STOCK SHOW CATALOGUERS

Explorer Scouts Schedule Pampa 'Operation Disaster'

What if the tornado which jumped over Pampa a few years back had not jumped? One third of the town would have been demolished, many injured and a complete disruption of facilities would have occurred. A similar "disaster" will occur in Pampa sometime between today and March 10. When "Operation Disaster" goes into effect. The project is one of four programs picked by representatives of Santa Fe District Explorer Scout Units to be held this year. No one will know when "disaster" will strike. Joining the operation, besides 11 units of Explorer Scouts, will be the National Guard, the Police and Sheriff's Departments, and the local Fire Department. Throughout the process of the operation, the entire city of Pampa will be directly or indirectly involved in one of the largest projects of this type ever undertaken by Explorers, according to Phil Pegues, district Scout executive.

G.O.P. Leader Says That Ike Would 'Clobber' Opponents

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower's invitation to Republican presidential hopefuls to go into state primaries merely invites them to be "clobbered" by the President himself, a GOP congressional leader said Friday. It was clear that Mr. Eisenhower's news conference remarks indicated two things: He will run for re-election. He will retire from politics. Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) said the President's announcement that he would not oppose entry of his name in presidential primaries is "an indication that we are near a favorable decision on his running again."

Ike To Aid G. O. P. In Rallies

By MERRIAM SMITH
WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower Friday night makes his first major public appearance since his heart attack to help the Republican party raise millions of dollars for the 1956 campaign. The chief executive will be principal speaker at one of hundreds of "Salute to Eisenhower" dinner rallies being staged by the GOP national finance committee from coast to coast. The occasion is the third anniversary of Mr. Eisenhower's inauguration. Mr. Eisenhower will not attend the eating part of the Washington dinner. But he will motor to the Sheraton Park Hotel in time to address fellow Republicans across the country by closed circuit television and over the radio networks on a 30-minute program beginning at 9 p. m. est. The President probably will devote most of his eight or 10-minute speech at the end of the program to encouraging a highly active effort by Republicans in the fall campaigns and to thanking the rank-and-file GOP members for their support during the past three years. Mr. Eisenhower was not expected to disclose his own 1956 political intentions. If he discusses his personal future at all, he probably will not go beyond the highly general terms he has employed in news conferences. The series of "Salute" dinners promised to be one of the most successful one-shot money raising efforts in political history. Party leaders estimated that the diners, $100 a plate in the major cities, would raise in the neighborhood of $5 million, half of which will go to the national committee and the rest to state and local GOP organizations.

Red Guns Kill 35 On Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa — UP — Communist guns killed 35 civilians and wrecked 324 homes in the Quemoy outpost islands Thursday in the hottest China-coast artillery duel in six months. Nationalist China announced Friday. Military sources predicted the Nationalists will order "strong counter-action" against the Red batteries — possibly a renewal of the naval and air bombardment that all but silenced Communist coast artillery in September. The Nationalist defense ministry said Red guns hurled 2,943 shells at Quemoy and adjoining islands in a bombardment lasting more than seven hours. Shells rained down at a rate of nearly seven a minute. The communiqué did not say how many rounds a nationalist artillery fired in return, nor did it make any mention of military casualties on either side.

Insurance Head Testifies Today

By LLOYD LARRABEE
AUSTIN — UP — A House investigating committee that has pledged itself not to hold any secret hearings will hear Insurance Commission Chairman J. Byron Saunders Friday. The committee, which is investigating the collapse of the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. of Waco, also voted Thursday to look into whether influence has been exerted on the legislature or "in the administration of the insurance laws." The House committee opened its hearings Thursday and a corresponding Senate committee recessed a three-day set of hearings. The Senate committee also decided to look into lobbying when it next holds hearings. Said He Wouldn't Tell A state auditor testified before the House committee that A. B. Shoemaker, president of the collapsed company, wouldn't tell him what happened to $35,000 withdrawn in cash from U.S. Trust & Guaranty early in 1955 — during the 1955 legislature. The state auditor was William A. Harrison, first assistant state auditor. He said he talked to Shoemaker on Dec. 30. Shoemaker shot himself in the head Jan. 7 and is still clinging to life in a Waco hospital. Harrison said one check for $15,000 and four checks for $5,000 were paid out in cash by U.S. Trust & Guaranty. He said Shoemaker told him "he didn't feel like talking about them at that time." Vote Open Hearings "He said 'If I feel like talking about them I'll tell the Senate investigating committee about them,'" Harrison said. The House committee voted to hold meetings "open to all parties at all times." State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston resigned in protest as chairman of the Senate committee last week when it voted to hold secret hearings. The House committee chairman, Rep. Wade F. Spilman of McAllen, said the committee plans calling these witnesses in the next few days. Sam Dealey of Waco, vice-president of U.S. Trust & Guaranty; Alma Mobley, an employee of U.S. Trust & Guaranty at Austin; Mrs. V. E. Ridling of Waco, secretary-treasurer; James M. Ray of Waco, a director; James L. White, teller at the First National Bank in Waco; Gordon Gardner, assistant vice president of the Citizens National Bank at Waco, and R. A. Greep, who was manager of the Austin office. Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said Thursday night at Garland, where he addressed the annual dinner of the Garland Chamber of Commerce, that "no one will doubt that the insurance industry is in bad trouble." He proposed that a public council of prominent persons be established to restore the confidence of the people in the scandalized industry. "This council could meet with honest insurance men and study the problem," he said. He said 99.9 per cent of the industry has been involved unjustly in the scandals. The Senate committee investigating the scandals decided to make its investigation of lobbying at the suggestion of Sen. Johnnie B. Rogers of Austin. He asked for a compilation of laws of other states relating to the subject. "Do you feel we need some clarification on these matters?" William S. Fly of Victoria, who is now chairman of the committee, said. "I sure do," Rogers said. Emmett Shelton, attorney for State Insurance Liquidator J. D. Wheeler, appeared before the committee. He told newsmen an estimate by Saunders that creditors of U.S. Trust & Guaranty might recover "70 to 85 per cent" of their money was "close enough."

Congressmen Call For A Policy Debate

WASHINGTON — UP — Three senators — two Democrats and one Republican — called for a "great debate" on the nation's foreign policy. The demands came as a result of the international controversy over the "brink of war" policy of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) — both members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee — called for a "complete review" of foreign policy. Mansfield said he would call for the review from the Senate floor. Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) demanded a "complete re-examination" of foreign policy after describing Dulles as an "identical twin" of former Democratic Secretary of State Dean Acheson. An international debate has raged around Dulles since last week when he was quoted as saying the United States avoided war three times since 1953 by daring to go to its brink. Other action in Congress: DISABILITY Several congressmen agreed with President Eisenhower that there is a need for rules on removing a President who is dismally. Mr. Eisenhower at his first full news conference since his heart attack said every phase of the problem must be studied. The Constitution is unclear on the subject and no law covers it. FARM Iowa's eight GOP congressmen headed by Rep. Henry O. Talle want President Eisenhower to assure them government pork-buying will be stepped up. Talle said he has asked for a White House appointment to discuss the matter with Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson. About 25 Republican congressmen from eight midwestern states also asked for a conference with Benson to urge stronger action to bolster livestock prices. NATURAL GAS Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) cautioned Democrats favoring the natural gas bill they will lose their claims to a "giveaway" issue against the Republicans if they let the bill pass Congress. REFUGES Assistant Interior Secretary Wesley A. D'Ewart and Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, president of the Wildlife Management Institute, were summoned to testify before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries committee. The committee is investigating a recent regulation issued by Interior Secretary Douglas McKay authorizing oil and gas leasing on wildlife refuges where the service found wildlife would not be harmed.

Man, What A Hole!

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — UP — Patrolman Adrian Hoogerheide said the person who reported a "bad hole" in an alley on the city's north side wasn't exaggerating one bit. "I had to have a wrecker pull me out when I drove into the hole while investigating the report," the officer said.

Fred Williams Faces Second DWI Charge

Troubles continue to mount for Fred C. Williams. The 34-year-old Pampa, whose conviction on a murder charge here last May was later reversed by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, now faces a new charge of driving while intoxicated. It is the second such charge to be filed against him in less than a year. Williams was filed on by Carson County Sheriff John Nunn following an auto mishap in Carson County. The charges were filed in the Pampa police station about 9:30 a. m. today. Williams, who was slightly injured when the car he was driving struck a highline pole just south of the Carson-Gray County line at 11:30 p. m. Wednesday, was admitted to Highland General Hospital yesterday and released this morning. Police officers picked him up at the hospital and carried him to the station, where he was placed in the custody of Sheriff Nunn. At the time of the accident, Williams was driving east on U.S. Highway 80 when the car left the road and struck the pole. Williams was arrested for driving while intoxicated in Carson County on March 18, 1955, and was tried the next day. He was found guilty and given a sentence of three days in jail and a fine of $127.35. At the time of his first arrest for DWI, he was free under a $5,000 bond on a charge of murder with malice in the slaying of Oran J. Payne on Feb. 23, 1955. Williams was convicted of murder in a trial in 31st District Court on May 27, 1955, and sentenced to six years in prison.

