State To End Case Against Washburn

Witnesses Testify They Were Hired To Kill Man

WACO, Tex. —UP— The prosecution is expected to wind up its case against Harry Washburn, accused of murder, Thursday by attempting to prove that the defendant booby-trapped his ex-mother-in-law's automobile when his hirelings failed to do it for him.

The state had about a half dozen witnesses left after sending 24 witnesses before the district court jury Wednesday and Wednesday night. Eight witnesses were presented during a one and one-half hour night session.

Washburn, 39, of Houston, is accused of the last Jan. 19 car-bomb death of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, San Angelo socialite, who was blown up by dynamite placed under the hood of her automobile.

Family Troubles

The explosion occurred in front of the San Angelo home of Mrs. Weaver's mother. The bomb was apparently intended for Mrs. Weaver's husband, architect Harry N. Weaver. Previous testimony revealed family trouble between the Weavers and Washburn, from whom Mrs. Weaver's daughter was getting a divorce.

The state contends that Washburn undertook to do the job himself after his hirelings made a farce out of their assignment. Washburn is being tried in Waco on a charge of venue.

Mrs. Adele Heninger, an ex-lady wrestler who used to be billed as "Nature Girl," and two Houston men, James Ray Fife, 34, a taxi driver, and John McKinnis, a cabinet maker, all testified Wednesday that Washburn tried to get them to murder Weaver.

Play-Acted as Gunmen

Fife and McKinnis told stories about play-acting as hired gunmen. They said they were supposed to get $5,000 each if they actually killed Weaver. They took $60, $450, $40, $100 and $650 at various times as expenses, Fife said, but didn't go near Weaver.

But the prosecution then set out to prove with subsequent witnesses that Washburn did the job himself.

Allen Tittel, employe of Southern Sales and Transportation Co., of Rosenberg, Tex., an explosives dealer, testified that Washburn was the man who came to his firm Jan. 13, 1955, and was sold a case containing 100 sticks of 40 per cent dynamite and 50 detonating caps.

Andrew Nelson, an inmate at state prison in Huntsville who was indicted along with Washburn, was then brought into the courtroom. Tittel said Nelson was with Washburn when he bought the dynamite.

Nelson, whose parole was revoked when he was indicted, invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to testify. The state claims that Nelson went with Washburn to get the dynamite, then taught Washburn how to put it to deadly use by connecting it to an automobile generator.

One minor collision occurred yesterday afternoon resulting in damages estimated at $70.

John C. Smith, 418 N. West, driving a '52 Buick, was in collision with Joseph W. Shelton of 2121 Williston, in a '49 Chevrolet pickup belonging to Pampa Independent School Dist. Smith met with damages of about $70, while Shelton encountered no damages.

Negro Settles Treasure Suit For $20,000

CORSICANA, Tex. —UP— A 24-year-old Negro who found a thermos jug filled with $60,000 under a house in Dallas has settled out of court for $20,000.

Jackson Davis Jr., who found the money under the home of W. D. Feider Jr., a Dallas cotton broker, said the settlement leaves him with a house, furniture, a pickup truck, Ford and Buick automobiles, all paid for, and a bank account.

The money was old gold certificates. Davis was working as a plumber's helper and was digging a place for a pipeline under Feider's house.

Feider said he didn't know how the money got there. But he said it might have been hidden there by his father during the depression when banks were failing.

The $20,000 that Davis gets includes the money he has already spent. The other two-thirds goes to Feider. Davis was arrested Sept. 24 after reports came in he was spending a great deal of money.

Davis was charged with stealing the money, but a grand jury refused to indict him. He sued Dallas County Sheriff Bill Decker for $45,000, the amount he had left at the time plus $45,000 damages.

That suit was dropped as a result of the agreement between his attorneys and Feider's and the remaining money was divided up.

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development board of directors' meeting, which was originally scheduled to be held next Monday, has been postponed because of conflicting business and social activities.

The new date for the meeting is Monday, Jan. 9, in the Palm Room of City Hall.

The program of work for the fiscal year will be approved at the meeting.

Suggestions as to what should be included in the program of work were formulated in a recent meeting of the board and these suggestions will be mailed out to all members of the board for their study before the January meeting date, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager, E. O. Wedgeworth.

Sometimes we feel very favorable to heavy snows. They stop careless drivers from going slaying.

If the young and the old could change places they'd still wish they were the opposite.

This is the season of the year when the average family budget might just as well be tossed out the window — till after Christmas.

RUBINOFF IS WELCOMED

Violinist Dave Rubinoff (left) is shown being welcomed to Pampa by Ed Myatt, right, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who is pinning a "Hang Your Hat At the Top O' Texas" button on Rubinoff's lapel. The violinist will present a concert at 8:15 p.m. today in the Junior High School auditorium. He is being sponsored by the Pampa Altrusa Club. He will present a special student matinee at 4 p.m. today. Rubinoff is holding his famed Stradivarius violin, insured for $100,000.

Bank Robber At Large

Takes $74,293

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. —UP— A lone gunman appeared to have capped his $74,293 bank robbery by making a clean getaway Thursday.

FBI agents and local authorities reported they had found no trace of the cool, brainy bandit who Wednesday carried out the first bank robbery in the history of this swank resort town.

Their only leads were a mocking note left to Lake Geneva police and the knowledge that the gunman was possibly an ex-banker or bank employe as well as an experienced stickup man.

The stocky holdup man had already guarded himself against capture by taking only well-worn, small denomination bills and confiscating the bank's list of currency serial numbers, through which the loot might have been traced.

He also abandoned his getaway car, stolen from one of the bank employes, and apparently made good his escape by switching to another auto. Roadblocks were set up in both Wisconsin and nearby Illinois but the bandit had apparently slipped through them or was still in the area.

Police conceded that the daring robbery of the First National Bank was a masterpiece of crime.

The bandit, his face hidden by a Halloween mask of a funny-faced woman, was waiting when the first bank employe, Mrs. Vickie Lochner, arrived.

Leveling a pistol, he ordered her into a record vault. He then proceeded to welcome seven other employes as they entered the bank and escorted them to the vault.

When Allen Vice President George Allen showed up, the gunman forced him to open the main vault and pack the money in a box he had brought up from the bank basement. Then he tied the vice president to a basement post with lengths of wire.

At the same time, Patteson criticized the "interference of outside newspapers" whom he accused of trying to inject racial issues into the murder. He said this caused the Mount Eden community (an all-Negro settlement) to become bewildered and afraid to talk.

"This put serious obstacles in the path of the investigation," he said. (See NEGRO, Page 4)

AFTER ALL, A MAN HAS TO READ THE NEWSPAPER

By UNITED PRESS

OSAKA, Japan —UP— Police Thursday ordered waitresses to put on clothes and the management to turn up the lights in Osaka's 28 "nude" tea houses. In the order, an attempt to stop the growing number of tea houses featuring nudity with lemon or sugar, police said hostesses must wear more than "extremely thin and almost transparent clothing." They also told the teahouse to have the lights burning brightly enough so a man could read his newspaper.

Adlai Woos Labor In AFL-CIO Talk

By JACK WOLISTON

NEW YORK, N.Y. —Adlai E. Stevenson appealed Thursday for the support of labor in his political ambitions in an address prepared for delivery to the new AFL-CIO labor organization.

He urged the delegates of 16 million members of the AFL-CIO to take an active part in politics and said that democracy needs all the political participation it can get out of just as many individuals and just as many responsible groups as is possible.

"Like you," he said, "I have been astonished by some worried declarations I've heard in the last few days about the dangers of an unlimited franchise for working people and their organizations."

Stevenson emphasized that he had "hopes" the new labor organization would support him fully in the coming campaign. In the field closest to the hearts of labor men he said that many of the provisions of the Taft-Hartley act are "iniquitous or unworkable."

"They must be changed or removed," he said.

Then Stevenson denounced the so-called right to work laws, now in effect in 17 states.

"The laws must be fair to all," he said, "and the so-called right-to-work laws do not meet this test."

Stevenson said steps must be taken to strengthen the American way of life. He said this means making more secure the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively — "to make democracy work in the plant, in the shop, on the job, in people's daily working lives."

Stevenson was the second Democrat of national stature to appear before the joint convention and he made a point of praising New York Gov. Averell Harriman who appeared earlier.

Absentee Voting Begins Today

Absentee voting in the $2,250,000 school bond issue began today in the school business office in City Hall and will continue through the Dec. 13, according to Roy McMillen, school business manager.

The ballots arrived last night, beginning a quest for public approval or disapproval of the bond issue which would finance the building of new school buildings and improvements to present structures.

"It will just become a routine thing to have TV cameras in the courtroom and will cause no more excitement than regular newspaper reporters covering a trial," Judge Bartlett said.

Gene Lewis, director of station KWTX-TV, said they were being careful to preserve the privacy of the jury. The TV camera is set up in the balcony of the courtroom, that has been continually packed despite TV, and is behind the jury. The jury has never been shown.

