Combination Of British Tanks And Paratroops End In Capture Of Intact Mijmegen Bridge In Holland

Russians Sweep Across Estonia

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (AP)—Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Red army veterans of Leningrad, having destroyed the northern anchorage of the German Baltic line in a massive sweep across Estonia, raced forward today in a double-barreled drive for the enemy escape port of Tallinn.

One wing of Govorov's forces thrusting west from Narva has captured Rahlka, less than 65 miles east of Tallinn, a Russian war bulletin disclosed last night, and presumably was even closer today. Govorov's second wing was spear-

Greeks Nearing Rimini: Rains Slow Offensive

ROME, Sept. 21 (AP)—Greek troops of the Eighth army fought to within 2,000 yards of Rimini on the Italian Adriatic coast yesterday but rain slowed down the fifth army's offensive after American forces had captured heights dominating Firenzuola, important junction on the road to Bologna.

Headquarters described fighting on both ends of the front as intense and declared the Germans were "clinging desperately" to their defensive positions.

The enemy's hold on Rimini and the gateway to the Po valley was jeopardized by the Canadians, who broke through German defenses southwest of the port and advanced to San Lorenzo, less than two miles southwest of Rimini.

As a result of this breakthrough, the Canadians were in position to outflank Rimini on the west and isolate its defenders. They were within a mile of the Marecchia river which flows into the Adriatic at Rimini and only three miles from the coast northwest of the city.

A mile behind the farthest point of the Canadian advance a large enemy force still was waging a desperate battle on San Marino ridge.

American troops, meanwhile, beginning their drive down the northern slopes of the last mountain barrier guarding the plains of northern Italy, drove the Germans off the heights of Monte Montale, Monte Acuto, Monte Freno and Barco. They were 25 miles northeast of Florence and only two miles southeast of Firenzuola, which is a junction of roads extending northward through the remaining Nazi defenses.

The doughboys also fought their way toward the key town of Santa Lucia, which is part of the Futa Pass defenses of the Gothic Line.

In the Ligurian coastal sector Fifth army troops approached the outskirts of Pietrasanta, 19 miles north northwest of Pisa, in a steady advance which reached the foothills at the western extremity of the northern Apennines.

Plains Farmers Favor Ceiling

LUBBOCK, Sept. 21 (AP)—A ceiling price for cotton harvesting—$1.25 in the field and $1.50 delivered to the gin—was favored by a majority of 200 farmers and laborers attending a hearing held by a wage board of the War Food Administration. Eighteen South Plains counties were represented at the hearing.

The suggested prices were for pulled cotton. A 50-cent premium for picking cotton was suggested.

The board will analyze the testimony presented yesterday and announce a decision, probably next week.

Similar hearings were scheduled today at Paducah and tomorrow at Sweetwater.

Marital Law May Be Lifted In Hawaii

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A proclamation which would end almost three years of martial law in Hawaii has been drawn and is expected to be submitted to President Roosevelt when he returns from Quebec. It was learned authoritatively today.

Martial law was first imposed on Hawaii Dec. 7, 1941 after the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor.

Patton's Forces Wreak Damage On Nazi Armor

ALSACE - LORRAINE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Adolf Hitler has thrown in a large portion of his armored forces against the U.S. Third Army and for three days this armored force has been engaged in the greatest single tank battle since the landings in France.

The battle has seen the destruction of 105 Nazi tanks. Much of the mobile forces at the disposal of the German army has been thrown recklessly into battle. Many of the destroyed Tiger tanks dotting the battle area had just had their numbers painted on them in the factory.

It is the first time the Germans have committed their armor in this strength since the fighting at Caen in Normandy.

Battling the panzer veterans, some from the Russian front, are young American tankmen who have given more than they have taken but who have not come out unscathed.

Their losses in yesterday's fighting were among the highest the unit has suffered in a single day since it came to France. But they nowhere approached the German losses.

This column alone has knocked out 93 tanks, destroyed 454 other vehicles, destroyed 28 guns larger than 88s and taken more than 2,000 prisoners since it dashed across the Moselle under fire north of Nancy just a week ago. It also overran an armored division headquarters and captured 110 vehicles.

War Casualties Total 400,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—War casualties of the United States armed forces now exceed 400,000.

Secretary of War Stimson said today that army casualties reported through August 29 were 337,743. The latest navy casualty list totals 63,017.

Army casualties, together with figures for the previous week, follow: killed 64,468 and 62,357; wounded 177,235 and 172,042; prisoners 48,725 and 48,181; missing 47,315 and 45,036.

Navy casualties: killed 25,152 and 24,450; wounded 23,867 and 23,064; missing 9,532 and 9,529; prisoners 4,466, unchanged from previous week.

China's Future Role In Present Conflict Of Increasing Concern

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—China's future role in the war against Japan is a subject of increasing concern for military and diplomatic officials here.

The big question is whether the American drive across the central Pacific—even though it is months ahead of old schedules—can open a supply route to free China while it is still free and still organized for effective resistance to Japan.

For this reason Pacific strategists are paying closest attention to the speed of the Allied drives into Germany. A long-delayed victory in Europe, which would set back the day of full concentration against Japan, could gravely jeopardize China's continued existence as one of the "big four" United Nations.

China has been at war constantly for seven years. For almost five years she has been blockaded—cut off from outside supplies except the hand-fuls flown in. During this period of blockade the Chungking government has lost close relationships with the people and their local and regional leaders.

These leaders have grown increasingly dissident. The communist groups in North China, long opposed by the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek, have grown more powerful. Other opposition groups have come to the fore, particularly in Kwangsi province.

Economic difficulties, inflation and shortages have made the lot of the people increasingly miserable. The armies fight without even a minimum of necessary arms. They are in many instances poorly led, and they feel they have less and less to fight for.

Recent emissaries from Washington to Chungking have done what they could to encourage Chinese leaders and through them the people to fight on, but it is felt here that the only real encouragement will be to prove beyond doubt that the long-awaited supplies are really on the way. Such proof at the moment could come only in the defeat of Germany and the consequent transfer of forces to the Pacific.

Three Japanese Islands Held By Invasion Forces

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

At least three of the Japanese-occupied Palau islands are securely held by American invasion forces today.

Capture of a fourth, Peleliu, was imminent. Soldiers and marines have taken Anguar, southernmost of the Palau group; Ngarmoked, south of Peleliu; and an unnamed island off Peleliu's northeast coast.

"The enemy resistance is bitter, but slow progress is being made" in the sixth day of fighting on Peleliu, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday. Marines had killed 7,645 Japanese, or three-fourths of the defending garrison.

(Reporting action on the seventh day, Webley Edwards said in a Blue network broadcast that all but a small strip on the northeast coast had been taken.)

Palau, 50 Liberators made the second successive heavy land-based strike at Davao, principal city of the Philippines. Fires were left blazing at the airbase, barracks and supply depot. Bad weather was about the only obstacle the Liberators encountered.

Nor did the Japanese throw up any noteworthy opposition to a recent British carrier raid on Sigli, railway maintenance point on northwestern Sumatra, Associated Press war correspondent Charles Grumich reported in a delayed dispatch. He said lack of Japanese opposition might result in the British fleet storming down Malacca Strait and neutralizing or seizing two Japanese naval bases on the way to Singapore.

Sergeant Performs Factual Miracle

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN BELGIUM, Sept. 20 (Delayed AP)—A signal construction worker turned in some of the best shooting in the war by knocking down a German ME-109 fighter with three shots from a machine-gun.

When he was warned of approaching German planes, Tech. Sgt. Wade W. Donaldson of Portland, Ore., jumped on a two and one-half ton truck and grabbed a 50-caliber machine-gun. Suddenly a Nazi ME-109 swooped over and Donaldson opened fire.

The gun was set for single fire, but he managed to pump bullets as the plane passed overhead.

Smoke began to trail from the plane and it crashed in a nearby field. Engineer troops captured the pilot, who tried to escape. Investigation showed that of the three shots fired by Donaldson, two hit the cooling system of the plane's motor, and American 1st army headquarters officially credited him with shooting it down.

Anti-aircraft officers said Donaldson's feat was one of the most remarkable on record.

Training Sessions Held Each Sunday

At the meeting Sunday there were five women and nine men in attendance, and more are expected in coming weeks. The course will continue for six weeks for scoutmasters and seven weeks for cubmasters.

The meetings are held every Sunday afternoon from 2:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Nazis Counter With Air Blows

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—British tank troops and Allied sky soldiers have captured intact the mile and half-long Nijmegen bridge in a raging 24-hour battle in Holland. They thus broke open a path to the relief of a pocket of air-borne troops locked today in a grim fight for life near Arnhem, eight miles to the north.

The Germans counterattacked by land and bombing from the air in a desperate attempt to have their high river defense line, but some of the western front's hottest fighting virtually set the seal of doom on perhaps 100,000 enemy troops caught in western Holland.

