Adlai Gets Down To Work On Politics

By TOM NELSON
CHICAGO — UP — Adlai E. Stevenson got down to bread and butter politics Wednesday in his drive to capture the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

The fast-moving Stevenson called a news conference less than 24 hours after announcing his candidacy and was expected to:

1. Name James Finnegan, Pennsylvania secretary of state, as his campaign manager.

City Buys Fire Truck

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne's request was set aside yesterday as the City Commission bought a fire truck.

Winborne, who favored a Mack truck because it "is more maneuverable and easier to handle in traffic," abandoned his arguments favoring it when Commissioner Frank Dial moved that the City buy another Boardman truck (The last fire truck the commission bought was also a Boardman).

Winborne said, "You wanted my opinion and that's it (his request for a Mack) but buy what you want."

Four Chicago Boys Missing

CHICAGO — UP — Four 15-year-old boys were reported missing in the Chicago area Wednesday and police feared their disappearance might be linked to the murder of three other boys exactly one month ago.

The boys, all close friends, have not been seen since they left their homes in suburban Stickney at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 22.

Police said they feared the missing youths had met with foul play. If the missing boys are not found by mid-morning, police planned to call in the aid of a special investigative unit which is searching for the killers of three young boys on Chicago's northwest side last Oct. 16.

United Fund: $40,515.70

Total contributions to Pampa United Fund were reported at $40,515.70 this morning by Mrs. Emmett Gee, secretary. This is an increase of $215.70 over the last report yesterday morning.

Contributions are still some $6,500 short of the set goal of $47,175.

Paul West, director of the United Fund drive, was reported showing improvement this morning. He rested well for the first time last night, and is showing signs of progressing in the hospital at Lubbock.

His attending heart specialist said that Paul was still in critical condition and could not accept visitors.

Charlie Fletcher, assistant manager of Video Theater in Pampa, said that nothing definite on his condition would be known for another week.

Christmas TB Seal Sale Drive Starts

Those Christmas Seals in gay Holiday colors are here again.

A total of 5,425 letters were mailed out yesterday afternoon to residents over Gray County asking them to contribute toward free emergency treatments for TB patients, education and research, and rehabilitation, according to Bert R. Nuckols, treasurer of Gray County TB Association.

Nuckols indicated that $250 was used during the past school year for TB patches, and an additional $396.40 was allotted for cases in indigent families afflicted with the disease. A total of $110 was used by the association to furnish X-rays for people who needed them and were unable to pay for the service. Approximately $2,500 would be needed for the association to operate through 1956, he indicated.

Slayer To Face KC Charges

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — Arthur Ross Brown, 30-year-old fugitive ex-convict, will be returned to Kansas City, Mo., to face charges for the kidnap-murder of an attractive socialite whose nude body was found in a field.

The FBI said Brown boastfully admitted abducting Mrs. Wilma Allen in Kansas City Aug. 4. Brown said he planned to rape the woman, but changed his mind and shot her twice in the head.

Brown appeared before U.S. Commissioner Joseph Karezah and signed a waiver of extradition Wednesday. Later in the day, Federal Judge Oliver J. Carter ordered the suspect returned to Kansas City.

That's One Way To Duck Out!

NEW YORK — UP — About 50 patrons of a coffee shop carried out a fast evacuation Tuesday when a fire broke out in a grease duct.

Firemen put the blaze out in short order but none of the patrons returned to pay their bills, the proprietor said.

Disney Honored

NEW YORK — UP — Walt Disney has received the National Audubon Society award for distinguished service to conservation as a result of his true-life adventure films. The Bronze Audubon medal was presented to Disney at the society's annual dinner Tuesday night.

West Rejects Soviet Proposal On Europe

Bomb-Killer Sure He Will Be Freed

DENVER — UP — John Gilbert Graham's jailers reported Wednesday he appears supremely confident of securing release from the jail where he is held on murder charges for planting the explosive which killed 44 persons aboard a United Airlines plane Nov. 1.

"He seems to feel he'll get out of the position he's in," said Capt. Neal Wright, the county jail training officer. "And he talks like he's quite hopeful of making his bond and getting out of jail."

Wright said Graham eats well, sleeps soundly, and chatted once with a guard about explosives.

He has adjusted to jail routine with almost unbelievable calm, his guards said.

District Attorney Bert Keating announced he would demand death in the gas chamber for the 23-year-old explosives expert who planted the bomb in his mother's suitcase, kissed her goodbye, and sent her to her death.

Keating began interviewing witnesses who will appear at the trial when the federal government released Graham to state authorities to face the murder charge. He said he is also preparing evidence for the trial and expected it to begin within weeks. The only crime federal authorities could place against Graham was one of sabotage, a crime which carries a maximum penalty of 10 years.

Graham's bond, set before the murder charge was drawn up by Keating Tuesday, is $100,000 United Airlines President William Paterson signed the complaint which charges Graham with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 54.

To Be Arraigned
He will be arraigned before Judge Edward J. Keating on Thursday, and probably will not be allowed bond.

Graham's confession, made to the FBI Monday, has not been made public. Newsmen learned however that he confessed fashioning a bomb with a timing device and 25 sticks of dynamite, hid it in his mother's suitcase, and took it to Stapleton Air Field with her the night of Nov. 1.

The plane was 35 minutes late in leaving Denver. It was only eight minutes and 25 miles north of the city when the dynamite blew the plane apart.

Graham bombed the plane to collect a share of his mother's $150,000 estate, and $37,500 worth made public. Newsmen learned however that he confessed fashioning a bomb with a timing device and 25 sticks of dynamite, hid it

Reds' Action On European Security Called Propaganda

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
GENEVA — UP — The Western foreign ministers formally rejected Wednesday an 11th hour Soviet proposal on European security and labeled it a move to wrest a propaganda victory from the dying Geneva conference.

The Big Four foreign ministers met for a little more than half an hour and in brief, pointed speeches the western delegates told Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov his last proposal was unacceptable because it did nothing to promote a unified Germany.

At the same time experts of the three western nations completed the draft of a solemn pledge to continue battling for German unity. Other members of the delegation completed the text of a final communique to be issued at Wednesday afternoon's closing session.

But whatever the wording of the communique to be signed by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan, events at the ill-starred conference already had made it apparent the diplomats from the United States, Britain, France and Russia had scored their worst diplomatic failure since start of the cold war.

The final failure on European security followed the pattern set in previous discussions of every other topic on the agenda. Molotov's last proposal was described by western spokesmen as only an effort to squeeze a last-minute propaganda victory.

Air Force Studies Strength

By CHARLES GORDDRY
FORT POLK, La. — UP — High Air Force officers began Wednesday to evaluate the potential destruction in a future war gathered from first day maneuvers of Exercise Sagebrush.

The operation, largest war games since World War II, opened Tuesday with jet bombers raining mock atomic destruction on 18 air bases in 10 states.

It took just 18 small jet bombers to drop the equivalent of more than 250,000 tons of TNT on airfields.

For comparison, the Air Force dropped 467,000 tons of conventional explosives in the entire Korean war. It took 250,246 individual aircraft flights and the job was spread over three years.

Measure of Progress
Airmen considered those figures an accurate measure of the strides made in the short interval since Korea and a hint of what would befall an aggressor in a local war if the United States became involved with nuclear weapons.

The massive atomic assault launched by elements of the U.S. Tactical Air Command in Exercise Sagebrush was but a fraction of the nuclear explosive power available to the U.S. Strategic Air Command for prevention or winning of a global war.

TAC units assigned to the "aggressor" force in the largest maneuver since World War II lashed out from Texas bases at the U.S. forces' air bases from Virginia and Florida to Louisiana and Arkansas.

"Aggressor" ground forces moved forward in Louisiana behind a barrage from 280 MM atomic cannons delivering additional thousands of tons of TNT equivalent.

No Immediate Assessment
No immediate assessment was available as to the damage done in the ferocious surprise attack. But it was evident that maneuver umpires would have to label some of the bomb drops near-misses instead of direct hits.

Otherwise, the defenders' air power might be out of business and the aggressor air power could be turned exclusively on defending ground forces.

The first few hours of the exercise, which runs until Dec. 6, also revealed the almost impossible defense problems of an air commander attacked at short range without warning.

Strikers Are Arrested In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES — UP — President Pedro E. Aramburu's four-day-old government was reported Wednesday to have arrested hundreds of strike leaders in a growing walkout of the Peronista-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT).

