GOOD PROGRESS is being made on the McLean Clinic which is expected to be finished between Feb. 1-15. Work began last Nov. 15 on the 40 x 70 foot white brick structure which is rising rapidly with the laying of bricks. Shown above laying the bricks are McLean workmen Gene Swafford, C. H. Kelly and J. L. Crofford. Spears-McPherson are the local contractors for the work. C. P. Callahan, a member of the building committee, is helping to supervise the construction. (News Photo)

Israel Warns Egypt It Is Prepared For War

New Israeli Attack Is Claimed By Nasser Forces

JERUSALEM, Dec. 17 — UP — Israel warned Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser Saturday that "if you want war, we are ready."

At the same time, Egypt charged that Israeli forces attacked Egyptian positions with automatic weapons in a 20-minute battle in the southern sector of the Gaza Strip.

The Israeli radio bluntly told Nasser to remember 1948 when Jewish troops held off the combined military might of the Arab nations. It suggested that Nasser "reconsider your warlike call."

The broadcast was in answer to Nasser's announcement earlier this week that future Israeli aggression would be met with two-front retaliation by Egypt and Syria.

Complaint Filed to UN

In a formal complaint to the UN Mixed Armistice Commission, Egypt charged that the Israeli attack in the Gaza Strip took place last Thursday. Official Egyptian sources said there were no Egyptian casualties.

The new charge against Israel came as the UN Palestine truce team promised a speedy report on a bloody Israeli raid on Syria to help the UN Security Council decide whether it should punish Israel.

Syria demanded strict economic sanctions against the Jewish state.

Syrian Students Strike

An estimated 75,000 Syrian students Saturday staged a strike and joined nationwide demonstrations demanding that neighboring Jordan stay out of the Baghdad pact.

The demonstrators carried banners demanding that Syria "annex" Palestinian Jordan east of the Jordan River, if necessary, to prevent the new pro-British Jordanian government from joining the new "northern tier" alliance.

Reports reaching Damascus from Jordan, which were strictly censored, said a state of emergency had been declared through Jordan following nationwide riots Friday in which 40 policemen and soldiers were reported killed or wounded.

The new firmness was attributed to the Russians' renewal of the cold war, following their refusal to consider any of the West's proposals for peace at the foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva last month.

Authoritative sources said the Eisenhower administration is considering plans to streamline its program for aid to underdeveloped countries to meet Soviet efforts to infiltrate Asia and the Middle East.

No notable increase in U. S. aid appropriations is anticipated, they said, but the present "scatter-shot" method of dispensing the money may be revised to permit coordinated financing of such long term projects as Egypt's Aswan Dam.

Ike Needs A Vacation

By MERRIMAN SMITH
GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 17 — UP — President Eisenhower's heart specialist Saturday prescribed a brief after-Christmas vacation in the South to speed the chief executive's "excellent and encouraging" recovery.

Bids Accepted On Clinic Equipment

The Gray County Commissioners received bids on new equipment for the McLean Clinic Saturday morning in County Court.

The Commissioners accepted the four bids of the following firms: Elliott Office Supply, Amarillo, which bid $744.83 on office equipment; Southwest and Johnson, Dallas, which bid $4,589.50 on a new X ray table and dark room equipment with installation; Hunter Hospital Supply Co. of Amarillo, which bid $509.35 on a B & L microscope, condenser, lens, and microscopic equipment; and Melton Clark Inc., Dallas, which entered a bid of $278.63 for a refrigerated drinking fountain to be placed in the reception room.

The terms of court were set for civil and criminal cases to be tried in 1956. Commissioners set the January term to begin in the same month and to continue in session through the last day of March. The April term was set to begin on the first day of July and to continue in session through the last day of September, and the October term was set for the first day of October to continue through the last day of December. All terms are effective Jan. 1, '56.

Commissioners Court will meet again on Dec. 22 to consider construction bids for the extension of Highland General Hospital. They will meet on Dec. 31 to wrap up the business of the year, and again on Jan. 2.

E. Germans Tighten Berlin Noose

BERLIN, Dec. 17 — UP — East German Communists tightened the border control noose around West Berlin Saturday by shutting down railway exits to the isolated Western sector.

Alfred Neumann, first secretary of the Berlin Communist party, said the Western sector's anti-Red policy would "isolate West Berlin still more" and bring "serious disadvantages" for West Berliners.

He told West Berlin workers to band together with the Reds to overthrow the West Berlin city government.

Neumann described West Berlin as "an island, a lost position," and implied that four-power rule in Berlin is dead as far as East Germany is concerned.

The East German Communists ordered police reinforcements to the border to control traffic between West Berlin and surrounding Communist territory. West Berlin police described the new controls as "strong."

The Red police checked trains en route from the Soviet sector to West Berlin in an apparent effort to catch smugglers and to stem the flow of refugees to the West.

The Communists closed exits leading to West Berlin at the only two elevated railway stations on the East-West city border. Police barred the exits with large iron gates.

The only way passengers could reach Berlin was by a roundabout route from exits in the Soviet sector. This meant enduring stricter border controls.

Ike's Doctors Delay Second Term Nod

By DEAN W. DITTMER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 — UP — President Eisenhower's doctors Saturday put off until at least mid-February the anxiously awaited word on whether he will be able to seek a second term next year.

The delay may cause some distress to Republican champing to get into the 1956 presidential race if Mr. Eisenhower does not run again. Friends of Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) have said he wants to announce his intentions by Feb. 1.

But the White House apparently will not be hurried. Dr. Paul Dudley White, after an examination of the President at Gettysburg, fixed a target date of mid-February for "a medical estimate as to the ability of his heart to stand" the strain of a second term.

No Hesitancy for Democrats

There was no such hesitancy on the part of Democrats to announce for their party's campaign, Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 nominee, Sen. Estes Kefauver (Tenn.) and Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio already are avowed candidates. Lausche is a favorite son. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York has not announced but he has sounded like a candidate in his speeches.

Kefauver, who announced his candidacy Friday, said he would enter the California primary June 5, thus precipitating an early head-on clash with Stevenson.

Informed sources said he probably also will enter primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Florida after he names his campaign staff Tuesday. Stevenson also plans to enter the Florida primary May 25.

Other Developments

In other political developments: The Democratic Digest, official publication of the national committee, listed what it called "the 10 top issues" of next year's campaign and challenged GOP charges that Democrats deliberately blocked the President's legislative program.

Among the 10 major issues, the Digest listed "falling farm income, tax favoritism for the rich, the public power giveaway, favoritism for big business, the GOP anti-labor policy, the school crisis and the monopolies."

It cited the voting records of both parties in congress to indicate "five conspicuous instances in which the Democrats gave the 'go signal' to administration legislative proposals.

All Three Issues Pass In School Bond Election Here

In a heavy turnout yesterday Pampa's voters okayed the $2,225,000 bond issue of the school expansion program. It was the largest election ever held by the Pampa Independent School District, drawing the biggest participation and turnout, and for the largest consideration.

Here is the box score:

Voting for the bonds — 725. Voting against the bonds — 131. Adoption of Senate Bill 116 — 171.

Adoption against adoption — 121. Adoption of the tax rate 761. Voting against the rate — 121. Adoption of Senate Bill 116 approved taxation of up to $1.50 per $100 valuation of property for maintenance purposes. The old tax rate was $1.25 per $100 property valuation. Under provisions of the bill, the School District was authorized to raise additional taxes in order to pay on the bonded indebtedness. The Board of Education is highly pleased with the outcome of the election, and plans to begin work on the extension to the Lamar Elementary as soon as possible. The second-building project to be undertaken will be the construction and equipment of a new junior high school.

The election results ushered in the largest expansion program ever undertaken by the school district. A new junior high school capable of accommodating 800 students, a six-room addition to Lamar Elementary, and a 16-room elementary building.

R. R. Cantrell, architect, has been working on plans for the new 16-room elementary school to be built in the new Eraser addition, north of Fairview Cemetery, facing Duncan St.

The election also approved the building and furnishing of a new shop building at Pampa High School, acoustical treatment for the high school field house, remodeling of the present junior high school building (cafeteria, band room, and business office), stage curtains and cyclorama for the seven elementary buildings, paving on Decatur and Duncan St., classroom equipment for the new elementary and Lamar school (for 22 classrooms), equipment for the new junior high school (auditorium seating, classrooms, and library equipment), and cost of the junior high school and the two elementary building sites, and alterations on the present high school building.

Remodeling of the present junior high school will tentatively include tearing down the old red brick building, which has become a familiar landmark.

Lefors Sets Santa Day Activities

LEFORS — (Special) — The annual Santa Day activities in Lefors will be held Wednesday afternoon with a parade featuring Santa Claus himself.

Santa will be seen in the parade which will form at the High School building and proceed down through town. Constable Charlie Clendennan will clear the traffic ahead so Santa can greet all the good little boys and girls.

The parade is being sponsored by the merchants of Lefors and the city of Lefors with a promise of candy for the kids and a good time for all.

The parade starts at 3 p. m. and festivities end with the passing out of candy on the town square.

Santa said that he was going to ride on a fire truck in the parade so all the children could see him, because he knew they would all be in bed asleep when he came calling again on Christmas Eve night.

Survey Shows Property Is Valuable In Top O' Texas

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles concerned with the economic survey of the city made by Burt C. Blanton, consulting industrial engineer and business economist. The first story dealt with the number and distribution of inhabitants, the second article was based on the scholastic enrollment in the public schools and the number of families living in Pampa.)

The primary business district of Pampa covers about 45 city blocks, including the downtown business section. Values of property located in this district will average in range from $700 to $1,000 per front foot. Of course, this wide range is dependent upon location and other important factors.

Covering about 22 city blocks is the 80 to 100 per cent retail area of the downtown business district. Values in this retail area depending upon location and relevant factors will range from $1300 to $1,600 per front foot. The average rental ranges from about $13 to $18 a month per foot (on a lease basis).

In the secondary business district of Pampa the average values per front foot of business property ranges from $250 to $800. In the high class residential sections of the city values average from about $500 to $800 per frontage. The value of average class residential property ranges from $140 to $200.

Rentals of office space in the downtown business district range from $1 to $3 per square foot per year. The average rentals of high class residential areas based on dwellings of five to 12 rooms ranges from $100 to over $125 per month. Average class residential rentals for homes of five to 12 rooms extend from $50 to $100 per month.

The average costs of constructing factory and mill buildings within the area according to the report are as follows: reinforced concrete buildings — range in cost per cubic foot from 25 to 40 cents; brick buildings — extend from 40 to 60 cents in cost per cubic foot; and frame buildings — range from 40 to 55 cents.

Value of farm and ranch land in Gray County as predicated on land adaptability classification is presented as follows:

Range in cost per acre:

First Class Farm Land — $75 to $150

Second Class Farm Land — $35 to $75

First Class Grazing Land — $35 to $50

Second Class Grazing Land — $20 to $35

TOTAL BUILDING PERMITS

The total value of building permits issued in the city through December 1 is $977,285 more than the value of permits issued in 1954 according to the monthly reports of the City Engineer's office. Permits issued totaled $3,828,511 through Dec. 1. Although Blanton forecast that permits would reach $4,365,290 this year his estimate seems a little excessive. A peak in the total value of building permits issued covering all types of construction was reached in 1953 with a total value of $5,821,740. Pampa has never before or since approached that number but it is coming closer to it this year than ever.

Building permits totaled $2,287,187 in 1953 following the "peak" in 1953 following the "peak" (See SURVEY, Page 3).

Unveiling Of Nativity Scene Set Tomorrow

The lighting of the Nativity Scenes in Central Park tomorrow night will be heralded with great ceremony, carols, narrators, and organ music. The scenes will be lit at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Lynn Boyd, chairman of the program, said yesterday that she was hoping for a good turnout. The public is invited to attend the annual event.

The program will be held in the southwest area of the park. In case of inclement weather, the program will be held at the Park House.

Opening the program will be Sue Johnson on the organ, to be followed by the singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful" by the combined chorus of the junior and senior high school A Cappella Choirs.

"Through the long ages, since the exile from the Garden of Eden, the longing and desire for the coming of the Savior burned in the hearts of the chosen people" . . . will begin the first narration at the scene. "The promise of a Redeemer." Dan Teed and Lynn Follwell, members of the high school Thespian Club, will alternate on narration.

Following the first scene, the carol, "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," will be sung by the A Cappella Choir. And then will come the brass introduction which precedes each section. A 14-piece brass section, made up from the junior and senior high school bands, will be directed by Bill Tregoe, high school band director, and Joe Di Cosimo, director of the junior-high band.

The next section of the program will be the scene of the "Annunciation to Mary," followed by the carol, "Ave Maria," featuring the solo of Norma Balch of the girls' chorus.

"The Wise Men Coming" will be the next scene viewed, followed by the Christmas Carol, "We Three Kings." (See NATIVITY, Page 3)

Quake Shakes California

EL CENTRO, Calif., Dec. 17 — UP — New earthquakes jolted cities in the lush Imperial Valley Saturday posing a threat to the All-American Canal, the arid region's vital water link, and causing further light damage to residential and business structures.

A shock at 11:35 a. m., second sharpest of a series of "rumple" which began jiggling the area late Friday, was followed by another at 11:55 a. m. Saturday.

There were no reports on injury or major damage. Store windows were smashed; ceilings bucked and water pipes were broken.

Seismologists were able to count "about 30" separate shakers since 7:30 Friday night, but an attendant on the canal made a private count of "at least 67."

The canal feeds water from the Colorado River into the area that once was barren but now is a multi-million dollar agricultural region. Engineers said a major jolt conceivably could seriously damage it.

Preliminary checks revealed, however, that the moderate to light shocks thus far have failed to injure it.

The jolts hit the major Valley cities of El Centro, Brawley, and Calexico as well as smaller outlying towns. Apparently they stemmed from sub-surface activity somewhere in Baja California, south of the Mexican border.

There was no panic, residents reported, and "business is going on as usual."

"Nobody is leaving town," one El Centro resident said, "but everybody's got a nervous laugh about it."

The last major quake in the Imperial Valley killed four persons in 1940. None of the previous big quakes had any similarity to the pattern of the current earth shivers.

United Fund: $44,583.70

A sum of only 138 came in between last Wednesday and Saturday morning. The campaign totaled $44,583.70 Wednesday morning.

A number of cards are still out, reported Mrs. Gee.

Odd Things Happen On Wall Street

NEW YORK, UP—Some strange things happened in Wall Street Friday—all of them attributable to Christmas.

Trading came to a halt on the New York Stock Exchange for several minutes and a giant bank made a loan without collateral or even a signature.

Activity at the world's biggest securities exchange halted for 45 boys between the ages of seven and 13 entered the exchange's visitors gallery overlooking the trading floor.

All eyes saw them. Trading stopped immediately and about $4 million worth of business was delayed. There was a hush, one similar to the two-minute silence on Armistice Day.

Then a home-soprano voice began singing "Silent Night." The other members of the world-famous St. Vincent Ferrer boys choir joined in. Their young voices drifted over the huge trading floor and filled the cavernous room.

Their singing so impressed Keith Funston, president of the exchange, that he decided to give each one a silver dollar. This touched off some high finance not frequently seen in Wall Street.

Sombody ran over to the Chase Manhattan Bank—their first stop on the old largest and negotiated a quick short-term loan for 50 cartwheels, which were given to the boys.

U.S. Agricultural Research Moves To Better Its Efforts

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—UP—The government's agricultural research service is never satisfied. Once it develops a new technique or a new product it keeps grinding out studies and reports trying to better its efforts in behalf of agriculture.

A case in point is control and eradication of the European corn borer. Research service scientists have been plugging away for years at the problem of eliminating the corn borer, a deadly insect in the corn belt. During this time, scientists developed effective spray insecticides to be used against the borer. Now they have come up with another: DDT in granular form.

Experiments carried on in the last three years have shown that granular insecticides have 100 percent control than spray applications. The scientists recommend the application of about 15 to 20 pounds of 5 per cent granular DDT to an acre. The DDT looks much like granulated sugar. It is sifted over the corn rows and rolls down into the whorls of growing leaves.

Date Not So Vital

The scientists say there is a good possibility that, since the granular insecticide works its way into the leaves than the spray, the date of application might not be so vital. The granular form would remain near the center of borer feeding for a long er time.

The new granular insecticide should become popular with corn belt farmers. It is easy to handle and can be applied without the fuss that usually goes along with spraying. The granules come in ready-to-use form. That means no more mixing and water hauling.

Take another case. The research service is not satisfied with grapes. It is developing three new strains—one eastern grape and two southern Muscadines—which are larger than the old Loretto variety and seem to have the fine qualities of the grapes from which they were developed. Some grapes showed up in the experiments three times the size of the normal Loretto. In the Muscadines the new strains were twice as large as their forebears.

Disease Kills Insects

The service also has discovered a nematode or worm-like disease that kills a great many insect pests. It has proved deadly to the codling moth, the corn earworm, the boll weevil, the pink bollworm, the vegetable weevil and the white-fringed beetle. The nematode, which does not injure man, plants or animals, pierces the intestines of insect larvae or adults and releases bacteria that multiply rapidly. Tests have shown that this hardy nematode can be added to an insecticide.

A "systemic" cotton insecticide, applied as a seed treatment, has proved highly effective in controlling the early season cotton pests. The chemicals in the systemic application are readily absorbed into the seed and grow up with the plant, retaining the ability to control several types of insects and mites that attempt to feed on young cotton.

The agriculture researchers have also developed a bait spray that provides effective, low-cost control of all kinds of destructive fruit flies. Because the bait spray attracts the flies, complete coverage of all foliage on each tree is not necessary.

Record Shove On Pipeline Is Completed

HOUSTON, Dec. 17—UP—Possible by the longest continuous pipeline "shove"—12 miles in the history of the industry has been completed in the Louisiana marshes by Brown & Root, Inc.

In pipeline parlance a "shove" is the job of joining together lengths of pipe and floating them forward through a ditch or canal as each joint is added. The "big push" occurred three miles east of Cameron, La., a part of the 38-mile contract Brown & Root has with the American Louisiana Pipe Co.

Ed Minor, pipeline manager for Brown & Root, said the extraordinary undertaking was necessary when permission could not be obtained from landowners to dig a flotation canal in which a lay barge could have been used in the conventional pipe-laying manner.

"The only alternative was to dig a ditch and float the pipe through the 12-mile long marsh, since the surrounding terrain was too soft for land equipment," Minor said.

Minor said a total of 9,000 empty 55-gallon oil drums were used to float the 16-inch concrete-coated pipe through a narrow water-filled canal. As many as seven drums to the joint of pipe were strapped on with wire in order to float the string as it was pushed along.

