Philathea Class Discusses Picnic To Be Held July 23

Plans for a chicken barbecue Friday, July 23, were completed Wednesday when the Philathea class of the First Methodist church met for monthly business and luncheon.

The discussion was directed by the president, Mrs. Tracy Roberts. Members were asked to keep in mind plans for the picnic, which will be discussed again at a later date. Rev. C. A. Bickley was guest for the luncheon which was served by Mrs. H. V. Crocker's group.

Others present included Mrs. Fort Trice, Mrs. Hal Davis, Mrs. Lewis Murdock, Mrs. A. M. McLeod, Mrs. Ralph Towler, Mrs. Tommy Layne, Mrs. B. C. Barron, Mrs. C. R. McClenney, Mrs. Olan Wilkerson, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. B. E. Freeman, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. C. A. Bickley, Mrs. L. C. Graves, Mrs. C. M. Weaver and Miss Frances Ferguson.

Four Brotherhood Committees Discuss Picnic For Aug. 5

For the purpose of discussing the annual picnic, general committees of the Four Brotherhoods met recently and selected August 5 as the date for the affair.

Membership of committees will be named at a later date. The picnic will be held at the city park and members of the association look forward to the event with anticipation. The meeting was held at the W.O.W. hall with the trainmen ladies in charge. Eight committees were represented.

Mrs. W. Nublett Brown and son of Fort Worth are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Orenbaum.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wooten plan to leave within the next few days for a two weeks vacation to Flagstaff, Ariz.

Mrs. Henrietta Jones has returned from Carlsbad, N. M., and at present is located at the Douglas hotel.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

"NORTHWEST PASSAGE," by Kenneth L. Roberts. (Doubleday, Doran; $2.75).

An emotion very like terror usually overcomes this reviewer when confronted by a Kenneth Roberts novel. Mr. Roberts' "Northwest Passage," is published today—rather the trade edition is. A limited 2-volume edition of some 1,000 sets already has been run off, in which the extra volume contains a part of the sources from which the novel itself was written—old court martials, letters, notes, marginalia, whatever.

And there we have the heart of our nervousness. Mr. Roberts has both humor and anger, excellent qualities for a novelist. But only in his "For Authors Only" and a slight book called "It Must Be Your Tonsils" do these qualities really show forth. The first book is a bit of essays; the second is a bit of stuff.

When Mr. Roberts starts writing a historical novel, he appears to start taking himself seriously. This reviewer has seen nothing quite like those manuscript books ceremoniously presented to Fort Ticonderoga and other institutions. Mr. Roberts' source books are said to be black with his annotations, and when the publisher sent out a copy of "Northwest Passage" he included a pompous little book about Mr. Roberts (for which Mr. Roberts himself can in no way be blamed).

But the most frightening thing of all is on the last page of this small book. It seems photostatic copies have been made of much of Mr. Roberts' source material by the publisher. This exhibit is arranged as to show how Mr. Roberts works, how minutely he has traced down the least detail, how

Guests In Johnson Home Are Honorees During Past Week

Miss Edda Mae Brown of near Houston, Miss Ruby Arnold, Miss Carolyn Bailey of Cloco, and Misses Banna and Frances Cooper of Rising Star have returned to their homes after a ten days' visit here in the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

During their visit here the young ladies were named honorees on various occasions, namely picnics, swimming parties, dancing and watermelon feasts. On one occasion Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Edward Johnson and niece were accompanied to the Carlsbad Cavern by Gattis Bernard and Rose Merriott. A theatre party Saturday night and kodaking Sunday afternoon climaxed a week of entertainment for the guests who were accompanied to their homes Monday by Mrs. Johnson, Edward Johnson and Gattis Bernard.

Child's Knit Suit

By RUTH ORR
Pattern No. 233

For that son, grandson, nephew or friend who's not more than six years of age, this knitted suit is a grand idea. For chilly country days now, and for continuous use during the fall and winter, it's practically unbeatable—and now is the time to begin it. We know from experience that nothing short of barbed wire can permanently injure the sturdy weave that's achieved by combining knitting and purling in a simple design.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy to understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you; also what needles and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 233 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address: Big Spring Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Box 172, Station D, New York, N. Y.

The club is making big plans for visitors week to be held some time during the latter part of July or the first weeks of August. Definite arrangements will be made in a meeting to be held Friday.

Those present included Miss Mary Louise Wood, Miss Nina Rose Webb, Miss Clara R. May Sanders, Miss Dorothy Rae Wilkinson, Miss Emily Stalcup, Miss Jocile Tompkins, Miss Mary Nell Edwards, Miss Camille Koberg, Miss Bobby Taylor and Miss Marguerite Reed.

