Higgins Man Dies After Train Demolishes Car

Pampa's first traffic fatality since Oct. 5, 1933, happened at 8:18 p.m. yesterday when a car driven by a 33-year-old Higgins man, James Alvin Hetzel, was hit by the Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief at the Hobart Street crossing.

The body was mangled beyond recognition but identification was made after his wallet was found. At first the wallet could not be found but during a later search of the clothes by the funeral home, it was located.

The ambulance attendants and police department were hampered by the large number of persons that flocked to the scene following the accident.

Demos Consider Stuart Symington

By RAYMOND LAMB
WASHINGTON — UP — Sen. Stuart Symington was regarded by some of his fellow Democrats Friday as the potential presidential candidate with the best chance of emerging unscathed from pre-convention gouging.

The Missouri Democrat has long been viewed as a possible dark horse candidate for the nomination in case of a convention deadlock. And Democrats have felt that a deadlock has become more likely because of Adlai E. Stevenson's early season defeats by Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Stuart Symington was regarded by some of his fellow Democrats Friday as the potential presidential candidate with the best chance of emerging unscathed from pre-convention gouging.

At a time when construction of an underpass at the Hobart St. railroad crossing is big news in Pampa, a traffic fatality has occurred.

Mayor Boyd returned from Amarillo yesterday afternoon, about 10 minutes before the fatal accident on the Hobart St. crossing, after consulting with Guy Lott, district engineer, on construction of the Hobart St. underpass.

Oil Tanker Explodes At Baytown

By JOHN COLTON
BAYTOWN, Tex. — UP — An explosion ripped open the side of an oil tanker docked at Baytown Thursday night, injuring only two crewmen but triggering short-lived fears among residents of this port city of a repetition of the 1947 Texas City, Tex., disaster.

Baytown is only 25 miles from Texas City, where 512 persons were killed in a series of explosions that rocked the port April 15, 1947. The blasts were touched off by an explosion aboard a French vessel, and property damage was estimated between $40 million and $70 million.

The Baytown explosion came as kerosene was being loaded into a 3,000-barrel compartment of the "Esso Paterson," a 10,000-ton vessel operated by Humble Oil & Refining Co. and moored to a Humble dock.

Two seamen were blown into the water and two others hurt. One of those, soaked but uninjured Donald Ayres, 22, of Hillsville, Va., said, "I saw a flash and I was gone."

Notorious Criminals Captured

MEMPHIS — UP — Notorious Nick (The Greek) Mentos, only criminal ever to make the FBI's "10 most wanted" list twice, and escaped convict Robert Lloyd Jones, were surprised by FBI agents at a motel early Friday and taken without a shot being fired.

FBI agents poured tear gas into the sleeping fugitives' room and forced them to come out with their hands up despite the fact they had a small arsenal with them.

Early Friday the firm issued a statement saying, "We're back in business. The crew has returned to the ship."

"We have not determined the actual cause of the explosion," the statement went on. "We had just started loading kerosene and she went up and ruptured the side of the vessel."

The dock area is only a short distance from a 2,000-acre "tank farm" on which vast quantities of gasoline and other inflammable fuels are stored.

Mentos, 38, an expert safe cracker and burglar, and Jones, 30, a convicted murderer, had been fugitives since they used hacksway to cut their way to freedom from Mississippi's Parchman state prison on Jan. 10, 1933. That was the fifth escape for Mentos.

FBI agents set off tear gas that seeped into the fugitives' room about 3 a.m. Friday. While one agent stood at the door to their room, another FBI man called their room and said, "This is the FBI; come on out."

As soon as they saw it was safe, these persons and others headed toward the docks. Near midnight the crowd around the port area was estimated by police at 5,000.

The Pampa High School seniors will celebrate "Kid's Day", an annual event usually held on April 1, next Tuesday, April 2.

Tears pouring from their eyes by this time, they slipped on their trousers and came out with their hands high. Jones had $2,040 in his pockets and Mentos had $2,539.