The whole fate of the Germans' Ruhr valley and the safety of their entire northern flank was turning on the outcome of this first victory and the unfolding of a second battle about to take place for control of the crossings of the northern branch of the Dutch Rhine at Arnhem.

As Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's armor raced across the Waal, largest branch of the Dutch Rhine, toward the north, units of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's 1st Allied air-borne army—believed to be Americans—apparently were hanging on grimly to positions astride the doorstep of the Ruhr.

The Germans declared the entire 1st British air-borne division was "largely wiped out" in the Arnhem area, but it was believed Americans were holding firmly to positions on both sides of the northern branch, and were possibly holding at least one crossing.

On other sectors of the Allied 500-mile front, one more port—Boulogne—was captured for the Allies. The last of the port's garrison holding out on high ground south of the city just south of Calais, was gradually being reduced following the defeat of a German evacuation attempt on the night of Sept. 1 when 11 ships were sunk by British coastal guns.

Hodges' troops pushed across the German frontier at a new point—at the German frontier village of Scherpenzeld, five miles northeast of the Dutch village of Heerlen and 10 miles north of Aachen.

In the Moselle valley other heavy counterattacks were smashed in the Dieuze area, nine miles east of Chateau-Salins and 25 miles northeast of Nancy, and in the Luneville area, 25 miles southeast of Nancy. Here the Americans were fighting about 55 miles from Strasbourg and the Rhine. Moyer and Magnieres, eight and 10 miles south of Luneville, were reached.

Finns Charged Peace Breach By Russian Papers

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (AP)—Investia and Pravda, leading Soviet newspapers, charged flatly today that Finnish authorities broke their pre-armistice promise to disarm all German forces in Finland on Sept. 15 and turn them over to the Red army high command.

The Soviet press, accusing the Finnish government of helping German troops to escape Finland, carried angry editorial quoting Nazi boast that Finnish officials aided German soldiers in their evacuation.

(A dispatch from Helsinki said the Allied armistice control commission headed by Col. Gen. Sjanov had arrived in the Finnish capital.)

Cabinet Reshuffle Follows Armistice

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Finnish cabinet has been reshuffled with Uro Castrén, president of the supreme administration court, becoming premier in succession to Hantti Hackzell, critically ill in Moscow after a stroke suffered during armistice negotiations, the Swedish radio said today.

Mrs. Anne Fisher, city health nurse, reported Thursday morning that there are several cases of dysentery among the babies of the Latin American quarter.

Mrs. Fisher warned that all mothers be scrupulously clean about babies' feedings and particularly careful in boiling all drinking water. The disease is communicable and the most dangerous carrier is the house fly. She added that in many cases the disease is fatal and she urged that the patient should be put under a doctor's care immediately upon discovery.

Christmas Gifts For Soldiers Range From Wash Rags To Toys

Christmas shopping for boys who have been deprived of visits from Santa Claus in war-torn lands abroad.

The attempt to have small toys packed into Christmas packages mailed locally is part of a national movement which has a two-fold purpose. One is to give the soldier a happier Christmas by providing him with something to give and the opportunity to make someone else's Christmas a gay event. The other is to further friendly features between this and other nations.

At any rate, Big Spring USO suggests, numerous small toys which will be inexpensive and will take up slight space in a soldier's box may be found in Big Spring stores and may make both the soldier's and a child's Christmas merrier.

Shaving accessories—mugs and creams and lotions—are proving popular gifts. Other items which local residents have included in packages packed at the USO include socks, ties, books, stationery, hard candies, fruit cake, soap, towels, wash rags, hair oil, tobacco pouches and pipes, bedroom slippers and cigar lighters.

The USO is offering the free service of wrapping packages to be sent overseas for any local resident who wishes help, as well as for soldiers stationed here. Wrapping materials are provided. Boxes of the proper size are proving difficult to obtain, although a few are available. Residents are being asked to bring boxes if possible.

Although the measurements of boxes which will be accepted by the postal department—not more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined—are approximately the same as those of an average shoe box, it was emphasized that lightweight shoe boxes are not acceptable. Corrugated pastboard or other heavy material are necessary. Packages cannot weigh more than five pounds.

Dance Will Honor New Enlisted Men

A special dance honoring new enlisted men at the Big Spring Bombardier school is to be given Saturday evening in the post gymnasium. It was announced today.

Arrangements are being directed by Sgt. Ed Todd and Cpl. Bill Mavromatis, working with Mrs. R. E. Blount, hostess of the Sad Sack Shack, the EM club.

Big Spring girls have been especially invited to put Saturday evening down on their calendar. Adequate transportation will be furnished from the USO club by the special services section, and girls will be returned there after the dance.

The post orchestra will play under direction of Sgt. Winslow Chamberlain, and in addition to several specialties, there will be a floor show during the intermission.

Hoping to make the affair something extra, the arrangers are planning some unusual decorations and special refreshments. The dance is scheduled to start at 9 p. m. and girls planning to attend should be at the USO club half an hour prior to that time for transportation.

Girls Prepare Decorations
Decorations for the enlisted men's dance to be conducted Saturday night were made by a committee from the USO Wednesday night in the Sad Sack Shack. On the committee are Wilma Fay Simpson, Clarinda Sanders, Debra Bradford, GSO girls, and Mrs. E. B. McCormick, senior hostess, and Mrs. Mavromatis.

How To Ship Food To Men Overseas

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Demonstration Agent

Many questions have been coming to this office concerning food to be sent to boys overseas. Here are a few questions and answers, that I believe will prove helpful.

Question: How do you can and prepare fruit cake for sending overseas?

Answer: You can use any of your favorite recipes for making fruit cake or plum pudding or Boston Brown bread. After the ingredients have been mixed well, packed the mixture into greased R-enamel or plain tin cans. You can line the cans with waxed paper instead of greasing them. No. 1 or No. 2 cans are more satisfactory than larger ones. Leave 1 to 1 1/2 inches head space. Seal the first roll on the can; then steam before sealing the second roll.

You can use a pressure cooker or water bath. If you use a pressure cooker, leave the petcock open during the steaming. If a water bath is used, have the hot water about two inches below the rim of the can. Steam No. 1 cans for 60 minutes and No. 2 cans for 75 minutes. Then take them out of the cooker and complete the seal. Put them back into the cooker, and process them at 10 lbs. pressure for 30 minutes.

Question: Pickles and relishes are usually canned in jars. How can I send these to my boy?

Answer: As a rule, they are canned in jars because the high acid content often reacts on metal containers. This causes perforations or hydrogen springs when the food is stored too long. However, if the food is to be in the cans for only 2 or 3 months, cans will be all right for pickles and relishes. "R" enamel cans would be best to use. Also, I would suggest using a No. 1 or No. 2 size if possible.

Any good relish or pickle recipe can be used. Of course, we have a bulletin giving a number of good recipes if any one wants to go by it. But I believe the boys usually have a pet recipe used by their mothers or wives, and it is better of course, if pickles eaten far away on foreign soil taste like food at home.

You do need to heat them some. If the pickles are thoroughly fermented or cured, you can heat the contents of the can to 170 degrees F. before sealing. This usually takes about 20 minutes in a No. 2 can when it is steamed in a water bath. If the pickles are not well cured or fermented, heat No. 2 cans for 30 to 35 minutes. At the end of the steaming, seal the cans and thoroughly cool them in cold water. Then wash the cans in case any brine or vinegar is sticking to the outside because that might cause corrosion. Now in case you're canning a freshly made relish, you should pour it into the tin can while it is still boiling. Seal it, then cool it, and it's ready to be mailed.

Question: How can I send my boy some home made preserves?

Answer: I think preserves are one of the most satisfactory products you can send. Again you can use your favorite recipe. At the end of the cooking, or if you have reheated the preserves, you can pour the hot preserves into "R" enamel cans. Fill the cans and leave no head space. Seal, and then invert the cans and let them cool in cold water.

Jelly may be handled the same way, only jelly should NOT be handled during the cooling or it may not set properly. Once it's placed in the water to cool, don't remove it until it's cold. Another problem in sending canned jelly is the high temperature the container may be held in transportation. They tell me it gets around 120 degrees F. or more in some places where the cans may be stored and this might cause the jelly to break down and not be firm when it arrives. I wouldn't recommend reheating jelly and then canning it. You can't be sure it will re-jell.

Question: What kind of cookies and can they be canned?

Answer: Yes, certain kinds of cookies ship very nicely. Honey cookies, or any recipe using molasses keep well. Also butter-scotch cookies are very good. Cookies which are made with dried fruits and nuts usually keep moist. I think they would keep better canned. You never know what conditions they might have to go through before they reach the boys. They may be subjected to high humidity or even be allowed to stand in water or rain. They tell me that often the ships have to be unloaded under cover of darkness, and they say that very poor docks and warehouses are available. Therefore, we should prepare any food we send so that it will be protected against gases, grease, water, rats, insects, and all kinds of odors. I'd advise sealing all food in tin cans that is to be sent overseas.

Question: Should I can the candy I send to the boys? What are the best candies to ship?

