhandle.

Mrs. Phill Hawkins, president, and her council will be aided by the different clubs and organizations in Panhandle. The council will ask each person to be responsible for cleaning up his own property first, then the clubs and organizations will be assigned different sections of the town to be responsible.

Besides the clean-up campaign, the council plans to organize a teen-town, improve the parks of Panhandle, and to prepare a master calendar. The master calendar will be placed down town, probably in the post office, so that clubs and organizations may place the dates of their activities and the place in which they are to be held.

Drive-In Services Sponsored

St. Paul's Methodist Church is sponsoring a drive-in church service each Sunday morning at the Top O' Texas drive-in theater from 8:30 to 9:30.

Edwin Hall, pastor of the church, is holding the services, which started on Easter Sunday.

People of all faiths are invited to attend the services.

Las Sunday, Rev. Hall was out of town and Rev. Ronald Hubbard of the First Presbyterian Church held the services.

People are invited to attend the services "as they are" and do not have to get out of their car for service. Music is played through the speakers and programs are distributed with the words to the songs if the people want to join in the singing.

The services will be held each Sunday throughout the summer.

Services are over promptly at 9:30 a.m. for those who wish to attend their own Sunday school or church.

Lefors Church Is Making Improvements

The Lefors Methodist church is making some improved plans for the coming year.

At a recent meeting, some of the needs of the church were discussed. Some of the needs include redecorating the inside by painting and textoning, new stoves and chairs, concrete sidewalks and grass planted.

Realizing world needs, the church decided it needed to enlarge its missionary program.

The official board hopes to raise the budget for the fiscal year several thousand dollars. The church plans to follow the Roy Farow plan. The chairman of the Farow plan committee is Arlie Carpenter and co-chairmen are Raymond Jordan and A. W. Shoffit.

Rev. Wesley Daniels, pastor, announced that there will be a meeting of the committees on Wednesday night, April 18, at 7:30 o'clock in the church.

The main goals of the church are to educate people to the needs of the church and encourage them to give systematically to the church, he said.

Rev. Daniels reported that the theme for his Sunday morning sermon would be, "The Cheerful Giver." Sunday School will start at 10 a.m. and worship services at 11 a.m. M. Y. F. services will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend, Rev. Daniels said.

Revenue Service Expects Rush

WASHINGTON —UP— The Internal Revenue Service has simplified income tax forms and mechanisms much of its paperwork to speed-up refunds. But it can't seem to hurry the taxpayer himself.

The income tax deadline is now at hand and Internal Revenue officials expect the same old last-minute rush at offices throughout the country.

A progress report shows that as of March 1, when the latest nationwide figures were tabulated, 21.5 million taxpayers had filed their returns. But the same date last year, some 22.5 million had done so.

Cancer Control Sunday

The churches of Pampa have been asked to remember the work of the Cancer Society in their prayers and announcements this Sunday, which has been designated "Cancer Control Sunday" in Texas.

The requests were made by Rev. William E. West and Rev. Edwin L. Hall, co-chairmen of the church committee of the Gray County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

For several years Cancer Control Sunday has been a notable feature of Cancer Control Month, the designation given to April by Act of Congress.

"Religion has a definite place in the fight to control cancer. Prayer is a strong force for good; it gives strength to those fighting cancer. It strengthens the morale of the patient and the family," according to the March issue of the Texas Cancer Triangle.

The effectiveness of Cancer Control Sunday depends upon the interest of each county unit and the prayers made by all the churches.

Central Baptist To Show Graham Film

"Souls in Conflict," newest film release by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., will be shown in Pampa on April 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Central Baptist Church, arrangements are in charge of Carroll B. Ray.

"Souls in Conflict" was filmed during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. It is a full feature-length film in color and it is through screen presentations such as the one scheduled for Pampa that the Graham organization anticipates surpassing the success of an earlier film, "Mr. Texas," described as "the world's first Christian Western," which played to more than 5,000,000 persons in its first two years of showings, and

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

THIS IS OUR HERITAGE

"The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup; Thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage."
—Psalms

This is our heritage, our land
We dedicate it first to God, then to man.
To have and to keep it in a Christian way,
Is what God asks of anyone today.

Faith of our fathers, still with Thee,
Is the true path to harmony,
Charity for guidance in our daily deeds for Thee,
Hope for eternal life with Thee.

To live our lives as the dear Master said,
To love one God, omnipotent,
To love our neighbor as ourself,
To give thanks to God for our daily bread.

