READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

"PERSONAL POWER THROUGH SPEECH"

It is a pleasure to inform prospective readers of "Personal Power Through Speech" that the too-serious yet ingratiating chap shaking a finger on the jacket is not, after all, a figure out of Dale Carnegie's immortal opus. Nor does he set the tone of the new book; this is perfectly serious, and no doubt helpful, but it doesn't smack of those marvelous ways to make people eat out of your hand that Mr. Carnegie writes about so profitably.

No-frankly, this is a text book. It was issued last year under what the publishers call its "educational title." This was "Basic Principles of Speech." The title you read in the preceding paragraph is what is known as the book's "library edition" title. What the idea is behind all this the publisher must explain himself.

Messrs. Saret and Foster have worked seriously to produce a good book on how to speak in public. They are brave men, and deserve success, for before publishing they sent either manuscript or proof to 21 university professors for comment and correction. One of these experts was Clarion T. Hardy.

It seems to this reader that the gentlemen have succeeded brilliantly. Certain things, such as breathing in until you feel your stomach pressing your belt, may be a little far fetched—we have yet to see a truly effective speaker who gulped huge quantities of air while spouting. But what is said about gestures is, to balance, remarkably sensible. And the traps of so-called facial "expression" are beautifully exposed. It would be a real pleasure to send copies of this to Hollywood for general free distribution. The folly of Hollywood's "registering" its emotion in those dreadful grimaces is exposed accurately; the authors think that the less you manipulate your face, the better, in or out of films. It should be remembered, however, that this book is aimed at the university undergraduate, and that some of the illustrations (textual, not photographic) are in keeping with this aim.

Lacy Crochet Square

By RUTH ORR

The open mesh of this motif is the sort that will flatter whatever it decorates. Being a square, it is especially adapted to use on square or rectangular articles such as tablecloths, buffets, or beds. The ingenious joinings make the piece appear all in one rather than made up of four-inch motifs. The rich fringe that decorates the piece can be omitted, if you prefer.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy to understand illustrated directions, also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 512 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address: Big Spring Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Box 172, Station D, New York, N. Y.

GANGSTER ARRESTED

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 24 (AP)—Herold H. Reinecke, head of the local office of the department of justice, announced today federal agents here have arrested Anthony Joseph Amerbach, 40, whom he described as "one of the last remnants of the Karpis-Barker gang."

Reinecke said Amerbach is under indictment in Toledo, Ohio, federal court on charges of accessory after the fact in the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer of St. Paul and harboring members of the Karpis gang.

He was arrested in a tavern here last night and will be turned over to the United States marshal later today.

Reinecke said Amerbach had been "in and out of Indianapolis" for several weeks and also had been reported in Kentucky. He was unarmored when arrested last night.

WPA WORKERS ARE AVAILABLE FOR USE IN HARVEST FIELDS

AUSTIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—H. F. Drought, state administrator for the Works Progress Administration, said today farmers can obtain WPA workers for seasonal crop gathering.

He advised farmers to direct requests to county judges and farm agents, and the national reemployment and Texas state employment services.

"These offices are familiar with our policy of suspending WPA projects if necessary to provide workers for private employment," he said.

MAIL TO EUROPE TO COST A QUARTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Airmail to Europe, perhaps to be inaugurated this fall, probably will cost 25 cents a letter, postal officials said today.

"We had hoped to make it 20 cents," said Harilee Branch, second assistant postmaster general. "Now it looks more like 25."

He explained that congress' failure to authorize a postage rate would make the cost greater.

Nelson 'Happy' Over Locating Of State Hospital Here

State Senator Says His Aim Was To Get Institution In This Section Where It Would Do Most Good

The Herald has received, with a request for publication, the following communication from G. H. Nelson, of Lubbock, state senator from this district, giving his view on location of the West Texas state hospital in Big Spring:

"For more than 10 years the board of control has attempted to get the legislature to appropriate sufficient money with which to build in West Texas a hospital for the insane. Until this year it has been impossible to get a sufficient number of votes from the members of the legislature, coming from the eastern and central parts of Texas to insure this appropriation.