Answer: Yes, just put layers of waxed paper between candies or cookies and then fill in the extra space with tissue paper. One woman told me she filled this space with popped corn.

Fruit-nut candies, peanut brittle, taffy, and crystallized fruits are the best-keeping candies. It seems that the fat in chocolate breaks down easily when it's subjected to high temperatures and long storage... so I wouldn't recommend fudge.

Question: What meats are best canned to send the boys?

Answer: Any canned meats may be sent overseas. Canned chicken, barbecued chicken or beef, chili, tamales, and sausages are all favorites of the boys.

Clean Your Clothes Using Glue Method

Use dependable methods of home care of clothes. Mild soap and soft water; non-explosive cleaning fluids, the right iron temperature for pressing are most important.

Glue method for cleaning washable woollens. For generally soiled or slightly soiled woolen garments, the glue method may be used. Before using the glue method take out any grease spots with a cleaning fluid, such as carbon tetrachloride. Proceed as follows:

1. Measure the garment to be cleaned, so you will know the size. You might trace around it on a clean piece of wrapping paper.
2. Mix 3 teaspoonful of glue any good liquid glue) with each quart of soft water. The water should be 100 degrees F.
3. Fold the garment without wrinking and put it in glue and water solution. Let it soak 20 minutes. (Keep the solution at 100 degrees F.)
4. Brush soiled creases from collars and cuffs, etc., with a soft brush while the garment is in the solution. Brush only one way—with the nap or grain of the material. Don't scrub back and forth and don't wrinkle.
5. Take garment out of solution and press out water without wrinking the garment.
6. Put into a second glue solution using 1 teaspoonful of glue to each 3 quarts of water (100 degrees F). Let soak 20 minutes.

Agent Stresses Place Of Strong 4-H Club Activity In County

Durward Lewter, county agent of Big Spring has the following news for 4-H Clubs for Big Spring and neighboring towns: Texas 4-H Club reaches and serves about 15,000 boys each year and that is only a part of the 1 1/4 millions Club boys and girls in the U. S. who repeat and support their motto, "To Make The Best Better." Club work depends to a great extent upon the individual initiative of boys and girls and the encouragement and interest of parents.

We are now living in an age if a boy or girl does not have proper training, they are extremely handicapped in many ways. 4-H Club is designed to train boys and girls along special lines of work. The training these young folks receive now, in actual practice is something they will always remember and be able to profit by in the future. This type of work helps young men to make up their mind for themselves and bring about many contacts in society which they probably would not have opportunity for otherwise. Club work is worth everything it cost just for the educational side alone, but in many cases we find Club boys paying their own way through college, starting farming for themselves.

ter—100 degrees F. Try not to wrinkle the garment any more than possible.

8. Press water out between towels. Finish drying at ordinary room temperature, keep garment in shape according to your measurements or drawing.

9. Press if necessary. If you dye a woolen garment, it is well to size it with a glue solution using 2 teaspoonful of glue to 3 quarts of water.

starting a registered herd, and many other worthwhile undertakings.

Club work has contributed much to leadership in this state and hope that it will continue to increase from now on. There is nothing more important than leadership, and we hope through correct teaching and setting example we can expand and develop this great quality more in Howard county.

I am very proud of the work Howard county has done in 4-H. Club It proves to me the foresight of the parents, farmers, ranchers, and business men of the county. I want to cooperate with every one in continuing and improving this work.

There are many outstanding prizes, trips, and awards each year offered in our state to outstanding club boys, why can't Howard county have a greater part in them? I know we can and will by putting forth every effort.

Several boys have talked to me in the past week about feeding calves and pigs for the spring show. I would like to have at least 50 calves and 25 pigs in this contest. I am sure we will have that many, as feed is generally good over the county and parents seem interested in their boys doing this work.

4-H Club boys of Howard County, let us have a good time together by having a real constructive program of work and showing to out state and nation how to feed better livestock. Be a real 4-H'er and help to make Howard county the best county in Texas. Feel free to call upon me at any time, and any way I can help you it will be a pleasure to do so."

Eisenhower Said Improved After Physical Break

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) —

Reporting from Paris after his return from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's advanced headquarters, correspondent Merrill Mueller said today the "general has been driving himself to a point where, though his brilliant and tremendous mind could stand the pace, his exceedingly tough physique could not."

"His health deteriorated so much that he was literally instructed not to leave his camp for several days," said Mueller. "He is in tip top form again today however, and the sparks are flying about getting this thing over with."

CBS said Mueller also reported that Allied armies "are well over a month ahead of schedule, which is wonderful for the tactical operations but a first class headache for the strategic planning. For the past two weeks the fullest concentration has been given to driving the supply echelons and servicing parts up to the line of the present army operations."

"So now it is forward to Berlin. And General Ike will go with or as closely behind his armies as possible. His present new camp is probably his last establishment outside enemy territory. Next he will camp on the enemy's home ground and relish it."

Congress Prepares Campaign Return

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Congress, hearing the call of the campaign, made ready to quit and go home today.

With major post war legislation out of the way, its members aimed last-minute blasts of vote-getting oratory at the congressional record.

A recess resolution, freeing the lawmakers from legislative toils until the middle of November, awaited approval which leaders of both houses regarded merely as a formality.

German Commanders Planning Third War For Future World Leadership

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The German high command is urging Nazi-minded generals to save themselves and their subordinates down to the rank of company commanders as a nucleus for an army to launch a third war aimed at winning world leadership, a copyrighted front dispatch to the New York Herald Tribune declared today.

War correspondent Joseph Driscoll, with American forces in Germany, said "proof of this plot to reconstruct the German army" was found in a secret document bearing the imprimatur of the supreme command of the armed forces of the Reich. It was prepared for distribution to Nazi-sympathizing officers down to division leaders he said.

Driscoll quoted the document as saying: "Every member of the armed force must know that it is absolutely necessary to save the officers corps for the reconstruction of the fatherland. The German officer is too valuable to be sacrificed, especially in hopeless situations. The officer's salvation through retreat is in the interest of the country."

"It was the German officers corps which most promoted Germany to be the world power in the first attempt in 1914-18. It was this same officers corps which reconstructed Germany for the second attempt to lead the world. It has been foreseen that this second attempt could fail. The present turn of the war forces us to be extremely conservative with expending out officer material.

"Our final and complete victory was so certain even a short while ago that we can prepare ourselves with fresh courage for a new later fight. In order to prepare for this unavoidable third contest for leadership of the world expertly, we need our officers. At all times we have found troops in sufficient quantities.

"Therefore, care has to be taken continuously so that the officers corps be maintained at the present strength. At the same time, certain company commanders are to be selected to remain with the troops and even to sacrifice themselves, if necessary. Such examples are necessary for maintaining the morale of the troops. Division commanders will select junior officers who are to die a hero's death."

CIO Leader Says Dewey Stabbed Labor In Back

Thomas E. Dewey swung into California today in a bid for its 25 electoral votes, while the presidential race warmed up otherwise with (1) a republican saying that President Roosevelt will have to start campaigning hard and (2) a democrat contending that election of Dewey would prolong the war.

"The fourth term promoters,"

Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said in a radio talk from Washington, "he has been seized with fear and trembling."

Therefore, Dirksen said, Mr. Roosevelt is planning to make 10 campaign speeches. He has announced but two, one Saturday night and another Oct. 5.

The man who said Dewey's election "would actually prolong the war" was Oscar R. Ewing, vice chairman of the democratic national committee. Ewing explained at Malone, N. Y., that "a new president, such as Mr. Dewey" would be handicapped in making an important decision by lack of background knowledge, whereas Mr. Roosevelt "could make the decision without any waste of precious time."

While Dewey prepared for a San Francisco speech tonight (10 p. m., CWT over NBC) on his plans for giving Washington "The most complete housecleaning in history," there were repercussions from two of his recent statements.

William H. Davis, chairman of the War Labor Board, disputing Dewey's charge that the WLB has stalled on settling cases, said in Washington that it has disposed of nearly 78 per cent of its dispute cases.

Samuel Wolchok, leader of the CIO union in the Montgomery Ward seizure case, said that while Dewey "pretends friendship for organized labor, his henchmen stabbed labor in the back." Wol-chok was referred to Dewey's Seattle speech on labor and then to the action of republican members of the house committee which investigated the case. The G. O. P. members called the seizure illegal.

Palestine is administered by the British government under a mandate from the League of Nations which came into operation in 1923.

The density of population in New York city's lower east side has declined more than 50 per cent since 1905.

In the 15 years after World War I, only 30 war tanks were built in the United States.

The delicious flavor of Admiration is achieved by a skillful blending of various coffees. Each is chosen for some special quality. When all these are properly blended and roasted, they give to Admiration a unique flavor and aroma unlike that of any other coffee in America. Once you've enjoyed the habit of drinking Admiration no other coffee will satisfy you. No other coffee could. Buy a pound today and see for yourself.

