

COUNTER ATTACKS THROW AMERICANS BACK

Reds Battle In Belgrade

Yugoslavs Aid In Fierce Fight At City's Edge

By DANIEL DE LUCE MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (AP) — Russian and Yugoslav troops fought the Germans in the outskirts of Belgrade today and front dispatches indicated patrols had crossed to the south bank of the Danube from captured Pancevo, less than nine miles from the capital.

Marshal Tito was reported near the front and it was believed troops of his army of National Liberation would be the first formally to enter the fortified old city of 267,000.

The range of hills at whose northwest corner Belgrade is located is ideal for Red army infiltration tactics.

Pravda said other Allied Slav troops had reached the vicinity of Nis, 130 miles southeast of Belgrade, where the Belgrade - Athens - Salonika and Belgrade - Sofia railroads meet.

In northern Yugoslavia along the Tisza river, other Russian troops were in action 30 miles across flat Hungarian frontier country from the second largest Hungarian city, Szeged, impeding frontally from Romania as well.

The conquest of Hungary was declared in Russian newspapers to be the first priority objective of Russian strategy.

Thousands of Partisans inside Belgrade were reported armed and ready to give blow for blow in the forthcoming battle to end the reign of terror under which the Germans have held the capital for 42 months.

Except for reporting patrol activity, Moscow communiques remained silent about any action elsewhere on the eastern front.

Berlin has reported beginning of a new Russian offensive in western Lithuania and invasion of the Baltic island of Saare.

Adriatic Forces Take Greek Port

ROME, Oct. 6 (AP)—Allied land forces of the Adriatic have sealed off the entrance to the Gulf of Corinth in their Greek invasion by capturing the fortified port of Rion, Allied headquarters announced today. Official Greek reports indicated that more than half the Peloponnese was securely in the hands of British troops and Greek patriots.

Greek Premier George Papandreou said in a statement that a minister of his cabinet had visited Tripolis where "security battalions"—Greeks fighting on the side of the Germans—had "surrendered to British officers without any skirmish."

Tripolis, in the east central Peloponnese, is 60 miles southeast of captured Patrai on the Gulf of Corinth and 75 miles southwest of Athens.

Rion was overwhelmed in an eastward advance along the gulf of Corinth from Patrai.

The Greek announcement also said the government member, landing from the island of Kythera, off Greece's south coast, also had visited Kalamata on the southwest coast.

This indicated the territory intervening between Kalamata and Tripolis was virtually free of Germans.

Enemy security battalions have surrendered at a number of other points in Greece, a communique said. Fifteen hundred prisoners were taken at Patrai alone.

Immediately after seizing Rion, seven miles up the coast from Patrai, the British turned enemy coastal guns captured there against large numbers of small craft in which the Germans were trying to flee northward across the gulf of Corinth. An official statement said good results were obtained in this shelling.

Despite the announcement of capture of enemy security battalions in several parts of the Peloponnese there still was no official word on how far the British have extended their lines.

In southern Albania other British units which landed 11 days ago continued to harass German communications leading to the small port of Sarande, supply base for the Corfu island garrison. The enemy retained artillery positions along the Sarande - Delvine road.

Board Organized Here By Dealers In Real Estate

Big Spring real estate dealers met Thursday at noon for the purpose of organizing a Big Spring Real Estate Board and becoming affiliated with state and national boards.

R. W. Patton, president of the Texas Real Estate association, discussed with the local dealers the dealer's license law and the tax program approved by the property owners division. This program advocates continued economy in the state government, no increase in appropriations to any agency of the state government, opposition to any new tax means, state-wide or local, require abolition of state ad valorem tax and revision of the tax laws of Texas that will be equitable and just.

W. C. Perkins, executive secretary of the Texas Real Estate association, discussed organization of the board.

Officers of the Big Spring board chosen were G. H. Hayward, president; J. B. Pickle, vice-president; Carl Strom, secretary. The seven charter members of the board include R. L. Cook, C. E. Read, Rube Martin, Burke Summers, J. B. Pickle, H. G. Hayward and Carl Strom.

Guests at the meeting were R. W. Patton, president of Texas board, W. S. Wagely state director from Abilene; T. R. Logan, director from San Angelo; C. R. Perkins, executive secretary from Dallas; James C. Evans, real estate division, office of Secretary of State.

The next meeting of the board will be at 12 noon Monday.

Bombs Hit London After Week's Lull

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—After a week's lull, flying bombs struck parts of southern England and London during the night—launched from Heinkel aircraft ranging over the North Sea.

At least one of the robot-carrying planes was shot down in flames by an RAF Mosquito pilot. The attack lasted only a few minutes but covered a wide area and caused damage and casualties. Two robots were destroyed by ack ack guns.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED WESTON, Mass., Oct. 6 (AP)—The Weston college seismograph registered three earthquakes yesterday, two of them probably in the Southwest Pacific, and the other in the vicinity of Turkey, readings showed today.

Aleutian-Based Bombers Strike Kurile Islands

By LEONARD MILLEMAN Associated Press War Editor

Aleutian-based bombers swept to within 310 miles of Japan in their deepest strike at the Kurile Islands, a Tokyo broadcast reported today in the wake of the second devastating American blow at one of Nippon's greatest gasoline production centers.

Domei News Agency said 12 Liberators attacked Kita Island in the Kuriles twice Thursday morning. It said two were shot down in "a fierce air battle."

Kita is a pinpoint island 90 miles closer to Tokyo than any target previously hit on the northern road to Japan. No land-based bombers except Superfortresses have been closer to Japan.

The distance from the Aleutians rivals the 2,500 mile round trip flight made by Southwest Pacific Liberators hammering at Balikpapan.

Japanese amphibious forces that invaded the central China coast last Saturday have reached the northwestern suburbs of Foochow, only major port on the east coast not controlled by the Nipponese.

The drive is another phase of Tokyo's effort to improve defenses against a promised Yank invasion of China.

British and Indian troops were putting the squeeze on Nipponese around their Tiddim base in southwest Burma. Indian jungle fighters cut across the top of the twisting "chocolate staircase" road leading to the fortress while the main force pushing down the Manipur road was crushing Japanese trapped in a nine mile gap north of Diddim.

Browns Lead 4-1 Over Cardinals

Table showing Cardinals 100 000-1 2 0 and Browns 004 000-4 5 1

Dubbed the "hitless wonders" in their opening game with the Cardinals the American League Champion St. Louis Browns jumped on Ted Wilks for five successive singles in the third inning of today's third World Series game and then capitalized on Jack Schmidt, relieving Wilks in that inning, when he made a wild pitch, to score four runs to take a 4-1 lead over the National League champions.

At the end of the sixth and going into the seventh inning the score was still standing behind the two-hit pitching of Browns Jack Kramer, who had registered six strike-outs at this point in the game.

The Cards grabbed their lone score in the first half of the opening inning with their first hit off Kramer to take an early lead. If the Browns win today's game it will give them a two-one edge in the series play, and they will remain as the hometown through Sunday.

Starting lineups: BROWNS - Gutteridge, 2b; Moore, rf; Stephens, ss; McQuinn, 1b; Kurovski, 3b; Marlon, ss; Verban, 2b; Wilks, p. CARDINALS - Litwhiler, lf; Hopp, cf; Sanders, 1b; Kurovski, 3b; Marlon, ss; Verban, 2b; Wilks, p.

First Inning CARDINALS — Litwhiler flied out. Stephens left Hopp's ground-er go through him for an error, the Cardinals' centerfielder reaching second. Musial flied out. Walker Cooper singled over short, scoring Hopp. Sanders walked. Kurovski went down swinging. One run, one hit, one error, two left.

BROWNS — Gutteridge struck out. Kreevich fouled out to Sanders. Verban tossed out Moore. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning CARDINALS — Marion struck out. Verban fouled out to Hayward. Wilks looked at a third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

BROWNS — Stephens walked. McQuinn also walked. Zarilla flied to Musial in right, the runners holding their bases. Christman forced McQuinn at Second, Stephens moving to third. Hayward walked to load the bases. Kramer struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors, three left.

