Adlai Speaks To Voters In California

WASHINGTON — UP — Adlai E. Stevenson, bent on a comeback after his Minnesota defeat, displayed himself before California voters Thursday as a candidate now ready for toe-to-toe slugging with Sen. Estes Kefauver. But while the "new" Stevenson was showing a willingness to club Kefauver, he was also professing to be "just plain mad" about time shaking hands and less discussing issues. Stevenson returned to California Wednesday for a two-day campaign tour in the state where he faces Kefauver in their biggest primary test June 5. And in a Los Angeles television address Wednesday night, he showed none of his previous reluctance to engage in a personality clash with Kefauver. Stevenson accused Kefauver of trying to "injure me." He said Kefauver did this by labeling party leaders backing Stevenson as "sinister political bosses." But Kefauver would not reply to Stevenson's charge. He said that he did not "intend to say anything disparaging about Mr. Stevenson" and had "asked my supporters not to join in any criticism of him."

Kefauver, who has just finished a week's tour of California, campaigned in Arizona Wednesday. He scheduled stops Thursday at Albuquerque and Santa Fe, N. M., en route back to Washington. His headquarters announced that he will leave Sunday night for four days of campaigning in Florida, where he is matched against Stevenson in the primary May 29. He will fly next Thursday to Nebraska, another state in which he may enter a presidential primary. He already is entered in 11. At Winston-Salem, N. C. Wednesday night, a southern Democratic congressman suggested a new possibility for his party's nomination "if there should be a deadlock" between Stevenson and Kefauver. Rep. Thurmond Chat-ham said he thinks that Gen. Alfred Gruenther of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces, would be an "excellent choice" as a compromise candidate. Stevenson said in his Los Angeles speech that Kefauver's tactics of putting a "boss" label on pro-Stevenson leaders was nonsense. "Here in California as in New Hampshire and Minnesota," Stevenson said, "the endorsement of the leaders of our party evidently becomes reprehensible only when the senator doesn't get it."

He Was So Right
PARIS — UP — A bartender said Wednesday his alcoholic rule of thumb for honesty turned out to be only too accurate. He tried to order two clients out of his bar in the early morning hours because they were "too sober to be honest." He was right. They hit him on the head and cleaned out his cash register.

Dry Petitions Are Turned In

Petitions calling for a local option election by May 5 were submitted to County Clerk Charlie Thut today, bearing 2,570 signatures. All returns from 32 Gray County churches were checked by Rev. Carroll B. Ray, chairman of the Gray County Civic Loyalty League, and Waldon Moore, chairman of the election committee. They were checked for signatures, poll tax numbers and addresses. Moore has been chiefly responsible for distributing and handling the 32 petitions. Yesterday afternoon the petitions bore about 2,248 signatures with only 2,080 signatures required to call the election. Leaders of the dry movement have aimed their guns at the local option election slated for Saturday, May 5. The question of the day is: will Gray County vote dry or remain wet?

Nine Negroes Fired After Prayer Day

NEW YORK — UP — Nine Negroes, who were warned not to take part in the national prayers for leaders of the Alabama bus boycott, said Thursday they would fight to regain the jobs they lost for taking an hour off from work. The workers were fired Wednesday for leaving their jobs at the Pacific Airmotive Corp. plant at Chino, Calif. The Negroes protested that they were only participating in a "religious observance" at no cost to the company. The special services, called "the national deliverance day of prayer" by its Negro leaders, were held in churches across the nation Wednesday. Negro leaders reported 28,000 persons attended services during the day in Chicago, New York, Washington, D. C., Boston and Los Angeles reported large attendances. In the South, about 2,500 Negroes participated in a mass demonstration sponsored by the Negro Inter-denominational Ministerial Alliance representing 50 churches in the area. Negro church doors were open the day long for prayer in Atlanta and Montgomery. Negro clergy in Galveston, Tex. and Baton Rouge, La. held special services.

8,550 License Plates Issued

Only two days remain to purchase '56 license plates before the current plates expire. All motor vehicles in the state of Texas must have the new plates after April 1, according to the state law. Jack Beck, county tax assessor and collector, reported that approximately 8,550 passenger plates had been purchased as of 10 a. m. today. He said that it looks like most of the people had already purchased their new plates. However, he expects a large number of plates will be sold Saturday. According to reports received from the local police department and Sheriff's office, those vehicles that do not have the new license plates displayed by next Tuesday will be stopped and tickets issued.

Farm Bill Action Near

WASHINGTON — UP — Senate-House conferees neared final agreement Thursday on striking four more blows at the administration's farm program. The 10-man conference committee expected to give final approval to farm bill provisions boosting producer prices for milk and butterfat and providing two-price systems for rice and wheat. The wheat plan would increase the cost of producing bread about one cent a loaf. The administration has raised objections to all four of the price-boosting proposals. But the conferees have generally ignored all administration objections despite increasing Republican predictions of a presidential veto. The recess starts Thursday night.

The compromise farm bill which the conference committee began working on Monday faces a tough battle in both the Senate and House when Congress returns from its Easter recess April 9. The recess starts Thursday night. The administration's hopes of defeating the compromise bill and substituting a GOP version received a boost Wednesday from (D-N.M.), former Democratic secretary of agriculture. He called the compromise bill "horrible." The conference committee Wednesday night tentatively approved the two-price plans for wheat and rice. The rice plan would assure growers two years of rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity on rice sold to American and Cuban consumers. Growers would get at least 85 per cent of parity for rice shipped elsewhere. The wheat plan would go into effect next year if approved by wheat growers in referendum. The plan would raise the support price to a record high of 100 per cent of parity for wheat processed into food for American consumption—about 70 cents more than the present support price of $1.81 a bushel. The conferees already have written into the bill a provision boosting the support price on this year's wheat crop to $2.26 a bushel. The milk provision included in the original Senate-passed farm bill would add 10 cents to the present price of $3.15 a hundred pounds for manufacturing milk. Manufacturing milk is used in producing ice cream, cheese and canned milk. The butterfat provision included in both the original Senate and House bills would increase the minimum support price of butter fat from 75 to 80 per cent. Other congressional news: The Senate investigating subcommittee sought a State Department explanation of its disclosure that Nationalist China is trading with Communist China. But first the subcommittee summoned Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and foreign aid chief John B. Hollister to a closed session to testify on East-West strategic trade. The House Government Operations committee charged Interior Department officials are trying to "cripple and thwart" the federal power program. The committee said the officials adopted lobbyist-suggested policies "designed to subvert" public power preference laws. Congress passed and sent to the White House a $3.63 billion appropriation bill to run the Post Office and Treasury Departments and the U.S. tax court in fiscal 1957. President Eisenhower asked for $20.7 million more. The House Veterans committee approved a change in the law governing GI mortgages. Under the change, a veteran would no longer be ultimately liable for a GI mortgage on a home after he has sold it if the VA approved the new buyer. Congress approved the $760 million upper Colorado reclamation and power project. The administration-backed bill was sent to the White House.

Arms Bid Considered By U. S.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — UP — The United States is giving urgent attention to Israel's bid for American arms despite UN moves to ease the Middle East crisis, administration sources reported in Washington Thursday. The Arab nations still were delaying American efforts to send Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on a peace mission to Palestine, but the administration officials said this was not stalling U.S. action on Israel's $64-million arms request. The UN and Washington moves coincided with these Middle East developments: 1. An Israeli army spokesman said Egyptian and Israeli patrols exchanged fire for half an hour in the Israel-held Mitzena area Wednesday night. No casualties were reported. 2. Israel announced it was releasing 35 Syrian "war prisoners" Thursday including six infiltrators who had completed prison terms. Syria announced it was returning four Israeli soldiers and one civilian. 3. A pro-government Cairo newspaper said the Soviet had offered uranium to Egypt for use in an "atoms-for-peace" atomic plant in Egypt.

French Navy Fires On Arab Outlaws

ALGIERS — UP — The French navy turned its big guns on Arab outlaws in Algeria Wednesday in a "tributary invasion" that developed into one of the bloodiest battles of the hit-and-run guerrilla war, it was announced Thursday. The 6-inch guns of the cruiser Georges Leygues pounded guerrilla-infested hills near Collo, 200 miles east of here, and fighter planes strafed suspected outlaw hideouts while marines swarmed ashore from landing craft. Inland, tough Senegalese troops massed to cut off the Arabs' retreat. The Collo battle accounted for 64 of the 111 persons reported killed in Algeria Wednesday—four Frenchmen and at least 60 Arabs. Another seven French soldiers were slain in a guerrilla ambush 40 miles east of Constantine, and 40 other persons were slain in scattered clashes. French authorities identified one recent victim of Arab banditry here as an American citizen, identified only as Ben Ali Zandjabil, who was murdered apparently because he refused to give money to the guerrillas. Zandjabil, whose American address was unavailable in Algiers, had been living with his family here for about a year.

Rescue Workers Search For Bodies Of 5 Believed Buried

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Rescue workers searched Thursday for the bodies of five men believed buried under tons of rubble in an explosion which rocked two square miles of West Philadelphia Wednesday night. Fifty other persons were injured in the blast. Many of the injured said they barely escaped flying concrete and stone blasted from a grain elevator and four silos which were flattened by the blast. Anthony Karnell, manager of a restaurant in the block next to the explosion, said glass and rubble showered over the 30 patrons in his restaurant when the explosion occurred. Knocked Down Four Times "It looked like all hell was breaking loose, and I held onto everybody to get out in a hurry," he said. Mrs. Margaret Connell, 40, said she was knocked down four times by shock waves. "The fourth time I couldn't get up. I just lay there stunned," she said. "Then a policeman was bending over, helping me up. I had no idea where he came from. I don't remember being brought to the hospital."

