Missionaries' Fate Checked By 'Copter

QUITO, Ecuador — UP — A U.S. Air Force helicopter whirled off into the "green hell" jungles of eastern Ecuador Thursday to determine the fate of three American Protestant missionaries feared slain by bloodthirsty Indians.

The copter, flown in Wednesday from the Panama Canal Zone, will take off from Shell Mesa, an oil camp which is the civilized outpost nearest the point where the missionaries' wrecked plane was sighted late Monday.

Searchers in an Albatross rescue engine amphibian sighted the bodies of two of five missing missionaries near the wreckage Wednesday. The dead were identified tentatively as T. Edward McCully, Wauwatao, Wis., and Roger Youdwin, Billings, Mont.

Fate of Three Unknown

No trace has been found of Nathaniel Saint, Fullerton, Calif., Peter Fleming, Seattle, Wash., and James Elliott, Portland, Ore., who flew into Aucas Indian country with McCully and Youdwin Sunday. A report that a small fire had been sighted near the wreckage gave rise to some hope that one or more of them survived the Indian attack.

Search planes that crisscrossed the area Wednesday saw no signs of life however, and authorities in Quito believe all five of the missionaries were massacred by the savage Indians.

Thought Them Friendly

Robert Savage, chief evangelist of Protestant missionaries in Ecuador, said the five men flew into Aucas country from Shell Mesa Sunday, after Saint and McCully had found the Indians apparently friendly on a previous flight.

No one could tell immediately what turned the Indians against the missionaries, but the Aucas are known to have hair-trigger tempers that require only the slightest provocation to set them into a bestial rage.

The tribe has been constantly on the warpath for at least 40 years, not only against white "trespassers" in their jungles but against other Indians.

Ike On Ballot For Illinois Primary

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower's name will go on the ballot in the Republican presidential primary in Illinois April 10.

But the state's primary is scheduled for Wednesday that doesn't mean Eisenhower has made up his mind about running for a second term. The White House statement quickly followed an announcement by Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois that he will enter Mr. Eisenhower's name in the Illinois primary.

Farm Group Asks Emergency Action

WASHINGTON — UP — The National Farmers Organization called on Congress Thursday for emergency action to prevent farmers from going broke.

Oren L. Staley, Res., Mo., cattle breeder and president of the newly-formed NFO with headquarters at Corning, Iowa, said declining farm income and high production costs have forced a depression on agriculture.

Face Liquidation Quick

Staley, a 6-foot, 200-pounder with black wavy hair, was flanked by three officers of the farm group while talking of farm problems in a hotel room Wednesday. He was aided by NFO director Edward A. Glenn, crinkly-faced farmer of Louisiana, Mo.

NFO Vice President Harry Grundman, Prescott, Iowa, and director John D. Warin, Maloy, La., were silent, except when answering questions directed to them.

"A banker friend in southwest Iowa told me 25 per cent of the farmers in his area face liquidation in the next 60 to 90 days," Staley said. "Unless something is done, small town business men are hurting, too."

Seek Full Parity

The farm organization, which claims its membership snowballed from fewer than a score of farmers in September to more than 71,000 now, is seeking 100 per cent parity for all farm products, an immediate floor of about $20 per hundredweight on butcher hogs and about $30 on good choice cattle, adequate emergency credit, and assurance that the farmer will get "fair" market treatment.

Staley said NFO wants the "same protection for agriculture that was enjoyed by other segments of the economy." He referred to renegotiation of defense production contracts after the Korean truce. He said there was no renegotiation for agriculture.

Glenn said he bought a tractor in 1948 for the price of 26 fat hogs. The same tractor now would cost 175 hogs, he said.

He told the manager of the apartment to call an ambulance which carried him to the Worley Hospital yesterday afternoon, where he was immediately admitted.

His father, Ralph Chisum, is connected with the Auto Supply Co. of Amarillo.

Hospital Handled 6,325 During '55

A total of 6,325 patients were admitted to Highland General Hospital last year, an increase of 744 persons over 1954. Major and minor operation performed in 1955 totaled 1,777 as compared with 1,560 operations in 1954.

Patient days totaled 27,807 (23,399 in '54), a total of 633 babies were born, and 65 persons died in the hospital during 1955. There were 603 births and 72 deaths in 1954.

A total of 570 persons were admitted to the hospital last month as compared with 508 admissions in December of 1954. Other statistics for last month are as follows: Patient days — 2,427, major operations — 55, minor operations — 95, births — 56, c. sections — 4, and six deaths.

McKernan To Head Hospital Board

New officers of the Highland General Hospital board of directors were named last night in a monthly business sessions that found two new board members attending for the first time.

Roy McKernan was unanimously selected to serve as board chairman in '56. He will replace George Scott, of Scott Oil Co., who outlined the duties and responsibilities of board members. Don Conley was named as vice-chairman and J. W. Meacham of McLean was selected as secretary. Outgoing secretary was Fred Thompson.

New board members, who were recently appointed, are Travis Lively, Sr., and H. R. Thompson. Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., attended the session in the capacity of chief of staff, replacing Dr. Ed Williams who served for the past year.

A resume of the activities of the board in 1955 was given by Scott, who also presented a statistical and financial report. In January of 1954, the balance of hospital funds totaled $55,850.40 as compared with $90,815.50 in January of 1955. Salaries of medical personnel increased during the past year, along with medical expenses and equipment. A total of $16,000 was spent for equipment in 1955 with

Farm Bill Issue

Ellender Blasts Agriculture Dept.

WASHINGTON — UP — Chairman Allen J. Ellender of the Senate Agriculture committee said Thursday the Agriculture Department is threatening hopes for a bi-partisan farm bill.

Ellender said the threat comes from the department's apparent insistence on drafting an "Eisenhower farm bill" for submission to Congress. The Louisiana Democrat said his committee is "competent" to draft its own bill.

The committee summoned Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to appear before it Thursday. Later, it was scheduled to hear from leaders of major farm organizations at a closed session.

Ellender asked Benson to submit recommendations on farm legislation to the committee. The chairman said the recommendations would be considered along with the committee's findings during its "grass roots" national tour last fall.

SCHOOLS — President Eisenhower sent his school aid message to Congress at noon. It called for providing $1,250,000,000 in federal grants to states during the next five years for school construction. The money would go only to school districts already trying to solve their classroom shortages.

AL SARENA — A congressional investigation into the Al Sarena Oregon mining claims has recessed until Tuesday amid a political free-for-all. The Interior Department granted Al Sarena Mines, Inc., of Mobile, Ala., rights to 15 mining claims that are beneath national forest land. The grant reversed a department decision during the Democratic Truman administration. Democrats charge the grants are being used for "mining" timber.

PRINTING — Rep. Paul C. Jones (D-Mo.) said he is fighting an uphill battle this year to get Congress to cut its annual $2 million printing bill. He proposed as a start congressmen should refrain from "promiscuous insertion of extraneous material" into the Congressional Record—like speeches of hometown lodge officials.

PENSION — The American Legion has asked Congress to give pensions to all needy veterans beginning at age 65. National Legion Commander J. Adolph Wagner submitted the request to the House Veterans committee.

CONTRACT FOR McLEAN CLINIC — Lease Drawn — A contract was drawn up this morning by County Attorney Don Cain for the lease of the McLean Clinic, now under construction, to the City of McLean by Gray County.

The contract calls for the City of McLean to lease the clinic for a period of 10 years at $1 per year. Signing of the contract pending its acceptance of by both the City of McLean and the county. McLean is expected to sign a contract at the next meeting of the McLean city council. The council is expected to meet next Tuesday. Gray County officials probably will not sign the contract until their next scheduled meeting, February 1.

Boyd Meador, McLean civic leader and C. P. Callihan, in charge of the construction of the hospital clinic, asked the commissioners court to finance construction of sidewalks around the clinic. The court agreed to finance the sidewalks and authorized Callihan to call for bids for the work.

In other action, the court authorized additional payment to the Pampa Jaycees of $150 for equipment to be installed in the Free Dental Clinic for underprivileged citizens of the county. The dental clinic will be installed in Highland General Hospital.

The commissioners also agreed that the County Doctor should decide the duration of a county patient's stay in the hospital at county expense. The doctor will take full charge of welfare cases handled by the county.

The group appointed Charles L. Robison as public weigher for the county.

J. E. Corson, Pioneer Builder, Dies

John Edward Corson, 80, who built one of the first buildings in Pampa — the old C. B. Barnard Building — died at 11:30 last night here, following an illness of five years.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Duemel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel tomorrow at 11 a.m. with Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Born in Philadelphia, Penn., on Jan. 19, 1870, he moved with his family to "No Man's Land" in 1876 at which time Boyd, Okla., was originated. Later he moved to Dodge City, Kans.

Corson came to Canadian in 1888. He was agent for the Pierce Forcye Oil Co. for several years, owned a transfer line and a farm for a number of years. In 1902 he built the Barnard Building at the corner of Chrysler and Foster Streets.

He was married to Elizabeth Harriot White on Nov. 18, 1903, in Canadian. They are the parents of Mrs. Harvey Todd of Amarillo.

In 1919 Mr. Corson moved to Pampa and had made his home here until he became ill. His wife died on Sept. 17 of 1952.

Palbearers will be Clyde and Earl Mead, Jim White, Skeet Roberts, Clinton Henry, and Wayne Winslet.

The family requests that no flowers be presented for the funeral.

Perryton's Boom Biggest In Area

By JOEL COMBS
Pampa News-Staff Writer
PERRYTON — Perryton and its surrounding territory was the "boomiest area in the Top o' Texas" last year.

A population increase of over 10 per cent during the year brought the estimated number of people living in Perryton proper to "approximately 5,500."

Perryton postal receipts were the largest in history during 1955, according to Postmaster Irvin Hergert. Total receipts were $42,984.55, compared with $40,207.96 in 1954.

December business was the best single month in Perryton post office history, Hergert said, and the yearly total sales of money orders was also a new high.

During December, the receipts were $8,431.25.

Money orders for the year totaled $196,395, compared with $175,651 a year ago.

Postal receipts include only the sale of stamps, and about 75 per cent of these are three cent stamp sales, Hergert commented.

In spite of the record-breaking December, the office operated without employing extra help. There are five carriers, five clerks, one rural carrier, two star route carriers, assistant postmaster Arvie Hale and postmaster Hergert on the payroll.

The Perryton post office reached first class status in 1952, then dropped below the required $40,000 yearly receipts in 1953. The lost ground was regained in 1954 and receipts increased in 1955.

Building permits in December totaled $27,000 in Perryton, bringing the total for the year to $214,500 in residential and business construction.

This is more than a year ago but falls short of the building activity of several years ago.

The building permits during December included Blakemore Motel, $20,000; Ray Bowles, house, $5,000; J. H. Ferguson, addition, $1,000; T. O. Patton residence, $10,000.

During 1955 there were six business buildings constructed or remodeled and there were 32 residential building permits issued for new houses or remodeling.

Ex-State Attorney Claims He Can Prove Fraud, Graft

By LLOYD LARRABEE

AUSTIN — UP — A former attorney for the state liquidator said Thursday he "can and will" present evidence of "fraud, graft, bribery and negligence" in connection with 10 insurance companies now in receivership.

The statement was made by Renne Alfred, who served as attorney for the liquidator until he was ousted in a dispute with the State Board of Insurance Commissioners in September, 1954.

