

The 11,000th Landing

Pioneer Air Lines made its 11,000th flight into Big Spring Wednesday morning. On hand to receive a letter from Robert J. Smith, PAL president, was Mayor G. W. Dabney, left. Gladys Greer, stewardess on the flight, was commissioned to deliver the message. On hand to watch it well done was C. H. Rainwater, Chamber of Commerce president, and J. H. Greene, Chamber manager.

Pioneer Makes Its 11,000th Landing Here

Pioneer Air Lines put its 11,000th flight down at Big Spring this morning.

Mayor G. W. Dabney, together with Champ Rainwater, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was on hand to greet the crew of the ship.

Gladys Greer, stewardess on the flight, presented a letter from Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer, to Mayor Dabney, commemorating this particular flight.

"During these seven years (from Feb. 19, 1947) 13,733 persons have boarded Pioneer planes in Big Spring for air transportation to other key cities in the Southwest," wrote Smith. "At the same time, 13,429 persons have come to Big Spring on Pioneer planes for a total of 27,162 in and out of your city."

"A total of 66,505 pounds of United States Air Mail has been boarded on Pioneer planes in Big Spring during this same period, representing, according to Post Office estimates of 35 letters in the pound some 3,027,700 pieces of mail."

"Pioneer also has flown almost 10,372 pounds of air express and 22,630 pounds of air freight from Big Spring during this period."

In his letter to the Mayor, Smith expressed the hope that "our service to Big Spring has proven to be a necessary and helpful one and that you and the citizens of Big Spring will continue to find a need for that service. We look forward to 11,000 more in the future."

Big Spring has been on the Dallas-Odessa route since its inauguration.

With the mayor and Rainwater to meet the plane were J. H. Greene, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Billy R. Watson, terminal manager for Pioneer.

Pioneer Chief Says Line To Keep Flying

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Robert J. Smith of Pioneer Air Lines says his concern will keep operating even if it isn't merged with Continental Air Lines of Denver.

He denied, in testimony yesterday before the Civil Aeronautics Board, that the proposed merger amounted to a "forced sale" of Pioneer. This contention was made by an attorney for Braniff Airways.

City Building Goes Over Million Mark

Construction in Big Spring during the first four months of the year has passed the million dollar mark, according to permits filed at the City Hall.

Permits filed in April brought the total construction value up to $1,094,255. Last year at this time the construction value had reached only $752,380.

However, last year there had been 332 permits issued through April while there have been only 251 permits issued in same period this year.

City building inspector F. W. Bettle said that April has been the second best month this year with value of construction, with 61 permits for value of $331,953.

February has been the top month with 55 permits filed for $328,800. March had 83 permits for $286,855. and January filings included 52 permits for $72,365.

FBI's Chief Disavows Letter Up In Hearings

McCarthy Says It 'Essentially Same'

Sisters Tell Of Siberian Imprisonment

Three of the four Gibalis sisters appear in Chicago before a special Congressional committee investigating Communist aggression. They told of being uprooted from their home in Poland in 1940 and taken by cattle car to a concentration camp in Siberia where they were kept for two years. Afterward they were taken to the southern border of Russia and released. Left to right: Blanche, 17; Jane, 20; and Mary, 23. Another Gibalis sister is a nun in Resurrection Hospital in Chicago. WASHINGTON (AP)—Army counsel derided as "a perfect phony" today the letter Sen. McCarthy injected into hearings on his row with Army officials and identified by McCarthy as a communication from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to the Army on Jan. 26, 1951.

McCarthy stepped back that the substance was essentially the same as warnings the FBI had sent the Army about security risks and radar secrets.

This was not disputed by Robert A. Collier, a member of special counsel for the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Collier was given the job of checking up on the document after McCarthy produced it late yesterday.

The committee attorney went to the witness chair to give his report. He testified he had taken the document to Hoover and that the FBI director had told him:

"This letter produced is not a carbon copy or copy of any communication prepared or sent by the FBI to Gen. Bolling Jan. 26, 1951 or any other date."

McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy's counsel, had described the three-page document yesterday as a copy of a letter from Hoover to Maj. Gen. A.R. Bolling, dated Jan. 26, 1951, when Bolling was intelligence chief for the Army.

Collier testified that Hoover told him there is in the FBI files a 15-page interdepartmental memorandum, written in a different form and with no signature at all.

McCarthy put in that the document he and Cohn sought to introduce contained verbatim quotes from the 15-page memo. He said the document itself included the notation that certain security information had been omitted.

Joseph N. Welch, Army counsel, moved in with obvious enthusiasm to question Collier. It was in his queries that he termed the McCarthy document "a perfect phony" and a "carbon copy of precisely nothing."

The committee lawyer still had the chair when the investigating committee recessed for lunch.

McCarthy, without saying so directly, suggested that possibly what he had offered was a copy of a summary of the FBI material, prepared in Bolling's office.

McCarthy asked Collier if he had checked Gen. Bolling's office to find out if it had "made a summary" of the 15-page FBI letter. Collier said he had not had an opportunity to do that.

When McCarthy produced the purported letter yesterday, marked "Personal and Confidential," Army counsel Joseph N. Welch said McCarthy's possession of the paper appeared improper and perhaps illegal.

Ray Jenkins, special counsel for the inquiry, was instructed to see if Hoover could identify the letter and advise whether it should be made public.

Jenkins gave that assignment to Collier, and asked Collier today to report on his conference with Hoover.

Earlier, Secretary Stevens had testified a search of Pentagon files failed to show any copy of the letter.

Yesterday's session wound up in a whirl of excitement touched off by McCarthy's production of the letter.

It raised a lot of questions—including one from Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) as to whether "someone has violated the law." And most of the questions were left hanging.

Courthouse Street Proposal Is Studied; Bar's Offer Accepted

City commissioners Tuesday evening approved a substitute city judge plan presented by the Bar Association, reappointed members of the Colorado River Municipal Water District Board, and passed a resolution to cooperate in easing the drainage situation east of the city.

Discussions were also held concerning the widening of streets around the courthouse square for head-in parking, tax equalization, terminal building, and Moss Creek Lake.

The substitute judge plan was presented by County Judge R. H. Weaver for the Bar Association. He told the commissioners that the association will furnish a judge free of charge for the corporation each day that Judge W. E. Greenlee is forced to stay away because of illness. (Judge Greenlee is now in a hospital).

R. L. Cook and George White, whose terms on the CRMWD board of directors expire at the end of this month, were reappointed to the board provided they wish to continue serving. R. T. Piner and H. W. Wright are other local members.

Commissioners instructed City Manager H. W. Whitney to write a letter to the T&P Railroad, the County and the Highway Department stating that the city is willing to cooperate in easing the drainage situation east of the city by at least opening the T&P drainage ditch to channel water away from the area.

Judge Weaver presented the city commission a letter from Highway Engineer Jake Roberts stating that the widening of 3rd and 4th Streets for head-in parking around the courthouse square has been approved provided at least 21 feet on each side is dedicated for the purpose.

A discussion of leaving small islands between the parking area and the street was held, but Judge Weaver pointed out that the public has indicated to county officials that the courthouse square should be beautified without parking space. The arrangement to cut the square down to allow more parking was a compromise, he said.

Judge Weaver said the county might possibly be in a position to pay curb and gutter costs after the square is widened, but explained that paying paving costs is thought to be illegal.

City Attorney Walton Morrison was instructed to cooperate with Judge Weaver in investigating the legality of county participation in the cost. City Engineer Clifton Bellamy will check the problems to be encountered in cutting the square down for parking while leaving extended returns on each corner.

Commissioner Alfred Goodson presented a typed resolution for consideration which calls for an annual publication of the city property tax list. He explained that if the publication is withheld, it will tend to bring up the question of what is hidden. Although the information is available to the public now, he said, he had more people who take the trouble to dig into that information.

It was the general opinion among commissioners that cost of such a publication would be prohibitive. However, Tax Collector C. E. Johnson Jr. will tabulate the tax roll and determine how much space it would take in a newspaper to print the list.

A request by Lehman L. Woods of Webb Air Force Base to lease the old airport terminal building was taken under advisement. Commissioners want more information.

Assault Charge Is Lodged Against School Principal

Charges of aggravated assault were filed in County Court this morning against Marvin Kilgore, Vealmoor school principal.

Complaint against Kilgore was signed by Floyd Newsom. It alleged Newsom suffered bodily injury by being struck on the head with a gun.

