Blanton's Survey Predicts A Bright Future For Pampa

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer

(Editor's note: This is the fifth and final story in a series of articles based on the agricultural, financial, commercial, industrial and economic survey of the city and county as prepared for the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development by Burt C. Blanton, consulting engineer and business economist. The first story dealt with the projected population of Pampa, the second was concerned with scholastic enrollment in the public schools, the third story was based on real estate considerations, and last week the retail and wholesale trade of this area was discussed. In the following article, general conclusions and future objectives are outlined.)

The anticipated growth and development of the city and county, as shown in the projections and forecasts for the coming era, from 1956 to 1980, promises to be both bright and rapid. There will be many changes in the overall economy, and vast expansion is predicted.

As brought out in the report quite forcefully, expansion is indicated for banking and industry, retail and wholesale trade, and increases will be made in area size and population for the city. Future expansion is predicted for agriculture and real estate development is expected to be favorable.

The whole field of farming and ranching, basic factors in the future economic prosperity of this region depend, almost entirely, upon soil conservation, crop rotation, terracing, the use of commercial fertilizers, irrigation development, and educational programs. The future of agriculture in this region promises an increase in volume of crops harvested, and sufficient livestock products raised to meet the requirements of the consuming markets.

The number of persons employed in the city and area is expected to double within the next 25 years, and the Panhandle Oil and Gas Field will - in all probability - continue to be a major economic factor in Pampa's future growth.

Far reaching progress and transition in the economy of this area may be expected as a result of new scientific achievements and many new inventions which will raise the standards of living for most people. Such developments will include the utilization of atomic energy on a scale beyond present concepts, improvements in the field of electronics which provide many new gadgets, new entertainment, and new jobs on a level destined to produce a whole new way of life.

PAMPA'S POTENTIALITIES
The city of Pampa is a modern and progressive city with all the marked advantages of young wage earners, newly formed families with children below school age, and ideal living conditions. The residents within this area are in good circumstances because of their fortitude and progressiveness.

Holiday Deaths Down, So Far

By UNITED PRESS
Troops, planes and police across the nation held the New Year's holiday traffic toll in check Saturday. The National Safety Council said the death rate of about three per hour was sharply less than predicted. It warned, however, that the critical hours were ahead.

A United Press survey with nearly a day of the three-day holiday completed showed 61 traffic deaths. Fires took six lives, one died in a plane crash and nine in miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 77.

New York and California had the worst traffic record, each with eight fatalities.

With 22 hours of last week's Christmas holiday gone by, the United Press had counted 143 deaths, a quick start on the tragic all-time holiday record of 521.

Uniformed National Guardsmen were called out to aid state police in seven states and in four of them; Illinois, Kansas, Tennessee and Louisiana, planes kept a sky patrol for dangerous drivers.

Illinois, which recorded a whopping 46 traffic deaths during the Christmas holiday, had only one traffic fatality by late Saturday afternoon.

Anker Olsen, 39, a pedestrian, was struck and killed in Chicago only a few minutes after a police squad had warned him and several companions to get off the road.

The Safety Council has predicted that 420 persons will die in auto mishaps during the 78-hour holiday, a rate of more than five per hour. If the prediction holds true, the carnage will set a New Year holiday record-five above the 415 counted in 1952.

Experts agree that the critical holiday period is late Saturday night and early Sunday when merry-makers welcome in the new year by drinking too much-and then try to drive home. Motorists were getting a lot of help in trying to keep the carnage down.

Uniformed National Guardsmen aided state police in Illinois, Louisiana, Wisconsin, Kansas, Arizona, Michigan and Tennessee.

Tennessee waged one of the most intense battles. It put 1,000 volunteer Guardsmen and 200 jeeps and ambulances on the state's highways.

Police forces throughout the nation were beefed up, leaves canceled and shifts lengthened. Pennsylvania reported an "unprecedented" 1,200 state police on duty Saturday night.

Bulganin Declares Ban On Nuclear Arms Only Answer

MOSCOW, Dec. 31 - UP - Soviet Premier Niko-lai A. Bulganin declared Saturday that possession of mass destruction hydrogen bombs by both the East and West does not rule out the possibility of a nuclear war.

The Communist leader said the only way to prevent such a war is to ban all atomic and hydrogen weapons, and to establish an effective international control of armament.

Bulganin warned that the arms race was increasing the threat of a new war, rather than diminishing it.

The Soviet premier sounded his warnings in a question and answer interview with the American Television Television Co.

"It is wrong to assert that inasmuch as East and West possess hydrogen weapons, the possibility of a thermo-nuclear war is automatically excluded," Bulganin declared.

"Assertions of this kind - in fact, null the vigilance of peoples who support the elimination of the threat of an atomic war."

"Of course, the fact that under present conditions atomic and hydrogen weapons cannot be used with impunity has some deterrent effect on those circles which would like to unleash war, using weapons of mass annihilation."

The only way to prevent a thermo-nuclear war, Bulganin said, is the "unconditional banning of (See RED, Page 2)

British Arms Not For Sale

LONDON, Dec. 31 - UP - Britain, faced with a storm of criticism because some of its old tanks were being shipped to the Middle East, announced Saturday it has halted export of all surplus war material.

"No licenses are now being granted for the export of surplus war material," the foreign office announced.

The statement was issued to counter mounting attacks on a British policy which allowed outdated tanks to be exported to the continent where they were refitted and sold to Egypt and Israel.

The Laborite newspaper Daily Mirror, the nation's biggest newspaper, and radio Moscow joined in castigating the government of Prime Minister Anthony Eden.

No Licenses Issued
But the foreign office disclosed that "licenses have not been issued for the export of any significant quantities of surplus war materials for several months. During this period, no licenses have been issued for tanks."

The statement disclosed that Britain has imposed an informal ban on arms shipments through its decision not to grant export licenses for war material.

Most exports, including scrap steel and iron, require permits from the board of trade, which coordinates issuance with the foreign office.

"Very Nasty Smell"
The Daily Mirror said a "very nasty smell indeed" surrounded a deal which allowed 415 30-ton Sherman tanks adapted to use as tractors to be sold to a Belgian company which ships war surplus to the Middle East.

It said Eden is "listless and luckless in his handling of the matter which amounted to 'nothing more than political juggling.'"

Radio Moscow charged that Britain is making no effort to cut off the shipments and demanded that Britain practice what it preaches in the Middle East.

Election-Year Is Facing Congress

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 - UP - Members of Congress were returning Saturday for an election-year session keyed in advance to domestic politics and pocketbooks.

Fireworks were in store also for international issues, especially President Eisenhower's proposal to increase appropriations for foreign aid.

Gavel will fall in House and Senate at 11 a.m. est Tuesday, opening the second session of the Democratic controlled 84th Congress.

There won't be much legislative action until after President Eisenhower's State of the Union message is read for him Thursday.

His budget and economic messages, plus special messages on postal rate increases, the farm depression and other big issues will follow in the weeks ahead.

House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.), among the early arrivals, foresees "difficult problems" but predicted the session would be "not as stormy as some people think."

With working majorities in both houses the Democrats are hoping to fashion before summer adjournment a record that will return the White House to their control next Nov. 6.

Republicans are bucking for a presidential landslide that also could carry GOP majorities back into the House and maybe even the Senate.

Towering over other political aspects of the session will be the question - probably not to be answered immediately - whether President Eisenhower will run for a second term.

Until he answers the politicians on both sides of the aisle will be flying blind but at full speed ahead.

The lawmakers face a full schedule of vote-getting legislation pending and proposed, on taxes (whether to cut them), farm income (how best to increase it), and social security (how much to liberalize it). Farm income is 7 per cent below a year ago and the parity price ratio is at 80 per cent - the lowest since 1940.

They will vote for federal aid for school building and increased federal aid for roads. They probably will approve a couple of big water conservation projects.

The administration wants more money for medical research. Members from areas hit by flood and storm will be pushing for government-backed disaster insurance.

East Germany Is Called A 'Legal State'

BERLIN, Dec. 31 - UP - East German Premier Otto Grotewohl said in a blunt New Year's message Saturday that Communist East Germany is "the legal German state" and the West will have to deal with it.

Grotewohl, just back from a tour of Red China, said the United States and the West German government would not succeed in ignoring East Germany's existence.

He called for more improved relations with West Germany and for East-West German talks to unify the split nation.

"It is easy to understand that the existence of a workers' and farmers' state in Germany is a thorn in the flesh of West German militarists," he said.

"But the West is compelled to busy itself with the German democratic republic because its policy represents that of the entire German people, who for years have been fighting for a peace-loving Democratic Germany and a just peace treaty."

Grotewohl said the Geneva foreign ministers conference showed that a "policy of strength" cannot solve international questions.

"The German problem can only be solved through international cooperation, through a rapprochement, agreement and negotiations," he added.

Grotewohl's statement came in the wake of new border violence in isolated West Berlin.

Over 100 Die In Japan Tragedy

TOKYO, Sunday, Jan. 1 - UP - More than 100 persons died in a traditional New Year's celebration early Sunday when 30,000 pushing and shoving worshippers caused a stone parapet to collapse at a Shinto shrine.

The Kyodo News reported that at least 100 persons were killed and 46 injured. Other estimates put the death toll as high as 170 and the injured as high as 211.

A partial list of victims delegates pledged to him off the women among the dead.

Minnesota Election Would Include Ike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 - UP - Minnesota Republicans will circulate petitions next month to elect President Eisenhower in the state's presidential primary March 20, Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) said Saturday.

Thye also said a slate of 25 national convention delegate candidates has been lined up to be pledged to vote for Mr. Eisenhower at the GOP national convention next August. Three more delegates will be chosen at the Republican state convention in May.

"The President, in my opinion, will be a candidate," Thye told a reporter. "His recovery has been so excellent that I believe we can be secure in planning our future with Eisenhower."

Minnesota's thus falling into the pattern of states lining up pro-Eisenhower delegations for the national convention even though the President has been silent about his 1956 political plans since his heart attack Sept. 24.

Minnesota's primary is the second in the nation, coming after New Hampshire's vote March 23. Its primary law permits the filing of Mr. Eisenhower's name without his consent, between Feb. 1 and 15 by petitions signed by at least 100 voters in each of the nine congressional districts. A candidate can withdraw his name up until Feb. 25, an action which automatically drops his name and the delegates pledged to him off the ballot.

Watch Out Fellows! Leap Year Is Upon Us!

By HELEN THOMAS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 - UP - Bachelors beware! Leap year dawns Sunday, giving the gals the right to pop the question. If you want to be stuffy and scientific about it, leap year, which comes every four years, has to do with things solar. But, you will find, gentlemen, that to most matrimonial-minded ladies it means things strictly lunar.

Unlike any old year, leap year has 366 days, or a Feb. 29 every four years to offset the difference between the ordinary year and the year, on which the calendar is based, is 365 and a quarter days. Every four years, the four quarters catch up with each other.

More interesting, perhaps, are the legends that have grown up around leap year which proclaim it the time when a maiden is permitted to pop the question. Whence came the idea, even historians can't agree. But it's the answer to an old maid's prayer. A handbook of literary curiosities says the custom goes back to 1228 when, by act of the Scottish parliament, it was ordained that during the reign of her blessed majesty, Margaret, ladies of high and low estate "shall have the liberty of speaking to the man she likes."

But the Irish also claim the tradition and naturally St. Patrick figures in the act. As the story goes, the good saint was once walking along the shores of Lough Neagh when he was accosted by St. Bridget. With tears and lamentations she informed him that dissension had arisen in the nunnery, where she presided, because the ladies were demanding the right to march a man down the aisle.

Saint Patrick was somewhat moved by this pitiful tale and said he would concede women the right of making their selection every seventh year. But, with some bargaining, Bridget got him down to four. Gives Her Longest Year Sold, said St. Patrick, "I'll give you leap year, the longest of the lot."