Lewis said cameramen Hillary McDonald and Bob Hecht have used three or four different focus length lenses. They can get a head shot of the witness or a wider view. He said they mostly try to stay on whoever is talking. In case

Old-Timers Get Awards In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood had another awards event Wednesday night — but this unusual one featured no searchlights, screaming fans or the usual hoopla.

A handful of motion picture industry pioneers gathered quietly to accept the first "retrospective" award given to top stars and movie makers of the silent days.

Mary Pickford, Mae Marsh, Harold Lloyd and Ronald Colman were among the early screen greats who stood before a small crowd of film notables in the screen directors' guild building.

The Eastman Historic Film Museum in Rochester, N. Y., awarded trophies to 20 "living artists" who made outstanding contributions to the art of the American cinema within the memorable period from 1915 to 1925.

Producer Jesse Lasky, master-of-ceremonies, sounded the theme of the moving event when he said, "We have nothing to sell. We only want to pay our respects to those who have achieved so much."

More than 300 silent screen workers participated in the balloting. Other winners present were directors Cecil B. DeMille, Frank Borzage and Henry King and cameramen Arthur Edson, Ler Garmes and John Selz. Winners who could not attend were Lillian Gish, Gloria Swanson, Norma Talmadge, Richard Barthelmess, Buster Keaton (critically ill); directors John Ford, Marshall Neilan; and cameramen Charles Rosner and Hal Rosson.

Negro Boy, 15, Charged In Murder Of Race Leader

GONZALES, Tex. —UP— L. C. Henry, 15-year-old Negro boy, will be taken before County Judge John Romberg next Wednesday to answer a charge that he murdered his distant cousin, Herbert Johnson, a local leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

But County Attorney E. W. Patteson said Henry must be treated as a juvenile because he is less than 17 years old. As a juvenile, the maximum penalty that can be imposed on him is commitment to reform school until he is 21. He cannot be tried later as an adult.

According to Patteson, the boy confessed that he slipped up behind the 50-year-old Johnson while he was feeding his cattle Sunday and felled him with a cedar fence post for the $17 he had in his wallet.

At the same time, Patteson criticized the "interference of outside newspapers" whom he accused of trying to inject racial issues into the murder. He said this caused the Mount Eden community (an all-Negro settlement) to become bewildered and afraid to talk.

"This put serious obstacles in the path of the investigation," he said. (See NEGRO, Page 4)

Drivers Are Warned Of Bus Passing

A statement was issued today from the office of the County Attorney, Don Cain, to the effect that it is illegal to pass school buses which are stopped to load or unload school children. The statement is as follows:

"It has been brought to my attention that there have been many occasions in the past few weeks where motorists have been passing school buses of the Pampa Independent School District which have stopped to load or unload school children. I would like to call to the attention of every motorist, particularly East and West on Highway 60, that it is a misdemeanor and a violation of the laws of the State of Texas for a motorist to pass a school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children, and that the driver of a vehicle upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any such school bus must stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such a school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children. Violation of this state law is subject to a punishment of a fine of from $1. to $200.

"I would like to urge that every motorist obey this law since no punishment of any kind could replace the life of a child."

Navy Opens Probe Of Bomber Crash

PATUXENT, Md. —UP— Navy hopes for the new plane. It was hailed as the world's first multi-jet seaplane and compared favorably in range and speed with modern land-based bombers.

The Air Force was interested in the Seamaster as possibly being capable of carrying the first atomic plane engine when it is developed. An atomic plane would require an extremely heavy airframe and broad areas for takeoff and landings. The Seamaster would have almost limitless ocean runways on which to operate.

Navy investigators began an intensive effort to determine why the first model of the new plane crashed.

Cold Masses Due In Texas

By UNITED PRESS

Two big masses of cold air from Canada and the Northern Rockies joined forces Thursday as they moved toward Texas. Forecasters said they would cause a 10 to 15 degree temperature drop over the northern half of the state in the next 36 hours.

The new cold air mass follows on the heels of a front that moved into the Texas Panhandle Wednesday night and got as far as North Central Texas before fizzling out.

But the new combined front will cause generally cooler weather over most of the state the next 36 hours, and will drop temperatures to around freezing in West Texas and the north central part of the state Thursday night. Readings also will be in the 30s Thursday night in South Central Texas.

Wednesday night's front dropped the temperature to 18 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle for the state's low reading. Corpus Christi and Brownsville shared the high overnight reading of 56 degrees.

Televised Murder Trial Stops Traffic In Waco

WACO, Tex. —UP— A sensational murder trial that is being televised live, for the first time anywhere, has just about halted the normal flow of business in this central Texas city.

The camera set up by station KWTX-TV in the balcony of Judge D. W. Bartlett's District Court is transmitting to perhaps 200,000 persons the trial of Harry L. Washburn, 39, of Houston, who is charged with murdering his wealthy former mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, 52, of San Angelo.

Mrs. Weaver was mutilated by a bomb that exploded under the hood of her car when she pressed on the starter last Jan. 19 in San Angelo. Washburn and the Weavers were having family troubles—Washburn's wife was getting a divorce—but the prosecution is trying to prove the bomb was meant for Mrs. Weaver's husband, Harry N. Weaver, an architect, but she got into the car instead.

Main Topic of Conversation Like the nationally-televised Kefauver crime hearings and the McCarthy-Army feud, televising of this trial has disrupted the schedules of housewives and businessmen, alike and it has been the No. 1 topic of conversation in Waco since the trial started Monday.

Some filling stations have installed television sets and taverns with TV sets are constantly crowded. The trial is also being shown to the civics classes at LaVega and Waco high schools and to Baylor University.

Dean Abner V. McCall, of the Baylor University law school, said about half the faculty members and students of the law school were watching each day. He said he had not been to the trial.

"But as far as I can see it doesn't interfere with court procedures and I am in complete favor of it."

John Bennett, a Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald photographer, proved to Judge Bartlett that a trial could be photographed without upsetting the dignity of the court. Now Judge Bartlett is all for it.

"It will just become a routine thing to have TV cameras in the courtroom and will cause no more excitement than regular newspaper reporters covering a trial," Judge Bartlett said.

Gene Lewis, director of station KWTX-TV, said they were being careful to preserve the privacy of the jury. The TV camera is set up in the balcony of the courtroom, that has been continually packed despite TV, and is behind the jury. The jury has never been shown.

Lone Bandit Robs Bank In Wisconsin

Lunsford who was promoted to Group Leader, inspection and Equipment Design, replacing Perkins. Lunsford joined Celanese in 1952.

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. —UP—A lone bandit, who bragged he had the keys to 12 banks, Wednesday robbed the First National Bank of Lake Geneva of an estimated $100,000.

The man, who wore a flesh-colored Halloween mask, was waiting inside the bank when the employees arrived for work. He herded all but one, vice president George Allen, into a coin vault.

Then he forced Allen at gunpoint to put currency into a box and fled in a cashier's car after tying up the vice president.

Allen said the man demanded the bank's list of serial numbers for the currency which the FBI requires banks to keep. He said the gunman volunteered the information that he had the keys to 12 banks.

"You probably wonder how I got in here," the bandit said. "I've got wax impressions to keys for 12 banks."

The robber showed a thorough knowledge of the bank's operation and of banks in general.

Solon Hits Auto Franchise Setup

By DAYTON MOORE

WASHINGTON —UP— Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, demanded Wednesday that the big three auto manufacturers liberalize franchise agreements to guarantee that dealers can be "independent businessmen."

The Wyoming Democrat praised the General Motors Corp. for extending the period of its dealer franchises from one to five years. The action was announced Tuesday by GM President Harlow H. Curtice.

But O'Mahoney said this was only a "short step" which "does not deal with fundamentals, as example the fact that the termination of the contract can be made in exactly the same manner as before."

GM dealers still will be "told by the factory exactly what they must do to win renewal," although they will be relieved of the pressure of annual renewal, O'Mahoney added.

He expressed hope that Ford and Chrysler will join General Motors in liberalizing dealer franchise contracts. He said the Senate monopoly subcommittee, of which he is chairman, had not received any complaints from dealers of the three smaller auto makers.

The subcommittee, which is investigating General Motors' impact on the nation's economy, called top GM executives for questioning about auto bootlegging, advertising and "loading cars with extras."

The Nebraska New Car Dealers Association, in a telegram to O'Mahoney, charged auto manufacturers with "failure to control bootlegging" and "coercing franchised dealers into using unethical advertising of 'crazy discount' gimmicks" in a wild sales race.

Curtice said he didn't intend to volunteer answers to these and other charges of unfair practices made against the manufacturers made by the Nebraska dealers.

The whooping crane is not hard to identify. It is about five feet high, with a seven-foot wing spread. In flight, the long neck and spindly legs are completely outstretched. The white body, black wing tips and resounding "whoop" distinguish it from other birds.

WANTED! SAFE PASSAGE—The Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Interior Department is asking hunters to give safe passage to the whooping crane, America's largest—and rarest—bird as it migrates southward. It traditionally travels from Canadian breeding grounds through North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma to the safety of its winter home in the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas. The whooping crane is fighting for survival. Last fall only 21 adult birds arrived at the refuge. The Fish and Wildlife Service pleads: "Please do not shoot ANY large, white bird."