Heads Of Cotton Firms Deny Charges

DALLAS — UP — The heads of two Dallas cotton firms, among eight indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of fixing bid prices, said Thursday they knew nothing of any "under the table" deals. A New Orleans grand jury returned the indictments, naming the eight firms and four individuals. It charged them with fixing bid prices on purchases of government-owned cotton, a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. Firms named in the indictments were: A. Campdera & Co., Inc., Sternberg-Martin & Co., Inc., R. L. Dixon & Brothers, Inc., and Crespi & Co., all of Dallas; Weil Brothers Inc., Montgomery, Ala.; J. A. Baker & Co., and Pell Cotton Co., both of Charlotte, N.C.; and E. F. Creekmore Co., Inc., of New Orleans. Individuals named were R. O. Beach, Houston, Tex., and Robert D. McCallum, Memphis, Tenn., partners in the firm of George H. McFadden & Brothers, cotton merchants; and Morris Wolf and John P. Godchaux, both of New Orleans. Wolf is the sole owner of Wolf & Co., cotton broker, and Godchaux is his associate. McFadden and Weil are among the largest cotton merchant firms in the world. Assistant Attorney General Stanley M. Barnes, head of the Justice Department's anti-trust division, said in Washington the merchants have since 1948 used the services of one cotton brokerage to bid on surplus cotton. Bought Most of Surplus The indictment charged the defendants maintained Wolf & Co. as a common purchasing agent of Commodity Credit Corporation cotton. Wolf & Co. was accused of allocating bids among the merchants, fixing the bid prices to be submitted and discouraging others from competing with Wolf & Co. Barnes charged that during 1954-55 the CCC sold more than $40 million in surplus cotton. He said the defendants, through Wolf & Co., bought about 60 per cent of the total. Ed Martin, of Sternberg-Martin & Co., said here Thursday that "as far as we know we have done nothing wrong." He was echoed in this by R. L. Dixon, another Dallas firm owner.

Dusty Haze Still In Air

A dusty haze hung over four states Thursday and biting winds piled snow into huge drifts in the North. The dust and snows were keep-sakes of a massive storm which drove eastward Thursday. Roads were dangerously ice-coated from the Great Lakes to central Pennsylvania and parts of New York state got a mixture of freezing rain, sleet and snow. The raking winds which churned up a million-dollar dust storm in the Southwest were dying Thursday. But suspended dust was reported over western and central Texas and parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. Visibility was still low in Texas and forecasters didn't expect clear skies until Thursday night. Kansas, Colorado Wheat Hurt The dust storm also left "drifts" several feet high along highways. ### Rock And Roll Music Is Disease

HARTFORD, Conn. —UP—A noted psychiatrist described "rock-and-roll" music Tuesday as a "communicable disease" and another sign of "adolescent rebellion."

Dr. Francis J. Braceland, psychiatrist-in-chief of the Institute of Living, called rock-and-roll a "cannibalistic and tribalistic" form of music.

Commenting on disturbances during the weekend at a local theater which led to 11 arrests, Dr. Braceland said rock-and-roll is a "communicable disease," appealing to "adolescent rebellion" and "insecurity."

"If it isn't rock-and-roll, it's something else," the psychiatrist said.

It is insecurity and "rebellion," Dr. Braceland said, that impels teen-agers to effect "ducktail" haircuts, wear zoot-suits and carry on boisterously at rock-and-roll affairs.

Yen For 'Better Living' Upset Market Saturation Theory

By ALFRED LEECH
CHICAGO — UP—The American yen for "better living" has upset some of the theories about market saturation, a study shows. The study was made by Admiral Finance Corp., which sampled, 4,500 of its customers in Maryland, Kentucky, Florida, Colorado and Texas. Regardless of the varying views on the rising tide of consumer debt, the study shows that most families tend to want more and are never really satisfied with what they have. "Businessmen who worry because they think their market is saturated do not realize that the dream of a continuously higher standard of living is very real for most families in this country," said Harry A. Collinger, Admiral Finance president. "North, South, East and West, our sample shows that Americans in the main seem never to be satisfied. They always want to improve their standard of living." The report was entitled, "Saturation Is a Myth." In its sample of 4,500 customers, the company found that approximately 92 per cent had refrigerators, 69 per cent had washing machines, 78 per cent had toasters, 63 per cent had vacuum cleaners, 76 per cent had TV sets and about 99 per cent had radios. "Yet despite that seeming high saturation," the report said, "they bought more electric appliances—a second and third radio, another (portable) TV set, second vacuum cleaner for upstairs, a spinet piano for the den, a better kitchen range, a sandwich toaster in addition to the bread toaster, a second small refrigerator for the rumpus room." Collinger said the study indicates that "it is generally the people who already have a house or car or home appliances who are in the market for a newer version or a second version. "In a period of sustained spending power and high savings like the present, families tend to increase their wants rather than to become satisfied with what they have."

Conventions To Have Big Audience

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK — UP—The largest audience in the history of television will peak in this August on the most complete event ever undertaken by the TV networks. The occasion will be the back-to-back Democratic and Republican national conventions. This August the nation is expected to have some 36 million TV homes. It's estimated that four out of every five of those homes will be turned in to the conventions during the high points. This compares with the same four-out-of-five average in 1952 when this nation boasted only 19 million homes with TV sets. What will make this convention year so difficult to televise is the closeness of the two conventions. The Democrats kick off their clamor in Chicago on Aug. 13. The Republicans open in San Francisco exactly one week later. If the Democratic convention runs for more than one week, the networks are in trouble CBS and NBC both say, however, that they will attempt to cover both at the same time. ABC had no statement on the matter, but presumably will follow suit. Even if the Democratic convention does not overlap the GOP meeting, the three networks will have a whopping job on their hands. Each must build the equivalent of a full-sized television station complete with studios in Chicago and San Francisco. And each must manage to ferry small armies of personnel from one convention city to another. NBC says it will send about 400 members on the road and ABC and CBS will almost match that number. This corps includes reporters, producers, directors, editors, writers, executive personnel and technicians.

Large Crowd Here Enjoys Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus

The Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus closed out the community concert season last night before the largest crowd of Pampans ever to attend such a performance. An estimated crowd of close to 1200 were present.

Eduardo Caso, director, literally swayed the audience into singing and "waiting" with Matilda before the first intermission.

After the chorus had sung several humorous verses of the unofficial Australian national anthem, "Waltzing Matilda," he audience joined in waiting from side-to-side. They loved it. Caso said that it was probably the "first time you ever swayed a community concert."

The audience response to the bright-faced boys with the clear voices was very favorable. They called the group back again and again for encore after encore. Before the night was over, the chorus had repeated three choruses and had been called back for six encores.

The original boys chorus was founded by Director Caso in the fall of 1939 with only eight boys. Slowly the fame of the group began to spread and the chorus increased in size. In 1950 the Chorus was incorporated as an independent, non-profit organization, administered by a board of directors. Since that time the group has received praise from some of the finest critics in Europe and applause from American press reviews.

They are well-disciplined, helpful and cheerful, with their own organization. One boy acts as manager for the entire group, another is in charge of finances, and each one has his own job and responsibilities.

As they travel all over the nation in a short two and one-half months they never grow homesick. They're too busy. In one season they performed 60 concerts in 50 days. And then, when they return to Tucson, Ariz., they live ordinary lives catching up on their school work.

Caso says that he expects this chorus next year to be the finest he has ever directed. This present group is one of the most consistent plained that the dust was oily and stuck to their furniture.

Officials had not tallied the dust storm's damage. But half of Colorado's $4 million-acre wheat crop had apparently blown away and heavy damage was feared in Kansas wheatlands.

To the north, 30 and 40-mph winds piled almost a foot of snow into drifts across North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Snow plows battled to clear northern Minnesota roads under still-falling snow Thursday and work crews turned out to repair hundreds of snapped telephone lines.

South Gets Rain, Mail

The late March blast took the form of hail storms and drumming rain in the Southland.

The storm ranged through the Gulf states, pounding Montgomery, Ala., with an inch of rain and quarter-inch hailstones in one hour. Quarter-inch hail also battered Chattanooga and Nashville in Tennessee and the weather bureau reported an airliner's windshield was damaged while flying through the storm.

The rains were not enough to put out an 80,000-acre forest fire in northeast Florida, however. The blaze extends all the way from Lake City, Fla., to the Georgia State line.

BUG MAN—That old cartoonist's standby, the "future man" with antennae coming out of his helmet, has arrived. He's Ray Wonacott, employee at the Hanford plutonium plant in Richland, Wash. Antennae and throat microphone are used to report by radio the radiation intensity in a "hot" zone at the plant. This speeds recording of radiation readings taken on the round detector Wonacott is holding. Special clothing protects Wonacott from radiation in the plant, operated by General Electric for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

What is the correct defense in today's hand? When the hand was played, West opened the king of clubs and continued with the ace of clubs. East discarded the king of diamonds on the second round of clubs, and it was up to West to find the right continuation.
West led the ace of diamonds and then led another diamond, after which the party was over. South ruffed the second diamond and led out the rest of his trumps. When the last trump was led, East was squeezed in the red suits. Dummy saved a diamond, and two hearts, while South saved three hearts. East could not stop both suits with only the three cards he was allowed to keep.

West should have realized that his partner had a six-card diamond suit. The defenders could expect to win two clubs and one diamond. They couldn't defeat the contract without a heart trick.
There would be no problem about getting a heart trick if East had taken the king, but West had to take precautions against finding only the jack of hearts in the East hand. West could do this by leading the queen of hearts at fourth trick.
If South won in his own hand, he would be unable to execute a squeeze or take a later finesse through East's jack of hearts. If South won the heart trick in the dummy, there would be no squeeze and he couldn't finesse while West still had trumps.

Lefors Personals

By SAMMIE COBERLY
Pampa News Correspondent

Mrs. Anna Payne has returned from the hospital after suffering from a case of pneumonia.

The Lefors High School Seniors were honored with a banquet by the W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church recently. Bob Harris of Marlow, Okla., addressed the 37 members of the class along with their sponsors, H. L. McCarty, Noema Lantz and Mrs. McCarley, guest. Entertainment was provided by Sheila Cable, June Henderson, and Alta Smith who sang special selections. An Indian motif was carried out through the decorations, banquet and entertainment.