Some roasters have changed their blends

Noticed a different taste lately in your Regular Blend? Bitter? Perhaps Acid?

Perhaps you've been using another brand than Admiration. Here lately it hasn't been right. Tastes flat, bites the tongue as never before. If so, don't blame your coffee pot or yourself. Blame the coffee. For many roasters have adulterated their blends with cheap, inferior grade coffees, thus to cut down on higher wartime selling costs. Try a pot of Admiration and convince yourself.

Officer Henland Victor In First Tennis Matches

Lt. Hale H. Henland, recent winner of the Big Spring City Tennis tournament, continued his winning ways at the Big Spring Bombarrier School yesterday as the annual tennis tourney got underway there.

A nice gallery assembled at the concrete tennis courts near the post gymnasium to watch Henland defeat Lt. Charles K. Crum in straight sets 6-0, 6-1. Lt. Henland displayed a fine court game and his sharp service makes him the favorite to win the singles title. He formerly was tennis champion at the University of North Carolina and held the eastern Inter-collegiate and Mid-Atlantic titles.

In other opening round matches Flight Officer Carl S. Gdout defeated Capt. Edgar Keller 7-5, 6-2, and Pvt. John Vidal edged out Pvt. Bob Moore after they were tied at one set each.

More action is on tap from 7 p. m. tonight when other opening round matches are scheduled. Lt. Blackburn Hughes meets Lt. Charles Stout in a featured contest and other pairing find Pvt. S. A. Schwartz pitted against Pvt. Jimmie Freeman and Pvt. V. Starr meets Pvt. Jerome Pinkston, colored track star.

This tournament is being sponsored by the Special Services and Physical Training departments. Doubles play will start after the singles winner is determined.

Loan Sharks In Texas Threatened

AUSTIN.—Look for a drive in Texas against small loan companies charging an illegal rate of interest. Attorney General Grover Sellers promises that "to the extent of my appropriations and staff" he is going to enforce the loan shark law.

Usurious interest was very much discussed during Sellers' campaign for the democratic nomination. And another subject & Company suit in which the discussed was the so-called Swift company is alleged to be engaged in business outside its charter powers.

"If I have any priorities in this office," Sellers said, "those two stand at the top of the list."

I. R. Stahl Re-elected President Of Texas Citrus Growers Association

DALLAS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Assn. members were enroute to their homes today after having re-elected I. R. Stahl of Weslaco as president and learned that the official opening date of the 1944 citrus shipping season would be Oct. 9.

Other officers elected yesterday in closing session of the organization's convention were Horace Etchison of McAllen, vice-president and Charles A. Rogers, Alamo, secretary-treasurer. They and Stahl will serve one year.

Two-year term directors were elected as follows: Vegetable division—Furney Muller, Laredo; D. E. Crabb, Carrizo Springs; Leeroy Crawford, San Benito and A. L. Price, Pharr. Citrus division—W. H. Braden, Mission; Joe Powell, Edinburg; J. W. Wallace, Edinburg and J. C. Connell, Alamo.

Among resolutions read by Milton Wentz, Brownsville, resolutions committee chairman, and passed unanimously were those which would give returning servicemen first preference at jobs; opposed expansion of the social security law; opposed legislation which might curb air, rail and water transportation; opposed governmental control over jobs; favored removal of all price controls and subsidies as soon as possible and favored reduction of taxes.

State Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald told the organization's executive committee that the citrus shipping season's preliminary test week would extend from Oct. 2 to Oct. 9 and that official tests for sugar, acid and juice content of citrus and the issuing of permits to ship would start Oct. 9.

McDonald warned shippers to pay fair prices to farmers and to guarantee them a true parity price for their products.

He said the spread of the pink bollworm in South Texas was menacing the entire state and that new infestation had been discovered in eight counties recently. McDonald said two things only may halt the spread—creation of a non-cotton growing zone, which would be costly to the counties involved, or use of a new chemical found to be successful in killing the bollworm. He added, however, that this chemical is still hard to obtain.

By a vote of 28 to 16, members decided to determine by a mail ballot after returning home whether the association's headquarters should be moved from Weslaco to Harlingen. The vote was requested by Austin E. Anson, Weslaco, association executive manager.

P. M. Brinker, Dallas, president of the National Association of Retail Grocers, urged shippers to merchandise their fruits and vegetables better and stressed the improved packing and shipping only of top grade produce.

The convention closed with a banquet last night.

Johnson Sentenced To Two Years In Jail

Charlie Johnson, charged with intent to rob S. M. J. Benson on May 18, entered a plea of "guilty" Tuesday afternoon in the 70th District Court. He was sentenced by Judge Cecil Collins to serve two years in the State Penitentiary, and given four months credit for the time he spent in county jail here.

Nazis Respect American Flag And Fighting Force

By HAL BOYLE
ROMORANTIN, France, Sept. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—Tall, suave Lt. Col. Jules K. French has become "a surrender specialist."

He left a Manhattan realty firm to enter the army; ever since he landed in France he has been occupied with taking over real estate holdings from the Germans, and arranging for them to relax behind American barbed wire.

His first venture in this direction was the negotiation of the surrender of 381 men on Ceze-meire Island in St. Malo harbor.

With that victory behind him, French was a natural choice for liaison officer assigned to the task of staying with Nazi General Erich Elser until he yielded his 20,000 armed troops south of the Loire river.

He had the delicate job of ironing out any difficulties arising from the surrender agreement and avoiding friction until after the German troops had given up their arms.

French found his stay with the Germans surprisingly pleasant. They assigned him an orderly and before he even got out of bed in the morning there was a pot of steaming coffee ready and his shoes had been freshly shined.

"The Germans were in good shape, considering that many of them walked all the way from the Spanish border," he said.

"They are very heel-clicking and formal. They salute with up-raised palm, but I never heard one spoken 'Hell' while I was there."

French felt a little odd to be mixing with German officers who, like himself, wore sidearms, but gradually he got over that.

"At dinner time we all took off our pistols," he said, adding that the most embarrassing thing about his mission was the way the French populace along the route cheered him when they saw he was American, and booed and hissed the Germans.

"The Nazis just acted as if they didn't hear it," he said. "They knew that the French people had only tolerated them for the past four years."

"It is an odd thing about these Germans. They know that they have lost France, but they still won't admit—at least not out loud—that they have lost the war."

"They have shown great respect for the American flag and American people. Their respect is not based on affection. It is simply that they admire our great power and believe it will be fairly applied. They think we fight fairly in battle."

"The thing that has amazed and puzzled them most is how it was possible in such a short time for America to build almost from nothing an army of the size and strength which fought them in France. They know how long it took them to build the wehrmacht and they still can't understand how we did the job so quickly.

"They have no liking for their Japanese allies. They call them savages."

PROFESSIONAL INTEREST

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—George Punshon, railroad special agent and former member of the Kansas City police force, attended a circus, saw five old pickpocket acquaintances sitting in a row, innocently watching the performance. He asked them what they were doing these days. The reply: "Nothing right now. We're all going down to Oklahoma City next week. Dewey's going to make a speech there."

Comes Now The Day Of Swollen Eyes And Griefless Tears And Tortured Sneezes

By CHAMPE PHILIPS

He was a large man, and there was nothing unusual about him except that huge tears were streaming down his cheeks. I went over to him and asked him what was wrong and if I could help in any way. He wiped his eyes, blew his nose two or three times then answered "No, there's nothing wrong. It's just this hayfever." The big fellow was still crying when I left.

So hayfever season is here again. People all over town have been suffering from it increasingly, and are loudly acclaiming. "What have I done to deserve this?" and "Come death, and lay thy soothing hands upon my brow!"

I heard one victim advising another . . . "Go to the doctor and let him see what your allergic to. It never fails. Sure cure." And another one: "I've tried everything . . . even to standing on my head 10 minutes everyday. Nothing works. I'm doomed. Doomed." There are different causes for hayfever, we are told, and not all of them affect all people. It just depends upon the individual and to what he is allergic. There is one thing that might help though. It isn't a cure, but it might give a little relief, and prevent chapping of the nose. Put some plain ordinary petroleum jelly in each nostril. Sometimes it helps, and sometimes it doesn't. A-chew!

The first British raid on Dieppe, France, occurred in 1939.

Texas Tall Man Has Served Four Years In Infantry; Is Just 21

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Pfc. Riley M. Tidwell, six and one half feet tall in his GI shoes, grinned his friendly Texas grin.

Tidwell, whose father is H. L. Tidwell of route one, Corsicana, was just back from Italy, the second day was his 21st birthday, and he had four years of service in an infantry rifle company behind him.

With a number of other returned GIs, he was interviewed by the war department bureau of public relations. The others included T/Sgt. Jerry W. Davis, whose brother lives at Paris; Pvt. Rosalio S. Zamora, who has San Angelo relatives; Sgt. Jesse D. Bunch of Snyder, and S/Sgt. Winifred O. Williams of Hughes Springs.

All had furloughs coming and were planning visits to Texas.