The custom is strictly Anglo-Saxon, though it appears to be exportable. The Pakistanis here seem interested. So do the Soviets. But a Pakistani diplomat admitted that the sari-clad women can't propose to a man. "I wish they could," he lamented. At the Soviet embassy, an official, when briefed on Saint Patrick's day, seemed highly amused. "We do not have the custom," he said. But then he confessed, "perhaps our women do practice it."

Quints Return After Visit With Family

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 31 — UP — Two of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets returned to Montreal Saturday after a brief trip home to patch up a family quarrel.

Yvonne and Cecile, both student nurses at a Montreal hospital, left quint Amette behind with their parents for an indefinite stay.

Marie, the frailest of the girls, is recovering from an illness and remained in Montreal while her sisters went home to make peace with their mother and ailing father.

Amette, Yvonne and Cecile suddenly changed their minds Thursday and drove 400 miles all night over slippery roads to kiss and make-up with their angry family. Cecile and Yvonne left their New Year's gifts for their parents and brothers and sisters and then returned to Montreal on an early train Saturday morning.

They hurried from a Montreal station to their fashionable apartment for a short visit with Marie. Cecile reported for hospital duty, and Yvonne expected to work Sunday.

The three girls went home for a year-end family reunion after 52-year-old Dionne issued a statement to the press accusing the quint of breaking with the family and treating their eight brothers and sisters "almost with contempt."

The Good And Bad Of Week's News

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet: GOOD NEWS

1. The German Communists apparently changed their minds about prosecuting Americans accused of committing offenses in East Berlin. An Air Force sergeant, alleged to have caused a traffic accident, was returned to West Berlin by the Russians in keeping with agreements for control of the city. The German Reds assert they now have "sovereign" status. But they and their Russian masters appear not to be ready for a showdown.

2. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru seemed disappointed at the way Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Russian Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev abused his hospitality during the recent visit to India. Nehru is reported to have told both members of his cabinet and leaders of this Congress party that he had been embarrassed by the attacks the Soviet visitors made on western countries, especially on Great Britain. Nehru was quoted as accusing the Russians of twisting history.

3. The Indo-Chinese Communists failed in an attempt to force voters of the state of Laos to boycott an election for a national assembly. The Reds threatened reprisals against those who voted. But more than 300,000 out of 360,000 registered voters went to the polls. Only in areas controlled by their troops were the Reds successful.

BAD NEWS

1. Speeches made by the Kremlin's two top leaders at a meeting of the Russian Supreme Soviet parliament in Moscow were both hostile and threatening to the United States and its Allies. Communist party chief Khrushchev accused President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of "crude interference" in the affairs of East European Communist countries by broadcasting Christmas messages to them. The messages expressed hope that the countries might be freed from the Russian yoke. Khrushchev also boasted of the power of Russia's H-bomb. Premier Bulganin hinted that Russia might now have an inter-continental rocket — one which might be fired, for instance, from Russia to the United States. So far as is known, the United States has not perfected this weapon.

2. A long-scheduled conference between the chief ministers of Malaya and Singapore on one hand and Malayan Communist Chief Chin Peng broke up in disagreement. It had been hoped that agreement might be reached to end the eight-year guerrilla warfare. Chin made demands which the ministers would not accept.

3. French troops failed to suppress the terrorism which has caused nearly 200 deaths in two weeks in Algeria. Algeria politically is a part of France itself, not a colony. It is represented in the French parliament. But conditions were so turbulent that it was decided not to include Algeria in the election to be held next Monday for a national assembly. Nevertheless, the outlawed Algerian Communist party called for uprisings on election day.

End to Arms Race

"The adoption of such a decision would deliver the people of the fear of a new war," Bulganin said. "It would put an end to the burdensome armaments race, and would make possible a switch-over of all the resources of the states to peaceful development for the improvement of the well-being of the people."

He added that "it is clear that the arms drive, including that in the field of atomic weapons, is not diminishing, but is on the contrary, increasing the threat of a new war."

The Soviet premier's comments were in answer to questions submitted last month by Charles E. Shutt, Washington Manager of Teleneus. The comments were broadcast by Moscow radio Saturday and copies were distributed to all foreign correspondents here.

Bulganin's reference to thermo-nuclear war was in reply to a question as to whether the fact that both East and West have "this terrible weapon" excluded the "horrible possibility of a hydrogen war."

Texas Poultry Prices Rise

AUSTIN — UP — Texas poultry markets bounced back this week, with prices rising as much as 3 1/2 cents, the State Department of Agriculture reported Saturday.

Closing quotations included South Texas, 21 cents, two to three cents higher; East Texas, 20 cents, mostly two to three cents higher; Waco, 20 cents, one to two cents higher; and Corsicana f.o.b. plant, 22 cents, up 1 1/2 cents.

The South Texas market opened firm and held steady through the close Friday. The undertone was about steady and unsettled. Supplies were about adequate to adequate for a fair to good demand. Trading was moderate.

East Texas opened firm and held steady through the close. The undertone was steady. Supplies were adequate for a good demand. Trading was heavy.

Farm Income Lower Than Non-Farmers

DALLAS, Dec. 31 — UP — Rep. William R. Poage (D-Tex.) said Saturday night that farmers get only one-half as much income per person as non-farm residents.

Poage spoke on a radio (Facts Forum) panel discussing price supports for farmers. He said farmers should enjoy a buying power comparable to any other group.

"Even 90 per cent of parity is only nine-tenths of a fair price," Poage said. "It leaves the farmer poorer, lower than he had years ago."

"I'm for 90 per cent rather than for three-fourths of a fair price. Ninety per cent is not all that a farmer should get, but when farm prices average 90 per cent of parity or more, experience has shown that the entire country is generally prosperous," Poage said.

He said that every time in the past when farm prices dropped as low as 75 per cent of parity, the whole economy has suffered a disastrous depression.

"Suppose it costs a quarter of a billion dollars or even half a billion dollars every year to keep farm prices up," Poage said. "Would it not be a good investment for every merchant, every manufacturer and every worker in this country?"

He said actually the price support program for basic commodities has actually cost less than half a billion dollars during the 22 years it has been in operation.

It would be a good time for all you young men to find out how the National Guard can help you retire your Military Obligation. It will also be a good time for all present Guardsmen to resolve to make 1956 a bigger and better year. The National Guard as a whole should resolve to be sure and be even more ready than ever before, and there are units all over the country, working toward this goal.

Here in Pampa, the first chance any guardsman will have to put his resolutions into practice will be January 8th, when Headquarters Battery will have its first drill of 1956. Service Battery and the ## Medical Detachment will have their first drill of 1956 on Jan. 18th.

There has been a lot of familiar faces around the Army over the holidays - members of the unit who are home from college - coming around to visit. Of course, they are keeping up their drill attendance by meeting with units near their schools.

We hope that 1956 will be for you, the best ever and to everyone we wish a very Happy and Prosperous New Year!

The Aiming Stake

K. L. FANCHER, 2nd Lt. Army Team NG

This is another week much as the last - not much to talk about and a lot to say. When you read this it will be a New Year, with all of the things a new year brings. We hope that everyone makes good resolutions, and then keeps them!

The next time a unit of the 474th meets - it will be in 1956, and it should be a good year for the National Guard. It would be a good time for all you young men to find out how the National Guard can help you retire your Military Obligation. It will also be a good time for all present Guardsmen to resolve to make 1956 a bigger and better year. The National Guard as a whole should resolve to be sure and be even more ready than ever before, and there are units all over the country, working toward this goal.

Here in Pampa, the first chance any guardsman will have to put his resolutions into practice will be January 8th, when Headquarters Battery will have its first drill of 1956. Service Battery and the

Social Security Applies To Farm Workers

Farm employers are reminded by Walter C. Bowen of the Pampa office of the Internal Revenue Service that social security taxes apply to cash wages paid to every farm worker to whom the employer pays $100 or more cash wages during the year 1955. The taxes (2 percent employer tax and 2 percent employee tax) apply only to cash wages paid to covered farm workers, Bowen said.

Every farm employer who owes taxes must file a return on Form 943, and pay the taxes, on or before Jan. 31, 1956. Farm employers should file their returns on time in order to avoid the penalty which may be charged for late filing.

Any employer of covered farm workers who has not already registered with the district director's office should do so at once. The registration form SS-4 can be obtained from any Internal Revenue or Social Security office. The district director will mail the necessary return forms and instructions to all registered employers.

Gain For The Right

William F. Buckley, Jr., a son of old Eli who shook the ice-coated walls of the Ivy League with his book, "God and Man at Yale," has now moved across the nation's escarpments by becoming founder, editor and publisher of a new weekly periodical of right-wing opinion.

Mr. Buckley, an improbable lad of precocity, has managed to assemble a stellar line-up for "The National Review," which made its debut through the mails the week of November 19, 1955.

We are proud to welcome this new journal of conservative views to the growing line-up of regular publications which are doing what they can to stem the tide of collectivism in the United States. Mr. Buckley deserves well at the hands of the American public and it is prayerfully hoped that subscribers and readers will flock to his standard.

If the first issue is indicative of what is to come, those concerned with the American heritage and with the job of regaining our lost freedom have a treat in store for them. The names of his editors, associates and contributors are reassuring that the embattled "right" is gaining ground.

Particularly worthy of study in the new weekly are: an article by Senator William F. Knowland of California; a story which explains how left-wing schools and colleges raise money, by Alose Heath; and a nimble, witty and provocative piece from the ascerbic pen of Morris Ryskind, entitled: "They'll Never Get Me on That Couch."

The war of ideas which has been raging in this country since FDR threw caution to the winds and openly endorsed galloping socialism as an American policy, must, of course, be fought out with words. And through the long, lean years of New Deal ascendancy under the banner of the braying onager, there have been very few words, to come from the camp of those who deplored the socialist and communist advances.

In welcoming the "National Review" to the desks of its readers we must pause briefly to pay tribute to the pioneering efforts of others who have held the torch, though it flickered feebly during the years of deliberate treason and treachery.

We are thinking of such publications as "The Southern Conservative" put out by Ida M. Darden. "Plain Talk," which was originally the brain child of Isaac Don Levine, finally bloomed into a rebirth of the "Freeman Magazine," the origin of which can be traced directly to the brilliant libertarian mind of Albert J. Nock. Frank Chodorov has performed yeoman service in presenting the true cause of liberty in this publication.

We must not overlook "Facts Forum Magazine," which, while it sometimes appears to mar its pages with presentation of socialist conviction, nonetheless has been a challenging medium for fair and impartial discussion of issues.

The cause has also been ably furthered by the skillful reporting of Frank Hanighen in his weekly news sheet from Washington called "Human Events." And as a temper stimulating, frustrating, but nonetheless useful adjunct to the libertarian field is the almost monthly (9 issues yearly) magazine "Faith and Freedom," edited by Bill Johnson and Thad Ashby.

Worthy also of consideration and support are such publications as "Mercury Magazine," sired originally by that geyser of Americana, H. L. Mencken, and a new monthly issued by the Foundation for Economic Education, entitled "Ideas on Liberty."

Also of stellar value to the cause of clear thinking has been the factual reporting of Henry Hazlitt, the free enterprise supporting economic editor of "Newsweek Magazine," and the imperturbable David Lawrence, whose "U. S. News and World Report" continues to soar in popularity as an unguent to the slanted and pervasive wounds opened by Henry Luce's "Time" magazine.

Despite the similarity in title we must not confuse the new weekly with the very successful and useful publication of Walter Steele, the "National Republic," which has done an excellent job out of Washington for a number of years.

The advent of "National Review" finds the forces of a free America in a shape not so deplorable. If America is able to reverse the socially inspired dependency upon big government, it will owe a great debt to the daring few who have manned the battlements against all-comers when it was profitable and popular to join the howling mobs of do-gooders.

Long life and much success to Buckley and company. We are counting on some pretty good things between ensuing covers.

