Ike In Meet On Suez

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower returned to the White House today for an urgent meeting on the Suez Canal crisis with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Within 10 minutes after his arrival at the White House, Mr. Eisenhower went into conference with Dulles and other top State Department officials on the new Middle East crisis resulting from Egypt's nationalization of the vital waterway.

The President flew to Washington this morning in his light Aero Commander plane, after a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The President and government officials in the Capitol kept in contact by telephone over developments in the Suez crisis.

Mr. Eisenhower also scheduled a final meeting today with Presidential Disarmament Advisor Harold E. Stassen before Stassen departs Thursday on his four-week political leave. The White House said the meeting was called to discuss disarmament matters—Stassen's campaign to dump Vice President Richard M. Nixon from the GOP ticket this fall.

The President arrived at his farm Saturday for a quiet weekend that turned out to be far from it.

Both the international turmoil created by Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal and Stassen's drive to

Burmese Premier Calls Cabinet Meet

RANGOON, Burma (UP) — Several hundred Chinese Communist troops were reported today to have invaded and occupied Burmese territory along 500 miles of the northeastern frontier.

The mountainous frontier has been only vaguely mapped for many years and has been the subject of year-long disputes between the two countries.

Three Runoffs Slated

The Texas Election Bureau announced today that only about 30,000 votes remained to be counted, some 20,000 of them from Tarrant county.

Runoffs were certain Aug. 25 between Sen. Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough for governor; Ben Ramsey and A. M. Aikin Jr. for lieutenant governor; and Will Wilson and Tom Moore Jr. for attorney general.

The battle between Norvell and Hughes for the post Wilson vacated to run for attorney general has been the closest since the returns from Saturday's primary started rolling in.

Incumbents won in all other state races. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White of Wichita Falls, with 728,850, more than doubled the total votes of two opponents.

Earl Rudder of Brady, appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers as land commissioner in place of Bascom Giles, appeared to have won a hard fight against Ned Price of Tyler. Rudder had 621,306 votes to 589,725 for Price.

W. A. Morrison of Austin had 642,390 votes to 541,417 for Jesse Owens of Vernon in the race for Court of Criminal Appeals and incumbent State Treasurer Jesse James staved off the challenge of young Warren G. Harding of Dallas. James had 74,574 votes to 513,758 for Harding.

In the race for governor, Daniel Lee Yarborough got more than 150,000 votes, with 506,877 to 450,979. W. Lee O'Daniel, in third place, had 337,523.

Lt. Gov. Ramsey held 654,129 votes to 371,892 for Aikin but does not have a majority over the four man field. And Wilson held a huge lead over Moore in the race for attorney-general—64,612 to 466,765—but does not quite have a majority.

Congressman-at-large Martin Dies of Lufkin won over his opponent, Bill Elkins of Dallas, 559,849 to a total vote of 861,254 to Elkins' 415,640.

The only incumbent congressman defeated was John J. Bell of Chero, beaten by Judge John Young of Corpus Christi. Latest returns gave Young 29,061 votes to 23,267 for Bell.

Reps. Wright Patman of Texas, Kansas won in District 1; Jack Brooks of Beaumont in District 2; John Dowdy of Athens in District 7; J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, in District 16; and Omar Burleson of Anson in District 17.

Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater defeated R. E. (Peppy) Blount of Tyler for the seat in District 3 being given up by Brady Gentry. Latest returns gave Beckworth 37,592 votes to 26,405 for Blount. These returns were from all eight counties in the district with seven complete.

The racial referendum went in favor of segregation on all three points—school segregation, intermarriage and interposition—by a heavy margin.

Cabot's Shops Say 'No' To Local Union

The employees in the Cabot Shops plant near here voted the union out yesterday in what turned out to be a very close election. The vote was 106 for the union and 111 against the union, and there were four mutilated ballots. A total of 221 employees participated in the election.

The union was voted out after representing the employees for over ten years. It was originally certified as the bargaining agent for the employees at Cabot Shops plant in January, 1948.

The union involved was the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, AFL-CIO. The election was conducted by secret ballot by the Fort Worth regional office of the National Labor Relations Board.

Howard Stark represented the regional director in conducting the election. Roy H. Griffin served as an observer for the union, and R. E. Mitchell served as an observer for the company.

Cabot Shops, Inc., operates one of the largest manufacturing plants in this area, west of Pampa. At his plant they principally manufacture the Cabot pumping units.

Cabot filed a petition to call the election with the National Labor Relations Board on July 2. The union consented, and the election was set for yesterday.

The union now has five days in which to contest the election and, if in that time, no contest is formed, the election result will stand for one year before another election can be called.

British Order 'Naval Moves' In Suez Crisis

LONDON (UP) — The British admiralty ordered "certain naval moves" in the Suez crisis today. At the same time, Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden cancelled plans to start his summer vacation this Friday and called in Sir Gerald Templer, chief of the imperial general staff.

In a one-sentence announcement the admiralty gave no indication of what moves were ordered. A spokesman told the United Press only that the moves were connected with the Middle East.

Diplomats believed the moves involved a buildup of British naval strength in the Suez end of the Mediterranean Sea.

Shortly before the admiralty announcement, however, the official Foreign Office spokesman made it plain that Britain was contemplating no action against three Egyptian destroyers now in British ports — two at Portsmouth and one at Malta.

He said there were no plans to "frustrate the movement" of the vessels, which Britain sold to Egypt last year.

Big Three leaders continued talks here and in Washington on measures to be taken to counter Nasser's grab for the canal.

A Big Three meeting in London today, following a special session of the British cabinet is expected to produce formal proposals for the appointment of an international authority to supervise operations at Suez.

A high Iron Curtain source said Monday Russia would be willing to support an "international solution" for the dispute, provided it did not limit Egypt's sovereignty. It was not immediately clear how such a solution could be worked out.

France, and to a lesser degree Britain, are trying to persuade the United States to agree to use force to seize the canal if Nasser rejects internationalization — as he is likely to do. Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies is expected to add his voice to those urging action when he talks to President Eisenhower in Washington today.

The United States is reported reluctant to consent to the use of force against Egypt. It appears likely that, so long as Nasser does not interfere with canal traffic, the worst that will be hurled at him is a volley of harsh words.

McKeon Takes Stand

By H. D. QUIGG United Press Staff Correspondent PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (UP) — Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon testified today that when he was a Marine recruit his drill instructor led his platoon "on several occasions" into the marshy waters of Parris Island.

The 31-year-old drill instructor is on trial for manslaughter and oppression of his platoon for the April 5 "death march" on which he led his men. Six died in the tidal waters of the island's Ribbon Creek.

Appearing as his own star witness in the general court martial, McKeon told how in 1948 his recruit platoon was led into water "a little above my knees" and then required to drop down flat into it at the blast of a squad leader's whistle.

The six-foot, one-inch defendant testified calmly, speaking slowly with a flat New England accent. Near the back of the courtroom his attractive black-haired wife and his two brothers, both former combat Marines, watched tensely.

Just before calling McKeon, defense lawyer Emile Zola Berman announced he has asked that Randolph Pate, Marine Corps commandant, be called as a witness.

Joined Navy in 1954 McKeon told of joining the Navy in 1942 when he was 17 and of serving on the aircraft carrier Essex when it was strafed and hit in numerous World War II Pacific battles.

After an honorable discharge from the Navy, he worked in a machine shop briefly, and then in 1948 joined the U. S. Marine Corps with the "intention of staying in for a career."

Asked if his platoon in 1948 ever was taken on marches into the marshes, boat docks, and waters of the depot, McKeon replied: "Yes, sir, they were — on several occasions, sir."

"By any superior?" Berman asked.

"Yes, sir," McKeon replied. "The drill instructor."

"Were you taken into the water?"

"Yes, sir, we were — on several occasions."

While they were in the water, he said, there was a blast on the squad leader's whistle to indicate an air raid, and all hands had to "hit the deck."

Sloping Creek Bottom Monday, a U.S. Marine hydrographer testified that the salt creek of the scene of the tragedy, has a gently sloping bottom and is completely without holes, underwater cliffs or fall-outs.

Warrant Officer Leslie E. Volle, 27, of Greensboro, N.C., surveyed Ribbon Creek from June 19 to June 29.

Volle said his survey showed no place where a man could take one or two steps and plunge into water over his head.

Volle did testify, however, that two hours after high tide — the time that the platoon was led into the swamp — water in the creek measured between eight feet and eight feet nine inches at maximum depths.

'Twinkle-Toes' Loses!

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Mrs. Nellie Frances Davidson was granted a divorce Monday on testimony her husband, Bryan, 59, ordered her to go dancing with him "five or six nights" a week. She is 81.

In City Commission 2nd Reading Of Ordinance Is Heard

Routine business was handled by the City Commission at its meeting this morning in City Hall.

The second reading of Ordinance 456 was approved by the Commissioners. The ordinance, if passed on the third reading, will authorize the city of Pampa to enter into contract with the state of Texas and the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad for the purpose of constructing the Hobart Street underpass.

Also approved on second reading this morning was Ordinance 455 which is for the zoning of the East Fraser Addition. The zoning ordinance provides for one block and four lots located in two other blocks to be zoned as semi-commercial and the remainder of the addition to be zoned as residential.

The commissioners authorized the mayor and city secretary to sign a contract with the Procter Steel Company of Houston for the purpose of salvaging tin cans and scrap metal from the city dump. The steel salvage company agreed to pay $1.50 for each ton of salvaged and placed a $3,000 check on deposit with the city as evidence of faith.

In other action, the commission decided to place $23,000 of the interest and sinking fund on time deposits until needed to pay obligations of the city.

The commissioners approved the payment of $8,558.42 to Ernest Loyd for three paving jobs recently completed on city streets.

In the only other action discussed, the Commission decided to table for further discussion a request for special tax adjustment on delinquent taxes on a piece of property involved in an estate settlement.

Liquor Charge Is Filed Here

A charge of transporting liquor in a wet area without a permit was filed in County Court this morning against Leo Samuel, 405 Maple, manager of the Owl Bar on Maple Street. The charge was filed by G. C. Steele, local Liquor Control Board agent.

Samuel was arrested by local police officers at 9:14 p.m. Saturday on S. Gray.

No disposition of the charge was made by the County Court this morning.

Rodeo Parade Is Set For Aug. 8

The Top o' Texas Rodeo Parade will wind its way down Cuyler street August 8 at 4 p.m., with bands and floats and most of all, horses and cowboys.