Election Decides Creation Of District, Tax, Governing Body

Voters in six Panhandle counties go to the polls Saturday in a three-pronged election, with the basic issue being the yes or no to the establishment of an underground water district. They will also vote on the question of levying a tax not to exceed five cents per $100 valuation for financing the operation of the district and for an individual to serve as director from each precinct. The proposed water district is to be divided into five precincts, and voting will be by rural areas and by incorporated city areas individually. Supporters of the district have made an organized appeal for voter support through both radio and newspaper advertising. There has been no organized opposition. All those who have paid their poll tax for 1955, who reside in the district and who have rendered property in the district for taxation are eligible to vote in the election. There will be two ballot boxes at each polling place, one for rural voters and one for "city" voters. Votes in the two boxes will be counted separately. One reason why a man would vote to give a district the authority to regulate his use of water given by backers of the proposal is to insure and require orderly development and use of the natural resources. To permit this development and use to be administered by citizens of a local district rather than a State or Federal agency. Once the district is organized and the directors elected, the law assigns it specific powers. The district shall be authorized to formulate, promulgate and enforce its own rules and regulations for the purpose of conserving, preserving, protecting and recharging the underground water. Benefits outlined by backers of the district include: (1) better regulation of natural gas production — a move supported by Democratic leaders of both House and Senate — Democrats themselves would be following a "giveaway" policy. Douglas came to the Senate floor armed with 150 pages of a prepared speech — and many more pages still to come. He insisted, however, that he was "not trying to talk the bill to death — I don't believe in that tactic." In his prepared speech, Douglas said the bill "would, without justice or reason, add hundreds of millions of dollars a year to the bills of the nation's gas users." If the bill were passed, he said, it is probable that the cost of gas at the wellhead, which now averages about 10 cents per thousand cubic feet, would jump another 10 cents within a year.

Dem Hits Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON — UP — Sen. Paul H. Douglas cautioned his Democratic colleagues Friday they will lose their claim to a "giveaway" issue against the Republicans if they let the natural gas bill pass Congress. The Illinois Democrat gave his opinion in preparing to begin what he predicted may be a four-day speech in the Senate against the bill. The measure would exempt independent natural gas producers from direct federal price control. "This bill is a gigantic giveaway," Douglas said. It would result in a $12.5 billion "windfall" for the producers in "increased value of gas reserves and 'gouge' the consumers more than $600 million annually in their gas bills, he said. Democrats have accused the Eisenhower administration of "giving away" various publicly owned natural resources to private industry. Douglas argued that in agreeing to lift federal regulation of natural gas production — a move supported by Democratic leaders of both House and Senate — Democrats themselves would be following a "giveaway" policy. Douglas came to the Senate floor armed with 150 pages of a prepared speech — and many more pages still to come. He insisted, however, that he was "not trying to talk the bill to death — I don't believe in that tactic." In his prepared speech, Douglas said the bill "would, without justice or reason, add hundreds of millions of dollars a year to the bills of the nation's gas users." If the bill were passed, he said, it is probable that the cost of gas at the wellhead, which now averages about 10 cents per thousand cubic feet, would jump another 10 cents within a year.

'Biggest' Storm Hits In East

By UNITED PRESS
Winter's biggest snowstorm blew into the East Friday, leaving a heavy snow cover stretching half way across the nation. The three-day storm was already blamed for several deaths from Texas to Pennsylvania. In New York city, it coincided with a strike of fuel oil and coal truck drivers and officials considered declaring an emergency. Elsewhere in the East, there was 4 inches of snow at Baltimore, Md., and 5 inches in central Pennsylvania. West Virginia also had snow, and a mixture of rain, sleet, or freezing rain coated the Carolinas and Virginia. The forecast of 3 to 5 inches of snow at New York heightened growing concern over the five-day fuel strike. Mayor Robert C. Wagner was expected to declare an emergency if settlement is not reached. Such action would authorize police seizure of fuel supplies and police protection for non-striking drivers. The big storm was born in the Gulf of Mexico and struck first at Texas, where as much as 15 inches of snow piled up. The storm rolled northeastward, breaking serious droughts in some areas and dumping 8 inches of snow on the southern Illinois city of Cairo. Ice weather hovered behind the storm front. It was 19 below zero at Minot, N.D., Friday and 25 above as far south as Fort Worth, Tex. The snows were melting in Texas Friday, but farm officials said much more moisture is needed to break one of the worst droughts in the state's memory. An Agriculture Department official said "unless it rains by planting time, folks won't even know this one came."

2,096 Poll Tax Receipts Issued

There were 2,096 poll tax receipts issued through Thursday by County Tax Collector Jack Back, and 717 exemptions given. That makes a total of 2,813 persons eligible to vote so far in 1956 elections. Poll taxes are being handled by the tax office and by deputies at various stations in the county. Deadline for paying the tax is Jan. 31.

Chuckle Corner

By HAL COCHRAN
A thief broke into an Ohio home and robbed a youngster's piggy bank. Probably beating Dad or Mom to it. When a wife bakes her first biscuits it is her most anxious moment, says a writer. And how about her hubby? Some drivers seem to think that the speed limit means how slowly you can go, not how fast. It's a question whether counterfeiters or legislators pass the most bad bills. 1956 may be a break for young girls, but it's just another leap for pedestrians.

Senator Says Firm Owes Him $1,840

AUSTIN—UP—A state senator said Wednesday A. B. Shoemaker's U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. still owes him $1,840 for legal work and expenses.

Sen. J. P. Fuller, Port Arthur, was the first of three state senators who appeared voluntarily and asked to make statements before a five-member Senate committee investigating Texas' insurance scandals.

They followed Insurance Commission Chairman J. Byron Saunders, who vehemently defended board action in regard to U.S. Trust & Guaranty.

"If I have done right, it will all come out right in the end. If I have done wrong, 10 angels swearing I am right will make no difference," Saunders said.

Promises Clean-Up

Promising an industry-wide cleaning out of borderline solvency insurance companies, Saunders said:

"I don't owe any insurance man in this state a cup of coffee and none owes me one."

Fuller, reading from a two-page prepared statement, said he wished to appear, "inasmuch as my picture and statements concerning me have been published in many of the major newspapers in Texas, regarding a connection I might have" with U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co.

"First, I wish to emphasize that I am not on retainer with the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co., nor have I received any money whatsoever from said company, directly or indirectly, other than in the following manner:

Hired at Port Arthur

"During the month of December, 1954, I was approached at our law firm of Fuller and Buford, Port Arthur, Texas, by Mr. Walter Macrely, district manager of the Beaumont office of the U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co., as to whether our firm would represent the assureds of said company in automobile collision cases filed against said assureds in the district covered by the Beaumont offices. I told him that we were willing to represent them in these matters if the fees payable from this company were on the same level and basis as those paid by other insurance carriers within our locality."

"Within a short time thereafter," Fuller continued, "Mr. Macrely returned to our office and advised us that we were to start immediately representing these defendants in our area."

"How much were you paid by the company?" he was asked.

Fuller replied that he did not know.

Source Claims Ridgway First Approved Plan

WASHINGTON—UP—An authoritative defense source said Wednesday that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway originally approved the Eisenhower administration "new look" military program which he now criticizes.

Ridgway said Monday he was shocked when President Eisenhower told Congress in his 1954 State of the Union message that the new military program was "unanimously recommended" by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In a Saturday Evening Post article that has provoked two congressional inquiries, the former Army chief said he "most emphatically" did not concur in the plan "as it was presented to people."

The defense source reported that Ridgway originally joined other new service chiefs in devising and approving the plan in the summer of 1953 but "changed his mind" by the time it was submitted to Congress in the budget in early 1954.

"The military leaders put their plan in writing, and Mr. Eisenhower approved it as presented by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, the defense authority said.

The plan curtailed ground force and built up air-atomic power.

Ridgway began to have misgivings in the fall of 1953 after consulting his Army staff and commanders, the source said and from the time the "new look" went to Congress he fought Army issues both in committees and at the Pentagon. He retired last June 30.

Oil Production Down Last Week

TULSA—UP—Crude oil production declined 24,000 barrels last week from the week before, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Daily average output for the week ended Jan. 14 was 6,981,775 barrels. This brought the year's total output to 97,983,200 barrels compared with 93,828,741 barrels for the corresponding period in 1955.

Oklahoma production dropped 33,100 barrels last week.

Kansas was down 1,500 barrels. Texas production remained unchanged.

Louisiana was down 400 barrels; Arkansas increased 200 barrels.

Defense To Buy Using Bidding

WASHINGTON—UP—The House Armed Services committee voted 36 to 0 Tuesday to force the Defense Department to do more of its buying by competitive bids.

It approved a bill repealing a wartime law which permitted the military to use secretly negotiated contracts. The bill is still subject to House and Senate action.

The committee bill would permit negotiated contracts to aid small business and for purchases of certain research and development equipment, food and certain military items. Otherwise, all buying would have to be done through advertised, competitive bids.

