Police Clamp Secrecy Lid On New York Kidnap Case

Tortured American Priests Released From Red Prison

HONG KONG, July 7 —UP— Two American Roman Catholic priests who spent three years in Communist Chinese jails arrived here from Shanghai today in apparent good health. They said three of the 11 Americans they left behind are ill. The arrival of the two Jesuits, John W. Clifford and Thomas L. Phillips, both of San Francisco, coincided with a report in the Hong Kong News that the Peiping regime will release three more American priests shortly. Clifford and Phillips returned to this British colony aboard the German ship Hamburg. They underwent physical examinations and then met with newsmen. Both appeared a little nervous but in good health. They said the Communists never had specified charges against them but tried to torture them into "confessing" they had committed crimes against the government. They were arrested June 15, 1953, and released last June 15. Slight improvement Clifford, 38, said that although their treatment improved some-

U. S. Officials Worry As Steel Strike Toll Mounts

PITTSBURGH, July 7 —UP— Federal officials, concerned about the ever-mounting economic toll of steel strike, were reported plotting new moves Saturday to end the week-old walkout of 650,000 millworkers. With both the United Steelworkers Union and the steel companies clinging to widely divergent positions in their contract battle, U.S. Mediation Service director Joseph F. Finnegan was expected to summon top negotiators to Washington within a day or so. The capital conferences could lead to government-initiated suggestions aimed at ending the walkout, which in just seven days

SHAMROCK TIDBITS

By MERITA BUMPERS
J. S. Solomon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Solomon of Shamrock, told his parents that his flight was just 57 minutes ahead of the planes that crashed in the Grand Canyon recently. J. S. is a pilot with United Airlines. They had a little twistier out at Hugh Grogan's farm between Shamrock and McLean recently which destroyed a hen house, scattered 100 chickens, damaged the garage and pick-up shed and tore limbs from trees. Mrs. Grogan said he only lost five chickens. The area received one and one-half inches of rain, a lot of hail and wind.

Tol's Mother Appeals For Safe Return

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 7 —UP— The desperate mother of kidnaped five-week-old Peter Weinberger appealed to the abductor Saturday to leave the child in any church or synagogue in the New York city area. Religious authorities agreed to keep every house of worship open around the clock to receive the child. The appeal was made and acted upon as the search for the infant entered the crucial stage. Police sealed off a 16-block area around the Weinberger home on Long Island and clamped a tight security lid on their activities while awaiting possible word from the abductor. Peter was kidnaped Wednesday for a $2,000 ransom. A telephone caller later increased the ransom to $5,000 and the family said it was willing to pay "any amount" for the return of the child. Two men released The hopes of some police officials dimmed on the third day after Peter was snatched from his carriage in the family patio. There were fears the boy would never be found alive, but police still worked on the theory he was all right. Two men picked up for questioning Friday night failed to give any useful information, police said, and were released Saturday afternoon. In her latest appeal for the return of her child, Mrs. Betty Weinberger asked that all places of worship be available as a point where the baby can be left by the kidnaper. The religious hierarchy of the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths immediately announced their houses of worship would remain open 24 hours a day. The church leaders said they would telephone police immediately if a child were left. Mrs. Weinberger also appealed for prayers in churches of all denominations for the return of her child.

Daniel Declines Support Of South Texas Politico In News Bombshell

By LLOYD LARRABEE
AUSTIN, July 7 —UP— South Texas political boss George Parr became a prime issue in the governor's race Saturday on the heels of his endorsement of Price Daniel which was flatly rejected by the junior senator. Daniel "emphatically" declined Parr's support and said in a statement that "one of the first official actions I will take after being elected governor will be to clean up corruption in Duvall county." The political bombshell was thrown into the governor's race as candidates put their vote-getting campaigns in high gear for the stretch drive to the July 28 Democratic primary election only three weeks away. Reveals Daniel Support Parr revealed his support of Daniel in an interview with Houston Post reporter Jim Mathis, who quoted the "duke of Duvall" county as saying "I owe him favors" and would vote for Daniel. Gubernatorial candidate J. Evetts Haley, speaking at a news luncheon at Daniel's in connection with Parr's statement, said it "raises a number of questions." "Why did Senator Daniel, as attorney general of Texas, dilly-dally in prosecuting Parr? Do these favors that Parr speaks of help to account for the delay at the Washington level in bringing Parr to the bar of justice in the federal income tax and mail fraud cases?" Haley asked. "Why did Sen. Daniel keep his senatorial committee members out of Parr's domain in Duvall county, when many respectable law enforcement officials believed it to be the crossroad-of-illicit narcotics traffic?" Haley added. Refuses Parr Support Daniel said in a statement at Houston that he was "emphatically" refusing Parr's support. "This whole matter came as a surprise to me and I do not know if it was sincere or intended to hurt my campaign. George Parr supported another candidate in this race in 1954 and I had assumed that he was supporting the same candidate again this year," Daniel said. "I have not seen or heard from George Parr in over four years, and needless to say, I did not solicit his support or authorize anyone else to do so. On the contrary, I have said repeatedly in this campaign that investigation and prosecution of Duvall county corruption would be one of my aims as governor of Texas," he added. Parr also was quoted as saying he would support Ben Ramsey for lieutenant governor, Jesse James for state treasurer, Martin Dies for congressman-at-large, and Judge W. A. Morrison for the Court of Criminal Appeals. Ramsey Seeks Support Ramsey, running for re-election to a fourth elective term, said in a statement issued by his Austin office that he was "pleased" to see Daniel's refusal to support Parr. Oliver pleaded not guilty to the charge in Gray County Court before Judge Bruce Parker who set bond for the defendant at $1,000. After both parties in the case told their sides of the story in court, they got together and settled their dispute over an automobile which Reed had purchased from Oliver. ### Pulitzer Prize Winner Flirts With Contempt

WASHINGTON, July 7—UP— Arthur Miller, Marilyn Monroe's playwright husband, refused again Saturday to give House investigators the names of persons attending a Communist writers' meeting in 1939 or 1940. Chairman Francis E. Walter of the House Committee on Un-American Activities told reporters that Miller's refusal, made by mail, "seems to me" to be "inviting" a citation for contempt of Congress. Miller's latest trouble came just one day after he had cleared one hurdle keeping him from a European honeymoon with his glamorous actress wife. The State Department announced Friday that it had issued him a six-month passport after he answered questions regarding "derogatory information" that kept him from getting a passport two years ago. Whether the congressional threat will keep Miller at home while his wife goes abroad was not known immediately. However, procedure for citing a person for contempt is drawn-out and might not interfere with the trip. The bosomy Marilyn leaves for London a week hence to make a movie with Sir Laurence Olivier. The House had given Miller an opportunity to answer the questions by mail and thus purge himself of the contempt threat. He refused to name the writers when questioned as a witness on June 2. Miller's lawyer, Joseph C. Rauh, sent the letter on his client's behalf. It cited legal precedents against penalizing the playwright for contempt. Miller, in testifying before the committee talked freely of his own past associations with Communist-front organizations. But he said his conscience would not permit names.

Ladies Off And Winging In 'Powder Puff Derby'

SAN MATEO, Calif., July 7 —UP— The purr of perfectly tuned engines filled the morning air at San Mateo county airport Saturday as 49 light planes carrying 89 distaff airmen took off on the first leg of the 10th annual "Powder Puff Derby". A little more nonchalant were race favorites, Mrs. Frances Bera and Mrs. Edna Bower, who planned to let their auto-pilot do the work while they "play canasta" in the back seat—"most of the way". The combination won the race in 1955 while Mrs. Bera won in 1953, finished second in 1954, and was co-pilot to the 1951 winner. The 49 planes, a combination of single and twin-engined models, were airborne in just 26 minutes after two helicopters picked up a ribbon of multi-colored pennants, climbed some 50 feet straight up and pulled the tape apart. First to take-off were Mrs. Isabelle McCrae, of Lemon Grove, Calif., and co-pilot Mrs. Betty McNeil of La Mesa, Calif., in a Beechcraft Bonanza. A crowd of some 5,000 gave a rousing send-off to Michigan's "second lady", Mrs. Janey Hart, as she took off in her four-place Beechcraft Bonanza named "The Stork". Her husband, Michigan's lieutenant governor, is home with their seven children whose ages run from one month to 7 years.

Plan To Liberalize Security Benefits

By BETTY PRYOR
WASHINGTON, July 7 —UP— Senate Democrats will offer a new compromise plan next week to liberalize Social Security benefits for women and disabled workers. Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) said Saturday he will introduce half of the two-part compromise on Monday. Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) will follow with the other half. George told the United Press he is "very hopeful" about the chances of passage. Other Democratic sources said the plan clears the way for Senate action on the delayed legislation possibly next week. The compromise is designed to get around some senate objections to the bill passed by the House last year. This measure would lower the benefit age for all women from 65 years to 62 and allow totally disabled workers to start collecting benefits at age 50. The House bill also increased payroll taxes paid by workers and employers from 2 per cent to 2.5 per cent each to finance the added benefits. For self-employed workers the tax would be increased from 3 per cent to 3.75 per cent. The Senate Finance committee struck out the tax increase, the disabled benefits and the lower benefit age for all women but widows. George's amendment restores the 50-year disabled benefit and calls for payroll tax increases half the size voted by the House. Kerr's amendment would allow working women and wives of retired workers to collect benefits at age 62 but at a somewhat lower rate than if they waited until 65. Widows would still collect the full rate at 62. The rate reduction for working women and wives who chose to start collecting at 62 would amount to around 20 per cent.

Ranch Hand Commits Suicide

A Hutchinson County coroner's inquest Saturday ruled the death of Vernon J. "Sox" Olson on the Pitts ranch located 16 miles north-east of Borger Friday to have been a suicide, according to Sheriff Hugh Anderson of Borger. Cy Woods, a neighbor who had been working cattle with Mr. Olson earlier in the week, found the body hanging from a windmill tower when he went to the ranch about 8:30 p.m. Friday to visit Mr. Olson, Sheriff Anderson stated.

The band is to provide music for the Top o' Texas Rodeo, Aug. 8-11. The band is under the direction of Lt. Milton Stern. The group will also take part in the downtown parade. The 22 piece band has taken part in a number of area celebrations.

Senate Adjournment Target Doooms Post-Rate Increase

WASHINGTON, July 7 —UP— President Eisenhower's postal rate increase apparently is doomed in the Senate's adjournment rush but may be revived and passed next year, an informed source said Saturday. A member of the Senate Post Office committee told the United Press the $430 million annual increase approved by the House Friday "will never get through" the Senate unless Congress stays in session much longer than it now plans. August 3 is the adjournment target. But the senator, who would not be identified, said "we'll probably do something next session." This would require introduction of a new bill which also would have to pass the House again. The senator said, "I find no enthusiasm" for the bill which would increase the cost of first class and airmail a penny an ounce. He added that the committee would almost certainly need to hold lengthy hearings before acting on the measure. He said some publications had already notified him they wished to testify against proposed increases in second-class mail rates imposed by the House bill, which went even further than the administration asked. Even if the committee held such hearings in the few additional weeks congress is expected to be in session chances would be against Senate action in the adjournment pressure. The House bill, approved by a 217 to 165 vote, would nearly wipe out the chronic Post Office Department deficit which has been running about $470 million a year. If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hwde. (Adv.)