Third Inning CARDINALS — Kramer threw out Litwhiler. Hopp grounded out to McQuinn. Musial singled through second. Cooper flied out. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

BROWNS — Gutteridge struck out. Kreevich flied out. Moore caught one of Wilks' slow pitches and drove it into right for a single. Stephens singled to left. McQuinn singled over short scoring Moore and sending Stephens to second. Zarilla singled to left scoring Stephens. McQuinn held up at second. Christman singled over short, scoring McQuinn and sending Zarillo to third. Christman went to second on the throw-in. Fred Schmidt came in to pitch for the Cards. Hayward was intentionally passed, loading the bases. Schmidt made a wild pitch, Zarilla scoring. Kurovski threw out Kramer. Four runs, five hits, no errors, two left.

Churchill Warns That Blood Is To Be Shed

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today, "A great deal of blood is going to be shed in the next few months." He referred to the Allied offensive against Germany.

Appealing for inter-party harmony during a debate on a post-war reconstruction bill, Churchill said: "At the present time we must keep our pugnacity as far as possible for export purposes."

Nazi Armor Hits Yanks On Rhine

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—First army soldiers, jumping off to the fifth day of attack in their wedge in the Siegfried Line at Ubach, ran into a storm of heavy armored counter-attacks today and had to fall back at two places.

The Germans, acknowledging their Siegfried defenses had been breached, threw their first sizeable armored forces with hundreds of guns and infantry into their assaults in fierce determination to block the road to the Rhine. The Americans had to fall back from Beggendorf, a mile east of Ubach and three-to-four miles inside Germany.

Under the pressure of the Americans also were forced off the top of a pillbox ridge a mile and a half south of Ubach and a mile east of Herbach.

To the south Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's infantry, sprayed with shellfire from German strong-points on either flank, fought into third day for Fort Driant whose "battered in" garrison battled from underground passages and trapdoor gunposts.

The Americans after a five-day fight were clinging to slim positions at the northwestern and southwestern corners of the fort near Dornot, five miles southwest of Metz, under flanking fire from other forts on both sides of the Moselle. They had been forced to give up a hold at the northeastern corner. But Gen. Patton moved up 155-millimeter "long tom" artillery and was replying heavily to German guns which threw 800 shells into the fort.

Another battle raged into its second day near Sivry, ten miles north of Nancy, with little change of ground. Farther to the south there was no news from the Vosges passes and the last ten miles to Belfort.

In the north the Canadians, behind sheets of fire from flame-throwers, burst across the Leopold canal into the enemy pocket south of the Scheide and won a bridgehead north of Maldegem, 20 miles west of Antwerp and nine miles east of Brugge (Bruges).

The Canadians also wedged into Holland beyond Putte, 11 miles north of Antwerp. They were within six miles of cutting the only mainland road link for German gun crews and garrisons holding the islands of Zuid Beveland and Walcheren.

Flood waters now up to eight feet deep covered more than a fourth of dike-breached Walcheren.

On the east side of the Nijmegen corridor American troops who pushed east of Overloren buffeted back two German counterattacks.

The British threw back three more counterattacks, one of which gained 1,000 yards before it was checked.

Allied power still was flowing into the corridor in a steady build up.

Dunkerque's strange truce ended at 10 a. m., after 19,000 civilians had been evacuated.

Borrowed Baby Is Returned By Captor

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 5 (AP)—An army sergeant and his wife rejoiced today over recovery of their newborn child — stolen from its hospital crib one day after it was born—while a 35-year-old war worker's wife faced a federal kidnapping charge.

R. J. Abbaticchio, special agent in charge of the FBI in Alabama, said last night a woman he identified as Mrs. H. B. Jenkins of nearby Chickasaw, confessed she took the day-old son of Sgt. and Mrs. William R. Laws from Rush's Infirmary in Meridian, Miss.

The FBI agent said the woman pleaded guilty to a kidnapping charge at her arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Alex Howard and was held in jail on default of $500 bond.

Doctors at Mobile city hospital reported the baby suffered no ill effects from the trip.

Mrs. Jenkins told him, Abbaticchio related, that she had "a craving for a baby," and that following a visit to the Meridian hospital early Wednesday to see a friend, she "took the first baby she came to."

Sweetwater Flier Missing On Flight

WACO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Col. J. B. Olson, commanding officer of Blackland army air field, said today Aviation Cadets Ellis H. Adair, 21, of Panguitch, Utah, and Quinn McKelvey of Sweetwater, Tex., were missing on a cross-country navigational training flight.

Olson said that the two had been missing since 1:15 a. m. yesterday, and that their two-engine training plane was last somewhere on a triangle between Blackland AAF, from which they took off, Harpersville and Washita Falls.

Prisoners Of War Relatives Meet

Bound by a common tribulation, next of kin of prisoners of war from Howard county held their first meeting Thursday evening at the Red Cross headquarters.

They not only received consolation from talking with each other, but received enough information from Mrs. Wiley Curry, Red Cross chapter prisoner of war chairman, that they proposed to continue the practice of group meetings.

In event S-Sgt. Edmond H. Smith, who was held prisoner by the Romanian government for a year until recently liberated, returns within the next month, another meeting will be called so that some first hand information on prisoner of war camps may be given.

Mrs. Curry outlined the development of regulations providing for treatment of prisoners of war and explained that these set up requirements for housing, care of sick and wounded, sanitary and recreational facilities, regulated correspondence, etc. Prisoners, she said, are given thorough examinations on entry into camps and are presented with Red Cross parcels containing ample clothing and essential food.

Japanese have not officially ascribed to the prisoner of war conventions of Geneva, but have consented in recent months to permit one hostload of medical supplies to be shipped from Russia to Japan for distribution to Allied prisoners.

Mail is necessarily slow, she said, and prospects are that it will become increasingly slower. Cablegrams may be sent to prisoners through Red Cross in event of emergency, she said.

Among those attending the meeting were Mrs. Mary F. Bagley, whose son, Cpl. William R. Bagley is a Japanese prisoner; Howard Butler, POW for S-Sgt. Roy L. Butler, POW Germany; Mrs. B. Y. Dixon for Floyd A. Dixon, S 2-c, POW Japan; Mrs. Edna Fannin for Pvt. Elbert L. Fannin, POW Japan; Mrs. Linnie Flippin of Vincent for Pvt. Theodore N. Flippin, POW Japan; Mrs. Anna Gensberg for 1st Lt. Frank Gensberg, POW Japan; Mrs. Janet Holcombe, S-Sgt. Horace Holcombe, POW Germany.

Mrs. W. E. Smith for S-Sgt. Edmond H. Smith, enroute home; Homer W. White, Coahoma, for S-Sgt. Elmo E. White, POW Germany; Lester O. Waller, Knott, for Pvt. Richard E. Waller, POW Germany; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hart for Capt. O. C. Hart, POW Germany; and Mrs. E. Whirley for E. Whirley, POW GERMANY.

Failure At Arnhem To Lengthen War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The failure of Allied airborne troops at Arnhem, in the opinion of OWI director Elmer Davis, makes "more remote" the chances of victory in Europe this year. Davis said the "Arnhem affair" had made out of date an office of war information report which had predicted Germany would go down "before, or not long after, the end of 1944."

The report was not intended for publication, but it "leaked" after 8,000 copies were prepared and some 4,000 were distributed to persons in the advertising business.

Forecasts that 5,000,000 workers would change jobs after V-day in Europe, and that German collapse would bring "widespread and in some quarters serious" dislocations in civilian life were made in the OWI report.

While a substantial part of the displaced workers will be absorbed in the task of re-converting industry, the survey said that "in most cases a war job will continue to be the best job for at least six months after V-E day."

Intended to guide advertisers in planning future campaigns in behalf of the war effort, the survey said inflationary pressures would increase after V-E day and "price controls accordingly may be continued for quite some time." The need for heavy government borrowing will continue, it was said.

9000 Wacs will spend Christmas overseas!

December 25th, 1944, will find our gallant women-soldiers scattered around the whole wide world... helping with the mighty work of war.

Your Wac's Christmas-Overseas will be the merrier if you heed these suggestions (her very own), before you shower her with the gifts she so richly deserves.

