By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
NEW YORK (UPI) — The flute is one of the most durable of all musical instruments, making itself heard from Bach to rock.

Bach and Mozart were the first composers to bring out the vitality of the flute, because it was ideally suited to the small combos of their time.

But as playing groups grew larger, adding the heavy horns and building up the string sections, the flute found itself in a minor supporting role.

Even the smaller jazz bands and swing orchestras which blossomed in the growing years of the 20th century were too overpowering for the flute to make its voice heard.

After World War II jazz changed its form and the flute began to fit once more into the big scheme.

As rock began to develop late in the 1960s, the flute gave way temporarily to the guitars and drums. There was just too much noise for the flute to cope with until the groups began concentrating on amplification.

Today Ian Anderson of Jethro Tull and Thijs Van Leer of Focus have popularized the flute as a rock instrument and other groups should look to it as a source for variety.

The flute is more suited to modern jazz than to rock, however, because it lends itself to cerebral arrangements.

Mann's latest Herbie Mann long has been the Pied Piper of modern jazz, luring an ever-growing following with album after album of exquisite flute music.

His latest album, "Hold On, I'm Comin'" (Atlantic SD 1632) was recorded live at the 1972 New York and Montreal jazz festivals. Mann once again is the virtuoso but he receives fine backing from David Newman on tenor sax and flute, Sonny Sharrock on guitar, Pat Rebillot on piano, Andy Muson on bass, and Reggie Ferguson on drums.

There are only two relatively short numbers, "Never Say Goodbye" and "Hold On, I'm Comin'." Each requires less than five minutes of playing time but not a second is wasted.

Mann is best on the longer numbers, of course, and he has plenty of room to expand on "Memphis Underground," "Soul Beat Momma" and "Respect Yourself."

Ken Munson is another flute player worth watching for the future as well as playing for the present. His album, "Super Flute" (Paramount PAS 6049) shows considerable musical imagination.

Munson often produces raw and raspy sounds from an instrument that was intended to manufacture sugar but it is effective. He accomplishes on the flute the same derring-do that Jimmy Smith produces from the electric organ.

For those who regard the flute as a pastoral or reflective instrument, "Paul Horn Inside II" (Epic KE 31600) is prescribed as nerve-soothing medication. "Inside II" is a logical follow-up to the successful "Inside I" which Horn recorded alone in the Taj Mahal. Although Horn despises gimmickry, he uses the multiple-tracking technique on "Inside II" but no electronic gadgets. He includes four Bach chorales and a Palestrina mass as well as ethereal tunes based on terrestrial elements.

Joanna Cassidy makes Hollywood see star

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — These are the days when studios, what's left of them, pour all their meager resources into pushing directors when they have a new film they like.

But MGM is turning back the clock. For the first time in years, that once-giant studio is going all out to push a young performer. Her name is Joanna Cassidy. The picture is "The Outfit." They think Joanna Cassidy may be a big one.

You can see the magic working when you're with her. She's a tall, beautiful girl. She dresses like a star. She walks like a star. She has the effect of a star.

We were having lunch. Several hard-bitten Hollywood hands seized on any excuse to come over to our table. They just wanted to meet her.

"Don't you ever get tired of hearing people tell you how beautiful you are?" one man said coining a cliché.

"No," said Joanna, with a big smile.

She wants to be a star. She says she won't give her soul to any man for awhile. She wants to save it for awhile and give stardom a shot.

She thinks maybe she came along a decade or so too late, because of her height. At 5 feet 8-inches she would have fit nicely with such greats as Gary Cooper and Clark Gable, but she says today's leading men are too short.

Her background is interesting, too. She comes from Haddonfield, N.J., and went to Syracuse University. When she was a freshman, a Jewish fraternity asked her to be their Homecoming Queen candidate. She accepted and won — the first freshman to be so honored, she says, in the school's history.

Her mother once sent her to see the family's Methodist minister "to cure me of my independence." She says she found out that the minister was a hypocrite — "he told me one thing and he was carrying on with a lady in the congregation at the same time."

When she learned that sordid fact she says she quit the church. Since she liked the boys in the Jewish fraternity at Syracuse, she converted to Judaism.

Later, she married a Jewish doctor, and had two children. He practiced in San Francisco and then, in the Army, in Columbia, S.C.

Her mother once sent her to TALL, willowy Joanna Cassidy may have trouble finding an actor she can look up to.

While I was in Columbia" she says. "I found out I had had it with being a housewife. So I went to the local TV station and got a job."

That was the start of everything. She modeled and she acted and she worked on TV. Now she's done two movies — "The Laughing Policeman" before "The Outfit" — and things are happening.

MGM took her to Hollywood Park for a day at the races. Mervyn LeRoy, the great director who is HP's president, took one look at her and had her present the cup to that day's winner.

Little Company Shows Profit

DALLAS (UPI) — Southwest Airlines, the little company with a lot of ambition, has reported the first profit in its two-year history.

The airline took on Braniff and Texas International in a battle for Dallas-Houston-San Antonio routes, and recently won the right to keep its commuter service at Love Field, close to downtown Dallas, after other airlines move to the new regional airport 17 miles away.

The airline, which is seeking permission to serve the Rio Grande Valley, reported a profit of $183,000 — 16 cents a share — for the quarter ended June 30.

Southwest president M. Lamar Muse said each of the firm's eight quarterly financial reports has shown an improvement.

Learning Disability Workshop Planned

FOLSOM, N.M. — Dr. Wilma Jo Bush, professor of Education at West Texas State University, will be guest lecturer at an Aug. 6-11 workshop on the Diagnosis and Remediation of Learning Disabilities at Rainbow Ranch in the northeastern mountains of New Mexico, four miles west of Folsom.

During the latter part of the workshop, Dr. Bush will demonstrate diagnostic techniques and discuss methods and materials useful in remediating the problems which are pinpointed.

Dr. Eloy Gonzales of Highlands University will explain the uses of the Resource Room in the handling of special learning problems; and Mildred Williams, director of Rainbow Ranch Summer Camp, will demonstrate movement oriented therapy and guide the clinical experience of the participants in work with children attending the special August Clinic Camp.