Pampa Fire Department sends three local personnel each year to keep up with the latest fire-fighting techniques. By sending the personnel to the fire school, the city of Pampa is allowed a credit on the basic fire insurance rate for the city, by the State Fire Insurance Commission. This year's delegates will return next Saturday.

The commission is considering six water rates that were submitted to them at their meeting last Tuesday. The commission will also open bids on six paving jobs to be undertaken on city streets during the summer.

Prison Cells Filling In Poznan Aftermath

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN, July 7—UP—The Polish Communist party Saturday took the blame for the Poznan revolt in a breath-taking confession of "irregularities" and "mistakes" that apparently provided the basis for the current purge of party members, government officials and police. In its efforts to soothe dissatisfied workers, the party accused the local leaders of neglecting to heed legitimate complaints. The president of Poland, meanwhile, promised new freedom in "ever growing measure" for all citizens.

Western travelers arriving in Berlin from Poland said the purge of those authorities who either supported the rebels in last week's uprising or who failed to crack down quickly enough had filled prison cells with "scores" of party members, union officials and police officers. They said security police made wholesale arrests in a series of raids on the homes of suspect officials. More arrests are being made daily and as many as 3,000 persons, both rebels and official supporters, have been jailed, they said. The party backed up its actions in an article in the official Poznan party paper "Trybuna Ludu." It charged party and union bosses with "bureaucratic irregularities," "confusion" and "mistakes." The paper accused local leaders of being responsible for the uprising by failing to alleviate poor conditions in the city.

Fake Kidnapping Reunites Estranged Amarillo Family

HOUSTON, July 7—UP—An Amarillo family was reunited Saturday by what police termed a "fake kidnapping" staged by the wife in an effort to win back her estranged husband. Dr. and Mrs. John Faris of Amarillo decided Saturday to "take a little trip together and talk things over." The "kidnap victim," Cathy, 8, and another adopted child, Ray, 11, were going on the trip, too.

Dr. Faris, an Amarillo chiropractor, said he was beginning to believe that Cathy's story of being hidden in a closet by her foster mother while police searched for her for 24 hours "isn't entirely true." He said "Cathy has changed her story several times." Cathy allegedly disappeared from her bed Wednesday night. Police searched for her until she turned up "lost" on a city street. She told authorities her foster mother, Mrs. Eunice Faris, had taken her to her grandmother's and kept her hidden in a closet for 20 hours, even while police were in the house. Police arrested Mrs. Faris, her

Gray County Set To Buy $5,000 In U. S. Bonds

County Treasurer Ola Gregory reported Saturday that Gray County is about to purchase a $5,000 government bond with money soon to be on hand as a result of previously purchased bonds and money on hand in the permanent school fund. The county at present has $235,000 invested in government bonds. Of this amount, four $1,000 bonds matured this week. The treasurer will take $1,000 from the $2,037.71 on hand in the permanent school fund and add it to the $4,000 in maturing bonds and purchase the $5,000 bond for the county. The treasurer also reported that the annual report on the county's bonded indebtedness will probably be completed by mid-July. The report, after study by the County Commissioners Court, will be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts at Austin. The fiscal year is closed out each June 30. Last year's report showed that, on June 30, 1955, the county bore a $447,000 bonded indebtedness.

A NIGHT IN A CITY POLICE CAR Quiet Prowl Beat Turns Into Exciting Nightmare

By FRED M. PARKER
Pampa News Staff Writer

Last Monday I approached the editor and asked him about writing a feature on the local police. After much discussion, in which I had to convince him it would make a story, he gave his approval and I set out to get the approval of the Chief of Police and other city officials.

Thinking that Thursday night would be a quiet night I started riding in Patrol Car 1 about 5:30 p.m. with Patrolman Bill Robinson and, as I had hoped, the evening started off peacefully.

At 5:43 p.m. we recovered a bicycle that had been found in the weeds in the draw to the east of Central Park. We placed the bicycle in the patrol car and headed for the police department to leave it with other recovered bicycles.

While enroute to the station Car 2 reported that he had come across a wreck in the 200 block of south Cuyler, but that he didn't need assistance in making the investigation.

While at the station a call came in on a family disturbance on south Cuyler, so off we went. Upon arriving at the scene of the disturbance we found that a man had been beating up on his wife. After Robinson talked him into being peaceful we left as no one wanted to file charges against him.

We then returned to the station so that Robinson would work the desk while the desk sergeant went to supper.

While working the desk Robinson had a telephone discussion with a party involved in the previous family dispute but as no charges would be preferred by anyone we didn't go back.

PERFORMED GOOD DEED
At 7:30 p.m. while going south on Cuyler we noticed a car stalled in the Cuyler street underpass and went back and helped him to unlock the stuck gear-shift.

For the next hour everything was quiet and I was congratulating myself on picking a night when nothing was going on.

About 8:30 p.m. we received a call over the radio that two convalescing were racing on north Gillespie. When we arrived neither of the cars could be located so after driving around the area for several minutes we headed west on Francis.

After a couple of blocks we came across another motorist whose car was stalled in the middle of the street. We stopped to inquire about the trouble and found that the battery was dead so using a tow cable we pulled the car until the driver could get it started.

With this public service completed Robinson headed for the residence of Patrolman Dan Lewis who was to relieve him.

At 9:10 p.m. with the getting of a disturbance on north Ward. After talking about 10 minutes to settle the disturbance to everyone's satisfaction the two officers decided to see how the traffic was on the highways passing through Pampa.

While heading west on Brown they noticed a car driving at an excessive rate of speed and stopped it and issued the driver a citation for speeding. This was the first traffic ticket issued since I had begun riding in the patrol car.

At 9:40 p.m. the officers stopped a car for going through the red light at the intersection of Foster and Somerville. While issuing the ticket the radio notified us of a disturbance on Ripley.

Upon arrival at the scene of the disturbance, the officers were informed that a fight had been in progress between two neighbors but that they had stopped. The officers talked to both parties and found out that the argument had been over the parking places of their cars. One of the men had been infringing on the rights of the other. The disturbance was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned, we hoped.

At 10:05 p.m. the desk sergeant reported over the radio that a report had been made of boys stealing parts from cars on a used car lot on east Brown. The officers checked all of the used cars but could not find any boys and noticed nothing missing from the cars.

While checking the car lots the radio again cracked and informed all cars that a prowler was loose on north Doyle. Cars 1 and 2 arrived at the scene at about the same time and checked the area but could not find the prowler.

While driving around town checking business buildings later I had a discussion with the officers about the apprehension of prowlers and we came to the opinion that more of them could be caught if the residents of the neighborhood would continue their actions as if they had not seen the prowler until the police arrive. Too many prowlers are scared off by the actions of the people before the officers arrive.

From 10:30 until midnight everything was normal and I was thinking that I didn't have much of a story for my long hours in the car and as I totaled up the score for the night I found that two stranded motorists had been aided, one call of a family disturbance had been settled, two other disturbances had been settled, only two traffic citations had been issued, one bicycle had been recovered, one report of cars racing had been checked, and a lot of business establishments had been checked to see if anyone had broken in.

ATTEMPTED MURDER
About the time I was telling the officers I was ready to call it a night the radio blared forth and said, "Cars 1 and 2, there has been an attempted shooting at the 'Brown Derby.'" Without further discussion Lewis opened the Ford up and we made a record trip from the west side of town to the 100 block of west Foster.

All I can say about the ride is that the police cars should be equipped with extra strong safety belts and all occupants should be issued crash helmets as the dips in the streets of Pampa are murder when going as fast as the police cars go on a call of this nature.

When we arrived at the scene we found that a woman had shot her husband in the hand, as it was reported on the front page of the Friday edition of The News.

So what started out to be a routine report of a night in a city patrol car turned into a nightmare for this reporter and he didn't get home until about the time the milkman was making his deliveries.

After that one night in a Pampa police car I believe the officers when they say they never know what will happen next or what they have when the radio gives them an assignment. It could be a cat-in-a-tree or they could get shot at. They never know.

Brazilian Commissions Finished

Three Koreans Drown
SEOUL (UP)—Three persons were drowned Wednesday when they jumped into the Han River from a blazing boat, it was learned today.

Business On Borrowed Money
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—Officials of the Tallahassee Bank & Trust Co. opened for business eagerly today. DETROIT (UP)—Patrolman John Adams of the vice squad, presented Thursday with detective's badge 446, was surprised to learn it bears the same number as the statute which covers accounting and soliciting.

Rio de Janeiro is growing at the rate of some 70,000 persons a year.

Tobacco experts writing in "the tobacco situation" said the principal reasons for the gain in cigarette smoking are the sustained high level of personal income and the increase in the number of persons reaching smoking age. Another trend is increased consumption of filter tip cigarettes.

The use of cigarette types of tobacco does not appear to be increasing in line with the increase in the number of cigarettes being manufactured, the department said.

MOSCOW—United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, on reports of warlike movements by Israel on the Jordanian frontier:

"We are still in a situation here where complaints of this type and events which give rise to them are nothing of which too much should be made."

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, in a letter to a congressman, on why he is against a joint "atomic bank" for weapons and peaceful purposes at this time:

"I consider our fissionable material much too valuable to be placed in an atomic Fort Knox, for in existing world conditions the weapons stockpile must continue to have first call."

NOTICE is hereby given that the annual meeting of the lot owners of Fairview Cemetery Association will be held at the White Deer Land Office, 116 South Cuyler Street, Pampa, Texas, on July 20, 1956, at 3 p.m.

Snake Milker 'Survives' Diamond Back Rattler Bite

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Snake handler William Haast, whose blood is used as a serum for snake bite victims, today appeared to have won his latest bout with a rattlesnake.

Haast Friday received the 58th poisonous bite of his career. For 10 hours he remained on a hospital's critical list before he responded to serum treatment and was pronounced out of danger.

Haast was bitten hours after he was flown in a Navy jet in a futile attempt to save an 18-year-old girl hospitalized in New Orleans for a cobra bite. She died while the jet was in flight.

During a routine "venom-milking" demonstration later at his serpentarium Haast was bitten on the left hand by a four-foot Diamond Back Florida rattler.

He was showing tourists how he obtains poison for injections to immunize himself. His blood has been used to save four other snake bite victims in the past two years as a result of this self-immunization.

But Haast had built up immunity in himself mostly for nerve-attacking (neurotoxic) poison such as from the cobra.

Haast said he also gained immunity from 26 bites by blood-attacking (hemotoxic) snakes. He said his survival from these and the other types of bites proves he has immunity "from all snakes."

Mrs. Haast said this claim was borne out by his survival after the 58th bite Friday.

"The doctors said he'll be all right," Mrs. Haast told United Press. "He'll need a few days to recuperate. But it'll take more than a snake bite to keep him out of action for long."

Fifty Man Posse Hunts Former Mental Patient

SOMERVILLE, Tex. — UP — More than 50 lawmen stacked brush in piles, set it afire, and watchfully waited throughout the Friday night and early Saturday around a five-square mile area where they believed they had trapped a Negro who shot Constable Milton Lewis.