Officers in the sheriff's and county attorney's offices said Newsom was injured about 9 a.m. today, during an altercation involving Newsom and Kilgore. He suffered a gash on the head and wore a bandage as he signed the complaint.

The argument was concerned with remarks allegedly made concerning use of the school lunchroom, the officers said.

Warrant was issued for Kilgore's arrest, but he was not in custody at noon.

French, Reds Blast Away

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French and Vietnam artillery fought more thundering duels today as the weary French Union forces led assault on Dien Bien Phu's diminishing defenses.

The French high command said "relative calm" prevailed last night at the northwest Indochina fortress after yesterday's savage struggle, which resulted in the fall and brought the rebels still closer to the bastion's vital core.

The French tried desperately to retake the position west of the garrison, but their commander, Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, finally called off the counterassault when it became evident he could not push back the attackers outnumbering his men 10-1.

A French spokesman expressed belief the rebels would launch their next big push sometime today.

Since Saturday, the Vietnam have taken four strongpoints in the shriveling defenses and part of a fifth. In human waves they surged against the barbed wire barricades in a furious attempt to break through to the bastion's heart.

By EDDY GILMORE
GENEVA (AP)—Western sources said today they have received information indicating the Communists may favor the creation of coalition rule in Indochina rather than partition.

No high-level conversations between East and West have been held on the form of an eventual Indochinese settlement, they said. But an impression of the Red position was obtained through other contacts.

This estimate of the Communist plans came in a two-day recess of the plenary meetings of the Korean conference.

Western diplomats were reported ready to break off the Korean phase of the conference once they are sure the Communists will not modify their opposition to uniting elections supervised by the United Nations. A recess until Friday gives the delegates a chance to hold private consultations and clarify their positions.

The Indochina phase has been made urgent by the worsening plight of the French Union forces at besieged Dien Bien Phu.

With the Indochina talks probably getting under way Friday, both issues will be discussed simultaneously for awhile, but in formants said the Korean conference should end some time next week, presumably by an agreement.

The 18 conference nations which fought in Korea under U.N. command (South Africa is not attending) are still working on a new detailed proposal for unification of the occupied, divided peninsula.

The U.N. allies already have rejected Communist-style elections proposed by North Korea.

Many delegates already have written off the Korean parley as a failure and feel the Indochina question is the only problem which offers any prospect of successful results.

Representatives of the Indochina states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia were expected to arrive here tomorrow for the impending talks aimed at ending the seven-year war in the Far Eastern battleground. As soon as they arrive, French Ambassador Jean Chauvel will inform Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and the Indochina talks can be arranged.

However, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault plans to confer with his Indochinese allies before they sit down with the other delegates.

Both East and West were reported in full agreement that the opening session on Indochina should include only the Big Four powers and Red China, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and the Communist-led Vietnam. Five Vietnam rebel leaders arrived yesterday.

French sources indicated Bidault's delegation may try to hold "indirect" talks with Vietnam delegates through the Soviets.

Such talks would be on a lower level, the informant said.

The main object would be to renew French efforts to a temporary truce to permit removal of sick and wounded at embattled Dien Bien Phu.

Bids Asked On Lakeview School

Bids will be asked for June 5 on construction of a new Lakeview School.

Trustees specified only minor changes when preliminary plans were presented by Atchison and Atkinson, of Lubbock, architect-engineers. One of these was a deepening of a 25x55-foot storage area under a stage structure to eight feet instead of originally designed 5 1/2 feet. This would afford ample standing room, light fixtures, etc. so that if necessary, the space might be used for classroom purposes in event of emergency.

The plant to be used for high school purposes, will contain a 97 x 60 gymnasium-auditorium, with stage, dressing rooms for boys and girls, restrooms; a science laboratory, homemaking laboratory, li-

Two Parrs In Primary Race

ALICE (AP)—George Parr is running for district judge and his nephew, Archer Parr, is running for state representative in this summer's primaries.

George Parr had announced earlier he would run for judge in the turbulent 7th District of South Texas where his influence as a political leader is under attack.

The disclosure yesterday that Archer Parr had filed for state representative was a surprise to most. He now is sheriff of Duval County.

The present representative is A. J. Vale of Rio Grande City in Starr County. He is seeking reelection.

The district includes Duval, Jim Wells, Jim Hogg, Brooks and Starr counties. Other candidates who have filed for the legislative post are Bob Mullen and Bob Grimes.

Listed as candidates for the district judgeship are George Parr; Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, Mark Heath of Falfurrias and James Breckinridge South of Falfurrias. However, the county Democratic chairman in Falfurrias said that South had not lived there in about 30 years and his name will not be placed on the ticket that counts.

Parr and Laughlin are friends. Laughlin was elected the district judge in 1953 and was ousted this spring by the State Supreme Court on charges of political favoritism but the court did not say that he couldn't run again.

Heath has been a leader in the fight against Parr. A close friend of the Parrs is running for the sheriff's job being vacated by Archer. He is Daniel U. Garcia Jr. Also in the race is J. L. McDonald of San Diego, an outspoken critic of Parr. A third candidate is J. P. Stockwell.

Last Major Contract Granted By CRMWD

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District awarded a $139,300 contract, last major job of its $11 million project, here Tuesday afternoon.

In addition, the board approved $177,542 in other contracts tentatively awarded since the last board meeting.

To step up the flow of water from Bull Creek into Lake J. B. Thomas, the board authorized E. V. Spence, general manager, to receive bids for lowering the gradient on the diversion channel of the lake end, S. W. Foose of Foose & Nichols, district engineers, estimated that this could be done for approximately $10,000 to $12,000 and at the same time about double the rate of flow through the channel.

Foose said that the slope could be lowered to about one foot fall per 1,000 feet from about the 1:100 bridge over the channel to the lake. Most of this would be in the shallow end of the channel, which now maintains a level (elevation 2,258) same as the lake service spillway level on its 60-foot base. The same base would be maintained after the slope, he added.

Repairs to the north levee of the Bull Creek diversion structure are proceeding rapidly, said Spence. The hole chewed beneath the south break has been filled and dirt now is being put into the 120-foot gap. There remains a 60-foot gap, a short distance to the north. Estimates are that another two weeks will be required to complete the job. The breaks occurred when water seeped under the dam along pipelines, said Foose. He pointed out that the levees are not designed to impound water permanently, hence did not have a clay core below the dam. To have done so might have almost doubled cost of the 5,000-foot structure, he said.

Time for delivery of Lake J. B. Thomas water to Big Spring was a controlling factor in letting bids for the Big Spring-Odessa pump station and the Morgan Creek booster station. Austin Bridge Company of Dallas submitted a bid of $129,300. Time value figured $125,300 for 75-days delivery of water to Big Spring and 119 days total completion. Ottlinger Company of Fort Worth submitted a bid of $137,106, but with the

Sen. Sparkman Sweeps Alabama Primary; Folsom Holds Big Lead

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman, seeking re-nomination in the face of bitter charges that he betrayed his native Alabama as Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1952, swept to an apparent victory in yesterday's party primary.

A massive, perhaps unprecedented turnout of voters, many of them newly registered under a relaxed poll tax law, gave the 54-year-old Sparkman a steadily widening majority over three opponents.

Another familiar political figure, former Gov. James E. Folsom, ran far ahead in the race for the nomination for governor despite accusations of misconduct during his first term.

The 6-foot-8 insurance man, whose antics gained him nationwide publicity and the nickname of "Kissing Jim," moved within range of a majority of all votes cast in the seven-man race.

Advance estimates were that 550,000 votes would be cast in the primary, compared with 402,000 in 1950. The previous Alabama record of 438,000 votes was set in the 1952 presidential general election.

Unofficial returns from 1,802 of 2,715 boxes gave Sparkman 157,986 votes in the Senate contest to 118,486 for his nearest and most critical opponent, Rep. Laurie Battle of Birmingham.

Retired Adm. John Crommelin, whose feud with the Air Force and persistent outspoken criticism of nationwide defense policies got him sidelined by the Navy in 1950, was third with 11,291, and 75-year-old William C. Irby Sr., who advocated a vast government give-away program financed with cheap money, ran last with 2,398.

Folsom had 145,941 votes for a second term as governor against a combined total for all six opponents of only 170,844. It gave him approximately 45 per cent of the total vote.