The 143rd infantry, with which

Tidwell went in as part of the 36th infantry division at Salerno Sept. 9, 1943, was the same outfit in which he had enlisted on Sept. 9 three years earlier.

"Most of the men from company 'B' were from around Mexia, and practically all of them from Texas," he said. "It was a great outfit. I don't believe any company ever had a better commanding officer than we had in Capt. Henry T. Wash-kow (whose home is in Belton). When he was killed on a hill at Venafro I felt like I had lost a brother. I was his runner but every man in the company loved him because he was not only a great leader but a man who never asked you to do anything he wasn't ready to do himself."

"In the battle for Hill 1205, company 'B' was a kind of reserve company and was carrying up rations for the rest of the battalion, which had the hill. We had been doing that for four days and were pretty tired and beaten up."

"When the 45th infantry division units on our left were pulled out, we got the mission of taking a lower hill near Hill 1205. We had barely got started when a shell hit right beside Capt. Wash-kow and he was killed almost instantly. First Sgt. John W. Parker (of Mexia) took over command and we took the hill."

Tidwell also fought at Anzio. His last engagement was on June 10, some 120 miles north of Rome, when he was hit by a shell fragment.

Davis is back after 17 months overseas in a rifle company of the 336th infantry division. He took part in the landing at Salerno, fought on the Cassino and Anzio fronts and was 180 miles beyond Rome when he was withdrawn from combat.

During his action in Italy he was wounded twice and says that both times he got even with the Germans.

Detroit Plans For Worlds Series Downing New York Second Straight

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
"Hold that Tiger! Hold that Tiger! Don't let that Tiger go!" That was the American league's theme song today but it was beginning to look as though something more desperate than holding was in order if Detroit's Bengal were to be kept out of the 1944 world series.

Steve O'Neill's ferocious cats had clawed the opposition at a 13 out of 17 pace since Sept. 1 to scramble past both St. Louis and New York.

With only 12 games to go and a game and a half lead on the Browns, the Tigers dominated the picture today. Two straight over the Yankees had practically eliminated the defending champs, dropping them four games back and Boston had taken care of itself by losing two in a row to Cleveland to fall six full games behind.

Over the harvest month stretch, O'Neill's batting order, paced by Roger Cramer, had slugged out a Dick Wakefield, Rudy York and .302 average while the pitching corps had tamed the enemy with an anemic .242 figure.

Twelve Detroit hits off Rookies Mel Wuseen and Floyd Bevins helped Dizzy Trout to his 25th victory yesterday with an 8-2 edge over New York. Wakefield belted an inside the park homer and two singles.

Jack Kramer kept the Browns up there, bouncing back from Tuesday's discouraging setback to trim Washington, 5-2. Chet Laabs, who replaced Al Zarilla in left field, led the 11-hit attack on Mickey Haefner and Al Carrasquel.

Reliever Jim Bagby stopped Boston in a wild-hitting contest won by Cleveland with two in the 13th, 11-10. Chicago broke loose with six runs in the seventh to give Orval Grove a 6-1 verdict over Russ Christopher.

Bucky Walters grabbed his 22nd win by beating the Phils in the nightcap, 6-4, after Charley Shanz had stopped the Reds in the opener, 3-2. Pittsburgh downed Brooklyn 2-1 to keep the idle Cardinals from mathematically clinching the flag. Other games were rained out.

Returning Letterman Boosts Indiana Hopes

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 21 (AP) — Storm warnings for football foes were flying over Indiana University today.

The Hoosiers, counted out as a threat to anybody before the season started, now are recovering remarkably well after a shot in the arm with the surprise arrival of Bob Hoernschemeyer, freed by the navy to resume studying yard-gaining passes that gave Indiana one of the best all-civilian teams last season.

AN IDEA AT LEAST

HARTFORD, Conn. — Whether or not the pace was too swift, they didn't say, but the Idea-a-Month club of Norwich acted on their latest idea and have filed papers on final dissolution with the secretary of state's office here.

Excepting Lamar All Teams Begin 1944 Campaigns

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football campaign opens on every front this week-end, bringing into action 102 of the 105 class AA teams and featuring battles between the defending state champion San Angelo and Lubbock and Brackenridge (San Antonio) against John Reagan (Houston).

After this week only one school — Lamar of Houston — will not have started the season.

San Angelo will be opening a tough class AA schedule which in consecutive weeks sends the Bobcats against Lubbock, Denton and Amarillo—three top-rated outfits of the state. Last weekend Lubbock whipped Odessa, a ranking team in San Angelo's district, 18-6.

Brackenridge, hailed as the powerhouse of South Texas and freely picked to play a big part in the state race, meets the team generally conceded to be No. 1 in the Houston district—the John Reagan Bulldogs.

The schedule of 66 games is crowded with headline contests with these among the standouts: Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) at Wichita Falls, Amarillo at Abilene, Sweetwater at Masonic Home (Fort Worth), Adamson (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas), Waco at Jeff Davis (Houston), Longview at Fort Arthur and Greenville at Corpus Christi.

Flowers To Head TCU Horned Frogs

FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (AP) — Captain of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs for the second successive year is Clyde Flowers, all southwest conference tackle last year and TCU's only two-year letterman. Zeke Chronister, letterman end and basketball star, was elected co-captain yesterday along with Flowers.

The Frogs leave tomorrow for Kansas City where Saturday they play the University of Kansas.

Baugh Ordered Off Gridiron To Range

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Washington Post said today that Sammy Baugh must quit the Washington Redskins and return to his Texas ranch by Oct. 1 or be classified 1A by selective service.

Baugh must choose between continuing in professional football or returning to his occupation as a rancher, the Post said it was told by C. R. Simmons, chairman of the Nolan county (Texas) draft board No. 1.

"As a rancher Baugh has been holding a 2C classification," said Simmons, "and he applied in July for permission to play three charity games in pro football. With the approval of the state board, we granted Baugh that permission and notified him that he must be back on his ranch by Oct. 1 or he would be put in 1A. Pro football is not an essential occupation."

Slingshot Sammy Says He'll Start Ranching

ROTAN, Sept. 21 (AP) — Sam Baugh, star quarterback of the Washington Redskins of the National professional football league, said today he would "do as the draft board says" and stay on his ranch here rather than play this fall.

"I will do as the draft board says," Baugh declared when telephoned at his ranch today.

George Ball of El Paso, men's singles champion, will defend his title.

Mississippi vs. Kentucky

Baseball men are expecting a ticket scalpers' field day if the Tigers win the pennant because the Detroit management decided to sell them over the counter instead of by mail. . . Former middleweight champ Ken Overlin, who has done well in his west coast comeback, is planning to head for the east and the big money next winter. . . School kids in Wollaston, Mass., and Jefferson, Wis., likely will become baseball fans when they learn that Mary Pratt's return to her teaching job in Wollaston was delayed because she was pitching for Kenosha, Wis., in the girls' league world series and Doris Teisloff has been commuting from her Jefferson, Wis., school to lay for Milwaukee.

Sports minded soldiers who have been asking for a look at big league baseballers will get a big break in these USO-Army tours arranged for this winter. Ball players are okay, but first class "barbers" like John Carmichael and Tom Meany can do a real job of entertaining GI's. . . Lieut. Bob Paeschke of the air corps, former Marquette U, football and track star, has no worries about a post-war job. A western university that planes to buy two planes to transport its Athletic teams, is ready to hire him as a pilot. . . When Lieut. ### NOT NAUGHTY, JUST HARD UP

BOULDER, Colo. — Yes, the Dodo, University of Colorado humor magazine, has lost its second-class mailing privileges. Ralph Crossman, head of the college of Journalism, admits—but not because of questionable humor.

The understaffed circulation department simply forgot to put the last issue in the mail, so the mailing permit was lost.

And Dodo hasn't the $10 needed for a new permit.

"WHERE THERE'S A WILL"

KINGSBURY, Calif. — Young Donald Daniels noticed the cadets at St. Mary's preflight school drilling with wooden guns—just what he and his gang needed. Yes, said the school commander, the school had some old ones which weren't being used any more, but he didn't have authority to dispose of them.

So Donald wrote to President Roosevelt. Now the gang is hard at drill.

Gilbert To Retire As Unbeaten Champ

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 21 (AP)

After more than 20 years of field managing in the Southern association, Larry Gilbert is hanging up his cap and shoes—retiring as the unbeaten champion, the league's unchallenged "Mr. Baseball."

The veteran pilot led his Nashville Vols to another pennant last night, conquering the Memphis Chicks in the seventh and decisive game of the split season playoff, 11 to 10.

It was Nashville's second straight pennant.

For Gilbert, who has announced he will turn his field duties over to another next season, it was the eighth — five championships at New Orleans and three at Nashville.

Gilbert and his Vols won this one the hard way, rallying from the two-game deficit to finish in a wild rush. They won the last three games from the Chicks.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marshall

Soldiers vs. Civilians in Tomorrow's World

You hear some talk about how—when the war is over—there's going to be bad feeling between soldiers and civilians; how the country will be divided into those who fought in uniform and those who stayed at home.

