On The Campaign Trail

Ike And Adlai Exchange Heavy Words On Farm Issue

By UNITED PRESS
President Eisenhower Tuesday night accused the Democrats of "politicizing" with farm problems while Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson fired back charging that there has been "loose administration" on the soil bank.

The President, in a major speech at Peoria, Ill., outlined a Republican policy of "full income parity" which he said would bring the best agricultural economic situation "in years."

Stevenson, in an address at Jacksonville, Fla., questioned whether the Republicans are "playing politics" with the soil bank plan.

Mr. Eisenhower's talk before 10,000 persons at the Bradley University fieldhouse, his second in the Midwest grain belt in five days, bristled with the sharpest criticism of Democrats the President has made publicly since his 1952 campaign.

Hill Ike's Speech
Illinois Republican leaders hailed the televised address as "straightforward." The President flew to Peoria from Washington and returned to the capital immediately after speaking.

"Full income parity is a full share of our country's good times," Mr. Eisenhower said. "In a free agriculture, farmers attain that kind of parity only in the market place. That's what I spoke for at Kason four years ago — the attainment of that full share for the farmer — the preservation of a free agriculture."

White Citizens Council In Call To Resist Integration

HENDERSON, Ky. (UP)—Leaders of a White Citizens Council Tuesday night called on a crowd of 2,500 persons to resist school integration, but officials hoped the situation would remain peaceful.

The rally was held after more than 600 pupils boycotted the Weaverton consolidated school here in protest against the admission of Negro students.

Ag Department Gets Hot

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department today had a hot potato protest on its doorstep led by more than 150 angry wives of potato farmers.

The boycott was believed a popular response to an earlier rally Saturday. Some 500 students stayed away from classes on Monday, the first day of the boycott.

Potato Protest

The farm women equipped with pillows and blankets drove up in buses Tuesday, threatening to camp in front of the department until it meets their demands for a move to boost potato prices.

Plea were heard by ministers and school officials who feared mounting tension might cause disturbances similar to the anti-integration demonstrations at Sturgis and Clay, Ky., last week.

Car Wreck Injures Three

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bratcher and son, Douglas, 2, of Lefors were hospitalized this morning when the car in which they were riding overturned approximately two miles north of Lefors at 11 a.m.

Police were on hand Tuesday to guard against any outbreaks as school buses took the Negro children through a crowd around the school building. No trouble developed.

The investigating officers reported that Bratcher apparently lost control of the car on a curve and it rolled over.

British Ship In Distress

NAHA, Okinawa (UP)—A British ship breaking up on a reef with 34 men aboard miscalculated its position today and sent a U.S. Army rescue tug on a wild goose chase through "horribly rough" seas to the wrong side of Okinawa.

The 10,000 ton Bedford Earl, en route from Japan to Indochina with empty holds, was caught up by typhoon "Harriet" and slammed against an Okinawan coral reef. A U.S. Army spokesman said the ship was still holding together "but apparently they are in a hell of a shape."

The typhoon, which swept Okinawa with winds of from 130 to 150 miles an hour, was reported moving north toward Japan today. It failed to inflict the heavy damage of typhoon Emma earlier this month which caused nearly $20 million in damage.

Capt. R. W. Thomson radioed that his ship was breaking apart on a reef off northwest Okinawa and the tug raced toward the position in a heroic rescue attempt. A check of his position showed he actually was aground off the east coast of the American military stronghold, one mile off shore.

Judge Writes To Firm's President

County Judge Bruce Parker this morning sent a letter to Paul Endicott, president of the Phillips Petroleum Company in Bartlesville, Okla., informing him of the situation as it stands in relation to the proposed road improvement plans attempted by the county and blocked by the Claims Department of the Amarillo Division of Phillips.

The purpose behind this move, Parker told, was to feel out the possibility that the obstruction of the county's plans may be a local rather than company policy. It is the weighing of what the county has to lose against what it can gain by the sending of such a letter, he said. If the policy which has been blocking the county's attempts to build better roads is a company one, the county would have nothing more to lose than the inconvenience it has already experienced; and they will have to seek other means of getting the job done, he added.