Unless he did win a clear majority, Folsom would face a runoff June 1 with the second-place candidate, State Sen. Jimmy Faulkner of Bay Minette, a political newcomer who became a strong contender almost overnight with hours on the air.

Faulkner had 90,988 votes; Lt. Gov. James B. Allen 29,139; former State Sen. Bruce Henderson the Public Service Commission, 26,632; Jack Owen, president of the Public Service Commission, 11,917; former State Doct's Director Henry Sweet 2,140; and Winston Gullatte, another insurance man, 1,708.

Gordon B. Persons, the present governor, was barred from seeking re-election by a state law which prevents the incumbent from succeeding himself.

Six of Alabama's nine congressmen were renominated without opposition. Two others won re-nomination over lone opponents: Rep. Kenneth Roberts defeated young Turner Rountree Jr. in the 4th District and Rep. Frank Boykin won over John Mandeville in the First.

George Huddleston Jr., son of a former congressman, led in the 9th District, where Battle gave up his seat to run against Sparkman. He apparently faces a runoff June 1 against ex-Postmaster Arthur Albright.

Ballots Burned In Alabama Incident

ELBA, Ala. (AP)—Election officials said Dewey Adams of the Newbia community took command of his polling place and burned all its 85 ballots last night.

Zeil Williams, one of the officials, said Adams came up to the polling place as officers were counting ballots and demanded entrance.

When he kicked down two doors and entered, most of the officers scattered. Adams then told Williams, "Here are some votes the sheriff won't get," and set fire to them with a match; Williams reported.

Sheriff H. D. Tullman said Adams was being held for questioning.

Florida's Demos To Hold Run-Off

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Acting Gov. Charley E. Johns and State Sen. Leroy Collins, in a three-week runoff campaign for Florida's Democratic nomination for governor, set out today to capture the 177,000 votes that went to defeated candidate Braley Odham in yesterday's primary.

Unofficial returns from 1,637 of the state's 1,724 precincts gave Johns 231,142, Collins 200,460 and Odham 177,000.

Both Collins and Johns will be faced with a problem of getting the voters out for the second primary May 23 for selection of a Democrat for the two remaining years of the late Gov. Dan McCarty's term.

They'll be running by themselves in most counties because nearly all the local and district contests were settled yesterday.

J. Tom Watson, former Democratic state attorney general, apparently won the Republican nomination for governor with ease. Returns from 802 of the 1,724 precincts—many of which have no Republicans—gave Watson 19,929 to 9,873 for Charles E. Compton of Miami, a television repairman and former jockey.

All the primary contests for Congress—both Democratic and Republican—were settled.

In the 1st District, Rep. Courtney Campbell was unopposed for Democratic re-nomination and William C. Cramer defeated Thomas T. Dunn for the Republican nomination.

Incumbent Democratic Representative Bob Sikes in the 3rd District, Syd Herlong in the 5th and James A. Haley in the 7th disposed of their opponents with big majorities.

State Rep. Dante Fascell of Miami got a clear majority over four opponents to win the Democratic nomination, and unopposed election, to Congress from the 4th

Segregation Draws Opposition To Meet Of Church In Texas

HOUSTON (AP)—Segregation of whites and Negroes in Texas has brought a protest from the Washington, D. C., Episcopal Diocese.

The diocese asked that the 1955 general assembly meeting of the Episcopal denomination, scheduled for Houston in October, be transferred unless arrangements are made for a non-segregated meeting.

Bishop Clinton S. Quin of the Houston diocese said that he had promised "Christian hospitality" to the Negro delegates and that he had told the general convention in Boston in 1952 that if he found it wasn't possible he would notify the presiding bishop.

He said he was going ahead with plans for the convention.

"I am sorry to seem sinful," he said, "but I have a hunch we have as much religion in Texas as they have in Washington."

The Washington diocese made the request to the assembly's presiding bishop, the Right Rev. Gary Knox Sherrill, New York City.

District to succeed Rep. W. C. Lanstaff, who didn't run.

In the only other congressional contest, E. B. Sutton, a former Democrat, apparently won the Republican nomination in the 7th District over old-line Republican Philip Hiss of Sarasota.

Good Airport For Civilians Cited As Need

Construction of a sizeable civilian airport is a project which Gould Winn, retired city employe, would like to see the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce support.

And he believes that the airport would be a certainty if the Chamber did support it.

"I've seen Chamber influence build one airport here, and the Air Force has come in twice as a result of Chamber of Commerce work," he said. "I guess Chamber members could get another airport if they would try."

Winn, who worked as a maintenance man at the old municipal airport, claims that Big Spring is missing a lot by not having a large airport for civilian flyers.

"There is more traffic in the air than the average man realizes there is," he explained. "Plenty of planes would land here if we had a large enough airport, and trade would be stimulated. Oil company planes and big drummers would stop."

Winn does not set himself up as an authority on airports, but he modestly points out that he owns stock in three commercial airlines. "Working around the airport so long just made me air minded," he said.

The ex-city employe went to work at the airport when land was being cleared for installation of landing strips, and he stayed until the Air Force moved in during World War II.

Although the city has made provisions for a private air field, Winn is of the opinion that it is too small to accommodate the planes that should be landing here.

Air progress is first in his mind, but Winn also thinks about other means of transportation. He believes that the coming freeway has been needed for a long time. "Third Street is just too narrow now for all the vehicles traveling on it."

Winn, who has been a member of the Chamber for about 11 years, is amazed at the progress which has been made here by busy Chamber officials. He claims all the work is done by the same men.

"If every man in town who was working belonged to the Chamber of Commerce, a lot more things would get done. And it would be less burdensome on the big business men to carry on. After all, we can't hope for them to do it all."

Winn has been in Big Spring for the past 19 years, coming here from the Plains country. He is a member of the Salvation Army, the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, and the Elks lodge. He and his wife live at the Duncan Hotel.

New Mexico GOP Voting Runs Close

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Returns from yesterday's primary pushed Avlin Stockton, Raton stockman and legislator, into an impressive lead over Socorro Mayor Holm O. Bursum for the Republican nomination for governor of New Mexico early today.

The unofficial Associated Press count from two-thirds of the state's 944 voting divisions gave Stockton, a 41-year-old bachelor, a lead of 8,925 to 8,527 over Bursum, 47, who had the support of leaders of Gov. Edwin L. Mechem's administration. Mechem proclaimed himself a neutral.

The winner of the GOP contest, one of the few to arouse much interest in an otherwise listless campaign, will contend next November against Democrat John F. Bimms Jr., 37-year-old Albuquerque lawyer, unopposed in the primary.

The general election will pit Mechem against incumbent Democrat Clinton P. Anderson for Anderson's seat in the U. S. Senate.

Both men, recognized as champion vote getters in their parties, were unopposed for nomination.

Similarly, the Democratic incumbents in the House, Representatives John J. Dempsey and A. M. Fernandez, were unopposed for re-nomination. Their Republican opponents, apparent winners in a three-man field, will be former Roosevelt Mayor Warren Coban and Thomas H. Childers of Santa Fe.

Headless Motorist Astounds Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An apparently headless motorist drove through Hollywood traffic, to the astonishment of pedestrians and fellow drivers.

The driver without a head, however, turned out to be Spike Jones, the zany band leader. He had rigged up an overalls jacket and scarf to conceal his head.

The stunt, in which Jones was accompanied yesterday by his wife, singer Helen Grayco, was to dramatize the slogan of The Greater Los Angeles Chapter of The National Safety Council: "Don't lose your head in traffic."

Trio In Court In Mix-Up

Peggy Lou Wolfe Hirsch, 36, sits between her husbands in a Los Angeles court where she went to get a divorce from Glynn Wolfe, 45 (left), hotel owner who promised her half the hotel if she will stick with him. Husband No. 2 is William Hirsch, 47, Texas gas well owner who has promised her the well if she will stick with him. Confusion started when attorneys advised Peggy her Mexican divorce from Wolfe wasn't legal. So she has asked the judge to grant her a divorce from Wolfe to clear her marital status. (AP Wirephoto.)

Motion For Censure Of Israel Fails In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Arabs lost their fight in the U.N. Security Council last night for an immediate censure of Israel but backed down on previous threats to boycott general debate on the tense situation between Jordan and the Jewish nation.

Instead, Lebanon's Charles Malik, only Arab representative on the 11-nation council, opened the debate with a new demand for action against Israel. He called for U.N. members to sever economic, communication and diplomatic relations with Israel if necessary to stop border raids into Jordan.