Well, maybe you saw that letter from a soldier overseas, in one of our big magazines. It said that men in uniform aren't thinking any such thoughts—any more than folks at home are.

The most important thing is, that we're all engaged in one titanic struggle to preserve our freedom and our rights—not just as soldiers or civilians—but as Americans!

From where I sit, that attitude is going to win the war—and win the Peace too. If we can respect the rights of others—whether it's their right to enjoy a glass of beer, or to vote the way they please—we've got a mighty sound foundation for our peacetime world.

Federal Aid Is Needed In Texas By Most Agencies

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 — State's fighters who realistically admit that full state sovereignty can be restored only when Texas cuts loose from Uncle Sam's purse-strings might well start looking for around $50 millions. That's approximately the sum which state agencies whose financial transactions pass through Austin get in a year from the federal government. Presumably these activities which are by this time firmly grounded in the state governmental set-up would not be abandoned.

The big federal contribution is for the several social security programs: Some $22 millions to match our state pension funds; another million to pay pension administrative costs; $650,000 to aid in aiding the blind; $1,657,000 for other child welfare work; and $1,032,000 for administering unemployment compensation.

The next biggest single item is highways — in fact the federal highway aid was about all we spent last year, around $11 millions. This is approximately the amount spent in pre-war years. State representatives have asked for a vastly enlarged spending program by the federal government for the postwar period.

In the educational field, one war activity—the training of national defense workers—cost Uncle Sam around 4 million dollars last year. This may be considered an extraordinary expenditure; but in the field of ordinary expenditures are found these items: Smith-Hughes fund, $348,000; crippled children fund, $211,000; rehabilitation fund, $165,000; George Deen fund, $762,000. These are special training funds—vocational, agriculture and the like—and rehabilitation funds.

Just now the federal government is handing entirely the former federal-state employment service, which some state officials have urged be returned to the state. The state has set up no system of aid to discharged service men excepting those operating through state selective service, the state-federal unemployment compensation, and the new federal veterans aid program.

The various kinds of aid to farmers which the federal government pays falls entirely outside the realm of state government so far as any conceptions heard in official circles are concerned.

Humble Charges Federal Agencies With Conspiracy

DALLAS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Federal Judge William H. Atwell was expected to rule today following adjournment of a hearing on an injunction suit in which Humble Oil & Refining company charged that the government agencies conspired to seize its Ingleside, Tex., plant.

Judge Atwell two weeks ago granted Humble a temporary restraining order in the suit, which the firm brought against the War Labor Board, the Petroleum Administration for War, and certain government officials.

The hearing, which adjourned yesterday, was on the question of a permanent order. Both sides presented arguments. Humble asking Judge Atwell to enjoin the federal government from seizure of the plant and department of justice attorneys pleading for a motion to dismiss and for summary judgment.

Origin of Humble's case dates back to June, 1943, at which time the Eighth Regional War Labor Board ruled the firm was justified in not including a maintenance of membership clause in its contract with Local 316, CIO Oil Workers Union, of the Ingleside plant, where 470 persons are involved. Humble employs 14,000 men and women in its three refineries at Baytown, Ingleside and San Antonio.

Grain Shipment Receives Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Additional freight cars are being hurried to West Texas to help expediate the shipment of grain sorghum now being harvested in that area, Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) reported today.

He said the exact number of extra cars available in the area could not be determined here.

With the Texas crop expected to exceed last year's 72,000,000 bushels, the market price has dropped sharply because of the lack of storage and shipping space, Mahon asserted.

Since warehouse or storage bin certificates are required before farmers can qualify for a government loan on the grain, much of the crop is moving into the hands of speculators at prices reported as low as $1.10 per 100 pounds, he added.

The current Commodity Credit Corporation loan price is $1.69 per 100 pounds, and not $1.69 per bushel as erroneously reported yesterday by the Associated Press.

Summer Passes But Not Intense Heat

The gent, who sagely observed of the weather that "all signs fall in a drouth," might have added a similar word for the temperature records.

Today, with the almanac pointing a finger at the alleged beginning of autumn, found the thermometer pointing upwards in the 90 bracket. That, the charts declare, isn't supposed to be, and if there is consolation in the thought, comfort is certainly lacking.

Temperatures of 90 and above in September are not uncommon in Big Spring, but they are rare as an honest playboy with a T card.

The last three years will be a case in point. In 1911, the last year when natives can recall a decent rain, there were 10 days of 90-plus weather, but none of them came after Sept. 15 and the highest was 95. The following year, which was dry and should have been hot, had only three of the 90-plus variety and one fell after the middle of the month. Last year, a dry specimen also, cooked up 14 of these warmer than warm days during the month, but on yone—a sizzling 99—fell after Sept. 15.

This year, alas, the number of September scorchers is down to a half dozen (so far), but half the number has been after the middle of the month. It's a mighty silly way to welcome autumn.

Secret Weapon Of Germans Seen

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Citizens of neutral countries who claim to have seen the Nazi "V-3" secret weapon, believed to be a rocket bomb, say it looks "like a flying telegraph pole with a trail of flame." London newspapers declared today.

The neutrals say the projectile is about five feet in diameter and 50 feet long, carrying a ton of explosive and nine tons of secret fuel for motive power.

They describe it as a long range weapon useful against targets hundreds of miles away and say it has extremely high trajectory.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels has announced that the new terror weapon is ready for use, the newspapers said.

Marine Base Announces Death Of Two Airmen

FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Eagle Mountain Marine Air base announced that two marine corps airmen were killed yesterday in the explosion of their dive bomber as it crashed into the Gulf of Mexico 50 miles off Sabine Pass.

The two fliers were temporarily assigned to Jefferson Field near Beaumont, but were stationed at the air base here.

ONE DAIRY CHARGED

E. R. Nichols, city sanitarian, announced Wednesday afternoon that he had been checking up on local dairies and has discovered one which is in violation of a city ordinance. The concern had improperly labeled some of its products and neglected to label some bottles at all.

Nichols has made no charge, to make a phone call.

Webster defines "expectorate" in various ways, all of which are unpleasant, and the definition of "to spit" is equally distasteful. However, they are no less disgusting than the actual practice. Complaints have been coming in to city officials from several ladies of Big Spring asking that something be done about it. The officials can do nothing more than wring their hands, pull their hair and appeal to the offenders' gentlemanly instincts, if any. At least wait until the ladies have passed—please!

Truman Charges Dewey Statement

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The "indispensable man" proposition was originated by the republicans," U. S. Senator Harry S. Truman, democratic vice presidential nominee, declares.

"We never said there was an indispensable man. We say we believe there should be a man of experience in the White House at this time," Truman said yesterday in a statement during a press conference at democratic national committee headquarters when asked for comment on republican presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey's charge at Portland, Ore., Tuesday night that President Roosevelt considered himself "indispensable to the entire world."

Asked if he had used words quoted by Dewey that "the very future of the peace and prosperity of the world depends upon his (Roosevelt's) reelection in November," Truman said he had, adding, "I think that is true."

Commenting in a formal statement on Dewey's speech, Truman declared:

"So far we have had not one constructive policy suggested by the minority party's candidate. He recites stories of alleged evils but offers no plan or correction or remedy."

Vaughn Named As Committee Head

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Grady Vaughn of Dallas has accepted chairmanship of a committee of Texas oil men who will oppose U. S. Senate ratification of the Anglo-American petroleum agreement.

Chairman Beauford Jester of the Texas railroad commission who was authorized by oil operators meeting here informally this week to appoint the committee said other members would be named after careful consideration.

Jester pointed out there is no need for speed since the senate foreign relations committee will not begin hearings on the agreement until after the Nov. 7 general election.

Detectives Reunite Mother With Child

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21 (AP)—Cleveland detectives have reunited three year-old Frank Klein, Jr., with his mother, Evelyn, after the child was taken from a New York courtroom Sept. 12.

Detective Sergt. James E. Edwards reported the boy was found in a local boarding house. The detective said the father of the boy, Frank Klein, an army private stationed at Camp Barkeley, Tex., was wanted by New York police on a kidnaping charge and that details on the case had been given to army authorities.

Divorced here two years ago, Mrs. Klein was given custody of the child. The mother moved to New York City and the father, visiting there on a furlough, brought suit against his former wife for neglect of the boy. Mrs. Klein told police the child was taken while she left the courtroom.

OPA Plans Hold On Price Rise

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Office of Price Administration economists said today they believe that reconversion prices can be held to 1942 levels in many cases even if the War Labor Board's wage formula is cracked.

The OPA goal of prices of more than two years ago on commodities to be returned to production can be achieved, OPA economists say, if wage increases allowed do no more than compensate for loss of overtime pay when the 48-hour week is abandoned.

A more substantial boost would be another story, an official of the agency said today.

Class B Football Shows No Increase

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—A total of 171 teams will compete in conference B football, play of the Texas Interscholastic League this year.