Graduate or undergraduate credit for the workshop is available through Highlands University, Las Vegas, N.M.

Trevino Gets Lead In St. Louis Golf

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Lee Trevino, defending his championship in the $210,000 St. Louis Golf Classic, fired a four-under-par 66 Saturday to come from behind and grab the lead in the third round.

Trevino, who won last year's tournament with an 11-under-par 209, was 11-under-par after the third round. One stroke behind were Gene Littler and Bob Goalby.

Trevino had problems on Saturday's front nine when he missed three putts of three feet or less. He hit a tree on the fourth fairway, but he saved the hole at par when his third shot hit the green and rolled 20 feet to within one foot of the hole.

Trevino, always the happy Supermex, took a new ball from his caddy at the eighth hole and joked, "No wonder I can't putt those balls; they're square."

On the 17th hole, which Trevino bogeyed, he made what he called "the worst tee shot in my life. Just as I was about to shoot, some man in the gallery yelled at the caddy to move. I yelled back, 'Where do you want him to go—into the ground?'"

Littler, celebrating his 43rd birthday, had a one-stroke lead at the beginning of the round, which Trevino quickly wiped out with a birdie on the first hole. Littler, given a birthday cake and serenaded by the gallery with a spirited version of "Happy Birthday" on the 18th green, shot a 68.

Littler complained of a "terrific stomachache" the first two days of the tournament but said after Saturday's third round, "This is the best I've felt all week and the worst I've played."

Asked what he would need in Sunday's final round to win the $42,000 top prize, Littler pointed to Trevino and said, "With this guy playing, no worse than 66."

Littler made an eagle on the par-5 ninth hole with two approach shots straight down the fairway. His second approach hit the green and rolled to within eight feet of the hole.

Goalby, a gallery favorite from nearby Belleville, Ill., shot a 67 without a bogey. He made a birdie with a 35-foot putt on the sixth hole and birdied the ninth with a 10-foot putt after his tee shot hit a spectator on the head.

Snead And Demaret To Play The Girls

DOWNINGTON, Pa. (UPI) — Golfing greats Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret have agreed to play two top lady golfers for a winner-take-all purse of $50,000, it was announced Saturday by Daniel M. Tabas, an avid golf fan and president of the Downingtown Inn and Golf Club.

Tabas said Snead, 61, and Demaret, 63, accepted the offer to play the no-handicap match some time in September or October at the Downingtown course near Philadelphia. Snead already has been hired to put on an exhibition there Sept. 22.

rank first, second and 10th on the ladies' pro tour winnings list.

Reda explained the idea took shape earlier this month when Snead quipped with sports writers that he would like to take on a "top" lady golfer.

According to Tabas, the purse could be raised to half a million dollars "if others get behind the idea." Anything over $50,000, he said, would go charity.

Reda noted that Snead and Demaret would be giving away a total of almost 60 years in age to their female opponents. He added that when he asked Snead if he would give the ladies any strokes, the golfer replied, "Hell no, 30 some years is enough strokes."

Aaron Blasts No. 700

ATLANTA (UPI) — Hank Aaron hit his 700th career home run in the third inning of the Atlanta-Philadelphia game Saturday night, closing to just 14 behind Babe Ruth's record.

Aaron's homer, the 27th of the season for the 39-year-old Atlanta outfielder, was a two-run smash into the leftfield seats off Phillies' pitcher Ken Brett, who recently hit four home runs in four games himself.

Play was stopped briefly while the crowd of about 17,000 gave Aaron a standing ovation. He stood at the end of the dugout waving his cap after completing his tour of the bases.

The home run ball was caught by 18-year-old Robert Winborne of Atlanta, who will be a freshman this fall at the University of North Carolina.

In anticipation of Aaron's historic blast, the fans had filled the lower leftfield seats in Atlanta Stadium fuller than usual and one man brought out a net on long poles, hanging them over the bullpen area.

Nolan Ryan Allows It's Better Late Than Never

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — The spotlight on the 44th All-Star baseball game Tuesday night is expected to be on a guy who almost wound up watching the classic on television.

Smoke-throwing Nolan Ryan, admitting that "being a leftover is better than being left out," was a last minute addition to the American League roster and since he'll have four days rest, he has a good chance of getting the starting assignment.

In a dramatic announcement Thursday after both Ryan and Willie Mays had been left off the groups of extras picked by Dick Williams of the Oakland A's and Sparky Anderson of the Cincinnati Reds, the squads were increased from 28 to 29 players. And Ryan and Mays were named to fill those spots. Mays will be tying Stan Musial's All-Star record by appearing in his 24th game.

In another sudden development, Williams was hospitalized Thursday and underwent an emergency appendectomy. Chuck Tanner of the Chicago White Sox is waiting in the wings to take over the manager's job and he'll have to make the decision of whether to start Ryan.

Ryan acts as if he doesn't expect the starting assignment.

"There are eight guys ahead of me," he says. But after his no-hitter Sunday followed by seven hitless innings against Baltimore Thursday night before Mark Belanger singled in the eighth, Ryan would be the popular choice. Ryan was originally left off the squad by Williams because of his 11-11 record. And it dropped to 11-12 Thursday night when the Orioles finally beat him in 11 innings despite his seven innings of no-hit ball.

But the fans, whose ballots determine all the starters except pitchers, probably don't care about the 11-12 mark. Ryan's the most talked about player in the game right now and he's the guy the fans want to see.

The AL pitchers will be facing a team that Anderson has molded especially to win the game. Anderson, baseball's Mr. Nice Guy, hopes to stop treating the AL so kindly as he attempts to snap a personal losing string.

The last three times the AL has beaten the NL in the 1971

All-Star game and in the World Series in 1970 and 1972 — Anderson has been the losing manager.

The mild-mannered Anderson doesn't try to hide the fact that he's out to break that streak. This isn't just an exhibition game for him.

"I was really thrilled about managing the All-Star game in 1971 but I really didn't understand it," he says while admitting that he just followed the fans' balloting in picking his subs that time.

"This time I put together a squad I think can win," he says.

In the process, he left out Mays and that caused quite a controversy but no one can accuse Anderson of not treating this game seriously. Maybe too seriously. Anderson, admitting his selections will be second guessed, says, "I don't figure to make a lot of friends in this job."