Palestine, the council voted 8-2 yesterday to hold the general debate rather than consider first Lebanon's charge that Israeli forces raided the Jordan village of Nahalin March 28 and killed nine Arabs.

Malik and Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky voted against the proposal for the general discussion, and Nationalist China abstained.

Death Row Inmate Gets New Attorney

Observers here at U.N. headquarters gave the Lebanese proposal little chance of winning council approval. They expected it would be bypassed in favor of some general pronouncement on the whole dangerous frontier situation.

After five previous meetings since April 8 on the issue of how to take up the new troubles in SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman, 32-year-old prison author of a book about life on "death row" who is scheduled to die in San Quentin in 10 days, hired an attorney today to make a last-minute appeal.

Gov. Goodwin Knight yesterday refused an appeal for clemency. The new attorney, Berwyn A. Rice of San Rafael, Calif., said he had some new information on the case he expected to develop.

Chessman was convicted in Los Angeles on charges of kidnaping and rape.

Ballot Veteran Will Try Again

AUSTIN (AP)—The race for governor got another Democratic candidate yesterday.

Cyclone Davis, 73, an oldtimer on the ballot who has tried many times for the high office, sent his application and filing fee to the state Democratic headquarters by mail.

They were received this morning with the proper postmark prior to last Sunday's filing deadline.

Davis listed his occupation as "fender man." His home is in Dallas.

The new filing brought the total of Democratic candidates for governor to four. Others who filed previously were Gov. Allan Shivers for re-election, Ralph Yarborough of Austin, and J. J. Holmes of Austin.

State Democratic headquarters said two more candidates also filed by mail in the race for associate justice of the Supreme Court.

They are Alfred M. Scott, 58, Austin attorney, and Robert B. Keenan, 62, Gladewater attorney.

Both seek the post now held by Associate Justice Few Brewster of Temple, who is seeking re-election.

Another filing for judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals brought candidates in that race to four. The new applicant was Sam Davis, 56, Houston attorney.

Others in that race, previously filed, are Alan B. Haley, Wichita Falls; Lloyd W. Davidson, Austin; and W. C. Graves, Dallas.

Jane Withers Wants Divorce From Mate

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Jane Withers, 28, former child actress, has asked that her pending separate maintenance suit against oilman William Moss, 33, be changed to a divorce action.

Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch granted her request and set a pre-trial hearing for June 9. Miss Withers, who has 10 days in which to file the divorce suit, said it will charge mental cruelty.

They were married in 1947 and have three children.

A handsome 16-page information booklet that will be of interest to all cattlemen, and especially to students of vocational agriculture as a supplemental text, has been made available without charge by the American Polled Hereford Association, 1110 Grand Avenue, Kansas City, Mo., and copies may be obtained by requests addressed to the Association. The booklet is colorfully illustrated.

It presents a brief history of the development of the Polled Hereford breed and pictures modern type Polled Herefords. Maps show the distribution of these cattle over the United States.

The first Polled Herefords, 11 head were registered in 1901. Experiments have demonstrated that the Polled, or naturally hornless characteristic is dominant over the horned trait in breeding.

An interesting carcass photograph showing the results of horn damages is included in the booklet.

J. T. Flowers of Midland, member of the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, has made the first planting of grass in rows for the production of seed to be sold to farmers in this SCD, under a new plan whereby the district will grow much of its needed seed.

Today Flowers is planting 10 acres of Blue Panic and five acres of Sidecoats Grama.

James E. Smith of San Antonio, plant materials specialist with the Soil Conservation Service, is at the Flowers' place assisting with the planting, which a number of farmers are expected to witness. Smith also will discuss the program with them.

The Martin-Howard SCD has purchased 180 pounds of Blue Panic seed and 180 pounds of Uvalde Sidecoats Grama to start the seed production project. The seed will be sold to farmers who will plant it for seed production, in rows and irrigated land.

Senator Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota blames the high cost of living on the fact that "everybody but the farmer is getting more of the consumer's dollar."

In an article in the May issue of Contry Gentleman, the senator says that in 1946 the farmer's portion of the consumer's dollar was 52 per cent while now it is barely 45 per cent.

His figures show that when a retail price of $50 is paid for a man's suit the farmer gets only $5 for the wool. That out of the $3.64 paid for a man's shirt the farmer gets only 31 cents for the cotton. That the farmer now only gets 48 per cent of the money paid for milk at retail, while in 1946 the farmer received 54 per cent. In 1946 the farmer was getting 73 per cent of the money paid at retail for beef while now he only receives 13 per cent, with other food items in proportion.

Pointing out that there has been a steady drop in farm prices, Mundt says the farmer's proportionate income is also lower.

W. D. McWhorter, who has an irrigated farm northwest of Midland has planted four acres of Blue Panic grass. This is the first of a 90-acre field which he intends to establish in this grass. He will use sprinkler irrigation on this area before planting additional acreage.

Elmer Johnson, who lives in the Lone Wolf Mountain area of Mitchell County, is doing a good job of diverting unwanted runoff water from part of his cropland.

And he is taking his time about it in order that he may get the job well done. It's a case, as he well realizes, where haste would make waste.

He has recently planted the waterway to Blue Panic, and is presently turning all water out of the grass-seeded channel until the grass is up to a good stand and has put down a good root system. When the Blue Panic becomes well established, Johnson will construct two diversion terraces at the top of the slope and divert well over 100 acres of outside water down this waterway.

The waterway was constructed last spring and seeded to Blue Panic then. He was getting a good stand when the extremely hot weather set in last May, and the grass had not become sufficiently well-rooted to withstand the terrific heat. At that the waterway has remained in good condition from the standpoint of shape and erosion.

The three-inch to four-inch rain that fell in the Spade and Westbrook areas of Mitchell County on April 27, proved the need for proper terrace maintenance.

Faither Wylie, of the Colorado City SCS staff, says that after viewing from 50 to 75 farms with terrace systems, after this heavy rain, it was evident that in all cases where the terrace systems had been well planned, properly laid out, properly build and adequately maintained, they withstood the hard downpours with little or no damage.

On the other hand, he explains where the systems had lines that were too wide apart, poorly maintained and without adequate provision made for outside water, heavy damages were suffered.

He says this example demonstrates the need for keeping terraces built up annually to an effective height of from 15 to 16 inches above natural ground level and with a base of from 20 to 25 feet.

If the lines are properly planned and laid out in the beginning, Wylie comments, and the terraces are constructed to meet the district specifications when they are first built, then the important thing is to keep them maintained to these standards and not neglect them under the supposition that it isn't going to rain anymore.

"Whenever maintenance slackens," warns the conservationist, "the terraces become less effective and are more likely to be damaged by heavy rains."

Romaine Hammond, who lives in the West Buford Community in Mitchell County, has recently planted 20 acres of Blue Panic. He made this planting on sandy loam on a clean seed bed. He rigged up his own tractor planter so that the boxes would not leak the unusually small seed and used a chain behind the planter to cover the seed. The planting was made at the rate of two pounds to the acre in 35-inch rows. He plans to use the patch for seed production and occasional grazing.

Doctors Invited To Attend Lecture

All area doctors are invited to attend a lecture at the Big Spring Veterans Hospital to be given Thursday by Dr. Arthur Grollman, professor of experimental medicine at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas.

Dr. Grollman will discuss the subject, "Use and Abuse of Drug Therapy." His lecture is scheduled for 1 p.m. in the recreation hall of the hospital.

Dr. Grollman's appearance here has been arranged jointly by the V. A. Hospital and the department of postgraduate education at the Southwestern Medical School. An outstanding speaker delivers a lecture at the hospital here each month.

Dr. Jackson H. Friedlander, chief of the VA Hospital professional services and originator of the lecture series idea, says he hopes private physicians from the Big Spring area will attend.

Events Shaping Up For Reverse In Indochina And At Geneva

The fall of Dien Bien Phu to the Communists would not have been of strategic importance to the French defense of Indochina, in the opinion of most military experts. Indeed, there were reports that American and British military experts disagreed with the French plan of creating a strong point at Dien Bien Phu in the first place. Some likened it to sticking out a five goat to attract a tiger.

a Munich, it is a Rhineland, a case where Hitler was allowed to militarize the disputed territory while a divided West sat on its hands. The U. S. allowed itself to get caught in a trap at Geneva. The putative purpose was to settle the Korean matter there; instead, Korea was sidetracked and a division of opinion between the U. S., France and Britain set the stage of a Western debacle in Indochina.