LIONS MINSTREL COMMITTEE MEETS

Dist. Governor Tells Lions Of Club's History

Larry Fuller, deputy district governor from McLean, traced the history of the International Lions Club yesterday noon before the Pampa Lions Club placing special emphasis on the founder, Melvin Jones.

Fuller said that the Lions Club grew out of a social luncheon club formed by a group of business men in 1913 in Chicago. A member of this club, Melvin Jones, had a "sincere desire to serve his fellow man in a humanitarian sense," Fuller said.

Fuller continued by outlining ways of obtaining new members, stressing the honor it is to be a Lion. "New members need to be put on active committees," he said. They should have an opportunity to voice their opinions because they often have new and fresh ideas, he indicated.

Henry Gruben, business manager of the Lions Club Minstrel, gave the official "kick-off" to this year's "Little Bit of Dixie" program to be presented March 1-2.

Man Fined On Driving Charge Here

Grover Cleveland Johnson, 63, of Briscoe, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while license suspended this morning in County Court. He was fined $150 and costs and ordered to pay for damages encountered in an automobile accident that took place yesterday morning.

Johnson was also charged with leaving the scene of the accident, driving on the left side of the road and intoxication, according to Chief of Police Jim Conner. His cash bond was set at $45.

Johnson's car, a '56 Mercury, was in collision with a '52 Buick, being driven by Mrs. Geneva Kuykendall of 831 Campbell St. yesterday in the 700 block of E. Campbell and 18 feet east of Reid St.

Johnson made a right turn off Reid onto Campbell and collided with the Buick approaching the intersection, while going west. Damages were estimated at $50 for the Kuykendall car, and the Mercury met with no damages.

Horse Theft
AUSTIN, Tex. — UP — In a booklet on the paleontological history of the horse, author James H. Gunn suggests that Texas ancestors of the horse date back 30,000,000 years. It has been generally believed, the booklet says, that the horse's race history began a little more than 1,000,000 years ago.

Rites Set For Mrs. J. Boese

PERRYTON — (Special) — Mrs. Justina Boese, 56, member of a prominent Ochiltree County farm family died at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday in Perryton Hospital. She had been ill for 17 weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church of Perryton with the Rev. John Harder, pastor of the Bethel Mennonite Church, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. Curt D. Boese of Walton, Kans.

Mrs. Boese was the wife of Jake D. Boese, who operates a farm 14 miles southwest of Perryton. She was born April 22, 1899, and was married to Mr. Boese on March 28, 1920, in Hooker, Okla. They came to Ochiltree County in 1925.

Survivors are her husband; three sons, Eldon of Waka, Eugene of Tucker, Okla., and Auther of Perryton; three sisters, Mrs. C. J. Voth, Clayton, N.M.; Mrs. John Neal of Guymon, Okla.; and Miss Kate Martens of Perryton; two brothers, Dan D. Martens of Todi, Calif., and five grandchildren.

Burial will be in Ochiltree Cemetery under the direction of Boxwell Bros. Funeral Home of Perryton.

HARTFORD, Conn. — UP — Arthur Lathrop still commutes daily to a bank where he started working at the age of 58. He's now 88.

Fat Stock Show Catalog Finished

Arrangements were completed for the 1956 Hereford Breeders Show Catalogue yesterday morning in a meeting of the Catalogue Committee in the Chamber of Commerce office.

This year's sale includes 32 head of fine registered breeding cattle, 20 bulls, and 12 females. The breeder's show is scheduled for the afternoon of Feb. 21, the sale is scheduled for Feb. 22.

The layouts were completed and returned to the printer yesterday. Attending the meeting were F. Jake Hess of McLean, Ralph Thomas, and E. O. Wedgeworth.

26 states issued a statement urging Mr. Eisenhower to run for a second term.
2. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said "it doesn't seem very likely" that he ever will be President. Harriman made the remark in answer to a question about what he would do "to insure peace" if he were in the White House.
3. Republicans prepared to garner millions of dollars Friday night for the 1956 campaign. Hundreds of fund-raising "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners will be held throughout the nation; President Eisenhower will be principal speaker at all of them by means of a closed television circuit and over the radio networks. He will appear personally at the Washington dinner.

Insurance Action Asked In May, 1954

GARLAND, Tex. — UP — Attorney General John Ben Shepperd disclosed Thursday night that he asked the legislature as long ago as May of 1954 to "take steps to protect the people in case some insurance companies in Texas failed."
Shepperd made the disclosure before an audience attending the annual dinner of the Garland Chamber of Commerce. He said he proposed that a "guaranteed fund" be set up to make sure policyholders would be protected.
"Nothing ever was done about it," he said. He said the proposal he made was the same as that proposed last week by officials of 23 old line legal reserve companies. If the legislature had "opened its ears," he said, present losses wouldn't be so great.
"No one will doubt that the industry is in bad trouble," Shepperd told his audience. "It needs a friend." He proposed that a public council of prominent persons be established to restore the people's confidence in the industry.
He said that 99.9 per cent of the industry has been involved unjustly in the scandal. The way he figures it, the council of prominent men could meet with "honest insurance men" and work out the problems.
Shepperd said he started investigating the insurance industry as soon as he took office. All told, 28 companies have been placed in receivership since, he said.

ELECTION

a majority against creation of the district will not be a part of it or subject to taxation. They may, however, join the district when over a majority so votes in an election. It is possible, therefore, that a town within a county will not be a part of the district while the remainder of the county or portion thereof is in the district, or vice versa.
The five directors to be elected will be elected strictly on a precinct basis, as county commission-ers are elected. Following the election, the five will draw lots for length of terms, one and two years. Thereafter, an election will be held to select successors to those whose terms expire who will serve terms of one year. On the permanent basis, therefore, terms of directors will be "staggered."
Polling places in Gray County will be located as follows: box 1, Grandview school, Paul Bowers, judge; box 2, Kingsmill, Barnett Elevator, Marvin Webster, judge; box 3, Pampa, Courthouse (Highway Patrol office), Irvin Cole, judge; box 4, Lefors, High School, W. R. Combs, judge.
Polling places in Carson County will be located at the Abel Elevator in Panhandle, H. R. Pugh, judge; Courthouse, George Graves, judge; Groom High School, Rudolph Tucker, judge; White Deer High School, L. C. O'Neal, judge. The polling place in Roberts County will be at the Courthouse in Miami with C. T. Lock as judge.

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Support Water Issue

Tomorrow's election on the creation of an Underground Water District deserves the thoughtful consideration of all qualified voters for its is, essentially, an effort to establish and maintain the right of ownership in underground water for all or parts of Gray, Carson, Armstrong, Potter, Dandley and Roberts Counties.

Determining the ownership of underground liquid minerals is always more difficult than surface areas for the simple reason that liquids recognize no easily defined property boundaries and, without establishing rights of ownership, the rule of capture prevails.

Right by capture has the shortcoming of giving the owner of surface rights a claim only to the extent to which he can extract water prior to his neighbor's ability to do the same. Hence the extensive development of irrigation poses the very likely future problem of many individuals witnessing depletion of their reserves through an inordinate use of water by their neighbors.

The primary function of the proposed district is, through five locally elected representatives, to determine patterns of well spacing and, should the water table drop excessively, regulate the withdrawals proportionately among the owners of water rights. There would also be power to assure that no well drilled would permit intrusion of foul water into fresh water sands.

The only wells covered by district regulation would be those producing more than 100,000 gallons per day for farming or continuous commercial use.

Since farmers are largely those directly affected by the creation of the district, it is only natural that Pampans examine the advantage to them of joining the district and the answer is simple.

The orderly development and use of the underground reserves means that Pampa's municipal water supply is better protected in the years ahead for it is generally agreed that the underground reservoir of the district is common.

The corporate entity of Pampa has been placed in precinct 4 and means that it has the alternative of voting itself into the precinct (and district) or out. Should Pampa decide not to join and the outlying rural areas of the precinct carry, the precinct will still be a part of the district with Pampa excluded from the standpoint of representation in matters directly pertaining to the lands where the city has most of its water rights.

Thus, it is definitely to Pampa's future welfare that it join the district.

The district is to be financed by a tax not to exceed 5c per $100 in county valuation and this rate, along with a director, will be voted on tomorrow separate to the creation of the district. An example of the cost to a rather typical city home owner, with a county valuation of $1,000, would be 50c per year.

The creation of an underground water district is exactly the purpose for which government should be maintained, i.e., the protection of rights of ownership in property which is but another way of saying the protection of the rights of ownership in life itself.

The issues are fundamental and deserve the support of every person who is interested in clarifying and establishing rightful ownership in property and a prosperous future for Pampa and the surrounding farm area.

Hankering's Mac Is Awaiting The $40,000 Average Income Per Person By HENRY McLEMORE

BETTER JOBS By R. C. HOILES

A Time Of Warning I want to quote from a news letter issued by Ralph Courtney, 318 West 56th Street, New York City 19. At the bottom of the letter he writes, "Send Names for our Mailing List." Evidently anyone can secure this news letter by mailing their name and address.

His last article is under the heading of "A Movement Opposing Social Centralization." Since this article is warning against the dangers that come from government doing things that no individual has an ethical right to do, I want to pass this on.