The letter was sent, accompanied by clippings from The Pampa News carrying a complete account of the issue, and correspondence received as a result, Parker said. Copies of the letter have also been sent to Clay D. Carruthers, manager of the Amarillo Claims Division of the Phillips Petroleum Company; Guy Lot, state highway district engineer, and G. K. Reading, resident engineer of the State Highway Department.

The two projects in question are the proposed farm-to-market straightaway from Lefors to Bowers City, and the reconstruction of the Denworth Bridge and road which was washed out as a result of heavy rains and which has been listed as urgent by the County Commission.

Jordan, Israeli Fight Breaks Out

On Suez Crisis

Israel Wants In On Talks

By BRUCE W. MUNN

United Press Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Israel today demanded a voice in Security Council discussion of the Suez crisis on the ground that the Egyptian government has barred its shipping from the international waterway.

The Israeli foreign office issued a statement in Jerusalem directing its delegations to the United Nations to inform the chairman of the Security Council Israel is interested in taking part in the deliberations beginning this afternoon.

New Angle Tried In Road Projects

Retaliatory Raid Brings Arab Counter-Attack

JERUSALEM (UP)—Jordan's Arab Legion counter-attacked at dawn today against the Israeli army which slashed into Jordan during the night and killed 50 Jordanians in a retaliatory raid, Arab sources reported.

A Jordan military source said Israel lost 150 men in the raid while Jordan's losses were only 21 defenders. The Arabs reported heavy fighting soon after an Israeli military spokesman announced that Israeli troops avenged a series of Arab Legionnaire attacks by invading Jordan and capturing several frontier positions in hours-long fighting that began at 9 p.m. Unofficial Arab reports said fighting broke out again at dawn and that "bitter hand-to-hand fighting" between troops of Jordan's Arab Legion and Israeli soldiers were still in progress hours later.

There was no official confirmation of the reports. United Nations spokesman Albert Grant reported the Jordanian estimates of casualties in the Israeli attack ranged from 20 to 70 Jordan soldiers killed. Grant said preliminary evidence showed the Israeli forces advanced from three directions on the Jordanian outposts from Batir, Wadi Fukin and Bushan. He said the main battle began at midnight and lasted three hours until Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns requested a cease fire.

The Lions Clubs' special mission is the promotion of good government and good citizenship, the development of civic, educational, social and "moral" welfare of the community and nation, and to help create and foster "a spirit of generous consideration among the people of the world." The slogan of the International Association of Lions Clubs is "Liberty, Intelligence, our Nation's Safety." Its motto is "We Serve."

Members of the Steering Committee were present at yesterday's meeting, and that person was out of town on business. "This is clearly indicative," Dix said, "of the hearty spirit of cooperation with which this thing is being carried out," and he added that he had much faith as to the final outcome.

A second meeting was scheduled for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Cabot Auditorium.

Indications were the attacking Israeli force was at least as large as the battalion of 600 to 1,000 men which carried out a retaliatory raid in the Akaba Area, early this month, killing some 20 Jordanians.

Another purpose of yesterday's meeting was to pick out a possible site for temporary headquarters of the corporation. Several locations were mentioned, and one of the committee members was asked to work with Dix and Rohrer in finding one.

This will be the fifteenth campaign for Philo Dix, and he pointed out that he has never had a failure, and added that he had not come to Pampa to break that record. The size of the hotel to be built will be, he added, commensurate with the potential subscriptions obtainable. Dix's last project in Tyler where he aided in the planning of and the erection of an $800,000 hotel.

Meat Packers Agree With Labor Unions

CHICAGO (UP) — Armour & Co. and two packinghouse unions Tuesday night agreed on basic issues in a three-year contract providing a total 22 1/2 cent wage increase and a modified union shop.

The settlement was expected to lead the way for similar contracts with other major packers, including Swift & Co. hit by a strike Sept. 20. Talks between the unions and Swift were expected to get underway again today.

Representatives of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and the United Packinghouse Workers announced the "understanding" with Armour in a joint statement.

The agreement, which includes an escalator pay raise clause, was reached after the unions turned their attention to negotiations with Armour in the face of a breakdown of talks with Swift.