America, a land so vast and richly bestowed
With freedom for all who seek it right.
The humblest peasant and rich of foreign lands alike,
Seek it for refuge from all strife.

This is our land, our heritage from God.

CLEVELAND—UP—The Providence Reds are heavy favorites to dispose of the Cleveland Barons in the shortest possible order Friday night and thus wrap up their fourth Calder Cup championship in the American Hockey League.

Perryton Industrial Area Thrives

PERRYTON—(Special)—The new industrial area for Perryton has become a reality, with only the formality of annexing the territory into the city limits yet to be done. The Santa Fe Railway has agreed to make the necessary rail crossing into the industrial area, the site has been surveyed and planned, a petition asking for annexation has been filed, and the city council will meet to determine whether or not to take the site into the city limits.

In a letter to Chamber of Commerce President C. A. Sooter, Santa Fe traffic manager J. C. Vincent of Amarillo said, "Our recommendation to take on the expense of laying a track from our existing rails to the city industrial property just south of the highway has been approved. The material has been ordered and we anticipate the track will be placed in service sometime between the 1st and 15th of May."

Last week the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company of Duncan, Okla., signed a contract agreeing to purchase a five acre site in the new area. The Chamber of Commerce this week took the ten-acre tract from Ray Wright and forwarded the deed to the Halliburton Company.

OILER Boosters

Oiler season books are going fast at the present time according to Warren Hasse, sales chairman. He attributes the slight rise in sales to the deadline, April 23.

The Pampa Oil Community Baseball Association had a goal of 1500 set for the drive but the sales have fallen short of that mark.

Association officials have hopes that the gate sales, 85 cents for adults, 50 cents for students and 25 cents for children from 6 to 12, will be up this season.

Additional persons and firms purchasing one or more books to date are:

Dr. L. J. Zachry, DeLea Vickers, Petroleum Specialty, Knox Kinard, Dr. R. M. Bellamy, Dr. F. J. Vendrell, B. R. Cantrell, Jerry Dogett, J. L. Jackson, B. C. Johnson, Don Johnson, Bill Watson, F. P. Oilers Open Road Trip With Plainview Tonight

Grover Seitz and the Pampa Oilers are in Plainview today preparing to meet the Plainview Ponies. The Pampa pros will be on the road until April 23 when they return to Pampa for their first home game of Southwestern League play.

The Oilers are rated high in the league standings but Plainview and San Angelo are supposed to have better teams according to most reports.

Pampa's pros, as is usual under Grover Seitz, will be expected to finish high in the league. Seitz has been in the West Texas-New Mexico league for many years and has finished in the first division most of the time.

With Lamar Cagle sold to Tucson, Ariz., Seitz was expecting to pick up an outfielder when he went through Amarillo today. The Amarillo club begins play in the Western League this season and is expected to give the Oilers help during the coming season.

Most fans will miss the rivalry between the two clubs but the Oilers will continue the fight for top honors. The two clubs were tied up virtually all season for first place in the West Texas New Mexico pennant race with the Oilers on top when it counted.

Hopes for another successful season are up with the Oilers looking good.

Buddy Woods has been selected to start for the pros against Plainview today with Jerry Tucker to stand by in case he is needed.

Big Jim Martin will be behind the plate for the first time of the season as the Oilers meet the Ponies. Martin completed his year's college at the University of Houston and reported for duty Wednesday.

All the boys will be decked out in their new uniforms. A number has been added to the front of the uniform this season so fans who aren't familiar with the club won't have to wait until the boys turn around to know who they are. The new outfit is the same uniform as the St. Louis Cardinals.

Joe "Dad" Fortin will be starting at first base and batting in the clean-up spot. He has already led four out of the park this season. Fortin had a total of 41 homers last season.

Frank Kempa, ex-Gold Sox, is starting at second and Allan Cross by sports writers to wind up on top of the heap next fall. The Buffs were an 11 to 8 choice over the Fort Worth Cats in a poll of league sports writers taken by the Houston Press.

The Dallas Eagles, which won the full season title a year ago, were the third choice. Only votes for the first three teams were taken in the poll.

The Austin Sens, which took over the Beaumont franchise, were picked for last place in their first post-war season in the Texas League.

Harvesters Meet Plainsmen Today

The Pampa baseballers will be in Lubbock today for their fourth district contest of the season when they meet the Monterey Plainsmen. The new Lubbock school has a season record of 1-10 but they defeated the high flying Abilene Eagles, 7-5, in their last game.