"Christmas was never like this at home!" Wacs in New Guinea (and New Caledonia) want cotton play clothes and bathing suits, sturdy-soled play shoes. Lipsticks, cream cologne, cotton lingerie, skirt-hangers will make them happy Wacs indeed!

"She'll hang her stockings in a Maharajah's palace!" Many Wacs in India live in converted palaces. They want "city" gifts. Cosmetics, silver identification bracelets, lace-trimmed lingerie, new books, sun glasses, cotton slacks, and T-shirts for active sportswear.

Jingle Bells in Bretagne! Don't send Wacs-in-France bulky gifts or clothes—they're on the move! Do send wallets, compacts, leather picture holders (small), fruit casks, handkerchiefs, silver dog-tag chains. W-books are very welcome.

"How do you say 'Merry Christmas' in Italian?" Fifth Army Wacs move around a lot—so small gifts for them. Wacs stationed in Italian cities would love quilted dressing gowns, fur-trimmed bedroom slippers, sheer rayon hose, sun glasses.

"Gosh! English Yule logs grow big!" Warm clothes, please, for your Wac-in-England. Quilted robes, fur-trimmed slippers, ski pants (weighing less than 5 lbs.). Bright sweaters, gay wool plaid slacks. Starch, elastic by the yard, clothes pins, popcorn (lots of open-hearth fires).

Some will have a White Christmas—the warmer and woolier the better, for Wacs stationed in Labrador and Alaska. Cotton flannel pajamas, quilted dressing gowns, wild wool plaid slacks, blazers, ski suits and accessories, sun glasses, personalized stationery, new books.

"Santa won't have to bother with chimneys in North Africa!" Wacs in Cairo or Algiers yearn for pretty, new bathing suits and play clothes (climate like Florida). Sheer rayon hose, sachet cologne, hand creams, cream deodorants, shampoo, bedroom slippers, tailored lounging pajamas.

"When I'm not on duty, I like—Pumps for my off-duty dress: Closed toe and heel, heels not over 2 1/2 inches high. Handbag: Any size (BIG, please!), self-trimming only. Brown Kid Gloves: Please make sure they match my bag. Lace-trimmed slips."

Herald Route Boys Sell Stamps In "Their" Week

STAMP SALESMEN—Big Spring Herald carrier boys will observe National Newspaper Day Saturday by attempting to sell at least one 10-cent defense stamp for every subscriber on their routes. They are, left to right, standing—Holly Bird, Cliff Coats, Dale Pritchett, W. E. Wozencraft, Jr., Ernest Potter, Sonny Crocker, Clarence Shaffer. Seated—Thomas Coats, Billy Jack Rose, Cleonne Russell, Clarence Russell, J. C. Horn, John Warren Masters, Jimmy Fite, Harold Wayne Haynie, and Joe, the mascot, front center. (Kelsey Photo).

Observing National Newspaper Day here Saturday, carriers of The Big Spring Daily Herald will ask Herald subscribers to "help put GI Joe in Tokyo" through purchases of defense stamps.

Under the supervision of Sue Haynes, Herald circulation manager, and Catherine Redding, assistant, the newspaper boys will call at Big Spring homes Saturday to take orders for stamps. They will give receipts for stamp money and then ask purchasers to sign when they are delivered to them.

Goal of the carriers is at least one 10-cent stamp for every subscriber. During the course of the war, the 150,000 newspaperboys of America have held over a billion and a quarter of 10-cent stamps. This record has won the commendation of Ted R. Gamble, national director of the war finance division of the treasury department, and many other national leaders.

Carrier X Gets Action After Retreating Fight

The screen's first great drama of our carrier force in action, 20th Century-Fox's epic, "Wing and A Prayer—The story of Carrier X," is scheduled at the Ritz today and Monday.

Jap-infested Pacific and marked as expendable. Sailing under orders to avoid combat—to run away and not fight back—the bewildered and frustrated crew of Navy flyers are forced to take everything the Japs can throw at them without retreating. With the strategic trap for the Nips set, and the orders not to engage in combat rescinded, the day of revenge for "Carrier X" comes. How that revenge is won at the Battle of Midway makes one of the most thrilling climaxes ever to blaze across the screen.

A new "first" in Hollywood's long list of technical achievements was scored with the building of an exact replica of a giant American aircraft carrier for the picture. Scenes of battle never before shown in a Hollywood film are revealed in the motion picture. Director Harry Hathaway and the entire cast spent seven weeks aboard a carrier, and 50,000 feet of film were exposed to get the shots wanted.

Army Corps Activated At Brownwood In 1942 Has Slain 15,000 Japanese

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC: It's been a long time since XIV Army Corps was activated at Brownwood, Texas, Dec. 22, 1942, but since then this command which includes 14 officers and 52 enlisted men from Texas, has directed operations in the Solomons which have resulted in the death of an estimated 15,000 Japanese.

In one of the most decisive defeats in the history of the Japanese military the XIV Corps in Bougainville in March of this year virtually annihilated the once fine 17th Imperial Japanese Army, killing an estimated 8,000 enemy in 18 days of violent fighting.

Under Lieut. Gen. (then Maj. Gen.) Alexander M. Patch, present commander of the 7th Army in the current battle for Nazi-held Europe, the XIV Corps directed the American and 25th Army Division and elements of the 2nd Marine Division in the final drive which expelled the Japanese from Guadalcanal early in February, 1943.

Part of this Japanese army is the Sixth Division, considered Japan's finest division in the early Chinese campaigns. It participated in the rape of Nanking in 1937. General Griswold's forces racked up an impressive ratio of 30 Japanese slain for each American killed in this second battle of Bougainville. The 37th and Americal divisions were principal combat units of the XIV Corps during this operation.

Sgt. Pinkston To Meet Hendlin For Tennis Title

Lt. Hale H. Hendlin, officer tennis champion at the Big Spring Bombarrier School, will meet S-Sgt. Jerome Pinkston, enlisted men's champion and colored star for Section F for the post title at 5 p. m. today.

A large gallery is expected to watch the match, despite the fact that Lt. Hendlin is the heavy favorite.

In 1930 Lt. Hendlin was named No. 13 ranking player in the nation by the American Lawn Tennis Association.

S-Sgt. Pinkston won the enlisted men's championship this morning defeating Pvt. Carl Bolsem of Section K and former YMCA star from Western Hills in Cincinnati, in straight sets of 6-4, 6-2.

Pvt. Bolsem's powerful net game was completely nullified as Pinkston continued to drive the ball deep to the back court.

Pinkston had battled his way into the finals yesterday, defeating Pvt. Jimmie Freeman, 6-1, 6-0, while Bolsem had reached the final stage by trimming Sgt. Sol Firestone 6-1, 6-2.

An unknown quantity at the start of the tournament Pinkston showed class as he mowed one opponent after another. He won the Georgia State Colored Open championship at Atlanta in 1931, and won two city tournaments for colored players in Macon in 1937 and 1938.

One Ground Crew Man Never Worries Junior Football Begins Next Week

By FRED HAMPSON ADVANCED SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AIRBASE, Sept. 25 (delayed) (AP) About the only ground crew man who never worries when Maj. Jay Robbins, Coolidge, Tex., goes out on a fighter mission, is Sgt. Sid Adelstein of Brooklyn.

"Why should I worry?" asked Sgt. Sid. "He's the best aviator in the world. He's the best fighter pilot in the world. He's got the best airplane in the world. The Japs haven't got anyone who could touch him with a 10-foot pole."

Sid is the ground crew chief for the 21-plane ace of the Fifth Air Force. He keeps Jandina — Robin's plane — in top trim.

"The boss is the coolest character in an airplane I ever saw," explains Sgt. Sid, who always has the red paint handy to add another Jap flag to the 21-flag collection on the major's plane. "It would be an insult for me to worry about him. It would be as though I doubted his ability to win."

Community Leaders Study Problems

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Community planning, defined as "simply looking ahead" is under the scrutiny here of about 150 community leaders and university professors from over the state.

The conference, sponsored by the University of Texas, at the request of several communities, proposes to find out what is worrying the communities of Texas and how to go about solving the problems.

Walter T. Rolfe, professor of architecture at the university, listed some of the considerations for community planning as follows: Land use and erosion control; population trends; tax structure and income; highway and traffic flow; transportation, public works, recreation, tourists, education, health, government revision, building code revision, industrial and war industries development, re-conversion of war housing to post-war use.

