'Black Christmas' Sets All-Time Death Record

By UNITED PRESS

The "black Christmas" weekend of 1955 set an all-time, all-holiday record for traffic deaths, a steadily mounting death count showed Tuesday.

The three-day Christmas week end became deadliest holiday in the nation's history when the United Press count passed the 588 record set over the four-day Christmas weekend of 1952.

The United Press tally from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday showed a total of 592 traffic fatalities. There were 69 deaths in fires, four in plane crashes, and 125 in miscellaneous accidents for a holiday death total of 790.

Texas Leads Nation In Highway Deaths

By UNITED PRESS

Texas, which prides itself on having the biggest and best of everything, was fast making a record if could be ashamed of Tuesday as traffic accidents during the holiday period were leading the nation.

A national traffic fatality count, which began at 6 p.m. Friday and expired at midnight last night, showed Texas ahead of all other states with 43 traffic deaths. Michigan had 41 deaths, California 40 and Illinois 39.

Illinois Has Worst Record

Illinois had the worst holiday record with 46 traffic deaths. Michigan and Texas both had 44 and California had 42.

Candidates To Debate In France

PARIS — UP — Pierre Mendes-France and Communist party leader Jacques Duclos scheduled a spectacular debate Tuesday at Paris' Exposition Park which could easily be the highlight of the last week of campaigning.

Two of the latest traffic victims were Maynard Holcomb, Corsicana Fire Department captain, and Elmer Stern, about 30, of Taylor.

Black Christmas' Holiday

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said the holiday into a "black Christmas."

Mendes-France challenged Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, former Premier Georges Bidault and Duclos to debate with him, Pinay and Bidault were unable to make it and that left it between Mendes-France and Duclos, both sharp-tongued orators.

Holcomb died in a Corsicana hospital late yesterday of injuries suffered a few hours earlier when his car hit a bridge abutment east of Corsicana.

Not all the victims were in cars. A man riding in a wagon, John Denton, 65, who lived near Marshall, was dragged to death by a pair of mules he was driving.

Denton jumped off his wagon when the mules suddenly bolted, but his feet got entangled in the lines and his body was badly beaten and crushed before the mules halted.

The worst Christmas Day accident was a two-car collision north of Beville, which killed three small brothers. They were Jessie DeLeon, 3; Celestino DeLeon, 2; and Juan Manuel DeLeon, four months.

The children were trapped under an overturned pickup truck. Their Christmas toys were scattered along the roadside.

The bodies of Jose Aviles, 40, and his wife, Rosa, of San Antonio, were found yesterday in their room at the Hotel Calderon in Nuevo Laredo, Mex.

The next session will be held January 10, skipping next week because of the expected absence of some members of the commission.

City Seeks Water Rights

The city commission this morning authorized City Attorney Bob Gordon to draw up a contract with DeLea Vicars to obtain water rights for the city of Pampa on area farm and ranch land.

Soaring Economy Expected

Government Survey Predicts Gains

By ROBERT F. MORISON
WASHINGTON — UP — The government Tuesday appeared optimistic that America's economy would continue to soar during 1956.

The Commerce Department's business and defense services administration released a survey of major industries for the first half of 1956, predicting production in most industries would rise.

Small business administrator Wendell B. Barnes predicted that next year will see further rise in earnings by small manufacturers. He said the competitive position of small business has been strengthened and "the extremely low rate of business failures is also a good sign for the future."

Sampling from Industry

Here is a sampling from the major industry report:

Iron and steel — Current record-breaking production momentum to continue through June, 1956, making first half of year one of the highest "if not the highest" in history.

Aluminum — first half 1956 shipments expected to be at annual rate of 4.6 billion pounds — a new record and 18 per cent above first half of this year.

Automobiles and trucks — Auto output first six months expected to hit 4,250,000, compared with the record 4,227,000 in the first half of this year. Truck production should "show a sizeable increase over the first half of 1955" after finishing "the best year in its history."

Building to Rise

Construction — Estimated spending in 1956 on all new construction $44 billion, 5 per cent above 1955's record $42 billion.

Power generating units expected to go into service in first half will be "far below" previous estimates because of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike.

Electronics — Output in 1956 expected to exceed this year's record of $6.3 billion by $500 million.

Machinery — A 5 to 10 per cent rise in dollar volume of farm machinery sales expected, reflecting price increases. Increase in unit sales "doubtful" during first six months.

Lumber — Output, expected to set a record this year, may drop off about 2 per cent during first six months of 1956.

Consumer durable goods — Sales in first six months expected to "equal or slightly exceed" record 1955 rate.

Had Been Only 6 Per Cent

Before World War II, he said, the eastern region contributed only 6 per cent.

Budget discussion proceeded in the Supreme Soviet Tuesday following introduction of a new money bill at Monday's opening session. Besides announcing a 10 per cent cut in defense appropriations, the finance minister also announced the U.S.S.R. is building new atomic power stations.

Impressed by Moderation

Western diplomatic observers said they had been impressed thus far by the moderation expressed toward the West in the special parliamentary session.

There was no mention of "aggressive designs against the Soviet," and in fact there was little mention of the West. Instead there was a "peace budget" for 1956 that cut defense spending 10 per cent and promised a better deal for the Russian consumer.

Russians Applaud Porgy, Bess

LENINGRAD — UP — A capacity crowd of 2,300 persons gave the American folk opera "Porgy and Bess" a standing 10-minute ovation at its premier in the Soviet Union Monday night.

The Gershwin opera was performed at the Palace of Culture by the first American opera company ever to tour Soviet Russia. It will move to Moscow on Jan. 12.

After the performance officials of the ministry of culture and U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen went backstage to congratulate the cast of 60.

Peter Kabanov, head of the department of theater and music of the ministry of culture told the cast, "I congratulate you on your great success."

Bohlen commented that the story of Catfish Row was a "singularly well-chosen opera" for the first American appearance in Russia.

In a pre-curtain speech Boris Sagurski, director of the Leningrad Maly Theater, said, "The Soviet Union appreciates the opportunity to become acquainted with the operatic culture of the United States and the great talents of the American people."

"Musical art transcends language and therefore brings the peoples together," he said.

Yule Holiday Quiet In Pampa

The Christmas holidays were the quietest Pampa has had in many years, according to Chief of Police Jim Conner.

Conner said this morning that Pampa had one of the quietest Christmas since he has been here. He commended everyone for a peaceful holiday, and said that not too many accidents took place within the city limits, considering the amount of traffic.

No packages have been reported stolen from parked automobiles since a week before Christmas. Usually a number of articles and packages are taken from cars each year. No large thefts or burglaries were reported.

NOT SUCH A SMART AGE, INDUSTRIALIST CLAIMS

ATLANTA, Ga. — UP — Not so, says industrialist Frank J. Soday, of Decatur, Ala., on whether this is a pretty smart age.

Soday said Monday in a paper to the American Association for the Advancement of Science that of the 12 most important industrial developments of the past 25 years, only one — nylon — was based on 20th century fundamental investigation.

Two Gunmen Rob Elderly Couple

WARREN, Minn. — UP — Two gunmen robbed three elderly persons of their life savings, mailed them in a 3-by-4 foot closet, and then distributed "help" messages throughout the neighborhood.

The strange robbery occurred Christmas Day and Marshall county and state authorities were still seeking the bandits and their $10,000 loot Tuesday.

The victims were Herbert Hagman, 64, his sister Minnie, 63, and a cousin, Carl Johnson, 62. They were boarded up in the closet for 11 hours before they broke out.

The gunmen entered the home after the occupants had gone to bed on Christmas Eve. Johnson, who is crippled, awoke later and heard a noise downstairs.

He found a man in the kitchen who said his car had stuck. Bill, when the Hagmans joined them, a masked man stepped out of the living room with a gun in his hand and said "give us your money or we will kill you and burn the house down."

The bandits ransacked the house and took money from cigar boxes, cottage cheese containers, envelopes, and dresser drawers. They slugged Hagman when he tried to make a break and then nailed up all three of their victims in a small bedroom closet.

The gunmen then scribbled "come and help us" on Christmas cards addressed to Miss Hagman. They dropped the cards in neighbors' mail boxes, apparently hoping someone would come and release the prisoners.

But no one answered the plea and the Hagmans and Johnson, working from midnight until 11 a.m. finally broke the door open with an umbrella handle and a barrel stove. Hagman walked nearly a mile to a neighbor's farm to call police.

Russian Oil Production Increasing

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW — UP — Soviet oil output is soaring, the government announced Tuesday.

Petroleum Industry Minister Mikhail A. Evseyenko told the Supreme Soviet at a special session of the Russian parliament that he will "successfully fulfill" the aim of an 85 per cent increase in oil output this year over 1950.

Speaking before a morning session of the Council of the Soviet Union of the Supreme Soviet's two equal chambers — Evseyenko said oil output in eastern regions of the Soviet Union now represented 58 per cent of the country's total output.