Lubbock's Plainsmen fell three times to Odessa and Tom S. Lubbock twice each to Midland and Snyder. They are still a threat to the district leading Pampa Harvesters.

Amarillo racked up the most impressive victory of the season when Plainview fell, 23-0, Wednesday. The Green and Golders on the other hand have defeated Borger, Plainview and the Lubbock Westlanders in district play to lead the district.

Coach Deck Woldt will probably start Jimmy Parrish on the mound with John Lee calling the signals. Jerold Clark, Gary Herr, Billy Brown and Buddy Sharp will play the infield and James Evans, David Marler and Bill Hogan will start in the outfield.

Plainsmen in the starting lineup will include Arnold Lipps, Rob Hill, Terry O'Brien and Mike Shipman in the infield with Rex Mandeman, Mike McElraith and Jerry Blair in the outfield.

Bert White, who has a record of 0-3, is due to hurl the sphere for Monterey. Gail O'Brien will do the catching.

Other games scheduled today include Plainview at Puro Duro, Amarillo at Borger, the Westlanders are idle in district play.

Texas League Baseball Opens Saturday Night

Some 30,000 baseball fans are expected to be on hand Friday night as four games open the Texas League's first season.

Dallas plays at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City at Tulsa, San Antonio at Austin and Houston at Shreveport.

The same teams switch sites for openings in the other league cities Sunday. A turnout of 40,000 is expected for the four Sunday home openers.

The Houston Buffs are favored by sports writers to wind up on top of the heap next fall. The Buffs were an 11 to 8 choice over the Fort Worth Cats in a poll of league sports writers taken by the Houston Press.

The Dallas Eagles, which won the full season title a year ago, were the third choice. Only votes for the first three teams were taken in the poll.

Eight Enter Relays

Dicky Mauldin, top man in the 1-AA district track meet in Canyon Saturday, is expected to pace the Pampa Harvesters in a bid for top honors in the seventh annual Amarillo Relays Saturday.

Pampa took second place in the district contests with a total of 39 points. The Sandies, who have held the 1-AA district track championship since the district was organized, are expected to repeat in the huge carnival.

Seven Pampans, Robert Warren, Dick Barrett, Tommy Rhoten, Ed Strickland, Dicky Mauldin, Frank Snow and Earl Cooper, placed in the district meet but Snow placed fourth and is not qualified to enter in the regional tournament in Lubbock next week.

Snow, Warren, Barrett, Strickland, Mauldin, Cooper, Rhoten and Gary Dearen will make up the Harvester track team in the relays tomorrow. Jimmy Enloe also may make the trip.

Warren, Barrett, Strickland and Rhoten or Mauldin will run on the 440-yard relay team while Mauldin and Warren will be entered in the 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes.

Strickland and Cooper will be tossing the shot and discus and Strickland will also be competing in the broad jump. Mauldin is set to enter the high jump.

Snow is the Harvesters' 880-yard man and Dearen is expected to leap above 10 feet in the pole vault event.

Coaches Dwaine Lyon and Marvin Bowman will be handling the boys for the track and field events, of the league, but their defense does not match their hitting and they could fall below par at third base, left field and catching.

Outside of Robin Roberts, who is as good as they come, the Phillies also lack pitching. They lack power, too. The Giants, despite the brilliant Willie Mays, don't figure and neither do the Cubs and Pirates.

Others Agree With Stengel
The other seven American League managers agree that Casey Stengel of the Yankees has the "best and most talent." Stengel doesn't know who his leftfielder is going to be or what four players will make up the infield, but the other managers would like to have the same problems. Stengel has the men who can do the job—it's just a matter of picking starters.

Cleveland appears to have lost too much power when it gave up Larry Doby to the White Sox for Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby and it needs plenty of power to back up its pitching, for its infield is shoddy defensively.

The Red Sox are the team Stengel fears most. Boston's only problem appears to be the infield, which has been poor defensively. The White Sox are likely to run into pitching trouble, although they figure in the pennant picture because of the power they gained when they acquired Doby.

Cincinnati, like St. Louis, also has pitching problems. The Redlegs could well be the powerhouse

NEW YORK—UP—The Dodgers and the Yankees. That's the baseball observer's selections for the coming season, just as they were last spring.