RANCH SALE

CANADIAN, July 1 (AP)—Attorneys said today that a contract had been drawn for the sale of the 55,000-acre Whitelock ranch in Roberts and Ochiltree counties to the Panhandle Mineral company. The consideration, all cash, was given as more than $200,000. The property has been held by the heirs of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Whitelock.

A shatterproof glass that can be tooled like wood or metal has been developed in Germany. It dissolves in benzol, chloroform or alcohol.

Trains are required to stop at a highway crossing in Lawrenceville, Va.

conscientiously he has scanned all that has been recorded on his subject.

Perhaps we are a nasty old crab. But this destroys our pleasure in what should be an exciting, honesty contrived novel about a Yankee boy who wanted to paint Indians and a British soldier who wanted to find the Northwest passage, and about the rise of the former and the failure of the latter. Historians anxious to know the minutiae of pre-Revolutionary times will doze on Mr. Roberts' scholarship; this fanatic devotion reminds us of Dr. Freud trailing a new neurosis.

How Section Has Changed During 35-Year Span Recalled By Couple, Pioneer Residents Of Stanton

By KATHLEEN EILAND

STANTON, July 1—What was this section of West Texas like 35 years ago? Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Walker, who came to Stanton from Roscoe in 1902, are well qualified to answer that question.

In all the region (now comprising five counties) which surrounded Stanton, there were probably not more than 25 or 30 voters, Mr. Walker recalled. This was, of course, long before women had successfully demanded their right to mark a ballot.

Grass was fine and settlers were mostly ranchmen who lived so far apart that the poor office seeker had much ado to see the handful of voters who would elect or reject him.

Martin county, as a thriving, farming region, was a thing of the future for this pioneer settler. Estimates that there probably were not 100 acres in cultivation in the entire county. In about 1904 or 1905, though, farming began to gain attention and the country was slowly but surely launched as a farming region.

Churches were two: St. Joseph's Catholic church which stood across on a low hill in East Stanton and a little wooden structure located near the site of the present Baptist church which served as an inter-denominational house of worship with ministers of the various Protestant beliefs preaching there, turn about.

Stanton, of course, had its public school. But it had in addition a Catholic school of the Sisters of Mercy which had a that time about a hundred boarding students, among them a number of grown young ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker came to Stanton to school the children, entering their elder daughter, Mittie, in the convent and their younger son, Melvin, in the public school.

The flour mill which recalled the days of the 1880's when wheat flourished beside the Texas & Pacific railway was still standing in Stanton when the Walkers moved here, though it was no longer in operation. Oldtimers say that drought forced the abandonment of wheat raising, though the grain is staging a comeback this year.

Engaged in the lumber business when he first came to Stanton, Mr. Walker soon sold out and turned to carpentering. He built the house in which he and Mrs. Walker lived until its destruction by fire in 1932. Their present home is near the site of this long-time residence.

23 Years of Married Life

Married at Greenville, Tex., Nov. 4, 1883, the Walkers have been wed 53 years.

Mrs. Walker, the former Miss Mary Boyle, was born at Greenville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Boyle. Her husband was born at Spencer, Tenn., grew up with relatives after the death of his parents, and did not come to Texas until he was 21. In 1875 he came to Waxahachie, moving from there to Decatur, to Bonham, and then to Greenville, where he met and after some years married Miss Boyle.

Four children were born to the couple, of whom one son and one daughter are still living. They are Melvin Walker of Dallas and Mrs. R. R. Sauer of Stanton.

The oldest child, a daughter Mittie, who was Mrs. Tink Houston after her marriage, and the youngest child, their son, Jimmie, are dead.

There are three grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Walker keep house and despite the fact that he recently celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday, Mr. Walker daily walks down to the postoffice for the mail.

Garden Flowers Are Used In Decorating Home Of Mrs. Rogers

Garden flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Lee Rogers Tuesday when she was hostess to the Ely See Bridge club and made an appropriate setting for games played at two tables.

Guests were Mrs. Bill Tate and Mrs. Rossebo. Mrs. J. E. Young was awarded high score and Mrs. Tom Ashley received second high award. Members present included Mrs. Ashley, Mrs. R. B. Ellis, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Robert Wagoner and Mrs. R. R. McEwen.

Mrs. Jack Williamson and daughter Miss Alma, of Eastland are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Edwards.

A general rain of one inch over the state of North Dakota would weight five billion tons.