W. R. Woolrich, dean of the university's college of engineering stressed the necessity of beginning now to adjust to the million men and women in Texas who will be looking for jobs after the war. "War industries will release 320,000 and the armed forces 700,000," said Woolrich, "and it will require a whole lot of plain courage for every community to put this great number of people profitably to work."

Anyone who has attacked a concrete situation as, for example, winning the interest and allegiance of adolescents and older persons who have become alienated from the church, know that no slight-of-hand trick or cheap device is of permanent value. To work out such a problem six months of a year is not enough. It may require years. And yet, in the long run, nothing gives such big returns as Educational Evangelism. The main emphasis in teaching religion is to bring children up in Christ that there may be no falling off in adolescence and that men and women may continue growing in the grace of the Lord Jesus. The real test of religious teaching is life itself.

Steers Ready For Clash With Favored Odessa Broncs

Rice-Tiger Clash Is Week's Thriller

HOUSTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—It looks like another thriller when the Rice Institute Owls of the Southwest conference tackle with the LSU bayou Tigers of the Southeastern conference at Rice field Saturday afternoon.

That won't be anything new to a series which has seen a 100 yard run by Ken Kavanaugh of L. S. U., a last flash field goal by Cotton Milner in 1938 and sterling performances by such players as Bill Wallace, John McCaskey, Leche Sylvester and Tom Driscoll, all of Rice and Abe Mickel, Rock Reed and Young Bussey of L. S. U.

The teams meet for the seventeenth time this year with L. S. U. holding a 9-5 edge in victories and two games having ended in deadlocks. The personal rivalry between Coach Jess Neely of Rice and Bernie Moore of L. S. U. stands at two victories each since Neely came to Rice in 1940.

Tonight at 8:15 the Odessa Broncho-Big Spring Steer game kickoff comes for the first league tilt of either eleven in District Three AA competition. From that moment until some sixty-odd minutes later there promises to be a lot of fast action and furious football in Steer Stadium regardless of pre-game picking of the Broncs to take an easy win.

From end to end the Steers will outweigh the favored visitors, according to the weight charts, but the backfields show a lot of difference with the edge going to the invaders who sport a couple of men with some 15 to 20 pounds advantage over any local ball carrier. This is partially balanced by the line average where 215-pound I. B. Bryan and 195-pound Leo Rusk hold down a formidable looking forward wall for the home team. The line averages 192 for Odessa and 167 for the local eleven, a five-pound advantage.

The visiting ball carriers will average 163 against the local backs' 146, a 17-pound average and giving the Broncs a 12-pound overall weight edge.

(Tickets remain on sale today until 5 p. m. at the Big Spring Hardware, the chamber of commerce, and the school administration offices. At that time they will be closed, but booths at the field will open at 7 p. m. to give early comers a chance for the few remaining reserved seats. The game is scheduled to begin at 8:15.)

Featured tonight will be the so-called "battle of the Cooks." The Pony eleven features their 170-pound George Cook, running from the tailback slot off their single-wing formation, who is reportedly one of the finest backs in District Three. Cook is a big blazer with lots of power and speed. Against this will go Big Spring's Pete Cook, ten pounds lighter than his namesake but just as dangerous a runner.

Fans have seen what the local Cook can do against any kind of competition, even running through the Lubbock line for gains time and again, and Lubbock is an early-season winner over the visitors. What these two lads will do for their respective teams leaves little doubt in the public eye, but what they will do to each other that is a question that most persons will want to see answered first hand.

But not to forget other Steers there will be little Ed McLaren, a diminutive back who is a speedster from the word Hep, and is a dangerous man for Steer foes if they can shake him into the secondary. Plus is this is Hugh Cochran who is a dangerous man anywhere or at anytime on a pair of hips set on ball-bearings.

Out in front of these lads will be Bobo Hardy, light but rugged blocker for the Maverick offensive and a very decisive tackler on defense.

In the line, naturally headed by big Leo Rusk will be Tommy Clinkscales, Kenneth Huett, Joe Cunningham, Bryan, Gerald Harris and Ladd Smith. None of these lads are to be sold short as they have been fast developing from a young green team to one with plenty of speed and ability. Nothing will be a certainty against them Friday night except plenty of trouble for Odessa.

The invading favorites will bring a group of men with them who are well experienced in football tactics, and with plenty of reserve strength to back the starting eleven. These reserves saw a lot of action against the last two foes, Bowie of El Paso and Lamesa, as the Broncs found easy pickings and ran up top-heavy scores in both clashes.

The starting program will probably find Wilfred Elmore, a 148-pound seat back who is the smallest of the backs, at the wingback slot. Blocking back J. W. Thompson weighs in at 177 and presents quite a problem to would-be tacklers heading for the ball carrier. Tommy Tucker will probably be in there at the fullback slot with 160 pounds of rugged line-plunging ability, but Moody Bates may slip into the starting backfield fire gametime arrives.

Coach Clayton Hopkins' line shows a couple of fine little ends who move fast out of their holes in Partridge and Fly, each weighing 150 pounds. His tackles weigh in at 195 and 185 and are two of the best in the league. In these two, Holly and Edrington, Hopkins presents quite a problem to teams depending on power thrusts through the line for yardage. His guards are Marcel and Kelly, 170 and 138 pounds respectively, and center Taylor is another small lad, weighing 145 but packing plenty of trouble under his slight poundage.

These two teams will square off tonight in what promises to be one of the highlighted games of the local season. Favored are the

One up in intersectional play, the Southwest conference sends two members against outside opponents Saturday with an excellent chance of remaining ahead but most of the interest centers on games of stay-at-homes Texas Christian against Arkansas and Texas against Randolph Field.

The T.C.U.-Arkansas contest means the most as it is the start of little warfare but the Randolph Field-Texas game carries great importance inasmuch as it will give a true line on the relative strength of Texas and Rice, and will show whether the Longhorns should be title favorites.

There are quite a few who think Texas has been misplaced in the No. 1 ranking, that the orange and white has a good defense but won't be able to score enough to beat out such offensive units as Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas A. and M. Well, the Texas defense will get its greatest test this week and it now appears that the Longhorns will have to rely on a ground game that's been advertised as less than potent. Bobby Layne, whose passing was the chief offensive weapon of the Longhorns, probably won't even get to play due to injuries.

Arkansas has more veterans and greatly outweighs Texas Christian but the Razorbacks don't appear to have much scoring punch and for the first time in years have a very mediocre aerial attack. T.C.U. has the offense, mostly in the air, with not one but three strong passers.

Randolph Field is an overwhelming favorite to beat Texas handsily but not by such a margin as the 59-0 decision hung on Rice last week.

Southern Methodist will be playing Southwestern at Dallas while the two other conference members, Rice and Texas A. and M., tackle intersectional opponents. Rice battles high-scoring Louisiana State at Houston while A. and H. engages Oklahoma at Oklahoma City in a night game. The Argies appear to have the best chance of winning.

More than 50,000 fans are expected to see the five games in which conference teams appear Saturday.

Having hit all except one last week (Arkansas let us down) we're willing to risk a good record with these picks (anticipated crowds in parentheses):

Texas Christian vs. Arkansas at Fort Worth, 3 p. m. (8,000)—looks like the Frogs but could be the Hogs; T.C.U. by two touchdowns.

Rice vs. Louisiana State at Houston, 3:30 p. m. (19,000)—doubt if Rice can bound back from a 59-0 defeat this quick; L.S.U. by a touchdown.

Texas vs. Randolph Field at Austin, 2:30 p. m. (16,000)—won't be as bad as Rice but Randolph Field by four touchdowns.

Southern Methodist vs. Southwestern at Dallas, 3 p. m. (6,000)—S.M.U. should beat Southwestern as much as Texas; the Mustangs by three touchdowns but Southwestern will score.

Texas A. and M. vs. Oklahoma at Oklahoma City, 8 p. m. (13,000)—a tight fight for the Whiz Kids but the Aggies by a touchdown.

Nelson Resigns Job As Club Pro

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 6 (AP)—Byron Nelson, a Denton, Tex., boy who takes no backtalk from a golf ball, has resigned his job as professional at the Inverness club.