Here are the top to bottom picks in both leagues, based on six weeks of covering the spring training camps:

- NATIONAL LEAGUE
1-Brooklyn
2-Milwaukee
3-St. Louis
4-Cincinnati
5-Philadelphia
6-New York
7-Chicago
8-Pittsburgh
AMERICAN LEAGUE
1-New York
2-Boston
3-Chicago
4-Cleveland
5-Detroit
6-Kansas City
7-Washington
8-Baltimore

Although the Dodgers may have pitching problems, with Johnny Podres in the Army and Billy Loes and Karl Spooner nursing the same arm ailments which plagued them last season, they appear to be the class of the field. They have the best defensive team in the league, the strongest bench, and more than enough hitting.

The Braves' hopes were high until Gene Conley, the key man on their pitching staff, came up with his chronic back ailment again. Without a healthy Conley, Milwaukee doesn't figure to go all the way, for no matter how good a club is, it can't afford to lose its No. 1 stopper. The Braves may have second base trouble, again, too.

Cards Promise a Surprise
Under a new manager Freddie Hutchinson, who has instilled a new spirit among the players, the Cardinals promise to be the surprise club of the lot. They finished a dismal seventh last season, when their pitching went sour. Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell is back out of the Army, and he may give the mound corps the shot in the arm it needed so badly in 1955. Aside from pitching, the Cardinals have everything it takes.

Cincinnati, like St. Louis, also has pitching problems. The Redlegs could well be the powerhouse

Time Out With Tom

By TOMMIE ELLIS

Pampa News Sports Editor

Pampa baseball fans are in for a treat if they want to go to Lubbock today and Plainview tonight. The Harvester High Schoolers will be meeting the Monterey Plainsmen at 3:30 today and the Oilers will play the Plainview Ponies at 7:30 tonight.

Both squads left Pampa this morning and should be in Lubbock and Plainview today. We are going down and try to be on hand for both contests.

The Monterey Plainsmen, who have a 1-10 season record, downed the Abilene Eagles, 7-3, for their only win. They have been defeated three times by Odessa, and Lubbock and have dropped their record to 1-11.

The Eagles, on the other hand, have been raised as one of the top teams in the state.

The Harvesters, under the guidance of Coach Deck Woldt, are a very confident of winning and hope they make it four in a row today.

The Oilers, too, will be submitted to a rigid test tonight when they play the Plainview Ponies. San Angelo is the only team in the Western League which is rated above the Ponies.

Let's all take the afternoon and evening off and go down to boost the locals. Support from the community always helps when the odds are tough.

Let's take this space to congratulate the Harvester Golfers on winning the district championship from Sandies. They are the first Pampa golfers to win the crown. Amarillo has controlled it since it became a part of the district competition.

We, too, want to commend the track and field men on taking second place in the district carnival at Canyon last week. Dicky Mauldin was the boy who set the pace for the Green and Golders and for the meet too. He was the high point man of the affair.

It's that time again. We mean little and PONY League time. Registration has been set at the P. M. Houston Elementary school Tuesday night at 7 p.m. All boys who want to take part in the program this year must be on hand to register.

Workouts will be scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at different places over the city. Workout places will be announced Sunday.

The "Game of the Day" comes each day over radio station PDK. If you have some leisure time in the afternoon and like baseball, we suggest you tune in.

Something new around Pampa is coming up. A marble tournament. If you little league age boys get that thumb limbered up for the big day. Watch this column for further information.

Wrestling Matches Switch To Monday

Professional wrestling switches to Monday night, next week, but part of the card will look like last Wednesday night's mad hassle at the Sportsman's Club.

It is a double main event program, which will headline a rematch of the two champions, Danny McShain and Sonny Meyers. McShain is the former world's junior heavyweight champion, and the personable Meyers is a former heavyweight champion of Texas. They had a rough battle Wednesday night, with McShain finally gaining the third fall and the match.

But Meyers protested to the wrestling commissioner that the win was gained illegally, and got the commissioner to hold up the purse. Monday night's winner will get the lion's share of both purses, said the commissioner.

In addition to the two huskies, the other half of the double main event will feature two good looking girl wrestlers, China Mira and Penny Banner. It will mark the second appearance here for the Cuban-born, 22-year old China. But it will be the initial debut locally of Miss Banner. The beautiful 21-year old blond was born in St. Louis, and while a comparative newcomer to professional wrestling, is considered one of the brightest prospects to one day dethrone the champion, June Byers.