The heavy pipe, a total of 12,421,000 pounds of it, had to be shoved around the bends of two long curves which the shape of the water-filled ditch involved.

Two-way rafts were used to synchronize the string's movements.

With this particular section of land crossed, the next step of the big operation will be another "shove" of 44,000 feet of the same type of pipe although this will be done from a lay barge in a dredged canal.

Hollywood Stars Going All Out To Decorate For Xmas

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD, UP—Christmas in Hollywood is snowed under the sunbaked, but this year the film stars mad up for it with the fanciest Yuletide decorations in history.

Liberace's neighbors are used to his amazing house with its backyard fence decorated with musical notes. But even they were startled to see a huge lighted Santa playing a piano by that same candelabra atop his roof. Next to Santa are reindeer and huge glittering stars.

Piano music—Liberace's, of course—is spread around the neighborhood from loudspeakers.

Well, I'm the mayor of Sherman Oaks and I sorta felt I wanted to have some different decorations," smiles the pianist.

The Liberace Yuletide touch also includes a rhinestone-studded tree. This glittering sight, sprinkled with artificial snowflakes and jeweled ornaments that would make St. Nick drop his beard at the North Pole, stands by Liberace's piano, a shaped swimming pool.

Another white tree in the Liberace living room is decorated with conventional ornaments, and a third tree on the lawn is brightly lit.

Richard Boone, star of TV's "Medic", is a close runner-up in the unusual tree division. He draped his with birdhouses, balls of cotton, scissors and stethoscopes to match the doctor character he plays on the NBC-TV show.

For years Lou Costello's decorations outside his Sherman Oaks home were the world's most elaborate. Lou sold his home this year. But tourists wrote they were driving to California to inspect the display, so he put most of it up at the home of his sister, Myra Kirk.

a block away. His display includes a huge Santa climbing down a chimney that spouts bubbles.

Danny Thomas' home in Beverly Hills is another favorite of crowds who drive around to look at the decorated homes these nights. On his lawn is a nativity scene featuring 11 two-foot tall ceramic figures of Biblical characters imported from Palestine. Christmas carols are heard from a loudspeaker.

Spike Jones installed a Santa, sleigh and reindeer on his roof. Singer Frankie Laine hung twinkling stars on a tree on his front lawn and outlined the entire house in colored lights. Jimmy Stewart also framed his windows with lights.

Many moviegoers pick Christmas scenery to match the land of sunglasses and swimming pools. Richard Conte used a huge piece of beach driftwood for his tree. Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger had old-fashioned green trees in England. But this year they put their ornaments on a big cactus outside the Palm Springs desert home where they're spending the holidays. Jean Hagen and the Robert Taylors are among many stars who hung Mexican Christmas pinatas—huge crepe paper animals and birds—from the ceiling.

Loretta Young's white tree features antique German ornaments she's collected since she was a child. But starlet Kathleen Hughes claims she has the most unusual Yuletide decor in town—an old-fashioned green tree to match her old-fashioned black telephone.

"Independence Father" Miguel Hidalgo, the priest of Dolores who, in 1810, started the revolution against Spain, is known as the "Father of Mexican Independence."

'Holy Christmas' Urged Observed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—UP—Mrs. Gertrude S. Caraway, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, urged the nation Saturday to observe Christmas as a holy day.

"Recreation, gifts and travel are all very well," she said in her annual Christmas message in the DAR magazine, "but much finer are the friendship, fellowship, traditions, goodwill and smiles of the true Christmas spirit, without crowding out the Christ Child."

"Christmas should be observed in the heart by the young and old; every day, every year. Then would come peace. Peace on earth is not a surety but it is a promise if it is in the hearts of men everywhere."

NEW YORK, UP—Elmer (Trigger) Burke, 35, was sentenced Friday to die in the electric chair for murdering a pal in a barroom brawl. The jury convicted Burke two weeks ago of the 1952 slaying of Edward (Poochy) Walsh.

Cyprus Terrorists Active

NICOSIA, Cyprus—UP—Sporadic terrorist activity on this strategic island injured two British soldiers and a child Friday, and caused considerable damage to a government office building in an outlying town.

Richard Boone, star of TV's "Medic", is a close runner-up in the unusual tree division. He draped his with birdhouses, balls of cotton, scissors and stethoscopes to match the doctor character he plays on the NBC-TV show.

For years Lou Costello's decorations outside his Sherman Oaks home were the world's most elaborate. Lou sold his home this year. But tourists wrote they were driving to California to inspect the display, so he put most of it up at the home of his sister, Myra Kirk.

Fahay was apprehended by Sheriff Jimmy Shelton of McLean, J. D. Fish, constable, and Luke Henry of McLean, who set up a road block about two miles east of Wheeler.

The bootlegger was chased through Lefors and McLean down to Shamrock and Wheeler. Other investigating officers were Sheriff Bus Dorman of Wheeler and Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard.

According to Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Fahay was driving a '35 Pontiac at about 100 miles per hour, and at one point he threw off a wheel. Ike May Ask For Huge Sum For Foreign Military Aid

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 — President Eisenhower may ask Congress next month for a whopping $5,140,000,000 in foreign military and economic aid to combat Russia's renewal of the cold war, it was learned Saturday.

The tentative figure, about double this year's foreign aid appropriation, almost certainly would run into a buzz saw of opposition in the economy-minded Congress. And if approved, it would about eliminate the possibility of a tax cut in the 1956 presidential election year.

High-ranking administration sources said the $5,140,000,000 total had the Budget Bureau's approval. But they emphasized that it will be subject to change right up to the moment Mr. Eisenhower sends his budget message to Congress about Jan. 17.

The size of the request for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 — surprised some Democratic and Republican congressional leaders who attended a bipartisan briefing on foreign affairs at the White House Tuesday.

Some of them said statements made then by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Foreign Aid Chief John B. Hollister indicated foreign aid requests for fiscal 1957 would remain at about the $2.7 billion level of the current fiscal year.

But administration officials insisted the decision to seek a big increase does not represent any sudden or unexpected shift in thinking. They said the higher figures have been under consideration since early last summer.

These sources said the request will include $3,240,000,000 in foreign aid military funds, $2,240,000,000 more than Congress approved this year, and $1.9 billion in economic aid, $300 million more than the current appropriation.

Hopes for a tax cut next year are based upon expectations that rising federal revenues would permit a balanced budget by July 1, 1958.

Dems Move To Get Backing On Vital Farm Proposals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 — UP — Some congressional Democrats have opened a behind-the-scenes drive to minimize party differences on farm price support levels and win solid backing for other farm proposals, informed sources said Saturday.

These legislators were said to hope that the price support battle can be deferred while the Democrats push other programs to help the farmer fight skidding prices. These would include disposal of farm surpluses and establishing a soil-bank.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), one of the few Democratic supporters of President Eisenhower's flexible farm price supports, was reported to be one of the central figures in the unity bid.

Secretary of Agriculture under President Truman, Anderson has recently deplored the continuing controversy over price supports in his public speeches. He has urged that farm leaders concentrate on drafting legislation to meet the basic causes of low farm income — especially the large farm surpluses. Anderson was said to have conferred with Senate Democratic Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) on his own initiative. Both Johnson and Anderson were in Washington last week.

According to informed sources, Anderson argued that any Democrat-led move to restore rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity at the beginning of the forthcoming congressional session will be beaten. He is said to have urged the Democrats to skirt this and join in support of measures that will help farm prices in the marketplace — especially the problem of farm surpluses.

Johnson, who is admired by his Democratic colleagues for his ability to find a common ground in such matters, was reported to have taken Anderson's suggestions under advisement.

Some congressional observers believe Democratic unity efforts might even extend to the explosive question of price support levels. They point out that chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), of the Senate Agriculture committee, recently advocated a program of price supports at 90 per cent of parity for top quality farm commodities only.

Ellender's position was believed to make it highly doubtful that the Senate Agriculture committee would approve the straight 90 per cent of parity support program already passed by the House. The committee held grass-roots hearings across the nation this summer.

This schedule means Mr. Eisenhower may be away from the capital when his State of the Union message goes to Congress. Hagerly said it has already been definitely agreed with congressional leaders that Mr. Eisenhower will send the message to Congress in written form rather than delivering it in person.

Dr. White said a full 36-hole round of golf will have to wait until some time in the spring when Mr. Eisenhower is expected to make another trip to Augusta.

SURVEY

As projected into the future the value of permits issued is expected to reach a total of $5,821,740 in 1960 or an average of $1,164,348 a year (as compared with $1,252,615 for '46). (Are you following me — if so how far?) By 1970 the total value of permits issued within that year is estimated at $9,195,850. In 1975 this figure will have increased by over $1,900,000 to reach the sum of $10,947,850. Within the next five years this figure will have reached about $12,801,470.

Assessed or taxable valuations of all property located within Pampa estimated for the year total $22,471,530. The estimation for the county according to the report is $43,491,750. In 1954 the total assessed property in the city totaled $22,093,580 and the county totaled $42,547,857 for the county. Within all probability 1955 will be a "peak" year for assessed property.

The projection for the future is as follows for the city: 1960 — $25,195,650; 1970 — $34,711,520; 1975 — $41,898,470; and 1980 — a grand total of $52,647,980. The projection for the county is as follows: 1960 — $47,452,640; 1970 — $59,728,350; 1975 — $68,886,930; and 1980 — $79,993,840.

All assessments are based on pre-inflationary prices. The assessment average is approximately 34 per cent of the 1954 sale price.

Gourmet Advises On How To Spend New Year's Eve

WASHINGTON—UP—My good friend, Maurice Dreier, who has spent his grown up years in a vain search for the perfect steak, has something to say about the campaign to get holiday tipplers to "make the one-for-the-road-coffee."

"This coffee business has been overplayed," says Maurice. "It becomes relatively deceptive. People have learned to learn that a couple of cups of coffee are going to straighten them out. Not a barrel of the stuff, boiling hot, will sober a person up after he has had a parcel of potent martinis. I go along with the slogan that if you drink, don't drive."

It wasn't hard to smoke Dreier out on the subject of letting somebody else do the cooking—especially around the holidays. He made a career out of finding the best places to eat around the world, and has put his thoughts on paper in a little ditty called "the diner's companion."

He says that if you want to cut down on expenses on New Year's Eve, for instance, it is a good idea to go somewhere where they have no cover or minimum charge.

That is, if you have to go out. This simply means you go in and pay for what you order," Maurice says. "Otherwise what happens? In a fancy joint, for a table of four, like as not you will wind up paying $20 per head in advance. Eighty dollars—right there, plus sales tax. Add what you spend for champagne, food, and federal tax, and you wind up spending maybe a couple of hundred bucks, plus a big dig out of your pocket for the waiter, the head waiter, the bus boy and the girl from whom you buy back your bonnet."

According to our expert on that sort of thing, about all a New Year's reveler winds up with is a handful of noisemakers that could be bought at the drug store for a quarter—plus a hangover that costs a pretty penny.

So the food counselor suggests that folks beware. Go to some place that has a reputation for treating folks right; one with great professional pride. Also, Maurice says, on times like New Year's Eve, you will find service slow.

"When you make a reservation, it's for the whole evening," he explains. "The waiters are in no particular hurry to see that you eat. Running up your bar bill brings in more money for the house and more tips for the man with the tray."

Maurice says that "one good point" about New Year's Eve is that most proprietors are able to get an all-night license.

We in this town have some news for the expert. Like as not most celebrants will celebrate this New Year's Eve on Saturday night. The law here says that the bars must close at the stroke of midnight on Saturdays. New Year's comes on the Sabbath. When nothing but beer and 12 bright. It has been a long time since anybody winked at the law.

"So mama and I will sit at home, shoes-off, looking at television. And at the stroke of 12 we will open the sash, wave a lace hanky, say a howdy to the dawn of 1956, and hit the sack. We'll wake up, bright-eyed and ready to face the challenge of whatever the new year has to offer.

Will you?

Aikin To Run For Lt. Governor

PARIS, Tex.—UP—Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris announced Thursday he will be a candidate for lieutenant governor in the Democratic primary in 1956.

His announcement was the first in the lieutenant governor field for 1956. The incumbent, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, has not indicated his intentions.

Aikin, a leader in sponsorship of state school reform legislation, has served in the legislature since 1933.

The 50-year-old lawmaker, an attorney and operator of a men's wear store at Paris, was a major architect of far-reaching Gilmer-Aikin school laws enacted in 1949.

He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1932, serving two terms, before being elected to the state Senate, in which he has served continuously since 1937.

Aikin served as president pro tempore of the Senate in 1943, in which capacity he served as acting governor during a 14-day absence of then Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. During that period, Aikin declared martial law in Beaumont to prevent a race riot.

Aikin was born at Aikin Grove in Red River county. He attended Paris Junior College and received a law degree from Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn., in 1932.

Her Majesty Attends Xmas Ball

WINDSOR, England —UP— Queen Elizabeth, her glittering diamond tiara slightly askew, danced with a footman Friday night at the annual Christmas ball of the staff of Windsor Castle. The royal family rubbed elbows with assorted cooks, butlers chambermaids and other attendants in the traditional party held in the Waterloo chamber of the castle. The Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, picked a housemaid for his partner and Princess Margaret danced with footmen and cooks. The Queen, radiant in a jewel-crusted satin gown, was doing the "palais glide" when her diamond tiara slipped. She stopped, adjusted the headpiece and plunged back into the frolic. The lights went out before the party started and the royal family and the royal help waited around in darkness for an hour. But a good time was had by all.

The Aiming Stake

By K. L. FANCHER
2d Lt. Arty, Tex NG

This is a busy day for members of Headquarters Battery, 474th FA Bn, Texas National Guard. Today is a multiple Drill day and things are really humming out at the Armory. Lt. Jerry D. Farley, commanding officer of the battery, is getting things settled down after taking over, and there should be plenty of work accomplished today.

The Armory will have a new face in the very near future when a new sign and bronze plaque will be put up to further identify the building for people driving by. Up until now the only identification was the wooden sign on the highway put up by the highway department.

There are some new names on the rolls of Headquarters Battery also. . . a couple of former members back with us: Wayne W. Anderson and Donald F. Klepper. There are also two transfers Glen H. Day and also Thomas W. Watson coming to Pampa from Btry C 131st FA Bn of Abilene.

While we are talking about people there are also some promotions in Headquarters Battery. Cpl David L. Rosenbach is promoted to sergeant as of 12 December 1955 and Sgt Houston V. Ballard moves to sergeant first class. Sgt. Ballard is the wire chief of Headquarters Battery. On the subject of promotions Capt. Charles L. Robison the battery executive officer went before the board in Amarillo last week and is now sporting the gold leaves of a major. Congratulations to all of them.

Elsewhere in the battalion all of the letter batteries have now received their new five-ton prime movers. These are the latest thing and this is probably their first appearance here in the Panhandle. This is the vehicle developed for towing the big 155mm howitzers that this battalion is equipped with. All of the latest developments are included in these work-horses and there will probably be a little friendly competition to see who will be the drivers. It's going to take some experts.

One reminder if there are any young men reading this that are puzzled about their military obligation and would like to find out more about how they can retire it you can get a lot of valuable advice from the folks at your local National Guard Armory. They'll be glad to tell you all they can and you can bet they know their stuff.

WASHINGTON —UP— A coal industry committee announced Wednesday that the first coal-burning gas turbine locomotive, the industry's expected answer to the diesel engine, will be under construction by 1957.

Navy Air Unit Set For Houston

HOUSTON —UP— A naval air station, with 40 or 45 planes and more than 200 permanently assigned personnel, in Houston was assured Thursday.

Plans for establishment of the Navy air unit to serve naval reservists were ironed out at a meeting of chamber of commerce officials and officers from the Dallas Naval Air Station, and from the Navy in Washington, and Col. Norman L. Callish, commander of Ellington Air Force Base.

The unit will be set up at Ellington Air Base sharing runways and aprons with the Air Force, but quarters, hangars and offices will have to be built by the Navy.

No decision was announced as to just when the new air station would go into operation, but a naval reserve aviation unit, Co. 8-2, already is in Houston. The Navy air unit will be the nucleus of the new station.

PICTURE SPORTS NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

QUITE A SHOW—Boy Scouts in India are shown going heels-over-head for Soviet Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev at a rally in their honor in New Delhi. The Russians were visiting an encampment of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides during their 18-day state visit to India.

BASKETBALL BALLET—Gene Shue (7) of the New York Knickerbockers, and Bob Harrison of the St. Louis Hawks, gyrate gracefully as they bound after a loose ball in New York. Ballerinas had better look to their laurels if this duo ever decides to give up the backboard game.

RIDE, GIRL, RIDE—Shapely Rhoda Pickett is gaily surfboarding through the beautiful Spanish moss that hangs like drapes from a cypress tree at Cypress Gardens in Florida. Rhoda is from Fond du Lac, Wis., and it may be that her precarious pose is the result of inexperience in this aquasport.

IT'S HUNTING TIME

GREATEST OF EASE—Igor Bensen of Raleigh, N. C., is piloting his invention, a combination helicopter-glider, in a test at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The machine, which weighs only 100 pounds, consists of a simple tubular aluminum frame mounted on three floats and topped by a two-bladed free-wheeling rotor. A lawn-type chair built into the aircraft frame seats the pilot who operates the craft with a control stick.

HER WEAPONS—Gloria Jean Newell, 17, of Grand Rapids, Mich., looks like she really knows how to use that rifle, or the bow and arrow. And she does. Gloria's the winner of a state outdoor rifle championship; she recently bagged a doe with her first arrow on her very first deer hunt about 100 miles north of Grand Rapids.

SANTA'S HELPERS—After Santa Claus took a spill on the Rockefeller Plaza outdoor skating rink in New York, three little "bunnies" helped him to his feet. The costumed youngsters were taking part in the annual "character" party on ice. They were among the skating guests of this Santa Claus, who is also known as Ralph Osborne.

HAVIN' A BALL—That big ball was for sale in Atlanta, Ga., when authorities decided to outlaw the yearly sophomore-freshman pushball contest. Coeds Nancy Fleming, left, of Camille, and Barton McKnight, of Macon, used all their selling powers but a small dog seems to be their only potential buyer.

Navy Moves To Build A-Seaplane

WASHINGTON—UP—The Navy disclosed Saturday it has stepped up its program to develop an atomic-powered seaplane that could fly non-stop around the world.

The Navy said it has awarded contracts to five firms to study the problems of an atomic power plant for a seaplane. The contracts are preliminary to actual development of an atomic reactor which would give a seaplane virtually unlimited range at speeds in excess of 600 miles an hour.

The contracts were let recently to Allison division of General Motors Corp. and Nuclear Development Corp. of America, White Plains, N.Y., the Navy said. The aircraft gas turbine division of General Electric Co. and the Curtiss-Wright Corp. are conducting similar studies under contracts placed for the Navy by the Air Force.