Bridge Breakfast Ideal For Social On Hot Summer Morning

By MARTHA LOGAN

It's just too hot these days to give a bridge luncheon at one o'clock, but we do want our friends to come in for a game. And, of course, good food seems to set the stage for a more successful party. So, what to do?

Well—we watched the thermometer readings in various parts of the house throughout the day and found that at 10 o'clock the dining room was still most comfortable, so we decided on a Bridge Breakfast. "Won't you come and have breakfast with us at 10 o'clock next Tuesday?" the note read. With the added line, "We hope to get in a few hands of bridge before the sun gets in our front windows. We'll try to keep cool and forget the weather brood."

So the die was cast and we began thinking up a menu that wouldn't be too much trouble to cook and serve without a maid. Of course, we set the table the night before and had the sweetbread parolled and the muffin ingredients all ready to combine. In the morning, it took no time at all to prepare and serve this company breakfast.

My friends seemed to enjoy the food so much that we are passing on the suggestion to you.

Baked Sweetbreads on Broiled Delicatessen Ham

Clean the sweetbreads and parol them as soon as they are delivered to you. Skin and clean Marinate in French dressing 1 hour. Separate into servings. Season. Dip in beaten egg. Roll in sifted cracker crumbs. Place a thin slice of bacon over each serving. Bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes or until the bacon is crisp and the sweetbreads are browned.

APPELLATE RULING IN REAGAN CO. OIL CASES WILL STAND

AUSTIN, July 1 (AP)—The supreme court declined today to interfere with action of the court of civil appeals sending back for retrial litigation among the Big Lake Oil company, the Reagan County Purchasing Company, Inc., and Group No 1 Oil corporation involving a contract over sale of oil. Application of the Big Lake Oil company for a writ of error was refused for want of jurisdiction. The Reagan County Purchasing company originally sued the Big Lake on grounds the latter had not lived up to a contract to deliver a specified amount of oil over a period of years. The Big Lake instituted a cross action against the Reagan county company and also sued the Group No. 1 Oil corporation.

A survey in Chicago disclosed that air-conditioned offices had fewer employe absences due to colds.

GOVERNOR ACTS TO HALT WOOL STRIKE
BOSTON, July 1 (AP) - Gov. Charles F. Hurley stepped into a strike of Boston wool handlers today in an effort to end a 16-day paralysis of wool movement here. Hurley summoned representatives of the Boston Wool Trade Association, warehouse operators, and the wool handlers union to meet at his office.

More than 80,000 bales of wool have piled up on Boston docks since the strike began, one pier already has been closed and others are near closing because wool has taken all their available space. The union demands a closed shop.

New York Noisy And Bewilderingly Large, Local Girl Finds; But There Are Interesting And Colorful Sights

(Herewith another account of sights and experiences in the east, from the typewriter of Nancy Phillips, Big Spring girl who has written for The Herald, and who now is on an extended trip.—Editor's Note.)

By NANCY PHILIPS

Brakes scream in protest, shrill police whistles and sirens fill the air, elevated trains and subways cause the earth to tremble as they roar past and newsboys see who can yell the days headlines the loudest. There's no doubt about it, I'm in New York, the largest city in the world!

The first thing we did was to get on a subway which for weeks I had been dreading. As I had never seen one I had a horrible conception of the underground rail-ways. I thought the cars flew along the tracks at a hundred miles an hour in almost utter darkness, because they were underground, that they stopped almost never and when they did it was a miracle if you got off in the split second they stayed at the station. I was afraid if I ever managed to get on I would surely never get off and would ride from one of the town to the other forever. So when I finally did see one I was very pleasantly surprised. They look exactly like street cars and it's hard to believe that you are riding underground. They stop a little longer than I thought they would too, but just the same I sat by a door and nearly broke my neck getting off.

One afternoon we went to the Hayden Planetarium and I could have easily spent the whole day there, it was so beautiful. Inside a white dome of perforated stainless steel serving as a screen on which images of the heavenly bodies are cast by the Planetarium projector. The projector shows in a realistic manner every object that is visible to the unaided eye, in the heavens, and their motions are represented with accuracy. Everything is shown on the inside of the dome by projection of bright light from the apparatus. As there are no pillars to intercept this light, the illusion of depth and space is perfect; the ceiling seems to roll away and reveal the sky itself. This illusion is further heightened by the skyline of New York, which circles the Planetarium walls on the horizon line. At first it was mid-day, then the sun traveled across the sky and slowly disappeared behind the horizon. By that time the room was in utter darkness, then suddenly the stars burst forth in all their glory, starting a hum of admiration from the audience. The lecturer pointed out the big dipper and other pictures in the sky, even moving the sky around so that we might see the Southern Cross which can only be seen from extreme southern parts of the world. We saw the eclipse of June 8 just as it happened. As a grand climax, just before dawn, the perfectly beautiful Northern Lights crept across the sky in wide arches of brilliant colors, reminding me of thousands of rainbows intermingling after a summer shower.

