

U. S. NAVY FORCES JOIN IN HUNT FOR EARHART

TRICK RIDERS TO BE FEATURED ON RODEO PROGRAM

These riders will feature Big Spring's Fourth Annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, which gets underway in the rodeo park in Southeast Big Spring at 2:30 this afternoon. At left is Curley Seal of Balrd, daredevil girl rider who will send her horse, "Joy," hurtling through a blazing hoop and over an automobile. Right, Bud Spillsbury, well-known Peecos cowboy, and "Silver King," the trick horse owned by L. I. Stewart of Big Spring. Their exhibition is expected to be one of the high points of the program.

All's Ready For Opening Of Rodeo; City Takes On Holiday Atmosphere

Parade Will Feature Day Festivities At Park Also On Independence Day Program

Big Spring assumed a carnival atmosphere Saturday night in the anticipation of the opening of the fourth annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo here today and the long list of festivities scheduled for the double holiday interlude today and Monday.

The parade of visitors started Saturday afternoon, led by rodeo performers and fans who follow the western sports. Week-end

City authorities announced Saturday evening that they are opening closed all stands offering fireworks for sale here. The move is made under fire marshal's rules, it was said, because of widespread complaints that fireworks explosions were becoming annoying—as well as dangerous—in many parts of the city.

visitors were putting in their appearance by evening as the city made ready to entertain what is believed will be a record crowd. Biggest day of the holiday activities will be Monday, officially observed here as the Independence Day anniversary. Hundreds of out-of-town people are expected to join with residents in participating in a variety of entertainments ranging from swimming, golf, picnics to rodeo, parades, old fiddlers' contest, band music, dances, and shows.

Parade Route
What promises to be one of the largest and most colorful parades ever staged will start from the intersection of Main and Fourth streets at 1 p. m. Monday with Sheriff Jess Slaughter leading.

INSURANCE OFFICIAL SLAIN AT HIS HOME

RICHMOND, Va., July 3 (AP)—E. M. Crutchfield, 67, general agent of the Equitable Life Insurance Society, was killed by four bullets today as he stood on the rear porch of "Reveille," his show-place home.

J. E. Payne, Jr., Henrico county police sergeant, said Joe Deas, 47-year-old negro chauffeur, was being sought.

Police of nearby cities were asked to be on the lookout for a 1928 Packard automobile. Police said Lee Austin, negro yardboy, told them the car, owned by Crutchfield, sped out of the driveway after the shooting.

Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson Crutchfield, the widow, was at home and heard pistol shots which she said she first believed to be an automobile backfiring. But she looked out a window and saw her husband lying on the porch. He was dead when she reached his side.

'SAFE AND SANE'--THAT'S THE WATCHWORD FOR JULY 4TH

Let's make it safe and sane. That was the watchword in scores of cities today as officials strove to forestall death and injury in the annual Independence Day celebration.

They sought to keep dangerous fireworks from inexperienced hands by law and police vigilance. They sponsored supervised displays in public parks and stadia.

During the double holiday on July 4 and 5 last year, the nation counted 36 fatalities. Eleven of them were attributed to fireworks, 26 to traffic accidents, 96 to drowning and the remainder to sundry other causes.

Sale of pyrotechnics this year has been outlawed in numerous larger cities. Their use is prohibited in scores of others. Size of the 'crackers' was proscribed by regulation in some states, including Texas.

Travel records for the holiday were threatened. Record-breaking air traffic and heavy railroad patronage were reported at the nation's transportation hub, Chicago.

Rigid Economies In Store For Schools

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK by Joe Pickle

Holidays are the gayest seasons of the year, yet they can be the darkest hours of your life if tragedy pays an untimely call. Mark Twain's old quip about the weather is very apt for the fast tempo surrounding Independence Day observances. It's all very well to be alarmed about the death toll when you read it in the papers but it is time to do something when you consider that you or some member of your family or circle of close friends may be among the victims. So use a little common sense in having your fun. Stop, look and think—and you may live to enjoy more holidays.

There is every reason to believe that another record crowd will throng Big Spring today and Monday. Big Spring has an attractive program of entertainment and has advertised it well. The rodeo has the best arranged program in its four years of existence. The water carnival is better organized than it was last year. The parade is to be more colorful, the old fiddlers more plentiful, and the band more experienced. In addition, the city is better prepared to care for holiday picnickers. It looks like a grand and glorious Fourth.

Not a few people were amazed that the school bond issue and tax proposal was defeated—especially by such a decisive majority. Some of them reason that those favoring the issues were asleep at the switch and did not turn out in large enough numbers. But

First Show At 2:30 P. M.

Contestants On Hand For Try For Money In Various Events

Everything is ready for Big Spring's fourth annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

Exactly at 2:30 this afternoon the grand entry, including competitors from three states, will swing behind arena director Jess Slaughter; at 2:45, after the introduction of officials and prominent visitors, four wild mules will come plunging out of the chute in the first competitive event of Big Spring's Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo will be on the air throughout July 4, 5 and 6. Station KBST installed its remote control facilities in the rodeo grounds Saturday afternoon, and announcers Gene Reynolds, Weldon Stamps, and Clarence Gurnes will take turns in describing the show.

Definite Policies To Be Mapped Later By Board

Big Spring school trustees canvassed the returns from the June 26 bond and tax rate election, declared both issues defeated, and without reaching any decision left little doubt that rigid economies were in the offing.

The board also was unable to come to any definite conclusion regarding the high school gymnasium, condemned more than a month ago for play activities. However, they stood firm on the condemnation and reaffirmed their refusal to permit basketball and other games to be played in the wing until the structural faults are at least corrected.

Adoption of a specific policy was delayed until later this month pending word from the state board of education as to the amount of the per capita scholastic appointment figure is due to be fixed Tuesday.

Sentiment of the board in the Friday meeting was such as to indicate the conclusion of three major points in its program for the year when adopted. They are: (1) intensive collection of delinquent taxes; (2) reduce personal rather than reduce teacher salaries; and (3) live strictly within the school income for the next fiscal year.

Sept. 7 was set as the date for opening of the city schools.

Heavy Guard Is Posted At Steel Plant

Reinforcements On Duty After Dynamite Hurling At Train

MASS MEETINGS ARE CALLED BY THE CIO

Rallies Announced For Four Towns In The Strike Area

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 3 (AP)—State police threw a heavy guard around Bethlehem Steel's strike-staged Cambria works tonight after the arrest of a 21-year-old former steel worker for allegedly hurling dynamite at a freight train coming from the plant.

State Police Capt. William A. Clark said the youth, Ernest Layton, of Johnstown, told him he threw three lighted sticks of dynamite at the freight train but that it "somehow failed to explode."

Capt. Clark immediately strengthened police guards around all water supplies, pipe lines and railroads.

COLUMBUS, O., July 3 (AP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey announced tonight that National Guardsmen would be sent to Cleveland to preserve order during the scheduled reopening Tuesday of four strike-closed plants of the Republic Steel Corp. there.

Two other men were taken into custody for questioning.

Capt. Clark said Layton asserted he had been approached by two men who asked him to do them "a favor," instructing him where to find the dynamite to throw at the train.

C. W. Jones, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, recently asked railroad officials to declare "unsafe" the area traveled by trains in the strike zone.

Mass Meetings
C. I. O. strike leaders faced by back-to-work movements throughout the 7-state steel strike area, tonight called four "show strength" mass meetings for tomorrow.

The rallies were announced for Johnstown, scene of Bethlehem Steel's strike-bound Cambria works, and at Johnstown, Warren and Canton, O., where national guardsmen have enforced peace during the last week.

James Mark, S. W. O. C. strike lieutenant, continued to assert 40,000 miners from the coal fields of western Pennsylvania would come to Johnstown to hear an address by Philip Murray, S. W. O. C. chairman.

Strike Going On
State police said a check-up showed only scattered handfuls of pickets on the 7-mile front of the Cambria works.

Mark said: "The picket lines will be re-established at a time we do not wish to divulge now. The strike most positively is going on."

Although exact figures on the total number of men still on strike in the 38-day-old labor controversy remained a topic of dispute, a survey tonight showed that 23,300 men are idle at steel mills and mines not yet reopened. Several thousand others have stayed away from mills reopened under troops protection.

More than 100,000 men were idle at the peak of the walkout a week ago.

Father Of Local Woman Succumbs

EASTLAND, July 3 (AP)—C. A. Peterson, 69, veteran Texas educator, died today at the family home of heart disease.

Peterson was a former superintendent of schools at Eastland, Brady, Hallettsville, Moulton, Yoakum, and Kingsville, and in 1914 was a member of the Texas state board of summer normal examiners.

Survivors are his widow, a son, M. R. Peterson, St. Louis, Mo., and three daughters, Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Fort Worth; Mrs. W. H. King, Eastland; Mrs. D. J. Holmes, Big Spring.

Allotment To Schools May Be Increased

Per Capita Apportionment To Be Fixed By Board Tuesday

FUND BALANCE TO BE AROUND A MILLION

AUSTIN, July 3 (AP)—The board of education probably will keep the state per capita public school aid apportionment at its present figure or increase it slightly at its meeting here Tuesday.

The apportionment for the fiscal year ending next month was $19 per scholastic.

Ghent Sanderford, president of the board, said today the school fund was "in good shape" and he saw no reason why the allotment could not be continued at $19 or perhaps raised to $20.

Robert S. Calvert, state auditor in the comptroller's department, was spending the July 4 holiday period working on figures to be given the board.

He will furnish an estimate of the expected balance on September 1 and of school fund revenue during the coming year.

Although Calvert's estimate was far from completion, he said he felt certain the school fund would have a balance at the end of next month and it might be about $1,000,000.

The size of the apportionment will affect the ad valorem tax rate for school purposes to be set by the automatic tax board in late July or early August. Several persons familiar with the situation voiced the opinion the board of education would keep it so low a raise in the tax rate would not be necessary. The present rate is 20 cents on the $100 valuation, 15 cents under the constitutional maximum.

JAPS WATCH TO SEE IF RUSSIA TAKES TROOPS OFF AMUR

TOKYO, July 3 (AP)—Japan's army in Manchuria, while hailing the prospective peaceful settlement of the crisis on the River Amur, remained alert today to see that Soviet promises to evacuate the trouble zone are carried out.

Dispatches from Hsinking, Japanese military headquarters on the continent, quoted army leaders as warning that further "illegal acts" against the territory of Manchukuo, Japan's protectorate, would not be tolerated.

Evacuation of Soviet troops and about 20 Soviet river gunboats from the region of Sennufu and Bolshoi, disputed islands in the Amur, was promised by Moscow to begin this afternoon.

Wheat Still On The Move

County Ships Over 50 Cars; Price Goes As High As $1.09

Howard county's wheat harvest passed the 60,000 bushel mark during the week as buyers continued to bid on a steady stream of truck loads.

Co-op Gin and Supply company, one of the largest buyers of the small grain, Saturday paid $1.05 on several truck loads of number one wheat.

Top for the week was $1.09. However, most of the crop has been bringing more than a dollar after news of impending shortages in Canada and widespread reports of wheat smut and rust in many sections of the grain belt.

Buyers estimated that producers had averaged a dollar on most wheat marketed here.

By Saturday the 51st car load of wheat handled by Big Spring buyers was on its way to Fort Worth. It was estimated that market transactions in the grain here this season totaled about 65,000 bushels.

Co-op and C. F. Morris have handled the bulk of the crop with the former shipping 23 car loads. Other buyers active here are J. S. Garlington, a large producer himself, Andy Brown, Akerly producer-buyer, the Coleman company of Akerly, and Logan Feed and Seed.

HOPE WANES AS NO WORD COMES FROM AVIATRIX

Aircraft Carrier, Planes Dispatched To South Pacific; Lone Ship Reports Its Efforts Fruitless

HONOLULU, July 3 (AP)—The navy tonight reinforced the faltering hunt for Amelia Earhart with the powerful aircraft carrier Lexington and 54 fighting planes in the face of discouraging prospects.

The Lexington was ordered to fuel to capacity and be ready to leave San Diego tomorrow for a 4,400-mile run to Howland Island and take up the quest.

During a day of slowly ebbing hope, a long range navy plane left Honolulu for a 1,500-mile dash to the scene but got caught in a snow, sleet and lightning storm high above the earth as it approached the equatorial region and was forced to turn back.