A fifth contract was let to the air research division of Garrett Corp., Los Angeles, Calif., to study an atomic plane's auxiliary systems such as heat, pressure and electricity.

The Navy already had let two high priority contracts to Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore, Md., and the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. for development of an air frame on an atomic-powered seaplane.

Martin developed the Seamaster, a radical new multi-jet seaplane which the Navy believes will serve as a prototype of an atomic seaplane. The first Seamaster exploded and crashed on a test flight last week, but the Navy is pressing ahead the production of more of them.

By UNITED PRESS NEW DELHI, India — A statement by Soviet leaders Nikita S. Khrushchev and Nikolai A. CHESS CHATS

By GEORGE KOLTANOWSKI International Chess Master Problem No. 2: Black 2, White 6. White to play and mate in two moves. Solution to Problem No. 1 is 1.RxP.

Solutions to the above problem should be mailed by Friday to "Chess" c/o The Pampa News. For each correct solution submitted for a two-mover, the solver will receive two points, and for a three-mover, three points.

VALUES MATERIAL PROPERLY

Beginners who have studied chess very little tend to over-rate the refinements of position, and under-rate material. Some of them will avoid capturing a pawn in the opening because it would "lose a tempo." Actually if interruption in development is the only thing you are going to suffer through taking a pawn — only make sure it is a good, rough rule is to take if you will lose only two tempi, but not if you will lose three.

Some players well above the lyro class saw me play P-KR3 and P-KN4 in front of my castle King. They saw that it won't be a Bishop for a pawn, but were quite surprised that I should expose my King in return for this gain! I pointed out that I was under no attack yet, and that therefore I could be in no danger as I was a piece up. To be a piece up is usually an overwhelming advantage, unless your opponent is too good for you, and all the positional weaknesses in the world mean practically nothing in comparison. Having one or even two pawns for it also means very little in the middle-game, as the pawns don't. In an end-game, however, there is considerable danger of a draw.

EN-PASSANT

In Baltimore I was taken aside by an elderly gentleman, before the exhibition, who whispered in my ear, "You see that small man there, seated at board 17, he beat Reshevsky last year." I wondered why this man should kind of give the "death warrant" (by forwarding me) to his "friend?" Naturally I watched

Eagles Defeat Lions 33 To 13

Bourland Guides Eagles To Easy Win

By DICK HARDWICK

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17 — UP — The Abilene Eagles, directed by a deft pig-skin magician named David Bourland, won their fifth Texas Class AAAA football championship Saturday with surprisingly easy 33-13 victory over the Tyler Lions.

A crowd estimated at 30,000 fans watched the game in fine football weather in TCU's Amon Carter Stadium.

Tyler, unbeaten and untied in 12 games prior to this contest, lost control the minute it kicked off.

Abilene promptly marched 95 yards in eight plays for a touchdown and that set the trend of play.

The Lions came to life with a passing attack late in the game but Abilene reserves were in the game substitute quarterback Kenneth Talkington passed 38 yards to Newell McCallum for one Tyler score, and star signal-caller Charlie Milstead set up a second Lion score with his passes. Halfback Joe Leggette circled right end for the touchdown. Milstead's kick was good after the first touchdown but he missed the second conversion.

Little to Cheer About

That was all Tyler fans had to cheer about, however. The Eagles District 1-AAAA, who beat Houston Austin for the AAAA title last year, held Tyler without a first down until half of the second quarter was played. Abilene's scoring was split between halfback Glenn Gregory and fullback James Welch, who scored two each, and the other starting halfback Henry Colwell.

Quarterback Bourland, a 143-pound sleight-of-hand artist, played "who's got the football" with Gregory, Welch and Colwell to the consternation of the Lions all afternoon.

Gregory, a tall 177-pounder who runs like a jackrabbit, dashed 49 yards through a gaping hole for the big gainer in Abilene's first touchdown march. Welch drove over from the two after the drive.

Welch Caps Second Drive — Later in the first quarter, Welch capped a second Abilene drive by going around right end for the score.

Shortly before halftime when it looked like Tyler was solving the Abilene offense, Bourland called on the ancient Statue-of-Liberty play. Gregory took it from his hands and circled right end for 40 yards and a touchdown.

Colwell tallied the third Abilene touchdown with 2:10 left in the third quarter, plunging through center for one yard. Gregory's kick was good and the score was 26-0.

The last Eagle score capped another drive with Gregory going over from the four yard-line. His kick made the count 33-0.

Caruthers Defensive Standout — Byron Caruthers, 186-pound Tyler, end, played an outstanding defensive game. A standout in the Abilene line was hard to find as all played outstanding ball.

Score by periods: Abilene 13 6 7 7-33 Tyler 0 0 0 13-13 Abilene scoring — Touchdowns, Welch 2, (2, run; 6, run); Gregory 2 (40, run; 4, run); Colwell (1, run). Conversions—Gregory 3. Tyler scoring — Touchdowns, McCallum (38, pass from Talkington); Leggette (9, run). Conversion—Milstead.

Milstead Is No. 1 Man On Southern Team

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 17.—UP—Charles Milstead, whose quarterbacking put the Tyler Lions into the Texas Class AAAA state championship finals against Abilene, Saturday was named the state's No. 1 player on the All-Southern high school football squad.

Four other Texas schoolboy stars also made the squad, picked with the help of Putt Powell of the Amarillo News and Globe - Times. They were Jerry Graves, Big Spring center; Sam Caudie, Abilene guard; Gordon LeBouef, Port Neches, halfback, and Edwin (Wahoo) McDaniel, Midland fullback.

Powell said many football followers rate the 185-pound Milstead as "the greatest all-around T-formation quarterback in Texas school-boy football history."

"Milstead has tremendous poise," Powell said, "is an excellent play selector, good defensive player, fine runner, adept ball handler and great kicker."

Gaining honorable mention on the All-Southern team were Marvin Lasater, San Angelo halfback; Jackie Webb, Phillips halfback; Donnie Walker, Baytown quarterback; Larry Dueitt, Corpus Christi Miller quarterback; Jerry Payne Breckenridge end, and Harroll Hobbs, Sweetwater halfback.

FIGHTING HEART AWARD — Don Babcock was named the Harvester with the most fighting spirit of the '55 football season Friday night at the annual football banquet. Shown above he is being presented with the award and being congratulated by head coach, Jack Lockett. Coach Lockett gave young Babcock his greatest praise as he assured the capacity crowd that only a boy of Babcock's desire and spirit of fair play should be given such an honor. (News Photo)

Gridders Honor Don Babcock With Title

Coach Bear Bryant's address, the presentation of the Fighting Heart award and the crowning of the '55 football queen highlighted annual football banquet held in the high school cafeteria Friday night.

Don Babcock received the Fighting Heart award and Miss Peggy Olivolo was named as the Harvester Football Queen for 1955. Coach Paul Bryant encouraged all parents to allow their sons to participate in athletics if they want to.

The banquet was a success with only one or two places empty. All Harvester fans left the cafeteria with a little different outlook on "what makes a good season and bad season."

Paul (Bear) Bryant, the guest speaker from Texas A&M, started his address with a couple of Aggie jokes to get the crowd in a jolly mood and continued for some thirty minutes to amuse the fans with his "country style" humor.

He pointed out that only the team and the coaches could determine whether a team had a bad season. He remembered his first year at Texas A&M and said "I just can't see where we had a bad year. We learned a lot of things that year and came back this year to surprise most all football fans as well as the Aggie fans."

"We learned something from that year that we couldn't have learned if we had won. Guess that's the way the Lord meant it to be," he said.

"And we must learn to take the good with the bad and learn from both."

He directed most of these remarks to the parents and assured them that the boys will always do a better job if they know their parents care about them. He encouraged all parents to let their boys play football if they want to.

"They can establish themselves as individuals in sports where they otherwise couldn't."

He sprinkled his humor and wit all through his 45-minute address and held the audience's attention almost without effort, it seemed.

Coach Bryant concluded his talk with a few remarks on the Bowl game which his Kentucky Wildcats played in 1946.

He assured the audience that no other coach in the land could have done what he did that year. "Take my team down there and lose a game." He explained that they were just out to have a good time and that is what they did before game time.

"He is a wonderful speaker," was one anonymous comment after the banquet was over. "He sounds just like a wise old farmer," was another.

The Four Spades sang two numbers as extra entertainment last night shortly after the barbecue was consumed. The Quartet, consisted of John Claunch, Dannie Brister, John Lee and Jackie Edwards.

Dinner music was furnished by Ramona Hudgins on the organ. The invocation was given by Floyd Watson and the master of ceremonies was Fred Nealgue.

The introduction of the speaker was made by Curtis Douglass.

The movie which was scheduled after the address was cancelled because of the length of the program, which lasted from 7:30 to 10.

The crowning of football queen followed the special entertainment by the Four Spades.

Miss Peggy Olivolo was named the '55 Football Queen and she was crowned by Ed Strickland while Buddy Sharp gave her the flowers and a kiss to make it official. Sharp and Strickland were her escorts. They were co-captains of the '55 Harvester team.

The Queen's attendants were Miss Thera Warner and Miss Joan Robertson. Miss Warner was escorted by Rich's Gardner and Miss Robertson was escorted by David Mullins.

Port Neches Drops Garland 20-14, With A Second To Go

GARLAND, Tex., Dec. 17.—UP—Quarterback Bobby Falgout flipped a three-yard touchdown pass to end Nolan Adams with one second left to play giving the Port Neches a 20-14 victory over the Garland Owls and the Class AAA state high school football championship Saturday.

The touchdown pass climaxed an uphill battle for the Indians who spotted Garland two third period touchdowns and then came from behind with a 20 point outburst in the final period.

Halfback Gordon LeBouef and fullback Bobby LaBorde led a bruising Port Neches running attack that accounted for 335 yards with LeBouef getting 212 on 26 carries and LaBorde picking up 103 yards on 26 tries.

Garland Held to 77 Yards — Garland, which had won 12 consecutive games, was held to 77 yards rushing. All-State halfback Bobby Boyd gained only 23 yards on 14 carries.

Neither team was able to score until midway of the third quarter when Boyd passed 29 yards to end Lowell Baker for Garland's touchdown.

Boyd ran across the extra point and Garland led 7-0.

The Owls increased their lead to 14-0 two minutes later striking on a 53-yard pass from quarterback Arthur Douglas to Baker. Boyd again ran over the extra point.

Port Neches' first touchdown came with nine minutes and four seconds left in the game. LaBorde crashed through right tackle for the final yard in an 8-yard drive. LeBouef converted.

Runs For 32 Yards — With seven minutes and four seconds to go LeBouef burst over right guard and raced 32 yards for the second Port Neches touchdown.

But LaBorde missed the conversion and Garland led 14-13.

Port Neches went 45 yards in 10 plays for the winning touchdown with LaBorde and LeBouef alternating as the ball carriers. The scoring pass caught the Owls completely off guard as Adams was all by himself in the end zone.

Falgout passed to end Johnny Goodwin for the final point.

Score by periods: Port Neches 0 0 0 20-20 Garland 0 0 14 0-14 Port Neches scoring — Touchdowns, LaBorde (1, run); LeBouef (32, run); Adams (3, pass from Falgout). Conversions — LeBouef, Goodwin.

Garland scoring — Touchdowns, Baker 2 (29, pass from Boyd); 53, pass from Douglas). Conversions—Boyd 2.

Hillsboro Smothers Weslaco 20 To 7

WACO, Tex., Dec. 17—UP—The Hillsboro Eagles rode a brilliant second half comeback to a 20 to 7 victory over Weslaco's Panthers Saturday, before 10,000 fans in Baylor Stadium in the state AA semi-finals.

Hillsboro now will play Stamford for the state AA championship next Saturday. Officials of the two schools were to meet here later Saturday to determine the site of the game.

Merlin Priddy and David Hernandez sparked Hillsboro to the strong comeback after the Eagles were able to make only one first down in two quarters and left the field trailing 7 to 0 at the half.

Scores Two Touchdowns

Hernandez scored two touchdowns and Priddy got the third as Hillsboro dominated play during the final two periods.

Bobby Lackey, the brilliant Panther quarterback, guided Weslaco to its touchdown in the first period. His passes sparked a 75-yard drive which paid off when W. C. Weatherford dived over from the one-yard line. Lackey, who had completed three passes for 43 yards in the march, converted.

The Panthers threatened three

Al Avant To Be First Negro To Play In Sports Carnival

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17—UP—Al Avant, sophomore guard on the Marquette basketball team, will be the first Negro athlete to participate in the Sugar Bowl Sports Carnival, it was disclosed Saturday but no trouble was anticipated.

Alabama Coach Johnny Dee, whose team along with Marquette, Notre Dame and Utah, will play in the two-night tournament starting Dec. 29, said he definitely anticipated no problem arising from Avant's appearance in the event.

"I don't know whether our school authorities were aware of the fact when we agreed to play in the Sugar Bowl," he said, "but it doesn't matter anyway. We don't anticipate any reaction like that in Georgia."

Referred to Grier Protest

The Georgia reaction Dee referred to was the storm of protest that swept that state with the disclosure that Pittsburgh's Negro fullback Bobby Grier would be used against Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl football game which follows the basketball tournament.

Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin asked that Tech not play in the class if Grier was used. However, the state board of regents voted to let Tech play, but placed stringent restrictions on Georgia athletic teams in the future in regard to clubs with Negro players.

At first, it was thought Grier would be the first Negro to play in a Sugar Bowl event until the disclosure Saturday that Avant would play in the basketball tournament.

Coach Surprised

Marquette Coach Jack Nagle was a little surprised that the question was even raised.

"We never really thought it was a problem," he said. "The Sugar Bowl people have always been very courteous in their dealings with us, and nothing has been said at all about it. Sure, Avant is going on the trip and we plan to use him. We're very proud of him."

Sugar Bowl officials had no comment on Avant and maintained the same type of silence as they did during the Grier controversy.

However, it was known that the Sugar Bowl placed no racial restrictions on any of the teams participating in the week-long event.

Dons Topple Harvesters For First Home Loss To Amarillo

Harvesters Hot In The First Half, Cold In The Second

The Palo Duro Dons, towering over the Pampa Harvesters, came from behind in the first stanza to drop the Green and Golders, 80-60, for the first time any Amarillo five ever defeated a Harvester team in the new fieldhouse.

The Harvesters trailed only once in the first stanza and that was by only two points as Dickie Mauldin came back and dumped in a two pointer to balance Jimmy Reid's field goal and tie it up at 2-2. The Shockers also lost to the Dons by a score of 50-35.

The Palo Duro Dons came out on the court and towered over the Harvesters and the small crowd felt the Harvesters would get a sound beating.

The tide was turned, though, as the Harvesters, hot in the first frame, dumped in 10 field goals for their 20 points of the first frame. They held a 11 point margin at one time but the Dons figured out the Harvester offense and with 2:35 left in the initial frame cut the lead to only one point as the quarter ended. Tom's counters came on field goals by Jimmy Reid, Don Beck, Paul Hyatt, Robert Echols and Robert Hover. Hyatt scored with two quick ones and Echols one as the quarter entered the red.

The Harvesters and Dons were fighting neck and neck in the second frame as the Harvesters scored 20 points and the Dons hit for 21 to tie the game at 20-20 as the halftime buzzer sounded.

Jerry Gee was high point man for the Green and Golders with 18 points on six field goals and seven free throws. Gene Brown ran a close second with 16 and Dickie Mauldin dumped in six field goals and two free tosses for a total of 14 points.

The Harvesters were cold when they came on the floor for the third period. They counted for only six points and two of them came on free throws. Jerry Gee counted on one field goal. Tom's Mauldin sank the free throws on a foul by Robert Hover.

The Dons counted for 20 more points to make their lead, 44 points at the end of the third frame.

Paul Hyatt dumped in three field goals, Robert Hover counted for two and two free tosses, and Echols dumped in a pair to give Golders, still missing those off the rim shots, counted for another 14 points as the Dons counted for 20 again, as they did in each of the first three periods.

Paul Hyatt was high point man of the game with 20 points. He dumped in nine from the court and two from the gratis line. Following him for the Dons was Gene Arrington who was held to 18 points after scoring 32 against Monterey Friday night. Jerry Gee did a good defensive job on Arrington.

The Dons have been defeated in their history of the cage and dropped Borger by 20 points which would make the Harvesters and the Bulldogs stack up about the same.

The Harvesters will tackle the Dons on their own ground Tuesday night and will be out for an upset.

The officials for the game were Grady Masters and Norman Trimble.

Al Kaline Became Youngest A. League Batting Champion

CHICAGO, Dec. 17—UP—Al Kaline, The Detroit Tigers' $35,000 bonus beauty, became the youngest batting champion in major league history this year when he led the American League with a .310 average.

Kaline, born on Dec. 19, 1934, is one day younger than was Ty Cobb when that greatest of all Detroit heroes won his first American League crown in 1907. The youngest National League champion was Pete Reiser of Brooklyn, who won the title in 1941 at the age of 22.

Official figures compiled by the Howland News Bureau revealed that Kaline also led the circuit with 200 hits and 321 total bases. In addition, he hit 27 home runs and scored 121 runs in 152 games. Cobb won his first title with a .350 mark and went on to lead the AL 12 times.

In San Francisco, Cobb offered Kaline his congratulations and said he was rooting for him "to go on and break some of my records because Detroit still is my team. However, I was lucky I did not have any injuries while I played ball and I wish him the same luck."

Vic Power, the Kansas City Athletics' sturdy first baseman, finished second to Kaline with a .319 average, followed by the Chicago White Sox' George Kell with .312 and Nelson Fox with .311. Harvey Kuenn, Al Smith, Mickey Mantle and Mickey Vernon were the only other players to reach .300.

Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox' great slugger, was the league's "nominal leader" but for the second straight season failed to have enough official times at bat to qualify for the batting title. Williams hit .356 this year but his 320 at-bats were 90 fewer than the required minimum.

Williams hit .345 in 1954 but had only 386 official at-bats and lost the championship to Bobby Avila's .341 mark. Avila ranked 24th in the league this year with a .272 average.

Mantle, the New York Yankees' powerful switch-hitter, topped the circuit with 37 home runs and finished second to Kaline in total bases with 316. Mantle hit .306—the second highest average of his career. Kansas City's Gus Zernial was second in homers with 30 and Williams next with 28.

Ray Boone of the Detroit Tigers and Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox tied for the lead in runs batted in with a total of 118 each, with Yogi Berra, the league's most valuable player, next at 108.

Smith topped the circuit with 123 runs scored, Kuenn led in doubles with 38 and Jim Rivera of the White Sox stole the most bases—25.

