Gray County Turns Down Prohibition

Gray Demos Reject Shivers For Johnson In Conventions

Participation Light In G. O. P. Meetings

Lyndon B. Johnson, favorite son candidate for the Presidency from Texas, carried Gray County Democratic precinct conventions by a strong margin, according to reports that came in late Saturday night.

Fifteen of the 18 Democratic precincts in Gray County held conventions at various times yesterday, and most were unanimous in supporting Johnson as a candidate. No conventions were held in Precincts 8, 12, or 18, according to reports.

Johnson led by a count of 61 pledged delegates to 30 Shivers delegates, all in Precinct 10.

A total of 27 delegates in six precincts were unopposed as to how to vote in the County Convention scheduled for Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the County Court Room. The Republicans will hold their convention at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the City Commission Room.

Republican conventions were few Saturday, and reports that came in were incomplete. O. B. Worley, precinct 9 chairman, said that no one was present for the G. O. P. convention, and that George B. Cree, Jr., Republican Chairman, would appoint the two delegates.

Republicans in Precinct 10, which met at 2 p.m. in the City Commission Room, elected DeLea Vickers as permanent chairman of the group and Mrs. Myles Morgan as secretary. The three unopposed delegates named are C. R. Hoover, L. R. Miller, and Don Conley. Vickers credited the poor Republican turnout Saturday to lack of interest.

The Precinct 10 Democratic Convention, held in the District Courtroom, was attended by about 100 persons. William J. Smith, attorney, was named as precinct chairman, defeating Charles Robinson by a roll call vote of 69 to 44. Smith declared he was a Shivers supporter.

A nominating committee — consisting of John Frick, Arthur Teed, Dale Teed, Clifford Whitney, John Phelps, John Studer, Dr. Raymond Hampton, and Clifford Braly — named 30 delegates and 30 alternates to support Shivers. Mrs. William Finis Jordan was named as secretary of the group.

Two resolutions were adopted by the convention. One states that the convention endorses the principle of separate state controlling their internal affairs, and the rights of individual citizens in local government. It opposed federal control of natural resources. The resolution also endorsed Shivers as leader of the delegation to the National Convention.

The second resolution states that the delegates to the county convention will support the two-thirds rule in county and state conventions and that delegates to the 1956 national convention will use every means to restore the rule in the Democratic Party.

Here is a breakdown by precincts: Precinct 1, Lefors High School, 10 delegates for Johnson; 2 — Baker School, 17 delegates for Johnson; 3 — Grandview, four for Johnson; 4 — Alameda, two for Johnson; 5 — McLean, two unopposed; 6 — Laketon, No Convention; 7 — Farrington, one unopposed; 8 — Mrs. (See Demos, Page 2)

Wet Faction May Contest Election

Gray County voters yesterday rejected the local option election on prohibition in an unusually large turnout by a vote of 4,567 for the legal sale of alcoholic beverages and 3,647 against the legal sale.

These are unofficial returns as compiled by the county clerk and county auditor Saturday night. County Judge Bruce Parker stated that the official canvass of the votes will be made Tuesday.

There is a strong possibility that the wet faction will contest the election, according to reports received late Saturday night by The News. This will be done because of the large number of votes cast and the fairly close margin of victory by the wets.

A total of 8,214 voters, about 80 per cent of qualified voters, went to the polls to express their wishes on the prohibition question.

According to figures compiled by County Auditor Ray Wilson the percentage of the votes for the legal sale was 55.6 per cent with 44.4 per cent against.

Six of the 18 precincts voted against the legal sale of alcoholic beverages. The six were Precinct 1, Lefors; Precinct 4, Alameda; Precinct 5, McLean; Precinct 6, Laketon; Precinct 13, Phillips Camp; and Precinct 17, McLean.

Voting by precincts was as follows: Precinct 1, Lefors, for 178, against 220; Precinct 2, Baker School, for 507, against 426; Precinct 3, Grandview, for 69, against 46; Precinct 4, Alameda, for 16, against 71; Precinct 5, McLean, for 55, against 196; Precinct 6, Laketon, for 7, against 22; Precinct 7, Farrington, for 15, against 10; Precinct 8, Hopkins, for 31, against 20.

Oldham and Carson counties voted against the legal sale of alcohol.

Potter County and Dallam County voted to remain wet.

The vote by counties was: Potter, 12,340 for and 8,451 against; Dallam, 1231 for and 891 against; Carson, 929 for and 961 against; Oldham, with incomplete returns, 133 for and 206 against. The one remaining precinct in Oldham County did not have enough registered voters to change the vote from dry to wet.

19; Precinct 9, Woodrow Wilson School, for 570, against 431; Precinct 10, Gray County Court House, for 1,041, against 540; Precinct 11, Kingsmill, for 60, against 50; Precinct 12, Oddfellow Hall, for 588, (See Gray County, Page 2)

Lyndon Johnson Succeeds Gov. Shivers As Demo Head

By O. B. LLOYD Jr., United Press Staff Correspondent

U.S. Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson apparently succeeded Saturday in ousting Gov. Allan Shivers as leader of the Democratic party in Texas.

Johnson, a moderate, and Shivers, an ultra-conservative who won Republican in 1952, were opposing candidates in more than 5,000 Democratic precincts conventions for chairmanship of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Latest returns from a cross-section of the state's 254 counties, including Bexar (San Antonio) and Harris (Houston), the state's largest, showed that Johnson won control in 57 counties with 676 votes in the Democratic state convention.

Shivers, who was making a speech before an insurance men's convention in Atlantic City, N.J., had won in about nine counties with 65 votes. It will take 501 delegates to control the state convention May 22.

Others Not Complete

Returns were not complete yet from such cities as Dallas and Fort Worth—which were reported to be tending toward Shivers—from El Paso, Amarillo or Wichita Falls.

But the trend over the state was such that it appeared Johnson was sure of being elected chairman of the 56-man Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention.

With Johnson, who is supported by House Speaker Sam Rayburn, leading the delegation there is no chance it will jump the fence into the Republican party as it did in 1952.

Johnson claimed that he was "whipping the Shivers statehouse machine by a margin of better than 6-1."

There will be a total of 1,900 votes in the state convention May 22. There are more than 6,200 precincts in Texas, but meetings were not held in some of them.

Important Nationally

The precinct conventions were important nationally because they will determine, in the end, what Texas does with its 96 delegates to the Democratic national convention. Only five states have larger delegations.

In 1952, Shivers attended the Democratic convention, came home and went to work for President Eisenhower. He succeeded in leading a majority of Texas Democrats over to the Republicans.

Loyal Democrats wanted to jump the fence again. Shivers and Johnson both are running for chairmanship of the Texas Democratic delegation.

Johnson Favorite Son

Johnson will back whatever candidate the Democratic party picks—and he is a "favorite son" candidate himself—but Shivers said that if the choice were between "being a good Democrat and a good American, I'll take America."

In essence, Democrats chose between Shivers and Johnson to lead the party. So far, there were no reports of trouble at precinct conventions attended by Negroes.

LONNIE SMITH seeks office

Amarillo Man To Run For State Senate

Lonnie Smith of Amarillo today announced his candidacy for the state senate, 31st Senatorial district.

A former member of the state House of Representatives from Tarrant and Denton Counties, Smith moved to Amarillo following World War II.

While a member of the House of Representatives, he served on the oil and gas committees, the banks and banking committee, was vice chairman of the educational committee, sponsored the teacher retirement act which passed in 1957, was the author of a bill providing a new library at North Texas State College, and helped secure appropriations for buildings at West Texas State College.

Smith says he thinks this area has a definite need for a mental institution and believes the integrity of the state Senate should be restored.

Smith, a member of the Baptist Church, lives in Amarillo with his wife and three-year-old son.

New Weapons May Come From H-Tests

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

ABOARD THE MT. MCKINLEY AT ENIWETOK, Sunday, May 6 —UP—A high task force official indicated Sunday that brand new hydrogen weapons will emerge from tests currently underway at this Pacific proving ground.

Dr. William E. Ogle of the Atomic Energy Commission said the 1954 H-bomb tests proved the feasibility of some big weapons principles and "opened the way for further development" in the H-bomb field.

Theoretical scientists have explored these new possibilities as far as they can in the laboratory. Ogle said, and now their findings "must be checked by actual detonation of devices."

Tests Have Dual Purposes

Ogle, acting deputy commander of the test task force for scientific matters, said the current tests have a dual purpose. One is to speed H-bomb development. The other is to test small atomic warheads for defense against enemy H-bombers. Tests also will increase the knowledge of nuclear blast, heat, radiation, and fallout, he said.

The current series, biggest ever held at the Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in the central Pacific, will cost $150 million, not including the cost of weapons.

This year's "operation Redwing" opened at dawn Saturday (Eniwetok time) with the explosion of a compact atomic device adaptable to missiles. Its power was unofficially estimated at 5,300 to 10,000 tons of TNT. Its highly radioactive cloud dissipated in an uninhabited 400,000 square mile, closed off danger area around the test site.

NATO To Prepare For Peace

By WILBUR G. LANDREY

PARIS, May 5—UP—The NATO Council of Ministers Saturday approved an American proposal for a three-man committee to prepare the Atlantic alliance for peace as well as war.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, suggested Foreign Ministers Lester B. Pearson of Canada, Gaetano Martino of Italy and Halvard Lange of Norway for the "brain trust" committee proposed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as a means to modernize NATO for a 10-year relatively peaceful struggle with Russia.

The three men were consulting their home governments to determine whether to accept.

Respect by Law Susmer

The committee, as visualized would report by late summer on how to transform NATO into a political as well as military instrument to combat the new Russian approach of peaceful penetration.

To continue the modernization of the 15-nation military alliance, the ministers of Canada, France, Italy, Norway and Belgium met Saturday morning to work on a draft declaration promising more political activity for NATO and a program of aid for backward countries.

Dulles and most of the delegates are agreed that such aid would be distributed outside the framework of NATO.

14-Year-Old Killed The Wrong Man

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. May 5 —UP—A sudden and defiant 14-year-old student, charged with murdering one of his teachers and wounding two others, told police Saturday his only regret is that he "got the wrong man."

Billy Ray Prevatte, who went on a wild shooting spree with a 2-caliber rifle at Maryland Park Junior high school Friday, admitted in his jail cell that he made a terrible mistake. He killed his favorite teacher when he really meant to slay the principal who had reprimanded him for truancy.

The handsome quick-witted teenager moved to this suburb of Washington, D. C., in March after he had been expelled from school in his home town of Raleigh, N. C., for brandishing a knife at a teacher who caught him smoking in a restroom.

His father, a textile mill employe, sent Billy Ray here to live with a married brother when it appeared that he might be committed to a reform school. He also had been in trouble in Raleigh for beating a school safety patrolman.

The cigaret-smoking youth now faces trial as an adult on charges of first degree murder and two counts of assault with intent to kill. In Prince Georges county, Md., where this suburb lies, juvenile authorities automatically waive jurisdiction in capital punishment cases. A hearing in the case was set for next Friday.

Young Prevatte flew into a blind rage Friday when his principal, John Hreso, reprimanded him for general misbehavior in class and for being absent without an excuse for a number of days.

It Was Losing Proposition

HOUSTON, May 5—UP—A 16-year-old boy who police found running a north side gambling "casino" for boys 12 and under said Saturday it was just as well he was "retired" since it was a losing proposition.

Police confiscated a roulette wheel, cards, poker chips and dice, as well as a handwritten list of house rules and "seized" eight customers who were released to their parents after a lecture.

The list of house rules:

"Chips cost two cents to buy but you only get one cent back so the house will make a profit."

"Anyone caught cheating will be thrown out for a week."

"Cash in when my grandfather comes home and beat it."

The youthful proprietor said he didn't want his grandfather to learn about his "business venture."

San Antonio Bookies Raided

SAN ANTONIO, May 5 —UP—Capt. R. D. Allen led the police vice squad on a raid of two handbooks Saturday just before post time at the Kentucky Derby.

The books were in a barroom and in a barbecue place in the suburbs. The vice squad arrested seven men. Would-be bettors were trying to get down their money as the raids went on.

A newsman for KITE recorded some of the bets from the bookies' phone on a tape recorder. One man who identified himself as "colonel" tried to put $100 on Needles, which won.

Another would-be bettor called himself "uncle Ben" and another "Schwartz."

Disarmament Half Agreed By East, West

LONDON, May 5—UP—U. S. disarmament chief Harold E. Stassen said Saturday the East and West were roughly half-way along the road to agreement on disarmament.

But Stassen, preparing to leave for home after five weeks of unsuccessful five-power disarmament talks, warned that the last half of the road will be the hardest.

At a news conference called before his flight to Washington, Stassen likened the gap between East and West at the start of the meetings in London to a distance of nine miles.

"On that basis of measurement, we've narrowed it by four miles, so it's five miles to go," he said. "The remaining distance will be the most difficult to cover, he said, but "the next year holds the best prospect of closing the remaining gaps."

"I believe it will be closed," he added.

Stassen said both Russia and the West realize that pressure is building to solve some or all of the disarmament problems within the next year.

Both sides remained deadlocked after the London talks which ended Friday on the issues of inspection programs. The Russians have refused to accept completely President Eisenhower's "open sky" aerial inspection program.

The U.S. "disarmament ambassador" said the next important move by the Russians may be a reply to President Eisenhower's proposal of March 5 that future production of nuclear weapons be frozen.

Russia also may make a unilateral reduction of its armed forces "in the near future" because it needs the manpower for farm and industrial work, Stassen said.

The Russians refused to agree during the London conference to Stassen's proposal that the armed forces of both Russia and the United States be cut to 2.5 million men. The United States currently has 2.9 million men under arms. Russia has roughly 4 million.)

Scientist Shortage Is Our Biggest Missile Crisis Now

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES, Calif. — (NEA) — It will take more than money to settle the dispute over charges that the U.S. lags behind Russia in guided missiles.

The nation faces one of the rare times in its recent history when it cannot spend itself out of what some experts call a dangerous military crisis.

The heart of the problem of speeding up the U.S. missile program is a drastic shortage of scientists and engineers.

Recently, for example, the U.S. Air Force asked the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics — Uncle Sam's top aviation research agency — for a "crash" study to solve a special missile structure problem. It had to do with the intense friction heat generated in a missile by supersonic speed. A "crash" program means top priority and top speed.

An Air Force spokesman says: "We don't care about the Army and Navy getting more money. It's the fact that their IRBM program will pull some of our best missile men off of our program to develop a 5,000-mile missile."

The Air Force is doing what it can to lick this problem. For example, it no longer sends out requests for design competition bids to 20 or 30 firms.

"When we did, it meant that the engineering staffs of a lot of companies were duplicating work," an AF officer explains.

From now on, such bids will only go to a few firms.

The White House has been asked to slap some over-all controls on U.S. scientific personnel. But a White House spokesman says: "We know it's a grave problem. But in a free society we have to sweat out such problems, and this is really a healthy period of per-

Most of the West Coast missile and aircraft executives are telling the committee of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), investigating the Russian-U.S. air armament race, that the shortage of scientists is their No. 1 problem.

The committee could end up taking issue with the White House "hands-off" policy on this problem.

The Symington group has been told that the U.S. now has 1,185,000 working scientists and engineers compared to 1,250,000 in the U.S.S.R.

More frightening than that, however, is the fact that Russia will be graduating 72,000 engineers and scientists this year from its colleges while only 25,000 will be graduated in the U.S.

And the Russian output is increasing about 10,000 per year while the U.S. output is expected to be static for the next several years.

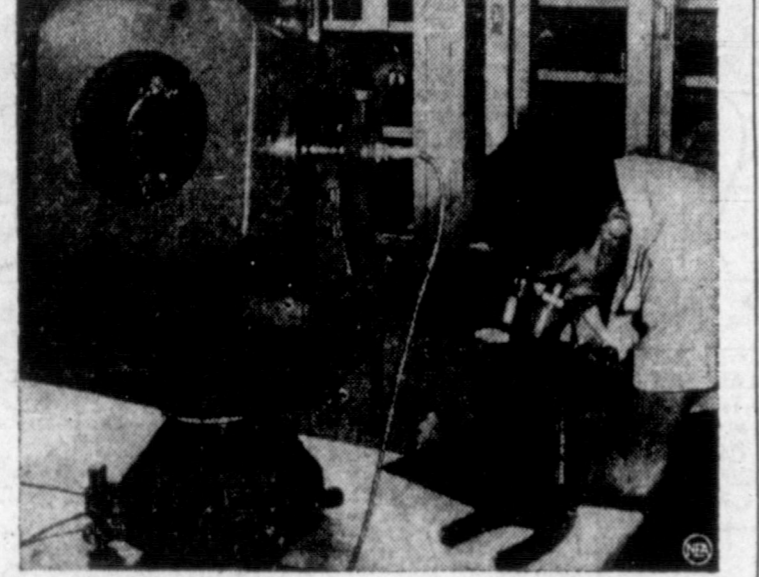

NACA officials were forced to reveal the harsh fact that if they tackled this job it meant pulling men off, and slowing down, equally important work on missile engines and guidance systems.