Most essential services were running at normal or slightly below normal and no major disturbances were reported though a 100 per cent walkout in some industries dealt a major blow to Argentine economy. But efforts by the strikers to deal a knockout blow to the new revolutionary government were not successful.

The army ministry in Buenos Aires was under strong guard and the government added eight 40 millimeter howitzers to defenses ringing the key building. The city streets were completely normal and throughout Tuesday merchants carried on business as usual.

Reports from outlying sections of the capital told of 100 per cent shutdowns in such industries as meat packing, glassworking and soap manufacture. The waterfront was nearly normal and barely 5 per cent of transport and railroad employees were off the job.

Ex-OSS Man Tells Of Wartime Intrigue

By JOEL COMBS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Arch F. Coleman, a man who says he knew about the German V-2 rockets 18 months before the first one was launched in the second World War, was the speaker at Knife and Fork Club last night.

Coleman gave an active recount of his activities as a member of the U. S. government's O.S.S. (Office of Strategic Services) during the war to an interested and attentive crowd of Top O' Texans.

Coleman said that he still did not know how or why he was selected to serve his country in espionage work. He has never been able to find out who started his name rolling in the government circles to nominate him as a potential O.S.S. man. He remarked that he sometimes feels he must have been a lousy spy if he cannot even find out who got him in the business.

He said, however, that no one knows much about anything that is going on in the secret service except a few key men in Washington.

When teaching a spy school in Maryland in the early phases of the war, Coleman said that he knew not one of his students by their right name and they didn't know him.

Most of his work was directed from Turkey, where he organized an espionage group of some 75 members. He started from scratch by hiring a Greek girl to be his

New Weapon Is Predicted

WASHINGTON — UP — An Army research expert predicts the United States by 1970 will be prepared to fight with leaping tanks and flying pillboxes.

The tanks will jump over rivers. The pillboxes will rush troops to the front by air. And vertical rising aircraft bristling with cannon and rockets will take the place of tactical artillery.

The futuristic picture of "three-dimensional war" was depicted in an article in Armor Magazine, a semi-official Army publication sponsored by the U.S. Armor Association. It was written by Lt. Col. Robert B. Rigg, research assistant to Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff.

The article reflected the growing emphasis in Army planning on battlefield mobility in the atomic age. This concept has been stressed by Taylor and Lt. Gen. James N. Gavin, director of Army research.

Correspondent Reports Arab-Israeli Skirmish

EDITORS' NOTE: A United Press correspondent who reported the Israeli-Arab war of 1948 has returned to Palestine to tell about the present tense situation. His latest dispatch follows.

By PETER WEBB
JERUSALEM — UP — A bullet smacked into the white dust less than two feet away.

We dived for cover among the shell-pocked buildings of Rachel's Heights, which form the southernmost Jewish outpost of this divided city.

Away past the rusty barbed wire border line stretched a stony, scrub-covered no man's land leading to Bethlehem and the Church of the Nativity.

Today the area of the church, which commemorates the birthplace of Jesus Christ, is a sniper's paradise.

Usual Afternoon Game
As we took shelter, a Jewish sentry on top of a building which changed hands five times during the Palestine war poked his head cautiously over the parapet and shouted down:

"It's just the usual afternoon game. Nothing to worry about."

But it was illustrative of present-day Jerusalem, where the front line runs straight through the city and divides the modern Jewish township from the ancient Biblical shrines held by Jordan's Arab Legion.

The shot came from the ruined Green Orthodox church perched on the hillside where Jacob once grazed his sheep.

As we crouched behind a bullet-scarred water tank our Israeli guide pointed out Rachel's statue standing amid ruins on the hilltop.

Look into Old City
From an Israeli lookout post on top of Mt. Zion, situated above King David's tomb, it is possible to look into the old city.

Occasional glimpses can be caught of the Arab legion sentries patrolling the old city walls as one looks out over the hallowed winding streets toward the Mount of Olives.

All around is barbed wire, and mine fields grow in Zion's gardens, mingling with the purple bougainvillea.

Behind lies the Valley of Gehenna, known Biblically as the Valley of Slaughter.

There is only one route from the new to the old city and its strictly one-way traffic through the Mandelbaum gate. Here visitors with special passes from their own consulates can cross into Jordan-held Jerusalem. But they can not come back.

Office Minnows
UNION CITY, Tenn. — UP — Pete Vincent shares his downtown office here with a couple of bullfrogs and a vat of minnows. Vincent set up a vat to keep the bait minnows handy for quick fishing trips, and now two buildings have moved in with the minnows.

The praying mantis is said to be the only insect that can turn its head.

Paralytic Type Polio Attacks Greater In Non-Vaccinated

By MARGARET RICHARDS

KANSAS CITY — UP — Attack rates of paralytic polio this year were from two to more than five times greater in unvaccinated children, the U. S. Public Health Service revealed Tuesday on the basis of preliminary studies by eleven states and New York city.

"This means it works," said Dr. Alexander Langmuir, chief of the epidemiology branch of the service's communicable disease center at Atlanta, Ga., where the government last April initiated its poliomyelitis surveillance program.

The average effectiveness shown in charts presented by Langmuir and two associates to the American Public Health Association was 74 per cent protection against the paralytic form of the disease.

Langmuir told reporters he believes the time is coming when polio will be eradicated as smallpox has been, but he declined to estimate when.

Predicts End of Disease
However, one polio expert, here for the 83rd annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, revealed he had made a number would be less than 100. In 1953, an average pre-vaccine year, the total was about 16,000. "I'll lose the bet," he said, "but it will be a moral victory."

He said he would lose only because "there won't be a big enough supply of the vaccine."

Reports presented Tuesday revealed that in New York state attack rates for paralytic cases this year ran 4.0 per 100,000 for the total inoculated group and 20.9 for the unvaccinated children, making a ratio of greater than five to one in favor of the vaccine. Among 448,569 vaccinated children only 18 cases of paralytic polio developed, against 59 paralytic cases among only 282,000 unvaccinated children.

Some Rates Lower
In other areas where special studies were made the ratio was less favorable, and in Georgia, the difference was only about two to one. Georgia's study, Langmuir said, "while straightforward was not extensive."

He added that highest rates of protection were shown where studies had been most detailed.

Data presented by Langmuir, along with Dr. Neal Nathanson and William Jackson Hall, indicated degree of protection against non-paralytic polio was much less than against the paralytic form. However, Langmuir said difficulties

U. N. May Have 78 Members

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — UP — The United Nations shortly may number 78 members through adoption of an East-West agreement ending a five-year deadlock on new members, an informed source predicted Tuesday.

U. S. - Soviet differences over Outer Mongolia and the procedure for introducing the compromise on 18 new members to the United Nations were reported to be the only things in the way of increasing the membership of the 60-state world body.

Consultations were being held to settle these differences, informed sources said. It was predicted Monday night that the 11-member Security Council would meet probably this week to get the ball rolling on the move to introduce the new members.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. already has announced the U. S. would abstain in the voting on Communist Romania, Bulgaria, Albania and Hungary. This appeared to assure these four Soviet satellites of membership.

and inaccuracies of diagnosis probably were a factor. He expressed belief many cases not actually resulting from polio virus probably were included, citing mumps meningitis as an example.

Brucker's office said it will be up to Shivers to make the letter public. The letter was expected to reach the governor Tuesday.

Shivers made his protest in a letter to Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson. Wilson referred the letter to Brucker.

Long Arm

The Saturday Evening Post, in an editorial entitled "American Industry Takes a Beating From U.N.'s Socialistic Researchers," says: "The eager beavers who talk about revising the United Nations Charter to give more authority, without damaging this country's right to order its own internal affairs, might well take a look at recent reports by two inconspicuous United Nations agencies."

One of the studies makes some vague recommendations regarding practices of foreign operations of the American oil industry as interpreted by the staff of the Secretariat of the Economic Commission for Europe. It intimates that American oil companies overcharge their European customers for Middle Eastern oil, and hints international price control is needed. The other report by the Department of Economics and Social Affairs, bears the title "American Investment in Latin America."

The oil report, says the Post, "was prepared under the direction of Gunnar Myrdal, a Swedish socialist... who has described 'the adoption of the United States Constitution as 'nearly a plot against the common people.'" The Post then asks: "Is Myrdal the best authority a U.N. agency could rely on for a complicated study of the oil industry?"

According to officials of the American oil companies, oil from the middle East sells at a competitive price and has virtually driven Western Hemisphere oil from Europe's market for that reason. Our oil industry has taken rough newspaper criticism in Europe as a result of the misleading report. Concluding its editorial, the Post says "Curiously enough, neither the American delegation to the United Nations nor even the U.N. Secretariat itself appears to know what these subsidy and socialistically inclined bodies like the Economic Commission for Europe are up to." Apparently the promoters of socialism have long arms which reach into unexpected places to discredit the free enterprise system of the United States.