The Yankees hit the most homers—175—but the White Sox won club batting honors with a .268 mark, that edged out the Tigers by two points. The league total of 961 homers was 156 more than were hit in 1954.

ON THE SERIOUS SIDE

Paul Bear Bryant, who started his address with a couple of Argy jokes, got down to "brass-tacks" before he finished and gave the parents as well as the boys some good advice in regard to athletics, mainly football. He told the crowd that boys can get several things from organized athletics that they can't get either at home or in the classroom. He said "The only place boys start even, except in the church, is in athletics. Shown to the right is Fred Neslage, toastmaster for the banquet. (News Photo)

Good Defense Is Best Offense, Says P. Brown

By BILL LOFTUS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17—UP—"A good defense is the best offense" may be a worn-out football saying, but for Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns it's the strategy he'll use against the Los Angeles Rams in the National League's championship game Dec. 25.

"When I talk about championships for the Cleveland Browns, I have to credit our defensive team," he commented. "They won the crown for us last year, and if we are lucky enough to repeat next week, they'll be responsible."

Brown never slights his point-getting stars, but for him a game is just about won when the other team's offense is stopped cold.

"Almost every team in the league is capable of exploding in any game," he said, "and the team with the defense that can consistently stop the opponent's scoring ends on top."

Round Robin Set To Select Olympic Five

NEW YORK, Dec. 17—UP—The United States Olympic basketball committee will conduct a round-robin tournament next April to select the players that will represent this country in the Olympic games at Melbourne, Australia, it was announced Saturday.

Four teams will compete in the tournament at Kansas City, April 24. One squad will be chosen from the college ranks and another from the military. The two finalists in the AAU basketball championships will round out the field.

The winning team will qualify no less than five nor more than seven players for the Olympic 12-man squad. The other members will be chosen by the committee.

The head coach of the team that wins the round-robin tournament will automatically qualify as the Olympic mentor, while an assistant coach will be picked by the committee.

Gain A's Outfielder

TORONTO, Dec. 17—UP—The Toronto Maple Leafs announced Saturday that they have acquired outfielder Bill Wilson from the Kansas City Athletics as part of the deal which sent pitcher Jack Crimian to the A's.

Wilson, 28, is a right-handed batter and a left-handed thrower. He has played in the majors for the Athletics and the Boston Braves.

Wilson was drafted by the Athletics in 1950 and has played in the minors for several years. He has a batting average of .275 in 1954.

Wilson was a member of the Athletics' 1954 championship team. He was named to the All-Star team and was the league's Most Valuable Player.

Wilson is expected to play for the Leafs in 1956.

Cagers From Six States Will Attend The NAA Tourney

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 17—UP—Teams from Oklahoma, Texas, Minnesota, Illinois, Nebraska and Colorado soon will be heading for the NAA "tip off" basketball championship tournament here Dec. 28-30 in civic auditorium.

The eight-team field for the tournament, transferred here from Kansas City this year, will be topped by East Texas State College of Commerce, defending national NAA champion.

But East Texas, having lost eight of eleven lettermen, will not rank among the top contenders. In this bracket are Western Illinois State of Macomb, third-place finisher in the March championship at Kansas City; Gustavus Adolphus College of St. Peter, Minn., a quarterfinalist; Texas Southern's Negro national champions from Houston; and Southeastern Oklahoma State of Durant.

Rounding out the field will be Regis College of Denver, a "dark horse" boasting 10 lettermen and the tallest team in the school's history, and a pair of Omaha representatives in the University of Omaha and Creighton University.

Western Illinois has 10 lettermen on the squad, including All-American Marshall Stoner, 6'3 forward, and the brilliant brother combination of Gene and Don Talbot.

Gustavus Adolphus, comprising nine lettermen and perhaps the tallest team in the field, will present the six-foot, eight-inch Jim Springer at center, and a 6-7 sophomore giant in Bill Patterson at forward.

with the championship game booked for 9 p.m., est, Friday.

Rival Coaches Accept Hall Of Fame Invites

DALLAS, Dec. 17—UP—Rival Cotton Bowl coaches, Abe Martin of Texas Christian and Johnny Vaughn of Mississippi, have accepted invitations to attend the Texas Sports Hall of Fame luncheon Dec. 31, one of the highlight events of Cotton Bowl week in Dallas.

Many other sports celebrities also were expected to attend the affair honoring Rogers Hornsby, Byron Nelson and the late Paul Tyson.

Babe Zaharias, noted woman athlete now undergoing treatment at a Galveston hospital, has indicated she will try to get permission from her doctors to attend and help welcome the newcomers into the hall of fame. She was an honoree along with Sammy Baugh at last year's luncheon.

The luncheon, open to women and children, will be held in the Baker hotel ballroom. Mail orders for the tickets, costing $4 each, should be addressed to Salesmanship Club, 610 Dallas Athletic Club Bldg., Dallas.

GETTING READY — Tommy (left) and Jerry Lamar are getting ready for the Wellington boys who will be in Pampa Tuesday night. They fight in the 135 and 125 pound brackets for the Optimist Boxers. They have both been in the fight game since they were in their 50's and are well seasoned. They will both probably find matches with the tough Wellington boys in the Community Barn. The admission to the intra-city matches is $1 for adults and 50c for children under 12. Fight time has been set at 8 p.m. (News Photo)

Hard Workouts Set For Bowl Bound Teams

LOS ANGELES —UP— Ronnie Knox, star UCLA passer who has been sidelined for more than six weeks with a broken ankle has begun practicing for the team's Jan. 2 Rose Bowl date with Michigan State. Knox had the cast removed from his leg Friday and took a light workout, wearing a special boot to support the ankle.

NORMAN, Okla. —UP— Center Jerry Tubbs, exercising an injured knee, ran Friday and down the stadium steps Friday while his Oklahoma teammates ran into each other in the first hard scrimmage for their Jan. 2 Orange Bowl game with Maryland. Tubbs was the only Sooner who wasn't in uniform. The first and second teams scrimmaged each other for 10 minutes while the rest of the squad scrimmaged 20 minutes.

MARYLAND —UP— Maryland football team marched relentlessly through 10 opponents this year but it has been stopped cold the last couple of days by the weather and Coach Jim Tatum is fretting because his Huskies can't do any scrimmaging for their Orange Bowl game with Oklahoma. Tatum said, "It's like cement. We need more heavy work to get ready for Oklahoma but I can't risk any injuries."

PITTSBURGH —UP— Coach John Michelson said his Pitt Panthers "had a real good workout" during an indoor dummy scrimmage Friday in preparation for their Sugar Bowl game with Georgia Tech. He said, "The boys were running hard and our timing was good."

GEORGIA TECH —UP— Georgia Tech's football players switched to trimming trees Saturday after making Coach Bobby Dodd happy in the final pre-Christmas workout in preparation for their attempt to trim Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl. He said they were "like a bunch of colts headed for pasture. Actually, they were sharper than they've been since they started practicing again."

MISSISSIPPI —UP— The Mississippi football team, which shivered in 30-degree weather Friday, hoped for warmer temperature Saturday for its practice for the Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl game against Texas Christian. The players got an added chill Friday when they watched Jimmy Swink, Texas Christian's national scoring champion, performing in game films.

TEXAS TECH —UP— Coach De Witt Weaver plans to put his Texas Tech team through a full-scale scrimmage Saturday while stepping up preparations for the Sun Bowl game with Wyoming Jan. 2. Quarterbacks Buddy Hill, Jack Kirkpatrick and Don Williams will call signals for three offensive units during the workout.

EVANSTON, Ill. —UP— Athletic Director Stu Holcomb said Saturday "I feel Northwestern has obtained the services of one of the finest young coaches in football" in Ara Parseghian.

Parseghian, 32, head football coach at Miami University of Ohio for the past five years, was signed Friday to coach the Wildcats. He succeeds Lou Saban, who was fired by Holcomb Monday.

Parseghian's Miami teams won 39 games, lost six and tied one while winning three Mid-America Conference championships.

Holcomb, who took over as Northwestern athletic director last week, said Parseghian was given a three-year contract. Salary terms were not announced.

The Pampa Optimist Boys Club held its third inter-city boxing matches last night at Recreation Park. The Citizen's and First National Banks came up with the most wins last night, each taking four of the 10 bouts. The Pampa News and Panhandle Insurance had one each.

Editors Note: These team matches are probably the best way for the Pampa Boxers to prepare for their District Golden Gloves which are coming up in January. They will be held in the Junior High School Gym. It is also good preparation for their matches with other teams from out of town.

The Pampa Boxers will be meeting the Wellington team Tuesday night in the Community Barn at Recreation Park. The fight time has been set at 8 p.m. with bouts of all weights, which will provide two hours of wholesome entertainment.

The boys coming through with victories for the Citizen's Bank were Dickie Powell, Allen Klein, Kenny Powell and Lynn Schoolfield.

The First National wins came from Donald Dunn, Stanley Lawley, Larry Powell and Norman Rexroat.

Jackson Carter was the winner for the News and Norman Olivolo, of the PIA.

The matches got underway with Dickie Powell taking a decision from Jimmy Fletcher, Powell was just too much for Fletcher as he came through with his 11th win in 15 fights.

Raymond Hinds decided Allen Jones in the third bout of the night. For Hinds it was his first win against one loss.

In the fourth bout Donald Dunn won by a TKO over Ronald Dunn. Ronald Dunn was unable to answer the second round bell because of a small cut on his lip.

Jackson Carter decided Keith McKenney for the News' only victory. It was a very close decision with both boys fighting it out toe to toe in the final round.

PIA, dec. Allen Jones, Citizen's, 99-pound — Donald Dunn, First Nat'l, TKO Donald Dunn, News, (Second Round).

120-pound — Larry Powell, First Nat'l, dec. James Snider, PIA.
112-pound — Norman Rexroat, First Nat'l, dec. George Richmond, News.

Getting up in the heavier matches, Norman Olivolo decided Darrell Cockwell. Olivolo had Cockwell almost out in the first round but Cockwell came back strong in the second stanza. In the final round Olivolo's lefts gave him a decided victory. It was both boys' first fight.

Lynn Schoolfield came through with his second win of the season without a loss when he decided Charles Martny.

In the ninth bout of the card Larry Powell, a very powerful fighter and probably a champion for the regional tournament, decided James Snider. For Powell it was his 18th victory in 21 fights. It was Snider's first fight and he did well for a newcomer.

In the final bout of the evening, Norman Rexroat and George Richmond fought it out in a close fight but Rexroat took the decision.

Don't forget this coming Tuesday the Optimist Boxing Club will battle the powerful Wellington boxers, Wellington, every year, produces some very fine boxers. Some of them are Duggie Jameson, Don Jameson, Floyd Hood, Jerry Hood, Gary Phillips and many others.

The matches will be made in both the Pee Wee and heavy classes.

Both Sexes Involved In Tag Team Match On Wednesday

The Pampa Shrine Club has something new and different to offer for the local wrestling fans Wednesday night December 22nd at the Top of Texas Sportsman Club.

A mixed girl and man tag team match will feature Leo "The Lion" Newman and Carol Cook vs. Luis Martinez and Mary Jane Mull.

This will be one of the first matches in Texas where men and women compete against one another.

It will be the first one to appear in Pampa. This match shapes up to be one of the most interesting matches ever booked here.

Martinez and Newman had to be separated last week by the wrestling commissioner Homer Anderson, after the matches were over, so this bout should produce plenty of fire works.

Mary Jane Mull appeared here last week and won her match. At one time she held a portion of the girls' World's Championship Tag Team Title. Tag team wrestling will not be new to Mary Jane.

Carol Cook will be a newcomer to Pampa Fans, but she comes highly recommended. She likes to stay on the rougher side of wrestling like her partner Leo "The Lion" Newman and Martinez wanted to take up where they left off last week so they were signed for a 1 fall 20 minute time limit. This match could be worth the price of admission.

There will be another main event to be announced later to support the mixed tag team match. Tickets are now on sale at the Modern Pharmacy with all proceeds going to the Pampa Shrine Club's Crippled Children's Fund.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY'S Ara Parseghian To Head Northwestern
EVANSTON, Ill. —UP— Athletic Director Stu Holcomb said Saturday "I feel Northwestern has obtained the services of one of the finest young coaches in football" in Ara Parseghian.

Parseghian, 32, head football coach at Miami University of Ohio for the past five years, was signed Friday to coach the Wildcats. He succeeds Lou Saban, who was fired by Holcomb Monday.

Parseghian's Miami teams won 39 games, lost six and tied one while winning three Mid-America Conference championships.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By S. V. WHITEHORN
The hunter success ratio has somewhat slackened but there are still quite few bucks being bagged.

Three Amarillo hunters bagged that many bucks last week in eastern Hutchinson county in one evening hunt. All were eight pointers with one of the bucks beginning to show his age. The fine specimen was almost toothless but despite this fact the carcass was rolling with fat.

Trailor Price of the Price ranch still has some hunting rights for sale and will accommodate hunters until the eighteenth of this month when the season closes for Hutchinson county. Mr. Price can be contacted by telephone thru Pampa at the ranch.

The Price ranch is located on Whitewater creek and furnishes some of the most choice hunting in these parts.

Quail hunting is the best in years from all reports. It is surprising how quickly this specie can bounce back to a heavy population when they were seemingly almost extinct last year. With the abundance of weed seed on the ground here in the Panhandle there is an excellent chance of survival for the birds that last thru January 16 when the season closes. Given a met summer next year we could have one of the best seasons ever to the fall of '56.

Many of the birds are escaping the hunter's gun on account of the fact that the dogs simply cannot locate the birds.

It would be difficult for a bloodhound to locate game with the scenting conditions what they are. This takes from the bird hunting somewhat but even with the conditions what they are some of the boys are getting in some good dog work. We recently observed one of Jim Bell's setters make three beautiful covey finds in less than one hour. Mr. Bell is president of the Panhandle Bird dog Ass'n. and has in his kennels some of the best dogs in the Southwest.

Have a dog for sale. Almost everyday we have one or more calls from hunters wanting to purchase a gun dog.

Rhea Gunn and myself have decided to raise a litter of half pointers and half Brittany Spaniels. It is our reasoning that the pointers have had speed bred into them for so long that many of them are too wide ranging.

Crossing these two bloodlines from champion stock should produce the ideal gun dog. Especially since the Brittany is a natural retriever and a pointing dog as well. They usually range very close as compared to the pointer. With an energy, ground-covering characteristics and retrieving qualities of the spaniel plus the years of improving the bloodlines of the pointer we expect to have the perfect combination. Let me know if you are interested in a pup of this type.

Red Visits To Afghanistan Potential Trouble For West

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The visit which the Kremlin's roving ambassadors are paying to Afghanistan is loaded with potential trouble for the Western Allies. It could prove to be the most dangerous of their tour of South-eastern Asia.

Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev are due in the remote Himalayan kingdom Wednesday.

They have made their intentions plain. Afghanistan has been embroiled for more than six years in a border dispute with Pakistan, which is allied with the free world.

Bulganin and Khrushchev intend to take advantage of this feud to intensify their present campaign of penetration of Afghanistan.

On Every Opportunity

In their speeches in India, the two Soviet leaders took the opportunity to denounce Pakistan unsparingly.

Khrushchev said Pakistan entered the Baghdad alliance with Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Great Britain at the dictation of "American monopolistic circles."

It was disclosed at that time that Pakistan had protested to the Soviet embassy in Karachi against a visit by Bulganin and Khrushchev at this time.

"No one is going to tell us where we will go," Khrushchev said in mentioning the protest in a speech.

Afghanistan demands that about seven million turbulent Pathan tribesmen on the Pakistan side of the Afghan-Pakistan border be incorporated into a separate independent state.

Pakistan holds that all Afghanistan wants to do is to get control of this area, which includes the famous Khyber pass through the Himalayas.

Incidentally this pass could be made an invasion route from the Soviet Union to Pakistan through Afghanistan.

Riots Last Spring

Ill-feeling between Pakistan and Afghanistan exploded last spring in riots, Afghan mobs attacked the Pakistan embassy in Kabul, the Afghan capital, and wrecked consular offices in other cities.

Russia moved swiftly to take advantage of this situation. It first negotiated an agreement by which Afghanistan, whose natural trade route is through Pakistan, could send its exports and receive its imports through the Soviet Union.

The Russian colony in Kabul started to grow amazingly. Russian technicians began moving in to aid in Afghan economic development. A United Press Kabul dispatch recently quoted reports that construction and repair work on all roads connecting Kabul with the Soviet Union would be turned over to Soviet technicians.

Peg O' Pampa

YES, THIS IS THAT WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL SEASON... Peg just loves Christmas time... the bright, expectant eyes of the little ones... who are marking off the days on the calendar until Santa's arrival... the whispered, hurried confidences in the other room... the secret hiding places... the fun of putting up the Christmas tree... and the awe at the beauty of the finished product... Peg just can't think that giving gifts is "too commercial"... it embodies so much pleasure in giving others pleasure... and the reverent feeling you get at the beauty of a Christmas tree... Peg just can't think this is "too commercial"... but we shouldn't forget why we do all this... that all this sharing, giving and beauty is to celebrate the Christ child's birthday... and is in remembrance of the significance of his birth to all mankind.

PEG UNDERSTANDS the Rho Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was entertained royally by Adrienne Foster this week... her house was beautifully decorated... she used all sorts of Christmas balls... and her tree is gorgeous... understand she served unique ice-cream balls... with burning candles stuck in them and the ice cream didn't melt!... speaking of Beta Sigma Phi... the girls have announced their annual table-setting contest will be held in January... believe it is the 21st... they are going to have two categories this year... formal and informal... Peg thinks their table-setting contest is one of the highlights of the year... and the proceeds always go to some very worthy charity.

A prayer, in its simplest definition, is merely a wish turned heavenward. (Phillips Brooks)

THE LIONS CLUB HAD a simply marvelous Christmas banquet... Peg heard comments that it was one of the best the club has ever had... the basement of the First Methodist Church was filled to capacity... Oh, so many people there... Nita Luna was gorgeous as usual... she wore the loveliest hat and her fur cape that complements the color of her hair... pretty Thera Warner looked so Christmas in red... she's the club's pianist... Ramona Hudgins and Malcolm Brown Jr. did such a professional-like job with the dinner music... Ramona at the piano and Malcolm at the organ... those kids sure do have talent... Skipper Bogard did admirably on his trumpet solos... Peg understands that is the first time he has ever performed... she sure did well... and that is such a hard instrument on which to solo... lovely Betty Hogsett added much to the party with her beautiful voice and cute little Carmelita Hogan did some nice dance numbers... a new girls' trio sang some numbers and they are really good... Ramona Hudgins, Ruth Mookits and Beverly Brewer... Calvin Whitley as master of ceremonies kept everyone in stitches... with a perfectly straight face, he told one joke after another... Jimmy McCune added a few... he did a good job leading the singing... certainly gave us all to it... and it ended on just the right note... Dick Crews read a humorous Christmas poem... and then went on with some serious meditation of the real meaning and observance of Christmas... it was really inspirational... among the crowd Peg sped... Mayor and Mrs. Lynn Boyd... Mrs. Boyd looked so stunning... the Jim Terrells were there... Jan and Price Dostier... Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Homer... Bob Harris of KPAT with his very attractive wife... the John Schoofelds... the Charlie Thutts Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tockley... Betty and Cliff Whitney... and Marie and Bud Johnson... Louise McCrery looked so nice in a lovely fur coat... spied the Earl McConnells, the Ralph Thomases... Helene Huff was there with her parents... she looked stunning in a creamish... ensemble... understand Rod Wedgeworth engineered the party arrangements... she sure is to be congratulated.