Man With Knife Kidnaps Little Baby

MILWAUKEE — UP — A man brandishing a bloody butcher knife kidnaped a 3-month-old baby and held the infant captive for almost six hours Monday while a Catholic priest broadcast repeated appeals that he give himself up.

The man, 26-year-old Yasias Sanchez, was finally captured late Monday night in the home of a friend. The baby was found unharmed in the house and was returned to the mother.

Police said Sanchez, a suspected narcotics addict, seized the child because he claimed to be the father. He knifed Sepharino Garcia, husband of the mother, and pushed another man through a plate glass window during his flight with the baby.

Broke Into Apartment

The abduction occurred at the apartment building where both Sanchez and the Garcias lived. Police said Sanchez broke into the Garcia apartment, seized the infant, and knifed Garcia when he tried to stop him.

Neighbors tried to block the knife-wielding Sanchez in the street. But he pushed one through the window, threatened to knife another, and fled with the baby in his arms.

Franciscan Father Gerald of Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church aided the police manhunt by broadcasting repeated appeals in Spanish over radio station WCKY.

He begged Sanchez to return the infant to Mrs. Garcia or bring the child to his church. He also asked

Deserted Yuba City Gets Second Flood In A Week

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — A new crest sent the Feather River pouring through a 600-foot gap in the levee along Yuba City, flooding the deserted town for the second time in less than a week.

The muddy waters began rising at the rate of three inches an hour during the night. Finally they overflowed the gap at Guntree, broken during last Saturday's flood when 10,000 persons fled for their lives.

The waters filled half of the stricken town before they began to recede. In the southeast section, they rose to nearly three feet. Flood officials expect them to go no higher.

Little Further Harm

Actually, there was little further harm the flood waters could do. Where they were deepest was already an area of destruction, with some houses crumbled into pieces and debris piled against trees and crooked street signs.

One house, for example, was perched at a crazy angle on a railroad track and another sat squarely in the middle of the street.

The worst effect of the new flooding was the delay it caused in the grim work of searching through the ruined houses and the debris for those who failed to escape last Saturday's wall of water. There may be as many as 100 victims, officials said.

Delays Salvage Work

It also kept the city's residents from returning to salvage what they could from the once they covered what once was their homes.

Armed guards ordered all persons who returned to their homes out of the city Monday night when a post-Christmas rain posed the threat of a new flood.

The guards patrolled the streets Monday to prevent looting. Anyone still in the city had to show a pass.

To Cover Same Area

The Army Engineer's office at Marysville, across the river from Yuba City, reported Stanley Pierson, state director of civil defense, that the new crest "will no doubt cover most of the territory that was covered in the last breakthrough."

"The depth of the water has not been determined," but no doubt it will be adequate to undo any good that the people might be doing in cleaning up now," the engineers office reported.

Repair crews toiled throughout the night in an attempt to repair the yawning gap in the 33-foot levee, but the Army Engineers admitted they had "no hope" of fixing it before daybreak.

Pampan Killed In Highway Mishap Sunday

Frank William Nelson, 36, was killed in an automobile accident on Highway 152 about 18 miles east of town at 2:35 p.m. on Christmas Day, when the car he was driving failed to make a turn and flipped over two and three-fourths times.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Duemel-Carmichael Chapel with Rev. James E. Harrell, pastor of Harrah Methodist Church officiating.

Nelson was born Dec. 8, 1919 at Gentry, Ark. He was a veteran of World War II, serving from July of 1944 to April of 1946 with the 31st Infantry regiment.

He is survived by his wife, Fay, of Pampa; two daughters, Rhyntha Gay and Carolyn Jenette; and one step-sister, Mrs. James Barnes of Fort Worth.

The pallbearers will be: Gene Bogue, W. A. Patton, Lawrence Flaherty, Jeff Lard, M. B. Warden, and K. H. Haynes.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

2 Men Fined On Driving Charges Here

Two men pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated in County Court this morning.

David Maddison Pruet, 42, of Berger, pleaded guilty to the dwi charge and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail. He was arrested by members of the Highway Patrol about 4 p.m. Sunday about 17 miles east of Pampa on Highway 132.

Granvil Roland, 41, of 512 Elm, also pleaded guilty to the dwi charge and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail. He was arrested by members of the Highway Patrol about 10:35 p.m. Saturday on Texas Highway 273, south of Pampa.

RKO Sells Film Library

NEW YORK — UP — C&C Super Corp., announced Tuesday purchase of the entire film library of RKO Radio Pictures, Inc., for $15 million in cash.

The library, comprising 740 feature motion picture films and over 1,000 short subjects, will be used in an exhibition on TV throughout the world and for motion picture showing outside the U. S. and Canada.

Between 80 and 85 per cent of the films will be made available immediately to stations throughout the country.

All the pictures in this block are at least three years old. RKO reserved the right not to release any of its pictures until after they had been exhibited for three years in the U. S. through standard motion picture channels.

The remaining films will be available in a matter of months since RKO film production has been exhibited for three years in next 24 months as other films become available from the RKO library.

From a financial viewpoint, Matthew Fox, president of C&C television Corp., a subsidiary, said the original cost of the films involved in the purchase amounts to $750 million. He noted that many of the films were lavish productions prepared in the years when RKO was controlled by Howard Hughes.

RKO officials estimate it would cost $1.3 billion to make these films today.

Ike Statement Reported
WASHINGTON — UP — A report circulated Wednesday that President Eisenhower has described New York Gov. Averell Harriman, a candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, as "A Park Avenue Truman." The report said Mr. Eisenhower made the reference when Harriman's name came up during some political banter at the President's conference Monday with Republican congressional leaders.

Washington — UP — The House Veterans committee warned Tuesday that thousands of veterans who have sold their GI-mortgaged homes are still liable to Uncle Sam and don't know it.

Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) said about a fourth of the 3,350,000 homes purchased with GI mortgages are no longer owned by their veteran buyers. But, he said many of these veterans don't realize that the government still holds them liable if the mortgage loan is defaulted. He said his committee will seek remedial legislation next year along with other amendments to the GI home loan law.

Other proposed amendments included:
1. A new program of scholarships for orphans of men killed in World War II and Korea. Under a bill already introduced by Teague 156,000 such youngsters between 16 and 23 could get free college educations.
2. Continued pressure on the administration to begin a promised program of replacement and major repairs in veterans hospitals, some officially described as fire-

'Lovely Legs' Is Ill In Paris

PARIS — UP — Mistinguett of the lovely legs lay critically ill Tuesday and thousands of Parisians gathered around newspaper stands to read reports of her condition and revive memories of her golden days.

The 82-year-old Mistinguett, queen of the French variety stage since the gay 90s, suffered a stroke Christmas Eve while spending the holidays with her brother. Her son, Dr. Leopoldo Lima Silva, said she suffered a cerebral congestion.

Mistinguett at 82 still claims the "most beautiful legs in the world." They were once insured for $3 million and they made her the star of French music halls where she was known not only for her legs but for her champagne smile.

The committee also must decide whether to extend the GI home loan program which expires for World War II veterans on July 25, 1957. The housing industry would like the program with its easy credit terms, continued just about unchanged. Teague said the committee has a lot of studying to do on the question.

Cold Greeting
MEMPHIS, Tenn. — UP — Neal Kaye has discovered why his house gets cold when friends drop in. Kaye rang his own doorbell and the furnace shut off. He rang it again and the furnace came back on. Faulty wiring was causing the doorbell to act as a thermostat.

The weatherman had some cheering news, for a change. He predicted only scattered showers over northern and central California in the wake of Monday's heavy rains that caused rivers to rise ominously again.

of Christmas and some persons even stooped to looting the bodies of the holiday victims.

Such a case was reported at Webster City, Iowa, after an 8-year-old girl was killed in a smash-up Monday. Someone got to the wrecked car before police arrived and made off with a wallet and purse containing $175.

Guard Against Looting
At flood-stricken Yuba City, Calif., armed men guarded against more looting. A three-state area was ravaged by floods throughout the holidays, with Yuba City suffering the most. Tuesday, the tragedy-haunted community braced for yet another flood crest on the Feather River.

The floods make Christmas time of tragedy for tens of thousands of homeless in northern California, Oregon, and Nevada. The known death count stood at 53 and damage was estimated at $100 million. The holiday was also marred by fires which struck without warning across the country.

In the worst holocaust, a farmhouse blaze took six lives — a mother and her five sons — near Gaylord, Mich., Monday. A downtown city block in Lowell, Mass., went up in flames, causing $1.8 damage, and fires which destroyed an historic church and a rail terminal in Chicago were blamed for $1.5 million damage.

But the traffic massacre was the most shocking holiday tragedy and as Dearborn commented "the pity of it is that it doesn't have to happen."