Lucky, Lucky juniors. For recently they selected their senior rings and invitations for next year. I hear the rings are unusually different. An hour glass shaped set of blue will be centered by the traditional pirate head. Noticed Grace and Blackie Bishop making several trips into town lately with furniture in the back of their pickup. That must mean they are finally moving into that cute new home of theirs. Give some of you ladies a tip. Go see Grace and take a peek at those beautiful kitchen cabinets Grace finished all by herself. Words can't describe them.

Didn't know we had a star in our midst but found that Betty Fenno was named "Homemaker of Tomorrow" from Lefors High School by Betty Crocker, Inc. She received a gold pin with the symbol of a homemaker crest on the front. Have noticed busy goings-on by some of the girls in our block. The spring weather seems to have brought them out in all their spring finery.

Spring is really here. You can tell in Lefors because we do have a certain sign every year. We have some energetic souls who (and they are nearly same ones every year) drag out those water hoses and from the distance of their front porch, start their lawns on an early green venture. Can't wait to see the Easter fashions next week. Will have some spies out to catch a glimpse of our own holiday fashions next Sunday.

Pampans Attend CoC Convention

Leaving Tuesday afternoon to attend the 132-county convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Mineral Wells were Ed Myatt, president of the Pampa chamber, Manager "Red" Wedgeworth and Roy Bourland.

They were accompanied by John Matfield, manager of the Pampa Chamber. The three-day convention, March 28-30, will include a panel of six U.S. congressmen to answer questions for one morning session, addresses by the chairman of the national Citizens Committee on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy and by Nicholas Nyaradi, former secretary of the Treasury of Hungary.

Texas Tops Sooners
AUSTIN, March 17—UP—Junior Oren Bucklelew pitched scoreless ball for seven innings while his University of Texas teammates piled up a nine run lead over the Oklahoma Sooners Saturday and then weakened only slightly, making the final score 9-4.

THE STORY OF EGGBERT

BY WALT SCOTT

Duster Takes Hundreds Of Tons Of Good Topsoil

By UNITED PRESS
A dust storm that had blackened the sky over six southwestern states took hundreds of tons of the best topsoil of New Mexico and Colorado almost to the Gulf of Mexico Wednesday.

It was the worst duster of the year and an expensive blow to hundreds of wheat farmers. At last report, the dust had reached Alice, Tex., 50 miles from the Gulf, and 1,200 to 1,500 miles from where it was picked up.

At some points Tuesday, the choking dust was so thick it was almost like night.

Grain Damage High.
Texas apparently had the worst of what was left of the storm Wednesday. El Paso had a mile of visibility, as did Cotulla, also in West Texas. Those were the worst hit points at last report.

Damage to grain in some areas was high, but so far unestimated. Reports told of the raking winds stripping the soil away from the roots of winter wheat.

Soil gone, there remains nothing for the wheat to do but topple over and die. In some areas, growing grain was reported to have disappeared with the soil that sustained it.

Kenneth Chalmers, U.S. Department of Agriculture chief in Denver, said eight to 14 per cent of the wheat around Burlington, Colo., was badly damaged, but it was impossible to estimate the damage over all of southeastern Colorado.

He said one quoted figure of 75 per cent of Colorado wheat being blown out of the ground was "a little high." Actually the February snows have left Colorado soil conditions better than they have been for 20 years.

Visibility was a quarter-of-a-mile Tuesday in Lamar, Colo. The sun was shining Wednesday.

The first big duster of 1956 in Kansas covered more than 40,000 square miles of the nation's biggest wheat-growing state Tuesday. It covered all of the western third of the state and more than half of the central third.

Winds were still strong in western Kansas, but the lowest visibility reported was 1 1/2 miles at Hill City. The Kansas crop reporting service said in its weekly summary that the moisture shortage is critical in the heart of the Kansas wheat country.

Oklahoma Escapes Damage
Oklahoma's wheat seemed to have escaped severe damage. Archie Wells, U.S. soil conservationist in Cimarron county, Okla., said there was "very little wind damage."

"We are tickled to death on how it came out of it," he said. "There was a lot of dust in the air, but it was all coming in overhead from the north."

The point he was making was that it was Colorado and New Mexico dust and that it took almost no soil away from wheat in the Oklahoma Panhandle. That also seemed to be the story in Texas; dust, but from Colorado and New Mexico.

But no matter where the dust came from, Housewives suffered; it found its way through chinks in houses that not even light penetrates and settled on furniture and curtains as a film.

If you wear a hat six times and get not one compliment, you've made a fashion error. Get rid of it!

FALL IN THE SPRING—The gal on the ground is Marilyn Monroe immediately after she fell from the five-foot-high platform behind her. She was walking on it for a scene in "Bus Stop." But don't worry, men, she only skinned her knees. The scene was being shot at a rodeo in Phoenix, Ariz.

That assured the victory of a new singles champ, with Tony Sparano of Rego Park, N.Y., now the leader with 719.

France Starts Big Reform Campaign

By CHARLES M. MOCANN United Press Foreign Analyst

France has embarked on a historic campaign of colonial reforms in an attempt to save its still vast overseas possessions.

Morocco and Tunisia have been given independent status within the French Union, as the French empire is now called.

A far-reaching plan to give independent status to Algeria, which politically is a part of France itself, also has been approved.

Now the French National Assembly, the dominant house of Parliament, has approved a reform program embracing the remainder of French Africa and the island of Madagascar, off the east coast.

It is expected that this program will be extended to French possessions all over the world in the months to come.

The campaign is one of enormous scope. It includes not only those territories in North Africa where nationalistic feeling has burst into revolt. It includes territories where nationalistic feeling is smoldering—and others which the desire for freedom has not reached.

It is sometime forgotten that France, with all its troubles, is still a great world power.

Its possessions include islands off the Canadian coast, islands in the West Indies, French Guiana in South America, islands in the Indian Ocean and the South Seas.

In Africa, outside of Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria, France's possessions include French West Africa, French Equatorial Africa and Somaliland.

Entrée: These individual frozen dinners can be ready to eat after 10 minutes in a 450° F. oven. That's all the time it takes to thaw and heat them through. Rip off the foil that covers the dinner and you'll find big slices of turkey over moist dressing covered with meaty turkey gravy. Buttered peas and sweet potatoes are in each side compartment of the aluminum dinner tray.

Dessert: Latch on to some of those ready-made apple pies that come frozen. Bake to brown. Just for fun melt some chocolate over hot water. Drool it over top of pie to write "April Fool!"

FOOD NEWS FILLERS
Cook Chicken Without Thawing: The new fast way to cook frozen chicken is to place the frozen chicken right in the frying pan . . . without thawing; then apply heat. Here is the recipe: Place contents of 1 package (1-pound size) frozen chicken thigh, breasts, drumsticks or wings in skillet with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted. Sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cover tightly and cook over low heat about 30 minutes. Turn chicken; cover and continue to cook for 30 minutes more or until chicken is tender. Remove lid during last 5 minutes to evaporate excess moisture. 2 to 3 servings.

9 Strawberry Tarts For Easter Dessert

An individual strawberry tart should please everyone as the climax of Easter dinner. The flaky little pastry tart shells could be made the day before — the filling whipped up and mounded in no time on Easter Sunday.

This recipe makes eight well-filled tarts. Strawberry gelatin and frozen strawberries give lots of wonderful berry flavor and also rosy pink color. All else you need for the filling is a little lemon juice and evaporated milk, chilled and whipped to give the dessert a nice fluffy texture.

You'll want to allow about two hours for this dessert to chill in the refrigerator before serving.

1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
2-4 cup boiling water
1 package frozen strawberries, (10 oz.) thawed
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup evaporated milk, chilled
8 baked pastry tart shells

Place gelatin in large size mixing bowl. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Cool slightly, then stir in the thawed strawberries. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add lemon juice to the chilled milk and whip until milk is stiff and will hold a peak. Fold into gelatin mixture lightly but thoroughly. Spoon into baked tart shells. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Makes 8 generous tarts.

Honey Has Many And Varied Uses

A spoonful of honey in the center of your grapefruit is a delicious reminder of the advent of springtime.

For those of you who like a sweet coffee, try using honey as the sweetening agent. It's unique yet flavorful.

Comb honey devotees can use small pieces of the delicacy on top of orange slices for an unusual effect. Small children particularly like this idea, for the chewy wax of the comb appeals to them.

Honey in combination with butter makes a spread that does not slide off the bread. Try this on your hot buns this Easter.

Be sure to celebrate Honey For Breakfast Week in style Easter morning!

Scalloped Ham And Cabbage Tempting

It's mealtime in no time when you serve a meal centered on a scalloped ham and cabbage dish, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

This quick-to-prepare casserole dish is just the thing for Mrs. Homemaker who's looking for a new way to use those leftover slices and bits of ham for Easter dinner.

This dish is hearty, handsome — and mighty tempting.

SCALLOPED HAM AND CABBAGE
1 pound cooked ham, diced
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup flour
2 cups milk
1 1/2 pounds (2 quarts) shredded cabbage
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
Melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually add the milk, stirring constantly. Cook until thick. Steam or cook cabbage in boiling water for 5 minutes. Add cheese and green pepper to white sauce. Add diced ham. Place a layer of partially cooked cabbage in a greased 2-quart baking dish; then a layer of ham and cheese sauce mixture. Repeat. Melt the butter or margarine and mix with crumbs. Sprinkle crumbs with mixture in baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

POCKETBOOK BISCUITS
1/4 cup shortening
2 cups Gold Medal Flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup milk

Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Stir in milk. Knead on lightly floured surface. Roll out 1/4" thick. Cut rounds, spread with butter, fold in half and press edges together. For extra richness, spread fat on top of biscuits before baking. Bake 10-12 min. at 450° on ungreased baking sheet.

