A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

A man of his word

Product loyalty isn't a problem for Ford truck pitchman Bo Gray.

The Hollywood actor and native Texan drives a Ford pickup that has logged 418,000 miles.

Bo Gray

Gray, who plays the comical cowboy riding the tiny Shetland pony in the North Texas Ford dealers commercial, was passing through Muleshoe Labor Day weekend.

He bought a pair of boots at Joe's Boot Shop that he promised to wear in his next movie or commercial and later stopped at Muleshoe Motors and autographed a five-foot cutout picture from the commercial.

The former tennis teaching professional said he just finished shooting a second commercial outside Santa Fe.

The pony, called Trigger, is the real star of the commercials, he said.

The affable Gray, who would only say he was enjoying his last summer in his forties, was just as coy about details of the new commercial.

"You're just going to have to watch it," he said. "It's going to be good."

Gray said he was one of 500 actors who auditioned for the part.

"That's just shows you how competitive acting is," said Gray, raised in Ballinger and living in Los Angeles.

Gray keeps a home near Santa Fe and often passes through Muleshoe while traveling to Ballinger to visit his folks.

Tour draws record number

The third annual Tour de Muleshoe Labor Day weekend drew 152 riders from three states and raised about $1,500 for the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation.

Foundation President Robert Shafer said it was the biggest and best tour yet and he expects it to continue to grow.

Deadly proposition

Almost 1,200 people died from 1993 through 1996 trying to cross illegally into the United States from Mexico, according to a recent study.

Drowning, at 72 percent, was by far the most common cause of death.

City's newest store hustling in preparation for opening

Bealls Department Store started its one-week countdown to opening the doors of its Muleshoe store.

Different departments were beginning to take shape Thursday and employees were busy unpacking merchandise, setting up displays, folding and hanging clothes, and filling in the newly repainted walls.

All of this in anticipation for the grand opening Thursday Sept. 11.

But Bealls is not only working hard to have the merchandise ready, but also, they're working hard to prepare their employees, said store manager Sandra Gail Miller.

"Bealls goes to extensive lengths to train employees on how to pamper customers and how to cater to their needs. Regardless of anything else, customer service is always number one," Miller said.

Bealls will offer up-dated, high quality merchandise including speciality sizes such as petites, womens, and big and tall for men, Miller said.

"We'll also have a wide variety of fragrances, and a large selection of children's shoes," she said.

Bealls will also be offering customers many programs, benefits and opportunities for savings.

The first Tuesday of every month is Club 55 Day, customers 55 years of age or older save an additional 20% on every item purchased.

City Council approves sewer rate increase

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

The Muleshoe City Council nearly doubled the city sewer rate in an effort to balance next year's budget.

The Council voted 4-1 Tuesday to raise the city sewer rates $5 for both residential and commercial customers during its final budget meeting.

The increase, which takes effect Oct. 1, is part of a $2.7 million budget proposal the Council will adopt following a public hearing Thursday, Sept. 11 at the city hall. The meeting starts at 7 p.m.

The new rates are $11 for residential and $11.50 for commercial.

It will generate roughly $110,000 in additional revenues.

City Manager James Fisher said the rate hike was needed to balance what was already a tight budget.

The new budget includes just one capital outlay project, $100,000 for the state-mandated closing of the city landfill.

"There is little to no fat in the budget," Fisher said. "If something major goes wrong, it will be a challenge to find the additional dollars to cover it."

City reserves have dwindled from $800,000 five years ago to less than $200,000, according to the city manager.

The sewer increase comes on the heels of a substantial increase in the garbage rate last month.

Larry Kirk was the Councilman that voted against the sewer increase.

"It's easier to vote with than against them," Kirk said. "But I felt it's too much to ask citizens to pay an additional $100 a year in utility fees."

Fisher said he realizes raising utilities is a burden on the citizens of Muleshoe, but there just isn't any other option.

"The community is taking a big hit — and we're aware of that — but we didn't look to or want to raise taxes," Fisher said.

After pouring over the proposed budget item by item last month, the City Council is well aware of how tight money is, Fisher said.

Mules open season with shutout

Muleshoe rolls to 403 yards of total offense

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

Muleshoe is tired of being the underdog.