The coast guard cutter Itasca carried on the search alone in the Howland region where Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred J. Noonan, presumably came down yesterday a few miles short of their tiny goal.

By mid-afternoon the Itasca reported it had scanned 5,000 square mile of ocean without having sighted the plane and with no word whatever from the missing fliers.

Increasing Pessimism
Recurring reports of SOS calls being heard from the helpless Earhart plane buoyed the hopes of relatives and friends but some of the leaders in the search expressed increasing pessimism over the possibilities of success.

Confusing and overlapping reports of distress calls made it difficult to sift them down to definite information but authorities were openly skeptical about some of them.

One of those turned out to be radio signals from the Itasca itself. The battleship Colorado, carrying three catapult planes, sailed at 1 p. m. (5:30 p. m. CST) from Pearl Harbor for Howland Island to aid the Itasca, which reported it would be out of fuel by Monday morning.

Search May Lag
It thus appeared the search might lag from Monday morning until Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, scheduled time for the Colorado to reach the scene. The Colorado carried oil for the Itasca and headed toward the area northwest of the little islet.

Rescue workers said the sun there would be a great hazard to survival of anyone exposed to its merciless equatorial rays. Reports indicated clear skies and a calm sea in the region of the hunt.

Searchers put little faith in the numerous reports of supposed messages from the Earhart "flying laboratory" and asserted there was no word from her.

VOTE IS CLOSE ON IRISH CONSTITUTION

DUBLIN, July 3 (AP)—President Eamon de Valera tonight seemed assured of an absolute majority in the dail (parliament) but received a personal setback in close voting on the new constitution.

Returns for 82 of the 138 dail seats gave his flanna fall party 45, former president William T. Cosgrave's party 22, labor six and independents six.

All ministers were reelected. Latest returns in the plebiscite on the constitution, however, showed 197,198 in favor and 156,142 against.

OLD HIGHWAY NO. 1 WILL BE CLOSED

The old highway No. 1 between Coahoma and the eastern Howard county overpass will be closed to traffic this week, A. W. Thompson, commissioner of precinct No. 2, announced Saturday. The road will be closed from the overpass to a crossing two miles east of Coahoma. People wishing to go to Latah tank may travel on the new highway to the cattle guard near the railroad lake.

Ford Answers Labor Board

Says It Has No Authority Over Employees In Local Production

DETROIT, July 3 (AP)—The Ford Motor company challenged tonight the national labor relation board's authority to regulate its relations with employees it described as "engaged in local production."

Answering an NLRB complaint of unfair labor practices on which a hearing is set for Tuesday, the Ford company denied all its allegations and asserted it should be dismissed.

The formal answer signed by Harry Bennett, Ford personnel director, said Ford employees who beat and chased union organizers from plant gates May 28 "were at all times acting in self defense" after the unionists had entered into an unlawful conspiracy to trespass x x x and to cause a cause a riot.

More than a dozen union members were treated for injuries after the fighting which attended distribution of handbills in their campaign to organize the 89,300 employees of the huge Ford plant in suburban Dearborn. The NLRB complaint charged the company with responsibility for what it termed malicious and brutal assaults.

Leaders of the United Automobile Workers of America, a C.I.O. affiliate, announced a second attempt to distribute literature at the Ford plant will be made Wednesday morning. Homer Martin, U.A.W. president, arranged tonight to confer with Governor Frank Murphy on the union's request for state police protection.

The seven-page document filed with the NLRB today by Louis J. Colombo, Ford company attorney, declared there were "lawful reasons" for discharge of numerous employees the board had charged were dismissed because of union activity.

MEXICO ELECTIONS SLATED FOR TODAY

MEXICO CITY, July 3 (AP)—Troops were held ready today and barkeepers were prepared to suspend sale of intoxicants tomorrow, when Mexico will go to the polls to elect a new congress.

Leaders of the national revolutionary, or government, party, predicted they would remain in power and national policies would not be affected.

BODY RECOVERED

SALT LAKE CITY, July 3 (AP)—The first body to be recovered from the Los Angeles-Salt Lake City transport airplane that crashed last December was brought laboriously down the Wasatch mountains today.

It was tentatively identified as that of Mrs. John F. Wolfe of Chicago, one of the seven persons aboard the big airplane.

Historical Romance, Outdoor Melodrama, On Holiday Screen Bill

Technicolor Process Used In Queen Film

Geo. Brent, Beverly Roberts in "God's Country And The Woman"

Technicolor of high technical rank is employed in the Warner Bros. production, "God's Country And The Woman," which is offered as the Sunday-Monday attraction at the Queen theater. The story is based on the famed James Oliver Curwood story, and is George Brent and Beverly Roberts as the principals.

A thrilling romance and stirring action story are transferred to the screen, against a background of marvelous beauty. Setting in the forest country, and outstanding sequences are devoted to the lumbering industry. The nature wonders are presented all the more effectively by the natural color process.

The story concerns Brent, a happy-go-lucky playboy who is brought into the lumber business by a brother, a rough fellow who lacks some of the principles of honesty. The brother has attempted to acquire properties of a rival lumber company by underhand methods, and Brent blocks the deal. Later he meets the head of this rival concern, and finds that individual to be an attractive girl (Miss Roberts). Then he stays on in her company as a laborer, working further to save her from the ruinous plots of his brother. When she learns his identity, the girl has him fired as a spy, but he stays on in devotion until everything turns out happily in the end.

BUDDIES IN THE AIR FORCE

Clark Gable and Wallace Beery return in a screen success of several seasons back, co-starring in "Hell Divers" at the Lyric today and Monday. It's a thrill story about a couple of two-fisted members of the U. S. naval air force.

Estimate On Wheat Production Reduced

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—Private crop authorities in Chicago reduced their estimates of probable United States winter wheat production this year but made no change in the forecast for the spring wheat harvest.

At the same time they released the first figures on probable corn production, forecasting the largest crop of the principal feed grain since 1922, a billion more bushels than were harvested last year.

The average of six private figures on probable 1937 domestic corn production was 2,579,000,000 bushels. Some individual estimates ran as high as 2,765,000,000 bushels.

This compared with a crop of only 1,524,000,000 bushels last year. The average of the six estimates on winter wheat production was 642,000,000 bushels, compared with the official forecast a month ago of 649,000,000 bushels. This crop, which is now being harvested, is the biggest since 1931.

BE CAREFUL WHERE YOU SET OFF THOSE JULY 4TH 'CRACKERS

AUSTIN, July 3 (AP)—Anyone wanting to celebrate the fourth of July by setting off a "combustible package more than two inches long and one inch through" had better be careful where he does it.

That, according to state law, is a common cracker, and it may not be discharged on a public square, street or alley of any town, or within 100 yards of any business house. The penalty for violation is a fine up to $100.

Shooting of fireworks in Texas however, is regulated chiefly, not by the state, but by cities through local ordinances. The state has conferred such regulatory powers on the municipalities.

Gable And Loy Co-Featured In 'Parnell'

Film Tells Story Of Noted Irish Patriot's Love Affair

Top names on the movie star list are linked in the Ritz theater's independence day attraction, as Clark Gable and Myrna Loy are co-starred in "Parnell," a stirring fictional drama of Charles Stewart Parnell so-called "uncrowned king of Ireland." The new picture presents Gable as the dynamic Irish patriot who sacrificed a glorious career because of another man's wife, and Miss Loy as that woman, the lovely Katie O'Shea, wedded to a man she despised.

The picture was directed by John Stahl, maker of dramatic hits, and was taken from a Broadway stage production.

In the supporting cast are such reliable players as Edna May Oliver, Billie Burke, Alan Marshall, Edmund Gwenn, Donald Crisp, Jerton Churchill, Donald Meek, J. Farrell Macdonald, Halliwell Hobbes, Montagu Love and Bryon Russell.

The picture, of course, has an Irish background. Of emotional depth and sweep, it depicts the inspired devotion of Parnell and Katie, and the motivating force behind their romance, the thrilling fight waged by Parnell for Ireland's freedom.

The story presents Parnell, the man, as well as the lover. It shows him leaving New York in March 1880, to the cheers of thousands of Irish-Americans. To them he was a hero. It shows him arriving in Ireland where he was the "Un-crowned King," and the first man to unite the eighty-six members of the Irish Party. It shows him in the House of Commons, his greatest battlefield. One of the dramatic highlights is Parnell's trial. Accused of inciting the Phoenix Park murders, he proved his innocence after one of the most sensational trials in English history.

At the height of his power, Parnell, who never looked at a woman, met Katie O'Shea, who was arranged from her husband. It was love at first sight with Parnell and Katie. Katie fought Parnell's love until he became ill. Then she invited him to her home at Eltham where their romance blossomed. O'Shea, followed the withdrawal of Parnell's political support and his refusal of further financial aid, sued for divorce, naming Parnell. For Katie's sake Parnell refused to defend himself. The resulting scandal ruined him politically at the moment when he had home rule for Ireland in the palm of his hand. But he had Katie, and she was enough.

FEWER PENSIONERS TO RECEIVE MONEY

AUSTIN, July 3 (AP)—From 4,000 to 5,000 pensioners will not receive July checks, old age assistance officials have announced, due to an intensive reinvestigation program. Though exact figures will not be available for several days, W. A. Little, acting director, estimated the rolls would list between 123,000 and 124,000 as compared to 127,703 in June.

Little said he believed monthly slashes would decline hereafter since reinvestigation work had been concentrated on recipients who qualified under the old liberal regulations and were most likely to fall under the present restricted plan.

The acting director said checks would be mailed immediately upon receipt of federal matching funds, application for which was made in mid-June.

IN OLD ERIN AND IN THE WEST

Romances with far different background are on local screens for the holidays. In the top photo are shown Clark Gable and Myrna Loy as the principals in a love affair that had a great deal to do with Irish history. This affair is told in "Parnell," at the Ritz Sunday and Monday. Below, Beverly Roberts and George Brent who are lovers in the great Northwest, in a Curwood story, "God's Country And The Woman." The picture, made in Technicolor, is the Queen's feature.

Rodeo Shows Will Be Broadcast Over KBSI; Independence Day Features On Program For Today

Arrangements had been completed Saturday for broadcasting the Big Spring rodeo performances over KBSI. Four members of the station's announcing staff will cooperate in bringing a jump-by-fall account from the arena, Clarence Carnes, Gene Reynolds, Weldon Stamps and Bob Whiskey sharing time before the microphone.

KBST will broadcast all three afternoon shows—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—and the night show Monday. The afternoon performances will be on the air at 2:30 and the Monday evening show will be at 8 o'clock.

Two special National Broadcasting company programs will be presented by KBST today in observance of Independence Day. The first 30-minute feature, "The Glorious Fourth," will be on the air from 12 to 12:30 p. m. The second, an NBC feature called "The Jesters Go Fourth," will be aired from 5:30 to 6 p. m. Both programs were special-built in New York City and will feature that hilarious madman of radio, Raymond "Santa Claus" Knight. He is capably supported by a cast of well known musicians and comedians.

The Flash Serenaders, formerly the Center Point Serenaders, will be heard in a new series of programs over KBST starting this week. They will be heard each Monday and Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Miss Edythe Gay, popular Big Spring soprano, will be presented in a weekly program of classical and semi-classical music each Wednesday afternoon at 4:15. Miss Gay, well known in musical circles here, is a soloist at the First Methodist church.

Clark Wynne's orchestra, "Ted Lewis band of the Southwest," is now appearing over KBST for a half-hour each afternoon beginning at 5:45. Featured with the orchestra is a favorite KBST performer, Oleta Bell, blues singer la lue.

Rev. Horace C. Goodman, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist church of Big Spring, will present a series of devotional services throughout the month of July. The broadcast will be on the air each Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning at 9:15. Rev. Goodman will continue also the regular Sunday afternoon half-hour program "The Voice of The Bible," on the air at 1:30.

W. Dale Key of Coahoma will change his hour of broadcast from 12:45 to 11:45, effective Friday morning at 9:15. Rev. Goodman will continue also the regular Sunday afternoon half-hour program "The Voice of The Bible," on the air at 1:30.

If you are following the hectic lives of the American Family Robinson, you will be interested in knowing the program now is on the air each weekday evening at 5:30.