But the featured attraction will be none other than "Smiley" Burnett, popular movie star and entertainer. Burnett will ride in the parade and be present for each performance of the Top o' Texas Rodeo, Aug. 8-11.

From 12 to 15 roping clubs from the Top o' Texas area and the entire Panhandle are also expected to participate in the annual parade.

The Pampa Roping Club will be riding there also, as they are every year.

The Amarillo Air Force band will be another top attraction of the parade.

The parade will form at W. Foster and Hobart Streets at 3:15 p.m. Entrants are urged to be on time to avoid delay.

Parade entries have been separated into nine divisions. The most typical ranch entry will be such things as chuck wagons, covered wagons, surreys, hacks, stage coaches, the old time prospector and other such products of the Old West.

First prize for this division is an appropriate trophy, ribbon and certificate.

The civic club entry may portray most any idea — not necessarily a western theme. Entries can be made by all civic clubs, American Legion, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, B&P Club and any other organized group.

First prize is a trophy, ribbon and certificate.

The best riding club entry will receive a trophy, ribbon and certificate.

First, second and third prize trophies, ribbons and certificates will be awarded the most attractive commercial entry.

The most comical entry, most typical cowboy, most typical cowgirl and the best decorated bicycle entry will each receive first, second and third prizes, ribbons and certificates.

No entry blank is necessary for individuals, firms or groups to enter the parade. The parade participants, however, are urged to gather where the parade will form as early as possible in order for the judges to get them in their proper division.

Pampa Gets .13 Inch Of Rain

Pampa got .13 inch of rain in light showers yesterday afternoon.

Scattered rains throughout West Texas and the Panhandle soaked dry soil today and increasing rain was predicted for the Panhandle area this afternoon and tonight.

Rainfall reports in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. today included Salt Flat .47, Childress .34, Lubbock .17, Wichita Falls .05, Dalhart .04, Amarillo .01, Borger .15, Claremore .11, Dumas .05, Panhandle .04, Perryton .26, and Vega .10.

The weather forecast called for increased shower activity in the Panhandle. Some light showers fell along the upper Gulf Coast and there were a few sprinkles this morning in extreme West Texas.

Pampa's low this morning was 59. Amarillo's low of 63 was cool compared to Galveston's 82. Monday's highs were 103 degrees at Fort Worth and Mineral Wells. Hot again today was the forecast for most of Texas.

Relatives Of Pampans Killed

Two firefighters who were killed in the tank farm blaze at the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation's McKee Plant, located 12 miles northeast of Dumas, Sunday had relatives in the Top o' Texas area.

They were Gilford Corse, of Sunray, who was owner of Broadway Supply Co. there. He was an uncle of Mrs. Betty Craig, wife of Pampans attorney W. J. (Bill) Craig.

Lewis A. Bronson of Sunray was the brother of Olin Jack Bronson of Pampa, an employee of Pampa Motor Freight Company. Lewis owned the Bronson Furniture and Hardware Store in Sunray. Another brother is T. J. Bronson of White Deer. Lewis was 33.

12 Die In Nursing Home Blaze

PUXICO, Mo. (UP) — Twelve persons burned to death early today when a fire swept a three-story frame nursing home.

One inmate, Mrs. Sherry Fredericks, was saved.

The dead included the operator of the home, Mrs. Bertha Reagan 55, and her 7-year-old grandson, David Johnson.

Mrs. Fredericks was unable to walk and was carried out a second-story window by the Rev. R. S. Ragdale, a Methodist minister and Jack Hardy, a filling station operator, who saw the flames and rushed to the home.

Ragdale said the persons in the house apparently had no chance to escape. He said the flames "shot all over at one time."

All equipment of the local volunteer fire department and fire trucks from communities as far as Poplar Bluff, 35 miles away, helped keep the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Stoddard County Coroner Ray Ruiny impaled a coroner's jersey on the spot to view the bodies at the funeral home. Rainey said the inquest would be held later.

Cause of the fire wasn't known, but it was raising out of control when firemen arrived.

Puxico is a town of less than 1,000 persons near the Missouri "boothel" in the southeast corner of the state near the Tennessee and Arkansas borders.

The dead were: Mrs. Bertha Reagan, 55; David Johnson, 7; Mrs. Harriet Shaffer; Lloyd Rogers; G. O. Zimmerman, 76; Mrs. Taralee Dutter; George Casey; Mrs. Rosa Alwood; James E. Stringfellow; Mattie M. Young; Nancy A. Deason, and Tom Gard.

Shoppers' Survey Is Mailed

The Merchants Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce mailed out 3,000 shoppers' surveys to local area shoppers today.

There are 26 questions on the survey that will assist in finding out whether local shopping conditions are satisfying potential customers and whether there are general conditions in Pampa which should be remedied.

Some of the questions asked are: "How do prices in Pampa compare with those in other cities?" "Do you find clerks as courteous and efficient in Pampa as in other cities?" "Do you like city-wide special sales days?" "How do parking facilities in Pampa compare with other cities?" and "Are the present store hours satisfactory?"

United Fund Meet Tonight

The budget and commissions committee of the United Fund will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce conference room in the City Hall.

The committee will meet with representatives of various organizations to decide who is going to be in the United Fund for this year and what the budget is going to be.

It is expected that the same organizations that were members last year will enter this year. Those organizations were the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, the Heart Association, the Milk Fund and the USO.

R. E. McKernan is the head of the United Fund committee.

If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hude, (Adv.) heavy margins.

Don't Write Stassen Off As Bumbler, Yet

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Before writing Harold E. Stassen as a political bumbler, a couple of things should be considered which suggest that he's not so dumb, after all.

First, he's in the news again. Stassen was lost in the obscurity of an almost hopeless job until he proposed this week to bump Vice President Nixon off the 1956 Republican ticket. His job was disarmament adviser to President Eisenhower.

Second, Stassen has made himself the rallying point for anti-Nixon sentiment within the Republican Party. There hasn't been much rallying, so far, but there may be.

It is not likely that Stassen and his associates can stop Nixon this year. The movement Stassen has begun, however, could develop into something substantial. Stassen's first objective was to stop Nixon this year. The long haul objective more likely than not is to put pressure on selection of the 1960 party ticket.

Stassen had nothing to lose but his cabinet-level job and that seems safe enough for the time being. He desperately needed some political publicity and he got it. He has not folded under a beating in newspaper and radio accounts of his political maneuver nor has he backed down from his public demand that President Eisenhower make an unqualified request for Nixon's renomination if he really wants him.

No one ever suggested that Stassen lacked political courage nor that he always played the game according to the rules.

At age 31 Stassen was the boy wonder governor of Minnesota. He won two more terms and was seeking the Republican presidential nomination in 1944, aged 37. Presidential fever is rarely fatal but always incurable. Stassen's fever remains high.

He's 49 now and would be available on the basis of age in 1960.

Texans Develop New Movie Process

DALLAS, July 28 — UP—Two Texans said Saturday that they have developed a process which can put "living presence" motion pictures into any crossroads theater at regular movie prices.

The likelihood of his nomination then or any time is remote. It is a fact, however, that Stassen's political importance depends almost entirely on his ability to keep the customers talking about him — and the political talk this week has been mostly about Stassen.

Four years ago Stassen still was dreaming of the presidential nomination as the convention balloting showed Mr. Eisenhower with a long lead. He urged his Minnesota delegation to stay with him. The delegation deserted him, however, to cast the votes which made the general the party's presidential nominee. Stassen was no quitter then or now.

Maternity Clothes Banned
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—The city-owned Memphis Light, Gas and Water Division today notified pregnant married women employees that they are to resign immediately if they want to wear maternity clothes.

Stassen had nothing to lose but his cabinet-level job and that seems safe enough for the time being. He desperately needed some political publicity and he got it. He has not folded under a beating in newspaper and radio accounts of his political maneuver nor has he backed down from his public demand that President Eisenhower make an unqualified request for Nixon's renomination if he really wants him.

Miniature Mice Only Answer To Washington's Bird Problem

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation's capital for many years has been pestered by birds that mess up beautiful buildings, homburgs, straw skimmers, and umbrellas. Congress has had hearings to try to solve the problem, but the birds have proved they are smarter than people.

Voters Urge Laws Against Desegregation

The voters of Texas by big majorities urged the legislature Saturday to strengthen laws against forced attendance at mixed white and Negro schools and against the intermarriage of whites and Negroes.

They also urged the use of the doctrine of interposition to prevent further federal encroachment on state's rights. The three-question referendum was put on the ballot because of petitions signed by more than 150,000 persons asked for it.

Interposition, a doctrine so far untested, holds that a state may interpose its undelegated rights between its people and enforcement of a Supreme Court decision, such as the one on desegregation of public schools.

Some persons may have voted against strengthening the laws because of the way the propositions were put on the ballot and on voting machines.

For instance the first called for a "for" or "against" vote on "specific legislation exempting any child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools attended by white persons and Negroes."

A lot of our young make mistakes through carelessness. And if the kids would just read their own writing back, a lot of times they could spot errors and improve their own compositions.

Maybe we have a rule of thumb that isn't according to standards but when our young lady asks us how to spell a word we tell her

Spelling Is Still Problem To Some Modern Youngsters

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Maybe we shouldn't be too tough on our youngsters, but it is a fact that some of them can't spell.

Even up to college age, they get tangled with the words starting with "L." Like "to," "too," and "two." Not to mention "their," "there," and "they're."

W. MacLean Johnson, publisher of "New Goals in Spelling," offers a few suggestions by Dr. William A. Kottmeyer and May B. Lambador, who worked on the book.

These educators claim that a kid shouldn't tussle with spelling "a word until it is pronounced correctly and the meaning is clear."

A child seldom will become a good speller if he doesn't link the letters, or symbols, with the sounds they usually spell.

Association Important
The experts say that to become a good speller, a child must learn to associate, any word he sees in print anywhere — at any time.

"There is no sense in teaching complicated words the average person almost never has use for," the pros say. "Particularly if you don't know the meaning."

Unless the lad happens to be a Will Rogers or a Herb Shriner — and the likes of these often practice hard to be ungrammatical.

Scout Budget Is Approved

A $62,340 budget was adopted for next year by the Adobe Walls Council Executive Board when they met to hear and review the various committees recommendations for the coming year's program and budget items Thursday night.