The Mules gained a step toward respectability Friday night in their season-opener by dominating Portales 31-0 in front of a crowd of 1,500 at Benny Douglass Stadium.

"The kids are just tired of hearing it," said Muleshoe head coach David Wood, who reminded his team before the game that one out-of-town writer picked the Mules as 18-point underdogs. "They're been tired of hearing it for a decade.

"One game doesn't change a whole decade. But it's a good start."

Wood was soaked and sticky after a postgame Powerade compliments of his players.

"I'll do it every game if it means a win," Wood said.

Muleshoe finished with 403 total yards while holding Portales to 79 yards and three first downs.

Junior Greg Pena's 90 yards on 11 carries led a balanced Muleshoe rushing attack that piled up 343 yards.

Senior Chris Shelburne scored twice for Muleshoe, the first touchdowns he has scored at any level.

"It was great," said Shelburne, who injured his left knee and ankle on an eight-yard run in the first quarter. "The second one I got to enjoy."

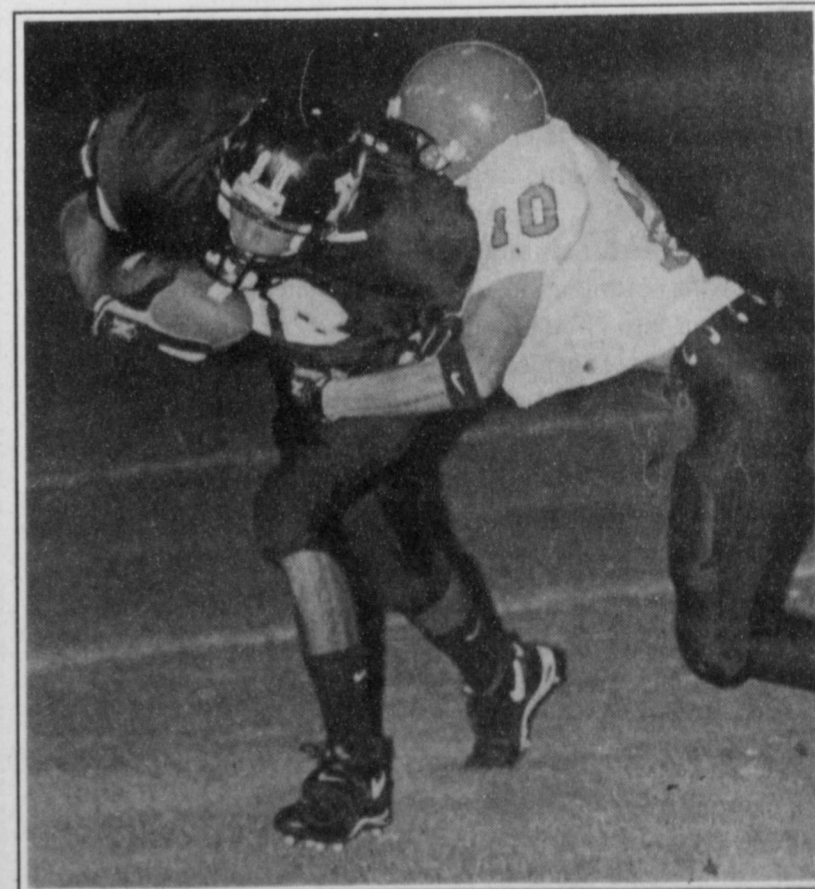

Shelburne caught a 10-yard pass from backup quarterback Breck Brown in the fourth quarter to complete the scoring.

Muleshoe scored the first three times it touched the ball.

So much for first game jitters.

"We were real confident coming into the game," said junior quarterback

Sanitation contractor working on alley cleanup

BY RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

The contractor for the City of Muleshoe's sanitation services announced this week it has changed its company name to Duncan Disposal of Lubbock.

General Manager Jack Reid said the name was changed to eliminate confusion.

Duncan Disposal, which took over the city services Sept. 1, was formerly known as WesTex Waste Services.

Earlier this year, WesTex purchased the Midland and Lubbock operations of Waste Management of West Texas.

Duncan Disposal is in the process of a city-wide alley cleanup campaign.

Reid said it is important that customers make it clear items placed in the alleys are for disposal.

"We need people to place items away from the fence so we know it is clearly intended for pickup and disposal," the general manager said.