It's real economy to have three pairs of shoes going at once if you possibly can. One pair at the shoe shop, one in the closet, one on your feet. This way, they all last longer and look better while they last.

To remove stains from porcelain, apply a paste made of cream of tartar and hydrogen peroxide. Let stand about 15 minutes and then rinse well.

The kitchen rolling pin can do effective double duty in smoothing out a new rubber tile floor, if a conventional flooring roller isn't handy.

Honey For Breakfast Week Begins Sunday

Honey For Breakfast Week starts Easter Sunday morning. Can there be a better way to celebrate the traditional beauty of Easter morning than with a food which is Mother Nature's very own expression of the sweetness of life.

It is not difficult to use honey on this glorious morning. Honey can glaze the most humble doughnut into a sparkling ring by simply adding a little ginger to the honey, spreading it on the doughnut, then broiling it until the top is slightly crusted. Here's the recipe:

HONEY GLAZE FOR DOUGHNUTS
Mix 1-3 cup of Honey with 1 teaspoon of ginger in a saucepan. Cook to a rolling boil then boil for 1 minute longer. Arrange doughnuts on a cookie sheet and brush top side with the glaze. Broil 3 inches from boiling unit at a 350 degrees F. or moderate oven temperature for about 3 minutes or until slightly crusted. This amount of glaze is enough for 8 doughnuts.

Your husband's clothes need wider, heavier hangers than yours. The keynote to good dressing is still simplicity. If you wear earrings and bracelet, leave the necklace at home.

MILLER-HOOD PHARMACY Monthly News

A Message from Your Neighborhood Pharmacy

EVERYBODY KONWS that a dollar today has much less purchasing power than it used to have. Many of the things you buy now costs two or three times as much.

BUT WE PHARMACISTS are proud of the fact that almost everything you get from us has advanced much less than the average increase. Most of the things we supply cost only a few cents more than they used to. Some of them cost less.

EVEN THE apparently expensive new medicines are really a greater value than ever. You get well so much quicker, your physician makes fewer visits, and you get back to work so much faster. And of course they save more lives.

PROOF OF THIS is the fact that according to government statistics, in 1939 you spent 0.87% of your income for drugs and medicinal preparations, and now according to the latest released government figures you are spending only 0.46%, a reduction of about 25% less.

WE WILL CONTINUE our permanent policy of pricing everything as low as high pharmacy standards permit.

Need Less Lawmaking

On occasion we hear a plaintive cry from some, even on the conservative side, concerning persuasion. We are warned that frequently in this day and year we are being "over-persuaded." Some persons permit themselves to purchase items of merchandise which they don't really need or want simply because some salesman convinces them they should do so. Others adopt a philosophy or a belief which is unsound or actually destructive, simply because they are brain-washed to a point where their sales resistance vanishes.

While we agree that these things do occur, we reject the conclusion drawn by a great many, that we should institute some kind of government control to limit the amount of persuasion to which each of us can be exposed.

It seems to us that what this nation needs is not a limitation on the amount of persuasion to which we can be exposed, but a re-awakening on the part of individuals, so that they recognize that they are the final authority over their own actions.

If persons realize that they have equal rights to say either "yes" or "no" then they can function on the basis of principle. When they are urged to spend money beyond their means, they will resist the temptation, since there are sound principles of honesty and thrift which could guide them here. And if they are urged to adopt harmful or destructive beliefs, they can test those beliefs against the principles of honesty, integrity, self-government and self control, and reject those ideas which fail to coincide with these principles.

More than laws against communism, we need individual understanding of the nature of communism. Laws will be disobeyed, and even when enforced could be harmfully enforced. But individual integrity is a far greater bulwark against negative old world, collectivist concepts than all the laws that could ever be passed.

If we remove government restrictions and regulations which affect both the right of some people to sell, and the right of other people to buy, then freedom will triumph. And individuals who buy a product or an idea which is harmful to them, will learn by having to live with their purchase, that they were in error when they succumbed to the persuasion. Next time, they will be stronger and better able to resist. And ultimately they will regain their own stature and make decisions on the basis of principle rather than on the basis of persuasion.

It seems to us that we must either have a world in which persuasion is tolerated, or we must have a world in which the use of force and violence is employed to prevent persuasion. And while we would all benefit if the quacks, planners, social experimenters and collectivists would disappear from the face of the earth, the best way in the world to work for that end is for each of us to refuse to buy their products, regardless of the persuasion employed.

There is no force of government regimentation quite as effective as the force of individual rejection. If a product, be it ideological or material, is rejected in the free market place, the producer of that product will suffer the consequences. In order for him to survive he must find a product good enough so that his persuasion concerning it will find him customers. A lack of customers will bring him to bankruptcy.

If the American people, as individuals, had been thoroughly trained in the principles of economic truths, there would be no communist danger in this country today. Communism is a danger here only because, as individuals, so many listen to the false promises and lies of the propagandists and "buy" collectivism. Laws against such persuasion will not prevent such persuasion. They will only serve to drive the persuaders underground where a belief in their phony wares is enhanced by the thrill of danger and risk. This, too, is true of shoddy material products.

During the "Roaring Twenties" laws were on the books which were supposed to prevent people from making, owning or consuming alcoholic beverages. Instead of preventing alcoholism, these laws tended to popularize the very thing the laws were intended to eliminate. Widely disseminated information concerning the danger and harm to be found in alcohol would have a much more salutary effect.

There is simply no substitute for individual decision and responsibility. By exercising our freedom we can choose. And it is fitting and proper that we not be protected against the results of our decisions. If we choose correctly, we will benefit. And even if we choose incorrectly, we will learn, which, in itself, is another type of benefit.

There is nothing wrong with persuasion per se. Let them persuade. Personal decisions are the criterion, and on them we will either stand or fall.

The Rights of Property— A Refutation of Communism And Socialism XVII

In the last issue I was quoting from Adolphe Thiers' chapter in his book, "A Refutation of Communism and Socialism," under the heading of "Communism With Regard to Human Liberty." He showed in this article how Communism deprives the individual of liberty and makes him like an ant or a bee, a part of the group. Then he continues in this manner:

"Oh! sublime soul of man, blind or clear-sighted soul, acutely sensible to pain or pleasure, the lamp that God has placed within us, to incite and guide us, free soul, must you be distinguished like some deceptive light which lures and destroys us! What! you would quench it, since you wish to deprive us of liberty, and lower us to the condition to the bee or the ant! What! for fear that I should err, that I should not be what you term rich or poor, that I should not suffer from cold, hunger or misery, you would shut me up in a hive, tracing out my task, feed me, clothe me, according to your taste, measure my strength, my appetite, my genius, place me here or there, assign to me such and such a study! and when you fear that I may err, and that in order to avoid such a danger, you pretend to settle everything for me, have you no fear, infatuated legislators, of erring yourselves, in thus fixing for me the part I am to take, in determining my wants, in taking upon yourselves to satisfy them? You are grossly deceived; from amidst the immensity of creation, you took me for that which I was not, you took me for the beaver which builds, for the horse which is harnessed. Fearing I might fall, you lowered me; fearing I might go astray, you enslaved me; fearing I might suffer, you deprived me of life, for by suppressing the accidents of life, you suppressed life itself."

"The old, eternal society, which nature made, treats man in a different manner. 'Labour,' she tells him, 'labour' as much as you will, as much as you are able, as you best know how, skillfully or badly, with or without intellect, with the means given you at your birth. Your earnings shall become your own. You are old, labour still, for what you earn shall be for your children.' Besides telling man to labour, to labour incessantly, society leaves to him the choice of the profession to which he will employ himself. He follows his instinct. If he be mistaken, he will be obliged to change, and to descend. But, by trying to deprive him of his right of finding his way, and that once found, he will follow it as the eagle sails through the air. For instance, here is an unskilled doctor, who, without knowing it, was a great architect, he changes his profession, and constructs the colonnade of the Louvre. Here is but a poor architect, who perceives that he was born for the career of arms; he returns to his vocation, and gains the battle of Heliopolis. (9) Every one thus labouring diligently, freely, according to his particular bent. The father who has become rich, makes his children rich, and places them in a position superior to his own. These children lend the capital accumulated by their father, to others who have need to work, derive a revenue from it, with their revenue pay labour in their turn. If they be worthy of their sire, labour will remain in the position he placed them in; they ascend even higher; otherwise, they fall back again, once more become poor, and are seen to solicit alms at the gate of the palace, where they are nurtured in childhood. So the labour of their father was rewarded in them. So their own idleness is punished in them and in their descendants. Hence arise thousands of moral contrasts, — hence arise that succession of accidents, called the theatre of life. We see reclining on a silken couch, the poor workman born on a bed of straw; the man who came into the world in a tapestried chamber, lying in a stable. We see him, who, as a domestic, once served in the mansion of a rich child, now the protector of that child, formerly so disdainful, and now humbled, and relieved by him who was once beneath his notice. We see a penniless adventurer returning from India, dispensing gifts around him, and immediately after, his heirs dispersed and deprived of the common necessities of life. We see, not alone the accidents of riches, but also those of power, for fickle fortune plays with all things — with treasures as with crowns. We witness the soldier become a sovereign, — John Stozza, Duke of Milan, and his grandsons, poisoned by a tyrant; an officer of artillery, at one time master of the world, subsequently confined to a petty island in the distant seas, the members of his family dispersed, sometimes condemned to indigence; princes, the heirs of a long line of kings, proscribed, schoolmasters, then kings, then again proscribed, and having in their exile, scarcely wherewithal to supply their wants. (10) We see these confused changes; and thousands of virtues contrasting with thousands of vices, sometime rich men with hearts of stone, sometime also with hearts overflowing with kindness, spreading around them the gifts of fortune, and him who is successful thus making up for the inferiority of him who is unsuccessful; every where a counterpoise, — dexterity opposed to awkwardness, activity to idleness, goodness to misfortune, and always, in fact, actual human faculties developed to the highest de-

McKay Has Ike's Backing In Oregon Election

By RAY TUCKER

PORTLAND, Oregon — Despite the fact that Interior Secretary Douglas McKay has President Eisenhower's support in a contest involving the Administration's power and conservation policies, even Republican politicians here give the Cabinet member only a 50-50 chance against the champion of American politics — Senator Wayne Morse. A few hard McKay a slight edge, but not more than a 55-45 break.