A Great Problem

One of the most inhuman actions of big strongly centralized governments is the driving of innocent people from their homes to perish from hunger and cold on the highways, to die of disease, to moral and physical disintegration in concentration camps and to wretched exiled existences wherever they may be able to eke out a living; separated from family, friends, home and country. It is estimated that a total of some 70 million persons have so suffered or are so suffering during the past 40 years.

We saw the first wave of these unfortunate people, some half a million in number coming from Spain into France in 1939. We saw others pouring westward from the Hitler regime in Germany. We saw the throngs streaming southward from the Low Countries and Northern France when Hitler struck those areas in 1940. We saw large numbers of refugees from Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia in Sweden, and we saw many of the half-million Finns whom the Russians expelled from the parts of Finland they annexed.

Poles, Germans, Sudetenlanders, Arabs, Jews, Moslems in India and Hindus in Pakistan make up other large segments of displaced people.

Some have been helped to find means of escape and relocation for a few thousand individuals has been achieved. But in spite of the efforts of people who have tried to help in this tragedy, tens of millions have died or suffered the loss of all that makes life worthwhile.

This all stems from the actions of governments denying to people the rights of life, liberty and property. Power-mad dictators pursuing their selfish aims have disregarded the human rights of their victims. Such are the results when governments seize or are given great power over the lives of their fellow men. The only safety for the human race, is strictly limited government, deprived of the right to control the lives and activities of its citizens.

Under the freedom which God intended men to enjoy and under government deprived of these extraordinary powers, we would not witness the pitiful spectacles of tens of millions of innocent people suffering and dying.

One of man's greatest problems is to learn how to control and limit government.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Mr. Y has been advised that his 6 1/2-year-old son must have a change of climate because the youngster suffers from "bronchial trouble and has seven scars from pneumonia on his lungs." Apparently the father has been told to seek a climate which is dry and equable.

It certainly sounds as though a youngster who had suffered several attacks of pneumonia and presumably had a chronic cough might benefit from just the right climate change.

HOW TO FIND IT is the problem. It is possible that some of the southern sections of Arizona or New Mexico might do, since these are likely to be dry enough, but they are not "equable" since there is a great variation between day and night temperatures.

Perhaps in this instance one would have better luck in some part of southern California away from the seacoast.

There is no easy way to solve this problem; the safest is for the youngster to try some areas which seem promising and if he does not like that is fine but if he does not like another attempt will have to be made. ANOTHER PARENT SAYS that her 8-year-old boy walks in his sleep. He seems to be wide awake, his mother says, and when she tells him to go back to bed he knows nothing of it in the morning.

This is apparently a fairly simple problem. The child does not seem to be suffering any ill effects from his sleepwalking. Except for getting the mother up at night, the situation seems rather harmless.

As a form of sleeping difficulty, however, the parents should keep the youngster from too much exciting play or entertainment in the late afternoon or evening, avoid upsetting the child by any appearance of family squabbling, and insist that the youngster go to bed regularly and stay there each night at the same time. These steps are good for any child.

THE MOTHER of a 14-year-old daughter is concerned because the girl's periods are still irregular. Assuming that the girl's health is otherwise good, it is almost certainly best not to make a fuss over the situation since in all probability nature will take care of it in due course.

A Layman Interested In Education Writes Concerning Government Schools

I want to continue to quote from a little 24-page booklet written under the heading "Toward Education." It was written by Everett Ridley Taylor of Diablo, California. Mr. Taylor writes:

"The extremes of non-Christian education have been demonstrated repeatedly throughout history. These schools have stressed literature, history, science, mathematics, philosophy, medicine, the arts and crafts, as with the Egyptians, Chinese, Indians, Hebrews, Greeks, and Romans. None of them have been able to produce enough generally educated persons to sustain a developing civilization. Apologists for the failures of the non-Christian life - proponents of the purely materialistic way - may blame war, famine, and the law of supply and demand. But nations under Christian influence have suffered their share of similar natural forces. The extreme of non-Christian education is the exact and factual condition of all of the non-Christian world. This is not education; it is illiteracy, ignorance, death."

"Perhaps the most extreme example of the benefits of some Christian influence is the United States. The colonists were peculiarly and particularly devout Christians. The Constitution and the Bill of Rights were the certain product of unfettered Christianity. The great developments of this nation are due to this unique Christianity of our forefathers. Indeed, the ignorance and willfulness of the later generations of Americans, who lack the faith of our fathers, has put us into one mess after another - obviously in direct proportion to those of us without enough Christian education have reached the age when we should have done better."

"The emotional and the extreme arguments in support of non-Christian education are based upon purely materialistic desires - the evasion of personal responsibility while assessing the costs to others, using the force of the State. Just as non-Christian attempts toward civilization have consistently failed in the past, current attempts cannot escape failure."

"On the other hand it is clear that the emotional reasons and needs for Christian education are consistent with the extreme of over 1900 years of Christian influence that has and will maintain a developing civilization. With all of our failures to heed very much of the Christian faith, this is the spark that has made the western world rise from the barbarity of the ancient Greeks, Romans, Tartars, Gauls, Huns, Saxons, Jews, Britons and red Indians, and to develop into what we know to be western civilization. Clearly, Christian education is education; otherwise there is mere craft or 'trade school' learning. Christian education is the proved way to life."

"The differential reasoning conclusion is: Christianity should be taught in schools. (Naturally, however, there is no human force that can or should impose Christian education upon the government child care centers, or upon atheists, agnostics, and non-Christians.)"

"Now parent, if you do decide in favor of a Christian education for your child, you will face still other problems. Church schools are scarce and impoverished. Obviously, when parents tried to escape the responsibility of the education of their children by handing it to everybody else (the government) they also asked for less help from their local church in providing daily religious training for their children. Therefore local church day school services have declined greatly, some of them to the vanishing point. Further, the competition of the tax-supported government child care centers has caused the churches that struggled along trying to provide schooling for children, because their members had to support both the government child care centers and their own church school. So you are not likely to find much of a school plant at your local church; it may have many severe faults; it may be entirely unsuitable. Yet how can any school that uses the Bible be worse than those that ignore it?"

"Secondly, the disciplines of free education are not likely, at first, to appeal to your youngsters. However you should not be surprised to see them thrive under this discipline because children enjoy seeing themselves respond to it."

"Thirdly, you may not agree entirely with the particular doctrine of the church where you are able to place your children in day school. In fact you may yourself resist Christian discipline of any kind; you know it is not 'popular' or widely practiced. Yet you should be persuaded to permit your child to be grounded in Bible study. Give him his chance to know where he can find help when he comes to know he needs it."

American Oil Interests Treated Badly In Italy

By RAY TUCKER

ROME — Important American oil interests have been subjected to shabby treatment by Italian politicians with leftist leanings. In fact, these anti-Americans inside and outside the government merely smile and shrug their shoulders when charged with being pro-Communist at heart.

This problem was one of several reasons — all dealing with Italy's continued adherence to the Western Coalition — why Secretary Dulles made a special trip to Rome on his way to the Geneva Conference of Foreign Ministers. He wanted the latest lowdown on this generally untold story from our able Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce. Dulles cannot be too confident or happy over her report of anti-American feeling.

Oil and natural gas are being discovered in the Po Valley to the north, in Sicily, and now in the "boot" at the southern tip of the Peninsula. From an economic and military standpoint, a secure supply of these two fuels can be of great value to Italy and the Western powers.

Italy has no large-scale coal resources, and has had to buy coal for industrial use at high prices because of transportation costs. In fact, many millions of our considerable post-war financial aid has gone for the purchase of this vital commodity. And yet, because of this political and leftist opposition, many of the newly found oil wells remain capped and unused.

In short, American taxpayers buy coal for Italy, but the Italian government refuses to permit private American capital to finance the profitable development of these natural resources.

Two anti-Americans in the oil controversy are Pietro Nenni and Enrico Mattei. Nenni is head of the Communist Party, which has a strong representation in Parliament. He opposes American development on Moscow-inspired, ideological grounds. Secretary Dulles' special side trip to Rome spiked Nenni's planned propaganda campaign against us, showing that the Italians, in their own way, still respect Uncle Sam, even if they do not love us.