Under the agreement reported by the unions, Armour will boost wages from 10 to 22 1/2 cents per hour this year, 7 1/2 cents in 1957 and another 7 1/2 cents the following year. The immediate wage increases will take effect Oct. 1.

The escalator clause will add one cent an hour when the consumer price index rises one-half point.

Five Americans To Be Suez Pilots

CAIRO (UP) — Five American seamen arrived today to train as Suez Canal pilots and help Egypt keep traffic moving through the vital waterway. They said their motive was "entirely non-political."

The Americans, who responded to a worldwide appeal from the new Egyptian Canal Authority, are Walter Equils, 45, New Kensington, Pa.; Elmo Holland, 43, Newport Beach, Calif.; Gregory Hatch, 48, San Jose, Calif.; Alex Langtre, 47, N.Y.; and Nico Hagens, Freeport, Long Island.

The five will begin their training Thursday alongside 15 Soviet mariners to help fill the gap left by the mass resignation of at least 180 Western pilots Sept. 14. Two American pilots were among the non-Egyptian employees of the old Suez company who walked out.

Equils, a burly, greying seaman, told reporters: "We are not taking sides — we hope. I hope before long there'll be a lot more pilots."

Equils said they will undergo six weeks of probationary training before deciding whether to stay to guide ships through the tricky canal. He said none of the five has signed contracts with the Egyptian Canal Authority yet.

"It all depends on how it works out," he said.

The five said they are not bringing their families to Egypt "under the present circumstances."

Rivers At Flood Level In Dixie

By UNITED PRESS

Residents of Dixie states nervously watched river levels inch upward today in the wake of heavy downpours brought by hurricane Flossy's invasion.

The hurricane, which fizzled into a band of squalls over Georgia, ended a drought in the deep South, but left a threat of floods.

Weathermen warned of possible flash floods in the Carolinas as the storm crossed the Carolina Plains on its way into the Atlantic. Rivers in south Mississippi, northwest Florida, Alabama and Georgia rose gradually as they drained a soaking 250-mile area.

Some sections were hit by as much as a six-inch rainfall.

Winds continued to whip at 45 to 50 miles per hour in the gustier squalls and warnings of heavy rains north of the storm center in South Carolina were issued.

While raincoats were in order along the southern Atlantic Coast, most of the nation was treated to sunny autumn weather with only minor temperature changes.

However, showers and thunderstorms dampened parts of the Pacific Northwest and scattered sections of Texas and the Ohio River Valley.

What's New Around Nation's Capitol

WASHINGTON (UP) — What's new in Washington:

Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic hopeful for the presidency, already has traveled 15,000 miles since his nomination. He started out in January to get the nod and traveled 50,000 miles ahead of time. Right now, he makes several stops a day, while mostly, and in the dark of night he works on speeches for the next day, en route. Can't make the same speech every day, with TV and all. Sometimes it adds up to a 23-hour day.

You may have heard of the GOP elephant cookie cutter. Also recipes by Mamie and some other Republican ladies. But have you heard of the jelly cookie recipe suggested by Mrs. Sinclair Weeks, wife of the secretary of commerce?

It involves 1 cup butter, 7-8 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons vanilla. Cream butter, add sugar, gradually, then with other ingredients. Roll down and cut with cookie cutter, shape of an elephant, of course. Make deep indentation for elephant's eye and fill with current jelly. Bake in 350 degree oven until light brown. If it turns out looking like a donkey you're supposed to garbage it.

The Machinist magazine, under the heading of "wanted recipes" says:

"From Mrs. Robert J. Archer, Tacoma, Wash., who would dearly like to have a cookie recipe using caraway seeds." Address the "Machinist" and not me.

A fishing magazine I received would like us to know that it has, at last, a real fish story. A Marie Fish, 28, and a James Bass, 31, are about to get married in Angier, N. C. The magazine is going to finance the honeymoon. The publisher offered them "a whole of a time." The happy couple could do nothing but accept. Both Fish and Bass are "fishermen."

According to some hat people from Texas, the best-hatted man in the annual hat makers poll is President Eisenhower. He won over John Wayne, Frank Sinatra, Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and even Red Skelton, who had no regard for expensive hats except to crunch 'em in his act.