B. C. Moser, contralto, will discontinue her Thursday afternoon program effective this week. She plans to take a vacation from radio until the latter part of summer or early fall.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

"THE NEW ARCHITECTURE IN MEXICO," edited by Estelle Born (Morrow: $3.50); "MY BEST PHOTOGRAPH AND WHY," edited by G. Herbert Taylor (Dodge: $2).

There is absolutely no reason at all for grouping these two books, except that they are about the same size, about equally expensive, and each is stuffed with pretty pictures.

Miss Born's is stuffed likewise with information. "The New Architecture in Mexico" is a large book all about something most of us didn't know existed. In painting there is Rivera; in music Carlos Chavez. Otherwise Mexico and her arts mean merely peons in gaudy blankets squatting beside railroad tracks selling pottery.

This is a concept which (because it is foolish) offends Miss Born and Mexico as well. Mexico City has more modern architecture than New York—not just a few houses more, but great quantities more. The movement is only a decade old, and most of the buildings have been done since 1930. The greatest impulse toward functional dwellings and such came with the accession in 1932 of the current government, which needed for out-thing a large number of schools and took this simplest method of creating them.

Miss Born's book is a symposium. Mexicans offer many explanations for the hold functional architecture has taken on Mexico, and especially on Mexican youth. These explanations develop some remarkable facts. One is that Mexican architects are not confined to mere design, as in the United States. They can design, be contractors, be supervising engineers, and they even can sell the product. This keeps architects close to the ground, Mexicans feel. Instead of catering to the vain bow and pink bathroom complexes of fuss, women, architects get out among the lower and middle classes, and find what they want by seeing what they will use and will pay for.

G. Herbert Taylor's collection of 40 photographs, by as many photographers, were chosen by their creators because they consider them their best. Or perhaps among their best. The book is spirally bound, and the pictures are often oddly assembled. Some are upside down. But the pictures are nice.

Garner Getting In Some Real Fishing; Wife On Vacation

UVALDE, July 3. (AP)—Somewhere along the creek bank "bachelor" John Nance Garner was getting in his fishing tonight.

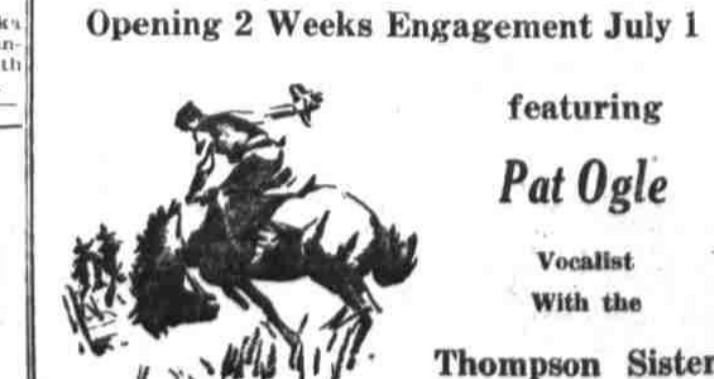

And for the first time in 25 years, with the exception of the Orient trip in 1935, the vice-president's wife was taking a "real" vacation. She was en route to Amarillo, Tex., with her granddaughter, Genevieve, to pick up Mrs. Tully Garner, her daughter-in-law, and start a leisurely trip through New Mexico.

The vice-president, who came home from Washington recently to take a quiet vacation, gathered up his worm bait, cane fishing pole and ration and struck out for the fishing holes with Ross Brumfield, his old crone. They planned to make it a week end trip.

Mrs. Garner said she had not set itinerary for her New Mexico trip but would "just travel around seeing the country." Heat above the 100-degree mark has kept Mr. Garner puttering around the shade of their rambling home for several days.

WILDCAT TEST STAKED IN N'EASTERN HOWARD

Moore Bros. No. 1 Harding Drilling Below 3400 In Lime, Carrying Oil

Completion of two wells for a potential of 1,775 barrels daily, two new locations, and the showing of the outcrop Moore Bros. No. 1 J. E. Harding, seven miles southwest of Big Spring, stood out in oil developments here for the week.

Location was staked for a rank wildcat in northeastern Howard county in the McKittick et al No. 1 Capps-Lucas, 330 feet from the west and south lines of section 19-29-1N-T&P. It is a mile southeast of an abandoned test in section 12-20-1N, T&P, and three miles northeast of two plugged tests in sections 28 and 39-30-1N, T&P. It is also three miles northwest of the Grisham and Hunter No. 1 Morrison, now drilling in western Mitchell county.

No. 1 Harding, located 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west lines of section 19-31-1N, T&P, continued to share in the spotlight as it drilled to 3,422 feet in lime, carrying 2,600 feet of oil, Friday two 500 barrel storage tanks were erected and a swabbing line connection made. Operators plan to drill 4,450 feet before making a swabbing test. Pay was topped at 3,184 feet and it had increases at 3,195-3,248 feet.

It was reported Saturday that W&E Prod. Co. holds contract to drill a test 660 feet from the west and 2,317 feet from the north lines of section 20-33-1S, T&P. It is located about a mile northeast of the outcrop Moore Bros. No. 1 Harding and is half a mile location northeast of the Continental No. 1 Harding, one of two producers in the small Harding pool.

906-Bbl. Completion
Continental No. 7 Kloh, section 5-32-2S, T&P, was completed for a potential of 906 barrels. It topped pay at 2,286 feet in lime and is bottomed at 2,480 feet. Other completion was the Johnson and Bruce No. 3 W. T. Scott section 30-23-1W&NW, for 169-58 barrels. It made 15 barrels on the first hour and fell off to 7.07 on the second. Pay was topped at 1,248 and total depth is 1,258 feet. Continental No. 3 Eason, section 6-32-2S, T&P, cemented off bottom hole water at 2,128 after showing 1,454 barrels earlier on a test. It topped pay at 2,363 feet.

Four miles east of Big Spring, the Westbrook and Graham No. 1 Great West, section 48-32-1N, T&P, ran eight inch string to 1,480 feet. The test is still troubled with heavy air pressure encountered in February at rate estimated as high as 285 million cubic feet.

Two additional wildcat tests were indicated for Scurry county in lease deals closed here during the week. One is to be drilled about one mile southwest of the abandoned Goos No. 1 Menderson, section 148-97, H&TC, which had several promising shows but was good only for about five barrels daily. The other, to be drilled by Dallas interests, is about three miles southwest.

Acid Treatment
After treatment with 1,000 gallons of acid, the Fleetborn Oil Co. No. 1 Taylor, offset to the discovery, north central Glasscock discovery, Dodson and Duffy No. 1 J. G. Carter estate, pumped 35 barrels of oil in 24 hours. It is bottomed at 2,646 feet in lime. Another test, a west offset to the discovery well, is reported for the area with location to be in the southeast corner of section 7-133-3S, T&P.

John I. Moore No. 1 McDowell, 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 30-33-2S, T&P, Glasscock county, was spudded during the week. The test is on an 80 acre block owned individually by John I. Moore and is east of the Moore Bros. production in the World pool.

Moore Bros. No. 4 McDowell, section 21-34-2S, recovered a drill at 1,623 feet and set eight inch casing at 1,731 feet.

Moore Bros. No. 1 L. B. Cauble, section 31-33-1S, T&P, one mile southeast of the company's Harding test, was drilling past 450 feet. The same company's No. 1 Mabel Quinn, a mile and a half northwest of the Harding test in section 23-34-1S, T&P, was past 700 feet.

In northwest Glasscock county, six miles southeast of Stanton, the Moore Bros. No. 1 F. A. King, wildcat test in section 48-35-1S, T&P was below 1,400 feet.

TXL Area
Activity continued in the area surrounding the discovery TXL well midway between the East Howard and Chalk pools. Moore Bros. No. 2 TXL, south offset to the No. 1 well, was drilling at 1,760 feet. Eastland No. 1 Snyder, 330 feet out of the southwest corner of section 27-30-1S, T&P, northeast offset, was past 2,050 feet. Iron Mountain No. 1 Clover, 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 28-30-1S, T&P, northwest offset, was around 1,465 feet. Magnolia was moving in for an offset 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 24-30-1S, T&P.

Gitis Chalk was waiting for a test on his extension well in the southwest quarter of section 64-29, W&NW. It had a hole full of oil in the hole at 2,861 feet in brown lime and pumped 9 barrels an hour. The test made one head. It is 6 miles south of TXL production, and half a mile east of Chalk producers.

In Mitchell Co., Grisham-Hunter No. 1 Morrison, wildcat test 350 feet from the south line and 2,310 feet from the west line of section 36-29-1N, T&P, Mitchell county, was drilling at 2,226 feet in lime. Ten inch string was set at 685 feet and eight inch at 1,623 feet. Contract depth is 2,900 feet.

The B. F. Robbins No. 1 Annie Thompson, 150 feet from the south and east lines of survey 30, BBB&C-R.R. in the Ellis district of Calhoun county, drilled past 600 feet below 4,840 feet in lime. Continental No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, most closely watched test in Gaines county, had no shows in drilling to 4,775 feet in lime. It is in the northeast quarter of section 22-A7-psl, nine miles west and three miles north of No. 1 Wasson.

Drilling Plugs
Amerada No. 1 Matthews, 1 1/4 miles southwest of No. 1 Wasson and in the northeast corner of section 417-G-CSS&RGNG, was drilling plugs from 10-inch casing at 2,934 feet, with the total depth 2,940 feet. It logged the base of the salt at 2,819 feet, 738 feet above sea level and 11 feet lower than in No. 1 Wasson. Amerada was rigging up rotary for No. 1 C. M. Armstrong corner of section 456-G-CSS&RGNG, four miles east of No. 1 Matthews.

Completions In Gaines Co. In Spotlight
Wasson Well Shows 332 Bbls.; Second Well In Seminole Pool
SAN ANGELO, July 3.—Gaines county, with the completion of its third pool opener and the second oil well in the Seminole field, shared interest in West Texas oil development this week with reaching of the pay in a test a quarter of a mile north and slightly west of the nearest producer in the Bennett pool in southeastern Yoakum county and increased wildcatting in Andrews, Gaines, Cochran and Yoakum counties.

A northeastern Andrews county wildcat logged cores bleeding oil and gas at intervals between 4,577 and 4,637 feet, and the north central Glasscock county pool opened last fall by Dodson and Duffy No. 1 J. G. Carter estate gained its second producer. Locations numbered only 37 in 10 counties but 11 were wildcats in six counties.

Amon G. Carter and Continental No. 1 A. L. Wasson, northern Gaines county discovery, made a natural flow of 332.61 barrels of 34 1/2 gravity oil on an official 24-hour gauge, bottomed at 4,959 feet. The test was through a three-quarter inch choke on 2-inch tubing and through open 5 1/2-inch casing to which a 3-inch line was attached. The gas-oil ratio was 20,000 to 1. The well was given a temporary allowable of 150 barrels daily and will supply fuel for other drilling in the area, having no pipe line outlet. Location is 2,310 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of section 48-AX-psl.

510 Barrels of Oil
Shell No. 1 Mann, second oil well in the Seminole pool, 14 miles southeast of No. 1 Wasson, flowed 565.55 barrels of fluid, of which 510.80 barrels was net oil, in 24 hours for completion at 5,060 feet. Flowing through open 2 1/2-inch tubing, its gas-oil ratio was 13,500 to 1. The well is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 220-G-WTRR, east offset to the discovery, which had a peak initial of only 218 barrels daily.

Wentz No. 1 Dalmont, in the southeast quarter of section 5-A22-psl, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Laredo, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Laredo, section 1-H&TC survey, five miles north and two miles west of Carter-Continental No. 1 Wasson, Gaines county's latest producer. L. D. Stogner of Dallas made a deal with the Bohago Oil Corp. and Bond Oil Corp. for the drilling of No. 1 J. L. West in southwestern Yoakum, 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 806-D-John H. Gibson, and materials were being moved in.

The Texas Co. No. 1 Walker, southwestern Yoakum wildcat, in only to 1 1/2 bailers. It drilled ahead

John H. Gibson, was standing with 12 1/2-inch casing cemented at 331 feet in redbeds, the total depth. Bahan, Rhodes & Fitzpatrick No. 1 Shook estate, in central northern Yoakum, in the northeast quarter of section 450-D-John H. Gibson, was drilling plugs from 7-inch casing at 4,176 feet, total depth being strong, 660 feet out of the north-5,296 feet in lime. Magnolia No. 1 Taylor in northeastern Yoakum, in the northeast corner of section 201-D-John H. Gibson, had passed 4,615 in lime.