Among the players who finished far down in the balloting but were chosen by Anderson were Atlanta's Dave Johnson and Darrell Evans, Los Angeles' Manny Mota, Montreal's Ron Fairly and Houston's Bob Watson.

This will be the 40th anniversary of the birth of the late Arch Ward that was first played in Chicago in 1933 to highlight the Chicago's World's Fair. It will be viewed by a national TV audience and a sellout crowd at the new Royals' stadium. Although it's the 40th anniversary, it's the 44th game because two games were played each year from 1959-62.

New name SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — One of the oldest international tennis events is changing its name. The Pacific Coast International Tennis Championship which was first played in Del Monte, Calif., in 1889, predating the Forest Hills, French, Italian and Australian championships, will be called the Firemen's Fund International when the nine-day competition is held at the Round Hill Country Club in Alamo, near Walnut Creek, Sept. 22-30.

The $50,000 prize money event, which is being sponsored by Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, was an amateurs-only tournament until 1968; when it became an open, bringing professionals into the competition.

Ben Crenshaw Wins Amateur By 6 Shots

HOUSTON (UPI) — Ben Crenshaw coasted to a six-shot victory in the Southern Amateur golf tournament Saturday and then said he would announce in two weeks whether he would turn professional this year or wait until he has completed his college career.

Crenshaw, a junior at the University of Texas, fired a two-under-par 69 over the Champions Golf Club course Saturday to register a 72-hole total of 273-11 under-par.

Six shots back came Mike Killian of Largo, Fla., who also had a final round 69 for a 279 finish. Keith Fergus of Houston and Danny Edwards of Edmond, Okla., deadlocked for third place at 282. Edwards shot a 69 Saturday and Fergus a 71.

Gary Koch, who started the day in second place five strokes back of Crenshaw, soared to a 79 after taking a double bogey five on the par-3 eighth hole and a horrendous nine on the par-3 12th, where he put three shots into a lake.

It was the second Southern victory for Crenshaw, who won the tournament two years ago.

"I hit more good shots this week probably than any other week in my career," said Crenshaw. "I was swinging at the ball real good. This course fires me up."

Craig Lured Back To Cowboy Camp

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (UPI) — Craig Morton, who a week ago walked out of the Dallas training camp asking to be traded, returned Saturday to sign a three-year contract and resume his battle with Roger Staubach for the Cowboys' No. 1 quarterbacking spot.

"I'm happy to be part of the team again," said Morton. "I can just say I'm very happy with the terms of the contract. There was a lack of communication for awhile, but once the ice was broken things worked out very well."

Morton had originally planned to fly from Los Angeles to Dallas Saturday and hold a news conference on his arrival home. But Dallas Coach Tom Landry called Morton Friday night to initiate the settlement. Morton was the second Cowboy veteran to be lured back to camp in less than a week after making retirement noises.

Defensive tackle Bob Lilly, a veteran of 12 years, had planned to announce his retirement Thursday in Dallas, but Cowboy General Manager Tex Schramm flew cross country Wednesday night to talk Lilly out of quitting. Lilly went back to California with Schramm and is now taking part in workouts.

Morton had one year left on his old contract but had wanted a new three-year pact based on his performance last season — during which he replaced the injured Staubach at quarterback and led the Cowboys into the Super Bowl playoffs for the seventh straight year.

TEE-OFF TID-BITS

By Hart Warren

I am starting the column this week with a few words of sadness. Our good friend Web Wilder of San Antonio, and defending champion of the Tri-State Seniors Golf Tournament, is presently in Highland General Hospital as the result of a coronary he suffered Tuesday. Our best wishes for a speedy recovery, Web.

Since Web will not be able to defend his title in the tournament this week, it will leave a wide open shot at the title for the other entrants.

The seniors will be engaged in both match and medal play this week before the winners of each flight are decided Friday.

Unfortunately, due to maintenance after each day's play, the course will be closed to all but contestants this week. The course will be open Friday after completion of all competition.

I will be giving a clinic (at no charge) to anyone interested tomorrow at 6 p.m. Anyone who wants to learn how to shank a wedge just show up.

Bane And Winfield Head All-Americans

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Two players who went directly to the big leagues head the list of the 1973 College All-America baseball team, selected for the Sporting News by the scouting directors of the 24 major league clubs.

Eddie Bane, pitcher for Arizona State, was signed by the Minnesota Twins, and Dave Winfield of the University of Minnesota went to the San Diego Padres.

Bane, who edged Winfield for the Player-of-the-Year title, set an NCAA career strikeout mark and finished with a 15-1 pitching record in 1973, including a four-hit, 3-2 victory over a lineup of California Angel regulars.

Winfield was a pitching and hitting star for Minnesota. He also played basketball and football and was drafted by teams in both pro basketball leagues and by the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

Winfield hit .385 for the Big Ten champion Gophers and had a 9-1 pitching record. He hit eight home runs in 43 games while serving as both pitcher and outfielder.

Other players chosen for the team:

- First baseman Jerry Tabb, 401, Tulsa, second baseman Tom McMillan, 305, Jacksonville, shortstop Ed McMahon, 308, Massachusetts; third baseman Charlie Bates, 301, California State at Los Angeles.

Coach Association Says No To Hairy All-Stars

DALLAS (UPI) — The Texas High School Coaches Association, citing medical opinions which warn of infection when a person with facial hair is cut on the face, has ruled all participants in next week's state high school all-star games must be clean shaven.

A dress code established by the association also restricts the size of sideburns and Afro hair styles.

The restrictions, mailed to prospective members of the all-star football and basketball teams, caused two members of the Houston Wheatley basketball squad to turn down invitations to play in the annual contest.

The basketball game on Aug. 1 and football game on Aug. 2 will climax the 41st Texas High School Coaches Association coaching school.

Code Is Nothing New

"We have had a dress code since 1963," said the association's executive director, L. W. McConachie. "It's just that nobody ever really noticed it until now."

One of the reasons people noticed it this year was an article written for the association's official magazine — Texas Coach. The story, written by the head coach of a junior high school coach in suburban Houston, said long hair on men was a sign of a sissy.