In a one-fall warm-up event, another new face will come to Pampa to take on an old face that has never been seen. Tony Bajon will meet the masked Golden Terror in opening bout. Bajon, whose real name is Baillargeon, is the youngest of six professional wrestling brothers from Quebec, Canada, and he currently holds the

Squelching Progress

Jesus said, "For ye have the poor always with you." There are many poor U. S. citizens.

Most of our forefathers would by today's standards be poor. Yet, most of them were hard-working, sincere people who founded a great nation.

And most of our poor today are hard-working sincere people.

Many of the inventions enjoyed by those of us alive today were developed by men working in their basements, barns or garages, then starting in business on a small scale in their homes and gradually growing larger and larger.

Were the Pilgrims and our other forefathers prevented by law from building the log shacks they lived in, and were the inventors and small manufacturers prevented by law from using their homes and whatever small amount of property they owned as bases from which to expand, we would not enjoy the standard of living we now have.

Yet "intellectuals" of today have what they think are grandiose "plans" which they wish to impose upon all of us by government force. These "plans" result in government zoning and codes which would have prevented our forefathers from doing the best they could with what little they had.

The "intellectuals" may cry that things are different today. We've "progressed."

True, we have progressed. But the progress we have made was not due to "intellectuals" using government force to jam their "plans" down the throats of us all.

It was due to freedom from government restrictions (including such restrictions as zoning and codes).

With freedom from government our poor forefathers did the best they could with what little they had. The greatest progress in history resulted.

We who live today are poor compared to what we could be in the future if we can regain the freedom from government enjoyed by our forefathers.

But, if we continue to succumb to the straitjackets ("plans") of our "intellectuals," we shall be poorer in the future, not richer.

'We Highly Resolve'

Twoscore and four years ago our federal fulminators brought forth on this continent a new tax, conceived in avarice and dedicated to the proposition that all incomes must be leveled to equality.

Now we are engaged in a great civil struggle, testing whether any nation so taxed and so levied against can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war, known to us simply as Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place in the coffers of the U. S. Treasury department, that this tax may continue.

It is altogether a matter of coercion that we should do this. But in the true meaning of liberty, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot condone this outrageous seizure of our funds. The brave men, employee or employer who struggle here, have by their energies already earned the right to keep the entire amount taken from them. They have consecrated this money far beyond the power of the Internal Revenue Bureau to add or subtract.

The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but we can never forget the sums of money that we give here. It is for us, the working, rather, to be dedicated here to the untaxed portion of that which we so ignobly surrender. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us . . . that from these departed dollars we take increased devotion to that work we must do if we are to remain free.

That we here highly resolve that these dollars shall not have been taken from us in vain . . . that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom . . . that government of the government, by the government, and for the government shall vanish, that the 16th Amendment shall be repealed, and that freedom, the heritage of all Americans, shall be returned to us and shall not perish from the earth.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Milk is a highly desirable food. Its nutritional value is excellent since it contains proteins, minerals, fats, vitamins and other substances which are needed by the human body.

Milk should be properly collected and treated by pasteurization since it can be the source of such diseases as undulant fever, septic sore throat or tuberculosis. I have been asked to explain what is meant by certified and pasteurized milk.

Ordinarily certified milk is that which has been obtained from specially selected dairy herds and collected and distributed under conditions of rigid care.

PASTEURIZED MILK has been heated to just below the boiling point for a while to kill the germs which might attack human beings. This process does not affect significantly the overall value of milk in the diet.

Some certified milk is also pasteurized. The fact that milk is labeled pasteurized but not certified does not mean that it was not also obtained from inspected cows and not as carefully handled.

Mrs. G. has recently written that she has a little two-year-old boy who seems frail and she has started him on unpasteurized goat milk. She wonders if this is a wise choice.

ACTUALLY, THIS IS rather hazardous since goats may harbor the germ which causes Malta fever or undulant fever and some other bacteria, and this could be passed on to the youngster.

It is essential, I think, that the goat from which the milk comes should be given a clean bill of health by a veterinarian before the milk is given to the little boy. It would greatly add to the safety and probably would not interfere with the value of the milk very much to have it pasteurized also.

Another correspondent says she has recently moved to a farm and wants to know of a method of pasteurizing on which she can rely.

An electric pasteurizer would be best, but if she cannot get one it is possible to do a fair job with a double boiler.