In Cochran County
The Texas Co. staked location in south central Cochran county for No. 1 C. C. Slaughter, 200 feet from the south line and 3,000 feet from the west line of league 130, Carson county school land. C. E. Hyde, P. N. Wiggins, Jr., and Harry Lawson's No. 1 Dean, about eight miles southwest of Texas No. 1 Slaughter and in the center of school 26, league 92, Lipscomb county school land, was scheduled to spud late in the week. Ingelright & Folsom No. 1 Houston, in labor 14, league 55, Oldham county school land, cemented 7-inch casing at 4,810 feet in lime and began stand-ardizing.

In Hockley county, R. F. Dugan and others' No. 1 Yellow House, in the center of labor H, league 718, Capitol Syndrate lands, had drilled and below 3,930 feet in lime and anhydrite. Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter, in the center of the southwest of labor 76, league 37, Zavalla county school land, had drilled to 2,090 feet in redbeds. R. L. Foree and others' No. 1 Pool, northwestern Terry county wildcat, in section 54-D11-D&SE, had reached 3,533 feet in salt and anhydrite.

Stonewall Test Soon To Drill Into The Pay Horizon
ARILENE, July 3.—General Crude No. 1 Bryan, Stonewall county test, six miles north of the Fisher county field, was rigging cable tools again this week before drilling into Fisher county pay structure. It had set seven-inch casing to 3,025 feet. Location is in Wm. Vardeman survey No. 10.

Two wildcats were abandoned in Haskell county. The Forest Development Corporation No. 1 A. E. Pardo, section 1-H&TC survey, reaching 2,240 feet without showings; and the Danziger Oil & Refineries No. 1 Pardo, in section 48, Thomas Toby survey, at 2,268 feet with a hole full of water in Swastika.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 4 DeLafosse, deep Shackleford test in section 1550-TE&L survey, was drilling ahead below 3,000 feet. Humble No. 1 Teaff, near Noodle Creek field in southwestern Jones was drilling below 2,200 feet. It planned to core into Noodle Creek formations around 2,500 feet. Location is in section 23-18-T&P.

John Hodges left Sunday morning for Dallas and Fort Worth, where he will remain over the Fourth of July holiday, taking in the Frontier Fiesta and the Pan-American exposition.

Verdict Due Soon On Deep Test In Jones

Production Obtained From Deeper Sand In Wildcat Territory

ARILENE, July 3.—Definite verdict on production of the Iron Mountain Oil company No. 1 Carl Olander, deep wildcat discovery well in eastern Jones county, will be known next week.

With five-inch casing set to the top of pay at 3,227 feet and cemented, operators were to drill plugs this weekend after storage had been set up on the lease. Four 210-barrel tanks and a separator were being installed.

Estimates on possible production of the strike ranged from 250 to 500 barrels daily, based on several heads made as it was deepened from the top of lime saturation at 3,231 to a total depth of 3,233 feet. Gas had been encountered at 3,227 feet. Pay zone was reported white porous lime, which may react well with acid treatment. It had found a previous showing of oil at 2,817-23 feet which yielded about one barrel per hour.

Deeper Sand
Geologists predicted the new pool would be of larger spread than the ordinary sand areas in Jones county, since it was more than 1,000 feet below the deepest known producing structure in the area. It was said to be of greater importance than the discovery of the Noodle Creek field in 1926 in the southwest part of the county.

Location of the test is in the center of a 2,000-acre block assembled by Jones & Stasney of Albany Iron Mountain took over 1,200 acres of the block, and Humble Oil & Refining company two weeks ago purchased a half interest in the Fort Worth firm's holdings for $20,000 cash. Most of the region is blocked solidly.

It is three miles north of the Luaders field, and is 220 feet from the north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 196 BBB&C survey.

Townsite Test
First rig to be moved into the Hawley townsite following the recent west extension of the Guitar pool is that of Dr. H. Arthur Swan of Abilene, who filed application to drill immediately in the center of block 88, about a quarter-mile in advance of the pool's development. It is on land owned by Mrs. Walter Keith and Mrs. A. L. Swan. First application for special permits to drill on town lots was filed by Dee Humphrey, Dallas operator, slightly west of Swan's location.

Humphrey No. 1 Shannon would be drilled in the center of two business lots, 1-16th acre, in block 56 of the townsite; and his No. 1 Bates would be in the center of lot 12, block 57, one block to the west.

Thomas D. Humphrey of Dallas last weekend announced eight locations on the Joe Carter 42-acre tract directly north of the Brown Eagle-Roberts No. 1 Lewis, pool extension. The townsite and all new locations are in G. Martinez survey No. 194.

Field Extended
The Sayles field, six miles north of Abilene, was given another 440-foot south extension by the Lewis Production company No. 4 Sayles as it flowed on heads up to 60 barrels per hour from sand at 1,973-89 feet, and operators moved out to another 440 foot south location. It is in section 6-20-T&P.

A recent west extension to the pool, the Condon No. 1 Logsdon, was completed to flow 116 barrels in 23 hours from pay at 1,911-17 feet. It is in section 243, H. Millard survey.

Lewis Production No. 1 B. J. Rutledge, a mile north of the Sayles field and southeast a (the Guitar pool) was being rigged for spudding by the first of the week. It is located 220 feet out of the southeast corner of H. Holt subdivision 32, in section 2-20-T&P survey.

Lewis Production company also began building derrick this week for another Fisher county test, a quarter mile south of the Southern Oil corporation No. 1 Robinson, Roman pool discovery well.

It will be on the W. L. Morrow land, location having been restaked 330 feet from the north line, instead of 240 feet, and 1,980 feet from the west line of the south half of section 172-2-H&TC survey.

Only test to start since the discovery, the Tide Water No. 1 Ernest L. Smith, a quarter mile east of the Southern Oil No. 1 Robinson, was drilling past 2,375 feet in lime. It is the same location.

Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, is an honorary citizen of 11 municipalities.

According to the fellow who signs his work C. F. in Lubbock, the Phillips 66 baseball crew of Amarillo will not be permitted to enter the invitational tournament to be held in Lubbock beginning July 18. The Phillips outfit could write their own ticket if they had been allowed to take part in the meet so Mrs. Parritt's little boy Collier can be congratulated on the smart move.

The Amarillo nine recently celebrated the Lubbock Hubbers, 10-0.

Pepper Martin will probably take his Refiners to the tourney with the pitching he has been needing.

Joe Ledbetter, a former Amarillo high school tennis star, will enter the West Texas invitational net tournament here along with a former Texas Conference singles champion, Johnny White, also of Amarillo. Ledbetter played a practice round Friday with George Tillinghast.

In a practice game Thursday Curt Bishop and Jim Myers teamed up to defeat Tillinghast and Joe Davis in three straight sets, winning, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2. Bishop will play his doubles assignments with Ray Deberry, however.

Another doubles combination will be T. J. Turner and Tillinghast.

It was learned Saturday that afternoon Harry Jordan would not enter the meeting due to a little thing called final examinations at Texas Tech. Harry would have been needed No. 4 or 5 had he entered.

And while on tennis, it was learned recently that Elinor Jones, who cut up in a big way here in the recent women's golf tournament, was supposed to have been New Mexico's singles champion last year which is pretty good for a 17 year old girl. Elinor was out last week working at the net game with "Hell-Far-Lather" Tate. According to a report from the sidelines, Tate can hardly be called a test.

Unless athletic officials at Texas University can interest Buren Edwards again, the young man will not be around to aid in coaching the cinder stars next season. Edwards has been employed in Wink during the past few months and intends to stick with his job.

A West Texas lad by the name of Gillem Graham, who hails from Brownfield, is a coming javelin star, according to Edwards. The youth hurled the rod 212 feet in practice one day in spring training and on another occasion in exhibition threw it out 206 feet into space. Graham is only a freshman.

Two other lads from this neck of the woods are also going to carry on the Longhorn tradition, quoting the track mentor. Both hail from Electric. One is Boyce Gatewood, who has done the hurdles in 14.5, the other Gerald Green, a century dash man who has done as well as 9.9 seconds in the 100.

Cleaning the cuff: To satisfy those Detroit fans, including Lefty Baber, who voice disapproval when we failed to give Jake Wade and the rest of Detroit Tigers credit for staying so close to the high flying Yankees in our story of last week in which we reviewed the chances of the Yankees to repeat, we're going to add that Wade is one of the classic flingers in the majors, that Hank Greenberg is the hardest hitter in the American loop and that Charley Gehring is without a rival at second base, but that is as far as we can go. The Tigers simply do not have it as a team. Are Brickie Adams and Bob Potter, the old Big Spring baseballers still around Skeet West's home town? Did you know? Ray Ogden at one time played professional football. Ray held down a tackle berth.

Martinmen Depend On Pitching

Despite the fact that the Stano-Oilers of Wink reopened negotiations for a game here today, Pepper Martin will send his Cowden charges out against the powerful Tohoka Cowboys this afternoon on the East Third diamond in a game scheduled to begin at 4:30 p. m.

Charlie Morgan, who is slated to start against the heavy hitting visitors, may have trouble with the big bats of the Tohokans.

The locals managed to see the Cowboys in action but once last year and that was enough. The team that swept in from the north blasted out a total of 23 base hits off three local pitchers and swamped the Cowdenites, 17-11.

The base hit assault the Cowhands fired at the Oilers was led by White, second sacker, Holland, short stop and cleanup man, and Derden, a center fielder.

The trio collected a total of 12 base hits, White coming up with five licks in as many trips.

However, Jack Edwards, who was on the hill for the visitors, managed to stick through the battle only when his mates gave him a big advantage at the beginning. That's good news for the Oilers.

The locals reared his offerings for 19 base hits and chances are they will be in a hitting mood today if the right hander is on the hill again.

Morgan silenced his critics last Sunday by pitching sterling ball against the Coahoma Bulldogs even though losing the game by a 8-2 score. He limited the Bulldogs to seven hits and lost out only when the Sinclair pulled a double steal in the sixth frame for the tying and winning runs.

Monday the locals get another crack at the Coahomans and will send Bill Cook out to the hill to attempt to tame the ambidextrous Bulldogs.

Maxie Beard is scheduled to twirl for the Coahomans according to Co-Managers Cramer and Fuglar.

Newsies In First Loss Of Season

Behind the two hit pitching of Clarence Wallin, the Cowden Octaves decided the Repression Newsies, 2-1, Friday night in one of the best games of the current season. Repression's only score came as a result of a trio of errors in the first inning, McGee tallying.

The Octaves deadlocked the count in the third when Pug Hagerman tallied on a single by Skeets West. Hagerman came home again in the fifth after walking. It was West who again put him across.

Phils Chase Ex - Pirate To Win, 7-2

Klein And Grace In Home Run Show, Max Loses

PHILADELPHIA, July 3 (AP)—The Phillies found the range in the bandbox-sized Baker Bowl today and clubbed out a dozen hits, five of them for extra bases, to whip the Brooklyn Dodgers 7 to 2 and end a five-game losing streak.

Combining steady pitching by Claude Passeau and homers by Chuck Klein and Earl Grace, as well as an unnecessary four-run spurge in the seventh, the Phils breezed in with the decision.

CHICUBS LICK PIRATES, 10-5

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—Scoring five runs off Joe Bowman in the first inning, two of them on a homer by Frank Demaree, the league-leading Chicago Cubs went on to defeat Pittsburgh again, 10 to 5, today for their fifth straight victory. Gabby Hartnett also homered for the Cubs.

As a result of the victory the Bruins increased their advantage over the New York Giants to two full games.

The Cubs collected 13 assorted blows off Bowman and his successors, Rus Bauers, Demaree collecting three of the licks.

Arkie Vaughn and Lloyd Waner paced the Bucs at the bat by getting half the Pirate hits.

Rowe Is Leader In Topper Win

Tabor Rowe led the hitting attack off H. C. Burrus as the Top Hats defeated the Cardinals for their second victory in Junior softball league play Friday afternoon on the Munny park diamond.

Rowe collected three of the five hits Burrus gave up and tallied two of the runs.