Guests of the board were representatives from the various United Funds and community campaign leaders in the council territory.

Explorer Scout Fred Neslage of Pampa gave the invocation and later reported on the Canadian-Canoes Trip. President Dick Rust called the meeting to order and then turned the meeting over to Dick Tweed, of the council finance committee, who explained the work of the various committees in building the program and budget items.

He then called for the reports from each committee.

Budget adopted for the development program was $600 for organization and extension to be used to serve a greater percent of boys and volunteers; $2,500 for camping and activity to meet the need for expansion of program; $31,400 for executive salaries which included addition to the staff to adequately serve the membership increase; $1,200 for leadership training to offer six leadership courses in each district, making a total of 30 courses; $1,000 for advancement to provide boys with awards and recognition; and $8,000 for field service to adequately service the council and membership.

Amount adopted for the administration program was $750 for heat, light and telephones for meeting the normal demands of need; $7,440 for office salaries to provide adequate service from the offices; $1,200 for office supplies to provide materials for operation and program development; $900 for postage and express for normal operation; and $1,000 for office equipment for additional material needed for efficiency.

The amount approved for miscellaneous was $1,800 for retirement and social security to meet the council obligation to its employees; $1,250 for insurance for covering camp Kiowah and Council protection; $1,000 for miscellaneous items for materials for meetings, moving expenses, etc.; $250 for public relations to provide in a small way the materials needed; $550 for national charter for services rendered by national and regional; and $1,500 for campaign expenses to be used for campaign materials.

Following the committee's reports, a thorough discussion was held and the 1957 Boy Scout budget was set at $62,340 with unanimous approval.

DETROIT (UP)—Thomas T. Fry will try to make it to his dentist another time. Tuesday Fry stopped in a bar on his way to get his teeth fixed and met two men who offered him a ride. The next thing he knew he was in a ditch without his clothes and the $10 he was supposed to pay the dentist.

Here's Look At Future Headlines

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.
Next Round To Israel?
Don't be surprised if Israel comes out a winner in the Suez Canal dispute, even though it isn't in the fight. The United States, Britain and France may start sending Israel arms in quantity as one of their moves against Egypt. Van President Gamal Abdel Nasser. It's regarded as unlikely that Russia will resort to beefing up Nasser's supply. London inquires the arms-to-Israel question is a top item for consideration in the United States-British-French consultations now in progress here.
Target
Expect Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission to get a thorough going-over by the Democrats in the campaign. Strauss and congressional Democrats have long been feuding. The Democrats accuse him of dragging his heels on developing atomic power for peaceful uses. He's accused also of "insulting" Congress by withholding information from the congressional Atomic Energy Committee. Strauss is President Eisenhower's special assistant for atomic matters, as well as AEC chairman, so he will make a fine campaign target.

Indian authorities are alarmed at those anonymous letters threatening to assassinate Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. They remember what happened to Mahatma K. Gandhi, Nehru's predecessor as Indian leader. The threats addressed to Nehru come from the fanatic Maharastrians of Central India. They are enraged over his determination to take Bombay away from the new state of Maharashtra and put it under central administration. Gandhi received similar threats before he was assassinated by a Maharastrian in 1948.
Hurricane Hunter
The United States Weather Bureau plans to announce this week a contract of nearly $4 million for specially designed radars to detect hurricanes and tornadoes. They will improve forecasting of dangerous storms. It's a timely move — Anna, first 1956 hurricane, was born last week.
Hot Strait
Military observers in Formosa predict a big fight soon between Chinese Nationalist and Chinese Communist jet planes over the Formosa Strait. Nationalists flying American-built F06 and F84 jets, shot down four Russian-built Red MIG17s and damaged two on July 21. The Reds are reported moving MIG reinforcements to the coast.

Ike Urged To Grab Ball At Next Meet

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower is being urged to grab the ball and run with it when he next meets reporters in the first White House news conference in weeks.
The conference is scheduled for next Wednesday. It has been suggested that the best way to unravel last week's mystery of Harold E. Stassen's attack on Vice President Richard M. Nixon would be for Mr. Eisenhower to begin the conference with his own explanation of what was what.
If the unraveling comes in the ordinary question and answer conference routine, there is likely to be more, rather than less, mystery before the show is over. A lot of Republicans would like to end the dispute about a vice presidential nominee and forget it. They feel that the continuing controversy surely attracts increasing public attention to the state of Mr. Eisenhower's health and the peculiar importance of the number two spot.
Awaits Own Nomination
That is a point which the Democrats eagerly are attempting to advertise, and the Republicans have been helping them.
As of now, Mr. Eisenhower's position may be summed up like this:
He would be delighted to have Nixon on the ticket again, but it is not customary to select a vice presidential candidate until the presidential candidate has been named.
Mr. Eisenhower has been crowded mightily close to saying he wants Nixon to run again, but hasn't quite said it. Instead, he has given every appearance of preferring to wait until his own nomination has been accomplished before making an unqualified request that Nixon be tapped again.
Headlines In Making?
That position could make some more headlines if Mr. Eisenhower sticks with it. There would be no question about Nixon Wednesday at the President's first news conference since his abdominal surgery at Walter Reed Hospital early last month but for Stassen's effort last week to link Mr. Eisenhower with a movement to bounce Nixon and to nominate Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter in his place.
Mr. Eisenhower now must be asked all over again if he wants Nixon to run with him. Chances are he will say he would be delighted. He's said that before. He also will be asked if he would like to run with Herter. If the President says Herter would make a good candidate, too, the stop-Nixon story will be alive again. It isn't likely to live because Nixon's renomination is practically assured. But it will make some more headlines which will be vastly pleasing to those who do not like Nixon, both Republicans and Democrats.

Where's The Body?
BURBANK, Calif. (UP) — Mrs. Mildred Flynn only grimaced when a practical joker placed orders in her name with a rug shop, catering service, florist and building materials supply house.
But she called police when a serious-faced man came to her door and said, "I've come to pick up the body."

Radio Club To Hold Class In Morse Code

The Pampa Amateur Radio Club will conduct a Morse Code training class for those interested in obtaining an Amateur Radio License. The class will begin at 7 p.m. today in the clubhouse of the radio group which is located in Recreation Park.
The club has a code practice machine, and members of the club have volunteered to operate the machine for one hour each night during the week. Hours of instruction will be from 7 to 8 p.m.
The class is open to the general public and no charges will be made. Those interested in attending the class should report at 7 o'clock tonight at the clubhouse, which is located north of the Top of Texas Rodeo arena, or phone Bill Ragsdale, the club president, at 4-6296.
There is no age requirement for the amateur license, and boys and girls from 7 to 80 have passed the simple Federal license test.

Jess Stevens Dies Monday

Jesse Howard Stevens, 57, born in Oak Grove, died at 9:30 p.m. yesterday in the Highland General Hospital from a heart attack suffered a few hours earlier. He lived four miles north of Skellytown. He had lived around Borger and Skellytown for the past nine years, moving from Burkburnett.
He was an employee of the W. W. Holmes Oil Co., and was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church in Burkburnett.
He is survived by his wife, Jessie of Skellytown; two daughters, Mrs. Wilma Brooks of Amarillo, Mrs. D.R. Cunningham of Fritch; seven sons, Jimmie, Randall, and Billy of Los Angeles, and Bobby of San Diego, Charlie, stationed in Germany, Buddy and Jerry, both of Skellytown; and 22 grandchildren.
Funeral arrangements are pending.

Mrs. Collins Rites Set

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Milliana Ann Collins, 80, at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.
Mrs. Collins had been a resident of Pampa for 29 years and lived at 414 S. Gillespie.
Survivors are her husband, H. C. Collins; a son, Richard Lutz of Galveston; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Lowenstein of Dallas; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Velma Gray of Bishop, Calif.; a brother, W. C. Golden of Crowell; and 10 grandchildren.

Two Men Fined Here

Two persons pleaded guilty in County Court Monday afternoon to charges filed against them.
Louis Burwell Mathews, 41, of Canadian pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while license was suspended, and was fined 20 dollars and costs by the court. He was arrested by the highway patrol about eight miles east of Pampa on Highway 60 at approximately 10:10 p.m. Saturday.
Eugene Miller, 214 E. Campbell, pleaded guilty to a charge of swindling with a worthless check and was fined $1 and costs by the court. He was fined on Jay's Grocery for a check in the amount of $8.77 dated May 29, 1956.

Ike Aides Hope Stassen Stays Gone

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Some of President Eisenhower's close White House associates hoped and believed that Disarmament Counselor Harold E. Stassen has left the administration team for good.
Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder announced at Gettysburg Monday that President Eisenhower had given Stassen four weeks leave without pay to conduct political activity. Stassen requested the leave.
The announcement came one week after Stassen called on Vice President Richard M. Nixon to withdraw his candidacy for renomination. Stassen also summoned Mr. Eisenhower to consider Nixon's impact on the voters and to reconsider his willingness to run with him again.
Announcement of the leave came a few hours after a 20-minute conference with the President which had been sought by Stassen.
"Was your leave a gentle firing?" Stassen was asked.
"Oh no, the other way 'round," he replied.
Stassen said he was not now actually outside the official Eisenhower family, but merely would not be drawing a government salary until Aug. 27, four days after the Republican National Convention is scheduled to end.
Mr. Eisenhower's grant of leave to Stassen appeared to be a compromise action. Some administration intimates, among them Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., are understood to have urged Stassen's public execution on the White House lawn. Others argued against direct action, but conceded the need for disassociating the cabinet circle with an active campaign against Nixon. Stassen is a cabinet member by invitation, although not by precedent.
The White House gang today is aflame with suspicion and dislike of Stassen. Some of them are confident that Mr. Eisenhower will find means after Stassen's leave at least to ease him away from the White House area toward some less prominent spot. Stassen may, of course, return to his desk and the payroll on Aug. 27, but the word today was that his number is up for ultimate action.