THE MILK SHOULD BE brought to a temperature of at least 143 degrees and kept there for several minutes. It is safer to overdo it than to underdo the heating. This method is, however, likely to alter the taste more than either commercial pasteurization or a home electrical pasteurizer.

Good safe milk is one of our best foods, not only for children but for grownups as well. Milk can be consumed in many forms—chocolate milk or milk shakes, for example—can be put on cereal, and can be included in many cooked foods.

Today, thanks to the improvement in the health of the cows, better and cleaner collection methods, refrigeration, and pasteurization the benefits of milk are made available to all. Milk is safer than ever before.

The Rights Of Property—A Refutation Of Communism And Socialism XXX.

For quite a while I have been quoting from Adolphe Thiers' great book, "The Rights of Property: A Refutation of Communism and Socialism." In the last issue I quoted from him as to how the government should be supported.

Since the happiness and well-being of a people largely depends on the justice and ethics and morality as to the way the government gets its money to carry on its legitimate functions, Thiers' explanation of the government being supported in proportion to income should be of interest. This is so because we in the United States have abandoned this principle for the last 41 years, the way he explained, proportionate support of government is extremely timely. While this explanation might seem a little tedious, it is so important that I am reproducing it. From here on Thiers is speaking:

"I have shown that every man ought to contribute to the public expenses, not equally, but proportionally—in proportion to what he earns or possesses, by a very natural reason, that we must contribute to the charges of social protection according to the quantity of goods protected. Thus, for instance, if we suppose France gives 12 milliards (billions) of francs, and that 1,500 millions are required for the public expenses, it would follow that every one would owe the state one-tenth of his revenues of every kind. The man with 1,000 francs of income, whether from labor or from land, or from the funds, would owe 100 francs; the man with 10,000 francs, no matter from what source they arise, will owe one-tenth also, or 1,000 francs. So the man with an income of 100,000 francs, will owe 10,000. One would pay a hundred times, and the other ten times more, because the social protection had guaranteed to the one, a hundred times, and to the other, ten times more. Referring to the comparison between society and an insurance office (the trustee and most complete that can be employed) I say, that we ought to pay the risk in proportion to the amount of property insured. If we insure a house with a 100,000 francs, at a premium of 1 per cent, we shall owe the company 1,000 francs; if the house is insured at a million, we shall owe 10,000 francs. These things are so plain, that they require no discussion."

"But the limit of injustice being attained, certain financiers of the day cannot stop here. They would go further, and they declare that taxation ought to be progressive; that is, instead of the proportion being 1-10th for all, it should be, for instance, 1-5th for one, 1-3rd for another. Thus, the man with 1,000 francs a year would pay his tenth, or 100, another with 10,000 francs, would pay 1-5th, or 2,000 instead of 1,000, another with 100,000 would pay 33,000 francs, instead of 10,000—which would double the proportion of one, and more than triple that of the other. This is what is meant by progressive taxation, where instead of proportioning the impost to the extent of the revenue, and following a constant rate, it is doubled and tripled, and so on, according to the increase of the said revenues. Just as a tradesman might say, as some wealthy foreigner enters his shop, this gentleman is rich, he shall pay more. In petty matters such as these, we may smile at the intention of exacting a higher price for the same articles, as these wealthy foreigners buy or not as pleases them, and as the evil is voluntary, it cannot spread very widely. What would you say if these purchasers were forced to buy, and were not free to decline?"

"Suppose that you bought 100 lbs. of a superior grocery, it is clear you would pay for 100 lbs. what you would pay for 1,000 lbs. you would pay for a 1,000. Would you think it natural, if you had to pay dearer per pound if you took a 1,000 than if you took 100? In general it is the reverse, for the grocer takes into account the increase of profits you procure him. But here it is very different; the more you buy, the dearer you pay. If you apply to a railway-carrier and desire him to forward you 1,000 or 100,000 tons of merchandise, you would pay for 1,000 or 100,000, and generally somewhat less per ton, the more that is carried, because the expenses diminish rather than increase with the quantity. If you were a shareholder in a company, and an extraordinary call were made for ten francs per share, you would pay ten francs on each, whether you had ten or 1,000. What would you say if you were required to pay twenty francs a share, instead of ten, simply because you held 1,000? You would think it an absurd claim, and would not listen for a moment to the proposer of the scheme. Now what is society but a great company, in which every one holds more or fewer shares, and in which it is fair that each man should pay in proportion to the number he possesses. It would be an unjust to pay a greater advance when you have few shares, as to pay less when you have many. There must be the same rule, neither more nor less, for all; otherwise, society would fall into confusion."