Lewis was hospitalized in Brenham. A doctor who operated and removed the bullet described his condition today as serious. Lewis failed to get off a shot at Halson, Janice, 15, was standing nearby.

Halson fled. A short time later, Charley Hart, a farmer who lives two miles south of Somerville, saw Halson cutting across his pasture, a gun in either hand. Hart said Halson opened fire, but never came close to hitting him.

A few hours later officers thought they had Halson up a tree around which bloodhounds being used to track him converged. But it turned out that the man up the tree was Sheriff Lewis Willard, who was leading the search.

Halson was released from the state hospital at Rusk four months ago in the custody of his grandmother, Friday, his father, Tilman Halson Sr., asked Lewis to come get his son and return him to the state hospital.

But, Lewis said, the Negro learned somehow that he was to be sent back. Lewis was sitting in his car a block from Somerville's main street when Halson appeared and opened fire on him. He fired five times and hit Lewis once in the stomach.

Noise Has Charms That Escape Roving Reporter

By SID SCHEINER

If there's anything I hate it's loud, sudden noises. My biggest enemy in the world is that Baby Ben monster which wakes me up in the morning. My first impulse on most of the 365 days of every year is frankly one of mayhem. I want to grab that jangling monster and rip out its main spring by the roots.

Lately, me and my subconscious have teamed up with malice of forethought on a system guaranteed to foil the monster. Just about a minute before the monster strikes the witching hour of 7 a.m., my subconscious, which is a kind of automatic pilot the human system uses for sleeping, switches me back to conscious operation with a mysterious nudge.

Still groggy, but determined, I reach over to the end table and shut the monster off before the thing can make a nervous wreck out of me in just two seconds of loud, sudden clamor. This human safety valve technique takes split second timing. If something goes wrong and the alarm rings a full three seconds, I have my doctor's permission to take a double dose of my king-size alarm clock pills.

Wednesday morning my subconscious safety valve woke me up with nine seconds to spare. Happily, I grabbed the monster, pushed in the torture knob, thanked my personal saints and rolled back over for a few stolen winks. That was a mistake.

OPEN SEASON
A few seconds later some sort of H-bomb exploded on East Francis just below my window. After the dust cleared I remember — this was the morning of July 4th and open season on citizens with jangled nerves until sanctuary came at the stroke of midnight. I gritted my teeth in the knowledge I had performed my Baby Ben ritual for no good reason. In short, the monster had triumphed once again.

Suddenly a new terror seized me. The phone was ringing. I promptly swung into action. My answering phone ritual will no doubt amaze you. I have to run the length of my long room apartment, down a long flight of steps, bang hard left to my landlady's living room, flip open the door to the foyer and pick up the phone, if by this time it still happens to be ringing. There's one important step I neglected to mention in my answering the phone ritual. First, I put on my pants.

By official survey, nine out of ten times the landlady's phone rings my hazardous charge is in response to what is laughingly referred to in some circles as a wrong number. This particular time was one of those rare occasions when the call actually happened to be for me.

At the other end of the line, Lewis Caudill, Pampa News Circulating manager, was asking me if I was in the mood to do some circulating. Lewis wanted to know if I could make the southern run for his department. For mercenary reasons I won't go into now, I agreed to make the southern run, hung up, returned to my quarters, washed, dressed, breakfasted and reported to the plant for action.

THE SOUTHERN RUN
The southern run, you understand, is generally not so bad. It means loading up my car with Pampa News bundles destined for delivery at points along the southern route, namely Lefors, a mailbox somewhere between Lefors and Holloway Station, Holloway Station itself and south to McLean. The added loot I was to receive in the nature of a mileage bonus enhanced the whole proposition. But, I knew then, what I know now, I'd surely have requested combat pay too.

At Lefors I received my first full-scale baptism of fire. One moment the street where I made the drop-off was disarmingly quiet, almost like no-man's-land a minute before "High Noon," then suddenly, seemingly from out of nowhere, firecrackers belabored me on all sides. And so on, from ambush to ambush, along the scenic southern route.

As I dropped my bundles and ran, I began to vision myself as a modern Minute Man, a four-wheeled Paul Revere, spreading the news, if not the alarm, when the bad thought occurred to me, if the kids today had better aim, the alarm might have been spreading me.

Tell you one thing though, this being a presidential election year and everything, the candidate who comes right out and crusades against loud, sudden noises will get my votes, all of 'em, often as I can get away with it.

Some 'Soft Spots' In Nation's Mid-Year Economy Report

NEW YORK (UP)—Banks, business, industries and individuals reported evidence of scattered "soft spots" in the economy at mid-year but they agreed unanimously that there was no cause for alarm.

Many of those people affected by smaller paychecks, unemployment or reduced demand for their products said they expected to regain prosperity equal to 1955 before the year was out.

The softening showed up mostly in the automobile industry, home-building, the sale of farm machinery and in the slowly rising cost of living that some families were finding difficult to meet.

The steel strike still was too young to be classified as a soft spot but reports indicated it might cost the economy $2 billion in lost wages and production if it lasted as long as a month.

Reports from Washington said a long steel strike would not only upset the relative industrial peace of 1956 but also might stiffen employer resistance to wage demands in other industries during 6 million cars would be sold in George Romney, president of American Motors, said fewer than 1956. But he said this was mostly due to "substantial overbuying" in 1955. And he predicted this condition would disappear by the latter part of 1956.

John L. McCaffrey, chairman of the board of the International Harvester Co. said retail sales of farm equipment have been slow and accumulated inventories have caused some cutbacks and layoffs. He said farmers were reluctant to buy machinery because of their dissatisfaction with commodity prices, drought conditions in many parts of the nation and uncertainty as to what would come of federal farm legislation.

Shoes From Poultry Skins
LONDON (UP)—Workers in Czechoslovakia are making shoes out of the skin of geese and turkey feet, the Czech news agency reported Friday. The report said production is booming at the Raczanka Producers Cooperative.

Greeks Invite Nasser
ATHENS (UP)—King Paul has invited Egypt's president Gamal Abdel Nasser to visit Greece, an official announcement said today. The date of the visit was not fixed.

Army Moves Inland
LA ROCHELLE, France (UP)—The Atlantic Command of the U.S. Army said today it will move its headquarters from this seaport to Poitiers, 85 miles inland.

CORNERED — after the most daring spy raid of the Civil War fails, Fess Parker as James J. ### Olga San Juan Makes Her Return Via TV Tonight

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Back in the '40s one of the reigning sensations in movies was an energetic Puerto Rican singer named Olga San Juan. After seven years off the screen, fiery Olga returns to show business on television tonight.
"I was one actress who meant it when she announced she'd give up work for a while to tend to her marriage. After she wed actor Edmund O'Brien, Olga appeared on Broadway in "Paint Your Wagon" and then dropped out of show business.
At home she has been busy with her two daughters, Maria, 6, and Bridget, 7. And she hasn't rolled her big, hazel eyes in front of a movie camera since "The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend" in 1949.
"But Olga launches her comeback by doing a guest appearance on TV's "The Rosemary Clooney show," aired tonight in many cities.
"I've been busy at home watching the children, and watching Ed's career," said Olga, rounder but otherwise unchanged from her years of being a housewife. Crucially, she appeared shy and nervous about being interviewed again after all those years of privacy.
"Eddie has his own production company now and he's been very active since he won the academy award," she went on, steering the conversation to her husband.
"And me? Oh, I took the kids to school for a while, until I made them so late I had to put them on the school bus. Then my husband is a great lover of people, and he likes having friends around for barbecues on Sunday.

"Maybe I'm lazy. I just never did anything about working. Then Rosemary Clooney asked me to do this show — she's a friend of mine."

Blanton Wins Broadmoor Women's Meet

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 7-UP-Fifty-one-year-old Mrs. Patti Blanton of Enid, Okla., wore down 19-year-old Diane Reed of Lakewood, Colo., late Saturday to win the 39-hole finals of the Golf tourney by the margin of a heartbeat putt.

The Colorado College lass, never more than two holes behind her through the grueling day, dubbed her second shot on the long, par five 39th hole.

At the end of 15 holes Mrs. Blanton was one up, having carded an 81 to Miss Reed's 82. But at the end of 24 they were even again, and both tiring.

In the consolation championship, Miss Bell defeated Beth Stone of Muskogee, Okla., 3 and 2, with a brilliant round of 76 - four under par and three strokes better than her medal score in the qualifying round.

Kluszewski Now Holds Nt'l Homer Lead; Redlegs Win

CINCINNATI, July 7-UP-Ted Kluszewski took over the undisturbed National League home run leadership Saturday night with his 22nd circuit clout to lead the Cincinnati Redlegs in a 5-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals that cemented their hold in first place.

Redleg righthander Brooks Lawrence, the major leaguer's leading pitcher, appeared in relief and gained credit for his 12th victory without a defeat.

The Cardinals jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when the first three batters singled against Johnny Klippstein.

The Cards' Vinegar Bend Mizell clung to the 2-0 lead until the sixth when Wally Post clouted his 15th homer over the center field fence.

Johnny Temple of Cincinnati was ejected from the game in the last of the sixth by plate umpire Lee Ballanfant after he had been retired.

The A's got rid of southpaw Herb Score in four innings. They had lost seven decisions to him in two seasons against no wins, but this time they pounded him for eight hits and five runs before he was removed for a pinch-hitter.

McDougal, the hottest active bat in the Yankees line up with Mickey Mantle injured, drove in three runs with his fifth homer of the year and also had two singles.

McDermott had trouble with his control and had the Senators baffled with the exception of his old batterymate, Ed Fitzgerald, who got three of the five hits the Yankees lefty yielded.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel almost started Mantle Saturday night. He watched the 24-year-old slugger in pre-game running drills and was undecided until the last moment.

Stengel did say he was "pleased" with the way Mantle's injured right knee was responding and hinted Mickey might start in Tuesday's All-Star game after all.

Stengel said the leg should be rested.

Cluszewski Now Holds Nt'l Homer Lead; Redlegs Win

to life with five runs in the seventh inning Saturday night to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-3 and end a six game winning streak for righthander Rodger Craig and a three-game streak for the world champions.

A bases loaded single by Willie Jones off reliever Clem Labine and a bunt single by Ted Kazanski which batted home a run were high spots of the inning as the Phils beat Craig for the first time in three decisions over a two-year period.

Saul Rogovin, who gave way to a pinch batter in the seventh won his fourth game of the season and his second over Brooklyn although he trailed when he left the game.

The Tigers amassed an additional six runs in the next inning on a variety of six hits, featuring doubles by Al Kaline and Ray Boone.

The loser was Dick Donovan, who started for Chicago. He was followed on the mound by Dixie Howell, Morris Martin, Connie Conners and Paul LaPalme.

The victory before 26,875 lifted the Phils from the cellar and set Craig's season record at 8-3. Rogovin is 4-4.

WASHINGTON, July 7-UP-A pair of three-run home runs by Bill Skowron and Gil McDougald led the New York Yankees to their fourth straight victory Saturday night, 8-3, over the Washington Senators to increase their American League lead to five games.