"It is time that American coaches stopped allowing themselves to be personally represented by male athletic teams and individuals that look like females," said the story written by Tony Simpson.

An assistant to McConachie, Donald Jay, wrote each of the prospective all-stars and told them that if they could not conform to the grooming code that they should decline the offer to play.

"By so doing," said Jay in the letter, "you can prevent embarrassment to you, your school and your community."

Jay said the athletes would be checked when they arrive in Dallas to see if they conform to the hair style.

Gets Bus Ticket Home

"If any all-star reports, having not conformed to the grooming code ... he will be provided with a return home bus ticket."

A copy of the grooming regulations also carried this comment:

"The American Medical Association has expressed the opinion that when an athlete receives a facial cut or incision he is more susceptible to infection if he has facial hair. Also it is difficult to get a safe fit of the athletic helmet if the hair is long."

"The helmet is the most critical piece of the equipment worn by the athlete. Therefore, the board of directors of the Texas High School Coaches' Association submit the following recommended grooming guidelines...

"The length of hair should be no more than medium cut. It should not extend over the eye-

P.K. Wrigley: Hermit Owner Of The Cubs

(First of Two Parts.)

By Ira Berkow

CHICAGO — (NEA) — "I'm loose," said Phillip K. Wrigley, actually standing there in person in his white shirt sleeves, a little smaller in physical build than one might expect from a genuine mystery man, and a little hunched from his 79 years of cowering from the public glare.

He does exist! He was talking to his prospective interviewer and asking him into his office. He was standing there with pouchy-eyed and a bit floppy-eared but not dour-looking at all as some of the stiff old photographs show him. There was a sort of comfortable old Home Sweet Home sampler look about him.

Chicago Cub owner Phillip K. Wrigley may not be exactly the Howard Hughes of baseball but he's the closest thing to a multimillionaire hermit the sport has.

Renate Stecher Sets World Mark For 100 Meters

BERLIN (UPI) — Renate Stecher flashed to a world record Friday in the women's 100 meter sprint of 10.8 seconds at the East German track and field championships at Dresden.

With her record time, Miss Stecher shaved one tenth of a second off her previous standard of 10.9 seconds she set June 7 in Ostrava, Czechoslovakia.

Yank Game Called

NEW YORK (UPI) — The game between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees was postponed Saturday because of rain and wet grounds.

It will be replayed as part of a bat-day doubleheader on Sunday.

Game Postponed

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The scheduled game between the San Diego Padres and Pittsburgh Pirates was postponed Saturday because of rain.

Pirate officials waited an hour and a half before deciding the game couldn't be played. A makeup date has not been decided yet.

Wrigley has owned the Cubs for 40 years. The team has not won a pennant since 1945. From 1947 it spent 20 straight record-smashing seasons in the second division despite some of the weirdest contrivances by its owner. In recent years the Cubs have gained fame for late-season flops. But now they just might stay on top.

So people are wondering again, who is this mystery man?

Who, in fact, is this unswerving individualist who has done everything from withstanding the pressures of putting lights in his ballpark (the Cubs are the only major league club to play only day home games) to pay for the families of his players to accompany the team on a road trip to try a system of rotating managers.

Wrigley hasn't been to Wrigley Field, home of the Cubs, in over 10 years. He got tired of being fawned over by the ushers when he came to his special box. Then he tried sitting incognito in various parts of the park. He was always being discovered by gaping fans and being photographed by the press ("and always with my mouth open").

So this gigantically rich fellow (estimated daily! income of $10,000) does not go to Wrigley Field at all (in fact, he hardly ever went — even when the team won a pennant in 1945, he stayed in his office and wrote personal letters to fans explaining why everyone couldn't get tickets) but slips into the white wedding-cake-like 32-story Wrigley Building on the north bank of the Chicago River, where he conducts the business of the largest chewing gum company in the world.

It is here that to the man in the street Wrigley may become a disembodied voice. Everybody who works in the executive offices of the gum company answers his own phone.

His father taught him that they were in a five-cent business. "But even if it's a 10-cent business now," says Wrigley, "we should still remember our level."

"Hello, hello, I wanna talk to Mishter Wrigley," says the caller with the sudsy voice.

"This is Mr. Wrigley."

"Oh."

"What can I do for you?"

"Well, I'm watchin' the game here and your jerk manager oughta yank the pitcher. Use your influence, huh?"

Click.

Wrigley had been watching the game on television, as usual, in his wood-paneled office. Just as the caller hung up, the manager went out to the mound and changed pitchers.

Wrigley now says, "The guy probably turned to his pal on the stool and said, 'Boy, do I get action!'"

Being uppity is anathema at the gum place, thus the answering of one's own phone. But phones are still a modern necessary evil to Wrigley, who says, "My ambition is to live in a cave without any telephones and a big rock over the door."

He says that "my cave" is the Wrigley House on Lake Geneva. He never answers any of the 21 telephones in the place, whether one rings in the master's bed dressing room or the hall-coat closet or the stable shop or his enormous workshop or anywhere near any of the house's 11 bathrooms.

When asked, "Is it true that you earn over $3 million a year?" he says, "I don't know. Money has never really interested me," and the listener believes this man with the clear blue eyes and avuncular visage.

He has never appeared on television or radio. He has made only two speeches that anybody knows about. Both were after receiving awards. He said, "Thank you," the first time. The second time he burst wide open. He said, "Thank you very much."

So it was shocking when he took out a full-page ad in the Chicago papers in October 3, 1971, to condemn a "Dump Durocher clique" as he called it. It was headlined: "This is for Cub fans and anyone else who is interested" (the latter surely included some disgruntled players). He ended with: "(Leo) is running the team, and if some of the players do not like it and lie down on the job, during the off season we will see what we can do to find them happier homes." Signed: "Phil Wrigley."

Two things are noteworthy here. One is that Durocher was fired two-thirds of the way through the next season (Wrigley knows when he can go no further with a problem) and second, he spelled his last name correctly, part of the Wrigley legend is that sometimes he even spells his name incorrectly.