New 'Wonder Drugs' Good But Doctors Nix 'Wonder'

By DELOS SMITH
NEW YORK — UP — Because of scientific ballyhoo for the newest "wonder drugs" has subsided and many doctors in many places have tried them out, it is possible now to say how good they are.

Administration May Change Farm Policy

WASHINGTON — UP — The Eisenhower administration is "actively considering" a major change in farm policy which would put a ceiling on government aid to big farm operators.

The proposed change, it was said authoritatively, would limit the amount of price support payments to any one farmer. This would affect the so-called big, or commercial, farmer—not the man running a family-size farm.

Under the present system, some commercial farmers receive price support payments totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Other farm policy changes under consideration by high administration officials involve bushel and pound limits on marketing of some surplus-produced crops, and sale of surplus cotton abroad at competitive prices.

A ceiling on support payments would be aimed at curtailing commercial production of surplus crops. The plan was widely discussed by farmers who appeared before the Senate Agricultural committee during its nationwide tour.

The changes, details of which still must be worked out, may be submitted to Congress in January to help solve farm problems of surplus, over-production and declining farm income.

The government now owns huge supplies of cotton, wheat and other basic commodities. Production reports show the 1955 total crop will be of record — tying proportions. Meantime farm income is down 10 per cent from last year.

The changes presumably would be tied in with a soil fertility bank plan now under consideration by the national agricultural advisory commission. This would involve the retirement of surplus farm land from crop production through government payments. A soil bank would be a means of stopping the build-up of farm surpluses through acreage control.

Studied Casualness Due In Women's Clothes In '56

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK — UP — The New Year 1956 will begin an era of studied casualness in women's clothes, Lilly Dache predicted Tuesday.

We'll be casual with an elegance never achieved in the most strait-laced (both physically and socially) former days, declared Miss Dache, who is a cool-headed business woman with no time for crystal ball gazing.

It will be the definitive style for the second half of the 20th century, in the designer's opinion. The clothes we are wearing now she termed "transitional," with certain forerunners of future styles.

5 Newsmen Released On Court Order

MANILA, P. I. —UP— The Philippines Supreme Court Thursday ordered the release under $100 bail each of five Filipino newsmen jailed Wednesday for refusing to reveal the source of a news story.

The Supreme Court justices, besieged by lawyers, congressmen and senators, issued the unprecedented order only minutes after a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed on behalf of the newsmen.

The high court also directed Judge Emilio Rilloraza of suburban Pasay City to answer the petition by Dec. 16.

Rilloraza Wednesday sentenced the newsmen to 30 days in jail when they refused to disclose the source of stories they wrote about an alleged extortion attempt involving former Defense - Justice Secretary Oscar Castelo.

At the time the stories were printed Castelo's case was under consideration by Rilloraza.

TEC Lists Openings For Work

Recent job openings at the local Texas Employment Commission include several good stenographic positions, according to Bill Ragsdale, manager.

Two stenographic positions for women are open with major oil companies, both requiring experience and dictation. Another position is open for a stenographer with training or experience. Three office clerks are also needed to learn how to operate business machines for routine office jobs. A clerk-typist position is open for a woman, requiring bookkeeping experience.

Present job openings for men include: an insurance salesman, two labor jobs, a farm hand, a ranch hand, and two delivery men for local and out-of-town deliveries.

Ragsdale said that the local employment situation was up a little from last week because of weather conditions. A gradual increase is expected in employment between now and the Christmas holidays as the stores hire extra help, he added.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Many people have the impression that a lawyer can tell them with finality what the law is in any and every fact situation. Few realize that in many instances the lawyer, like the doctor, can only give his expert opinion on the state of the law as applied to a particular set of facts.

There are some fact situations, which arise repeatedly, where the law is well settled, and the lawyer can state with considerable conviction the exact rule of law applicable.

However, in many situations, the lawyer, after studying the statutes and the court decisions that are applicable, can only give his best judgment as to what court would hold the law to be as applied to the particular set of facts presented to him.

How does a lawyer learn how to advise clients on legal questions? First, he must have had six or seven years of academic education. In Texas this means at least three years of college work and three years in a recognized law school. Because the community at large has an interest in the qualifications and conduct of members of the bar, these minimum educational requirements must be met before examination for admission to the bar may be taken.

During the three years of formal legal education, the law student attempts to read, digest, reconcile and understand from 10,000 to 20,000 separate cases, statutes, and monographs. He must draw from these an understanding of basic legal principles, of processes of legal reasoning, of methods of fact and legal investigation, and of court procedures which bring relief to clients.

In both counselling and litigation, a lawyer must draw upon a wealth of precedent which he has attempted to store in his memory in order to apply one or more principles of law to the fact situation presented by his client. Ordinarily, many legal principles and rules of statute or decision are involved in even the simplest situation. Too, the problems raised by various clients, like fingerprints, are never exactly the same.

After searching his memory, the lawyer will usually check the pertinent rules and precedents. These are found in an ever-increasing volume of statutes with which modern legislation seeks to regulate many aspects of our life, and in the decisions of the courts, boards and bureaus.

Almost every problem presented to a lawyer requires research in the statutes and law books before a proper answer can be given. Therefore, you will not receive an immediate answer to your problem from your lawyer, unless it is of the most elemental type. Your lawyer should, and you should give him time to, form his opinions from the authoritative status and decisions. You should also understand that, due to the constant fluctuations in our laws, he will sometimes be able to give you only an informed opinion, rather than an absolute statement of the law applicable to your situation.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Court Upholds Bond Election

AUSTIN — The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday made final its ruling dismissing a suit challenging a bond election at Edinburg.

The high court overruled a motion for rehearing sought by H. Roux, who filed an election contest seeking to have a Dec. 4, 1954 election declared null and void. The court's original decision throwing out the suit was handed down Oct. 19.

The Edinburg election, an issuance of $20,000 in drainage and paving bonds, carried by a vote of 548 to 468. The suit was directed against Edinburg Mayor Nix Harrington.

Waco Judge

WACO, Tex. —UP— District Judge D. W. Bartlett who is presiding at the auto-bomb murder trial of Harry Washburn was routed from bed at 4 a. m. Wednesday by a London newspaper and asked if he were trying the case at the time of the call.

"Check, no," the judge told the woman reporter whose name or newspaper he didn't catch. "I'm in bed."

The reporter said, "Oh, I'm sorry I didn't realize what time it was in Texas." There is a six-hour differential between London and central standard time zone in which Texas is located.

The reporter asked Judge Bartlett if he used makeup since the trial was being televised live by station KWTX-TV.

"No, we take it in the raw," the judge replied. "We just take it natural."

That's usually the way in Texas, isn't it? the reporter asked during the 15-minute conversation. She asked about Waco's size. "Well, it was a city of about 110,000," she asked. "Did you say 10,800?" The judge answered, "No, 110,000."

The judge told her that televising the trial was not a publicity stunt, that there is no horseplay, a very serious proceedings, and no orating or grandstanding by the lawyers.

"There has actually been less haggling between lawyers as a result of TV cameras being trained on them," Judge Bartlett told the reporter. "It is a most orderly trial. In fact, nobody is making a spectacle of himself."

Court Rules Out Old Judgment

AUSTIN —UP— The Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled Wednesday that a Rio Grande Valley navigation district is barred by the statute of limitations from reviving a 22-year-old judgment for $213,517 obtained against a Brownsville bank.

The decision affirmed the ruling of the 103rd District Court in Cameron county.

The suit was brought by Arroyo Colorado Navigation District of Cameron and Willacy counties on Feb. 26, 1954, against John M.

Young, listed as receiver for the Merchants National Bank of Brownsville, which has been dissolved.

The navigation district sought to revive a judgment handed down against the bank, Young, and others on March 31, 1933, contending that the original judgment was only "dormant." The district said it was a governmental agency and that the 10-year statute of limitations in such cases does not run against it.

The appeals court pointed out no execution ever was issued against the original judgment, and it was not extended. The bank later was dissolved and Young was discharged as receiver.

"We believe that the judgment sought to be rendered is forever barred and not only dormant," the appeals court said in an opinion written by Chief Justice Roy C. Archer.

Separate concurring opinions were written by Associate Justices Robert G. Hughes and Raymond Gray.

The record in the case did not explain why the original judgment for $213,517 was never executed.

Cigar Sales Total 6.2 Billion

Pampa News Women's Editor

BELOW IS A RECIPE and some decorating hints on "cut-out" cookies for Christmas. It certainly is not a new idea, but one that really adds to Christmas, I know. From the time I was a child until the last time I was at home for Christmas, I can remember spending many happy hours with the rest of the family, decorating "cut-out" cookies. It just wasn't Christmas without them. We not only ate them, but gave them to friends — children, adults, older people or shut-ins.