McDermott gained credit for his second win as a Yankee and came close to halting his first complete game of the year. But after he issued his seventh walk to open the ninth inning, Tom Sturdivant relieved to close out the game.

McDougal, the hottest active bat in the Yankees line up with Mickey Mantle injured, drove in three runs with his fifth homer of the year and also had two singles.

McDermott had trouble with his control and had the Senators baffled with the exception of his old batterymate, Ed Fitzgerald, who got three of the five hits the Yankees lefty yielded.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel almost started Mantle Saturday night. He watched the 24-year-old slugger in pre-game running drills and was undecided until the last moment.

Bucks Bounced

NEW YORK, July 7-UP-Johnny Antonelli bested Bob Friend for the third straight time this season Saturday when Hank Thompson singled with the bases filled and two out in the eighth inning to give the New York Giants a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Antonelli received credit for his eighth victory of the season although he was replaced by Hoyt Wilhelm when Frank Thomas opened the ninth with a single.

Friend carried a 1-0 lead into the seventh inning but Daryl Spencer hit his eighth homer of the season with two out in that frame.

The loss was the fourth straight and seventh of the season for Friend, who has not won a game since June 18 and failed in five tries to notch his 12th victory.

Another 5,881 children roared with delight as the peppery Piersall lined a single into left field off starting and losing pitcher Billy Loes, scoring Ted Williams with the margin of victory.

After Piersall singled Mike Fornelene came on to retire the next three men and pitched three-hit ball the rest of the way. However, his brilliant relief effort was wasted as ace right hander Tommy Brewer threw a seven - hitter to notch his 11th win of the season and third in a row over Baltimore this year.

Brewer, a three - game loser, struck out eight and walked three in his winning effort. Loes was charged with his second loss against a single win by giving up seven of Boston's 10 hits in the two official innings he worked.

Francona and Mickey Vernon each had three hits to lead their respective team attacks.

Leallah Gallops Home To Win Race By Wide Margin

CHICAGO, July 7—UP—Charlton Clay's Leallah galloped home eased up under jockey Willie Hartack Saturday to capture the 28th running of the $95,180 Arlington Lassie by four lengths over Donald McKellar's Splendor.

It was the third straight year that a Nasrullah filly won the event with Delta triumphing two years ago and Judy Rullah last year.

Hartack, on a winning spree, captured his fifth race of the day aboard the Clay filly to run his record to 17 wins in four days and 32 in the 18 days of the Arlington meeting.

Leallah, winning her fourth race in as many starts, and Hartack were far the favorite of the 24,839 fans and early in the betting the horse was 1-9 on the mutual board. She closed at 1-5 and paid $2.40 to win and $2.20 to place.

Splendor, ridden by John Heckmann, never was in connection until the stretch. Then she came on the outside to pass the early pace-setter, another Nasrullah, Nantua, owned by Clayborne Farm, and take second money to pay $3 in the mutuels.

No show betting was allowed and of the $99,954 in the win pool, $70,675 was on Leallah, and of the $78,313 bet to place, $59,263 was on the Clay filly.

Slugger Mantle May Have Role As Pinch-Hitter In Classic

By ERNEST BARCELLA
WASHINGTON, July 7—(UP)—The biggest question in Washington Saturday night is not whether President Eisenhower will still try for a second term but will Mickey Mantle be able to play in Tuesday's all-star game?

The political pundits think Mr. Eisenhower will say "yes."

But not even Casey Stengel, manager of the American League All-Stars, knows the answer to the Mantle enigma.

"I dunno," the old professor mumbled, "I gotta see."

Mantle, who rolled up the biggest popular vote in the All-Star balloting, said he feels no pain in the right knee he injured in the first game of the Fourth of July double header with Boston.

Mantle, wearing an elastic stocking knee brace, said he can play. Then for emphasis, he belted a batting practice pitch out of the park. But Stengel, whose New York Yankees are playing a three-game set here this weekend, wouldn't say yes and wouldn't say no.

May Be Pinch-Hitter
The guessing is that Mickey Mantle will get into Tuesday's classic only as a pinch-hitter. Griffith Stadium is where he has performed some of his most notable long-distance heroics. In 1953, he hit a 565-footer over the left field bleachers here—the longest home run of his career. And on opening day this year he smashed two 500-footers over the 31-foot centerfield barrier.

A lesser mystery is the choice of starting pitchers for this 23rd clash between the best in the American and National Leagues. Stengel is expected to choose between the two premier southpaws of his league—Chicago's Billy Pierce and his own Whitey Ford. He indicated he was leaning to Pierce.

"That other feller (Pierce) has won eight straight," Stengel observed. "My guy was having trouble lately."

Counts on Bob Friend
National League Manager Walt Aiston of the Brooklyn Dodgers was said to have been counting on Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates as his starter. But Friend pitched Saturday against the New York Giants. Robin Roberts, ace of the Philadelphia Phillies, may get the assignment. Aiston Saturday picked Stan Lopata of the Phillies to replace injured catcher Del Crandall of the Braves.

Stengel also made a change in his squad. He chose southpaw Herb Score of the Indians to replace Ray Narleski, the Cleveland relief ace who injured his arm on Tuesday.

The loss of Mantle would deprive the American Leaguers of their biggest gun in their bid to win their 14th all-star game. Mickey is leading the league in every important batting department—hits, runs batted in, home runs and batting average. If he fails to start, as appears likely, Jimmy Piersall will replace him in centerfield—flanked by Ted Williams in left and Al Kaline of Detroit in right.

ROSWELL—The Pampa Oilers evened their three game series at one piece with the Roswell Rockets Friday night at Fair Park as they out-blasted the hometowners, 13-11.

Oiler batsmen pounded a pair of Rocket pitchers for 19 hits in scoring their 13 runs as four Roswell miscues aided the Pampa cause.

The Rockets 11 runs came on 11 hits and three bobbles by Oiler fielders. At one time the Rockets threatened seriously in the ninth inning when Ernie Bartolomei was called in to put out the fire after Hoyt Benedict had relieved starter Art Perina. Gene Payte relieved starter Gene Armstrong on the mound for the Rockets in the seventh frame.

Pampa jumped off to a two-run lead in the top of the first, adding another single tally in the third. The Rockets went ahead by one run in her fourth inning. Then the Oilers regained the lead with three runs in the fifth, added two more in the sixth and seventh, a single tally in the eighth and a pair of runs in the ninth.

Hal Simpson's home run in the seventh added a fifth run for the Rockets while six more crossed the plate in the last half of the ninth inning due to two Pampa errors. A total of 11 men batted for the Rockets in the ninth inning.

A leading batsman for the Oilers was Jim Martin with three hits including a home run, a double and a single in five trips to the plate while Johnny Bruga came up with a triple and three singles in a total of six trips to the plate. # Here's How The 1920 Harvesters Would Stack Up Against The Present Green - And - Golders

By SID SCHEINER
Pampa News Staff Writer
Could Dempsey whip Marciano? Are mantle's out of the park drives more prodigious bits than those of Babe Ruth? Was the "flying wedge" a more effective offensive weapon than today's split? If aff'd, we'll never know. But the controversy goes on forever.

Let's go back some 35 years and ask some of the Pampa High grid stars of 1920 how their team would have fared against, say last year's Pampa Harvesters.

Charles Duenkel, local mortician, who played end and back on the vintage eleven said, "There's no comparison. We'd have run right over 'em. Sure, we had fewer boys, but they were bigger and better players."

Ray Wilson, Gray County Auditor, and quarterback of the '20 Harvesters had this to say on the question: "Can't say who would win if we played last year's Harvesters. The game today is a great deal more open than the brand we used to play. The 1920-21 team were bigger and older than now — iron men — the kind who went the full 60 minutes. We only had about 15 players on the team. We didn't use much of this brush, off-balance blocking — we went in for the all-out block."

"On the other hand," continued Wilson, "The 1956 squad had a good deal more manpower than we did. Now they even have enough personnel for defensive and offensive platoons and substitutes besides, and all kinds of specialists. Nowadays, of course, the Harvester coaching is far superior in technique to what we had back in the Dark Ages. Another thing, our 1920 bunch even had to supply their own jerseys and equipment. No, the game has changed so much in 35 years I would hesitate to say if the 1920 Harvesters would have beaten the 1956 variety."

NECKTIE TACKLING
D. B. Jameson, of Phillips' Petroleum production department locally, and left end of the 1920 grid team, was in better shape physically, but modern football is much more deceptive than what we had. We played straight football — power football. Our line was mighty good — mighty tough. And our tackling was much better, lower and harder than the present variety. Too much necktie tackling now. The backs didn't drag along an extra five yards like they do today — not after we hit 'em.

The Harvester Annual, Volume I, 1921, published by the students of Pampa High and dedicated to the Board of Trustees: Pres. McMurry, Sec. Green, Ledrick, Daugherty and Walburg, also throws a little light on the gridiron fate of the 1920 team.

The annual reports, "We entered football for the first time in several years. Every man on the team was inexperienced, many had never seen a game before. We played seven games and won two."

Let's turn the clock back to the autumn of 1920 and what do we find. Pampa is a town of less than a thousand population and is trying to wrangle its way into the Texas Interscholastic League. Opponents of the 1920 Harvesters include Claude, Clarendon, McLean, Panhandle, Plains, Shamrock, Miami, and Canadian. The box formation is greatly in vogue and so is the spread formation which TCU Coach Dutch Myers employed.

The '55 squad, she said, "They were big country boys and most of them older and better developed physically than the high school boys of today."

Mrs. Meers also cast a few interesting sidelights on her husband's grid activities and the training methods in vogue back in 1920.

"Lewis," she reports, "had the nickname 'Chief' because he has such high cheek bones. Once, when we were playing a rough game against Canadian we learned the password of the Wildcats was 'Get the Indian.' Our coach slipped Lewis a note which read, 'Keep sweat — but keep going.' It literally translated meant don't get mad."

"What the coach didn't know," added Mrs. Meers, "was that Lewis played better when he was mad. And, do you know, we still have that note."

Mrs. Meers also recalled the weird training ritual of the 1920 squad when as many of the boys that could get away crowded into cars, one of which was chauffeured by Earl Lewis Meers, the Chief's uncle, and drove to Ledrick's Ranch by the Canadian and camped on Chicken Creek for about ten days, like professional boxers preparing for a championship match.

Mrs. Meers states, "The boys camped near a swimming hole and began to round into shape and work out their plays. They even took along a camp cook in the person of Charlie Duenkel's dad. Some of us, myself and some others, packed a picnic basket for ourselves and went to visit the camp, also bringing our heroes some welcome supplies to the bargain. We watched the boys practice and take long distance runs."

Well, there you have the opinions of some of the oldtimers who would have figured in our mythical football contest. Most felt downright confident they would have upended last year's grid crop. What do you think? We could think of no more fitting a finish for this article than to quote an anonymous poem from the Harvester Annual, Vol. I, apropos even today:

"The football men are in the game As they roll in sand-burrs and grass. Times are changed, but the cries shall not pass."

Big Ballplayers, Not Bunny Is Causing Homer Splurge

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CINCINNATI — (NEA) — The Reds leading the camomaning in the home run epidemic has Dave Grote, the National League tub thumper, talking bigger than a Texan.