RESORT SPORTSWEAR FASHIONS fall right in line with the narrow silhouette, without narrowing any of the wearability of clothes essentially casual. Slim dresses, use pleats, panels and slashes to add width without seeming to. Slim separate skirts after take an easy overblouse or middy top. Maillot swimsuits couldn't be more pared down, but this restricted silhouette calls for an overskirt. New-looking, but still comfortable fashions are the result.

THE SAME kind of tempered acceptance goes for the Oriental slant. This strong theme continues very much in conjunction with the slim trend, but again designers have taken a moderate approach. The tunic and kimono are the best adapted in play, beach or at-home clothes. For more formal daytime wear, traces of the Orient are seen mostly in fabrics like silk, or are simply echoed by details like mandarin collars, note the fashion analysts of Women's Wear Daily.

So long in coming, the two-piece looks arrived for resort. It asserts itself in tunics, overblouses and middies, the fashions that often top pants and shorts, another aspect of the slim look.

Great quantities of silk fabrics for casual dresses, shirt and separates reaffirm that sportswear is both casual and elegant. The silks favored include textured types, with either raw or linen-like surfaces; woven plaid patterns, and soft silken florals or Oriental motifs on both shantung and sarah.

THE LACE LIGHTNESS of 1956 woollens adds another significant fabric for resort wear, making it an all-year fabric, like cotton. Designers recognize that resort spots are not necessarily tropical and that wool fashions are good travelers.

Wool jersey is coordinated in tone-on-tone colors to blend with silk, linen, even cotton separates. Pastel wool flannel and tweed coordinates are strong in the classic field.

Separates and dresses in cotton rely heavily on novelty appeal. Cotton looks like anything but cotton. Some versions resemble silk, either in pattern types or in lustrous surfaces. Many resemble tweedy woollens in resort dresses, skirts and shorts. Oriental printed cotton provincial type patterns, and finally rustic-textured cottons are well represented.

THE PREVALENCE of Empire

Sequined Surface Sheath Shines!

This slim and elegant sheath for after-five festivities is in crepe, embroidered all over in sequins. Neckline and little cap sleeves show the trend to more cover-up. This design is from Fifty-thirty p.m. By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

cuts in resort collections contribute to the interest at the top, frequently accented with short boleros back buttoning brief jackets and curved shrugs that stop just below the bustline and give the high Empire look.

Loose but shaped jackets are one of the newest components that make a dress a costume. It can be cropped below the bustline, go to the waistline or end just above the hipbone, but it generally has side slits and a mandarin neckline and tops a sheath.

One of the dominant impressions for resort fashions is the one-piece dress with attached or simulated boleros over panel-back skirts. The full-skirted dress with soft inverted box pleats that give a panel effect, has a youthful look with the pseudo bolero. Many of the slim sheaths have attached panels that add a floating fullness with these back closing bolero effects.

This year, one of the favorite ways of adding glamour to stark sheaths is with romantic shaped sleeves. Tiny shoulder puffs with shoestring bows, large puffed sleeves with narrow cuffs and balloon bloused sleeves caught at the elbow recall the Victorian era but add new pertness to narrow lines.

Guild Holds Party For Church Ladies

St. Margaret's Guild of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church was host recently to a Christmas party for the Bishop Seamon Guild, Altar Guild and other women of the church in the new Parish Hall.

A get-acquainted game of "Name Bingo" was played. Each person was given a sheet of paper with 16 squares to be filled in with names of those attending from their name tags. When a person "bingoes," she had to introduce the persons with whose names she had "bingoed." A gift exchange followed.

Report On Home Demonstration Club Activities During Year Given By Agent

By MISS HELEN DUNLAP
County HD Agent

The 1955 clothing and tailoring programs, carried by the home demonstration women of Gray County, represent a total saving of $2301.74 in the construction of 736 garments. They made these garments from the various material fibers on the market.

By the application of approved methods of tailoring, the women have learned how to have a professional look in the completed garment. Those who have difficulty in buying ready made garments learned that altering the pattern which the garment is cut helped to solve the problem. Good tailoring methods were made possible by the addition of standard equipment, such as steam irons, pounding boards and seam boards. With the use of this equipment, the women were able to get a finish not possible without it.

Club work teaches the sharing of information with others. As the women learn the newer methods, they teach others by demonstrations and by answering questions. This year, the women and the agent have given latest methods of homemaking and improvement to 1098 families.

Radio and television programs offer other opportunities of sharing information. This summer, Mrs. T. D. Anderwald, Mrs. D. A. Rife, and Carolyn Anderwald showed the making of French bread on a television program in Amarillo. Following the program, the agent received 16 requests for the recipe from three different states, and a number of Texas counties.

Ragsdale presided at the silver coffee services. The serving table was decorated with a driftwood centerpiece covered with pink angel hair and flanked by tall tapers. Individual cakes covered with white frosting, topped with red and white candy canes were served.

Following the refreshments, Mrs. William E. West gave the devotional. Mrs. Jay Meador, Jr. and Mrs. Bob Plummer read passages of scripture from the Bible. Hostesses were Mrs. William E. West, Mrs. Bill Felter and Miss Ruth Huff.

other than Gray. The program had been taken to the communities throughout Gray County earlier.

The leadership training program has helped the women to know the techniques of giving demonstrations. The agent trained 23 leaders in these methods in 1955. Some were taught to save time and energy in doing various home duties. Mrs. John Johnson, member of the Goodwill club, reports being able to save from five to six minutes in ironing every shirt. She now irons small boy's clothing in about 2-3 the time it formerly took. Time-saving methods mean much to the busy homemaker.

News writing is still another way the women used for informing other people. They wrote 67 stories this year. The agent gave three training schools to teach the reporters the essentials of all good news stories.

A special effort was made, in the foods program, to assist each homemaker to get each family member to eat a good breakfast daily. The result was that some who formerly did not eat breakfast do now. Others found that by eating a good breakfast daily they do not tire before noon. Sixty-four women checked their eating habits by a check sheet. By this method they were able to discover if there were any of the essential foods left out of their diets.

Even though canning is not as popular as it was some time ago, the women have conserved 1,685 quarts of foods by this method, and canned 338 containers of jams, jellies, and preserves. They conserved, by freezing, 912 pints of fruits and vegetables and 9,278 pounds of meats, fish and poultry.

The women have improved 9 kitchens, 13 living rooms, 31 bedrooms and 8 bath rooms. They added 19 woolen bed covers and 516 household articles. They refinished 17 pieces of furniture, reupholstered 16 chairs and upholstered 7 chairs and sofas.

They added seven outdoor living rooms, 15 pieces of recreational equipment, and built six barbecues. They sodded seven lawns and made five drives.

Recreation is a part of every club meeting. The women conduct recreation in their community meetings as well. Thirty-four home demonstration and 4-H leaders were trained by the state recreation specialist. Since this training school, they have been conducting recreation in other groups besides their own.

Conducting business according to parliamentary procedure is a part of every meeting. They practice it in every council and club meeting each month.

RUTH MILLETT

The main reason why a husband so often looks better to his wife before marriage than he does five or ten years after is simply this: before marriage she concentrated on his good points and ignored or refused to recognize his faults.

But after marriage, all too often a wife starts taking the good qualities for granted and begins brooding over the faults she once thought weren't at all important.

So one secret of a happy marriage would seem for a wife to try to hold on to the before-marriage habit of thinking a man is wonderful because he has so many good qualities. Never mind his faults.

Perhaps the wife can't help but acknowledge to herself that the faults matter more than she thought they would. If that is a fact, then she has to face it.

But she doesn't have to dwell on the faults in her mind, letting them annoy and upset her all out of reason. Nor does she have to start taking her husband's many good qualities for granted.

She can, if she wants to, hold on to the generous attitude she had toward her husband when she first fell in love with him.

It will pay her big dividends to do this. Not only because her generous attitude will make her happier, but because if she doesn't start concentrating on her husband's faults he isn't so likely to start concentrating on hers.

It's always difficult to be much concerned with the faults of a person who thinks you are mighty nice just as you are.

And this is as true in marriage as it is in any other relationship.

A NOTABLE New Year's Eve buffet is provided by an unusual item, Pickle Shrimp Rabbit. Serve toast squares for dunking.

COOK'S NOOK

Guests Will Be Delighted By Pickle Shrimp Rabbit

By GAYNOR MADDOX
For that New Year's Eve gathering as 1956 comes in, try this dunking idea for pickle shrimp rabbit. Mrs. Walter Price, wife of a professor at the University of Kentucky, gave it to us. It's her favorite recipe for an informal New Year's Eve get-together. Also, she says, it is delightfully piquant and easy to prepare.

PICKLE SHRIMP RABBIT
(Makes 6 servings)
Two 10-ounce cans frozen cream of shrimp soup, 1/2 cup milk, 4 cups grated processed Swiss cheese (about 1 pound), 2-3 cup chopped sweet pickles, toast cubes.
Combine frozen soup and milk and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until soup is melted. Add cheese and pickles and cook, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. To serve, garnish with sliced sweet pickles, if desired. Serve with toast cubes.