UNESCO's Economics

I want to quote from an article appearing in U.S.A. magazine written by Robert S. Byfield, Mr. Byfield is New York Stock Exchange Representative to the United Nations and serves as financial editor for the Manufacturer's Record. He is author of several books, among which is "The Fifth Weapon," a book about the Kremlin's concept of total coordination of all weapons.

The following is the concept Mr. Byfield had from attending the book shop at the United Nations, General Assembly Building. I quote:

"The place has a kind of fascination with its huge array of reports and statistical treatises indicative of the far flung activities of the United Nations and its Specialized Agencies. For example, there are titles in Economics, Statistics, Productivity, Welfare, Education and Technical Assistance in profusion. By merely glancing over the counters one gets a 'feel' of what the U.N. is doing.

"Soon I came across a volume I had not seen previously. Economics and Action by Pierre Mendes-France, former Premier of France, and Gabriel Ardan, French General Commissioner for Productivity. The book was an English translation of the original French text. After one good revealing look, I bought a copy and rushed home with it. What I'd already read 'burnt me up.'

"With a stereotyped air of objectivity, 'Economics and Action' discusses briefly some of the more widely held economic theories, their application to societies in which they exist and their results. Much attention is paid to the so-called classical and liberal theory, the system of John Maynard Keynes and collectivist socio-economic philosophies. 'Economics and Action' makes a strong plea for increased government intervention in economic affairs as a corrective for faults of a free enterprise or 'market' economy.

"Marx a la Mode de Paris" The French authors show a strong distrust of capital investment by private investors; hence capital investment as a primary function of the State is favored. The following argument for a planned economy is boldly printed on the dust jacket:

"The state of our economy today forces us to choose between blind empiricism and scientific planning, between unemployment and progress, between war and peace. The question is whether man will be able to mobilize for peaceful work the same resources that he can mobilize for war or preparation for war."

"These are not honest alternatives. Further evidence of the authors' bias against the classical economic theory is furnished throughout the book and the following statement on page 16 is particularly startling:

"Anticipating what will be said later, we shall mention only the admission by many able thinkers that Weimar Germany would not have known the six million unemployed who made Hitler's success if it had not been for the error of an economic policy based exclusively on classical theory. It is no paradox therefore to argue that the second world war and all its consequences resulted from an economic fallacy."

"The sequence of thought here is obvious. Capitalism gave rise to unemployment; thus capitalism in Germany resulted in the totalitarian regime of Adolf Hitler, which finally led to war. This reasoning is almost identical with the basic Marxist-Leninist theory of economic determinism holding that a nation's system of production determines its form of government and, I suppose, its friendliness or belligerence towards other countries.

"Another severe criticism of classical economics by Mendes-France and Ardan is of its alleged neglect of the 'problems of global balance.' The authors apparently accord international welfare statism and equilibrium priority over any consideration of purely domestic matters.

"Ye Olde Red Refrain" Chapter III is entitled "Shortcomings of the Classical Theory," and discusses the recurring economic crisis under capitalism, presenting the conventional Socialist-Communist views as to the inevitability of disequilibrium, the classical answer, and the Marxist counter-reply to this answer.

"In Chapters IV and V there is a further full discussion of Keynesian economics and the policy of 'full employment.' In connection herewith is the following statement: 'It is thus understandable that the Soviet economy, for example, for all its difficulties of every kind, has been spared the crises of capitalist economy.'

"No mention is made of the fact that the Soviets have a slave-and-barrier economy, operating under compulsion, to the detriment of human liberties. It is remarkable that the authors dispose of the human equation involved with the mere phrase 'for all its difficulties of every kind.'

"Lafayette, Where Are You?" In Chapter X on "The problem of equilibrium under a collectivist regime," Mendes-France and Ardan declare: "... it is possibly better equipped than a capitalist state to combat inflation as well as deflation. Its chief asset in this respect is that it is able to rationalize institutions. Introducing a fiscal system more nearly fraud-

Bonn Government Official Advises Link With The West

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — "Where do we go from here?" With this typical American platitude as this title, a high official of the West German Government analyzes his divided country's present predicament and prospects as a result of the failures of the Geneva Conference. He urges continued alliance with the West and firm patience toward Russia in an effort to convince the Kremlin that free post-war Germany has no warlike intentions.

The author is Dr. W. Hallstein, State Secretary of the Bonn Government's Foreign Office. His article, which appears in a recent issue of Bonn's Official Bulletin, was first delivered as a lecture at the University of Munich. As a considered statement of Adenauer's present and future plans, it has attracted wide attention in diplomatic circles here and abroad.

It is regarded as especially significant because of Bonn's forthcoming negotiations with Moscow, based on repudiation of formal diplomatic relations. Despite Moscov's renunciation, except on its own harsh and unacceptable terms, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer still hopes for a fairer settlement of the problem. In a sense, European spokesmen like the Chancellor and Dr. Hallstein may serve as spokesmen and champions of the West at the Kremlin.

In seeking an explanation for the Reds' brusque behavior at Geneva — he calls it "crass and uncouth" — Dr. Hallstein furnishes a logical and comforting reason for their recalcitrance. Bonn has better sources of information on Communist and satellite affairs than Washington or London.

"The theory," he writes, "is that the 'offensive of the smile' had given birth to certain trends of relaxation within the structure of the Soviet Bloc, too, and that, therefore, the Soviet leaders considered it advisable to show a more rigid front again."

"The other theory is that the Soviet, planning separate bilateral talks with the Federal Republic (Bonn), fell back on their well-tried method of uncouth talk in their four-power negotiations in order to achieve a maximum effect with a minimum concession in any forthcoming bilateral Russo-German talks.

But if Messrs. Khrushchev and Bulganin anticipate an Adenauer surrender in return for meaningful economic or political concessions, they will be disappointed. West Germany's only hope and proof that is possible in a capitalist regime and, consequently, to exercise control over incomes dependent on personal position and market conditions, leaving individuals only such sums as are considered necessary in order to encourage them to work and to use their initiative and organizing ability."

"Apparently, then, 'scientific planning' as applied to politics means that the State is to be the master and the individual the servant. The authors suggest a kind of national dole or rationing process for all incomes. What, I ask, happens to political and economic freedoms under such an arrangement?"

salvation, Dr. Hallstein warns, is for her to remain associated with the nations of the West. He writes: "There are two resolutions which we ought to make in all earnestness and determination. The first is that we should never remain alone. We have experienced what the community with nations that are our friends, means in the recovery that so deeply concerns our people. It is not enough to be grateful for this fact."

Obviously referring to West Germany's remarkable economic recovery under the Marshall Plan and subsequent aid programs, he continues: "We must keep alive, particularly in ourselves, the awareness that our destiny is part of the destiny of a community of nations with whom we feel closely tied by everything that is valuable to us as individuals and as a people."

"Whenever this community suffers, we also suffer. Whenever this community is endangered, we are also endangered. Whenever this community is strong, we are strong."

Not even F.D.R. or Winston Churchill, Harry S. Truman or President Eisenhower, ever gave more cogent reasons for establishment of a Western European Union economically and militarily powerful enough to withstand the menace of constantly aggressive communism throughout the world.

But Dr. Hallstein does not advocate a hostile or provocative policy toward Russia. He says: "The German people wish to live in peace and good neighborly relations with the Soviet people. And in demanding the unity of our people in peace and freedom, we only demand what the Federal Chancellor (Adenauer) at Moscow called our divine and human rights. For this reason, our first step after establishing diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia will be to present the Soviet leaders a picture of Germany as it really is.

"If misconceptions about us have been the cause of their reactions, we will in all firmness and patience strive to correct these interpretations."

Hank's Predictions Of 20 Years Ago All Came True

By HENRY McLEMORE

I was thumbing through the unwritten laws of the columnists' union the other day and discovered that members are required to write at least one column of new year predictions every 20 years.

A hasty check of my files revealed that it was just twenty years ago that I had written my last prophetic piece, so with a cry of "Hey, fellow, get on the ball!" I tore back to my typewriter and went to work.

I did, however, take along the column of two decades ago, and if I do say so myself, my predictions weren't all bad. I was amazed that so many of them had proved sound. In the middle thirties I predicted that the automobile was here to stay, foresaw a sharp decline in the construction of covered bridges, said that Mt. Vernon, Niagara Falls, Mammoth Cave, Yellowstone Park and Bunker Hill would continue to draw many sight-seers, and predicted that the year was not far off when the piano would become an established musical instrument.

I have lived to see every one of those predictions come true, and to receive the apologies of the men who, at the time, said I was crazy to stuff such mad prophesying. So, it might be a good idea for you to hold your scorn when you read my predictions for the year 1956. It is obvious, from the 1935 prophecies, that I have something on the ball — the crystal ball — and am entitled to more than a little respect.

Here are some of the things I see for 1956: No fewer than six new tooth-pastes with new, secret formulas will be introduced. One of the pastes will contain RVP, and it will not only protect the enamel, give you a dazzling smile, and enable you to bite through nails, but will keep the bristles of your brush as stiff as a poker.

The Post Office Department will finally achieve success in its search for a pen that won't write at all, and it will replace the pens now in use which are one per cent efficient.

Your neighborhood banker, druggist, florist, and shoe repairman will continue to be friendly, and will resist the temptation to be angry and out of sorts when you patronize them.

The Indians will lose every movie battle. They will lose them for the same reason that they always have — by acting like complete idiots and riding 'round and 'round a circle of covered wagons until they are all shot off their horses.

Television announcers will continue to read a telephone number as it is flashed on the screen, and then read it again, presumably on the assumption that their audience is either illiterate or blind, or both.

Bus drivers will continue to act as if the only thing they dislike about their work is having to stop to pick up passengers.

There'll be a mela of "white" sales.

Christian Dior will get a whacking lot of publicity by lowering something, raising something, and adding something.

Songwriters will rhyme heart and

COMEDY FILM — The maddest artists ever to pick up a brush, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis turn the comic book field into a hilarious shambles in Hal Wallis' super-musical, "Artists and Models," opening today at the LaNora Theatre. Shirley MacLaine and Dorothy Malone co-star with Eddie Mayhoffer in the zany team's biggest and most riotously funny film.

KPDN Sets Guest Disc Jockey Show

On Jan. 2, Radio Station KPDN will inaugurate a new program from 7 to 8 p.m., Mondays through Fridays known as The Disc Jockey FAD.

The station has been teasing its listeners by asking them what Deejay FAD means. The answer is simple: Disc Jockey For A Day.

Actually, however, the new program means that each day some Pampan will have the privilege of playing only what he or she wants to hear over the radio for one hour.

The guest disc jockeys will announce their own numbers, some of them will be permitted to do the commercials on the program, while still others will leave it up to the Engineer-Announcer Ed Young to do the talking end of the show.

Management of the station said the idea is to give people of Pampa a pretty good inkling of what kind of music their neighbors like to hear, and to give as many persons as possible an opportunity to express themselves musically by playing only the type of music and numbers for that one hour which the guest disc jockey prefers.

Coy Palmer, co-owner of KPDN, said day by day schedules of who will be next will not be put out. The guest disc jockey will not be identified until he or she is ready to proceed with the program.

Guest disc jockeys have been lined up for almost a month, and are to be notified as much as one week to ten days ahead of time. This will give them plenty of time to get down to the studio and go through the station's index file in search of the numbers he or she prefers.

Warren Hasse, the other half of KPDN, added: "Many people get to believe that a radio station carries nothing in its record library but modern and hill billy records. This is far from the truth. Every station carries any type of music you could think of from classical on down to Hill Billy; there are light orchestras, dance orchestras, military (or brass) bands, organ, piano, vocal, both solo and choral, religious, and even some opera."

Martin, Lewis, Many Girls In New Film

Girls, girls, and more lovely girls are the order of the day in Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis' goofy and hilarious new film, "Artists and Models," opening today at the LaNora Theatre. From leading ladies right on through the glamorous and jaucious models who surround Dean and Jerry throughout the picture, the feminine cast is one of the most stunning ever assembled.