THE CUTTERS WE used have been in the family for generations — just how long I don't know. In addition to the ordinary Christmas tree cutter, Santa Claus and star cutters, we had those that made butterflies, boots, dolls, violins, dogs, horses — and others. I can't recall all the different-shaped cookie cutters we have. They fill a big, big box.

We all had so much fun decorating them with powdered sugar frosting, tinted with different colors of food dye, and different-colored candles. We didn't have such a fancy thing as a cake-decorator, so all the embellishments — such as lines and stars and flowers that we managed to add with an amateur-artist's flourish — were all done with toothpicks. We'd spread on the main part of the frosting with kitchen knives, and the "touches," as individual as there were members of the family, were done with the toothpicks. We used the tiny colored candles for eyes, other face features, for buttons and for "just decoration."

Enough reminiscing. Here is the article that started me off on all this.

TRADITIONALLY A favorite treat of the family and friends of the family at Christmas time are "cut-out" cookies.

And one of the nicest things about cookies is that you can prepare and bake them right now and have them on Christmas as fresh and tasty as the day they came from the oven.

Your food freezer or freezer section of your refrigerator will preserve their oven-freshness.

Here is a "cut-out" cookie recipe recommended by Mrs. Abigail Andrews, Frigidaire home economist in this area:

- 1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Mix together, flour, baking powder and salt. Blend shortening, sugar and egg until creamy. Add orange rind, then sifted dry ingredients. Chill dough thoroughly in your refrigerator. When dough is chilled, roll to a thin sheet on a lightly floured surface. Cut out Santa Clauses, stars, Christmas trees and various other shapes symbolic of the season.

Brush tops of the cookies with glaze made from an egg white diluted with one teaspoon of cold water and beaten together until frothy. You can decorate the cookies with Christmas candies before baking.

For example, you can sprinkle the Christmas tree cookies with tiny colored candies which are

The girls are looking over some information about the Roundup. (News photo)

Skelly Schafer Club Has Business Meet

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — The Skelly Schafer club met recently in the clubhouse with Mrs. Bauer West and Mrs. Russell Davidson, both of Pampa, as hostesses.

Mrs. J. M. Chapin, president, led the short business meeting, after which Mrs. E. C. Heaton spoke on the recent trip to Gristown in Whiteface by the Skellytown Girl Scouts. She was one of the leaders that accompanied the two troops.

The serving table was covered with a white cloth, centered with a ceramic sleigh and reindeer, flanked by candles and twigs of pine. The miniature sleigh held red and green mints. Hot chocolate and pecan pie were served.

Celia Fowler, Martha Skelly Chosen As Delegates To National GS Roundup

Two girls have been chosen by a special selection board to represent Pampa at the National Girl Scout Roundup, to be held in June and July at the Highland State Recreation Area in Michigan.

Those chosen were Celia Fowler and Martha Skelly. Alternates are Vicky Osborne and Jo Crinklaw. The Roundup will be a national encampment of approximately 5,000 girls and adults. Each council in the United States will send its quota of Senior Scouts. Adults will serve as troop leaders and on special jobs in public relations, health, dramatics and administration. In keeping with the Roundup's Americana theme, each girl will bring tokens of her community's history, traditions and examples of its unique contribution to American culture.

The Roundup goals are: 1) to develop an awareness of the cultural heritage of the country; 2) to develop an understanding of United States citizenship; 3) to develop a greater consideration and respect for other people and a realization of the part each must play in achieving truly democratic human relations.

Prior to the selection of the girls, pre-roundup camping events have been held several times within the past year. These camping events helped to teach the girls how to live out-of-doors comfortably and healthily for the two-week Roundup period.

A few months before the Roundup, arts and crafts work most representative of Pampa Scouting and of this section of the country will be selected. The exhibit pieces will be mounted and displayed at the Roundup. It is expected the entire display will be sent to Savannah for a permanent exhibit at the Juliette Gordon Low birthplace.

Lutheran Ladies Plan Yuletide Party Friday

The Lutheran Ladies Aid and Dorcas Circle of the Zion Lutheran Church will hold a Christmas party at 6 p.m. Friday in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

The event is for members of both groups and their families. Dinner will be served, and games will be played. Gifts will be exchanged by the children attending the party.

Mrs. James Lewis Reports On PTA Convention At PTA City Council Meet

Mrs. James Lewis, president of the Parent-Teacher Association City Council, reported to that group Tuesday on the recent PTA convention she attended.

Theme of the event was "The Blessings of Liberty," she reported. Mrs. Lewis continued by quoting portions of a speech "The Blessings of Liberty," made by Mrs. Leon S. Price, state PTA president. Quotes she used included:

"The blessings of liberty — our theme could be no other just now — following our major emphasis on citizenship. Our membership has been stirred with renewed appreciation for the blessings, privileges and opportunities which we in America enjoy.

"Education is the best means by which freedom of its privileges and obligations, is understood and its principles maintained.

"Our children need to know many facts of history and geography. They need to know about the cultures of other peoples and political ideals. Facts that must not be concealed or distorted.

"Our children need to understand that money and man power will not solve the problems of our troubled world; that there are no quick, precise and permanent solutions to problems of human relations; that prejudice and rashness are no substitute for reason and prudence.

"Above, all, we must not indoctrinate children with our own thinking; our thinking may be obsolete for their world. Rather, they must learn how to think so they can dis-

Merten Club Has Christmas Party

A Christmas party was held recently in the home of Mrs. Vard Smith, Merten Lease, by members of the Merten Home Demonstration Club.

During the business meeting, it was decided to have a Christmas dinner for members' families Dec. 16, in the City Club Room.

During the social period, games were played, and gifts were exchanged. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Next meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 3, in the home of Mrs. Bob Brandon, City Service Camp.

Attending the party were Mrs. Archie Mance, Bob Brandon, Jack Howard, Jack Pratt, L. F. Watt, Vard Smith, D. F. Flynn, Clyde Edmondson and John Brandon. Guests were Miss Dunlap, Mrs. H. M. Hahn and Mrs. Etta Hilliard.

Flavoring Makes This a Holiday Dessert

SO OFTEN an ordinary dish—be it casserole or dessert—becomes something special with the addition of an out-of-the-ordinary flavoring. At holiday time, particularly, you want to set before family and friends your gala dishes, with flavors that intrigue.

From the French, American home-makers have learned that wines and liqueurs are cooking aids which improve both flavor and texture. They blend with natural food flavors, and enhance their appeal to the appetite as nothing else does, adding a piquancy that cannot be attained in any other way.

What is true of wines and liqueurs, is also true of bourbon, say the Old Crow people who developed this recipe.

The dessert starts out simply as a vanilla pudding. With the addition of almonds and raisins, it becomes more festive. And when bourbon is added, it is a dessert that will win the applause of any gourmet.

The bourbon flavor is not quickly identified. It's just that extra "something" to make this frozen pudding delightfully different from all others, and one you'll be called upon to repeat.

Festive Frozen Pudding
 1 package instant vanilla pudding
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1/4 cup heavy cream
 1/4 cup chopped buttered almonds
 1/4 cup chopped raisins
 1/4 cup Old Crow Bourbon

Prepare instant pudding as directed on package, using 1 1/2 cups milk and 1/4 cup heavy cream.

Turn into freezing tray of refrigerator and freeze at fastest speed until frozen throughout or about 1 hour. Place frozen mixture in chilled bowl and beat with rotary beater until smooth and creamy. Fold in almonds and raisins. Return to freezing tray and freeze about 30 minutes longer, then stir in bourbon. (It is not necessary to remove pudding from tray when stirring in bourbon.) Freeze another 30 minutes.

To hold until serving time: cover freezing tray with aluminum foil, and return refrigerator temperature to normal.

Makes 1 1/2 pints or 6 servings.

Make Holiday Fruit Cake In Casserole

Here's a gift idea that should make you popular with your friends. Bake them a fruit cake in a pretty casserole. Present it with holly—sometimes a sprig of mistletoe may be appropriate. Wrapped with transparent paper and tied with a bright red bow, it makes a very pretty package.

And though short work will be made of the cake, your thoughtfulness will long be remembered. Everyone loves good home-made fruit cake. So we're giving you the recipe here. It's a Crisco Kitchen recipe developed especially for this gracious type of giving. Also, it's a short recipe eliminating many of the steps usually expected in the preparation of home made fruit cake without loss of any of the old-fashioned good taste. Candied fruits for cake baking can be found at most grocers, already cut into small pieces and ready to add to cake batter. Check your recipe so you'll know the size jar to buy. Make your fruit cakes now. They're always better after time has allowed the flavor of the fruit to blend. And, of course, choose an oven proof casserole, the prettiest one you can find.

CASSEROLE FRUIT CAKE
 1 cup dried apricots
 1 cup light or dark raisins
 1-3 cup silvered candied cherries
 1-3 cup diced candied orange peel
 1-3 cup diced citron
 1-3 silvered blanched almonds
 1 silvered grated lemon rind
 Cover apricots with cold water; bring to boil; boil 1 minute; drain. Slice apricots coarsely. Add rest of fruit, almonds, and rind.