Asian 'Neutralists' Not Doing So Well

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The East Asian "neutralists" are not doing so well at the moment. Both India and Indonesia, the No. 1 and No. 2 neutralists, are doing a bit of diplomatic backpeddling.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, who rushed to the support of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser in the Suez Canal dispute, is having some sober second thoughts.

He is trying with evident anxiety to get Nasser, whose belligerent attitude he encouraged, to be a little more reasonable.

Indonesian President Sukarno is in trouble at home because of a pro-Communist joint communique his foreign minister, Ruslan Abdulgani, signed in Moscow during their recent visit to Russia.

There is talk in Jakarta, the Indonesian capital, of a cabinet crisis. Abdulgani may well lose his job.

The Indian and Indonesian developments have resulted from the way East Asian neutralism works out in practical diplomacy.

Suspicious of West
Officially, the party line is that the neutralist countries pursue foreign policies independent of the great Western and Eastern "power blocs."

In practice, however, it nearly always happens that the attitude of the neutralist nations in big international problems favors the two great Communist powers, the Soviet Union and Communist China.

One reason is that the chief neutralist nations, newly independent, are extremely suspicious of "Western imperialism" and "colonialism."

Whenever there is a clash of interests between the Western democracies and the Communist nations, the neutralists incline to take it for granted that the democracies are wrong.

Thus Nehru lost no time in approving Nasser's attempt to seize sole control of the Suez Canal. He said in a speech that the Western allies were running "a grave risk of war" when they announced their plan to form a Suez Canal users association.

Not long afterward, Nehru apparently got the idea that Nasser was doing some risking himself. He sent V. K. Krishna Menon, his roving ambassador, to Egypt to urge Nasser to be reasonable.

Visits Saud
Now Nehru himself has gone to Saudi Arabia, Egypt's Arab neighbor, to visit King Saud.

In Indonesia's case, Sukarno and Foreign Minister Abdulgani warmly praised Russian leaders during their visit to the Soviet Union. They saw Russia as a peace-seeking, friendly, democratic country.

But Abdulgani went overboard in his joint communique, which he and Soviet first Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko signed.

The communique emphasized the "solidarity" between Russia and Indonesia. It stressed identity of views on disarmament, anti-colonialism, Western defense pacts and the testing or use of nuclear weapons.

Five of the eight parties in the government coalition protested. The cabinet, at a special meeting, ordered Abdulgani to sign no more communiques during his tour of Europe and Asia. It was announced that he would be questioned about the Moscow communique when he got home. And it was intimated he might be invited to resign.

"The networks are flooding the daytime with re-runs. Next we'll have 'Miss Brooks' returns again, and again, and again."

Carson is particularly frustrated about this new twist of fate because his program had one of the top daytime ratings. His August Nielsen rating was 5.9, which he says was better than NBC's Tennessee Ernie Ford show.

"The mail was great," Carson went on. "Many women wrote how glad they were that we didn't insult their intelligence or play down to them."

"It seems so unfair to pull the rug out from under us. This has happened to other shows, too, such as 'Four Star Theater.' With the movie studios dumping their major backlogs on television, what will happen to the live shows?"

WITH SCHOOL DAYS HERE for millions of boys and girls, the question of the "right" allowance is being faced by millions of parents. The size of an allowance may present a problem at first, but it is a problem that can be solved without a great deal of difficulty, according to one authority on family finances, Dr. Marlon B. Miller, educational division director of the Institute of Life Insurance. Under Dr. Miller's direction the Institute of Life Insurance has distributed thousands of copies of a booklet to high schools for classroom use, in which the principles of sound money management are explained.

TO BEGIN with, Dr. Miller says, a child can be given money of his own to manage even at the tender age of six or eight years, as long as he understands that he must pay for certain things out of his allowance. The older a child gets, he explains, the more he should come to rely on his own earnings. A girl will typically turn to baby sitting. Boys also baby-sit, Dr. Miller notes; they may have newspaper delivery routes, mow lawns, shovel snow, run errands and perform the variety of minor but remunerative jobs around the community. Just because a youngster earns money doesn't mean that his allowance should be slashed, Dr. Miller says. As earnings go up, give him more responsibility for buying personal articles out of his total income.