"A Fresh Look At Our Foreign Policy

"The American Republic was not set up as a centralist society in which all branches of social life were to be under political control. Cultural opinion in this Country, notably in matters of religion, is not subject to legislation. Business and politics were also to go their separate and independent ways. This functional separation of economics and politics, as applied to our dealings with foreign lands, is described by George Washington in stating: "The great rule of conduct for us, in regard to foreign nations, is, in extending our commercial relations, to have with them as little political connection as possible."

"By contrast, the enemies, as well as most of the friends of this Country, are highly centralized states. Their close union of politics and economics at home, reflects itself as politico-economic imperialism abroad. They trade as politically directed units. The Nationalistic element of the State, injected into all their dealings, and operative as governmental rivalry for materials and markets, inevitably leads to war.

"The enemies and friends of the United States have little patience with the functional decentralism that distinguishes this Country from theirs. Behind this lack of sympathy lies the fact that centralism cannot succeed while other countries remain decentralized. The bungling politico-economy of socialism is no match for private enterprise. Socialism can only be successful, as Lenin clearly saw, when other countries are also reduced to the socialistic level.

"Consequently, friends and enemies alike, look forward to the time when a centralizing and leveling process can be brought about in the United States. This Country must be progressively centralized and politicalized like their own. Our material well-being and our standards must be reduced to the level of theirs. Many Americans, too, under the influence of socialist opinion, are convinced that this would be good for the world: This desired centralizing and leveling process is to be accomplished through the agency of world-centralism, the United Nations.

"Yet peace can never come to the world through the action of rival imperialisms, whether inside or outside a collective organization. When one war is over, the same politico-economic dogma operate once more to lay the foundation for the next. America's dis-service to the world lies in not showing that peace can only come when culture and business are free from the nationalistic influence of the State. In the face of such freedom, politico-economic imperialism will be seen by the so-called backward peoples of the world in its true light.

"The American answer to the situation that is gradually destroying Western Civilization, need reflection in current American policy. This involves the freedom of private trading with foreign countries, with no political bias, asked or given. Such an attitude on our part would be a first step toward regaining the confidence and friendship of peoples whose resentment against all forms of imperialism would then be turned against others."

This is good advice. Our Real Danger Our real danger, as this column has repeatedly said, is not from abroad. Our real danger is not realizing that our best defense is the free private competitive enterprise system; that to the degree a government does not interfere with human initiative to create, to that degree will that nation be strong and able to produce and defend itself against those nations where the government attempts to direct human initiative.

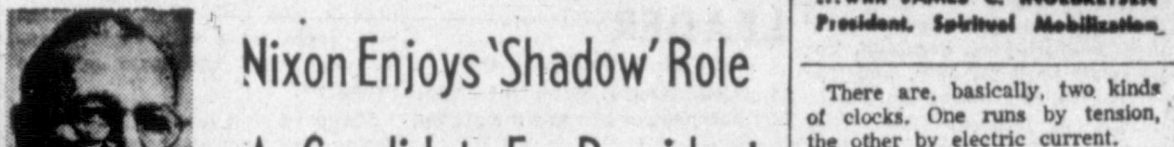

United States is so much stronger than the rest of the world for the simple reason that the government interfered less and took a smaller fraction of the national income than any other nation in the world. But instead of following this plan in recent years we have passed one collectivist law after another, and these laws have been the things that have caused long periods of unemployment, ever-mounting taxes and no one war after another. When a government attempts to direct its local economy, it has to attempt to interfere with free trade between nations and these are bound to lead to war.

Those people who are afraid that Russia will conquer the United States simply do not have faith and do not realize that free labor always out-produces slave labor and in the long run is always able to defend itself against slave labor.

I Hear You Knockin' - BUT YOU CAN'T COME IN!

National Whirligig Nixon Enjoys 'Shadow' Role As Candidate For President

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Although belittled by two influential and ambitious politicians in his home state of California—Senator William F. Knowland and Governor Goodwin J. Knight—Richard M. Nixon gives every sign of enjoying his role of "shadow candidate" for the Republican Presidential nomination.

The 43-year-old Vice President's friends are confident that he will emerge as the nominee, if President Eisenhower decides not to run. Although he will enter no primary tests against Knowland or other contenders without an explicit request from Ike, a recent survey of California sentiment by a Nixon supporter, and made with his knowledge, purported to show that he was stronger than Knowland or Knight, or the two in combination.

The canvass, admittedly a pro-Nixon operation, gave him the impression that, although not too popular with the machine politicians, he had gained stature among the voters. Another favorable factor is that Chief Justice Earl Warren, never too friendly to Nixon, cannot swing active pressure or influence because of his judicial post.

When all is said and done, however, Nixon's fate rests with Ike. A nod from the President, with promise of campaign help on television, would insure the young Californian's selection. As an indication of this possibility, it is understood that the so-called "White House regency" has made Nixon its choice over all rivals now listed in the 1966 books.

There is no doubt that Nixon will seek the honor, if Ike bows out. He has quieted down in recent months, sloughing off the brash, aggressive and controversial manner that antagonized so many people, especially the Democrats.

Two biographies of him will soon appear, and neither will hurt his prospects. And for a party in honor of his 43rd birthday on January 9, 500 of Washington's most distinguished GOP-ers attended, although it was the Capital's coldest and coldest night in many, many years.

The Democrats' control of Congress has enabled them to take full command of the Administration's farm program, and they will enact those portions which will win votes in next fall's elections. It is axiomatic that politics rather than economics will motivate the opposition, as well as many Republicans in jeopardy at the polls, in a re-election year.

The legislative situation favors the Democrats. By a narrow 209-203 vote, the House passed a bill with 90 per cent party support prices, as against the existing flexible figures now in effect at the Administration's behest. Senate Democrats will back the House version, and enough GOP-ers will join with them to throw it into

Fair Enough Gone With The Wind Writer Was Opposed To Roosevelt

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Not long before she was run down by a taxi in Atlanta in 1949 and injured so badly that she died, Margaret Mitchell calmly turned down an offer of $1,000 a week for the mere use of her name on the comic strip, "Gone With The Wind" and, as this one incident will prove, a lady of the highest ethics.

She opposed the Roosevelt spirit which came to pervade our population and her politics but flinched from open controversy for sensitive personal reasons. This gave false propagandists of Atlanta journalism presuming to speak for her, an opportunity to imply that she gave silent consent to the new carpet-bag regime which is now riding roughshod across the South. I had made a pilgrimage to Atlanta to seek out this modest and beautiful character not only because she was a great writer and historian but because a mutual friend, Ward Greene, the editor of "King Features," had tried to describe her, admittedly without real success. She and her husband, John Marsh, a reporter who had turned to publicity but was now failing of cardiac trouble, received me pleasantly in their small apartment which was not at all luxurious although it was commonly understood, and I believe true, that she had derived a great fortune from "Gone With The Wind." Her attitude toward the Roosevelt administration as expressed in that visit, was indignant. In letters which came later she forbade me to quote her in print but I honestly believe the conditions which imposed the confidence have dissolved. This is to say, both Miss Mitchell and Mr. Marsh have died and her only reason for asking me to refrain from quoting her was that "At this stage of my life, my greatest wish is to avoid anything that would center public attention on me."

"Since 'Gone With The Wind' was published," she wrote me in September, 1944, "I have had too much public attention. The problem that it brings have kept me busy for eight years and left me no time even for trying to write. In addition, my father was seriously ill for several years and needed constant care until his death in June" of 1944.

"Now that he is gone, I am trying to catch up on things left untended during the years before, to get back to the Red Cross work which I had to neglect, and to recapture some part of a normal life. If it became public, that I had collaborated with Westbrook Pegler by supplying to him this information consisting of more than 100 pages of single-space historical data concerning the carpet-baggers and scalawags, "it would stir up a furry that would disrupt my life for two or three months at least. At this time, I would like to avoid all furries and disruptions and live as quietly as possible. Please feel free to call on me for any information I can supply. I am glad to uphold your hand in the course of your work you are doing, but, right now, I if you and your wife are ever down this way, we would love to see you. I know there are thousands of people who feel the same way."

In another passage, Miss Mitchell said: "I have never been averse to controversy" and the tone and detail of her data, which she personally combed out of many reference books and typed for my information, reflect an opinion of the controversial of the Roosevelt cult in financial matters similar to her opinion of many prominent figures in the harsh political management of the South after the Civil War. The individuals under inquiry were two Delanos, Columbus Delano, who was Grant's Secretary of the Interior and an accomplished seaman; and John S. Delano, who may have been the son of Columbus, although that is not quite clear.

In brief, Columbus Delano and others, including, strangely, some very decent Georgians, "leased" by legislative action the Georgia State Railroad for $25,000 a month, stuck the State Treasury with an enormous bond issue and clouded the whole business with mystery. Miss Mitchell wrote me, "Once reconstruction was over and the troops taken out of the South, everyone was so weary from war, turmoil and bitterness that, by common consent, people agreed to forget a great many things, publicly at least."