HOLIDAY SANDWICHES
(Makes 6 servings)
One-quarter cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup all-purpose flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups turkey or chicken stock, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten; 1-2 cup chopped sweet mixed pickles, 2 tablespoons pickle liquid, 1/4 cup light cream, 6 large slices turkey, 1 12-ounce package frozen broccoli, cooked according to package directions; 6 slices buttered toast, salt. Melt butter or margarine; add

If You Can't Afford To Buy Her Mink, Here Are Suggestions For Substitutes

NEW YORK —UP— Your wife shivering through the cold wave without a mink coat? You shivering through her icy glances without enough cash or to buy one?

We present some heart-warming solutions. They show a man is solicitous of his wife's warmth even though somewhat short of cash.

There are mink ear muffs, for instance. They only cost $4. And they're enough of a novelty to attract attention away from the old cloth coat below. One Fifth Avenue store also sells leopard fur ear muffs.

Long Handles in Two Pieces
Long red underwear still is popular among outdoor-seey women. It comes in two parts, $4.40 for the bottoms and $3 for the tops.

Knitted bed socks are gayer this year. You can buy the foot-warmers with sequin trim and mink pom-poms.

There are a dozen different styles of new furry-lined boots for street wear. The most stylish are shapely, ankle-high boots made in suede or calf and range in price from $10 to $20.

A white sealskin parka is nice for snowy weather. It won't take the place of a mink coat, but it attracts lots of attention on the ski slope (around $150 worth of attention, as a matter of fact.)

The French have imported a novelty called "the fanny sweater," a hand-knitted pair of knee-length pants with appliqued sequin design on one leg. They can be worn under full but drafty net evening dresses to a party, then checked along with the evening wrap. For cold hands, there are white rabbit-fur mittens with rabbit ears and glass eyes. This isn't kid stuff. Lilly Dache sells them to sophisticated grownups.

Warm Hoods for Gals
"Crusader hoods" are popular with working girls here these cold days. They are wool jersey hoods that fit snugly over the head and extend far enough to tuck inside a coat collar. Several mink-coated women have been spotted on Fifth Avenue recently wearing their small, decorative (and chilly) hats on top of the jersey hoods.

Cold weather caps are featured by Jay Thorpe's. They are wool knit and suede caps that fit like baby bonnets.

Then there are knee-high slipper socks, fake fur sweaters, fleecelined leather coats, blanket wool "duffle coats" and insulated underwear (the latter is crocheted cotton and wool) for warming up in the latest style.

As a last winter luxury note, consider pink capeskin gloves with matching cashmere lining for $8.95. They give a girl that pampered look, same as mink.

Manners Make Friends

If you are a member of the bride's family, don't entertain for her with a shower. Leave gift-giving parties for her friends to plan. Any other kind of party a relative might want to give is quite in order. But there's something a bit mercenary about a relative of the bride giving a shower for her.

Lingerie couldn't be any prettier than it now is. Latest addition is the cabin coat in embroidered orlon fleece to wear over pajamas.

Wisconsin cows produced 500 million pounds of milk in 1954, more than is produced in any other state and more than 13 per cent of all the milk produced in the United States.

"Wow" Is The Word To Describe Styles Designers Predict For Turn Of Century

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK —UP—The future looks interesting indeed. Men now can look ahead with optimism, if not outright eagerness.

The things women are going to wear in the year 2000 are worth waiting for. Twelve well known and reliable designers have made up samples of the clothes they predict will be popular at the turn of the next century.

In a word—wow!
Mollie Parnis, who designs clothes for Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, predicts women will wear thigh-high skirts for casual occasions.

Oleg Cassini, who designs only things with skirts now, predicts they'll be out of date in 2000. So will high-heeled shoes, Cassini says. Women will wear skin-tight trousers and antennas on their hats.

Maurice Rentner, a conservative, white-haired veteran in the designing world, says bosoms will be almost bare and the rest of a woman's body will be covered with a minimum of fabric.

The clothes were designed to be shown to television audiences on New Year's Day on "Wide World" over NBC-TV. A few of the original sketches had to be modified to meet the network's rules on how much can be revealed to family audiences.

The show will be filmed live from Palm Beach, Fla., fortunately, since a girl could catch pneumonia in those outfits north of the Mason-Dixon line.

"Temperature will be controlled by filtering the sun's rays so warmth in clothing will be less important," Vincent Monte Sano said. He designed a coat of clear plastic for futuristic wear. The plastic is a new DuPont product called "miracle milar," which is no thicker than cellophane but as durable as stainless steel.

No Wonder Mothers Love THIS RELIEF FOR SUFFERING OF COLDS Does More Than Work on Chest

Nothing works like Vicks VapoRub—the proved medication that acts two ways at once. When you rub it on, VapoRub quickly relieves muscular soreness. At the same time, medicated vapors bring relief with every breath. Soothing medication travels deep into your child's nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Warming relief comes, lasts for hours. So when colds strike, depend on—

To Discuss Saar
PARIS — UP — France and Germany announced Wednesday night they would open new negotiations on the disputed coal-rich Saar territory in January.

Author Found Hanged
WASHINGTON — UP — Duncan Aikman, well-known author, newspaperman and Latin-American affairs expert, was found hanged in the basement of his home here late Wednesday. Investigating police officers said the 65-year-old writer was reported to have been in ill health.

Postal Program Set
WASHINGTON — UP — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced the preparation of a long-range program to modernize the nation's "inadequate and obsolete postal facilities." Summerfield said he will submit the program to President Eisenhower this week. He did not disclose any details.

1956 To Be Decisive Period For American Television

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK — UP — Next year may well turn out to be the pivotal one in the history of American television.

The stake: Whether the industry continues to take an occasional bold flier into offbeat programming or whether it settles down into a comfortable commercial rut as, for the most part, radio did.

Or to put it more particularly: Whether we will continue to see things like "Wide World of Sports," "Assignment: India," the Sadler's Wells ballet and dramas such as "The Skin of Our Teeth" . . . or whether viewers will be fed an increasing drama of sure-fire quiz games, variety shows, dramas and situation comedies.

And according to the talk heard everywhere along TV row, the key network in this crisis period will be NBC.

It was only a few weeks ago that NBC announced a shakeup along its top level. The change boosted Sylvester Weaver from president to chairman of the board. And it upped Robert Sarnoff into Weaver's old spot—the key post in the organization. Young Sarnoff is the son of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA, which is the parent company of NBC.

What this new alignment will mean touched off speculation down the line within the industry.

Weaver, a dynamic, creative personality, has come to be associated with the imaginative approach. It was Weaver who shattered rigid time lines by coming up with the concept of the "Spectacular." It was Weaver who shattered space lines with "Wide World of Sports." It was during Weaver's term as president that "monitor" was launched—an attempt to carve out flexible time and content paths for radio.

Cyprus Outlaws Communists
LONDON — UP — Field Marshal Sir John Harding, governor general of Cyprus, Wednesday outlawed the Communist party and "satellite organizations" on the strategic island in the Mediterranean, it was announced here.

A statement said a number of Communists was "detained" under the state of emergency regulations.

IN MEMORIAM—In memory of her son, Yuichiro Doi, Midland College football player killed in a practice accident in 1933, Mrs. Blanche Doi has given the Fremont, Neb., college Japanese ceremonial bridal goods she and her mother wore at their wedding. The elaborately decorated material includes three handspan silk kimonos—a black one brides wear when they leave their parents' house; a red one they wear when leaving the house of their husbands' parents; and a white kimono worn to the temple for the wedding ceremony. Here they are displayed by Ruth Matsumoto, Midland senior Iron Koles, Kauni, Hawaii.

European Monkeys
Gibraltar is the only place in Europe where wild monkeys are found. They live among the rocks and sport about in almost inaccessible heights.

Answer To Cold And Dust: New Plains Storm Windows

KEEPS OUT COLD AND DUST — Harold P. Smith here holds one of the famous Dust-stopper Storm Windows manufactured in Panhandle by Plains Aluminum Industries. The window fits between the regular window and the screen so that it is invisible from the street. When the wind blows the window tightens to keep out dust and cold. Call or write Plains Aluminum Industries, P.O. Box 38, Panhandle, Texas, for a free demonstration and estimate.

The first and only Factory in Texas devoted to the Exclusive manufacturing of Storm Windows and Doors is Plains Aluminum Industries, P. O. Box 38, Panhandle, Texas, Phones 2621 or 2761. There is no side line to detract our personal attention from Designing, manufacturing and supervising the installation of Plains Aluminum Dust Stoppers.

There is 21 years of experience standing behind this business which assures its expansion and success. We have all the latest types of equipment and machines for precision work thus guaranteeing our customers and dealers of the Finest Storm Windows and Doors on the American Market along with the type of installation that any home owner can be proud of.