Great White Way
Emerging from the Planetarium we took a walk through grand Central park, a beautiful place, but infested by people leading their dogs, and in some cases, the dogs leading the people.

My first night in New York was spent exploring Broadway, rightfully called the Great White Way, a parade of ever-changing brilliant, fascinating, colors in electric signs. Here is found the Times building with the news of the world revolving around it, on a moving electric sign.

The financial section of Manhattan has been called the "Grand Canyon of American Business" because the streets narrow considerably and become sort of crevices between the towering buildings. Here representatives of every race on the globe rub shoulders in New York, the melting pot of the world. In fact, New York is a mighty interesting place with, as they say, never a dull moment.

PICKERS' DEMANDS FOR HIGHER PAY
CREATING TENSION
EDINBURG, Tex., July 1 (AP)—Peace officers were on the alert today for signs of friction between cotton farmers and union-minded cotton pickers whose leaders have sought more money for harvesting the Rio Grande valley's bumper-crop.
Chief of Police S. B. Bledsoe of Weslaco said last night tension was growing throughout the valley between growers determined to pay 60 cents per 100 pounds, and labor organizers demanding $1. Sheriff R. T. Daniel of Hidalgo county warned officers to be prepared for possible violence after a farmer and an organizer fought on Weslaco's main street yesterday.

and kidnaping of Mrs. Margaret Ckyoss, 22, mother of two children and a former beer tavern waitress. Governor Ammons signed the pardon yesterday a few hours after Frank Neill, 26, and Arthur Parker, 21, pleaded guilty to the rape charge. They pleaded innocent to the kidnaping charge.

Enrollment Gain Is Anticipated By Abilene Christian

ABILENE, July 1—With room reservations nearly six weeks ahead of the number in 1936 at this time, officials of Abilene Christian college predicted this week that another record enrollment will be seen in the 1937-38 session at A. C. C., which begins Sept. 15.

There were 10 more room reservations in the three dormitories on the campus on June 29, than on Aug. 1, 1936. "This," says President James F. Cox, "indicates that a fifth enrollment record in six years will be realized, and the campaign of the Ex-Students association, the Students association and the Mothers and Dads club of A. C. C. to bring 750 residence college students to the campus in the next year will be successful."

A. C. C. experienced record enrollments each successive year from 1931-32 through 1935-36. An increase in net residence enrollment of 64 per cent, in this period of general decrease in college populations, is larger than all but a few institutions of higher learning in the country.

Crops Threatened By Grasshoppers

AMARILLO, July 1 (AP)—Farmers in the upper reaches of the Texas Panhandle apprehensively watched a rustling army of grasshoppers slowly mowing down today the largest row crops in southwest history.

A smattering of poisoned bran was spread in the path of the advancing pests but farmers and county agents said the supply was inadequate. The grasshoppers, whose growing wings soon will able them to travel faster, have been moving southward about two miles a day, devouring all green growths in their march.

Crops in New Mexico and Colorado also were plagued. Until a week ago Union county in New Mexico counted on its largest grain sorghum crop in seven years. The grasshoppers have already ruined 750,000 acres, reports here said.

County Agent J. B. Copeland said range grass and tender crops in a ten-mile strip have been devoured. In Cimarron county, Okla., the situation likewise was considered serious and in Beaver county, Okla., if the gardens were reported damaged. In Sherman county, Texas, 2,000 to 3,000 acres have suffered. Other Texas counties whose crops have been hurt included Hansford, Dallam and Ochiltree.

INNOCENT MAN IS GIVEN HIS FREEDOM

DENVER, July 1 (AP)—Ernest Mattice, 33-year-old Denver candy salesman, rested at the home of friends today while deciding how to use the freedom restored him by

Gov. Teller Ammons. "I want to try to get back in my old frame of mind," said Mattice, after Ammons pardoned him from two life terms for an assault which he did not commit. Mattice has served less than six months in the state penitentiary since his conviction for the raping

'ADMIRATION - TRIPLE-SEALED IN "CELLOPHANE"'

