Eisenhower Spurs GOP

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President Eisenhower put the spurs to his own party today to combat admitted GOP "apathy" in the 1956 campaign.

From the President on down through the ranks of Republican state leaders, the cry from Gettysburg was, "get 'em registered, then get 'em to vote Republican."

The President personally sounded a call for an end to GOP complacency in a speech opening his re-election campaign at a picnic rally on his own farm here.

Republican professionals from every state crowded a big tent on Mr. Eisenhower's east pasture to listen to an afternoon of party pep talks and picnic with Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower on fried chicken, roast beef, ham and potato salad.

Mr. Eisenhower's central theme was "Get out the vote."
Wants Everyone Registered
Calling for a record registration, he said "it would be tragic" if the Republicans whip up the public's zeal by election day only to find that "half of the people couldn't vote."

The President also advised the more than 700 GOP leaders that "with all the other ammunition you have you can get to the voters with a grin on your face."

"Don't underestimate the value of a grin," said the owner of the famous Eisenhower smile. "Pessimism never won a battle."

Earlier Vice President Richard M. Nixon and GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall hit hard again and again at Democratic standard bearers Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. They also took some swings at former President Truman.

Teacher Boycott Is Asked

By UNITED PRESS

White parents urged teachers today to boycott a Clay, Ky., school until National Guardsmen bivouac on the grounds to enforce integration are withdrawn.

Mayor Herman Z. Clark of Clay said the enrollment of two Negro children would be only "temporary." He said city officials will keep the school segregated after the troops leave.

The parents had spontaneously formed another sort of boycott by keeping their children from the school Wednesday after 500 National Guardsmen escorted the Negroes to class past a crowd of 400 whites.

Until National Guardsmen marched into town from nearby Sturgis two nights ago the crowds had prevented the children from reaching the school. Wednesday night some 500 parents signed a petition that teachers join the student boycott.

Only two white pupils arrived Wednesday after the Negroes were admitted and they left.

At Sturgis, a former scene of racial riots 11 miles away, things returned to normal.

Eight Negroes attended classes at the newly integrated high school without incident Wednesday after the soldiers had pulled out. This was their first day without bayonet armed escorts.

The once-troubled town of Clinton, Tenn., also settled down to normal school routine with a dozen Negroes attending classes along with nearly 700 white students.

All but about 60 of the hundreds of white students who had at first boycotted the Clinton school had re-enrolled and attendance officers were investigating the remaining absentees.

The school board at Mobile, Ala., got the surprise problem of a socially prominent white woman's request to enroll her Negro "foster child" in a white school.

Mrs. Dorothy D. De Ponte, a wealthy, middle-aged widow, said 12-year-old Carrie Mae McCant had been educated with whites in European schools and is qualified in every respect for "integration."

The school board, authorized by new Alabama laws to assign Negroes to Negro schools for sociological and psychological reasons, turned the application over to an attorney.

Thad Hutcherson, who has been endorsed by Republicans as a candidate to finish the last two years of Daniel's Senate seat, called on Daniel to make known his intentions "on the Senate position, whatever they may be."

"We are shocked and surprised to see that Senator Daniel has apparently changed his original commitment to the people of Texas which was widely understood to mean that he would resign his Senate position as soon as he received the Democratic nomination for governor," Hutcherson said.

Daniel's nomination as governor was certified on Tuesday by the Democratic state convention, which gave the senator a 3,171-vote lead over his runoff opponent, Ralph Yarborough.

"His statement indicating that he would rather see just any Democrat hold the job than a Republican...reflects a light regard for the dignity and high standing of the office," Hutcherson said.

"The United States senatorship is not the personal possession of any incumbent or any candidate. It should not be handled as a hedge, a pawn, or a political maneuver, and the selection should not be taken from the people."

McLEAN, Tex. (Special) — Tommy Taylor, 8, of McLean is still unconscious in Highland General Hospital where his condition was reported as critical this morning.

He had been picking apples late Tuesday afternoon with his father, Joe Taylor, a teacher at the McLean grammar school. They were on the way home with Tommy sitting in the back of a pickup truck.

He stood up while the truck was moving along and fell onto the road.

FOOTBALL WEEK PROCLAIMED — Mayor Lynn Boyd, seated, signs a proclamation making this week Pampa Harvester Football Week in Pampa while Coach Jack Lockett looks on. The mayor urged Pampa citizens to support the Harvester football team in the proclamation. ## Texas GOP Hits Daniel HOUSTON (UP) — Texas Republicans Wednesday night accused U.S. Sen. Price Daniel of "bowing to Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson," and called upon Daniel to make known his intentions on the Senate position.

The Democratic state convention in Fort Worth this week approved a proposal by Daniel that the senator would not resign from the Senate until Texas Democrats had time to organize a primary to elect his successor.

A primary election would almost assure that Daniel's successor would be a Democrat. On the other hand, a special election where the winner is the one who receives a simple majority of votes would give Republicans a good chance to win.

Thad Hutcherson, who has been endorsed by Republicans as a candidate to finish the last two years of Daniel's Senate seat, called on Daniel to make known his intentions "on the Senate position, whatever they may be."

"We are shocked and surprised to see that Senator Daniel has apparently changed his original commitment to the people of Texas which was widely understood to mean that he would resign his Senate position as soon as he received the Democratic nomination for governor," Hutcherson said.

Football Week Proclaimed Here

Mayor Lynn Boyd yesterday issued a resolution proclaiming this week to be Pampa Harvester Football Week. Yesterday afternoon Mayor Boyd and Coach Lockett met in the school business office for the signing of the resolution. A picture of which is shown on this page.

There are still plenty of good seats left for tomorrow night's game with the Austin High Panthers of El Paso.

Pampa Still Quiet

Pampa continued to be extremely quiet Wednesday, as far as local law enforcement officers and the fire department is concerned.

The fire department reported that there had been no alarms turned in since the grass fire at 10 p. m. Tuesday on Osborne.

The sheriff's office once again reported a calm night with no major crimes being reported in Gray County.

The officers hope that things will continue to be quiet and that Pampa and Gray County can set a record for the number of days without a major crime taking place.

Mixup Stems From 'Users Association'

By WILLIAM SEXTON
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (UP) — Sudden confusion over the U.S. stand on Suez has weakened Anglo-French efforts to end the crisis and hurt Sir Anthony Eden in his bid for a vote of confidence tonight, informed observers said today.

The confusion stemmed from Washington's qualified acceptance of a "users association" to run the Suez Canal. Eden announced the plan Wednesday, said it had U.S. backing and indicated it was American-inspired.

Turmoil over the canal crisis was heightened by Egypt's almost immediate rejection of the plan as a provocation that would lead to war and charges by an official Egyptian spokesman that "certain nations" intended to commit aggression against Egypt's lawful rights.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru warned in New Delhi that any action taken on the lines indicated by Eden will make a peaceful settlement "very difficult and is fraught with grave consequences."

Dulles Reported Annoyed
The State Department first said it had agreed to back the plan.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States does not intend to shoot its way through the Suez Canal or enter any shooting war if Egypt tries to block the canal.

Later after mysterious diplomatic maneuvering it said it will join only if enough nations approve. In addition, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was reported annoyed at Eden's "too tough" presentation of the plan.

The apparent switch in State Department backing confused both Britain and France. It came as British newspapers were proclaiming in bold and triumphant headlines that the United States was backing Britain and France in the dispute.

The nation already was split over the government's handling of the crisis and the News-Chronicle commented that bi-partisan for-

"The President will fly back to Gettysburg after the meeting. He is expected to spend the week-end on his farm."

In response to press inquiries, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower was pleased by the Wisconsin GOP primary victory of Sen. Alexander Wiley.

"The President was pleased at the results," said Hagerty, "and is looking forward to having Sen. Wiley back in the Senate and work as he has in the past to support the foreign policy program of the President."

The Eisenhower farm was almost back to normal today after Wednesday's political picnic.

More than 700 GOP leaders from throughout the nation crowded the three sign-plastered tents pitched on the farm Wednesday afternoon. Some signs said: "If he's not registered, he ain't got equal rights" and "Register and give Ike a GOP Congress."

The President arrived 35 minutes early dressed in a tan sports jacket and dark brown slacks. Mrs. Eisenhower remained at the house and joined him later.

Leaders Ride Buses
Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Mrs. Nixon arrived in their limousine about the same time as the President. The vice president sent Mrs. Nixon up to the house to see Mrs. Eisenhower.

A few minutes later big buses began churning up the Eisenhower drive carrying hundreds of Republican state leaders and they settled down in the main tent for the speeches.

It was virtually a political family get-together. There was no national television or "live" radio coverage.

As far as a nationwide audience is concerned, Mr. Eisenhower will make his first national TV campaign address Sept. 18 from Washington.

Truck Firm Fined On Eight Charges

Eight charges of violation of the rules and regulations of the Railroad Commission of the state of Texas were filed in Justice of the Peace John Andrews' court this morning against C. M. Jeffries, owner of the C. M. Jeffries Trucking Company, by agents of the Railroad Commission.

The charges, which were filed by W. E. Walton and Louis W. Kirkpatrick, railroad commission agents, stated that "C. M. Jeffries failed to comply with the rules and regulations of the Railroad Commission as contained in Tariff No. 6 - D and other violations as set forth under Sec. 4, Paragraph (a) as required by Art. 511-b, Civil Statutes of Texas and Paragraphs (a) and (b) of Art. 1490-b, Criminal Statutes of Texas."

The Civil Statute, quoted in the charge, deals with the regulating of tariffs charged by motor carriers, and states that the Railroad Commission sets the tariffs for each type of hauling contract.

The Criminal Statute quoted in the charge deals with the violation of orders of the Railroad Commission, or any officer or agent thereof, by any corporation, or agent or employee of said corporation.

Jeffries agreed with the agents of the Railroad Commission to pay a fine of $200 and costs on each of the charges. The fine was set by Justice of the Peace Andrews.

Elderly Widow Swindled Out Of Savings

EL PASO, Tex. (UP) — An elderly El Paso widow told police today two confidence women swindled her out of her life savings of $5,100.

Mrs. Burd Anderson said that was all she had besides $170 and her pension checks. She said she was waiting for a bus in downtown El Paso Wednesday when a heavy-set woman about 45-years-old approached her.

Mrs. Anderson said the woman made light conversation about how to get to the post office, then told her she was wondering how to invest or deposit $6,000 in insurance money she had.

More light conversation continued about that, Mrs. Anderson said, until the woman "admitted" she and a "stranger" had jointly found the cash in a brown paper bag on the sidewalk.

Mrs. Anderson said the heavy-set woman told her she had consulted a lawyer about what to do about the found money. The heavy-set woman said the lawyer told her she could keep the money if "she made it legal" by splitting the money with a financially responsible third party.

At this point, the "stranger," a red-haired woman about 24, walked up and said as far as she was concerned Mrs. Anderson could be the third party.

The group went to Mrs. Anderson's home where she gave them $1700 and then to her bank where she gave them $3400 more. Mrs. Anderson said the heavy-set woman told her to meet them later at a law firm whose address she gave them. The heavy-set woman said at that time Mrs. Anderson would get back her $5,100 plus a $2,000 split of the found money.

When Mrs. Anderson arrived at the address, there was no law firm there and neither were the women.

O'Daniel Will Fight To End For Place On Ballot

AUSTIN (UP) — The question of whether W. Lee O'Daniel can run for governor under the Constitution party banner was in the hands of the Texas Supreme Court today.

Both O'Daniel and officials of the Constitution party promised "to fight to the last" in their efforts to get O'Daniel's name on the general election ballot.

"I shall continue to fight for the right," O'Daniel said Wednesday at his home in Dallas.

Attorney John Lee Smith of Lubbock, a former lieutenant governor, filed suit late Wednesday in the Texas Supreme Court, seeking to force Secretary of State Tom Reavley to certify O'Daniel's name on the November ballot as a candidate for governor.

Smith, serving as counsel for the Constitution party, filed a petition asking permission of the court to bring a suit for mandamus against Reavley. There was no immediate indication when the court would act.

Reavley refused Wednesday morning to certify O'Daniel's name on the general election ballot either as the Constitution party's nominee for governor or as an independent candidate.

O'Daniel, former governor and U.S. senator who ran third in the July 28 primary, headed a state or nationwide of the Constitution party named last Friday in Austin.

"These political dictators are scared because they know that if the name of W. Lee O'Daniel appears on the ballots in the general election...that he will be elected governor," O'Daniel said.

"That is the one and only reason why the secretary of state has been ordered to ignore the constitution and laws of Texas, and refuse to print (my) name on the ballots.

"...It is an attempt to rob nearly two million voters of Texas, white and Negroes alike, of their constitutional right of choice at the polls between a candidate for governor who favors segregation and one who favors desegregation," O'Daniel said.