West Coast missile-rocket executives are unanimous in reporting that it's not necessarily more money from Congress they need to speed up their missile programs, but more engineers and scientists.

"We're working every one of these people so intensely and for such long hours that they're now at the fine edge of diminishing returns," says the president of one of the largest aircraft firms in the U.S.

Interviewed in Washington, Dr. John F. Victory, NACA executive secretary, says: "The unvarnished fact is that some of our essential missile projects are coming to a halt by the loss of essential personnel."

The bitterness of the Air Force over Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson ordering the Army and Navy to start a crash program to build a 1,800-mile intermediate range ballistic missile stems from this source.

MISSILE SCIENTIST — At Partick Air Force Base in Florida, an optical expert works on missile trajectory, one of the many exacting factors that needs more scientists.

APHIDS THAT BLOOM IN THE SPRING, TRA-LA — It's county agent Ray Graham of Lawrence County, Mo., looking over not four-leaf clover but alfalfa. He's inspecting crowns of alfalfa for pea aphids which are currently wiping out whole fields of the crop in the area. The aphids are tiny juice-sucking insects which draw out the sap from growing plants, causing them to wilt in a few days.

Good And Bad Of Week's News

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

GOOD NEWS

1. The foreign ministers of the 15 countries which belong to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization held what promised to be a historic conference in Paris. They proposed to broaden the basis of their alliance to cover economic and social co-operation. The alliance was formed in 1949 as a purely military agreement, to meet what appeared to be the threat of imminent Soviet Russian aggression. The danger of war has lessened. But Russia's new "peace and smile" campaign offers a new threat—that the Allies will be beguiled into forgetting that the aim of communism is still world domination. Hence the broadening of "NATO's" basis aimed at strengthening Allied teamwork in a new phase of the cold war.

2. Quiet working Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld reported to the United Nations that he had succeeded in arranging cease-fire agreements between Israel and its Arab neighbors. Hammarskjöld went to the Middle East under instructions by the UN to try to stop the frontier incidents which seemed about to explode into open warfare. He announced the cease-fire agreements in a preliminary report which left no doubt that he considered his mission a success. He will make a final report next week.

3. The United States gave Communist Poland a stern warning against putting pressure on Polish refugees in this country to return home. Previously two members of the Soviet mission to the UN had been ordered out of the country.

for putting similar pressure on Russian refugees. In London, it was reported that Prime Minister Anthony Eden had urged Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev to free 200 leading anti-Communists imprisoned in Iron Curtain countries.

BAD NEWS

1. There was anxiety in Washington over the lag in production of intercontinental bombing planes capable of carrying H-bombs. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, told a Senate sub-committee that at the present production rates, Russia would surpass the United States in intercontinental striking power in the 1958-1960 period. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson admitted at a press conference that Russia is outstripping the United States in intercontinental bomber production.

2. French Premier Guy Mollet was forced to ask a series of votes of confidence in Parliament on his Social Security and tax-increase program. He won the first vote and was expected to win the others. But the votes emphasized the seriousness of France's political situation rather than representing a victory for Mollet. Continued terrorism in North Africa plagued Mollet also. In Morocco, to which France has given independence, extremists tortured and murdered Moroccan moderates and opened a campaign of arson.

3. Rebels against President Fulgencio Batista attacked an army post in Cuba. Fifteen rebels were killed and 15 rebels and soldiers wounded. The outbreak was attributed to supporters of former President Carlos Prio Socarras, whom Batista ousted by a coup in 1952. Previously there had been anti-Batista riots by university stu-

Spring Has Caught Up With Students

By UNITED PRESS

Spring has caught up with the college students and Friday it was bustin' out on campuses all over the country.

Police rounded up 116 University of Pennsylvania students who took over an intersection in Philadelphia and battled cops behind barricades into the early morning hours. The students hurled eggs and other stuff at the police who tried to arrest them. The 116 were jailed to await hearings.

In New Haven, five Yale students were arrested during a march through downtown streets. Blasts from all sorts of musical instruments rent the air, paper and debris was tossed from dormitory windows. The students arrested were charged with breach of peace attributed to "a mass case of spring fever" on the eve of Saturday's Carnegie Camp Regatta.

In New Brunswick, N. J., six Rutgers University students were arrested in the wake of a violent water battle between fraternity men and independents. The battle lasted about four hours. The six were charged with disorderly conduct. They were released in $1,000 bail pending a hearing.

At Austin, some 40 male students at the University of Texas raided a sorority house and made off with 13 pairs of panties. Four slips and three brasiers. Four were caught and ordered to report to university officials.

Officers said the students climbed ladders to the sorority house second story and kicked in a window to stage the panty raid. Rioting also broke out at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, where several hundred students staged an uprising on fraternity row. They attacked a news photographer, threw wine bottles, beer cans and firecrackers and set a big bonfire in the middle of the street. The photographer suffered two fractured ribs. The riot was blamed on a "secession from the union" fraternity, which has no chapters north of the Mason-Dixon line.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. —UP— A general swapped his stars for stripes Thursday in a voluntary plummet to the rank of airman third class. Air Force Reserve Brig. Gen. Bruce Johnson accepted the rank of an enlisted man so he could remain in the active reserve. Otherwise, he would have been regulated to the retired reserve on his 60th birthday last Monday.

News In Brief

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio —UP— Two Kenyon College ROTC students were killed Thursday when their Piper Cub training plane crashed into a farm field off Route 586, three miles southeast of here. The state patrol identified them as Perry E. Gilpatrick of Worthington, Ohio, and Charles F. Welch of Sedalia, Mo. Both were about 19 years old.

MILWAUKEE —UP— Former baseball umpire John W. (Ziggle) Sears brought suit for $46,000 damages Thursday for an eye injury he claims he suffered because of first baseman George Crowe's negligence.

He said Crowe, playing with the Milwaukee Brewers in 1951, let a thrown ball bounce off his glove and into Sears' face. He charged Crowe's fielding of the ball amounted to negligence. Crowe is now a first baseman with the Cincinnati Redlegs.

LINCOLN, Neb. —UP— A jury Thursday found Darrel F. Parker, 24, former Lincoln city forester, guilty of the Dec. 14 strangulation murder of his 22-year-old wife because she allegedly resisted his advances.

The jury, which deliberated 48 hours, recommended life imprisonment. Parker and members of his family left the courtroom in tears.

CHICAGO —UP— FBI agents solved a $300,000 hijacking in time to get a batch of expensive wedding gowns to waiting brides-to-be Thursday.

The agents stopped a truck and found 710 cases of wedding gowns, dresses and fancy underclothes which were stolen Tuesday when two armed men stopped a delivery truck. The agents arrested seven men and released the wedding gowns for several brides scheduled to be married Friday and Saturday.

LINCOLN, Neb. —UP— Investigators for the Air Force, Boeing Aircraft Co. and General Electric Co. probed the ruins of a B-47 Stratojet Thursday seeking the cause of the crash which killed four crewmen Wednesday night.

Killed when the aircraft exploded and burned were Capt. Marion J. Terdue, San Antonio, commander; 2nd Lt. Lynwood H. McIntosh, Dallas, co-pilot; Capt. Charles H. Stonessifer, Maricopa, Calif., navigator-bombardier, and S. Sgt. William F. Rockholt, Felmows, Calif., crew chief.

MEXICO CITY —UP— The Mexican defense ministry Thursday branded as "absurd" a charge by Cuban army chief of staff Gen. Francisco Tabernilla that weapons used in Sunday's abortive revolt there were made in Mexico.

A ministry spokesman said all weapons manufactured in Mexico are rigidly controlled and registered both by the defense and national welfare ministries.

OAKLAND, Calif. —UP— Here's a candidate for meanest thief:

A big man, estimated to be six-foot, four-inches tall and weighing 250 pounds, robbed Lou Flores, 43, of $867 at a jewelry concession in a local shopping center. Just before he started to go, the thief took another look at Flores, a polio victim who uses crutches. He snatched Flores' crutches and threw them in a corner, then ran off as Flores fell to the floor.

CHICAGO —UP— Police found Henry B. Johnson, 53, shot to death in his hotel room Thursday. A note near his body asked that his eyes be removed to help a blind person.

But police said Johnson could not have his last wish. The shotgun blast which killed him also damaged his eyes and made them useless for science.

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

-but its price makes it one of America's 3 best sellers!

It's as simple as this:
Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.
So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.
Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick SPECIAL you see pictured here—and the low price it carries.
It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.
And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.
Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.
Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Here, too—and nowhere else—you can get the silk-smooth performance and flash-fast response of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—the world's only transmission with the gas-saving mileage and switch-pitch action of the modern airplane propeller.
This week—this very day, if you wish—you can sample all these Buick blessings to your heart's content and your pocket's joy. Why not drop in on us and do just that?
*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

'Youth For The Youth Center' Talent Show Is Set Friday

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer

A large group of Pampa teenagers has gone about in recent days to prove that if anyone wants a youth and community center, it's them.

The group, all students in the local school system, are contributing their talents in a show to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Harvester Fieldhouse. The show, "Youth for the Youth Center," is a strictly amateur talent show and proceeds from the event will go to the youth center fund.

The group realizes that it may be some time before the youth and community center becomes a reality, but, as Lee Ledrick, president of the student council and one of the leaders in the talent show promotion, says, "If we can't use it, then our children can."

Malcolm Brown, Jr., in charge of talent for the show, says, "We have a lot of talent, more talent this year than in the past." He hopes to have the money, from ticket sales, tabulated by the end of the program to present as a check to the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

Ticket sales have been going good. With three tickets given to 800 students to sell, there are 2,400 tickets to be sold for a seating capacity of about 3,000 in the field house.

The cast of 47 in the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Bob Liby, started rehearsals about three weeks ago and will continue until one night before the show.

They plan two live appearances over KGNV-TV Monday at 12:30 and Thursday at 12:30 p.m. to boost their show. Part of the cast will appear on "Double Trouble," the show narrated by Johnny Linn, musical director. Monday through Friday, from 8:15 to 8:45 a.m., they will give performances over "This, That and the Other" program of station KFDN. Tuesday at 9:35 p.m. they will be over station KPAT, and again Friday, from 9 to 9:30 a.m. on "Talk of the Town." Thursday noon they will give a Lions Club program.

The busy group kicked off a ticket-sales campaign at the Jaycees last Tuesday noon, receiving the support and the encouragement of the civic club.

Ledrick has a letter from Governor Allan Shivers, complimenting the student council, on the work and the interest they have taken in the community and commending them on planning a program for the youth center.

Credit for the well-organized show must go to the energetic leader, Lee Ledrick; to the active and sincere Malcolm Brown; to Bill Atkinson, who is doing a wonderful job of publicizing the show and is in charge of stage properties and sets; to Ted Swindle, the "English" clown of the show; to Ramona Hudgins and the King's Carolers; and the rest of the cast.

So, without further ado, we introduce the cast. Here they are.

The King's Carolers, a popular trio consisting of Beverly Brewer, Ramona Hudgins, and Ruth Mounce, a group that entertained in the Lions Club Minstrel, is back with some popular offerings.

The Four Spades, a quartet consisting of Jackie Edwards, John Lee, John Claunch and Danny Brister, will demonstrate their vocal abilities. The old "stand-bys", Brown and Hudgins, who have become quite a well known team, will perform on the organ and the piano. Don Cox, on the guitar, will "give out" with some Western music. Another trio — Johnny Nutting, Darryl Ammons, and Rodney Davis on the steel guitar — will entertain.

A tap dancing routine will be given by Maynette Loftus, and a ball room dance will be given by Philo Grommon and Rhona Finkelstein. Charles Lockhart will also give a tap-dancing show.

Solo singers will be Joan Robertson, Eddie Swinney, Betty Lou Hogsett, and Jo Ann Jones. Gale Lee Harris will do a humorous reading and skit. Lois Schneider will give a twirling exhibition. Jimmy Goff will play a flute solo, and Dan Teed will render a saxophone solo.

The Pampa High School Pep Band, that plays for football and basketball games, reorganized into a small group under the direction of Skipper Bogard, will play some

Mrs. Ruby Capps is sponsor. And — oh yes — we mustn't forget Ted Swindle, that high school senior who amused audiences with his portrayal of Dowd in "Harvey", who is doing a humorous "take-off" on the Cockney dialect of England.

TWIRLER — Lois Schneider, the performing baton artist of Pampa High School, will be one of the attractions of the "Youth for the Youth Center" show, scheduled Friday at 8 p.m. in the fieldhouse.

A Message from Your Neighborhood Pharmacy

THIS YEAR, MAY 13th has been set aside as Mother's Day. In 1865 William Ross Wallace wrote, "The hand that rocks the cradle, is the hand that rules the world." Abraham Lincoln said, "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

IN OUR PHARMACY we owe a great deal to Mother, because without her good will and patronage, we would have little opportunity to be successful.

TO HELP MOTHER is one of our most important duties. We supply the medicines and health-aids that are so necessary to keep her and her loved ones healthy and happy. We try our best to serve Mother courteously and honestly, and welcome the opportunity, to whenever possible, explain how best to use the many important products we carry.

EVERY DAY IS MOTHER'S DAY in our pharmacy because so many Mothers visit us regularly, and we value Mother's friendship.

Public Likes Safety Belts In Its Cars

By LEE LINDBERG
DETROIT, May 5 — UP — Only a small percentage of automobile seat belts have been discarded as bad investments, a sampling of motorists who bought them indicated Saturday.

A United Press survey of several hundred persons who bought belts across the nation showed that only 7 per cent of this group no longer use them.

Forty per cent said they use their belts on the highway only, while 23 per cent use them on all except short trips of one or two blocks, 18 per cent "most of the time" and 12 per cent "all the time."

Thirty per cent of the persons returning questionnaires said they have been involved in accidents or sudden stops where they felt the belts helped prevent possible injury.

Not Uncomfortable
Other tabulation showed that 91 per cent of the persons polled did not find seat belts uncomfortable, allowing them to coil back out of the way when not in use.

John Wehncke of upper Montclair, N. J., who uses his belt on the highway only, said he stuffs it into the crack of the front seat to get it out of the way on short trips. "It very often gets stuck and something should be done to eliminate this," he said.

Trooper John P. Heffernan of the Vermont state police said he expects to be issued a new cruiser this summer and "I intend to request permission to have a safety belt installed at my own expense."

An Arlington, Tex., motorist said he's "sold" on seat belts but pointed out they have their bad points.

"A friend of mine had belts installed in his car and then tried her out at speeds of over 100 miles an hour," the Texan said. "Without belts he would not have had the nerve to do this."

Former Official Dies
WASHINGTON — UP — Jack Garrett Scott, 80, former under-secretary of commerce, died at his home here Thursday of lung cancer. A native of Berlin, Kan., he came here in 1933 as an attorney for the National Recovery Administration.

Belts Get Dirty
J. S. Ralston, Denver, complained that belts when not in use fall on the floor and get dirty. A motorist who didn't want to be quoted said belts should be re-tractable, allowing them to coil back out of the way when not in use.

able, 85 per cent feel the belts give them support while riding in cars. 78 per cent do not find belts a nuisance, 65 per cent fasten them automatically and 83 per cent plan to have them installed again when they buy new cars.

The survey turned up both praise and criticism of seat belts, along with suggestions on how to improve them.

John MacKenzie, Danville, Vt., said belts should be made standard equipment on all new cars — at no extra cost.

This view was shared by Lewis G. Lowe of San Francisco, Lowe added the industry should join with safety officials "in stepping up an education program so men feel it's smart rather than silly to wear belts."