McKay's delay in announcing his candidacy for the May 18 primary is largely responsible for his difficulties. The late Governor Paul Patterson was the Administration's original entry against Senator Morse, and all polls indicated that Patterson could have defeated Morse easily. But even after Patterson's death early in February, McKay said that he would not run.

McKay's change of heart, in the popular belief was inspired only by Ike's decision to run again. Thus, he entered the contest as an admitted White House candidate-rival, and the independent-minded voters of Oregon resent that sort of thing. It provides a facile issue for Maverick Morse.

GOP bosses, who place harmony and victory ahead of McKay, have not been able to persuade Philip S. Hitchcock to withdraw from the Republican primary as an opponent of McKay. So far Hitchcock has refused to give the Cabinet member a clear track.

Hitchcock is a former State Senator. He is a high official of Lewis and Clark College here at Portland, and he is president of the Oregon Council of Churches. He is a highly respected citizen.

But unlike McKay, he has never run for or won a statewide election. His vote will be based largely on the circumstances under which McKay was induced to return to the political wars.

The McKay-Hitchcock primary battle on May 18 has national importance. McKay says that he did not ask Ike to sponsor, promote or back him. But he admits that Sherman Adams, White House Chief of Staff, and Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall urged him to get into the race. No two politicians are closer to the head man than "Sherm" and "Len."

In short, strange as it may seem, McKay's chief handicap is that he is looked upon as a "White House carpet-bagger." Ike is popular in the Great Northwest, where business and industry are booming, but whether he can transfer even a portion of his popularity to McKay is a question. Both Morse and Hitchcock think otherwise, and they will campaign on that issue.

The outcome of the Oregon primary may determine how large a role the President will play in the general campaign. It is difficult to analyze Morse's political position. These changes, these striking contrasts, these excited human faculties, these vices, these virtues, these blessings, these evils, — this is liberty; it is not the animal, it is MAN.

Willie Bioff Used FBI Target Range

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

PHOENIX, Arizona — Willie Bioff, hiding in Phoenix under the name of William Nelson, visited the target range used by the FBI and the sheriff's force of Phoenix, and the capital of Arizona, and practiced shooting. One of his companions was Judge Dave Ling, and the federal district court, who laughingly admitted to me that he had met Mr. Nelson through William Drew, an agent of the local bureau of the FBI.

Judge Ling did not then know that Nelson was Bioff and he does not distinctly recall whether Bioff did any shooting on the particular occasion when they went to the range together. Judge Ling is a skeet shot. The weapon for this sport in which flying saucers made of clay are the targets is a shotgun. In the old Bioff underworld patois, the shotgun is called a blast-furnace.

A local acquaintance of Bioff who had known him elsewhere in the past said Willie boasted that he fired both submachine guns and a pistol on some occasions and claimed to have outshot all the agents and deputies except one expert named Bryce, who had shot it out with John Dillinger, Baby Face Nelson and other famous criminals. It is possible that Bioff was acting as stool-pigeon in his latter years and that the FBI wanted to keep him in that service.

It has been represented that Bioff was killed by a non-existent secret society of terrorists called the Mafia. The known fact is that he was blown up early last November by a bomb planted under the hood of a pick-up truck which he used for his personal errands both in the city and out beyond. Revenge may have been the motive, but the glib, cope-and-robbers insinuation of syndicated fakery that the deed was done by survivors of the Capone mob may be a ruse either to divert attention from prominent personages in Phoenix, who were Willie's most recent colleagues, or to set up a false pretense of mysterious savvy on the part of spurious experts in daily and periodical journalism.

Willie's most recent colleagues were not Italian or Italian-American gangsters but "respectable" members of the Las Vegas and Phoenix underworld. The Las Vegas boom has not exactly blown up but the gas certainly is leaking out of the bag. And many of the riff-raff who barged in from New York, Philadelphia, the Miami, New Orleans, Chicago, Sarasota and California are now thumping it down the road. Phoenix is one of the first stop but gambling operates only on the sneak and there is not a chance that the voters will approve a referendum proposition to open up Nevada's misfortune was not excessive gambling but the sordid character of the specialists in gambling who repulsed the "quality."

Willie Bioff sidled into Phoenix after he got out of prison. He and George Browne, an acknowledged executive of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and motion picture operators of the American Federation of Labor, had shaken down the movie industry and the workers for millions of dollars. They charged camera men ten per cent of their gross pay as union dues. They charged their union fees up to $5,000. They closed the membership books and issued "permits" to workers who had to tick back one-third or one-half of their pay. They owned the jobs as property and rented them out to the workers.

The AF of L, which is now making sanctimonious faces at Joe Ryan's old union of longshoremen in New York, never yet has uttered one word of rebuke or disavowal of either the acts or spirit of this grand racket. On the contrary, the AF of L elevated Browne to the national executive council or cabinet and Joe Padway, the AF of L's chief counsel, or attorney-general, became chief counsel to Bioff and Browne. Their union was the filthiest racket this side of the building service workers under George Scallie, which Padway also represented as chief counsel.

The AF of L did all it could to protect Bioff, Browne and Scallie. After Bioff left prison he changed his name to William Nelson and settled in Phoenix. He soon struck up association with a small band of local crooks of respectable pretense who knew all about him. They guarded his secret and, when his true identity became known, set up a whine that he was a very decent fellow now going straight. Their standard of decency may be inferred from the fact that his first proven crime was the operation of a brothel for which, very belatedly, he was forced to spend six months in jail.

The FBI is not a confiding service so its cryptic comment that Willie was neither wanted nor the subject of any inquiry, need not be taken to mean just that. There are indications that he was informing and these indications discredit tribute but confident statements that Mafia finally got him for squelching on the old Capone crowd in Chicago fifteen years ago, most of whom are dead.

This news note in a Los Angeles newspaper saddened me: "Students in four Los Angeles junior colleges may be guinea pigs in a new educational experiment — closed television. A teacher would present the courses to live classes at City College and a battery of television cameras would transmit the course over telephone lines to the other schools." It saddened me because I realize that I was born too soon. The bane of my existence in grammar school, high school, and college was the presence of teachers. There they stood glaring at me, waiting, until they knew I was not prepared, to call on me.

The nearest I ever came to a remote control class like the one the fortunate Los Angeles students are going to enjoy was in high school in Atlanta. Overflow attendance resulted in several classes being held in a two-story dwelling and I was lucky enough to have a Freshman French class in an upstairs bedroom and bathroom. It was the perfect set-up. A fire escape led to a small door in the bathroom section of the class and the plumbing fixtures still were in the room. At ten o'clock I would scoot up the fire escape and climb into the bathtub — one of those big, roomy ones almost big enough to swim in. When Mr. Boyd — I even remember the Professor's name — would arrive, I would sink out of sight in the tub. I would yell, "Present," at roll call and then take a much-needed rest.

This was remote control education at its very best. Mr. Boyd didn't bother me and I didn't bother Mr. Boyd. It didn't learn any French, but it never has been a very severe handicap to me. I have had as much fun in Paris as anyone you can name and never once was held back by lack of knowledge of irregular verbs.

A television class would be very bit as good as a class in a bathtub. Better, perhaps, because it would be open and above-board. The students wouldn't have to worry about the Professor suddenly deciding to take a bath, as I did, and there was always the chance, that on rainy mornings Professor Boyd would use the tub as a stand for his dripping umbrella, thus exposing me to detection or the loss of an eye.

If the Los Angeles junior colleges do get their closed circuit, I wonder if there will be any commercials? I imagine there will be. To subject suddenly a group of young people accustomed to commercials to an hour-long lecture with the customary breaks for sales pitches would bewilder them. They probably wouldn't trust what they were hearing.

Figuring that a professor who wasn't good enough to get a sponsor wasn't worth listening to, they would place a good deal more reliance in a lecturer who had the backing of an automobile company, a cereal manufacturer, or a good reliable used-car lot.

If these television classes work out I can easily imagine the rivalry that will spring up between professors for the best air time. The English Lit. prof. will wangle for the mid-morning time of the Greek History prof, and the Philo-rattling slipping, will try to get the school (or his dog food sponsor) to let him quit bucking a popular Political Economy hour.

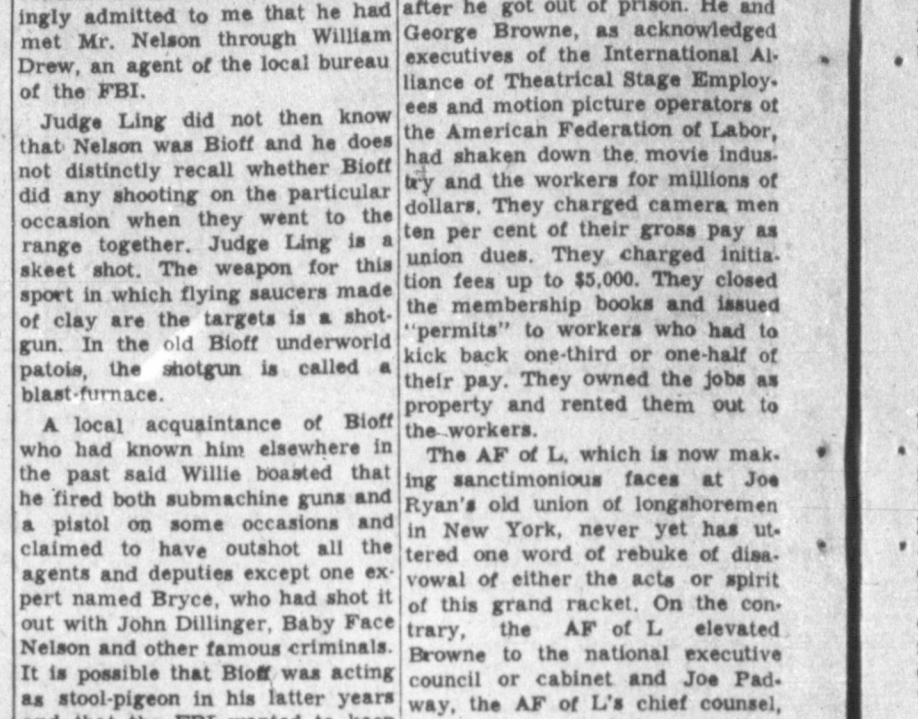

Think of going to a school where there will be a "spectacular" once a month! Attendance will be good you can count on that!