Adlai Begins Campaign; Estes Hits Farm Policies

United Press Staff Correspondent HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP) — Adlai E. Stevenson worked on his campaign "kickoff" speech today and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, denounced Republican "get poor quick" farm policies. Stevenson delivers a 30-minute talk over all three national television networks and four radio networks at 9:30 p.m. EDT to signal the formal start of his Democratic presidential campaign. Between 5,000 and 10,000 persons are expected to pay $50 a plate at a cold buffet dinner to hear Stevenson's speech in the Farm Show Building here. # New Action By NAACP

TEXARKANA, Tex. (UP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sought new federal action through a suit it planned to file in federal court today in racial-tensed Texarkana. The U.S. District Court ordered integration of Texarkana Junior College in a decree last Feb. 1. When two Negro students took advantage of the decree and registered at the college this fall crowds of white persons swarmed to the school to block the Negroes' entrance. The past several days have spawned two shootings, several cross burnings and rock-throwing exchanges between Negro and white boys. A Negro official said the NAACP would file a motion in the federal court asking "further relief." The NAACP official, who asked that he not be quoted by name, told the United Press that the suit will not spell out just what "further relief" the court may provide. A crowd at the junior college jeered two Negroes, Jesselyn Gray, 18, and Steve Foster, 17, away from the school when they attempted to go there for the first day of classes Monday. Since that time white picket lines have guarded the campus against the Negroes who did not try to enter again. About 100 persons gathered at the college Wednesday but there were no incidents. Tuesday night a cross was set afire on the Dunbar high school campus. An unidentified Negro snuffed out the flames and snatched the cross away pulling it into the street. A rock-throwing exchange also took place Tuesday night. Police Chief Leon Arnold said he believed four white boys and seven Negroes took part in it.

County's Bills Are Totaled

Last month's Gray County bills, as compiled and paid by the county treasurer's office, totaled $79,894.35, Ola Gregory, County Treasurer, reported this morning. This total is primarily in the form of hospital and county construction operations, and includes $16,462.43 final payment on bridge construction, she said. If you need glasses, wear them. Don't go around peering at people in a vain effort to recognize them. You won't look pretty and you'll only emphasize the fact that you should be wearing your glasses. # Daily Records For Tax Purposes Are Recommended

If you expect to claim itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest, medical expense, etc. on your 1956 income tax return, then you had better keep a daily record of the exact amounts paid, according to W. C. Bowen, administrative officer of the Internal Revenue Service in Pampa. "The reason for this is clear," Bowen said, "since the taxpayer must be able to substantiate in full each deduction claimed if his return is selected for audit." "The record need not be complicated," Bowen explained. "A simple pocket diary or desk calendar pad is sufficient to list deductible expenses. This record, supported by receipts, is worth many times the cost of keeping it. Ordinary records should not be destroyed for at least three years after you file your return, since all income tax returns are subject to examination," Bowen cautioned.

Knowland, Harriman Swap Barbs

NEW YORK (UP)—Sharp barbs were exchanged by Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Averell Harriman Wednesday night in a television revival of the Lincoln-Douglas style of debates of 100 years ago. The Senate minority leader of California and the New York governor faced one another by remote control. The governor was in New York, Knowland in Columbus, Ohio, where he had gone to address the Republican state convention. In debate style, the Democratic governor and the Republican senator had one minute to open, four minutes for rebuttal, then three minutes for counter-rebuttal, and 90 seconds for summations. Harriman fired off the first salvo by charging President Eisenhower has failed to take a strong stand in the Suez crisis and that by so doing, he has made it possible for the Russians to enter the Middle East and influence Egypt in its handling of the Suez seizure. He said that former President Truman, on the other hand, had stopped the Russians from entering the Middle East. Knowland replied that under "the new deal," $7 million persons a year were swept behind the Iron Curtain, while only three million a year have been lost to the Communists under Mr. Eisenhower.

Prosperity Discussed

The California senator claimed the nation now has unprecedented prosperity and the national budget is $10 billion less than the last Truman budget. Harriman said Mr. Eisenhower was convened at the Republican nomination because he "surpassed the old guard," which opposed him in 1952. "The old guard no longer is afraid of him," he said. "It can disregard him or get him to do what it likes." Read the News Classified Ads

U. S. Wants Jap Islands Returned

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has called on Russia to return two islands to Japan as a "positive contribution to the reduction of tension in the Far East." It made the appeal in a diplomatic memorandum backing Japan's effort to regain control of the Soviet-held islands of Etorofu and Kunashiri in the southern Kuriles. The memorandum was delivered to Japan Friday and made public by the State Department today. Japan had asked for a formal statement of U. S. policy on the issue. The islands have been a point of contention in negotiations between Japan and Russia since a World War II peace treaty. Russia did not sign the 1951 San Francisco treaty and is still technically at war with Japan.

Nehru 'Regrets' New Canal Plan

NEW DELHI (UP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today the Anglo-French plan to run the Suez Canal was an imposed solution that carried a grave risk of war. Nehru expressed "surprise and regret" at the use of Commons speech Wednesday in London by British Prime Minister Anthony Eden proposing a Suez Canal users association. The Indian prime minister told parliament Eden's speech seemed to "close the doors to negotiations."

Coach Talks To Rotarians

Harvester head football coach, Jack Lockett, told Rotarians yesterday at their noon luncheon that one of the major strong points with this year's team is that it has eight experienced men back on the field. Observing that there was no single man who displayed outstanding speed on the team, Lockett said that the over-all team speed was good. Stating that he planned to use the split T formation again this year, the coach contended that the first 3 games are scheduled against teams traditionally strong and that since they are non-conference events, the Harvesters should be in good shape to take on their conference adversaries. In appraising the conference teams to be played this season, Lockett said that Amarillo was probably the strongest with Monterey (Lubbock) probably in second spot. Concluding his talk, Lockett pointed out that the team's biggest handicap is lack of depth inasmuch as there are only 22 boys out this year. A limited number of boys out for football, Lockett said, is becoming the pattern in most high schools and has reason to give cause for alarm. The big competitor to football, Lockett thought, was the automobile in that many boys tend to center their interest on the automobile as a pastime or direct their energy toward the purchase of one to the detriment of not having time for football practice. Club visitors and guests for the day were Dr. Hubert Bratcher, Jim Hess, Jesse Scarborough, Cleo Wilson, Bill Eller, O. W. Dunkel, Roger Walton and Gilbert Mize.

Mars May Be Moving Etna

CATANIA, Sicily (UP)—The unrest of the Mount Etna volcano may have some connection with the nearness of Mars to the Earth, astronomer Guido Ruggier said today. A column of thick, black smoke has been rising from the volcano for the past several days, although there have been no explosions. "An influence of the present astrophysical situation on terrestrial things cannot be excluded," Ruggier said. "It is impossible to say exactly what these influences are and exactly to what extent they work." You may prevent difficult stains by removing them before they are "set" by washing. Leather or plastic purses, briefcases, luggage and sportswear can be protected from water spots and scratches if waxed and polished.

Pentagon Cutting Military Strength

HAMILTON, Ohio (UP)—Deputy Defense Secretary Reuben B. Robertson Jr. said today that the Pentagon is offsetting increasing defense costs by cutting military manpower. Sealed Bids Sale Benefits Land Board AUSTIN (UP)—Land Commissioner Earl Rudder has termed a recent sealed bid sale of 34 forfeited veterans land tracts a "substantial benefit to the soundness of the veterans land program." # Backstairs Scenes At White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (UP) — Backstairs at the White House: Mr. Eisenhower's double chin has returned and his doctors like it. They don't want him to get beefy, but with an active campaign coming up, the Eisenhower medical men think their patient can well stand a little excess weight now. In fact, his weight of last night was over 170 pounds. Mr. Eisenhower, not normally a baseball fan, looks at the box scores carefully these mornings to see whether Mickey Mantle hit another home run for the New York Yankees. This probably represents the influence of ardent Yankee rooter Jim Hagerty, the President's press secretary. One of Mr. Eisenhower's buddies, George E. Allen, took a minor financial cleaning at the Senators-Yankee ball game last week which the President attended. Allen was giving four to one that Mantle would not homer. He did. Allen can stand the loss, however. He has money to spare.

W. Hall's original estimate of "five or six" basic television addresses. Of these 20 or so speeches, not all of them, by any manner of means, will be on nationwide radio and television. The Republicans are well-financed, but they have no intention of spending the millions involved in putting Mr. Eisenhower across the viewing country and loudspeakers of the country everytime he speaks.

Wrong Way Hole-In-One

"WHAT'S I GOING TO DO WITH THE NOSE?"—That's four-year-old Mike Sibole's main concern of the moment, as he runs his hands over a life-sized toy koala bear. The story of Mike touched hearts throughout the world when he lost both eyes to a cancer operation to save his life. Lelia Marchant, a secretary in Sydney, Australia, read stories of his bravery, and saved enough money to buy the toy for him. The koala was flown in, and presented to Mike at his Orlando, Fla., home by Bunny Brinkley, left.

Prince Rainier Hires A Hollywood Press Agent

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Movie town ballyhoo has attracted royalty—Prince Rainier III has hired a Hollywood press agent for his postage-stamp country of Monaco.

Hollywood publicists handle everything, from Forest Lawn cemetery to Lassie, the four-footed hero of television. Now even his royal highness and his wife, that bricklayer's daughter from Philadelphia, have decided their country needs a drum-beater to bring in more tourist business. Publicist Arthur P. Jacobs, who handled press relations for such stars as Marilyn Monroe and Marlon Brando, acquired the royal client.

The Arthur P. Jacobs office has been retained "to handle the official activities of the principality of Monaco," a notice in Variety announced with dignity. Usually Hollywood colorful publicity tactics will be subdued for this account. According to a how-to-publicize-Monaco manuscript the publicity office has prepared, the little country will be promoted as are "railroads and big corporations."

"The country will give scholarships and various prizes," a spokesman at the office says. "One of our jobs will be to esablish the difference between Monte Carlo and Monaco. The ordinary tourist thinks gambling is all there is to do in Monaco.

"We will not use stunts, but a good high-level of American public relations such as used by Palm Springs or any other resort area.

"Monaco never has had a tourist bureau. Why, they don't even give you a sticker for your suitcase."

The Monaco press agent's first job will be to handle publicity for his two famous bosses when they arrive in the United States this week.

The reaction to this royal publicity account has been varied around filmtown. "It's a wonderful coup for one of our members to get such a distinguished account," said Don Budeyette, president of the Screen Publicists' Guild. "The once-maligned Hollywood press agent is coming into his own."

Stevenson Huddles With Demo Strategy Leaders

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson huddled with eastern Democratic leaders today to get their advice on campaign strategy. Party bigwigs from Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, West Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia to talk tactics with the Democratic presidential nominee.

It was the last in a series of eight regional parleys that Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, have held around the country in an air tour of almost 12,000 miles in two weeks.

Of the six states represented here today, only West Virginia fell into the Democratic column in 1952. But Stevenson's lieutenants have high hopes of doing better in this Mid-Atlantic region this year—particularly in Pennsylvania.

Stevenson will make an off-the-record talk here tonight at a tunc-

Congressman Roger's Weekly Newsletter

Recently Mrs. Rogers, our two older boys and I had the occasion to travel for a short trip along the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana Turnpikes. The Pennsylvania Turnpike is the oldest toll road, but proved so successful that Ohio and Indiana have initiated similar programs and have tied their roads into a continuous turnpike across the northern part of their states. Their turnpikes connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike which, in turn, connects with the New Jersey Turnpike. Needless to say, these are excellent roads on which an automobile traveler can make splendid time. One of the main reasons being that there are no crossroads or intersecting roads and no entrances onto the highway except at intervals that are plainly and visibly marked well in advance of reaching them. The toll to travel on these roads is very reasonable and within the bounds of what any traveling motorist can pay.

I had felt for a number of years that the need for an interstate highway system might be answered by the federal government obtaining rights-of-way across the United States in several directions necessary and constructing toll roads. It was my thought that such a program would maintain a complete separation between the state governments and the federal government in so far as the highway system was concerned. A completely owned federal highway could be policed in the same manner as our national parks system. The cost of the roads and maintenance could be paid for by the tolls collected for their use. There would be no need for conflicts between state and federal governments in so far as the types of highways governing them, the warning signals to be used, the speed or other matters incident to a highway and motor traffic. There would be no commingling of state and federal funds, that would enable the federal government to dictate certain requirements that had to be met before participation by the states in federal funds. Altogether, it looked like a possible solution at a minimum cost to the average American taxpayer.

However, there were several difficulties requiring consideration which would have to be carefully weighed as relating to such a program. The major one of these difficulties, in my opinion, had to do with the complete monopoly that is enjoyed by the concessionaires of these toll roads. This has been argued pro and con, for many years. I have ridden on toll roads, including the Pennsylvania Turnpike, during its early years. However, my recent trip along these turnpikes pointed up the seriousness of the monopoly problem as it concerns the free enterprise system upon which this nation has been built. In the first place, the traffic on the turnpikes has increased tremendously, and will continue to increase tremendously. Once you enter the toll gate, you are a captive of the toll road authority and the concessionaires who are authorized to operate on the road. You either buy the gasoline that is available to you at intervals of approximately 25 to 30 miles or you don't get any gasoline—that is, unless you want to leave the toll road and hunt for a town where you can buy the brand of gasoline you want. On the road itself, you are not only limited to the particular brand of gasoline sold by the concessionaire, but you must buy it when the concessionaire decides to deliver it to you. By this, I mean that you are required to line up and await your turn to purchase gasoline, even though the line may be 15 to 20 cars long. Although there are a number of gasoline pumps available, there are few attendants and you must wait until an attendant serves all of the cars in front of you. Usually, Americans are very fair and would make no complaints if such waiting periods were due to exceptional circumstances like peak trade periods. But, it was my observation on the toll road that the same condition existed at almost every station on the road. We saw cars lined up from 5 and 6 deep to 20 deep. In our own case we lost over 45 minutes in travel time during an 8 hour period, waiting in line to buy gasoline.

The same situation is true in some of the eating places. You have no choice. There is only one eating place, and if you want something to eat, you wait until you are served, whether that be 30 minutes or two hours. Some of the eating places had excellent service, others did not, according to turnpike standards. None of the service was equal to the service you can get where there is competition.