Dulles arrived here simultaneously with Nenni's return from Moscow, and the Italian politician had been well briefed by the men in the Kremlin. He was told to blast the American oil interests, and to make a bid on behalf of the Russians. It is the same sort of deal that Moscow has made with Egypt at the eastern end of the vital Mediterranean Sea. If the Reds can get a foothold here, they will control this key waterway.

But Dulles' visit and his expressions of American interest and friendship for Italy blanketed Nenni's report of Moscow offers in the newspapers, except for the scantily circulated Red Press.

Dulles hit the front pages in the respectable and widely-read newspapers. Nenni got scant coverage. It is an ancient political and diplomatic trick, but the Dulles-Luce blackout has worked, at least for the moment. It helped to strengthen, as designed, our bargaining position at Geneva and in future negotiations with the Soviet.

Our other opponent, Enrico Mattei, heads the government's oil monopoly, which handles petroleum problems. He would, of course, lose a great deal of power and prestige if U.S. interests were permitted to explore, produce and market Italy's oil potential.

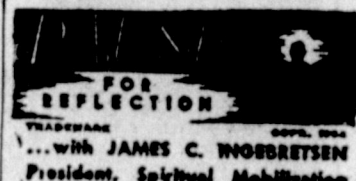

But Mattei and Nenni have powerful support behind them. As is true of almost every European country on the American relief roll, Italians are envious and suspicious of us. All resent the necessity which makes them dependent on our dollars.

The face-to-face bumping into this fact by the delegation of representative Americans on this pioneer flight of Trans World Airlines' new service from California to Europe, has been hard to accept.

The important members of Congress on the trip, who carry great weight on the Appropriations and Armed Services Committees of House, have been impressed by this discovery. They will take their views known at the January session, when the question of more foreign aid comes before House and Senate. I shall report their reaction in a subsequent column, and at their request.

The heart — and heat — of the oil dispute concerns a petroleum development measure that has been kicking around the Roman Parliament for several years. As originally framed, its terms would have invited American investment and development.

As a result of the nationalistic spirit whipped up by Nenni and Mattei, and which the government

...with JAMES C. WOODRUFF, President, Spiritual Mobilization

The Rev. Laurence J. McGinley, S. J., president of Fordham University, in a recent sermon to lawyers in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, declared:

"The social institutions of our nation and of the other free peoples of the world today — constitutional government, free speech, judicial process — have been structured on the basis of a natural moral law and they are unworkable without it."

We need to be repeatedly reminded of this. For we seem to think, too often, that we can ignore moral law and continue to enjoy freedom notwithstanding.

We can't. We may coast along on our momentum, of course, for awhile — like an automobile with a short-circuited ignition system. But eventually freedom will die. And it will not come to life again until things have been put back in order "on the basis of a natural moral law." For, as the Rev. Mr. McGinley so aptly says, "they are unworkable without it."

seems unable or unwilling to check, the bill now discourages U.S. interests. It demands a 60 per cent royalty for Italy, whereas even the rapacious Arabian potentates in the Middle East are content with 50 per cent. The amended measure also contains restrictions on withdrawal of profits, and levies high taxes. On these terms, American capital will not be forthcoming.

As these facts indicate, we are not doing too well in Italy, despite Dulles' emergency visit. To make things worse, Ambassador Luce may have to resign soon because of ill health. Although she gave our delegation a delightful reception at her charming villa, she had to return early because of a severe cold.

Miss West said: "certainly Maclean passed documents to the Soviet Union year in and year out and among them papers concerning atomic energy which he prepared when he was head of the American department."

And not a soul in all Britain can slap a subpoena into her chubby fist and put her under oath. It means simply that people can have personal knowledge of treachery affecting the fate of the British nation and her allies and no obligation to pass it along even to some stupid ass in Whitehall who may be one of the "other homosexuals" referred to. They trust their "officials" more than we trust ours.

Miss West flatly tells us that "most of their protectors were utterly unimpaired by Communism," and no authority can demand that she prove this. Anyway, she didn't know Maclean and Burgess were "tainted" so how good is her judgment here?

How did she happen to be on such terms with those "protectors" of degenerate renegades? Joe McCarthy would want to know who these "protectors" are and how she is so sure that they are untainted.

McCarthy Would Demand More Info On British Spies

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome — This dateline is merely the address from which I am filing information acquired on the run since June. These pieces will deal with Bonn, Geneva, Berlin, moral rearmament, the Malmédy case and other topics.

This explains how I happen to discuss the corruption of the British foreign office, and of both British political parties and the fatuous and dangerous character of the British press under a Rome dateline.

The Maclean-Burgess case is ideal from the standpoint of Americans who agreed with Senator Joe McCarthy. The British politicians and newspapers are scared stiff of "McCarthyism." They should be. McCarthy would rip them open and hang them with their own bloody tripe.

I do not recall reading any specific declaration for or against "McCarthyism" by Miss Rebecca West, a leading English journalist, who recently did a series on Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess, traitorous spies in the British foreign office, specializing in American affairs. But if she were an American and made the statements which she did make in this series and Joe McCarthy was running his committees he would have given her a very hard experience.

Miss West wrote "both men were homosexuals." McCarthy would have asked "how do you know?" She wrote "other homosexuals had come to their aid" in the foreign office. McCarthy would have asked: "what are their names?" And he would have forced Miss West to come clean with those names or face prosecution for contempt of Congress. He would have forced her to give the dates when she was in the company of Maclean and Burgess and to say who else was present and relate conversation. It is easy to understand why the British government, especially the foreign office, and the pompous politicos in command of the Times, The Manchester Guardian and The Daily Telegraph want no part of "McCarthyism."

As it is, Anthony Eden, the prime minister, has arbitrarily refused to appoint a special parliamentary committee to "investigate" the terrible failure of the foreign office, the so-called Security, and the British newspapers, to expose these two traitorous, drunken pansies long ago and to prevent their escape when the so-called Security was supposed to be right on the job. They jumped into France on May 25, 1951 and the Security doesn't exactly know, but the foreign office relies on the word of a renegade Russian Communist in Australia that they were straight to Moscow. The foreign office "white paper" — a meekling excuse for its own incompetence with whiffs of treachery, says that although Maclean was suspected in April, 1951, it would have been risky to question him because he would have been free to run away to Russia.

"The authorities would have had no legal power to stop him," the white paper said, although practically all Britons, even the very best, were prisoners in their homeland for years after the war. They were detained by currency laws, passport restrictions and other red tape. Again, these lying frauds who so ardently abhor "McCarthyism" cross themselves up when they say they were waiting only for Mrs. Maclean to go to a hospital to have her baby to sneak into the Macleans' house as ordinary burglars and search it.

Miss West said: "certainly Maclean passed documents to the Soviet Union year in and year out and among them papers concerning atomic energy which he prepared when he was head of the American department."

And not a soul in all Britain can slap a subpoena into her chubby fist and put her under oath. It means simply that people can have personal knowledge of treachery affecting the fate of the British nation and her allies and no obligation to pass it along even to some stupid ass in Whitehall who may be one of the "other homosexuals" referred to. They trust their "officials" more than we trust ours.

Miss West flatly tells us that "most of their protectors were utterly unimpaired by Communism," and no authority can demand that she prove this. Anyway, she didn't know Maclean and Burgess were "tainted" so how good is her judgment here?

How did she happen to be on such terms with those "protectors" of degenerate renegades? Joe McCarthy would want to know who these "protectors" are and how she is so sure that they are untainted.

Again, she says "many affectionate and benevolent men and women concerned themselves with Maclean and again, McCarthy would ask 'who?' and 'tell us the details.'"

Miss West relates a ghastly episode, probably true, wherein Burgess and "an unavowed group" ran around London spreading the word that pugally Mikhailovich of Yugoslavia, was a fascist. He was anti-Communist while Tito was a bloody-handed Red army commander from the bullpen war in Spain. But Miss West says, "Burgess and his friends were nimble and industrious and did much to create the public opinion which permitted the Allies to abandon Mikhailovich and leave him to be captured and butchered by Tito."

Joe McCarthy would have fun with that because this was a White House job. "McCarthyism" might give Churchill and the widow Roosevelt an uneasy time on that one.

Back in 1920 New York firemen flushed down the sewer manholes priceless evidence among the debris of the Wall Street bomb. The British government and press, in their fear of indignation and scorn, in a word, "McCarthyism," are doing the same thing in this case.

Nevertheless, the accounts coming from Geneva concerning Mr. Dulles' optimism are skeptical, for it is obvious that Russia is still Russia, and that Molotov is still Molotov.