Alfred said he was ready to present evidence to the State Senate's General Investigation committee, before which he appeared last Dec. 22, the same date that an injunction was clamped on operations of the collapsed U.S. Trust Guaranty Co.

Ready to Testify — The committee met Wednesday, but the committee split when four members voted to hold a secret session on a report saying U.S. Trust & Guaranty made payments to state legislators, and Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston, chairman, resigned from the committee.

In other developments, a new investment company also was drawn into the mushrooming Texas insurance scandals.

Alfred said he was ready and waiting to appear when the Senate investigating committee convened Wednesday and will "testify if and when I am asked."

Charges Graft, Bribery — "I can and will produce evidence of these four things: Fraud, Graft, bribery and negligence in at least 10 insurance companies now in receivership; fraud on the part of the organizers of the companies; graft and bribery on the part of former insurance examiners; negligence on the part of the insurance commission, and some of its examiners," Alfred said.

In Alfred's appearance before the Senate committee on Dec. 22, he said under oath that J. Byron Saunders, now chairman of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners, told him in the summer of 1954 that "U.S. Trust is broke."

Saunders later denied the statement.

Releases Memorandum — Alfred, a brother of former governor and now U.S. District Judge James V. Alfred, released copies of a memorandum dated Aug. 12, 1954, from Byron Lockhart, an attorney for the liquidator, to Alfred.

The memorandum traced operations of U.S. Trust and its president, A. B. Shoemaker, and said that as of that time possibly "the company is insolvent and could not liquidate for enough money to pay its debts."

Alfred also released a separate memorandum dated Sept. 1, 1954, from Lockhart to Alfred, saying (See BRIBERY, Page 2)

Case of Money Unknown — U.S. Trust said its auditors questioned employees of U.S. Trust, but "we didn't find out what the cash was used for."

Payments shown in the report included:

A draft paid to Sen. Kilmer Curbin of Lubbock on Dec. 16, 1954 of $500 for "legal cases in process of being assigned."

Two checks totaling $4,800 to the Edinburg law firm of Kelley, Looney, McLean and Littleton, of which Sen. Rogers Kitley is a member, paid on Jan. 14, 1955 and March 17, 1955.

Rep. Bert McDaniel of Waco, attorney for U.S. Trust and Shoemaker, was shown as receiving $1,000 in 1954; $1,600 in 1955, and $8,150 in 1955, the latter from (See FIRM, Page 2)

Firm Spent $50,000, Who Got It?

AUSTIN — UP — A special report by State Auditor C. H. Cavness failed to show what happened to more than $50,000 in withdrawals from the collapsed U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. of Waco.

Most of the money was paid out between January and May, 1955. The legislature was in session during that time. The auditor's report covered the period from Jan. 1, 1954, to Dec. 14, 1955.

The report did show payments to half a dozen present and former legislators during the past two years.

Some for Advertising — Kamin advertising agency of Houston, which Cavness said handled the account of Drew Pearson, news commentator who conducted a television show under sponsorship of U.S. Trust, was shown as receiving $19,307.43 in 1954 and $95,992.02 in 1955.

The report showed a total of $50,500 in cash withdrawals from U.S. Trust and an affiliate, Southern Medical & Hospital Service, during the two years.

A withdrawal of $15,000 on Jan. 4, 1955 was made for "legal and auditing" expense. A similar expense for $5,000 was shown for $5,000 each in three instances were shown in February and March, 1955.

Four checks in the amounts of $2,000, $750, $5,000 and $200 were shown for April and May, 1955, as miscellaneous expense "charge to A. B. Shoemaker." Shoemaker, president of U.S. Trust, attempted suicide last Saturday night at his home at Waco.

Ex-Officers Face Assault Charges

HOUSTON — Two former Galveston, Tex., police officers accused of beating a 60-year-old Houston man last Dec. 19 were indicted on assault to murder charges Wednesday.

Indictments were returned by a Harris county grand jury against A. F. Mize, 26, and David Cordero, 24. The indictments charge that they "did, with malice aforethought, make an assault with intent to kill" Harrison J. Luhn.

Luhn is vice president of Gulf Atlantic Warehouse Co. He allegedly was dragged from his car and beaten by two officers who were en route to a policeman's ball.

Galveston Police Chief Willie Burns fired both Mize and Cordero after the incident. He said both officers were supposed to be on duty in Galveston that night but sneaked off to attend the dance in Houston.

Lefors Methodist Men Pick Officers

Lefors — Election of officers for 1956 highlighted a meeting of the Methodist Men's Fellowship in Lefors last night.

The election followed an address by Rev. James E. Harrell of the Harrah Methodist Church in Pampa. New officers for the year include W. R. Combs, president; A. W. Shoffit, vice president; J. J. Combs, treasurer; and Jim Hall, projects chairman.

The new officers succeed Arlie Carpenter, outgoing president; Walter Pfing, outgoing vice president; Bill Teal, outgoing secretary; W. R. Combs, outgoing treasurer; and Fred Houston, outgoing project chairman.

Plans for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet sponsored by the Fellowship were made at the meeting with assignments made and a menu outlined. The banquet will be held this year in the basement of the First Methodist Church on Feb. 8.

The men were treated to a chicken supper prepared by women of the church.

BACK IN HER OLD HAUNT—“Henry” (that’s short for Henrietta) has returned to her desk at the American University in Washington, D.C. The female skeleton was absent from the biology department for five days. Soon after police were called the skeleton was mysteriously returned. Workmen reported that a young man strolled out the door with Henrietta the day she disappeared. Says Assistant Plant Manager Charles Schools: “It was probably a student who still had to bone up for his exams.”

Lisa Kirk Trading Singing For Straight Acting Role

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. —UP— A fuel supply for this southern New Mexico community. Officials of Southern Union Gas Co. believed they could restore service to most of the homes and businesses here by noon Thursday.

The booster unit, which is used to propel guided missiles when they are first launched, ruptured a 10-foot section of the pipeline, which is buried about three feet under ground. The booster unit apparently came from a missile from the White Sands Proving Grounds and dropped on the pipeline, which crosses the huge proving grounds like a pencil mark across a big sheet of paper. The pipeline itself is owned and operated by El Paso Natural Gas, which feeds Southern Union here. A spokesman at White Sands said it had not been verified that the object which fell was from a White Sands missile. There were 3,100 meters which had to be shut off here while the rupture was repaired and each had to be turned on individually by one of about 25 men called in from El Paso to light all the stoves in Alamogordo.

NEW YORK —UP— A sprightly, 75-year-old widow who lives in a home for the aged, breezed to the $32,000 ladder on a television quiz show Tuesday night and won the right next week to try for the $64,000 question. Mrs. Mabel Gertrude Morris never hesitated in answering a string of tough questions on her chosen subject, “Charles Dickens.”

Report Shows Several Solons Paid By U.S. Trust Company

By LLOYD LARRABEE
AUSTIN —UP— State Auditor C. H. Cavness Wednesday issued a special report on U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co., showing payments made in 1954 and 1955 by the firm to several present and former state legislators. Cavness' report, made to the Senate General Investigating committee, detailed amounts paid by the firm for advertising, public relations and legal services. Payments were listed to a large number of attorneys, accountants, county officials and individuals for the period covering almost two years from Jan. 1, 1954, to Dec. 14, 1955. The Waco-based firm folded, $7 million in the red, last Dec. 22.

An excerpt from the “real estate expense” account showed a check for $350, dated Dec. 28, 1954, payable to a Warren McDonald.

Not Fully Identified
The report said the check showed the notation “services rendered re: Purchase of B. G. Byars' property and closing of loan.” The check was deposited in the Peoples National Bank, Tyler, Tex., to the account of Power, McDonald and Mell.

Sen. Warren McDonald is a legislator from Tyler. The report did not specifically identify the Warren McDonald listed as being a senator.

A payment of $200 was listed for Aug. 25, 1954, as having been made to Sam Sellers, listed under the “legal and auditing account” of U.S. Trust & Guaranty. A Sam Sellers formerly served as a member of the Texas House of Representatives.

Touched Off Dispute
The Cavness report touched off a split in the investigating committee when Sen. Searcy Brackwell of Houston, chairman, resigned from the group in protest over a vote by the other four members to take up Cavness' report in closed session.

Cavness' report showed a total of cash withdrawals during the two years of $50,550, including a draft paid to Sen. Kilmer Gorbis of Lubbock of $500 for “legal cases in process of being assigned.” The report showed the check was dated Dec. 18, 1954. The report also listed two checks paid to the Edinburg law firm of Kelley, Looney, McLean and Littleton, of which Sen. Rogers Kelley is a member. The checks, during the year 1955, totaled $4,800. Two other state senators, Carlos Ashley of Llano and Jap Fuller of Port Arthur, previously had said they received payments from U.S. Trust, but they were not named in Cavness' report.

State Rep. Bert McDaniel of Waco, attorney for A. B. Shoemaker, president of the defunct firm who attempted suicide last Saturday night, was shown as having been paid $1,000 during 1954 by U.S. Trust & Guaranty, $1,600 in 1955, by U.S. Trust & Guaranty, and $8,150 by Southern Medical & Hospital Services, an affiliate firm, in 1955.

Paid Lanning
An analysis of the “legal and auditing account” of U.S. Trust and its affiliated companies for 1955 showed a payment of $5,000 to an L. C. Lanning, with the check being endorsed by R. C. Lanning.

R. C. (Doc) Lanning formerly served in the state Senate from Jackboro and later was chairman of the Texas State Board of Control.

Artificial Lung Used In Animal

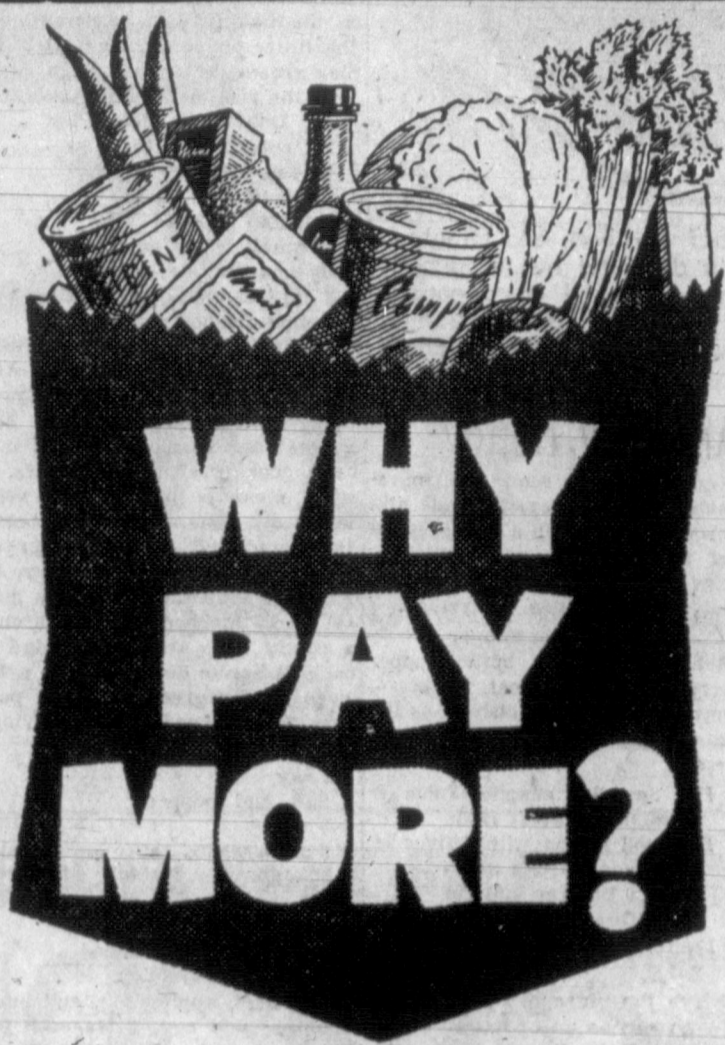

NEW ORLEANS —UP— An artificial heart-lung which can be mass produced at a total cost of $2, took over the life functions of a 23-pound mongrel dog for 27 minutes in a pioneering experiment, a team of surgeons revealed Wednesday.