IF YOUR HUBBY IS FINICKING about what kind of salad he eats, the April issue of Woman's Home Companion has a man's recipe for Caesar Salad which is sure to please him. The magazine also tells how to prepare leg of lamb, gives a recipe for a tempting spring beverage for the kids, and tells of a unique way to turn bread into cookies.

IF THE MAN in your house bypasses salads it may be that you haven't served the right one. Men, says the magazine, vote for greens plus hearty foods and recommend for greens a Caesar Salad. Here's the recipe:

- Garlic, 2 cloves
  - Salad or olive oil, 3-4 cup
  - White bread, 8 slices
  - Mixed crisp salad greens, about 3 quarts
  - Salt, 1/2 teaspoon
  - Pepper, 1-4 teaspoon
  - Lemon juice, 1/4 cup
  - Worcestershire sauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons
  - Blue cheese, crumbled, 1/2 cup
  - Egg, 1
- Slice garlic; add to oil; let stand several hours. Trim crusts from bread, cut in 1/2-inch cubes; toast greens; about 25 minutes. Just before serving tear greens into bowl; pour half of garlic oil over them. Add salt, pepper, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and cheese; break raw egg on top. Toss until egg disappears. Remove garlic from remaining oil, pour over toast cubes, mix. Add toast to salad; toss. Serves 6 to 8.

NEXT TIME your ordering a leg of lamb, here's an economy tip: buy a leg (7 to 9 pounds) and have it cut off to make 4 thick chops, about 3-4 to 1 inch thick. And here's a delicious way to prepare them: Slash fat on chops, place in broiler 3 inches from heat. Broil about 6 minutes on each side for rare, 8 for well done. Meanwhile blend 2 tablespoons butter with 2 teaspoons lemon juice and 1/4 teaspoon crushed rosemary or seasoning salt. Spread on broiled

Yanks Are Favorites In '56 Pennant Race

Editor's Note: This is the 10th in a series on the 1956 prospects of the major league clubs.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—UP—The New York Yankees are going into the 1956 American League pennant race as the favorites, and Manager Casey Stengel agrees they deserve that rating.

"Everyone tells me I have the best talent in the league, and I agree," Stengel winked. "But I ain't selling those Red Sox, Indians, White Sox and Tigers short. Those Red Sox especially could hurt us real bad."

Then he admitted in his next breath that he had the power, the speed, and "I'm pretty sure the pitching." So, if he had to bet on it, he'd take those Yankees of his to win their seventh pennant in the eight years he has been managing them.

He has his problems, however. Because of them Casey may "platoon 'em to death this year." "I've got enough guys who are major league players, but I'll have to find spots for them—especially when I have nine shortstops going for me," he explained.

Outfield Biggest Worry
His biggest problem is his outfield of Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle and Irv Noren. All three were below par when the Yankees lost the World Series to the Brooklyn Dodgers last October, because of various injuries.

Casey isn't too worried about Mantle and Bauer, but he is so worried about Noren that he has been playing first baseman Joe Collins, in right field.

Also in the infield picture are Jerry Coleman, Andy Carey, Bobby Richardson and a rookie, Tony Kubek, who hit .334 at Quincy last year, and then moved to Denver when Billy Hunter, another of the many shortstop candidates, broke his left leg.

Berra, of course, will be the No. 1 catcher, with relief from Howard and the veteran Charlie Silvera in the No. 3 spot.

As for his pitching, Stengel says the only two sure starters are two lefties, Whitey Ford and Tommy Byrne.

For right-handers, there are bullet Bob Turley, an impressive Don Larsen, Bob Grim, a 20-game winner as a rookie in 1954, and Johnny Kucks. Stengel believes Mickey McDermott, the left-hander acquired from the Washington Senators "can win for us" and has a chance to get in the starting rotation.

For the infield there are Collins, if not needed in the outfield; Bill Skowron and Eddie Robinson battling for the first base job; Billy Martin probably will be at second with Phil Rizuto starting the season at short and Gil McDougald at third base.

Stengel believes Mickey McDermott, the left-hander acquired from the Washington Senators "can win for us" and has a chance to get in the starting rotation.

Texas Tracksters Breeze To Victory

WACO —UP— Texas tracksters breezed to a practice meet victory over Baylor and Southern Methodist here Wednesday, scoring more points than the Bears and Mustangs combined.

The Longhorns piled up 96 1/2 points in winning 10 events and tying for another. Baylor placed second with 45 points and SMU a poor third with 25 1/2.

Bob Whilden of Texas was the high individual scorer, with 11 1/4 points. Whilden won the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds, the 220 in 21.4 and ran a leg of the winning sprint relay team.

Takes All Mile Run
Texas took all 11 points in the mile run, scored 10 in the discus, 10 in the two-mile, eight in the high hurdles and eight in the 880-yard run.

The Longhorn 440-yard relay team handed Baylor its first defeat in four meets this year as George Schneider, Jerry Prewitt, Whilden and Frank Daugherty beat the Bear quintet by two-tenths of a second with a winning time of 40.8.

Outstanding individuals for the Longhorns were: Walter McNew, who won the mile in 4:18; sophomore Jimmy Holt, who took the 440 with a time of 48.4; Bob Hanson, who turned in a 1:55.6 for first in the 880; and sophomore Paul Schumann, who threw the shot 50-feet, 10 1/8 inches for another first place.

Victory Busiest Bear
Co-captain Raymond Vickery was Baylor's busiest athlete. He won the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet, 2 1/2 inches; ran a leg on the second place sprint relay team, and another on the winning mile relay team which had a time of 3:18.2; and placed fourth in the 10-yard dash for a total of eight points.

The SMU star was Clarence Miller, who took first in the high jump with a 6-4 effort and won the javelin with a toss of 177 feet 1-2 inches for a total of 10 points.

Baylor won three firsts and shared another as Bob Herrod took the low hurdles in 23.4 seconds; Newton Hilliard posted a new school record with a pole vault to 13 feet; Vickery won the broad jump and the mile relay team took the other first.

McCoy has denied testimony linking him directly or indirectly with 12 alleged "fixes" and statements he split Brooks' purses and arbitrarily appointed managers.

The name of New York fight manager Eddie Walker was brought into the hearing Wednesday by Los Angeles lightweight Carlos Chavez who said Walker mailed his earnings to McCoy.

Police Chief William H. Parker testified that because of his long friendship with Cal Eaton, promoter at Olympic auditorium, he warned him that McCoy, Olympic matchmaker, was associating with former mobster Mickey Cohen.

Willie Ginsburg, gym manager who said he ran errands and did other work for McCoy, testified he frequently in the past had seen underworld figures Joe and Al Sica in the company of McCoy at the hotel where Ginsburg lives.

Harry Willis, 36, former boxer turned cab driver, testified that Ginsburg approached him in 1953 and wanted him to throw a fight with Ginsburg's fighter, Freddie Beshore.

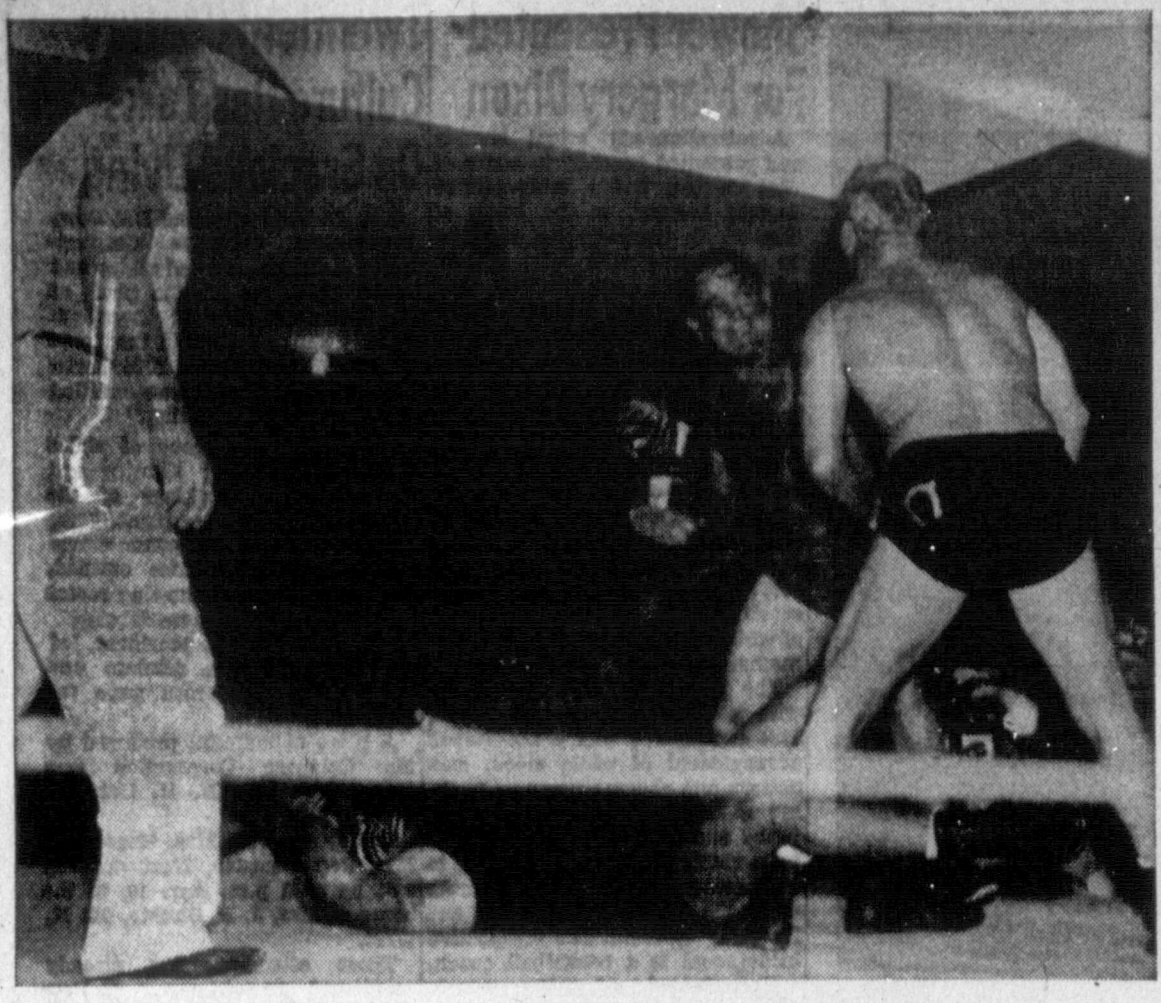

"I told him I would but I was going to doublecross him and win," Willis said. But he added he told some of his friends and "the word got around" and "Ginsburg then called it off."