"Before I drafted the bill creating this hospital, I ascertained from the board of control that they desired to locate a hospital in western Texas, which would in the main, serve that territory west of the one hundredth meridian. The one hundredth meridian, of course, comes down the eastern line of the Panhandle and crosses through the western side of Taylor county.

"I wanted it in West Texas. With this territory included, it was apparent there would be several towns within my district bidding for the location. The towns of Big Spring, Lamesa, Slaton, Lubbock, Muleshoe, Plainview, and possibly other towns within my district placed their bids with the board of control for the location of this institution.

"It was my purpose to get this institution located in western Texas where it has so badly been needed, and in a territory which has been so long entitled to an institution of this character. Its location in Big Spring will make it more convenient for those who might have unfortunates in such an institution, and at the same time save for the counties and tax payers of this territory thousands of dollars each year to come. Naturally, I wanted to see the institution come to my district. However, since the above named towns were making application, I deemed it unjust on my part to take any active part in behalf of any one of them. I can truthfully state I took that exact position. Time and again I urged the board of control to locate the institution within my district, but told them emphatically that as between any two of the towns I cared not to make any recommendation.

"Aided No City
"Citizens in various communities urged that I aid them in the location of this institution, this I refused to do. I am deeply appreciative of the fact that not one single citizen from the Big Spring community even attempted to place me in an embarrassing position about the location of the hospital.

"I do know that some remarks have been made in Howard county to the effect that I was helping some other; that Big Spring had no chance of getting the institution because of my efforts in behalf of others. This, of course, was false. The fact that the institution has been located at Big Spring, I think is conclusive enough of the falsity of these remarks. It just so happened that at the very time some of these statements were being made, I was at Austin on my own expense, urging the board of control of Big Spring and the other towns in my district as the logical place in which to locate the institution.

"It has not been my purpose to claim any credit for the location of the hospital. I assume always, that such credit as may be due one will be given without solicitation.

"Happy" Over Decision
"I am happy over the decision of the board in locating this great institution in Big Spring. At all times I have found the board fair in their judgment and intensely interested in putting the institution at the proper place. They made a closer study of the proper location than I did. I think, therefore, I am justified in saying that the hospital for the insane of western Texas could not have been located more properly.

"The next few years will see an investment of millions of dollars in this institution. It will mean a great saving to the counties as a whole and to the convenience of the people; it will mean much to the citizens of Big Spring. You won the location of the hospital on the merits of your community, and I congratulate you.

"I am happy to have had a part in bringing this asset to one of the best towns in my district. When I can be of further service to the people of Big Spring and Howard county, that service will be rendered by me, even without solicitation."

(Signed)
G. H. NELSON,
State Senator,
30th District.

Change The Nat'l Emblem?—

Turkey's Qualifications Studied

By EDDY GILMORE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The bureau of biological survey refused today to gobble up the current proposal to change the national emblem from the eagle to the turkey.

"I understand," said the bureau's Col. H. P. Sheldon, "that there's considerable support to the movement. However, Benjamin Franklin couldn't swing it in 1784, so I wonder about prospects for 1937."

Franklin's turkey-trade was bagged high in the files of the library of congress. "For my own part," he wrote in high dudgeon, "I wish the eagle had not been chosen as the representative of our country; he is a bird of bad moral character, he does not get his living honestly."

Flying into a character analysis of the national bird, Poor Richard accused him of: Cowardice, Thievery, And—of retreating in fights before the king bird.

"For in truth," he continued, "the turkey is in comparison a much more respectable bird and withal a true original native of America."

And then: "He is a bird of courage and would not hesitate to attack a grenadier of the British guard who should presume to invade his farm with a red coat on."

The turkey-for-the-eagle movement got its revival in New York and received official impetus here when Rep. Celler (D-NY) intimated he might introduce a bill in the next congress favoring the change.

Saying he was overwhelmingly for retaining the eagle, Sheldon pointed out that the turkey—Benjamin Franklin notwithstanding—couldn't stand the white light of publicity in a courage test.

"After all," he said, "one of the turkey's outstanding characteristics is the speed with which he runs away."

Buffalo Important To Chinese Life, A Curiosity In This Country

CHINESE BUFFALO—Valuable work beasts in their own land, items of curiosity here. One of the animals will be seen at the Ritz theatre here Thursday.