The dog came out of the 90-minute operation Tuesday “quite well,” said Dr. Edward Hyman, clinical instructor in medicine at Louisiana State University's Medical School. Hyman was one of five doctors who opened the heart of the dog while apparatus, consisting of little more than a plastic bag and several tubes, took over the job of pumping blood for the dog.

Four other dogs have come successfully through such surgery with the ultra-simple heart-lung, he said.

Texas Killed in Los Angeles
LOS ANGELES —UP— Roy W. Pullen, about 40, of Houston, was killed Sunday when he ran into the side of a car, police reported.

East Readies for Bowl
LOS ANGELES —UP— Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins and Adrian Burk of the Philadelphia Eagles took turns directing the East's squad Monday in a practice drill for Sunday's annual pro bowl game.

Rhubarb Meringue Pie For the Man in Your Life

IT IS AN AXIOM THAT THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART is through his stomach. Taking advantage of a package of quick-frozen rhubarb, sweetened condensed milk and pie crust mix off the pantry shelf, you can whip up a delectable rhubarb meringue pie in jig time.

The recipe for this creation shows how easy it can be. Frozen rhubarb is always in season and needs only a few minutes cooking. The 15-ounce can of condensed milk, lemon juice and rind are blended thoroughly; then add the egg yolks and spices. Once the rhubarb is cooled, combine with the condensed milk mixture. Presto! The filling is ready for the baked pie shell. On top goes a cloud of meringue and the pie is whisked into the oven for a brief browning.

RHUBARB MERINGUE PIE

- | | |
|--|------------------------------|
| 1 9-inch pie shell, baked and cooled | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1 package frozen rhubarb | 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon |
| 1 1/2 cups (1 15-oz. can) Eagle Brand sweetened condensed milk | 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg |
| 3/4 cup lemon juice | 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten |
| | 2 egg whites |
| | 1/4 cup sugar |
| | 1/4 cup salt |

Cook rhubarb according to package directions. Drain well. Cool. Blend sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice and rind until mixture thickens. Add slightly beaten egg yolks, cinnamon and nutmeg; mix thoroughly. Fold in rhubarb. Pour filling into shell. Beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks are formed. Add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue to beat egg whites until smooth and shiny. Cover filling with meringue attaching well to shell edges to prevent shrinking. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) about 15 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned. Cool about 2 hours before serving. (ANS)

Chicken Bone Soup Is Easily Prepared

There's so much good flavor in chicken and turkey bones, don't throw them away! Follow this recipe for a really easy soup that's filling but inexpensive. If you're frying chicken, save the back and neck for the soup. When you plan a chicken stew, save these parts for the soup.

- INGREDIENTS:
4 quarts water
Bones from cooked or uncooked chicken or turkey
1 tablespoon salt
1-1/2 teaspoon black pepper
2 stalk celery and leaves
1 onion
- METHOD: Put the water, bones, salt, pepper, celery and onion in a large soup kettle. Simmer for 2-1/2 to 3 hours. If bones are from an uncooked chicken or turkey, simmer until the meat left on the bones is tender.
Lift out the bones, celery and onion. Cool quickly and store in the refrigerator until time to serve. Skim off fat when it congeals on top of soup.
When ready to serve, add the rice. Bring the soup to a boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low

Potato Surprise Is An Intriguing Dish

This main dish is truly intriguing, for sandwiched in between the fluffy potato layers is a flavorful meat layer, giving a ribbonlike look when cut and served. The potato layers are similar to Duchesses potatoes, for the mashed potatoes are beaten light and fluffy with eggs. For the meat, either left-over cooked ham, or canned corned beef or luncheon meat serves admirably. The meat is ground and seasoned with onion, then mixed with an extra good white sauce—made richly creamy and nutritious with unadulterated evaporated milk.

- POTATO SURPRISE
1 quart peeled and quartered potatoes
2 cups ground cooked ham, or canned corned beef or luncheon meat
3/4 cup ground onion
1 tablespoon butter
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 cup evaporated milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Cover and cook potatoes in water to cover until tender, about 25 minutes. Meanwhile, grind meat and onion using coarse blade of food chopper. Melt the 1 tablespoon butter in sauce pan. Blend in flour. Add milk slowly, stirring to keep smooth. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add meat and onion, and blend well. Drain potatoes and mash. Beat in eggs slowly, and continue beating until potatoes are light. Spread a layer of about half of the potato mixture in a well buttered baking pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Spread meat mixture evenly over potato. Cover with remaining potato mixture. Blend crumbs with melted butter; sprinkle over top. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until potato is puffy, about 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

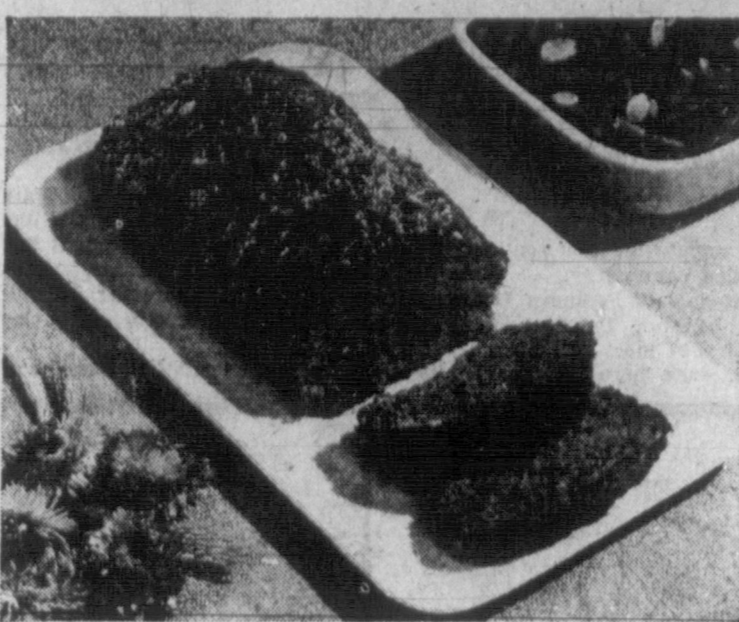

Butterscotch-Rice Play Pudding Duet

Here's a dandy extra-quick dessert. Use quickly cooked, low cost rice, and instant butterscotch pudding! This dessert is low in cost and makes six to eight servings!

QUICK BUTTERSCOTCH-RICE PUDDING

- 2-3 cup uncooked white rice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/3 cups water
1 cup milk
1-3 cup beet or cane sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package butterscotch instant pudding mix

Milk as called for in pudding directions
Sweetened whipped cream, if desired
Put the rice, salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and heat 20 minutes or until the rice is tender.
Pull off any meat left on the bones and add to the soup before serving. Top with finely chopped parsley, if desired. This recipe makes about 12, one cup servings.

ATTRACTIVE DISH — Meat loaf with herb and tomato topping is attractive as a main dish and has a juicy, full meat flavor. You can always depend on a good ground beef dish to win family approval. Green beans with slivered almonds are the vegetable accompaniment pictured.

Ground Beef Recipes Are Easy, Handy

The versatile meat is available wherever fresh meats are sold, and it can be kept frozen at home. Ground beef is always economical especially right now when beef is plentiful. For the family, serve the ground beef in meatloaves, hamburger - in buns, or tamale pie; for guests, serve meatballs, spaghetti with meat sauce, or give a chili supper.

A menu you might like for a family meal is this one:
Meat Loaf with Tomato Topping
Green Beans with Slivered Almonds
Scalloped Potatoes
Head Lettuce Salad with Blue Cheese Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Hot Baked Apples

Coffee
This meat loaf is an attractive main dish, not only with its tomato topping, but when you cut into it, little flecks of red pimiento and green pepper show.
Meat Loaf with Tomato Topping
2 pounds ground beef
1 No. 303 can tomatoes, 1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon paprika
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups bread crumbs
3/4 teaspoon oregano
Break up tomatoes and reserve

leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Stir in the milk. Cook over this low heat 14 more minutes or until most of the milk is absorbed and the mixture is creamy. Stir in the sugar and vanilla.
Make up the instant pudding following the package directions. Stir in the rice before the pudding sets. Cover and store in the refrigerator until time to serve.
Serve with sweetened whipped cream if desired. Garnish whipped cream with chopped red or green maraschino cherries or toasted chopped nuts. This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Serve Meat Pies For Simple Meal

Winter is upon us. Family fun and entertaining is usually confined to the indoors type. Laughter is achieving an all time high in the living room, while you stand in the kitchen and cook. No one likes to miss the family fun.

According to Reba Staggs, home economist, try individual meat pies for the family next week. They are simple to prepare and served right in the baking dish casserole. Set the timer on your range after the pies are in the oven and go relax with the rest of the family.

- Individual Meat Pies
1 1/2 pounds beef for stew
1/2 cup flour
3 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper
10 small whole carrots
10 small whole onions
2 cups canned or cooked peas
2 cups mashed potatoes

Dredge meat in flour and brown slowly in the lard. Season. Add only enough water to cover. Cover tightly and cook for 1 1/2 hours. Add vegetables, except peas, and continue cooking about 45 minutes or until meat is tender, and vegetables are done. Pour off the cooking liquid and thicken for gravy. Combine vegetables and gravy. Arrange in individual casserole dishes. Force mashed potatoes through a pastry tube around the edge of each casserole dish. Place in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) until potatoes are browned, 4 to 6 servings.

Guest Buffet Supper
When planning a buffet supper party, consider meat balls — another ground beef dish — as the main course. Here is a buffet menu:

- Hot Spiced Pineapple Juice
Monica's Meat Balls
Buttered Lima's with Chives
Tossed Garden Salad with Vinegar and Oil
Hot Corn Bread Squares
Pumpkin Pie with Honey Coffee

1 egg
Salt and pepper
Flour
3 tablespoons fat
1/2 stalk celery, thinly sliced
1-3 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 carrot, thinly sliced
1 cup tomato juice
Mix beef, applesauce, and bread crumbs; add egg, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Shape into 12 balls, roll in flour, and brown in hot fat. Place balls in a 1 1/2 quart casserole dish. Spoon off most of fat from pan, then to drippings, add vegetables and tomato juice. Season with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1-4 teaspoon pepper; heat to boiling and pour over meat balls. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F. 40 minutes. Remove balls, spoon off fat; season gravy to taste with salt and pepper or seasoned salt. Serve gravy over balls. 6 servings.

Serve the pineapple juice in the living room as an appetizer before the meal, if you like.
For the meat balls, flavorful ground beef is blended with juicy applesauce. The fruit, makes the balls extra moist and tender. They are cooked in a tomato juice sauce flavored with chopped vegetables. Serve these home-kitchen-tested balls from a chafing dish, if you like.