Misspelling your own name sounds nearly as eccentric as something Howard Hughes might do. Wrigley does not see himself in that mold at all. "Howard Hughes goes into a hotel in Las Vegas and when he can't get a room, he buys the place and fires the manager," said Wrigley. He smiled to himself at the probable scene. Then a story occurred to him.

"A fella had a flat tire in front of an insane asylum," said Wrigley. "Several of the inmates came to the bars and watched him take off the bad tire and start to put on the spare. But he accidentally kicked all of the nuts (Wrigley probably meant "lugs") down an open manhole. He didn't know what to do.

"One of the inmates called out, 'Why don't you take one nut from each of the other wheels and put them on the fourth and then fix it up as soon as you get to the nearest service station?'"

"The driver looked with amazement that such an intelligent idea should come from the inmate.

"I may be crazy," said the guy behind the bars, 'but I'm not dumb.'"

Freeman Quits Giants

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. (UPI) — Two days of pro football were enough for Vanderbilt basketball star Rod Freeman.

Freeman, a No. 7 draft choice, checked out of the Giants' Monmouth College training camp Friday and headed for Philadelphia where he feels his chances will be better playing with the 76ers of the National Basketball Association.

"Freeman decided he might hurt himself and felt it chances to make the Giants weren't good enough to risk injury that could be costly in basketball," Giants Personnel Director Jim Trimble explained.

Elegant Fashion Returns In Menswear Collection

By JOSEPH YUSIF NEW YORK (AP) — The elegant international man with conservative tastes is back in vogue for 1973 if recent fashion previews are an indication.

British designer Hardy Amies previewed his International Menswear Trend Collection for the Fall of 1973.

There are no way-out presentations in the new Amies line. His collection, aimed mainly at the upper crust of the mass volume market, is restrained and in step with the creations of other international men's designers. This means that next year's fashionable male should expect to find that very dark and sombre colors are in; wide knit ties are in; wide and peaked lapels are in; waistcoats are in; pleats and wide cuffs are in.

The look remains long, lean, and flattering. Suits and sportswear of charcoal browns and deep dark greens will give prominence to brighter accessory colors and emphasize the importance of cut and styling.

Jackets will remain long, close fitting, shaped at the waist, and slightly shaped at the shoulder with two-button fastening. Many will have center vents or no vents at all. Lapels will remain very wide, featuring different reverse and top collar treatments. The wide lapels are balanced by wide trousers.

The trouser look is very important. They'll be pleated, fit snugly over the hips and taper out to feature deep cuffs that are generally 25 inches wide and 2 inches deep. Legs will be longer, breaking slightly at the front of the shoe.

Suits will be complemented with 4 to 5-button waistcoats, some of which will be sewn-off at the waist. The vests will generally show more shirt and more tie than their classic predecessors.

Amies emphasizes that accessories must complement the total look since balance is the basis for styling.

Columbia productions HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Columbia Pictures will produce the screen version of "The Ten-Second Jailbreak," the spectacular true-life story of the escape of Joel Kaplan from a Latin American jail.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Sewer Requests Way Of Treating Fabrics

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—With four children to outfit I find it more economical to sew our swimsuits myself. Fabric can be bought that has been specially treated for chlorine and is fade-resistant but is quite expensive (about $8 a yard). Many times it cannot be bought in the bright colors and patterns that children enjoy wearing. I wonder if any of the readers know of any way of treating ordinary fabrics like cotton, blends, synthetics and knits so they are more fade-proof and sun-resistant.—NORMA

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with the people who dump garbage all along our highways. We enjoy driving along country roads and like to pull off the road to enjoy a picnic lunch. There is scarcely a spot to stop where there is not a lot of trash. Even the picnic tables in the rest areas are messy and the garbage containers are filled and spilling all over the ground.—RUBY

DEAR POLLY—Janice who wants to use her leftover wallpaper could do several things, depending on the quantity she has. With a sizable amount she could paper one wall by alternating a strip of paper and one of paint. If doing this on a painted wall, first sand the paint that will be covered with paper so the paste will stick. This is attractive on a bedroom wall back of a bed. I also have papered wastebaskets, cleansing tissue boxes and even small chests of drawers so they become a real part of a room's decor. If you find no other use for some of the pieces, they make wonderful drawer liners.—MRS. H. C. R.

DEAR POLLY and Janice—I had a small amount of wallpaper and used it to paper one wall and then painted the other three a color taken from a paper's design. If the pattern allows, she could cut the width of the paper in half and use these strips to make a border around the bathroom and then paint below it. I think half the fun is experimenting.—E. S. S.

DEAR POLLY—Many of us now wear pantyhose but have lots of pairs of regular hose on hand. I use mine to make knee or ankle-length hose to wear under slacks. Cut the elastic from the wasteband of old pantyhose since it is not as tight as regular plastic and make garters with it. Slip on hose, roll or tuck under the garters and wear wherever they are most comfortable. The biggest advantage is that they can be slipped on and off without removing your slacks.—JOAN

Water waste
DETROIT (UPI)— Watch those taps! A one-eighth inch stream from a leaking faucet wastes 400 gallons of water a day according to a plumbing authority.

At that rate, 146,000 gallons a year would flow needlessly down the drain, says Stanley Q. Rosen, president of Brass-Craft Manufacturing Co.

With many environmentalists predicting a shortage of drinking water by the end of this century, the first line of defense against this problem is in the home, Rosen says.

For the kids
NEW YORK (UPI)— Every new apartment house in Vienna would be required to have either a playground or a playroom under a bill under consideration in the Austrian capital, says the city's Press and Information Service.

The measure calls for play areas for children up to six years old in sight and within calling distance of the apartments. Where it is not possible to have a playground, a playroom must be part of the building.

GREEN RICE
2 cups cooked rice
2 eggs, beaten well
1/2 cup Wesson oil
1 large can milk
1/4 can parsley flakes
1 clove garlic (or garlic salt or powder)

1/2 green pepper, (minced)
1 small onion, (minced)
1/4 lb. grated cheese
Salt and pepper to taste
Mix all seasonings and add to rice. Cook for 45 minutes to 1 hour at 300 degrees in a buttered casserole set in a pan of warm water.