The life blood of the American free enterprise system has always been a fair, honest, but vigorous competition. When this economic circulatory force is slowed down or stopped, the dynamic, expanding economy essential to a democracy is destroyed.

Perhaps some day an answer will be found to this situation with relation to toll roads, but at the present time, the problem is back and no solution is in sight.

Groundbreaking Plans Are Set

PERRYTON — (Special —) Dowell Inc. will break ground in a few days for their new plant in the industrial area east of Perryton. Much of the equipment has already been assembled so the new plant can be started without delay. The new Dowell oil field servicing plant will consist of offices, maintenance building, chemical storage building, 10,000 gallon acid storage, two sand silos, and a parking area. The plant will cost approximately $100,000 and company will move about $750,000 worth of equipment into the area immediately.

Dowell, Inc., which is a subsidiary of the Dow Chemical Company has been operating in the Perryton area for some time, servicing oil wells in Ochiltree, Beaver, Lipscomb, and Texas counties from a main warehouse in Boyer. The company recently purchased eight lots just west of the spur rail line in east Perryton and will locate the plant just west of the newly completed Halliburton plant.

AIR-CONDITIONED "SEWER PIPE"—This air-conditioned "sewer pipe" is off on a 50,000-mile 16-months' tour of the U.S. Built by a division of Armo Steel Corporation, of Middletown, Ohio, it contains a complete exhibit of the company's municipal and highway products. The corrugated steel pipe, mounted on trailer wheels, resembles regular sewer pipe in every respect except one. It is made of finely finished stainless steel instead of plain carbon steel. The $50,000 "Steelemobile" is 35 feet long, eight feet wide and 12 feet high. Its year-round air-conditioning unit is large enough to serve a small house. In addition to its tour of U.S. cities, the rolling exhibit will go to Canada in 1957.

raising dinner, and then take a plane to Harrisburg, Pa., where he will deliver his official campaign "kickoff" speech Thursday night.

Gets Rousing Reception
Stevenson got a rousing reception Tuesday night at the Liberal Party convention here, which nominated him and Kefauver to head its ticket too.

An estimated 3,500 persons rocked the hall with laughter and applause when Stevenson attacked the Eisenhower administration in a speech loaded with quips.

He charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon has put on "a new face" and is trying to convince the voters that "everything he has said and done in past years bears no relation to himself."

Stevenson said in sarcasm that there should be some word from

Nixon "repudiating the irresponsible, vindictive and malicious words so often spoken by the impostor who has been using his name all these years."

Nixon also came under indirect attack from Kefauver, who said if he is elected vice president he will not "have to spend any of my time apologizing for my conduct while seeking the votes of the American people."

To the Man Who is Hesitating...

There are many motorists here in this community who have given serious consideration to the purchase of a new Cadillac car this year—and yet, for one reason or another, have not made the move.

If you are among them, we hope that you will pause to read the little message that follows. For we are sure you will find it interesting.

Ordinarily, when a man hesitates to make the move to Cadillac, it is because he is not familiar with the practical aspects of Cadillac ownership.

Insofar as original cost is concerned, a Cadillac is eminently practical. Several models, in fact, are actually priced competitively with the so-called "medium-priced" makes.

Operating and maintenance costs are also remarkably low. We have heard it said by new owners that Cadillac is the most economical automobile they have ever owned.

And as for resale value—well, Cadillac traditionally retains a greater share of its worth through the years than any other motor car in the land.

In short, the great Cadillac car represents one of the wisest and soundest automotive investments on the highway today.

The moral of our message is this: It is still not too late to set things right in a 1956 Cadillac of your own!

We have a selection of new Cadillacs on hand—and we can promise you both prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance.

Why not come in today?

How should South play for his game at spades? He must lose a heart and two diamonds, come what may. How can he avoid a guess for the queen of clubs?

Declarer cannot afford to draw trumps and lead a diamond towards dummy. East will win and get out safely with a heart. East can then win the next diamond, cash a heart, and lead a third diamond to make South trump. Declarer must then guess the clubs all by himself.

The correct technique is to draw two rounds of trumps, take the second top heart, and give up a heart. The defenders must now play into South's hands.

West should win the third round of hearts and lead a diamond. East wins with the king. This is the best defense, but still it is not good enough. East must now lead ♠ club to give South a free finesse, or a diamond to set up dummy's jack. Either way, declarer gets his tenth trick without having to guess the location of the queen of clubs.

New Orleans Lends Its Name To A Delectable Coffee Pie

WHEN the dinner plates have been cleared away and the time for the last course arrives, everyone thinks of coffee. Coffee-in-the-cup is the accompaniment to the dessert of the evening, no matter what that dessert may be. But when you happen to serve New Orleans Coffee Pie with after-dinner coffee, you've found a combination that is truly delectable.

New Orleans is a city with many claims to fame and one of them is its devotion to its own black-as-your-hat coffee. Orleansians are also famous for their superb food. Here is a recipe for a coffee pie that is typical of the luscious confections so frequently served in the Crescent City.

New Orleans Coffee Pie is easy to make — it requires no cooking at all except for a brief baking of the spicy crumb crust. We suggest making the crust early in the day and preparing the fluffy filling later when you have a spare moment or two. Chill the pie in the refrigerator and just before serving, bedeck it with a crown of snowy whipped cream. Then fill up the coffee cups and let nature take its course!

New Orleans Coffee Pie
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold double-strength coffee
4 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons rum flavoring
1 cup hot, double-strength coffee
1 (9-inch) crumb crust
1 cup whipping cream

Soften gelatin in cold coffee. Beat egg yolks until light; then beat in half-cup sugar, salt and rum flavoring. Add softened gelatin and hot coffee. Stir until gelatin dissolves and chill until syrupy. Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks and add remaining quarter-cup sugar gradually, continuing to beat. Fold into coffee gelatin mixture. Spoon into cinnamon crumb crust and chill until firm. Whip cream and spread on pie.

Cinnamon Crumb Crust
1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
Combine all ingredients. Mix well and press firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 10 minutes. Cool before filling.

Cooked Meats Provide Hearty Salads For Quick Meals Any Time Of Year

Meats make salads of the hearty variety — fine for serving and good for quickly prepared meals any time of the year. Almost any kind of cooked meat may be used: fresh and cured pork, canned meats, cold cuts, franks, variety meats such as sweetbreads and tongue, beef, veal and lamb. Serve meat salads well chilled with hot breads as accompaniments, if you like.

Here's a selection of meat salad recipes, all suitable as the main dish for luncheon or supper:

- Zesty Ham Mold
2 packages lemon flavored gelatin
3 cups bouillon or meat stock
1 tablespoon horse-radish
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 medium onion slice, chopped
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 cups ground cooked ham
1/2 small green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
Dissolve gelatin in 1 cup boiling bouillon; add remaining bouillon, horse-radish, mustard, onion, and pepper. Chill until mixture begins to thicken, then stir in ham, green pepper, and chopped pimiento. Spoon into lightly oiled 5-cup mold (loaf pan, ring mold, or decorative mold). Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens to serve. 6 servings.
- Luncheon Meat Salad
1 can luncheon meat
1 cup finely diced celery
2 teaspoons sweet pickle relish
2 hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped
Mayonnaise
Salt, pepper
4 large tomatoes
But meat into 1/2 inch cubes. Add celery and combine with French dressing; refrigerate 1/2 hour, stirring occasionally. Add relish, eggs, and enough mayonnaise to moisten slightly. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cut tomatoes into 5 or 6 sections almost to stem end. Spread apart slightly; season with salt and pepper, then pile salad mixture into center of each tomato. Serve at once. 4 servings.

- Salad Sophisticate
1 clove garlic, halved
1/2 cup salad oil
1 cup bread cubes (1 slice bread, cubed)
1 medium head crisp iceberg or Boston lettuce
2 cups thoroughly chilled cooked meat, sliced (cold cuts, roast pork, ham, canned meats)
4 slices cooked bacon, crumbled
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Salt, pepper
Brown garlic in oil, remove and discard. Pour off half of oil and reserve. Lightly brown bread cubes in remaining oil, drain on absorbent paper. Break lettuce into bite-size pieces into salad bowl. Arrange sliced meats, bacon, and bread cubes on top. Just before serving, toss with reserved salad oil, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, and salt and pepper to taste. 6 servings.
- Bologna and Cheese Salad
1/2 pound bologna (about 8 slices)
1 small head crisp iceberg or Boston lettuce
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
2 tablespoons chili sauce
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
4 ounces blue cheese
Cut bologna into thin strips and shred lettuce. Combine mayonnaise, vinegar, chili sauce, green pepper, pimiento, and blue cheese, mixing well. Toss with bologna and lettuce. Serve immediately. 4 servings.

Treat Your Family To Banana Waffles

This Saturday or Sunday, when mornings are most leisurely, how about treating your family to a hearty, harvest breakfast? Start with your favorite juice. Then on to steaming bowls of quick-cooking or instant oatmeal. Or do you prefer other hot cereals such as hot wheat cereal or rice cereal. As a final treat, bring the electric waffle iron to the table and make something new in waffledom. It's Banana Waffles, with the mellow fruit for flavor and extra breakfast excitement.

- BANANA WAFFLES
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup salad oil or melted shortening
1 1/2 cups finely diced, ripe bananas (2 to 3 bananas)
Butter or margarine
Sirup, jelly, honey, jam, cinnamon sugar or confectioners' sugar
Use either fully ripe, or yellow bananas
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Mix together eggs, milk and salad oil or shortening. Add to dry ingredients and beat until batter is smooth. Fold bananas into batter. Pour batter onto hot waffle iron, spreading batter and bananas evenly. Bake according to directions furnished with waffle iron. Serve immediately with butter or margarine and sirup, jelly, honey, jam, cinnamon sugar or confectioners' sugar. Makes 4 to 6 waffles.

Women's Auxiliary, Institute For Cancer Research, Wins First Prize With Recipe

Kings, queens, presidents pass through the doors of the Mayflower Hotel in the Nation's Capital. Out comes the gold service on these special occasions, and also the special talents of Chef Marchitelli, who loves to cater to royal palates. He often puts chicken in some fancy dress, as a highlight on these state menus. "Chicken," he says, "is a love around the globe."

So it was only natural that chicken with royal manners, won first prize this month when the Women's Auxiliary for the Institute for Cancer Research, submitted this unusual delicacy for the chef's approval.

- This is something to get out your best china for!
- CROWN PRINCESS JEANETTE
(Serves four)
1 3 lb. chicken
4 slices of Virginia ham
2 cans of liver pate
2 oz. sweet butter
1/2 cup of sherry wine
2 teaspoonful cognac (optional)
2 fresh mushrooms
1 package of gelatine
1 pint of white sauce
1 cup of whipped cream
Bouquet garni: (Carrots, Celery, bay leaf, parsley stem, salt and onion)

Boil a 3 lb. chicken, adding carrots, bay leaf, celery, parsley stem, salt and onion. Allow to cook slowly until done. Cool. Remove the legs and, from the breasts, cut four thick slices of white meat. Cut in a conical shape.

In a mixing bowl, add liver pate, the rest of the chicken, chopped fine, sherry wine, cognac, cream and sweet butter. Mix thoroughly and spread a layer over each of the four slices of chicken breasts. Place in refrigerator and allow to become firm.

Then make your white sauce, add whipped cream and gelatin. When this mixture has cooled to a thick consistency, spread over the chicken. Add for decoration, the sliced cooked mushrooms. Serve on crisp lettuce on generous slices of Virginia ham. Perfect addition: Fresh Fruit Salad, or Vegetable Salad.

HEARTY SALADS — Meat is the main ingredient in each of these salads. Ham flavors the ring mold; bologna highlights the individual salad cups; roast pork, cold cuts and crisp-cooked bacon top green in salad bowl; and canned luncheon meat is used in the stuffed tomatoes. Serve any of these salads as a luncheon or supper entree.

Meat Balls Espagnol Go With Vegetables

These delicious meat balls are a wonderful accompaniment for garden vegetables and salads, to be served with crusty French bread, rather than the usual spaghetti with tomato sauce. The secret of success is frying them slowly for ten minutes in fine Spanish olive oil.

- Moisten three slices of dry bread with water and mix with a pound of lean chopped beef, adding three slightly beaten eggs, three tablespoons of grated sharp cheese, two tablespoons of chopped parsley, salt and pepper. You can add a chopped clove of garlic, or brown the clove in the olive oil, removing it before frying the meat balls. Serves four.

Preserve Flavor In Scallops Jerez

Scallops are among the most delicious of the gifts we get from the sea, and the secret of their preparation is to cook them quickly to preserve the delicate flavor. Dust lightly with flour, one and a half pounds of scallops that have been washed and dried, then sauté quickly in six tablespoons of butter. They should just be heated through, browning lightly. Remove the scallops from the skillet, then add to the pan two-thirds of a cup of dry Spanish sherry — a fino or amontillado — simmering for two minutes. Pour the sherry over the scallops and sprinkle with a quarter cup of chopped parsley, serving immediately with rice or noodles. A glass of chilled fino or amontillado is an excellent accompaniment to this dish, Scallops Jerez.

lard and half-teaspoons of thyme, savory and celery salt, and freshly grated pepper. Place the meat in a casserole, cover with one and a half cups of quick-cooking rice, and pour over the liquid from the skillet. Bake, covered, for forty minutes at 325 degrees F., stirring once after it has cooked for twenty minutes!

The next time you are making cakes or cookies, particularly those that contain fruit, chocolate, molasses or brown sugar, add two tablespoons of sweet oloroso sherry — either a cream or brown sherry — to the batter to bring out all the flavors.