Independent earnings, while desirable and necessary to a growing youngster, may bring one very real problem, Dr. Miller cautions. Outside jobs often cut heavily into a child's time at home, and there is always a danger that homework and study, and such things as music lessons and social life may be neglected. Parents might do well to keep this possibility in mind when giving a youngster permission to work.

Because each child is different, and because each family is different, it is utterly impossible to say that a 10-year-old or a 15-year-old should receive so many cents or dollars a week as any allowance. Dr. Miller points out. To arrive at a reasonable amount, parents and children must sit down together and take into account the family's income, the general needs of a child and then agree upon what the youngster is expected to do with an allowance.

Once an allowance starts, it should be paid regularly. There should be no additional handouts or doles, Dr. Miller advises, because they will defeat the purpose of giving an allowance, which is to endow a child with a growing sense of financial responsibility. By the same token, allowances should not be withheld as punishment.

Officers were elected at the meeting of the Bell Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Troy Maness.

Chosen were Mrs. T. D. Anderson, president; Mrs. Troy Maness, vice-president; Mrs. H. H. Keashey, secretary; and Mrs. Ernest McKnight, council delegate. For the program, Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent, spoke on the care and arrangement of large kitchen equipment. She told the women the equipment should be arranged for convenience, to provide continuous working space and to prevent too much walking.

Separate oven and cooking surfaces are ideal when two people are working in the kitchen, she pointed out. Built-in ovens would be placed at a height that is comfortable for the housewife when placing food in it or taking it out. Things to consider in purchasing large kitchen equipment, as outlined by Miss Dunlap, include need, safety measures, manufacture, insulation, guarantee, ease of cleaning, storage, toe space, color and durable finish. Attending were Mesmes. H. H. Keashey, Roland Daver, Carl Smith, Troy Maness, D. W. Swain, all members; and Mrs. Joe Wheeler, a guest.

"Let's face it. All most women marry for is a meal ticket," says one on my more cynical male correspondents. Let's face it — that man is at least 25 years behind the times.

Just a glance at statistics will show him that more than half of the women who are working today are married women. They are earning their own meal tickets. And on top of that, they're cooking the meals.

A great many of the young girls who are marrying today are getting excellent meal tickets for the future simply because they are ambitious enough to put their husbands through college, or are holding down a job while their husbands are taking the first slow steps up the ladder of success.

Mantle, Newk Cinch MVP Award Winners

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Regardless of which team wins the National League pennant race, individual honors in both leagues seem sewed up today as far as most valuable player and rookie of the year honors are concerned.

From this corner it looks like this:

AL Most Valuable—Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees.
NL Most Valuable—Don Newcombe, Brooklyn Dodgers.
AL Rookie of Year—Luis Aparicio, Chicago White Sox.
NL Rookie of Year—Frank Robinson, Cincinnati Redlegs.

Maybe you can quarrel with these selections, but it is doubtful if you can beat 'em. The only one which may receive a tussle is Newcombe, and it is possible that he could be bested by Hank Aaron, the probable league batting champion from Milwaukee. But Big Newk looks like a winner.

No Question About Mickey
Mantle, of course, will have no contest. He probably will be the American League's second unanimous choice, an honor earned previously only by Cleveland's Al Rosen in 1953.

Mantle is ahead of Ted Williams in the batting averages with .355 to .348, and should wind up with the crown. But it was Master Mickey's home run hitting, as he made an assault on Babe Ruth's record, which was the main feature of the American League season.

There can be no argument with the fact that Mantle was the league's most valuable player as he sparked a Yankee dash to the pennant which left the opposition far behind. He also more than doubled Williams' home run output and leads the mighty Ted in the all-important runs-batted-in, 127 to 80.

The MVP balloting will be concluded before the pennant races are decided so Newcombe should win the honors in the National League. With 26 wins, he is the first Brooklyn pitcher to hit those figures in 32 years, since Dazzy Vance won 28 in 1924. It's no fluke because Big Newk has contributed much with his bat as well as with his third place standing in earned run averages.