Trips By Congressmen Under Attack

By PAUL SOUTHWICK
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) today charged that both the Pentagon and Congress are trying to keep secret the extent of congressional overseas junkets made at taxpayer expense.
Hoffman said the Defense Department has failed to make good on its promise of nine months ago to give him a complete record of which congressmen and senators and their wives made trips during 1955, which was a record globe-trotting season.
And now, Hoffman told a reporter, even congressional sources won't give him the information.
"Congress itself is refusing information to one of its members," he said.
The Defense Department has given a report to Chairman Omar Burleson (D-Tex) of the House Administration Committee, which is supposed to keep tabs on congressional spending.
Burleson refused a United Press request for the report several weeks ago on the grounds that it would present an "unfair" picture of congressional travel.
Records on what congressional junkets cost have long been withheld from reporters.
Hoffman said today that he wrote Burleson on July 11 and again on July 19 for a copy of the report. In each case, he said, Burleson's committee staff replied that the request would be called to Burleson's attention when he returns from Texas.
Long After Economy
Hoffman said that as ranking Republican member of the House Government Operations Committee he is entitled to the information.
"They want to keep the stuff from coming out," Hoffman said.
Hoffman, a long-time economy advocate, said "we should have economy in the legislative as well as the executive branch."
Hoffman would become chairman of the investigating committee if the Republicans win control of the House next year. In that event, he said he would see to it that Congress puts "its own House in order."

Convicts Break Own Legs

BUFORD, Ga. (UP) — Prison officials today attempted to learn why more than 30 "hardened" convicts broke their legs with sledge hammers in a demonstration against working conditions at the Rocky Quarry State Prison for incorrigibles here.
State Director of Corrections Jack Forrester said 36 prisoners, including seven Negroes, used ten pound sledge hammers with rocks serving as anvils as they tried to break their legs in an attempt to escape from the hard work at the quarry.
"Four or five" of the prisoners managed to fracture their legs, and at least ten of them suffered from compound breaks.
The injured convicts were rushed by ambulances and a bus nearly 200 miles late Monday night to the Reidsville State Prison which has better hospital facilities.
Forrester said all the prisoners involved in the bloody protest were maximum security inmates or incorrigibles. He said there was no trouble from the other convicts following the demonstration.

2 Indictments Returned

The Wheeler County Grand Jury of the 31st District Court issued two indictments and revoked one probation Monday as reported by District Attorney Bill Waters.
The first indictment was on Winfred Ray Sweeten, 17, who was AWOL from the Navy. On July 5 he reportedly robbed Rob Cecil Bradley at Bradley's service station in Lela. Sweeten took $20 to $25 at gunpoint. He pleaded guilty after the indictment and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.
The second case was on Ollie M. Brown, 41, of California, who was indicted for forgery and passing a check. Brown made out the check to himself and signed the check, Raymond Johnson. The check, for $12, was given to R. C. Hawk at the Western Auto Store in Shamrock. He was arrested in Oklahoma and waived extradition. He pleaded guilty after the indictment and sentenced to five years. Elton Holland, of Shamrock, had his probation revoked after being arrested June 27 for DWI. This was his second offense in one year.

WITH SUMMER HERE and most of you homemakers finding, now that school's out, that your lunch-trade index had taken a terrific leap, we felt some sandwich suggestions were in order. Sandwiches featuring tender, mild-flavored canned California white asparagus will be something new and appealing to tempt the appetites of the young set. White asparagus teams up well with any number of protein foods and tastes especially good sandwiched in a roll or between two slices of bread.

HERE'S a nutritious sandwich combination that will prove popular with adults as well as children. To make six sandwiches, place six slices of ham on six slices buttered toast. Drain one number three hundred can California white asparagus. Arrange asparagus spears over ham and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top asparagus with six slices processed Cheddar cheese. Broil three to four inches from source of heat about three to five minutes, or until cheese is melted and golden brown. Top each sandwich with a poached egg.

This sandwich meets the requirements of a "good hot lunch" for four hungry children. Pan-fry eight slices bacon over medium heat until very lightly browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Drain one number three hundred can California white asparagus. Arrange asparagus on four slices buttered toast and top with four slices of cheese and bacon. Broil three to four inches from source of heat two to three minutes, or until bacon is browned.

A CHILLED gelatin salad is a wonderfully refreshing addition to almost any summer menu. It's a joy for the hostess because it's all made ahead of time and merely needs to be unmolded and garnished at serving time, saving last minute scurrying around.

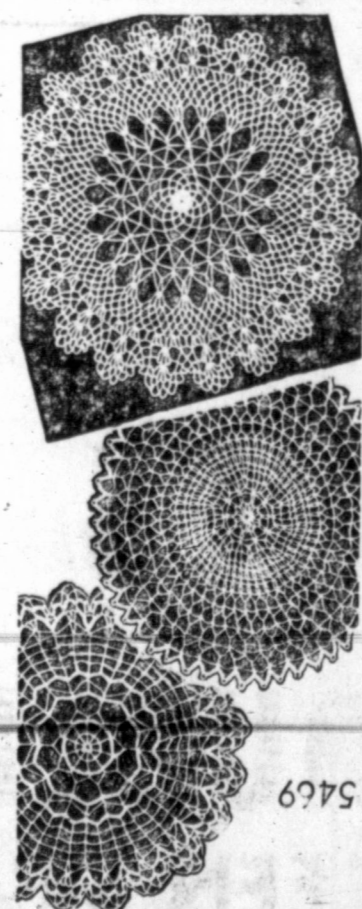

This molded tuna salad is especially good one, its smooth textured base of gelatin, evaporated milk and mayonnaise enlivened by crunchy bits of sweet pickle, celery and green pepper. Canned tuna, flaked and drained, and chopped hard cooked eggs complete the ingredients.

The recipe makes six servings so it's a good family size salad. Most any relish, radishes, pickles or olives, would be good accompaniments and garnish for the molded salad.

MOLDED TUNA SALAD
1/2 cup cold water
1 package unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 can tuna (7 oz.) drained and flaked
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Pour cold water into mixing bowl. Sprinkle gelatin over and let stand to soften, about 3 to 5 minutes. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool. Slowly stir in the milk. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Blend in mayonnaise, salt and lemon juice. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn in to a 1-quart mold. Chill until set, about 2-1/2 to 3 hours. Makes 6 servings.

CANDLELIGHT macaroni salad adds a cool accent to summer dining in Omaha, Neb., where it's one family's summer favorite.

Macaroni Salads Are Hearty And Satisfying Summer Fare

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor
In Omaha, Nebraska, at this time of year, the temperature averages 78 degrees, but often hits 89. Once it hit a record of 114 degrees. Therefore, we asked Mrs. Lloyd Skinner, who lives there with her husband, two sons and two daughters, to give us two recipes her family enjoys when things get hot.

CANDLELIGHT MACARONI SALAD (6 servings)

Two tablespoons unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, cups vegetable juice cocktail, 1 1/2 teaspoons grated onion, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, 2 tablespoons chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper to taste.

Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water. Combine vegetable juice cocktail, 1 1/2 teaspoon onion, sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt to 3 quarts rapidly boiling water.

Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water and drain.

Combine macaroni, eggs, grated onion, celery, green pepper, mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste. Toss lightly, but thoroughly. Chill.

Unmold aspic and cut as desired. Arrange aspic with macaroni mixture. Garnish with crisp salad greens, if desired.

CHIVED MACARONI SALADS (4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon chopped chives, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 12 thin slices bologna (about 3/4 pound).

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

If you dislike a high glaze on furniture, you can tone it down somewhat with diluted denatured alcohol or diluted vinegar. Dip very thick cheesecloth into the solution and wring it out. Then go over the furniture quickly and lightly.

Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water and drain.

Combine macaroni, mayonnaise, chives, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Toss lightly. Turn into 4-6 individual molds. Chill thoroughly.

Arrange bologna on serving plates. Unmold macaroni mixture on bologna.

Library Sponsors Reading Program

WHITE DEER — (Special) —

More than one hundred and twenty-five children are enrolled in the summer reading program, being conducted here by the White Deer branch of the Carson-Hutchinson County Library, according to Mrs. W. L. Potter, local librarian. At the middle of July, more than 3,000 books had been read by the children.

At the conclusion of the program, certificates will be presented each of the children who have read as many as fifteen books and special recognition will be given the boy and girl who read the most books.

In connection with the reading program, the local library sponsors a weekly story hour held each Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Records and stories have been presented each Friday throughout the month of July. Local people who have assisted the librarian in the story hours have been Mrs. E. H. Grimes, Mrs. E. C. Shuman, and Mrs. T. F. Collins.

The summer reading program will be climaxed with a county-wide picnic, to be held Aug. 3, from 4:30-7:30 p.m., in Venado Blanco Park here. Children will bring sack lunches and drinks will be furnished for them.

RUTH MILLET

It's a little early for a certain type of letter to start coming in. Even so, the first one arrived today.

It was a letter from a "country cousin" saying "please write something about city friends and relatives who descend on us weekend after weekend expecting to be bedded, fed, and entertained."

Every year as vacation time approaches, a raft of such letters comes to this column.

It seems that a lot of city folks think it is no trouble, no work, and no expense for people who live on a farm or are year-round residents of a summer resort to play host to their friends and relatives.

Many of them don't even announce their plans. They just drive up, expecting a big welcome.

They usually get it. But they might be surprised at how often the welcome is forced and the hosts actually groan when they see a city car turn in the drive.

So this is a relayed plea. If you haven't a special invitation don't invite yourself or descend unannounced on your country friends just because it is not in the city and you think it would be nice to get away from it all for a weekend.

And if you are lucky enough to be urged to visit a country-dwelling friend or relative, don't think that a box of chocolates or some toys for the kids will repay the hospitality.

Just as you like to get away to the country in summer, so your country friends may long to get into the city in the winter. Arrange to pay back hospitality with hospitality.

If your country friends can put you up for a summer weekend surely you can manage something to put them up for a city weekend.

B. A. Norris Couple Honored By Friends

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Burton, 811 N. Russell, held open house Friday evening honoring Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Norris of Indianapolis, Ind., their week end guests. Around 50 attended.

Dr. Norris, former pastor of the First Christian Church here, is assistant dean of Butler University in Indianapolis. The Norrises are enroute to a Colorado vacation.

Miss Pearl Spagh, 730 E. Browning, entertained the Norris couple with a dinner Saturday evening. Also invited were the Burtons and Dorothy Barritt.

Manners Make Friends

If you borrow a book from a friend, don't feel free to lend it to someone else. Read it in a reasonable length of time and then return it promptly. The reason why so many borrowed books are never returned is that a book gets lent to a second person.

And don't leave it on your own book shelf so long that you forget to whom it belongs.

White Deer Group Has Called Meeting

WHITE DEER — (Special) —

Mrs. Harold Collins presided at a called meeting of the Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club in her home here recently. At the meeting, Aug. 2 was set as the date for the annual anniversary tea.