JAMBALAYA

A variation of this Caribbean casserole that will serve six is made by browning in a skillet one pound of diced pork in two tablespoons of olive oil, then adding a pound of diced ham and frying for two more minutes. Remove the meat. Bring to a boil in the skillet four cups of water and half cup of Spanish sherry — either a nutty amontillado or sweet oloroso — along with a teaspoon of dry mus-

Nut Flakes Torte Is Unusual Dish

The food dictionary defines a torte as a rich, sweet cake, made without flour or leavening agent. And it is generally considered to be the most elegant of desserts.

Yet tortes are easier to make than many cakes. The Nut Flakes Torte recipe following is made with crushed Corn Flakes, for added flavor plus economy, eggs, sugar, vanilla and nutmeats. Nothing else. No measuring and sifting of dry ingredients, no blending of shortening and sugar. The five ingredients are lightly combined and the cake baked 50 minutes.

Cool and serve with whipped cream for a dessert both unusual and delicious!

- NUT FLAKES TORTE
3 1/2 cups Corn Flakes
4 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1 cup finely chopped nutmeats
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla flavoring
1. Crush Corn Flakes into fine crumbs. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gradually add 1/2 cup of the sugar, beating thoroughly after each addition. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add remaining sugar, beating until well-blended. Stir in vanilla. Fold Corn Flakes and nutmeats into egg yolk mixture. Gently fold in beaten egg whites. Spread in well greased 9x9-inch pan.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 50 minutes. Cool. Cut in squares. Serve with whipped cream. Yields 9 servings.

Italian Makes Bid For Third Political Force

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Pietro Nenni, Europe's No. 1 left-wing leader, is bidding to make himself the leader of a new "third force" in Italian politics.

Since 1947, Nenni's left-wing Socialists have been cooperating closely with the Communists of Palmiro Togliatti.

The right-wing Socialists, under Giuseppe Saragat, have been supporting the dominant Christian Democratic Party after splitting with Nenni because of his Communist ties.

Now it looks as if negotiations to merge the two factions of the Socialist Party are nearing completion.

The merger would weaken the Communists. On paper, it would strengthen Premier Antonio Segni. But Nenni appears to be working strictly for himself. He does not want to break completely with the Communists. Neither does he want to give complete support to the government except on his own terms.

Wants NATO As Basis
Saragat is trying to force Nenni to accept the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the basis of Italian foreign policy in any merger. Nenni may go along with that, it is indicated.

However, the prospect is that Nenni will emerge as the leader of a reunited Socialist Party and try to make it a third force between Segni's Christian Democrats and the Communists.

The Christian Democrats hold 263 of the 560 seats in the Chamber of Deputies. The Communists outside the Iron Curtain except for Yugoslavia — hold 142. Nenni's left-wing Socialists hold 75. Saragat's right-wing Socialists hold 19. Premier Segni depends for support on Saragat's men and a scattering of minor groups. Loss of Saragat's 19 votes would mean the loss of his present majority and leave him at the mercy of Nenni in a combined Socialist Party unless he sought the support of the extreme right wing, Monarchists and neo-Fascists.

Plans for the merger of the Socialist wings stem from the Kremlin's down-grading of Josef Stalin. That downgrading hit Togliatti hard. He criticized the Kremlin's policy in the strongest terms. Nenni was critical, too.

Plans for the reunion of the Socialist Party followed, with the aid of Socialist parties of other European countries.

The prospective Socialist merger can hardly be expected to strengthen the government, even if Nenni promised his support.

At the same time, the Communists will be weakened materially; had been losing strength in party membership and in their control of the labor unions even before the Stalin downgrading.

There are reports that Nenni hopes to weaken the Communists still further without formally breaking with them, and to build up the Socialists as the third or

Convention Sidelights

FORT WORTH (UP) — Sidelights at the Texas Democratic convention: Sheriff Fred Foreman of Palo Pinto brought 44 gray-uniformed members of his sheriff's posse to keep order.

Four members of the posse were stationed at each of the three main doors of Will Rogers Auditorium to check against counterfeit tickets. An ultra-violet light was used to reveal a special ink mark on the genuine tickets. Some 500 bogus tickets turned up at last May's state convention at Dallas.

Television cameras were stationed in the auditorium to broadcast the convention to a Fort Worth-Dallas audience. But the TV men relied on radios — four walkie-talkies — to coordinate their operations.

If Nenni can do that, he will be an important figure in both Italian politics and in European affairs.

On hand to fill in with organ music during the slack periods of the convention was Mrs. Fred Parker of Fort Worth. Mrs. Parker was armed with a battery of state songs to follow the Star Spangled Banner which opened the meeting. She played the state song, "Texas Our Texas," along with the "The Eyes of Texas" and "Bluebonnet Time."

Most of the press corps was crammed into the orchestra pit. But not Grady Price of the Frankston, Tex., Weekly Citizen. Price, who is blind, took a position in the balcony along with his wife Ann and seeing-eye-dog Faddy.

Chairman George Sandlin was scurrying behind stage before things got under way. He said the convention was being held in the 2,990 seat Will Rogers Auditorium instead of the coliseum next door because the coliseum, which hosts rodeos, did not have the proper facilities.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP)—A rubber doll squeaked and a home was saved from a prowler, Mrs. Edwin Szolko said she saw a man peering through the window of her home. Stepping back in fright, she trod on the doll. Its squeals frightened the prowler away.

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (UP)—Mrs. James Varga demanded immediate action by municipal authorities to clean out a shed on her property which she said was "alive" with pests. The rats weren't so bad, she conceded. But when a "large and black" snake slithered up to her 5-year-old son and snatched the cookie he was eating, the time had come, Mrs. Varga decided, for action.

Report From Journal

The Ladies Home Journal, in its September issue, reveals the findings of an educational forum recently conducted under its auspices. A number of pertinent questions were asked and answered by various Journal editors and by authorities in the educational field.

Are high school standards too low? "Mass education, as we have it," said Dr. Douglas Bush, Harvard University English professor, "is based on the acceptance and glorification of low value and low aims. . . . We see the slighting or elimination of solid and difficult subjects, the 'democratic' cultivation of all kinds of soft substitutes, the repudiation of standards of work and achievement that goes with automatic promotion and graduation."

To graduate pupils without requiring effort and achievement is "grossly unethical — evil" in the opinion of Dr. John F. McNeil, principal of Brooklyn's Erasmus Hall High School.

Knowledge of science and mathematics is vitally important in the world today. Do our high schools teach these subjects adequately? No, says Dr. James R. Killian Jr., president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "We have an almost disgraceful few teachers in this country who have competence to teach science from the analytical point of view rather than from the descriptive. . . . We need more good teaching that stresses content rather than pedagogical method."

Are there children in the schools today who should be elsewhere for their own good and for the good of all? Facts show, say Journal Editors Bruce and Beatrice Gould. Bad discipline conditions prevail in many schools; violence occurs and makes headlines. The inevitable result — though less publicized — is general lowering of educational standards.

Do we expect the impossible of our teachers? We expect teachers to be everything except teachers, Alice B. Hennings points out in her Ladies' Home Journal article. "I suggest that a teacher is only a teacher," she writes, "not a nurse, matron, psychiatrist, clerk, patrol-woman, substitute mother, or miracle woman. Her job is educating the bulk of normal boys and girls." She is not trained to know all the answers.

Here we see the helpful analysis by persons who are trained and competent to look at the educational picture with unbiased judgment. The sum total of the finding reveals a deplorable lack in our government schools. The lack is even apparent in our private and independent schools, since these, too, are dominated in large measure by the National Education Association and the governmentally supported and approved standards adopted by one and all.

We think the American people would be well advised to look very closely at their schools. The future belongs to our youth. But what kind of a future can there be if our youth are treated to "mass education" ideas which place a premium on mediocrity and penalize the student who veers from the "norm"?

Half-way measures simply will not remedy the situation. The only possible solution will come when the parents of American children wake up and recognize the source of their difficulty. This source is found in the fact that government has made education one of its prime spheres of activity.

It is no more possible to separate politics from government than to separate propaganda from instruction so long as the politicians run the schools. We must make an end to this sorry spectacle.

We need education in this country. We need it desperately. The government is not equipped to furnish it. Government has no business in training our young people, any more than it has any business to provide us with religious instruction or with food, clothing and shelter.

Education must be freed from the political tentacles of government. Only then can the demands for good education be met by trained personnel who recognize the sorry plight of today's students.

Education and government must go their separate ways. There is no other answer.

THE NATION'S PRESS

IN PLACE OF MILITARY SPENDING

(Christian Economics)

The Standing Committee on Social Education and Action of the 15th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. calls for ". . . such programs of social clearance, public health, public welfare and public works as constructive substitutes for the military expenditures which now prop up our economy."
Most pacifist military expenditures do not produce economy; they burden it.
Reducing military expenditures with a corresponding reduction in taxes would leave an equivalent amount of money in the pockets of the people which they would spend for the things they want and need.
Whereas most military spending is not constructive, and the product is either destroyed or quickly becomes obsolete, civilian spending or saving is constructive, supplies needed commodities and services to the people, raises their standard of living and creates demands for other goods and services which lead upward in the productive cycle.
Why should it be assumed that bureaucrats know better how to spend the people's money than the people themselves? Whether it be for military purposes or for the type of civilian spending known as welfare statism, bureaucrats are always eager to get their hands on the people's money. If the people decide to discontinue one form of public spending, let us say for armament, the bureaucrats apparently lie awake devising other forms of spending to substitute therefor — anything apparently to enable them to keep their grip on the purse strings — anything to keep the people from spending their own money themselves!

To suddenly discontinue all military spending would, of course, create temporary dislocation of capital and labor, but under a free and flexible system which permits ready adjustment, men and money would move quickly into the production of a great variety of commodities for which the people would spend the money left in their possession when military spending was stopped. This would lead on to a sounder and more satisfactory prosperity.
If it be said that the people might save their money instead of spending it, that would be even more productive in creating employment. Capital is our greatest need. Ten to fifteen thousand dollars must be saved for every new industrial job. With the coming of automation this amount will rise rapidly to $50,000 and beyond. If more jobs are to be created and the standard of living is to be maintained or raised, more capital — much more — is needed everywhere including our own country.

Why should it be assumed that bureaucrats know better how to spend the people's money than the people themselves? Whether it be for military purposes or for the type of civilian spending known as welfare statism, bureaucrats are

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES
What Must Government Schools Teach As To What Is Good?

An associate of mine gave me a copy of the September issue of Pageant magazine. She thought I would be interested in it because it had an article about a government school teacher at Riceville, Iowa. Riceville with 962 persons is located about 10 miles south of the Minnesota line. The magazine has an article headed, "After you have read this article would you want this man to teach your children? I was certainly interested in the article. He was a nice looking 21-year-old graduate of the State University of Iowa. He completed the usual four-year course in three years. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa (Philosophy the guide of life). He evidently had a good memory, but was sold pragmatism and collectivism by his school and college professors and evidently had not yet been exposed to the libertarian way of life as set forth in the Decalogue and the Declaration of Independence. After 27 months of teaching, creating a lot of opposition, he wrote a letter to the Board of Education of Riceville saying he did not wish to teach at Riceville next year.

Pageant said they looked into "What were the enormities he had committed in the eyes of the community that brought about his firing?" Pageant evidently thought he was a good teacher. They let the teacher, Paul J. Richer, write a letter to Pageant telling his side of his experience as a teacher in Riceville.
He defended his teaching the way it could be defended. He wrote:

"I did my very best to show my 50 kids that nothing is 100 per cent black or white; that we live in a world of twilight gray, and that what we judge as good probably is only 51 per cent good."

No Moral Principles
That is exactly the position that every government school teacher is obliged to take in order not to be embarrassed or made uncomfortable. He has to take such a position in order to appear to be consistent. Just how could he teach that there is eternal moral order when he is being a party to violating such moral laws as "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's," or "Thou shalt not steal."

Just where does he get the authority to use the word "no?" Just who does he include in "we?" He certainly could not include every person. If he believes he can speak for every person, then he must deny that each and every individual has the inalienable right to choose what is good. But the individual is incapable of surrendering or transferring this right to another even if he so wishes.
By the above statement the youth of the land is inclined to believe that stealing probably may be 49 per cent good. Just how can the pupil believe murder is 100 per cent bad if what he is taught by a person who is supposed to be an educator contends that nothing is 100 per cent good?

Teacher Richer's statement above is a complete repudiation of Jewish and Christian ethics as set forth by Moses and the Prophets and by Jesus and his disciples. According to this teacher, it is not 100 per cent good for man to live by the sweat of his brow; it is not necessarily good for man to be owner of himself and all he produces; if getting things on a voluntary basis is not 100 per cent good, then getting part of what one wants by use of collective aggressive force could also be good. Government teachers must have this standard of "good" so they can classify themselves as good.

Must Teach Collectivism
Those who believe in the Jewish Christian ethics believe there are moral laws governing human relations that are just as axiomatic and absolute and eternal and "white" as the physical laws that govern the movement of the celestial bodies.

It is hard to conceive of anything more harmful than to have the youth of the land being taught by teachers who personified all the illiterate ringers with chrysanthemum hair - cuts sprouting through harness - type head-guards who ragged up and headed sacred swards long since defiled with dormitories, laboratories and other profanations of memories un-speakably sweet.
Long, long before a dazed and frantic youth ran the wrong way to a touchback in California, Ole Skjarsen, of Old Siwaah, had done it at Galesburg at the bidding of George Fitch, who might have been a Lardner had he lived a little longer.