There is no finer Storm Window at any price that will do what the Dust Stopper will do with ease. We employ over 15 people who make Storm Windows their profession, which in turn assures you of a professional job on your home. The Dust Stopper has been proven by 24 months of Service and over 11,000 units have been installed.

The Dust Stopper Storm Window is weather stripped, has no inserts, cleans easily, fits between screen and inside windows, so that it is invisible from the street. When the wind blows the window tightens. For Ventilation you simply raise the window from the bottom, just like a Double Hung window. As you can see in the picture the top sash swings down to make cleaning easy.

When more people begin to realize how important Storm Windows are to their home from a standpoint of cleaning, heating and air conditioning, we will have to build a new plant to handle the increased business. We can turn out 15,000 units a year with the present factory and personnel.

For further information just write or call collect, and Mr. Smith or Mr. Braden, his Sales Engineer will go any where in this area and give a free demonstration and estimate.

Winchell's Daughter Gets Upkeep
HOLLYWOOD — UP — Columnist Walter Winchell's daughter, Walda, Tuesday was awarded temporary separate maintenance of $400 a month from industrialist Hyatt R. Van Dehn pending trial of their separation suits. Mrs. Van Dehn and her husband, formerly married to singer Ginny Simms, separated Nov. 27.

Spellman In Korea

SEOUL — UP — Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic military vicar, flew to Korea Saturday for his fifth consecutive Christmas with American troops manning the truce line. U.S. Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas, on an inspection tour of the Far East, shared the special military plane with the archbishop of New York on the three-hour flight from Tokyo. Only about 50,000 soldiers, airmen, Marines and Navy personnel remain in Korea from the huge American force that Spellman visited by tightly-scheduled helicopter hops during the war. Spellman's first stop was at Pohang where he visited with some 600 Marines. He also made a Christmas donation to the orphanage for Korean-American children which has been supported by the Marines since 1951.

Bomb Scare Is Hoax
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — UP — More than 2,500 persons were rushed from two movie houses in the heart of Hollywood Sunday night following a telephoned report to police that a bomb was "set to go off in 45 minutes." Dozens of officers searched the theaters before reporting the bomb scare was a hoax.

Frisco Dons Gain Strength; Still Leading As Nation's Best

Dons Have Highest Point-Total Ever

By NORMAN MILLER
NEW YORK — UP — San Francisco's wandering Dons, in the midst of a coast-to-coast tour that will test their claim to greatness, led the United Press college basketball ratings Tuesday with the highest point-total ever amassed by any team.

Thirty-three of the 35 leading coaches who make up the United Press rating board voted San Francisco No. 1 this week, and the two other coaches on the panel picked the Dons second. That gave Coach Phil Woolpert's men 348 out of a possible 350 points. No team ever has been such a solid choice of the board of coaches since the United Press ratings were inaugurated in 1930.

North Carolina and Iowa advanced even though they were idle last week. North Carolina (5-0) moved up four notches to fourth and Iowa (3-1) jumped one place to fifth. Utah, second last week, dropped all the way to sixth after losing twice in the Kentucky invitation tournament. Holy Cross held the No. 7 ranking, Louisville and Illinois, made big advances to share eighth place, and Marquette retained 10th.

San Francisco launched a 6,000-mile tour last week by beating Wichita and Loyola of New Orleans to win its two-season winning streak to 33 games. The Dons, who were the coaches' pre-season best bet to win the national championship for the second year in a row, now have topped the ratings four straight weeks.

San Francisco stretched its victory streak to 34 Monday by defeating LaSalle in the opening round of the holiday festival tournament at New York, 79-62.

Last week's start of the heavy holiday contention claimed Utah, Brigham Young and Kentucky among its leading victims. More shuffling of the ratings is expected after the tournament strife reaches its peak this week.

On Long Tour
San Francisco launched a 6,000-mile tour last week by beating Wichita and Loyola of New Orleans to win its two-season winning streak to 33 games.

Others among the 35 teams that received votes this week were Temple St. John's (New York), Ohio State, Stanford, Duquesne, Minnesota, Oklahoma A&M, Syracuse, Missouri, Cincinnati, Houston, NYU, Oklahoma City University, Memphis State, Iowa State, Xavier (Ohio), Morehead (Ky.), State and Navy.

NEW YORK — UP — The United Press college basketball ratings (with first-place votes and win-loss records through Dec. 24 in parentheses):

Team	Pts.
1. San Francisco (23) (7-0)	348
2. Dayton (2) (8-0)	300
3. North Carolina State (8-0)	269
4. North Carolina (5-0)	137
5. Iowa (3-1)	136
6. Utah (5-2)	71
7. Holy Cross (5-1)	70
8. (tie) Louisville (7-0)	68
9. (tie) Illinois (5-1)	68
10. Marquette (5-2)	51

Second 18 teams — 11 Brigham Young, 50; 12, Kentucky, 43; 13, Vanderbilt, 37; 14, Rice, 23; 15, Duke, 20; 16, St. Louis, 17; 17, Indiana, 15; 18, Alabama, 22; 19, (tie), Southern Methodist and George Washington, 20 each.

Others — Temple, 16; St. John's (New York) and Ohio State, 10 each; Stanford, 9; Duquesne and Minnesota, 8 each; Oklahoma A&M 7; Syracuse and Missouri, 4 each; Cincinnati, Houston and New York University, 3 each; Oklahoma City University, Memphis State, Iowa State, Xavier (Ohio), and Morehead (Ky.), 2 each; Navy, 1.

BASEBALL
Podres, the lad you'll remember when you've forgotten that Yogi Berra and Roy Campanella were the MVP's, it was Johnny who picked the Dodgers off the floor with his third game triumph over the Yankees and led them to their first world series victory with a 2 to 0 eight-hitter in the final game.

BOXING
Robinson has got to be the man, even while Rocky Marciano was making mincemeat of his challengers. No man ever had retired and then staged a comeback to regain a title. But Sugar Ray smashed the old cliché that "they never come back" as he flattened Bobo Olson for the middleweight crown.

RACING
Beat Hartack and you take it all. His 412 wins made him the second jockey in all racing history to better 400 in one year.

TENNIS
The Aussies made a landslide of the Davis Cup but Tony Trabert put on an individual parade. Taking Wimbledon, France and the U. S. titles made him the boss.

BASKETBALL
Tom Gola of LaSalle finished his career as a three-time all-American. And he finished as he started, on top.

TRACK AND FIELD
Laszlo Tabori of Hungary ran the mile in 3:59 and two other guys, Chris Chatway and Brian Hewson, also broke four minutes in the same race.

WEIGHT LIFTING
Paul Anderson, 22, of Toccoa, Ga., became one of the muscular marvels of the ages with a record 1,130-pound Olympic triathlon lift.

AUTO RACING
Bill Yukovich, in death, was the big man. They may not remember but those who were there will never forget the awesome way "Yuky" was running away from 'em all when it happened.

Great competitors, all, but Fleck still was tops.

Mantle's Second Son Born Monday

JOPLIN, Mo. — UP — Yankee outfielder Mickey Mantle passed out cigars Tuesday in celebration of the birth of a second son.

The eight-pound, six-ounce boy was born at Freeman hospital here at 8:27 p.m. Monday and both mother and infant were reported "doing fine" Tuesday.

Attendants said the boy was not yet named.

Mantle brought his wife to the hospital about 10:30 a.m. Monday and acted "just like any other prospective father" through the 10-hour wait, attendants said.

The Mantles also are the parents of another son about two and a half years old.

The Mantles make their residence in Commerce, Okla.

Only about two hours before the Mantle baby was born the 23-year-old mother's younger sister, Mrs. John LaFaller, 21, Picher, Okla., gave birth to a girl at the same hospital.

The Mantles and the LaFaller went to the hospital together and attendants said their names were kept off the regular register until Tuesday morning to "avoid a hubbub of publicity."

Pittsburg Gridders Arrive In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS — UP — Pittsburgh University Coach John Michelson said Tuesday the remainder of this week will be spent in putting the finishing touches on the football team and "conditioning them for southern temperatures."

Joe frankly says he fully expects to operate in the red financially with the club in the Class B Big State League, but that "it will be worth it."

"I always wanted to play baseball," he said, "but never was good enough, I like to stay around the game and I make all the baseball conventions. I just like the people associated with baseball."

Joe figures he can stand the expense of such a hobby now, only he doesn't call it a hobby.

Fifteen years ago, Joe was making $10 a month in the construction business and in the oil fields and he managed to have a little grubstake. Joe sank his stake in a wildcat oil well and it hit. Sixteen more producers followed in a row before he encountered a dry hole.

Now he has interests in more than 100 producing oil wells and four different companies bear his name, but he'd rather be in baseball.

"I've been real lucky," he said, "real, real lucky and I appreciate it. But, now, I don't have to worry. And why can't I do something I enjoy doing?"