Taft-Hartley Amendments Likely To Draw Debate, Lively Jokes

The Senate opened the first full-scale debate on the Taft-Hartley law in five years Monday, and the argument is expected to last two weeks. It may well turn out to be the bitterest and most hotly-contested piece of legislation of the current session in the domestic field.

previous occasions, Lehman and Ives plan to offer parts of this separate measure in the form of amendments to the committee Taft-Hartley proposals. The Lehman-Ives amendments probably would find plenty of Northern Democratic support, but it would inevitably touch another Southern filibuster. As a result, no revision of the Taft-Hartley Act would be possible, so the administration forces can be expected to beat off the FEPC amendments for that reason.

Nations Of Asia And Africa Seek Cultural Independence

In the 19th century, Rudyard Kipling sang: "Take up the white man's burden— Send forth the best ye breed— Go bind your sons to exile To serve your captives' need; To wait, in heavy harness, On fluttered folk and wild— Your new-caught, subtle peoples, Half-devil and half-child."

last legs, already having lost an economic enclave in Western China, in Yunnan, Kweichow and Kwangsi. If Indochina falls, Thailand and Burma will not only be imperiled, but the "white man's" prestige will be so diminished as to be unimportant. Only in Malaya do the British seem to be able to hold their own.

That "white man's burden" is rapidly being discarded and will soon be no more. The historic fact is that the European is being driven out of those countries which he opened to the rest of the world. The European has been driven from all of China except Hong Kong and Formosa. He has lost prestige in the Philippines and Indonesia. He is without prestige in India or Pakistan, and whatever authority he ever had in such countries as Afghanistan has disappeared entirely.

The Russian Communists are not responsible for this development. Gandhi was influenced more by Tolstoy than by Marx or Lenin; Sun Yat-sen was influenced more by Thomas Jefferson and the American Constitution than by anything that came out of Russia.

Sen. McCarthy Tied Down To One Case While Squabble With Army Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time since the Republicans took office Sen. McCarthy is pinned down to one case and can't wander around, getting into the administration's hair from different directions. McCarthy has thrived on the limelight which he manufactured by making one sensational charge after another over the past four years. He did not pause when his own Republicans began running the government a year ago.

He raked over the administration's overseas information service and its overseas libraries. He charged there was espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., which turned out to be the beginning of his fight with Stevens. He aimed straight at Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles—at least, they took it that way for they answered him—with criticism of the administration's giving aid to countries trading with the Communists. All this, McCarthy has said, is part of his determination to root out communism no matter where it is and no matter who is made unhappy by his efforts.

This Day In Texas

Death came on this day in 1935 to Lon C. Hill, long prominent in land development activities in the Rio Grande Valley. After attending the University of Texas, Hill went to Beville to practice law. Before long he found his interest turning toward the development of the brushland country extending on toward the Rio Grande. Finally he purchased some land from the widow of Captain Richard King for the somewhat amazing price of $2.50 an acre and moved his family to what is now Harlingen.

New Hampshire's GOP Governor Disturbed By Row

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Republican Gov. Hugh Gregg has called on President Eisenhower to end "the degenerating nature" of the McCarthy-Army hearings. "The Republican party is losing prestige and honor due to the prolonged and ineffectual Senate hearings in which Sen. McCarthy and Army Secretary Stevens are playing the leading roles," Gregg said in a telegram to the President.

Gen. Dean Warns About Complacency

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, who spent 38 months in a Communist prison of war camp in Korea, said last night he sees "complacency everywhere" in America. He said "a great many people are becoming complacent" because the West has the atomic bomb and the H-bomb. He told a dinner meeting of the Peoria Assn. of Commerce: "Complacency is the Communist's comrade."

Time Has Come To Speak Out Against Irritating Phrases

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note. Just as the Walrus said the time had come to talk of cabbages and kings, I think it is time to speak out on a couple of words and phrases.

You insist, go ahead and say "consensus of opinion," but please spell it correctly. It is not "con-census." The root word has to do with the mind or thought; thus when the Latin prefix "con" means with or together, consensus means a unanimity or general agreement in matters of opinion, etc. The third item up to bat is that tattered hedge of the speaker: "I might say." Be on the alert for this forensic warning. You will be amazed how often that a speaker announces, "I might say," and then goes right on and removes all doubt by saying it. Sometimes it is used as "you might say" or "it might be said."

Industrial Struggle Pointed Up By Strike At Hat Factory

This is the story of a strange ten-month strike—a story that epitomizes the industrial struggle between the North and the South, between northern labor and southern labor, between union workers and non-union workers, between non-so-modern machinery and modern machinery. It's a Philadelphia story, a New York story, a Boston and Lawrence, Mass. story, a Chicago story. It's a story of the prospective plight of northern workers in textile and apparel plants. And it's taking place right this minute in South Norwalk, Conn.

national Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (AFL), $50,000 from the United Steelworkers (CIO), and $50,000 from the Amalgamated Clothing Workers (AFL). It has sold $400,000 of bonds to its employed members. The Hat Corporation has brought suit against the union. Charge: An illegal strike. Its lawyer, incidentally, is Walter Gordon Merritt, who won fame and triple damages in the early 1900s in the historic Danbury batters case against a predecessor union. The company says about 500 persons, newly recruited, are on the job. The union says: "Don't listen to that stuff." To the union, the corporation's maneuvers belie its statements that it likes South Norwalk, that its plant there is modern, and that it expects to maintain 85 per cent of its production there. Therefore, the workers are willing to strike today for what they hope will be job security tomorrow.

Agitation Is Developing From New Plan For Power Projects

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower Administration seems finally to have evolved a formula for a "partnership" among Federal and local government and private enterprise to utilize water resources for electric power and reclamation. This new formula, which has been kept quiet, is agitating proponents of public power and Federally-regulated reclamation development, as well as conservationists. For it would make it possible for private utilities to acquire monopolies on still available power sites and big land interests to acquire vast acreage to the detriment of the so-called "family size" farm ideal. In the electric power field, the new formula represents a positive step contrasted with the negative course thus far pursued by the Administration which also has been deplored by public power advocates and conservationists. They have complained and protested that the Administration has crippled public power by withholding funds, has failed to initiate any great new projects, and generally has favored the private power interests at the expense of the public.

promote the family-sized farm. It was in California, as a matter of fact, that the new idea originated. The interesting story, related by Rep. Leroy Johnson (R.) of Stockton, involves a multipurpose project in his district, the Tule River project on the Stanislaus River. This irrigation, hydro-electric power and flood control project was initiated jointly by two irrigation districts which, Rep. Johnson explained, had voted 9 to 1 and 6 to 1, respectively, in a referendum to issue bonds to finance the $47,547,000 venture. The irrigation districts, Oakdale and San Joaquin, made contracts that provided for delivery of all the power produced to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company wholesale for distribution, with no preference for municipalities and cooperatives. Then a hitch occurred. This, Rep. Johnson explained, was when Secretary of Treasury Humphrey boosted interest rates last year and the irrigation districts found this would make money for their enterprise too expensive. So they could not let contracts for the project. "Then," he said, "we got in touch with the Interior Department and Undersecretary Tudor said he would be interested in helping such local groups as ours." Mr. Tudor suggested a government loan so that contracts could be let and work begin, the Congressman said. Accordingly he introduced a bill to appropriate $10,370,000 to be set aside and kept available for five years for use as a loan to the two irrigation districts and to be repaid, without interest, after all bonds issued by the two districts are amortized. "I told President Eisenhower about my bill, and it pleased him very much," Mr. Johnson said. "He was surprised that our people were willing to bond themselves for so much."