Co-starring with the comedy kings are Shirley MacLaine and Dorothy Malone; Eva Gabor and Anita Ekberg are featured; and both the rib-ticking story and the spectacular musical numbers are liberally sprinkled with the pick of the country's most fabulously beautiful women.

Shirley MacLaine, starring in only her second film, is Hollywood's newest Cinderella. She is Paramount's delightful young pixie whom "Artists and Models" producer Hal Wallis recruited from Broadway's "Pajama Game" the night she went on as understudy for the smash hit's ailing star. An overnight sensation, her sifin personality has tabbed her as one of the most outstanding talents to come along in many years. Her special type of beauty is unforgettable.

Her co-star, Dorothy Malone, the gorgeous and leggy honey blonde who scored a tremendous success in "Battle Cry," stirs ooh's and ah's as she suns herself on a roof terrace in a bathing suit. As though this weren't enough for any self-respecting art lover, Eva Gabor pursues Jerry amorously as she tries to wheedle a secret power formula from him, using the feminine "weapons" that have made her justly famous; and Anita Ekberg, "Miss Sweden," Hollywood's most photographed actress and a recent sensation in "Blood Alley," decorates the film in costumes of cold-catching brevity.

Pampa's Harvesters Captured The Top O' Texas Cage Crown

Harvesters Drop Coyotes For Third Straight Crown

The Pampa Harvesters defeated the Wichita Falls Coyotes Saturday night in the finals to take their third straight Top O' Texas Basketball championship. The Coyotes fell to the Harvesters 60-48 after they had defeated Chickasha's Chicks on Friday night by a 60-56 mark.

Gene Brown came through for the Green and Golders as high point man in the Saturday night finals as he dumped in 10 field goals and three free throws for 23 points.

He was followed closely by Jerry Gee, though, as he garnered nine counters from the gratis line and eight on field goals.

The Pampa Harvesters took the lead early and never gave it up. Gene Brown scored first for Coach Clifton McNeely's cagers with 15 seconds gone in the first frame.

The Harvester defense held air-tight for the first five minutes as the Green and Golders held the Coyotes scoreless. Brown paced the Harvesters in the first frame as he dumped in four field goals for eight points. Most of them were net swishers from outside. Jerry Gee counted for five points while Tommy Gindorf racked up four.

Bob Myers set the pattern for the Coyotes as he counted with three field goals and one free toss, but the Harvesters led at the end of the first frame by a 21-13 mark.

In the second period the Coyote's defense tightened up and they cut the Green and Golders' lead to six points for the smallest lead of the game. The Coyote's 5-9' Charles Horton hit good from outside to count for six of the Red and Black 14 points.

Dickie Mauldin counted with two field goals and one free toss to lead the Harvesters in the second frame. They led at halftime by a narrow 33-27 mark.

In the third stanza the Harvesters stretched their six-point halftime lead to 11 as Gene Brown sank two from outside and two from the free throw line. The McNeely charges led 49-38 going in to the final stanza.

Jerry Gee sank five free throws in the last frame and Gene Brown hit three two-pointers for the only Green and Gold counters in the closing frame.

The Coyotes were held to three field goals and four free tosses as the last period ended to give the Harvesters their third Top O' Texas basketball championship in the three year history of the tourney over Coach Perry Goolsby's strong Coyotes.

Ada Cougars Defeat Chicks For 3rd Place In Tourney

The Ada Cougars edged past the Chickasha Chicks 63-52 to cop the third place trophy of the tournament. The Cougars fell to the Coyotes Friday night in a hard fought contest while the Chicks dropped their opener to the Harvesters.

The Ada Cougars got out in front of the Chicks from Chickasha and never gave up their lead as Ray Hammock, 6-2" jr. hit for seven points and Jerry Beller, 6-1" sr., counted for six in the opening quarter of the consolation game of the Third Annual Top O' Texas Basketball tournament held in the Pampa fieldhouse Saturday night.

Don Hoover, 5-7" forward, for the Cougars, paced the Maroon and White with 18 points on seven field goals and four free throws. He was followed by 6-2" Don Simpson who dumped in four from outside and three from the free throw line for 11 points.

The Chicks offense and defense couldn't seem to get going in the first frame as the Cougars stacked up a 13 point lead on six field goals and eight free tosses. The Chicks counted for only two from outside and three free throws which made the first period score 20-7.

The Harley Day cagers came back in the second frame with a tight defense and strong offense as they held the Cougar lead to 14 points as Gary LeFevers dumped in three quick field goals and Lendell Massey sank five free throws.

The Cougars led 34-20 at the 15-minute mark. The Chicks counted for only two from outside and came up trailing 44-38 going into the last period. The Chick's Cecil Bunnell counted for two field goals and one free shot while the remainder of the squad made two field goals and five free points in the third quarter. In the final frame the Chickasha several times but that was as close as they could get as fouls plagued them in their efforts to gain control of the ball.

The Cougars put on a semi-stall late in the frame and by the free throw help stretched their lead to 11 points as the Cougars defeated the Chicks 63-52 to take the third place in the Third Annual Top O' Texas Basketball tournament.

335,000 To Watch Classics

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

An estimated 335,000 persons will turn out at four scattered sites throughout the nation Monday to watch college football's greatest one-day show—the New Year's Day bowl games.

Millions of other fans—given an extra day this year to recover from their holiday celebrating—will either watch or hear the games via radio and television.

In the oldest of these "spectaculars," Michigan State leads a one-touchdown favorite to defeat UCLA before 100,809 fans in the 42nd Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif.

Oklahoma was a seven-point choice over Maryland for their Orange Bowl clash before 76,062 at Miami, Fla.; Georgia Tech was a one-touchdown pick to defeat Pittsburgh before 82,985 fans in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, and Texas Christian was expected to defeat Mississippi by at least seven points before 75,504 spectators in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

The Sugar Bowl game will be carried by ABC radio-TV, while CBS radio-TV will air the Orange Bowl and NBC radio-TV will handle the Cotton Bowl. All three games will start at 1 p. m. est.

Following the Cotton Bowl contest, NBC will switch operations to the West Coast to pick up the Rose Bowl head-knocking for their radio and television audiences. This game is scheduled to start at 4 p. m. est.

The day's most interesting game is expected to explode in the Orange Bowl, where Maryland has been waiting two years to avenge its upset by Oklahoma in the 1954 renewal. That season, Maryland was considered the nation's top team but fell before Bud Wilkinson's Sooners, 7-0.

South Drops North 20-19 In 18th Blue-Gray Game

By RAY LACKEY
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 31-UP—The South reached into a "border" state for ammunition to reverse the Civil War script and pull out a 20-19 victory Saturday in the 18th annual Blue-Gray football classic.

Kentucky teammates Bob Hardy and Howard Schnellenberger scored one touchdown each and Hardy directed the Gray 56 yards for a score in the last minutes of play to give the South its 12th win against five losses to the Yankees.

Halfback Vince Gonzales of Louisiana State kicked the winning point after touchdown for the South.

The superbly conditioned Blue team, coached by Don Faurot of Missouri staged a last half rally after giving the Rebels a 13-0 lead, but the cool and collected Hardy pulled the game out for the Rebels.

Big Don Goss, a 260-pound tackle from Southern Methodist, set the stage for the South's game winning touchdown by recovering a fumble late in the fourth period, on the Gray 44-yard line.

The Gray's ground game carried the ball down to the Blue 45 where limping Art Davis of Mississippi State got 16 yards on an end run.

A few line plays later, Hardy caught Davis open on the sideline and reached him with a 13-yard pass to the two. Ken Keller of North Carolina rammed the ball over.

Washington TD Club Names Oklahoma Tops

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31-UP—The Washington Touchdown Club named unbeaten Oklahoma Saturday as the outstanding college football team of 1955.

The club also named Lt. Merrill Mavrides of Bowling Air Force Base as the outstanding service player of the year. Mavrides, a former Notre Dame star, played offensive guard and defensive end for the undefeated Bowling team.

Mavrides will receive a trophy at the club's annual dinner Jan. 7, while the Sooners' captain will accept the award on behalf of the Oklahoma team.

Vanderbilt Tramples Auburn 25-13 In 11th Gator Classic

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 31-UP—Vanderbilt Quarterback Don Orr ran over two touchdowns and passed for a third Saturday while his charged-up teammates grabbed every loose ball in sight to trample favored Auburn, 25-13, before 25,018 fans in the 11th annual Gator Bowl.

Orr, a questionable starter due to a dislocated elbow suffered during the regular season, snaked one and four yards for touchdowns and hit end Joe Stephenson with an eight-yard scoring toss. Star halfback Charlie Horton picked up the fourth Commodore touchdown with a one-yard plunge.

The alert Vanderbilt line shared accolades with Orr. The Commodores, playing in their first bowl game, dropped on three crucial fumbles by Auburn quarterback Howell Tubbs and covered another key bobble by Tiger fullback Joe Childress in the final period.

Loses Five Fumbles
Auburn, outweighing Vanderbilt by 16 pounds per man, lost five fumbles in all.

Immediately after the game sports writers covering the classic made Orr the unanimous choice for most valuable player on the field. Childress was the top pick from among the losers.

Vanderbilt, keeping the strong Auburn line loose with Orr's passing, also turned to a wide running game that cut halfback Charlie Horton and Joe Scales and fullback Phil King loose for effective yardage against the frustrated Tigers.

Orr broke the scoring ice with four and a half minutes remaining in the first quarter with an eight-yard touchdown pass to Stephenson in the end zone. A minute earlier King had plunged over from the three, but a penalty nullified the play.

Auburn Begins Moving
Auburn began moving late in the quarter, looking like it would assert the power that made it a one-touchdown favorite. The drive, which began on the Auburn 33, and James shook off one man and ran over the goal standing up.

East Swamps West In Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31-UP—Garet (Gerry) Reichow, a workhorse from the Iowa farm country, Saturday powered the East to an easy 29-6 victory over the West in the 31st renewal of the Shrine game before 61,000 fans.

The Iowa quarterback from Des Moines completely dominated the star-studded group that included the great All-American Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy.

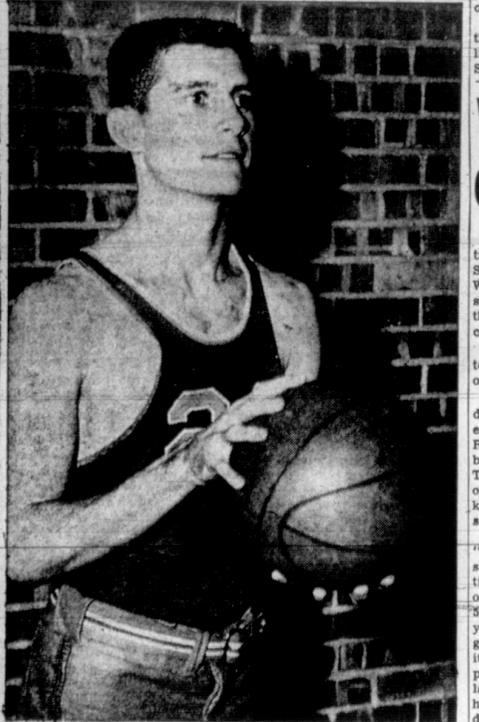

He not only did all the passing and kicking for his team, but he carried the ball 20 times for 87 yards on the ground—nearly all ways in the key spots.

Reichow Most Valuable
For his work, Reichow was picked as the most valuable player in the game. Joe Long of Stanford, playing at center for the West, was chosen as the outstanding lineman.

The first time the East got the ball they went on a 71-yard touchdown march. This drive featured Lemmie Moore of Penn State who carried the ball six times during the drive for 35 yards. Reichow scored from the one and Don Schaefer of Notre Dame converted to make it 7-0.

In the second quarter, the West scored on a five-yard plunge by Preston Carpenter of Arkansas. Reichow 2 (1, plunge; 1, plunge), Branch 2 (6, run), Lindbeck (9, run). Conversions, Schaefer 2, Branch. Safety, Schaefer (tackled Contratto in end zone).