E. Bostick, Topper right hander, set the Cards down with three bingles and had the situation under control at all times.

DALLAS, July 3 (AP)—Sturdy Jose Ribas, South American long distance champion, and world famous marathon runner, has been ruled ineligible for the Pan American exposition sports here today.

Humphrey said the A. A. U. of the Argentine had refused to certify Ribas, who came as the lone representative of his country in track and field events. International A. A. U. headquarters in Sweden have been called and exposition officials have made "draft" representations to the Argentine organization in an effort to have Ribas certified, Humphrey said. An Argentine soccer football team also will compete.

Exposition officials advanced the belief that because a full track and field team from Argentina was not included in Pan American games, the Argentine organization is loath to permit Ribas to compete.

Piluso And Kopecky Mix In BSAC Feature

Hagen Returns To Show Against Mar-Allah

Climaxing a weekend of celebration, Promoter Herman Fuhrer will present another all-star show for the fanfare that follow the rodeo here by featuring a main event that will have Joe Kopecky pitted against Tony Piluso.

Two supporting bouts have Buck Lipscomb lined up against Tarzan Krause and Shiek Mar-Allah together with Jack Hagen.

Hagen and the Persian will begin the evening's entertainment in the special event with a 20 minute show and Lipscomb and the mute will follow.

If the miscreant from Indiana doesn't celebrate the Fourth by wrecking the place, fans can expect to see an interesting bout with Piluso and Kopecky take the ring.

Despite his many years which have robbed him of stamina and agility, Kopecky is still a fair hand at the game while Piluso's ability is unquestioned.

Lipscomb Lost
The Dago bounced Lipscomb out of the ring last week and the referee raised his hand in victory when the Hoosier failed to return within the required time limit.

Hagen, who can still be called 'that nice looking kid from Louisiana,' has acquired a trait or two during the current semester which falls to strike fandom's fancy. The followers are not so sure as to whether he is a student of the 'rattle' game or a two fisted pug who likes to wrestle occasionally but what ever he claims to be, he's not so popular.

The brown skinned Mar-Allah can expect anything from the time he steps into the roped square in that initial bout that goes on at 8:30 p. m.

KUHEL AND POWELL IN COLLISION

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—To be the accompaniment of a barrage of bottles thrown from the left old bleachers at Jake Powell, the New York Yankees nosed out the Washington Senators today, 5 to 1, to even the current tie.

The pop bottle incident delayed the game several minutes between halves of the ninth inning, after the Yankees had scored the game-winning run. About 20 bottles rained all around Powell, Yankee left fielder, and benchesites accompanied the throwing with a heated demand to take him from the game. Although Powell previously performed or the Washingtons until a trade last year.

The incident finally was halted by the decision of the umpire to continue play, and automatically called a pitout on any Washington batter if the fans interfered with Powell's duties.

The pop-bottle tossing highlighted a game which saw Joe Dimaggio clout his 18th homer of the year to take the big league lead, and Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey hit a round-trip blow apiece.

The incident that aroused the fans started when Powell hit a grounder to Buddy Lewis in the ninth. First baseman Joe Kuhel, waiting to take Lewis' throw, got in the way of the fast-moving Powell, Kuhel dropping the ball.

Powell went to second and scored the winning run on Don Heffner's single to center.

BUDGE SHARES IN TWO DOUBLES VICTORIES AT WIMBLEDON RECORD IS GREATEST IN HISTORY

YOUNGSTER SPRINTS TO WHIP TOWNS

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3 (AP)—Don Budge completed the greatest personal triumph in Wimbledon's long history today when, with some lively assistance from his fellow-Californians, Gene Mako and Alice Marble, he added the men's doubles and mixed doubles championships to the singles crown he won yesterday.

The Oakland, Calif., red-head's dominance of the closing day's play overshadowed Dorothy Round's somewhat lack-lustre victory over Jadwiga, Jedrzjowska of Poland, 6-2, 7-5, in the women's singles final.

Teamed with Mako, the new king of tennis smashed England's Davis Cup pair, George Patrick Hughes and Clifford Raymond Davys Tuckey, completely out of shape to win the men's doubles crown at 6-0, 6-4, 6-8, 6-1. A little later, Budge partnered Miss Marble, United States women's titleholder to win an easy 6-4, 6-1, triumph over Yvon Petro and Mme. Simone Mathieu of France for the mixed doubles championship.

Budge scaled heights of brilliance rarely seen on the doubles court as he and Mako won the first set of their match against Tuckey and Hughes in love and with the loss of only seven points.

Returning to the courts an hour later with Miss Marble, he was in slightly more benevolent mood. He seemed content to let the San Francisco blond earn her share of glory which she did. But whenever the French team looked like it might be tough it was "Ole Massa" Budge who stepped up and calmed them down.

Budge's conquests wrote a new chapter in Wimbledon history for no player ever before has won the three championships open to him. Not since the French automaton, Rene Lacoste, turned the trick in 1928 has any player won both the men's singles and men's doubles crowns in the same year.

Although their match proved close enough when the score was tied at 4-4 in the third set they each had scored exactly the same number of points—Miss Round and Mme. Jedrzjowska somehow failed to supply the brand of tennis one associates with Wimbledon finals.

The loser hit a grand total of 47 points out of the court. The winner scored only 13 placements in all.

Disappointed in her play, Miss Round, who dethroned Helen Jacobs in the quarter-finals of the tournament just ended, decided finally not to play in the Wightman Cup matches at Forest Hills Aug. 20-21 despite all the pleas of the British Cup committee. She is to be married to Dr. Douglas L. Little in September and decided after today's match to stick by her original plan to pass up the Wightman Cup matches in favor of wedding preparations.

The fifth of Wimbledon's championships, the women's doubles, went to Mme. Mathieu and Billie Yorke of England who trounced Mrs. Phyllis Mudford King and Joan Pittman of England, 6-3, 6-3.

JOINS WASHINGTON
BARTLESVILLE, Okla., July 3 (AP)—Wes Kingdon resigned today as manager of the Bartlesville Blues, Western Association baseball club.

Club officials, who announced Kingdon handed in his resignation unexpectedly at a meeting of the board of directors, said the manager was leaving the club voluntarily in order to accept a position with the Washington Senators of the American League.

TOLMICH AND CUNNINGHAM STAR IN AAU MEET AT MILWAUKEE

By WILLIAM WEEKES
MILWAUKEE, July 3 (AP)—Black-thatched, wiry Allan Tolmich, versatile youngster from Detroit's Wayne university, whipped a world champion, and came right back to set a meet record today to outshine a field of brilliant stars in the golden jubilee renewal of the Amateur Athletic Union's senior track and field championship meet.

The grand old man of the middle distances, Glenn Cunningham, retained his 1,500 meters title with the help of a heart-breaking accident to Little Archie San Romani; four Far Westerners surpassed the accepted world pole vault record, and six great negro jumpers dominated their field—but it was Tolmich who out-sparked them all today in Marquette University's stadium.

The Detroit youth's triumph over the National Collegiate A. A. championship meet at Berkeley, Calif. two weeks ago, was wholly earned. And Tolmich's defeat was so thorough that he was forced to accept third place behind the flying Tolmich and Ray Staley of Southern California.

Tolmich's time, 1:45 seconds, was good considering the field ran directly into an eight-mile wind.

Showing signs of weariness from his two-day campaign, Tolmich came up with another dazzling finish in the low hurdles. His reward was victory by about a yard over Jack Donovon, of Dartmouth and the New York A. C., and a mark that supplanted the 23.4 seconds set by Heye Lambertus of Nebraska, in 1933, as the meet record.

Doesn't Satisfy
Cunningham's title—retaining—achievement in the 1,500 meters lacked considerable of satisfying the great Kansas and the crowd of 12,000 enthusiasts who watched the meet under almost perfect weather conditions. That it did not satisfy Cunningham was no fault of his own.

The race, heralded as another great struggle between Cunningham and his little Kansas rival, was right in the middle of being just that when an Roman stepped on the track curbing and sprawled on the cinders about 200 meters from home. The two Kansans, with San Romani a step in front, had shaken off the rest of the field, and the issue was still wide open when Archie went down.

As he fell, San Romani's spikes raked Cunningham's left leg, but the veteran kept right on going to whip Jimmy Smith, of Indiana, about 22 yards in 3 minutes, 51.8 seconds. Wisconsin's Charles Fenske finished third, and San Romani, as game as he is fleet, got back on his feet and finished with a brilliant sprint to salvage fourth place ahead of Gene Venka.

Bill Sertoff of Southern California's "heavenly twin" combination, joined himself over the bar in the pole vault at 14 feet, 7-5 inches, better than the accepted world record of 14 feet, 6-1-2 inches established by George Varoff a year ago. However, he won because he required fewer efforts to get over the top height, for Cornelius Warmerdam, of Fresno, Cal. State college and the Olympic Club of San Francisco, Earl Meadow, the other "heavenly twin", and Varoff all cleared the same height.

Ratcliff Leads Attack In Win

ST. LOUIS, July 3 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox drubbed the St. Louis Browns 10 to 5 here today in the rain, evening the series at one game each. Harland Clift of the Browns and Dixie Walker of the Sox hit home runs.

Rip Ratcliff, White Sox left fielder, collected five hits in five trips to the plate, including a triple and a double. He drove in one run. The Sox counted seven of their ten runs in the first three innings.

Bill Detrich, on the hill for the Browns, gave up a total of 11 hits but rode to an easy win on the wings of the Chicagoans' 19 hit assault off Oral Hildebrand, Cliff Trotter, Jim Blake, and Al Thomas.

LOCAL GOLFERS MEET STANTON

Big Spring Sandbelt golfers, who are leading the league with 160 points, will attempt to increase their advantage over the rest of the field today when they meet the 15th place Stanton team on the Stanton course but the locals will probably take the field short-handed.

Three of the regular members—Frank Morgan, Obie Bristow and Joe Black—are playing in the Abilene invitational meeting and may not return for the contest.

The Stanton engagement was postponed from last Sunday.

head an all-negro parade to honor Johnson and Walter Marty, of the Olympic club, in 1934.

Woodruff Wins
John Woodruff of Pittsburgh, winner of the 1936 Olympic 800 meters title, gained his first A.A.U. title by winning the event in meet record time of 1 minute, 50 seconds. His performance clipped three-tenths of a second off the mark set by Charles Beetham of Ohio State last year.

Joe McCluskey, of the New York A.C., checked in with his 18th A.A.U. title and made a record-breaker in the bargain by winning the 5,000 meters. He covered the distance in 15:04.1, seven-eighths of a second faster than Don Lasa, of Indiana, did it in setting the record last year.

Jack Wehrhauer, of Stanford, raced a spectacular 200 meters, running away from his field to win the meet record time of 20.9 seconds and was made by Marquette's Kalpa McCalfe on the same track in 1934.

The other individual record performance was contributed by Bill Sertoff, of the Southern California Sportmen's association, in the javelin. Heit three the weapon 24 feet, 9 3-8 inches, surpassing the meet mark of 22 feet, 6 3-8 inches set by James De Mers in 1930. Bob Peoples, of the Oklahoma City schoolboy star, was second with 220 feet 1 inch, and Alton Perry, of Hardin-Simmons College, Texas, holder of the best mark by an American—229 feet, 2-1-4 inches was third with 216 feet, 3 5-8 inches.

The remaining record job was credited to the Olympic Club's 400 meter relay team of itay Dean, Al Fitch, Ray Malott and Welternauser, which finished in 4:12 seconds, tenth of a second faster than the Marquette club ran in 1936.

Perrin Walker, former Georgia Tech star, won the 100 meter in 10.7 seconds. Malott raced the 400 meters in 47.1 seconds, and Jack Patterson of Rice Institute, won the 400 meter hurdles in 52.3 seconds.

Billy Brown, Baker, La., high schoolboy, made it two titles in a row in the hop, step and jump with an effort of 49 feet, 7 1-4 inches and Louis Lepis, of the New York A.C., retained his 56-pound weight championship with a toss of 33 feet, 6 inches.

Gomez And Mungo Are Hill Choices For All-Star Game At Washington

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—There hasn't been so much fuss since Fred Merkle forgot to touch second, as big league baseball has stirred up with Wednesday's fifth presentation of its five-star special, the all-star game.