Several Heated Congressional Races Shaping Up Over Texas

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

Several congressional races, the campaign for U.S. Senator, and the race for governor Wednesday shaped up as the major fights in Texas' 1954 political warfare. Democratic battle lines were clearly drawn, but Republicans held their firing open until June 7 for offices that had attracted no GOP candidate at midnight Monday. The governor's race appeared to be another running fight between Gov. Allan Shivers and Austin attorney Ralph Yarborough. Shivers, the conservative candidate for Democratic nomination who is seeking an unprecedented third elective term, defeated Yarborough's 1952 bid for the governorship. Shivers or Yarborough, the Loyalist candidate, apparently faced little trouble in outdistancing the other two candidates for Democratic nomination, newcomer J. J. Holmes, Austin contractor, or aging Cyclone Davis, bearded longtime, unsuccessful office seeker. In the congressional races, several districts faced what looked like finish fights. Three of them were for posts where incumbents are retiring: The Fifth (Dallas), 14th (Corpus Christi), and 15th (Rio Grande Valley) districts. Other probable hard-fought contests were indicated in the Second (Beaumont), Third (Tyler-Gladewater), 16th (Midland-Odessa), 17th (Abilene-Albany), and 18th (Panhandle) districts. Hard campaigning right down to the opening of the polls was possible in the 7th (Athens-Palestine), 9th (Galveston), 12th (Fort Worth), and 21st (San Angelo) districts. In the Eighth District, where Rep. Albert Thomas is unopposed for the Democratic nomination, and in the 18th District, where Rep. Walter Rogers seeks re-election, Republicans have entered the race. GOP National Committeeman Jack Porter has said Republicans "could win" in those districts.

tricts and also at Dallas and in the Coastal Bend-Corpus Christi area. Meanwhile, state Rep. Dudley Dougherty of Beeville, opposing U.S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson's bid for a second term, was doing most of the campaigning. Dougherty, seeking the Democratic nomination over Johnson, finished a 14-hour, four-station radio talkathon at 10 p.m. Tuesday night in Palestine and opened another of his marathon question-and-answer sessions Wednesday at 7 a.m. in Huntsville. He was due at Conroe, Brenham and Bryan later in the day. The Beeville oilman-rancher Tuesday compared himself to David and compared Johnson to Goliath. His aides said Dougherty had addressed 600,000 persons in appearances over 17 radio stations and two television stations in six days. Rep. Martin Dies, Texas' congressman-at-large from Lufkin, had no Democratic opposition, but

County Postpones Opening Of Bids

County commissioners this morning postponed the opening of bids on a new automobile for the sheriff's department. The bids were scheduled for opening at 10 a.m. but only three bids had been received at that hour. Commissioners said they expected bids from other auto dealers.

An old Chevrolet car will be traded in on the new vehicle. Conferring with commissioners Tuesday were Cecil McDonald and M. E. Burnett concerning the relocation of utilities along the route East Second Street will follow when opened east of the city limits. Commissioners agreed to install new sewer lines in the district and the property owners said they would relocate electrical lines.

Blankenship Will Attend Session

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, will be in Lubbock on Thursday to participate in a district evaluation summary. All of these will be compiled and then put in a state report. The evaluations are based on 12 standards. They will be cross checked against detailed studies of some 300 schools by the Texas Research League.

One of the objectives is to develop a series of standards by which the effectiveness of a school system can be gauged.

Man Acquitted Of DWI Charge

J. E. Barron was acquitted of charges of driving while intoxicated by a County Court jury Tuesday afternoon. Testimony was heard this morning in the trial of Joby Martin, who also is charged with driving while intoxicated. Gil Jones, attorney for Martin, requested a mistrial this morning when County Attorney Harvey Hooser questioned a witness, Policeman Jack Shaffer, as to whether he ever had seen Martin sober. The motion was overruled, but County Judge R. H. Weaver instructed jurors to not consider the answer which was drowned in Jones' objections. Police officers Shaffer and Bill Cartwright were state's witnesses in the trial. Each testified that he "believed" he was driver of the police car that stopped Martin on Channing Street in northwest Big Spring on the day of his arrest. Travis Steele, another policeman, was called as a defense witness. Martin also took the stand shortly before lunch. Jurors hearing the case were Robert G. Wilson, J. B. Anderson, R. B. Abernathy, L. H. Batton, J. D. Gilmore, I. D. Carothers. On the jury which heard the Barron case were Pat Anderson, W. O. Maxwell Jr., Carothers, Gilmore, Abernathy and Batton.

Troop No. 9 Wins Honors At Court

Other high ranking units were No. 17 and No. 8. Banners for outstanding work last year went to Troop No. 3 and Troop No. 5. Jake Morgan, who presided over the awards court, announced subsequently that Scout leaders had decided to hold Courts of Honor in the future on a bi-monthly basis with the next session set for July 8. If troops wish to have Courts of Honor in the meantime, they may conduct them on a unit basis. W. O. Underwood presented second class awards to a large number, and Bill Sheppard gave camping and merit badge awards. Colors were presented by Troop No. 17 with Floyd McHenry as the scoutmaster. The scout laws were given, in a candlelight ceremony, by Troop No. 9 with Weldon Low as scoutmaster.

Eisenhower Gives Support To Dulles And United Front

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Eisenhower today declared his unqualified support for Secretary of State Dulles and for Dulles' effort to form a united front against communism in Southeast Asia. The President made his declaration in answer to questions at a news conference. He also issued a formal statement expressing optimism that the united front movement will show progress. In answer to a question whether he thought the Geneva conference on Asian peace problems had been a major defeat for American policy, Eisenhower replied crisply that no one can count a battle lost while it is still going on. Dulles returned from Geneva last night and reported to Eisenhower just before the news conference, on his efforts there to find peace for Asia and a way to save Indochina from Communist conquest. The secretary himself told newsmen as he left the President's office that he does not know of any basis for the idea that he suffered a diplomatic defeat at Geneva. The President's statement declared that the United States and most of the free nations with a direct interest in the security of Southeast Asia are working on the problem of a united front with "a general sense of urgency." Apparently referring to the idea that the united front project could hold France's diplomatic position at Geneva, the President also declared: "The fact that such an organiza-

when the subcommittee quit for the day. Collier declared Hoover said the language in the letter produced by McCarthy was similar in substance and in some parts was identical to the language to a 15-page FBI document on the same subject and dated Jan. 26, 1951. He said Hoover felt that the FBI memorandum should not be made public without permission of Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Hoover suggested, Collier said, that Brownell should rule on whether the contents "can be made public in line with security requirements." Collier retorted, point by point, what he described as differences in the physical form of the two McCarthy and the FBI memorandum. Collier testified that a copy of the original memorandum showed a copy went to Maj. Gen. Joseph Carroll of the Air Force, and that the carbon didn't show.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) suggested that Collier be careful not to call the McCarthy document a "carbon copy." Symington said Collier ought to specify if it is "the alleged carbon copy." "I'd like to know why," Collier broke in. "We have never alleged this is a carbon copy," McCarthy said yesterday, and repeated today, that he did not get the letter from the FBI. He got it "from Army sources" but refused to be more specific.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), presiding, said yesterday he was "sure we are not going to try to find out" how the letter came into McCarthy's possession. McClellan said in a separate interview: "If this letter is a security matter, someone has violated the law. I wouldn't want it in my possession."

McClellan said "it might be of considerable interest" for Army intelligence and the FBI to try to learn how any outsider could get a copy. This is the 10th day of the hearings, called to explore for the truth in the charges and countercharges McCarthy and top Pentagon officials have aimed at one another. Stevens and John G. Adams, Army counselor, have accused McCarthy and two subcommittee staff aides of using "improper" pressures in efforts to win favored treatment in the Army for Pvt. G. David Schine, a subcommittee aide until drafted.

McCarthy and his associates have countercharged that Stevens and Adams used "blackmail" tactics against them in efforts to discourage subcommittee searches for Reds in the Army. McCarthy told reporters he does not know how much longer he will question Stevens. He stuck to his charge that Joseph N. Welch, special counsel to Stevens and Adams, had "welshed" on an agreement that McCarthy would take the witness chair as the next and probably the final witness. Welch termed that false.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), author of the rejected speedup plan, served notice he would move today to have night and Saturday hearings. Mundt predicted Saturday sessions would result. But McClellan told reporters he doubts that Saturday or night sessions would shorten the proceedings. McCarthy tossed the purported letter from Hoover into the hearing yesterday without advance notice. Stevens declined to read it without an okay from Hoover.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) demanded an explanation of its origin. Jenkins, who held the letter at the moment, said he knew only that it came from McCarthy and purported to be a copy of a letter from Hoover to Bolling.

Collectors Wear Full Uniforms

Look for the collector to be in full uniform and carrying the traditional red collection book when someone calls on you for Salvation Army contributions. Some people have given to small children who recently made use of some Salvation Army Sunday School collection envelopes. Lt. Elaine Hall said that some children had been apprehended for unauthorized solicitation. They had spent money they gathered in the envelopes. When street or miscellaneous collections are made, they will be by persons in full uniform and using regular collection boxes or containers, she reminded friends who would give.