Wrestlers Are Back After Christmas Holiday's Rest

After a week's Christmas vacation for the wrestlers, the Pampa Shrine Club will have wrestling Wednesday night January 4th with some new wrestlers and some of the old timers appearing on the card.

The main event will be a tag team match of two of three falls one hour time limit.

His partner Frankie Murdock "The Fabulous Texan" with his sleeper hold is dangerous at all times. Mike Clancy one of their opponents is from Boston, Mass. 3'10", weighs 218 pounds and is 28 years old and an all time football great of Boston College. His favorite hold is the "Irish Whip". His partner Mike Lewis wrestled here last year. He is 22 years old and has another year of experience under his belt.

It is reported that he is one of the few men that has given Lou Tnez, World Champion, much trouble. That was in Madison Square Garden just 6 weeks ago.

Frankie Murdock and Mike Clancy will start things off with a one fall 15 minute time limit bout.

There will be another main event to go with the two matches at

Bear's Coaching Staff Completed

At Houston, Cooper developed 14 all-Missouri Valley linemen.

Quarterback Buddy Hill and halfback Hugh-Fewin of Texas Tech were grade school classmates at Burk Burnett. Hill finished his schooling at Lubbock High School, where he quarterbacked the Westers to a state championship in 1952.

The Pampa Optimist boxing coaches are whipping their teams into shape for the district golden gloves, in Borger which will begin January 11 and also the local district matches which will be held in the Junior High School Gym Jan. 23, 24 and 25.

"All boys who have not continued their workouts since the holidays are urged to do so," stressed the coaches today as the number of boys has considerably decreased since the Christmas intermission.

All Pampa boys will be allowed to enter the district competition since the sponsors have added the "Novice" division this year. Previously the district contests were open only to the best but the newcomers will have a chance to win trophies this year.

The Pampa club will enter as many boys as possible in the Borger contests in order to get the boys in better shape for the local bouts.

All boys that enter must be in shape, however, since the competition will be rougher except in the novice class this year than in any previous season.

The Optimist boxers got another excellent bit of ring experience last week as they took nine of the 12 bouts scheduled Thursday night with Amarillo, Borger and Memphis.

"These intra-city matches help considerably in the preparation for both our district and the Amarillo Regional tournaments," pointed out Ollie Wilhelm, coach of the Citizens' bank team.

Other coaches are Johnny Campbell and Rex Lee Jones for the First National team and Eddie Lawrence of the PIA who is assisted by Lester Mason. Bobby Wilhelm is assisted by Oren James for the Pampa News and the Citizens' assistant coach is Bill Stevens.

Each of these men is spending several hours a week conditioning the Pampa fighters for the forthcoming Golden Gloves Tournaments. They would like to have all the boys back for this final preparation.

Spartans Are 8 Pt. Favorites

PASADENA, Calif. —UP—Michigan State and UCLA went to the practice field to get the final kinks out of their grid machines Saturday as tension increased on the crystal ball front, with an electronic "brain" joining in predicting the outcome.

The brain picked the Spartans by eight points over the Bruins in the Rose Bowl classic.

Both squads turned in top performances in Friday's next-to-last drills. The Spartans were so eager the coaches had to warn them to avoid full contact.

The main Bruin worry appeared to be whether Ronnie Knox would be able to play. Coach Henry (Red) Sanders said the passing star had been improving with every practice session but refused to state definitely whether he could get off the bench Jan. 2.

The chief trouble, Sanders said, was that there was only one more organized workout for the team—Saturday.

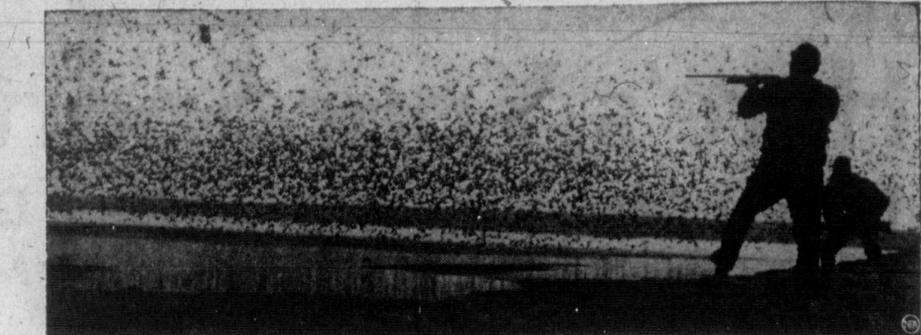

Sanders said he felt it would be "a miracle" if Ronnie could play. Knox reported his leg was bothering him less every practice session.

In 15 minutes of goal line defense, the green squad had little success cracking the line as it ran Michigan State formations.

The Spartans went through two hours of practice in which halfbacks Walt Kowalczyk and Clarence Peaks showed excellent form against UCLA defensive formations.

Quarterback Earl Morrall also was in top shape in punting practice, booting an average of between 40 and 50 yards.

While he was sharpening up at that department, the Bruins' backs and ends were working on defense against his passing.

Pampa, Coyotes Go Into Finals

By TOMMIE ELLIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters and the Wichita Falls Coyotes advanced into the finals Saturday as they defeated the Ada and Chickasha fives in two hard fought games for the winners of the Third Annual Top o' Texas basketball tournament.

The Wichita Falls Coyotes defeated the Chickasha Chicks in the opener by a 50-36 score while the Harvesters dropped the Ada Cougars to the tune of 81-65.

Both the Wichita Falls Coyotes and the Chickasha Chicks got off to a slow start as the two teams scored only 10 points in the first quarter.

The Coyotes' only counters came on free throws while the Chicks' six points came on three field goals. Bob Myers, 6-4 1/2 sr., and Charles Horton, 5-9 1/2 jr., each dumped in a pair of free throws for Coach Perry Goolsby while Garys LeFevers, 6' sr., Cecil Bunnell, 5-11 1/2 jr., and Angelo Williams, 5-10 1/2 sr., each dumped in a field goal to give Coach Harley Day's charges a 6-4 lead as the first frame ended.

The Chicks still led at the half by only two points as the score was 26-24 but the height of the Coyotes began to show as the game progressed and they led by 11 points going in to the last period.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By S. V. WHITEHORN

Our Biologists can secure a vast amount of vital information from the study of these wings. We, the Panhandle sportsmen and Game Dept. personnel would like to see the Panhandle well represented in the collection of wings.

Fishing in this area is practically at a standstill at this time of the year but the conditions here haven't slowed many of the anglers down. Kiff White Jr. and a group of Spearman anglers, are planning a trip to the Famed Falcon lake on the Rio Grande in the near future. Today we are getting a letter off to the resident Warden of that area, finding out what the conditions are in general.

This time of the year should be the best for fishing there at Falcon. Especially is this true due to the semi-tropical waters of the lake. This lake is roughly three years of age and near the age when all lakes reach their peak.

We made several inquiries last year from people of that area, and our report wasn't the best, however, Garth Christopher, Warden from Liberty Texas, reported that most of the channel cat shipped into the Liberty area came from Falcon lake. We will have a report ready on the general fishing conditions in the next issue, we hope.

Not too long ago Aubra Bowers was telling about a tame bobcat that was kept as a pet on one of the ranches where he worked. This was the first time we had heard of this sort of pet. However, in this month's issue of the Texas Game and Fish there is a feature article on Bob Cat, illustrated with pictures, describing the family pet of Mr. and Mrs. Nolen Von Roeder, ranch couple from Snyder.

The feline was taken home because its eyes were open and raised on a bottle until it was large enough to eat. This is one of the most interesting articles published for some time.

This interesting magazine can't be purchased on the news stands but can be had by subscription at two dollars per year by writing the Texas Game and Fish Comm., Austin, Texas.)

"Two Touchdowns Will Win Sugar Game" Predicts Dodd

By JACK GATES

NEW ORLEANS —UP—Coach Bobby Dodd said Saturday he believes the Sugar Bowl football game between his speedy Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets and Pittsburgh would be a defensive battle and predicted the team that scored two touchdowns would win.

"I believe if we can make two touchdowns, we'll win the game," said Dodd. "And if they can make two, I believe they will win. I don't look for a high-scoring game at all."

Dodd, whose teams haven't been beaten in six previous bowl games, also thinks punting will play an important part in each team's effort — particularly if it is a wet field.

"Pittsburgh has an excellent punter," Dodd admitted in Bill Schmitt, six-foot, 230-pound guard. "He's a little slow getting them off, but he boots it high as the clouds."

Schmitt, who averaged 42.2 yards in 22 kicks for a total of 930 yards the past season, has been considered one of the best in the East. Although they are no longer punts than a number of others, Schmitt's high kicks allow John Patrak line to get down under the ball. And both generally are waiting for it to come down.

Tech depends on Johnny Menger, a speedy halfback, for its principal punting duties. And despite the height Schmitt gets, Dodd said he had rather have Menger because he "gets the ball away faster."

"It is going to be a punting duel," he expects, if the ground is wet or muddy." Dodd said. The long-range weather forecast was non-committal.

Players of both teams were pronounced in top physical condition with the exception of Tom Jenkins, Pitt's starting fullback who probably will not see action because of a knee injury.

Tech's starting backfield of Wade Mitchell, Paul Robertson, Johnny Menger and George Volkert, will be the four who finished the game against West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl two years ago as fourth stringers.

Sun B Coaches Worried About Injured Boys

EL PASO, Tex. —UP—Coaches DeWitt Weaver of Texas Tech and Phil Dickens of Wyoming were worried Saturday about the physical fitness of their teams for the Sun Bowl game Monday.

Weaver, who directed the Red Raiders' scrimmage session Friday, said center Dewey West has not recovered from an injury and will not play Monday. Weaver also disclosed that Tech's best runner, Jack Fitzpatrick, may be able to see "limited action." Fitzpatrick has an injured leg.

Meanwhile, Dickens was hoping his smaller Cowboys, who are outweighed in the line by 17 pounds per man and by 21 pounds in the backfield, will be able to survive further injury.

As far as the game itself was concerned, Dickens said "the only thing we can do is hope our line can keep 'em off balance. We'll have to depend on getting the jump and let them bumble up their own plays."

Orange Teams Ready For Monday's Tilt

MIAMI —UP—Oklahoma's Sooners, their "secret stuff" carefully tucked away until Monday's big Orange Bowl tilt, and Maryland's Terrapins ran through final drills in light tucks Saturday.

Both Jim Tatum's Maryland crew and Bud Wilkinson's Sooners had their last contact work Friday.

The Sooners called off an hour-long bus ride to the University of Miami practice field and instead Wilkinson had them running wind-sprints up and down the boulevard in front of their hotel at Miami Beach.

The husky Oklahoma Sooners, dressed in baggy sweat suits, stopped traffic by shouting at passing cars and trying to hitch-hike rides. But later Wilkinson herded them to secluded Indian Creek Island, where they worked on some dazzling high-speed plays before a limited group of onlookers.

The Terrapins romped through two hours of practice that covered all phases of the game, from fundamentals to Tatum's own brand of strategic trickery.

The big Maryland coach, always a pessimist, brightened when No. 1 fullback Fred (Hambone) Hamilton tore down the field full tilt. Trainer Duke Wyrse said the 175-pound sophomore, who suffered a bruised side in Thursday's scrimmage, should be ready for full-time action by game time.

Tatum still wasn't talking about winning, but when asked about the injured players said, "If we lose, we'll have no excuses. . . it will be because we played a better team."

Maryland's quarterback John Fritch, a third-stringer, is expected to miss the game because of a sprained elbow, but probably wouldn't have seen much action anyway. Second-string right tackle Dick Bittner may also be out with a shoulder injury, but the Terrapins are three-deep at that position.

Trainer Ken Rawlinson reported the Oklahoma players were in top physical condition for the clash.

Aubrey (Red) Phillips, who played center for Texas Tech in the 1952 Sun Bowl, returns with the Red Raiders to El Paso for the game with University of Wyoming as an assistant coach.