Joe had a finger in former baseball flops in this North Texas oil center of around 100,000, but now he's bought out all the other stockholders and is going it alone to return the game here where it has been dormant for the past few years.

His chance came when the Big State League figured in a big reshuffling job that brought in Beaumont, Abilene and Lubbock in place of some smaller towns that took a powder on the league.

Joe likes the game so much, he's willing to drop some hard cash here and there just to be close to baseball.

"It's a privilege, not a hobby, and I appreciate the opportunity," Joe says.

In these days of soaring overheads and slim gates, there aren't many baseball enthusiasts around with the sort of outlook which the chunky, work-hardened Hale takes about baseball.

Double Duty Is Menu For Tech's Raiders

LUBBOCK, Tex. — UP — Two-day drills are on tap for the Texas Tech Raiders Tuesday and Wednesday and they'll leave for El Paso and the Sun Bowl, Thursday.

The Raiders still are without the services of Center Dwayne West, whose injured knee hasn't responded enough to allow him even to take part in dummy drills.

Stamford Stops Hillsboro 34-7 In Class AA Playoffs

Darden, Woods Matched Thursday

Scouter Darden, Berger's heralded knockout artist, and Kenneth Woods, Shamrock's best known boxer, will tangle in the local ring at 8 Thursday night at the Community Barn in what should be one of the best fights ever matched in the Optimist ring.

Darden, who is now a freshman at West Texas State, won the high school regional division last year in Amarillo and also won the "outstanding boxer award."

Darden had the best knockout record of any boy in the Panhandle during his high school career and will be a top contender for the open division championship this year if he can get past Woods.

The game Shamrock fighter won the regional championship in '54 and went on to the state finals but failed to win the state title. He will be fighting for the Pampa Optimist Club this year and will be one of the few boys from the club that will be fighting in the open division.

If he can get by Darden he will be the likely champion of the 126-pound open division again this year.

Other top-notch fighters on the card will include J. N. Wright in the light-heavy division and Bob Prigmore in the heavyweight class.

Wright, who won the regional title two straight years, is now attending North Texas State College and is a member of the boxing team there. He will be fighting Berger's Earl Young who is always a tough fighter to beat. Young has been the district winner of both the Pampa and Berger Golden Gloves several times but has yet to cop the regional title.

Bob Prigmore, who won the regional Golden Gloves in his only attempt, will be matched against West Texas State's Herman Betke. Betke has been in the Pampa ring previously this year when he defeated Tommy Richardson the first of the season.

The Amarillo Boxing Club will be bringing nine or 10 boys over for the matches and all of them will be matched if it is at all possible. Boxing coordinator, Kenneth Ross, and his assistant, Oren James, agreed today "These fights should be the best the Pampa Optimist Club has ever presented."

There will be a total of 12 fights with most of them above the 100-pound mark. The admission to the fights will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

All proceeds will go back into the Club's building fund and will be used for the purchase of new equipment needed by the "Boys Work Program."

Fight time has been set at 8.

Browns Rout Rams 38-14 For Crown

LOS ANGELES — UP — Otto Graham returned to retirement Tuesday after a valiant effort in a championship game. Three of the interceptions produced touchdowns.

Cleveland scored in every period picking up a field goal in the first two touchdowns in the second, two in the third and one in the fourth.

Lou Groza's 26-yard field goal started the scoring parade following a drive from the Browns' 24 that featured the scoring quarterback following a drive from the Browns' 24 that featured a 32-yard pass from Graham to Lavelli.

Two Interceptions
Two interceptions, both off Norm Van Brocklin, added two touchdowns in the second period. Halfback Don Paul ran 63 yards for the first one and Lavelli, following halfback Tom James' interception, took a Graham pass to paydirt in play that covered 50 yards.

Los Angeles scored in the second on a Van Brocklin pass to Volney (Skeet) Quinlan, good for 57 yards.

Graham scored twice in the third period. The first one was on a 15-yard rollout following a 46-yard drive highlighted by substitute fullback Maurice Bassett's 27-yard through center for 27 yards. Otto punched over from the one for the second eight plays after Center Sam Palumbo picked off another Van Brocklin pass.

Cleveland tacked on the final one in the middle of the fourth when Graham lobbed 25-yards to Renfro.

The Rams got their second and last score late in the fourth with halfback Ron Walker taking it four yards off tackle following a 57-yard march.

Maryland To Hold Secret Sessions

Terrapins, who meet the national champion Oklahoma Sooners in the Orange Bowl, Jan. 2, will hold two-day secret workouts beginning Tuesday afternoon.

The Terrapins arrived by plane Monday and immediately were hustled to a local park for a long workout.

The Sooners, who arrived later in the day, will hold their first workout Tuesday morning.

Spartans Switch To Afternoon Workouts

PASADENA, Calif. — UP — Michigan State's Spartans, switching to afternoon workouts for the remainder of the week, will hold afternoon workouts the rest of the week with a two-hour session on tap Tuesday.

The Spartans, who meet UCLA in the Rose Bowl, Jan. 2, went through a long defensive drill, a dummy session and wind sprints Monday and it'll be more of the same Tuesday.

Abilene Area Has Two State Champs

ABILENE, Tex. — UP — The Stamford Bulldogs, a perennially good football team that never seemed quite good enough to win a state championship, finally turned the trick Monday in convincing fashion.

The Bulldogs punctured Hillsboro's hopes with three touchdowns in the first quarter and romped to an easy 34-7 victory and the Class AA, title before 11,000 fans at Fair Park stadium.

That gave West Texas two of the four schoolboy titles and ended the 1955 season. Abilene won the Class AAAA crown, Post Neches took the Class AAA title and Deer Park won the A crown in classes already decided.

Stamford, usually a district winner or contender, gained the state semifinals in 1952 before losing to Terrell. And in 1953, the Bulldogs were eliminated in the regional round by Phillips.

Capitalize on Fumbles
The Bulldogs were not to be denied this time, however, and they settled the issue early against the Clinderella Eagles, capitalizing on three Hillsboro fumbles in the first quarter for touchdowns.

Mike McClellan, a speedy all-state halfback, got the first two counters on dashes of 30 and 22 yards. He was the leading ball carrier of the game with 107 yards on 15 carries.

Still in the first, Stamford built its lead to 20-0 after recovering a third Hillsboro fumble as quarterback Jackie Mills plunged two yards into the end zone. Fullback Melvin Stevenson kicked good after the first two touchdowns but missed after the third.

Hillsboro, which had a 12-1 record going into the game, got no farther than the Stamford 30-yard line during the first half but managed to hold the Bulldogs scoreless in the second quarter.

March to Score
But Stamford took the second half kickoff and promptly went 66 yards in 10 plays with Stevenson scoring from the two-yard line. He added the point.

Eugene Niles fumbled for Hillsboro on the ensuing kickoff and Nicky Jackson recovered for Stamford on the Eagles' 15. Don Campbell went 17 yards for the one on the first play, then drove over the point to make the score 24-0.

Hillsboro finally got going early in the fourth period, driving 56 yards for its only touchdown. Joel Terry scored from the three and Joe Lloyd Terry kicked the point.

Again, late in the game, the Eagles got as far as the Stamford five but were repulsed and finally gave up the ball on the Bulldog 12.

Kept Bottled Up
Merlin Priddy, Hillsboro's 165-pound star fullback, was kept bottled up most of the time by the big, hard-charging Stamford line. Priddy was gang-tackled nearly every time he carried the ball but managed 53 yards on seven carries.

Joel Terry led Hillsboro with 62 yards on 15 carries while Stevenson was Stamford's second leading ball carrier with 62 on 18 tries.

Score by periods:
Stamford 20 0 14 0-34
Hillsboro 0 0 0 7-7

Stamford scoring: Touchdowns—McClellan 2 (30-run; 22-run); Mills (2-run); Stevenson (2-run); Campbell (1-run), Conversions—Stevenson 4.

Hillsboro scoring: Touchdown—Joel Terry (3-run), Conversion—Joe Lloyd Terry.

Spirited Nashua Restless After Long Train Ride

MIAMI — UP — That long train ride from Kentucky apparently had no effect on Nashua.

While most humans enjoyed an extra day of Monday, the world's most expensive piece of horseflesh unlimbered his legs for the first time since arriving in Florida and almost got away from his exercise rider.

Nashua cantered out on the Hialeah Park track with his regular exercise rider, Bill McCleary, in the saddle. He broke into a gallop at the half-mile pole and McCleary needed all his strength to keep from running into downtown Miami.

Although he hasn't raced in more than two months, Nashua appeared in fine fettle. He probably could race Wednesday, but will be kept in light training until next month when he will be pointed for the $50,000 McLennan and the $100,000 Widener Handicaps at Hialeah.

Nashua will race at Hialeah in the colors of Leslie Combs II, who headed the syndicate that purchased the husky colt for a record $1,251,200 from the state of the late William Woodward, Jr.