Alley cleanup is part of company's normal service.

The city will be divided into quadrants, each of which will be picked up once a month.

Additional pickups can be scheduled by calling the Muleshoe City Hall, Reid said.

Included in alley pickup are items like brush, tree limbs and bulky items like old furniture and appliances.

The company asks that tree limbs be cut into a four-foot sections.

Additional services offered by Duncan Disposal are large dumpsters for large cleanups and construction, portable toilets and hazardous waste removal.

"We're going to have to find a way to restructure the financial status of the city. The next five years are going to be tough."

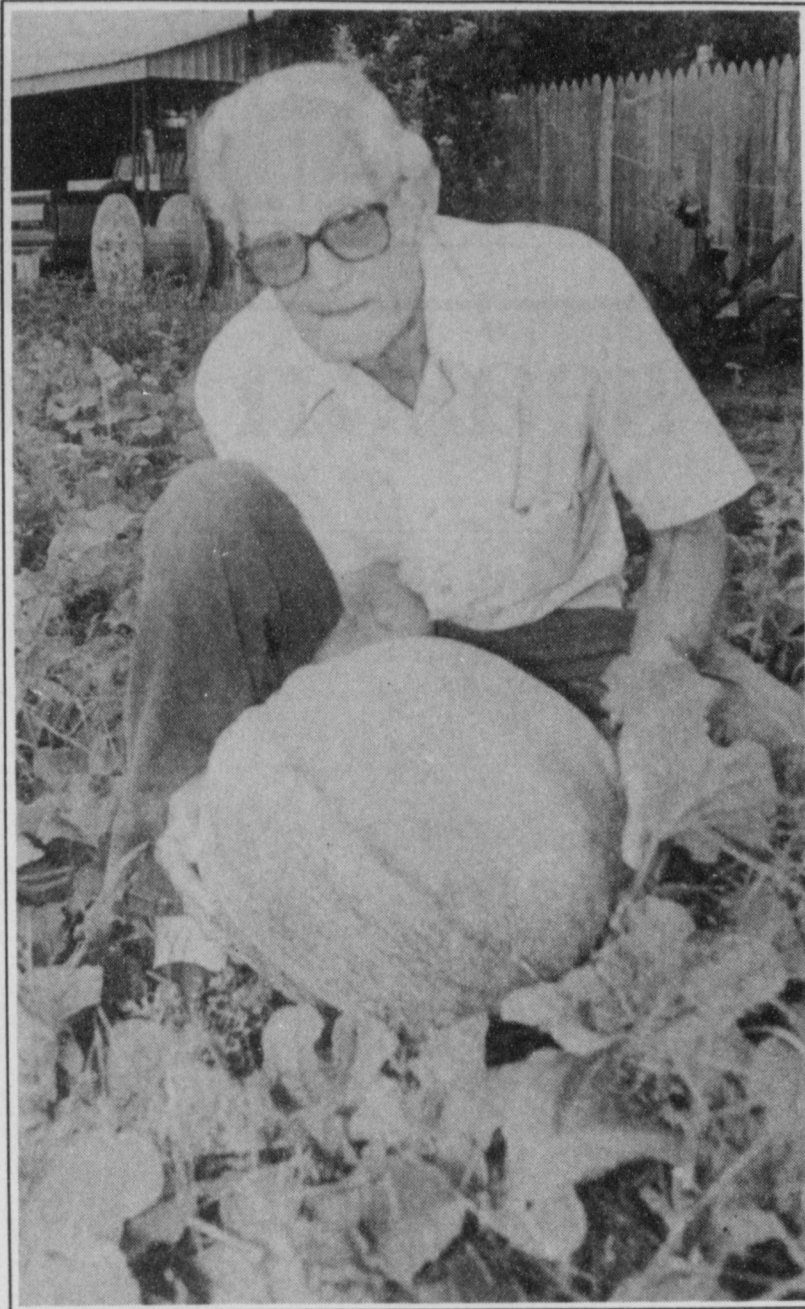

Fisher said the city doesn't have the funds for several overdue capital outlay projects.

Projects needing immediate attention include replacing an aging above ground water tank that is leaking, increasing the capacity of the sewer treatment plant and painting both city water towers.