The affair, a seated tea, will be held in the home of Mrs. Oltur Bertrand, at two p.m. All past, present, and prospective members of the club will be invited. Mrs. Jay Phillips was appointed to prepare and present a history of the club, which will be the highlight of the program.

Other business conducted by the group included a further discussion of the sale of house numbers, which will be concluded at the end of July. Proceeds of that sale will be used to purchase a resuscitator, to be used by the people of this community.

The Busy Bee Club will assist with entertainment for the county-wide library picnic which will be held at Venado Blanco Park here Aug. 3, from 4:30 until 7:30. Refreshments were served to the following members: Meses, Leon Osborne, Joe Wheeler, C. D. Freeman, Hoy Taylor, C. T. Smith, Jay Phillips, and the hostess, Mrs. Collins.

Dinner Meeting Is Held By D&D Club

The Pampa Desk and Derrick Club held their monthly dinner meeting at 7:00 p.m. July 23, in the White Way Cafe.

Following the dinner a short business session was held with Mrs. Dorothy Cox, vice-president, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Jean White, president. Plans were made for the coming Style Show to be held on Aug. 26 in the Cabot Auditorium.

The guest speaker for the evening was Bob Craig Jr., division sales engineer for the Lane Wells Co. of Oklahoma City. His subject was "Gamma and Neutron Surveys." He high-lighted his talk by showing slides on the screen to illustrate his talk.

Craig explained in detail how the instruments used in making the surveys operate. He told how the Gamma and the Neutron Surveys help the oil field operator determine the various formations below the surface of the ground, and how they help determine which formation is oil or gas producing thus providing valuable information. Mr. Craig was assisted by Mr. Ivan Wilkerson of the Lane Wells Co. of Pampa.

There were seventeen members present and two guests, Mr. Bob Craig Jr., of Oklahoma City and Mr. Ivan Wilkerson of Pampa.

Lutheran Youth Host Panhandle District

The Pampa Walther League of the Lutheran Church was host to a social event for the Panhandle district recently. A large group of young people from Shamrock, Logansport, and Perryton were entertained with games and contests.

Coyle Winborn, president, gave the welcome address, and Donald Bruns led the devotional. Refreshments of home made ice cream, pie, and punch were served to about 60 guests.

The Walther League is an organization composed of the Lutheran young people whose purpose is the spreading of God's word, while also developing and maintaining Christian activity and fellowship.

New officers recently elected are Coyle Winborne, President; Craig Winborne, vice president, and Russell Bowen, secretary-treasurer.

Filled ripe olives, stuffed or wrapped in strips of smoked salmon and speared on toothpicks, are wonderful for a before-dinner appetizer to serve with chilled tomato juice.

Nail holes and cracks in woodwork must be filled before painting if the results are going to look professional.

Answer To Cold And Dust: New Plains Storm Windows

KEEPS OUT DUST AND HEAT — Owen Moore holds one of the famous Dust-Stopper storm windows by his Plains Aluminum Station Wagon. This window, manufactured in Panhandle by Plains Aluminum Industries, fits between the regular window and the screen so that it is invisible from the street. When the wind blows the window tightens to keep out dust and cold. Call or write Owen Moore, Pampa Area Representative, at 1057 Huff Rd., Pampa, Phone 4-4431 or 4-3538, for a free demonstration and estimate.

The first and only Factory in Texas devoted to the Exclusive manufacturing of Storm Windows and Doors is Plains Aluminum Industries, P.O. Box 38, Panhandle, Texas, Phones 2621 or 3761. There is no side line to detract our personal attention from Designing, manufacturing and supervising the installation of Plains Aluminum Dust Stoppers.

RED CROSS NEWS

By JOEL COMBS
Public Information Chairman
Pampa Chapter, A.R.C., will have their first board meeting of the new Red Cross year August 7 at Johnson's Cafe at 7 a.m. All members of the board are urged to be present by Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary. Films and slides of the summer Water Safety program will be shown by James Hart and the Water Safety chairman, John Bradley. Guests at the meeting will be Water Safety instructors and aides.

Many friends and parents of the boys and girls came to the last day of the swim program to see the progress that the children had made in their classes. One little girl was very proud of herself, for she had been trying to get her feet off the bottom of the pool and go into a prone float, and the last morning she did just that, and immediately she wanted to go back and do it again. Mrs. Jerry Griffith, the aide working with her, gave her a big hug for her accomplishment, much to amusement of the crowd. Pins to be worn on their bathing suits were given to the boys and girls at the close of the swim program by the Red Cross.

There have been 520 children instructed in beginner swimming, 140 intermediates, and 101 adults — making a total of 761 in all. There were six instructors working with the group and 32 aides through out the six-weeks program. Mrs. Shotwell thanked all who gave of their time to make the program a success, and also to Coach McNeely for his cooperation with the summer recreation and the Red Cross swim program. "An extra bouquet of thanks should go to Mary Ann Kelley for her work in the swim program," Mrs. Shotwell said. Mary Ann took the life saving and aides course the first two weeks of the summer and then worked all six weeks of the program without missing a single day from the classes. Other girls that helped with the past two weeks classes were: Joan Thompson, Sydna Morris, Lynn Brewer, Kay Sprinkle, Jo Crinklaw, Vickie Osborne, Martha Skelly, and Alice Tice. They gave many hours of volunteer service to the program.

A recent trip to Amarillo Air Force Base hospital by a Pampa group of entertainers, sponsored by the local chapter of Red Cross, was a big success. Mrs. Shotwell said. F. C. Scott, field director of the base, stated that there were fewer boys in the hospital last week than at any time this year. However, there were thirty boys that were able to come to the day room to hear the program. One boy had a July birthday and was given a birthday gift from the local chapter. The girls sang "Happy Birthday" to him. The program was given by the Sub Deb girls and was certainly well received. Dr. Calvin Jones and Mrs. Azell Loftus went with the girls and four Gray Ladies went with Mrs. Shotwell. Gray Ladies making the trip were: Mrs. A. D. Hills, Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, Mrs. W. J. Ladd, and Mrs. H. O. Darby.

Ride Smoother, Save $$ On Tires Trued By Hall & Pinson

FOR A BETTER AUTOMOBILE RIDE — Leymond Hall, owner and operator, adjusts the Tru-O-Matic Tire Truing Machine, at Hall & Pinson Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, 4-3521. One adjustment and this machine makes a tire perfectly round, shapes the crown perfectly, all in only 5 minutes! Tire truing and wheel balancing is a specialty at Hall & Pinson. These processes give you a better auto ride, add mileage to your tires, cut auto repair bills because irregular spots on your tires cause vibration damage to the front end of your car. Have your tires checked today.

For better riding, for safer vacations and all - year driving, for more savings — have your tires trued and your wheels balanced by Hall & Pinson Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, 4-3521.

Tire truing and wheel balancing the Hall & Pinson way is the team that saves for you.

1. With longer tire mileage by thousands of miles.
2. With lower car repair bills because this team eliminates front end damage due to excessive vibration, shimmy.
3. With less driving fatigue, because of easier driving.
4. With more driving pleasure — smoother riding.
5. With more safety.

Fast Service
Tire truing and wheel balancing by Hall & Pinson takes just a few minutes because Hall & Pinson uses two automatic, precision machines: the Tru-O-Matic Tire Truing Machine and the Alemitic Electronic Wheel Balancer, which shows you, the driver, when your wheels are balanced. You can watch the dial yourself!

Eight out of 10 tires that have been driven more than 2,000 miles are out-of-round, although the same tires were within .125th of an inch of roundness when they left the factory!
A tire stretches as the molecules of rubber align themselves with the stresses of the tire, causing high spots and dished areas on the tread. The irregularities vary from 1-64th to 3-16ths of an inch on passenger car tires and to more than 1/2 inch on truck tires.
Effect of High Spots
When the irregularities strike the ground they cause a bump and slow the wheel in its turn because of the drag of the greater circumference at that point. Even 1-32nd of an inch high spot causes slips, bumps, jumps that overtax bearings, bushings, pins, shock-absorbers and springs.
Tire irregularities cause immediate, excessive tire wear around the high-spots, a condition that increases vibration. Tire-life and car-life are shortened abnormally. Driver fatigue is greater.
Automatic Correction

Hall & Pinson's Tru-O-Matic Tire Truing Machine recrows tires accurately and smoothly. One simple adjustment and the tire is trued automatically! There is no guess-work. This process makes the tire smoother, makes the crown shape more accurate than can be achieved by hand shaping.

With the precision Alemitic Electronic Wheel Balancer Hall & Pinson Tire Co. is equipped to balance the wheels on your car quickly. You watch the dial on the wheel balancer yourself. You see whether your wheel needs balancing. You see that it is balanced perfectly.

Seat Covers
At Hall & Pinson, your seat Cover Headquarters as well as Tire Truing and Wheel Balancing Headquarters and Used Tire Center, see the wide selection of Arthur Fulmer Seat Covers. Hall & Pinson carries one of the largest stocks of seat covers in the State of Texas because:

Leymond Hall, owner and operator, wants you to choose your seat covers from a selection made for your make and model of automobile. Then your covers look better and serve longer. They fit well. Leymond Hall insists that your seat covers are installed properly; so you will enjoy all the wear and beauty the manufacturer built into them. Hall closely supervises the installation of all covers and carefully trains his coworkers in seat cover work.

In addition to the tremendous stock of seat covers Leymond Hall maintains his special order department, through which you can select seat covers in literally hundreds of designs and colors. Just a few days after you place your order he will install your selections for you.

Used Tires
The Hall & Pinson Tire Co. stock of used tires — all in very good condition — is one of the largest in the Panhandle and includes those hard-to-get sizes.

With these tires you save half and even more on the cost of new tires. Much of this stock is made up of new car take-offs. Another large portion is made up of practically new tires of all types. You get just about new tire wear for about half price!

All these tires are priced to move, priced for volume dealing — prices cut to the bone. Depend on Hall & Pinson Tire Co. for all your auto maintenance. Care by this firm will mean better

By UNITED PRESS
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt — President Gamal Nasser on seizing control of the Suez Canal:
"Whatever Washington may say, I'll answer; you can choke with frustration . . . just as (King) Farouk was thrown out in 1952, the Suez Canal Company goes out today."