Deer Park Places 2 On All-State Squad

DALLAS — UP — Two-time champion Deer Park was the only club to spot more than one player on the Class A all-state schoolboy football team announced Tuesday by the Dallas Times Herald.

Bubba McLean, quarterback, and Jimmy Philpott, center, were the two members of the "championship team" to make the grade.

The rest of the team included ends Rene Ramirez of Hebronville and Richard Schulte of Hondo; tackles Tommy Collins of Lubbock and Jim Stroud of Crosbyton; guards Thomas Wilcox of Rockwall and Shelby Hudson of McCamey; halfbacks Veon Scott of Chillicothe and Gordon Salsman of Lewisville, and fullback George Bodey of Stinnett.

UCLA's Ronnie Knox Is Back Working Out

LOS ANGELES — UP — Ronnie Knox, UCLA's injured quarterback was told by Coach Henry (Red) Sanders Tuesday that he could work out in full swing with the team in its preparations for Michigan State in the Rose Bowl.

Knox, who slowly is rounding into shape after suffering a broken bone in the ankle, took part in the Bruins' entire practice session Monday except for the kicking portion. Knox also does most of the kicking but will wait a few more days before he gives it a try.

Sanders said the Bruins will work out every afternoon the rest of the week and will pass morning sessions.

UNLESS YOU DO things late this information isn't likely to be very beneficial to you for the remainder of the year, but you may want to clip it out and save it for next Christmas.

This I read in last week's copy of Editor and Publisher, and it might come in handy, especially for any world travelers.

It's how to say Merry Christmas in 20 languages.

"God Jul (Swedish) Feliz Natal (Brazilian) Glaedelig Jul (Danish) Joyeux Noel (French) Buona Natale (Italian) Bons Festas (Portuguese) Hauskaa Jouluu (Finnish) Hartelyke Kerstgroeten (Dutch) King Hsi Hsin (Chinese) Felice Pascuas (Spanish) Nosteria Lui Christ's Sa Va Die De Felos (Romanian) Prijemne Svatky or Vesele Vanoce (Czech) Froehliche Weihnachten (German) Kale Christougienia (Greek) Christmas O-medo (Japanese) Glaedelig Jul (Norwegian) Wesolych Swiat (Polish) S. Rozhdestvom Christova (Russian) Sretan Bozic (Serbian) and Merry Christmas (English)."

Now you are probably wondering why I didn't give you that information last week... you could have been a riot at all those parties.

Sorry I don't have the information on the New Year greeting in the same languages, but if you tried them at the New Year's eve parties, they would probably all sound like Greek anyway.

THIS COMES under the heading of "we always laugh at others' mistakes department." One of the best read features of Editor and Publisher is Short Takes in which examples of headline errors of various newspapers around the nation are reprinted. This past issue produced some corkers.

In the Mexico, Texas Senior Citizen was the following:

"How to Cook Husbands and Other Recipes."

From Buffalo, N.Y. Courier-Express:

"Mental Hospital Patient Roosters climb sharply."

The East Palestine (Ohio) Daily Leader had this one:

"Firm's Employees Get Drings On House."

WITH THIS ITEM, I could probably start a new department for this column entitled "Children's Bright Sayings." Part of a Christmas week end included a trip to Amarillo for a visit with a cousin. He was telling about a three year old boy who had never seen it rain before. When at last rain came to the area, he came running to his aunt yelling: "Hey Phillips, it's leaking outside!"

THANKS TO SOME anonymous contributor, I have another item that comes in mighty handy about now.

It's entitled "Sing While you Drive."

At 45 mph sing "Highways are Happy Ways."

At 55 mph sing "I'm a Stranger here, Heaven's my Home."

At 65 mph sing "Nearer My God To Thee."

At 75 mph sing "When The Roll is called Up Yonder, I'll be there."

At 85 mph sing "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

ANOTHER WAY WE spent the holiday was to sit around the house conducting impromptu quiz programs. We didn't have the $64,000 prize to offer, but we probably had some questions tough enough for the show.

One of the questions was to name all 48 states and their capital cities... extemporaneously, that is, I got 46 states, but I won't tell you how many capitals I missed.

But it was a lot of fun.

Did you know, for example, that the fountain pen was invented by an American named Waterman in 1854?

That color photography was invented by an American named J. M. S. Rolfe in 1861?

That television was invented by a Scot named Baird in 1926 and later in 1924 by an American named Zworykin?

Or that the thermometer was invented in 1593 by Galileo, the Italian?

Our quiz also included the year of discovery of the chemical elements. Did you know that Uranium was first discovered in 1789 by Klaproth? That 10 of the elements were discovered before Christ?

The 10 are Carbon, Copper, Gold, Iron, Lead, Mercury, Silver, Sulfur, Tin and Zinc.

I don't know what you can do with all this information, but you might clip it out... never can tell when you'll be on a quiz show.

We took the World Almanac and the encyclopedia and tried to find out how little we knew, and we did.

Our quiz included everything from naming seven wonders of the ancient world to naming the relative weights of the organs of the human body.

It was a quiet Christmas at home.

THE POET'S NOOK

Since I couldn't tell you how to say Happy New Year in 20 languages, suppose I give you some synonyms for "Happy" rather than a quotation from a poet at this time.

Here are 52 ways to say "Happy", and you can add the New Year

Joyous, joyful, merry, mirthful, glad, delighted, delightful, cheerful, cheering, gay, contented, satisfied, prosperous, rapturous, felicitous, chery, blithe, blithesome, jolly, blessed, blissful, rejoiced, rejoicing, jovial, jocund, gladsome, propitious, favorable, pleased, gratified, "pleasing," fortunate, pleasant, comfortable, light, bright, buoyant, vivacious, buoyant, dexterous, smiling, successful, sprightly, lucky, lively, animated, spirited, exhilarated, smiling, laughing and satisfied.

PRENTISS, Miss. — UP — Buster Lee hopes his setter is as successful at hunting as she is at baseball. Lees sandlot team didn't lose a ball all summer. Lee said if any balls are fouled off into the hedge and high grass surrounding the local diamond, "I carry Lou into the roughs and cry 'dead ball.'" The dog, he said, "sniffed around until she found the ball."

The first known balloon flight took place in 1872 when Jacques and Joseph Montgolfier of Annonay, France, sent up a small smoke-filled balloon.

U.P. Survey Shows U.S. Is Bettingest Nation In World

By UNITED PRESS

The United States is the bettingest nation in the world but it is one of the very few that doesn't have a government-sponsored or controlled national lottery and which gets no federal cut from gambling.

A survey of the world's non-Communist nations by United Press reveals that governments everywhere are enthusiastically supporting lotteries and pools, taking their drag from horseracing and realizing millions in taxes.

Ten million people every week invest in England's pools on football (soccer) games and the government draws $47 million annually in revenue. Bets are as small as 7 cents.

Big Single Prize

Italy is the next, biggest gambling nation in Europe with a top football prize of $320,000 on a single bet. Burma kept its lottery going even during the war and Japanese occupation. France has a national lottery drawing every week plus special ones on Friday 13ths.

Ireland's famous hospital sweepstakes attracts bettors around the world. Tiny Denmark has had a "royal" lottery for a century and tickets are handed down from father to son. Sweden bet $110 million a year on football and lotteries. In Germany four to five million persons bet every week.

The Philippines, Holland, Switzerland, Hong Kong, Austria, Norway all encourage gambling and take a federal cut.

Small Compared With U. S.

But the amounts bet in all these countries combined is fantastically small compared to the money that changes hands in the United States every year on horseracing, the "numbers," baseball betting, private football pools, slot machines, crap tables, dog tracks.

For example, the total pari-mutuel turnover at the horse race tracks this year is $2,066,302,588. Harness racing accounts for another $476,728,009. Out of thoroughbred and harness racing last year, state governments collected only $178,015,822. The federal government doesn't get a cent.

Rep. Paul A. Fino (R-N. Y.), estimates that 57 per cent of American adults gamble regularly and estimated they spend $30 billion a year—more than on education, religion, medicine or automobiles.

Mosby Makes Nominations For Funniest TV Boners

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD—UP—This is the season of "the year's best" awards. As a TV fan I would like to nominate honors for the funniest TV boners of the year.

While TV producers are totting up their successes of the year armchair critics at home get a chuckle by remembering mistakes that millions of viewers saw.

A gold engraved statuette for the all-time greatest fluff of 1955 should go to the Jackie Gleason show. Art Carney, playing the comic's sidekick, started to enter the Gleason apartment but could not get the door open.

The quick-thinking Carney climbed through the window. This appeared to be a stroke of genius, except it had puzzling moments for the viewers. For one thing, the glassless window was supposed to have been closed. Furthermore, the Gleason apartment allegedly was on the second floor.