He said the city will probably have to go into debt to pay for the projects. The money would be borrowed against the utility fund.

"We have several major facilities that are on borrowed time," Fisher said. "The City of Muleshoe does not have first-rate facilities. Things have simply worn out."

Fisher didn't want to speculate how the city got into its current financial crisis.

Work is therapy for Harris

By TERESA STONE
Journal staff writer

Evelene Harris is glad to be working again.

After battling heart problems for almost three years, Evelene has been back to work since March as a medical records clerk at the Texas Tech Regional Clinic in Muleshoe.

"This gives me something to do, just getting out of the house is important, the days can get long when you're staring at four walls," said Harris, a lifelong resident of Muleshoe.

Harris is just one of the many senior citizens in the area that have decided to keep working. She found her job with the help of Green Thumb, Inc. which operates a local community service program that provides part-time employment and training opportunities for seniors age 55 and older.

"It gives me a chance to feel useful again and it helps supplement Social Security," Harris said.

Working has always been a part of her life — she worked for the Muleshoe Journal for 15 years.

"I grew up in a big family and there was always work to be done, once my kids started school I went back to work and worked until the past few years when I was just to sick," Harris said.

A little over three years ago, Harris was rushed to the hospital suffering from congestive heart failure and an enlarged heart. She spent three days on life support.

After recovering, Harris shed 118 pounds, which she has managed to keep off.

"I knew I needed to improve my health so I changed my eating habits completely. It really has made a difference on my heart, and I'm very proud that I could do it and that I'm successful at keeping it off," Evelene said.

She keeps busy by not only working but she's a member of Jennyslippers, TOPS, and Muleshoe Church of Christ. Her five children and 11 grandchildren also keep her busy.

Harris said she is thankful for her job, the a chance to get out and see different people, and being healthy enough to stay busy.

McClanahan hurt the Rams on the option keeper at key times, slicing hard up field after faking the dive to the fullback. He finished with 69 yards on seven carries and completed 7 of 12 passes for 50 yards.

Muleshoe took the opening drive and marched 63 yards for a touchdown in eight plays. Pena burst in from seven yards out to give the Mules a 6-0 lead four minutes into the game.

Shelburne made it 12-0 four minutes later with his first touchdown, capping another eight-play drive that covered 45 yards.

Junior tailback Gilbert Vela, who rushed for 79 yards and a touchdown on 13 carries, kept the drive alive with a six-yard run on fourth down.

Muleshoe scripted the first 10 plays of the game.

"Then we just flopped them and ran 'em again," the second-year coach said.

Muleshoe showed the Rams several different looks during its first two drives, including a four-receiver set, while spreading the ball around.

The Mules continued mixing it up on their third drive.

Pena got the Mules into Ram territory with an 18-yard run. On third and three at the 30, the Mules caught the Rams off-guard with a counter play.

Carlton Lewis, lined up at wingback, took the inside handoff, bowed back behind the line of scrimmage, then cut up the left sideline and into the end zone, upping Muleshoe's lead to 18-0.

Meanwhile, Portales was looking for its initial first down.

After forcing Muleshoe to punt for the first time with five minutes left in the half, the Rams picked up a first down just past midfield on a 28-yard pass from Kevin Crane (4-14, 54 yards) to Ramon Herrera. But the drive stalled at the Muleshoe 47.

It was the only time Portales was in Muleshoe territory except for a meaningless pass on the last play of the game.

Muleshoe stalled twice inside the Portales two-yard line in the second half — losing a fumble and giving the ball up on downs, before Vela scooted 22 yards for a touchdown. Ricko Aguirre's extra point with 3:36 left in the third quarter made it 25-0.

Back-to-school advice: get involved

Children and young adults are not the only ones heading back to school this fall. Parents should be close behind being involved in their child's education.

Research shows that when parents take an active interest in their child's education, the child does better in school. Higher grades, improved attendance, and better behavior are among the positive results.

There are many ways parents can be involved in helping their child succeed in school. Here are a few tips:

Encourage your child to read:

- Read aloud to younger children. Get them to comment and ask questions.

■ When your child first learns to read, let him read to you; listen attentively and be sure to praise his efforts.

■ Have a discussion with your child about the books she reads — whatever her reading level.

■ Be a role model — make sure your child sees you reading regularly.