GENEVA—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold commenting on the recent wounding of three United Nations truce observers on the Israel - Jordanian frontier:
"I am grieved by the injuries suffered and I extend my warm sympathy to the United Nations observers who have been seriously injured while on duty in the cause of peace."

WARSAW—Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz asking the government for emergency measures to improve the living conditions of the workers:
"The plenary session should instruct us as soon as possible to present a program for such action."

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C.—Lt. Robert J. Atcheson, a Navy doctor, testifying at the court martial of Sgt. McKeon:
"Sgt. McKeon was not under the influence of liquor, not drunk, not intoxicated through any impression I could gain clinically."

WASHINGTON—Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan Twining asked about reports that Red party chief Khrushchev was drunk at a Moscow party:
"We all know the Soviets have a custom — many speeches with toasts in vodka and cognac. It's a custom of theirs and I don't like to criticize it. We have customs too. Along in the evenings (at a Russian party) things develop."

Newsletter From Congressman Rogers

The pending adjournment of a session of Congress always brings out into the open many proposed bills which, if passed, would provide a sizeable windfall for some individual or group. The Member who introduces the legislation usually does so at the request of some of his constituents. The bill usually has a very innocent look and a substantial degree of merit. But when all of the facts are brought out in the open, the ulterior purpose becomes apparent. When this occurs the Member sponsoring the legislation will accept an amendment striking out the objectionable part, or will withdraw the legislation from further consideration. These situations are not difficult to detect during the prolonged debate that is possible if the bill comes up in regular order during the session. That is the reason that most people having a gimmick in a bill prefer that it come up in the rush of adjournment when the opportunity to debate it fully will not be available. No doubt some bills will pass during this rush period having some windfall, but there is a crew of Members who stay in the Chamber constantly during the last few days in order to block as much of this type of thing as possible. Those who must object to the consideration of such bills place themselves in a position of being looked upon as an obstructionist or trouble-maker. For this reason, the burden of doing this job is usually spread among a number of Members so that the full impact of criticism will not fall on any one person.

It is not difficult to tell when a bill's eye has been struck. Within minutes after the objection is made, the pressure goes on the objector to get him to withdraw such objection. One such bill that I was familiar with and helped in blocking passage of, brought a deluge of other Congressmen and

No Cowards Among Crew On Liner

By TOM ZUMBO
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Although they talked of many things about the ill-fated Andrea Doria — the fog, the crash, the rescue, the sinking — the crew of the sunken ship all emphatically agreed on one thing, that there was no cowardice or incompetence among the crew as had been charged.

"Why were so many passengers saved?" they asked at the Seamen's Institute here where they are quartered waiting future orders. They said the rescue operation was done as well as possible under the circumstances and conditions, as proved by the high rescue figures. There was no general hysteria. Someone must get credit for this.

To the charges that some crewmen were first in the lifeboats, the group explained that according to maritime law, the law of the sea, some crewmen must get into the boats first, both to man the oars and to help the passengers.

Some of the men showed blistered hands from rowing the lifeboats from the Andrea Doria to the rescue ships. Many said they made a half-a-dozen such trips.

The fact that the Andrea Doria couldn't lower most of its lifeboats because of the list probably gave rise to cries of negligence, they said. And, of course, the language barrier caused much misunderstanding. "It's easy to jump to conclusions when there are no explanations," they added.

The Andrea Doria seamen, still somewhat shocked and now chagrined at the accusations against them, sat around in little groups in the Seamen's Institute as a United Press reporter asked them for their side of the story. They spoke in voluble Italian or halting English.

They are a sad-looking crew — some angry, some bitter, some disgusted, some bewildered — and all hurt at the turn of events that to them has transformed an heroic rescue into a misleading tale of cowardice and incompetence.

John Vigano, 49, chief steward said, "We did our best to save the passengers. Out of 700 people, you can't help it if some of them say we acted badly. Many women had to be lifted bodily into the lifeboats and some of the male passengers had to be pushed around, too."

First Hurricane Disappears
MEXICO CITY (UP)—The season's first tropical hurricane blew itself out Friday against the Sierra Madre Mountains after causing light damage in the port of Tampico. Winds of up to 62 miles an hour hit Tampico. Residents of low areas were evacuated as heavy rainfall partially flooded parts of the city.

Senators and a number of lobbyists. However, the Member making the objection stood his ground. Result: no windfall.

To give you some idea of what happens during the last day or two of a session, on July 25th the House met at 10 a.m. after several committee meetings, disagreed with the Senate Amendments to the Foreign Aid Bill and appointed conferees for a conference to work out a solution; adopted a resolution providing for certain rules during the balance of the week; took up and cleared for the President twenty separate House bills; agreed to Senate-House Conference reports on nine bills; took up, debated and voted on the highly controversial housing bill; passed and cleared for the President a Senate bill to amend the International Wheat Agreement Act; took up and debated H. R. 8000, a bill to prohibit the serving of alcoholic beverages to airline passengers while in flight; adopted an amendment to this bill and passed the bill; adopted eight resolutions citing witnesses for contempt of the House of Representatives by refusal to answer questions before the Committee on Un-American Activities; debated, amended and passed a bill to provide insurance for flood damaged areas; passed a tax readjustment measure applying to breach of contract damages; passed two shipping bills; passed a bill relating to clerk hire for Congressmen who represent districts having over five hundred thousand constituents; adopted a resolution providing for expenses of a special committee to investigate campaign expenditures. The proceedings included several other matters including the filing of reports on bills that did not reach the floor for discussion. It also might be pointed out that on July 24th the President signed into law thirty-two bills that had been sent to the White House for his signature.

So you see there is not time to relax during these last days. It is extremely difficult to keep up with the mail during this time, and if some of you do not get answers to your letters as promptly as you should, please bear with me for a day or two as these answers will be forthcoming.

Mine Removal Begins
MARSEILLE, France (UP)—French demolition experts will undertake the delicate task Friday of lifting a World War II mine out of the heavily-traveled Mar-seille harbor. The huge mine was discovered recently in the harbor, where hundreds of thousands of ship passengers have embarked and disembarked since the end of the war.

Long Marriage Doomed
ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (UP)—Robert Junkin, filed suit for divorce against his wife, Minnie, because of a property dispute. Junkin, who is 85, and his wife couldn't agree on a settlement. They have been married 55 years.

Gunshot Victim Found
BONHAM, Tex. —UP— Mrs. Miriam Ross Gray, 55, was found shot to death Thursday at her home near Dodd City. A .38-caliber pistol was in her lap. Justice of the Peace Hamp Harper said she committed suicide. Her doctor, who went to her home in answer to a telephone call, found the body.

Operation Success
DENTON —UP—The Civil Defense Administration's Southwest division headquarters announced today that "Operation Alert 1956" was a "marked success." The alert began last Friday and ended Wednesday, W. W. Wilson, regional administrator, said problems encountered will be of value in the future.

Cliff's set at MGM is closed because, a spokesman explains, "he is so intense when he works he can't stop to chat with people." And to wrap up the air of mystery in his close relationship with Libby Holman Reynolds, the famed ex-torch singer several years his senior.

In the picture Cliff plays a "shy, serious intellectual" which describes him in real life. The only friends the handsome actor sees here are the Wildings.

It was after a party at their house that he smashed his car, winding up in the hospital with a battered face. The picture was delayed nine weeks. Last week, when shooting resumed, Cliff looked none the worse for wear — slightly thinner but with no scars.

Cliff's friends say he stayed away from Hollywood because he's been trying to work out his problems with a psychiatrist in New York. His explanation, through an MGM spokesman, is "I looked over my scripts and never found anything I wanted to do."

SOME ANSWER — Actress Diana Dors, billed as Britain's answer to Marilyn Monroe, is now in this country. She's Hollywood-bound, where she'll co-star in a movie with comedian George Gobel.

After Three Year Absence Montgomery Clift In Film

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Montgomery Clift, back in films after an absence of more than three years, has developed into Hollywood's intriguing man of mystery.

Clift is starring in the $5.5 million "Raintree Country," his first movie since "From Here to Eternity."

His shunning of Hollywood for years is a puzzle to his co-workers. His behavior, described by one colleague as "moody," has his MGM bosses anxious over completion of the super-colossal civil war epic that is expected to run at least three hours in theaters next year.

Clift's set at MGM is closed because, a spokesman explains, "he is so intense when he works he can't stop to chat with people."

As one co-worker says, "There aren't many other actors who can stay off the screen for years, refuse publicity and live un-like a star, and then come back and be as talented and popular as ever."

Cliff will be seen more by movie fans from now on. He next will co-star in a D. H. Lawrence story, "Sons and Lovers," in Europe, and then in "The Devil's Disciple," the G. B. Shaw play that also will co-star Laurence Olivier and Burt Lancaster for Hect-Lancaster productions, "Raintree County," which locations for seven weeks beginning this week in Natchez, Miss. and Danville, Ky., is only Clift's ninth picture.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?
Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Parties At Low Ebb

It is possible that November of 1956 will find the American people at their political nadir. The Republican party, headed as it is by a man who didn't know he was a Republican until 1952, has fallen upon evil days...

The rebellious right-wing, seeking ways and means of instilling principle into their bartered and battered mechanism, is a frustrated minority caught on the fulcrum of its own lever...

This year the race is not for the flashiest personality. Whosoever may win the popularity contest, the policies are socialist. We have turned the corner.

Perhaps history will yet record that our moment of disaster occurred in 1952. That was when the American people, seeking a change and a reversal of the course being followed, were lured by high-sounding phrases and a photogenic grin into placing their trust in the hands of an economic ignoramus.

The Roman theory of rule by Caesar is already bringing sparks from the flinty facts of merciless arithmetic. The bellowing of the bulls in the market now sounds more like the growling of the bears.

But in this election year, our bi-partisan politicians cannot let the facts be known. A study has been ordered of the possibilities of accelerating public works construction, which carries us right back to the days of the Blue Eagle and the boondoggling of the CCC camps.

There are already 40 separate agencies handling public works, the legalized made-work doles. There are 109,000 state and local or quasi-governmental entities all engaged in building what we cannot afford on the basis of future taxation and mounting public debt.

The hopes and aspirations of mankind were once focused on this country. Here, our government groveled helplessly in chains, while free men, free, different, for all their failings, strode boldly on the pathways to progress.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES Who Pays The Taxes? I have a letter from Herbert L. Klingensmith, Sr., from Yuba City, California, taking me to task for something I have never definitely said...