Nelson, golfdom's leading money winner this year with $39,575 in war bonds, accepted a position as vice president of the Haas-Aordan Co., a Toledo umbrella manufacturing concern. He said he will continue to play tournament golf. After submitting his resignation yesterday he left for Bosman, Mont., on a hunting trip.

Southworth Chooses Another Frosh After Yesterday's 3-2 Series Tilt

By JACK HAND
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Encouraged by the phenomenal blitzing of young Sylvester "Blix" Donnelly, Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals put the finger on another freshman right-hander today when he named

Teddy Wilks to oppose 26-year old Jack Kramer of the Brown in the third game of the world series that is knotted at one game each.

Billy the Kid gambled heavily yesterday and won on Donnelly, minor league no-hit maestro who had a mediocre 2-1 victory record all season.

Fans will long remember yesterday's thriller and it will prove fuel for many hot stove league sessions, when the Brown defense cracked wide open in the third and fourth innings, it looked like "no contest" but Vern Stephens' over-the-head catch of Whitey Kurowski's foul line fly to start an eighth inning double play was out of this world.

Ken O'Dea actually won the game for the National leaguers from reliever Bob Musierief with his pinch single to right in the 11th scoring Ray Sanders who had singled and been bunted over to second by Kurowski but you never would know it today. Mr. Donnelly, a 29-year-oldster who was making his second series appearance in as many days, was the No. 1 attraction.

Before Donnelly came on the scene, the Cards had hopped into the lead in the third when pitcher Nels Potter committed a fumble on Max Lanier's pop bunt and three wild to first for two errors after Emil Verban had singled that set the stage for Verban's score on Augie Bergamo's infield out. Again in the fourth the Red birds rang the bell when the loaded bases on Ray Sanders walk, Kurowski's single and an error by Mark Christman on Mart Marion's hopper. Sanders came in on Verban's fly to Chet Laabs.

Lanier had allowed only Gene Moore's fifth inning infield single until the seventh when the Browns tied it up. Frank Mancuso's pinch single scored Red Hayworth after the carrot-topped catcher had converted Moore's second one-bagger with a double that hit the top of the left field wall.

Donnelly replaced Lanier after Mike Kreevich opened the eighth with a double and he struck out the side, picked up another victim in the ninth, two in the tenth and made it seven by whiffing Hayworth to end the game. Georg McQuinn had opened the Brown 11th with a double but was cut down at third when Donnell hopped on Christman's bunt and hustled a throw to Kurowski, nipping the opening game hero in photo finish. That probably means the ball game as the next man Moore, filed to deep right.

Who Said Shortage?

When Macomb, Ills., High school authorities decided they needed a new athletic field this year, the lack of manpower, equipment and materials apparently had them stopped. . . . But someone remembered that 18 miles away at Camp Ellis, a practical training program was being outlined for some army engineers. . . . The army and civilians got together and concluded that the engineers could get two weeks of good training by providing Macomb with a field that will include facilities for night football, baseball and track.

Cleaning the Cuff

Madison Square Garden has just declared a dividend of 25 cents a share — or about what some of those summer fights there were worth. . . . Jesse Owens, who was reported from Europe as being getting ready to run in a meet in Paris, turned up at last Saturday's Ohio State-Missouri game to report that he has been working in a Detroit automobile plant for two years. . . . After seeing 15 of his Bainbridge Navy footballers transferred in ten days, Coach Lt. Joe Maniaci threatened to change his team's name from "Commandores" to the "Expendables."

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Construction is expected to begin early next year on a $164,985 centralized train control system for the Rock Island between Dallas and Fort Worth. The War Production Board regional office here yesterday authorized construction of the system.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war stories I like best, Judge, are the ones by the special writers overseas who live right with our troops. They give us a better idea of how our men react to things going on over there and back here at home."

"I agree with you, Sam. I never miss one of those stories in the papers or magazines. And there's one thing those writers seem to agree on no matter where they are stationed with our men... and that is that the men who have left their homes and families to go away and fight this war don't want to come back and find that prohibition has been put over on them while they were away... either nationally or locally. They have heard about the attempts being made and they resent it bitterly."

"I agree with them, Judge, even though I don't happen to drink myself. Furthermore, I don't think it's fair for us at home to be making any major changes while 10,000,000 of our fighting men are away and have no chance to express their opinions."

Spirit Of Constitution

Another political landmark has fallen with the death of Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York and a man who might have been president.

Whatever views one held of Mr. Smith's political and business ventures, it must be admitted that he fell victim to the deplorable but nevertheless real problem of intolerance. The fact that he adhered to the Catholic faith may or may not have cost him the presidency of the United States, but certainly it contributed to his defeat. The only time that Texas ever gave a republican a majority since the days of reconstruction came when Al Smith was the democratic nominee in 1928. That was the year the national convention had been held in Houston and certainly that should have been ordinary incentive for putting the state further in the democratic column.

Opponents spoke openly about the fact he was an avowed wet; not a few whispered secretly about his religious ties.

He was a shrewd politician. He had many qualities of a statesman. In practical application of the rules of politics, he naturally was subject to censure. The same can be said of his business dealings for he was noilly-white-simple-simon in the business world. But it should be to the everlasting regret of the nation that it allowed his religious beliefs to enter into judgment of his ability as a public servant. Our constitution guarantees every citizen of the United States freedom of worship. The spirit of the constitution carries with it the freedom from intolerance.

Your Help Appreciated

Saturday your newspaper boy will be calling on you with a simple and sensible request: "Please buy a defense stamp today."

This is the best way in which these youngsters could think to appropriately observe National Newspaper Boys Day, and we hope The Herald subscribers will join in agreeing that it is a commendable way.

There is no gain to these boys out of calling for your stamp orders Saturday and then making a second call to deliver them except the personal satisfaction that comes to us all for having done something for our country.

Many of these boys are receiving practical business training in the buying, selling and distribution of their papers. This opportunity for giving that little extra service should add to the sum total of their intangible benefits of being a newspaper boy. The Herald will appreciate your contribution to making the experience a memorable one for the boys.

Dewey Does Flip-Flop With Press

(Last Of Four Articles On Presidential Press Conferences.)
By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Few men, if any, in public life have ever done a greater flip-flop in their relations with the press than Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

During his days as district attorney in New York, he was cautious, suspicious, antagonistic and even belligerent. Through his first unsuccessful campaign for the governorship of New York and his abortive effort for the presidential nomination in 1940, he maintained this attitude. In Philadelphia four years ago, while Wendell L. Willkie was holding open house for all comers, Mr. Dewey presented the closed door. It may have been surprising to Mr. Dewey that his contact with the people could only be through those channels of communication generally referred to as press and radio.

Washington newsmen date Mr. Dewey's switchover from the night when he dropped into the National Press Club and spent an informal two hours tossing off a half dozen good stories (at that time he was head of U.S.O., and preparing to resign).

Gov. Dewey's first adoption of the informal news conference, however, was at Columbus, Ohio, two years ago this last summer when he was on hand for the annual session of state governors. That hot day he met the press in shirt sleeves, puffing at a cigarette in a holder only slightly shorter than President Roosevelt's. There's no way of telling now who was more surprised—Gov. Dewey or the newsmen—by the results of that conference.

Since then, Mr. Dewey has been as thoroughly news conference conscious as the President.

At Mackinac Island a little more than a year ago, when the Republicans got together to draw up their postwar policies, Gov. Dewey stole the show by the simple method of holding an hour-long news conference at which he answered every question asked or dodged a few by banter that left no comeback.

Since his nomination as Republican candidate for the presidency the governor has taken a leaf

The fierce battle raging in the Aachen sector of the western front, where Uncle Sam's First Army has crashed through the crust of the powerful Siegfried Line, is in that critical stage where a bit of good luck might tip the scales heavily towards the Allied side.

The Germans are going all-out in their defense, having flung everything they can spare into this important engagement. They fully recognize that should the Allies make a clean break-through, carrying them across the Rhine, it would just about complete the hangman's noose for Hitler's neck. For this reason we may be sure that General Eisenhower has his microscope on the Aachen battle, ready to pour in reserves and exploit any profitable looking opening.