The principal issues before the conference are the question of reuniting divided Germany, of erecting a general European security system, of progressing toward disarmament, and of easing intercourse between the west and the communist world. The first two of these are to be dealt with together, but Mr. Molotov will not handle them that way, and it is obvious that he will not accept a formula for reunification of Germany acceptable either to the West Germans or to the western Allies.

That being so, there are no trading points to offer and the conference is bound to wind up where it started. But Mr. Dulles persists in cultivating optimism because he wants to keep the appearance of negotiation alive and hopes to pass the buck further down the line by handing the issues over to a new "committee of experts" which would prepare the way in turn for another foreign ministers' conference.

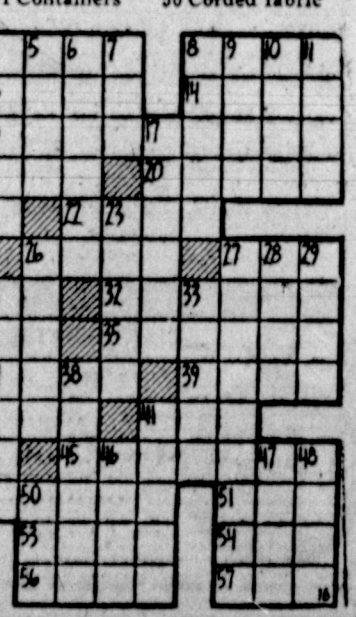

This ring-around-the-rosy can continue without result for an indefinite period, and probably will. Nobody is worse off than when the whole process started with the "summit" meeting, and the situation remains as it has been for a decade.

Russian's Visa To U.S. Cancelled

WASHINGTON—UP—The State Department announced Tuesday that it has canceled a visa for Archbishop Boris of Russia to visit the United States.

The State Department said the archbishop's planned visit to this country was called off because Russia insisted that he be free, while in the United States, to minister to American citizens who are members of the Russian Orthodox Church.

The department said this would be an "unacceptable function." A spokesman explained that such an arrangement would give the Russian churchman rights that Russia has refused to give to an American Catholic priest who is planning to go to Moscow.

HERE ARE MORE HINTS on Christmas gifts you can make yourself put out by the Pfaff Sewing Institute. They really are quite clever and easy to do. I understand there is a Pampa woman who makes pretty and interesting Christmas decorations. I hope to tell you all about it next week.

A GIFT with a personal touch is hard to find, but easy when you do it yourself. A dickerie, monogrammed in gold, can be worn glamorously with soft cashmeres or velveteen suit.

You need: A $1.98 dickerie in plain white or pastel and a spool of heavy gold metallic thread.

To monogram: In pencil, lightly sketch initials for first name on collar. Do it free hand or invest in a monogram transfer pattern. Then with light yellow thread in your machine needle and bobbin, zig-zag metallic thread over initials for an all-gold monogram. For an extra-special touch, zig-zag eight rows of metallic thread down the front of the dickerie to give a gold-tucked effect, worn dramatically with a theatre suit.

WHITE BEIGE, black or blue cotton gloves, decorated for hand appeal to match or complement an outfit, make an unusual and interesting gift. Try it the Pfaff Sewing Institute way for friends and yourself!

You need: Pair of cotton gloves—correct size, of course, but any length or color—and a selection of embroidery thread.

To embroider: Open the seam from the little finger down. Then dial a Pfaff embroidery stitch, a diamond stitch, for instance, gives a colorful harlequin design. The choice of embroidery colors is up to you, but you can try black and red on white gloves; turquoise and orange on beige; rainbow shadings on lemon yellow; and gold on long black gloves for after-dark wear. Add sequin leaves, French knots and seed pearls for gloves' fantasia.

GLAMORIZE a $2 to $5 bolero—correct size, of course, but any jacket into the upper income bracket.

You need: A simple bolero jacket, in the color of your choice; ball fringe, artificial flowers, sequins

PTA Unit Slates Panel Discussion

A panel discussion on behavior patterns of junior high youngsters will be presented at the meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher association in the school auditorium.

Panel members will include Dr. Howard C. Reid of Amarillo, child psychiatrist, who will explain why junior high youngsters act and behave as they do; Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who will discuss the religious responsibilities of parents and the school; A. C. Muse, ninth grade teacher, who will tell of the school and teachers responsibilities; and Mrs. Ruby Capps, who will represent the parents.

Refreshments will be under the direction of mothers of eighth grade students. This committee will include Mrs. Bob Triplehorn, chairman; and Mrs. T. J. Worrell, H. T. Havenhill, Joe Tooley, A. A. Sturgeon, Bernard Boyd, B. M. Underwood, E. J. Barnes, Bob Andis and C. C. Campbell.

BABY
Dogs and cats in households where there are lots of babies and toddlers get used to the mauling they get and learn how to avoid it when the going is rough. But pets in childless households won't be so friendly; so keep Baby away from them.

Baby may reach a plateau on his weight-gaining and not gain a pound for several months. It's generally nothing to fret about unless it goes on too long or he seems to be shooting up and not out or he's otherwise unhappy.

If you are going to travel on an airline with a baby under two, you can probably carry him free. But be sure it is specified on the ticket that you are traveling with Baby so there'll be milk for him, at least.

The girls, and the departments they represent, are, from left: Tina Carreau, Washington, D.C., of the House of Representatives; Marta Teihet, Los Altos, Calif., of the Library of Congress, and Jean O'Neill, New York City, of the Senate. The jury panel was dismissed by Judge Otis Dunagan while the motions were being heard, and was instructed to report back today. One of the motions asks that the case be returned to Duval county. Some 50 witnesses have been subpoenaed for the trial.

One of the defense motions asks dismissal of original indictments against the two men. One of the defense attorneys, Percy Foreman of Houston, contended that there are 14 indictments in Judge Dunagan's district court allegedly covering the same offense, thus putting his clients in double jeopardy.

How to be sure you are making the best buy in a new truck

- A new truck is an important investment. If you want to be sure you're getting the best buy, you've got to consider a lot of things: price, power, operating economy, good appearance—to mention only a few.
- Take price, for instance. Wouldn't it help you to know that you can buy a Dodge for surprisingly little money? Could be you didn't know Dodge trucks cost less than most other makes.
- Wouldn't it help you, too, to get the whole picture on truck power? The fact that Dodge Power-Dome V-8's outpower every other leading truck in the low- and medium-tonnage fields surely is important to your decision.
- And there are other Dodge advantages you'll want to think about—like the business-building beauty of Forward Look styling, and the long life that spread low initial cost over years of dependable service.

➤ It all adds up to this: To be sure of your best truck buy, take a few minutes to talk to your Dodge dealer. Just a phone call will put the wheels in motion.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read III John

We must think of sin in spiritual terms. We have so long thought of sin in terms of moral acts or theological doctrines that it may be difficult to approach the matter from any other angle, but it will pay us to make the experiment.

It is self-evident, of course, that the good life depends upon good physical health. There are those who live radiantly in spite of pain, but ill-health is always a handicap which must be overcome. It is also true that the good life depends upon good mental health. No man can be at his best if he is suffering from tensions, obsessions, fears, or frustrations. We work most effectively when our minds are released from anxieties, melancholy, and inhibitions. He who must always consider his own mood before he sets out on an intellectual adventure is no longer free.

Spiritual efficiency depends upon good spiritual health. Millions of people live fractionally every day, getting only a portion of the joy to which they are entitled, robbed of power and satisfaction by fears, uncertainties, restlessness, and spiritual loneliness. Anything that keeps the body of strength is called "disease." Anything that undermines our mental powers is called a "maladjustment." Anything that robs the human spirit of power, peace, and the sense of security is "sin."

It sometimes happens that sin is a breaking of the moral law. At other times it is an imposition on the human body or a corruption of the mind. But in any case it is that mismanagement of life, deliberate or accidental, which despoils the spirit.

O God, thou hast made me capable of living a great life. I am able to influence people; I will influence them for good. I can add to the spirit of the world about me; I will add good will and kindness. I must stand guard over my spirit. I will keep my soul free from poison. Amen.

Do you know what is robbing you of spiritual power? Are you guilty of some evil habit which keeps you constantly aware of the fact that you are living below the level to which you were born? Are you waiting for someone else to do something about it?

Schoolboy Playoffs Settled This Week

By UNITED PRESS
Eighteen berths in the state playoff must be determined either on the playing field or in district committee meetings this week and to fill out the state's Class A schoolboy football playoff brackets.

Most of them seem sure to be definitely determined on the outcome of games between the two clubs contending for places in the five week post-season grind, but complications exist in some of the districts and three-way ties may result—calling for district committee rulings.