"Mr. Hoiles repeatedly states—as if to convince himself—that the consumer pays all the taxes. Exactly what kind of deductive reasoning he uses as applied to the natural laws of economics is beyond this writer's comprehension. However his reasoning and conclusions are not supported by facts...

It seems rather academic to be arguing whether the consumer or the producer pays the taxes because they cannot be separated. Every producer must be a consumer. He could not live without being a consumer. They are one and the same party...

Every producer attempts to add all his costs to his selling price so that it will be passed on to another consumer—producer. Even the employee is obliged to add the cost of his tax to his wage or salary. Every producer—consumer attempts to add all his costs to the price of what he has to market and have the purchaser—consumer of his product pay all costs...

WASHINGTON — Hell's Canyon may be precisely what the name implies for the Democrats in the 1956 Presidential election. The liberal and conclusive defeat of the final Democrats' demand for further expansion of the Federal power empire has upset more of the opposition's political plans and dreams than any other controversy at the current session of Congress...

Robert J. Donovan's pro-Eisenhower book, "Eisenhower — The Inside Story", makes the history of the United States confusing. But the history of Russia at this moment is not hard to understand. After the Russian revolution, a CONSTITUTION was created to protect the rights of the Russian people. But Stalin was "unalterably opposed" to its enforcement...

WASHINGTON — The most savage row in the history of commercial aviation has been staged before the Civil Aeronautics Board in the struggle of eight rivals to share in the New York-Miami run, now enjoyed by Captain "Eddie" Rickenbacker's Eastern Airlines and "Ted" Baker's National Airlines. With Juan Trippe's Pan American World Airways as the most aggressive contender, it is a battle of giants, with no holds barred...

It will embarrass the Eisenhower Administration seriously, no matter how CAB decides. From Maine to Miami, governors, mayors, state councilors, Chambers of Commerce and politicians of both parties have met head-on as they press the claims of their respective favorites. Cabinet members and former Cabinet members have been employed as lobbyists at Washington. Veteran aviation writers say they have never seen such outside play. Important Southern interest on and off Capitol Hill generally support the application of Delta Airlines, which has been recommended by Examiner Thomas Wrenn.

THE NATION'S PRESS

RUSSIA: EXPERT TESTIMONY (N. Y. Daily News) The West has numerous experts on Communism, and several times as many persons who think they are experts. If you're looking for a top-flight expert on the subject, and on dictatorship in general, you can do a lot worse than to consult Generalissimo Francisco Franco, ruler of Spain. In the bitter 1936-39 Spanish Civil War, Franco's fought Communists who had been trained and were largely directed by Red fighting men from Russia. He learned a great deal about Red strategies, tactics and tricks. Since his victory in '39, the Gissimo has managed Spain largely by dictatorial methods and has kept the Communist conspiracy planned down. Franco, then, should have some pretty useful ideas on the meaning of the Kremlin's new look—the smiles, the trips abroad by Red big shots, the endless chatter about peace and aid for backward countries, and the yells of "Stalin was a ringtailed so-and-so" which go to make up present day Soviet foreign policy. These thoughts occurred recently to Harry F. Byrd Jr., son of the eminent Virginia Senator and publisher of a couple of Virginia newspapers. Mr. Byrd wrote to Franco and asked his opinion on the new Soviet look. In reply, he got. An Impressive Letter — setting forth the Spanish dictator's views in detail. Byrd printed the letter in his newspapers. Briefly, Gen. Franco is not convinced that the new Kremlin policy is sincere, peaceable, or anything else Krushchev, Bulganin and their cronies say it is. Franco says that if all had been serene in Russia, Khrushchev and his pals needn't have cut loose with their campaign to make a devil out of Josef Stalin, whom they had helped make a demigod while he lived. They could have gone along doing reverence to his memory, thereby keeping Communists inside and outside Russia quiet and as happy as these people who live on hate can ever be. Instead, the present Kremlin bosses turned on Stalin's name and fame, and are currently describing him as a heel in spades-plus. By so doing, they have set Com-

Redlegs Problem Is A Need Of More Strong Arm Hurlers

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor NEW YORK (NEA)—George Robert Tebbetts has turned in a magnificent job with little pitching he has in Cincinnati. Without having been one of the smarter catchers, Birdie Tebbetts would know that the Reds can't take it all with not too much more than a lot of blokes belting the ball from Crosley Field to Dayton or thereabouts. Manager Tebbetts, the post-graduate college man schooled in the intricacies of major league play by Mickey Cochran, is, as would quite naturally follow, something of a baseball historian. He fully realizes that the strong arm will beat the strong swinging guy every time.

Going into the current eastern swing, and excluding Brooks Lawrence, only one Rhineland starter was above .500, and Johnny Klippstein's record was 8 and 6. Lawrence won 13 straight before losing, but the Springfield, O., Rifle required more rescue expeditions than there have been in the uppermost reaches of northwest Canada in the winter time. The marks of the other Redleg starters were Joe Nuxhall, 7-8, and Art Fowler, 6-9.

This accounts for the 7-3 of reliever Hershall Freeman, who goes with Lawrence like Lefty Gomez and Johnny Murphy, Gallagher and Shean, Martin and Lewis and Lawrence and Arabia.

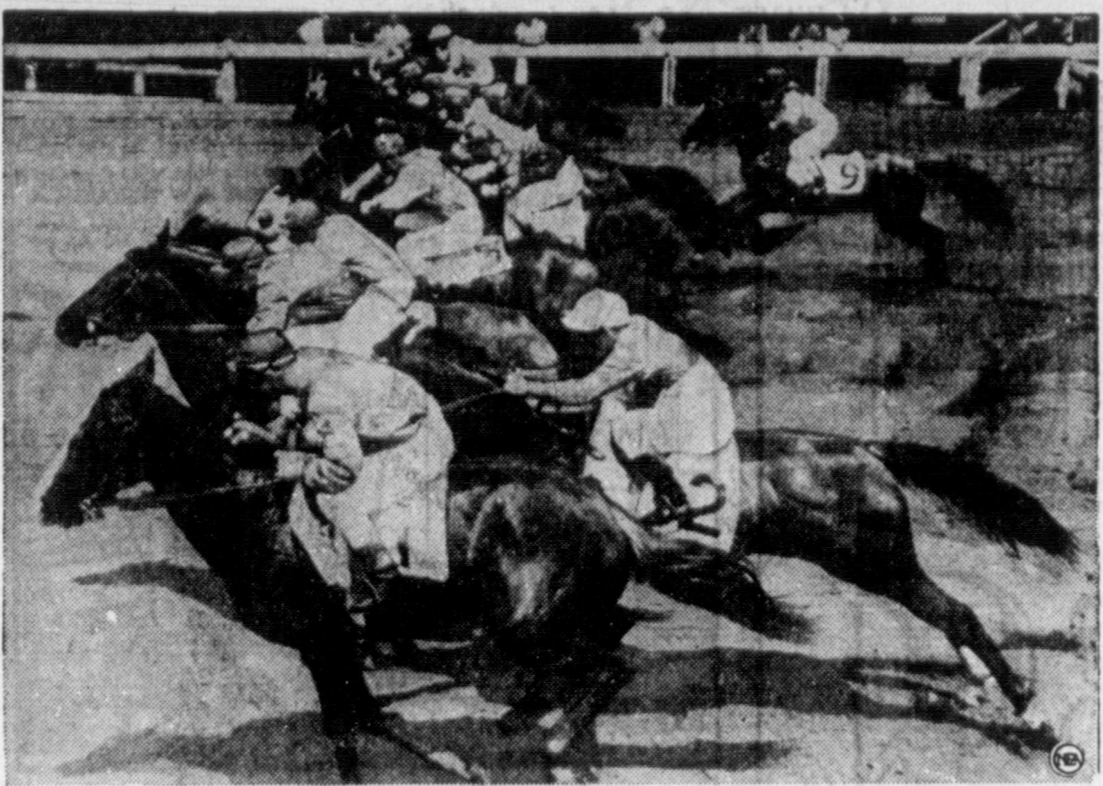

Dr. Tebbetts even won a key game from the Dodgers by starting Hal Jeffcoat, a reformed outfielder. He has skillfully patched up his wobbly staff with Joe Black and a new starter, Don Gross.

Stacked against Tebbetts on the Milwaukee side is the very regular rotation of Bob Buhl, 12-4; Lew Burdette, 11-4; Ray Cross, 9-4; Warren Spahn, 9-7; and Gene Conley, 4-6.

The latter, hampered by arm trouble in the spring, could be the best of the lot. Spahn started slowly, but is rolling now. Bob Trowbridge is an extra hand and backing up the starters are the superlative relief workers, Dave Jolly and Ernie Johnson. Lou Sleater is an experienced left-hander and a newcomer named Phillips bobs up here and there.

While Tebbetts is looking desperately for pitching, all Fred Hanesy has to do is rotate his starters and bring in firemen when trouble starts. And the Braves have their full share of heavy artillery headed by Henry Aaron, Joe Adcock and Eddie Matthews.

A football team has to have a running attack to set up its pass-

Bucs Lose Again

Braves Take Key Win From Bums; Cubs Lose Twin-Bill

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer They're listed on the Milwaukee Braves roster as Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock but to the Brooklyn Dodgers they're just "Little and Big Poison."

"We could handle those Braves if we could only get those two guys out," is the way Dodger Captain PeeWee Reese sums it up. "But they're just plain poison—they murder us every game."

It was that simple Monday night when the Braves opened their key series with the world champions by scoring an 8-6 victory that preserved their 2 1/2 game National League lead over the Cincinnati Redlegs and pushed the third-place Dodgers five full games off the pace.

Four RBIs for Aaron Aaron knocked in four runs with a single, double and his 16th homer of the campaign to raise his league-leading average to .342 while Adcock drove in a pair of runs with a homer and a double.

Bucs Lose Fifth Straight The Redlegs completed a sweep of their five-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates when they doubled home the two decisive runs in the third inning with Bus-

Freeman coming on to relieve Tom Acker and pick up his eighth win of the campaign. Robin Roberts posted his 11th win and Harvey Haddix his ninth as the Philadelphia-Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 and 4-2 in the only other National League games. The Phillies supported Roberts with a seven-hit attack that included three by Del Ennis and a homer by Stan Lopata. Lopata also had two hits in the night cap as Haddix fanned eight and pitched a one-hitter for seven innings. The victories enabled the Phillies to take over fifth place.