Three schools, Fabens, Cranfills Gap and Meridian, were registered but were not assigned to districts because of transportation difficulties.

The conference B roster brings to 545 the number of teams participating in conference AA, conference A and conference B.

The roster of six-man teams is not complete.

Southern Ginners Meet At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Southern ginners and their representatives met here today in a regional conference with officials of the federal wage and hour divisions to aid in making new regulations for exemption of agricultural workers under the wage and hours regulation.

Conferences throughout the nation were occasioned by a decision of the United States supreme court which overruled the old definition exempting agricultural workers on payrolls of ten persons or less.

The new definition is to be drawn in conformity with the court decision and will be retroactive to 1938.

Jurcak New Inspector Of Poultry At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 21 (AP)—Louis Jurcak, formerly of Plainview, has been named state poultry inspector with headquarters at Texas A&M College, the Texas A&M Extension Service announced today.

The announcement said that Jurcak would devote most of his time to advancing the status of the Texas turkey industry as a joint employee of the college, the extension service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Hitler Traveling In Armored Train

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—CBS Correspondent Howard K. Smith said in a broadcast from Bern today that travelers from Germany reported Hitler now lived in his heavily-armed special train, which moves from station to station by day and halts at night in guarded tunnels.

Hitler is said to leave the train only to take little walks in forests between stations, Smith reported.

A Swiss newspaper quoted by Smith in his broadcast said Hitler had become inaccessible to all

Civilian Food Prospects Good

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Civilian food supply prospects in the United States are "reasonably good" for the remainder of this year and early 1945, the bureau of agricultural economics said today.

The bureau said that the per capita civilian consumption for 1944 would be slightly higher than last year and seven per cent above the pre-war five year average.

Communication Efforts Made To Rescue Miners

GUANAJUATO, Mexico, Sept. 21 (AP)—All efforts to establish communication with four or more miners known to be bottled up in the El Carmen mine, near here, have been in vain.

Crowds have surrounded the mine day and night for four days and efforts to remove a huge boulder driven into it by recent floods or pump air into the shafts have been fruitless.

So many people have disappeared from the flood-devastated region around the mine that many believe more than four men have perished there. Some calculate as high as fourteen the number of victims.

The War Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting For Dewitt Mackenzie)

County judges and commissioners of West Texas have just concluded another of their semi-annual sessions, this time at San Angelo, with a series of resolutions.

Because it is the fruit of officials in the various counties, this action necessarily carries a certain amount of weight, and thus the resolutions should be of more passing interest.

One of them, passed by a three-to-one margin, calls for the abolition of the state ad valorem tax. Another endorses a proposal by Weaver H. Baker, chairman of the state board of control, that facilities of military establishments in Texas be adapted to use as state eleemosynary institutions. A third one urges that road machinery and heavy equipment used in military work and construction be used for road maintenance, construction and for soil building programs. A fourth suggests that the anticipated big highway building program after the war be handled through existing agencies.

For a long time there has been agitation for erasing the ad valorem tax. Before we would agree that it should be removed for state purposes, we should like to be shown conclusively that state finances could survive without necessity of new taxes on some already overburdened sources. We should also like to be shown that the move is not one by local authorities to get at a good source of revenue to the exclusion of the state. We also should like to know what the philosophy is concerning local ad valorem taxes.

There was a time when these were our highest taxes. That was when agitation reached its peak for doing away with the ad valorem tax. Today there are other equally heavy taxes, and already property of one character or another is becoming the sanctuary of idle wealth. Unless some non-resident provision was made in connection with it, the complete abandonment of ad valorem taxes might prove unwise. It could be that abolishing it for state purposes would aggregate current trends. We recommend careful study before accepting this resolution for full face value.

The suggestion by Weaver Baker has much merit, although we do not believe that the federal government will give the state a blank check to military structures. Indeed, local people and local governmental units might have equally as meritorious need of some of this equipment. The board is deserving of some priority, but not of monopoly.

The use of machinery for road building and particularly for soil building purposes, strikes us as a good idea, but there is no point of doing this equipment out unless need and ability to use and maintain are conclusively shown. As for handling the post-war highway program through existing agencies, we add a hearty "amen!" The fever for new commissions, committees, boards, agencies, etc. is a virtual plague today.

Please, Ladies, A Hand

Please, ladies, give the Red Cross a helping hand in meeting its heavy quota of surgical dressings.

The cycle has completed its turn and right now the faithful few are trying to carry the load for an entire chapter.

It's a shame that a dozen or so women have to

The battle for Germany, which for a time appeared likely to take place at the Rhine, has actually begun in the Siegfried Line and watery Holland and will be decided there.

That the Germans can take another terrible beating and yet retire once more in sufficient strength for any real further stand appears unlikely.

Reports from Arnhem sound grim. Our troops are reported surrounded by a bitterly determined enemy. But they were trained for just such fighting. The Allied commanders have yet to blunder in western Europe. This morning's news that all airborne units south of Arnhem have linked up with the British is a strong indication that the battle to turn the northern end of the Siegfried Line is still going, as the generals love to put it, "according to plan."

Two plans of action, which may merge, seem to be open to the Allies. Holding tremendous German forces by strong attacks south of Holland, everything else can be thrown into an invasion of northwestern Germany across the coastal plains to envelop the great German ports as those of France and the low country coasts have been enveloped. That would be the Russian system, with truly decisive blows farther south held in reserve.

On the other hand, the Allied campaign has developed to oversimplify, almost like three separate wars. They may have the strength to continue that way.

The Seventh army on the extreme right flank has conducted its own private invasion, has cleaned up southern France and stands before Belfort, ready to invade southwestern Germany, probably the weakest Nazi area of the reich and where there has been talk of forming provincial governments for separate truces.

The American First and Third armies have operated all along separately from, although in most complete co-ordination with, Montgomery's multi-Allied forces nearer the coast, and are pointed toward the Cologne-Coblenz area.

Arnhem is the first job. It is the key to the border and the great north German highway system. A gap there would permit the Allies to flow both east and south behind the Siegfried and Rhine defenses, providing an anvil on which Patton, Hodges and Patch could pound the life out of Germany's entire western defenses.

work constantly at the job to keep the chapter from dismal or complete failure when there are hundreds—yes hundreds and hundreds—of women who could, if they would, help.

Don't wait for somebody to call you up and compel you to go. Volunteer your services to Red Cross. After all, some of these dressings might be for some of your folks. In any event, they're good American boys all.

last. He said so."

All that talking pictures did to Nagel was to make him The Voice, the man who could talk and therefore the most popular dramatic hero of early talkies. All they did to Johnny Mack was to stamp him, inevitably, as "Tex" or "Alabam" in most of his roles — to justify his southern accent. And after lunch they went back to a set where the "mike" followed the actors, to nobody's concern, and they all could concentrate on what they were doing and how they were acting.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

Ernie Pyle: Hardest Fighting Was Oran Battle; Country Much Like The Southwest

IN ALGERIA, Dec. 1942—The hardest fighting in the whole original North African occupation seems to have been here in Oran. Many of my friends whom I knew in England told me about it, and they have told me all about it. Without exception, they admit they were scared stiff.

Don't get the wrong idea from that. They kept going forward. But it was their first time under fire and, being human, they were frightened.

I asked an officer how the men manifested fight. He said, largely by just looking pitifully at each other and edging close together to have company in misery.

Now that the first phase is over, a new jubilation has come over the troops. There is a confidence and enthusiasm among them that didn't exist in England, even though morale was high there.

They were impatient to get started and get it over, and now that they've started and feel sort of like veterans, they are eager to sweep on through.

That first night of landing, when they came ashore in big steel motorized invasion barges, many funny things happened. One famous officer intended to drive right ashore in a jeep, but they let the folding end of the barge down too soon and the jeep drove off into eight feet of water.

Other barges rammed ashore so hard the men jumped off without even getting their feet wet.

It was moonlight and the beach was deadly quiet. One small utility I know didn't hear a shot till long after daylight the next morning, but the moonlight and shadows and surprising peacefulness gave them the creeps, and all night as they worked their way inland over the hills nobody spoke above a whisper.

Each outfit was provided with the password beforehand. In the shadows soldiers couldn't tell who was who, and everyone was afraid of getting shot by his own men, so all night the hillsides around Oran hissed with the constantly whispered password directed at every approaching shadow.

I wish I could tell you what the password was. You would think it very funny.

A friend of mine, Lieut. Col. Ken Campbell, captured eight French soldiers with a pack of cigarettes. It was all accidental. He stumbled onto an Arab sleeping on the beach who told him there were soldiers in the building up the hill.

Campbell sneaked up, revolver in hand, and opened the door. The soldiers were all asleep. With quick decision, he stuck the gun back in his holster, then woke the soldiers. They were very startled and confused. Campbell spoke perfect French, so he passed around the cigarettes, chattered with the soldiers, told them they were captured and after a bit marched them away.