- Monica's Meat Balls
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup applesauce
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs

Festive is the word: Baked Beans With Little Brown Breads

Baked beans are so very good but sometimes they seem almost too easy to be flattering. Here's a delicious accompaniment to dress up a too-simple meal. These little brown bread muffins are made with real New Orleans molasses, bringing that perfect partnership to your main course.

LITTLE BROWN BREADS

- | | | | |
|------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------------|------------------|
| 1 cup yellow corn meal | 1/2 cup flour | 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1/2 cup molasses |
| 1/2 cup brown sugar | 1/2 cup shortening | 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk | 1/2 cup raisins |
| 1/2 cup baking soda | 1/2 cup graham flour | 1/2 cup chopped nuts | |
- Sift corn meal, flour, salt, baking powder and soda. Stir in graham flour. Combine real New Orleans molasses, egg, shortening and milk. Beat into dry mixture and continue to mix and beat until very smooth. Stir in raisins and nuts. Fill greased muffin cups about 3/4 full. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Makes 12 muffins.
Serve with a crisp green salad and fruit for dessert.

Lamb Patties Good For Informal Party

Barbecued lamb patties on buns, mugs of hot coffee or cocoa, sugar doughnuts, and fresh fruit make the kind of menu that teen-agers and adults, too, enjoy after a friendly gathering on a cold, wintry night. Meat served on a bun, for easy out-of-hand eating, adds to the informality of the occasion.

Buy the lamb patties already shaped, or select ground lamb and prepare the hot sandwiches as follows: Mix 2 pounds ground lamb with 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup chopped parsley, and shape into eight patties. Brown on both sides in a little hot lard, add 1 to 1 1/2 cups barbecue sauce, and simmer until sauce and meat are piping hot, 10 to 15 minutes. Serve in toasted buns. 8 servings.

Spicy Sausage Sauce
1 pound pork sausage
23 cup chopped onions
2 10 1/2-ounce cans tomato soup
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
Brown sausage meat; pour off all but 2 tablespoons of drippings. Push sausage to side of skillet, add onions, and cook a few minutes until soft. Add remaining ingredients plus 1/2 soup can of water. Cook, covered, over low heat 1 hour. Serve sauce over noodles, macaroni, rice, or spaghetti. 6 servings.

DRESS FOR GRACE—A 44-year-old grandmother with the same measurements as Grace Kelly models a dress made for the Oscar-winning actress by her fan club in Pittsburgh, Pa. The "model" is Mrs. Louise Duluca of Pittsburgh. The club's treasurer, Richard Capone, designed the dress. Club members hope the actress will wear the dress in the movie, "Designing Woman."

IT'S THE LAW
IN TEXAS

Under the 1954 Internal Revenue Act, all persons who have a gross income over $400 must file income tax returns, except if the taxpayer is 65 or older he need not file a return unless he has gross income over $1,200. This is because persons who are 65 or older have two exemptions which automatically eliminate any tax liability for income under $1,200.

The old established date of March 15 by which income tax returns must be filed was abolished effective last year. All federal tax returns for individuals may now be filed on or before April 15. Although persons believe that a tax return need only be postmarked by the due date, such is not the intent of the statute. Tax returns are supposed to be in the office of the Internal Revenue Service by the due date specified.

Tax firms and instructions will be received by most persons during January. The instructions being distributed this year contain the following statement: "The Internal Revenue Service will mail Form 1040-25, as far as is practical, to each person who may need it. Anyone else required to file should obtain the form from an Internal Revenue Service office in time to file by April 15, 1954."

Declarations of estimated tax are required from all persons who expect gross income of more than $400, plus $600 times the number of exemptions which may be claimed, if more than $100 of the income will not be subject to withholding.

Single persons with more than $5,000 and married persons with more than $10,000 expected gross income must file declarations of estimated tax even though all of the income is subject to withholding.

Declarations of estimated tax, except those for farmers, must be filed by April 15. Like the income tax return, this date is one month later than the deadline for years before the new Revenue Act went into effect. However, the quarterly installment payment dates remain the same — June 15, September 15, and the last one on January 15 of the following year.

If a person, other than a farmer, desires to file his income tax return and pay his tax in full, he may do this on or before January 15 instead of paying last quarter's installment. It does not relieve anyone from filing the original declaration of estimated tax and making three payments on it. However, in most cases this provision does remove the possibility of a penalty for an under estimate of tax liability.

Farmers have special provisions concerning declarations of estimated tax, and may postpone the filing of any estimate until January 15 of the following year.

The penalty for underpayment of tax liability on the declaration of estimated tax was reduced by the 1954 act. There is now no underpayment if the taxpayer remits at least 70 per cent of his tax as shown on his final tax return. If there is an underpayment, the penalty is 8 per cent per annum interest on the additional amount which should have been remitted. It is expected that there will be more strict enforcement of this provision in the future by the Internal Revenue Service.

When a player makes a take-out double after passing originally, he indicates that his hand is not quite good enough in high cards for an opening bid but is good enough in distribution to ask partner to respond. This information is often useful to partner, but it sometimes can be turned to good advantage by the opponents. In today's hand the take-out double by West was the clue to South's play of the hand.

West opened the ace of clubs, dropping declarer's singleton king. West promptly shifted to the deuce of spades in the hope of establishing a trick or two in that suit.

After some thought, South finesse the nine of spades from dummy. The choice was a happy one, since East was forced to win with the king. This wasn't important from South's point of view, since even if East had been able to win with the ten or jack of spades, dummy's remaining spades would prevent East from returning the suit safely.

East now returned his singleton diamond, and South put up the ace immediately. West had promised good support for diamonds, so the actual situation was easy to read. If South had played low, West would have taken the king of diamonds and returned the suit to give his partner a ruff.

South still had to prevent the loss of a trump trick in order to make his contract. He led a heart to the king, noting the fall of the eight of hearts from the West hand. He then returned the ten of hearts from dummy and let it ride for a finesse. West had promised good distribution in the bidding, and this almost undoubtedly meant a singleton heart.

The trump finesse succeeded, and South was practically home. He ruffed a club to enter his own hand, drew two more rounds of trumps, and led towards dummy's queen of diamonds. Nothing could then defeat the difficult game contract.

ST. LOUIS—Marty Marion, manager of the Chicago White Sox, on the city's snapping and popping static electricity caused by the record dry spell:

"When the kids are leaving for school in the morning they naturally want to kiss mother and dad goodbye. We found those smacks were pretty startling when we got sparks with them. So now they touch us on the shoulder first. That uncharges them."

LONDON—Sir Winston Churchill on Benjamin Franklin's experiments with electricity:

"I do not think they could be done now on the grounds they would be dangerous to human life."

WASHINGTON—The White House on whether there was any significance to plans to enter President Eisenhower's name in the Illinois presidential primary:

"The President has said that he will make that decision as soon as he feels he can and announce it to the American people. Therefore in the absence of such a decision no citizen should be misled by the absence of comment on the announcement by the governor of Illinois."

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on the decision of the Ohio Supreme Court to review his conviction for the murder of his wife Marilyn:

"I had prayed that if the ultimate outcome was to be denied, it would be now rather than later. But now I can't help but be more hopeful."