— THE BATTER —
 2 cups sifted enriched flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 4 eggs, separated
 3-4 cup Crisco
 1 cup sugar

Start heating oven to 275 degrees F. Grease 2-quart casserole. Combine flour, salt and soda. Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat Crisco, sugar and egg yolks until light and fluffy. Stir in fruit mixture, blend in well. Add flour mixture alternately with beaten egg whites. Bake 2 hours or longer, depending on thickness of loaf. Cool in casserole.

Under last year's special U. S. Agriculture Department school milk program, children in 47,900 participating schools drank more than 400,000,000 additional half pints of milk.

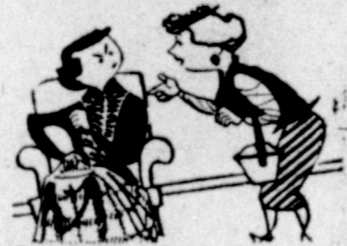

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Pork Boston butt.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. This is the upper half of the pork shoulder and contains part of the blade bone.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By roasting. Place the Boston butt with the fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a roast meat thermometer into center of the thickest section, but not on bone or in fat. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast at 350° F. allowing 45 to 50 minutes per pound or until the roast meat thermometer registers 185° F.

MAKE FRIENDS MANNERS

If someone tells you he has been ill but doesn't say what the trouble was it is usually best not to ask. "I hope it was nothing serious" shows you are interested without asking a direct question he might not care to answer.

Some people—maybe too many—like to discuss their illnesses and operations—but others are reticent about such matters.

Serve Buffet-Style For Holiday Party

An informal buffet supper is the pleasantest kind of party for the holiday season. It's an easy kind of entertaining too, if you plan a menu which you can prepare ahead and pop into the oven just before you're ready to serve.

For instance, here's one easy-to-prepare menu suggestion from the December Woman's Home Companion: Holiday Ham Loaf, Peas and Mushrooms in Potato Nests, Part-Color Fruit Salad, Hot Rolls, Christmas Dream Pie, Coffee.

This recipe for the Holiday Ham Loaf is ample for eight:
 Eggs, slightly beaten, 3
 Milk, 1/2 cup
 Bread crumbs, soft, 1 1/2 cups
 Ham, ground, 2 pounds
 Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 t e a spoon
 Dry mustard, 1 teaspoon
 Cloves, dash
 Apricot preserves or orange marmalade, 1-3 cup

Combine eggs and milk; add bread crumbs and soak 5 minutes. Add ham, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and cloves; mix well. Pack into a greased loaf pan (about 9 by 3 by 3 inches); bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes. Remove from oven and reset oven to 425 degrees; invert loaf in center of a greased and preheated plank or shallow baking pan. Press apricot preserves or orange marmalade through wire strainer; spread over top and sides of loaf. Next arrange potato nests, made from recipe below, around loaf. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 20 minutes until glazed. Serve on the plank or, using wide spatula, transfer loaf and vegetables to a warm platter.

If droppings from fresh flowers have left small pits on furniture, rub the surface with a damp, sudsy cloth. Then apply wax or polish and the smooth luster will be restored.

Bar-Be-Cued Pork With Special Sauce

Here's a way to serve the rest of your pork roast. Simmer slices of pork roast in a tasty bar-be-cue sauce. Serve the pork and sauce over fluffy white, easily cooked rice, which holds all the special sauce for really good eating.

INGREDIENTS:
 2 tablespoons cooking fat
 1 cup onion slices
 1 tablespoon flour
 1 1/2 cups water
 1/2 cup catsup
 1/4 teaspoon chili powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoon beet or cane sugar
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Dash of Tabasco sauce
 6 to 10 slices cooked pork roast
 1 cup uncooked white rice
 2 cups water
 1 teaspoon salt

METHOD: Melt the cooking fat in a saucepan. Add the onion and cook until tender and yellow. Blend in the flour. Cook several minutes, stirring. Gradually stir in the 1 1/2 cups water. Cook, stirring, for several minutes. Add the catsup, chili powder, 1 teaspoon salt, sugar, Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco sauce. Stir well. Place the slices of pork roast in the sauce. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. While the sauce and pork roast simmer, put the rice, 2 cups water and 1 teaspoon salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes, or until ready to serve.

To serve, place the hot rice on a platter. Arrange the slices of pork over the rice. Pour the sauce over the pork and rice and serve the rest in a separate dish. This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Leftover turkey meat, broth, gravy and stuffing should be refrigerated immediately after the meal is served. Placing warm foods in the refrigerator does not hasten spoilage.

A CLEVER and colorful centerpiece for your holiday table are these tiny Christmas trees—created simply from a new multi-colored cereal and gumdrops. A snowy marshmallow mixture covers the bright red, yellow and orange cereal puffs to make them pretty favors and delicious snacks.

TREE CONFECTIONS
 20 marshmallows
 2 tsp. butter
 1/4 tsp. salt
 4 cups rice

Soak the marshmallows, butter and salt over hot water. Stir until smooth. Pour mixture over cereal in a buttered bowl and mix gently. Press the cereal mixture into greased paper cone drinking cups and insert wooden skewers to form trunks of trees. When cool, gently remove paper cups and push ends of skewers into large gumdrops to stand them upright.

To give the additional flavor of pumpkin, sweep potato or carrot pie, mix in 1/4 teaspoon of grated lemon rind along with the shortening when mixing the pastry.

Cadillac

Strangers—with a Mutual Friend!

Anyone who owns and drives a Cadillac will find this a familiar scene.

For it is not at all unusual for Cadillac owners to salute one another as they pass on the highway... or to exchange approving nods as they wait for the traffic light to change.

Cadillac owners, you see, know that they have at least one mutual friend... in the Cadillac car.

And the chances are that if these two motorists were to meet, they would find they had a great deal more in common than just their affection for the "car of cars."

For Cadillac owners, taking them by and large, are people who share a keen appreciation for the finer things in life.

And, generally speaking, they are people of unusual practical wisdom... who have found in Cadillac the most economical means to the finest end in motordom.

They have learned, for instance, how reasonable a Cadillac can be insofar as original cost is concerned—actually within a few dollars of many "medium-priced" cars.

They have seen for themselves how economical a Cadillac is to operate through the miles... and how wonderfully dependable it is through the months and through the years.

And they have savored that final reward for choosing the "car of cars"—Cadillac's extraordinary resale value.

Perhaps, in view of these remarkable facts, the time has come for you to meet this wonderful friend of America's most demanding motorists.

We'll be delighted to introduce you at any time you find convenient—and to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

Pampa Community Baseball Association Seeks Pampa's Help

Tech's Beattie Feathers Is Still Top Grid Personality

TODAY'S SPORTS
By ED FITE

LUBBOCK — UP — William B. (Beattie) Feathers, who manufactured glowing offensive football pyrotechnics at Tennessee and in pro ranks, is content these days teaching defensive tactics in West Texas.

The 46-year-old Feathers is an assistant on the Texas Tech coaching staff, a staff that is a virtual hothead of former Tennessee grid-

Professional Baseball Depends On Pampa Fans

The directors of the Pampa Oiler Community Baseball Association voted Monday night to make an all-out effort to keep professional baseball in Pampa for one more year.

The vote was unanimous among the directors and the fund raising campaign got underway Tuesday.

The directors, Pinky Branson, president of the association, Dr. Malcolm Brown, Dr. Charles Ashby, Dr. M. C. Overton, Frank Dial, Joe Fischer, Dick Woldt, Frank Stallings, Grover Seitz and Harold Miller, all agreed that the professional baseball club is a good thing for the city of Pampa.

The association has the money left," Dr. Malcolm Brown, vice president assured today.

The board will meet Friday night in the Chamber of Commerce office to see how it stands as far as finances are concerned. The response of Pampans approached this week for loans will determine whether there will be a professional ball club in Pampa next summer.

Southwest Teams Go Against Outside Opponents Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Two Southwest Conference basketball teams go to the post against outside opponents Thursday night following a skippy schedule that saw the Baylor Bears make a far western foe their first victim of the season.

The Bears, led by Louis Estes and Wayne Connolly with 14 and 13 points respectively, downed a young Oregon State team 62-57 Wednesday night in Corvallis, Ore.

Thursday night's schedule shows the Arkansas Razorbacks meeting Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, Okla., and Rice Institute hosting Oklahoma at Houston. Arkansas will be seeking its first win after two straight losses, but Rice will be trying to keep unblemished a 3-0 record against smaller college fives.

Baylor handed the OSC quintet its third straight loss of the season before 2,887 Oregon fans.

The Beavers put on a strong last-period finish but Baylor went into a stall to preserve their lead. The Beavers were within two points of the Bears at 59-57 in the final seconds, but Wayne Connolly made a lay-in to protect the win. OSC opened up an 8-1 lead in the first three minutes, but Baylor tied it at 11-11 before the period was over and went ahead 19-13 when Jerry Mallett dumped the ball in the basket.

Dave Gambee was the OSC sparkplug and the game's high scorer, netting 25 points.

Baylor led at halftime 37-30.