However, despite the potentialities of this battle, we mustn't assume that Eisenhower necessarily has picked it for the supreme effort which ultimately will open up the route through which the Allied armies will pour into the Reich. He will develop it if it looks good, but otherwise will strike in some more promising spot.

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels yesterday declared that the Allies have opened an all-out offensive against Germany. That undoubtedly is true in the sense that the preliminary attacks are under way throughout the length of the 460 mile Allied line. But Eisenhower hasn't yet turned loose all the vast striking power at his disposal. He is in the process of stabbing at numerous points in the Siegfried Line in an effort to find the soft spots, or at least the most feasible places for development, whether they be soft or not. When he finds what he wants he will hurl a great concentration of force against it for a grand break-through. The Aachen sector might provide that spot if the present drive goes well.

Most women drive as if rehearsing for an accident.

Blood Received On Front Very Quickly

PARIS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Blood being flown from the United States to meet increasing battlefield needs has been used to save lives of American soldiers in the Siegfried Line only four days after it was contributed in the states.

Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hanley, chief surgeon of U. S. forces in Europe, in disclosing increased demands for whole blood, said it was superior to Plasma for immediate treatment of badly wounded soldiers.

Stevenson Uninformed On Dies As Regent

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson said today all he knew about the possibility that Rep. Martin Dies of Orange might be named to the University of Texas board of regents was what he had read in the papers.

He said Dies' name had not been suggested to him as a possible successor to Mrs. I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin. She said yesterday in Fort Worth that she did not feel she could accept another six-year appointment when her term expires Jan. 1. She said she had not heard a report that Dies might be appointed.

Mrs. A. G. Mitchell, wife of Police Chief Mitchell, is in Big Spring with their three children. They arrived from Denton yesterday.

Ernie Pyle: Mississippi In Jeep Cornered

Editor's Note: This is the 22nd of a series of Ernie Pyle war dispatches that are being reprinted while Ernie takes a rest.

By ERNIE PYLE

THE TUNISIAN FRONT, February, 1943 — Captain Jed Dailey of Sharon, Mass., got back safely in his jeep after the German break-through out of Faid Pass. But he had a horrible time.

He was beating it to the rear across the desert, along with the rest of the command post's personnel, when suddenly he saw a Mark Four tank staring him in the face not a hundred yards away.

The tank was stopped, the crew had the turret door open, and a German was just standing there, looking at Captain Dailey as cold as ice. It was enough to give you the creeps.

Jed swung the jeep around—and there was another Mark Four staring at him. He kept turning and dodging, but everywhere he could go he would be looking smack at the front end of a Mark Four. They just seemed to appear from nowhere, and there they'd be suddenly, until he felt like a mouse trying to get out of a room full of silent cats.

Finally Jed did the only thing left to do. He took his heart in his hand and drove right between two German tanks, with their crews sitting there at the guns and looking at him as he passed 50 yards away.

They didn't shoot, and he doesn't know to this day why they didn't.

Then he stepped on that jeep and went soaring across the desert, flying over irrigation ditches you'd normally cross in low gear. German artillery got after him. They dropped an 88 on his right, and then one on his left, and then one in front of him. They had him pocketed.

When artillery does that, the next shot always gets you. But they never fired a fourth shell. He has no idea why. It was just kind of like a miracle.

Things like that went on all afternoon. Finally it got dark, and a sort of safety came. But it wasn't complete safety, for German patrols were out scouring the desert for stragglers.

Jed finally got away by driving the jeep straight up over the top of a mountain and down the other side. He just missed driving over several sheer cliffs. From now on he hates Germans.

Most of the men who survived the German's surprise breakthrough on the first day of the Sbeitla battle lost everything they had. Major "Satch" Elkins of College Station, Tex., came out with only the clothes on his back. But he resented most losing 300 razor blades to the Germans.

Mississippi In Jeep Cornered

Captain Bailey swears he will get the German who is now sleeping in his bedroll. One soldier was sore as a hornet because the day before he had gathered up his inertia and accomplished the nasty job of writing six long overdue letters home. Now the Germans have them, and he has that writing job to do all over.

Again, Jed Dailey lost his camera and a dozen rolls of film he had been taking for months. One of them was a foolish picture, such as the soberest of adults sometimes indulges in. He had picked some desert flowers, stuck them behind his ears, and posed for the camera making a silly face.

"The Germans will develop those films and what information they can get," he says. "And when they come to the one of an American officer with flowers behind his ears, they'll probably tell Goebbels to put it out on the radio that Americans are sissies."

One soldier told me his most vivid impression of the afternoon was seeing 10 brand new tires burning up on the wheels of a huge American truck.

"With rubber so short at home, and tires rationed," he said, "it seemed awful to see those brand new ones burning!"

Lieut. Col. George Sutherland of Shreveport, La., and Lieut. Robert Simons Jr., of Columbus, O., walked 29 miles across the desert that night. They had a compass, and it saved them.

We had been talking about them while they were missing.

"George will show up," one officer said. "I'll bet any amount of money on it. Hell, the Germans will turn him loose after two days, to get rid of him before he talks them to death." And show up he did.

He and Junior Simons say they consider the compass the most valuable piece of equipment the Army issues. They had one horrible experience that night. An Arab they encountered in the desert ran them almost into the hands of a German patrol. They escaped only by lying deathly still, hardly breathing, for an hour, while the Germans hunted within a few yards of them. But another Arab balanced the account by getting out of bed to give them drinking water.

They were so thirsty that they didn't take time to purify it with the pills they carried, but at this writing they are still feeling fine.

Stevenson said that he expected to have the announcement ready soon. The names have been on his desk for several days, but he has been out of town.

Hollywood—

Movies Spend Million In Sixty Days

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — The movies have show a tendency lately to wrestle with a few problems, and now they've tackled one that is really weighty and will call for the customers' best thought. It's this: How to spend a million dollars in 60 days.

Are you laughing? Well, there are conditions which are supposed to make it a job. You can't give it to charity, and you can't buy war bonds or anything else which will show a return or become a permanent asset. And if you don't scatter the maxuma to the winds, you'll lose out on another $7,000,000.

Old-timers will recognize here the basis of George Barr McCutcheon's old novel, later made into a play, "Brewster's Millions." Edward Small is filming a modern version, giving Dennis O'Keefe the task of dissipating a fortune under the shadow of OPA, ceiling prices and wartime scarcities.

Mr. O'Keefe wrestles manfully with the problem, renting an office which looks like—but isn't—dressed on a budget—a movie set dresser to a spending spree. He orders expensive flowers, like perfect long-stemmed roses and antherium (inverted callily) which, unfortunately for the Small budget, are real. He can't give his employer a raise, wage ceilings you know, but he brings daily gifts of perfume to the office girls, disposes of $40,000 in salary to his secretary (Helen Walker), his handy man (Eddie "Rochester" Anderson) and two wartime buddies.

He backs a play, hopeful it'll be a turkey, leases a theater to house it, spends $30,000 on a chin-chilla coat for the star (June Haver), buys a horse, gives prizes to hens, and indulges in similar whims and extravagances — and finds it all quite a problem.

More simply, Monty Brewster could have moved to Hollywood, rented himself a hillside estate with vast grounds and a swimming pool and passed the word around that he would be "at home" every day, especially Sundays. He would merely have to whisper that his cellar boasted an inexhaustible supply of potatoes (which his million no doubt could keep replenished) and he would have guests, hidden and unhidden, swarming on him like bugs under rocks.

To vary the monotony, he could have taken over Ciro's and the Mocambo for a few weeks, hired name bands at their usual fees, star entertainers ditto, a few movie and radio stars ditto.

Even more simply, he could let it be known that he wanted to invest in a movie. With no trouble he could find a host of incompetent producers, dull writers, and has-been actors to guarantee a flop, but even so he'd have to be careful. You never can tell what's going to make money these days.

Candidate Who Authored Special Oath Is Almost Victim Of Law

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—The state of Texas owes 238 Texas daily and weekly newspapers $18,000 and whether the bill will be paid depends upon the next legislature.

The odd part of the situation is that the last legislature obligated the state but didn't provide enough money to pay it.