Simulated Atom Punches Clear Way In Exercise

By JOE BENHAM
FORT HOOD (AP)—U.S. troops followed up two days of cautious sparring with a pair of mock atomic punches today in the first decisive action of Exercise Spearhead.

The A-blasts—amazingly realistic in both size and sound—cleared the way through Aggressor lines for 17,000 troops of the First Armored Division.

The First Armored moved out through gaps in a minefield cleared Monday and Tuesday by the imaginary 39th and 99th Infantry Divisions. These have fought the first two days of the 'war' on paper.

The smoke effect which represented the atomic clouds rose shortly after dawn this morning. Two atomic strikes were exploded simultaneously at 5:30 a.m. within an hour after First Armored jumped off from positions which it assumed under cover of darkness.

Troops present for the exercise did not appear greatly impressed by make-believe atom display. U.S. forces in the battle area had seen earlier demonstrations of the same type and were therefore not surprised by the burst of orange flame, sound wave and mushrooming grey cloud which rose at each of two spots near the center of the fighting area.

All agreed, however, that the simulated A-bomb added considerable realism to the exercise.

Although all action is of the non-contact variety, the fighting would do justice to a real battle. Both small arms and artillery are provided with blank ammunition and a sonic platoon imported from Fort McClellan, Ala., adds its voice to the din with continuous broadcasts of battle sounds.

Helicopters carrying "casualties," observers and officers of both sides are being used frequently in the action. Ambulances appear only occasionally in the battle area, due to the rough terrain and the fact that the Aggressor nation does not recognize the rules of the Geneva Convention and, therefore, does not guarantee safe passage for vehicles marked with the Red Cross.

Prisoners of war are being taken, interrogated and released. When they returned to their lines, they are considered replacements being moved in from reserve areas. The same procedure is used for killed and wounded, who remain out of battle for four hours, during which they are considered to be undergoing medical treatment or burial.

Officers report that most of the troops involved are taking the maneuvers as seriously as can be expected, although the lack of a visible enemy hurts the effectiveness of the action somewhat. For purposes of the problem, and for economy, a large Aggressor force is often represented simply by a jeep flying Aggressor colors.

Primarily, the First Armored isn't being judged on whether or not it wins the mock war. It's already been generally conceded that U.S. forces will triumph in the 15-day conflict and hurl the Aggressor troops out of Texas.

The white-helmeted umpires are concentrating instead on how well each piece of equipment is used in the field. Since the First Armored is the only tactical armored division now in this country, its showing in the exercise is expected to set the pattern for formation of similar groups.

Present to study the umpires' reports and to make their own observations is a full corps of officers, civilian experts and representatives from the Allied nations. Most U.S. Army groups and staff schools are represented.

School Transfer Deadline June 1

June 1 is the deadline for the transfer of public school students from one district to another for the 1954-55 school year, county superintendent Walker Bailey reminded today.

Students who are not formally transferred by that date probably will be required to pay tuition if they attend school other than in their home district, Bailey warned.

Previously, the transfer deadline was Aug. 1 and many residents may be of the opinion that transfers may be made that late this year, according to the superintendent. Thus far, no transfers have been made.

The urgency of transferring is particularly applicable to high school students who reside in common school districts, said Bailey. Transfer must be made in order for the high school district to receive state aid in teaching the pupil, and if the state aid is not secured the pupil could be required to pay tuition.

Rites Are Set For Former Resident

Funeral services for a former Big Spring resident, Mrs. Eunice Williams, are to be held at the First Methodist Church in Glen Rose today. Burial was to take place in Richland Springs.

The deceased had been ill with a cerebral hemorrhage for about two weeks before death came at 7 a.m. Tuesday. Her husband preceded her in death last November. She was the sister of Mrs. Ben McCullough of Big Spring.

Plant Foreman

W. C. Sluder has been transferred here as plant foreman for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, according to H. M. Redding, district plant superintendent. He will be in charge of all outside repair and installations. Sluder is a native of Gainesville, where he was graduated from high school in World War II he was in the infantry, and after joining Bell in 1947 as lineman, he was recalled to service. Upon separation, he was assigned to Fort Worth, where he was construction foreman. He is a Baptist and he and Mrs. Sluder reside at 1603 E. 3rd.

Gen. Hull Arrives In British Malaya

SINGAPORE (AP)—Gen. John E. Hull, American commander in chief in the Far East, arrived in Singapore today for talks with top British military officials in Malaya.

He told newsmen Indochina would figure in his talks. Of the Indochina situation, he said: "I am not a pessimist. I believe there will be a solution."

A French defeat at besieged Dien Bien Phu, he said, would have more of a psychological effect than a military one. A spokesman in Tokyo said Hull had no plans to visit Indochina.

Van Fleet In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet arrived in Tokyo today on an extensive two to three-month survey of military assistance needs for Japan, South Korea and Formosa.

Six Die-Hard Red Guerrillas Still Hold Out On Korea Isle

By BOB PROSSER
CHEJU ISLAND, Korea (AP)—A half-dozen die-hard Communist guerrillas are preventing resettlement of this isolated island just off the southern tip of the Korean peninsula.

The guerrillas — two women and four men — are known by name in the settlements which they terrorize. They now act more like simple bandits than political warriors.

Others who once roamed the rugged volcanic hills with them have returned to their fields as peaceful farmers or artisans. They have been forgiven and accepted into the communities.

But because of the bitter hold-out, villagers must withdraw each night behind the lava stone walls ringing their towns. They lock and bar the gates and mount guards throughout the night. Raids continue at irregular intervals.

The slopes of 6,000-foot Mt. Halla are designed by nature and man to harbor the hunted. At the end of the war in the Pacific, Japan planned a last stand from this rugged mountain island. She garrisoned it with more than 200,000 troops and covered the lower slopes of the mountain. The Japanese and Korean troops have gone but the fortifications and hide-outs remain.

Armed with abandoned Japanese rifles and machine guns, the six guerrillas apparently continue their activity simply because it is an easy way to live well on an island knowing few luxuries.

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Talking to a group of Army officers here yesterday Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland told this story: "Thomas Johnson, the first governor of Maryland, nominated George Washington to be commander in chief." McKeldin said at a dinner in his honor. "Later, when Washington became President, he offered Johnson the position as chief justice of the United States."

"I nominated Gen. Eisenhower to be President of the United States and he was elected. "He hasn't offered me anything yet."

Actually, Western Service Company recommends the insulation of buildings for the most effective utilization of any type of heating or cooling equipment.

Elna Sewing Machine Gains Popularity Rapidly In Area

Proving to be almost as popular in the Big Spring area as the famous Necchi sewing machine is the Elna machine, both of which are distributed in this section by the Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, 112 E. 2nd Street. A. F. Gilliland, owner of the business, reports increasing interest in the versatile Elna. The Elna is a portable machine, available in different sizes. Like the Necchi which has revolutionized the sewing machine industry in this country since World War II, the Elna is fully automatic, performing all operations without troublesome attachments. The base also provides the operator with adequate table space for work on large garments or other articles as conveniently as one of the console models. Both the Elna and the Necchi including embroidery, buttonhole work, etc., without the bother of attachments. The Necchi is available in either portable or cabinet models. the repair and operation of all makes and models and maintains a large supply of parts for all types of machines. In fact the Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange is headquarters in Big Spring for all types of sewing, sales and service. Alterations and seamstress work of all kinds is performed.

Cpl. Dickenson Held Guilty, Given Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson faced 10 years in prison today after his conviction on collaborating with the enemy charges in a case that may set a precedent for Army handling of other Americans under suspicion for their conduct while war prisoners in Korea.

An eight-man Army court-martial yesterday returned a guilty verdict on charges that Dickenson, a 23-year-old farm boy from Cracker's Neck, Va., dealt unlawfully with his Red Chinese captors and informed the Reds about the escape plans of a buddy, former Pfc. Edward M. Gaither of Philadelphia.

The court reached its decision after more than 10 hours of deliberation, then retired and nearly an hour later brought in a sentence of 10 years in prison at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge. Dickenson could have drawn life imprisonment.

The court's verdict and sentence are headed for study by an Army board of review. Dickenson's lawyer, Guy Emery, said he would appeal, if that board does not reverse the court-martial action.