Bowl-Bound Teams Gelling Ready For Games January 2

NORMAN, Okla. — UP — It's back to the fundamentals at Oklahoma University.

The champion Sooners, who won Maryland in the Orange Bowl game Jan. 2, are scheduled for workouts and calisthenics in Norman Thursday and then will pack off for the rest of the week.

Coach Bud Wilkinson had the enclosed running through a light drill Wednesday and it'll be the main event Thursday.

Feathers was the one half of the great Chicago Bears' one-two punch of 1933. The other half was Bronko Nagurski. Feathers gained 1,004 yards his freshman season with the Bears — a National Football League record that stood until Steve Van Buren of the Eagles broke it in 1948. In fact, only Feathers, Van Buren, Tony Canadeo of Green Bay and Joe Perry of San Francisco have ever made more than 1,000 yards a season.

But, Feathers had made a lasting impression on football fans before ever going to the Bears.

One of the most vivid impressions General Neyland has of Feathers was the punting duel his 1932 tailback waged with Johnny (Sugar) Cain of Alabama in a pouring rain when each punted 20 yards per kick and Cain 45 despite the fact each had one kick that sailed only 10 yards off their feet.

Several of the Pampa Oilers are living in Pampa and working this winter while others are playing baseball in the Southern Association in Cuba and Mexico.

Red Dial, Joe Fortin and Rack Slider are living and working in Pampa while Jack Venable lives in nearby Amarillo. Grover Seitz, too, lives and operates a business in Pampa.

Curtis Hardaway and Pete Carmona have left the association but Jim Martin, Dick Hairston, Buddy Woods, Paul Halter, Sonny Tims and Tom Pollett are still property of the Oilers.

PITTSBURGH — UP — The Indiana College football coach Bob Hicks said Thursday he may cut his 49-man squad to 33 for the Tangerine Bowl game with Missouri Jan. 2.

The Indians bucked freezing temperatures and wintry blasts Wednesday in a drill and then knocked off to watch movies of several Missouri games.

"I will take the active cooperation on the part of all of Pampa's baseball fans to get the association on its financial feet," stated Branson and "I hope we will get the cooperation needed."

The POBBA now owns $10,000 worth of baseball players but lost its star third sacker via the draft. Curtis Hardaway, who was recently drafted netted the club $2,500 which will help in the association's need for finances.

"We could sell these players to pay the debts, and put up our performance money and other pre-season expenses," Branson stated "but then where would we get the money to purchase another ball club?"

The board members were at work yesterday and will be working today and into the night in an effort to raise the money needed at this time.

If the association can get enough money together to pay off its debts it will have enough to meet some of the other expenses later when the finances from the sale of the two baseball players come in.

The directors urge all fans who wish to participate in the fund drive to contact any member of the board whether it is to work or make a loan.

HUNTINGTON, Pa. — UP — Julia College football Coach Bob Hicks said Thursday he may cut his 49-man squad to 33 for the Tangerine Bowl game with Missouri Jan. 2.

Another, was of the 1933 Vanderbilt game when a dog-bit Beattie refused to leave the field although he was panting so hard he couldn't talk after trying futilely to stem a Vanderbilt scoring drive.

A teammate persuaded Feathers to leave the deep middle slot to him and take one of the corner spots for the ensuing Vandy kick-off.

Big Ten Gets $600,000 In TV Jackpot

CHICAGO — UP — Big Ten members cut up a football television jackpot of more than $600,000 for the 1955 season, it was learned Thursday, with each school due to receive something more than $60,000 for its portion of the proceeds.

The member schools appear on television 14 times, on eight of the nine Saturdays on which the conference played, and received slightly more than $300,000 for displaying five games on regional video.

Four appearances in national shows provided nearly another $300,000.

The conference television committee met Wednesday night as a prelude to the annual December meetings of the league and will report to the athletic directors Thursday.

Though the report was not made public, it was understood the committee had no major complaints about the operation of the National Collegiate Athletic Association plan this year.

Olson Has Special Reason For Want'n' To Beat Ray

CHICAGO — UP — Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson wants to win all his fights, but he has a special reason Thursday for trying to retain his title Friday against challenger Ray (Sugar) Robinson.

"I've never wanted to win a fight before like I want to win this one," he said. "He beat me twice. That's why, and I don't think I lost the second one. He's the only one ever to beat me twice."

"So I'll be pitching from the start. And if I can knock him out, all right."

(Olson's memory apparently was a little faulty. The record book shows Dave Sands also beat him twice.)

Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, believed that his battler could produce a quick finish to the bout, expected to draw 12,000 fans with a gate of $150,000 to the Chicago Stadium.

One of Robinson's managers, George Gainford, helped Olson along mentally Monday when he requested the Illinois Athletic Commission to state what would happen if Olson failed to make weight at the noon weigh-in Friday.

"That's what a manager does when he's at a loss for words and has nothing to say," Flaherty laughed. "He starts talking about weight. We'll make it with no trouble."

Should Olson fail to scale less than 160 pounds at noon, he will have two hours to get rid of the excess. Then should he fail to make weight, he would lose his title. Robinson could win it by taking the fight, which would go on as scheduled.

The fight will be Olson's fourth defense of the 160 pound title which he won by defeating Paddy Young for the American title and then Randy Turpin for the world crown. Robinson who retired in 1952 after losing to Joey Maxim in a bid for the light heavyweight title, qualified for the match by beating Rocky Castellani, rated the No. 1 challenger.

The bout will be the seventh for Robinson on his "comeback" campaign and he was a 3 to 1 underdog for the match.

Jim Clark Predicts Mississippi Win In Junior Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. — UP — Coach Jim Clark of Mississippi's Jones Junior College Bobcats Thursday predicted a 26-21 victory for his speedy charges in Saturday's Junior Rose Bowl football game.

Clark said he was certain of a high-scoring game against Compton (Calif.) College.

The Bobcats, in going ahead with plans to meet Compton, have defied threats of critics in their home state who have blasted the school for accepting the bid to play against a team which has eight Negro gridlers on its roster.

Dodger Publicist Resigns
BROOKLYN — UP — Frank Graham Jr., publicity director for the Brooklyn Dodgers since 1952 and a former sports writer for the New York Sun, is resigning his post with the baseball team to take over as assistant managing editor for Sport magazine.

Charles Still In Heavyweight Race

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — UP — It's still too early to count Ezzard Charles out of the heavyweight picture.

The former champion kept his comeback hopes alive Tuesday night when he pointed out a unanimous 10-round decision over Toxie Hall of Chicago that avenged a loss to Rocky Marciano's stablemate last month.

Charles took command of the bout at the outset and seemed to get stronger as it progressed. There were no knockdowns but Charles stunned the stubby Hall with a right to the jaw as the bell sounded ending the eighth round.

Hall, 191 1-4, tried to move inside at the beginning of the bout but was kept at long range by Charles' left hooks. The bout was the first major boxing event in the new War Memorial Stadium.

Charles of Cincinnati weighed in at 197 1-2 pounds.

Marquette And Frisco Head For Showdown

Warriors Look Impressive In Defeating Valparaiso

By UNITED PRESS

The Marquette Warriors, who stunned the college basketball world with a 22-game winning streak last season, are flying high again Thursday as they head for a quick show down with national champion San Francisco.

Powered by six-foot, eight-inch Terry Rand, who rattled the cords for 21 points, the Warriors looked impressive Wednesday night as they racked up their second win of this season, 89-75 over Valparaiso.

The triumph was a grim warning to San Francisco, which is slated to meet Marquette in the opening round of the DePaul Tournament in the Chicago Stadium on Dec. 18. The national champs are idle until this clash, which opens their big national tour.

Baylor Beats Oregon State
The Baylor Bears of the Southwest Conference handed a strong Oregon State a 62-57 beating Wednesday night, although OSC's Dave Gambee was the high scorer with 25 points. Baylor's Louis Estes scored 14 and Wayne Connally hit for 13.

Marquette is the surprise package club that lost its opening game, then won 22 straight before losing its last regular season game. The Warriors moved into the NCAA tournament and won two games before being ousted in an 86-81 thriller by Iowa.

Marquette, ranked No. 15 nationally by the United Press board of coaches, was one of four high-ranked teams to score victories Wednesday night. Dayton (No. 6) again displayed its power in a 73-50 victory over Miami of Ohio, and St. Louis (No. 13) easily defeated Centenary 95-84, but Kansas (No. 17) barely squeaked to a 56-55 win over Wichita in a tense battle on the losers' court.

In other leading games: Bob Powers' 27 points led Villanova to a 100-77 win over St. Francis (Pa.); six-seven Mike Parenti tallied 24 points in 20 minutes to lead St. John's (N.Y.) to a season-opening 89-82 win over Roanoke in a tune-up for a Saturday clash with St. Louis; Notre Dame downed Loyola of Chicago 85-84; Joe Sturgis' 25 points led Pennsylvania to a season-opening 72-60 win over Swarthmore.