It's not the ball or smaller parks endangering lives in distant states and streets. It's the bigger and better men and more of them.

Beyond this, Warren C. Giles perhaps puts his finger on the principal reason why more ballplayers swat a baseball like Sam Snead does a golf ball.

"It's the outgrowth of the chance in scouting techniques since World War II," says President Giles of the NL. "Scouts look for the power hitter. Where the scout used to be on the lookout for the speedy kid good at hitting behind the runner, and other skills, the primary question now is, 'How far can he hit the ball?' These factors also hold good in minor league camps, where the major leaguers of tomorrow are groomed to hit the ball for distance."

This was strikingly illustrated early this season when Casey Stengel was asked if the Yankees would be interested in trading for Billy Goodman of the Red Sox. Manager Stengel thought that one over for two or three minutes, and said, "Goodman doesn't hit the ball far enough." The versatile Goodman led the American League with 354 in 1950, has a life-time average of .308.

When Baby Ruth towered over the field, Ty Cobb called him a home run specialist. Everybody didn't swing for the entire distance in those days.

Considerable research gives Dave Grote figures that geneticists could have provided offhand. Each generation of Americans is bigger than the one before. Present day football and basketball squads furnish the quickest evidence of this.

Actually, memory should have beaten Grote to the punch, as far as this department is concerned.

Last year, Ed Walsh — whom they called "Big Ed" when he won 40 games in 1908 — was talking with the mob at a banquet at Hartford, Conn.

Granted Ed was not as robust as he was in his playing days, but after looking him over you still had to ask him where he got the "Big" nickname.

Thomson To Shoot For World Title

HOYLAKE, Eng. (UP) — Aussie Peter Thomson, who succeeded where the great Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen failed by winning the British Open golf championship a third straight time, will shoot for his next title in the "world" championship in Chicago, Aug. 9-12.

The handsome, 26-year old star from "down under," who scored his historic third Open victory Friday as fellow Aussie Lew Hoed won winning the Wimbledon tennis championship, outlined his plans after finishing the 72-hole circuit here with a two-over-par 286.

After a "short holiday," he will play with the British Commonwealth vs. the British Isles team in the annual competition later this month at Sandwich, England, and then it's on to the so-called "world" competition at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter club, and its rich prize list.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, the only two Americans to qualify for the last two rounds, finished well behind Thomson. Souchak was in a tie for seventh at 294, Stranahan was 12th at 296.

Fraley's Facts And Figures

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE (Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures — Baseball observers said that Chuck Dressen was a bit "tetched" when he traded away pitchers Bob Porterfield and Mickey McDermott but they aren't saying much now as the pair sport a combined record of three wins against 12 defeats.

"Whittin' Charlie" privately made a bet that McDermott would win more games for the Yanks this year than Porterfield would for the Red Sox. As usual, he has a point of argument. Porterfield is 2-8 for the Red Sox and McDermott 1-4 for the Yankees—but Mickey has won two other games on his pinch hitting.

The Olympic games don't start until Nov. 22 at Melbourne but the United States already has won a championship. That's the one for "most warships in harbor." We'll have a squadron of 11 with British sending seven... which probably explains why Russia has indicated it may house its athletes aboard warships instead of at the Olympic village.

Boros Pushes Middlecoff
The pro golf contingent has a tough time beating big Julius Boros when the price is right. The "Moose" has won only five tournaments since he turned pro in 1951 yet he is outranked as a money winner only by Cary Middlecoff, who has captured many more tournaments. Middlecoff earned $131,565 during that five-year period. Boros has banked $127,436 — with his five big victories worth $91,200... the hammering Hungarian picked up a mere $75,000 by taking the fat world championship twice.

One of the most inspiring stories of sport success concerns little John Bennett, the former Marquette broad jumper who will represent Uncle Sam in the Olympic games and is given a chance to crack Jesse Owens' 28 foot, 5 1/2 inch world record.

For the information of you lads who think you're too small for big time athletics, Bennett stands only five feet, seven inches and weighs but 145 pounds. Yet he has broad jumped 26 feet, 3 1/2 inches, run the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds and high jumped six feet, 5 1/2 inches.

New Southwest Contender
Texas Tech, getting ready to move into Southwest Conference play, isn't fooling. Of the first 31 incoming freshman football players, 19 captained their high school football teams... and Tech never was a pushover.

Bolling Is Only Part-Time Player In Major Leagues

TODAY'S SPORTS
By LLOYD NORTHAUD
United Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (UP) — Second baseman Frank Bolling of the Detroit Tigers is unique in one respect. He's the only part-time player in the major leagues.

Bolling accepted an early release from the Army last week with the stipulation that he enroll in college for at least one term.

By taking morning classes at Wayne University, he's able to play in all of Detroit's home games plus weekend games on the road.

"It's a little rough," the 24-year-old insider from Mobile, Ala., admitted. "I have classes from eight in the morning until noon Monday, Wednesday and Friday and from seven until 10 in the morning on Tuesday and Thursday."

Playing baseball after classes and on the weekends doesn't leave much time for study.

"And I'm kind of tired when I get out to the ball park," Bolling said. "I have to get up about 5:30 on the mornings when I have seven o'clock classes."

Bolling pointed out that the early release he received was no special favor on the part of the Army.

"Anyone who has served 21 months in the Army is eligible for an early release to further his education," he said. "There are thousands of servicemen who have taken such releases to go to college, but I guess I'm the only major league player who has accepted one."

Frank figures playing baseball even part-time is better than staying in the Army.

"The pay is better for one thing," Bolling quipped.

five days without swinging a bat. You don't keep a sharp batting eye that way," he said.

But statistics to date don't indicate that Bolling's batting eye has suffered any. He's currently hitting a shade over .300 whereas he batted only .236 before entering the service.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — When Rube Walker hit the first triple of his five-year career with the Brooklyn Dodgers, most of his teammates looked for a way to kid the slow-footed catcher.

They found a simple way to do it. The ball slammed against a billboard in right center field. When it hit, it did crazy things. It hopped straight up, then came down exactly in the spot fielders were not. It was a juiced-up performance by the ball. The billboard it kicked off advertised high-voltage gasoline.

Top Jockey Star In Holiday Races

CHICAGO (UP) — Willie Hartack, defending national riding champion, was the top jockey star of the July Fourth holiday, winning five races at Arlington Park. He steered Sir Tribal ($4,600) to victory in the featured $25,200 Stars and Stripes Handicap and also won with Fast Dance ($5,400), Greek Game ($3,600), Tropic King ($7,600) and King Shannon ($4,600).

Dunlap's of Pampa

Peg O' Pampa

WELL IT'S OVER ... and everything has returned to normal... or almost ... A few die-hards are still popping 'em off ... but for the most part, peace and quiet reigns again ... the youngsters are back in a normal routine after the excitement of the Fourth of July ...

Great joy, especially after a sudden change of circumstances, is apt to be silent, and dwells rather in the heart than on the tongue. (Henry Fielding)

POTPOURRI ... Florence Esmond ... whom Peg has not seen all summer ... had a visitor recently ... Peg hears ... her sister-in-law who was enroute to New Mexico ... The F. A. Carys had a wonderful vacation ... a whole month ... visited in New Orleans, Washington, D. C. ... New York ... places in Vermont ... and Niagara Falls ...

We ask God to forgive us for our evil thoughts and evil temper, but rarely, if ever, ask him to forgive us our madness. (R. W. Dale)

AROUND AND ABOUT ... Clotilde Thompson is back from her vacation ... and says she had a marvelous time ... went with Mrs. Johnnie Weathered ... visited in San Diego ... Long Beach ... and Los Angeles ... visited the George Vineyards in L. A. ... and did some sight-seeing in Salt Lake City and Colorado Springs enroute home ...

Laughter is the corrective force which prevents us from becoming cranks. (Henri Bergson)

SOME PAMPA BOYS are really in for a big treat the next few weeks ... they left this week for an 18-day canoe trip in Canada ... bet it's up around Minnesota ... there's a place up there that's just one lake after another ... no roads and little habitation ... about the only way to get around in it is by boat ...

Joys are our wings; sorrows our spurs. (Jean Paul Richter)

LAURELS ... Peg was told a wonderful thing this week ... about a charming and wonderful woman ... Julia McKernan ... Julia is an active and very enthusiastic worker with the Pampa cancer group ... she puts her whole heart and soul ... and all her energies into it ...

The consciousness of having done a splendid action is itself a sufficient reward. (Cicero)

FAMBLING ... and that is what Peg seems to be doing lately ... hop-skip-and-jumping around from subject to subject and back again! ... More Pampa vacationers ... Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Williams visited their son, Carl, and his family in Denver this week ...

No man who continues to add something to the material, intellectual and moral well-being of the place in which he lives, is left long without proper reward. (Booker T. Washington)

THAT'S IT ... for this week ... will be winging my way back next week ... and so I'll be off with this parting thought ... a quote from George Elliot ... "The most solid comfort one can fall back upon is the thought that the business of one's life is to help in some small way to reduce the sum of ignorance, degradation and misery on the face of this beautiful earth."

MR. AND MRS. CARL B. MAYES (Photo by Smith Photographers, San Antonio)

Myrlene Anderson and Carl H. Mayes Are United In Marriage In San Antonio

Miss Myrlene Anderson of San Antonio and Carl H. Mayes of Pampa were united in marriage at 8 p.m. June 16, in the First Baptist Church of San Antonio. Dr. Perry F. Webb officiated for the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert B. Anderson of San Antonio, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Mayes, 1333 N. Starkweather, Detroit, Mich.

The couple was married before a setting of palms, candelabra with white tapers, and baskets of white gladioli, greenery and white calladium. The altar arrangement was of white gladioli and the kneeling pillow was of white satin. The chancel was decorated with palms and candelabra and arrangements of white gladioli and white calladium. Pews were marked with white satin bows and greenery.