Morgan Decisions Lightburn; Ready For Top-10 Bout
CLEVELAND —UP— L. C. Morgan of Youngstown, Ohio, is "ready for anyone in the top 10" of the lightweight ranks his manager insisted Thursday in the wake of a unanimous decision over favored Ludwig Lightburn.

Lightburn took a nine-count in the first round when Morgan, who lost a split decision to the veteran lightweight here last September, abandoned his jabbing tactics and unleashed a stinging right cross which landed squarely, Lightburn, winner of 39 out of 45 pro bouts until Wednesday night, termed the blow a "bolt" that forced him to coast for four rounds.

Lightburn's manager, Alie Clark, said a rematch will be held. Judges Herb Williams and Charles Bill sided in union 94-93 for Morgan and Referee Tony La Branche had it 97-88 for Morgan under Ohio's 10-point must system. The United Press card favored Morgan 95-92.

The loss was Lightburn's seventh in 46 pro bouts. The win was Morgan's 14th in 18 starts. Morgan weighed 138 pounds, Lightburn 137.

ACTION APLENTY—Dory Funk, right, is shown here as he cleaned up on Danny Savich, standing, and The Golden Terror, on floor. ## Funk, Geigel Fall To Savich, Terror

Bob Geigel and Dory Funk were the victims of "unorthodox" tactics during Wednesday night's all-star wrestling card presented by the Pampa Shrine Club. They lost to The Golden Terror and Danny Savich in the main event.

Funk took the first fall of the three-fall event after a long hard battle with both opponents. The ropes came down and the officials tried to stop the action long enough to repair the damage but to no avail.

The four wrestlers were in the ring during most of the first fall and the Terror's manager also got into the action.

The second fall went to the newcomers with much disappointment to the fans as almost all seemed to be favoring Funk and Geigel, in their first appearance as tag team partners.

The third and deciding fall went to the "villains" as one spectator not so calmly put it.

Funk was rammed into the ring post at the end of the second fall and was unable to participate during the third and final round. Bob Geigel, despite the efforts of referee, Tommy Martindale, really took a beating.

The referee for the first fall, Herb Parks, was thrown from the ring after the first fall and was unable to make it for the remaining two.

Following the final fall the six wrestlers were in the ring going at it strong. The Terror and his manager have been barred as a result unless they agree to meet Bob Geigel and Tommy Martindale in a return match. The match will probably be made this week.

All-Stars Add Pair
NEW YORK —UP— Julius McCoy of Michigan State and Joe Holup of George Washington have been added to the College All-Star basketball team which will tour the country with the Harlem Globetrotters. The first two games of the series will be played in Madison Square Garden Sunday afternoon and evening.

Wilmington, N.C. —UP— A field of 150 golfers, including most of the country's top-ranked pros, teed off at the Cape Fear Country Club Thursday in the first round of the eighth annual $12,500 Azalea Open tournament.

Defending champion Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., headed the field competing over the 6,795-yard, par 72 course.

Maxwell, who set a course record for 71 holes last year with an 18-under par 280, claims his game is "off and on" but he has played well in his last three tournaments.

Maxwell won the Mexican Open and then finished second at St. Petersburg, Fla., and Miami Beach.

Three other former champions are on hand for the tourney. Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass., Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., and Jimmy Clark of Los Angeles.

Toski, who set the 18-hole record of 63 when he finished third here last year, has been having a poor winter.

Most of the other winter tour winners also were here for the Azaleas, last stop before the Masters at Augusta, Ga.

Among them were Gardner Dickinson, Panama City, Fla., Don Dickinson, Panama City, Fla., Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C. and Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa.

Sam Snead, who had hoped to play here, notified PGA tournament Supervisor Ray O'Brien Wednesday he would not be able to play.

College Golfers Battle For Five Crowns In S'west Meet

HOUSTON —UP— Crack golfers from 16 colleges teed-off Thursday in the 2nd annual Southwestern Intercollegiate golf tournament, a match that promises to be a score-keeper's nightmare.

A total of 64 players battled for five championships: Team match, team medal, twosome, low-ball, foursome low-ball and individual medal.

An 18-hole round was scheduled Thursday, a double round Friday and a single round Saturday at Pine Forest Country Club.

The 16 teams in the tournament include the first four finishers in last year's NCAA go-rounds: Louisiana State University, the national champs; runnerup North Texas State, third-place Oklahoma A&M, and fourth-place Houston, host and sponsor.

Southwest Conference entries are Southern Methodist, Rice, Baylor, Texas and Texas A&M. Big Seven representatives are Colorado, Nebraska and Oklahoma University.

Others are Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons of the Border Conference, and New Mexico, Skyline Conference, and Wichita, of the Missouri Valley Conference.

Houston, whose golf ensemble won the West Texas Relays golf crown, won four of last year's five trophies, but only eight colleges took part last year. Richard Parvin is the only returnee from last year's Houston team.

First-day team pairings in the upper bracket pitted LSU's defending NCAA champions against Rice Institute, SMU against Colorado, Oklahoma A&M against Hardin-Simmons and Texas A&M against Nebraska.

The lower bracket duels match North Texas State and Oklahoma, Texas Tech and New Mexico, Houston and Baylor, and University of Texas and Wichita.

Frogs Whip Sam Houston In SWC Win
By UNITED PRESS

Southwest Conference baseballers didn't fare too well Wednesday, and Texas Christian was the only one of three teams which managed a victory in exhibition games.

TCU whipped Sam Houston 14 to 1 in Huntsville, Brooks Army Medical Center beat the University of Texas 9 to 8 in Austin, and Nebraska defeated Rice 8 to 5 in Houston.

No more conference games are set this week, as all schools take Easter holidays.

Dick O'Neal pitched the Frogs past the Bearkats, and Bob White supplied the big punch at the plate for TCU with a single, triple and three-run homer.

A six-run fifth inning by the Army team overcame a 5-2 Texas lead, and the Longhorns fell short with a late inning rally that produced three runs in the eighth. Reliever Bill Kappel got credit for the Comet victory and Oren Buckellew was tagged with the Texas loss. Jerry Good and Jimmy Adams hit home runs for the Longhorns.

The Rice infield made seven errors and Nebraska scored eight unearned runs to win. The Cornhuskers and Owls play again in Houston Thursday.

Relief pitcher Gene Torczon got credit for the Nebraska win and another reliever, Rice's Jimmy Ashmore, was charged with the loss as Rice outthrew the Cornhuskers 11 to 9 but fell victim to its own leaky defense.

Gonzales Is Winner Of Pro Tennis Tour

ATLANTA —UP— It's now official—Pancho Gonzalez is the winner of his professional tour tennis against Tony Trabert.

Big Pancho, the dark-haired power hitter from Los Angeles, wrapped up the title Tuesday night when he whipped Trabert of Cincinnati, Ohio, 6-1, 11-9. It was Gonzalez' 51st win on the 100-match tour; Trabert has won only 15.

Trabert, former Wimbledon and U.S. champion, was helpless against Gonzalez' powerful service and crisp passing shots in the opening sets.

In a preliminary one-set match, Red Hartwig of Australia defeated Pancho Segura 8-6.

MAKING SURE—It's baseball despite the fact that Jim Ray of Sam Houston State is wearing a football helmet batting against Southern Methodist in Dallas. Ray suffered a broken jaw in the first game of the season. Baseball helmet was not enough.

GOING FOR THREE OF A KIND

Milwaukee Braves End Florida Work

GRAPEFRUIT GAB

BRADENTON, Fla. —UP— The Milwaukee Braves concluded the Florida phase of their spring training with a 500 grapefruit league record Thursday and prepared to barnstorm north.

The Braves, who break camp Friday morning, scored their ninth victory in 18 exhibition games Wednesday when they defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-4, despite Larry Doby's sixth homer of the spring.

Red Murf, the 34-year-old rookie who won 27 games for Dallas in the Texas League last year, pitched the last four innings for the Braves and yielded one run and five hits.

GIANTS

TUCSON, Ariz. —UP— They're calling Willie Mays and Dusty Rhodes the new 1-2 punch of the New York Giants.

Mays walloped his seventh homer of the spring and Rhodes blasted No. 5 Wednesday to lead the Giants to a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Mays, of course, already has been labeled the team's No. 3 hitter while Rhodes, who apparently has recaptured that old 1954 World Series magic, is making a valiant bid to bat cleanup.

SENATORS

ORLANDO, Fla. —UP— Pitcher Hal Griggs and infielder Pete Runnels nursed minor injuries Thursday while the rest of the Washington Senators celebrated the end of a six-game losing streak.