United States, Reds Near 'Atomic Plenty'

Dairy Farmers To Get Extra Income

WASHINGTON — UP — The nation's dairy farmers would receive an extra $120 million in income this year under a provision written into compromise farm legislation Thursday night by Senate-House conferees.

The conferees now hope to complete drafting the compromise farm bill April 5. If the committee meets its deadline, the compromise will be ready for consideration when Congress resumes work April 9 after a 10-day Easter recess which started Thursday night.

Where's Joe Friday?

FORT WORTH — UP — Jimmy Brown got a laugh Thursday along with his new, 1936 automobile license plates.

Officers must 'start again' on murder

Kefauver Hits G.O.P. Policies

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — UP — Sen. Estes Kefauver blasted the Republican farm and foreign policies but steadfastly refused to become engaged in a personal feud with Adlai Stevenson on a one-day get acquainted sweep through New Mexico Wednesday.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) disclosed his special Senate lobbying committee has received a couple of leads from senators for possible investigations. He declined to elaborate.

Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) vowed to seek more information after Congress' Easter recess on why convicted perjurer John Maragón is on the House payroll.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said the Senate Finance committee has agreed to consider his proposal for more federal funds to the blind and disabled. He said the committee also will consider his proposal to host federal payments for the aged.

Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) proposed conversion of the new Air Force Academy into a school for training government scientists.

Wilson Says Either Side Could Destroy The Other

WASHINGTON — UP — Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has told Congress the United States and Russia are approaching a state of "atomic plenty"—a condition in which either could wipe out the other.

He warned that the "unlimited arms race to destruction" is leading to the point "where you have enough military power on both sides to practically wipe out the world."

Other military officials told the subcommittee the Russian war machine is continually getting stronger.

But Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said he believes the United States and Russia are moving into a situation of "mutual deterrence" in which neither side will dare attack the other.

"It looks like we have reached a point where only God has an answer to it," commented Rep. Charles B. Deane (D-N.C.).

"Yes," Quarles replied. "But I think somebody said that God helps those who help themselves."

Wilson defended the administration's arms budget as "about the best answer we have at the present time." He added, however, that arms alone "won't quite do the job, and we are going to have to work out something else to finally handle it down the road."

Officers must 'start again' on murder

Lloyd Dicus, 31-year-old, former Texas convict who was charged with first degree murder in the death of his daughter, was returned to Kansas City to face bad check charges instead of a murder count.

Body Already Claimed
Dicus was arrested Thursday at a Neosho, Mo., filling station where he had worked under an alias in recent weeks. He immediately produced, very much alive, Shirley June Dicus, who was living with him and a newly-acquired wife at Neosho.

Mrs. Greta June Cornish, a former common-law wife of Dicus, who it was feared met with foul play, appeared in Baton Rouge with Moselle, her one-year-old daughter.

The Easter Story---Old, But Ever New

Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, and said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him, for forty pieces of silver.

And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; for this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. But I say unto you I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine: for I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

Easter, called "the most joyous day in the Christian year, the foremost in dignity of all its feasts," reminds Christians everywhere of the sacrifice by God of His only-begotten Son for the salvation of mankind.

Illustrated here are the never-to-be forgotten events of that fateful week—Christ's betrayal by Judas Iscariot, one of His beloved disciples. The Last Supper, where Judas learned that Jesus already knew the evil in his heart and where what is now the Blessed Sacrament was given. The seizure of the Saviour in the Garden of Gethsemane and the trial and crucifixion and the miraculous climax of the resurrection, when the sealed sepulcher was found empty and Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of James; learned from the angel of the Lord that Christ had risen after three days—even as He had foretold.

THE STORY OF EGGBERT

Students To Enter Contests

PANHANDLE — (Special) — Several students from Panhandle High School are entering various inter-scholastic Leagues. The first event was the one-act play contest held on Saturday, Mar. 24, in White Deer. In the play sponsored by Mrs. J. T. Broadway, appear the following cast: Lynne Weiser, Ben Naylor, Bobbie Yates, Roy Lane, and Johanna Kaggas. Other contests will be held in Jefferson on Saturday, Apr. 7. Entries for Slide Rule have not been chosen.

Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomever I shall kiss, that same is he; hold him fast. And forthwith he came to Jesus and said, Hail, master, and kissed him.

Three Trustees To Be Elected

SPEARMAN — (Special) — W. R. Greener, president of the Board of Trustees of Spearman Independent School District, has ordered an election for Saturday, April 7, to elect three school trustees. The election will be held in the High School building. To have one's name on ballot, the candidate must be petitioned by five or more qualified voters; or make a personal application using his own signature only. Applications must have been in the office of Johnnie Lee, county judge, not later than March 27, ten days prior to the election. One county trustee at large will also be elected for Hansford County.

HARD WORK—Readying a bull for the kill is hard work, as the strain on Pat McCormick's face reveals. The famous American lady bullfighter not only killed this bull but also another in the arena recently at Matamoros, Mexico.

Three Mishaps Are Reported

Three collisions were reported within the city limits Thursday. The first collision was at 3:49 p.m. on Cuyler, 60 feet north of Foster. Kowk King Joe, Pampa, driving a '49 Dodge was in collision with Barbara Ann Arney, 1124 N. Russell, driving a '56 Chevrolet. The Chevrolet encountered damages estimated at $125 and the Dodge was reported not to have been damaged.

The second collision in which Arval Kenneth Ladd, 932 Love, driving a '51 Mercury, was in collision with Magdalen Ivey, 1125 S. Wells, driving a '52 Ford, was at 7:45 p.m. on Hobart, 285 feet south of Ripley.

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY

WHEREAS, by virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court of Hemphill County, Texas, on a judgment dated and rendered in said court on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1955, in favor of the CANNONIAN VALLEY PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION and against EMORY CROCKETT, No. 734 on the docket of said court, I did, on the 15th day of March, A. D. 1956, at 10 o'clock A. M. levy upon the following described tract and parcel of land situated in the County of Gray, State of Texas, and belonging to said EMORY CROCKETT, to-wit:

BEING an undivided one-sixteenth (1/16th) interest in and estate lying in, on and under the East one-half (1/2) of Section Number Ninety-three (93) in Block Number Twenty-three (23), H. & G. N. Ry. Co. Surveys, Gray County, Texas, to be sold.

AND on the 1st day of May, A. D. 1956, being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on said day, at the Courthouse door in Pampa, Gray County, Texas, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction for all cash, all the right, title and interest of the said EMORY CROCKETT in and to said property.

Truck Parking Warning Made

Chief of Police Jim Conner today requested that delivery trucks refrain from parking at the corners of the intersections and blocking the cross-walks.

This is a violation of the law and all trucks found blocking the cross-walks in the future will be given tickets, Conner added.

He stated that the delivery trucks should park in the alley and use the rear entrances to the business, when possible, while they are unloading. If the trucks must park on the streets they should use the meters.

The drivers of all trucks are requested to cooperate with the local police department in this matter, Conner concluded.

by a grandmother in Oklahoma City, and shipped there for burial.

Further complicating matters was the fact that Dicus had two daughters named Shirley. One was Shirley June, 3, who was with him at Neosho. The other was Shirley Ann, 6, whom he said he last saw when the mother brought her home from a Gainesville, Tex., hospital six years ago.

Face Other Charges
 That mother was Mrs. Billie Hughes Dicus, who still was at Gainesville when last heard from.

In sideline charges, Mrs. Cornish was arrested by Baton Rouge police on a narcotics charge, but it soon was dropped for lack of evidence. She was held at Baton Rouge as a fugitive from justice for forgeries of checks allegedly cashed in an area from Los Angeles to Oklahoma City.

A charge of bigamy was prepared against the Neosho wife, Mrs. Betty Boyd Dicus. She allegedly was still married to Dennis Noyd of Miami, Okla., when she and Dicus exchanged vows at Monett, Mo., on Feb. 17. She and Boyd had a 2 1/2 year old son Gerald, who was in Neosho, and an eight-year-old son hospitalized with polio at the University of Kansas Medical Center, Kansas City, Kan.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

MICHEL OF HELENA RUBINSTEIN, with a wave of his magic wand, has decreed that this spring women will carry their parasols on their heads! And it shall be so — because the master hair stylist and trend-setter, just returned from Paris with yet another head-turning triumph, now unveils to American women his new collection of smooth, softly turned-inward coiffures, which he calls "The Parasol Look."