Aaron Figures Well
You can build a big case for Aaron. As well as leading the league's hitters with a .326 average, he is top man in hits and triples, second in doubles and has splattered 26 homers.

Robinson will win the National League rookie of the year honors in a walk to substantiate Birdie Tabetta's assertion that someday Frank will be "the" Robinson of the National League. He is hitting .293, has knocked in 82 runs and has blasted 33 homers to tie Wally Berger's long standing rookie mark. There is nobody within shouting distance of him for freshman honors.

Over in the American League, Aparicio, the Venezuelan fielding genius of the White Sox, looks to have rookie matters his own way, too. Luis has knocked in only 20 runs and is batting only .265, rather pale marks when compared to Robinson's feats, but his fielding has been one of the conversation pieces of the American League season.

Swink Off Score List

By UNITED PRESS
All-America Jim Swink's name is missing among the names of the Southwest Conference's leading ball carriers after last week's opening games, but it cropped up in a new spot in the statistics—as the No. 1 pass receiver.

While the Texas Christian ace left the rushing honors to his team-mate, Ken Wineburg, he took over as chief target for Church Curtis unerring aerials and hauled in five of them for 137 yards.

Wineburg, who also assumed command of the conference scoring race that Swink led last season by scoring three touchdowns against Kansas, gained 141 yards in 13 carries for a 10.8-yard average—nearly double that of his nearest rival, Roddy Osborne of Texas A&M, who was second with 78 yards in 18 trips.

Fullback Jack Pardee of the Aggies was third with 75 yards in 15 plays and Lon Slaughter of Southern Methodist fourth with 71 in 19.

Curtis, hitting 13 of 17 passes for 231 yards, led the conference in both passing and total offense. He has a minus seven rushing total for an overall net gain of 225 yards.

Harvesters Ready For Midland

For the first time since the 1956 football season kicked off, the Pampa Harvesters make a UP coaches poll. Today, they were rated in a tie for 16th place with their rivals Friday night, the Midland Bulldogs.

The Harvesters worked late yesterday, sharpening up their pass defense and their passing offense. Today they will ease up slightly and tomorrow they will leave for Midland by bus. A workout is scheduled at Midland so the boys can get the feel of the ground.

Coach Lockett reported that all of his team was in good shape and they were expecting to extend Midland for their fullest if they were to lose a game.

Midland is a heavier team than the Harvesters and they've got a fine backfield, led by a left handed quarterback, Cooper. They are a passing team, and the Harvesters haven't seen too much aerial action this year in either the Austin or Capitol Hill games.

If a key to victory could be discovered right now, it would have to be a very important factor called condition and that's what the Harvesters have in their favor. Playing few men all year, not more than 15 or 16 until late in the game, the Pampa Harvesters have gradually rounded themselves into top condition. This may be the determining factor down at Midland Friday night.

Maglie No-Hits Phils; But Braves Win To Keep Lead

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
The Philadelphia Phillies' bid to up to Don Newcombe and embattled Dodgers to see to it that Sal Maglie didn't pitch of baseball's all-time masterpieces in vain.

Maglie's 5-0, no-hit triumph, Dodgers sent Newcombe and Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies today in an effort to sweep the two-game series and go back into a tie for the National League lead with the Milwaukee Braves. A loss would send the Dodgers a full game behind the Braves with three games left for each.

That no-hitter won't be worth a nickel if we don't win Wednesday," said Jackie Robinson in the dugout clubhouse Tuesday night. "We can't let that happen. We've just got to go on now and see what we can do."

For Maglie, meanwhile, there is the honor of having pitched the most spectacular "clutch" game the majors had seen in 48 years. Not since Cleveland's Addie Mitchell pitched a perfect game against the White Sox in the decisive game of the 1908 American League pennant race had a pitcher turned in a no-hitter with so much riding on every delivery.

Spahn Bests Redlegs
It was a game the Dodgers had won because Warren Spahn, another great old pro, had pitched a Braves to a 7-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday afternoon. That victory all but automatically eliminated the Redlegs from the race.