There were both Bullocks and Bullocks mingled in the scene and even Eleanor Roosevelt, in her torrent of profitable memoirs, seems to have confused the two names. Governor Bullock, a scalawag or renegade to his beloved South, was implicated in the railroad deal. He was born in Albion, N.Y., went south and fought for the Confederacy but, after the war, joined the Republicans, scalawags and carpet-baggers. The Bullocks actually were related to Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., and, though the two tribes sometimes are confused, Miss Mitchell said "There is no more respectable, respected or looked-up-to family in Georgia than these Bullocks."

Eleanor wrote that the Delanos of her husband's line had "The coat of arms of Jehan De Lannoy, Knight of the Golden Fleece, and ancestor of the original 'Phillipe De Lannoy' whoever he may have been, hung over the door on a painted shield." The reconstruction stock from Leyden, Holland and descendants of Philippe De La Noye.

I met Margaret Mitchell once again at Hotel Lexington in New York. She asked me to call and when I mentioned this to Mr. Greene he asked me to present an offer of $1,000 a week for the comic strip under her name. She would not have to do anything. Not even read the little scenarios.

A few days ago, when I mentioned this refusal of $1,000 a week, practically for life, to Richard E. Berlin, the president of the Hearst Corp., he told me that the late William Randolph Hearst sent him to hand her a check for $100,000 — to put it right in her hand — for a single story about one of the battle-scarred pages of single-space historical data concerning the carpet-baggers and scalawags, "it would stir up a furry that would disrupt my life for two or three months at least. At this time, I would like to avoid all furries and disruptions and live as quietly as possible. Please feel free to call on me for any information I can supply. I am glad to uphold your hand in the course of your work you are doing, but, right now, I if you and your wife are ever down this way, we would love to see you. I know there are thousands of people who feel the same way."

Then she asked me my opinion of a pseudo-historian who always colors history with the political tints of the Roosevelt regime. A friend of hers, a publisher, was thinking of engaging the man to do a book. I gave her my honest opinion and he did not get the job. Miss Mitchell was devoted to her husband and always signed her letters "Margaret Mitchell Marsh, (Mrs. John R. Marsh)."

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

There are many things which do not interfere seriously with the physical health, but which yet produce an enormous amount of mental distress.

Q — I am terribly embarrassed by a body odor which I just can't seem to get rid of. I am afraid I will poison myself with the deodorants I use, and I think I will lose my mind if I can't soon get rid of it. What is your advice?—A. B. D.

A — This condition of unpleasant body odor is known as bromhidrosis and is fairly common. It can be rather general over the body or come from restricted parts of the body such as the armpits. In the latter case it is quite likely the result of both sweat and germs.

Some body odors are the result of secreting a sweat of offensive odor containing material from certain foods like onions or garlic or some emotional upsets are also said to play a part in some. In a difficult problem such as that described, obviously the use of ordinary deodorants is not enough. It would be wise to consult a physician, who might trace the source of the difficulty to the general health, the diet or something else, and perhaps a skin specialist, who might feel that cautiously given X-ray treatments would be useful.

Q — What can be done to prevent the growth of plantar warts?—J. J.

A — These warts on the ball of the foot are more difficult to treat than most other forms of warts, perhaps because they are subjected to the pressure from weight bearing. Many different kinds of treatments have their advocates including the use of chemicals, X-ray treatments, injections of various substances, radium, electro-surgery and operation. Persistence, under the direction of someone qualified in the field, generally brings relief in time.

Q — Can you give me information about the drops some eye doctors put into patients' eyes during examination for glasses? What are they and why must they be used?—Mrs. L. G.

A — The drops contain chemical substances such as atropine or homatropine which result in dilation of the pupil of the eye. This dilation permits the physician to look more effectively into the deeper tissues of the eye with his instruments and thus increases his ability to make a thorough examination. The effect lasts for several hours.

Why the spiritual qualities of honesty, unselfishness, and obedience are important to an understanding of Truth will be brought out at CHRISTIAN SCIENCE services Sunday.

Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Truth" will include Jesus' explanation of the sower and his parable of its meaning for his disciples (Luke 8).

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: (272: 3-8): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving and meek. In the soil of an honest and good heart the seed must be sown; else it beareth not much fruit, for the swinish element in human nature uproots it."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (68:15): "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering and plenteous in mercy and truth."

Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of the FIRST METHODIST CHURCH, will continue his series of sermons on the Parables of Jesus. He will preach the eighth sermon of the series, using as his topic "The Will To Do". (Read Luke 7:31-35 and Matthew 7:21-27), at the two morning worship services at 8:30 and 10:35 a.m. in the Church Sanctuary on Sunday. The Carol and Wesley Choirs will sing "Hear Us, Father" for the 8:30 a.m. service.

The Sanctuary Singers will bring the special music for the 10:35 a.m. service by singing "The Lord's Prayer". The morning worship service is broadcast over Radio Station KPND every Sunday morning from 10 to 11 a.m.

For the Sunday evening Worship Service at 7:30, Rev. Adcock will use as his sermon topic, "Being Made Whole". (Read St. John 5:6). The Chapel and Vesper Choirs will sing "Hear Us, O Lord" for the special music on Sunday evening.

Sunday: Sunday evening study classes are held for all ages at 6:30. Monday: 4 p.m. Primary Choir, 7 p.m. Troop 80 Boy Scouts, 7:30 p.m. Circle 7 of the W.S.C.S. Tuesday: 10 a.m. W.S.C.S. sub-district meeting at St. Paul Methodist Church, 4 p.m. Junior Boys' Choir, 7 p.m. Explorer Post 80 committee meeting.

Wednesday: 7 a.m. Mid-week worship service in the chapel, 10 a.m. Kindergarten Band Hour, 4 p.m. Junior Girls' Choir, 7 p.m. Family Night in Fellowship Hall. Thursday: 7:30 p.m. Sanctuary Singers, 7:30 Club Scout Pack 80.

Sunday School Worker Course To Open Here

The Assemblies of God Churches of the Pampa area are sponsoring a five night Sunday School Workers' Training School convening Jan. 23, at the Bethel Assembly of God Church, Hamilton and Worrell Sts.

The Rev. M. Russell Herndon of Tulsa, Okla., will be the instructor. Rev. Herndon is an ordained minister of the Assemblies of God, presently engaged in full-time evangelistic ministry. In 1954 the Reverend Herndon was located in Amarillo as Assistant Pastor and Educational Director of the First Assembly of God Church. He received his Bible school training at the Central Bible Institute, Springfield, Mo.

"Into All Truth" is the text book for the Workers' Training. The author, Stanley Horton, is a professor of Bible at Central Bible Institute, the headquarters Bible College of the Assemblies of God.

The two hour sessions will begin at 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. Assemblies of God Churches cooperating are: The First Assembly of God Church, 500 S. Cuyler St., Rev. Joe Neely pastor; Bethel Assembly of God Church, Hamilton and Worrell Streets, the Rev. O. E. Eldredge, pastor; 923 Mary Ellen; Skellytown Assembly of God Church, the Rev. L. A. Harper, pastor; White Deer Assembly of God Church, the Rev. George Knight, pastor; Lefors Assembly of God Church, Leslie Thompson, pastor.

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

DR. E. DOUGLAS CARVER
Pastor First Baptist Church
Pampa, Texas

YOU ASK ME WHY I GO TO CHURCH?

You ask me why I go to church?
I give my mind a careful search.
Because — I need to breathe the air where
There's an atmosphere of prayer.
I need the hymns the churches sing —
They set my faith and hope a-wing;
They keep old truths in memory green,
Reveal the worth of things unseen.
Because my neighbor needs to go —
His faith in right is rather low;
He needs the church to hold him fast
To those great truths that always last;
And when he sees me on my way
It draws him to the church to pray,
And both our hearts are lifted up to heavenly places where we sup.
Because my boy is watching me
To note whatever he can see
That tells him what his father thinks,
And with his eager soul he drinks
The things I do in daily walk,
The things I say in daily talk;
If I with him the church will share,
My son will make his friendships there,
Because the church builds up the state,
Breaks down the barriers of hate
And helps to spread unselfish life
Allay all bickerings and strife;
Sustains a wholesome public health,
And builds a righteous commonwealth;
A joyous place in which to live
With all the blessings God can give.

Westerners Surprise Most Lubbock Cage Backers

Three Teams Lead District In 1 Phase Of Statistics

By TOMMIE ELLIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Hustlin' Pampa Harvesters and the Lubbock Westerners will meet in Harvester fieldhouse tonight and the Amarillo Golden Sandies will travel to Borger where they will tangle with the tough Borger Bulldogs to open up the northern half of district I-AAAA basketball play.

The Harvesters will go into their first game with a 14-4 won-lost record while the Westerners will be boasting a 15-8 record prior to a district play.

The Sandies will be counting on their first district win as well as their first win of the season over Borger. The Bulldogs, who are expected to replace the Harvesters as the district champion, have previously defeated the Sandies by a 51-45 score. Borger boasts an 18-3 record while the Sandies have an eight and three pre-district record.