THAT'S HOW it is with this remarkable man: he adds another laurel to his crown — and others wear it! Wizard that he is, Michel has curved the straight line this time — which is getting pretty close to squaring the circle! The simple, shining curved — straight line, although it may sound a contradictory creation, is the key to the whole collection. The "Parasol" theme is new, and good news. It curves straight hair close to the head, smooth and sleek, as the supreme complement to this season's burgeoning, billowing hats and the Directoire and high-bosomed Empire dresses. Its simple design is still quite in evidence when a hat is on, and most disturbed when it is removed.

Michel's new coiffures were shown first with the Lanvin-Castello collection in Paris, and were acclaimed all over the city for the chic, delicate simplicity of their lines. The length, which he calls "demi-length," is to just below the ear lobes, where the hair curls softly inward. This new cutting allows the hair to be furled — bent gently to flatter the face, or unfurled — brushed out into softer, wider wings.

Whatever the variations, each creation is based on smooth simlicity expressed in long, flowing curves. Michel designs in accordance with the impression make on him by hats and clothes — and the sweeping, graceful curve is indeed basic to this spring's fashions.

FASHIONS FOR MEN, during the past few years, have begun to incorporate color, variety and even whimsy, creating a whole new realm of good taste. Where once it was mandatory to dress as conservatively as possible, this Easter the male of species may deck himself out in colorful plumage.

Though quiet conservatism is far from out of style, it has its bright counterpart, reports the Jewelry Industry Council. A handsome sampling of both is readily seen in

Mrs. Ruby Cochran of the Adult Education Group in Amarillo was featured speaker at the recent meeting of the Pampa Altrusa Club in the Pampa Hotel.

Mrs. Cochran pointed out that her group's slogan is "doing the best we can with what we have and getting a kick out of it." She spoke of the "old-age movement" or the study of aging.

new men's jewelry collections. There are jewelry designs a-plenty for every man — simple and neatly tailored cuff links, for instance, in proportions that range from medium to small. There are gay and conversational pieces, too, in medium to large sizes, in such variety of motif, material and color that a mere glance at the highlights would do no justice to the tremendous choice available this Spring. Pricewise, the picture is also a pleasant one, for men's jewelry is available in a wide range.

Karat gold, sterling silver and gold filled cuff links and tie bars, long favored as gifts for men on special occasions, are equally appropriate as a man's gift to himself this Spring, by way of sparking a new season's wardrobe.

Some feature precious stones for a spot of vivid color. Others are treated with interesting finishes and textures. For pure gaiety and frequent changes, there are cuff links of the plated variety set with simulated stones and brightened with colored enamel, taking their design inspirations from sources both ancient and modern.

It's a safe bet that many men will be surprised at the Council's revelation — there are 25 jewelry items necessary to a complete jewelry wardrobe.

"We do begin aging certainly at birth, so we do need to be interested in it," she told the women.

Mrs. Cochran explained the country has more older people than ever before with more leisure time to broaden their interests. She stated there are 13 million persons 60 years of age and older due to the gains in the control of infectious diseases and other medical advances. Because of this, she pointed out, new ideas and new thinking about education is needed.

"Education doesn't stop," she explained. "Learning doesn't stop. It's just as individual as the color of a person's eyes. Until their very last breath is drawn, people can continue to learn."

She went on to quote from "Tentative Working Paper used at the Eighth Annual Conference on Aging" at Ann Arbor, Mich., June 1955.

"Education is one of the most important agencies in the preparation for later maturity," she quoted. "In order to realize the potentialities which education offers, however, we must change our ideas about it. . . . Schooling is largely concerned with the academic and traditional aspects of learning. It is usually thought of as taking place in the four walls of a classroom and resulting from mastery of subject-matter contained in textbooks. Much of the learning is concerned with facts, skills, ideas, attitudes and assumptions, designed for a static society, which are soon outmoded."