All wore identical gowns of white chiffon over tulle and taffeta. The long torso bodices were shirred, and the bouffant skirts were floor length. They wore scalloped picture hats of white illusion trimmed with pink and their jewelry consisted of small cultured pearl earrings and cultured pearl necklaces, gifts from the bride. Each carried a heart-shaped bouquet of pink roses with pink satin streamers.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Ann Manning of New Braunfels and Miss Melody Moran of San Antonio. Both wore dresses and hats identical to those of the bridesmaids. They carried smaller bouquets of pink roses and wore single strands of pearls, gifts from the bride. Darlene Mayes of Pampa, niece of the bridegroom, Diane Lorraine Driehodt of San Antonio, Ray Lynn Howell of San Antonio and Sherry Lynn Howell of Del Rio, were flower girls. They wore white floor-length gowns and their headpieces were bands of white lace

MATURE PARENT

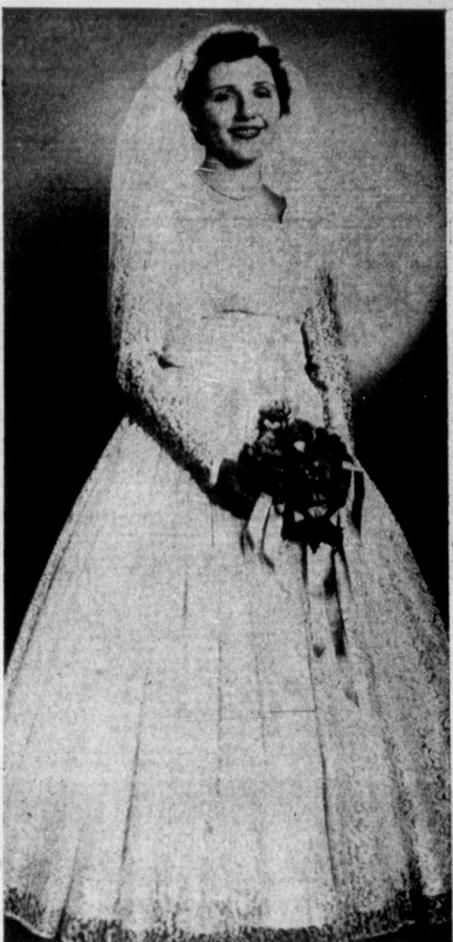

By MRS. MUREL LAWRENCE At 14, Ida is pretty scatterbrained. Before she left for school the other morning, her mother asked her to do an errand. But after school she and a friend fell into a discussion of their feeling for Eddie Fisher. So interesting was it that Ida forgot to pick up the green thread her mother wanted. When she got home without it, her mother said, "Can't I ever rely on you for anything? I reminded you I wanted that green thread three times this morning."

Mrs. Fred Palmer Feted With Shower

Mrs. Fred Palmer Jr., the former Barbara Ann Bounds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bounds of Mt. Pleasant, was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Gerlie Shaw, 521 Hazel. Co-hostesses were Mmes. Gene Shaw, Jim Norton, and Ray Graham. The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations. Vows were exchanged at 8 p.m. Friday in the Central Baptist Church by Miss Leona Attaway and Bill Willis. Rev. Carroll B. Ray officiated for the double-ring service. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Attaway, west of city and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Willis, 704 Lefors. Decorations in the church included baskets of white gladioli and candelabra with white tapers. Miss Sheila Lemons was organist, and Mrs. John Christy sang "Because." Shower Presented For Marcheta Hall

Miss Marcheta Hall, bride-elect of J. N. Wright, was honored with a bridal shower in the First Baptist Church parlor recently. Hostesses were Mrs. Ray Dudley, Mrs. Kyle Hall, Mrs. Ralph Sloan, Miss Charlotte Hoggatt, Miss Janice McWright, Mrs. Ralph Gardner, and Mrs. W. B. Taylor. Corsages of white carnations tied with aqua ribbon were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Roy Hall, and Mrs. Everett Day, guardian of the prospective bridegroom.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth made by Mrs. Vera Lard's mother, and the centerpiece was a white bird cage filled with white gladioli, tied with aqua streamers. Refreshments of fruit-juice punch and white cake, decorated with the bride and bridegroom's names and two love birds in aqua, were served. Miss Janice McWright presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Jerry Sloan served the cake. Miss Charlotte Hoggatt assisted the bride-elect with her gifts. Background music was provided by Miss Carol Paxson. Approximately 50 people attended the shower.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Attaway wore a beige shantung dress with a lace bodice. Mrs. Willis, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a navy blue lace dress. Both wore corsages of white carnations. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church's Fellowship Hall. The serving table was covered with a white organdy cloth, centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations. Miss Mary Nell Willis, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake, and Mrs. Ronald Scott presided at the punch bowl.

For the wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Upon returning, the couple will be at home at 810 N. Advertisement for 'BABY' featuring a baby's face and text: 'NS WP Thurs BABY By BETSY WADE NEA Staff Writer Small Babies seem to get sick much less frequently than their elders, so this need not be a drawback if an air trip is planned. If the plane is air conditioned, be sure to carry an extra blanket or two. It's lovely to see a Baby friendly to dogs and cats because he loves the ones at home. However, as soon as he is able to understand, try to explain about approaching the strange animal "since he may not be like Woofie."

Well-Dressed Man
Likes Black Shoes

The smart young executive sets the pace in more formal dressing for summer business wear. He is cool, calm and correct in his business attire. His suits follow the Ivy League tradition. His first choice in shoes is black. This summer the choice is wide, both in styles and leathers. In addition to the basic black polished calf there is a wide variety in the new grains. Tanners have worked marvels with what used to be a staple for casual wear.

While maintaining their wearing qualities, there are grains as soft and supple as suede. They take a really handsome town shoe, alone or in combination with mesh or fabric. Lighter weight, more supple leathers are a feature, just as summer suit fabrics makes much of lightness and coolness, plus the ability to hold their shape. The whole picture of what the well-dressed man wears for business has turned to smart conservatism.

By MRS. VERN SAVAGE
Pampa Garden Club

Why not consider the garden lilies if you have been tempted by their million-dollar look, but hesitated for fear they were hard to grow? Do not deprive yourself any longer!

First of all, lilies need sunlight, with few exceptions, plus good drainage of soil and air. The greatest single cause of failure with lilies is lack of adequate soil preparation. You can supply their needs without difficulty if you prepare the soil well in advance of planting time.

You can plan your lily garden so as to have blooms almost the entire season, and the colors can be selected to combine with other perennials. What could be more beautiful than a border of lilies in the background and perennial phlox in the foreground!

Lilies like to spread their roots in a cool moist soil. To maintain this, spade ample peat into the soil, but mulch the surface with a coarse material or plant a ground cover. Lilies don't need cultivating when properly planted, as their roots are close to the surface.

Follow the planting and feeding directions that come with the purchase of lily bulbs carefully. Avoid planting lilies among flowers with vivid color. Masses of blooms over-shadow the beauty of the lily. Contrasting and harmonizing color masses are desirable. To work out pleasing combinations of plants is the fascinating phase of gardening. It can easily become a life-time occupation!

All still and lily-scented
The garden seemed to say,
Oh, weary one, come enter
And cast your cares away.
For tall and white the lilies
Like guardian angels stood,
To ward away the evil
And encompass the good.

"Backgrounds For Kitchens" Program Presented At Home Demonstration Club

"Backgrounds for Kitchens" was the program presented by Miss Helen Dunlap at the meeting of the Merten Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Jack Prather. Miss Dunlap pointed out that each kitchen should have a background to start from in planning floor coverings and walls, as well as the ceilings. Primary colors which are red, yellow, and blue, on into the secondary colors and the blended shades, offer many colors to choose from, she said. Paint, enamel and wallpaper are three things to consider for the walls and woodwork.

"Paneling is very good for the lower or upper part of walls," Miss Dunlap stated, "and is available in pine, white ash, red cedar, plywood, leather board, Philippine Korina, African Mahogany, and Armstrong's Monowall. Also tile and plastic are used on either walls or floors, and materials easy to clean should be a deciding factor in your choice. All white is now considered secondary in color schemes," Miss Dunlap continued.

Kitchens are being combined with the family rooms and the size of the room has a lot to do with the chosen colors, she said. Intense colors are soon tiring, while the blended ones are more relaxing, she pointed out. From room to room, the colors should be an inviting blend of relating shades, she said.

Approved Insanity

We continue to concern ourselves with this business of mental health.

To our view, the present moves toward introducing psychiatry and the treatment of mental health as a further function of big government are fraught with the deadliest of perils.

In an effort to discover the cause of present moves to set aside a million acres in Alaska for a government mental asylum we have been led to the William Alanson White Psychiatric Foundation, and two speeches made in October of 1945 by General G. B. Chisholm of Canada, a celebrated psychiatrist, under auspices of this foundation.

In previous editorials we have touched on some of the statements made by this same Chisholm. He is the one who has declared that the root of men's propensity to make war is found in a belief in morality. If we can rid ourselves of our moral chains, says Chisholm, we can ultimately eliminate war. This must begin with our children in school, says Chisholm, unless we would have them follow along on this distorted notion that there is a difference between right and wrong.

These speeches were made in 1945 in the New Interior Department Building in Washington, D. C. Present at the time of the speeches were Henry Agard Wallace, our Secretary of Commerce; Watson B. Miller, our Federal Security Administrator; and Anthony Hyde, deputy director, Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion. Following the speeches, these gentlemen were given opportunity to discuss the implications of the utterances.

Their remarks, made at that time, are included in a little volume which is being handled by the World Health Organization of the United Nations.

Let us see what these government men had to say after learning from Chisholm that the entire world is in the grip of madness since a belief in morality is general and widespread.

"The talk, the lecture of General Chisholm last night is one of the most thought-provoking which ever been given in Washington. It goes to the very roots of future peace. . . I had not been aware that it was accepted universally by psychiatrists that the sad state of the recent generation of mankind was due to a sense of inferiority and guilt and fear. . . Suffice it to say, however, that I would that this address were mailed to all of the ministers and priests in the United States. . . The logic of Dr. Chisholm's presentation is extraordinarily compelling," Henry Agard Wallace.

"The doctor says that we can identify the reasons why we fight wars, and he lists them as being prejudice, isolationism, the ability emotionally and uncritically to believe unreasonable things (morality), excessive desire for material power — and that is what I was trying to say, General, in a rather abstract and clumsy way, are some of the things that we have got to learn if we develop some kind of brotherhood, and those elements may be composed and not made to predominate the whole world and all parts of it," Watson R. Miller.

"I think we can make a pretty good case for the fact that the German nation had paranoid tendencies, feelings of inferiority, and I think that perhaps had a great deal to do with the comparative ease with which Hitler got the Germans into war. . . I am delighted that the question of saving the world is now safely in the hands of the psychiatrists so that a lot of us can relax," Anthony Hyde.

Thus we see that three representatives of the American government actually heard these outrageous statements of General Chisholm and in general agreed with him. Certainly they did not take the opportunity of giving the General the tongue-lashing he deserved.

Here, in October of 1945, the seeds for the grand design were sown.

Here was laid the foundation on which in 1955, ten years later, was to be erected the most colossal and dictatorial effort to brain-wash an entire people by means of psychiatry and a gigantic network of madhouses.

We know it seems far-fetched. No wonder we have seen such things as these: Lucille Miller corted off to St. Elizabeth's in Washington because she objected to the compulsive drafting of America's youth in peacetime. She was adjudged insane by two psychiatrists and so pronounced by Judge Gibson. Gibson was a personal enemy of Mrs. Miller as she had charged him with being a tool of New Deal forces.

Later on, Mrs. Miller was released and Gibson so reversed himself as to state publicly and for the record that Mrs. Miller had an exceptionally fine mind and expressed herself well in her written works.

And here are the Finn twins, whose only crime was that they wanted to be independent business men. They tried to organize and run an airline, in the process of which they incurred the wrath of certain government personnel. They, too, were adjudged unbalanced and sent to a madhouse for psychiatric treatment.

The use of psychiatry by the government goes back to the days of the Spanish Inquisition. There is no more horrible and terrible task ever undertaken by any government, than to control the thoughts and reasoning of its people.

Here in the United States, through the United Nations and the World Health Organization, a general world-wide movement is being undertaken to rid the human race of morality and cause us all to conform to a government-decreed belief, guided by psychiatrists.