A few hours after the Dickenson court-martial had returned its findings, the Air Force announced it would not lodge court-martial charges against 83 of its men who allegedly made false germ warfare confessions or were suspected of misconduct while in Red prison camps.

The Air Force cleared 69 officers and airmen of all taint, but it held that 14 others must show cause why they should be allowed to remain in uniform.

Dickenson remained silent, his eyes cast down, when the court-martial verdict was returned. But Emery called the decision "a travesty." He said the young soldier had faced a "stacked deck."

Dickenson's trial was the first ever held under a section of the Military Code of Justice which makes it a crime for a U. S. serviceman to give an enemy information for use against a prison comrade.

The Army reportedly has been investigating other former American prisoners of the Reds, men dubbed "Progressives" by other POWs, for allegedly cooperating with their Red captors. The Dickenson case was regarded as a test, which might determine the Army's course of action in like cases.

Dickenson and Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Tex., first decided to remain with the Reds when a truce was declared along the Korean fighting front. Later, they changed their minds and returned to U. S. control. Twenty-one other GIs elected to stay with the Reds and have vanished behind the "Bamboo Curtain."

Batchelor is in Army custody in San Antonio, Tex. Like Dickenson, he is charged with improper conduct while a POW. Joel Westbrook, his lawyer, said in San Antonio last night that he intends to call at least six of the witnesses who appeared for the Dickenson prosecution when Batchelor's court-martial convenes. Westbrook said he wants to use these witnesses to point up what he termed "some very basic differences" between the two cases. He did not elaborate.

A special board of five Air Force generals studied the 83 cases for nearly three months.

The board found that "duress or other extenuating circumstances" were present in all cases to such a degree as to absolve them from disciplinary action. But it said the conduct of 14 presented a "serious question concerning their continued usefulness in the Air Force." None of the 83 was named.

Twelve of the 14 men who must prove their "continued usefulness to the Air Force" are officers, the other two enlisted men. Nine of them allegedly made false germ warfare confessions while held prisoner. So did 27 of the 69 who got a clean bill of health. But the special board found that other undisclosed actions of the 14 cast doubt on their future value to the Air Force.

In explaining its findings, the Air Force board cited "inadequate and confusing" briefing and instructions given American fighting men as to how they should conduct themselves if captured by the enemy.

As far as germ warfare confessions were concerned, the board said there was a "lack of direction and even appreciation of the problem throughout all levels of command even after these confessions were public knowledge."

An Air Force spokesman said the 14 officers and airmen have been told they can resign or retire, if they are eligible to do so. They also have been notified that they can demand to appear before a board of inquiry.

Lawsuits Finishing Off West's Riders

TUSCON, Ariz. (AP)—Lawsuits and not automobiles are finishing off the era of the Westerner on horseback.

Two more riding stables — the last two in the Tucson area — have gone out of business.

There have been many lawsuits in recent years. As a result, insurance rates are considered prohibitive by stable owners.

One would-be rider won his suit and never even topped from a horse. He sued successfully because his saddle hadn't fit right.

Toss From Horseback Means Jeep For Man

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Pierce D. Barnett, a 60-year-old cowpuncher, won't be riding horses any more.

"Gonna motorize," he said from his hospital room yesterday. "Gonna get a jeep."

Barnett was thrown from his horse recently and lay on the ground three days with a broken hip before a search party found him.

"Fodder, all my life I sat on a horse to earn my keep and I never got hurt until this happened," he drawled.

DUM DE-DUM-DUM
This is the city—Big Spring. My name "JOE". This is my department—Late Model Cars. My Job SELL 'EM!

HERE ARE THE FACTS:
9:05—A scared man limped into the lot in a '41 Dog, the kind of merchandise that usually has "mappop" and a motor that might kill at the next light. He said he couldn't take it any longer—he had to have one of our late model cars. We walked over and started his car. No wonder he was scared! I asked him why he came here—"I don't know, I guess it's because of your low prices!" Everyone's talking about them, and I overheard them. "You did right," I said, "Now come to the right place."

9:10—This man was a professional "tire-kicker" but nevertheless he centered on our 1953 PLYMOUTH 4-DOOR. BAIL SET AT $1495

9:12—After a duel of 45 caliber words and figures, this immaculate 1953 BUICK was taken in. Information as to the radio, heater, like new condition was furnished by an undercover agent. BAIL SET AT $1995

1953 CHRYSLER. LOADED. BAIL SET AT $2195

IT HAPPENED

Parking Ticket Tip

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A motorist walked into police headquarters, displayed two parking tickets and tucked them into an envelope with a $3 bill. Desk Sgt. Michael J. Kane said, "You know, you only owe $4." "That's okay," said the motorist dropping the envelope into the traffic bureau mail chute. "I'll leave the extra buck as a tip." And with that, he walked out before anyone could get his name.

Out To Pasture

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — Danny Muller came home from school and told his mother, Mrs. Clinton Muller, he had a substitute teacher named "Miss Lamb." The next day he reported he had made a mistake, and that it really was "Miss Sheep."

Then he finally came home with his teacher's correct name. It was Miss Shepard.

Session With Ladies

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Superior Court Judge Joseph E. Warner notes a sharp decline in requests for deferments from jury service since women began serving on Massachusetts juries two years ago. "Since women got on the jury, very few men want to be excused," the judge said Monday.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — A pointed suggestion was made at a meeting of the State Milk Commission here Monday. Milk producers ought to drink more milk. At a recent milk producers' picnic, one dairyman pointed out, he couldn't find a bottle of milk anywhere. "Everybody," he observed rather sadly, "was drinking soda pop."

Innocent Bystagger

DENISON (AP) — When two men were hauled before City Corporation Court Judge Lynden Hagans on a drunk charge, one of the two protested. "I was just standing there, judge, and the officer brought me along too," he protested. "But the report shows you to be drunk," said the judge. "Honest, judge," the man said, "this other fellow staggered into me and I grabbed him to keep him from falling just as the officer walked up. I hadn't had a drop!" "In that case," said Judge Hagans, "I guess I'll have to dismiss the case on the grounds that you were just an innocent bystander!"

Loves His Work

SAWARA, Japan (AP) — Police Tuesday arrested fireman Koichi Namiki, 21, and charged him with setting fire to five houses in the past three months — then returning with his fire engine to put them out.

Death Car Recovered

Up from Lake Erie like a rocket rises this sedan with cold, muddy water cascading from its trunk. The driver is still inside as the car swings on chains from a giant crane on a barge at Cleveland. Police said the driver, John J. Barron, 30, of Cleveland, apparently committed suicide by driving off the pier shortly before dawn. (AP Wire-photo.)

Rotary Session Spotlights C-C

Chamber of Commerce contributions to the civic and economic life were discussed at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday as a feature of Chamber of Commerce Week. Speaker for the occasion was Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the Howard County Junior College and an ardent Chamber booster. Honor guest was J. H. Greene, local Chamber manager for the past 17 years. Also recognized was Champ Rainwater, Chamber of Commerce president.

"The Chamber of Commerce works for what is best for the majority of citizens of a community," Dr. Hunt asserted. He said the organization has its objectives both civic and business interests of the area it serves. In enumerating some of the accomplishments of the local Chamber, Dr. Hunt mentioned support of projects and programs pertaining to aviation, the Big Spring State Hospital, Veterans Hospital, junior college, public schools, youth organizations, parks, tourist development, water supply, housing, agriculture, 4-H and FFA activities and others. Much of the credit for location of State and VA hospitals in Big Spring should go to the Chamber of Commerce and its manager, Greene, the speaker said. Acquisition of new industries for the area is another constant objective of the organization, Dr. Hunt pointed out. He predicted an influx of industry in the future as a result of the city's present large water supply.

But she is back in custody again for writing worthless checks to finance her poker-playing propensity. The Long Beach widow, who has seven grown children, was sentenced yesterday to an indeterminate term in a state prison. She pleaded guilty last April 2 to passing fictitious checks totaling $275. Police records show she was first arrested on check charges in 1948 and served 30 days in jail as a condition of a year's probation. In 1949 she was arrested again under similar circumstances and charged with violating probation. Examination suggested a psychological disorder, and she was sent to Los Angeles County General Hospital for treatment. Released as 40 per cent cured, she was back in custody again two months later on a fresh check charges and returned to the hospital for more psychiatric treatment. "The shots did me a world of good," she said then, but after her latest arrest she said she had been gambling again at nearby Gar-