They never sought in vain that sought the Lord. (Robert Burns)

OH, THE CHRISTMAS PARTIES, THE CHRISTMAS PARTIES!... there sure have been a lot of them... with more coming up... but since Peg loves to party, she sure is enjoying it all... the home demonstration women had their party the other day... it was so nice... they modeled suits and coats they had made during their tailoring courses... sure made Peg envious... and realize her limited abilities... Mrs. W.G. Kinzer looked in the holiday mood all in green... and Helen Dunlap added a Christmas note to her costume... a bright red tam... Peg admired Mrs. Charles Warminski's hat all during the tea... all covered with shiny little beads or sequins... quite outstanding... Ola Gregory looked stunning all in black... and Mary Hiatt wore a whitish ensemble... looked so pretty... the table was decorated so nicely... and they had the cutest favons... little glittering reindeer... and little Santa Claus heads stuck in marshmallows... the first Peg has seen like that.

Desire is prayer; and no loss can occur from trusting God with our desires, that they may be moulded and exalted before they take form in words and in deeds. (Mary Baker Eddy)

POTPOURRI... It's good to have the Ivan Howards and the Glenn Maxeys back in Pampa... understand the Frank Stallings plan to visit their son Frank and family in Austin sometime during the Christmas holidays... Pauline Kerr has had her daughter, Betty, and family visiting her... Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor, Stephen and Craig... she sure is proud of her little grandsons... understand they've returned to their home in Farmington, N. M., now though... the R. E. Andersons were to leave Saturday to visit their children in Santa Ana, Calif... hear the J. B. Crees Jr. plan to spend Christmas in Hollywood... the B & F W group of the First Christian Church plans a big affair Monday night... a combined Christmas party and installation of officers... at Vera Lard's.

Between the humble and contrite heart and the majesty of heaven there are no barriers; the only password is prayer. (Hosea Ballou)

DECEMBER IS BEGINNING TO SEEM LIKE JUNE... not the weather, by any means... but the numbers of brides... LaHona Prescott was married Friday and Barbara Baird and Sue Lyn McFall both plan to be married the 20th... Pat Darby's wedding is to be the 22nd and... Judy Nance will be married the 27th... that's the wedding date of Greta Miller, too... and pretty Carol McCune is to be married the 30th... we won't be able to call June "the month of brides" much longer.

Our prayers should be for blessings in general, for God knows best what is good for us. (Socrates)

PEG WANTS TO WISH YOU ALL A MERRY CHRISTMAS... although another Peg will be written for the Christmas Eve edition... have a lot of fun and Peg sure hopes you have your families gathered around you for Christmas... and don't forget the Christmas Eve and Christmas Day church services... they'll lend the right tone to the Holiday... make it all so much more meaningful.

Best wishes for a fine holiday.

Your Peg

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

THERE IS ONLY ONE WHO CAN OUT-SPARKLE the Christmas tree this season — and that's you! If you feel that's a bit presumptuous of you, your mind will be changed when you try the festive holiday make-up created by the renowned Helena Rubinstein's Make-Up Director, Rod Barron. His "Tinsel Eyes Look" will have you so a-glimmer and a-glow that even old St. Nick will be at your feet!

THIS IS HOW you go about it: Apply Silk-Tone Foundation in a shade that will give your skin a soft, luminous look... the effect of holiday candlelight, and then finish with English Silk Complexion Powder in a shade to blend with the foundation.

Now, the eyes — the point of emphasis and the center of attention: with Everpoint Eye Pencil in black, line the upper lid close to the lashes and continue to the ends. Use a Dark Brown Everpoint Eye Pencil.

At this point comes the piece de resistance! With Platinum Eye Shadow Stick (the "tinsel" of the title), and a clean lipstick brush, fill in between the two lines described above. Begin this on the upper lid at the point where the eyeliner began to rise from the root of the lashes, and continue to fill in the space at the outer corners. Then wipe the lipstick brush clean and use it to apply Blue-Green Eye Shadow Stick on the entire eyelid, from inner to outer.

Use lashes, use Black Waterproof Mascara, from the inner to the outer corner.

EVERY now and then you have the good fortune to meet a woman who is refreshingly different from the crowd.

Usually you will find out that one of three things makes her seem like a real person instead of a smudged carbon copy of what every woman is doing, saying, thinking, and wearing at one particular time.

First of all, she probably has at least one real interest outside of herself and her family. Not just a talking interest, but a working interest.

Or, perhaps, she is that most feminine of all women, the woman who is sincerely and warmly interested in others, wishes others well and is always ready to lend a helping hand when it is needed.

If so, her whole attitude toward life, toward herself, and toward others is refreshing simply because she is not so busy trying to say and do and be what is expected of her that she hasn't any opportunity to just be herself.

She's not hiring decorators to make her house look like the fashionable conception of what a house should look like. She's not pouring over fashion magazines to make sure she will look the way a million other women are going to look in a few weeks. She's not spending hours at beauty salons trying to look younger than she is.

We women would do well to study those rare members of our sex who stand out from the crowd.

What they have achieved we might be able to achieve if our goal were to be an individual instead of trying to be like everyone else.

MATURE PARENT

A grandmother who's been visiting her son has returned home depressed by his children's "lawlessness." She writes, "Everything their mother should tell them to do she begs them to do with explanations of why they should do it. I think she knows that her 'reasoning' approach to her two little boys is a failure — and hangs on to it because she knows no other way to treat them."

That's probably true. Why wouldn't it be?

How many young people today grow up experienced in relationship with children? Who is it that they "approach"? Their group — people of their own age; the Older People — parents, teachers, employers. They know no children. To day, our disconnected, small family, father-mother-two-children kinship group makes friendships with little boys and girls as rare a teen-age experience as friendship with grandparents.

So what happens when they become parents themselves is terror of their new authority relationship. Inevitably, they try to adapt it to the only "approaches" they know.

The young father will take toward his three-year-old son the same half-teasing, half-joking "pally" attitude he takes to friends of his own age. A young mother, used to explaining herself to her parents and office supervisor, will give a small daughter those reasoning "explanations" that are actually bids for the child's support.

No wonder these "approaches" fail. Missing from them is the element of leadership that distinguishes the adult-child relationship from other ones.

Young parents can have an awful time until this begins to dawn on them. They're used to their young friends' sympathy with all older people's advice on their decisions. It takes time to discover that our lonely decisions of authority have expressed love for the child who couldn't make them for himself.

Let me add this: Little children only make us miserable when we fear to make their decisions for them. It's their way of saying,

BABY

No lunch in Baby's lap is a big advantage to mother, when her toddler is just learning to feed himself. A new apron slips over the tray or table and ties to the legs. It's made of waterproof printed fabric and washes with ease. For those who still prefer the Baby bathtub to the bathnet, one now comes in that spushy plastic. It holds 20 quarts and is oval in the traditional style. It comes in nursery colors. This has an advantage in that it can be used for a laundry tub when Baby's too big. New for the nursery are all-cotton Baby quilts that are lightweight, warm and durable. They come in various colorful prints and can be washed in hot soapsuds and remain colorbright.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace
In sending Christmas cards to my friends is it correct to type the envelope? I will be looking for your answer in your column.
B. B.

Dear B. B.
Today it is smart to be efficient and if you find that you can type the addresses easier than write them out, I see no reason why you shouldn't. Typewritten personal letters used not to be acceptable but the trend is towards more typed letters although it still is not considered correct to type letters of condolence. Neither is it considered good taste to type an invitation or an answer to an invitation. If your writing is inclined to be illegible as often is the case when one is used to typing, you probably would be doing the post office clerks, busy with Christmas mail, a favor if you type your Christmas envelopes.

POSTURE PROBLEM
Dear Grace Friend
I have a problem which worries me even though it is not awfully serious as yet. My teen age daughter simply won't stand up straight. She is rather tall and for a while was definitely taller than girls in her age group as she reached her present height when she was pretty young. I think that this is the reason she got in the habit of stooping which now she can't seem to break. Have you any suggestions about improving her posture?
Mrs. I.

Dear Mrs. I.
In the first place remind her constantly to stand up straight. Don't tell her once and then forget to call it to her attention until another day. Tell her every time she is slumping to straighten up. Point out that models are tall and that since women like the tall look she is lucky to be tall. Make her proud of her height. If just talking doesn't cure her, why don't you have her attend a charm or models school if there is one in the neighborhood.

BAKED STUFFED POTATOES are delicious enough in themselves, but imagine them with mushrooms.

COOK'S NOOK

Add Mushroom For Glamour To Baked Stuffed Potatoes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

With your Christmas dinner, serve rich and fluffy baked potatoes stuffed with fresh mushrooms. Mrs. Joseph Coleman, of Riverhead, Long Island, N.Y., gave us her prized recipe. She and her husband are in the Long Island potato business. So naturally she's an expert on the delicious subject.

Baked Potatoes Stuffed with Mushrooms (Yield: 6 servings)

Six large baking potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 cup hot milk, 2-3 cup finely chopped fresh mushrooms, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice, 12 slices mushrooms for garnish.

Wash potatoes and bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) one hour or until soft. Remove from oven. Cut a slice from the top of each and scoop out the inside. Mash thoroughly. Add salt, black pepper and hot milk. Sauté the chopped mushrooms in 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine, and fresh lemon juice. Add to potatoes and beat until fluffy. Pile lightly into shells. Garnish each with 2 slices fresh mushrooms, dipped in remaining butter or margarine, melted. Bake until brown, 8 to 10 minutes.

BANANA AND APPLE BROWN BETTY (Yield: 6-8 servings)

Seven cups (4 large sliced tart apples, 1 1/2 cups (2 large) sliced bananas, 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 cups soft bread-crusts, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted. Bake until brown, 8 to 10 minutes.

Place half the apples in a 6-cup casserole. Mix bananas with lemon juice and spread 1/2 over the apples. Combine sugar and salt and sprinkle half over the fruit along with half of the bread crumbs. Dot with 1 1/2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine. Repeat, using the remaining ingredients, having bread crumbs as top layer. Cover. Bake 30 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees F.). Remove cover. Bake until brown and apples are tender, about 30 minutes. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

Review Of Suits, Coats Highlights Tea Of County Home Demonstration Council

A suit and coat review highlighted the recent Christmas tea of the County Home Demonstration Council in the Lovett Library. The review featured garments made by the HD club members during their tailoring courses.

Mrs. Charles Warminski of White Deer was commentator. Models were Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent; Tommie Sue Kelley; Cynthia Hogsett; and Mmes. Will Abernathy, W. E. Melton, John Johnson, Johnny Mills, A. A. McElrath, A. P. Coombes, J. L. Carlton, R. M. Barrett, R. D. Anderwald, T. C. McGlohan and Ernest McKnight.

Another highlight of the tea was the installation of officers, with Miss Dunlap leading the service. Installed were Mrs. Walter Noel, council chairman; Mrs. J. L. Carlton, vice-chairman; Mrs. A. A. McElrath, secretary; and Mrs. John Brandon, treasurer. Mrs. Roy Tinsley was treasurer pro tem, in the absence of Mrs. Brandon.

Miss Dunlap used a tailoring theme for the service. She stated that patience, truthness, the ability to follow direction and cooperation are necessary in making a garment.

"The same is true in our organization work," she pointed out. She gave Mrs. Noel the inner facing of "a coat." It "gives strength to the finished garment," Miss Dunlap stated, and "it helps the garment hold its shape."

"We must have unity in the organization, just as we must have unity in a garment to hold it together," she explained.

To Mrs. Carlton she gave the right front of the garment, and to Mrs. McElrath she gave the other side of the front. Mrs. Tinsley received the back of the garment.

Calling committees "the time savers," Miss Dunlap called up several committee chairmen, who worked with the officers to pin together the separate parts of the garment.

"It took the combined efforts of each to do it," Miss Dunlap pointed out. The Christmas story was read from the Bible by Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, and Mrs. McElrath led the group in prayer. A Christmas story was read by Mrs. John Johnson.

Mrs. Ernest McKnight told of the content of the agent's annual report. She reported that the HD clubs' work for the year included the tailoring course, "eat-a-better-breakfast" campaign, the preservation of food, the improvement of home and surroundings, outdoor surroundings, recreation and special interests projects.

The serving table for the tea was covered with a lace cloth over blue centered with frosted blue tapers in crystal holders. Refreshments of decorated Christmas cookies, tea sandwiches, nuts and almond punch were served. Favors were marshmallows topped with miniature reindeer and Santa Clauses.

Cranberry Buns Are Taste Treat

A basket of fragrant hot cranberry buns can add an extra flourish to your already wonderful dinner. Or it can be the start at a friendly morning coffee, an afternoon tea, or a leisurely Sunday brunch.

Use half package roll mix. . . or make your own as follows:
 1 package dry granular yeast
 1/4 cup lukewarm water
 1/4 cup milk
 1 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons sugar
 3 tablespoons shortening
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 2-2 1/2 cups sifted flour

Soften yeast in water. Scald the milk and stir in salt, sugar and shortening. Pour into bowl and cool to lukewarm. Then stir in yeast, egg and half the flour. Mix until smooth. Add remaining four until dough forms an irregular ball and comes away from bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Put dough in greased bowl, spread top with soft shortening, cover with clean cloth, and set in warm place. Let rise until double in size. (about 1 1/2 hours)

Prepare Cranberry Filling: Coarsely chop 2 cups (1/2 lb.) Ocean Spray Fresh Cranberries. Mix with 1-4 cup walnuts, (finely chopped) 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, and cup brown sugar.

Shape and bake: Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board. Roll into rectangle measuring 12" x 7". Brush surface with melted butter, spread with cranberry mixture, roll up as jelly roll, and cut into 1" slices. Arrange, cut side down, in greased 9" cake pan. Let rise again for 45 minutes. Bake in 400 degree F. oven 20 to 25 minutes. While still hot give each bun a creamy glaze.

Potato Nests, Parti-Colored Fruit Salad And Christmas Dream Pie For Holidays

Potato nests filled with peas and mushrooms makes a tasty and attractive accompaniment to ham loaf and other main dishes. This three-in-one vegetable dish is a real holiday time-saver, too, made from this Woman's Home Companion recipe:

Cook about 6 medium potatoes in boiling salted water until soft; drain and mash or press through ricer. Measure about 4 cups hot mashed potatoes; add 2 eggs, 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, salt and pepper to taste. Beat until light and fluffy. Put into a pastry bag with large rosette point and pipe 8 potato nests (about 3 inches across and 3 inches high) onto greased baking pan or plunk (or you can make mounds of the potato mixture and with spoon shape into nests). Brush with melted butter; bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 20 minutes. Meanwhile in saucepan heat 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; add 1/4 cup chopped onion and 1 can (3 or 4 ounces) whole or sliced mushrooms, drained. Cook over medium heat for 5 minutes. Add 2 cups cooked peas (fresh, canned or frozen), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon powdered mace, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, dash of pepper and 2 tablespoons heavy cream or undiluted evaporated milk; heat thoroughly. Fill potato nests with hot peas and mushrooms and serve.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES E. WYLIE

Harriet Ann Dean And James E. Wylie Are United In Marriage In Waxahachie

Miss Harriet Ann Dean of Pampa and James E. Wylie of Waxahachie were united in marriage at 6 p.m. Nov. 26, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church of Waxahachie. Rev. T. Hollis Epton officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dean, 940 S. Hobart, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wylie of Waxahachie.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue wool crepe suit, fashioned with a wide, full peplum lined in white crepe. She wore a white hat trimmed with seed pearls, and carried a bouquet of split carnations, centered with an orchid, over a white Bible.

Miss Treva Dean, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a light blue wool suit with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink gladiolus.

Don Wylie, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers and candlelighters were Jimmy McLemore, cousin of the bridegroom, and Rex Odum.

The couple was married before an altar backed by greenery, small palms and candelabra with white tapers. Flanking the altar were floor baskets of white gladioli.

Miss Jan Epton was organist. Vocalist was Ed Theilley who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dean wore a two-piece brown dress with brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a two-piece brown dress with gold and brown accessories. Both wore corsages of pink gladiolus.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the future home of the bride and the bridegroom in Waxahachie. The serving table was covered with a white nylon net cloth over white linen. The centerpiece, flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra, was an arrangement of white carnations and blue asters.

The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom beneath an arch centered with a wedding bell.

Miss Jean Tomlinson served the cake, and Mrs. Gilbert Boyd, cousin of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Mrs. Don Wylie, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore her wedding suit. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple is at home at 104 Breezeway, Waxahachie.

The bride was graduated from Pampa High School and from Waxahachie School of Nursing. The bridegroom was graduated from Waxahachie High School and is employed there by the Tempo Aircraft company.

Colorful Confection From Multi-Colored Cereal Dresses Up Holiday Meal Time

Dress up your holiday table with butter in saucepan. Cook to 250 degrees. A few drops form a colorful confection.

Try edible Christmas tree favors made from a new multi-colored cereal. The bright red, yellow and orange pellets make pretty decorations, and also good snack eating. The tiny corn puffs are fruit-flavored raspberry, lemon and orange.

To make the tiny trees, mix syrup with the cereal and press into greased conical paper drinking cups. Wooden skewers become tree trunks and large gumdrops become the bases to make the trees stand straight and tall.

Or shape the cereal mixture into balls, let cool, wrap in clear cellophane and tie with a fluffy bow. Hang the cereal ornaments on your Christmas tree within easy reach of your young holiday callers.

It'll be a wearing time, after Baby is encouraged by his father to throw the rubber ball. Until Baby is able to understand, you may go through a period where he wants to throw almost anything.

Try this if Baby's nose runs, but he isn't old enough to blow it: cut the sharp tip off a rubber-bulb ear syringe with a pair of scissors. Use it to drain off the drips painlessly.