The Westerners have dropped games to Levelland, Odessa, Midland, Seminole, and Abilene while they have defeated each of the teams in two games.

The Seminole five is the only team on their schedule which they have been unable to defeat.

Pampa is rated by one of the scribes in the district as the second place team. Others feel the Harvesters have an even chance to come out with the district crown again. The Green and Golds will be in top shape during each contest if they come out to play the Sandies and Bulldogs. They will have to be playing top class ball tonight—also if they overcome the height of the Lubbock Westerners.

The northern-half of the I-A-A-A district has been known as the "district of upsets" for the past few years and previous records mean very little to any of the powers involved.

The Palo Duro Dons have defeated each of the I-A-A-A teams they have met in more than one game. The Bulldogs and Harvesters were both luckless victims of the Dons.

Borger has dropped three games and the Harvesters have fallen twice to the towering AAA five. The Amarillo Sandies defeated the Norman, Okla. five and the Dons, the following night, were the victim of the same squad for their first defeat in their history.

Pampa has fallen to Clovis and Tulsa, two teams that were defeated by other teams in the district.

The Harvesters have scored 1199 points in their 18 non-conference contests for an average of 66 points. They have allowed 1003 points to be scored against them for an average of 55.6.

The Sandies, on the otherhand, have scored only 721 points in 11 games for an average of 65.5 while they have allowed 828 for a 37.1 average.

The Lubbock Westerners have scored 1,344 points in 23 games for a 58.4 average while their opponents have scored 1,243 for a 54.4 point per game average.

The Borger Bulldogs have racked up the most points of any team in the district with a grand total of 1,948 in 21 games for a 73.7 average while their opposition has scored 1,120 for a 53.5 average.

That leaves the Bulldogs with the best average in the district and the Harvesters would be second. Amarillo would take the third spot with their 65.5 average while the Westerners would place fourth with a 58.4.

The Westerners have scored more points in a single game than any other team as they defeated Crane 104-55. Pampa would place second in that department with a 92-43 licking of Clovis and Amarillo last as their highest score of the season was 77-44 over Plainview.

The Westerners held Big Spring to 32 points for the best defensive game of the four teams while Amarillo is second with its 70-34 victory over Dumas. The Bulldogs are third in the defensive bracket with their 60-37 defeat of Capitol Hill and the Green and Golds rank last in defense as the smallest number of points scored against them was in the 47-41 Tulsa Contest.

Toss them all together and you have a scrambled up district with each team except the Harvesters leading in one phase of the statistics.

International Cup Dropped From Tam O' Shanter

CHICAGO—UP—George S. May has dropped the International Cup matches from his annual Tam O'Shanter August golf tournament program and no longer will pay expenses for foreign competitors in the "All American" or "World" events, it was learned Friday.

A spokesman said the International Cup matches, held for the past two years between the "All American" and "World" events, were cancelled because of "lack of public interest."

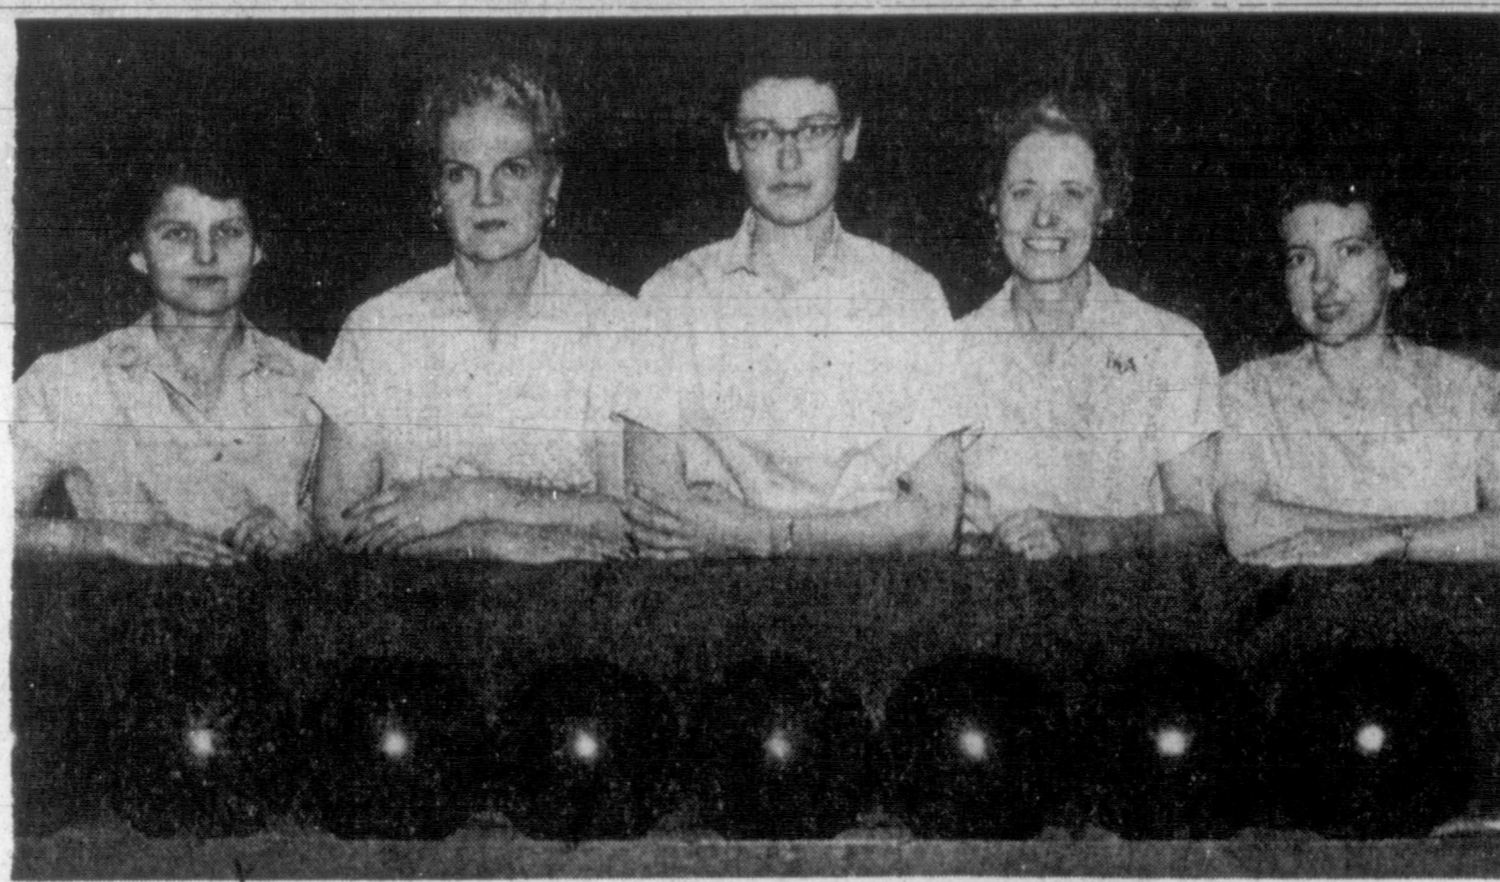

"Even letting the public in free," he said, "nobody came to see them."

The matches paired the top eight foreigners to finish in the "All American" against the top eight Americans in the same event. The Americans won both matches held with ease.

The tournament had paid transportation and living expenses for approximately 20 foreign professionals for the past five seasons to compete in both the "All American" and the "World" and the spokesman said expenses averaged $2,000 apiece.

Experts Say U.S. Will Win 5 Skating Medals

By PETER UBERSAX
CORTINA, Italy—UP—Experts watching America's smooth figure skating squad at practice Friday predicted it would win five Olympic medals—including one by injured Tenley Albright.

"They said the U.S. would take the first three places in the men's events and the first two in the ladies' events."

The predictions were made despite an injury suffered Thursday by pretty Miss Albright, the world figure skating champion from Newton, Mass., who cut her right leg while working out. She is expected to be out of action only four or five days.

According to pre-Olympic consensus Hayes Allen Jenkins, the men's world champion from Colorado Springs, Colo., is picked to win the gold medal while Hayes' brother, David, and Ron Robertson of Long Beach, Calif., are figured to nail down second and third places.

Miss Albright is expected to lead the ladies' category with pretty Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y., who celebrates her 16th birthday Friday, a close second.

The accident suffered by Miss Albright Thursday was only one of a series involving six athletes from five different countries.

Roy Sherwood of New Canaan Conn., one of the U.S. top ski jumpers, suffered a possible broken rib when he fell on the first leap of the Olympic hill.

Nikolai Schamov, a Russian skier, sustained cuts and bruises on his face when he suffered a mishap during one of his trial jumps. Russian officials said he would be all right in a few days. Italy's slalom champion, Bruno Alberti, was another skiing casualty. He twisted his ankle while trying to avoid a spectator during a practice run.

Bobsled practice runs were halted after two brakemen, Heinrich Anger of Switzerland and Andre Donnet of France, were catapulted through the air when their sleds struck a hole in the famed Belvedere curve. They were lucky, however, escaping injury.