In this situation, the amazing Maglie—a one-time "Mexican mope" and later the most famous "Dodger killer" of 'em all—a star pitcher with the hated Phils—achieved his finest hour, walked only two batters and

Upset Winners Still Underdogs

NEW YORK (UP)—Southern Methodist and Syracuse were last week's two big upset winners in college football but they'll find themselves back in the same old underdogs' role again this Saturday.

SMU's Mustangs, who were expected to lose by 13 points before they upended Notre Dame, will be a seven-point underdog this weekend when they risk their No. 7 national ranking at Dallas against third-ranked Georgia Tech, winner of the nation's TV screens a week ago over Kentucky.

Syracuse, which drubbed Maryland, now is expected to lose by six points to Pittsburgh, although the Panthers had to fight through a 14-13 squeaker to beat West Virginia. Syracuse is ranked 10th nationally, Pittsburgh ninth.

However, SMU and Syracuse are the only high-ranked teams the odds-makers predict will lose this Saturday. Most of the others are overwhelming favorites, like national champion Oklahoma—a 27-point pick as it opens its season against North Carolina, a team that was beaten last week by North Carolina State.

Second-ranked Michigan State was picked by seven points over Stanford in what could turn out to be the top game of the week; but fifth-ranked Ohio State was favored by 19 over Nebraska, sixth-ranked Southern California by 19 over Oregon State on Friday; and eighth-ranked Michigan by 14 over UCLA. Fourth-ranked Texas Christian is idle.

Here are the odds on the other leading games:

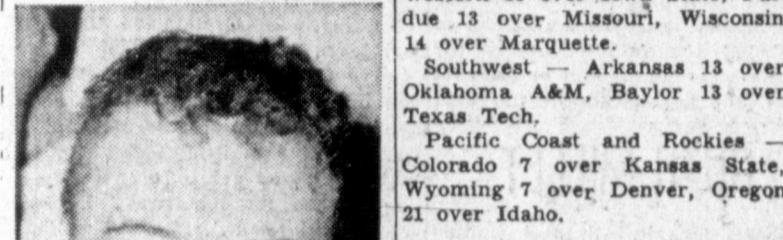

Intersectional—Texas three over Tulane, Washington 6 over Minnesota, Texas A&M 6 over Louisiana State, Houston 6 over Mississippi State, College of Pacific 7 over Kansas, Illinois 13 over California.

Midwest—Tulsa 3 over Cincinnati, Iowa 6 over Indiana, Northwestern 13 over Iowa State, Purdue 13 over Missouri, Wisconsin 14 over Marquette.

Southwest—Arkansas 13 over Oklahoma A&M, Baylor 13 over Texas Tech.

Pacific Coast and Rockies—Colorado 7 over Kansas State, Wyoming 7 over Denver, Oregon 21 over Idaho.

Area Player Of Week

HOWARD BRADFORD
... star back

This week, The News is proud to name Howard Bradford of LeFors as its area player of the week. All this big fullback did to earn this citation was score all of his team's 21 points in their 21-0 shut out over White Deer last Friday night. Howard scored on dashes of 20, 2 and 5 yards in addition to accounting for all the extra points in the game.

This is Howard's first year in the backfield. Last year he lettered at end. He is 6-2, 195 pounds, and runs very quickly for his size. He runs a 16.8 hundred, while not the fastest ever timed, certainly quick enough to warrant consideration as a fast man.

He's a "coach's delight" said his coach, H. W. Callah. His right hand was broken before the first game of the year, and so far he has only been able to play on offense for the Pirates. This week end, Coach Callah hopes that Bradford will be able to go both ways. He just happens to be a great defensive player, too. He plays defensive end and is mighty tough to get around.

Most of Howard's fine ground gaining came on the belly series with Billy Joe Fulton as halfback carrying out the splendid plays which allowed Bradford to move out.

Besides his football ability, he is a straight A student and wants to play ball in college next year.

SMU Works For Tech

By UNITED PRESS
Coach Woody Woodard's Southern Methodist Mustangs, with a chance at a giant-killing role for the second Saturday night in a row, were so enthusiastic in drills Tuesday that Assistant Coach Tom Dean had to calm them down a little.