■ Involve other family members, especially older children who can read to the younger ones.

Make homework a routine:

- Let your child know that studying at home is expected on a regular basis.

■ Set aside a specific time and quiet place for studying or reading, every evening, even when there is no homework assignment. Make sure the study area has appropriate lighting, a comfortable chair and enough room to spread out materials.

■ Check your child's homework to make sure it is accurate, complete, and neat. Encourage your child to find and fix any spelling, grammar, or punctuation errors.

■ Discuss the assignment, give your child feedback, and praise his/her efforts.

Talk to your child about what's happening in school:

■ Encourage your child to describe what the school day was like, don't accept "nothing happened" as an answer.

■ Ask questions about teachers, your child's friends, favorite subjects, and the new things that he or she learned.

Talk to your child's teacher(s):

■ Get to know your child's teachers, and stay in touch with them.

■ Ask about your child's strengths and weaknesses.

■ Find out what you can do at home to monitor your child's progress and help him/her succeed in school.

Water: supply and demand

Supply: Texas currently uses surface water—collected from lakes, rivers and streams—for about half of its water needs. As water in underground streams and aquifers is depleted, surface water is expected to supply almost 69% of all the states' water needs.

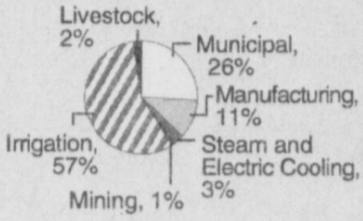

1. Surface water from rain collected in rivers and lakes.

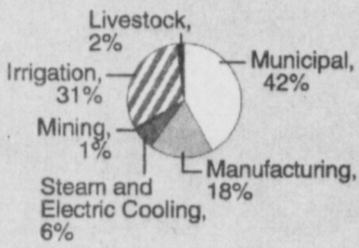

2. Underground water in aquifers and streams brought to surface by pumps and wells.

Demand: Texas' population is expected to double in the next 50 years. Water needed by cities, manufacturing and the electric power industry is expected to be two-thirds of all the state's water supply in 2050.

Entry forms now available for sorghum yield contest

ABERNATHY — This year marks the 13th year for the Grain Sorghum Yield and Management Contest which is sponsored by the National Grain Sorghum Producers.

Each year, growers from across the United States compete to see who can produce the best yield for their county and state. Entries must be post-marked at least 30 days before harvest of the contest field.

In the sorghum contest, yields are compared to the county's five-year average yield as estimated by the National Agricultural Statistical Service. The contestant's score is the number of bushels the contest plot produced over that average.

The contest is divided into four divisions: dryland conventional tillage, irrigated conventional tillage, dryland no-till and irrigated no-till.

The only change in this year's contest is that high-tannin, bird resistant sorghum seed varieties will no longer be accepted as entries in the contest. Producers who are uncertain about the tannin content of their seed can contact their local seed dealer for more information.

Producers may enter as many contest plots as they wish. A $35 entry fee must accompany each entry. Contestants must be a member of the association; however, the $40 membership dues may be sent in with the entry.

Winners are named for the county and state. State first-place winners go on to compete for national honors. State and national winners will be honored at the association's annual convention which will be held in Reno on Feb. 18-19, 1998.

Entry forms are available from the National Grain Sorghum Producer's office. Producers who are interested in entering the contest can call the office at (806) 298-4501 or write P.O. Box 530, Abernathy, TX 79311.

"The Strong-willed Child": Do You Know Any?

In one of the chapter titles of his fine book The Strong-willed Child, Dr. James Dobson asks the wry but perceptive question, "The Strong-willed Child—Is There Any Other Kind?" Well, is there? Some of us wonder.

Strong-willed children,

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

Dobson observes, are the sort of kids who are born shaking their little fists at the world and smoking cigars! According to him, a mother often knows even before the birth that she's dealing with this type of child because for months the little darling has been carving his initials on the uterine wall! If book sales are any indication, lots of parents must feel that they have children of precisely this variety.

But, really, do most of us have to look at our kids to find a good example of a strong-willed individual? I can point to one even closer to home, can't you? My wife . . .

Nope. Closer than that. Now if someone would just write a book on dealing with the strong-willed self, that's a book I'd buy!