They took the player selection away from the fans, and since then the howls have been pouring in faster than Van Mungo's fireball. Expectations are for a full house at Griffith Stadium (capacity 32,000), thereby evening up for the financial beating taken in last year's production at Boston.

All signs point to the expected clash of power and pitching between the American League's larping bats, on the one side, and the screwball fireball and fogball (flinging of Messrs. Carl Hubbell, Mungo, and Dixie Dean, respectively, on the other).

The betting odds give a slight edge to the American Leaguers because of their power-hitting ability, although the Nationals are coming to the wars with a generally higher batting lineup, led by the re-icknamed Muscies Medwick.

The senior circuit is out for its second straight triumph. The American Leaguers took the first three engagements, from 1933 to '35.

Here's the way the two teams may take the field, with the years of all-star service, and all-star batting averages for each man:

Shoppers Meet Midland Colts Today, Card Game With Angelo

TP Shoppers will meet the Midland Colts in the Midland park today in a game starting at 4 p. m. Manager Ralph La Londe indicated he would pitch either P. Ferro or Marty Martinez in today's game against the heavy hitting Midland crew.

The Shoppers have recently been strengthened with the addition of John Bray, Texas Wesleyan all around athlete, and two former Mexican Tigers, T. Ferro and Albert Garcia. Ferro is a catcher while Garcia and Bray are infielders.

The Shoppers also have gamed lined up with the San Angelo Sheep Herders and the Carlisle Independents.

Texan Favorite In Briton Open

CARNOUSITE, Scotland, July 3 (AP)—The American Open champion, Ralph Guidhal, revealing in another miraculous putting streak and Henry Cotton tonight were established point favorites for the British Open golf tournament starting Monday.

Canny Scotchmen, watching the big, care-free Texan's play, hastened to cut his odds from 10 to 1 to 7 to 1 alongside "hilarious" Henry, whom they concede is good "even if he is an Englishman."

Back of Guidhal and Cotton in the betting odds at 8 to 1 was Denny Shute who was the last American to win the title—in 1933. If Dour Denny were hitting his woods he'd be at least even with the other two.

Alf Padgham, the defending champion and just about the most forlorn player in the field, is quoted at 12 to 1 along with most of the other Ryder Cup piners including Dave Rees, Gene Sarazen, Henry Picard, Johnny Revolta, Tony Manero, Ed Dudley, Byron Nelson, Richard Burton, King, and Charles Whitcombe.

Pitcher Acquired As Reds Seek Strength

CINCINNATI, July 3 (AP)—Cincinnati's baseball club moved toward rebuilding the faltering Reds today by disposing of two of 23 players and immediately purchasing another.

In straight cash deals, Vice President Warren C. Giles sold outfielder Phil Weintraub and pitcher Walter Brown to Jersey City of the International league.

A New York Giant farm, and purchased Joe Casarella, a 28-year-old right handed pitcher from Washington of the American league.

Regatta Scheduled On White Rock Lake

DALLAS, July 3 (AP)—Crews from Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma will meet on White Rock lake here tomorrow and Monday in the Fifth Annual Southwestern States regatta, oldest of the nation's snipe boat classics.

Two former international champions, Bill Bracey and J. M. Martin of Dallas, were entered, as were George McGown of Fort Worth, runner-up for the title last year and Howard Chilton of Dallas, currently the leading sniper of the Southwest.

Frank Pemberton of Wichita Falls, who last year won the championship over a clever field, will defend his honors.

Regarded as one of the fastest events in the snipe racing game, the southwestern regatta holds its own with the international event. Of the four international championships held, three have been won by Texans.

Most of the entrants in the holiday classic here will also compete in the international races at Long Island, New York, later in the summer.

SCHUMACHER WINS 1ST MATCH

FORT WORTH, July 3 (AP)—Don Schumacher of Dallas, medalist and number 1 favorite, blasted his way through the first round of the River Crest golf invitation tournament's match play here today. The Trans-Mississippi champion defeated Tommy Murphy 4 and 3.

Billy Bob Coffey, the home course's best bet, went down in surprising defeat before W. H. Acker. The score was 2 and 1.

Jimmy McBride, M. L. Maslin, Bill, Donald Lehman, Ed Stewart and Charley Ramsel, all Fort Worth stars, also were eliminated. Bill Skeeters of Dallas, defending champion, won on a default from L. R. Robertson.

Ostermueller Wins 1st Game

BOSTON, July 3 (AP)—A five-run sendoff by his Red Sox teammates today enabled Fritz Ostermueller to gain his first pitching victory of the season at the expense of the Athletics 8-3.

Every man in the Boston lineup connected safely at least once in the 16 hit attack the Sox fired at the two Philadelphia pitchers, with Jim Fox and Pinky Higgins collecting triples.

The A's raked the offerings of Ostermueller for eight blows but he scattered them in fine style. Ben Chapman, besides collecting a double and a single in the hitting parade, stole his 16th and 17th bases of the season.

Bowden Defeats Paul Newton In Net Meet

GLEN COVE, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Frank Bowden, sturdy New York player, crushed Paul Newton of the University of California, 6-3, 6-2, to reach the final round of the Nassau country club invitation tennis tournament today. Bowden will play the winner of tomorrow's semi-final between Newton's doubles partner, Richard Bennett, and Gilbert Hunt of Washington in the final Monday.

Bennett and Newton, intercollegiate doubles champions, advanced to the doubles final with a 6-2, 7-5 victory over Watson Washburn and Arthur MacPherson of New York. Rain interrupted the doubles program when S. Ellsworth Davenport and Robert Keliher were leading the University of Texas team of Robert Kamrath and Lindsey Franklin, 8-6, 0-1 in a quarter final match. The Texans both were eliminated in the third round of the singles.

MARICA WINS

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—Marica four-year-old daughter of Epinard owned by Thomas Taggart, French Lick, Ind., won the Arlington Matron handicap before 20,000 spectators today in a photo finish. Shatterproof was second and Schoolmarm third.

The federal government's disbursements to veterans since the Revolutionary war total $21,827,570,000.

The Most Powerful Driving Force

—in business is individual initiative

THERE is no substitute for the ambition and determination of men to achieve success for themselves and their families. From these personal qualities spring the steadfast purposes which have for generations kept the United States far out in front in the march of progress. They have created in America the greatest industrial and commercial systems in history.

Individual initiative has been the creative force in all successful enterprises that compose these systems, whether modest local concerns or large-scale corporations.

Consideration And Enthusiasm Are Rules For Perfect Guest

By JOAN DURHAM AP Feature Service Writer The perfect guest has two virtues—consideration and enthusiasm.

Consideration for the wishes of her hostess and the rest of the guests. Enthusiasm for whatever entertainment the hostess provides or other guests suggest.

There never is a dull moment in the household in which she is a visitor.

That doesn't mean she is under the heels of her hostess all of the time. It simply implies that she fits into the general scheme as if she were a member of the menage.

Takes Time Out She senses the mood of the family.

When conditions begin to look a little cramped she excuses her self long enough for them to iron out. When the other guests' spirits begin to sag she jumps to the rescue with suggested entertainment. (She doesn't have to bob up and down every five minutes when and how to suggest a game of cards or a swim.)

She manages to keep her own belongings segregated—so they don't clutter up the household or get hopelessly entangled with the host's possessions. (That saves embarrassment later—when the family is sure the largest tube of tooth paste was in the medicine cabinet before her arrival and the second daughter is positive the sun tan oil was hers.)

If there are dishes to do, beds to make and dusting to finish—and no maid to take care of those homely duties—she keeps her own room in perfect order and quietly insists on helping out with a reasonable portion of the family chores.

No Fidgeting She's not one of those people, however, who jumps up after every course of every meal to demand the privilege of transporting the empty dishes to the kitchen—and then fidgets about while the hostess nervously assembles the strawberry shortcake.

The perfect guest never outstays her welcome. She finds out diplomatically just how long she is supposed to stay—and then stays just that length of time. (The hostess who is thoroughly onto herself)

Miss Faye Runyan Entertains With Dance For Guest

Miss Faye Runyan entertained a group of friends Friday evening naming as honoree her houseguest and cousin, Miss Edelweiss Runyan of Houston.

The evening was spent in dancing followed by refreshments served buffet style. Guests included Misses Kawana Smith, Mauryne Shultz, Joyce Terry, Dora Ann Hayward, Joyce Nolan, Edelweiss Runyan, Betty Lee Eddy, and Arthur Clyde Runyan, Neel Stanley, Richard Henry, James Vines, Good Graves, "Sleepy" Jones, Buck Tyree and Prentice Haas.

Merry Night Club Meets In Home of Mrs. Barnes The mid-summer social affair of the Merry Night club featured a bridge party Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Shellie Barnes, 207 West Eighteenth street.

Mrs. Jack Terry was high scorer for the evening and Mrs. Watson Hammond, floater. Mrs. Barnes received Bingo.

Present were Mrs. B. P. Frank Ho, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Shipman, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond and the hostess.

BRIDE TO LIVE HERE

Mrs. James Harold Stowe, bride of Saturday, who before her marriage was Miss Dorothy Doss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Doss of Abilene, at whose home the ceremony was performed. Following a few days honeymoon trip to Texas points, the couple will make their home here, where Mr. Stowe has headquarters as a representative of GMAC.

Big Spring Boy Marries Abilene Girl; Couple To Make Home Here

With the bride's grandfather, the Rev. W. H. Doss of Ballinger, officiating, the marriage of Dorothy Doss and James Harold Stowe of Big Spring was celebrated Saturday in an early morning home service.

Rev. Doss, pioneer West Texas Methodist minister, was officiant at the marriage more than 25 years ago of the parents of yesterday's bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Doss, and has read all wedding ceremonies in his family for the past half century.

Coming down the flower-banked stairway on the arm of her father, with whom she was given in marriage, the white-clad slender bride was joined by the bridegroom, to take their vows beneath an arch of flowers. Shasta daisies, gladiolus and fern banded the stair landing. Altar candles were lighted by the bride's only brother, A. K. Doss, Jr.

The bride's wedding costume was a white chiffon frock with short train and jacket of Duchess lace, with off-the-face turban of chiffon. She carried a century-old Bible covered in white satin, which was carried by her maternal grandmother at her wedding. The Bible held a shower of lilies of the valley. For something borrowed she wore an antique cameo, heirloom in the family of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. E. Stowe.

Elizabeth Stevens, maid of honor, wore a morning frock of navy marquette, jacketed in white, and carried an arm bouquet of lilies and yellow rosebuds.

George Edward Stowe served as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Herring Bounds gave the wedding music, using selections from the "Lohengrin Bridal Chorus." She also played accompaniments for Mrs. Ina Wooten Jones to sing "Because" as nuptial solo, and Mrs. B. R. Blankenship, violinist, who softly played "Oh, Promise Me" as the ceremony was read. Corsages of pastel-tint blossoms were worn by the musicians.

After a short honeymoon trip to Texas points, the couple will live at Big Spring, where Mr. Stowe has headquarters as a representative of GMAC.

Mr. and Mrs. Stowe were educated in Abilene schools, both being graduated from the local high school. Mr. Stowe received a B. S. degree, and Mrs. Stowe has been a student here since completing her high school work. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stowe, pioneer West Texas.

Young Miss Bulot Is Honored With Birthday Party

The tenth birthday anniversary of young Miss Barbara Ann Bulot was celebrated with a party Saturday afternoon given by her mother, Mrs. C. A. Bulot.

Games were played after which guests were served ice cream and punch from a lovely table laid with an Irish crocheted cloth and centered by a huge birthday cake.

Guests were Louise Ann Bennett, Charlene Pinkston, Jerry Bankson, Barbara Jane McEwen, Martha Clem Adkins, Vera Dell Walker, Dorothy Jean Adkins and Andree Bulot and the honoree.

Volunteer B.T.U. Group Guests For Social Recently

Miss Gladys Cowling directed an hour of game playing at a social given recently at the City Park for the Volunteer B. T. U. of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church.

Following the period of entertainment, refreshments of punch and cookies were served to Misses Marguerite Cooper, Elizabeth Murphy, Gladys Cowling, Margaret Bennett, Lola Pondergrass, Essie Robinson, and Mary Cowling. Pool Jamison, Kyle Simms, Travis Moore, J. C. McKinnis, Horace Dearing, Dalton Johnson, Buster Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Findley and daughter, Wanda Lee and Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Cowling.