One family found that their baby's crankiness went away when they let him go back to bottles rather than cups. They decided they had weaned him too soon. Each baby is an individual, so don't feel that weaning when the neighbor's child is weaned is going to solve any of your problems with Baby.

MRS. FOREST HANKINS (Photo by Clarence's Studio)

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Home Rite By Donna Hegwer, Sgt. Forest Hankins

Wedding vows were exchanged at 7 p.m. Dec. 10, by Miss Donna Hegwer and Staff Sgt. Forest Duane Hankins in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Hegwer, 712 N. Front, Rev. Carroll B. Ray, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiated for the single-ring service.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hankins, south of city.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length crepe dress, styled with a bolero jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations over a Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. E. D. Schultz. She was attired in a blue crepe dress with a bolero jacket and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Melvin Conley served as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a pink dress with a white carnation corsage, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a black dress with a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth. The centerpiece was the three-tiered wedding cake, trimmed with yellow, and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Refreshments of punch, coffee and cake were served.

Mrs. June Rowe presided at the punch bowl and the coffee service, and Mrs. Harold D. Conner served the cake.

The couple will be at home on North Crest Street, Pampa.

The bride is attending Pampa High School. The bridegroom was graduated from Lefors High School and is now serving with the Air Force.

D-And-D Club Has A Christmas Party

The Pampa Desk and Derrick Club held a buffet supper and Christmas party recently in the Pine Room of the Pampa Hotel.

Decorations carried out the club's colors of white and royal blue. A Christmas tree centered the room.

A Christmas reading, "Cowboy's Christmas," was given by Mrs. Rute Jordan, a guest, who was introduced by Mrs. Hildred Cook, club president. Several vocal selections, including "Only A Rose" and "Someday," were presented by Dr. N. J. Ellis, who was accompanied by Miss Eloise Lane.

Following the program, members exchanged gifts, and pictures were taken for the club scrapbook.

About 28 members were present.

Mrs. Stroble led the opening prayer, and Mrs. Jarvis Johnson told a Christmas story, "Why the Chimes Rang." Gifts were exchanged and Christmas carols were sung by the group.

Refreshments of cookies, candies and punch were served, and each child received a Christmas stocking filled with candy and nuts. The centerpiece on the children's table was a merry-go-round decorated with a Yuletide theme.

Children attending were Patricia and Virginia Sims, Kathleen Lrohle, Jacquelyn and Jane Howard, Danny and David Turner, Dwayne Sanders, Craig Wilborne, Deborah and Paula Kay Powell, Nancy and George Bailey, Gene Carlson, Jeletta Swain, Hancy and Daria Robertson, Charles McKinney, Kathy and John Hoover, William Ray Lowther, Suzanne, Paul and Julianne Johnson, Linda and Beth Watson, Morris Johnson, Anne, Michael and Donna Cralle.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Ham, picnic, spareribs, pork sausage, bacon, pork chops are all back in the bargain group. Reason is nine per cent more pigs were born this past spring and this larger pig crop has started to market. So take advantage of the dropping prices.

Try a sweet and sour sauce with pork sausage. Here's one we learned about in Chicago recently at the annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference.

Pineapple Sweet Sour Sauce with Sausage — (Yield: 5 servings)
 One-half pound pork sausage, 1 No. 1 tall can pineapple chunks, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ cup water, ½ cup brown sugar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon cornstarch.

Drain pineapple and combine ½ cup pineapple juice, lemon juice, water, sugar, mustard and cornstarch. Stir and boil to thicken, about 5 minutes. Add pineapple chunks. Brown the sausage 3 minutes. Pour pineapple sauce over sausage. Heat.

Sausage and Green Bean Barbecue (Yield: 4 to 5 servings)
 One package (½ pound) brown and serve sausage, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ cup chili sauce, ½ to 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 can (2 cups) green beans.

Brown sausages in a skillet. Remove sausage to a heated plate. Add flour to skillet. Stir in chili sauce, Worcestershire sauce, and juice drained from canned beans. Stir and cook over low heat until thick. Add the sausages and beans. Stir. Serve hot.

Sausage Cheese Casserole (Yield: 6 servings)
 One pound pure pork sausage meat, 1 small clove garlic, minced, 2 4-ounce cans tomato sauce, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 6-ounce package noodles, 1½ cups (12 ounces) creamed cottage cheese, 6 slices process cheese.

Stir and cook sausage in a large skillet until the pink color disappears. Drain. Add garlic, tomato sauce, and salt to sausage. Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water. Place half the noodles in 10x6x1½-inch baking dish. Spread half the cottage cheese over noodles. Add a layer of sliced cheese and half the meat mixture. Repeat layers. Bake in a moderate (325 degree F.) oven 30 minutes.

Crochet Or Knit?

If you either crochet or knit, here's the pattern for you to make an inexpensive bonnet. The tie-bonnet is knitted and the other crocheted. (So easy to make — so nice to wear or give at Christmas Time!)

Pattern No. 5330 contains crocheting and knitting instructions for bonnets; stitch illustrations.

Send 25 cents in COINS, your name, address and the PATTERN NUMBER to ANNE CABOT, Pampa Daily News, 372 W. Quincy Street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Now available — the 1955 Needlework ALBUM printed in attractive colors. It contains 56 pages of lovely designs — plus 3 gift patterns, directions printed in book. Only 25 cents a copy!

To lessen the scorched taste in burned food, plunge the cooking pan into cold water (not all the way) for a few minutes and then transfer to a fresh pan.

When buying boneless meat, allow one-fourth pound per person; one-half pound of meat with bone.

Christmas Banquet Held By SS Class

A Christmas banquet was held recently by the Dorcas Class of the Central Baptist Church in Fellowship Hall. Decorations followed a Yuletide theme.

Rev. C. B. Ray gave the invocation, and introduced Rev. Carroll Harris of the Hobart Street Baptist Church, guest speaker. His topic was "Consecrated Womanhood."

Attending were Messrs. and Mrs. E. B. Davis, C. C. Miller, J. F. Webb, L. O. Roentfeld, D. L. Irby, M. T. Buck, H. L. Lawrence, H. L. Crump, E. A. Baldwin, E. J. Duncan, Dayton White, L. J. Prescott, Glen Chambers, A. P. Holligan, Jess Hulsey, Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Ray; Meses. Ethel Gower, Dewey Willis, Kate Thomas, Bertha Husa, G. H. Moore, G. C. Stark and E. C. Burba.

Visitors were J. E. Munford, Elizabeth King and Roberta Wood. Girls assisting with the serving were Misses Mary Nell Willis, Joanna Cormas, Carol Champion and Sylvia Davis.

Tucked dachon blouse with bow front is fine for office wear. Looks feminine but is practical.

Quick Pizza Makes Hearty Snacks

Piping hot appetizers and snacks are a part of the fun of these busy days. When guests drop in, or as a surprise for the family, serve a platter of individual pizzas, the brilliant red of the tomato mingling with the melting cheese, and gloriously topped with slices of perfectly-seasoned sausage links. That's wonderful eating!

These handsome little individual pizzas are so easy to prepare you can even turn the job over to the youngsters. Toasted English muffins or hamburger buns are topped with tomato paste or chili sauce, shredded sharp cheese and a sprinkling of the Italian herb, oregano. The full flavored brown 'n serve sausage link slices are the perfect topping. Because the sausage links are fully cooked as purchased, they are ready to serve with only a quick broiling to melt the cheese and combine the flavors. For appetizers, cut the pizza into wedge-shaped pieces and serve hot.

Quickie Pizza Sandwich

Yield: 4 servings
 1/2 pound Swift's Premium Brown 'N Serve Sausage
 4 English muffins, split, buttered, and toasted
 1/2 cup tomato paste or chili sauce
 1 cup shredded cheese
 Oregano

Cut each sausage link into 8 pieces. On each toasted English muffin half spread a tablespoon of tomato paste. Top each with the sausage (one link per muffin half) and the shredded cheese. Season lightly with oregano. Broil until hot. Serve hot.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
You help so many others we feel that you can help us also.
My husband suffers from an allergy which makes him extremely ill. The last time he came down with it I was sure that I was going to lose him. He was in the doctor's care and in the hospital for some time.

My particular problem is this, Grace Friend. The doctors have said that he is well enough to go back to work and he feels that he should return to his job as soon as possible because he has been away a long time. He doesn't want to lose the job as it would be hard to get another.

The doctors have told him that the minute there are symptoms of his trouble that he is to come back for further treatment.

But I feel that he is not nearly well enough to return to work. I am sure that the thing which causes his illness is connected in some way with his work and that he should not go back there. I do not want him to take the chance of getting the thing again as he isn't so strong now after his other illness and I am afraid it might take his life.

I feel that we can manage on what income we would have if he does not return to work but he says that it would be impossible. I would be willing to give up anything if it meant that he would stay well.

I simply don't know what to do, Grace. I have talked and talked to him and he insists that he must go back. I have called the doctor and he says that my husband is able to go back.

If you could suggest something for me to try I would be so grateful.

Distracted

Dear Distracted
Since his own doctor feels that he is well enough to go back to work and since he agrees, I think your role would be to acquiesce and to make him as comfortable as possible.

You can do much to build up his health by planning his diet, keeping his home comfortable and restful, seeing that he gets plenty of sleep and relaxation.

You have done all that you can in trying to persuade him and having lost your argument, you can help your husband most by giving in gracefully and doing as much as possible in helping him to a more complete recovery.

You know that many men are most unhappy away from their work and that the idea of retirement is repugnant to them.

It may well be that your husband needs the work to keep him content in which case the danger of a recurrence of the disease would be of less importance to him than long years ahead with nothing to occupy his time.

Melting chocolate mint patties in a chocolate pie filling gives it a new mint flavor.

Miss Mary Young Chosen Career Girl Of The Month By Pampa Altrusa Club

Miss Mary Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young, was honored as "career girl of the month" at the recent meeting of Altrusa Club in the Pampa Hotel.

Miss Young, a senior in Pampa High School, is a member of the Junior Red Cross board and of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Guest speaker for the luncheon was Mrs. Eleanor Anderson, widow of the author, Sherwood Anderson. She told of the reason for her visit to Pampa as a member of the defense services staff of the National YWCA board. She explained she was "exploring requests for extending YWCA work in various places in Texas."

"We are not pushing it," she pointed out. "We want to be certain places that want it have our help."

She explained that YWCA work helps girls understand themselves, helps them understand friendship with persons from other countries, and helps them grow spiritually.

Mrs. Anderson said that the YWCA starts with a girl when she is young and goes with her through college. She explained that volunteers in a community where there is a YWCA are given training courses.

During the business session, Mrs. Frank Lard, president, reported on the success of the recent Rubloff concert the club sponsored. The group voted to enter the Beta Sigma Phi table setting contest. Mrs. Bob McCoy was chosen chairman, with Mrs. Mark Heath and Mrs. E. M. Keller as her assistants.

It was decided to give $25 to the Nina Fay Calhoun scholarship for a Korean girl, and $10 to the Willie Walker scholarship fund.

Mrs. L. A. Barber reported on the Christmas party to be held Sunday jointly with the Nakomis Club. The women voted to hold the event in the home of Mrs. E. M. Keller, 1905 W. Ripley. The event will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Classification talks were given by Miss J. Flanagan and Mrs. F. M. Foster.

Attending were Meses. Inez Carter, Grant Anderson, F. W. Shotwell, L. A. Barber, Ray Martin, Lillian Snow, Bob McCoy, Irl Smith, Mark Heath, E. M. Keller, Clyde M. Vanderburg, Lorene Locke, Frank Lard, Marian Osborne, N. G. Kadango; and Meses J. Flanagan and Ola Gregory.

Black and brown, well combined, make for high fashion at a budget price. For example: a brown sheath topped by a black-and-brown blazer.

You can get them at the five-and-dime. Little nylon scarves in pastel colors to use as fill-ins at the necklines of winter dresses and suits. Wash and drip-dry, — of course.

MAKE FRIENDS MANNERS

When someone brings you a gift, open it immediately. Laying it aside to open after the giver has gone makes it seem as though you aren't very interested in the gift. And, remember, the person who has brought you the gift will probably be watching your face for your first reaction.

So even if it turns out to be a "what-is-it?" object, let nothing but pleased surprise show on your face.

Pink has invaded the kitchen. But it's also quite the thing in lingerie. Once, only white was acceptable. But now, pale pink's very much in fashion.

A Message from Joe Miller, "Your Pharmacist"

EACH MONTH, during the past year, these monthly news messages have been telling you about the way we operate our pharmacy. We have tried to explain some of the unusual conditions about a pharmacy.

UNUSUAL, BECAUSE PHARMACY is a profession, in which you entrust your very life in our care when we compound your prescriptions; but of necessity also, a business that must be conducted in a manner that will please you.

BUT THIS IS CHRISTMAS MONTH, so we are not going to write you about how sincerely we try to serve you courteously, honestly, and in strict observance of the code of ethics and traditions of pharmacy.