SCALLOPED POTATOES
8 medium-sized potatoes
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion

Pare potatoes; slice thin. Make white sauce of butter, flour, and milk. Put half the potatoes in greased casserole; cover with half the sauce, seasonings, and onion. Add remaining potatoes, seasonings, and onion, then remaining sauce. Cover and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about one hour. Uncover and continue baking until top forms brown crust. Grated cheese may be added to white sauce. Serves 6.

NOTE: The above recipes are compliments of Lefors Beta Chi Kappa Kappa Iota Cookbook.

Young Signs
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Broadway character actor Burt Young signed with producer-director Mark Rydell for a co-starring role in "Cinderella Liberty" starring James Caan and Eli Wallach.

Choosing trees
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)— Consider the scale and proportion a tree will have at maturity when deciding what kind of trees to plant around your home, advises Dr. William Welch, landscape horticulturist for Texas A&M University's agricultural extension service. Too often large growing trees are placed in areas where they must later be removed because they are too close to a home or other structure.

When you were a child, did you ever play Follow The Leader? ... It was ever so much more fun being the leader than the follower ... Remember it when it comes to fashion.

When it comes to the basic part of a woman's wardrobe ... leading the way is the all-weather coat ... Gals everywhere know that it alone can take them through the rain and shine, day and night, at home or abroad.

Toss it over everything ... Fling it over your shoulders ... That's what you'll do with your tie-belted, soft wool coat with a-a-a-y armholes ... How else could you accommodate the suit or bulky sweater under it?

The blouson promises to continue BIG in today's fashion world ... Don't be lulled into thinking it's the old spillover which ends at the hips ... This stops short at the waist.

Fashion and Beauty Tips

Caftan Cover Up

The rage is the make-it-yourself caftan, an original made from a sheet. You can use a white sheet and add interest with colorful seam-stitching or binding. A smashing print sheet doesn't need any additional adornment.

Bare Cover

Shorts and halters are the active sportswear ensemble for summer. Check out the Hawaiian shirts tied at midriff or cotton T-shirts landscaped with palm trees.

Today's Eyecolor

The latest in eye color comes in the form of pencils and crayons. These pencils and crayons can be used as eyeshadow, liner, blush, lip liner and eyebrow pencil and come in a wide variety of colors.

Dress Cool

The shirt dress is the style for summer. It's a loose, cool way to dress for warm weather.

Shade Eyes

Correct sunglasses are not only a fashion plus but a health must. Too much direct sun may be harmful to the eyes.

Headliners

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Barbara Eden and Jerry Lewis will headline the New Jersey Garden State Arts Center show for six days beginning Aug. 20.

Sun and Hair Color Clash

If you're thinking of changing your hair color, perhaps a professional should be the one to do it. Be especially careful during summer when it is wise to protect hair from the sun, since the rays can turn a soft, pretty color into a brassy-looking one.

Presnell-Gindorf Vows Said

MRS. JACKIE W. GINDORF

Miss Cynthia Louise Presnell and Jackie Wayne Gindorf exchanged wedding promises at 3 o'clock in the afternoon July 15 in First Christian Church of Pampa. Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Max Presnell 2119 N. Sumner, and Mrs. Henry J. Gindorf and the late Mr. Gindorf, 2530 Aspen.

The Rev. Martin Hager, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, read the double-ring rite before a background of candles and greenery. Spiral Candelabra, entwined with garlands of salal foliage, highlighted the altar setting and nine-branch tree candelabra filled the background of the colonial setting. Tall white pedestals, holding arrangements of white gladioli, daisies and baby's breath flanked the wedding party. A massive arrangement decorated the altar and completed the setting. Pews of honor were decorated with tall aisle candelabra entwined with greenery.

Mrs. Danny King, Pampa, was organist and Mrs. Russell Koym, Dallas, vocalist, presented musical selections which included traditional wedding music, "We've Only Just Begun", "One Hand, One Heart", "Lord's Prayer".

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father with "her Mother and I" avowal, wore a gown of Venetian lace over silk organza. The bodice was styled with a Victorian neckline trimmed with lace, embroidered with seed pearls and featured an empire waistline, accented with a lace belt ending in a bow at the back. The floor-length A-line skirt was designed with panels of Venetian lace, embroidered with seed pearls. The Juliet sleeves ended in wide cuffs of silk organza, with organza covered buttons. Her two-tiered fingertip veil of illusion, fell from a Juliet cap of Venetian lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses and Stephanotis.

For something old, the bride wore her maternal grandmother's wedding ring; for something new, pearl earrings; a gift of her parents; something borrowed; a cameo belonging to her mother and worn by her sister at her wedding. She also wore a blue garter and birthdate pennies and sixpence in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. G.W. Yeargin, Lubbock, served her sister as matron of honor. Miss Karen Sue Presnell, niece of the bride, Whitefield, Maine was maid of honor and Mrs. Alan Buchanan, Pampa was bridesmaid. Attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of yellow dotted Swiss fashioned with empire waistline and round scooped necklines, edged in self-fabric ruffles. Sleeves were full and gathered at wide cuffs closed with covered buttons. The skirts were enhanced by deep flair ruffles encircling the hemlines with large Dior bows in back. Garden hats completed the costumes. Wicker arm baskets were filled with white daisies and baby's breath.

Bob Gindorf, brother of the bridegroom, Westland, Maine, was best man. Groomsmen were Allen Bedell, Amarillo; and Steve Menzies, San Angelo. Bill Crowl, Odessa, Allan Buchanan, Pampa and Bryan Yeargin, Lubbock, ushered.

Master Matthew Martindale was ringbearer and Miss Camla Gindorf, niece of the bridegroom, Westland, Maine, was flower girl. She carried a basket of white daisies and wore a headpiece of yellow daisies. Candlelighters were Master Stephen Yeargin, nephew of the bride, Lubbock; and Miss Hollis Presnell, niece of the bride, Whitefield, Maine.

MOTHERS

Mrs. Presnell, mother of the bride, chose a gown of green voile featuring a floor-length skirt. The sleeves were enhanced with Alencon lace and neckline interest added by a stand-up collar of lace. She chose a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Gindorf, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of yellow and green floral chiffon with matching accessories and selected a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

RECEPTION

A reception in First Christian Church Parlor followed the wedding. Mrs. Wyatt Earp registered guests which were served from a table featuring a white net skirt over satin with silver appointments, compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hill. Tiny bell mints of yellow and green and nuts were also served. Yellow roses and daisies in a tall silver floral and candle candelabra provided floral interest.