Miss Price Entertains Members and Guests of The Sseto Bridge Club

STANTON, July 4—Miss Mary Price was hostess to the Sseto bridge club with an afternoon party at her home recently.

Three tables were appointed for bridge. Games of bingo were also played, prizes being awarded to winners.

The hostess varied the usual presentation of awards by letting the winners choose their own prizes. One prize was not wrapped, the other two were, and the lucky guests chose as their love of taking a chance or their tendency to see what they were getting dictated. Winners were Mrs. O. B. Bryan, Mrs. Collison Mott, and Mrs. J. C. Ellis.

The dining table was laid with lace and at the tea hour a party plate featuring vari-shaped sandwiches was served.

Present were Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Jim Zimmerman, Mrs. Toad Hoiston, Mrs. Chuck Houston, Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Floyd Smith, Mrs. Jim Tom, Mrs. Alfred Tom, Miss Corinne Lee, Mrs. Morgan Hall, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Cullen Wilson, and the hostess.

Leafy Motif

By RUTH ORR
PATTERN No. 489

The more leafy it is, the more it will flatter the bed or table that it covers. So this motif will be one that is difficult for you to resist, for the dainty leaves are arranged to reveal whatever is beneath, and yet they stay firmly together, so you will not have a limp article. In mercerized cotton which makes gorgeous bedspreads as well as lovely tablecloths, the motif measures 3 inches square.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, also what crocheted hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 489 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address The Big Springs Daily Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Box 172, Station D, New York, N. Y.

80 Girls Are Registered At Scout Camp

Eighty girl scouts arrived in Camp Mary White, the Cactus Region girl scout camp, owned and operated by the Roswell, New Mexico Girl Scout council, June 27, for its first session, June 27 to July 11. Camp Mary White is in the Sacramento mountains southeast of Cloudero, New Mexico. Jacqueline Faw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Faw, is enrolled in Esccondido Ranch, Champe Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shine Phillips and Janice Slaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Slaughter, plan to leave Big Spring July 10 for the camp.

Camp Mary White philosophy is "Send home healthier and happier girls after each camping session." Five units, situated in two canyons with headquarters at mid-way point compose the Girl Scout unit system for the camp life.

Oaks ranch is the pioneer unit for older and more experienced scouts whose particular interest is camping. Several days of each session are spent at their outpost, Turkey Springs. Miss Beverly Howland, Saginaw, Michigan, assisted by Miss Mildred Hart of Norman, Oklahoma, is supervising Oaks Ranch.

Older girls whose interest is dramatics and singing are in Medina Ranch. They are under supervision of Miss Katrina Eskeldson, Ramona, Kansas, assisted by Miss Ruth Henson, San Marcos, Texas.

The nature unit is Fernst Ranch, under direction of Mrs. H. J. Dunne, Odessa, Texas, assisted by Miss Adelaide Wolf of Roswell, N. M.

The camping period of Camp Mary White is June 27 to August 8, East, and West participate in the activities offered.

Susannah Class Has Patriotic Party At Church

Colors of red, white and blue were seen in decorations Friday afternoon when the Susannah Wesley class met for a party and business session.

Mrs. F. V. Gates, president presided during the discussion which was followed by the devotional by Mrs. Russell Manion. Mrs. Charles Morris directed an hour of fun at which time various games were played and patriotic songs were sung.

Large flower baskets with streamers of red, white and blue made a lovely background for the rooms where refreshments of ice cream and cake in the chosen colors, were served.

Mrs. Manion, whose birthday anniversary was during the month of July, was presented with the birthday bag. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Charles Morris, Mrs. M. W. McClesky, Mrs. J. R. Manion, Mrs. Herbert Fox, Mrs. Emma Davis, and Mrs. F. V. Gates. Others present included Mrs. Logan Baker, Mrs. Arthur Pickle, Mrs. Woody Baker, Mrs. Ben Lovelace, Mrs. D. W. Rankin, Mrs. Will Olson, Mrs. S. P. Jones, Mrs. E. D. McDowell, Mrs. P. F. Williamson, Mrs. Fred Arrington, Mrs. J. C. Waite Sr., Mrs. C. E. Talbot, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. # Lawn Of Richbourg Home Is Scene Of Double Wedding

A double wedding ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon on the lawn of Rev. B. G. Richbourg, uniting in marriage Miss Ina Jean Patterson to G. U. Duckworth and Miss Raynell Bigby to Willie Woodrow Cloudero.

Both couples are residents of Big Spring. Rev. Richbourg performed the ceremony.

Marriage Of June 29 Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Joy Ligon of Sterling City to Joe Hendricks, Jr., which took place June 29 in Pecos.

Mrs. Hendricks is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ligon and Hendricks is son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hendricks of 1202 Gregg.

The couple will make their home in Big Spring at 1805 Lancaster as the groom is employed by the Texas-Pacific Railway company.

AT THE CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
An increased interest has been noticed in the regular Bible study which meets each Sunday morning at 9:45 a. m. There were 159 present last Sunday morning. This record has been bettered only by one Sunday out of the entire year thus far. Summer interest is encouraging at this time. If you are a member of the local Church of Christ, won't you come Sunday morning and help us to hold up our attendance record? We will be expecting you.

The sermon topic for Sunday morning will be "A Christian's City of Refuge." The radio sermon for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be entitled "Has the Kingdom of Christ Been Established?" The sermon for Sunday evening will be "The Work of the Holy Spirit in Leading the Christian." You have an invitation to attend our regular church services and to listen to our regular broadcast over station KHST at the regular hour.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE (Room 1, Settles Hotel)
"God" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 4.

The Golden Text is: "To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever." (Jude 1:25).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all" (1 Chronicles 29:11).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing exists really nor exists except the divine Mind and His ideas. . . Allness is the measure of the infinite, and nothing less can express God" (page 331 and 336).

ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL
F. Walter Henckell, Rector

The early services will be continued during the month of July at St. Mary's Episcopal church. The service begins at 8:30 a. m. each Sunday. Holy Communion and sermon will be the order of service Sunday. The rector will be the celebrant and preacher.

Church school meets as usual at 9:45 a. m.

Everyone is cordially invited to worship at St. Mary's.

INEQUALITY IN ASSESSMENTS

State Tax Commissioner Holden said in an address not long ago that fair and equitable rendition under present property tax laws would lower tax rates. It was a trite statement, and the commissioner did not lay down any method by which this desirable end could be reached. Nor will it ever be reached under the present practice of assessment.

The earliest tax laws of Texas provided for assessors or their deputies to personally view property and if the owner insisted on having it put on the tax rolls at less than what appeared its fair value the assessor was expected to write it down at a fair valuation and the dissatisfied owner could go to court. If that is being done nowadays it is not generally known.

But even if it were, there will never be equality in tax valuations so long as two hundred-odd assessors fix valuations for the state levy. It is impossible for that number of men to think alike and to have the same basis of value. So property in one county is assessed for the state at a value under or over that of identical property in an adjoining or adjacent county. An illustration of this is the assessment of railroads whose miles in one county are valued at a figure different from miles in an adjoining county.

Many years ago a legislative committee saw this and recommended that constitutional amendment be made to divorce assessment for a county from that for the state, but nothing was done about it. Nothing is going to be done about it now, despite the talk, and the inequality of assessments will go right along until the burden gets so heavy that the people will rise and demand a change in tax levying that will at least approach fairness and equality. If we must have an ad valorem tax we should make it bear alike on all.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The glamorous figures who move in the smart, sophisticated world of the theater—the really famous ones whose names conjure romantic legends and spell stary success in the spotlight and in the headlines—haven't always been the singled-out darlings of a fairy godmother. Most of them are able to trace their rise from obscure beginnings.

Frank Morgan, for instance, used to ride the range on a ranch in Nevada. It was only a few years ago that Ethel Merman, trudging reluctantly to her office each day, was an unhappy stenographer. Warner Baxter used to work for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

Howard Dietz edited a magazine for the navy before he became the author of "Merry-Go Round" and other Broadway musical shows. Miriam Hopkins, a green blonde kid from the rose gardens of Atlanta, was ready to embark on a dancing career, but a broken ankle eliminated her from a troupe that was bound for South America, and she became an actress.

Although a Presbyterian, Faith Bacon was reared in a convent—until she determined to become an artist's model, posing in the nude. This, eventually, landed her on the stage behind Broadway's footlights. Frank Merlyn gave up a vagabonding existence to become an author, and Edward Foran decided that authoring books was a saner pastime than going through life as a circus roustabout.

Dr. Nathaniel Lief, whose practice is largely composed of literary, theatrical, and musical stars, really thought his future lay in constructing engineering projects in the jungles of Paraguay, but he flipped a coin and became a fashionable dentist instead. His brother, Max, was drama critic for the N. Y. News until he went to Hollywood and became a successful scenarist. A third brother (they run to boys, those Lief families), Alfred, writes studios books on judiciary.

Then, there is Alfred Lunt, who used to clerk in a department store. Leslie Howard and Ronald Colman were employes in London banking houses until sheer boredom drove them into the theater. Katharine Cornell almost gave in to her inclination to become the prioress of a kindergarten, in Buffalo. Charlie MacArthur and Ben Hecht are products of Chicago newspaper offices.

Garbo herself once toiled in a corset fitter's shop, and Norma Shearer was a penniless office girl. Billy Rose might still have been a song plugger if Barnum-like ideas hadn't persuaded him to become a purveyor of bizarre entertainments.

It is a strange fate that makes actors of chemical engineers and cowboys, as inexplicable, probably, as the one which lifted James J. Walker from a seat among the political high and mighty and deposited him on a Long Island chicken farm. That's where Jimmy is today, counting the eggs just as the hens set up a cackle.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippman

THE REACTION AGAINST THE C. I. O.

Competent observers in Michigan and Ohio and Pennsylvania report that for the time being the advance of the C. I. O. has been checked by the resentment of the bystanders.

It is said on very good authority that even in the plants where the C. I. O. has had a big success there is much evidence that the new raw union is finding it difficult to keep their members and collect their dues. In all the industrial centers there is a revolution of feeling and a disposition to organize vigilantes to rout the mass picketing and to prevent the C. I. O. from seizing plants by sitting down in them or by surrounding them with armed mobs.

The behavior of the three Governors confirms these reports. In Ohio the Governor, Mr. Dewey, is using the military forces of the state to suppress mass picketing, the tactics by which workers from one plant besiege another. In Pennsylvania the Governor, Mr. Egan, after a most inglorious attempt to shut down the Bethlehem plant, where the C. I. O. has as yet virtually no organization, has beaten a retreat and covered it with a smoke screen about a third term for the President. In Michigan, where at the moment there is no serious strike, the Governor, Mr. Murphy, is about to approve a statute which, in effect, outlaw the mass picketing tactics of the C. I. O. Finally, the President has at last felt the impulse to make some remarks which have the flavor of non-partisanship.

These actions have been taken by public officials whose strong political alliances with labor leaders are tempered only by their sensitiveness to the movements of public opinion. What they have done testifies to the fact that public opinion is on the move.

The reaction now in progress against the C. I. O. has as its spokesmen and symbols men who are fundamentally hostile to all genuine labor unionism and to the realities of collective bargaining. This does not seem to me an unfair or an inaccurate characterization of Mr. Girdler. For though Mr. Girdler now refuses to meet Mr. Lewis, there is no evidence that I know of that he was ever willing to meet and deal with any other labor leader, however well recommended and however carefully fumigated.

I do not think that Mr. Girdler is a truly representative of the main body of American public opinion. But Mr. Girdler is winning his battle because the main body of moderate opinion has been compelled to choose between his rather arbitrary methods of continuing to produce steel and the no less arbitrary and much more disorderly methods of the C. I. O. in their desperate attempt to stop the production of steel. Faced with these alternatives, a middle-class democracy, like the American democracy, will inevitably throw its support to the party which does not seem to be going wrong.

If in the high command of the Democratic party there are men of sagacity, surely they must see what all this portends. It means that the New Deal labor policy is so misconceived that unless it is revised the hopes of labor will be dashed in a deep and dangerous reaction.