In the current issue of "Knox Now," I find a small item which I earnestly submit for your consideration and interpretation. Frankly, with my limited education, I am at loss.

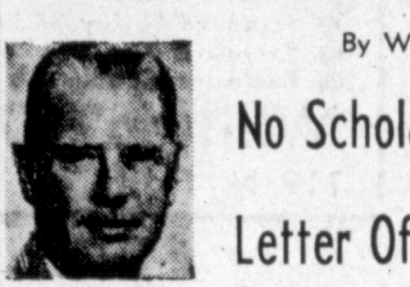

This occurs in an account of a speech at Knox by E. Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of The Denver Post, like Paul Hoffman a noted salesman but, again like Paul, a savant of imperceptible achievement except in salesmanship, but great cultural renown nevertheless.
"Today's mode of re-examination sweeps aside the fiction that, because a stain on a citizen's loyalty or personal qualifications for government employment is not a 'criminal charge,' he is not necessarily entitled to due process in the spirit, if not in the letter of the phrase."
Says which?
I tried it backward:

Just say "uh huh" once in awhile, she'll keep talking for hours.

Lesson In Political Education

Fair Enough

No Scholar I, Not In The Letter Of The Phrase

Sometimes I get desperate in my fumbling efforts to understand the net intelligence, an example of which I herewith present along with a cry for help.
Knox College, of Galesburg, Ill., formerly known with affection as Old Siwaah and beloved of her old grads as the perfect example of the old-fashioned, mid-West American fresh-water school, publishes a pamphlet called "Knox Now." This is not a device to dissociate Old Siwaah from her homely, virtuous past and the holy tradition of Old Main where Lincoln and Douglas debated slavery, because actually "Knox Now" was founded in 1901.

That was about the time that her most enduring author, George Fitch, later a legman on the Peoria Transcript, was pecking out for the Saturday Evening Post his series of football stories on Ole Skjarsen, a mythical Swede who was recruited from his job as janitor in a flat-building to scatter like flinders the somewhat more erudite amateurs of Lombard, Carleton, Beloit and Grinnell who then had mutually suspicious and ardently dishonest relations as a junior conference.

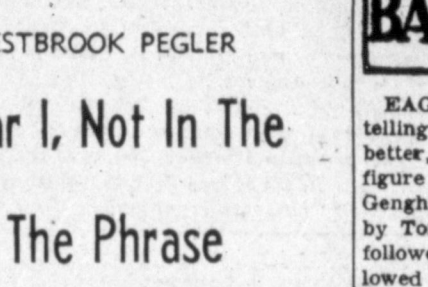

Things were so dishonest in collegiate football all over the country in those days that the late Professor George Goodenough, dean of something, probably men, of the University of Illinois, remarked with sentimental longing, "oh, I tell you, we were barbarians then!" This was about 1930, apropos a current petty scandal in the Big Ten in which Iowa had been caught padding her football payroll and charging $2.50 a week, in season, to profit and loss on the cafeteria.

"Oh, we were barbarians then," Professor Goodenough sighed with happy moisture in his fading eyes, and went on to recapture the spirit of Ole Skjarsen who personified all the illiterate ringers with chrysanthemum hair - cuts sprouting through harness - type head-guards who ragged up and headed sacred swards long since defiled with dormitories, laboratories and other profanations of memories un-speakably sweet.

Long, long before a dazed and frantic youth ran the wrong way to a touchback in California, Ole Skjarsen, of Old Siwaah, had done it at Galesburg at the bidding of George Fitch, who might have been a Lardner had he lived a little longer.

In the current issue of "Knox Now," I find a small item which I earnestly submit for your consideration and interpretation. Frankly, with my limited education, I am at loss.

Today they are followed by Nasser, who is headed in the same bloody direction. Is this progress? The circumference of a circle remains the same at no matter what point you start measuring.

National Whirligig

U. N. Is Following Wilson's League

WASHINGTON — The Administration's willingness to submit the Suez Canal dispute to the United Nations, if current negotiations for a peaceful settlement fail, represents a sharp shift from its original attitude. It is, in reality, an attempt to prevent the U.N. from falling into diplomatic bankruptcy like Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations.

The immediate reason is that reference to the General Assembly, which meets in New York on November 12, would provide a platform for further talks, if the current deals in Cairo break down. It would also force Britain and France to delay any military action, which might provoke a large-scale war in the Middle East and alienate the Arabs from the West forever.

Other major considerations lie behind the policy change. One is President Eisenhower's insistence that actual hostilities be avoided. Another is that disregard of the U.N.'s machinery for peace would depict it as a futile and worthless organization.

Since it was inspired by F.D.R. and fabricated by Harry S. Truman, the demise of the United Nations would be a great blow to American prestige abroad. In view of the dismal record and fate of Wilson's League, it would lower trust in our diplomatic savvy among Allies, neutrals and enemies. It might force us to build and finance the "Fortress America" once proposed by Herbert Hoover.

Secretary Dulles has even more practical and pressing reasons for invoking U.N. intervention, even though it means a retreat from his original stand.
Dulles first opposed an appeal to the international body because he was afraid that the West would be outvoted in the General Assembly. The Asian-African-Russian bloc, which supports Egypt, almost comprise one-half of the membership.
Although South American nations usually vote with the United States, several Latin-American Republics might have sided with the opposition. They still recall and resent "Teddy" Roosevelt's "seizure" of Panama territory in connection with Panama's agreement to let us build the Isthmian waterway.

Discreet diplomatic inquiries, however, indicate that a majority of the South American states would line up with us in a Suez showdown. That would have the effect of isolating Moscow, Cairo and their few scattered supporters in an Assembly test.
It would mobilize world opinion against strong-arm tactics by Egypt or by the Anglo-French action, as it was organized against the Chinese Communists when they invaded Korea.
Moreover, there was the fear at Washington that an Anglo-French invasion of Suez territory would lead Colonel Gamal Abdel Nasser to appeal to the U.N. on the ground that the military action was a "threat to world peace." That would have thrown the West, including the United States, on the defensive as "warmongers."

There is the final fact that the United Nations needs rehabilitation. As with the League, which did not dare to act against Mussolini in Ethiopia, Hitler in his pre-1939 invasions, and Franco in Spain, the U.N. has been helpless in great world crises, save for the largely psychological support it gave the United States in Korea.
It has kept its hands off the Anglo-Greek dispute in Cyprus, the French difficulties in North Africa, and the problem of German ability to settle the Israeli-Arab clash. It has, in short, been a do-nothing body in every postwar crisis, any one of which might yet erupt into another world conflict.

Thus, this Roosevelt-Truman creation faces the same sort of failure and liquidation that befell Wilson's League, which was supposed to "make the world safe for democracy."

By HENRY McLEMORE

Austrians Have No Ear For Sign Language

VIENNA — Certain nationalities have a gift for understanding the traveler who does not speak the language. They have a definite flair for interpreting signs.
The Spanish are the very best at this. I have only to lower my head and charge in Madrid, and right away the Spaniards know that I want to know the dare of the next bullfight and where to get tickets.
Close behind are the French. I have closed transactions for such assorted items as garters, mandolin picks, and cheese slicers in Paris in a few minutes, and without the use of a word of French.

The Germans are very good, too. Occasionally they'll show you, say, a bolt of flannel when you have asked, in sign language, to see a pair of pants, or bring an order of venison when you have indicated that you are in the mood for leg of lamb. But by and large the Germans are very quick.
Austrians, I am sorry to say, are not so gifted. They are very backward when it comes to telling what a tourist wants when he resorts to arm flailing, talking in a high voice, and twisting his face around. As a result, Mary and I are having quite a bit of difficulty in making our wants known to the Viennese. Perhaps they have been too busy being gay all their lives to master this means of communication.

Only this morning I wanted to know the way to the nearest post office so I could buy some stamps. I stopped a Viennese on the Ring and went through the motions that are sure-fire in Spain and France. I held an imaginary pen and scribbled on the air. Then I folded what would have been the paper, stuck it in what would have been an envelope, licked a non-existent stamp, and patted it on the right-hand corner of an envelope that wasn't there.

Then I poked myself in the chest with my index finger and said in a very loud, high voice, "Me want to buy stamp for letter."
The Viennese was a very bright-looking man, but he must not have been, because he walked me half a block and led me into a bakery. Now, nothing I had done indicated that I was hungry and wanted a cinnamon roll. I did buy six rolls, though, just to keep from hurting the man's feelings.

Positive proof that Austrians are slow at the language of charades came a bit later in the day when Mary and I wanted to go to the zoo, which is a very good one, and is located in a lovely wood.
This time we stopped a man and a woman in front of the Sacher Hotel, and I was at my best, even if I do say so myself. And I had help from Mary, who speaks a beautiful sign language — one with little or no accent.
Together we made like a zoo. I roared and Mary brayed. We both lumbered back and forth like bears in captivity. I rocked first on one foot, then the other, in a striking imitation of a staked elephant. I screwed up my face and scratched my temples as much like a monkey as I could.
The Viennese couple just stared at us, their faces blank.
Trumpeting and roaring like a wild animal, I then ran to a neat-by street car stop and went through the motions of boarding a tram. Even this failed to give them a glimmer. The four of us stared at one another and then they walked away, muttering. I imagine they were pretty ashamed of themselves for not getting our message.
We probably never would have seen the zoo if Mary hadn't had the presence of mind to walk in the Sacher and ask the hall porter the way. He told her in perfect English, and we caught a street car right where I had staged my pantomime for the couple.
Funny about the Austrians, isn't it? Just don't have any sort of ear for sign language.

Only this morning I wanted to know the way to the nearest post office so I could buy some stamps. I stopped a Viennese on the Ring and went through the motions that are sure-fire in Spain and France. I held an imaginary pen and scribbled on the air. Then I folded what would have been the paper, stuck it in what would have been an envelope, licked a non-existent stamp, and patted it on the right-hand corner of an envelope that wasn't there.

The Parent-Teacher Association city council held its first fall meeting Tuesday morning in the Junior High School, with Mrs. L. L. Millen, president, in charge.

Mrs. Boyd Bennett, study club chairman, announced classes in glass painting, copper and aluminum craft and oil painting would begin at 9 a. m. Oct. 1, in the Girl Scout Little House for any PTA member who is interested. She introduced W. L. Veale, to teach silk screen painting, who showed samples of items that can be made, including Christmas cards.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn, legislative chairman, urged each member to study all of the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on Nov. 6 and 13.

Mrs. James Lewis announced a mental health workshop will be held in Borger Oct. 13 and urged the women to attend. She reported on the workshop she attended in Austin. She explained the state board decided in January that office members who have previously taken the PTA parliamentary procedure course need not take it again.

Mrs. Kay Veale, school nurse, was introduced by Mrs. Millen.

President Of Texas Medical Auxiliary Explains Aims, Projects During Brunch

Mrs. R. C. Bellamy of Liberty, 39th president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Texas Medical Association, was honored with a brunch Wednesday morning by the Top o' Texas Medical Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. R. Malcolm Brown.

Following the brunch, Mrs. Bellamy spoke to the group on the projects of the Auxiliary for the year.

COMMUNITY SERVICE
Mrs. Bellamy explained the Auxiliary was first established to "sponsor good fellowship among families of doctor," but has now broadened its scope to include community service.

"We feel civil defense is one of the best community services we can be a part of," she stated. She went on to explain the Auxiliary has as one of its projects the compiling of qualification or "talent" cards on persons in the community, which are filed with the civil defense group "so they may know who to call upon in case of disaster."

MENTAL HEALTH
"Mental health is the number one health education problem we should be most interested in," she told the women, recommending several articles on the subject for the women to read.

NURSE RECRUITMENT
Another Auxiliary project is nurse recruitment, which Mrs. Bellamy said has "mushroomed."

"But we want to continue," she cautioned. "We would like a Future Nurses' Club in every community."

She announced that the Future Nurses convention will be held Mar. 23, in Austin.

FUNDS
Mrs. Bellamy named and explained three funds supplied solely by the Auxiliary. They are the student loan fund to help junior and senior medical school students to complete their education and interns and residents to confine theirs.

The memorial fund is for aid to doctors' families and widows, she said. The third is the library fund "for the advancement of medicine in Texas," she explained. The library is located in the Association building in Austin, and, in addition to medical books, it has films to be shown to lay groups.

A fourth fund she explained is the national fund, the American Medical Education Foundation, to support medical schools. She showed a picture of a Christmas card Auxiliary members will be selling to doctors, with the proceeds to go to the AMEF.

SAFETY
"We are trying to push safety in the home and in driving," she told the women, explaining about a course available in some places for baby sitters, teaching them what to do in emergencies and other facts they should know.

DID YOU KNOW YOU CAN PREPARE a delicious dish of boiled rice in 15 minutes? There is no need to boil rice longer. Although this quick cook method has been used in the Orient since men began to reckon time, it has become popular in this country only recently.

TRAVELERS, missionaries and soldiers roaming through the Far East soon caught on to the way Orientals prepare rice. They returned to this country introducing the 15-minute method to their friends.

Then along came the American rice industry and the U. S. Department of Agriculture with their tests showing that domestic rice could be cooked just as quickly as Oriental rice.

So that time-consuming and expensive way of washing milled rice before cooking, of boiling in excess water for hours and then pouring this water off and then washing the rice to make the grains stand out, has been outmoded.

No wonder we never used more than four or five pounds of rice per person until recently. It was too much of a chore to prepare. Also, with all of this washing, we lost one-half of the thiamine and one-fourth of the riboflavin and niacin.

When you want to cook a high-quality fluffy dish of rice full of its original food values, try this 15-minute method.