NEW YORK (UP)—The United Press will have a staff of 25 sports writers, headed by Sports Editor Leo H. Petersen, covering the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, Australia Nov. 22 to Dec. 8.

Locals Win 5-2, Perina Notches 5th

MIDLAND — Right-hander Art Perina gave up 11 well scattered hits as the Pampa Oilers settled the Midland Indians here Monday night, 5-2, in the opening tilt of the three-day stand between these two clubs. Perina's record is now 5-2.

The Oilers jumped off to a good start as they collected two runs in the initial frame, added two more in the fifth and picked up one in the sixth for insurance protection.

Midland could only break through the scoring line in the fifth and sixth frames scraping home one run each in those innings.

Hoyt Benedict, a right-hander posting a 10-4 mark for the season, will be the probable starter on the hill for the Oilers here in tonight's clash with the Indians.

By UNITED PRESS The San Angelo Colts' second baseman, Frank Gallardo, made his debut with the Colts an impressive one Monday night as the Colts and all four Southwest-ern League first division clubs won games.

Gallardo, just in from Nuevo Laredo of the Mexican League, turned the first fielding chance of the game into a double play and hit the first pitch by Ballinger's Bob Leach out of the park as the Colts trimmed Ballinger 6 to 2 for Jodie Phipps' 15th victory of the year.

First-place Hobbs beat Roswell 6 to 3 behind Ray Romero's ninth, nine-strikeout pitching; third place Tampa whipped Midland 5 to 2 as Art Parina got fancy defensive support to pull him out of repeated trouble; second-place El Paso batted around for an eight run fifth inning to batter Clovis 14 to 3 behind Bill Kirk's six-hit hurling, and fifth-place Plainview won a 5 to 1 duel with Carlsbad Cliff Ross' four-hit, 10-strikeout mound chore.

Tonight, the same clubs meet again with Roswell at Hobbs, Plainview at Carlsbad, Pampa at Midland, Clovis at El Paso and Ballinger at San Angelo.

leaguer." And well he might be, for it is a selective title, aspired for by many, achieved by a relatively few. With the exception of military medals won in combat, I know of no award worn more proudly than the ring which signifies membership of a world championship club.

Little LEAGUERS

By JIMMY BRESLIN NEA Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (NEA) — "When," the youngster said in Spanish to Frank Poteraj, "do we play another game?"

That was the toughest part of a job Poteraj had undertaken a couple months ago.

The youngster, a member of his Venezuelan Little League All-Star—"Pequena Liga De Beisbol"—had just finished a losing 3-2 effort in the Long Island tournament. It eliminated them from further play this season, but it was something the kids didn't understand.

After all, they had just come here from Maracaibo to play baseball. They won a game, then lost. That was the toughest part of a job Poteraj had undertaken a couple months ago.

What Does A Future Player Look Forward To Baseball?

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE (Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.) BY FORD FRIK Commissioner of Baseball (Written For The United Press) NEW YORK (UP)—While mail coming into the baseball commissioner's office is likely to be varied, one letter that arrived early this spring was truly unusual.

It was from the mother of a boy who had just signed his first baseball contract. She admitted that she did not know a great deal about professional baseball, and turning to the commissioner for advice, she asked "What does my boy have to look forward to in baseball?"

It seemed both a fair and intriguing question. Naturally, a preliminary consideration would be the talents of the boy himself, something I was in no position to judge. But, with the assumption that the boy was equipped to play baseball to a degree that would bring him to the major leagues, I told her that there were five important things he could look forward to with a great deal of interest.

First Is Competition The first was competition. Not only the stimulating competition of the game itself, but also the challenge of other players for his position both on the team for which he was playing, and for the major league berth for which he worked. And work it would be, as well as play, for there are so many young men aspiring for the relatively few places on major league rosters.

Secondly, he would be able to look forward to a great deal of responsibility. Like competition, responsibility is many-faceted. The boy will have a responsibility to himself and his team-mates to do the best possible job on the field. The winning of pennants.

Watch Those Strokes

By DOW FINSTERWALD Written for NEA Service Too many average players look for the perfect shot every time. They don't settle for the shot which can put them in a favorable position.

During the course of any round, a player's timing get off to a degree where hooking or similar flaws will crop up. I say most of them would find the round better if they would allow for that fact and stop pressing to overcome it. All pressing does is hurt.

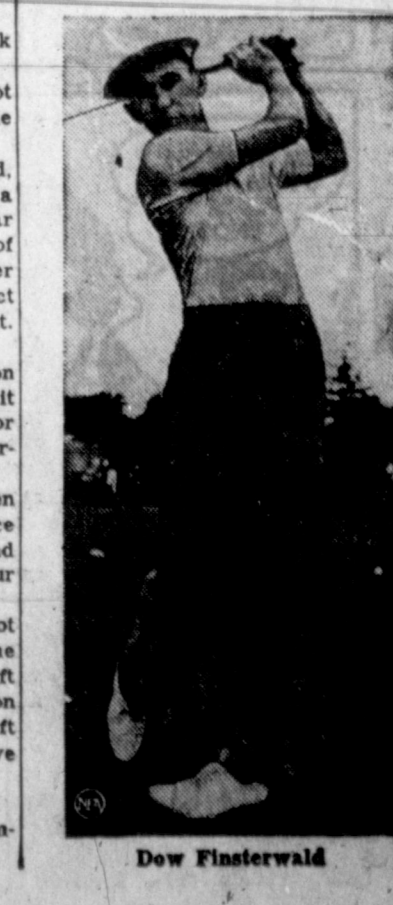

Save strokes under a situation such as this by being patient. Wait until you see your professional or reach the practice tee before overhauling your swing.

Go back to fundamentals when in trouble. Check your grip, stance and swing. Then go ahead and play. Don't start worrying or your score will skyrocket.

Be well balanced on the left foot before the club head meets the ball. A pull-back action of the left hip causes a natural coordination between the right knee and left arm. The right hand and arm give support.

Interior, Defense Oil Shelf Battle Looms

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
WASHINGTON, July 28—UP—The Interior Department is squaring off for battle with the Defense Department over the latter's plans to take over 35 million acres of the oil-rich continental shelf off Texas and Louisiana.

South made 11 tricks with the greatest of ease in today's hand. The arguments began. South wouldn't feel so happy at game in clubs if West opened a spade, was one opinion. Who cared about South's happiness. North wanted to know. Just let him take the diamond finesse and he'd make five clubs even if West opened a green suit.

While this pleasant little argument went on, the players overlooked the important details. How should South bid to reach a game contract, and which game contract should he reach?

To begin with, South should respond to the takeout double with a bid of three clubs instead of a mere two. A takeout double promises a hand of greater strength than a minimum opening bid.

Therefore the responder can afford to invite game if he has about eight points with good distribution.

As most experts play it, South can force to game by bidding the opponent's suit. In this case, South would bid two hearts with about another king. A jump response in a new suit is highly invitational but not completely forcing. North would pass three clubs if he had a very light stakeout double. He would accept the invitation if he had sound values for his double.

In this case, South would bid three clubs, and North would have a problem. If North bid four clubs, South would bid five. If North made the somewhat delicate bid of three diamonds, South would bid three no-trump. In either case, however, South would get to a sound game contract. The important thing was to begin by bidding the clubs.

New Brazilian Capital
RIO DE JANEIRO (UP)—A Chamber of Deputies committee voted Wednesday to name Brazil's future capital "Brasilia." The proposed name must be submitted to the full House for approval. The capital is to be transferred from Rio de Janeiro to an interior plateau. The city of Washington will be used as a model for the new capital.

Lamb Production Down
WASHINGTON—UP—The Agriculture department estimated Thursday that the lamb crop in Texas, which is the leading producer of lambs in the United States, will total 2,667,000 head in 1956. This is a five per cent decline from last year, but still would account for 13 per cent of the 1956 total.

TURNABOUT—State Democratic Committee in Kentucky has nominated former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby to run in November for the remaining four-year term of the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley. Nomination is tacit disapproval of Gov. A. B. Chandler's interim appointment of Joseph J. Leary to fill the vacancy until the November elections. Wetherby has been allied with Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.), who has been engaged in a factional scrap with Governor Chandler.

committee that private oil development on the shelf would be throttled. He said the government has collected $253 million on shelf leases since passage of the tide-lands and submerged lands acts in 1953 and "that is only the beginning."

The committee said military witnesses emphasized that private oil exploration would have to cease on any shelf lands reserved for the Air Force or Navy. It said the areas in question "are the very areas listed by Interior as among those of high prospective petroleum value."

The committee also noted that the Navy claimed the right—under the Submerged Lands Act—to drill for oil on the shelf. It disputed this. It said "The Navy does not have general authority anywhere and at any time" merely because it is an agency of the government. It said the Navy was trying to take advantage of old laws to give Congress "a built-in directive."

Policies Denounced
The committee's report spared no words in denouncing Defense Department land policies. It used such terms as "inexplicable, incomprehensible and inexcusable."

It said the military already controls 25 million acres of public land and wants eight million more in addition to its plans for the continental shelf.

"Tremendous natural resources are at stake," it said. It added that the Defense Department send the Interior Department land requests without having any accurate record to show how the Armed Forces are using the acreage they now hold. The report also referred to Navy plans—now sidetracked by Congress—to drill for oil on San Nicholas Island 68 miles southwest of Los Angeles. It said the Navy also was resorting to old laws in this case. The island was reserved for "Navy purposes" in 1933 by Presidential executive order.

The Navy asked the current Congress for $529,000 for drilling, but the House appropriations committee denied it and Engle asked the Navy to cite any legal authority it had for such drilling. The committee remarked that the Navy has no more authority for drilling—as a government agency—than the Bureau of Engraving. It suggested that if the Navy really wants to drill "it should request legislation clearly establishing such authority."

"Finally," it said, "if the proposed Air Force-Navy withdrawal of air space over the Gulf of Mexico would have the effect of precluding leasing activity then it is clear that this, too, calls into question resource policies warranting a joint executive-legislative assault on the matter, not unilateral executive action."

LUCKY TUCKIE—A family pet missing since 1950 returned home as mysteriously as he had disappeared. The dog, Tuckie, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Aminger of Atchison, Kan. They were sitting on the porch recently when the dog came trotting up the street. He ran to them when called. They tried to convince themselves it isn't the same dog that ran away six years ago, but all evidence points to it as being the very same Tuckie.