We trust that the American people will at last awaken to what is being done to them. There is yet time for a mass uprising against this type of tyranny, now being recommended in our own government.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES
Will Our Influence Stand Testing?

The best way, of course, to judge means used is the results. Men, of course, do not gather figs from thistles, and whatsoever man soweth, that shall a man reap.

If we are to test the kind of influence we are having on the youth of the land in getting them to believe in the ideologies set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Golden Rule and the Commandments, the results are anything but satisfactory.

The fact that 33 1/3 per cent of the American soldiers taken as prisoners in the Korean War abandoned their belief, if they ever had any, in the free enterprise system and came to believe in Communism, should cause every teacher, publisher, politician and preacher to try to find out why this defection came to take place. We should find the defect in our method of persuading the youth to realize the superiority of individual freedom over collectivism.

Gerald Heard has a very interesting article in the June issue of Faith and Freedom analyzing this defect. He writes:

"Look at the report, issued by the Army, on our prisoners of war in Korea. To some degree, one-third of them succumbed to the skilled pressures put on them. . . And the important fact is that no drugs were used. They were simply talked to by Chinese who had been educated in American universities. As to the IQs of these prisoners who yielded to the treatment, some were high and some were low — this apparently made no real difference.

"What did seem to matter was the fact that they were quite unprepared to defend themselves. They were healthy lads who had been taught to conform, but they had no self-won convictions. As the gospels say, the house was empty, swept and garnished."

"And it is interesting to note that the boys who did hold out were the ones who had an honestly-thought-out belief — religion was the thing that made the difference between surrender and endurance.

"No wonder, then, that Major Mayer (the army psychiatrist who had to sum up and report on this amazing record) declares that here is a new weapon. Indeed, it is a new warfare — so new and effective that we are forced to rethink our strategy."

"Today, Major Mayer points out, we are struggling to win in a battle of ideas. But then, this is nothing new. Indeed, this thought has become a platitude so boring that we can hardly attend to it. What is new, and most important, is the fact that it is an Army psychiatrist who says it."

"Long ago, at the beginning of Christianity, its most powerful propagandist, the Apostle Paul, told his raw recruits who were facing the unquestioned strength of the Roman Empire that they weren't fighting with flesh and blood — but against spiritual powers.

"Many practical politicians still put their faith in the disproved cynicism of that vulgar opportunist, Napoleon Bonaparte — 'God is always on the side of the big battalions' — with blind masses you can do anything.

"We must be thankful, however, that the army is outgrowing this dangerous delusion. For keeping the lead in the 'stock-piling' of atom bombs is only the first step.

"Talleyrand, Napoleon's foreign minister, warned his master of that: 'You can do everything with bayonets save sit on them.' And Napoleon realized this when he said, 'My guns can conquer the Austrians; I cannot conquer their hate.' The man who has a faith, and can there be disciples if 'masters' are lacking?"

"The Communists who questioned these boys had been 'educated' in United States universities. They explained to the boys that in the United States the government was using aggressive force to get money for hospitals and for education and for security. Then they asked these boys, if your own country is doing that, what's wrong with communists going farther and giving the public complete security by taking over the land and all the means of production?"

"How could the boys refute this kind of argument, when American colleges and schools were teaching the boys pragmatism — that there are no principles; whatever works is good and right and proper and just.

"The youth who profess to influence the youth of the land, especially professional educators and teachers, should bow their heads in shame when they realize that one-third of the youth of the land had no idea of the Christian-Jewish American way of life.

Plane Fare Reduction Poses New Challenge

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — A new challenge confronts Congress and the Civil Aeronautics Board as a result of their joint victory in forcing an exclusive route to the Orient via Honolulu. CAB has denied Pan Am's application, but is now re-studying the question on orders from the White House.

Northwest, which is a Minnesota Company, has the support of prominent politicians. Party contributors and newspapers from the Twin Cities to Seattle and Portland, largely because of the efficiency and economy of its operations. All have protested against Pan Am's attempt to split up the service, arguing that the traffic is sufficient for only one line.

Pan Am is also trying to block plans to set up another around-the-world flight, an area in which it enjoys a monopoly. Trans World Airlines, which now reaches Calcutta via Europe, asks an extension to Manila, where it will hook up with Northwest.

A CAB examiner has recommended favorable action on this request. Although Pan Am advocates more competition on the New York-Miami and North Pacific routes, it insists on monopoly on the international flight.

Congress will keep a close watch on CAB's decisions in all these controversies for their effect on the problem of monopoly versus competition — and lower rates.

Pan Am also seeks the right to fly the great Circle route to the Orient, which is now serviced by Northwest. Pan Am now has an exclusive route to the Orient via Honolulu. CAB has denied Pan Am's application, but is now re-studying the question on orders from the White House.

THE REPUBLICANS ADOPT A DEMOCRATIC BRIEF

The justice department has submitted a brief to the house government operations subcommittee under the chairmanship of Rep. Moss of California, affirming the right of the Eisenhower administration to withhold information about action of the executive branch from Congress.

This dispute has been going on ever since May 17, 1954, when Mr. Eisenhower issued a directive, that no agent of the executive need inform Congress about acts of discussions within that branch. At the time, Sen. McCarthy was under attack by the secretary and counselor of the department of the army, and the Presidential order was designed to protect the army counselor from giving embarrassing information to congressional politicians. Party contributors and newspapers from the Twin Cities to Seattle and Portland, largely because of the efficiency and economy of its operations. All have protested against Pan Am's attempt to split up the service, arguing that the traffic is sufficient for only one line.

The singular thing about the brief tendered the Moss subcommittee is the date it bears—March, 1949. Even a 17 year locust will notice that this is 1956. In March, 1949, Mr. Truman, a Democrat, was President. At that time he was in a continuing brawl with Congress over a directive issued on March 21, 1947, which was similar in purpose to that subsequently invoked by Mr. Eisenhower.

Mr. Moss has voiced the suspicion that Alty. Gen Brownell simply dipped into the back files of the justice department and plucked out a New Deal brief to defend Eisenhower's position. The suggestion is that the Republican President is willing to adopt as his defense a document originally drafted in defense of the New Deal President.

Curiouser and curiouser, as Alice remarked. Will the next state of the Union message be one of Mr. Roosevelt's discards?

Strike Of Steel Workers Ties Up Nation's Economy

By Thurman Sensing

For the fifth time since the end of the Second World War, the United Steel Workers union has gone on strike and tied up the economy of the nation.

The union leaders have arrogantly refused to accept the liberal — much more liberal than it should have been — offer of the steel companies for a new contract. Instead, they called their members out on strike, thus forcing them to accept an estimated loss of $55 million per week in wages. At the same time, they are depriving the American economy of about $250 million worth of steel per week.

As a matter of fact — and this is something for which the steel companies must share responsibility with the steel union — a large part of the wage increases resulting from the four previous strikes was unjustified.

The steel companies probably did not see anything else they could do than give in to a large part of the demands of the union, due to the stranglehold that monopolistic industry-wide bargaining has given the steel union, but at the same time they were likely motivated in large part to give in because they knew they could pass the increased cost of steel on to the consuming public.

In other words, both the steel union and the steel companies disregarded the economic welfare of the people of the United States, leading the way to increased inflation and economic distress of a large part of the population just because they were powerful enough to get by with it and just because the rest of the people were powerless to resist.

In the current strike, the companies offered a four year-four month contract, with increased benefits amounting to 17.3 cents per hour for the first year and adding to 65 cents per hour for the fifth year. The union refused to accept. The union leaders said they wanted a larger wage increase and a shorter contract. The steel companies say they are standing pat and that this is their best offer. It remains to be seen whether they will stick to their guns.

At any rate, the strike is on, and one per cent of the workers in this country — 650,000 members of United Steel Workers union out of a total of 65,000,000 workers — are throwing thousands of other workers out of employment and are disrupting the economy of the whole nation.

It is high time we were taking ourselves — and answering for ourselves — the question, Which is more important—the United Steel Workers union or the United States of America? Which is more important — one per cent of the workers or one hundred per cent of the workers? One per cent of the workers or all of the American people?

The wage increases resulting from the previous strikes were not granted and the offer in the current instance was not made because of increased productivity on the part of the workers themselves — only justifiable basis on which increases can be granted — but because the union was able to pressure the industry and because the industry was able to pass it on to the public. They ignited the flame of inflation which has so grievously damaged the value of the dollar since 1946 and which will continue to do so as long as this practice lasts.

Whether or not the industries and steel workers union has a legal right to go on strike, they have no moral right to do so. It is permissible under the law to strike the economy of the nation, throw tens of thousands of people out of work who are not even in the steel industry and bring hardship to hundreds of thousands of people, then there is something wrong with the law.

But these are always the results of an industry-wide strike in a vital industry like the steel industry. Such a strike should be squelched the moment it sticks up its head. In this case, the steel companies should declare the jobs of the strikers open and negotiate with the companies as to the terms of this offer. The steel workers have the right to quit their jobs while the negotiations are going on or when the negotiations are brought to an end — but they have no right to keep someone else from working just because they do not want to work.

In the interest of the welfare of the American people, the steel companies should declare the jobs of the strikers open and negotiate with other workers as rapidly as possible.

WHAT "SAVAGE ENTHUSIASM"?

Most Americans are not "experts" in the field of foreign policy, but they will still take a dim view of one "expert's" comments concerning U. N. membership for Communist China.

Mr. George Kennan is an official "expert." At least, he is former head of the Policy Planning Staff in the State Department, a former Ambassador to Russia, and currently an "intellectual" at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J.

In a recent speech, he said: "I have never shared and cannot now share in the savage enthusiasm many Americans have worked up over the cause of keeping the Chinese Communist out of the United Nations. . . I have never understood, in fact, why membership in the United Nations should be regarded as a privilege and a reward for good conduct at all—

I think it should be regarded rather as a responsibility to which any regime claiming the allegiance of a sizeable portion of the world's population should be held, and held strictly. . . I wonder, therefore, whether it is really wise or necessary for us to stand in the way of the admission of the Chinese Communist Government to the United Nations if the majority of the other participating governments favor it. I have no enthusiasm for it. I would not recommend that we vote for it. But I see no reason why we should not, if only to clear ourselves of the unjust suspicions of ulterior motive that rest upon us, abstain from voting on this particular question."

Well now, let's see what the U. N. Charter itself says about membership. Chapter II Article 4 reads: "Membership in the United Nations is open to all other peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present Charter, and, in the judgment of the Organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

Granted that the U. N., including the U. S., has ignored such qualifying conditions for membership in the past, would Mr. Kennan argue that Red China fulfills any of them? Did it not commit unprovoked aggression in Korea? Did it not renounce the U. N. itself, and fight a war against U. N. Forces? Has it not failed to show the slightest repentance? Indeed, did it not also commit aggression in Tibet, and in another aggression in Indochina? Question: Is Red China "peace-loving"?

Also — what U. N. "obligations" has Red China shown itself "able and willing to carry out"? Among those listed in the Charter are: "to reaffirm faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person, to establish conditions under which justice and respect for the obligations arising from treaties and other sources of international law can be maintained."