The best U.S. showing of the day was turned in by Art Devlin, the 33-year-old ski jumper from Lake Placid, N.Y. He soared 80 meters (262.4 feet) on his third leap. Aulis Kallaporpi of Finland made the best jump of the day, leaping 83 meters (272.2 feet).

Guglielmo Scheibmeier of Italy was fastest on the bobbed run with a clocking of 1:23.19 before practice was halted. The U.S. sled had the fourth and fifth best times.

Red Raiders Are In Market For Assistant Coach

LUBBOCK—UP—Texas Tech was in the market for a new assistant coach Friday in the wake of the resignation of Dee Andros, who quit to take a similar post at Nebraska.

Athletic Director DeWitt Weaver said he already had in contact with a possible successor, but did not divulge his name.

Andros, who had been here two seasons after one year at Kansas and three at Oklahoma, will report to Nebraska next week. It was reported he would draw $7,200 there.

He became the third former Oklahoma coach on the Nebraska staff. Head Coach Pete Elliott was hired only recently from the Norman school and Elliott in turn signed on Bill Jennings as one of his assistants. Jennings had been out of coaching for one year, but had served with both Elliott and Andros under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma.

"Worrying Coach" Is Hospitalized

CHICAGO—UP—Assistant Coach Ed Dawson took over as Loyola basketball coach Friday while his boss George Ireland began undergoing treatment for a bleeding ulcer.

His physician, Dr. Robert Crane, said he planned the use of blood transfusions and possibly may resort to surgery to bring Ireland back to health. Ireland is known as a "worrying coach" who frets over his victories as well as his losses.

Dizzy Davis Keeps Title; Beats Geigel In Two Falls

Dizzy Davis held the Southwest States Heavyweight title Wednesday night by defeating Big Bob Geigel in two straight falls.

Geigel lost his temper in 11 minutes 17 seconds of the first fall and took a poke at the referee and tossed him from the ring. He then got Davis in the corner and punched him until he fell to the canvas. He was only giving Davis his "last dues" according to the cheering crowd.

This bit of illegal tactics cost Geigel the first fall on a disqualification.

The second fall proceeded with some of the roughest wrestling ever presented in the Shriners' Ring with both Geigel and Davis on the ring apron or on the floor outside the ring most of the time.

This second fall lasted 21 minutes and 18 seconds before "Big Bob" missed an attempted flying-head scissors and went flying over the ropes into the crowd perched in the reserve bleachers.

He was not able to get back into the ring before the count of 20 and Davis was given the second fall and the match.

The semifinal event went off with Rip Rogers, the wrestler with many illegal holds.

Merk Lewin won the first fall in eight minutes and three seconds with a body press. Rogers took the second fall in three minutes and 17 seconds, also with a body press, after he had softened Lewin up considerably.

Rogers came back and took the

George Maypole Died Thursday

PALM SPRINGS, Calif.—UP—George Maypole, former Illinois state senator and one-time co-owner of the Chicago Bears pro football club, died at his winter home here Thursday. He was 72.

Maypole was co-owner of the Bears with George Halas and with him promoted the first professional football game at Soldiers Field. He was Illinois state senator from 1930 to 1942.

Lubbock Cagers Boast 15 Wins, Eight Losses

By CHARLES GILLESPIE
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

LUBBOCK, Jan. 20 — Pleasantly surprising, the Tom S. Lubbock Westerners have compiled a 15 won 8 lost record thus far in the basketball season — which is just about 13 more wins than many of their "backers" would have predicted before the season started.

For Max O'Banion, beginning his first season as head coach after serving two years as Dave Cook's assistant, started the season without a single returning letterman or even a squadman.

In fact, he even lost the top two boys off the B team — they lived in the section of the city in which the new Monterey High School is located.

However, the Westerners have defeated every team they've played more than once, except defending Class AA State Champion Seminole which seems to hold a pretty healthy jinx over their heads.

Otherwise the Lubbock quintet can boast of victories over Big Spring, Odessa, Midland, Snyder, Crane, Tahoka, Plainview, Abilene, Abernathy, Alpine and San Angelo, — at least four of those are I-AAAA schools.

Leading scorer thus far has been 6-3 junior Max Hood who's been especially impressive in recent weeks. Behind him are 6-4 senior Don Eddleman and 6-1 senior Cotton Sumner, the team's leading outside shooter. Rounding out the starting lineup are Co-Captains Ed Watson (5-10) and Kenneth Williams (6-1).

Hood has averaged 12.8 points per game this season. Eddleman 11.8 and Sumner 11.0. The latter has been handicapped in the last three starts with a touch of influenza, but should be in near-top shape for the Pampa opener.

A top sub is 6-3, 210-pound E. J. Holub, who gained some mention as an all-state footballer this past fall.

The Westerner season record with their score listed first: Levelland 46-55; Big Spring 51-32; Odessa 36-38; Midland 47-32; Big Spring 51-46; Snyder 62-52; Midland 60-51; Seminole 49-39; Jefferson of ELCA 72-56; Seminole 62-66; Abilene 53-68; Plainview 62-59; Abilene 75-59; Abilene 56-47; Odessa 47-44; Plainview 68-47; Abernathy 58-47; Snyder 62-48; Abilene 49-45; Alpine 64-59; San Angelo 62-60.

All proceeds will go back into the "boys work fund" and will be used to further the Optimist Club's work with Pampa's boys.

Tickets are now on sale at Richard's Drug and all persons who want to can purchase tickets for each night.

Admission for reserved seats, which will include ring side and reserved bleachers, are $1.50 and all general admission tickets will be $1. Children under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents and high school admission will be 75 cents.

All proceeds will go back into the "boys work fund" and will be used to further the Optimist Club's work with Pampa's boys.

Ring Officials Face Stiff Charges In TV

CLEVELAND—UP—Three officials of the International Boxing Guild were scheduled to appear before federal Judge James C. Connell Friday to answer charges they violated the Sherman Antitrust Act by prohibiting members to participate in televised "studio" boxing shows.

President Charlie Johnston, Treasurer William Daily, and Albert Delmonte, president of the Ohio chapter, were indicted by a grand jury here Jan. 10. The organization itself also was named in the indictment.

The three individuals were expected to appear personally before Judge Connell. After submitting their plea—all have indicated they will claim innocence—the judge will set bond requirement and a trial date will be fixed.

Maximum penalty is a $50,000 fine and a year in jail.

Attorney General Herbert C. Brownell, in a statement at the time of the grand jury action, said the indictment "strikes at alleged, coercive boycotts which have restricted free enterprise."

Alex Agase Will Take Position At Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill.—UP—Alex Agase, former All-American line man and pro football star, will be appointed as Northwestern's defensive line coach as soon as he gets a release from a similar post he now occupies at Iowa State College, a spokesman said Friday. Agase was expected to ask for his release Friday.

Meanwhile the appointment of Edward Schembechler, line coach at Bowling Green University, Bowling Green, Ohio, as Northwestern freshman football coach was announced. Schembechler is a graduate of Miami University.

STILL WORKING

Time Out With Tom

By TOMMIE ELLIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

It's that time again and lest we forget the Lubbock Westerners will be in Harvester Fieldhouse tonight for the district opener. Then next week the Pampa Optimist Glemen will put themselves "all out" to capture honors at the Pampa District Golden Gloves tournament set for Monday through Wednesday.

The Lubbock Westerners, who average 6-14 and who have scored more than 100 points in at least one game this season, are not out of the running.

Last year they were in the cellar and came through to upset the Borger Bulldogs because they were over-confident when they met the Westerners in Lubbock territory. We feel that any team in the district that under-rates the South Plains quintet will be in for a sad disappointment.

The Harvester, if they are not cold, should be able to come out of their district opener with a few points margin over the Lubbock 'ive unless they are too confident.

We think the forthcoming District Golden Glove Tournament is going to be the best ever held in Pampa. Why? Well let's take a look at the names on the card.

First of all in the open division we have such names as Bobby Wilhelm, Scooter Darden, Kenneth Wood and Johnny Vineyard. These

Slue Hull, Texas Cage Chief, Quits

AUSTIN — UP — Thurman B. (Slue) Hull, who has a record of 54 wins and 55 losses in the five years he has been basketball coach at the University of Texas, has resigned to enter another field. Dana X. Bible, Texas athletic director, announced Thursday night that Hull has resigned, effective at the end of the current season. Hull was not available immediately to say what new field he planned to enter.

Bible was not prepared to comment on a possible successor. But he said that as Hull enters "his new field, we will follow him with a lot of interest." Hull has made a "fine contribution to Texas as a player and as a coach," he said.

Before coming to coach at Texas, Hull coached at Temple, Tex., high school and Lamar Technological College in Beaumont. His lifetime coaching record is 136-98. His Texas team was Southwest conference co-champion in 1954.

Texas was a runner-up in 1952 and 1953. Hull succeeded Jack Gray as Longhorn coach in 1951. He starred as a player for Gray and was on the 1939 championship team Gray coached.

"The game of basketball has been very good to me, and I leave the university with a sincere feeling of gratitude for all of those who have been so kind to me," Hull was quoted as saying in the statement Bible issued.