A runner-up award could be handed to "Climax" in the middle of a starring drama on that CBS-TV program a corpse got up and walked away in plain view of the camera.

Then there was the time Jerry Lewis pulled a towel off a rack on the "Comedy Hour" and the entire wall came with it. Jerry turned the boner into a gag by hauling out a real prop man to hammer the wall back into place.

Host Bill Ludwig of "Shower of Stars" won the biggest laugh of the evening, but by mistake, when he introduced a ballet dancer as a "belly dancer."

Jimmy Durante goofed when he identified comedienne Pat Carroll as Pat Crowley. But James Mason outfluffed them all to take an "Oscar" for introduction boners when he started to introduce Rhonda Fleming on the Lux Video Theater—and couldn't remember her name.

Jan Sterling once said on a live TV drama, "I chose this play because of the character I betray." Instead of "portray." On other live dramas there was the usual quota of wandering stage hands and microphone shadows caught by the camera. One character couldn't get a fireplace to work on "Robert Montgomery Presents" and saved the day by muttering, "damp wood."

But even the filmed shows racked up boners. On "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" Joseph Cotten was shown weeping as he was lying down in a mortuary. The tears rolled down instead of sideways in the close-up.

On "Waterfront" a crew was shown loading a schooner. When it sailed out of the harbor the boat was suddenly a sloop. When it arrived in Honolulu it was a yawl.

Check Warning

ST. PAUL—UP—Businessmen should require better identification than a Social Security card before cashing checks, the Social Security office warned. Many grocery and department stores and restaurants have been duped recently by accepting checks on Social Security card identification. Officials said any person can get a card and work under any name he wishes.

NO WINGS -but a wing-ding take-off!

And at only part throttle - with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow!

OF COURSE, you don't get wings with this sleek and stunning new '56 Buick—but you can get the nearest thing to them.

It goes under the name of Variable Pitch Dynaflow, because it uses the principle of the modern plane's propeller.

But the 1956 version of this great transmission goes airplanes one better now.

It's all as simple as it's thrilling.

At take-off, a pilot sets the pitch of his propellers for all-out acceleration. Aloft, he switches to cruising pitch for top mileage.

You can do that, too, in a '56 Buick. Just floor the pedal and you switch the Dynaflow blades to high-performance angle. That gets you going instantly at full-power sweep. Then, just ease up on the pedal, and you switch to cruising pitch—and a lot better gas mileage.

But now you get something a pilot doesn't get—a new quick getaway response even without switching the pitch. A sizzling new take-off at only part throttle. A wonderfully solid new take-hold that you use in all your normal driving situations. And you get it with Dynaflow smoothness—plus another boost in gas mileage.

It's the '56 Buick-

Veto Of Japan's U. N. Bid Backfiring On Russians Now

By CHARLES M. MCCANN United Press Foreign Analyst

It may prove that Soviet Russia's action in blocking the admission of Japan to the United Nations was not so smart.

Russia vetoed Japan's application for membership because Nationalist China vetoed the application of Outer Mongolia.

Japan was humiliated and angered by the slap it received. The first tendency in Tokyo, naturally, was to blame the Nationalists.

It is true that if Nationalist China had not cast its veto, despite the personal pleas of President Eisenhower to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Japan would now be in the UN.

But advices indicate now that the Japanese are increasingly inclined to put the blame where it really lies. That is, with the Kremlin.

Japan Large Nation
After all, Japan is a nation of nearly 90 million people. It has been one of the world's greatest powers and it will be again.

Outer Mongolia is a political fake. It is an artificially created satellite of the Soviet Union. It has no set boundaries. Authorities differ widely on its population.

Nearly every member of the UN wanted to admit Japan. Nobody outside of the six Communist members, really wanted Outer Mongolia in.

Why should Russia have been so insistent on the admission of Outer Mongolia to the UN as the price of Japan's admission?

One reason seems to be that the Kremlin used the Nationalist veto to keep Japan out of the present. It hoped to force Japan to make concessions in the long-drawn-out negotiations for a Russian-Japanese peace treaty.

Wanted Closer Relations
Another may have been that it wanted to coerce Japan into seeking closer relations with Communist China.

A third reason probably was a desire to "save face." That is an Oriental device for covering up an evident defeat with an apparent victory. Russian diplomacy often has an Asiatic complexion.

In other words, the Kremlin apparently decided that if it could not get Outer Mongolia into the UN, it had to keep some other country out.

Recent advices from Tokyo say that Japan's attitude toward Russia is likely to be hardened as the result of the UN action and that it will not be coerced into making concessions.

It is reported also that Japan is increasingly cool toward the question of seeking closer relations with Communist China.

ATOMIC PICKLE BARREL A physicist takes the radiation count from New York University's sub-critical nuclear reactor—two tons of uranium rods in a pickle barrel. The sub-critical reactor—so called because it cannot sustain a full chain reaction—is used in N.Y.U.'s nuclear engineering education program. Experiments are made by hoisting a neutron source among the uranium rods. Water, not vinegar, as some gagster suggests, is used to shield the experiment. It is the best nuclear installation in New York City.

Otto Graham Named East's Player Of Year

NETW YORK — UP — Otto Graham, the 34-year-old quarterback who will lead the Cleveland Browns against the Los Angeles Rams Monday for the National Football League championship, Friday was named the pro circuit's player of the year in the annual United Press poll.

Graham ended a brief retirement shortly before the 1955 season began and led Cleveland to a division title for the 10th straight year. He won the individual passing crown while directing the team that led the league in scoring with 349 points.

Graham was voted the season's outstanding pro player in voting by 30 sportswriters who covered the games in the various league cities. He received 13 votes, winning the honor easily.

Graham's closest rivals in the balloting, rookie fullback Alan Ameche of the Baltimore Colts and end Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears, each drew four votes.

Graham didn't plan to play this year. After leading Cleveland to the 1954 championship, he announced he would be selling insurance and working on several other business ventures.

But he agreed to play one more year when Coach Paul Brown was faced with starting the 1955 campaign with only one quarterback, George Ratterman.

He wound up with one of his best seasons, completing 98 of 185 passes for 1,721 yards and 15 touchdowns. He won the passing title by averaging 9.30 yards per throw.

He has announced that Monday's game will be his last "even if Paul Brown has to play quarterback next year."

Welsh Sparks South To A 20-7 Victory

MIAMI — UP — A little guy who used to pitch lumps of coal as a kid in Coaldale, Pa., added a new star to his crown as the nation's leading college football passer Tuesday.

Navy quarterback George Welsh was the unanimous choice as "outstanding player" of the annual Shrine college all-star game Monday night as he led the South to its sixth victory over the North, 20-7. The five-foot-10 future admiral's throw produced one touchdown and set up two others, one of which he scored himself.

In all, Welsh connected on 12 of 20 passes for a net of 164 yards. And his ball-handling fakery with Georgia's hard-headed fullback Bobby Garrard carrying the ball, produced telling gains in the touchdown drives.

Welsh had the services of two of the country's finest ends, All-America Ron Beagle of Navy and Harold Burnine of Missouri, top pass catcher of 1955.

With the game only one minute and 15 seconds old, Beagle caught a 31-yard throw from Welsh for the South's first score. Garrard kicked the first of his two-out-of-three extra points.

Welsh's three passes to Beagle for 36 yards in the second period set up the second touchdown just before halftime which the 165-pound field general collected himself with a three-yard sneak.

On an 80-yard march in the third period, Welsh hit four times for 68 yards. Garrard scored the final points with a one-yard plunge after contributing a 16-yard-run in the drive.

Southpaw Freddy Wyan pitched 38 yards to Don Hollender, 1954, All-America from Army, as the second period opened for the North's only touchdown, a play that helped Hollender win the choice as the North team's most valuable player.

Contest Between Races Cancelled In Galveston

GALVESTON — UP — The first contest between Negro and white athletic teams in Galveston was cancelled Thursday night.

Leon A. Morgan, principal of Galveston Central, a Negro school, said the game was called off by Galveston Kirwin, a parochial school.

He quoted Father Barnaby, the Kirwin principal, as saying Kirwin "could not keep the contract because certain complications had arisen."

Eastern Gridders Prepare For West Despite The Rain

SANTA CLARA, Calif. — UP — The ban on scrimmage sessions for the East team which meets the West in the annual Shrine East-West game, Jan. 2, will continue according to Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State.

The Easterners worked out in a howling wind and intermittent rain Monday and then took off to watch the Browns-Rams professional football championship game on television.

Hayes had Ed Lindbeck of Illinois, Len Moore of Penn State, Bob Pascal of Duke, Bill Murakowski of Purdue and Don Schaefer of Notre Dame in one backfield and Garet Reichow, Iowa, Tony Branoff, Michigan, Howard Cassidy, Ohio State and Chuck Sticka, Trinity in the other.

The foreign agriculture service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that U. S. farms operate 60 to 65 per cent of all tractors used in agriculture in the world.