The essential misconception of the New Deal labor policy lies in a failure to distinguish between agitation and government. The President and Senator Wagner have taken the wholly mistaken view that the power of government can be used to promote or to suppress the solidarity of labor. They have, therefore, sponsored laws which invite the union organizer to proceed after promising him that the government will paralyze the employer who opposes him. The ostensible philosophy of the Wagner act is that it simply rights the balance between the organized employers and the unorganized workers. But the substance of the Wagner act is an attempt to promote a forced growth of unionism in the hot house of the Federal power.

It is in many ways an historical curiosity. For while we have seen in other countries many governments raised to power and supported by organized labor, we have never before seen a government which has sought to create the labor movement it would like to represent.

Yet this is what is being attempted. The social philosophy of the dominant New Dealers envisages a transformation of the Democratic party in which voting strength and political influence will lie in a combination of subsidized farmers and organized industrial workers. They think of themselves as the leaders of a radical farmer-labor party. But in this country there is no labor party for them to lead. And so, having sublime confidence in the power of government to do anything, they have set out to create a labor movement by the use of the power of government.

In order to do this they have had to sacrifice even the appearance of even-handed enforcement of the law. As a result, in the troubled communities particularly, but also throughout the land, they are producing the conviction that public authority is neither impartial nor strong. This is an incitement to all the irresponsible, unstable and mischievous careerists, who are out to exploit labor for their personal power or their ideological ends and the behavior of these people necessarily provokes the bystanders to use lawless means to re-establish order.

For when government repudiates its obligations to be impartial and advocates its authority in the midst of lawlessness there is no legitimate standard to which the sober citizens of the community can repair. They are left to choose between the devil and the deep blue sea.

The remedy for this condition is to have the government affirm its obligations. The President's remarks at his press conference on Tuesday, while they pointed in the right direction, were altogether too casual and too ambiguous to meet the needs of the situation. If there is a statesman-like instinct in this government, the administration will promptly take decisive steps to stop the mortal rot which is degenerating into a class war. It will not only have to speak more plainly and fully, but it will have to recognize that the Wagner act must be supplemented so that it ceases to be an instrument of one section and becomes in truth what it professes to be, a charter of industrial peace in which all the rights of all concerned are safeguarded.

I know, because I have made inquiries which are completely convincing, that all but the lunatic fringe among the New Dealers recognize that the Wagner act must be supplemented. In private that is admitted. Why is it not done? It is not done because they are afraid to do what they know they ought to do. Yet if they had wisdom, they would have courage, and they would know that if they do not rewrite the law voluntarily, it will be rewritten for them by some means or other.

HOLLYWOOD—James Hogan who ran the directorial gamut from his boss op'ry to sea epic in three pictures, is doing "Ebb Tide" in color. Paramount heralds it as the first sea picture in the rainbow medium, which it doubtless is if you forget Douglas Fairbanks "The Black Pirate."

Hogan, an old-timer, made his comeback as a director on a western, and first thing any of us knew he was handed a big "A" because in the champagne-wasting scenes it's real champagne that's wasted. (Stockholders note: But just a few bottles, essential for dramatic and color reasons.)

"There aren't any horses in this one," he said, "but I can handle it. Formula's the same. I'll just make the sea run faster."

"Ebb Tide" will mark the Hollywood debut of a real actor, Oscar Homolka by name, who hitherto has appeared in British films. It watched Hogan direct him and Barry Fitzgerald, another real actor, in a dramatic scene. They're on the ship loaded with champagne, cases and cases of it. Fitzgerald, tipping pleasantly, has killed half a bottle when Homolka, playing a guy who knows drink in his master, stops the fun. He says the bottle, puts Barry to work. Then, on Homolka's face,

Chapter Nine FIGHTING IT OUT

Pushing in the bright red door of Kelly's so-called "soft drink parlor," Ted entered a large square room that had all the earmarks of an old-time bar room, from brass rail to sawdust on the floor.

Several groups of men were seated at the square pine tables, and at the far end of the bar leaned the two punchers Ted had followed. They were still chuckling at their joke and Mike Kelly grimed in sympathy as he stood behind the bar, polishing a glass and waiting for their mirth to subside enough for them to give an intelligible order.

His blood boiling at the certainty that Kay was the subject of their coarse hilarity, Ted stepped up to them and peremptorily tapped the shoulder of the man who had done the whispering.

"I'm giving you notice to cut out the mention of the young lady's name in this or any other public place," Ted's voice had a drawing intensity that made no effort to veil the threat beneath his words.

The man swung around, surprise and anger lighting up his mean gray eyes. They were set closely on either side of a thin nose that was disfigured by a badly set break in the bone.

"You don't say!" His eyes traveled significantly to Ted's belt with its empty holster. "And just what's goin' to stop me?" He fingered his own gun and laughed disagreeably. "Reckon you need a lesson!"

"Cut that out, Scrap!" Mike Kelly's voice matched the bulldog expression that wiped out his genial grin, and proclaimed him a man who was master of his own domain.

"No pulling on an unarmed man in my joint," he declared. "You can get outside if there's going to be any of that kind of play."

Mike sees To Fair Play
The man addressed as Scrap took his hand away from his gun with another sneering laugh as his eye measured Ted's emaciated figure and drawn face, which still held the lines of his recent privations and despairing defeat against overwhelming odds.

Then he insolently turned his head away from Ted, and addressed his companion again: "Looks like the little red-headed fella had picked herself up a kind of a scrawny new champion from somewhere."

No sooner were the words out than Ted's fist crashed under Scrap's jaw with a force that snapped his head back and made him stagger away from the bar.

The next instant he recovered himself and with a roar of rage reached for his gun. But Mike Kelly had been too quick for him. Foreseeing the inevitable outcome, he had reached across the counter and snatched Scrap's gun from his holster in that moment of inaction when Scrap had staggered back from Ted's surprise attack.

"I'm keeping this for you," Mike Kelly announced. "Go ahead and fight it out man to man if you've got to."

"Are you ready to swear off from mentioning that young lady's name, or do you want some more?" Ted faced his panting opponent whose rage for the moment had been deflected to Mike Kelly. These words averted Scrap back to the real issue at hand.

"Like hell I am!" he roared, making a lunge. Ted deftly side-stepped and came back with a left that carried as vicious a wallop as his right had. Before Scrap had time to recover, Ted closed in with an uppercut. The next instant they were locked in a rigid hold.

As the sweating fighters rocked back and forth, the quickly-gathered crowd watched with breathless interest and offered advice. Ted tore his right free and hammered away at close quarters. Gradually he felt Scrap's knees begin to give. He knew the moment had come. Breaking away with one mighty lunge, Ted stopped back, spotted a corner on Scrap's chin and let loose. He connected.

Scrap crashed to the floor with a guttural croak. Ted heard the crowd cheer as he knelt beside the writhing Scrap and gripped his right wrist. With a slow, relentless aim, he threatened to wrench the arm from its socket.

"Are you ready to leave that young lady's name alone?" Scrap gritted his teeth, then yelped with pain and rage as Ted put on pressure. "Yes, damn you! Let me go!"

Ted dropped the arm and stepped swiftly back as his victim tried to struggle to his feet, then sank back in an exhausted stupor. "Don't forget!" Ted warned. "If it ever happens again, I won't stop short of a broken neck! Get me?"

With a nod and a "Thanks for the fair play" to Mike Kelly, Ted turned and strode out. To his relief, Kay was nowhere in sight and the horses were waiting as he had left them.

Panting from his exertions, but with a wild sense of elation coursing through him, Ted mounted his horse again and watched the bank door for Kay's reappearance.

Her eyes half blinded with tears of rage and disappointment, Kay stumbled out of the bank and ran over to where Ted was waiting with the horses.

She was absorbed in her own troubles and hardly glanced at Ted, so failed to notice his new look of power and restored confidence that the fight with Scrap had given him.

He resolved not to mention his encounter, handing Kay Flicker's reins in silence.

"Hurry up and get away from here," she gasped, misting Flicker's reins and flinging herself into the saddle. A touch of her heel to Flicker's flank sent him head at started bound.

Ted followed suit, and the two pounded down the main street of Red River at breakneck speed. For several minutes after they reached the range, Kay set the same pace, not pulling in until she felt she had herself almost under control to speak without having her voice betray the panic that possessed her.

The blow she had had was all the greater because she had never for a moment doubted that she would have the insurance money to rebuild. Her thoughts ran in incoherent circles, seeking a way out, but apparently there wasn't any.

No matter from what angle she looked at it, she was trapped. Without money to rebuild, how could she carry on? Even if they went without the house, the barn was the heart's blood of the ranch in winter time. And Aunt Kate and Babs couldn't go on visiting forever. Perhaps they could all get on in the two cabins, but how could she break her promise to Ted Gaylor?

"Would you rather not tell me what's happened?" Ted's voice brought her back from her desperate future plans to the present. Kay pulled in, and turned toward him.

"No, you may as well know now, as later. I can't get any of the insurance money." With a rush, the whole story poured out in answer to his unspoken sympathy.

"And somehow, I know Josh Hastings is behind it all," she ended passionately. "He wouldn't even put it past him to have burnt down the ranch to get his own way!"

She stopped short, suddenly aware that she no longer had Ted's attention.

"Josh Hastings!" He echoed the name without hearing any of the rest of her tirade. "Is Josh Hastings the owner of the Flying Six? You never mentioned his name before."

"Yes," she answered breathlessly, held by his hard set look and changed expression. "What do you know about him?"

"How long has he been here?" Ted ignored her question. "About three years. Why? Do you know him?"

"Is he a big man, with a red face and very blue eyes?" "Didn't you see him go into the bank?"

Ted shook his head. "He must have slipped by me while I was watching a fracas down by Kelly's joint." He evaded a more explicit account of the use of his time during Kay's absence.

"Yes—you've described him. That's the one. Tell me what you know about him!" Kay demanded eagerly.

"I know plenty." Ted answered with grim emphasis. "I won't tell you any more now, but perhaps I will some day. He's a snake, and a damned clever one."

"I've known it all along," Kay took a long breath. "But you're the first one I've met who agrees with me on that subject. Even Dad didn't see through him, although I'm willing to bet some of the troubles that have hit us since Josh Hastings bought the Flying Six can be laid at his door. He's determined to be the biggest cattle man in Montana, and to pull that off, he's got to have our ranch added to his."

Ted suggests a plan to save the Lazy Nine for Kay, tomorrow.

REAL ESTATE MAN IS A VISITOR HERE
N. H. Wood, real estate operator of Nacogdoches, is here for a visit with his brother, J. H. Wood. A visitor here last year, Wood has returned for the rodeo and other holiday affairs.

Wood recently made two extended trips over parts of Texas and Louisiana, and reported that conditions are good in all sections of East and North Texas, with crop prospects bright. Business in all lines is improved, he said, and land values are rising. Wood predicts that land values will continue on the upgrade.

Passed Through Here
Twelve General Motors trucks built especially for the Texas Company to transport Texaco products passed through Big Spring Saturday, enroute to Los Angeles. The trucks, brand new, were recently completed at the General Motors factory.

BUILDING LEAD IS HELD BY HOUSTON

DALLAS, July 3. (AP)—Houston led the state today in the value of building permits issued for the year and for the past week. Permits for the week amounted to $229,000, to bring the year's total to $11,223,390.

Other cities reported as follows:

City	Week	Year
Dallas	$138,115	$4,175,490
Fort Worth	46,705	4,729,900
Lubbock	45,790	663,612
Corpus Christi	45,350	1,916,334
San Antonio	35,705	2,205,823
Austin	33,143	2,955,785

Liquor Trials To Be Changed

No Juries In Cases Involving Administrative Issues

AUSTIN, July 3 (AP)—Jury trials in cases involving judicial review of administrative acts of the state liquor control board will be abolished after September 1 when the new liquor law becomes effective.

As a result, the attorney general's department anticipates speedier handling of suits attacking such acts, approximately 100 of which are now on the docket.

It has been the contention of the department, according to Assistant Attorney General Sam Lane, that attacks on administrative acts, such as cancellation of liquor permits, should be heard by judges, since no property right was involved. Some judges, however, have submitted the issues to juries.

Faced by a mounting number of suits, which at one time totaled 176, the department, which defends the liquor board, assigned six assistant attorneys general to the litigation. Four now are in the field.

The legislature took cognizance of the situation by specifically providing neither side should have recourse to juries when review of an administrative act was the issue.