IT'S THE Cellophane THAT MAKES The Difference

TEA KEEPS YOU COOL

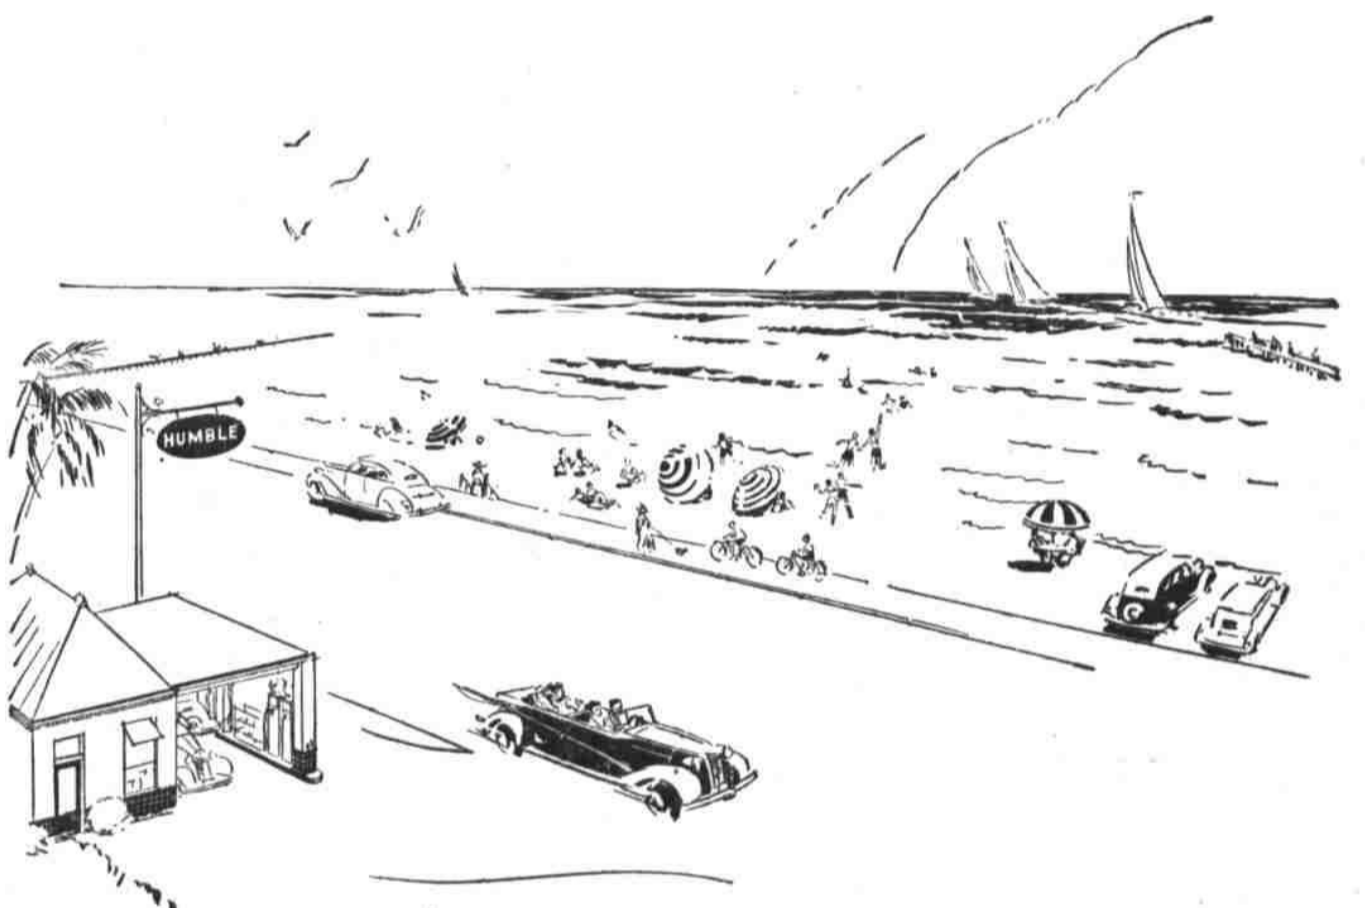

She had been avoiding coffee put up in paper bags. But a friend was so enthusiastic about Admission—"In the 'CELLOPHANE' bags, you know"—that she tried it.

She found it just as fresh and good as the coffee in glass jars and vacuum-packed cans. . . . AND about 4c per pound less in price! Admission's triple-sealed bags—inner wax lining, tough bond wrapper and moisture-proof outer jacket of Cellophane—plus fast truck delivery from roasting plant to your grocer, make Admission in bags the ideal way to buy coffee. The thrifty housewife who demands full value for her money will appreciate the savings afforded by buying Admission packed this way.

Admission Coffee in bags comes in two grinds—Dripkut and Steel Cut—just as it does in vacuum-packed jars and slip-covered tin cans.