It has been said that "all races have a history." To the Chinese farmer he is indispensable, for he is able to thrive on less and rougher food than any other beast of burden, is the only animal that can walk and pull a plow through the soft ground of the rice paddies, acts as guardian of the children, and often during the cold months, his body heat is all that keeps the humble dwelling above the freezing point.

Tiger Races The Fox

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—Which will it be, the Tiger or the Fox? That's the question here at the Spa.

It concerns Saturday's running of the $25,000 Hopeful Stakes, six and a half furlong classic.

Tiger, owned by Chicago's Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, is the western champion and advance favorite lighting ox, full brother to the grand racer and sire, Gallant Fox, is the pride of William Woodward's Bo-jair stud.

In 1935, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer imported several of these remarkable animals for use in their production, "The Good Earth." They are the only ones in the United States today.

In conjunction with the showing of the picture, the mighty leader of the herd, is being taken on a personal appearance tour of the country. He will arrive in Big Spring with his caravan of Chevrolet trucks on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be on exhibition at the Ritz theatre from 3 to 6:30 p. m.

Norton's Team Experienced

Eight Lettermen Not To Return But Aged Rated Threats

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 24.—Speed and versatility in the backfield, power in the line and experience all over are bulwarks upon which the Texas Aggies hope to build a winning football team this fall.

The victory blazes that rocketed them from a tie for the cellar in 1936 to a tie for third place in the 1937 Southwest conference chase will hold its own at least, Coach Homer Norton and his assistants believe as they map plans to start their 31 candidates off at full speed September 6. Thirteen lettermen, six of them seniors, are included on their squad roster.

The Aggies, despite loss of eight important lettermen of 1936, plan to put a heady, scrappy and mobile team on the field. They should be a shade stronger offensively both ground and in the air. They will be lucky if they build a defense against running plays as strong as their 1936 edition, but their pass defense work, only average or less for years, should be improved.

Plenty of Experience

The 1936 letter wearers who won't answer the 1937 bugle include Bill Stages and Johnny Morrow, ends; John Whitfield, tackle; Walt Pythian, guard; Charlie DeWare, center; Les Cummings, fullback; Wayton (Chink) Manning, halfback; and Homer (Doc) Pitner.

The 1936 lettermen who will return are: Bill Seago, Gilmer, end; Rankin Britt, Ranger, end; Roy Young, Port Arthur, All-Southwest tackle; Joe Routh, Chapel Hill, All-American guard; Virgil (Brahms) Jones, guard; Zed Coston, Dallas, center; Dick Vitek, Granger, quarterback; Owens Rogers, Mart, quarterback; Dick Todd, Crowell, halfback; Bounding Bob Nearsta, Platonia, halfback; Bill Boyd, Gilmer, halfback; and Jim Shockey, Gilmer, fullback. Add to these Bruno Schroeder, Lockhart, fullback; letterman of 1935 who was kept on the sidelines by an ankle injury last year.

Nearsta Punter Coach Norton believes Nearsta will solve a punting problem brought about by absence of Stages and Morrow. He proved his toe's worth in the latter part of the past season.

Joe (Boo Hoo) Boyd, sophomore from Dallas, may solve their other big puzzle, the tackle spot vacated by big John Whitfield. Boyd's 210 pounds, six feet three inches of

Hubbell Due To Pitch

Takes Hill To Try To Stop Charge Of Cubs

By BILL BONI (Associated Press Sports Writer) The Giants may have their backs to the wall, but at least it's their own wall.

New York's National League candidates for a five-cent world series aren't the iron-clad invincibles in the Polo Grounds that the sure-fire Yankee are in their ball yard just

The Chicago Cub-New York Giant game, scheduled to be played in Polo Grounds today, was postponed until tomorrow because of rain. A doubleheader will be played between the two teams Wednesday. Other National League games delayed because of inclement weather were Brooklyn and St. Louis and Cincinnati and Philadelphia.

across the Harlem river. The Giants have lost more than twice as many home games—23 to 10—as the Ruppert riot squad, but even so their record there is better than on the road.