The Mustangs, who dumped Notre Dame 19 to 13 in their opener, and are ranked seventh in the nation as a result, go up against third-ranked Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

Woodard said Tuesday night that his boys were not cocky over the upsetting of Notre Dame. He said he hadn't heard the game mentioned in practice all week and that the squad was talking only about Tech.

The Mustangs were so vicious in scrimmage Tuesday that they bruised each other up. Junior left guard Bobby Beckett was the most seriously hurt. He was knocked out and his nose badly bruised.

At College Station, however, Texas Aggie Coach Pau Bryant wasn't as enthused over his team's spirit. "Our enthusiasm and spirit is low and not what it should be for a team as tough and strong as LSU is," he said.

Bryant's charges are also bruised up, with Dennis Goehring and Jack Pardee ailing. Both are expected to play against SMU.

At Waco, Coach Sam Boyd said his Baylor Bears were looking good. Baylor meets Texas Tech at Waco Saturday afternoon.

In Austin, the Texas Longhorns practiced against Tulane plays and heard a gloomy scouting report from "Ore Emerson, who said the Green Wave will be stronger than last year when the Longhorns meet Tulane at New Orleans Saturday.

Baker Meets Hurricane On TV Tonight

By JACK CIDDY
United Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (UP)—Freakish Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson and burly Bob Baker met tonight at Forbes Field in a return 12-round fight designed to produce a 1957 heavyweight challenger.

The promoters hope for 10,000 fans and a gate of $55,000 despite a boycott by the Teamsters' Union.

Big Bob of Pittsburgh, the target of the union's ire, is favored at 8-5 although he lost a disputed decision to lanky Jackson of Far Rockaway, N. Y., at Madison Square Garden last Feb. 3.

Contrasting with the odds, today's ring ratings show Jackson ranked third among contenders; Baker fifth.

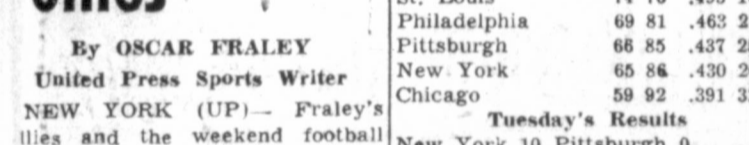

Tonight's winner is expected to challenge next year against the victor of the nearly closed December fight between Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson for the vacant crown.

The Teamsters' Union accuses Baker of driving a truck during a Pittsburgh department store strike three years ago. However, the union's action against Baker has been limited to a mail boycott at the earnest request of Mayor David Lawrence. The mayor pointed out that 10 per cent of the gross gate tonight would be given to the Pittsburgh Olympic Committee by the Dapper Dan Club, which is co-promoting with Ben Anolik of Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile Baker claimed the truck-driving incident was a case of mistaken identity.

Tonight's fight is slated for 12 rounds and will be televised and broadcast nationally over ABC networks at 10 p.m. (EDT). However, there will be a TV black-out on a radius of 100 miles.

Newk Goes For Brooks Today

NEW YORK (UP)—Wayne Bethea of New York proved Monday night that Joe Bygraves, heavyweight champion of the British Empire, is not a contender for the world title.

Betha, 24, ruined Bygraves' American debut with a fifth-round TKO at St. Nicholas Arena and earned consideration for a November shot at one of the ranking contenders in Madison Square Garden.

Unranked Bethea weighed 202½ pounds to Bygraves' 188½ for their scheduled 10-round television bout.

Oriental Cholera Research Begins

PORT WORTH (UP)—Research on dread Oriental cholera will be carried out in a guarded laboratory at Texas Christian University for the next two years, it was reported Monday.

Dr. Sanders T. Lyles of the TCU biology faculty has received a grant from the National Institutes of Health of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to conduct the research.

The cholera bacilli to be used in the work come from the Campbell hospital in Calcutta, India, and were isolated during an epidemic there in 1953. Frozen in a vacuum and sealed, the cultures were brought back to full life by thawing and adding broth.

Animals will be used in the experiments here. The laboratory on the fourth floor of TCU science building will be specially equipped and guarded during use of the live cultures during the next two years, TCU officials said.

Dr. Lyles, a graduate of Center high school, developed an interest in cholera while in India during World War II. He has doctorate degrees in both theology and science.