Fourteen teams already have won their playoff right—Hale Center in District 3, Sundown in 4, McCamey in 5, Chillicothe in 9, Rockwall in 12, Van Alstyne in 13, Alto in 18, Crosby in 20, Franklin in 21, Sealy in 25, Bandera in 28, Three Rivers in 29 and Hebbronville in 31.

Winners will automatically qualify for playoff spots in these games:

Stinnett vs. Wellington in District 1, Springlake vs. Happy in 2, Ozona vs. Menard in 6, Ranger vs. Eastland in 7, Albany vs. Haskell in 8, Itasca vs. Glen Rose in 11, San Augustine vs. Joaquin in 17, Woodville vs. Groveton in 19, Elgin vs. Granger in 22, Luling vs. Giddings in 24, and Vanderbilt vs. Tidenhaven in 27.

In District 10, the state's highest scoring team, Louisville, can take it by beating Pilot Point, but Bridgeport gets into a three-way tie with these two clubs if Pilot Point wins.

In 14, Talco can take it all by beating James Bowie. A James Bowie victory leaves those two clubs and Paul Hewitt in a three-way tie.

In 15, Lindale needs a victory over Brownsboro. A Brownsboro victory would leave Quitman and Canton tied for the lead, while a tie game would make it a three-way deadlock with Lindale also involved.

In 23, Mason, Burnet and Llano are all tied for the lead and are expected to win this week, leaving it up to the committee to pick.

In 26, state champion Deer Park can gain the playoffs again only by beating Dickinson. A tie or a loss would give the nod to Needville, which tied Deer Park and led it in penetrations in mid-season.

In 32, Rio Hondo, Lyford and Los Fresnos are tied with the latter having completed its season. If the other two win this week, the district will have to make a choice.

To Fight in France
NEW YORK—Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan will invade France early next year and is being considered for a fight in Paris, Jan. 21. Lew Burston of the International Boxing Club stated Tuesday upon his return from Europe. "Gavilan will meet the winner of a bout between Claude Milazzo and another French middleweight," Burston said.

Michigan, UCLA Can Clinch Rose Bowl Berths With Win This Week

TCU Is Favored Over Rice, Sure Bet For Cotton Bowl

By UNITED PRESS
The TCU Horned Frogs, who can grab the host spot in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2 by beating Rice Saturday, were described Wednesday as being in the best shape of the season by trainer Elmer Brown.

The bright news that everybody is ready to play countered Tuesday's workout which Coach Abe Martin said was "flat." But Martin attributed this to a natural let-down following the great victory

Shockers, Reapers Meet Tonight If Weather Is Good

The Pampa Reapers and the Shockers will meet tonight in a post season game at Harvester Park at 7:30 if the weather is fitting.

Coaches Deck Woltd and Weldon Trice have discussed the game and have decided if the weather is below 40 degrees there would be no reason to play the game since it means nothing in the district standings to either team.

The Shockers will have lost several boys to the Harvester squad and will therefore be weakened and with Gary Wilhelm out with the flu yesterday coaches Trice and Bob Field were not anxious to play.

At the same time coaches Deck Woltd and Norman Phillips have doubts as to the condition of their boys. "The game should be a good one," all coaches agree.

The Shockers lost only one game of the season while the Reapers dropped four of their eight games with a 500 average. The Shockers average was 900.

over Texas last week. He said he expected the Frogs to be keyed up for the Rice game, a homecoming encounter that is expected to draw some 30,000 fans to TCU's Amon Carter Stadium. This would be the largest crowd ever to see a Rice-TCU game at Fort Worth.

At Houston, the Rice Owls put their fastest halfback, T. Homer Borgstedte, in jersey No. 23—the number worn by TCU's fabulous Jim Swink—to run TCU plays against the first and second teams.

Borgstedte enjoyed varying degrees of success, getting away for a few long runs. The Owls scrimmaged until dark.

Three sophomore linemen shone brightest in the SMU Mustangs scrimmage hard for their game with Baylor at Waco Saturday.

They were guards Bobby Beckett and Garry Weber and end Boyd Waggoner. All looked best on bruising tackles and precision blocks.

Trainer Wayne Rudy said that two regulars—guards Don Tiny Goss and fullback Hal O'Brien—were sure to be out of the game because of injuries.

Baylor emphasized passing in Tuesday's long scrimmage, one that saw Doyle Traylor, Bobby Jones and Kenneth Helms all hitting their targets well.

The Arkansas Razorbacks ran through a two-hour practice session that emphasized pass defense, offense and offensive timing.

Saturday, when the Razorbacks meet Louisiana State at Little Rock, has been designated "John Barnhill Day" in Arkansas, in honor of the University of Arkansas athletic director.

The University of Texas and the league-leading Texas Aggies, who do not play Saturday, took things easy but faced hard work coming up before their traditional Thanksgiving Day game at College Station Thursday week.

Golf Dinner Is Scheduled Thursday Nite

The Country Club Golf Dinner will begin at 7:30 Thursday night at the Pampa Country Club with the presentation of trophies and a "Golf Clinic" scheduled after dinner.

The trophy presentation will be the last item on the program with Joe Houck and J. T. Hammett, golf pros from Borger, assisting Hart Warren in the 30 minute golf clinic.

All members who entered the second annual tournament paid for their dinner when they paid their entrance fee and will be charged only for their guest at the meeting Thursday night but all reservations must be turned in by Thursday morning.

The winners of the four flights are urgently requested to be present to receive their trophies. They are in the Championship Flight.

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
Michigan and UCLA will clinch Rose Bowl berths by winning their final conference games this Saturday, the football odds-men predicted Wednesday.

Both victories would carry league championships as well, and the oddsmakers also foresee titles being clinched this week by Princeton in the Ivy League and Oklahoma in the Big Seven. And they say Texas Christian and Pittsburgh will improve their chances of bowl bids by scoring victories.

Michigan was named only a six-point favorite over Ohio State in their battle for the Big Ten crown at Ann Arbor, Mich. An Ohio State upset would give the Buckeyes the league title—but would put Michigan State in the Rose Bowl since Ohio State is ineligible.

UCLA is favored by a mere solid 10 points over Southern California in their nationally-televized game at Los Angeles. The Bruins might get the Pacific Coast Conference title and bowl bid even if they lose, because the odds-men figure second-place Oregon State as a six-point underdog against traditional rival Oregon.

Oklahoma, already assured of a berth in the Orange Bowl and now ranked the nation's No. 1 team, is a 24-point favorite over Nebraska in the game that will give the Sooners the national title.

Don Prigmore, Champion, Dr. Foster Elder, runnerup and C. F. McGinnis, consolation winner.

In the Class A Flight Martin Lantau, winner; John Clark, runnerup; and Al Prigmore, consolation, will be presented with trophies.

Other trophies will be presented to Myron Marx, winner of the Class B Flight; Buck Worley, runnerup and Shorty Lane, consolation. In the Class C Flight Loyal Davies, champion; Otis Nace, runnerup and P. D. Grommon, consolation, will be awarded trophies.

The trophy presentations will be made by Fred Nealage, Pampa Country Club president.

winner the Big Seven championship. The Sooners have won 27 straight games and are unbeaten in 52 straight conference games. Princeton, which seized the Ivy League lead last week by beating Yale is a 12-point favorite to capture the conference crown by beating Dartmouth this week. Should the Tigers stumble, second-place Yale is a 12-point favorite in its 72nd annual game against Harvard.

TCU Over Rice
Texas Christian is a 14-point favorite over Rice, which would move the Horned Frogs within one victory of clinching the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

And Pittsburgh is a six-point favorite over Penn State. Reports from New Orleans are that Pitt now is a good bet to get an invitation to the Sugar Bowl, if it can win this final game.

Here's how the odds-makers view some of the other leading games:

East—Maryland 26 over George Washington, Columbia - Rutgers even, West Virginia 7 over Syracuse.

Midwest—Colorado 15 over Iowa State, Purdue 8 over Indiana, Missouri 7 over Kansas, Wisconsin 7 over Minnesota, Illinois 20 over Northwestern, Kansas State 7 over Oklahoma A&M, Michigan State 35 over Marquette, Detroit - Tulsa even.

Time Out With Tom

By TOMMIE ELLIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Optimist Club is now working on a tremendous project of securing land and funds to erect a building to house the headquarters of the club's boys work activities. The citizens of Pampa received a letter yesterday which called for donations.