Other tabulation showed that 91 per cent of the persons polled did not find seat belts uncomfortable, allowing them to coil

75 Attend Supper At Lefors Church

LEFORS — Approximately 75 persons attended the "kick-off" supper at the Lefors Methodist Church Wednesday night.

The supper was held to get the church's Roy Farrow budget plan into operation.

Artie Carpenter presided over the program at the supper and Travis Lively Sr. spoke on "What It Means To Be a Methodist."

The pastor, Rev. Wesley Daniel, reported that almost half of the minimum budget was pledged at the supper.

A training session for workers will be held Friday night.

Sunday is Loyalty Sunday and the pastor has set a goal of 150 for the worship service. Lay speakers for Sunday will be A. W. Shofitt and George Daugherty.

Commissioning of the workers in the visitation committee will be held after the worship service and all families of the church are invited to bring lunches to eat at the church. Following the lunch, workers will go out in groups of two and contact other members of the church to explain the needs of the church and systematic giving. Rev. Daniel asked that all members of the church cooperate and be at home for the committee's visit.

Rev. Daniel's sermon for Sunday will be on, "Going Out Two By Two."

Training school will be at 10 a.m. Sunday and the worship service at 11 a.m. MYF will be at 6:45 p.m. and the evening worship service will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Daniel invited everyone to attend the services of the church.

The Aiming Stake

By K. L. FANCHER
Things are really beginning to hum around the 47th Field Artillery Battalion. . . preparations for summer camp are the order of the day! Many phases of training have been stepped up so that personnel will know what they are doing when they arrive at Ft. Sill, Okla., this August!

Along with those camp preparations, Headquarters Battery will fire for qualification at Canyon the 2d and 3d of June, all of the men will spend the two days at Canyon and qualification on the various individual weapons will take place at that time.
The past Thursday night saw all of the Battery Commanders of the 47th meet with the Battalion Commander here in Pampa, a meeting at which a number of the plans for summer camp were passed on to the units. At that time we had visitors in Pampa from Dumas, Dalhart and Shamrock, along with the three commanders of units here in Pampa.

This coming Tuesday night all of the units in Pampa will meet at the Armory for maintenance instruction to be held by State Maintenance shop number one. The men of the shop will conduct training for all three Pampa units in arms and motor maintenance, once again in preparation for summer camp.

The 24th of May will be a big day for the National Guard here in Pampa. Brig. Gen. John L. Thompson, Commander XLI Corps Artillery, will be in town for his annual Command Inspection of these units. General Thompson will also inspect Battery C at Shamrock, Battery B at Dalhart and Battery A at Dumas before he departs from this part of the State. Before we close up shop for today, we want to remind you that May 19th is Armed Forces Day, and of course remind you also that the National Guard is an integral part of the Armed Forces of the United States.
Whenever you like, be sure to visit the Armory. East on the Military Highway here in Pampa, and find out how you can help keep your Guard Up!

Television Channel Swim

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK —UP— The channel swim... TV's first show with a $1 million prize, "20 Steps to a Million," is looking for contestants who are specialists at anything—baseball, the Bible, blondes. The show is expected to drop into a network slot this summer or early next fall according to Ed Wolf, its packager.

Godfrey's Wednesday night sponsors want the red-head to reconsider his decision to dump his "Friends" show. CBS-TV announced a couple of weeks ago that the show would fold at the end of the current cycle.

Those close to Nanette Fabray say she'd like to do "High Button Shoes" on TV as a spectacular. NBC-TV acquired the property this week.

"I Remember Mama" will be replaced with "The West Point Story" on CBS-TV next fall. The new show is a filmed entry put out by ZIV, an independent packager. There's talk that Mama may wind up on ABC-TV.

Bob Hope will do six to eight shows for NBC-TV next year, three of them "book" shows. Right now, Bob is trying to land "Sorrowful Jones" and "Idiot's Delight" as TV vehicles.

Noel Coward, whom you'll see in "This Happy Breed" on CBS-TV Saturday night, is talking to network execs about doing some of his plays as two-hour spectacles for next fall.

NBC radio's "Monitor" is preparing a three-hour salute to Vaudeville this May 20. The episode will feature taped interviews with Jack Benny, Jimmy Durante, Jay C. Flippen, Bob Hope and Block and Sully. The show also will feature a tape cut by the late Fred Allen on March 15, two days before his death.

The week of May 6 to 12 is Soil Conservation District Week in Texas. It begins on Soil Stewardship Sunday, May 6, when many churches will hold special services to recall man's duty to the land. During the rest of the week, most SCDs will present special tours, programs and field days to publicize District accomplishments and objectives.

Texas has 172 soil conservation districts which embrace 98 percent of the land area of the state. These Districts represent the greatest force, and the first organized, locally controlled force, for the conservation of soil, water, plants and wildlife.

Each soil conservation district was organized only after landowners of the area voted to have such a district. SCDs are legal subdivisions of state government, comparable to counties and school districts, but they have no taxing power. Each is governed by a board of five supervisors who must be landowners themselves and who are elected by farmers and ranchers of the District.

A soil conservation district helps its cooperating farmers and ranchers plan and apply conservation measures on their land. Following a master plan which was carefully prepared by farmer and rancher committees, each District works toward the goal of complete conservation for all the land in the District. Supervisors function as a coordinating body to simulate and guide the efforts of local groups and individuals toward achievement of the District goal. Technical assistance is provided by various agencies, such as Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, Forest Service, and Vocational Agriculture teachers.

Any landowner can become a SCD cooperater by applying to the board of supervisors. Becoming a cooperater does not involve any financial obligation. Texas SCDs now have 172,000 farmer and rancher cooperaters, and the figure grows by 15,000 each year. Last year these cooperaters covered 1,180,000 acres and stubble-mulched 256,000 acres of Texas land. They controlled brush on 1,322,000 acres and had 6,963,000 acres under deferred grazing. They built 10,700 miles of terraces, 7,540 miles of waterways, built over 10,000 ponds and leveled 74,000 acres of land for proper irrigation.

Supervisors of the Gray County SCD are Ernest McKnight, chairman; Felton Webb, vice-chairman; W. B. Jackson, secretary; Curtis Schaffer and James Massey. There are 427 cooperaters in the Gray County SCD.

Ticket Giver
CHICAGO, May 5—UP— Jack Muller, Chicago's ticket-givest cop, handed out one of his tickets to a motorist who violated the law by cutting down his license plate to fit a number from the Arce; drew high praise from U.S. district court Judge Michael L. Igoe, a passenger in the car.

"He certainly must know the traffic code to be able to spot that violation," the judge said. Igoe also commended Muller for his courtesy, and declared "nobody can complain about how he treats his victims."

Wood Alcohol Fatal
DURBAN, South Africa, May 5—UP— Nine Africans died, four were made critically ill and four were threatened with blindness after staging a wild party in a railway compound. The men made drinks from liquid out of a drum they smuggled out of a railroad yard. Officials said the drum contained wood alcohol.

FORT WORTH —UP— USDA—
Weekly grain:
Most cash grains, except wheat, went up this week at Southwest markets.

Records kept by the Agricultural Marketing Service show that mlo advanced a nickel per 100 lbs. White corn 4 3-4c a bushel, yellow corn 1 3-4 to 2 1-4c, barley 1c and white oats 1-4 to 3-4c a bushel.

Wheat lost 7c a bushel. No. 1 hard offerings closed Friday at $2.42 to $2.50, the lowest since late February. This sharp loss reflects the improved prospects for the new crop after recent rains. Also, there was practically no demand for wheat this week and almost no business except for government exports. Offerings were small.

Milo went up a nickel as a result of good demand for limited offerings. No. 2 grade sold at $2.45 to $2.50 per 100 lbs., the highest since early last June.

No. 2 white corn sold at $1.9 3-4 to $1.99 3-4 and No. 2 yellow at $1.86 3-4 to $1.88 3-4, the highest since last June. No. 2 barley was quoted at $1.40 to $1.42 and No. 2 white oats from the north at $7 1-4 to $8 3-4 a bushel.

These price changes are based on wholesale carlots, Texas common freight rate points from Friday through Friday.

In Oklahoma, wheat has declined 6 to 7c since April 27. No. 1 hard offerings closed Friday at $2.05 at Frederick, $1.99 at El Reno, Enid and Oklahoma City and $1.94 at Guyton and Hooker. Milo went up 5 to 10c to bring $7.75 at Frederick, $1.84 at Guyton and Hooker, $2.05 at Enid, $2.10 at Oklahoma City and $2.33 at Ada.

Good Records Make Gasoline Refund Easier

COLLEGE STATION—Good records will make the job of preparing a claim for a refund on gasoline used on the farm easier, and the farm tractor a more efficient production tool, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer. Farmers are now eligible to ask for a refund covering the 2-cent per gallon Federal excise tax.

To get a refund, a farmer must file after June 30 and before October 1, a claim with the District Director of Internal Revenue covering the gasoline used during the first six months of the year. After 1956 refunds will be made for a one-year period from July 1 to June 30.

Refunds, explains Ulich, will be made only on gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes. They will not include gasoline used in cars or trucks used on the highways even though on farm business. The recently enacted law also applies to diesel and other motor fuels.

The claims must be filed on Form 2240 which will be available after June 1 from county agents, banks, post offices and Internal Revenue Offices.

Ulich reports that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has said that regulations relating to the new law will be issued as soon as possible. In the meantime, he advises farmers to keep a good set of records on all gasoline or other fuels; included under the legislation and used on the farm. When claim filing time rolls around, these records can mean money. If they are studied, they may be the source of information that can save additional money from gasoline or fuel not fully utilized by the tractor and in maintenance costs, says Ulich.

Pampa Takes 3rd At State Meet

Trail Alamo Heights By 19 Strokes, Brownwood By 5

AUSTIN, May 5—The Pampa Harvester golf team, the best ever produced in Pampa, took third place in the state tourney held here Friday and Saturday.

Melvin Chisum, Don Prigmore, Les Howard and Bill McLeod placed higher than any previous Harvester foursome by taking the district meet from the Amarillo Sandies and capping the regional crown at Lubbock.

The Green and Golders shot a total of 640 for the 36-hole tourney while the first place Alamo Heights team from San Antonio made the course in 621 strokes.

Second place went to Brownwood with a 635, only five strokes ahead of the Pampa linksmen.

"We can be proud of our boys although they didn't take the crown," said Weldon Trice following the final totaling.

The golfers were tutored through their high school days by three coaches. Johnny Austin started them on their trek to the state tourney when they were only cadets. He encouraged them to take up golfing.

Hart Warren, too, has contributed to other boys' success as he has spent many hours helping them with their problems. He has encouraged them when they were down and steered them right when they went wrong.

The boys have spent many hours on the links with Coach Trice during the past winter and spring in preparation for the state's top high school tourney. They defeated all of the teams in the 1-AA district in exhibition matches and also capped their first district title.

They went on and took the regional crown in one extra hole ending out the Sandies again.

The individual scoring for the boys was as follows: Chisum, 40-28, 78, 38-42 81; Howard, 40-28, 78, 42-40, 82; McLeod, 42-39, 81, 40-40, 80; Prigmore 39-41, 80, 39-41, 80.

Harvesters Down Dons

The Pampa Harvesters came through with flying colors Saturday and downed the Palo Duro Dons, 14-11, but they had to come from behind to do it and end their 1-AA baseball district season.

The Dons allowed the Harvesters to score a pair in the first frame but retaliated with three in the half of the first, two in the second and third frames. Pampa tied the game up in the second but the Dons took the lead again and held it until the fatal fourth.

Amarillo's Dons led, 7-3, going into the fourth frame but allowed the Harvesters to score five runs to take the lead again.

The Dons, not to be denied, went ahead in the bottom of the fourth as they scored another pair.

Coach Deck Woldt's charges, still behind 8-4, romped wild again in the fifth frame and tore loose for five more runs to take the lead never to be headed.

Buster Baird led off the fatal fifth with a double, Gary Herr got on an error by the Don second baseman which sent Baird home and Herr to third base.

Buddy Sharp singled driving Herr in from third.

Sharp went to second on a wild pitch and scored when Bill Hogan singled. Reynolds forced Hogan at second but Jerold Clark homered to score Reynolds ahead of him.

Pampa's Harvesters were never in serious trouble after that although the Dons scored two in the seventh.

Reynolds took another win for the Harvesters while Beck suffered the loss.

Downey Takes 41st Amateur Golf Crown

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 5—UP—Mary Anne Downey of Baltimore won the 41st Women's Southern Amateur golf championship here Saturday by trimming long-hitting Louisiana Wanda Sanchez two-up.

The match had to go the entire 36 holes of the final two rounds before the veteran Miss Downey could claim the victory.

Shooting a three over woman's par 77 on the first round, Miss Downey held a four hole lead going into the second round. But Miss Sanchez, a tall athlete from Baton Rouge, went to work on the lead and evaded the score on the 28th hole.

Miss Downey rallied and won the 36th with a birdie four while Miss Sanchez scored to a double bogie after hitting her second shot in the woods.

On the 32nd, Miss Downey upped her lead on two holes with a bogey five while her opponent hole-in-one in six. Miss Sanchez won the 33rd with a par after Miss Downey missed a six-foot putt and they halved the next two holes.

Going into the final hole only one down, Miss Sanchez gambled and lost. She tried to fade her ball on the narrow edge of the short par three green near the cup, but it fell instead into a sand trap.

Then, the sender finally was identified through the bank and the money refunded.

Oilers Clip Texans, 7 To 3, Saturday

EL PASO, Tex., May 5—UP—The Pampa Oilers raked three El Paso pitchers for 12 hits and a 7-3 win here Saturday night in a Southwestern League game.

The outcome was never in doubt after the first inning as Dick Green silenced the Texans with five hits until the eighth inning.

Green needed help from John Lallberie who snuffed out an eight-inning rally of the Texans by fanning catcher Juan Armenteros for the third out with the bases loaded.

Pampa wasted little time in cracking the scoring column. With one gone, Lamar Cagle walked and Len Tucker blasted a homerun over the center-field wall. After Joe Fortin flied deep to center, Allen Cross knocked a four-bagger over the right-field barrier.

Fortin led off the fourth inning with a single through the infield. Cross singled to right and ball rolled through right fielder Johnny Warren's legs allowing Fortin to score and Cross to take third.

Bill Newberry replaced McNeal on the mound for the Texans and was greeted by a single by Frank Kempa which scored Cross. A double by Flores put men on first and third but Newberry then retired the side on infield outs.

El Paso got its first run on a controversial homerun by Hunter. The long fly to right field looked like it landed in foul territory but the umpires ruled it fair. The incident touched off a sizable ruckus. The homer came in the fifth inning and after Hunter's homer the Texans loaded the bases. But McNeal, who went to centerfield when he was replaced on the mound, lined to Fortin at first who doubled the runner at first and almost turned the hit into a triple play. Hughes grounded out to end the inning.

Pampa picked up its final two runs in the seventh inning. Red Dial beat out a deep hit to shortstop and took second on an over-throw. Cagle singled to center to score Dial and went to second on the throw-in, however he was tossed out at third on Tucker's attempted sacrifice. Tucker, safe on the fielder's choice, stole second and scored when Cross singled to right.

El Paso scored the Oilers in the eighth when Hughes and Baylis led off with successive hits. Lewis grounded to Fortin who threw wild on an attempted double play, allowing Hughes to score. Warren was safe on fielder's choice as Lewis was forced at second. Hunter flied to center but Sloan walked and Pampa brought on Lallberie, who fanned Armenteros with the bases loaded.

The two teams meet in the rubber game of their three-game series here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Pampa 300 200 200 — 7 12 1 El Paso 000 010 011 — 3 9 2 Green, Lallberie 8, and Flores; McNeal, Newberry 3, Baca 6, and Armenteros. W — Green. 1 — McNeal.

Bolt Forges Ahead In Colonial Go

By ED FITE FORT WORTH, May 5—UP—Tempestuous Tommy Bolt, who has had his temper under control for three straight days, forged to the fore at the three-quarters pole of the $25,000 Colonial National Invitational Golf tournament Saturday total.

Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., playing a remarkably even keel got into trouble late in Saturday's third round over the rugged Colonial Country club par 35-45-70 layout, but stuck it out for a 33-32-68 that shunted him from a tie for second into the lead by one stroke.