Wes Santee Fails To Crack The Four-minute Mile

CORAL GABLES, Fla. —UP—Despite ideal conditions, Marine Lt. Wes Santee failed again Friday night in an attempt to crack the four-minute mile.

The ex-Kansas flyer was clocked in 4:06.3 in an exhibition race against Joe LaPierre of Boston, New England's champion miler, and Bill Adams of the University of Florida. LaPierre finished second, about 30 yards back of Santee.

Although he has been trying to run under four minutes for three years, Santee wasn't too disappointed over Friday night's effort.

"Some day I'll make it," he said following the race. "Some day I'll wake up bursting with energy; everything will be just right, mentally and physically. And that will be the day I break the four-minute mile."

LaPierre set most of the early pace, giving way to Santee as they hit the three-quarter mark in 3:33.8. The long-striding Kansan sprinted in the last lap to pull away from LaPierre but still fell far short of his own American record of 4:00.5.

Texas Tech's Jan. 2 clash with University of Wyoming will be the Red Raiders' fifth appearance in the Sun Bowl. The Raiders beat College of the Pacific 25-14 in 1952 after losing 7-6 to West Virginia in 1953, 6-0 to Tulsa in 1952, and 13-12 to Miami of Ohio in 1948.

Although Texas Tech lost two and tied one of its 10 games this season, the Red Raiders won every game fullback Jim Sides participated in. The Red Raider co-captain cracked a wrist in Tech's opener with Texas University and was out four contests.

TCU-Miss Coaches Praise Opposing 11s

By ED FITE

DALLAS —UP—Coaches Abe Martin and Johnny Vaught, who used to play together on the same Texas Christian line, sounded like a mutual admiration society as they praised each other's rival Cotton Bowl football team Saturday.

Neither Martin of TCU nor Vaught of Mississippi would concede the other an edge in the forthcoming 20th annual Cotton Bowl tilt Monday, but they spent plenty of time pointing up the fine points of the other's football team.

"Why, old Johnny's line is faster and quicker - acting than ours," Martin said. "It's an exceptionally mobile unit and they have more over-all speed than we do."

Can Burn Up Backfield

"Even Vaught will admit he has speed to burn in the backfield and their wide stuff with (Eagle) Day and (John) Blalack working that wide option run-pass play is simply terrific," Martin said.

He said his team hadn't had to cope with anything like Ole Miss' run-pass threat throughout its 9-1 winning season.

But, despite all this "fear" of Day, Blalack, halfbacks Earl Blair and Billy Kinard and fullback Paige Colhren, Martin admitted that he hadn't given his team anything new in the way of defenses designed to stop it.

"We'll go with what we've employed so successfully thus far," he said.

Vaught, on the other hand, admitted that he had been stressing defenses to stop the breakaway threat of all-America Slim Jim Swink, who piled up 20 touchdowns and an 8.2-yard rushing average.

Some Other Horses

"But, we haven't overlooked the fact that Abe has some other horses beside Swink," he said. "We've noted that (Ray) Taylor is no slouch as a runner himself, although he doesn't appear to have the speed and finesse that makes Swink so valuable."

"And, from the movies I've seen, there's nothing bashful about the way TCU's fullbacks - (Vernon) Halbeck and (Harold) Pollard - plow up the turf."

"We'll have our hands full, I know," he said, "but the boys' attitude for this one is better than last year (when Ole Miss fell to Navy in the Sugar Bowl) and I can say this - we came to play."

Ole Miss got in a spirited workout after their belated arrival Friday by plane, but it wasn't as rugged as Vaught would like to have made it.

TCU took things fairly easy in an hour's offensive and defensive signal drill and, both teams planned to go through this routine again Saturday.

End Bobby Young was this year's winner of the Standeford-Cannon trophy given the Texas Tech football letterman with the highest grades (excluding previous winners still on the squad).

I RESOLVE

Almighty Father, I resolve . . . with all my heart sincere . . . To live a better life today . . . And all throughout this year . . . To overcome my prejudice . . . and every selfish stand . . . And try in every way I can . . . To lend a helping hand . . . For kinsman, neighbor, friend and foe . . . Wherever we may meet . . . And for the passing stranger and . . . The beggar on the street . . . I want to serve You faithfully . . . And be of greater worth . . . Not only to my family . . . But everyone on earth . . . Almighty Father, hear my prayer . . . And give Your grace to me . . . That I may keep my promise with . . . Profound humility.

by James J. Metcalf

Nothing relieves and ventilates the mind like a resolution. (John Burroughs)

WELL, CHRISTMAS IS OVER . . . it's a sort of a let-down after all the anticipations . . . and the realization of the anticipation . . . Peg doesn't know when she's had such a nice holiday . . . the children had such a good time . . . and didn't rout us out of bed too early . . . Although it's past, there are a few nice things that happened around Christmas that Peg would like to mention . . . for instance, Mrs. C. L. Mason gave the most luscious, huge cake, surrounded by homemade candy and cookies, to a motor freight company . . . everyone in the office sure enjoyed it . . . City Engineer James Cowan exchanged a gift certificate at a local store into levels for boys at Boy's Ranch . . . and Mrs. Delea Vicars gave much of her time to dressing dolls collected by the firemen to give to children less fortunate than most . . . and Helen Meers thoughtfully filled a box with homemade candy and cookies for the girls in the drug store where she takes her coffee break . . . And Mrs. O. W. Allston made the cleverest red felt stockings with white tops . . . decorated with toy tools and brilliants . . . and put a small gift inside for Miss J. M. Turner's grandsons . . . well, that's all about Christmas until next year.

A good intention clothes itself with power. (Emerson)

TOWN TALK . . . understand the Desk and Derrick Club girls are planning a seminar . . . concerning all phases of the organization . . . for next Sunday in Beacon Supply office . . . they're inviting members from the Amarillo and Berger clubs . . . promises to be interesting . . . the Pampa club was just formed in July and has really been going to town . . . it has its charter and by-laws . . . and has become affiliated with the Association of Desk and Derrick clubs of North America . . . at their meetings they have had guest speakers from all fields of the oil business . . . from 25 charter members, they have grown to include 45 women in the oil business or related fields . . . They certainly show promise of being an up-and-coming group . . . Peg wishes them the best during the New Year.

There is but one failure, and that is, not to be true to the very best one knows. (Canon Farrar)

HERE AND THERE . . . Peg sure thought she'd been taken back about six years the day around Christmas . . . saw a bunch of young men playing football at the Lively residence . . . they were all members of the 1949 Haryester team . . . reviving old memories and team spirit, Peg found out later . . . Peg saw LeRoy Troop . . . Lamar Lively . . . Leon English . . . Harbard Cox . . . and Derrell Davis they all ran around together in high school, too . . . they've been in service, since graduation and are now all attending different colleges . . . sure was nice they could get together again like that . . . understand the wives had a good time in another part of the house . . . The Elks sure had a nice Christmas dance . . . it certainly was a good crowd . . . Peg spied Jerry and Betty Barber back for the holidays . . . believe they're living in Phoenix now . . . the Bill McComases were there . . . and the L. A. Barbers . . . Vida and Jim Dean were there . . . Vida looked especially chic in a white and gold dress . . . believe that's the color . . . hard to tell in that dim light . . . The Evert Carmons were there . . . the Jim Terrells and the Quentin Williamses . . . everyone had such a good time.

Where you are is of no moment, but only what you are doing there. (Petarch)

HOLIDAY TIDBITS . . . understand Kenneth Williams . . . Kenneth Cummings . . . and George Spaulding were all home for the holidays . . . all are serving with the Air Force . . . Ronnie Still was back from USC . . . good to see Dotty Young back for the holiday . . . she's down in Arkansas now . . . heard the J. P. Butlers spent Christmas in Greenville . . . Mr. and Mrs. Aubyn French had their son and daughter and their families here for the holiday.

Each succeeding year unfolds wisdom, beauty, and holiness. (Mary Baker Eddy)

RESOLUTIONS . . . this is the time of year for resolutions . . . and you should have made yours by now . . . Peg can't think of any to make . . . not that she's satisfied with the way she is . . . she just can't think of any resolutions that she knows she'll keep . . . weakness of character, no doubt . . . many resolutions are just wishes . . . and every year brings with it wishes for better things . . . or at least as good . . . here are some wishes Peg devised . . . she wishes she had Al Curry's ability for making clever and gorgeous decorations . . . Maxine Rose's chic wardrobe . . . Adrienne Foster's leadership ability; Katie Key's enthusiasm for all she undertakes . . . Ted Hicks' graciousness in all situations . . . Fern Dawson's way of doing so many nice things for so many people . . . Nina Spomemore's energy . . . Betty Hogsett's voice . . . Nita Luna's lovely hair . . . and her ability to play bridge . . . Ramona Hudgins ability to play the piano . . . and Bunny Hinkill's sweet disposition . . . Peg could go on and on but thinks she'll stop here.

The voice of conscience is so delicate that it is easy to stifle it, but it is also so clear that it is impossible to mistake it. (Mme. de Staël)

THINKING OF THE NEW YEAR . . . brings many thoughts . . . what will it be like? . . . what will it bring? . . . Peg hopes it will bring only good things to everyone . . . doesn't a year seem to pass by so fast? . . . it only seems like yesterday that 1955 was beginning . . . and it's treated Peg quite well . . . there always seems to be something so refreshing about a new year . . . a new start . . . new hope . . . new dreams . . . new ideas . . . new happenings . . . and sometimes new ambitions . . . this vein of thinking brings to mind the quotation which Peg doesn't know exactly word for word . . . but it goes something like this . . . "I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul" . . . here is another quotation Peg found along that line that she'd like to leave you with this first day of 1956 . . . "That man is sure to win who can command the situation instead of allowing the situation to control him" . . . it's by Hollis Burke Frissell.

See ya,

Peg

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace-covered pillbox hat outlined in seed pearls and accented with sequins. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis over a white Bible.

Miss Diane Prichard of Canyon, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Vivian Wilkinson of Pampa, was bridesmaid. # BABY

A kiddie car is still a popular toy. They can be had in the conventional shape, with three wheels, or can be bought built like animals, with four wheels. Baby will whirl through the house as soon as he figures out how.

If you are moving Baby out of your room, and this should be done, if possible, at around six months, be sure to take familiar things with him. This includes his same bed and toys, his wall decoration or lamp. This isn't the time to change beds on him.

A session with a professional photographer can be hard work for Baby, the photographer and you. Take along interesting and favorite toys. Don't expect much of him if in an unfamiliar situation. Wear jangly earrings if they interest Baby.

Elizabeth Toomey Devises Resolutions With Eye To All Women's Requirements

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK—UP—For a few snug hours at this time of year every woman's future seems to grow more serene, filled with worthwhile projects and wondrous accomplishments.

The disciplined days ahead are forecast in a few neat lines headed "New Year's resolutions."

Figures are better, dispositions are sunnier, homes are run more smoothly, husbands are happier and wardrobes are dreamier.

The dreams of gipsy aren't entirely foolish, psychologists say. Just putting them down on paper is a step toward accomplishing them.

The following resolutions are made not only in recognition of strictly personal put-off-till-tomorrow projects of 1955, but also with an eye to what the year 1956 will require of all women. I hereby resolve to:

1. Quit kidding myself that flared skirts hide extra pounds. Designers are giving us fewer flared skirts in new spring fashions anyway. And after spring comes bathing suits. So bend to the floor, two, three, four...

2. Find out who all these women are who control more than 70 per cent of the saved wealth of this nation and inquire how they did it.

3. Think up a good answer to the inevitable question, "How come you never got married?" And have it printed on ladylike cards for all single girls who get tired of getting the same question from nosy acquaintances.

4. Ask Marlene Dietrich how she manages to look so young. There must be some part of her beauty regime that all women could copy.

5. Look with less admiration at those pointed-toed Italian pumps and move realism at my feet. The barefoot sandals they're designing for next summer require straight, unblemished toes.