The letter:

Six years ago a group of men organized a Pampa Boys Club. This program has grown tremendously since then, as evidenced by the participation of over 600 boys in our programs last year. The Pampa Optimist Club integrated this with their Little League Program last year and feel that the citizens of Pampa can take pride in the success achieved.

By bringing the locations of these programs to a central permanent headquarters we feel we can accomplish considerable more. Presently we have ball diamonds at two locations and our winter program equipment has been moved five times from buildings which were donated for our use as the owners found paying tenants. Our community is growing at a tremendous pace (1000 per year and 47,000 population by 1980). Our civic park area has failed to keep up with our growth and locations for recreation space have practically disappeared.

Now, we believe, is the time for action. Especially since we have an opportunity to purchase ten acres of land practically in the heart of the city, and ideally suited for our purposes, and at a very reasonable cost. We hope to provide three Little League baseball parks leaving plenty of room for playing and a Boys Club Building to house our boys in their activities. We presently have a building in mind we can purchase and remodel, after moving, for boxing, ping-pong, basketball, reading, and T.V.

We have the boys equipment, manpower, the will to serve and supervise these activities. We need your help in a small way to purchase the land and the building. Most are familiar with our program. Many have expressed willingness to help. Here is all we ask. Enclose a check or cash for $2.00 payable to OPTIMIST BOYS WORK FUND, P. O. BOX 802, PAMPA, in addressed envelope enclosed.

We purposely ask for a small amount so that we may give everyone an opportunity to participate. If you want to give more it will be appreciated, but we ask no more. Your Pampa Optimist Club pledges itself to carry through. The letter was signed by John B. Schofield Club president, and John F. Campbell, boys work chairman.

Further developments of this project will be discussed in this column.

Well here it is almost the end of the football season and most of the bowl officials are hunting a team to play come New Year's day. Looks like Navy might get the Cotton Bowl invitation to play the winner of the Southwest Conference, that is if Texas A&M doesn't win.

The governing body of the Southwest Conference has made it plain that the Aggies won't play if they win or not. The regulation passed recently barring them supersedes all regulations previously set down. We were kinda hoping the sophomore from A&M would get to play but then if the recruiting practices weren't up to standard it's only right to bar the college.

Things don't seem to be going too good for the Harvesters since they haven't won a district game. We know that the boys have been trying and we also know that they have the desire to win but just can't seem to keep a drive going. The coaches work as hard as the boys too.

Well they meet the Lubbock Westerners this week. The game was originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon but now has been set for Friday night. Guess the teams had rather play Friday night anyway. It interfered with the Texas Tech, College of the Pacific game.

Wonder too if the Pampa Borger game scheduled for Thanksgiving day shouldn't be played on Friday or Saturday with the Texas-Texas A&M game on television that afternoon. It will be televised live from College Station. Then on the other-hand the game will put the pressure on the two teams to stay out of the cellar. That should get some of the Pampa fans out that haven't been coming and also the fact that Borger and Pampa are rivals as much as Pampa and Amarillo should give some fans reasons for attending.

See where Jerry Walker is still ailing and probably won't be in the lineup when Texas Tech meets College of the Pacific in Lubbock this week end. Jim Sides will be looking for his 51st successive carry without being thrown for a loss though. Understand too that the Kilgore Rangerettes are going to be on hand to honor Beatie Feathers, Tech assistant coach, upon his induction into Football's Hall of Fame.

Trophies are going to be presented to the winners of the Second Annual Country Club Golf Tournament this Thursday night. All participants of the tournament have been asked to attend and to get their reservations in by Thursday morning. Hart Warren, golf pro, asked that all winners be on hand to receive their trophies and the losers be there and cheer them. "Call 'em trophy hunters, or whatever you like."

Haven't made any predictions recently since my average dropped so low. I don't guess so good especially in the Southwest Conference. Then too the IAAAA district is just about as bad. It has been called the Little Southwest Conference.

LEO NEWMAN

BOB GEIGEL

Grudge Battle Unreel Here

The Pampa Shrine Club has signed Dory Funk and Leo Newman to meet in one main event tonight. It will be a two out of three fall match with no time limit set. One way or another the grudge should be settled tonight at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club.

The grudge has been going for three weeks since Newman brought a bolt into the ring and gave Funk a good working over. Dory Funk has been wrestling under probation and that has been lifted. He should go all out tonight to settle the feud.

In the other main event Art Nelson, the Southwest States Champion, will wrestle an exhibition match with former Champion Bob Geigel. It will consist of two out of three falls with one hour time limit. Geigel, who has been away, did not defend his title and Nelson won it during a tournament. Should Geigel win he can demand a title match with Nelson.

In the leadoff match Luis Martinez will take on Jack O'Reilly. The match will consist of one fall with a 20 minute time limit. Last week's first match went the limit and ended in a draw with Martinez ready for the pin on Bob Geigel at the bell. The action is generally fast and furious in the short matches.

Dunbar High Sets Cage Tourney

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Dunbar High School has scheduled an invitational basketball tournament for Saturday, November 19. The tourney will be played in the high school gymnasium and invitations have been sent to Borger, Pampa, Wellington, and Chilress. William Montgomery, coach of the Dunbar Dragons and Dragonettes announced.

The meet will begin at 9:45 a.m. with a drawing to determine opponents in the competition. The first session is slated at 10:30 a.m. and second session at 2:30 p.m. Highlight of the tourney will be the presentation of "Miss Tournament" at 7:30 p.m. Finals in the tournament are slated for 8:30 p.m.

Orange Bowl Bound Terps Face Tough Washington

COLLEGE PARK, Md. —UP— Maryland Coach Jim Tatum warned his cocky Terrapins Wednesday they should take their eyes off the Orange Bowl long enough to avoid tripping over a booby trap named George Washington University.

Eddie Stanky Charged As Disorderly

MOBILE, Ala. —UP— Mobile county officials said Wednesday an order has been issued for the arrest of manager Eddie Stanky of the Minneapolis Millers on charges of disorderly conduct.

The officials said Stanky, peppy former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was given a parking ticket for parking his car in front of the First National Bank in an area marked "reserved for armored cars." But he tore up the citation while the issuing officer watched, and then drove off before he could be arrested.

Mobile county officials said Stanky would be arrested when he returns to this county from his home in Baldwin county. They said no effort would be made to have him returned, because they feel sure he will return of his own volition within the next few days.

Washington has one of the finest first teams in the country and will be out to get us."

Big Jim pointed out that GW held powerful West Virginia to a 13-7 score, gave Florida a tough battle and lost to Richmond last week "only because they were looking ahead to the Maryland game."

"It's hard to get the kids up for GW," Tatum conceded. "The only incentive they have is to wind up the year unbeaten. All they're thinking about is getting even with Oklahoma."

Tatum didn't say so, but that's probably all he's thinking about, too. Oklahoma's Orange Bowl victory in 1953 was hard for Tatum to swallow than fish-flavored mineral oil. It was only 7-0, but Maryland blew a glittering chance in the first quarter when the Sooners stopped them one yard away from a score. And some of the Terp players claimed Oklahoma's lone touchdown—a 27-yard run — was made possible by some blocking

Pitt, Tech Are Sugar Prospects

NEW ORLEANS —UP— Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech Wednesday moved to the forefront as the teams most likely to meet in the Sugar Bowl football classic here Jan. 1.

But both selections hinged on a number of "ifs."

Sugar Bowl officials, who saw Pittsburgh spill West Virginia from the bowl road last Saturday, came away with glowing praise for the Panthers, a team that blossomed this year after several mediocre seasons.

Although beaten by Oklahoma, Navy and Miami this season, Pittsburgh seems to be climbing back towards the pinnacle of the 1957 team that spilled Washington in the Rose Bowl.

The big "if" for Sugar Bowlers will be the Panthers performance this Saturday against Penn State. A Sugar Bowl bid for Pitt could well ride on the outcome.

Georgia Tech of the Southeastern Conference seems headed for its third appearance in the Sugar Bowl. Mississippi could take the SEC crown, but the Rebels, beaten here last year by Navy, 21-0, appear to be eyeing the Cotton Bowl with favor, especially if Texas Christian is the host team.

However, Tech, which has lost to Auburn and has a tie with Tennessee, could be ousted under the tight conditions by surprising Vanderbilt or Tennessee.

Turpin to Try Comeback

TEEN TOPICS

By HELEN STEWARD

Royal people are to be found all over PHS now. With all the organizations having elections, there are kings and queens all over the place.

A Cappella choir has chosen Betty Hogsett and Leon Wood to be their king and queen this year.