Here's how it happened: The lawmakers two years ago voted to submit two constitutional amendments in the general election this year. It appropriated $10,000 to pay for advertising these amendments in every county which has a newspaper. But the law itself establishes the rate to be paid for such advertising. The full rate would have cost $28,000 for advertising in the 238 counties which have newspapers.

Secretary of State Sidney Latham, faced with the shortage of funds, wrote letters to all the papers explaining how the state had to advertise the amendments but could make only a down payment, about $46 on each $120 due. Proprietors agreed to take the earnest money and await the next legislature's pleasure in appropriating enough to pay the balance due.

A casual hotel room conversation in Cincinnati may lead to the state of Delaware adopting a practice of Texas.

The little Atlantic coast state is not going in for cotton culture or anything of the sort but it may adopt an official practice of Texas which sends to the families of war dead a certificate of honor signed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

Latham who attended a meeting of the National Association of Secretaries of State in the Ohio city was chatting with a group of other state secretaries between convention sessions.

Somehow the talk swerved to the Texas certificates. It interested Delaware's secretary, William J. Storey, very much. When the secretaries returned to their homes Latham sent a sample certificate to Storey. Storey wrote back that the certificate had made an impression in Delaware and it appeared that Delaware's governor will recommend that the state's general assembly adopt its use.

In Texas use of the certificate was approved by the legislature two years ago.

All candidates on the general election ballot this year were required to sign an affidavit attesting to their belief in the representative form of government and swearing to support it, if elected.

The law requiring the affidavit was passed at the last general session of the legislature. Penalty for not making it is omission of the candidate's name from the ballot.

Just a few hours before the ballot was made up Latham received a telephone call from New York City. A candidate for the legislature had forgotten to make the affidavit and just what it contained, Latham refreshed the memory of the candidate who promised to dispatch one forthwith.

The candidate was the author of the law requiring the affidavit.

More about the ballot: The Texas regulars party was assigned the third column on the ballot for practical reasons. It was theorized in the secretary of state's office that the democratic, republican and Texas regulars parties would receive more votes than any others listed.

So they were placed in columns in that order to facilitate voting and counting the vote. The democratic column traditionally has had the outside position on the Texas ballot and the republicans have usually received the No. 2 place. Thus the new regulars' group was placed next to the republican. Voters selecting either of these three parties will not have to scan the rest of the big ballot which contains eight columns.

West Texas has taken up the cry for legislative redistricting in full force. The West Texas chamber of commerce lists redistricting as one of the proposals on its 1944 referendum ballot. It will be considered at eight district meetings early this month and later will be voted upon by directors and members in town referendum meetings. South Texas has long been hammering for redistricting which Governor Coke R. Stevenson will submit to the legislature in January on an emergency basis.

Jim Ferguson anecdotes sprung up with more force than ever following the former governor's death.

A former Galveston resident recalls how Jim charmed a campaign audience while a hurricane was threatening the gulf city.

He spoke at Menard park, right next to the sea wall. The wind was blowing in gusts and the hurricane had been reported to strike Galveston. Many residents had gone to Houston and safety. But not the Ferguson followers who stuck right at the park through the speech although one gust was strong enough to topple a big potted palm which was on the speaker's platform.

When the plant crashed near his feet, Jim quipped: "There goes my opponent."

Empire Service To Recitalize Under SEC Plan

Empire Southern Service company, operating in Big Spring as a gas distribution agency, is to be recapitalized in accordance with a plan filed by Crescent Public Service Co., with the Securities Exchange Commission in compliance with an SEC order dissolving Crescent and distributing holdings in subsidiaries among its security holders.

First step in simplifying the corporate structure would be dissolution of Oklahoma Utilities Co., Bristow, Okla., following sale of its utility properties for $280,000 to Oklahoma Natural Gas Co.

The other subsidiaries—Central Ohio Light & Power Co., Findlay, O., Colorado Central Power Co., Golden, Colo., and Empire Southern Service, Big Spring—would be recapitalized.

The Ohio subsidiary is to refund 11,972 publicly held $6 preferred stock shares with new $100 preferred shares. Each of the subsidiaries would reclassify its common stock to a $1 par value and retire outstanding common stocks held by Crescent with the new stock. Excesses of stated value of outstanding stocks over the aggregate par value of the new common stocks would be directed to the subsidiaries' capital surplus accounts.

Following reclassification and exchanges, Crescent would offer holders of each $1,000 of its $2, 80,000 series B six per cent income bonds either $1,000 cash plus accrued interest or 27 shares of Central Ohio common, 14 shares of Colorado Common and four shares of Empire Southern common. Annual income on common stock is estimated at $72 as compared with $60 interest in the income bonds.

Holders of Crescent common would receive 15 shares of Central Ohio, eight of Colorado Central, and three of Empire Southern, for each 100 shares they now hold. This distribution would offer 89 per cent of the subsidiaries' common stock to income bond holders of Crescent and 11 per cent to its common stockholders.

Harry Byrd To Be Asked By Regulars To Accept Presidential Nomination

By PAUL BOLTON

Within the next 24 hours, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia is going to be asked whether he will accept the "nomination" of the Texas Regulars for their candidate for president.

There's a lot of difference between a man of Senator Byrd's stature being a candidate for the democratic nomination for president and being the candidate of a newly-formed party which budded off from the democrats—regardless of how highly-principled the bud may be.

And Byrd, regardless of his personal differences with the administration, has never been accused of being other than a good democrat. It's just remotely possible that he may not appreciate being "drafted" by a group who have not disguised their intention of having a single objective: The defeat of the party nominee, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

All that Byrd could get out of such a deal would be the label of the man that was put up by the off-shoot party to help elect a republican president.

A telegram is going to be sent to Mr. Byrd, asking for his reactions to being nominated, as he has been by "Regular" E. B. Germany. And the telegram will be spread around in such a fashion that Byrd can hardly avoid, with grace the answering of it.

Decentralization Of Plants Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP) — Decentralization of heavy industries in the postwar period, recommended by the McCarran committee of the senate, was urged today by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) to liberate the south and southwest from "colonial status" in the national economy.

Strongly endorsing the postwar planning policies recommended by a special senate group headed by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), Connally in a statement said: "Reconversion policies followed during the next several months will determine the pattern of our economy for many years to come, and it is obviously in the national interest that these policies contemplate the decentralization of industry whenever possible and the reconversion of war plants in the south and southwest to civilian production."

Texas Regulars To Be Asked For Dewey Vote

BOSTON, Texas, Oct. 6 (AP) — Mayor William V. Brown of Texas says the Texas regulars, anti-New Deal democrats, will be asked by the Bowie county regulars to vote for Dewey and Bricker and "not waste his vote."

Last night 50 delegates from Texasans, De Kalb, Maud and New Boston met here and decided to vote the republican ticket. Mayor Brown was named keynoter of the meeting and he was delegated to inform the state regulars of the decision to support the republican nominees and to ask if this decision might not be made general.

Brownell Declares President Not Clear

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 6 (AP) — Herbert Brownell, Jr., the national republican chairman, said today he hoped "the president will clarify his statement and let us know if he repudiates the support of the communistic - controlled PAC."

The statement was given in a press conference in reply to a question on what Brownell thought of an address last night in which Mr. Roosevelt disowned communist support in his campaign for a fourth term.

Look Before You Leap

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, Sept. 30 (Delayed) (AP) — After four days of steady marching the three unarmed medics were pretty tired. They were all privates, S. Nachille of Bridgeport, Conn., Orville Allen of Dodson Tex., and Julian Brooks, of Sherman, Tex. A stone barn filled with dry hay looked like an ideal place to grab a little shut-eye.

Once inside the shelter it occurred to the two Texans that there might be a few Germans around. Pvt. Nachille scoffed, grabbed a pitchfork and headed toward a haypile in the darkest corner.

"Okay, you Jerries," thundered the Connecticut Yank, ferocious brandishing the pitchfork. "Come on out. I'm sleeping here tonight."

When four fully-armed but badly frightened Germans filed out and surrendered he almost fainted.