Aggies Drop Sam Houston 75 To 46

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. — UP — Texas A&M beat Sam Houston 74-46 Thursday night, even though Sam Houston out-rebounded the winners 38-22.

Ken Hutto paced the Aggies with 15 points in the non-conference basketball game, starting off with the first score of the game on a jump shot.

Al Adams of Sam Houston tied the opening score with a tap shot, but Fritzie Connally started a point spurge for the Aggies that put them out in front to stay.

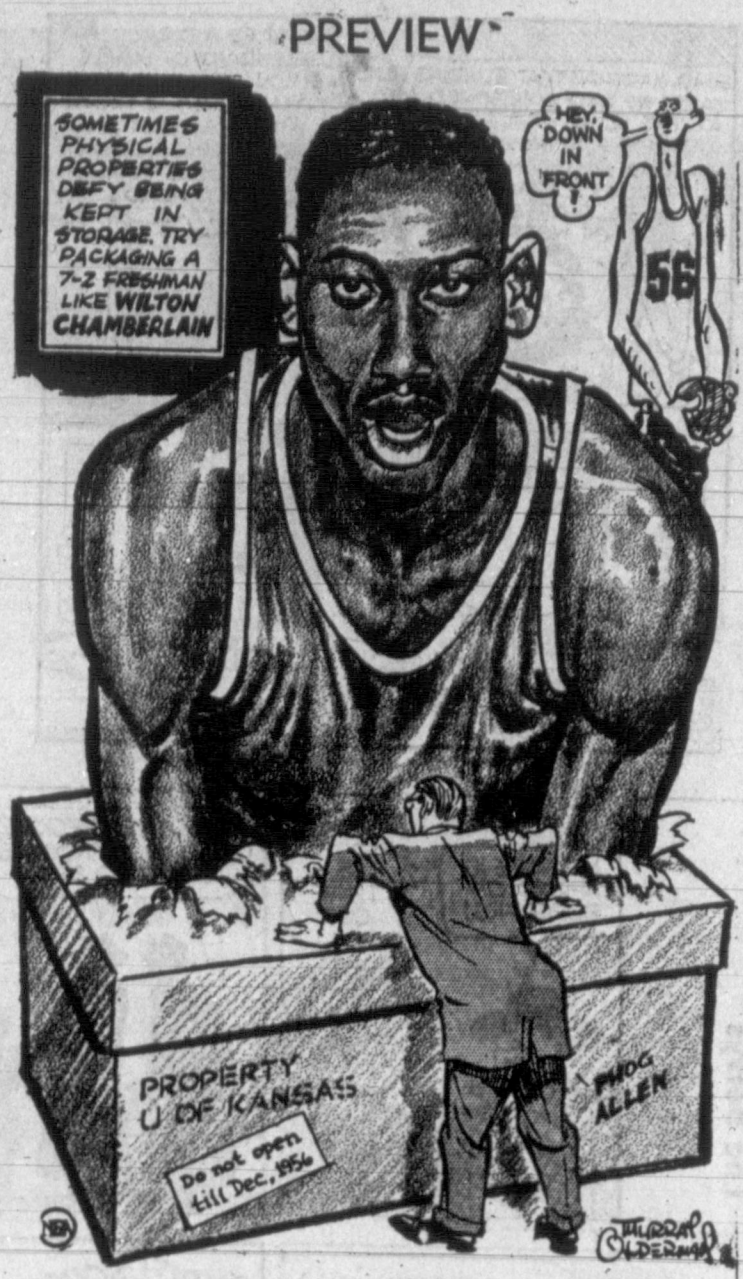

The Cadets led 32-18 at halftime. Bill Brophy had 14 for the winners while George McHaffey had 11. Adams led the losers with 12 points.

A&M hit 25 field goals out of 64 attempts to Sam Houston's 15 out of 58. The victory gives A&M a 5-10 season record.

The Aggies play Texas Christian at College Station Saturday night in their return to conference play, while Baylor meets Rice the same night.

Rocky to Attend Dinner
NEW YORK — UP — Heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano of Brockton, Mass., agreed Wednesday to attend Thursday night's annual dinner of the Boxing Writers Association here and present the "rookie of the year" award to a New England fighter. Rocky will give the silver plaque to Bobby Murphy, unbeaten young Boston welterweight.

PREVIEW Steers Win Rodeo As Most Cowboys Take "No Time"

DENVER — UP — The stock was too tough for the cowboys Thursday in the National Western Rodeo, as five out of the nine calf ropers took "no time," and half the 10 steer wrestlers found themselves in the same predicament.

"No time" in an event means a contestant cannot share in the prize money for that go-round.

Only two of 10 brahma bull riders qualified in the matinee, and fewer than half the bronc riders managed to stay on for the regulation time.

Thursday results: Bareback Bronco — 1. Jack Carson, Lewiston, Idaho, 2. Dick Johnson, Billings, Mont., 3. Bill Lawrence, Boulder, Colo.

Calf Roping — 1. Bill Price, Brownfield, Tex., 15.0 seconds, 2. Vex Connelly, Fresno, Calif., 15.7, 3. Cody Miller, Gila Bend, Ariz., 16.4.

Saddle Bronco — 1. F. Smith, Donalda, Alberta, Canada, 2. Jack Buschhorn, Cassville, Wis., 2. Don Toelle, Burns, Ore.

Steer Wrestling — 1. Buff Doucett, Roswell, N.M., 7.3 seconds, 2. Carl Mendes, Visalia, Calif., 8.4, 3. Lee Roberts, Batesville, S.D., 9.3.

Brahma Bull Riding — 1. Dwight Maddux, Wiser, Idaho, 2. Mardelle Dixon, Imperial, Neb.

Noticed were an Amarillo scribe thinks if the Sandies can't defeat the Harvester Cagers they will try to get rid of the coach. They want to get rid of the Pampa guide though. Putt Powell is trying to ship him off to the University of Texas. We think he is good enough for the spot down there but we also want to keep him.

Glad to see that Jerry Walker, former Pampa Harvester presently at Texas Tech is to be drafted by the Chicago Cardinals. We are also sure that if he can get by the upcoming knee operation he will be a great help toward bringing the Cardinals up in the Pro football loop.

Ronnie Rice, Lefors, was named as an all district back-fieldman on the District 1-A football team. J. Herring, M. Nichols, B. Rippy and T. Hedrick were placed on the honorable mention list.

Stinnett placed nine on the team while Wellington, McLean, Clarendon, Canadian, and Panhandle each had two boys on the team. White Deer and Memphis placed one each on the 22 man squad. We think Lefors did well in placing Rice as may injuries as they had during the past season.

We are wondering what Amarillo fans will do the officials when the Sandies and Dons get together. We know the officials won't have a chance if the game is close. Half of the fans will be booing the referee at one time and the other half the remainder. Sure wouldn't want to be an official at a Sandie-Don contest. We say this because of some of the Pampa-Sandie games we have witnessed.

Pampa fans are getting a little on the critical side too though. We recall the Tulsa-Harvester contest when the Hornets dropped the Harvester 55-54.

Bums Offer Robinson $7,000 Cut In Salary

By UNITED PRESS
The Brooklyn Dodgers are trying to get Jackie Robinson to hold still for a $7,000 salary slice, but if they are unsuccessful, the Chicago White Sox, among other clubs, have indicated they'll be glad to take him off their hands.

Robinson huddled an hour with Brooklyn Vice President Buzzy Bavaal Thursday but failed to come to terms. The Dodgers then said that they and the 36-year-old Robby "are not too far apart." But that's the same thing they said two weeks ago.

There have been repeated questions as to whether Robinson would play ball again this year and to all those questions he has replied, "That depends on the contract I get." He received an estimated $40,000 last year.

Brooklyn, well fixed at third base with Ransom Jackson, who was obtained from the Cubs, and also loaded with seven left field candidates, is not exactly in dire need of Robinson, despite his .315 lifetime batting average.

Couldn't Get Waivers
An official of the White Sox has admitted they tried to get Robinson late last year but Brooklyn could not get him out of the National League on waivers. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh reportedly also are interested in Robinson even though the .256 average he compiled last season was his worst in the majors.

Robinson is anxious to get in his 10th year in the big leagues and the Dodgers claim they are eager to have him with them. The veteran infielder-outfielder concedes he'll take a cut, but he insists "not too big a one."

Elsewhere around the major league orbit, the Cubs announced they now have a total of 26 players under contract with the signing of first baseman Frank Keller, right-handed pitcher Bill Tremel and rookie shortstop Ritchie Myers.

In Winter Deal
Kellert batted .325 in 39 games for Brooklyn last season and came to the Cubs in a winter deal. Tremel had a record of three victories and no defeats after the Cubs brought him up from Shreveport of the Texas League last July 22. Myers batted .256 with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League.

Catchers Sherman Lollar and Carl Sawatski, utility outfielder

Ron Northy and pitcher Bill Ficher signed with the White Sox, giving them a total of 18 players under contract. Lollar, the only White Sox regular among the four signees, batted .261 last season.