The wedding cake, "Faithful Love", was four tiered divided by columns, swagged with garlands and shells, decorated with hearts and love birds. Clusters of yellow roses and sweet peas marked each tier. Feathered love birds topped the cake. Mrs. Bob Gindorf served cake and Miss Kim MacFarlane poured. Mrs. John Zuerker, Mrs. Glen Maxey, Mrs. Pinky Shultz, Mrs. Walt Bailey and Miss Jan Zuerker, carried out reception arrangements.

For a wedding trip to Galveston, the bride chose for travel a yellow knit ensemble with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white sweetheart roses. The couple will establish residence at 3002 W. 4th St., Apt. 162, in Lubbock.

Theatrical resurrection HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—After years of Puritan suppression, Hartford's first theater opened in 1794 on Theater Street. However, the city fathers soon closed the theater, converted it to a Sunday School and renamed the street Temple Street. The state legislature banned all dramatic productions for the next 50 years and it was not until 1853, after local option was granted, that another theater opened.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, JULY 22
Your birthday today: The sun moves from Cancer to Leo at 7:56 p.m. EDT. For all of today's natives the coming year is full of rearrangements of relationships, improvised business schemes, and opportunities for benefits. Today's Cancers collect wisdom, not great fortune; today's Leos are magnetic, abrupt, often showing psychic knowledge.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Group activities are up for review. Everybody has a different theory as to what is to be done and how.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Take your share of your community's Sunday customs, a minimum of responsibility for anything else.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Get to the point simply so the message sinks in from one clear statement. Let people be on their own — if they fret, let them.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Bright ideas are dime a dozen, few are useful. Avoid overplanning, as interruptions are common today.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Passing incidents act as irritants, may provide impetus for something to be done about an old nuisance.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Your figures may look great on paper, but in reality there are factors working the other way. Take conservative approaches.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Today brings an abrupt end to something old and irksome, lets light and fresh air in. You move upward.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Prudence is insurance against present and future troubles; hold your temper no matter what.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Restless talkative types are busy. Be reluctant to contribute to tall tales; pay no attention to teasing.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: You may find those who fret the most over your schedules are the least punctual. Forgive vexing behavior.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Expect no special favors or advantage. The simplest, most direct course of action is preferable.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Now you are tested for adaptability, willingness to readjust, and your ability to withstand appeals for unnecessary involvements.

MONDAY, JULY 23
Your birthday today: In many respects you'll lead a charmed life this year. Things fall into place so smoothly that you may take too much for granted. Relationships benefit from stimulus of changing scenes. Today's natives have latent psychic abilities, personal magnetism, definite career goals.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Money escapes all too readily, but for little gain or for less quality than expected. Wait until you are getting what is needed.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Luxury items are tempting but miss the mark by enough to mar your enjoyment. Romantic appeal surrounds you, could get serious.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Stick to the sensible way of organizing things. There are resources available you have scarcely touched.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Review your possessions, wardrobe; plan replacement of those items which have lost their use or appeal. Avoid financial deals just now.

Leo [July 23 - Aug. 22]: This should be a sustained period of investment, with challenge: is your judgment keen enough to keep you from overdoing?

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Pay more attention to doing the job right than making a fuss over having to do it. Wait out misunderstandings — others will come around.

Libra [Sept. 23 - Oct. 22]: Use great care in any action on behalf of others; better still, mind your own business for the coming week.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: The practical approach attracts support from those who have had experience with similar problems.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22 - Dec. 21]: Keep purchases tentative. Special competition escalates — there's no real need to keep up with a neighbor.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Old times remembered, familiar haunts revisited can offer fresh understanding, better perspective.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Rearrangement of home and family affairs comes naturally, almost easily. New work arrangements, likewise.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: The big ideas for future shouldn't be allowed to get in the way of today's proficient handling of routine. Be ready to help older relatives.

Louisiana Oyster Beds Okayed

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Most of Louisiana's oyster beds east of the Mississippi River, which have been closed since May 3 because of flood waters, were reopened late this week by the State Bureau of Environmental Health.

Bureau Director John E. Trygg said recent evaluations of the oyster growing waters indicated they are now safe for harvesting.

Trygg said, however, that several small areas had not been cleared of contamination and would have to remain closed. He outlined those areas as:

- That section of Lake Borgne west of the line running from Alligator Point to Proctor Point, more commonly known as the Western Cove area of Lake Borgne;
- That area south of Jurjevich Canal, which runs from Olga through Old Stump Lake to a point immediately south of Deepwater Port;
- And all beds located in the areas of "permanent" closure. These include Lena Lagoon, Lake Ponchartrain and Lake St. Catherine.

Dear Abby

He's ready to wed
—he just needs a girl

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I'll soon be 30 and I want very much to get married (preferably to a nurse or teacher) but I have trouble finding marriageable girls because I don't drink, smoke, or dance.

I'm a college graduate, not repulsively ugly, and I'm a stay-at-home person. So how does a stay-at-home person meet another stay-at-home person?

Pickings are mighty slim—someone else's castoffs [divorcees with kids] or a girl with a face that only her mother could love.

Guys tell me to go to a bar and order a soft drink, but bars are so noisy you can't hear yourself think, let alone carry on a conversation with someone.

Mom says go to church, an idea which doesn't appeal to me much. And computer dating is a "bad trip."

When I was working I met girls who only made it thru high school. If I'd say I was interested in anthropology, they'd say something like, "Oh, I like gardening, too."

If I don't find work by September, I'll go to technical school where the girls will be 10 to 20 years younger than me, and unless you are Sonny and Cher I don't think that will work out.

Any suggestions? B. B.

DEAR B. B.: Volunteer work and community-sponsored social programs attract the kind of girl you want. And don't put down your mother's suggestion. "Stay-at-home" girls usually go to church.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for seven months to a real "he man"—or so I thought until recently.

Now I find that he puts himself to sleep by sucking his right thumb and rubbing his left earlobe! I have caught him at this several times and it really bothers me to be married to a man who has such baby ways.