Bring to a boil two cups of water and one teaspoon of salt in a large sauce pan with a tight fitting lid.

Add one cup of rice to the vigorously boiling water and then bring the water to boiling again. Cover the pan, turn the flame to simmer and leave without stirring or raising the lid for 14 minutes.

You may like your rice slightly drier than this, so remove the lid after 14 minutes and let the rice steam over the low flame until it reaches the consistency you like.

To make the rice extra tender, start with two and a third cups of water and increase the cooking time four to five minutes.

This Oriental method for quick cooking of boiled rice is generally attributed as one of the main reasons why rice consumption is increasing in this country.

Rice, coming from the new crops being harvested now in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, is one of the featured foods on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's September plentiful foods list.

It is wise not to iron terry cloth towels. This flattens the loops and makes them less absorbent.

To remove wax that has hardened on any type of candlestick, moisten a soft cloth or a piece of absorbent cotton with carbon tetrachloride and apply it to the wax.

SCIENCE FAIR
The science fair is a project the Auxiliary is pushing to "encourage children to go into science fields, to be science-minded," Mrs. Bellamy pointed out.

She explained the local Auxiliaries contact school principals to offer their cooperation in a science fair, featuring science exhibits. Winning exhibits in local fairs are sent on to district, state and national science fairs.

OTHER PROJECTS
Other projects of the Auxiliary outlined by Mrs. Bellamy included the encouraging of yearly physical examinations, and the sponsoring of "Doctors' Day," honoring local physicians.

The Auxiliary's school of instruction will be held Sept. 26, in Austin, the women were told. It will include workshops on projects, explaining what each project is, how members can help, who it benefits and why it was established. The school will also include group discussion on common problems.

"Let's go forth in this march of progress, fighting the way and sharing with others in health education and community service," Mrs. Bellamy concluded.

BRUNCH
For the brunch, the serving table was centered by an epergne filled with ivy and geraniums. Refreshments of fruit, rolls and coffee were served. Mrs. J. Foster Elder of Pampa served the coffee, and Mrs. M. C. Overton Jr., also of Pampa, served the rolls.

Background piano and organ music was provided by Mrs. R. Malcolm Brown and Malcolm Brown Jr.

The state president was introduced by Mrs. Elder, president of the Top o' Texas Medical Auxiliary.

Attending from Pampa were Mrs. Mmes. Walter Bertinot, Donald Baker, Charles H. Ashby, Richard Falkenstein, Joe R. Donaldson, Calvin Jones, Felix Vendrell, M. McDaniel, M. C. Overton Jr., Julian Key, Oscar Huff, Joe W. Gates, J. F. Elder, R. M. Hampton, E. S. Williams, Raymond W. Laycock, Carl Lang and Harold Fabian.

Borger members present were Mrs. W. W. Massad, Larry Hanson, W. W. Brooks, R. D. Prewitt, W. C. Barksdale and G. Claunch. Brindley

Heard Through The Barry!

By BARRY A. LITTMANN
Pampa News Sports Editor

When fans pack a stadium to watch a football game, the first idea in the average spectator's mind when the teams line up for the kick off is... who will score the touchdowns and who will do the passing. However, sometimes, before these long aerial plays, or lengthy ground jaunts can be executed, a few details have to be settled up front. That is, who is going to block the halfbacks, or who will come across the field to lead the interference. This fellow, usually a lineman, gets this corner's award for the unsung player in the game today.

THE PAMPA NEWS this fall will select a Pampa Harvester who will be contributing the most to the team in an unsung way. It may be a defensive tackle, who piles up play after play. It may be a punter who sneaks in to block a punt in the closing moments of the game to insure a victory, or to set up a touchdown that will mean victory. This unsung man can fall into many categories. Every game the Harvesters play members of THE PAMPA NEWS sports staff, all seated at different vantage points in the stadium, will pick out the one man who is most valuable to the Harvesters.

There will be a feature story on this player in the Sunday edition of THE PAMPA NEWS in addition to the regular coverage of the game.

A great deal of thanks go to Mayor Lynn Boyd, who issued a resolution proclaiming this week as PAMPA HARVESTER FOOTBALL WEEK. We believe that Pampa is the first town in the State of Texas to have such a week, and kind words of thanks to Mayor Boyd and Chamber of Commerce prey Ed Myatt are the least Pampans can say.

In relation to the above, we spoke with Mrs. Van Sickle over at the High School business office. Mrs. Van Sickle is in charge of ticket sales for the Pampa Harvesters football games this year. She reports that season seat sales have reached "about 1100" at this time, way below last year's total. C'mon Pampans, go out and support your sons as they try every day to place the name of Pampa high among the football powers.

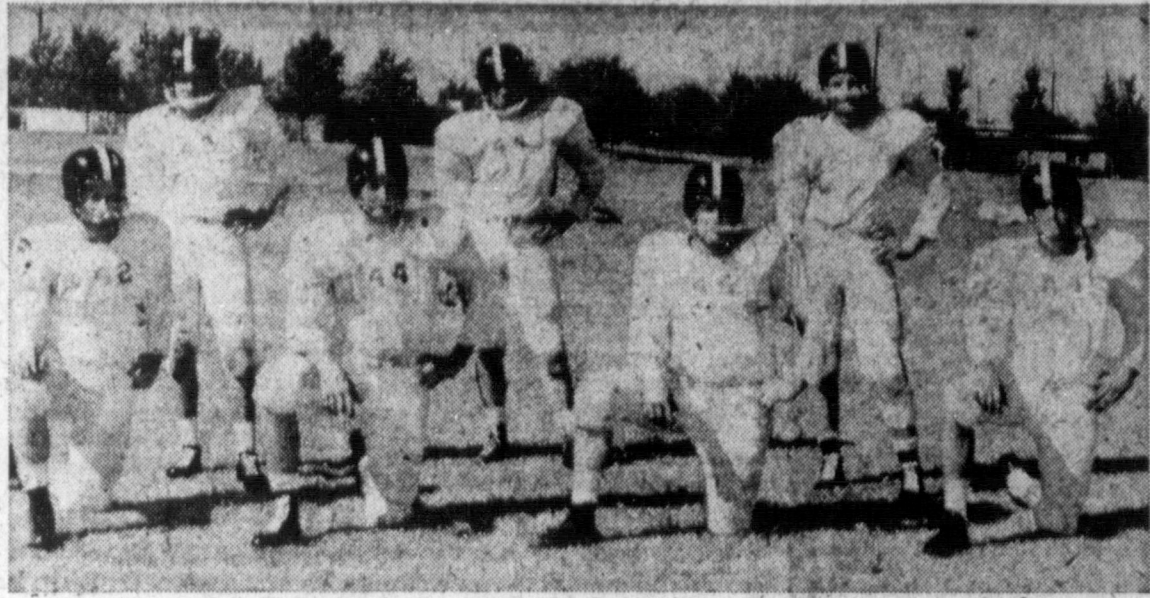

INCIDENTALLY AND BY THE WAY... heard from Ed Strickland, fine tackle last year. He's safely enrolled at Texas Tech and awaiting the beginning of school. That leather poppin' down there Ed? He's out for football and loves it. Another '66 grad, Buddy Sharp, is down at Baylor trying out for the football team. If he makes the squad, and we think he can, a scholarship from head coach Sam Beyd will come his way. Ed Dudley, former Pampa ace halfback, now a junior at Texas A & M., threatening to make the first team backfield. Not bad, Top-o-Texas!!!. Bad News Dept: Buddy Cockrell, former Green and Gold tackle, transfer from Oklahoma U. now at Hardin-Simmons, after bunking a year to comply with the transfer rule, was all set to sneak into Slings' Sammy Baugh's starting lineup. However, the hurt his knee last week and is in bad shape. Hurry up and get the knee in the whirlpool, Buddy, that'll do the trick. So you think you can pick football winners. Well, so do we. Every week starting tomorrow we'll gaze into that Olde Crystale Ball and see if we can bat a thousand. We're gonna have some competition too. A pretty sharp forecaster from all we've heard. Knows throughout the world for his excellent forecasting. Watch for him soon.

Reapers Open Today At 3:30

The Pampa Reapers open their season this afternoon at 3:30 on the High School Field as they face Bowie Junior High School.

Coach Deck Woldt announced the following starting lineup, late yesterday afternoon. LE Tommy Locke; LT Orville Thornburg; LG Jim Scott; C Butch Dunham; RG Rowland Stone; RT Dale Veale; RE Craig Winborn; QB John Campbell; LH Buddy Rawls; FB Harold Stokes; RB Marvin Cooper.

The 1956 Reaper schedule: Sept. 20, Borger Jr. H-S; Sept. 27, Dalhart Jr. H-S; Oct. 4, Dumas Jr. H-S; Oct. 11, Clarendon "B"; Oct. 18, Phillips Jr. H-S; Oct. 25, Sam Houston; Nov. 2, Playoff Date; Nov. 8, White Deer; T - There; H - Home.

Defense The Thing For Harvesters This Year

From the looks of things and the words of different coaches, the day of the high-powered split-T type of offense is rapidly drawing to a close. Gone are the scores of 56-35, 40-24 and so on. Split-T football is turning to the defense more and more every year.

Coach Jack Lockett expressed these thoughts yesterday afternoon when summing up his team's chances for successful season this year. The Harvesters open up tomorrow night against the Austin Panthers of El Paso.

"With the two-platoon system, it was easy for teams with the horses such as Oklahoma, Maryland, Michigan State and Georgia Tech to roll up big scores," said Lockett. "They always had fresh men ready and no one ever played both offense and defense." This idea of somewhat more than defense "by ear only" has sifted down into the high school ranks from some of the split-T coaches who have forsaken the wild and woolly offensive game of the past to a somewhat more conservative while still flashy, type of split-T football.

"Probably two of leading exponents of a good defense in split-T football," continued Lockett, "are Paul 'Bear' Bryant of Texas A. & M. and Dutch Meyer former coach of TCU and now athletic director. Meyer, one of the inventors of the now-famed TCU spread, always had his team running up high scores and filling the air full of Hershey, Pa. (UP)—Charley Gauer, an assistant to former Philadelphia Eagles Coach Joe Trimble last year, has been named to the Eagles coaching staff for the forthcoming National Football League season. Gauer, 41, played collegiate ball at Colgate and spent three years in the NFL as a player with the Eagles.

leather in the process. Now, the tendency is toward a good solid ground game with an occasional pass only when the situation warrants it."

How would this affect the Harvesters? "Well," said Lockett. "We're not going to be a high scoring team such as Amarillo High. We'll get our touchdowns, sure, but our main object is going to be to hold the other team to a minimal number of points per game."

The only way that is going to be done is by setting up a good defense. Men like Bill Kirby, a two-way player, Gene Devers, Gary Pinson, Don Jonas, Dale Lake, Gerry Peterson, Bob Langford and Jerry Bonsal, are going to be counted upon more heavily than previously to do the defensive chores. While the Harvesters backfield has the ability to score enough touchdowns to win most of their games, they haven't got that wide open style of play that could result in six or seven touchdowns being scored while the other team scores five.

Tomorrow night the Austin Panthers' attack is noted for speed and deception, rather than sheer power. They constantly employ a flanker, which serves not only as a means to spread the defense out further than usual, but as a potential pass receiver and down field blocker.

The Green and Gold are ready. They've worked hard for two weeks getting into shape for their opener tomorrow night. Coach Lockett reported late this morning that all players will dress for the game, and that no one is on the injured list.

Tigers, Indians Looking For "Birdie" Or "Lippy"

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Detroit and Cleveland are both eyeing Cincinnati's Birdie Tebbetts as manager for 1957, it was learned today by the United Press.

Neither the Tigers nor the Indians "have much of a chance to get Tebbetts, though," according to the source, because General Manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs "works together with him exceptionally well and wants the present setup to continue for a long time to come."

The 45-year-old Tebbetts, currently a leading "manager of the year" candidate for the job he has done with Cincinnati this season, has one more year to go under a three-year contract he signed with the Redlegs at the start of the 1955 campaign.

The Tigers and Indians are both shopping for new managers for the coming year and both "have made definite overtures in Tebbetts' direction," said the same source. Tebbetts and ex-Giant Manager Leo Durocher, as a matter of fact, have been the two most sought after pilots during the past three months.

Even the Milwaukee Braves were interested in Tebbetts' services for 1957 until they signed Fred Maney for next year only last Tuesday night.

"When Haney succeeded Charlie Grimm as manager last June," the source revealed, "the Braves weren't at all sure that Haney would be the man for them next year. Tebbetts was their first choice if Haney had failed to make a good showing."

Basilio Tops Saxton

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Fiery Carmen Basilio, who recaptured the welterweight crown from Johnny Saxton Wednesday night and is casting covetous eyes on the middleweight title, credited "better condition and smart boxing—in tactics" today for his savage victory.

The 29-year old Carmen gave Saxton a bloody beating and stopped him in the ninth round of their return fight before 8,546 in War Memorial Auditorium, but he must grant New Yorker Johnny a "rubber title match" before he goes after Sugar Ray Robinson's 160-pound crown.

For Carmen and his handlers at least, the technical knockout triumph settled the six-month dispute over who should have won at Chicago last March, when Saxton took the title from Basilio on a controversial decision.

"I fought a much smarter fight last night," said the ex-onion farmer from nearby Chittenango, N.Y., who became the ninth man in welterweight history to win back the title after losing it.

"I used 'boxing-in-tactics,'" he continued, "and cut off his retreat when he tried to circle, instead of following him around the circle, like at Chicago."