Remarkable Shift In Demo Racial Vote

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — A remarkable shift in the once Democratic racial vote has been revealed by the Eisenhower turnout in the Wisconsin and Minnesota primaries, according to Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall's latest claims and checkup. It may counteract the farm revolt in these same areas, and reported resentment in certain great cities over the Administration's aloof attitude toward the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Ironically, Ike's vote in Milwaukee and other districts with a similar population make-up indicate that Hitler's conqueror ran strong among Americans of Teutonic descent. He did better in many urban sections of the two states than he did on the farms and in the smaller cities.

Chairman Hall also believes that the President showed unusual strength among Scandinavian elements, an important segment in many of the agricultural states. He attributes this encouraging development to Ike's insistence on unification of Germany, and to the financial aid which Washington has given to the Bonn Government.

Although former President Truman originated this policy, it is always the Party in power at the moment which gets the credit. The Administration has also had unusually fine relations with Norway, Finland, Denmark and Sweden. Although they have chafed under our persistent attempt to persuade them to line up with the West, whereas they feel that they must "coexist" with neighboring Russia, Ike has not criticized them or discriminated against them.

Ike's run in the socialistic and labor-conscious city of Milwaukee was especially encouraging to Republican GHQ. As recently noted here, I suggests that the Party's strongholds next November may be the city precincts rather than the outlying counties. While giving Ike a solid endorsement, the metropolis that make the Braves and a certain beer famous elected a Socialist as Mayor.

Republican strategists — and not alone because of the Minnesota Wisconsin-returns — now feel confident that they have recaptured most of the so-called racial vote that F.D.R., Eleanor Roosevelt and James A. Farley kidnapped in 1932 and which the Democrats held through 1948.

These Republicans feel no squeamishness in discussing this political problem, for both Parties maintain well organized and heavily financed units known as the "Nationalities Division." It is a separate and specialized field of political activity and propaganda, and even Presidents work hard at it. Here is the GOP's current analysis of sentiment among these other groups:

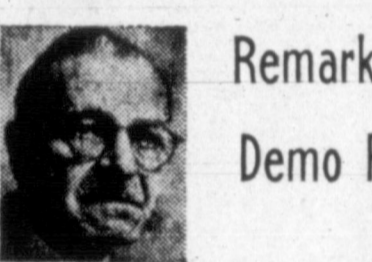

GOP agents report that the so-called "Jewish vote" can be written off, unless the Administration reverses its policy of not contributing to an arms race in the Middle East by reinforcing Israel. Their spokesmen on and off Capitol Hill, including heavy contributors, have persistently denounced the Eisenhower-Dulles program as favoring the Arabs.

Offsetting this defection, Hall's checkers inform him that Ike is

Information On Bioff's Death Interesting

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Information about Willie Bioff, killed by a bomb planted under the hood of his pick-up truck last November, is miscellaneous but interesting. Bioff came here as William Nelson after he served a short hitch in prison for his colossal graft from the movie industry as a satrap of the American Federation of Labor. He went Western with the abandon of a retired Illinois grocer. Hats, pants, books, digstap, everything, but the holster. He could not bear arms even for sartorial effect because he was an ex-convict. The FBI was keeping an eye on him.

Soon after he hit Phoenix, Willie introduced himself to Harry Rosenzweig, an occasional politician engaged in "reform" projects including the banishment of prostitution and open gambling. Rosenzweig runs the oldest and best jewelry store in Arizona. He is an old personal friend of Barry Goldwater, Republican, the junior senator from Arizona. Bioff said he was lonesome. Rosenzweig made him welcome and took him to lunch at a restaurant called the Flame, which is, so to speak, the "21" of Phoenix.

Bioff started hanging around the trading rooms of Merrill Lynch, Pier, Fenner and Beane. As William Nelson he became a client of Abe Ginsberg, a customers' man who later told Rosenzweig that Bioff's account alone provided him with a good living. Ginsberg later took his own life for reasons not connected with the Bioff mystery. Willie's account then fell to Fred C. Andlauer, Jr., who said today that Bioff's business was trifling. He recalled that Willie "once dabbled in wool." Herman Marks, a neighbor and social friend of Bioff, said Willie once bought 600 shares of an airline, but got scared and unloaded at a loss. I am unable to reconcile the disparity in these stories. Later, Bioff took his business to E. F. Hutton. Mr. Andlauer believes he did that because persons around the Merrill Lynch rooms were beginning to whisper his true identity. Andlauer, like most others who knew Bioff here, did not hear that he was Bioff until about one year before he killed.