He bogeyed three holes, but he had a big accomplishment for the normally high-tempered Bolt because he bogeyed three of the first five holes—a feat that normally would have been climaxed by a club-smashing spree. Instead, the 33-year-old Bolt settled down and birdied five of the next seven holes to turn into the final 18 holes with an edge in the run for the $5,000 top money.

Pushing him at this point were two of the contrasting figures of professional golf — massive Mike Souchak, the former Duke full-back from Grossinger, N. Y., and angular, 125-pound Gardner Dickenson Jr., of Panama City, Fla.

Trailing the leaders on the AA scoreboard were Dallas Sunset, 281; Waco, 30; Corpus Ray, 19 1-2; Highland Park and San Angelo, 18 each.

Needles Wins Derby

By RAY AYRES LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5—UP—D. & H. Stable's Needles, a temperamental colt from Florida, exploded with speed in the stretch at Churchill Downs Saturday to win the 42nd running of the $187,350 Kentucky Derby with an almost unbelievable closing rush.

His cause looked absolutely hopeless as cold-blooded Dave Erb led the rest of the field almost lose Needles in their dust for about six furlongs. Only the out-of-class High King was behind Needles and 15 of America's best three-year-old colts were ahead of him, when Erb finally led Needles run. What a run it was.

There was a blur of the D. & H. orange silks on the outside as Needles cut down horse after horse rounding the turn into the stretch. Half way through the straightaway the crowd knew he was coming and roared out its approval for Needles was their favorite.

On the outside of the struggling horses, Needles finally fought his way to the front about a sixteenth of a mile from the finish and streaked across the finish line three-quarters of a length ahead of Calumet Farm's Fabius.

Come on Red, a colt owned by Mrs. Helen W. Kellogg, who was not supposed to start on a fast track, was another length and a half farther back in third place while Dino Loni's Count Chic was fourth.

The track was lightning fast for this richest renewal of the Derby but Needles' time was not particularly outstanding. He finished the mile and one-quarter stake in 2:03 2-8, far off the track record of 2:01 2-8 set in the 1954 running of America's glamour horse race by Whirlaway.

Owned by Oklahoma's Heath of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and Jack Dudley of Stillwater, Okla., owners of the D. & H. Stable, ever started a horse in the Kentucky Derby. And it was the first time trainer Hugh Fontaine ever saddled one.

It was the third big victory of the year for Needles, who earlier this season won the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park and then the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

The winner's purse was worth a record $123,450 and it boosted Needles life-time earnings to $462,055. That was a handsome return for this colt who comes from a long line of Derby winners. Ponder, his sire, won in 1949 while Pensive, his grandsire, scored in 1944.

SMU Can Tie TCU For SWC Championship

FORT WORTH, May 5—UP—A Leaky Frog defense and Rick Herrscher's power gave Southern Methodist a 6-1 win over Texas Christian Saturday and a chance to tie TCU for the Southwest Conference championship.

SMU picked up enough to win in the second inning when Gene Golden, Bryant Bush and Rip Radcliffe walked. All scored on two successive errors by the Frog infield.

SMU's victory left the Mustangs two games behind the leading Frogs, each having two regular games to play and one makeup game each for games which were postponed earlier in the season.

TCU faces Texas and A&M in regular games, while SMU must play Rice and Texas. The postponed games will have to be rescheduled if they have a bearing on the championship.

Bryant, Martin To Coach Teams in Greenbelt

CHILDRESS, Tex., May 5—UP—Two Southwest Conference coaches Saturday accepted bids to tutor outstanding high school football players from Texas and Oklahoma in the annual Greenbelt Bowl to be played here Aug. 31.

Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A&M and Abe Martin of Texas Christian agreed to take part in the coaching. They join Sam Baugh of Hardin-Simmons and Dick Todd, Midwestern, who earlier accepted coaching jobs.

Bryant and Todd will coach one squad and Martin and Baugh the other.

Game Chairman V. E. Eubank also announced that invitations to 48 top players from Texas and Oklahoma will be mailed Monday.

The game follows by one week the annual Texas coaches all-star game.

Landy Beaten In Mile Race By Jim Bailey

LOS ANGELES, May 5—UP—Jim Bailey, University of Oregon, beat Australia's world champion miler John Landy Saturday by putting on a tremendous finishing kick on the last lap in the special one-mile run to crack the four-minute mile for the first time in the United States.

Bailey became the seventh man in history to beat the four-minute barrier with a sensational clocking of 3:58.6, six-tenths over the world record of 3:58 flat held by Landy.

Landy finished a yard behind Bailey in 3:58.7. He previously had raced Bailey on four occasions in Australia before Bailey came here to attend the University of Oregon and Landy had defeated Bailey on all four occasions.

Fortin, Dial Lead S'west Baseballers

Doug Lewis of El Paso leads Southwestern League hitters with a .491 average in official statistics released Saturday.

Carroll (Red) Dial of Pampa leads loop pitchers with three victories against no defeats. He also is ahead in the strikeout department with 24.

Another Pampa player tops the home run hitters. He is Joe Fortin, who has eight round-trippers to his credit.

Lewis has the most runs batted in, 21, and total bases, 47, and total hits, 26, to go along with his batting average leadership.

Frosty Kennedy of Plainview has crossed a plate 19 times to lead in the runs scored bracket.

Teen Agers Have Extra Week To Sign

Due to the small number of registrants for the 1956 Teen Age League baseball program the deadline has been extended for one week.

All teen-age boys, who are interested in participating in the program this summer, must register by Saturday, May 13.

A total of 44 boys have signed up for the program at the present time and 60 uniforms are available with 15 boys playing for each of the four teams.

Boys who are presently working out for football, are asked to register since workouts will not get underway until after school is out for summer vacations.

The baseball program will not interfere with the spring practice. All members of the high school baseball team that qualify in the age bracket, are asked to sign up as soon as possible in order to be able to participate in the program.

Registration blanks are available at Pampa Hardware.

League president, Norman Phillips, has requested that "all boys who have uniforms from last season return them in order that a complete inventory may be taken."

Teams, sponsored by Atlas Tank Co.; Celanese, Hoover Oil Co. and The Pampa Daily News, will participate in the league again this year.

Coaches for the teams are: Duvalne Darrow, Pampa News; Ab Conway, Atlas Tank Co.; Sherry Cantrell, Celanese; and Homer Holler, Hoover Oil Co.

Boys will be assigned to teams in the same manner as last season in order that the teams may be as evenly matched as possible.

Footballers Scrimmage Saturday

Pampa's Harvester footballers concluded their first week of spring practice Saturday morning with two scrimmage games.

The first green team, guided by Gary Wilhelm, defeated the first white eleven, 18-12.

Wilhelm had Don Bigham, Robert Langford and Bobby Dehis in his backfield while the center, Gary Deater, had for his running mates Buster Baird, Jesse Ring and Robert Warren.

The second green and white units tied at 12-12. Dale Lake guided the second green team while Harold Cooke called the plays for the second white unit.

Lake called the plays for Harry Ward, Freddie Watkins and Joe Cooke while Danny Phillips, Dicky Watkins and David Marlar took the handoffs from Harold Cooke.

The first week of spring practice always results in a few sore muscles and some tired boys and coaches. Bill Walsh is out for a few days with an injured shoulder while Andy Epps and Jerry Blanton have turned ankles. Robert Langford hurt his elbow in the Saturday scrimmage session.

"It's too early to tell," said Coach Lockett when asked about his chances in district competition this fall.

"The boys look pretty good though at this early stage of the game," he continued.

"Don't like to make predictions about the district outcome until it's all over," stressed the coach.

"We think we are going to have a fair team if the boys continue to improve through the remainder of spring practice and in the early stage of the fall workouts," he concluded.

The coaches are continuing their workouts for the next two weeks and scrimmage sessions will probably be scheduled for 7:30 a.m. each Saturday.

Industrial Softballers Organize

Managers of five local industrial softball teams met Friday night in the City Commission Room and organized a Pampa Industrial Softball League.

Representatives from Sinclair Magnolia, Schlumberger, Phillips and Frontier were present at the first meeting.

Charles Admanson will manage the Sinclair team while W. M. Willett will be managing the Magnolia nine. Schlumberger players will be under the direction of D. E. Berthelson and Buck Smith will guide the Phillips Oilers. George Rosal will tutor the Frontier softballers.

Other firms in Pampa, which are interested in participating in the 1956 softball league, may contact Travis Lively Jr. or attend the next meeting Friday night.

A League director will be selected at the 7:30 p.m. meeting and other team applications will be accepted at that time.

"Other teams are welcome to participate," stated Lively. "We would like to have an eight team schedule," he concluded.

Lively has refused to act as director but has agreed to help in any way possible.

UP AND ATEM—The Pampa Harvester gridmen have been getting in some long hard hours during the first week of the 1956 spring training. Six coaches have been on hand to see that the 60 boys out are kept busy. Here, the unidentified boys are learning to hit low and hard. The pipe structure is part of the new facilities used in training the Harvester footballers.

CAT CALLING—S. V. Whitehorn, author of Panhandle Outdoors, is shown here with Bill Hays and two bobcats killed recently. They used cat calls to attract the animals and had little trouble doing it. Whitehorn explains the operation in story at right.

PANHANDLE OUTDOORS

By S. V. WHITEHORN

Cat Calling

Success doesn't always greet you when you drive or walk to a quiet secluded area, carefully conceal yourself and make a few calls on your favorite varmint caller. More times than one the cats and coyotes simply don't appear.

The other afternoon Bill Hays went through this procedure and had four bobcats coming in at once time. Three in one group and one some 200 yards in the opposite direction were fast approaching. After the first shot the others disappeared. A few miles down the draw another call was made and one rather large bobcat made his appearance exactly 27 steps from the shooter.

These two animals are shown with Mr. Hays and his hunting companion, S. V. Whitehorn both of Borger. Both cats weighed a total of 56 3/4 lbs.

How long should anyone call from a given place? Usually about 30 minutes is considered long enough to bring the animals into gun range. If they don't show up in that length of time, it is usually better to move on to another area at least a half-mile from the spot.

Bobcats are not always 100 percent destructive. With the amount of rabbits in the Panhandle region they do a certain amount of good in the fact that they reduce the surplus of these so-called rodents.

Jess Lawson and Ray Thomas, of Dumas revealed that rabbits in that area are becoming a problem. Thomas stated that he counted 97 jack rabbits from Romero to Channing the other night. This is a stretch of about 50 miles. Lawson also stated that Bob McCoughlin of Sunray purchased a carton of 22 shells to reduce the population on the McCoughlin farm.

Usually, for some unknown reason, rabbits will not appear in the day from about August 15 until about the 1st of May. During the summer they can be spotted most any afternoon in large numbers.

Could be that the 15th of August usually marks the date for the hawks to begin their migrations south and the wary hares stay out of sight during the daylight.

One of the most interesting sights during the year was revealed the other day in the form of a rather large beaver dam on the Washita river in Hemphill County. The dam spanned the river and also formed a good size body of water.

ter. From looking it appeared that there were thousands of limbs and sticks that went onto the construction plus hundreds of pounds of mud. These dams, of which there are many in that area, will last indefinitely if it were not for the high water that usually comes down once or twice a year and makes a clean sweep of the riverbed and banks.

In the early days there were beavers and dams on all the fresh water streams in the Panhandle but the high price of their furs added to their almost extinction in this country. They are making a fast come-back in some areas. Wolf Creek, which heads south of Perryton and makes its way into Oklahoma just north of Higgins, is noted for a large beaver population.

The turkey hens have moved out from their wintering grounds and can be seen miles from their wintering areas. This is evidence that nesting activity is underway. As a rule they are somewhat like bobwhite quail, they have a summer hanging-out place and a place to spend the winter.

The early part of July is the time when baby turkeys are usually seen. Some have been reported as early as June 3, but this is unusual.

A dry summer will probably result in a large population of these giant birds but a low population of quail.

Several coveys of bobwhite have been seen lately. Under ideal conditions the bobs would have already been paired off and in the process of nesting. With a few showers in the summer, especially July, we could have a very good crop of these game birds for fall shooting.

There should be an early hatch of quail. With the ground wet most of the time the birds really go to work producing more.

The overall re-nesting activity is what we need to have a bird crop similar to the ones we had in 1949-50-51.

That is brought about by plenty of rain during the summer.

Tigers Down Red Sox, 16-4; Redlegs Edge Pirates, 7-6

CINCINNATI, May 5—UP—Gus Bell's first hit of a slugfest drove in the winning run Saturday as the Cincinnati Redlegs came from behind three times to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-6 in a 10-inning game.

Batting against southpaw Jack McMahan with one out, Rocky Robinson on second and Frankie Robinson on first, Bell singled over short, scoring Bridges. He was the only batter faced by McMahan, Pittsburgh's fifth pitcher. Bell's hit made reliever Paul La Palme a winner in his pitching debut with the Redlegs.

BOSTON, May 5—UP—The Detroit Tigers capitalized on rookie Frank Malzone's fourth inning error to send 13 men to the plate in a seven run orgy to trounce the Boston Red Sox 16-4 Saturday in a free hitting Derby while southpaw Billy Hoel pitched a comfortable 10 hitter.

The score was tied 2-2 and one out when Malzone dropped Fred Hatfield's fair pop fly and that opened the flood gates to five unearned runs off starter Ike DeLoach and Leo Kiely. The Tigers got six of their 20 total hits in the inning and Harvey Kuenn doubled in two runs and Frank House singled home another pair.

It's Tarpon Time On The Gulf Coast

By UNITED PRESS
It's getting around tarpon time on the Texas Gulf Coast and this weekend looks like a good time to get in some practice licks at tackling the silver kings.

Young tarpon is in the new river, around the intercoasted canal. Some of the hard mouths have been caught by trolling. When they really start striking a plug or a fly cast from the bank will do it. Tarpon won't hit a live shrimp but they'll go for a dead one, or cut mullet. Fishing about three feet deep is about right.

Freeport camps report plenty of bait on hand.

Forecaster Ted Swain says the weather is settling down and prospects are for a good week end.

The forecast says clear to partly cloudy skies, no rain indicated, and moderate—about 15 miles-an-hour southeasterly winds. They could freshen a bit early Sunday. Tides are ideal for Saturday and Sunday.

For anglers who go for less strenuous game, there's plenty of gafftopsail, trout and mackerel in the Freeport area, at last report. Scouts say the gafftops, especial-

Hamia Takes Steps Toward Title Tilt

WASHINGTON —UP— Cherif Hamia, unconcerned about the loss of his French featherweight championship but apologetic about the closeness of his televised victory over Ike Chestnut, began making plans Saturday for the next step in his world title campaign.

Hamia, a 2-1 favorite, had to settle for a majority decision by the slender margin of three points in Friday night's 10-rounder.

He also had to survive a third-round incident that saw him on the floor after Chestnut had landed a left-right combination. However, Referee Charles Reynolds ruled it was not a knockdown and there were no other trips to the canvas during the fight.

Joseph Rizzo, manager of the non-English speaking Hamia, said he will meet with officials of the International Boxing Club in New York Monday to map out Hamia's next fight.

Referee Reynolds voted the fight a draw. But under the "10-point must" scoring system, one judge voted for Hamia 98-94, and the other agreed 94-93. Hamia weighed 128 1/2 pounds; Chestnut 128-1-2.

Bill Ellis at Port Aransas reports the Gulf calm but the water muddy. Bays clear, nice catches of speckled trout. Bait plentiful. Galveston showing sand trout, croakers, whiting and gafftops around piers. Mackerel jumping out of the water. Bait's scarce.

San Luis Pass water clear. Little bay and plenty of trout but little bait. Trout running at Port O'Connor but water rough.

Hitting at Rockport. Live bait plentiful.

Blue channel cats in Colorado River. Sam Tollison of Palacios took four, the biggest tipping over 15 pounds.

Texas will crown its first bass-catch champions Sunday. That's the final day for the big bass tournament that got underway Thursday at Lake Whitney.

Entrants in the $2,500 fishing rodeo being held for "Spitash Days" at Galveston are getting a break.

Weather conditions have held down action in the big contest, so much so that only one fish was entered the first two days.

The meet was to end this Sunday but the sponsors have extended it for a whole week—to 5 p.m. the following Sunday, May 13th.