I haven't said anything to him about it because it's too embarrassing. Now I'm wondering if maybe I should tell him I have seen the way he puts himself to sleep and ask him to please try to get over it.

Abby, this man is 6' 2", loves all kinds of sports, and he's seen active duty in Viet Nam, so I can't understand it. How should I handle it?

"BABY'S" WIFE IN ARKANSAS

DEAR WIFE: What possible harm is your husband doing to himself—or to you—by putting himself to sleep in this manner? Leave him alone, and thank your lucky stars he doesn't need sleeping pills!

DEAR ABBY: When Rudy [he's my husband] was stationed in Kentucky about 18 years ago he became friendly with another soldier. Rudy spent a lot of time at this buddy's house.

At the time Rudy was 26, and single. To make a long story short, he had an affair with his buddy's wife. Rudy says he really didn't care much for her, but she was handy.

I have known about this for a long time and it never bothered me because my husband hardly ever mentioned it.

Now all of a sudden he is talking about it a lot and I find myself becoming very jealous over something that had absolutely nothing to do with me. I've even had nightmares about it.

Rudy is 14 years older than me and we have had a good marriage.

Do you think he keeps talking about this affair because he feels guilty and wants to get it off his chest? Could he be proud of it? Or do you think he just does it to hurt me?

I have never told him how much it bothers me because I believe he should know that. You can print this. All Rudy reads in the newspaper is the sports section. UPSET

DEAR UPSET: It doesn't matter why Rudy talks about it, but I think you ought to tell him how much it bothers you. Ask him not to mention it again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. M. IN GREAT FALLS, MONTANA: It's a great deal easier to forgive an enemy after you get even with him.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, L. A., Calif. 90009. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90009.

RODEO ATTRACTION — Vonnie Dean and The Southern Belles will be featured nightly at The Top o' Texas Rodeo Aug. 1-4 ... The group here,

AFDC Program Declines

AUSTIN (UPI) — State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell said the number of participants in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program has been declining steadily since February.

He said the number of participants has dropped by about 13,300 since then.

"It may be that we've reached near the bottom of the barrel," he said. "A number of these people have now been trained and placed on jobs."

Vowell also offered to pay the stationery he used to sell tickets to a reception for former state senator Charles Herring of Austin in June. He said some persons have suggested he should not have used state stationery.

Youth Center Report

MEMBERSHIPS

A lot of people do not know that the Pampa Youth and Community Center is an independent non-profit organization. It does not receive any money from the City of Pampa, State of Texas or the U.S. Government. It is solely sponsored by donations and the selling of memberships.

There are two types of memberships to choose from and then they are divided into individual or family categories.

The first type of membership is the limited membership. This is the original membership that we started selling in 1961 when the doors opened for the first time.

This membership allows you use of the gym, recreation hall, swimming pool and dressing room facilities. In the gym the more common activities are trampolining, basketball, volleyball, baton lessons, judo, tumbling and wrestling.

In the recreation hall we have ping pong tables, chess, checkers, cards, pool tables and other quiet games. In the pool room we teach swimming lessons, have general public swimming and our Dolphin Swim Team works out there.

The limited individual membership is sold to those 8 years of age or older. Those under 8 must be accompanied by a parent and be carried on a family membership. The individual card costs $5 for six months or $8 a year.

The family card costs $12 for six months or $20 a year. This includes all of the immediate family.

The other type of membership is the unlimited one. This gives you all of the above privileges plus the use of the new health facility.

In the health facility there are barrel rollers, vibrator belts, bicycles, dorsi bars, leg and thigh machines, leg press machines, bar bells, beauty bells, dumbbells, abdominal boards, two handball and racquetball courts, dressing room facilities and a sauna. These are only a few of the pieces of equipment.

An individual card sells for $65 for six months or $118 a year. A husband-wife combination plan costs $90 for six months or $170 a year. Easy six month payment plans are available upon request.

Come by for a free demonstration and use of the equipment.

SUMMER SWIM LESSONS

Parents are reminded to double check the registration card which was given to each person signing up for swim lessons to make sure they come on the right dates. Some children have come on the wrong time session and this causes some confusion.

The swim lessons are given in the morning from 8-12 noon. Each lesson lasts for one hour with four classes being taught each morning. All classes are taught by qualified Red Cross Water Safety Instructors that has been trained for this purpose. Classes also have older children as aides to assist the instructors.

Some swim classes have just a few openings left to be enrolled. If you are an older swimmer, there is a possibility that we can get you into a class. However, there are no classes left in polywogs or beginners. Check the schedule below.

Club membership is open to all couples who are interested in square dancing and also to those who want to learn.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

What does one really get from hard work? I have thought about this in connection with all the various kinds of work God has given to mankind. Everything is appropriate in its own time. But though God has planted eternity in the hearts of men, even so, man cannot see the whole scope of God's work from beginning to end. So I conclude that, first, there is nothing better for a man than to be happy and to enjoy himself as long as he can; and second, that he should eat and drink and enjoy the fruits of his labors, for these are gifts from God.

and now, new higher interest rates.

More than ever, the better, surer place for your savings is First Federal of Amarillo. Effective July 1, 1973, we're paying the 5-1/4% maximum on regular passbook accounts; compounded daily, this yields 5.39% annually. Our 90-Day Notice passbook account now pays 5-3/4%, yielding 5.92%. All existing First Federal passbook accounts are automatically earning the new higher rate — nothing need be done to qualify. Savings deposits in by the tenth of the month earn from the first, and dividends are credited quarterly.

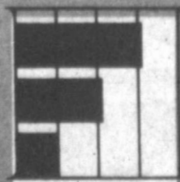

There is a First Federal savings plan for any need. Inquire about our savings certificates, which now earn dividends of 6-1/4 to 6-3/4%. (Although all existing First Federal savings certificates will continue to earn at the original rates, they should be held to maturity, since federal regulations require an interest penalty when certificates are redeemed prematurely.)

First Federal is the largest local association in Amarillo. There is no safer place for your money. Your savings are protected by sound, richly experienced management, and insured to $20,000 per account by a federal agency. And your money is always available, should the need arise.