The Senators beat the New York Yankees 6-4 Wednesday to end their losing skid but Griggs and Runnels weren't around for the final putout.

Griggs was forced to retire after being hit on the right foot by a drive off the bat of Andy Carey and Runnels was hit on the hand by a pitch by Bob Turley. Neither injury is considered serious.

The Senators Thursday play the Chicago White Sox, who Wednesday bowed to the Milwaukee Braves 7-4.

PIRATES

SARASOTA, Fla. —UP— Bob Friend, the National League's earned run leader last season, is ready for the Pittsburgh Pirates' against the New York Giants.

Friend, who had a 2.84 ERA and 14-9 record in 1955, breezed seven innings Wednesday in a 5-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Frank Thomas, who had been hitless for three games, resumed his fine spring hitting for the Pirates with two singles.

TIGERS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. —UP— Buddy Hicks, a former Brooklyn Dodger farmhand, stepped front and center Thursday as the fellow who may solve the Detroit Tigers' second base problem.

Hicks, who is not even on the Tiger roster and had made only four hits in 35 at-bats this spring, slammed a homer and five singles Wednesday to lead Detroit to a 15-5 rout of the Philadelphia Phillies. The Tigers collected a total of 13 hits, 13 walks and were aided by five errors.

REDLEGS

TAMPA, Fla. —UP— Slugger Ted Kluszewski turned optimistic Thursday to the joy of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Big Kluszewski, who had played only two previous innings all spring, reported his ailing left hip did not give him any trouble Wednesday after he played six innings with the Redlegs' "B" team in a 4-0 victory over Nashville of the Southern Association.

Kluszewski was no howling success at the plate — he walked, grounded into a double play and fielded out in three appearances—but he said he "felt good" after the game.

YANKEES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. —UP— The New York Yankees meet the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday needing only one victory to clinch at least a tie with the world champions in their spring series.

It's the fourth meeting of the spring between the 1955 World Series rivals and the Yankees lead the series, two games to one.

Both teams, however, looked like anything but champions Wednesday. The Yankees bowed to the Brooks took it on the chin from the Washington Senators 6-4 while the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2.

Newcombe Beans Jones, But Players Are Still Friends

CLEARWATER, Fla. —UP— Willie Jones, whose aching head feels "a lot better," isn't holding "any grudge at all" against Don Newcombe of the Dodgers for beaming him in Tuesday's exhibition game.

"Newk is a swell guy and he wouldn't deliberately throw at anybody," declared third baseman Jones of the Philadelphia Phillies at Morton Plant Hospital. "All big league pitchers throw so-called 'brush back' pitches and I just happened to get hit by one."

The 31-year-old infielder was struck behind the left ear by Newcombe's second pitch in the fifth inning of a 4-2 Brooklyn victory over the Phillies. His protective helmet absorbed some of the shock, but he bled from the ear on the field and then lapsed into unconsciousness and was taken to the hospital.

Jones said he was surprised to learn that he was being quoted in one report as saying Newcombe "deliberately" attempted to bean him.

"I never said that," Jones said. "Newcombe wouldn't deliberately hurt anybody. I have no gripe against anybody. I just couldn't get out of the way of the pitch and I got hit."

Phillies Coach Wally Moses recalled that Newcombe let out a holler "Look out, Willie" when he saw the ball leading for the Phillie better. But Willie couldn't spin out of the way.

Newcombe was the first player to reach Jones when he fell and appeared extremely upset at the incident.

"I think I'm going to be all right," said Jones. "I'm just glad I had that helmet on."

Dr. Raymond Lockwood of Clearwater said Jones appears to be well and X-rays disclosed no fracture.

Sprinter, Morrow, Leads ACC To Win Track Meet

ABILENE, Tex. —UP— Abilene Christian College, led by brilliant Bobby Morrow of San Benito, was an easy victor Wednesday in a quadrangular track and field meet with East Texas State, Texas Tech and Sheppard Air Force Base.

Morrow ran the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds. ACC piled up 77 points to 39 for East Texas, 31-2 for the armies and 13-2 for Texas Tech.

Larry Faulkner of Abilene Christian was high point man with 14 points in the field events, while Ken Fannon of ACC won both the high and low hurdles.

Patty, Bloomer Win Tourney
CANNES, France —UP— Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris downed Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif., 6-4, 6-2, 0-6, 6-3, Tuesday to win the men's singles title day of the Cannes International tennis tournament. Shirley Bloomer of Britain defeated Edda Budding of Germany, 6-3, 4-4, 6-3, for the women's title.

Star Player Returns
CANYON, Tex. —UP— Bob (Red Dog) Ratliff, who earned All-Border Conference honors as a defensive halfback at West Texas State in 1952, will return to that school this fall. He has been in Armed Forces and will be eligible Oct. 13.

CURRENTLY CORRALLED - Charging bulls get a charge out of this fence at Springfield, Mo., but after a few shocks they learn to keep their distance, as this one is doing. The fence surrounds stalls of studs at the Missouri Farmers Association's dairy breeding barn. The bulls are used in an artificial insemination pool, which allows farmers to breed their cows with some of the nation's finest animals without the hazard of keeping a dangerous bull on the farm.

Addition Of Son Brightens The Burns And Allen Show

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD — UP — To George Burns and Gracie Allen the addition of son Ronnie to their CBS-TV show has meant higher ratings and bags of fan mail for the boy. But to Burns and Allen, parents, it also solved a family crisis.

APPLE BLOSSOM — Laura MacArthur, 19-year-old great-niece of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, will reign as queen of the 29th annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va., April 26-27. Laura, of Washington, D. C., is a freshman at George Washington University. Her father, Douglas MacArthur II, is a counselor for the State Department.

has trouble finding his niche in life?
"Ronnie didn't know what he wanted to do," explained Burns in a fatherly tone as I sat with the family in their comfortable den.
"For a while he was a lifesaver. Then it was surfboards. Then he built a boat in the back yard."
"A lot of parents force their kids to be what they wished they had been. I wanted Ronnie to go to college—probably because I didn't. We wanted him to take up law. We had no idea he wanted to be an actor."
"Last summer we didn't want him on the beach for 10 weeks so we suggested he take a dramatic course at Pasadena Playhouse just for experience. When he called us he'd gotten the lead in 'Picnic' at the school we were elated!"
"We went to see his performance and Gracie said, 'He wants to be an actor.'"
Burns paused, lit his usual cigar and continued: "He was good. So I asked him if he wanted to be on the show. We didn't want to force him to be an actor."
Young Ronnie, who was sitting in the den watching his father talk, put in, "I was very happy to get the job. I didn't have to go back to college!"
"You weren't getting great grades anyway," sighed his father. "We had a wonderful reaction when Ronnie started the show," Burns said. "People who'd been watching for years didn't think he was our son. Some complained—they didn't want anything changed on the show. But we think Ronnie gives the show the change we need."
Burns puffed up a cloud of smoke and reflected on parents who try to force their children into careers.
"When I was a kid I wanted to be an actor. My family wanted me to be everything but an actor," he said. "Something gets very attractive to children when you say don't do it."
"My daughter eloped on account of me. She was planning to get married and I said why not wait a year? That did it—they eloped the next day."
"Children," concluded father Burns, "find their natural groove. Leave them alone. They'll find what they want to do."

Farm, Like Old Gray Mare, Ain't What It Used To Be

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON — UP — The old homestead, like the old gray mare ain't what it used to be.
It's a darned sight better, according to Dr. Byron T. Shaw of the U. S. Agriculture Department.
The philosophy that what was good enough for paw is good enough for us has all but disappeared. Science and the machine have revolutionized agriculture, and the revolution is still going on.
In colonial days, Shaw said in a recent discussion, 9 persons out of 10 had to work the land to provide enough for themselves and the 10th.
"Today," he added, "one farm worker provides enough for himself and 18 others."
In 1939 U. S. farmers produced 2.5 billion bushels of corn from 88 million acres. Last year they produced 30 per cent more from only 80 million acres.
More or Less Acreage
It took 50.5 million acres to produce 700 million bushels of wheat in 1939. Last year 47 million acres produced 900 million bushels.
It's the same story for cotton and other crops, and for livestock, too.
"For every two eggs a hen laid in 1942, her descendant is laying three today," Shaw said.

In general, "we've been producing up to 42 per cent more farm commodities on virtually the same farm acreage." And with smaller manpower.
"In World War I we produced our farm commodities with 13.5 million workers... today there are only eight million farm workers."
Shaw, administrator of the department's agricultural research service, gave much of the credit to the country's 12,000 state and federal farm research and educational workers.
New Machines Difference
He gave credit also to "new machines of all kinds that do the hard farm jobs faster and better."
There are nearly five million tractors on the farm. Nine out of 10 farms are electrified.
Better fertilizers and new chemical weed and insect killers are helping. So are hybrid and disease-resistant plant varieties. New products and better marketing of old ones also are doing their bit.
Shaw asserted that powdered eggs, remembered with loathing by World War II veterans, have been given "a new personality." The old objectionable flavors have been eliminated, and "today's product is so good it has made the new cake-mixes a rousing commercial success."

"One of our newer products," he added, "is orange juice powder that dissolves instantly, even in ice water, to make a juice with the color, flavor, and nutritive value of fresh orange juice."
The Army likes it so well it is taking "the full output."
It was the agricultural researchers who discovered streptomycin and its relatives while studying soil microbes. They also derived a dextran blood plasma substitute from corn sugar.
To help solve the still troublesome problem of surpluses, research is giving special attention to development of new uses for farm products. They also have invented markets for farm wastes.
Take "soft grit" blasting to remove hard carbon deposits from cylinders and pistons of aircraft engines without wearing away the metal. It's done with ground combs and rice hulls.
"And so it goes," Shaw said. "If you haven't been on a farm for 10 or 15 years — or even five years — you have some surprises in store for you. Science has made a difference. It has changed farming for the better."