Texans Clip Oilers In First Game Of Series

El Paso, Tex. — The El Paso Oilers, behind the eight hit pitcher Kempa, 2b, of Jim Ackers, withstood a Cagle, lf late innings surge by the Pampa L. Tucker, cf scored four runs in a seventh inning rally; Ackers, almost lifted by Woods, p. Texan manager Pat McLaughlin, b-Lal'le settled down to put the Oilers down in one-two three order in the final two frames.

The Oilers counted three runs Baylis, ss in the first inning as they bunched a walk, two singles and a double for three runs. Pampa scored on Joe Fortin's ninth homer in the season in the second inning and added another in the third on a homer by second-baseman Frank Kempa.

The Oilers got two more in their half of the third on a walk and a sacrifice fly.

Doug Lewis led off the fifth for the Oilers with a homerun and Rufus McNeal knocked one out of the park in the sixth. Then came the Oilers' rally in the seventh.

Jim Martin led off with a walk and was pushed around to third on a double by John Yanchura. Red Dial, pinch hitting for Woods, got on on a fielder's choice as Martin was cut down at home plate. Another walk to Frank Kempa filled the bases and Lamar Cagle responded with a lousy triple to center field. He scored on a single by Joe Fortin, who was put out at second trying to stretch the hit.

Ackers settled down in the final two frames. He struck out Martin to end the eighth after forcing Allen Cross and Bob Flores to pop up. In the ninth he got Yanchura, Laliberte and Kempa to ground out to the infield.

The two teams met again Saturday night for the second game and will close out the series with an afternoon game Sunday.

Grimm Insists Ed Mathews Can Lead Braves To Victory

By UNITED PRESS
Manager Charlie Grimm insists Eddie Mathews is the man who can lead Milwaukee into the World Series this year and, be that as it may, he certainly is the man who kept the Braves in first place Saturday.

It was Mathews' 10th inning single that scored Johnny Logan from second base Friday night with the run that gave the Braves a 3-2 victory over the Giants and kept them 52 percentage points ahead of the second-place Cardinals.

"Notice how often one of Mathews' hits figures in our winning a ball game," Grimm points out.

The Milwaukee manager has a point well taken. Of the six games the Braves have won so far, hits by Mathews have had a direct influence on three of them.

Two home runs by Mathews furnished the margin of a 5-4 victory over the Cards on April 20; his two-run homer had a direct bearing on the Braves' 6-4 triumph over the Phillies last Tuesday, and his clutch hit Friday night sent southpaw Johnny Antonelli down to defeat.

Cards Beat Dodgers
The Cardinals exploded for seven runs in the sixth inning to hand the Dodgers a 10-3 setback. Four singles, a pair of walks, a wild pitch, a balk and two Brooklyn errors helped St. Louis to its big inning.

Cincinnati, which is starting to move after a slow start, notched its seventh victory in eight games by nipping Pittsburgh 4-3 on Art Fowler's six-hit pitching. Frank Thomas put the Pirates ahead with a two-run homer in the sixth, but Roy McMillan's two-run single in the bottom of the frame spelled defeat for Dick Hall.

Ernie Banks blasted his fifth homer with one on to give the Cubs a 2-1 victory over Robin Roberts of the Phillies.

The White Sox moved into a first place tie with the Yankees by beating the Senators 5-2 after New York had defeated Kansas City 10-6.

Dick Donovan, touched for a two-run homer by Jim Lemon, gave up a total of six hits as the White Sox broke the game open with a four-run rally at the expense of Camillo Pascual in the third inning. Larry Doby's two-run single highlighted the Chicago rally.

The Yankees won their game with a four-run rally in the eighth inning, pinch hitter Joe Collins beating out an infield grounder with the bases full to break a 6-1 tie.

Although they were limited to three hits, the Orioles defeated the Indians 4-3. Southpaw Herb Score, who was routed in the third inning, was the victim of two passed balls by battery-mate Hal Naragon.

William And Mary Supported By Members Of S-Conference

RICHMOND, Va. — UP — The College of William and Mary had the unanimous support of its 10 fellow members of the Southern Conference Saturday in a squabble with the Amateur Athletic Union.

The Southern Conference Friday approved a resolution declaring that William and Mary had violated no NCAA or Southern Conference rules when its track team raced against the Quantico Marines and Miller Wes Santee, who is under AAU suspension. The resolution was offered by the presidents of the member schools at the conference's annual spring meeting here.

Virginia's Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) disqualified William and Mary's track team from AAU competition charging that it violated regulations by running against Santee, who was banned for life from AAU competition for allegedly accepting too much expense money.

Past conference President Max Farrington of George Washington said he felt the conference should have taken an even stronger stand against the "high-handed" procedures of the AAU. The resolution stated simply that the 10 conference members agreed that William and Mary did not violate NCAA or Southern Conference rules.

Gold Sox Split With Des Moines

By UNITED PRESS
Amarillo missed a chance to take the Western League lead from rain-idled Lincoln Friday night by spitting instead of defeating second-division Des Moines in a doubleheader.

The Texas team took the first game 1-0, but the Bruins came back strong in the second to take the measure of Amarillo 11-4.

In other games, Albuquerque downed Sioux City 5-3 and Topeka polished off third-place Pueblo 5-3. Colorado Springs at Lincoln was rained out.

Sens Drop Chisox Into Second Place

WASHINGTON, May 5 — UP — The Washington Senators, behind the six-hit pitching of Chuck Stobbs and the continued heavy hitting of Jim Lemon, defeated Chicago 4-2 Saturday, dropping the White Sox into a tie for second place with Cleveland.

Wertz Leads League

NEW YORK — UP — Vic Wertz, who said this spring one of his reasons for playing baseball in 1956 was to give hope to other polo victims, led the American League in batting Saturday with a .429 average.

The 31-year-old Cleveland Indians star had survived such draw backs as Lk sah dh7-1 stoicst drawbacks as the old St. Louis Browns, injuries and a tendency to put on weight, but it appeared his playing career was ended when he was stricken with polio last August.

But statistics which included Wednesday's day games showed Wertz leading the junior circuit's batters with 18 hits, including five homers, in 42 times at bat. He had batted in 12 runs.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees was second with .388 and led the majors in runs batted in with 17. Jim Lemon of the Washington Senators and his teammate, Clint Courtney, were tied for third with .385 averages. Chuck Maxwell of the Detroit Tigers was next with .379.

Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals remained first in the National League batting race with a .500 mark on 19 hits in 38 times at bat.

Bill Bruton of the Milwaukee Braves was second at .444 and Dale Long of the Pittsburgh Pirates was next with .426.

Yogi Berra of the Yankees was runnerup to Mantle in the American League runs-batted-in race with 15 and Wertz was third.

Post led the majors in homers with seven. Jablonski and Long were tied for second in the National with five each. Mantle led the American in homers with six and Wertz was second.

Four players led the pitchers in won-lost records with 3-0 marks—Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies in the National and Whitey Ford of New York, Early Pierce of the Chicago White Sox in the American.

Texas League Tightens Up

By UNITED PRESS
The Texas League race tightened up Saturday with Fort Worth only a half-game behind first-place Dallas and with seven-game lead Austin only three games back of the Eagles.

Fort Worth grabbed second place Friday night with an 8-0 shutout of Dallas. The San Antonio Missions dropped from second to third when they dropped a 3-2 contest to Austin, while Tulsa dropped Oklahoma City 8-6 and Shreveport pitched a masterful two-hitter for Fort Worth. Jim Gentile and Don Demeter pounded homers for the Cats, while Marty Devlin rapped out four singles.

At San Antonio, Austin left-fielder Nat Peoples hit a 375-foot home run over the left-centerfield fence in the eighth to break a 2-2 tie. Mike Lemish gave up only four hits as he bested Bill Diemer in a tight pitching duel.

Shreveport came up with two runs in the ninth inning for its victory at Houston. A routine ground ball by Jim Ackeret that would have been an easy third out took a high hop over Reuben Amaros' head to score Dale Coogan and Ev Joyner with the winning runs.

Tommy Fine, the winner, missed by one out becoming the first Shreveport pitcher to go the distance this season. Relief hurler Ralph Beard was the loser for Houston.

The Tulsa Oilers were outlit at Oklahoma City, but they survived a last-minute onslaught by the home team, which scored all its runs in the last two innings. Tulsa's Frank Caswell and Mary Williams accounted for all Tulsa's runs with a homer apiece and six of the team's 10 hits.

Harvesters Scare Sandies In 7th But Lose Critical Contest 7 To 2

The Pampa Harvesters came back strong in the dusty seventh inning of their game with the Amarillo Sandies Friday afternoon and scored two runs and threatened to count for more. A hard hit grounded to third base cut off a run at home and the relay to first ended the game and gave the Amarillo team a 7-2 victory and a cinch tie for district honors.

The Sandies as was expected with the wind and sand blowing as it was, pushed across only four earned runs and it took homers by the eighth and ninth men in the batting order to score the four.

The Harvesters were unable to score in the first six frames as Jimmy Weston, Sandie hurler, gave up a meager three hits to the Harvester "A" stringers.

Coach Deck Woldt, with time running out, put in a new team as the Sandies came to bat in the sixth.

It looked like the subs were in trouble after Bobby Dehis walked the first two but the next two Amarillo batsmen went down swinging and the third popped out to shortstop, Bennie Sparks.

Jim Weston walked Jim Parrish in the seventh, hit Langford and allowed Dale Lake to single to right field and drive in the first Pampa run.

Lake's single was followed by a strikeout and a double by Buster

Baird, which scored Langford. Lake, too, came home on Baird's blast but the ball hung in the fence and Lake had to go back to third.

BLOCKED PASS — Cyd Charisse (center) does deft interfering with Cara Williams' passes at Dan Dailey in this scene from "Meet Me in Las Vegas." M-G-M's big CinemaScope musical laid against America's most famous pleasure resort. Guest stars in the picture include Jerry Colonna, Paul Henreid, Lena Horne, Frankie Laine and the sensational Japanese singing discovery, Mitsuko Sawamura.

America's Playground Is Captured In Film Here

After filming location sequences at a number of famous hotels and casinos in Las Vegas for its new CinemaScope musical, "Meet Me in Las Vegas," M-G-M recreated a total of thirty-five interiors of the resort spots on five sound stages at the studio.

The ambitious construction assignment necessitated the study of more than 1,000 still pictures in color and in black-and-white, along with thirty pages of measurements in order to create accurate duplicates of the originals.

The film's settings include interiors of such internationally known hotels and clubs as The Sands, the New Frontier and the Silver Slipper, among others. Such vital "props" as slot machines, card tables and roulette wheels were obtained direct from Las Vegas.

Reproduction of the settings was made necessary due to the inability of filming the interiors without making architectural changes to meet the needs of camera placements and other facets of picture-making.

Dan Dailey and Cyd Charisse head hit parade of stars in "Meet Me in Las Vegas," which was produced by Joe Pasternak and directed by Roy Rowland.

Jim Backus, Oscar Karlewski, Liliane Montevecchi and Cara Williams are others in prominent roles, with the picture's guest stars including Jerry Colonna, Paul Henreid, Lena Horne, Frankie Laine and the young Japanese singing discovery, Mitsuko Sawamura.

The movie is showing at the L-Nora Theater here.

More Red Planes Claimed

WASHINGTON — UP — Russia has built at least 20 more intercontinental jet bombers than the United States and did it in much less time, informed sources said Thursday. They said Russia now has more than 100 of the big planes, compared to the 78 that America has produced thus far.

Lefors High School students held elections recently for student council president and cheerleaders for the next school term.

Posey Brown was chosen by the student body for president.

Janis Dunham was elected head cheerleader for the coming school term. She was head pep leader in junior high and a class leader her Sophomore year. This year Janis has been active in speech activities. She was named in the All-Star cast in the District one-act play contest.

Omega Crutcher was chosen Senior yell leader. Junior cheerleader was Peggy McCarley, and Sophomore place went to Brenda Brown. Lovetta Moxam took the honor from the Freshman class.

In the initial elimination contest of the International Speech Contest, in Pampa recently, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, Janis Dunham took first place. She spoke before a panel of three judges Sunday, April 22, in the Pampa High School Auditorium. In addition to prize money, Janis won an all-expense paid trip to Dallas, where the state meet will be held on June 10. In the event that Janis wins in Dallas, she will then go on to the sectional meet in Denver, Colo. The national contest winner in New Orleans will receive a $1,500 scholarship.

Friday night, May 4, will be the date for the presentation of the Freshman class play, titled "A Message from Khufu." The play, a mystery drama in one act by Cottman and Shaw is under the direction of Keith Wolfe. The cast consists of four Freshman boys: Jimmy Gotcher, Tommy Johnson, Tex Nolan and David Smith. The play is packed with suspense and will be held at the Lefors High School Auditorium. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The softball teams have begun their workouts for the season ahead. The girls of Lefors High, coached by Bill Epps, began their practice this week. Mary Hogan, Barbara Tillman, Patsy Winegeart, Peggy Lamp, Janie Parks, Marilyn Pafford, Janis Dunham, Omega Crutcher, June Henderson and Keta Read have played on the team in the past. Seeing action for the first time are Brenda Brown and Betty Carpenter.

Barbara Tillman and Darlene Ford, sponsored by Miss Norma Lantz, attended the State FFA convention in Fort Worth. They left on a chartered bus Thursday morning and arrived in Fort Worth about 2:30 p.m. The meetings were held in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. The main speaker for Friday was J. C. Lovern from the First Methodist Church in Lubbock. A pageant entitled "Deep in the Heart of Texas" was given for a fun night program Friday night. A colorful installation ceremony was held Saturday. The girls that made the trip were chosen for outstanding work done for the local chapter of FFA.

The Lefors High School Band will take a pleasure trip May 12 to Canyon where they will visit the museum and enjoy a picnic at Palo Duro Park.

The Chemistry class will trek to Pampa to visit the Celanese Corporation plant May 10th.

Gas Producers

Request Denied

WASHINGTON — UP — Four Texas natural gas producers late Thursday were denied permission to raise their rates.

A Federal Power Commission

The student body enjoyed the Rollators recently in the gymnasium. They presented a show of dancing and trick skating. Some of the history of roller skating was told by the group.

examiner, Joseph Zwering, turned down the applications by four producers who sell to Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp. of Houston.

He ruled that the rate boosts, which would have totaled more than $2.6 million, were not proved to be "just and reasonable." The producers were Union Oil Co. of California, Louisiana Land and Exploration Co., Morris Rauch of Houston, and Bell Oil Corp. of Lake Charles, La.

Peg O' Pampa

AH, ME! This marvelous weather we've been having . . . gives Peg visions of all sorts of cool salads . . . and gooey desserts . . . visions that seem to appear more and more as summer nears . . . makes Peg long to sit beside a nice refreshing pool and acquire a golden tan . . . of course, she always gets just a dirty brown, but she can dream, can't she? . . . but this all has its trials and tribulations . . . such as Peg's little ones hacking and coughing with colds because they won't wear jackets . . . and the youngest, shoes! . . . just love to go downtown to see all the pretty cotton dresses . . . and the flashing sports shirts . . . Peg, just loves color! . . . winter seems so drab, don't you think?

The real measure of our wealth is how much we should be worth if we lost our money. (J. H. Jowett)

SEEMS A LOT OF PAMPANS will be missing from the scene this week . . . or were missing . . . Lulu Kuhn and Hazel Nation were in Denver, Colo., this week at a reunion of sisters . . . seems the girls in their family hadn't been together by themselves for years . . . so they decided to take vacations from their families and hold a reunion in Denver . . . but they had a wonderful time . . . Lulu and Hazel were quite excited about it before they left . . . Ted Curtis has been talking about her proposed trip to Morgan City soon . . . for her grandchild's graduation . . . no . . . no . . . not from high school or college . . . her grandchild's graduation from kindergarten . . . which Ted said is going to be quite a celebration! . . . Visitors in Pampa this week were the Detrell Dollahons of Albuquerque . . . Mrs. Dollahon is the former Dorothy June Johnson . . . they were visiting Dorothy's mother . . . who, of course, was pleased as punch to have them here! . . . Peg heard via the grapevine that the A. C. Houchins and the C. P. Pursleys are going to take a fishing trip to East Texas . . . don't know the exact date, though . . . Emily and Johnny Myers were expecting a visit from Johnny's parents from New Jersey . . . due to arrive this week end . . . And Teed Hicks is in Fort Worth this week end.

Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we get better views of humanity (Mary Baker Eddy)

POTPOURRI . . . Overheard Per Stubbe and Mamie Maguire talking about Jeanne Willingham's dance recital . . . and the costumes their kids are going to wear . . . Understand Mamie has an adorable spring bonnet . . . sort of an Oriental type with a point in the middle . . . and Per has been wearing an attractive bright yellow straw . . . with an accordion-pleated brim . . . unusual and especially attractive on Per . . . Have you seen Laura Fatheree's gorgeous blue shoes with the little pink flowers across the toe? . . . Pampa's eligible bachelors had better take note of Pampa's prettiest gal . . . At least she is in Peg's estimation . . . It's striking Leota Vincent . . . with the dark hair and flashing eyes . . . and she has the loveliest voice! . . . not only pretty, boys, but talented, too . . . spied two of Peg's favorite people the other day . . . but not together . . . Mary Hiatt . . . who's so sweet and pretty . . . two traits not always found in one person . . . and Kathryn Steele . . . always so gracious and so much fun . . . Cute Jackie Robertson, now attending the University of California at Berkeley . . . had quite a celebration for her birthday . . . in addition to cards, telephone calls and gifts from relatives and friends she was given a surprise party with about 40 couples attending . . . in addition to regular gifts she received a bouquet of three dozen yellow iris from her young man! . . . Ah, me! . . . nice to be young enough not to mind birthdays . . . and to really celebrate them . . . now how long has it been since Peg has admitted having a birthday? . . . Oh, well . . . the years still come and go, whether we'll admit it or not.

One of the difficult tasks in this world is to convince a woman that even a bargain costs money. (Ed Howe)

THESE NEXT FEW WEEKS are certainly filled with big events . . . luncheons and receptions and installations! . . . Seems to go hand in hand with spring . . . The AAUW ladies are keeping busy . . . having their big tea for the graduating girls and their mothers Sunday . . . always a lovely affair . . . and Tuesday are sponsoring a play for the children of Pampa and the area . . . Peg thinks it's a wonderful thing sponsoring the children's plays . . . there are so few movies and TV shows just for children that it's nice to have some good dramatic entertainment just for them . . . Peg's youngsters always look forward to them . . . The Council of Clubs is getting ready to round out its year's activities with its big presidents' reception May 15 . . . always real nice . . . going to have a May Day theme, Peg heard . . . Katie Key certainly has done a wonderful job . . . really kept the Council in the foreground of community events . . . Have you seen Wanda Campbell's new short hairdo . . . with the little curls right in front? . . . really charming on her . . . Of course, Wanda could wear her hair almost any way and still be as cute as ever!

If you would make a man happy, do not add to his possessions but subtract from the sum of his desires. (Seneca)

THE COUNTRY CLUB WAS really humming Thursday . . . over 100 women there for the Panhandle Women's Golf Association was enough to give it a teeming air without anything else . . . noticed some of the men standing around watching the women tee-off . . . was a pretty sight with all the bright-colored sports clothes . . . Imagine the men were enjoying the shorts the women were wearing, too . . . Mable Dockery was living up to her "best-dressed" title by being chic and charming in yellow shorts . . . a striped white, yellow and blue shirt . . . all set off with different-colored golf tees stuck in her hair . . . Fran Nobilt was cute with her blonde hair in a pony tail . . . and Nita Luna was as striking as ever in a cute cotton print . . . It was nice to see Jean Duengel out again after her long illness . . . understand she's still recuperating, though . . . and just came out for a few minutes to see how things were going . . . in addition to the golfers, there seemed to be some sort of luncheon going on . . . spied Julia McKernan and Laura Fatheree through the doorway . . . the few men having lunch there really looked out of place . . . it was really a ladies day!

All good things are cheap, all bad things very dear. (Henry David Thoreau)

HERE AND THERE . . . Peg spied Charlie Thur and Jack Beck strolling down the street together the other day . . . even though it was Straw Hat day, neither was sporting one . . . tut . . . tut . . . Peg just loves that our Charlie rides around in . . . one of the best sights to be seen on Pampa streets! . . . There's a vivacious little redhead around the Presbyterian Church these days . . . Sarah Wescoat . . . their new director of Christian Education . . . understand she's originally an Amarilloan . . . That smirk Al Bell has been wearing the past few days is 'cause Jeanne lost her voice . . . couldn't emit anything above a whisper except an occasional squeak . . . Well . . . Peg had better be running off . . . see you again next week.

As ever,
Peg

RUTH MILLET

A mother complains: "The teenagers in our neighborhood have taken over our home. They drop in at all hours, take possession of every comfortable chair in the living room, keep either the TV or the record player going full blast, monopolize the telephone.

"My husband and I want our daughter, 17, and our son, 15, to feel their friends are welcome. But they feel so welcome they have practically crowded their father and me out of the house. What can we do about it?" Make a few house rules and stick by them. The kids won't resent it. They'll respect you for not letting them run over you. One mother I know has told her teenage daughter that she can have her friends after school but the house must be cleared out half an hour before her father arrives home from work.

She has also made it known that there is to be no drop-in visits by carloads of teenagers after dinner on school nights. Also, Sunday is family day and the house belongs to the family. On that day it is not to be used as a junior USO. Her daughter hasn't suffered any by these rules. The parents are no longer a couple of displaced persons.

It would help, of course, if you could get together with other parents of the neighborhood and could make a few rules in common.

But even if you can't do that, you certainly have the right to make your own house rules.

There is a big difference between making your children's friends welcome and completely turning your home over to them.

A few rules, pleasantly but firmly enforced, will make the difference.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I would be very happy if you could give me some advice on this question. I am engaged to a girl and I want to marry her. I have her parents' permission as soon as she gets out of school. She is 16 and I am 21.

She is a sophomore and I have been out of school two years. Would it be advisable to wait until she graduates or not?
DISLIKES SCHOOL.
She dislikes school very much and wants to get married and have children as soon as possible. Do you think that she should quit school?

And do you think she is old enough to realize what a big step in life she is taking?
I would appreciate your reply very much.
B.J.

Dear B. J.
If your fiancée were my daughter I would want her to wait until at least 18 before marrying. I would want her to continue her schooling until she had completed high school at least.

When you are so young and contemplating marriage it is necessary to be doubly sure that you know what you are doing. Having two years to think about it and plan for your future together is not too long.

STILL IN LOVE
Then, if you still are in love and still want to marry after she is 18 you will feel sure that the marriage will work out and that it is right for you.

While she is in school, your fiancé can take courses which will prepare her for her role later on as wife and mother. She can take sewing, she can learn to cook, she can learn all of the other things which will help her make a success of her chosen work of homemaker.

There is also the problem of going out in the world and working should something happen to you and she be left to support your children. Some courses in typing and shorthand, for instance, would make it easier for her to find a job should the necessity arise.

In the meantime you could start a savings account so that you will be in a position to set up housekeeping when the time comes without going in debt so deeply as usually happens.

Prior to the meeting, a dinner was served. The serving table was covered with a white cloth. The centerpiece was a miniature Maypole covered with different colored ribbons, with streamers extending to miniature ballet dancers with car-

Banquet And Installation Service Ends Club Year For Treble Clef Members

Treble Clef Club held a banquet and installation ceremony for new officers during its last meeting unit fall in the City Club Room.

Installing officer was Mrs. John Fagan of Borger, president of the seventh district of Federated Music Clubs. Installed were Mrs. John Gill, president; Miss Eloise Lane, vice-president; Mrs. Faye Dellis Adams, secretary; and Mrs. Calvin Whatley, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Howard, reporter.

Mrs. Fagan used candles for the service, presenting the candle of wisdom to Mrs. Gill, charging her to "let it be a symbol of leadership." Miss Lane's candle she called a symbol of perseverance, and Mrs. Adams' candle, a symbol of accuracy. A symbol of trust was Mrs. Whatley's candle, and Mrs. Howard was given the candle of efficiency.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Mach Hiatt, Jr., outgoing president, was given a gift from the club by Mrs. Lonnie Richardson.

The program included a piano solo, a Chopin waltz, by Miss Gale Howard, and a flute solo, a Mozart concerto, by Jimmy Goff, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Gill.

Mrs. Hiatt presided for the business session. New members introduced were Mrs. Harold Fabian, Everett McGee, Glen McConnell, Harold Cadduck, Ann Howell and Miss Leota Vincent. Guests introduced were Mrs. John Fagan; Mrs. D. L. Darden of Borger, seventh district councillor of junior clubs; and Miss Aurora Ragani of New York City, judge for the National Guild of Piano Teachers auditions being held here.

The group decided to participate in the district music scholarship, and voted to take a collection for the Council of Clubs' redecorating fund. Mrs. Hiatt reported on activities planned for National Music Week. She also announced a book would be placed in the Lovett Library in the memory of Mrs. George Collette.

Prior to the meeting, a dinner was served. The serving table was covered with a white cloth. The centerpiece was a miniature Maypole covered with different colored ribbons, with streamers extending to miniature ballet dancers with carnations forming their skirts. Hostesses were Mrs. Faye Dellis Adams, Calvin Whatley, W. H. Fuller and John Hankins.

Those appearing on the program were Mrs. E. L. Anderson, L. V. Hoppe, A. L. Prigmore, Bob Hudson, Mike Porter and Floyd Pennington.

Mrs. Everett McGee headed group singing, and a special prayer was led by Mrs. R. L. Edmondson. The devotional was the recital of "The Great Commission" by the group.

The program was closed with prayer by Mrs. S. E. Waters.

During the business session, the Ethel Hardy Circle was presented an attendance pin for having the most members present.

Approximately 95 women attended the event.

BOARD MEETING
Prior to the royal service, the executive board met, with Mrs. R. L. Edmondson presiding. Opening prayer was given by Mrs. J. G. Ramsey, and Mrs. Ernest Arey gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Harman Whatley, community missions chairman, gave assignments to each circle chairman for "Christian Home Week." The meeting was closed with prayer by M. A. C. E. Powell.

LUNCHEON
The covered-dish luncheon was served at noon, with each circle responsible for its own table decorations. The invocation was given by Mrs. George Vineyard. Guests introduced included Mrs. Odessa Burton, Norma Crow and Martha Nichols.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
During World War II, Emil's parents had a house big enough to shelter them, their two children and four boarders who worked in a nearby ship yard. We were their neighbors.

When Emil got his puppy, his parents let him keep it on condition that they took pains to make very, very clear, that Emil was only if Emil took full responsibility for his behavior.

I remember the first Monday after Rags' arrival. At about 20 minutes past noon Emil came running down our block, the paper bag of lunch he'd decided to eat with Rags clutched in his hand.

Day after day, he ran this lunch-hour race with time. Between gasps for breath, he'd munch his sandwich and feed his puppy. Then, before beginning the sprint back to school, he'd fill Rags' dish with fresh water and spread clean papers on the floor of the cellar room where he was struggling to teach Rags the manners that would win him social acceptance.

Do I think a child of 12 is too young to take some responsibility for a pet?

The correspondent who wants to know writes, "For my grandson's 12th birthday, I gave him a Scottie dog and a book of instructions on dog-training. But instead of encouraging him to look after it, his parents have taken over its care. Last Sunday, I found his father washing the dog while the boy looked on. His mother feeds and cleans up after it. They say it's not fair to the youngster of the pup to give a boy of 12 these responsibilities."

Emil was 10 years old.

But then his mother took to responsibility like a duck to water. She loved shopping, planning, cooking and cleaning for her big household. Since she never questioned her own capacity to meet her responsibilities, it just never occurred to her to question her child's capacity.

I'm afraid it's as simple as that. If my correspondent wants it in other words, here are some from "The Only Child" by Norma El. Catt and Nicholas Moseley: "The benefit in owing a pet depends like everything else on the parents' attitude. They must be willing to let the pet be the child's; to leave him all possible care; and if he consistently neglects his care, to dispose of the pet."

Skellytown Ladies Hold Bible Study

Mrs. Hardy Boyd, president, led the business session.

Next meeting will be in the church Thursday, with Mrs. Oscar Downs as hostess.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. A. C. Boyd, Dewey Godwin, Cecil Shipley, Gene Harlan, B. T. Clemens, Mae Hornar, Clarence Kaiser and Virgil Weaver.

"China And The World" Is Program Presented To 20th Century Allegro

Mrs. James Leverich and Mrs. Don Cain presented the program, "China and the World," the last in the Adult Education series on world affairs, at the meeting of Twentieth Century Allegro in the Lovett Memorial Library.

A colored film, "Understanding the Chinese," was shown prior to the talks. The film depicted China as being largely a land of farmers. It pointed out that although there were many tenant farmers, it is not unusual to find land belonging to a family for 15 or 20 generations. The film also stated that despite the fact that China is a farm-land, rice is imported in large quantities. It also dealt with transportation of country, mainly via canals and rivers. The film explained that there are few roads and air transportation is limited.

"War, ignorance and poverty has made China a fertile field for Communism," Mrs. Leverich stated during her talks. "The leaders of Red China have transformed China into a powerful, unified, totalitarian state. They have given the people a government free from the old and familiar forms of graft, more financial stability, roads, railways and other kinds of public works."

Mrs. Leverich explained that because of abundant manpower, wages are extremely low, with the minimum wage of the Chinese being about $14 a month. She pointed out that the "people's government" has adopted a five-year plan and though the plight of the farmer is most difficult, the plan should help them somewhat.

She went on to tell the group that the Communist influence of the Soviets was everywhere and that the vast majority of Chinese was without a formal education.

In conclusion, Mrs. Leverich stated that three possible courses of United States foreign policy toward China are to work out an agreement for living side by side without war, to continue the present state of half war, half peace, or to increase pressures against Red China.

Mrs. Cain told the group that the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa have more than 20 million people and 200,000 soldiers. She said, "When the 27,000 soldiers went over to Formosa in 1949, the Formosans were not too happy at having two million Nationalists combined with six million Formosans in an area about the size of Belgium," Mrs. Cain explained. The full flavor of pork makes it a perfect choice for combination dishes in which the meat, vegetables and possibly a cereal, such as noodles, spaghetti or macaroni, are used.

Parisian dinner is a combination of browned boneless economy pork shoulder, cooked spaghetti, tomatoes, baby lima beans and mushrooms with onion and celery for extra zest. The flavors blend for a party. It is even better the second day.

This dish takes about two hours to prepare and calls for a large kettle or deep baking pan. The recipe provides 16 generous servings for a crowd of hearty eaters, and leftovers may be frozen for a later feast.

Parisian Dinner
(Yield: 16 servings)

Five pounds pork shoulder, 3 large stalks celery, 5 pounds onions, 1 1/2 cups shortening, 3/4 pound spaghetti, 1 can (No. 2) mushrooms (stems and ends), 2 cans (No. 2) lima beans, 2 cans (No. 2 1/2) tomatoes, 2 tablespoons salt.

Cut up celery and onions. Fry until transparent in 3-4 cup shortening in a heavy kettle tightly covered. Cut up the pork into small pieces. Fry in 3-4 cup shortening until well browned. Cover and cook slowly until thoroughly done. This will take about 1 1/2 hours. Boil spaghetti in 3 quarts salted water for 20 minutes. Add pork, onions and celery. Add mushrooms, lima beans, and tomatoes with their liquids. Season well. Simmer or bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours. Serve on toast or cook down and serve on platter.

BABY

By BETSY WADE
NEA Staff Writer

How long does Baby keep on taking vitamins? Until his doctor says he may stop. But if he's in a family that gets run down, with out taking them winter and summer, he perhaps ought to keep right on with them.

Acerola juice contains enough vitamin C to make a woman giddy. Getting this valuable vitamin into Baby is made easier by combinations of acerola and apple juice, put up in cans.

Heart-Shaped Cut New In Diamonds

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — When you go with your fiancé to pick out your diamond ring, you may find the talk about "cuts" is confusing.

Actually the various "cuts" have been developed to lend additional beauty to diamonds and the one you pick is largely a matter of your own taste. No one cut of diamond is more expensive than another.

Next of the modern cuts is appropriately heart-shaped. The diamond is notched at the top and cut to a point in true eternal heart shape. It's worn with a plain wedding band.

The brilliant, or round, cut has long been a popular one. This round cut has 58 facets and is lovely in diamonds of all sizes, from the smallest to the largest.

A variation on the brilliant is the marquise cut, also with 58 facets. The outline of this stone is boat-shaped and the shape tends to make the fingers seem slimmer. Another cut with 58 facets is the pear-shape, worn with point toward the tip of the finger. The largest diamond in the world, weighing 530 carats and now in the British scepter, is pear-shaped.