Pvt. Ceveré Conick from Pittsburgh, telling me how the soldiers felt during that first advance, says everybody was scared but didn't talk about that in the rest periods between advances. He says they mainly wondered what the papers at home were saying about the battle.

Time after time he heard the boys say: "If my folks could only see me now!"

Boys from New Mexico and Arizona were amazed at how much the country around here resembles their own desert southwest. In the moonlight that first night the rolling, treeless hills looked just like home country to them.

All through the advance the troops were followed in almost comic-opera fashion by hardsy of Arab children, who would crowd around the guns until they were actually in the way. Soldiers tell me the Arabs were very calm and quiet and there was a fine dignity about even the most raged. Our boys couldn't resist the sad and emaciated little faces of the children, and that was when they started giving their rations away.

It got hot in the daytime, so hot that the advancing soldiers kept stripping and abandoning their clothes until some were down to undershirts; but as night it turned sharply chilly and they

Today And Tomorrow Allied Government Of Germany

By WALTER LIPPMANN

While it may be argued that the formula of unconditional surrender was not the most expedient slogan for propaganda, the event is very likely to show that it was the most accurate and honest brief description of what must necessarily happen to the Germans when they are defeated. For any formula to let Germany surrender not unconditionally but on negotiated and agreed conditions, assumes the existence immediately after Hitler of a German national government with which we could negotiate, which could make a contract with us.

It is now clear that no such German government can exist immediately after the German defeat. For the Nazi regime is totalitarian; that means that every organ of decision, that every post of command, both military and civil, and not only in government but in corporate industry, in the trade unions, in the press, and in the schools, is manned by Nazis or by men whom they have appointed and controlled. The arrest or dismissal of these Nazis must paralyze or destroy the German national state as a going concern.

It is the very essence of Nazism, and for the Germans one of its most serious practical consequences, that there is no such thing as an opposition party within the Nazi government. For this fundamental reason the burden of governing Germany falls necessarily upon the Allies.

While the Allied government of Germany is subject to law and morals, it will be for the time being sovereign in Germany, and there will be no Germans who have a legal title to exercise German sovereignty, or have even a de facto authority.

While the Allied Military Government of Germany is the unavoidable consequence of the Hitlerian regime, we are bound to regard it as a temporary and transitional phase. Any plan to recognize the occupation and government of Germany must have as its objective the self-government of Germany. The question then is how—in principle—the transition is to be made from Allied government to German government.

That transition may have to be made sooner or it may be made later. But sooner or later, it will have to be made. And the more clearly we can see now how we are going to get out of Germany, the more successfully we shall govern Germany while we have to remain there.

There are in principle two radically different ways which the Allies can take. The one is to recognize — when Germany has been disarmed and officially de-Nazified — a provisional government, to deal with it, to support it, and then to have it hold general elections for a constituent assembly to draft a new German constitution.

Apart from any question of the partition of Germany, this conventional procedure would, it seems to me, be dangerously unsound.

For if such a provisional government collaborated with us by accepting our terms, it would be in the eyes of Germans a puppet government representing foreign domination. If such a provisional government only pretended to collaborate with us but in fact was organizing resistance to us, we should simply be providing the Germans with a means of reversing our victory.

So we must consider the other alternative which is not to begin the restoration of German self-government at the top—in Berlin—but at the bottom in the cities, the towns and the villages, at the grass roots. Let us imagine how this principle might be applied.

In the beginning after the surrender the only government anywhere in Germany will be that of the Allied armies. German officials, who are allowed to remain at their posts, will be subject absolutely to the decrees and commands of the Allied military government. But this arrangement cannot last long. To make the matter concrete, let us suppose we are governing the city of Cologne. Very soon the Allied military government will begin to receive deputations from the inhabitants, and among them committees will be formed which will make petitions and express grievances and offer suggestions. Experience in dealing with them will begin to demonstrate who are the leading citizens of Cologne that are trustworthy and competent.

At some point a representative committee could then be recognized as a provisional municipal council, first perhaps with no more than consultative powers but evolving toward municipal self-government. At the next stage there might be a municipal election which would bring into being a set of local German officials possessing for their limited functions genuine German authority.

If we imagine this happening in all the cities and towns of the Rhineland, then the next stage might be the election by these municipal councils of a provincial council, intended gradually to become the provincial government.

At this point we should begin to see more clearly than we possibly can today how far the decentralization of the German Reich can in fact be carried. We shall not have foreclosed the issue one way or the other, and we shall have the means of judging, because the provincial government will be representative of its cities and towns and villages.

The chances are greatly against their wishing to submerge themselves completely under a Berlin government. On the other hand, they may wish to combine a high degree of local authority with a new federalism. We ought not to make our own decisions finally until we see what Germany is like when self-government is allowed to grow up from the grass roots.

No reader will, I hope, mistake this for a hard and fast blueprint. It is an attempt to illustrate the principle by which the Allies can use their occupation and government of Germany to create conditions under which they can end their occupation within a reasonably short time, and to do this by planting the seeds of democracy.

There should be no misunderstanding, however, brought about by confusing the occupation of Germany with the control of German policy. The occupation should, if we can make it so, be effective but short; the control, which keeps German military power from recovery after we withdraw the occupying troops, will necessarily have to be very much longer — how much longer no one can now conceivably know.

Washington—Philippine D-Day Due For Allies

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON — The Allies in Europe are fighting the tenth round and a knockout, may come any day now. That theatre has the spotlight but talk to any Navy officials here and they will tell you that some of the kriegs should be on the vital ninth round in the Pacific.

It's the battle of the Philippines. The opening punches are being thrown by the Army and Navy Air forces now. It's considered as certain as tomorrow's dawn that landings of ground forces will follow. But there's no use to try to guess D-day for the Philippines any more than there was to try to guess the time of the second front in Europe.

With one exception if Russia enters the war against Japan the recapture of the Philippines will be a more overwhelming blow against the Japanese than anything else the Allies can deliver. The Japanese know this and are expected to fight harder against landings in the Philippines than against any of the landings made so far in the entire Pacific area.

Their stakes are all the vital resources in their captured islands between the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, as well as those from French Indo-China to Burma on the continent.

Take a look at your map and you'll understand why. Only a superior naval force could maintain supplies from Japan south of Formosa if the Allies hold the Philippines. The South China sea, which now is Japan's open door to supplies of rubber, rice, iron, hemp, tin, cotton, tungsten, and other vital war materials, can be blockaded almost as effectively as the English channel.

Not only would these materials be cut off, but also supplies to the

Both Parties Are Campaigning For Overseas Votes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Republicans as well as democrats reportedly are sending campaign letters to American fighting men, with members of both parties in congress generally agreed that the soldier vote law offers no barrier to such activity.

Balancing earlier disclosure that pro-Roosevelt literature had accompanied soldier ballot applications mailed from Chicago, the Miami (Fla.) Herald last night quoted a naval officer as saying a republican vote bid had been enclosed with a Michigan war ballot mailed to a sailor at Miami and that other sailors from Minnesota and New Hampshire had received GOP literature in envelopes bearing their service numbers.

The officer, anonymous at his request, said GOP campaign material mailed with the Michigan ballot asked support for the Dewey-Bricker ticket and urged reelection of Gov. Harry F. Kelly, said the Herald.

In a statement released at Lansing, Mich., Kelly said "I do not believe this happened. I would be interested in more details concerning the basis for this story."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) meanwhile hinted that the senate campaign expenditures committee might probe the political activities of Chicago's Mayor Edward J. Kelly. Following reports that pro-Roosevelt letters accompanied soldier vote applications mailed from Chicago, Ferguson said he is checking reports that Mayor Kelly has been "very active with respect to soldier voting matters" to decide "whether the activities warrant looking into by the committee."

Senate Adopts Measure Calling For Free News

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The senate adopted unanimously today and sent to the house a resolution calling upon the United States to assume leadership in espousing the world-wide right to a free interchange of news.

The chamber acted without a word of debate immediately after Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of its foreign relations committee called it up for passage following earlier approval by a subcommittee.

Connally told his colleagues the proposal grew out of the introduction of news freedom resolutions by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and one he had drafted himself.

The text of the resolution: "Resolved, by the senate (the house of representatives concurring):

"That the congress of the United States express its belief in the world-wide right of interchange of news by news gathering and distributing agencies, whether individual or associate, by any means without discrimination as to sources, distribution, rates or charges; and that this right should be protected by international contract."

Utilities Corporation Asks Payment Approval

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21 (AP)—Texas Public Utilities corporation, a wholly-owned non-utility subsidiary of American Power & Light company, asked the securities and exchange commission's approval today of its proposed payment of $350,000 on the principal amounts of overdue notes held by American.

Of this, $50,000 would complete payment on a note of $941,803.83 and $300,000 would reduce a $2,800,000 income note.

Texas would use cash on hand as well as temporary investments in government bonds. A portion of the cash to be used represents proceeds from the sale of ice and water properties in Eagle Pass, Tex., to Central Power & Light company for $330,000 in August, 1943.