Cashier Charged In Fraud Case

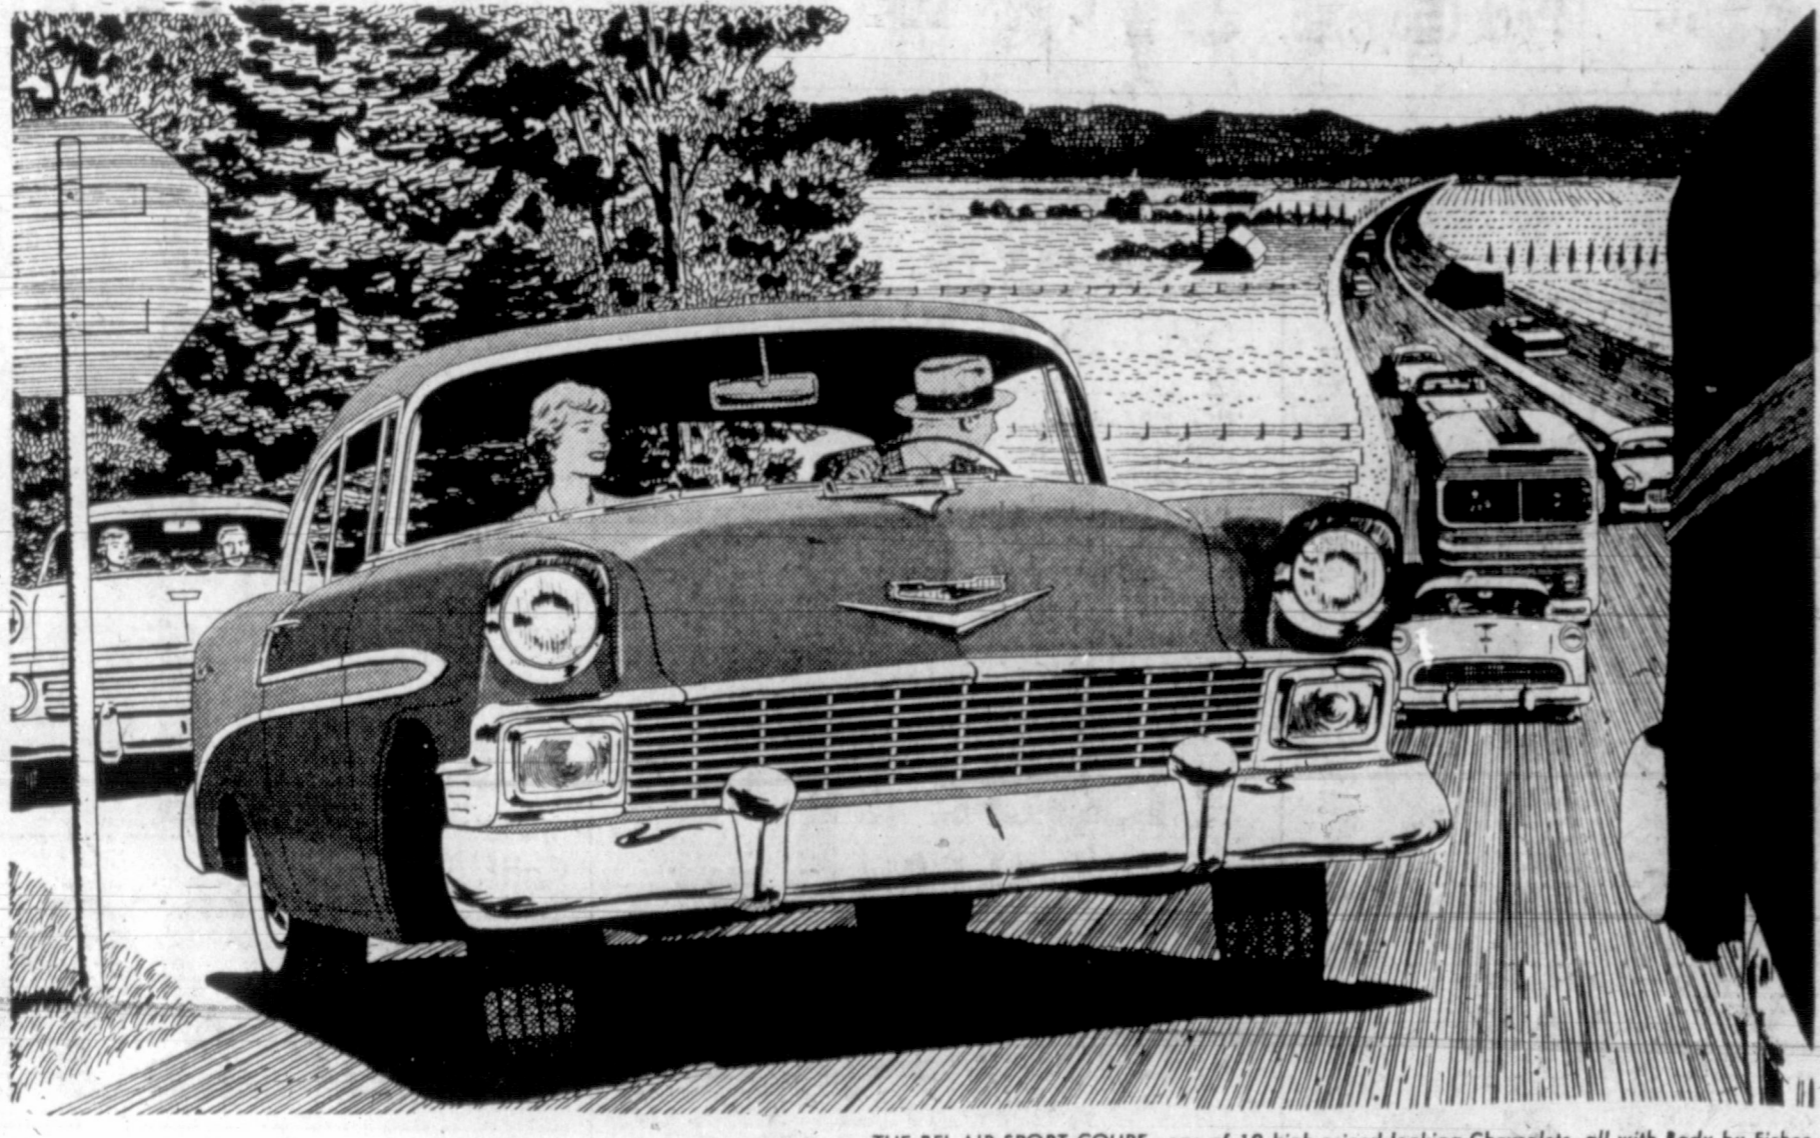

GALVESTON, Tex.—UP—Joe Bennett Hunt, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Edinburg, Tex., was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday for allegedly making false statements. The grand jury, which returned a total of 15 indictments, charged Hunt on four counts with making false statements in bank records with intent to defraud. The charges involved service charge records in June, 1955. Hunt was charged in one count with recording $26 in place of $28.50. On another count with entering $36.77 instead of $42.77. In another case recording $7.50 instead of $18.50, and on the fourth count $13 instead of $28.50. The other indictments involved immigration cases, with the exception of three counts on marijuana charges against George G. Thomas and Jose Rivera of Brownsville.

Moscow Audience Cheers 'Porgy'

MOSCOW—UP—The Gershwin opera "Porgy and Bess" made its debut in Moscow Tuesday night before the pick of Russia's artistic and theatrical intelligentsia, who rose and gave it a standing, eight-minute ovation. The folk opera's whimsical charm brought enthusiastic comments from many members of the sophisticated audience but the lewdness or sexiness of some scenes—notably the brutal seduction of Bess—reduced the normal applause to only a polite smattering of handclapping. In Leningrad, where "Porgy and Bess" gave its Russian premiere, there were actual protests by public organizations against the scene although the opera generally was received very warmly there.

Speaks softly and packs a powerful wallop!

THE BEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolets, all with Body by Fisher.

Whether idling at curbside or cruising, this new Chevrolet talks in a well-mannered whisper. You scarcely ever hear more than a soft undertone of power from its deep-chested V8. (One reason is the hydraulic-hushed valve lifters now in all Chevrolet engines—V8 or 6.)

Soft-spoken, yes—but this handsome traveler packs a wallop that ranges up to 205 h.p.! It's charged with sheer action!

Action that can save you precious seconds for safer passing on the highway! Action that lets you take steep hills in stride!

Action that helps you zoom out of trouble spots almost as quickly as they develop!

And action isn't all. Chevy holds the road like part of the pavement! You feel added assurance in the way it clings to curves.

Of course, Chevrolet brings you the security of safety door latches in all models. Instrument panel padding and seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, are offered at extra cost.

Come in and drive a new Chevrolet. We've got one ready and waiting for you.

COMPROMISE — There's a reason why Shirley Richardson, 13, is wearing both skirt and slacks as she works at the school room blackboard. The Thompsonville, Conn., girl, isolated from her class for six weeks due to a school ruling against slacks, compromised with officials. She'll wear both.

Army Going All Out For Missiles

WASHINGTON — UP — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said Tuesday the Army is putting "everything we've got" into development of a ballistic missile that will rocket 1,300 miles.

Taylor, Army chief of staff, said there is "no limit" to the type of targets the missile could be aimed against.

He made the statement in summarizing 1956 Army goals at the first Pentagon news conference he has held since becoming Army chief last summer.

Taylor said the Army "in partnership with the Navy" is using its giant 60-foot Redstone rocket as a pattern for developing a "medium range," 1,500-mile missile.

He said the Army urgently needs a wide span of missiles with "tremendous destructive firepower." These will enable American forces to attack "high into the enemy air space and deep into the vital sources of strength of our enemy ground forces," he said.

Military men call ballistic missiles "the ultimate weapon." Equipped with atomic or hydrogen bomb warheads, they could cover huge distances at supersonic speeds. There is at present no known defense against such missiles.

Sheppard Case To Get Review

COLUMBUS, Ohio — UP — The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday decided to review Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's case to see if the convicted wife-slayer received a fair trial.

The decision was the first major break for Sheppard since he was first accused of killing his pregnant wife Marilyn, on July 4, 1954, but it does not win his freedom.

The court now will study the widely publicized case in detail to determine whether or not Sheppard will get a new trial. The court be conducted. Or it may, after studying the case, decide to leave the life sentence standing.

The court announced its decision, in one word, "admitted."

There was no indication of when the court will give its final decision in one of the most widely discussed cases in modern history. But it was sure to be some time as the court must study the case in detail.

The defense had claimed Sheppard's constitutional rights were violated and that community feeling had been whipped up against him by some newspapers to make a fair trial impossible.

Cobalt Capsule Found In Auto

MILFORD, Conn. — UP — A deadly capsule of radioactive cobalt taken from a construction project was recovered Wednesday in the automobile of a workman who apparently forgot he had it.

Police said the employee, who was not identified, had taken the small, shiny container from the Connecticut Light & Power Co. plant only because he wanted the string to which it was attached.

Authorities had warned that the capsule contained a deadly charge and that the person who took it was in "extreme danger."

The capsule, containing a deadly charge of radioactive cobalt, was used to take x-ray pictures of welds in piping being installed for the power company.

precipitation in January is expected to be near or above normal in the Southwest and along the West Coast. Subnormal amounts are due for the rest of the country.

EXPECTED TEMPERATURES

January temperatures will average below seasonal normals in the eastern third of the nation. Above normal temperatures are indicated from the Mississippi westward to the Pacific.

To Cut Ads Large Papers Too Cut Ads

WASHINGTON—UP—The chairman of a House subcommittee investigating newspaper shortages said Wednesday he will ask publishers of large newspapers to cut advertising to save paper.

Rep. Arthur C. Klein (D-N. Y.) said that unless extra newspaper is found or saved many small daily and weekly papers may be forced out of business. This, Klein said, would amount to "censorship."

By large newspapers, Klein said he means "the big metropolitan dailies" in such cities as New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

Klein's subcommittee received a report Tuesday from the Commerce Department that newspaper supplies have reached "a dangerously low level." It said small newspapers particularly would be "penalized by inadequate supply."

Deputy Director Donald Shook of the Commerce Department's forest products division told the subcommittee that the government has received assurances from publishers associations and newspaper producers that they will co-operate to keep small newspapers supplied with newsprint.

New Stories Cloud Issue In Murder Of Policeman

OKLAHOMA CITY—UP—The fate of accused Dallas murderer Hygie Franklin Fairris hinged Wednesday on whether the Oklahoma Pardon and Parole Board believes the latest story offered by Fairris' underworld friends.

If the board rules against Fairris, the 21-year-old hoodlum will die in Oklahoma's electric chair Jan. 18 for the slaying of Oklahoma City policeman Bennie Cravatt.

Fairris was scheduled to die two months ago for the murder. Seven hours before the scheduled execution, his buddy, Raymond Carroll Price, 24, also of Dallas, confessed he did the killing. Gov. Raymond Gary then postponed the execution. Price was already serving life for being a principal in the murder.

Blame Slain Gangster

Tuesday, Price came up with a new story. He said Cravatt was killed by slain Fort Worth gangster Leroy (Tincy) Eggleston. Rita Davis, a 22-year-old Dallas prostitute, told the board the same thing. Miss Davis, who said she made a living "entertaining men folks" in her bedroom, said Eggleston had told her before his death that he killed Cravatt. Miss Davis said the late Cecil Green, of Fort Worth, Eggleston's associate, was one of her clients.

Green and Eggleston were killed later in Fort Worth, Green the victim of an ambush and Eggleston the subject of a gangland "ride."

Fairris is the nephew of the notorious outlaw Raymond Hamilton, who was executed in the Texas prison.

Fairris, who has been in death row for more than a year, labeled Eggleston as the killer for the first time Tuesday.

Two months ago, Price stated emphatically he killed Cravatt with the officer's own gun during a struggle.

The testimony was later riddled by Oklahoma City police who exhibited ballistics tests showing the fatal bullet was not fired by either Price's or Cravatt's gun. They said the murder weapon has never been found.

Cravatt was killed while trying to foil a July, 1954, grocery hold-up staged by Price, Fairris and James Edward Skinner, 22, also of Dallas. Skinner and Price are both serving life for the crime.

Wants U. S. In Pact

BAGHDAD, Iraq—UP—A Pakistani spokesman said Wednesday he believes the United States should join the Baghdad Pact, which is erecting a defensive wall between Russia and the strategic Middle East.

Why "Good-Time Charlie" Suffers Uneasy Bladder

Such a common thing as uric acid building up in the blood may be a source of mild but annoying bladder irritation—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. Ike Submits Plan For The Drouth-Hit Great Plains

WASHINGTON—UP—President Eisenhower Wednesday submitted to Congress a long-range federal program to help solve the "critical problems" of farmers in the drouth-plagued Great Plains.

In letters to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker Sam Rayburn, he said the 10-state Great Plains region has "special problems requiring special attention." He "strongly" urged Congressional action this year.

The Great Plains area included in the program covers parts of 10 states lying between the prairie lands and the Rocky Mountains. The states are Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Hard Hit

Mr. Eisenhower noted that the Great Plains region, "a vast agricultural empire peopled by 17 million of our citizens," has been hard hit by drouth and wind erosion that threaten to produce a new dust bowl.

He said the Agriculture Department is already taking steps to aid farmers in the region, and will do more. He said he will soon ask Congress for new appropriations to permit stepped-up activities.