Pretty red-haired Carolyn Miller was the Spanish Club's choice of queen. Carolyn will be the guest of honor at the annual Spanish Club banquet and she will enter a contest with Spanish queens from all over West Texas.

Mary Kennedy, who also served as Oil Progress Queen, was crowned Band Sweetheart in the ceremony at the Odessa game.

The Future Farmers designated Carol Carnes as their sweetheart. Vocational Industrial Club chose Lois Snyder to be their "Sweetie."

Another queen will be chosen soon, the Homecoming Queen of 1956. She is to be a member of the honored classes.

According to Mrs. Roy Hall, who is president of the Alumni Association, (she's Marcheta Hall's mother), the Classes of 1906-1920 will be honored at the doings.

A coffee and registration will be held at 9 a.m. Thursday morning. Half-time activities honoring the ex-students will be presented at the Bergerger football game that afternoon.

All you past graduates of PHS be sure to be at the coffee. You will see a lot of old friends.

Debaters have been debating their heads off this week getting ready for the tournament they will attend tomorrow in Goodwell, Okla. Several debates were staged in classes today with students acting as audience and judges.

Ted Swindle and John Jones, and Malcolm Brown and Frank Oulther are the two teams to be entered in the contests tomorrow.

Also taking a trip this week are several journalists from PHS. They will attend a convention at Texas Tech in Lubbock Saturday. In order to get to Lubbock in time for the Harvest game Friday night, they will leave right after school Friday.

There are more and more new things.

Now a Hot Rod Club has been organized. Mobil Gas is sponsoring the group which is still deciding on a name. "Texans" is the name they are considering.

The club is open to anyone who is interested in "cars," Smittys, acceleration and all that stuff. They meet on Thursday nights at 7:30. If you want to go, you'll have to ask one of the members where, because they haven't got a permanent meeting place yet. There are about 18 members, mostly high school boys. Charles Reeves is president; William (Tolbert) Koen is vice-president, and Paul Underwood is secretary and treasurer.

LET'S GO—This is the way Martians look, according to a night-club show in Paris, France. "Agnes the Martian" is presumably the reason so many would-be space travelers are eager to get to the planet.

Many Daffodils
RIPLEY, Tenn. — UP — Mrs. Walter Padgett, called the "Daffodil Lady," started growing the plants 20 years ago to "get out in the sunshine," and now grows 1,600 varieties.

Approximately 16,000 people die of tuberculosis in the United States every year.

The club plans to use the old air strip east of town for its track. They are planning to get jackets soon, too.

The quartet who came out on the floor "one quart short," in pep rally Friday were really good. Mr. Marsh was the "quart" who came running on late. Someone said he was more like a half-pint than a quart.

Nevertheless, he sang real pretty, so did the other three "Quarts" who were Mr. Webb, Mr. Irby and Mr. Morgan. The students liked them a lot; man, were they cool!

Joan Robertson and Ted Swindle are the favorite people of PHS, so the elections last week show. These two seniors picked were All-School Favorites.

Carol Henry and Buddy Sharp, also seniors, were runners up.

Class favorites are being picked now. Nominated are Pat Gorman, Marsha Rogers, Carol Roundtree, Sherilan Sikes, Raina Storms, Buster Baird, Jim Hopkins, Robert Langford, Frank Snow and Bill Walsh, sophomores; Rhona Finkelshtein, Mary Innon, Nancy Moore, Wadene Thomasson, Sandra Walsh, Carroll Cole, Earl Cooper, Jerry Don Hopkins and Bill and Burr Kirby, juniors; Sheila Chisholm, Carol Henry, Peggy Olivolo, Martha Skelly, Mary Young, Don Babcock, Mike Price, Dicky Ray, Melvin Romine and Buddy Sharp, seniors.

To err is human. If enough people signed up he is an extra-human human because last week I hit the jackpot of mistakes.

Earl Cooper really isn't president of the Sophomore Class and Jesse Ring isn't up from the Shockers like I said.

If enough people signed up before 3:30 today, a bus load of students will ride to Lubbock for the game Friday night. It cost five dollars.

Quill and Scroll members really had a party last night. Big club steaks cooked over an open fire were served with all the trimmings.

Um-m-m-m, boy. The Junior Red Cross drive is on this week. Posters are up in the halls urging everyone to give. In assembly yesterday, Mr. James Patterson told of the many things the money is spent for like first aid supplies, pencils, soap and clothing for children of war-torn countries.

When donation time comes, remember, as Mr. Patterson said, "All are brothers."

This time we get a reward for taking six-weeks exams — two days of holidays.

That is only next week, too.

Texan Sought In Kidnap Of Own Son, 4

ITHACA, N. Y. — UP — The search for a Texas father accused of kidnaping his four-year-old son from a nursery school here extended into Pennsylvania Tuesday.

The child, Phillip Sainburg II, was snatched from the school Monday by two men, one of whom was identified as the boy's father, Dr. Frank P. Sainburg, a Longview, Tex., surgeon.

An attendant at the school identified the father and told police he and another man took the boy from his classroom and sped away in an automobile.

An alarm was issued for Pennsylvania police to be on the alert for the two men. Police said they understood Dr. Sainburg had a "brother living in Allentown."

A kidnap warrant was issued for Dr. Sainburg and a John Doe warrant for the unidentified accomplice.

Police Chief William Simmers said the warrant for Dr. Sainburg had been issued several months ago on the expectation that he would try to regain custody of the boy. It was the second time the infant had disappeared in the last two years.

The first time, Dr. Sainburg lost a custody court fight in Texas when the court awarded the child to his mother, the former Doris Blanchard.

Phillip had attended St. John nursery school.

Quake Indicated In Aleutian Area

PASADENA, Calif. — UP — Seismologists at the California Institute of Technology reported that "incomplete information" indicated an earthquake of 6.2 magnitude occurred early Tuesday about 2500 miles away.

Dr. Charles F. Richter of the seismological laboratory said the quake at about 2:13 a.m. (pst) "might" have been in the area of the Aleutians.

Lawyers Say Matusow Is Not Guilty

FORT WORTH — UP — If Harvey Matusow, who has made a career out of being an ex-Communist, is guilty of anything it is lying, his attorneys argued in Fort Worth Tuesday before the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Matusow seeks reversal of a three-year sentence for criminal contempt.

U.S. District Judge R. E. Thomson, El Paso, held the smooth-talking, 29-year-old man guilty of criminal contempt on March 16.

Last year, Matusow was the government's star witness against Clinton E. Jencks, official of the Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Jencks was tried and found guilty of making a false statement to the National Labor Relations Board in which he said he was not a Communist. He was sentenced to five years in prison.

In January this year, Jencks filed a motion for a new trial based on a statement from Matusow that he lied during the trial.

Judge Thomson held that Matusow had committed fraud and used his statements as a hoax to boost sales of his book, "False Witness."

The judge also stated that Jencks' union had "subsidized" writing of the book.

Matusow's lawyers, Joseph A. Calamia and Wellington Chew of El Paso, Tex., and Stanley Faulkner of New York, argued Tuesday that his statements did not constitute contempt.

If he is guilty of anything, which they do not admit, it is perjury, they said.

Passenger Service End Requested

TYLER, Tex. — UP — The Cotton Belt Railway has filed application with the Texas Railroad Commission requesting authority to discontinue its daily passenger trains now being operated between Tyler and Texarkana and between Dallas and Mount Pleasant.

Officials of the railroad in Tyler said the company has been losing more than a half million dollars each year in the operation of its passenger trains between Tyler, Dallas and St. Louis, Mo.

The direct loss sustained last year in operating its passenger trains in Texas, as stated in the Cotton Belt's application, was about $165,000.

Officials said if the Cotton Belt is given permission to discontinue its passenger trains, arrangements will be made for handling small express shipments out of Tyler by truck and carload express shipments will be handled on fast manifest freight trains of the railroad.

Ramsey To Attend Fete For Johnson

AUSTIN — UP — Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey has announced plans to attend the Lyndon B. Johnson appreciation banquet in Whitney next Monday night.

Ramsey, newly appointed national Democratic committeeman from Texas, said he was going to Chicago Tuesday for a meeting of the Democratic national committee.

Ramsey said he secured postponement of a law case so he could attend the Whitney meeting where Central Texans will pay tribute to the Senate majority leader.

Ramsey praised Johnson as a "lover of strength to us in Texas, and a workhorse for the Democratic party."

Tickets for the banquet, to be held in the Whitney gymnasium, are on sale in 14 Central Texas counties and in Austin, Fort Worth and Dallas. Proceeds go to the national Democratic party.