The short targets in right and left field, familiar to Mel Ott and Co., may stand the Tyrrenmen in good stead as they start today an eleven-game stand against the west that opens with a brief but potentially decisive two-game setto with the Cubs.

Hubbell To Pitch Charley Grimm's Bruins go into the opening game against local ticket Carl Hubbell still holding the four-game lead with which they left Chicago a week ago. A strong finish against the Reds after a poor start against the Pirates kept their margin safe. In addition, rain washed the Giants out of double-headers with the Phillies two days in a row.

The good news that Ripper Collins might be back in another two weeks spurred on the Chicagoans. The Giants, on the other hand, had three front-line performers on the doubtful list—rowdy Dick Bartell, the pepper-pot shortstop; Slick Caspi, who has to pitch in a harness if at all, and Sam Leslie, the slightly slow-footed but slugging first baseman.

The Yanks, swinging into the west for the last time and stacking up against the White Sox, are in much better shape to sew up the American League flag once and for all.

For virtually the first time this season, Manager Joe McCarthy had all five of his outfielders on hand. The latest to leave the list of injured and ailing is George Selkirk, who hasn't played regularly since July 1, when he bruised his shoulder, but still ranks with the leaders on his 17 homers.

Besides the Giants and Phils, the Dodgers and Bees were rained out yesterday. Today Brooklyn met the Cards in a doubleheader, while the Bees faced the fast-moving Pirates and the Phils met the Reds. Detroit, seeking to clinch runner-up honors, faced the Athletics, Boston was at Cleveland and the Senators at St. Louis.

100 FROM MARTIN CO. DUE TO ATTEND REUNION HERE

STANTON, Aug. 24.—Probably one hundred persons from Martin county, including men, women, and children, will attend the Franklin county reunion to be held at the Big Spring park, Sunday, Sept. 5, L. E. White, Stanton merchant, who is president of the reunion, predicted Monday. There should also be a "goodly number" from Midland in attendance, he said.

This year will mark the third gathering of the former Franklinites, the two earlier reunions being held at Three-Lake in Martin county.

T. J. A. Robinson, Big Spring merchant, who will donate a beef for barbecue, was in Stanton Monday afternoon to confer with White on details of the reunion.

Fire Started By Lightning

Death Toll In Forest Blaze Near Cody Mounts To 14

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 24 (AP)—Supervisor John Selker, of the Shoshone national forest, said today that lightning, ripping into a remote pine-filled canon, "unmistakably" caused the savage forest blaze that took the lives of 14 firefighters.

Selker reported 500 weary and smoke-choked men on the fire line now and the blaze under control. He estimated the flames that roared out of the isolated "box" canon had swept over 2,000 acres of heavily wooded slopes in the Absaroka mountains.

Selker said investigation spotted the fire source definitely in this canon, surrounded by high rock walls on all except one side.

"Lightning is the only possible thing that could have started a fire in there," Selker declared.

The fourteenth victim of the fire died last night in a Cody hospital. He was Ambrocio Garza of Corpus Christi, Tex., member of the Tensleep CCC camp which mustered most of its enrollees from Texas and Oklahoma.

Ten of the men who died of burns suffered when they were trapped high on a mountain slope by fire hurled upon them by violent timberline cross winds were members to this camp.

Three of their bodies were shipped to their Texas homes last night. CCC officers said bodies of the remaining Texas victims and the one Oklahoma victim would be shipped today.

In three small hospitals at Cody, 35 miles southeast of the fire, 28 men seriously burned in the fire were given good chances for recovery.

FORSAN TO PLAY McCAMEY AGAIN

Dejected in a late rally by the Continental Oilers of McCamey last Saturday, the Conoco aggregation of Forsan will try again to conquer the southwest Texas team Saturday night under the lights on the Mundy diamond.

Earlier in the day the two teams will play a baseball game on the Forsan diamond.

The McCamey ten copped the weekend game with the Forsan crew when they came from behind in the seventh inning by scoring three runs and then adding two more in the eighth. A four base-clout by Farmer Burns ran the score to 7-5.

Cunningham pitched eight hit ball for the Forsanites and whiffed a total of eight batters but he issued seven bases on balls and his wild streak proved costly at times. Either Sheldon or Martin will twirl for the McCamey outfit next Saturday.