"Change is the most significant phenomenon today," she continued quoting. "In the life-time of the average older person now living, changes have taken place that almost stagger the imagination. Change in the size of things; in the speed of things; and change in the complexity of things. . . . The impact of these changes has resulted in social and cultural changes which demand a complete reorientation concerning many aspects of life. For example, this is especially true with reference to the role of the family and the position of older people in the family."

Mrs. Cochran explained that learning for older persons is an unlearning of attitudes learned in school and a relearning. She said growing older is "adjustment and exchange."

"Don't plan for them; plan with them," she cautioned. "We want to give every person some . . . in do, somebody to do it with and someone to do it for."

She urged a "divided accent" between youth and old age, not emphasis just on youth or all on older persons. In a program for older persons, she advocated a proper balance between hobbies, recreation and learning.

"adult education is a far fetched term," she stated. "It might be called human education. We have to keep learning or education will reach a finality we don't want to happen."

She concluded by saying there are many different angles and facets of needs to a program for senior citizens, and she gave some of the activities sponsored by the Amarillo group such as recreation meetings and discussion groups.

The program was introduced by Mrs. Lillian Snow, public affairs chairman, Mrs. L. A. Barber of the public affairs committee reported on the club's work with the Nakomis Club, which it sponsors. Mrs. Clifford Jones of the Pampa Adult Education Group spoke on a round-table on West Texas Heritage, to which "oldtimers" were invited. Following the meeting, the "oldtimers" decided to organize and meet quarterly in the library, she reported.

The business session was led by Mrs. Frank Lard, president. Mrs. Grant Anderson reported on the Easter egg sale, and Mrs. Jack F. Foster announced a social will be held in April to honor the club's nine career girls. The group voted to make the event a covered-dish supper.

20th Century Forum Gives Program On Panhandle History, Water Problem

Twentieth Century Forum met recently in the Cabot auditorium, Hughes Building, for a program on the Panhandle.

Mrs. Henry Rose, presented "The Panhandle - Desert or Utopia," giving a backward glance into Panhandle history.

"The earliest known inhabitants of the Plains country were the Indians," she explained. "They were in possession of the Panhandle of Texas when the early explorers arrived. The excellence of the soil and the products of the Plains were noticed by the Spanish explorers, yet, during the 300 years after Coronado, no real attempts at a settlement of the Plains country were made. This was due to two forces — the warlike characteristic of the Indians and the physical geography of the Plains."

"In most of the histories published in 1850," she concluded, "the Panhandle of Texas fell into the classification of a wide expanse of open lands, most of it sandy with little or no timber and not much water."

The film, "Canadian River Project" narrated by A. A. Meredith, was shown.

"Engineers and geologists have been studying the water situation in this area," explained Mrs. J. B. McCrery in her discussion of the water situation. "Expert geologists are of the opinion that there is plenty of water in the water-bearing gravel beds underlying the Pampa area, and it is merely a problem of developing such source to provide sufficient water for the industrial and municipal expansion of our area."

Mrs. Homer Johnson was hostess for the social period.

Next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Apr. 10, in the Pampa Country Club, with Mrs. William T. Fraser as hostess.

Attending were Meses. Bob Curry, E. J. Dunigan, W. L. Ellis, H. C. Federer, W. T. Fraser, J. R. Holloway, Dick Hughes, H. D.

Johnson, Frank Kelley, R. Laycock, J. E. McCrery, M. McDaniell, H. J. Rose, Arthur Teed, F. J. Vendrell, C. V. Wilkinson, all of Pampa; and Mrs. Biggs Horn of Amarillo.