6. Pay more attention to men's clothes and remember to compliment them when their suits or neckties deserve it. It is amazing what a big kick the most sophisticated man gets out of having his taste in clothes complimented.

7. Become an expert at something before those contestants on the multi-thousand dollar quiz contests completely shatter my ego. Pick a category that will be practical in real life as well as on TV, though, like "outstanding bachelors" or "money and how to save it."

8. Try one new recipe a week. With all these new cookbooks and TV instruction on cooking it seems a shame to keep serving my guests pork chops creole.

9. Find out exactly how models outline their eyes so expertly with eyebrow pencil for that oriental-eyed look. It's going to be more important in makeup than ever this spring.

10. Find out if it's really true that men prefer long hair on women. A lot of us have been making a serious cutting mistake if it is true.

Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

When Emmy was coming down with measles, fear rushed her mother in and out of her room all day with things like fruit juice, water and rubbing alcohol.

Then red spots came out on Emmy. They made her look so queer that pity drove her mother to lavish new attentions on her. Finally, relief motivated a vast surge of devoted interest in Emmy.

For her red spots began to fade—and in gratitude, her mother spent much time emptying glasses of plain water, reading from "The Wizard of Oz," cutting out paper dolls and scraping modeling clay from the bedclothes.

Emmy had been up and about two days when her mother was badly embarrassed by her rude behavior.

The publicity chairman of her club was at the front door, delivering some invitation envelopes to be addressed, when Emmy pushed herself between her and her mother. Holding up a crayon drawing upon which she'd been working, she demanded of her mother, "Didn't you hear me tell you to look at this?"

When the visitor had gone, there followed one of those scenes that often mark children's convalescence from illness and their struggle to readjust to reduction of our attention.

They are especially painful scenes because of the closeness that a child's illness creates between him and us. They do not have to afflict us. If we are provident, we can preserve the closeness without encouraging the spoiled, at-

"Yum" Over Shrimp, Yams In "Quickie" Main Dishes

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Mrs. Jane Stolz, of Tucson, Ariz., wife of an Air Force navigator and mother of two small daughters, is a collector of quickie-main-course dishes. Among her most prized recipes are these specialties which a friend brought back for us from Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS YAM SKILLET (Makes 4 servings)

One pound shrimp, cooked, seared and drained; 2-3 cup French dressing; 1/4 cup butter or margarine; 4 medium-size Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and sliced lengthwise; 1 medium-size green pepper, sliced; salt and pepper.

Combine shrimp and French dressing; let stand 2 hours. Melt butter or margarine. Add yams and cook until browned on all sides.

Add shrimp-French dressing mixture and green pepper. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Cover and heat to serving temperature, about 20 minutes.

YAMS AND SAUSAGE-STUFFED

PEPPERS (4 servings)

Three large green peppers, 1 pound bulk sausage, 4 medium-size Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and mashed; 1/4 cup minced onion, bouillon, salt and pepper to taste; 2 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs; 2 tablespoons grated, processed Cheddar cheese.

Cut green peppers in half through stem. Remove seeds and membrane. Cook pepper halves in boiling salted water 5 minutes. Drain and cool.

Cook sausage meat over medium heat until well browned; drain. Combine sausage, yams, onion, thyme and chicken bouillon; mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Fill pepper halves with yam mixture. Combine bread crumbs and cheese; mix well. Sprinkle cheese crumbs over yam mixture.

Place peppers in shallow baking pan; add hot water to a depth of 1/2 inch. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes.