In addition to providing these funds, Mr. Eisenhower asked Congress to enact two bills:

1. Authority for the government to enter into "long term contracts" with farmers for diversion of croplands into trees, grass or other plantings for "soil and water conservation." At present, such conservation agreements are limited to a year at a time.
2. Authority to relax the requirement that farmers must actually base acreage" for future allotments.

Mr. Eisenhower also transmitted to Senate and House leaders a letter from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson and an 11-page agriculture department report outlining the department's program for the Great Plains.

Benson said the following actions are already being taken, or are planned, by his department:

1. Federal crop insurance is being "further" developed and strengthened to eventually serve as a major protective measure in areas suitable for arable farming. "But such insurance" will not be available on land unsuited for the long-time production of the insured crop."
2. Research is being expanded to find new ways to control wind and water erosion, improve the soil, and enlarge crop yields and livestock production. Weather reports and research also are being expanded.
3. An extensive education program is being undertaken, including the showing of seven special "land use films," to teach farmers "practical" methods of meeting their problems. On-the-farm technical assistance is being provided.
4. The Soil Conservation Service is "intensifying" its surveys to classify lands in the Great Plains to show farmers how they can best be used.
5. The Farmers Home Administration, with extra field personnel

But Frank Sinatra Insists He's Never Been Away

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The stars were shining in Hollywood and the brightest of them all was Frank Sinatra.

NEW FRANKIE: The Oscar proved he could act.

It was the gala premiere of "Guys and Dolls" — another movie that had a show business career with ups and downs matching the steepness of a Himalayan mountain peak. After soaring to what was almost national adulation a dozen years ago, a combination of poor roles, a bad press and other things sent his career zooming downward. He was reputedly washed up. Today his "second career" is in high gear.

The next day Sinatra reportedly "blew his top" over the wordage about him in the program.

He's said to have ranted: "Where do they get that stuff? He was reputedly washed up. My career zoomed downward. My second career. It sounds like I'm making a comeback. I've never been away. Maybe I didn't make movies for a couple of years but I bet I made more money on TV, in night clubs and making records than half the stars in Hollywood."

By Hollywood's cold measuring tape of frustrating box office appeal Sinatra fitted into the "zooming-downward" category. But by Sinatra standards of earning-power and a fierce drive which took him from street brawls and singing for peanuts in his native Hoboken to national fame he was right.

By Sinatra standards he's never been away.

The year's 1953 in which he won an Academy-supporting performance award for his non-singing role of little Angelo Maggio in "From Here to Eternity," may have been a career turning point for Sinatra, but he doesn't look back on the film, or the pole or the Oscar as a comeback.

The Oscar just proved, he contends, something Hollywood had always refused to believe — that Frank Sinatra could act as well as sing.

But since then there's been no doubt about it.

"Guys and Dolls" and "The Tender Trap" are current proof. So is the man with the Golden Arm" in which Sinatra, playing a dope addict, is in the Oscar race again.

Coming up: His first independent production — and first western — "Johnny Concho;" "High Society," a musical remake of "The Philadelphia Story," with Frank co-starring with Bing Crosby and Grace Kelly; Sinatra and Cary Grant in "The Pride and the Passion" — and more movie plans that extend to 1960.

Frank Sinatra has had a show business career with ups and downs matching the steepness of a Himalayan mountain peak. . . . That's what the "Guys and Dolls" premiere program said.

But maybe it would have been more logical if it had said that Sinatra's private life, and his emotions have had more ups and downs than his career.

Forty-year-old Frank Sinatra is one of Hollywood's all time controversial greats.

He's hated and he's loved. He punched a Broadway columnist in the nose. He busted the camera of a news photographer. He fought in a Hollywood cafe parking lot with a night club press agent. He's gitted the press with $150 gold-plated cigaret lighters.

He was divorced from his before-fame wife Nancy and then married sexy Ava Gardner. Before Ava won a Nevada divorce, the final decree of which she's never bothered to pick up, she and Frank staged domestic battles and reconciliations all the way from Beverly Hills to Spain.

He made teen-agers squeal and faint with excitement as a bow-tied thin as a matchstick vocalist in the early '40s. He clashed with RKO executives during the filming of his first movie in 1943 and he personally pleaded with Columbia executives for a chance to play Maggio in "From Here to Eternity."

He won a special 1945 Academy Award for his acting in a short subject on tolerance, "The House of the Holy Child."

Although only one-fourth of the United States population live in the Northeastern states, they receive nearly half of all lamb and mutton shipped.

He read about Marlon Brando as one of the "most wanted" men in America. About the "new singing and dancing Jean Simmons. About Vivian Blaine's 1,500 performances of Adelaide on the stage.

Then a gloomy frown clouded Frank Sinatra's face as he read what the program had to say about Frank Sinatra.

"Frank Sinatra," he read, "has

CONTROVERSIAL FRANKIE — With Ava Gardner, he staged quarrels and reconciliations from Beverly Hills to Spain.

YOUNG FRANKIE: Teenagers squealed and fainted over his singing in the early '40's.

I Live In." He owns a small percentage of the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas and still records spot commercials for the gambling palace's radio advertising.

He spends fabulous sums on his clothes and on people he likes. Some people find him a gay, fascinating personality.

Other people find him surly and unlikeable.

As a friend says of still bow-tied, thin as a matchstick Frank Sinatra:

"He fought for everything he ever had as a kid in a tough neighborhood in Hoboken. He didn't trust anyone. He's still fighting — and he still doesn't trust anyone."

Beauty Queen Kidnapped, Assaulted

SANTA ANA, Calif. —UP—Miss Donna May Schurr, 18-year-old Miss California and runner-up in the Miss USA contest in 1955, was kidnapped and raped, police disclosed Wednesday.

Miss Schurr's fiancée and California highway patrol officers captured the suspected assailant after a five-mile chase at speeds ranging up to 110-miles-per-hour.

Police said the suspect, James Jack Walker, 25, Santa Ana upholsterer, confessed not only Tuesday night's assault but a similar kidnap — rape of Miss Schurr last March 16.

Her fiancée, Lloyd Brett, 21, told police he happened to stop by Miss Schurr's Garden Grove home after getting off work Tuesday night at exactly the same time the suspect drove her back to her home and released her, screaming for help, at her doorstep.

He said Walker's car sped away and the pursuit was on, a winding, careening chase that led around the perimeter of Santa Ana on rural roads in the midnight darkness.

A fog bank slowed down the two cars and a California highway patrol car that picked up the pursuit when both other cars went through a red stop light caught up with the pair. Officers said they grabbed a .32 caliber automatic from Brett "before he could use it."

Miss Schurr told police she heard a noise in her hallway at 10:45 p.m. and stepped out of her bedroom, clad in a negligee, to face Walker running toward her with a knife. He apparently had forced his way into the house through a rear door.

In her report of the March attack, she told police the attacker, who fitted Walker's description, hid in the back seat of her car and forced her to submit at knife-point when she drove home from a drive-in movie where she then worked.

Police said Walker, married and the father of a child, confessed both crimes.

South Giving In A Bit On Segregation

ATLANTA, Ga. —UP— The South complied passively Wednesday with an order desegregating interstate travel despite gestures of defiance by officials in three states.

A few Negroes used white waiting rooms without challenge. A few signs were changed. But no facilities were changed and no "incidents" were reported since the deadline Tuesday.

Spot checks in the nine states affected by the Interstate Commerce Commission order indicated a vast majority of Negroes complied voluntarily with local state and segregation laws.

Even in Louisiana and Alabama, where state officials declared their segregation laws would be enforced in conflict with the ICC order Negroes managed to avoid any trouble.

In Mississippi, the other state making a stand against the federal ruling, checks showed Negroes generally followed past customs.

Timber wolves are getting fewer all the time, Wisconsin game experts report. They paid bounties on only 55 of the animals between 1953 and 1955.

Polio Outbreak Hits Valley

HARLINGEN, Tex.—UP—An "urgent appeal" was issued Wednesday by authorities at Valley Baptist Hospital to fight an upsurge of polio cases in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Eleven new cases of polio have been admitted to the hospital within the past week to bring the total being treated to 39.

Hospital administrator Henry Morrison said he has asked the Red Cross and National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to send more nurses because of "this emergency."

Morrison said the new polio cases came from on family at Valley counties. They include three small boys from one family at McAllen.

Alvin Meredith, 9, of McAllen, was admitted Monday, and Tuesday his two small brothers, Arthur, 4, and Austin, 3, were hospitalized as polio patients.

Morrison said seven iron lungs already are in use at the hospital and another was being sent from San Antonio.

Hughes Plans 2 Industries In Florida

MIAMI, Fla.—UP—Multi-millionaire Howard Hughes has made tentative plans to launch two big new enterprises in Florida, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The announcement was made in Los Angeles by Gov. Leroy Collins and confirmed by Hughes. Collins made a secret flight to the West Coast Monday to confer with the wealthy oilman, movie maker and aviation tycoon.

Collins and Hughes refused to disclose the exact nature of the industries or where in Florida they might be located.

But Collins told a representative of the Miami Herald Tuesday night, "Hughes plans new ventures, including a new industrial plant, and research development in other important and challenging fields as well."

Speculation here was that Hughes plans a multi-million dollar medical research center in the Miami area that would seek basic answers to the problems of disease.

Collins said Hughes "has no intention of transferring to Florida any operations now being conducted elsewhere. He plans new ventures."

The University of Illinois operates a fleet of 38 airplanes for aviation education and research.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise !

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe—the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above—costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so great that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac, according to accurate and authenticated resale records, will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile built and sold in the land.

The conclusion is self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride?

You'll see the most beautiful Cadillac ever built . . . and drive the finest-performing Cadillac of all time . . . and discover the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

Mrs. Jordan And Mrs. Harrah Named Table-Setting Contest Commentators

Mrs. Rufe Jordan and Mrs. Raymond Harrah will be commentators for the third annual Beta Sigma Phi table-setting contest, to be held Jan. 21, in the Pampa High School field house. The show will be open from 1 to 8:30 p.m., after which votes will be tabulated and the winners announced. Each person with a ticket is entitled to one vote in each category — informal and formal. Tickets will be available at the door. A first and second prize will be awarded in each category, the first prizes being $25, and the second $15.

Installation Slated For PCUCW Tea

Rev. Ronald Hubbard will install new officers at the annual tea of the Pampa Council of United Church Women at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church. Officers to be installed are Mrs. H. J. Pickett of the First Christian Church, president; Mrs. Earl Casey of the First Presbyterian Church, first vice-president; Mrs. M. Garvin Elkins of the Church of the Brethren, second vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. J. W. Shelton of the First Methodist Church, secretary; and Mrs. G. F. Richmond of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, treasurer. Featured speaker will be Rev. Don Speaker of the Church of the Brethren. Mrs. Sam Pruitt will sing a solo, and the devotional will be presented by Mrs. W. Purviance. The tea is for women of all churches. A nursery will be provided.

Designers Predict Slim And Prim Look For Spring During Fashion Press Week

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK — UP — The slim and prim look will be the thing for spring daylight hours, American designers forecast Tuesday as the 26th national fashion press week entered its second day. After dark, the preferred look will be ladylike but not prim and gently flared more often than slim. Pauline Trigere, one of seven designers who showed spring collections Monday to more than 150 out-of-town fashion writers, turned back to the days of the old-fashioned ice cream parlor and designed spring suits with black and white striped jackets and solid black skirts. The Trigere version of a gay blade's Sunday best 50 years ago is done several ways. One suit has the skirt made of white wool serge pin-striped on black and the jacket made of black raw silk. The other suit has a black wool serge skirt and jacket with a vest-cut front of striped wool.