Happy Carmen, with a slight cut on his left cheek and a somewhat swollen nose, said: "I won the fight at Chicago too, but didn't get it, although I was a bit stale then from over-training for the postponed bout. And I didn't fight smart."

"But I won't fight in Chicago," Basilio declared. Saxton, who will be out of action for weeks because of the badly ripped left side of his mouth, likewise said: "I won't fight again in Syracuse. Basilio got away with butting and other things last night, here in his own backyard."

Johnny said the ripped mouth, which required nine stitches, was caused by a butt, not by a punch. Saxton will receive about $71,400 from the record central New York $134,939 gross gate and $75,000 TV-radio money. His 40 percent of all net receipts is twice that given Basilio, who will wind up with about $35,700.

Johnny, favored at 7-5 in the late betting, suffered such a battering Wednesday night as he suffered the second kayo in his career of 60 fights, that each of the three ring officials gave him only one of the eight completed rounds.

Slingin' Sam On UP Board

NEW YORK (UP)—Seven new coaches will serve on the 1956 United Press football coaches rating board, which will begin rating the nation's collegiate football teams after games of Saturday, Sept. 22.

As in the past, five outstanding coaches from each of the seven sections of the country will make up the board and rate the teams weekly. Their ratings have become recognized generally as the official standings of the teams.

The new board members are: Bus Mertes of Kansas State, Pete Elliott of Nebraska, Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Darrell Royal of Washington, Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw of the new U.S. Air Force Academy, Dick Clausen of the University of New Mexico and Sammy Baugh of Hardin-Simmons.

The first of the 1956 ratings will be released to afternoon newspapers of Tuesday, Sept. 25. As in past seasons, the rating will be released alternately for Tuesday morning and Tuesday afternoon newspapers.

LONDON (UP)—Vladimir Kutsof set a new world record of 28 minutes, 20.4 seconds for the 10,000 meters event Tuesday, according to a Moscow report, setting the old mark of 28:54.2 set by Emil Zatopek of Czechoslovakia on June 1, 1954.

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Veteran Jack Coleman and young Irv Bemoras have signed their 1956-57 contracts with the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association, leaving Jack McMahon the only player unsigned.

Braves Bounce Back To Top; Buhl Beats Bums 8th Time

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

There's no rest today for the Milwaukee Braves who find their season-long "jinx team" the next obstacle in the rocky road to the National League flag.

Relieved, but hardly fresh after Wednesday's pressure-filled, 8-7 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers, the Braves have a no other "toughie" in a two-night double-header with the Philadelphia Phillies. The fifth-place Phillies have a 10-8 edge over the Braves and are the only team in the circuit with a chance to beat them in their season series.

A sweep would boost the Braves' lead to two games, a split would leave them six percentage points in front and a double loss would enable the idle Brooklyn Dodgers to take over the top rung undisputedly for the first time since April 28.

Warren Spahn is slated to try for the 200th victory of his career in one game with rookie Bob Trowbridge (3-1) going in the other for the Braves. For the Phillies, Robin Roberts and Jack Meyer are slated to hurl with Roberts gunning for his 18th win.

Three Share Hero Roles
Bill Bruton, Bob Buhl and Joe Adcock shared the hero laurels when the Braves successfully met their biggest test of the season Wednesday. Bruton, who hit a triple in the first inning, knocked in the decisive run with a single in the eighth inning after an error by Danny O'Connell helped the Dodgers score three runs and produce a 7-7 tie.

Buhl, beaten by the Dodgers Tuesday night, received credit for his eighth victory of the season over them while Adcock whacked a two-run homer in the sixth that put Milwaukee ahead, 6-4. It was Adcock's 13th of the season against Brooklyn—equaling the major league season mark.

The third-place Cincinnati Redlegs fell three games off the pace with only 15 to play when Johnny Antonelli hurled a three-hitter, to give the New York Giants an 8-0 triumph. Homers by Jackie Brandt and Daryl Spencer helped Antonelli score his 14th win and hand Joe Nuxhall his 10th defeat.

Sam Jones struck out five and hurled a four-hitter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, in the other NL game. Walt Moryn's seventh-inning homer snapped a scoreless tie and the Cubs added single runs in the eighth and ninth innings to seal Vern Law's 15th defeat.

In the American League, the Kansas City Athletics defeated the New York Yankees, 7-4, and cut their lead to 10 games when the Cleveland Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 2-1. Eddie Robinson and Lou Skizas homered for the Athletics, who kayoted Tom Sturdivant with five runs in the first two innings.

Early Wynn gained his 17th win of the season for the Indians and struck the decisive blow of the game when he hit a sixth-inning homer. Wynn yielded seven hits in 8 1-3 innings and Don Mossi came out of the bullpen in the ninth to wrap up matters.

Frank Sullivan pitched a five-hitter for his 13th win as the Boston Red Sox knocked the Chicago White Sox from third to fourth place with a 4-1 decision. Jackie Jensen hit his 19th homer to lead Boston's 11-hit attack.

Billy Hoefft won his 18th game when Harmon Killebrew's error with the bases filled in the ninth presented the Detroit Tigers with a 2-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Boner By Bobby Costs Him $100

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Bobby Thomson's futile attempt to steal home during the Milwaukee Braves' 8-7 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday cost the 32-year-old outfielder $100.

Manager Fred Haney revealed after the game that he had fined Thomson for "a real bone-head play."

Thomson attempted to steal home with the bases filled, two out and pinchhitter Chuck Tanner at the plate in the eighth inning. The Braves had just gone ahead, 8-7.

"Babe" Gets Award For Cancer Help

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP)—Babe Zaharias, the nation's No. 1 cancer victim, was honored yesterday for her contribution to cancer control, but she didn't feel up to making a personal appearance. "The Babe was thrilled," said her husband, George Zaharias, "but she just didn't feel up to accepting the award personally." The award, a hand-embossed parchment scroll signifying that the 42-year-old famed woman athlete contributed "the nation's most outstanding service to cancer education and control," was presented instead to George and the Babe's sister, Mrs. Lillie Grimes, Beaumont. The presentation was made by Dr. William S. Brummage, president of the Public Health Cancer Association of America, at a ceremony attended only by doctors and nurses in the doctor's lounge room of John Sealy hospital. Mrs. Zaharias remained in her sick room on the fifth floor of the hospital where she has been confined to bed since her birthday last June 26. George and Mrs. Grimes gave the scroll to Mrs. Zaharias later in her room as only immediate members of the family are allowed to visit her, by doctor's orders. "She was thrilled and happy to be able to do something to give courage and hope to cancer victims in the way of education and her cancer fund," George said. Mrs. Zaharias established the "Babe Didrikson Zaharias Cancer Fund" for research and treatment one year ago today. She has undergone three operations in the last year. The last recipient of the award was Dr. Leonard Scheele, former U.S. surgeon general. "To Mildred Didrikson Zaharias, as an heroic exemplification of courage and faith that cancer can be conquered in our time, and for her vision in founding the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc.," the award reads.

Pirates Open Home Against Shamrock Irish Tomorrow

The Lefors Pirates, inexperienced but eager, may come up with a pretty good team this year if they can avoid injuries. Coach H. W. Callan's 1955 team started the season looking as if they might be one of the best Buccaneer aggregations in years. Before the season ended, however, every starter but one had been injured at least once. The Pirates were lucky, Callan said, to finish the season as he had only a few boys left to send in as substitutes for the last game. The injury shadow has not bothered the 1956 Pirate edition, though, as enthusiasm reigns supreme and the team is looking forward to their second encounter of the year Friday, with Shamrock's Irish. The Pirates were tied last week 13-13 by class AA Dalhart. Lefors plays class A football.

Baxter Still In Contention

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (UP)—The emphasis was on youth in the National Amateur golf tournament today with most of the name players on the sidelines and the kids holding the upper hand as 15 survivors headed into fifth and sixth round play. Seven of the remaining field were 22 and under with one fourth round match still undecided. Only two elders, 40-year old Sergio Fontanini, Des Moines, Iowa, and 45-year old Charlie Kocsis, Royal Oak, Mich., the national college champion 20 years ago, remained. The only names still in contention were defending champion E. Harvie Ward Jr., 30, San Francisco, Walker Cup Captain Bill Campbell, 33, Huntington, W. Va., a Walker Cup player, 20-year old Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex., Joe Campbell, 20, Anderson, Ind., and Kocsis.

Friday night's game with Shamrock is scheduled for 8 o'clock on Shaw Park in Lefors. Callan, helped by three new assistants this year, says his team, "has a long way to go because of the lack of experience but should improve during the season." A total of 30 boys are working out in the Lefors camp now with returning lettermen Mike Nichols, tackle; Howard Bradfield, fullback; Calvin Stracener, guard; and Tommy Johnson, quarterback; leading the way. The Pirates do not choose co-captains for the year, preferring to name captains for each team. The Pirates are in district 2-A this year with Canadian, McLean, Clarendon and Memphis. Callan's assistants are Ed Lehnick, who has coached at Friona for the last three years; Dale Prescott, who will also coach basketball; and Eugene Collinsworth, who will also coach Junior High football. The Pirate roster includes Frank Blair, end, 145 lbs.; Jerry Watson, end, 145 lbs.; Winfred Cates, end, 145 lbs.; Cecil Sanders, end, 145 lbs.; Mike Nichols, tackle, 205 lbs.; Mark Bray, tackle, 220 lbs.; Calvin Stracener, guard, 175 lbs.; Larry Blair, guard, 170 lbs.; Warren Chisum, guard, 140 lbs.; Buddy Chase, guard, 138 lbs.; Jerry Carpenter, guard, 128 lbs.; Wayne Moxon, center, 142 lbs.; Tommy Johnson, quarterback, 172 lbs.; Howard Bradfield, fullback, 198 lbs.; Stanley Coleman, halfback, 163 lbs.; Billy Fulton, halfback, 139 lbs.; James Warner, halfback, 132 lbs.; David Lewis, halfback, 110 lbs.; Garril Robinson, halfback, 89 lbs.; Gary Smith, halfback, 110 lbs.; Charles Dickerson, fullback, 145 lbs.; Tex Nolan, end, 143 lbs.; Charles Barnes, halfback, 136 lbs.; Glen Elms, center, 165 lbs.; Jimmy Gotcher, guard, 140 lbs.; Arnold Warner, back, 105 lbs.; Herschel Bogie, back, 115 lbs.; David Steel, back, 107 lbs.; Richard Miller, end, 145 lbs.; and Johnny Crutcher, guard, 130 lbs.

Bryant—"22" First String

Rival Southwest Conference coaches pondered today a statement by Texas Aggie coach Paul Bryant that the Aggies would not have any first and second teams—just a first team of 22 men. The implications in the Bryant declaration tend to bear out the predictions of most observers along that the Aggies are going to be loaded with talent and tough to beat. Bryant's statement came after he ended two-a-day drills at College Station with two light practice sessions in an effort to let the squad's crimples get well. "Boys like (fullback Jack) Pardee will play more than others," Bryant said, "but because of the heat we will have two first teams and we'll call them the Reds and Whites." Traylor Stands Out Heralded Doyle Traylor was in the limelight again as Baylor held another scrimmage session at Waco. Traylor threw a 45-yard touchdown pass to end Earl Miller and veteran halfback Del Shofner sped 45 yards for another as the offense outscored the defense two touchdowns to one. Texas Christian's first string got a rest from scrimmage Wednesday, but the other units held an hour-long session in which fullback Buddy Dike showed signs of returning to his sterling form of 1954. He ran for two touchdowns, as did scabbard Jim Shofner. Southern Methodist's veteran Red team edged the youthful Whites 12-7 in an intrasquad scrimmage. Charlie Arnold slipped a four-yard pass to Henry Christopher for one touchdown and Charlie Jackson drove a yard for the other for the Reds. The Whites' counter came on a 45-yard pass. Arkansas Scrimmages Tackle Richard Bennet rejoined the Arkansas squad Wednesday as the Razorbacks held the last of their two-a-day workouts at Fayetteville. Coach Jack Mitchell had a 45-minute scrimmage in the afternoon. Coach Jess Neely at Rice continued his schedule of heavy drills for his young club, getting ready for the annual Blue-Gray game on Saturday. At Austin, coach Ed Price eased the pressure on his Texas squad, working in shorts against pass defenses in the morning and dummy scrimmage on defense in the afternoon. NEW YORK (UP)—The way was officially cleared today for Floyd Patterson and Archie Moore to meet this fall in a heavyweight title fight that will decide Rocky Marciano's successor. A major barrier in the path of a Patterson-Moore bout was removed Tuesday when the New York State Athletic Commission said Patterson's injured right hand has "healed perfectly." Immediately, the International Boxing Club began negotiations with the managers of both fighters to select a date and site for the bout.