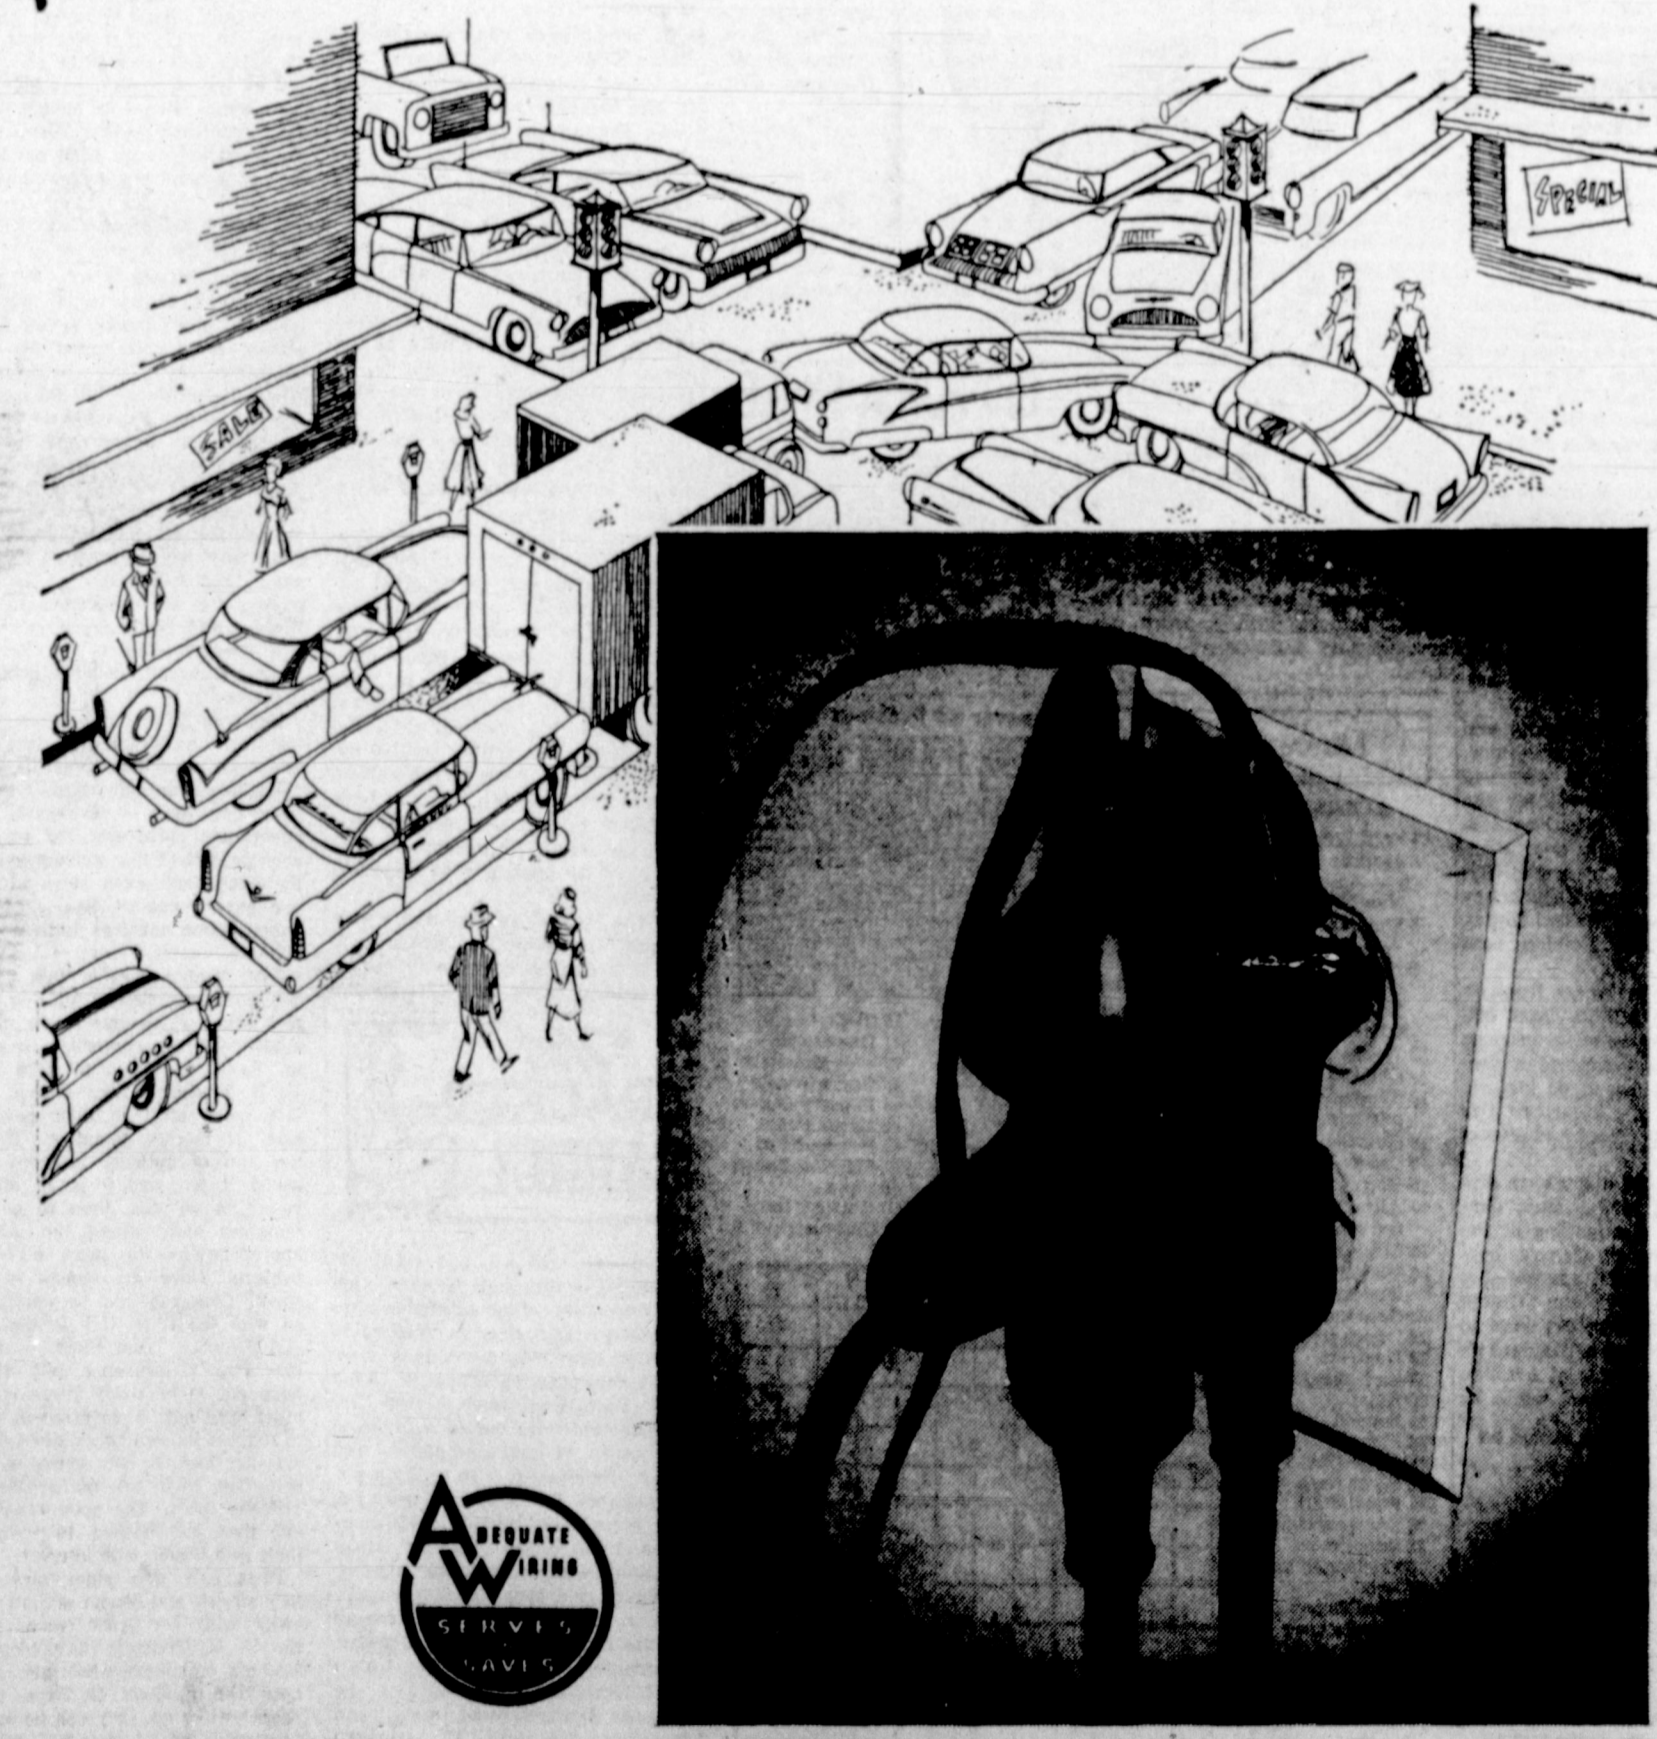

WE WANT TO BE ONE OF THE VERY FIRST to wish you a Merry Christmas, and a Happy, Healthy, and Prosperous New Year.

NOW, AT THE CLOSE OF THE YEAR, we are especially mindful of the great, good fortune that is ours in having wonderful folks like you as our customers. It is your loyalty and patronage that enables us to conduct our drug store.

We thank you for the privilege of being "Your Pharmacist."

For The Joiners

With the arrival of winter, we get into the "gosh-let's-do-something" season. It's a funny thing about an American, but when it gets cool enough to wear a necktie, he wants either to sign or join something. It is unfashionable, and even a little gauche to inquire what you're being asked to sign or just what you're being asked to join, for this is an indication of distrust and possibly even discrimination, that will get you in trouble with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and its travelling companion, the Anti-Defamation League.

Take, for example, the Parent-Teacher Association membership drives which are going on.

There is no reason why parents shouldn't take an interest in schools; in fact it has been a long and rather unpopular notion of ours that parents should worry about schools a lot more than they do.

But joining a tailor-made, nationwide organization with lobby activities in Washington is one thing, while a real interest in education is quite another.

The little PTA groups around the country are part of a Big Plan. They are knots in a whip. The members of the PTAs are, roughly, in the same position as John Lewis' mine workers or Walt Reuther's steel workers—they are nameless, ineffectual usually, sincere and honest, but always manipulated. They are names and numbers to be bandied about before congressional committees.

Do you know how it works?

The slickest practitioners of the gentle art of gulling the "joiners" is the League of Women Voters whose national organization practices shameless duplicity, claiming to be a "non-partisan" study outfit while in reality it has used the political effectiveness of its membership rolls to lobby for One-Worldism and the whole parcel of the internationalists. The League's local membership is forbidden to take a stand on partisan issues, and when the national outfit does, the local chapters are forbidden to poll the membership or display chagrin, displeasure or unhealthy curiosity.

The PTA is not in a class with the League, but it has its own scenario. The local Mom-n-Pop clubs are sometimes joined into citywide organizations, and eventually all of them are knotted together into the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The Congress of Parents and Teachers has been notable chiefly for lobbying in behalf of a federal school system. During the last two sessions of Congress (the Congress, that is), this outfit has asked for the government to build schools, subsidize teachers and teaching and otherwise remove the school system still further from the control of politically unreliable local folks who sometimes get ornery and turn down bond issues, fire Commie teachers and demand that the schools be operated with something approaching common sense.

The whole, vast and sophisticated public school industry is controlled by the wildest politicians in the history of America—the National Education Association whose power has become so great it is threatening to destroy itself. Even the most passionate followers of the fiction that the state owes every little critter 12 years in the classroom are beginning to become alarmed by the power and practice of the NEA. Put together the political power of the unions and big business and it isn't half that of the NEA.

The PTAs are a string of pearls around the neck of the NEA. When the political scene calls for a deceptively amateur touch, the NEA runs in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The legislator is advised that he is dealing not with school teachers but with millions of Moms and Pops who love their kids, pay their poll taxes and hate congressmen who pinch dimes when it comes to the school system.

It is quite an operation; and the local "joiner" has as much to do with it as one pea in the can has to do with the morals of the canning company.

The joining habit has brought us to be victimized by these "package-thinking" outfits. Before he leaps into the innocent-looking club, the joiner ought to inquire what's upstairs. The piano in the parlor isn't the whole story.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Growths known as polyps from the mucous surfaces of the breathing passageways, particularly the nose and throat are extremely troublesome to many people. Recently, one correspondent asked about polyps in the nose and another about polyps in the vocal cords, and the latter says that they have been removed but have grown back.

These growths are not cancers but often block the breathing passageways to some extent or interfere with the voice or other functions. Treatment in the past was almost always to remove them by surgery.

Although this could usually be done with considerable ease, polyps often grew back. Operating may still be necessary in some cases, but in others it has been found that cortisone or ACTH are drugs which may shrink such polyps to a point where they no longer troublesome. Furthermore, many polyps appear to be directly related to allergy and the degeneration of the substance or substances to which the person is sensitive and appropriate management of the allergy may also be so useful that surgery may never be needed.

Q — I certainly agree with what you have said regarding the early separation of a mongoloid child from the parents, but I have a special problem. My mother, now approaching her 86th year, insists on keeping my mongoloid brother, now 41 years old, at home with her. I am faced with a serious problem should my mother become ill or pass away. I could not bring my mongoloid brother into my home and wonder what could be done under these circumstances, bearing in mind that I could not afford to place him in a private institution?—S.
A — It does indeed seem wise to face this problem before it actually occurs. I should suggest that you consult someone in the social service field, either directly, or through your own doctor, on what could be done for your brother if your mother becomes no longer able to care for him.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

How I Discovered My Handicap

In the last issue I explained how attending and graduating from a high school and a Methodist college handicapped me in my learning the difference between right and wrong and that good government should be limited only to penalizing the use of aggressive force and fraud.

It seems to me that it's almost impossible for any individual in a Protestant family and a Protestant community attending public schools to realize his handicap unless he comes in contact with real libertarians; with individuals that really understand the ideologies as set forth in the Declaration of Independence.

Ralph Waldo Emerson was one of the first libertarians who aroused my interest in liberty and how a government should be limited. I bought his complete works and was fascinated with them. His essay on "Compensation, Politics and The Uses of Great Men" stimulated my desire for better understanding.

Then I ran across Herbert Spencer's works that started me to question the morality of government schools and the myths that existed in most of the organized religions. He whetted my curiosity, but some of Spencer's writings he later disavowed. Thus it was extremely difficult to pick out the truth from fiction in Spencer's writings when I first came in contact with him at my stage of development.

The Real Awakener

Then a Socialist told me that Frederic Bastiat made the best explanation of the disadvantages that come from protective tariff. That interested me. I got his "Sophisms" and was so fascinated with it that I bought his "Harmonies of Political Economy," and even had some of his essays translated that had not been translated into English.

He was the first man who awakened me to the errors, taught in government schools and most Protestant colleges, that the state doing things that were immoral if done by an individual made these acts become moral. In other words, he was the first man that pointed out that there was only one standard of right and wrong—the same standard for the state that governed the standard for the individual. He also clearly explained to me that in creating wealth in a free economy the gain of one was the gain of all.

He explained the primary cause of modern wars. He explained that where goods and services do not freely cross border lines, soldier will and war will eventually follow.

Bastiat so impressed me that I republished his "Social Fallacies (Economic Sophisms)" and his "Harmonies of Political Economy" in two volumes, and his essay on "The Law."

I know of no writer who more clearly explains how government should be limited than does Frederic Bastiat. Of course, John Locke had the idea of a limited government—that the government should only be the agent of the individual—but it does not seem to me that his explanation is as clear as Frederic Bastiat's. Of course Frederic Bastiat had the advantage, undoubtedly, of having read John Locke and his followers. John Locke was a pioneer in expounding the ideologies that resulted in the Declaration of Independence.

Principals attending government schools or Protestant colleges will not find Frederic Bastiat's works in these colleges. The government schools will, of course, not use Bastiat because he explains the injustice and immorality of government schools so rationally that government "educators" cannot refute his argument and thus they would be embarrassed. Therefore, they deprive their students of an opportunity of reading Bastiat.

And religious colleges will not have him because he wrote in his chapter on spoliation in his "Social Fallacies" this statement on a method of spoliation: "According as you give or refuse me to the gates of heaven or of hell."

Religious colleges do not want their authority or monopoly of this method of enslaving mankind questioned. So students in either state or religious colleges miss an opportunity of reading one of the close reasoners of the ages on moral and just questions as presented by Frederic Bastiat.

Then I came across Henry Link's "Return to Religion," "Rediscovery of Man," and "Rediscovery of Morals," and his essay on "The way to Security"—he clearly pointed out the immorality and the injustice of government schools.

Then I ran across John Ruscard, an old Swede, in his books, "The Problem of Poverty," "Sharing the Wealth," and "The Bankruptcy of Liberalism." He thoroughly explains the injustice of government schools and how impossible it is for government to educate the youth of the land to understand liberty and justice.

Eden's Visit Is To Iron Out Allies' Differences

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Sir Anthony Eden's January visit to Washington may prove to be one of the most important and far-reaching conferences which representatives of the two great Western Allies have staged in the postwar era. Based on the bitter experiences of the last decade, it is designed to iron out troublesome differences between Washington and London in the face of Russia's post-Geneva offensive in Asia and the Middle East.

There is also a personal aspect to Eden's trip, which he proposed without prior suggestion from the White House or State Department. Relations between the Prime Minister and Secretary Dulles have not been too cordial since they differed on an Indo-China settlement and SEATO buildup at Geneva a year or so ago.

Neither Eden nor Harold Macmillan, Foreign Secretary, have enjoyed the warm friendship with Eisenhower that he and Churchill developed during their World War II association. Since so many world problems today require personal and behind-the-scenes diplomacy rather than formal agreements, such as F.D.R. and Sir Winston conducted, a closer understanding between White House and 10 Downing Street personalities is essential.

Although Washington and London have had no serious break in these trying years, that would be fatal to Western solidarity, there have been and still are underlying disagreements. Moscow has sought to capitalize on the lightest divergence, seeking to destroy the solidarity which the Soviet's postwar animosity has cemented.

In his current tour of India and Burma, once British possessions, Nikita Khrushchev has reserved his most violent outbursts for the United States, rather than England. Dulles' unfortunate slip over Portugal's Goa enclave furnished the opportunity. Moreover, Khrushchev and Bulganin are scheduled to pay an official visit to London next year.

In striving to checkmate Russia's advances in the Middle East and India, Eden is expected to propose a definite Anglo-American program. It will be based on historic and tested Anglo-American ties and policies in that vast and strategic area.

The Israel-Egypt dispute, in diplomatic opinion, is the most dangerous and war-provoking at the moment, in view of Cairo's purchase of Communist arms. So, Eden will urge that the United States try to persuade Tel Aviv to accept a compromise settlement on territory and the status of Arab refugees from Palestine, while he of my associates think it should be reprinted.

advocates a less stiff-necked attitude with Colonel Gamal-Abdel Nasser, the Egyptian dictator. The Israelis feel resentful toward the British, whereas they look to U.S. interests for economic and military aid. Nasser, similarly, turns a kinder face toward London than toward Washington. As Foreign Secretary, Eden negotiated the evacuation of British military bases in the Suez Zone and the question of Sudan's sovereignty.

The basis for a peaceful denouement has been laid, in Eden's belief. But a firm agreement cannot be achieved without combined and co-ordinated pressure by the Western nations.

In view of Dulles' Goa remark, Eden will assume the task of wooing Prime Minister Nehru, at least to the extent of preventing any economic entente with Russia. The British Prime Minister will use the good offices of Nehru's neighbors organized as the Colombo Powers, which have made solid economic gains under British auspices.

Although the Far East stalemate is a sensitive question in a national election year, especially in view of the prospective Knowland candidacy, it will be raised by Eden. It has been the British belief that Mao Tse-tung can be weaned from the Kremlin. If the West showed more sympathy for his country's needs, especially in the way of trade.

Eden will, at least tentatively, suggest methods for supplanting the present cease-fire situation over Formosa with a more permanent and satisfactory arrangement.

...with JAMES C. INGEBRETTEN President, Spiritual Mobilization

The New York Times is notorious, of course, for editorializing in its news columns. But, when it uses a headline to completely contradict the news story under it, it seems to me that the limit of irresponsibility has just about been reached.

Here, for instance, is the gist of an Associated Press news story from Glasgow, Scotland, carried recently by The N. Y. Times: "Three Rolls-Royce planes... stood idle today because of a labor dispute growing out of one man's determination to work overtime..."

"Follow workers referring to McLernon as 'Bonus Joe,' lifted his union card. The workers then refused to stay at their benches while the company employed a non-union man, Rolls-Royce backed McLernon."

Clearly it was the union that shut down Rolls-Royce. But the N. Y. Times headline over this story said: "Bonus Joe' Shuts Plant; His Defiance of Overtime Ban Halts Rolls-Royce Work." This is not merely another example of how the "liberal" press twists things to suit its own ends. It is proof that occasionally it twists them so far that it makes itself ridiculous by having the news story say one thing while its headline says exactly the opposite.

BID FOR A SMILE

A farmer who was a witness in a hog-stealing case seemed to be scratching a point or two in favor of the accused.
Prosecuting Attorney — Do you know the nature of an oath? (repeating) Farmer — Sure.
Prosecuting Attorney — Do you know you are not to bear false witness against your neighbor?
Farmer — I'm not hearing false witness against him. I'm bearing false witness for him.

Government Buys Up Pork; Why Not Try Automobiles?

By Thurman Sensing

The price of pork has reached the lowest point in a number of years—a wonderful thing for the consumers—and that's everybody. But the hog raisers are complaining mightily, so Uncle Sam steps in and buys $85 million worth of pork products for school lunches. Because the school children should have pork for lunch? No, indeed. Actually pork is not a desirable item for school lunches—but it's in abundance, the hog raisers are complaining, so feed it to the kids and make 'em like it!

This business of government price supports is a vicious circle. The government begs and borrows money from all the people to buy from part of the people stuff it does not need, at prices higher than anyone else will pay. It does this so that these particular people may operate at a profit and continue to produce more goods that the government does not need but feels forced to continue to buy at prices higher than any one else will pay. It shows what happens when the government starts meddling with the law of supply and demand.

And, actually, if this principle applies to one segment of our economy, it should apply to all segments. For instance, it seems like by now that there has been an over-production of automobiles by the automobile manufacturers—and the dealers are also complaining mightily. So why shouldn't the government step in and buy automobiles to furnish to students to get to and from school—so the manufacturers can continue to make automobiles that the dealer must take and, in order to continue to make a profit, must continue to sell the surplus to the government?

There's a good deal of difference between the price of a pig and the price of an automobile—but the principle is the same. And this same principle applies to any other product one might mention.

If we are to keep any sort of a free enterprise economy in this country, if we are to respect the rights of the individual and have any regard for the welfare of the whole people, then we must quit government price supports and allow the law of supply and demand to operate.

It is hardly worthy of the news columns to report that the recent White House Conference on Education wound up with a plea for more federal aid for schools. It is just not news when a dog bites a man.

It would have been newsworthy if the Conference had ended with objective recognition of the needs of the schools and at the same time recognition of the fact that the federal government has no money with which to provide school aid that the states do not provide in the first place.

But professional educators—and this Conference was so stacked that it was controlled by professional educators—simply will not admit that it is the responsibility of the local communities and states to provide themselves with the kind of education they need, that to provide it in any other way kills initiative at the grass roots and turns control of the schools over to a federal bureaucracy.

It was nothing less than hypocrisy on the part of the Conference to include in its final report a statement to the effect that the delegates almost unanimously opposed any federal control over educational use of funds in state school districts. Regardless of what anyone may say, federal aid gives the federal government control over the public schools of the nation. It is entirely logical, and has been so ruled by the Supreme Court, that the federal government has the right to control that which it subsidizes.

If the federal government wants to help the states, the best way in which it can be done is by reducing federal taxes and leaving the money in the states so that they can help themselves.

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

WHAT PRICE "SOCIAL SECURITY"?