One Piece Look
The slim, neat lines of next spring's wool suits give them a one-piece look. Trigere has added to the illusion by "fusing" jackets to skirts. She tucks a suit jacket into a flat hip band circling one skirt to give a dress appearance and in another tucks the jacket into big, square patch pockets on the skirt. Semi-fitted jackets and a hint of the high-waisted empire line give Ben Zuckerman's spring suits an almost little-girl look. Zuckerman believes that far eastern colors — beige, yellow, pale green and pink — will replace the familiar spring-time suit colors of grey and navy. Fabrics for spring suits are often textured this year, but always light weight. Even fluffy-looking beige tweeds, used both for coats and suits, are featherweight. The after-five flare to skirts will be less obvious, with fewer petticoats and more chiffon-weight fabrics. Celli Chapman, famous for draped bodices and billowing skirts has added more slimmed-down party dresses.

Some are hand-painted flower prints on silk organza; some are semi-sheath dresses of chiffon, slim in front and with a full panel starting at the shoulders in back to be caught in at the waistline and puff out again to the hemline. Prints to be popular. Prints in all versions of silk fabrics will be very popular next spring. J. Copeland turns satin into a year-around material by designing spring party dresses of silk satin prints. Claire McCordell uses one of the most unusual sheer wool prints for a sheath dress with a Far Eastern feeling. The print is orange and red with a splashy, water-color look.

Miss McCordell has added the empire cut to many of her familiar shirt dresses and slim coats. Several have the bosom-cupping seam in front and a natural waistline in back. Asked if American women really will wholeheartedly accept the easy, beltless silhouette this spring, Miss McCordell grinned and held out a printed girdle to one of her empire-cut woollens. "Try wearing this garment without the belt," she said. But the dress, the designer said, will be sold to women with the belt included — just in case.

Have your dealer mix your paint in his paint mixer. You'll never get it as well mixed with a wooden paddle. Going to paint a wall that now has a high-gloss paint on it? Then first wash the surface with a solution of one tablespoon phosphate to one gallon of warm water.

Executive Board To Be Installed At GS Banquet

Members of the executive board of the Top O' Texas Girl Scout Council will be installed during the GS Association banquet to be held at 7 p.m. Friday in the Pampa High school cafeteria. Pampa Senior Scouts are in charge of the banquet, which will have "Songs Around The World" as its theme. Each troop is making a centerpiece following the banquet theme, and Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Scouts will sing songs from foreign countries. Tickets at $1.25 per person may be purchased in the Girl Scout office, City Hall. None will be sold at the door. The banquet is for all adults registered in Scouting, the Scouts, their families and guests.

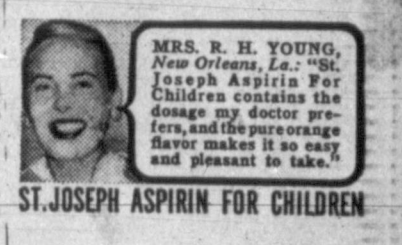

Perryton Girl Feted With Birthday Party

PERRYTON (Special) — Mrs. Budd Battin, 414 S. Drake, presented a party recently for the sixth birthday of her daughter, Judy. Favors were marshmallow snowmen and boots filled with suckers. Guests were Sonny and Vickie Halpain, Eddie Ervin, Carlo Ann Wright, Cassey Pearson, Larry and Norma Kay, Phyllis and David Barclay, Diane and Connie Jo Graves, Shirley Tusing, Mary Helen and Karen Harris, George and J. W. Battin; and Mmes. Edward Halpain, Lee Edge, Ernest Barclay and Elmer Graves.

County HD Council Holds Call Meeting

Plans were discussed for the sale of refreshments during the Fat Stock Show, to be held Feb. 18-22, at a recent call meeting of the Gray County Home Demonstration Council in the office of Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent. It was decided to sell hamburgers, hot sandwiches, coffee, pie and soft drinks. Appointed to the finance committee for the food sale were Mmes. V. Smith, John Brandon and Roy Tinsley. A report of the standing rules committee was read by Mrs. G. C. Smith, and Mrs. Ernest McKnight explained the relationship of these rules to the clubs. Miss Dunlap told of a training school in Amarillo, urging council members to attend. The members were told that all clubs are to nominate a delegate to the district convention, to be held April 5, in Hereford. Mrs. McKnight requested that all clubs, if not all members, take the "Messenger," as a year's subscription is only 50 cents.

When picking paints, select color chips from your dealer, looking at them in both artificial and natural light. Most colors look a shade or two darker on the wall.

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED how much water to use in cooking, and how to be sure you're using the right amount? If so, you'll be interested in this food-saver advice from the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. First, water boils at 212 degrees. If the heat under the cooking utensils is kept at or near the boiling point, the water will condense on the underside of the utensil cover. Then it will drop back into the pan and boil into steam again with practically no loss of water.

IT IS IMPORTANT to know this simple physical fact because it will help you prepare soups, stews, navy beans and other long-cooking items without scorching or boiling them dry. All that's required — if you set your gas flame for exact boiling temperature — is one cup of water in the vessel for each hour of cooking. If this prescription is followed, it isn't even necessary to be in the kitchen for pot-watching. You can use the time for other work or for leisure.

Incidentally, ordinary vegetable cooking requires no more than half a cup of water, for it would be completely dried before this small amount of water could possibly be boiled away. Perhaps you're wondering how you can be sure of maintaining the right temperature for carefree cooking. Wendell C. Davis, chairman of GAMA's domestic gas exchange division, supplies the answer: "If you own a modern automatic gas range," he says, "you'll notice that the top-burner handles can be turned to full-on, in which case both the outside and inside rings of flame are on full force; to a diminished two-ring heat, then to a full center simmer, where only the center ring operates; and finally to a diminished simmer, or keep-warm heat. Steps one and three will produce safe, sure results for all boiling, stewing, steaming and simmering processes."

HERE'S A CHERRY new idea for the old-time remedy for winter cold — it's flaming lemonade today — as delicious and healthful as it is exciting and dramatic. Home-makers who want something special for that member of the family burdened with "the winter sniffles" will doubly appreciate this recipe for flaming lemonade today because it's so quick 'n' easy to make. All you do is mix six ounces can of non-frozen lemonade concentrate with four cans of hot water — makes a big quart, enough for six servings. There's no muss to clean up either and you can be sure of always having non-frozen concentrate on hand because it keeps right on your pantry shelf. After filling cups with toddy, carefully slip one spoonful of pure lemon extract on top of the surface. The extract will ignite at the touch of a match into dancing purple red flame and burn brilliantly for a minute or two before dying down. Make sure flame is extinguished before sipping toddy. Stir toddy thoroughly to mix the delicious fruit meats of the lemonade concentrate. Flaming lemonade today makes a special surprise treat for company guests. Serve lemonade in darkened room during TV intermission and ignite with a match just at the right second when all eyes are turned to your surprise serving.

Bowers Boys Given Party On Birthday

Donnie and Ronnie Bowers, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bowers, Catlin lease, were honored with a party on their 13th birthdays. The serving table was covered with a pink cloth accented with "Happy Birthday" designs in blue. Cake, cocoa topped with marshmallows, and mints in pink and blue cups were served. Favors were dragon whistles. Games were played and pictures taken. Attending were Gary Price, Ronnie Jack Williams, Rodger Stalcup, Dickie Hopkins, Ola Nell Worley, Ray Allen Worley, Tracy Worley, Charles Spotts, Bill Edmondson, Cynthia Shuss, Laquita Shuss and James Bowers.

MUSIC APPRECIATION PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY MRS. A. TEED

Mrs. M. McDaniel was hostess to Twentieth Century Forum Music Club recently with Mrs. J. R. Holloway, president, in charge. Mrs. Arthur Teed presented a program on music appreciation. "Music can be tremendously enjoyable without any organized training whatsoever," she stated. "It is played or sung for you. It is yours to hear and enjoy and your own. It is yours for fun, dreaming, humming, for thinking great or small thoughts, too."

Mrs. Teed selected many of her thoughts and ideas from the book, "Relax and Listen," by John Hallstrom. She played records of parts of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony "Tonight We Love."

The real enjoyment of listening to records is before you, so relax and listen awhile and the world's great musicians can become your dearest friends," she concluded. Members present were Mmes. Roy Bouland, Bob Curry, E. J. Dunigan, W. L. Ellis, H. C. Federar, W. T. Fraser, J. R. Holloway, Dick Hughes, J. D. Johnson, F. Kelley, R. Laycock, J. B. McCreery, H. J. Rose, A. Steele, F. J. 'Era Of Little Men' Begins As Duke, Temple Crowd Dons

By UNITED PRESS
The new "era of the little man" in college basketball picked up added speed Thursday as a pair of medium-sized men helped Duke and Temple bid for even higher spots in the national ratings and an "ordinary" sized hot-shot set a new Skyline Conference scoring record.

Duke, already ranked No. 8 in the country, chalked up a solid 109-80 rout of Clemson up a solid night and setting the pace with 28 points was Bill Yarborough—who stands an even six feet and would be considered small in recent seasons.

Hel Lear of Temple is an inch shorter at 5-11, but he racked up 27 points to lead the unbeaten Owls to an 81-73 victory over Villanova.

Toby Roybal of New Mexico is 6-2 and that's just average as the court sport goes now. But he put the big boys in the shade as he ripped in 45 points in a 92-79 conquest of Montana to smash the Skyline conference point mark.

Before this season started, the game's lawmakers passed some new rules designed to deprive the giants of some of the edge given them by their sheer height. Whether or not final results of the season will show they succeeded, at this point shorter players seem to be turning in more of the top scoring jobs.

Duke has a 6-7 center in Junior Morgan and he played a mighty big part in Wednesday night's win with 21 points and 16 rebounds. But Yarborough's scoring was the crusher as the Blue Devils led all the way after the first eight minutes.

Temple, ranked 14th nationally, ran its record to 9-0 with the triumph over Villanova, and that skin includes a win over Kentucky, the nation's No. 4 team.

New Mexico's Roybal pushed his scoring average to 22.5 points per game with Wednesday night's record spree at Albuquerque, N.M., and also took over the Skyline Conference scoring lead. His record-busting goal with two minutes left was a beauty—he dribbled through the tight Montana defense and fell flat on his back in the process of flipping the ball in.

However, Louisville, the nation's No. 13 team, relied on the familiar figure of the big man in its important 80-75 triumph over Notre Dame in overtime at South Bend, Ind. It was the Cardinals' 12th win in 13 games and 6-8 Charley Tyra led the way with 21 points.

In other leading games: Columbia won 82-74 over Pennsylvania; Tennessee nipped Georgia 62-59 in the Southeastern Conference; St. Louis, ranked 18th nationally, defeated Bradley 75-67 in the Missouri Valley Conference; Fordham nipped Princeton 66-64; Georgetown (D.C.) routed American University 82-63; Boston University downed Boston College 80-65.

Army beat Colgate 69-58; Syracuse defeated Penn State 71-64; and Navy drubbed Johns Hopkins 83-46.

North Carolina State, No. 3 in the nation, visits Maryland; Kentucky, No. 4, hosts Tulane; and Utah, No. 12, visits Denver in three of Thursday night's top games.