Optimism Is King As SWC Gets Ready To Open Season

By ED FITE United Press Sports Writer DALLAS (UP)—Extreme optimism at Texas Christian and Texas A&M, optimism with potential at Baylor and Texas and just plain wishful hoping at Arkansas, Rice and Southern Methodist marks the forthcoming Southwest Conference football campaign. There's every reason—on paper, at least—for backers of coach Abe Martin's defending champion TCU eleven and coach Paul Bryant's runner-up Texas Aggies to foresee possible top 10 national ranking for their favorites. Both are stocked with proven talent, headed by all-America halfback Jim Swink at TCU and that rip-snorting six-man football graduate, Jack Pardee, at fullback for the Aggies. There's one big thing bothering Martin and Bryant—especially Martin, however. Favorites or defending champions seldom ever win in the rugged Southwest. For example, Rice was just as heavy a favorite at this time a year ago. Coach Jess Neely's Owls did not win a league game. TCU lost only three starters—end Bryan Enggram, center Hugh Pitts and halfback Ray Taylor, but their loss is expected to create more of a problem defensively than on the attack, which Martin expects to be even better than a year ago when TCU ran up 293 points. The team is two deep in lettermen everywhere, has Swink back as the all-time way threat, a more poised Chuck Curtis returning as the passer-faker deluxe and, with the return of Buddy Dike after a year's injury-encumbered layoff, has two powerful fullbacks with speed to make their drive even more potent a weapon, Vernon Hallbeck returns from 1955. Bryant's Texas Aggie "sophomore wonders" of a year ago when they came within an eyelash of taking the title after handing TCU its only regular season setback, are now juniors and seem to pack as much vim and verve as ever. A talented quarterback to go with Pardee's bull-like line crashing and John Crow's halfback speed is Bryant's biggest headache. There's plenty of depth at all positions at Baylor with 23 lettermen. And, for the first time in the three seasons he has been eligible for the varsity, heralded Doyle Traylor, a passing phenom, is hale and hearty. Baylor fans have been licking their chops over the prospects for the day when Traylor can "take charge" of the bruising Bears. Coach Ed Price at Texas, who was the target of alumni pressure during the winter, has wonderful Walt Fondren, the millionaire halfback with the will-o-the-wisp stride, two fine passers in Joe Clements and soph Vince Matthews and the impetus of winning four of the final five games last season. "The potential is extremely high," Price says. Arkansas is due to be stout defensively, but offers a question mark offensively especially with a critical knee ligament injury last week to quarterback George Walker. Neely at Rice, thinking of the slipshod performance of a year ago, has relegated lettermen to the second and third teams, and installed six sophomores on his starting lineup. Coach Woody Woodard at SMU, faced with a back-breaking schedule of Notre Dame, George Tech, Missouri and Duke prior to league play, isn't being made any happier by the fact he has only 12 lettermen, and absolutely none at quarterback.

(UP)—Ed Furgol, currently the hot-shot on the professional golf swing, was the favorite today to give the seventh annual $15,000 Fort Wayne open a new champion for the seventh time. Not since this show was inaugurated in 1950 has the winner repeated. At least two ex-champs, last year's winner Doug Finsterwald and 1954 titlist Doug Ford, were among the more than 100 players who teed off today in the 72-hole contest. At the halfway mark, the field will be chopped to the low 60 and 10 ranking amateurs to go the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. Should Furgol falter, Ford, last year's PGA champion, rated a good chance to add to his laurels. Other favorites included Bob Toki Mike Souchak, Bob Rosburg, Tommy Bolt, Fred Haas and Arnold Palmer. HERSHEY, Pa. (UP)—The Philadelphia Eagles have signed Jim Shirley, former Clemson fullback, and Willis Berzinski, former Leavenworth teachers halfback, and released tackle Tom Higgins, a four-year veteran in the National Football League, on waivers. KANSAS CITY (UP)—Mickey Mantle, who started the month with a chance to break Babe Ruth's home run record, is in serious danger today of failing to have clinched. Once seemingly a cinch for the batting title, Mantle now leads Ted Williams by only three points—352 to 349—and he leads Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers in runs batted in by only two—118 to 116. Mantle, meanwhile, has yet to hit a homer this month and now needs 14 in 15 games to set a new mark. CHICAGO (UP)—Boston Red Sox infielder Billy Goodman will be lost to the club for about a week because of a pulled tendon in his right knee. Goodman suffered the injury during Wednesday's game with the Chicago White Sox when he slid into third base in the first inning. HAMILTON, N.Y. (UP)—Walt Betts, 150-pound halfback from Youngstown, Ohio, has impressed head Coach Hal Lahar to such an extent that he may be in Colgate's opening game lineup when the Red Raiders meet Cornell here, Sept. 29.

P.W.G.A. Tourney Starts Today

The Pampa Women's Golf Association is conducting a flag tournament today that began at 8:30 a.m. Mrs. Bill Parker, tournament chairman, announced that there will be two flights and first and second prizes will be awarded in each flight. The prizes will be on display in the pro shop at the Country Club. Last week awards were won by Lila Austin and Mrs. Lind Parkhurst. Miss Austin won low gross with a 41 and Mrs. Parkhurst won low net with a 53-20-33. The Handicap Tournament will be held toward the latter part of the month and all ladies are urged to turn in their scores so that the proper handicaps may be assigned. The exact date for the tourney will be announced as soon as it can be set. Boyd Switches Schools Again NORMAN, Okla. (UP)—Bobby Boyd, much-sought Garland, Tex., high school football star, arrived here Wednesday for enrollment and immediately defended Oklahoma University as the college of his choice. "They sure printed a bunch of lies about coach (Bud) Wilkinson in those Dallas papers," Boyd said. He referred to the controversy centered around his choice of Oklahoma University over Southern Methodist at Dallas and other schools which had tried to recruit him. Boyd said he hopes to make the varsity next year and described Sooner squad members, several of whom he met the first day, as "a great bunch of guys."

Area Game Of The Week

Perryton vs. Canadian Is News Game Of The Week

The Area Game Of The Week this week will be the Canadian High Wildcats against the Perryton Rangers. The game has been selected by the sports staff of The Pampa News after careful scrutiny of the five games that will be played tomorrow night. The Wildcats won their initial ball game 19-12 beating the Wheeler High Mustangs. It took the "Cats" almost the complete first half to get untracked, finally coming back in the closing minutes to score a touchdown and cut the two-touchdown lead that Wheeler had rolled up to one at the half. In the second half, Wheeler could go nowhere and the powerful Canadians began to move. Two long drives of 70 and 80 yards led to both scores. The Perryton Rangers will open their season tomorrow night when they play the Wildcats. They had a game-like workout last week and against the Pampa Harvesters on the High School Field to climax Quarterback Club Night. They looked big and fast, with plenty of depth. Although they didn't score on the Harvesters, they moved with a certain sureness that when in their own class, as they will be against Canadian, will make them tough to handle. Del Ray Mounts at quarterback a swivel-hipped split T-er and just about as good a runner as passer. The halfback can run and their fullback is a devastating blocker as well as a hard runner. The Pampa News will staff this ball game and with its correspondents cover the other area games. Other area games include Clarendon at White Deer, Sunray at Groom, Wheeler at McLean, and Shamrock at Lefors. The Pampa News will make its selections for the week end games in tomorrow's paper.

Fraley And Shakespeare Around Brook Bat Cage

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (UP)—The Milwaukee Braves stood around the batting cage, glowering at their own batting practice pitcher as if he were a Brooklyn uniform. There was no levity and, actually, little conversation, as each batter stepped in and took his cuts. They just watched impassively, like a flock of underfed hawks. "You Cassius hath a lean and hungry look," asserted one observer, stealing a line from a baseball writer named William Shakespeare. Eddie Mathews, the muscles bulging in his arms, walloped a pitch up against the right field scoreboard and Johnny Dittmer, following its flight, grunted woefully. "We could have used that one last night." Several of them nodded grimly and it was obvious that, in their minds, they still were playing the night game in which Brooklyn had tied them for the National League lead. Now, coming up to the season's final game with Brooklyn and the league lead at stake, they were wound so tight you expected to hear the mainpring snap while the Dodgers, during their turn in the cage were relaxed and full of gags. Don Elston, pitching batting practice, was throwing a low, fast sinkerball. Carl Furillo jumped back from an inside pitch and protested in a squeaky falsetto: "Who's pitching next?" "Bob Aspromonte, the kid," said Billy Herman. "Sounds good," Furillo chuckled. "I'll pass on this guy." PeeWee Reese stepped in, pulled his sore right hand back from another inside pitch, and asked: "What's this guy's record?" "He was 20 and 1 at St. Paul," kidded Dixie Howell, "and the one game he lost they threw away on errors." "Well," said Reese, "I pass. Why should I let him hit me on the hand. Lew Burdette will do enough of that." Aspromonte went to the mound to pitch the remainder of the Brooklyn batting practice and Reese grinningly elbowed in ahead of Junior Gilliam. "Hey, want's the idea," Junior jawed. "You took your turn." Reese turned his back, reached up an arm and pointed at the number one on the back of his uniform. "See that, son?" the little cap-

CALLING ALL COPS—A patrolman demonstrates a new police call box for use by pedestrians and police alike in Hamburg, Germany. He is talking with headquarters over a phone contained in a locked compartment. Citizens wishing to turn in an alarm can press a button and talk into the microphone just above. Behind the vents is a speaker from which the user may receive police instructions. The lamp on top lights when alarm is in operation, thereby discouraging pranksters.

Public Should Know Trip Costs WASHINGTON (UP) - President Eisenhower said Tuesday the public is entitled to the facts on how much members of Congress spend on overseas trips. A reporter told him the State and Defense Departments refused to provide the information on expenses. Most overseas trips by members of Congress are handled through the State and Defense Departments. The President said he personally believes that reporters should have access to the information. But he noted that under a system approved by the congressional appropriations committees money for overseas trips is issued directly to the committee chairmen involved and the sole accounting is made back to these chairmen.

A-Show Set For Tri-State Fair

AMARILLO — The world's first sight of the world's most famous exhibit on the peaceful use of atomic energy will be one of many featured free attractions at the 1956 Tri-State Fair, Sept. 17-22.

"Atoms For Peace — The World of Tomorrow" is a fabulous, multi-million dollar display constructed by Atomic Energy Commission. It succeeds the one constructed in 1953 and contains latest working models of wonder machines which use atomic energy for health, food preservation, agriculture and industry.

Housed in the new $55,000 building at the Tri-State Fair, the Atoms For Peace exhibit will not be shown at any other site in Texas this year, according to Atomic Energy Commission officials.

"Men, women and children of the Golden Spread area," said President Delbert Dalby of the Tri-State Fair Association, "are most fortunate that Amarillo was selected as the first site to show this startling exhibit. It is something that no school child or adult will want to miss seeing."

Other free features at this year's

Tri-State Fair include acts direct from Ringling Brothers Circus. These acts, to be staged twice daily, include the world's greatest chimpanzee act, highlighted three weeks ago on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town.

Holiday On Ice, with the world's largest portable ice rink and a cast of more than 100 international stars, will give performances daily in Fair Park Coliseum, with three shows on Saturday, Sept. 22, closing day of this year's exposition.

Two gigantic midways, including Bill Haines Greater Shows, with new thrill rides and kiddie rides, will add to the merriment for all ages of fair visitors.

A record number of agricultural, livestock, FFA and 4-H exhibits had been received by fair officials prior to the last week in August. All indoor exhibit space had been sold four weeks prior to the fair's opening, which set a new all-time record for interest in the Golden Spread's biggest annual event.

Thirty-three bands from cities throughout the Golden Spread region and 1,000 troops from Amarillo Air Force Base, with musical units from this installation, will participate in the fair's opening parade at 11 o'clock Monday morning, September 17.

The Stamps Ozark Quartet has been booked to sing at the fair's third annual Country Singing Festival on the closing afternoon of the fair. This free event, to which everybody is invited to attend and join in the fun, will be held in the fair's sports arena, beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The Tri-State Fair, second in size and crowd appeal only to the Dallas State Fair, this year has assembled entertainment designed to encompass thrills for all ages. Interest to date indicates record crowds will attend the week-long presentation.

PTA Meet Set At Mobeetie
 MOBEETIE — (Special) — Mrs. Alvis T. Burke president of Mobeetie PTA, announced the first meeting of the 1956-57 school year to be held Monday evening, Sept. 17, in the High School Study Hall at 7:30.

A report from the Executive Committee will be given at the meeting. This committee met recently and made plans for the new year.

After the business session, Mrs. J. H. Scribner will speak on "Looking Forward With Our Schools," closing with the introduction of teachers.

A reception for the faculty members will be held immediately following the program.

Everyone is urged to attend the meeting each month, so as to become acquainted with what your school and PTA is doing in the interest of your child and your school.

Mobeetie MYF In Visit
 MOBEETIE — (Special) — The Mobeetie Methodist Youth Fellowship was well represented Monday evening in the Dozier Methodist Church where they presented a program for the District M.Y.F. Rally.

Those in attendance were: Joyce Hooker, Loretta Copeland, Nancy Copeland, Lovetta Patton, Wanda Gene Gudge, Mary Beth Kelley, Donna Risner, Inez Hooker, Glynnda Beck, Mary Helen Gudge, Elaine Barker, Sue Hooker, Glenna Patton, Anna Mae Gudge, Laura Lancaster, Gerald Grudgel, Mansel Williams, Jimmy Selby, Mrs. Ernest Gordon, Mrs. Eugene Gudge and Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Copeland.

Curiosity Gets Best Of Ike
 WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower's curiosity apparently got the better of him.

Every time Sarah McLendon, reporter for a number of Southwest newspapers, asks a question at his news conference she identifies herself as the correspondent of a different one of the papers she represents.

She did again Tuesday.

"You know, before I answer your question, will you answer me one?" Mr. Eisenhower asked her.

Miss McLendon: "Yes, sir."

The President: "Do you get fired every week and join another paper the next week?"

While other reporters were convulsed with laughter, Miss McLendon explained with a bluish that she "tried to give representation to all my papers."

"I think that is very fair," the President said, with an understanding smile.

NEW DELHI (UP) — Indian airlines are demanding a guarantee with the six Russian planes they are planning to buy from the Soviet Union, informed sources said today.

Negotiations for the planes were reported to have hit a snag with the Indians wanting the Russians to agree that if the aircraft do not work satisfactorily they can be returned and the price refunded, the sources said.