Army Downs Ithaca
Army romped over Ithaca 93-47; Brown edged Tufts 58-56; Yale won a spirited 92-87 fray with Connecticut and Cincinnati trounced Tennessee 109-82. Georgia edged Mercer, 74-71; Tulsa nicked Texas Western 57-56; tall Houston routed Texas A&I 86-59.

The Madison Square Garden season begins with a twin bill Thursday night, with Georgetown (D.C.) facing New York U. in the first game and Seton Hall, ranked 19th nationally, hosting Western Kentucky in the second. Louisville, ranked 20th, visits Wayne of Detroit, while other top games include Arkansas-Oklahoma Aggies, Clemson-Georgia, and Oklahoma-Rice.

New York Newspapers Select Daugherty As Coach Of Year

NEW YORK—UP—Hugh Duffy Daugherty, who in his second year on the job guided Michigan State to a Rose Bowl berth, Thursday was chosen football "coach of the year" in the annual poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram and Sun and the other Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The 40-year-old Spartan mentor, who didn't get a single vote in last year's balloting, this time rolled up the greatest winning margin in the 21-year history of the poll.

A total of 492 members of the American Football Coaches Association took part in the voting and Daugherty received the first-place ballots of 195. A distant second was Bud Wilkinson, coach of Oklahoma's Orange Bowl bound Sooners with 54.

Woody Hayes, coach of Big Ten champion Ohio State, was third with 42 and was followed among the leaders by Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A&M with 29, Abe Martin of Texas Christian with 26, Johnny Michelsen of Pittsburgh with 20, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech with 13, Art Guepe of Vanderbilt with 12, Jim Tatum of Maryland with 11, Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee with 10, and Terry Brennan of Notre Dame and Ara Parseghian of Miami of Ohio with eight each.

The award comes at the end of a season that saw Daugherty build a team that had won only three games out of nine the previous year into a formidable machine that won eight of nine and landed in the Rose Bowl.

Schooling his players in an intricate system that utilized the straight-T, split-T, and single-wing formations, Daugherty came up with a smooth combine that left rivals confused and battered. The sophomores team dropped a 14-7 decision to Michigan in its second game, then found itself and roared unchecked through Stanford, Notre Dame, Illinois, Wisconsin, Purdue, Minnesota, and Marquette.

As "coach of the year" Daugherty, a native of Barnesboro, Pa., succeeds Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA. Sanders will be Daugherty's coaching rival in the Rose Bowl game on Jan. 2.

No major league baseball player has equalled or passed Babe Ruth's one-month output of 17 home runs hit in September, 1927, the year he set the seasonal record of 60 homers.

Frogs Start Workouts Early To Prepare For Mississippi

FORT WORTH—UP—The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs will start working out "on their own" this week prior to being called together next Monday for regular drills in preparation for the Cotton Bowl engagement against Mississippi Jan. 2.

Coach Abe Martin said the players would do a lot of running "on their own" until next Monday. "We'll go pretty tough," Martin said. "We've got to get back in shape, get our timing down and try some new plays. Ole Miss has a fine team and we have a rugged assignment."

The Frogs will work hard until Dec. 23 when they will be dismissed for the holidays. They will reassemble on Dec. 26 and move to Dallas on Friday, Dec. 30. Under an agreement with Mississippi Coach Johnny Vaught, the teams are exchanging two game movies for scouting purposes. TCU will send films of its victories over Texas and SMU at Vaught's request.

"We'll not try to set a defense for the Rebels until we've studied their movie later in the month," Martin said.

Barring practice injuries, the Frogs will be in top shape. Harold Fullard, No. 2 fullback and top place-kicker, came up with a swollen finger after the SMU game but it isn't thought to be serious. Otherwise, all the Frogs are ready for action.

Optimist Boxers Matched With Guymon Club Tonight

Boxing coordinator for the Pampa Optimist club, Kenneth D. Ross, will be taking a dozen boys to Guymon tonight for the return matches with Coach Bill Beeman's boys.

The Pampa boxers took seven of the 13 bouts on the schedule here last week and the Guymon Club won the first bout on the card with the Amarillo Air Force Base the week before.

Ross has already matched nine boys for the bouts tonight and has several other boys that are tentatively matched for the Optimists' first trip out of Pampa this season.

Earl Mallard of Guymon has been matched with Gary Willis in the 112-pound division while his brother, Jerry Mallard, has a match with Jerry Lamar, 120-pound Optimist scrapper.

Other mittmen on the schedule will be Tommy Lamar, 145 pounder, against Pete Peterson, Jesse Ring, vs. Darrell Bledsoe, Kenny Powell vs. Mike McMurray, Paul Edwards vs. Dennis Kirk, Loyd Marlar vs. Jim Bean, and Jim Murray vs. Bob Hoffman.

Tommy Lamar and Pete Peterson both fight for everything they are worth and should be a good match. Jesse Ring, who has been fighting for three years, defeated

Jim Bean here last Saturday and will be facing Darrell Bledsoe in the 150-pound class in Guymon tonight.

Bledsoe was defeated by Ernest Sanchez in Amarillo on Nov. 28 by a TKO in 41 seconds of the first round. Bledsoe received a cut below his left eye and the fight was stopped.

Small but tough, Kenny Powell will get a second shot at Mike McMurray in Guymon tonight. Powell and McMurray fight in the 75-pound bracket and Powell will be looking for a win this week since McMurray won a decision over him in Pampa last Saturday.

Paul Edwards and Dennis Kirk will tangle in the 80-pound class. Kirk was defeated in the Pampa ring last week by Joe Dunn and "want's no more of him." Paul Edwards, too, was defeated by Dunn and should give the Guymon boy a good fight.

Loyd Marlar will meet Jim Bean in the 165-pound division. Bean lost a decision to Pampa's Jesse Ring here in the Community Barn. Jim Murray will go into the ring for his first time this season against Bob Hoffman who fights in the 140-pound bracket.

Several of the boys will be fighting here in Pampa Saturday night when the Amarillo Air Force club,

The Amjets, will be fighting from the blue corner of the Pampa ring. The Guymon fights will be broadcast over KPDM.

Osborne, Reynolds Honored At Kemper Military School

Jim Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Osborne, Jr. and Wiley Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley E. Reynolds, 1132 Chaffes, were awarded high school varsity football letters for outstanding performances this season on their grid team in an athletic assembly conducted by Lt. Col. J. G. Kratoch, director of athletics, at Kemper Military School, Bonville, Mo. Osborne, a center, was given honorable mention by the Central Missouri Athletic Conference in a recent meeting of conference officials. He was also elected captain of the Kemper high school team.

Forward & Backward

There are those who hold positions of meager influence in our community who pride themselves on being forward looking, modern, progressive.

Their point of view on nearly every issue can be predicted without the slightest risk of retraction. They favor more and bigger government! In toto, that is it.

Every human problem, according to those self-proclaimed benefactors of our community, can be solved by more taxes and more legislation. And this is supposed to be the "forward look?"

Had these persons even a rudimentary knowledge of history, not to mention an understanding of archeology, anthropology and paleontology, they would know that their position in favor of more laws and more power and money in the hands of government is the most archaic, overworked, passe point of view to which they could subscribe.

If it is forward looking to support a vast government water conservation program, then Nebuchadnezzar of ancient Babylon was forward looking when he enslaved the Chaldeans and the Hebrews and forced them to build huge dikes and canals that Babylon might become the permanent center of civilization. And the dust of centuries blows over the ruins of ancient waterways built at the cost of so much usurpation of power, so much cruelty.

Hadrian of Rome must have had the forward look, too. He was a great Italian builder who, as Caesar, erected vast tax-supported public works, including an aqueduct and a wall which bears his name in northern Britain. The ruins of these "forward looking" schemes are now tourist attractions. And the people of Rome have never recovered from his forward look in more than 15 centuries.

The great Chinese Emperor Shih Huang-ti must have had the forward look, too. He said that the great peaceful districts of China could be safeguarded from the northern barbarians if only they were organized into a vast government bureaucracy. Shi Huang-ti (the first emperor), otherwise called by his real name, Chi'in, undertook to teach the peaceful Chinese the arts of peace.

He raised taxes, organized one of the first United Nations, built vast public buildings and erected the great Chinese wall. This was the forward look about 250 B.C. The Chinese wall was to prevent war. But the Chinese have been fighting ever since it was built. There is no evidence that it ever prevented an invasion. However as a forward looker, Chi'in won no prizes. He merely echoed predecessors in other countries and climes and his greatest work is now another crumbling example of the inhumanity of man over men.

The News tries to be forward looking in a true sense. We are for every possible good and worthwhile improvement to our community and for the individuals in our community. We cannot subscribe to historic fallacy of forcible collection of funds as the only means of getting anywhere. We want parks and playgrounds. We want more and better homes. We want plenty of water. We want fine roads. We want more and better schools. We want more and better jobs available in this community. Most of all, we want our people to be free from the ever present bureaucracy at all levels.