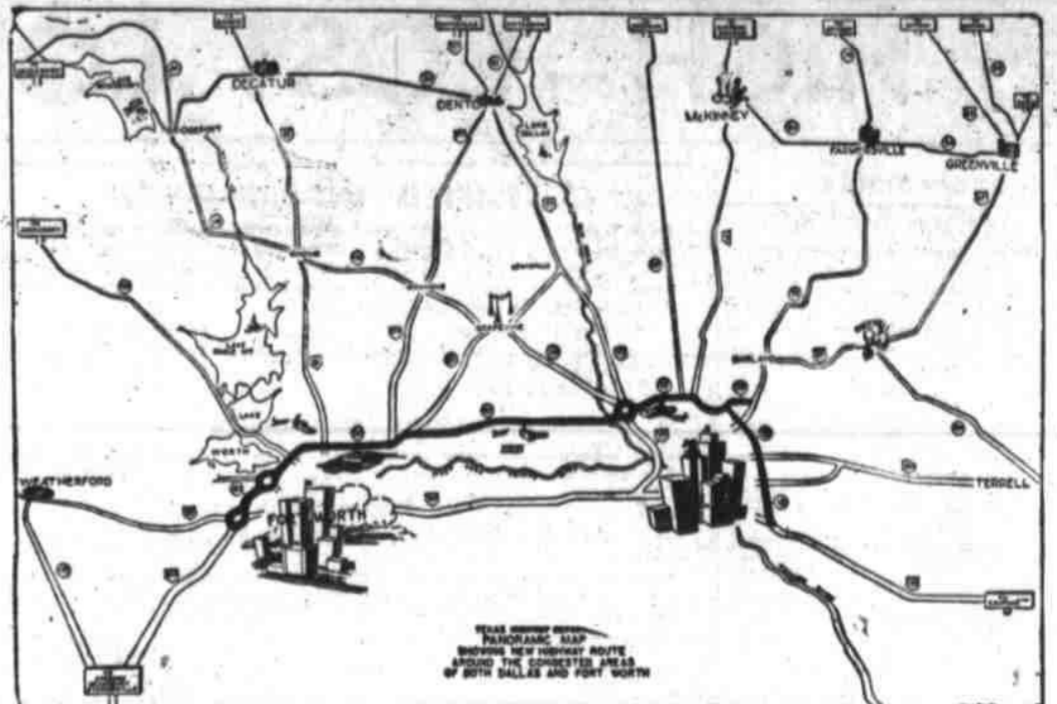

Poles Expect Taking Of German Territory

MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (AP) — The Soviet-sponsored Polish committee of National Liberation expects to annex German territory to the Oder river, which flows within 31 miles of Berlin, and the Baltic port of Stettin on its west bank, the Polpress news agency declared today.

The agency originally was organized by the union of Polish Patriots in Russia and now is the channel for news from inside liberated Polish areas.

A new by-pass highway route around Fort Worth and Dallas will be opened September 30 according to E. C. Woodward, state highway department engineer at Fort Worth, known as State Highway 183, the new route will save West Texans a minimum of 25 minutes on a trip to Shreveport or other points on US 80. Truckers hauling cattle, feed, and other commodities between East and West Texas are urged to use this time saving route. It avoids the congestion of Fort Worth and Dallas city traffic, often difficult to negotiate with long trailer trucks.

Free-News OKed By AP Directors

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP) — The board of directors of the Associated Press today commended constructive steps taken in behalf of the principle of free interchange of news and expressed "its deep and abiding belief that the future peace and friendly relations between peoples of all nations will be advanced by world-wide acceptance" of this principle.

The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, that the board of directors of the Associated Press in regular session commends the constructive movement looking toward the extension of the principle of free interchange of news throughout the world as expressed in the platforms of two political parties and in the concurrent resolution of congress. The board also records its deep and abiding belief that the future peace and friendly relations between peoples of all nations will be advanced by the world-wide acceptance of the principles thus declared. Moreover, it favors the widest possible international exchange of news through the equitable and non-discriminatory availability of communications facilities."

Doughboys In Italy Wondering Why Their Front Is Forgotten By Public

By SID FEDER (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN VIAREGGIO, Italy, Sept. 25, (delayed) (AP) — The Joes up here on this forgotten front are wondering if the folks back home really know it gets very warm for September in these parts.

They ask how come the Italian front generally, and this west coast sector particularly, is practically pushed out of the papers in America, especially when on the tremendous peaks of this terrain the war is just about as real as you'll find anywhere.

Take the cases of Cpls. Arlein S. Nave, of Santa Fe, N. M., and Pierre Falot, Long Island City, N. Y., for example.

Nave, Falot and a lone Italian partisan were out on patrol trying to get information on enemy positions just north of this former resort playground. They walked into a cemetery, saw an enemy and the partisan shot him. Suddenly six more Jerries pumped from the bushes and holed "hands up" in English.

The partisan swung his musket and started shooting. The Jerries started shooting back. Then everybody got into action. The Jerries

Movie Industry Hit By Strikes

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6 (AP) — The platinum plated movie industry, which hasn't had a grade-A strike since 1937, was keeping its well-manicured fingers crossed today after the outbreak of a union jurisdictional squabble which, all parties agreed, could possibly tie up the whole picture making business.

The row, which flared into the open yesterday when more than 200 workers participated in a walkout, is between two AFL groups—the Screen Set Designers Local of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

At issue is jurisdiction over the set decorators, the workers responsible in part for the lavish settings in which actors and actresses emote.

The Association of Motion Picture Producers issued a statement last night declaring the work stoppage "threatens to halt entirely the making of pictures by all studios, thus throwing many thousands of employes out of work."

The walkout was called at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, one of Hollywood's largest studios, by Herbert Sorrell, president of the Conference of Studio Unions which claims to represent some 8,000 workers.

Sorrell said the move was taken just to prove quickly who had jurisdiction over the set decorators. A meeting of the set designers has been called for today, he said, and of the painters Sunday, adding it is possible that strike votes will be taken.

If these groups vote to strike, Sorrell asserted, similar ballots will be taken by the eight other unions affiliated with the Conference of Studio Unions.

Chinese Leave Peace Plans Unchanged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP) — The Chinese delegation at Dumbarton Oaks has accepted without change, it was learned today, the blueprint for a world security organization drawn up by Britain, Russia and the United States in the first phase of the conference.

The final session is expected to be held tomorrow with the resulting document scheduled to be made public next Monday.

Marshall And Byrnes To Tour French Front

PARIS, Oct. 6 (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall and James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization, arrived at Paris by plane today for a tour of the front and military installations in France.

Byrnes and the U. S. army chief of staff were accompanied by Lt. Gen. Thomas T. Handy, Marshall's chief of operations, Maj. Gen. Howard A. Craig, assistant chief of air staff, and Col. Frank McCarthy, secretary of the general staff.

Roosevelt Disowns Communist Rumors

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—President Roosevelt, saying his republican opponents are spreading "fear propaganda" in stating his administration is plotting to give the communists control of the government, disowned communistic support for his fourth term bid in a radio address last night.

Employing such spiced phrases as "rabble rousers," "political propagandists" and "bigots," Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"I have never sought, and I do not welcome the support of any person or group committed to communism, or fascism, or any other foreign ideology which would undermine the American system of government or the American system of free competitive enterprise and private property."

The democratic candidate emphasized that this "does not in the least interfere" with America's friendly relations with the Soviet Union, adding: "the kind of economy that suits the Russian people is their own affair."

He devoted a large part of his second campaign speech—designed primarily as a "get out the vote" appeal—to references to communism in opposing speeches. He did not mention names, but said it was a "source of regret to all decent Americans that some political propagandists are dragging red herings across the trail of this national election."

"For example," he asserted, "labor baiters and bigots and some politicians use the term 'communism' loosely, and apply it to every progressive social measure and to the views of every foreign born citizen with whom they disagree."

"They forget that we in the United States are all descended from immigrants (all except the Indians); and there is no better proof of that fact than the heroic names on our casualty lists."

Local Chief Attends District Fire Meet

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker and Firemen H. W. Clawson and R. R. Fields of Big Spring attended a meeting of the West Texas District Firemen's association Thursday night in Colorado City.

Olin Culberson, who is head of the Texas Firemen's association, spoke and Pat Bullock, representative from Snyder, was present.