Three years ago, Bioff told Rosenzweig he had a lot of fine jewelry which he wanted to convert into money. Rosenzweig put Willie in touch with a man in Los Angeles represented to be an agent of Harry Winston, the well-known eastern jewelry broker. However, Rosenzweig refused to let this man and Bioff even use his store for their discussion. So Willie took him to a room in a hotel. Meanwhile, Dean Richards, an employee of the Rosenzweig store, had appraised the batch for Bioff at $70,000. It included one diamond clip, a large ruby set in a lady's ring and some diamond bracelets. Willie also had a big he-man's diamond ring, but Rosenzweig says it is not a very good stone. It has since been appraised at $2,500, give or take a thousand, in the gossip of saloons and police stations. It was blown off Willie's hand by the blast, but found and turned over to his widow, Laura, by a colored window washer coming to clean up the new panes which replaced some 125 windows smashed by the blast. Rosenzweig borrowed $5,500 from Bioff a few days before the murder. He paid off to the estate shortly afterward.

Bioff said the agent from California offered him $20,000 for the lot and that he turned it down indignantly. Rosenzweig repeated to Bioff retained delusions of grandeur from his days of power in the movie union rackets in Hollywood, and wilyly believed he had a great fortune in jewelry. Unless it is in the internal Revenue or the FBI, there is no trace of this jewelry or the proceeds, if he sold it. Bioff told Rosenzweig that Gus Greenbaum, an oldtime bookmaker, hustler and Las Vegas gambling magnate, arranged him to go to Las Vegas, and one way or another persuade the high-priced night-club acts to reduce their prices. Rosenzweig says this was another of Willie's pipe-dreams. He claims Greenbaum did no such thing. However, Senator Goldwater says Greenbaum told him he did seek Bioff's aid for that purpose.

Greenbaum is still active in Las Vegas gambling and hotel operation and is currently in a fight with Al Cahlan, the publisher of the Las Vegas Review-Journal. This puts him on the side of Cahlan's competitor, Hank Greenspun, an ex-convict from Brooklyn who crashed into Vegas with the Buggy Siegal mob. Greenspun has amassed more than a million in the few years since the war, according to sworn testimony, and he did not make it either in journalism or in hotel and gambling operations.

Herman Marks and his wife, a stylish blonde, both form Muncie, Ind., operate a gent's ready-to-wear store in the Sahara Motel, built by Del Webb, identified with the New York Yankees, a high-power southwestern contractor. Marks' home is close to the suburban dwelling where Bioff settled down to quietude on East Bethany Home Road. In Bill's last year they learned that he was the notorious Hollywood racketeer but they had never heard that his police record began with a conviction of pandering in Chicago where he operated at least one old-style brothel and probably several. Rosenzweig also says he had never heard of this or had forgotten it if so.

About the only way I can see to combat this national evil is for public-spirited newspapers and magazines to print quizzes that would build up the ego of us Americans. By that I mean quizzes which any citizen, in even half his right mind, would be certain to bet a winning percentage.

Not only would the questions be simple, but the answers wouldn't be printed upside down, or on another page, or in tiny type. The answers would be within eye range of the questions, and the honor system would prevail. The way the answers are handled now is a slur on our honesty. The publishers act as if they think their readers are a bunch of sly ones.

The quizzes I propose would be general ones, covering all fields, so that winners would feel as if they were not only scholars, but beautifully mannered, fine husbands and wives, and happy as larks.

Here is a simple quiz:

Hex Marks The Spot In Television For The 13th

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK — UP—Hex marks the spot Friday.
It's Friday the 13th, a day to beware of black cats, leaning ladders, open umbrellas, broken mirrors and tray bullets.
It's a day when many TV performers walk gingerly. Like most show folk, the inhabitants of TV now admit to a fair share of superstitions.
Sid Caesar, for example, has worn the same pair of striped formal trousers to final rehearsals for the last nine years. They're his good luck charm.
Phil Silvers has a good luck piece, too. It's a medalion which he wears around his neck and which was given to him by John Raglan, son of the late comic, Rags Raglan.
Bob Hope has no superstitions on stage, but he has one on the golf links. Before he tees off at the first hole, he grabs a tuft of grass and tosses it over his right shoulder.