Diamonds also are cut with straight sides and angles. The emerald-cut, for instance, is shot with "rainbows and ribbons" since it has its facets polished diagonally across the corners. A square-cut has sharp corners. The emerald-cut may be square or oblong in outline.

Baguettes are the straight and slender gems used on each side of the center stone of an engagement ring. They're intended to enhance the larger stone and set it off, pointing up and adding to its brilliance.

Rose Marie Miller, Carrol Ray Bentley Marry In Canadian

A-2C AND MRS. CARROL RAY BENTLEY

In a single-ring service at 9 p.m. April 22, Miss Rose Marie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Othello Miller of Canadian, and A-2c Carrol Roy Bentley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubra Bentley, of Canadian, were united in marriage in the Sacred-Heart Church, Canadian. Father Jon Jankowski officiated.

The bride wore a charcoal-gray tailored dress, with an angora-trimmed collar and angora cuffs on the three-quarter-length sleeves. She wore white accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Miss Aurelia Garcia of Canadian was maid of honor, and Elbie Carr of Canadian served as best man. Acolytes were Billy Ortega and Andy Supina.

Altar decorations included white and purple lilies and candelabra. Mrs. E. R. Cloyd, organist, played the processional and recessional by Rossini and "Ava Maria" by Schubert.

WEDDING DANCE

A wedding dance was given April 24, in the Parish Recreation Hall by the bride's parents. The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated in blue, was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. E. R. Cloyd served the cake, and Mrs. Y. C. Lopez presided at the crystal punch bowl. Other refreshments include nuts and mints.

The couple will reside in Laredo, where the bridegroom is serving with the Air Force.

The bride attended Teja-Wooken Riding Academy, Roxbury, Vt. She was graduated from Canadian High School where she was a member of the Wildcat Drill Squad and the school chorus.

The bridegroom attended Canadian High School where he was captain of the football team, played basketball and participated in track events.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

At 5:38 p.m. Martin's little brother was napping in his crib. On his mother's stove potatoes were cooking. And several blocks away a friendly neighbor suddenly thought, "I'd better call Leila to see how Bobby's cold is."

At 5:40, the potatoes began to burn. At the same moment, Bobby awoke and feeling stuffy in the nose, began to cry. He's just opened his mouth for his third shriek of anguish when the telephone rang.

And while Martin's mother was trying to do three things at once, Martin called from the dining room, "Mom, can I take a candy ball?"

As he'd known she would, his distracted parent paused just long enough to say, "What? Yes, yes, for heaven's sake — just be quiet, Martin!"

Yet only the day before yesterday she reminded him of the rule against candy before supper.

She recalled this as she was soothing Bobby. With growing resentment at Martin, she thought, "He was just waiting for me to get my mind on other things to ask me for that candy. He knew I didn't want him to have it. Oh my, what a self-willed child. If I don't keep my wits about me every second, he'll get his own way every time."

Her resentment, though understandable, is childish. At seven, he grabs for his own way as instinctively as you reach for a strap when a bus stops.

The fact that he has exploited his mother's absent-mindedness is nothing to get mad about. It simply tells us that Martin is intelligent as well as self-centered. He's not only been able to get his candy — but has manipulated his mother's weakness so she can't reproach him for disobedience.

Instead of resenting this exploitation, let's deal with it. As a matter of principle, let's decide to give him a categorical "No" whenever he tries to abuse our concern with other responsibilities by extorting some "Yes" we don't mean from us.

Inevitably, he will begin to complain of this treatment. Then to our intelligent little boy, it will be time to say, "I have to say 'No.' When I haven't time to listen to you. So you're pretty silly to ask me things when I can't listen. If you want me to say 'Yes' more often, try asking me things when I can think about them."

Royal Service Held By Barrett Chapel

The Women's Missionary Union of Barrett Chapel met in the chapel for a covered-dish luncheon and royal service program. The invocation was given by Mrs. Truett Thompson.

The program, "Onward Christian Soldiers," was led by Mrs. Charles Thomas. Taking part were Mmes. Dorothy Wooley, Ann Miller, Truett Thompson, Dorothy Spear, Juanita Powell, Adell Marier and Nell Thomas.

Mrs. Jerry Spear gave the opening prayer, and the meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Charles Wellesley.

Rev. Jerry Spear was a guest. Eleven members were present.

Nice brass or chrome knobs can do a lot for the piece of furniture you just refinished. If the knob hole in the chest is worn large, a large flat knob could cover the damaged area and lend a contemporary touch.

Plan storage space carefully then partition with shelves, drawers and slots to hold all the items. Finally equip with sufficient hangers, hooks and racks.

After only a few years of marriage almost any wife could tip off single girls as to the qualities and traits that are important in a husband.

They may sound prosaic and not a bit romantic but they become mighty important once the honeymoon is over.

Take the little matter of neatness. Unless a girl wants to spend her life picking up after a man and trying to be a good housekeeper despite him, she had better choose one who is neat and orderly.

Then there's dependability. The young man who keeps a girl guessing may be fascinating as a date.

LAND OF DRAGONS — In the Children's Theater production, "The Land of the Dragons," being sponsored by the Pampa AAUW branch, Danny Johnson, center, as Road Wanderer, looks as if he's about to lose his head. Ready to do the chopping is Aaron Laverty, left, playing Covet Spring, while Phyllis Burns, portraying Precious Harp, and Perry Schanefelt, a priest, watch. The play for children will be presented at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium. (News photo)

Mission Study Held By Brummett Group

Mrs. W. G. Kinzer was hostess to the meeting of the Brummett Group of the First Christian Church.

The program, "To Serve the Present Age," was presented by Mmes. Mercer Densmore, Homer Kesenger, Helen Groninger, Roberta Tally, J. F. Meers and Estelle Bastin.

Mrs. Oscar Shearer presented the devotional, "To the End of the Earth."

Refreshments were served during the social period. Mrs. Ethel Alexander was a guest. Fourteen other women attended.

White sheets remain white if washed with white clothes only. Any stains or spots that won't come out in laundering should be removed beforehand.

Children's Theater Production Tuesday Will Be Sponsored By AAUW Branch

The Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women will sponsor the Pampa High School Children's Theater production, "The Land of the Dragons," to be presented at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

The play is for children from three years of age through high school age. Admission will be 25 cents for children and students and 50 cents for adults. Tickets are available in Pampa schools and will be sold at the door.

The play is the story of a princess, Jade Pure, to be played by Judy Ellis, who is seeking her prince. Her aunt, Precious Harp, portrayed by Phyllis Burns, and Covet Spring, to be played by Aaron Laverty, are trying to prevent Jade Pure from marrying before she is 18 years old so the kingdom will revert to them. However, Jake Pure, who believes she is ugly, finds a friend in a strange fellow named Road Wanderer, played by Danny Johnson, who comes to the palace with Small One, the dragon.

Others in the cast will be Barbara Morris, Joan Prescott, Perry Schanefelt, Rene Crain and Buzzy Hoover.

Stage manager is Miss Rene Crain and properties manager is Perry Schanefelt. Play director is Jack Nance.

Proceeds from the play will go to the Children's Theater and to the AAUW branch which will use its share for a scholarship for a senior girl. AAUW play chairman is Miss Evelyn Milam, head of the branch's education committee. This will be the second Children's Theater production sponsored by the branch this year.

Miss Reta B. Cook, Thomas Chumbley Wed In Home Rite

CANADIAN — (Special) — Miss Reta Beth Cook and Thomas Earl Chumbley, both of Canadian, were married during a double-ring service April 28, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cooke of Canadian. Clyde Ray Cain officiated.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Chumbley of Canadian.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace, tulle and satin. The fitted bodice was of lace over satin, and the bouffant skirt was of white tulle. She carried a bouquet of white roses over a white Bible.

Miss Ada Leen Cook was maid of honor, and Miss Lo Etta Chumbley was bridesmaid. Both wore identical gowns of blue net and taffeta and carried bouquets of white iris. Miss Lou Ann Green was candlelighter.

Billy D. Chumbley served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cook wore a navy blue linen dress, and Mrs. Chumbley was attired in a blue linen dress. Both wore corsages of white iris.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Miss Lola Hilderbrand presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Pat Willmoth served the cake.

For the wedding trip to Norman, Okla., the bride wore a light blue suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. The couple will reside in Norman, Okla.

Sizes in Baby clothes are enough to drive a mother frantic. There is no rhyme nor consistency to them. A mother's best friend is a competent salesperson who understands all of the size ranges or a sensible chart for a particular brand.

PTA City Council Installs Officers

New officers were installed by Mrs. Jack P. Foster at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association City Council in the Junior High School.

Mrs. Foster used a May basket as a theme, telling of its origin and what each color meant to the different kings. During the ceremony, she presented each officer with a different-colored daisy or carnation, using red for the president; white for the vice-president; blue for the secretary; yellow for the treasurer; black for the historian; and green for the parliamentarian.

Installed were Mrs. L. L. Millen, president; Mrs. D. B. Sublett, vice-president; Mrs. Kirk Duncan, secretary; Mrs. R. A. Mack, historian; Mrs. James Lewis, parliamentarian; and Mrs. B. E. Tidwell, treasurer.

During the meeting, Mrs. R. A. Mack presented Mrs. James Lewis, out-going president, with a gift certificate and a specially-prepared book, "This Is Your PTA Life," from the council.

The business session was led by Mrs. Lewis, who suggested each president order material for her unit's publicity book at the beginning of the school year.

Mrs. Shirley Nickols gave the treasurer's report which was accepted by the auditing committee composed of Mrs. R. A. Mack and Jack Nichols. The historian's report was given by Mrs. B. E. Tidwell.

Attending were Meses. J. H. Trotter, Shirley Nickols, W. J. Woodard, B. E. Tidwell, Siler Hopkins, James Lewis, Elmer Darrell, Ed Gentry, Buster Sublett, Howard Brown, Bill Lovell, Ralph Delashaw, H. L. Meers, L. L. Millen, Nolan Cole, Ott Shewmaker, Phillip R. Grange, F. A. Word, Jack P. Foster, C. N. Gage, E. E. Shelhamer, J. Kirk Duncan, R. A. Mack, H. H. Hahn; and Messrs. Cause of Madness

Previously, in this space we have noted the tendency of our government to pass laws relative to mental disorders. For the past several years there has been a veritable rash of articles all tending to show that mental derangement is on the increase.

The same total of these various pieces is a hue and cry for governmental intervention. The alarmists claim that new and improved methods and institutions must be found and created to treat the increase in mental aberrations.

Now, of course, there are several ways of looking at these reports. One is to go along with them and admit that there is an alarming increase in insanity. Another would be to deny it, and charge that the alleged increase was a matter of propaganda aimed at entrenching the government in another area of power.

Frankly, we don't know whether there is an increase in insanity or not. It could well be that the psychiatrists and psychologists who say that there is, have found new ways of branding eccentrics with the unpleasant term.

And it is demonstrable that on at least two occasions the government has moved to incarcerate persons in a nut-house for the simple reason that those persons objected to the high-handed operation of the government.

But for the sake of discussing the idea, let us suppose that there actually is an increase in the incidence of mental disease. Which is the soundest way to proceed: to establish vast institutions for mad men, or to seek to remove the cause of insanity so that such institutions would not be necessary?

Obviously, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. If there is an increase in insanity, then surely this increase can be traced to something that is serving as a cause for the increase.

What could that something be?

Well, things in this country are pretty much the same as they have always been except for one very noticeable exception. That exception is found in the vast increase in governmental power. Aside from that, life goes on pretty much as before.

Of course, there are some who will reply: "But there is another change, too. There are thousands of new inventions and new industries which have created new leisure time and with it, new problems."

But our answer to this charge is that leisure time is not a problem. Since the advent of the peculiar two-legged mammal upon this planet, we have all of us struggled for an adequate food supply, and leisure time for our own development. The fact that we are beginning to achieve this in a very small way does not represent a change. Instead it represents a fulfillment. It is not frustrating. It is gratifying. The only change has occurred in the area of government. Government, once small and controlled, is now huge and uncontrolled. In the realm of politics, direction has been altered. In the realm of capital and progress, achievement has been in part obtained.

But government is on the rampage. It is intruding into people's private lives more and more every day. People are being held up by the tax collector, and held down by regulations. They are prevented and compelled. Emergencies exist that never existed before. And where they don't exist, government creates them. Pressures have increased from A to H.

Could it be that if there is an increase in the incidence of insanity that it is the government which is causing it? One look at Form 1040 and it would be comparatively easy to reply in the affirmative.

One of the principal causes of mental derangement occurs as a result of continual frustration. There is nothing more frustrating than government. Just when you are all set to go ahead to accomplish a life-long dream, the government steps in and stops you or at least re-directs you so that you can't proceed as you would like to.

And just as you are ready to stop, the government steps in and goods you into proceeding further, and not to your own liking.

And the worst of it is, you can do little if anything about it. Surely, this could be a major cause of maladjustment. It could also be a major cause of delinquency and immorality. If people are not permitted to make their own way in the world, then they will rely on a government to make that way for them. But government is impotent to do this. The result is confusion, injustice, frustration, and ever increasing coercion.

Yes, if there is a problem of mental health, we would say that the government is largely responsible for it. And then, as most writers do, to ask the government to provide the cure is the acme of stupidity. One does not demand of the fire that it extinguish itself.

What we need is less government, fewer government clinics, less government pressure, lower taxes and a return to individual liberty and freedom. That way, there is some hope for humanity. That way is the way to a return to a sane and reasonable world.

The other way, the more government way, is to turn back toward barbarism, war and dictatorship.

Let's just not worry about the effect. For once, let's get at the cause.

Christian Harmony In Competition

In the last issues I was quoting from an article I had written and had published in "The Christian Advocate," the official organ of the Methodist Church. The subject was "Christian Harmony In Competition."

I explained in the last article that I had erred in contending that competition hurt or inconvenienced those parties who were undersold. Now I want to continue my observations on "Christian Harmony In Competition."

"They" (who think competition can be harmful) fail to realize that if men tried to supply all their own wants and did not exchange anything, most people would perish in a few days.

"Another cause of confusion is that inexperienced persons actually believe there is a limited amount of work to be done. If this were true men actually wanted work, then competition would be harmful. But men want the fruits of work, and the difference between our wants and our ability to supply them is greater today than ever. (This is true because we have now more wants.)

"Another cause for confusion is that many people think there is some way of hoarding wealth without losing it, or that there is plenty of wealth for everybody if the wicked rich did not hoard wealth. They say, 'just look at the bank deposits.' But this is not wealth. It is only orders for wealth. When owners of credit do not use it, other owners of credit can get more for their credits.

"Real wealth has to be used in order to be preserved. Capitalists have to supply the wants of both their customers and workers better than others before they benefit. If capital is not so used, it is lost by depreciation, obsolescence, taxes, etcetera. Therefore, wealth cannot be hoarded without eventually being lost. It has to be distributed to benefit its owners.

"For these various reasons, men make customs and laws that prevent this practical plan of Jesus' from being put into practice.

"Certainly, because poverty is not being reduced as rapidly as we would like, no sincere, rational, humane person would advocate giving up what is left of the competitive system and not attempt to perfect it, until he has something definite in mind that he could explain without contradictions. He would no more do this than he would advocate abandoning a ship which had outdistanced all others, simply because some theorists had disregarded many of the recognized principles of operating the ship.

"Can one conclude otherwise than that a man convicts himself of either stupidity or hypocrisy when he condemns competition and refuses to answer questions about a substitute rule for fear of contradicting himself?

"Let critics of competition test their realism and sincerity by attempting to answer these questions:

"If employees are not selected on the basis of merit — the workers who will do the most for the compensation paid — are they to be selected on a non-competitive rule? By lot? By seniority? By the worker's needs? By rotation? By force or intimidation? Otherwise, by what measurable, impersonal, eternal rule are they to be selected?

"If they cannot give a rational answer and still oppose the competitive system, then they are in reality contending, as all dictators do, that their personal opinion, or the opinion of the majority, should be used as a rule of right without regard to any of God's eternal, impersonal rules.

"If the competitive system could be fully put in operation, then we would approach a practical, and not a visionary, communism, as then all the natural resources of all the world, and sooner or later all the natural talents of all mankind, would become available to all mankind, as God intended them to be.