"Human rights"? How many millions of its own citizens has Red China executed since it came into power? How many foreign citizens has it imprisoned and tortured? "Respect for treaties"? What respect did Red China show for the Armistice Agreement it signed in Geneva? Or its promise at Geneva to release all imprisoned Americans immediately?

Mr. Kennan readily concedes that Communist China is a thoroughly obnoxious neighbor. He even concedes that he has no hope of improvement in the near future. Nevertheless, he is indifferent about inviting it to join the U. N. After all, he argues, there are other Communist states in the U. N. Why pick and choose among them? He says nothing, and probably cares nothing about what this would do to our ally, the Chinese Nationalists, or to the 11 million overseas Chinese in Singapore, Indonesia, Vietnam, the Philippines and elsewhere.

It is probably true that the U. S. has compromised its moral right to oppose Red China's U. N. membership. To stand by the Charter rules now, after we ignored them in the case of Soviet Russia's arrogant violations, and after we meekly acquiesced in last year's immoral "package deal" for 16 new members, three of which are Communist satellites which had already been condemned by the U. N. Assembly "for failure to fulfill their treaties and for disregard of human rights and freedoms. . . is to be mighty inconsistent.

But this does not refute the fact that a clear moral case against Red China's admission exists. Nations, like individuals, have the right to admit past errors, and to adopt wiser policies. Consistency is hardly a virtue if that consistency is attained at the expense of being morally right!

Trouble Seen On Demo Race Stand

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Twisting somewhat one of Abraham Lincoln's notable sayings—there are those who believe that the Democratic party cannot endure permanently half segregated and half integrated.
For example, the week's headlines reported that the authorization for federal aid to public schools had been done to death by a New York City Democrat's limiting amendment in the House. That may have been an exaggeration because the amendment must be voted on again before final action on the bill, and this time by a roll call naming names.
Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's amendment would withhold federal aid from states in which public schools segregated white and Negro students. It was adopted Tuesday in the House by a counting of heads instead of a roll call of names. It still might fail on a roll call, or the amendment might be eliminated in the final compromise conference between the House and Senate, if the Senate ever gets around to acting on a school aid bill.
Significance of Situation
For the Democratic Party, however, the significance of the situation is that if the bill is killed, the assassin will be Powell or a Dixie filibuster brigade in the Senate.
Southern Senate Democrats would not accept the aid bill with the Powell amendment on it. That is an example of what the Democratic Party is up against in its endeavor to maintain a political front extending from Mississippi and Alabama to Michigan and New York.
The Republican Party is far from being united and agreed on the basic issues before the American people. But there is no such split among the Republicans as that which civil rights has created among Democrats.
The pending civil rights bill is another example of what the Democrats are up against. There seems not even a remote chance that the Eisenhower administration civil rights bill or any other will get through Congress at this session.
A combination of Democrats and Republicans finally has forced House Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) to permit the House to vote on the measure. It probably will come to a vote next week and there is a good chance of its passage.
Up To Senate
What happens after that, however, will depend on the Senate. The strategy of Southern Senate Democrats over the years has been to filibuster against civil rights legislation. With congressional leaders hoping to adjourn this session on July 21 and expecting actually to do so a week later, on the 28th, the Senate is a set up for filibuster. The Southerners wouldn't have to talk long enough to become really hoarse before the leadership would be ready to abandon civil rights legislation to enable Congress to wind up its other business.
And, again, one element of the Democratic Party would have to take most of the responsibility for blocking action on a measure which other elements not only favor but which they actually need to maintain their political standing back home.
The Republican Party has been torn this session, notably on how and by how much the treasury shall subsidize farmers. But upward price movements often can repair such damage.
No one has come up yet with a way to mend the race relations rip in the Democratic Party.

Vast Coverage Of Convention Is Planned

CHICAGO (UP)—The Democratic national convention next month will have the "largest on-the-spot concentration news coverage of any event in the world since the beginning of time."
This is the way J. Leonard Reinsch, in charge of convention arrangements, sums up the preparations being made by the nation's news media.
Reinsch, assistant to Democratic national chairman Paul Butler, said he expects almost 4,000 personnel from newspapers, magazines, radio and television to be on hand for the convention, which begins Aug. 13.
Preparations already are well underway at the sprawling International Amphitheatre. Since the Democratic met here last in 1952, the amphitheater has grown by 188,000 square feet.
An entirely new structure, exposition hall, has been built at a cost of $2 million. It makes the amphitheater the largest exposition building in the nation under a single roof.
A heliport has been built atop the amphitheatre, and officials believe it will prove a boon to newspaper services and television networks.
The networks and news services plan to use the heliport to shuttle pictures via helicopter through the amphitheatre and midway airport, for shipment throughout the nation.
Boy Swallows Knife
FLINT, Mich. (UP)—Surgeons removed an open pen knife from 12-year-old Lee Reeves stomach Thursday, after he accidentally swallowed the knife while lying in bed picking his teeth.

YOU'RE BETTING ON THEM—The ladies behind the massed telephones, at Police officer near blackboard isn't raiding a bookie joint. He's standing near the code board at the Pasadena, Calif., Air Filter Center, where reports from some 350 volunteer-manned ground-observation posts are correlated. Symbols of the Air Force-volunteer aircraft detection system, this center is soon to have its horizontal plotting board (not shown) replaced with vertical, floor-to-ceiling facilities.

"IT LOOKS PRETTY GOOD"—C. H. Dent, who farms 187 acres west of Salina, Kan., expresses the guarded optimism of the nation's wheat farmers as the great seasonal grain harvest begins to sweep across the land.

On The Farm Front

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
WASHINGTON, July 7—UP—Don't whack that wasp! He's a good friend of the tobacco farmer. The lowly wasp, possessor of a stinger that packs a painful wallop for human beings, has strong backing from the agricultural research service. It seems the ordinary paperhanger wasp is the natural enemy of tobacco hornworms, budworms, and other pests that destroy tobacco plants.

Not only does the service want wasps to live, it also advocates construction of shelters to enable wasps to build up their population in tobacco areas. The shelters are necessary because wasps don't live in tobacco fields, but rather in bordering grass, brush, or wooded areas.

Wasps an Asset
Entomologists don't know yet whether predatory wasps alone can be depended on to control hornworms and budworms. Experiments and observations indicate, however, that at least in moderate infestations, a sizable wasp population can be a valuable asset to a tobacco farmer.

Conceivably, this type of biological control could eliminate or reduce the need for applying insecticides.

This would cut down the expense of treating tobacco fields and also might prevent the over-use of chemicals, a practice that sometimes leaves excessive quantities of residues on the valuable tobacco leaves.

Other Developments
Oats—The Agriculture Department reports that resistant oat varieties have put an extra billion dollars in growers' pockets during the last 20 years at a cost of slightly more than $3 million for research. This figures out to a $1,000 return for every $3 spent.

REA—Rural Electrification Administration loans for the fiscal year just ended amounted to $189.8 million for rural electrification and $81 million for rural telephones. The 1956 rural telephone loans will bring initial telephone service to about 76,500 rural subscribers.

Wheat—The government support price for 1957-crop wheat will be $2 a bushel. Under the present parity price of wheat, this reflects $2 1/2 per cent of parity. This is the same support rate President Eisenhower ordered for 1956 crop wheat, overruling Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson who had set the 1956 support rate at $1.81 a bushel, reflecting 76 per cent of parity.

Forests—A record $100 million in revenue was collected from national forests during the first 11 months of fiscal 1956. When final figures are in for fiscal 1956, the total collected is expected to be about $110 million.

Hogs—Livestock Conservation, Inc., of Chicago, advises that experienced hog shippers claim that during hot weather a hog with a wet belly is usually a live healthy hog when it arrives at market. The organization recommends a mixture of wet sawdust and sand for bedding in rail cars or trucks as insurance against hot weather losses.

Harvest Action In South Texas

FORT WORTH (UP) —(USDA)
—Weekly grain:
A mixed price trend hit South-west cash grain markets this week, the Agricultural Marketing Service reported.

Grain sorghums showed the sharpest changes. Milo advanced 2 to 5c per cwt. at Fort Worth, while country prices ranged from 5c higher to 10c lower in Oklahoma. Harvesting was active in South Texas and much of the crop was going into loan. However, demand was good.

Friday's closing sales of No. 2 yellow Milo ranged from $2.40 to $2.45 per cwt. at Texas common points and from $1.75 to $2.35 at Oklahoma country elevators.

Increased flour bookings were listed as the major stabilizing influence in the cash wheat market at Fort Worth where No. 1 hard offerings held steady and closed at $2.25 to $2.35 per bushel. Country prices looked 1 to 4c per bu. higher in Oklahoma and spread from $1.88 at Guymon and Hooker to $1.91 at Medford.

Oat prices in Texas went up 1-2c per bushel to finish the week at 89 to 94c, with generally good demand.

Prospects for a big corn crop had a varying effect on the cash market and trading was not too active. Yellow offerings went up 1-1 1/2 to 1-3/4c while white offerings finished 1-4 to 1-4c per bushel lower. At the close, No. 2 white corn was quoted at $1.90 1-4 to $1.92 1-4 ... No. 2 yellow corn, at $1.88 1-4 to $1.91 1-4.

Barley trading was largely nominal, with No. 2 offerings quoted at $1.22 to $1.25, Texas common points.

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

By JACK DOUGLAS
Work Unit Conservationist

In the Gray County Soil Conservation District, erosion control is the foundation for sustained production. Keep the soil in place and the problem of maintaining its productivity will be greatly simplified. In other words, it is easier to make a living on a farm with 14 inches of top soil than on one where eight inches have been blown or washed away and only six inches remain. The deeper soils should produce higher yields with less effort and expense.

Water and soil fertility are usually thought of as renewable resources; but the top soil is only slowly renewable and, in certain cases, it is practically impossible to replace. Once the top soil is lost it can only be regained by slow and costly processes.

We must use the soil for crop production so economic considerations require that we often use it for maximum production. But we must use it in such a way that it will not be destroyed.

This means that each farm or ranch needs to have a complete conservation plan. A plan that the farmer or rancher has worked out carefully and in detail—one that fits the capability of the land and treats each acre of land according to its needs for protection and improvement.

4-H CLUB NEWS

By PAT BROYLES, Asst. Home Demonstration Agent
By ROBERT ADAMSON, Asst. County Agricultural Agent

The assistant county agricultural agent and the assistant home demonstration agent took a 4-H girl and boy to Amarillo Saturday, July 7 to participate in a meeting which had been called for the purpose of considering the advisability of organizing a 4-H District Council for this district. Each county was eligible to send a boy and a girl to represent their County Council or committee. Gray County's representatives were Sue Evans of McLean and Lem Greene of Pampa.

Following the meeting, in which the formation of a District 4-H Council was discussed, a television program on Cotton John's 5 p.m. "Farm and Home Show" featured activities of our recent District 4-H Camp. The 4-H members from several counties in the District participated in these activities which includes: safety, recreation, electricity, and nature study.

Following the Council Meeting and the television program the District Agents planned a meal for the participants in those two events at Rice Dining Salon in Amarillo.

The square dances that have been held on Thursday night have been discontinued because of the small turnouts we have been having. This is a busy time of the year and a lot of people cannot make it in to town. We may try to have some square dances at a later date if you want them.