Someone did. Someone wrote a book especially for the person who is painfully aware of both his own willfulness and his shameful lack of willpower. I'm convinced that this writer understands me. Listen to him.

"My own behavior baffles me. For I find myself not doing what I really want to do but doing what I really loathe. I often find that I have the will to do good, but not the power. That is, I don't accomplish the good I set out to do, and the evil I don't really want to do I find I am always doing" (Romans 7:15, 19).

The writer, of course, is Paul; the book, the Bible. Paul illustrates the human predicament, but he also points to the divine solution—Jesus Christ, the One who offers power to mold even stubborn wills to His own; the One who at almost unimaginable cost to Himself freely offers forgiveness when we fall.

You see, our Father knows how to deal with strong-willed children. He's got a whole world full of them.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & Avenue D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1997

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 36 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a person to hold the position of municipal judge in more than one municipality.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow a person who holds the office of municipal court judge to hold at the same time more than one civil office for which the person receives compensation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 43 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the maximum annual increase in homestead appraisals for each year since the most recent tax appraisal. The amendment would also permit the legislature to allow the governing body of a school district to elect to apply the law providing for the transfer of the age-65-and-older school property tax freeze to the person's new homestead, if the move to the new residence homestead occurred before the law took effect.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to limit increases in the appraised value of residence homesteads for ad valorem taxation and to permit a school district to calculate the school property tax freeze applicable to the residence homestead of an elderly person or the surviving spouse of an elderly person in accordance with the law authorizing the transfer of the school property tax freeze to a different homestead regardless of whether that law was in effect at the time the person established the person's homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to authorize counties, cities, towns, and other local taxing entities to grant exemptions or other forms of ad valorem tax relief on property on which approved water conservation initiatives have been implemented.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to permit a taxing unit to grant an exemption or other relief from ad valorem taxes on property on which a water conservation initiative has been implemented."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 104 proposes an supply, water quality, flood control, or state participation from one category of use to another category to maximize the use of existing funds and relating to more efficient operation of the bond programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment which would authorize home equity lending, in which a loan could be secured by a lien against the borrower's homestead. The amendment would also establish several provisions providing for consumer protection in the home equity lending process.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The amendment to the Texas Constitution expanding the types of items for home equity loans that a lender, with the homeowner's consent, may place against a homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to authorize a property tax of five cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts which are located in Harris County. The constitution currently authorizes a property tax of three cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts regardless of what county they are in.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to authorize an ad valorem tax rate in rural fire prevention districts located in Harris County of five cents on each $100 of taxable value of property."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment to permanently dedicate monies from the Texas Crime Victims' Compensation Fund (and its auxiliary fund) so that they are used only for assisting victims of crime and not for any other purpose. If an episode of mass violence occurred, however, money from the funds could be used to assist victims of the mass violence if all other sources of authorized emergency assistance were depleted first.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment designating the purposes for which money in the compensation to victims of crime fund and the compensation to victims of crime auxiliary fund may be used."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 59 proposes a constitutional amendment to prohibit the Legislature from authorizing additional state debt payable from the general revenue fund if the resulting annual debt service (the amount needed each year to make payments) would exceed five percent of the annual general revenue available over the last three fiscal years, excluding revenues constitutionally dedicated for purposes other than payment of state debt.

The term "additional state debt" does not include bonds that, although backed by the full faith and credit of the state, are reasonably expected to be paid from revenue sources other than the general revenue fund.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment limiting the amount of state debt payable from the general revenue fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 55 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Texas Supreme Court does not act on a motion for a rehearing within 180 days of the motion's filing, the motion is denied.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to establish a deadline for supreme court action on a motion for rehearing."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish the Texas Tomorrow trust fund dedicated exclusively to the prepayment of tuition and fees for higher education. The amendment would guarantee that if there is not enough money during any fiscal year to pay the appropriate tuition and required fees, the needed money will be appropriated out of the first available money coming into the state treasury each fiscal year.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to encourage persons to plan and save for young Texans' college education, to extend the full faith and credit of the state to protect the Texas tomorrow fund of the prepaid higher education tuition program, and to establish the Texas tomorrow fund as a constitutionally protected trust fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 83 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to set the official qualifications for constables.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of constables."