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

J. E. NEELY, Pastor
First Assembly of God Church
Pampa, Texas

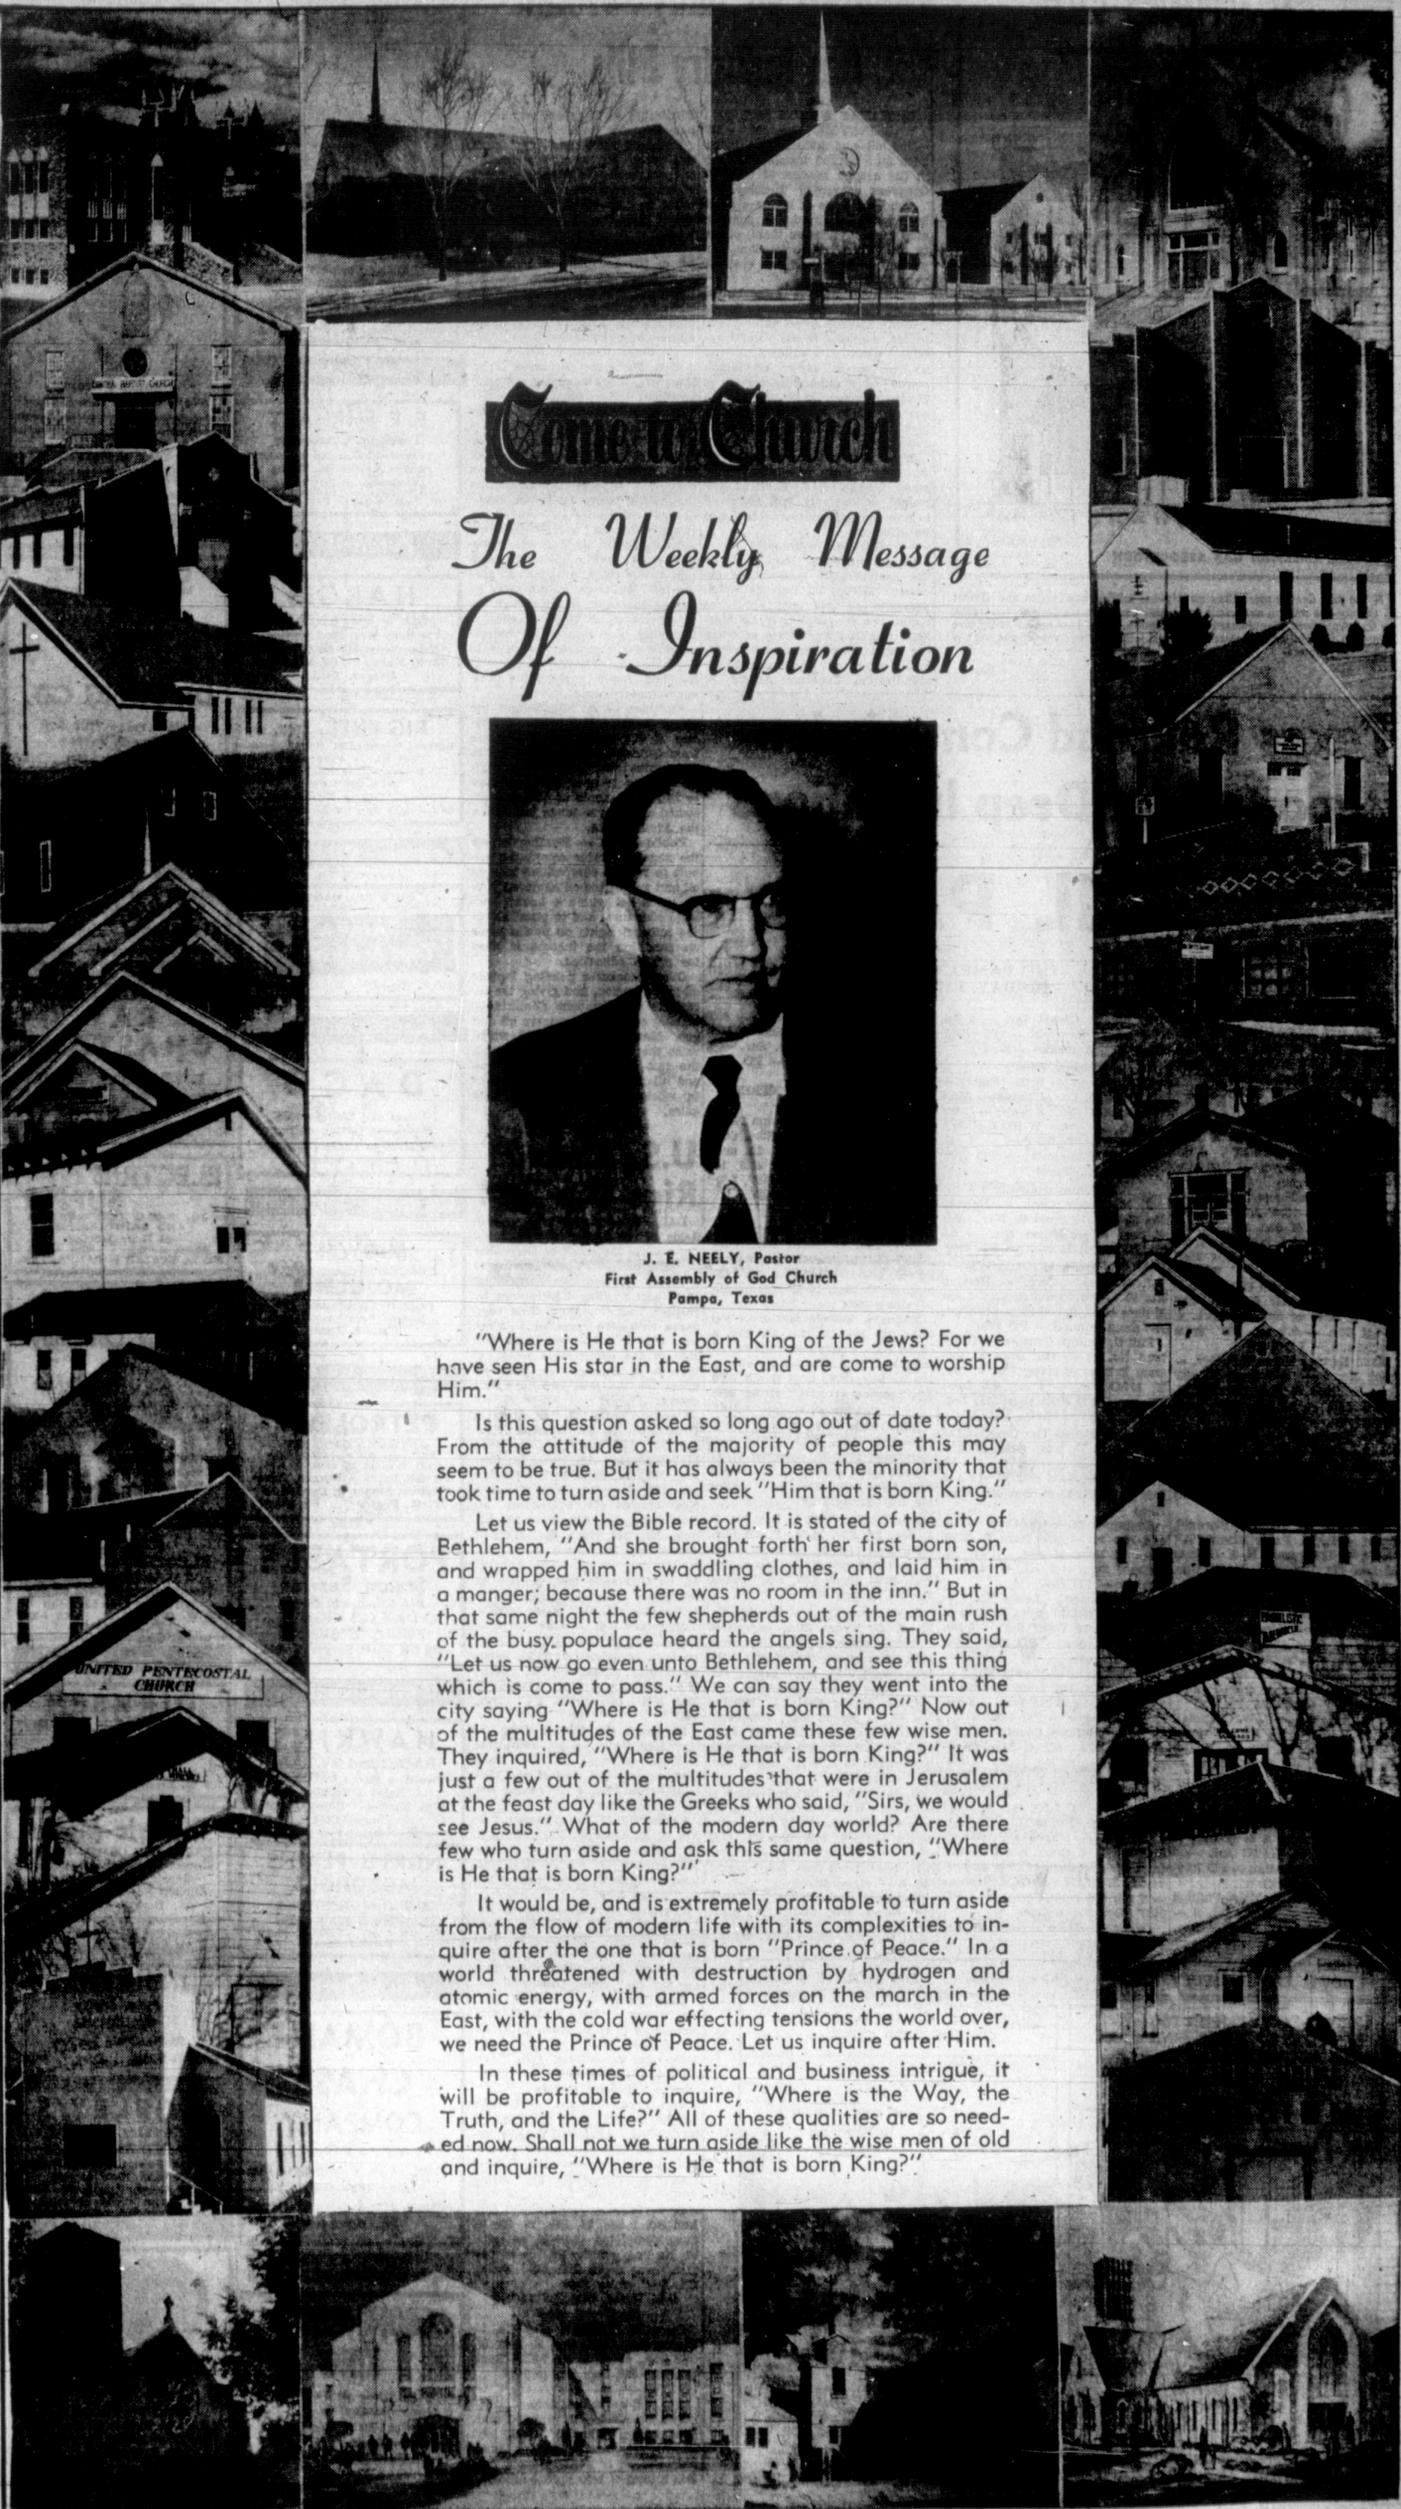

"Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East, and are come to worship Him."

Is this question asked so long ago out of date today? From the attitude of the majority of people this may seem to be true. But it has always been the minority that took time to turn aside and seek "Him that is born King."

Let us view the Bible record. It is stated of the city of Bethlehem, "And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room in the inn." But in that same night the few shepherds out of the main rush of the busy populace heard the angels sing. They said, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass." We can say they went into the city saying "Where is He that is born King?" Now out of the multitudes of the East came these few wise men. They inquired, "Where is He that is born King?" It was just a few out of the multitudes that were in Jerusalem at the feast day like the Greeks who said, "Sirs, we would see Jesus." What of the modern day world? Are there few who turn aside and ask this same question, "Where is He that is born King?"

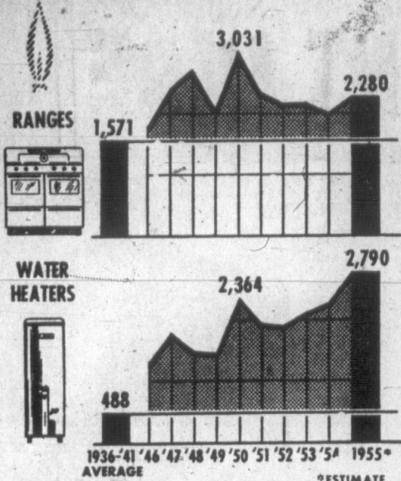

It would be, and is extremely profitable to turn aside from the flow of modern life with its complexities to inquire after the one that is born "Prince of Peace." In a world threatened with destruction by hydrogen and atomic energy, with armed forces on the march in the East, with the cold war effecting tensions the world over, we need the Prince of Peace. Let us inquire after Him.

In these times of political and business intrigue, it will be profitable to inquire, "Where is the Way, the Truth, and the Life?" All of these qualities are so needed now. Shall not we turn aside like the wise men of old and inquire, "Where is He that is born King?"

GAS APPLIANCE SALES

(THOUSANDS OF DOMESTIC UNITS)

SOURCE: AMERICAN GAS ASSOCIATION

In the past decade more than twenty-one million gas ranges and almost twenty-one million automatic gas water heaters were bought, according to Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. Thus two out of every five homes in the United States are equipped with postwar model gas ranges and water heaters.

Congress To Study Several Oil, Gas Industry Bills

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 — UP

The oil and natural gas industries face rugged legislative roads in the second session of the 84th Congress convening Tuesday. Almost a score of bills are pending or will be introduced, some to clamp further curbs on them, others to give them more freedom, but all tied to the vagaries of election-year politics.

Already enmeshed is the House-passed Harris-Fullbright bill to end federal control over natural gas prices. At issue is the voter's gas bill — whether continued federal control means lower or higher prices. Once apparently certain of Senate passage, it is caught in a snarling fight between rival lobbies from producer-consumer states.

Some senators are choosing up sides but none will attempt to guess the outcome. Politicians say weight undoubtedly will be given to how the prospective voter would be affected.

Of almost equal importance is the controversial question of excessive foreign oil imports which domestic oil and coal producers claim are pre-empting their markets. Angered by failure of some big importers to reduce their shipments voluntarily — as requested by Mobilization Director Arthur S.

Flemming — They are turning on new heat for legislative curbs. Congress refused to enact curbs this year but armed Fleming with authority to impose them if voluntary measures failed. Fleming is certain to face congressional pressure if he delays too long.

Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, charged this week that the importers "continue to show an almost unbelievable disregard for our government, approaching contempt."

Here are other measures facing Congress, some headed for stormy weather:

Natural Gas — Pending in the Senate Commerce committee is a bill by Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) to give the Federal Power Commission control over gas exports; to strengthen the FPC's power to forbid natural gas companies to curtail or abandon service; to give the commission power over direct industrial sales, and to prescribe pipeline safety rules. Also bills to give the FPC authority to set rates on gas at the well; to encourage development of all types of energy, including gas mostly by federal subsidy for research; and one in the house on safety regulations in handling gas to replace the present voluntary code.

Pipelines — A bill before the House Interior Committee authorizes a $25 million gas pipeline from Gubiak in northern Alaska to Fairbanks. The Interior Department plans to open up 20 million to 28 million acres of government-owned oil and gas lands just above the Arctic circle.

Public Lands — Pending before the Senate Interior committee are bills to require competitive bids on oil and gas leases on acquired public lands not within a known geologic structure, and to grant states the mineral rights on public lands on condition the income is used for public education.

Other measures pending include oil-for-education, and giving the Interstate Oil Compact Commission blanket consent to conserve oil and gas. Measures anticipated would raise the federal gasoline tax, cut the tax depletion allowance, and end alleged monopolistic practices in wholesale and retail gasoline sales.

THE OTHER ROOM

No, not cold beneath the grasses. Not close-walled within the tomb. Rather, in my father's mansion, LIVING in another room.

Shall I blame my Father's wisdom? Shall I sit enmeshed in gloom, When I know our loved one is happy, WAITING in the other room?

And we know that all things work together for good of them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose. (Romans 8:28)

Frank W. Nelson

We take this means to thank our many friends and neighbors for their consideration and helpfulness in our hours of sorrow in the untimely death of our loved one. For the beautiful flowers, food prepared for us, the messages of condolence and other kindnesses we are so kind grateful. To Dr. Ray, Dr. Harrell of Herresh Methodical Church for his comforting words, and to those who furnished music and served as pall bearers we thank each of you also for the beautiful last rites of Durek-Carmichael Funeral Home. God bless each of you.

The Shirt Story

For "After Five"

By GAILLE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The shirt has traveled a far fashion distance since the days when it was simply a copy of a man's shirt. This current season is producing shirts that are feminine and beautiful but still shirts.

Not to be confused with the blouse, the shirt retains, even in elegant fabrics, the kind of detailing associated with the best in men's shirts. But it may be in butter-soft velveteen, in a silk Paisley print, in Oxford cloth, fine cotton-or-a-sheep-white wool.

Increasingly, it's shown for after-five wear and may be paired with a day-length skirt in velvet or with a floor-length skirt. French cuff links for these late-day charmers, emphasizing the feeling of femininity.

Often the French cuff finishes off a three-quarter-length sleeve, a length that's both practical and flattering. Necklines may be round, bow-tied, cross-labbed, tailored or convertible. The tailored neckline is used for evening shirts in fabrics of great elegance.

A really good shirt may cost as much (or more) than a good cashmere sweater. But such a shirt is to be regarded as a wardrobe investment in the same sense as any fashion purchase planned for more than one season's wear.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dykes, who reside south of the city, are shown at the open house given by their daughter, Mrs. E. E. Brooks of Lefors, in observance of their 35th wedding anniversary. The couple has resided in Gray County for 27 years.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Black, west of city, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elnora, to Dale Haynes, 1116 N. Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haynes of Phoenix, Ariz. The ceremony will take place Jan. 26, in Pampa.

Stubblefield-Close Engagement Told At McLean Tea

At a recent tea, Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl Stubblefield of McLean announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Laura June, to Bryan H. Close, son of Mrs. George Close of Shamrock and the late Mr. Close, at a tea recently.

In the receiving line were the honoree, Mrs. Stubblefield, Mrs. Close, Mrs. Eugene Collingsworth of Canyon, sister of the prospective bridegroom, and Mrs. C. T. Cline of Amarillo, grandmother of the bride-elect.

Guests were registered by Miss Floella Cubine of McLean. The serving table was covered with a white Madeira linen cloth over orchid taffeta. The centerpiece featured three "Altar steps" of white stereofrom from which extended orchid streamers with the names, "Laura June" and "Bryan" inscribed in gold letters. On the first step was a white satin slipper flanked by the wedding date, "February 11" in gold letters. On the second step was a gold Swedish candelabrum with white tapers, and the top step was decorated with an arch of white and orchid feathers.

The bride-elect is a student at West Texas State College. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Texas Technological College and has served with the Seventh Army in Germany.

Open House Given For Pampa Couple

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dykes, south of city, were honored by their daughter, Mrs. E. E. Brooks of Lefors, recently with an open house on their 35th wedding anniversary. The event was held in the Dykes home, with about 40 persons attending.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over pink and was centered with a three-tiered cake decorated in pink and silver, topped with the numerals "35" and silver bells.

Mrs. C. H. Plumlee presided at the coffee service and the punch bowl, and Mrs. Brooks served the cake. Guests were registered by Mrs. J. W. Eddleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dykes were married Dec. 20, 1920, in Quanah. They have lived in Gray County since 1928. Mr. Dykes worked in the oil field most of that time and has been employed by the Sands Springs Home Company for about 18 years.

The Dykes have four children—Jesse Dykes of Pampa; Mrs. J. W. Eddleman of Amarillo; Mrs. R. W. Johnson of Anchorage, Alaska; and Mrs. E. E. Brooks of Lefors.

Panhandle Home Plans Appearance Of Berg Sisters

The Berg Sisters from the Sunshine Ranch in St. Francis will perform at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Bernard Gordon Memorial Home in Panhandle for Sister Felicians, the mother superior, and her staff and for the girls in the orphanage.