Indoor Track Meet May Fall Short In Record Department
BOSTON — UP — The first big indoor track meet of the year may prove to be disappointing as far as the records go.

Many of the leading entries in Saturday's 30th annual Knights of Columbus meet at Boston Garden might be caught looking past the night—their eyes on the 1958 Olympic tryouts at Los Angeles next June. The brighter lights, at least many of them, are adjusting their training schedules for June, not January.

A case in point is Charley Jenkins of Cambridge, Mass., and Villanova. Jenkins has copped the 600 for two years running and holds the Boston record for the distance with a 1:10 clocking last year.

But, as Jenkins puts it, "I won't be razor-sharp in January because I have been training slowly. I want to be at my peak for the Olympic tryouts."

Two Teams Now Lead Nation In Cage Offense, Defense

NEW YORK — UP—Morehead State of Kentucky shared the center of basketball's statistics stage with national champion San Francisco Thursday as the two teams paced the nation in offense and defense, respectively.

Morehead is firing points through the hoop faster than any major-college team in history, except last year's record-setting Furman squad, official NCAA figures disclosed Thursday. The statistics include games through Jan. 10.

The Kentuckians, who have lost three of their 12 games, show an average of 97.8 points per game for their 12 games through Jan. 10. At this time last year, Furman was flirting with the 100-mark, before winding up the season at 95.3.

Morehead opened its largest lead this week in the three weeks it has headed the point-production race. Marshall college stands second with 93 points per game, followed by Memphis State at 92.4 and Louisville at 90.1 as the only other teams over the 90-mark. Defending champion Furman, climbing steadily, now stands sixth at 89.6, just behind fifth-place Illinois' 89.8.

Unbeaten San Francisco has allowed its 12 foes only 62.2 points per game, but is being pressed for the defense lead by perennial defense champion Oklahoma A&M in 12 games, the Aggies have allowed only 53.8 points per game and Stanford is a close third at 54.6.

St. Francis of New York, unbeaten in nine games, occupies a prominent place in several divisions of this week's statistics. The Terriers have a formula for winning that reads: Grab all the rebounds and don't commit fouls.

St. Francis took the lead in rebounding this week with an average of 533 on recoverages, a good lead over the 504 mark owned by Cincinnati and Dayton. They have committed the fewest personal fouls, 13.0 per game. And they stand ninth in scoring with 85.6 points, and second in field-goal percentage with a shooting mark of .486.

George Washington leads in field goal percentage for the fifth consecutive week with .488. North Carolina State remained the best in free throw shooting with a .778 average.

There are 262 Mud lakes, 87 Round lakes, 35 Cranberry Lakes, 31 Crooked Lakes, 32 Pine lakes, 27 Silver lakes and scores of Black lakes listed in Michigan.

New Mexico Cager Sets New Skyline Record, 45 Points

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — UP—Toby Roybal, apparently intend upon making New Mexico into a Skyline Conference basketball power all by himself, set a new skyline record Wednesday night when he scored 45 points against Montana, which fell 92-79 before the re-energized Lobos.

New Mexico was miserably weak in early season, while Roybal was building up steam. It has won two of its three Skyline games so far, and Roybal has moved into the conference scoring leadership.

Last week Roybal set a new fieldhouse record of 35 points at Laramie as New Mexico upset Wyoming, after losing its Skyline opener against Colorado A&M. Wednesday night Roybal set a new Skyline individual scoring record for one game.

He sank the record-making goal by dribbling through a tight Montana zone defense, and fell flat on his back after the shot. He was ejected with two minutes to play, on five fouls.

Roybal scored 11 of New Mexico's first 15 points, and by halftime had scored 26 points. New Mexico led 51-35 at halftime and the taller Montana team was baffled thoroughly.

Roybal also set a new individual scoring record for New Mexico's Carlisle Gymnasium, and ran his season's total to 202 points for nine games. This put him ahead of Wyoming's Joe Capua in conference standings.

Montana's five-foot, 10-inch guard, Ed Argenbright, tried to keep pace with Roybal and scored 10 of his team's first 11 points. But by game's end his 29 points, an excellent performance on any court, was swept into insignificance by Roybal's great display.

FIRST NIGHT ELIMINATIONS

Jerry Lamar, Pampa, left, lands with a right to the midsection that does little damage in the first round of the bout with Cecil Ferguson, Dumas. The Dumas fighter seems to be ready to lift his right for an uppercut in photo. Both boys were game fighters and fought one of the most "bloody" bouts of the night as both boys landed solidly to the nose. Lamar won the decision in the 135 high-school division. The occasion was the first night eliminations of the Borger District Golden Gloves. (Photo by James Ellis)

Card of Thanks

THE OTHER ROOM No, not cold beneath the grasses, Not wise-wait with the combs; Rather, in my Father's mansion, LIVING in another room. Living, like the one who loves me, Like you child with cheeks alabam, BURST in another room. Nearer than the youth whom fortune Beckons where the strange lands loom. Just behind the hanging curtain, SERVING in another room. Shall I doubt my Father's mercy? Shall I think of death as doom, Or the stepping over the threshold To a bigger, brighter room? Shall I blame my Father's wisdom? Shall I sit, snatched in a room, When I know our loved one is happy, WAITING in the other room. And we know that all things work together for good of them that love God, and them who are called according to His purpose. (Romans 8:28) Paul Bradford

Let's Go Shopping One of these days I must go shopping. I am completely out of self-righteousness. I picked up the other day for some humiliation which they say is less expensive and wears longer. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used for wraps this season. Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace. We are a little low on that and one can never have too much of it. And by the way, I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is very becoming to her and I think it might look well on me. I might try to have my sense of appreciation coming and look around for some inexpensive everyday goodness. It is surprising how quickly one's stock of goodness is depleted. -Author Unknown. 105 Lots 105 FOR SALE: 4 choice lots in Memory Gardens of Pampa at cost. 117 FORD'S BODY SHOP Body Work - Car Painting 623 W. Kingsmill, Ph. 4-4619. 120 Automobiles For Sale 120 Plains Motor Co. 113 N. Frost Phone 4-2534. Let's Go Shopping One of these days I must go shopping. I am completely out of self-righteousness. I picked up the other day for some humiliation which they say is less expensive and wears longer. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used for wraps this season. Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace. We are a little low on that and one can never have too much of it. And by the way, I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is very becoming to her and I think it might look well on me. I might try to have my sense of appreciation coming and look around for some inexpensive everyday goodness. It is surprising how quickly one's stock of goodness is depleted. -Author Unknown. 105 Lots 105 FOR SALE: 4 choice lots in Memory Gardens of Pampa at cost. LOVE AND MARRIAGE GO TOGETHER — In real life, as in his song, Sammy Cahn, with family, has a hit.

He Wrote, Lives 'Love, Marriage'

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — A tenor who makes his living singing at weddings reports that next to "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Promise Me," the most requests he gets these days are for "Love and Marriage." Which is perfectly O.K. with Sammy Cahn, the lyricist, who calls the hit song "a labor of love — and marriage."

In show business, they generally call Sammy Cahn's marriage one of the best. Last September, Sammy and Gloria celebrated their 10th anniversary in Los Angeles. They have two children — Steven, 7, and Laurie, 5.

"Whatever I am," Sammy says, "I owe to my love and my marriage. It sounds corny, but I mean it. I've never been more successful. I've never been happier. I've never been more in love."

Sammy's friends — and there are many of these — say he speaks the truth. This is the prototype of the happily married man. But it wasn't always thus.

"He was a bum before he got married," one friend says. He didn't mean Sammy was a panderer — he's been a successful songwriter since he was 24. But he meant that Sammy was a romantic bum. He went out with hundreds of girls. He played the field like it was a career.

Sammy admits it. "I was the king of the bachelors," he says. And then he met Gloria Delson. She was (and still is) very beautiful. She was a Goldwyn Girl. Once she made a list of the Ten Most Beautiful Girls in the World. She was young and there seemed to be a shimmering career awaiting her. But what she wanted was love and marriage.

Sammy and Gloria fell in love. It was quick and easy. But he couldn't get up the nerve to propose. He confided his problem to his friends, Frank Sinatra and his wife, Nancy Sinatra. At a party one night, Nancy Sinatra handed Sammy a note that read simply, "Now." And Sammy took the cue and proposed and Gloria accepted.

Prominently displayed in the Cahns' home is the note.

He was 32 when they married. She was in her early 20's. She promptly retired from show business and became Mrs. Sammy Cahn exclusively. And he began to do most of his writing at home. They were seldom apart. The "king of the bachelors" had become a prince of husbands.

"If anything ever happened to Gloria," a friend has said, "Sammy would become a basket case." The Cahns do not think they are unusual.

"It's just that the gruesome side of Hollywood makes the headlines," Sammy says. "We know many happy couples, besides ourselves."

He thinks his personal happiness is reflected in his work.

"A person's environment is always in his sub-conscious," he thinks. "I imagine many of my songs are reflections of my personal life."

ILL — W.C. Handy, famous composer of "The St. Louis Blues" and other popular jazz tunes, is improved but still in critical condition after an operation for an intestinal obstruction. The 82-year-old composer is in New York City's Sydenham Hospital.

Twin Fever
NILES, Mich. — UP — Three sets of twin calves were born during a 10-day period on the John Foster farm near here.

Matches May Be Clue In Murder Case

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — UP — Police Wednesday hoped a crumpled book of paper matches would lead them to an unknown person who shot and killed an elderly, "baby-faced" man and dumped the body in a U.S. 66 culvert about 65 miles west of here Tuesday night.

The victim, about 60, was believed to be another in New Mexico's long history of hitchhike slayings. He was apparently shot twice through the head, laid on a blood-drenched blanket in the rear of a car, and later rolled into the culvert.

The man's pockets had been cleaned of everything except the book of matches, from "Pete's Cafe, Gallup, N. M.," leading police to theorize robbery could have been the motive.

Teeth Intact

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. — UP — To reduce tooth injury, the New Britain dental society this fall provided mouth guards to members of the high school football team. The results: the team not only went through its season without losing a game, but without losing a tooth — or even a filling.

a sister, Mrs. Nelly B. West of Austin. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Thursday in Bryan with burial to follow at Henderson, Tex.

Educator Dies Wednesday

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. — UP — Dr. T. D. Brooks, 73, a Texas and Oklahoma educator for more than 50 years and dean emeritus at Texas A&M College, died in a hospital at nearby Bryan, Tex., early Wednesday.

Dr. Brooks, a former mayor of Waco, Tex., had served on the Texas A&M staff for 21 years before he retired in 1953. He had been in ill health for some time.

Dr. Brooks came to Texas A&M in 1932, and had served successively as dean of the summer school dean of the school of arts and sciences and dean of the graduate school until 1947.

That year he was named dean emeritus and professor of education, and served in that capacity until his retirement.

Dr. Brooks received his BA degree from Baylor University in 1903 and his MA and PhD from the University of Chicago. He taught in Texas public schools until 1906, when he was named superintendent of schools at Hillsboro, Tex., where he stayed until 1916.

In 1916 Dr. Brooks was named president of Southeastern State College at Durant, Okla. Five years later he returned to Baylor as professor of school administration where he served until he came to Texas A&M in 1932.

While at Waco, Dr. Brooks served as a member of the city commission and as mayor of Waco for two years.

He is survived by the widow and