"Under this practical Christian rule, each producer seeking to satisfy his own wants would also benefit every consumer; because the more a person produces to be exchanged with others, the greater will be the exchange value of everything he produces.

"Under free competition, only a few men would be needed by the government to administer the law of equal freedom and prevent people from getting things by force or under false pretenses. Hence, practically all the energies of mankind would be used in productive effort, instead of wasting them in wars and government jobs preventing men from freely exchanging their services.

"It is the only known system that will save us from the totalitarian state.

"Free competition, by keeping the highways and byways open, develops initiative, character, benevolence and a realization of the oneness of mankind so that all the talents of all the people benefit all the people, as Jesus said and as the Divine Architect certainly intended."

West May Have Leaped From Frying Pan To Fire

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The Western Powers may have leaped from the diplomatic frying pan into the fire by allowing themselves to be jockeyed into the position of giving Moscow a voice in any settlement of the Middle East problem. In seeking the Soviet's aid in solving the immediate Arab-Israeli crisis, they may have embarked on a long-range program that will undermine them in the strategically vital Eastern Mediterranean and the world's richest sources of oil.

As a result of the Khrushchev-Bulgarian visit, the Eden Government flatly recognized Russia's emergence as a Middle East Power after years of diplomatic intrigue and wars devoted to keeping the Communists out of this area. In the Eisenhower - Dulles reliance on the United Nations for eventual intervention in the Arab-Israeli feud, they have granted the Communists a seat at the council table.

Despite the Kremlin rulers' apparent willingness to prevent the Levant from becoming the site of the start of World War III, past performances guarantee that they will use their new bargaining strength to advance their own interests. Within a few months, beginning with the sale of Czechoslovakian arms to Egypt, they have crashed into an international game where the stakes are unbelievably high.

Russia's veto power in the U.N.'s Security Council will enable her to checkmate any Anglo - American decision on this problem to which she objects. Nor can the Western nations break a deadlock by turning to the U.N.'s General Assembly, as it did during the Korean difficulty, for the Russian, Arabian and Indian members have enough votes there to paralyze any action. The Communists have played extremely clever and Machiavellian diplomacy in achieving their historic aim of penetrating barriers erected against them in this sector. They originally favored Israel in the U.N. decision to make Palestine an independent Republic. Only recently, they shifted support to the Arabian Alliance organized by Nasser of Egypt. Now, at least temporarily and superficially, they have deserted him for larger diplomatic gains.

Russia's astounding achievement will force a revision of American policy toward the Middle East. It virtually scrapes the 1950 Tripartite Declaration on which Israel has relied, though none too confidently, for preservation of its boundaries and freedom. That document completely ignored Moscow, reserving to the United States, France and Great Britain the exclusive right to enforce its provisions. Now, Russia has become a guarantor in effect, if not in name.

The Baghdad Pact may also be endangered at a time when Washington seeks to strengthen it, although still refusing to become an active member. Should the great powers declare a permanent embargo on shipments to Israel and the Arabs in order to preserve peace, Moscow may demand that the prohibition be applied to such Western members of the Northern Tier Alliance as Turkey, Iraq and Pakistan.

FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. INGEBRETSEN President, Spiritual Mobilization

The Yorktown Monument in Virginia is topped by a statue of "Liberty," the head and arms of which were knocked off by a lightning bolt in 1942. Sculptor Oskar J. W. Hansen recently completed a new, and considerably larger and heavier, statue of "Liberty" to replace the damaged one. But the U. S. Interior Department, which has jurisdiction over the monument, has reportedly been talking about putting the new statue away in a warehouse because it thinks the base of the monument is not strong enough to support the new "Liberty."

This reminds me that, without a moral and spiritual base strong enough to support it, liberty itself "goes into storage."

Can Uncle Sam Stop Depressions?

By Thurman Sensing

The Wall Street Journal is running a very interesting series of articles on the attitudes of folks in various age brackets toward debt, saving, spending and other economic facts of life.

The first of these articles deals with three young couples in their mid-thirties who experienced the depression of the 1930's only as children and who have known nothing but prosperous conditions and continually increasing incomes during their business lives. It is this age group which constitutes a large percentage of our population.

What is the attitude of these couples toward debt? They are up to their necks in it — new homes, new cars, new electric appliances of all sorts, club dues, etc., all on the monthly payment plan. None of them seem to have any margin left for savings.

Do they worry about a setback of any sort, about the possibility of hard times, about a depression? No, they don't seem to — perhaps because they have never experienced one. It is their answers when questioned as to their attitude toward a possible depression, however, that are most enlightening — in that they probably express the attitude of the majority of the present generation.

"No American government," says one of the three men, "can afford to sit by and let another real depression come about."

"Any financial catastrophe big enough to overwhelm me is going to shake this whole country so bad my debts will be the least of my worries — and that just won't happen," says another one.

The third one makes this comment: "I always tell myself, when I find myself getting another bank loan: 'If that banker is a big enough fool to lend it, I'm a big enough fool to borrow it.'"

If we may assume that the observations of these three couples are typical of the attitude of many people these days — then they are worthy of some comment and serious thought.

The first observation undoubtedly ly expresses the attitude of a large percentage of the American people — that the Government cannot afford to let us have another depression, whether it be under a Democratic administration or a Republican administration. In answer to this observation, we might point out that a good many of our previous Governments have "afforded" depressions — without destruction of either political party — and the people have gone on to an ever-increasing standard of living. In fact, it is only when the Government starts meddling with the natural laws of economics that depressions become really serious. We would have come out of the Great Depression of the 1930's much sooner than we finally did had it not been for Government interference.

But the serious aspect of the attitude expressed in this first observation is that the Government is responsible for the prosperity of the people. Any such doctrine is contrary to the whole philosophy of government under which our nation was founded. Our forefathers knew that no government on the face of the earth can confer prosperity on its people. The government can establish certain rules and regulations to guide them but the people are responsible for their own welfare. Otherwise you have a totalitarian government of some sort wherein the government takes full control and individual freedom is destroyed. They have neither prosperity nor freedom.

So if free people who are responsible for their own welfare borrow beyond their means, if they are big enough fools to borrow just because the bankers are big enough fools to lend it, then they can only expect the immutable laws of economics to catch up with them and finally bring them to their senses. We can all hope we shall never have another depression, but human nature being inclined, as it is, to violate these fundamental laws, it is very likely that we shall.

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

TWO WEDDINGS!

An American movie actress and a former President's only daughter chose the same week in April 1956 to be married for the first time. Both are attractive, famous, and both chose bachelors young in their forties. But at this point, all similarity ends, and two more unlike weddings could hardly be imagined!

One wedding was blown up into a gaudy, Hollywood-Riviera extravaganza out of all proportion to its importance. The other was kept simple, quiet, small and dignified. Why the difference?

There are those who defend the Monaco monstrosity, or say it could not be helped, but this columnist is not one of them. They say: "Ranier is a Prince, and royalty has no choice except gilt and grandeur." (They should!) This to Queen Juliana of Holland!

Stuff and nonsense! The principal reason for the difference is that the size of New York's Central Park, and whose only claim to fame is its Monte Carlo gambling Casino, couldn't be less significant, nor its past history less inspiring. And the Prince himself, no matter how shy or well-meaning he may be, appears to have devoted his mature years chiefly to racing cars and women. If his "word is law" in this microscopic land, as press reports claim, then he could have planned and demanded almost any kind of wedding he desired. But his own choice of a self-designed Napoleonic, medal-laden wedding costume, is a dead giveaway of his personal preference for the "grand impression."

Perhaps this columnist's pro-American chuckle is unkind and unfair, but we find ourselves bursting with pride over Margaret Truman's sturdy example to the world. Non-Americans have long enjoyed sneering at the "lawdy materialism" of the United States, and the moral decadence of our people, our shallow preoccupation with the things money can buy, and our shameful neglect of spiritual realities. We are constantly berated for our crime-rate, and for the "bad taste" of our press.

In the face of these customary European and Asian tirades, Margaret Truman did her country a magnificent service. She had every excuse for a spectacular splurge of a wedding, but she flatly refused to capitulate on it, and so did her family. She wanted to be and to feel like every other average, small-town, American bride, and to keep her wedding strictly personal and holy. She was born in humble circumstances, and she chose to remember — and keep it that way.

There are many who would have said: "It can't be done, — not by a public figure, whose father was a President of the United States!" But it was done, and the "homefolks" of Independence, Missouri, cooperated with her wishes to the last letter. They denied themselves and their town the big televised spectacular they might have had. "Margaret wants it this way," they told the reporters, "and so this is how it's going to be!"

There were no King Farouks, or diamond-dripping dowagers at Margaret's wedding. There were no jewel thieves, no champagne brawls on Sunday evening, no highway robbery inflation of prices engineered by the local merchants, no cheap souvenirs hawked to an influx of sensation-seeking riff-raff, no imported hairdressers, no national or international guards of honor, no circuses, no Riviera millionaires with nothing better to do with their money than waste it by the bucketful on vicarious orgies for the bespangled bored.

Poor Princess Grace! If she can manage to produce an heir as quickly as possible her new subjects will be most grateful, for this will save them from the tax and draft laws of France. If she can't, all she can do is to be as gracious, kind, and queenly as she is for naught. The day may well dawn when she would give all her beauty, wealth, and acquired titles just to be a free American girl again, exercising her lungs at a baseball game, or eating a hamburger with all the fixin's in a pair of faded blue jeans!

Grace and Margaret have freely chosen their separate destinies. We wish them every happiness that their choices can bring. But if we had to bet on who will be happier with her life ten years from now, we'd bet on Margaret all the way!

As for all the unfamous people of the world, both European and Asian — the next time you feel inclined to sneer at American "materialism," we shall be most happy to compare Independence, Missouri with Monaco, Europe, and let you take your choice! Thanks, Margaret Truman. Just by insisting upon being yourself with no false illusions of grandeur, you have accomplished more than three Marshall Plans!

Sometimes I get so discouraged. The president of France says his country is perfectly willing to keep on takin' America's money but it don't want to put up with any more American preachin'. And most of the other countries are talkin' the same way. I wouldn't see any international hope at all if it wasn't for those colored travel ads in the magazines that show 'Friendly Welshman' introducing his sheep to couple from Boston'. But even when they are introduced to a sheep dog I don't s'pose the proper Bostonians do too much talking.

Mrs. Gene Fatheree Tells Of Children And Music At Parent Education Meeting

Mrs. Gene Fatheree presented the program, "How to Approach Your Child With Music," at the meeting of Parent Education Club in the home of Mrs. R. M. Hampton.

"Your child will love music — if you let him," pointed out Mrs. Fatheree. "All children are born with a love of pleasant sounds. The delight in rhythm and melody is an instinct as rooted in the human being as is the admiration for bright color or the appetite for sweets. The sweet ear is as natural in a child as the sweet tooth. Only a tone-deaf youngster is indifferent. And tone deafness occurs very, very rarely."

She went on to tell of how to develop the love of good music in a young child. She recommended singing folk songs, with simple subjects and experiences. She warned mothers about not singing to a child or embarrassing the child when he tries to sing for himself.

"From the very earliest, a child should be encouraged to sing," she explained. "Whether or not he can carry a tune is no indication of his musical capacity. Many musical people, and surely many who enjoy music, are unable to hum a melody correctly."

She pointed out that children's records are useful in acquainting a child with music. She recommended several records for children of different ages and advised the women to choose records that are short as the child's span of concentration is short. She warned against trying to predict a child's taste in music and advised making the listening to music an informal affair.

"It is desirable that children learn to play simple instruments before they tackle the piano or violin," Mrs. Fatheree explained. "They form an introduction to the study of the piano which, other things being equal, most children ought to learn. Learning to play a musical instrument requires work. Even a small amount of skill cannot be attained by progressive shortcuts. On the other hand, learning to play should not be unpleasant."

She went on to tell of the importance of choosing a teacher who will make learning to play an instrument a pleasant experience, and gave several points to be considered in choosing a music teacher.

Mrs. Fatheree explained that young people naturally take to the music of the day, which, "good, bad or awful" is part of their life.

"When you give your child the ability to re-create one of the immortal compositions of Mozart or Chopin, you have given him a medium for self-expression that will galvanize his personality as long as he lives," she concluded.

Next meeting will be at 10 a.m. May 15, in the home of Mrs. H. L. Gunter, 2106 Christine.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Z. B. Deer Jr., Gene Fatheree, Jack Foster, R. C. Goodwyn, H. L. Gunter, R. M. Hampton, George Hofness, Bud Johnson, H. D. Johnson, Julian Key, Myron Marx Jr., Tom Rose, A. L. Smalley Jr., George Snell, Bob Vail and C. C. Whitney Jr.

"Our Electric Range is TOPS with me!"

says Mr. BILL BRYSON, 3417 BRISTOL, AMARILLO, TEXAS

Yes, the electric range is tops. Tops for the man who cooks as a hobby — and to relax — like Mr. Bryson. Tops, too, for the homemaker who wants to make the full-time task of cooking a pleasure instead of a chore! Electric cooking is fast, easy, clean, cool, automatic, modern.

In a word — Mr. Bryson's word — Tops.

You can have built-ins, as the Brysons do, or a conventional model electric range. Either way, you can't top electric cooking.

Claude T. Satterwhite, Production Department employee of Gulf Oil Corporation at Pampa, will earn a 20-year Service Award on May 2.
Satterwhite has interrupted service with the Company and his continuous service date is August 18, 1913, at which time he was roustabout and pumper, transferring later to Electra as pumper. On October 25, 1929, he moved to Pampa where he has worked since that time as Lease Pumper. He has a collection of Indian arrow heads and other relics, and also finds much relaxation in his gardening. He and Mrs. Satterwhite have one son, Joyce, who lives in Louisiana.
Two other Gulf employees at Pampa to receive service awards this month are Alvin D. Fish and Clifford R. Taylor, who will complete 20 years of service with the company on May 22 and 25, respectively.
Satterwhite and other Fort Worth Production Division employees receiving service awards for 25 or more years of service will be honored at a dinner to be held in Fort Worth later this year.

Amendments Abolish 1-C Draft Class

Under the new amendments to the Rules and Regulations of Selective Service, the classifications 1-C Reserve and 1-C Discharge have been abolished. The registrants that have held those classifications, will be re-classified into 1-V-A. A 1-V-A classification is given to veterans who have completed their military obligation.

A man cannot qualify for 1-V-A classification unless he has had one full year of active duty, with the exception of men that were discharged for the convenience of the government with no less than six months service. Any registrant released to a reserve unit with less than one year of service, who was given a hardship discharge from one of the armed forces, will be re-classified into the lowest classification for which he is eligible. In some cases this will be 1-A.

The new order for selection for Selective Service is now set up in categories. This applies to all men classified 1-A.

Category 1: Delinquents, those that have failed to carry out any order of local board who have attained the age of 19 years will be called for immediate induction in the order of their dates of birth.

Category 2: Volunteers who have attained the age of 19 years and have not attained the age of 26.

Category 3: Non-volunteers who have attained the age of 19 years and have not attained the age of 26 and who do not have a child or children.

Category 4: Non-volunteers who have attained the age of 19 years and have not attained the age of 26, and who have a child or children with whom they maintain a bona fide family relationship in their homes. This means that categories 1, 2, and 3, would have to be completely exhausted before these men were reached for induction.

Category 5: Non-volunteers who have attained the age of 26 years in the order of their dates of birth, with the youngest being selected first.

Category 6: Non-volunteers who have attained the age of 18 and 6 months and who have not attained the age of 19 years in the order of their dates of birth with the oldest being selected first.

All registrants are advised to be alert in notifying the draft board if they are a father. Local boards will be guided by information in the individual's file and if a registrant waits to advise his local board of the birth of a child or child until after an order to report for induction is mailed, he will be processed for induction.

The regulations of Selective Service provide that it is the duty of every registrant to keep his local board currently informed of his current status. It is also the duty of each registrant to keep his local board advised at all times of the address where mail will reach him. The mailing of any order, notice or bank form by the local board to the address last reported by him to the local board shall constitute a notice to him of the contents of the communication, whether he actually receives it or not. Failure to keep the local board informed on mailing address could result in being declared a delinquent.

Registrants should feel free to call upon the Local Board office for information, assistance, or any questions they may have.