We reject a specious reasoning the Lincolnian phrase echoed recently by President Eisenhower that a government should do for people what the people cannot do for themselves. The assumption of this phrase is that the government is something above and beyond people. But it is not. Government is composed merely of people having neither merit nor ability beyond the average. In the end, people do everything. They do it voluntarily or they are compelled. There has never been a school, a park, a road, a water system or a job, provided by anything except people. Free enterprise provides all profits from which comes all taxes and all of the various human improvements are provided by people. These are things provided either honestly as when people provide them voluntarily and directly, or dishonestly when government steps in and pretends that it can do something which people cannot do, yet calls upon the people to provide all the money, brains, equipment and manpower to do the job.

This latter device was used by the Pharaoh Cheops when he built the great pyramid. It is not new. It is not forward looking. It is abysmally old and decadent.

We would like to suggest those who truly want to help their community that they first of all get their facts straight. Once they have been oriented to reality, they can be as forward looking as they please.

James L. Wick, executive publisher of "Human Events," states that the parliamentary strategy to pass the Bricker Amendment was blocked in the Senate by ONE vote because the President, who UNDER THE CONSTITUTION HAS NO AUTHORITY ON THE SUBJECT OF AMENDMENTS, indicated his disapproval. Senator Ferguson voted against the Bricker Amendment, apparently, because he wanted a Presidential appoint-

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

The American Crime Of Crimes VII.

I want to continue to quote from "A History Of Our Country" by Muzey.

The more I read this book the more I am convinced that it is a clever, sly method of inciting the youth to believe in a planned economy rather than in a free competitive economy.

This book is important because it is claimed to be in more high schools in the United States than any other history book. When the book is read, however, by those who know enough about the free enterprise system to be willing to answer questions about it, the book could hardly be regarded as a history but more a recitation, not as to how we increased our liberty but how the government in various ways took away from the private citizen his right to choose and did the choosing for him.

In the last chapter we were reporting the "reforms" put into effect under the Wilson administration.

On Page 484 Muzey writes: "In the first months of the war the railroads had formed a voluntary association to promote efficiency in transportation. But they proved unequal in the face of the rising costs of labor and materials, to furnish the equipment and the service necessary for the war needs of the country. Therefore, on December 26, 1917, President Wilson, acting under the authority of the Adamson Act, took over the railroads of the country, which represented an investment of seventeen and a half billion dollars and employed nearly two million men."

It is doubtful if a single, solitary experienced person in business who realizes the inefficiency of government attempting to run business believed that the railroad proved unequal to perform services needed to win the war. When the railroads were finally turned back to the companies at the end of the war, they were in a dilapidated shape.

Nor does Muzey explain how the government that has no wealth, that it does not take from someone else, could increase the transportation service better than they could be increased by those people that had had years of experience in railroad operation.

On Page 485 he writes: "From the first, labor supported the war wholeheartedly. This is labor's war," said Samuel Gompers. "Was organized into a vast government bureaucracy. Shi Huang-ti (the first emperor), otherwise called by his real name, Chi'in, undertook to teach the peaceful Chinese the arts of peace."

He raised taxes, organized one of the first United Nations, built vast public buildings and erected the great Chinese wall. This was the forward look about 250 B.C. The Chinese wall was to prevent war. But the Chinese have been fighting ever since it was built. There is no evidence that it ever prevented an invasion. However as a forward looker, Chi'in won no prizes. He merely echoed predecessors in other countries and climes and his greatest work is now another crumbling example of the inhumanity of man over men.

Just how does Muzey know that manufacturers and dealers had been making 10 or 20 percent before the war? It is doubtful if they averaged 5 or 6 percent before the war. And just how does he know how much profit they wanted after the war? Is not Muzey just using his own personal opinion as history?

And what does Muzey mean by "profiteering"? Is he using words that he can not define? Is he using emotional words to try to set the youth of the land against the entrepreneurs? There seems to be little other motive for writing such nonsense other than that he wants to sell the youth of the land to believe that private ownership of the means of production is harmful. It looks as if he's trying to get the youth of the land to believe that the government should own all of the means of production. In short, that we should adopt the Communist way of life. And we call that history and send our youth to regard it as education.

Then he writes on the same page: "Every rise in prices was accompanied by a demand for increased wages, and every rise in wages was made the excuse for an increase of prices."

Of course that process was bound to follow when wages were established, not on a free, competitive market basis but by threats of strikes and could ruin any business.

More Thoughtful Citizens Muzey closes his chapter indoctrinating the youth of the land to believe that the United States made a great mistake by not joining the League of Nations under the Wilson administration.

He relates how, in 1920, Harding was the Republican candidate and Cox the Democratic candidate. Then he says: "Governor Cox tried to make the League of Nations the sole issue of the campaign. But however important that question was in the eyes of the more thoughtful of our citizens, it was obscured for millions of voters by questions which seemed to touch them more nearly."

Notice the implication is that those people who opposed joining the League of Nations were the unthoughtful class and that those who wanted to join the League of Nations were the thoughtful class. That's not objective reporting of history. It's indoctrination into one world.

Voters Losing Prejudice Against Corporations

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Rooseveltian "economic royalists" and Truman's "greedy Wall Streeters" think that they have managed to slough off their ancient role of whipping "boys for making Democratic Presidential candidates, although Adlai E. Stevenson seems to be the only prominent Democrat to have discovered that fact.

The reason for this remarkable change in the politico-economic atmosphere is the amazingly wide distribution of corporate stocks in the post-war years. With millions of ordinary Americans owning billions in shares in the nation's largest industrial, transportation and utility firms, which frequently represent their life savings and promise of old-age security, the ancient prejudice against corporations is disappearing as a ballot-box force.

This development lies behind Stevenson's suggestion that "moderation is the spirit of the times." Oddly, although Governor Averell Harriman is a railroad magnate and banker, he seems to believe that at least one more national election can be won by making Wall Street the scapegoat for existing economic evils. So does Harry S. Truman.

Investments in mutual companies which usually fill up their portfolios with "blue chip" holdings, represent billions of dollars and millions of small investors. Whatever profits in their widely diversified investments hurts them.

Although Keith Funston's sale of securities to individuals in small amounts on the installment plan has not been a shining success, the young head of the New York Stock Exchange anticipates that it will expand. The Ford Motor Company's January offer of family stock to the public will further entwine the bread-and-butter interests of the "little man" with the ups and downs of the corporate economy.

Another shift in politico-economic values and attitudes may place the Truman-Harriman extremists at a disadvantage. This is the recent revelation that 38 colleges and universities now have 36.3 per cent of their endowment funds invested in common stocks. Time was when they put their money into nothing but preferred, gilt-edged bonds or government issues.

Thus, the old-fashioned, spread-eagle tirades against Wall Street, which helped to re-elect Truman in 1948, may be construed by the Republican opposition as undermining the system of higher education. But it is not only the "eggheads" who have become partners of the corporations. Many states have recently passed laws permitting insurance companies and trust companies to invest in common stocks instead of in guaranteed income securities exclusively.

The great labor organizations, whose investments are estimated in the hundreds of millions, own, in part at least, many of the corporations with which they bargain on wages, hours and working conditions. This fact may account for the scarcity of major strikes in post-war years, and especially for John L. Lewis' more mellow mood. His United Mine Workers own the fifth largest bank at the Capital, which has to invest in stocks.

Ironically, the crushing tax burden imposed on the country by the Roosevelt and Truman regimes is partially responsible for this strange twist. Philip D. Reed, Board chairman of International General Electric Co., recently explained why.

The 52 per cent corporation profits tax strips them of funds for expansion and research. Therefore, they must depend upon the public, including small and large investors, for capital investment. They must take the voters into partnership. And, as Tom Dick and Harry become partial owners of the nation's great corporations, they may part from demagogic politicians who jeopardize their investments.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

One does not hear as much today as one used to about the disease called erysipelas. However, I have recently had several questions on this subject including one from E. R. who asks for the cause of this disease and what can be done about it.

Erysipelas is an inflammatory skin disease caused by a germ known as the streptococcus. It strikes best among the poor and those living under bad sanitary conditions. Also, it is most frequent early in life, especially during the first two years.

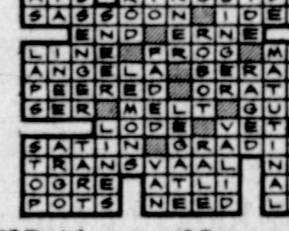

In old people it again becomes relatively common. Lowered general health from such things as bad diet, Bright's disease, or chronic alcoholism also favor the development of erysipelas. IT USUALLY starts suddenly and is often accompanied by high fever. The most common location is on the skin of the face and head.

Chills and other signs of a suddenly rising body temperature are usually present. At first the skin in a single spot seems to be affected—often this is where there has been a small wound or scratch. The skin becomes reddened and swollen within a day or two, and usually spreads rapidly. A sharp line separates the reddened skin from the normal.

IN THE USUAL CASE, and particularly if the patient is in good physical condition, erysipelas clears up in about a week even without treatment. Meningitic inflammation of the kidneys, and even blood poisoning, however, are possible complications.

Since the sulfa drugs and antibiotics became available, however, the chances of recovery have become much better. Several such preparations shorten the course of the disease and lessen the chances of serious complications.