There are few government programs so generally "popular" and so generally "misunderstood by the American public, as the Social Security program. After twenty years of operation, it is no longer even "controversial," since both major parties and their leaders are now content to merely "expand" it, and none of the intelligent opposition has long since been snowed under by the clamor of popular (if ignorant) approval, and the demand for "more." At this sad point, only those individuals who do not depend upon votes for a living, still dare to voice their open criticism of the financial and moral results of "Social Security."

As one member of this dwindling minority of critics, this columnist has frequently been challenged by angry correspondents to "prove" her frightening contention that the 20 odd billion "surplus" which is popularly believed to exist safely in the Old Age Trust Fund, is, in fact, "non-existent," except as one of the huge hunks in the national debt.

What better place to obtain such "proof" than from the Social Security office itself? So, we wrote this office, asking the point-blank question, and we now have our official answer. "These assets of the fund are liabilities of the U.S. Treasury, and are part of the national debt." The "Asset" exists only as a book-keeping entry on the Social Security books. The money has all been spent for other purposes!

This columnist has never argued with the book-keeping system, nor with the contention that this process is required by law. That is completely true! Our criticism is three-fold: 1—the net result is financially and morally wrong, and 2—the American people simply do not know the facts about it,—and if they did,—they would not be so eager to approve it,— and 3—Neither party nor its leaders have the courage to tell them the facts! Many of us have contended that the poor tax-payers will have to pay this 20 billion Social Security bill twice. This is vehemently denied by our officials. They have a technically-legal argument which goes like this: "It is true that the 20 billion will have to be redeemed by the taxpayers, but these tax-payers will not be buying their Social Security twice. They will be taxed to pay what the U.S. Treasury spent for borrowed money for!"

Let's put it this way. Mama asks Papa for the money to pay an impending insurance bill. Papa pays. Then Mama, with that tempting green notes in her possession decides to spend the insurance money on two new dresses. When the insurance bill falls due, she has to ask Papa for the money again. He fumes and insists he has already paid it. She tells him she hasn't got the money now, on account of the bought the two dresses instead. Papa is stuck. He gives her the insurance money again, but technically he is not paying for the insurance twice. Now — he's really paying for the two dresses! But — to Papa's wallet, it doesn't make a hoot of difference!

The only difference between this incident, and the Social Security process, — is that Papa is not going to put up with Mama's technique very long, — whereas in the government program, the people are ignorant of this technique, and therefore don't even know they are paying again! Also, — the public game involves billions of dollars!

The insidiousness of this process goes as follows: All this Social Security money, which most Americans are compelled to pay in, flows by law right into the U. S. Treasury Like Mama, all this green stuff in their possession is mighty tempting. There are lots of enticing projects to spend it for, and it is so much easier to do this, than to go to Congress and request the added appropriations for these other projects. Once the money is all spent, Congress can be confronted with the I. O. U.'s to the Social Security Trust Fund, — and like Papa's insurance bill,—they have got to be paid! There is no other way out. A government has to redeem its own bonds when they are due, and the only source of redemption, is to tax the people to redeem them. The poor tax-payers thus get hooked to redeem their own bonds, with interest.

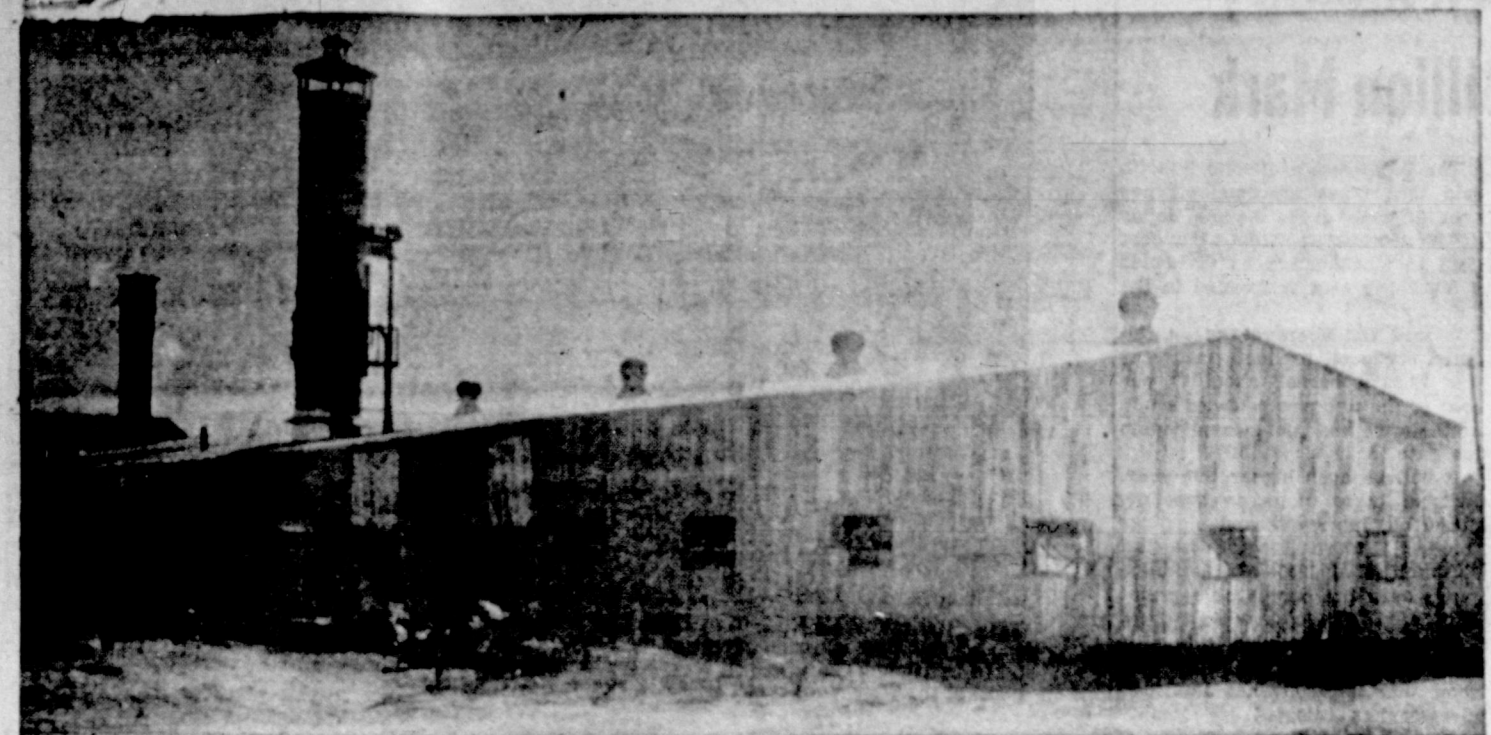

Papa only gets stuck once, if he's smart, and Mama doesn't get away with her trick twice. But the U. S. Treasury has adopted Mama's technique wholesale, and until the millions of Papa taxpayers wake up, they can be safely counted on to "steal" meekly and without even complaining, every time the new tax bill comes due!

NEW BUILDING

The new 50 x 200 foot addition to the Pampa Foundry (pictured above) more than doubles the amount of space the company had formerly. The sheet-iron building is equipped with entirely new equipment and material, including a new cupola, for melting of pig iron, scrap iron, steel, and other mixtures; a new automatic loader, and air blowers and air weight controls to supply the proper amount of oxygen in the melting of metal. In its second week of operation, the new foundry grosses 36,000 pounds of metal a day for six days a week. (News Photo)

TRAPPED BY OLD MAN WINTER—This goose was caught napping on a small lake near Liberal, Kan. So Undersheriff Zed Coffey had to chop his way through the ice with a four-by-four to free her. The goose, one of a flock of tame geese owned by a motel operator, just didn't realize how cold it was as the lake froze around her during the night.

Group Is Dedicated To Put Christ Back Into Christmas

By GEORGE ARMOUR
MILWAUKEE—UP—A spokesman for a group dedicated to putting Christ back into Christmas said Saturday, "We're not trying to assassinate Santa Claus, we just want to put him in his place."
"Santa Claus certainly has a place in Christmas," but not the No. 1 spot," the spokesman said. "We want to remind everyone said, Christmas is a celebration of the birth of Christ."
The move to put Christ back in Christmas was begun here in 1949 by the late Father Henry Velle, head of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers. It has snowballed since then into a voluntary national movement in which a large number of religious, civic and fraternal groups are taking part.
Velle felt that commercial interests had distorted the true meaning of Christmas by substituting symbols for the Christ child. The spokesman, a friend of Velle now doing voluntary work for the group, refused use of his name because, "I don't want personal credit for a group in which thousands are taking part."
"We point out to businessmen that on George Washington's birthday they don't put a duck in the window of their store," he said. "Why put a reindeer in the window on Christ's birthday. Reindeers are all right, but they distort the true meaning of Christmas."

The group asks civic leaders and businessmen to restore the true Christmas symbol by using the nativity scene instead of red-nosed reindeer, Santa Claus or winter scenes.
This year, the movement is using a wide variety of devices to spread the message. Posters, seals for letters, buttons, tags for Christmas trees, stickers, phonograph record and word of mouth are being used in various parts of the country. Most of the devices urge the reader to "Put Christ Back in Christmas" and others remind that "Christmas is Christ's Birthday."
Many Taking Part
American Legion chapters, Kiwanis groups, Catholic war veterans, civic organizations and religious groups have joined the campaign across the nation.
"There are no arguments," the spokesman said. "Lutherans, Baptists, Catholics and other religions are united in the cause."
"Everyone agrees that Santa Claus has a spot in Christmas," he said. "But he shouldn't have the top spot. Commercial interests are not giving a true representation of Santa Claus, either. The original St. Nicholas of Germany was a bishop, who gave presents. He didn't have a red suit, or reindeer."
"We felt the whole business had gotten out of hand," the spokesman said.

Sailor Wins In Fight With Sea

GRIMSBY, England—UP—A seaman washed overboard in a North Sea storm and given up for lost, crawled ashore Saturday the exhausted victor of a 13-hour battle against the raging sea although he couldn't swim.
Harold Cook, 25, was swept overboard from the trawler Denton two miles off this Lincolnshire port before dawn Friday. The trawler spent three hours searching for him before returning to port. The crew knew Cook could not swim and reported him lost.
Thirteen hours later, half-drowned and with his mouth full of sand, Cook struggled ashore on the beach at nearby Cleethorpes. A local resident out duck shooting saw him stretched out at the water's edge and dragged him in.

Tax Take From Oil Industry Is Nearing $6 Billion Mark

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—UP—The annual tax take of all governments—federal, state and local—on gasoline and other oil products is nearing the $6 billion mark, according to the American Petroleum Institute.
Industry sources said Saturday it will break through that barrier easily if Congress decides to finance President Eisenhower's multi-billion dollar highway building program with more taxes on motorists and other petroleum users.
"The ever-increasing total is causing industry alarm. President T. S. Petersen of Standard Oil of California, warned recently that another federal tax on gasoline might push the price of the fuel "to the point of diminishing returns."

The API's tax economic bulletin said that taxes absorbed 8.2 per cent of each gross income dollar in 1954, compared with 4.4 per cent paid to stockholders as dividends and 5.8 per cent reinvested in the industry.
It said the average tax on finished crude oil products last year was $2.02 a barrel, about 71 per cent of the average price of crude at the well and more than double the rate in 1946.
It will be even higher this year. Federal taxes alone on gasoline, diesel oil, lubricants and pipelines totalled $1,070,792,000 for the first six months of 1955—a $13 million jump over the comparable period of 1954.
Congress is scheduled to take up Mr. Eisenhower's highway plan soon after it reconvenes Jan. 3. It already has rejected his bond-financing proposal and is talking in terms of increased highway user taxes, including a one-cent hike in the federal gasoline tax.
Petersen stoutly opposes this. He said he favors a tax base which would tap all persons who benefit directly or indirectly from highway traffic such as stores, farms, homes, places of business, suppliers of automobile accessories, and paving material.
"Everyone Dependent
"The point is," said Petersen, "there is no end to the number of people who benefit, or are dependent upon, a system of adequate highways. We're all dependent on them."
He said he believed any substantial increase in the gasoline tax "would place an unreasonable share of the highway financing load on our chief product." He added that each time a motorist drives into a filling station he is likely to pay more than a dollar in taxes to the state and federal governments.
"Averaged nationally," Petersen said, "that works out to a take of 25 per cent or more for the tax collector. In a typical year motor fuel taxes come to more than $3 billion. That is a sizeable levy to impose on a commodity not in the luxury class. We've gone about as far as we can go."

Ike Says Xmas Season Is For Good Will

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—UP—President Eisenhower told members of the Armed Forces at home and abroad Saturday that the Christmas season "is a time for the renewal of hope for peace and justice and goodwill throughout the earth."
In his capacity as commander-in-chief, Mr. Eisenhower joined others in the military high command in extending holiday greetings to those who have pledged their lives to their country's defense.

"To all of you who serve our nation at home and abroad," the President said, "I send my warmest Christmas greetings and good wishes. May the coming year be one of good health and happiness for you and yours, and one of continued progress toward justice and brotherhood among peoples everywhere."
Also sending greetings were Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker, Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas, Air Secretary Donald A. Maxwell, D. Taylor, Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Arleigh Burke, Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Marine Corps commandant Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Coast Guard commandant Vice Admiral A. C. Richmond, and Rear Admiral E. B. Harp, chief of chaplains, U.S. Navy and chairman of the Armed Forces chaplain board who offered a Christmas prayer.

Yule Decorations Are Pretty But Don't Burn Up The House

By ROBERT F. MORISON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—UP—Christmas is a time when most Americans light up their homes. They should be careful not to burn them up as well.
It has happened before. When it does, overloaded electrical systems are usually to blame.
The National Electrical Contractors Association offers four suggestions for avoiding trouble from Christmas lighting:
1. Be sure all extension cords and special lighting equipment is of competent manufacture and certified by the underwriters' laboratories.
2. Do not overload household circuits.
3. If outside lighting is used make sure the proper heavy-duty wiring is installed.
4. Do not use frayed or broken wires which might cause a short circuit and lead to serious fires.
—Some 765 Christmas Fires
Accidents in and around the home at Christmas time last year caused 765 fires, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This represented a loss of about $1-million. Most of the accidents were attributed to carelessness.
The contractors association believes 15-ampere fuses will take care of most reasonable loads from Christmas decorations. If a fuse burns out, remove some of the extra lights from the circuit operating from that fuse. You will have removed enough to be safe when you try a new fuse and it doesn't burn out.
You can attach the removed

THE SUNNY WHERE?—The sight of ice-covered fire-fighting equipment and wires is common enough this time of year—except in the South. Proving that it gets cold there, too, is this picture taken in Atlanta, Ga. Temperatures were in the low 20's when firemen were called to extinguish the blaze at the New York Stock House, a clothing establishment.

This 'Lettuce' Was Mispicked!

HOUSTON—UP—Mrs. Pauline Black, who operates a grocery, had a busy day Friday packing oranges, lamb chops, apples and corn for customers.
And Mrs. Black also may have, accidentally, packed some "lettuce"—about $4,000 worth in cash—in one of her customer's bags.
She reported the disappearance of the money, kept in a paper sack under a counter, to police. She said she last saw it when she cashed a check for a customer.
"I thought I put it back on the shelf under the counter," she said. "But I'm not sure. I may have put it in some customer's package."
She said she waited on "10 or 15" more customers before another one presented a check to cash and she reached for the money to find it gone.

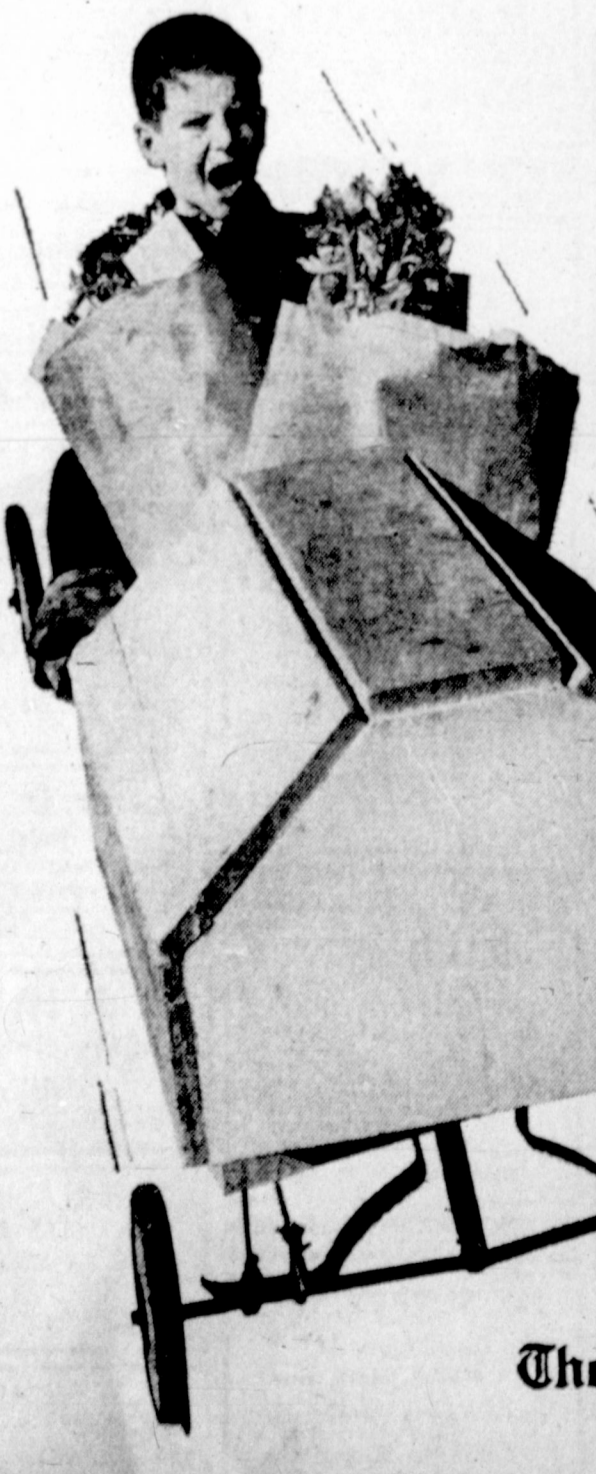

Air Force To Move Troop Wing

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—UP—The Air Force plans to move the 170th Troop Carrier Wing here from San Antonio. Mayor Walter Chandler reported Saturday.
Chandler confirmed that negotiations are under way to shift the wing, which includes 872 officers and men and 48 planes.
The Air Force reportedly notified the Washington offices of Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) and Rep. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.) of the planned move.
ally brings more people tramping into the house, remember even home can be dangerous. The National Safety Council expects 27,000 lives to be lost this year from household accidents. Another four million persons will be injured.

Parsonage Has Open House

The new parsonage will house the pastor and his wife Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Hutchinson.