Merten HD Club Has Talk On Decorations

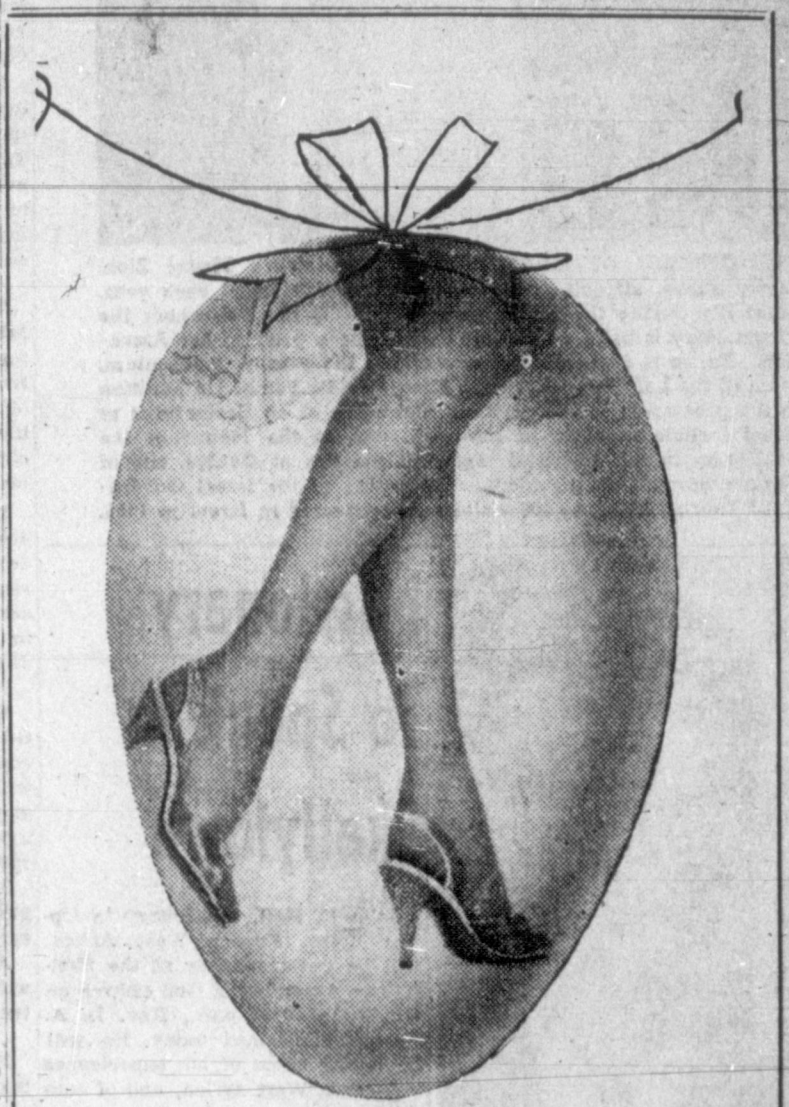

Merten Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jack Howard, with Mrs. L. F. Watt, vice-president, in charge.

Mrs. Archie Maness gave a demonstration on making party decorations, followed by a discussion on the duties of jurors.

Recreation was under the direction of Mrs. Jack Prather. Each member designed a hat from paper plates and ribbon.

Next meeting will be at 1 p.m. Apr. 2, in the home of Mrs. R. V. Lewis.

Refreshments were served during the social period. Attending were Meses. L. F. Watt, Jack Prather, V. Smith, T. G. Grooves, J. B. Hilderbrand, Archie Maness and Jack Howard.

Easter Inspires Bible Land Visitors

THE CHURCH OF DORMITION on Jerusalem's Mount Zion, shown above, attracts thousands of tourists to Israel each year, especially during the Easter season. This is the site where the Virgin Mary is believed to have fallen asleep prior to her Ascension. Easter is also observed by visits to the nearby Consecrated room of the Last Supper, and to King David's Tomb. In addition to the procession to Mount Zion, highlights of an Easter visit to Israel include services in Nazareth, and at the Mount of the Beatitudes in the beautiful region of the Sea of Galilee, site of Christ's Sermon on the Mount. According to the Israel Government Tourist Office, 60,000 visitors are expected in Israel in 1956.

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

S. B. MALONE, Jr.
The Reorganizer of Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints
Pampa, Texas

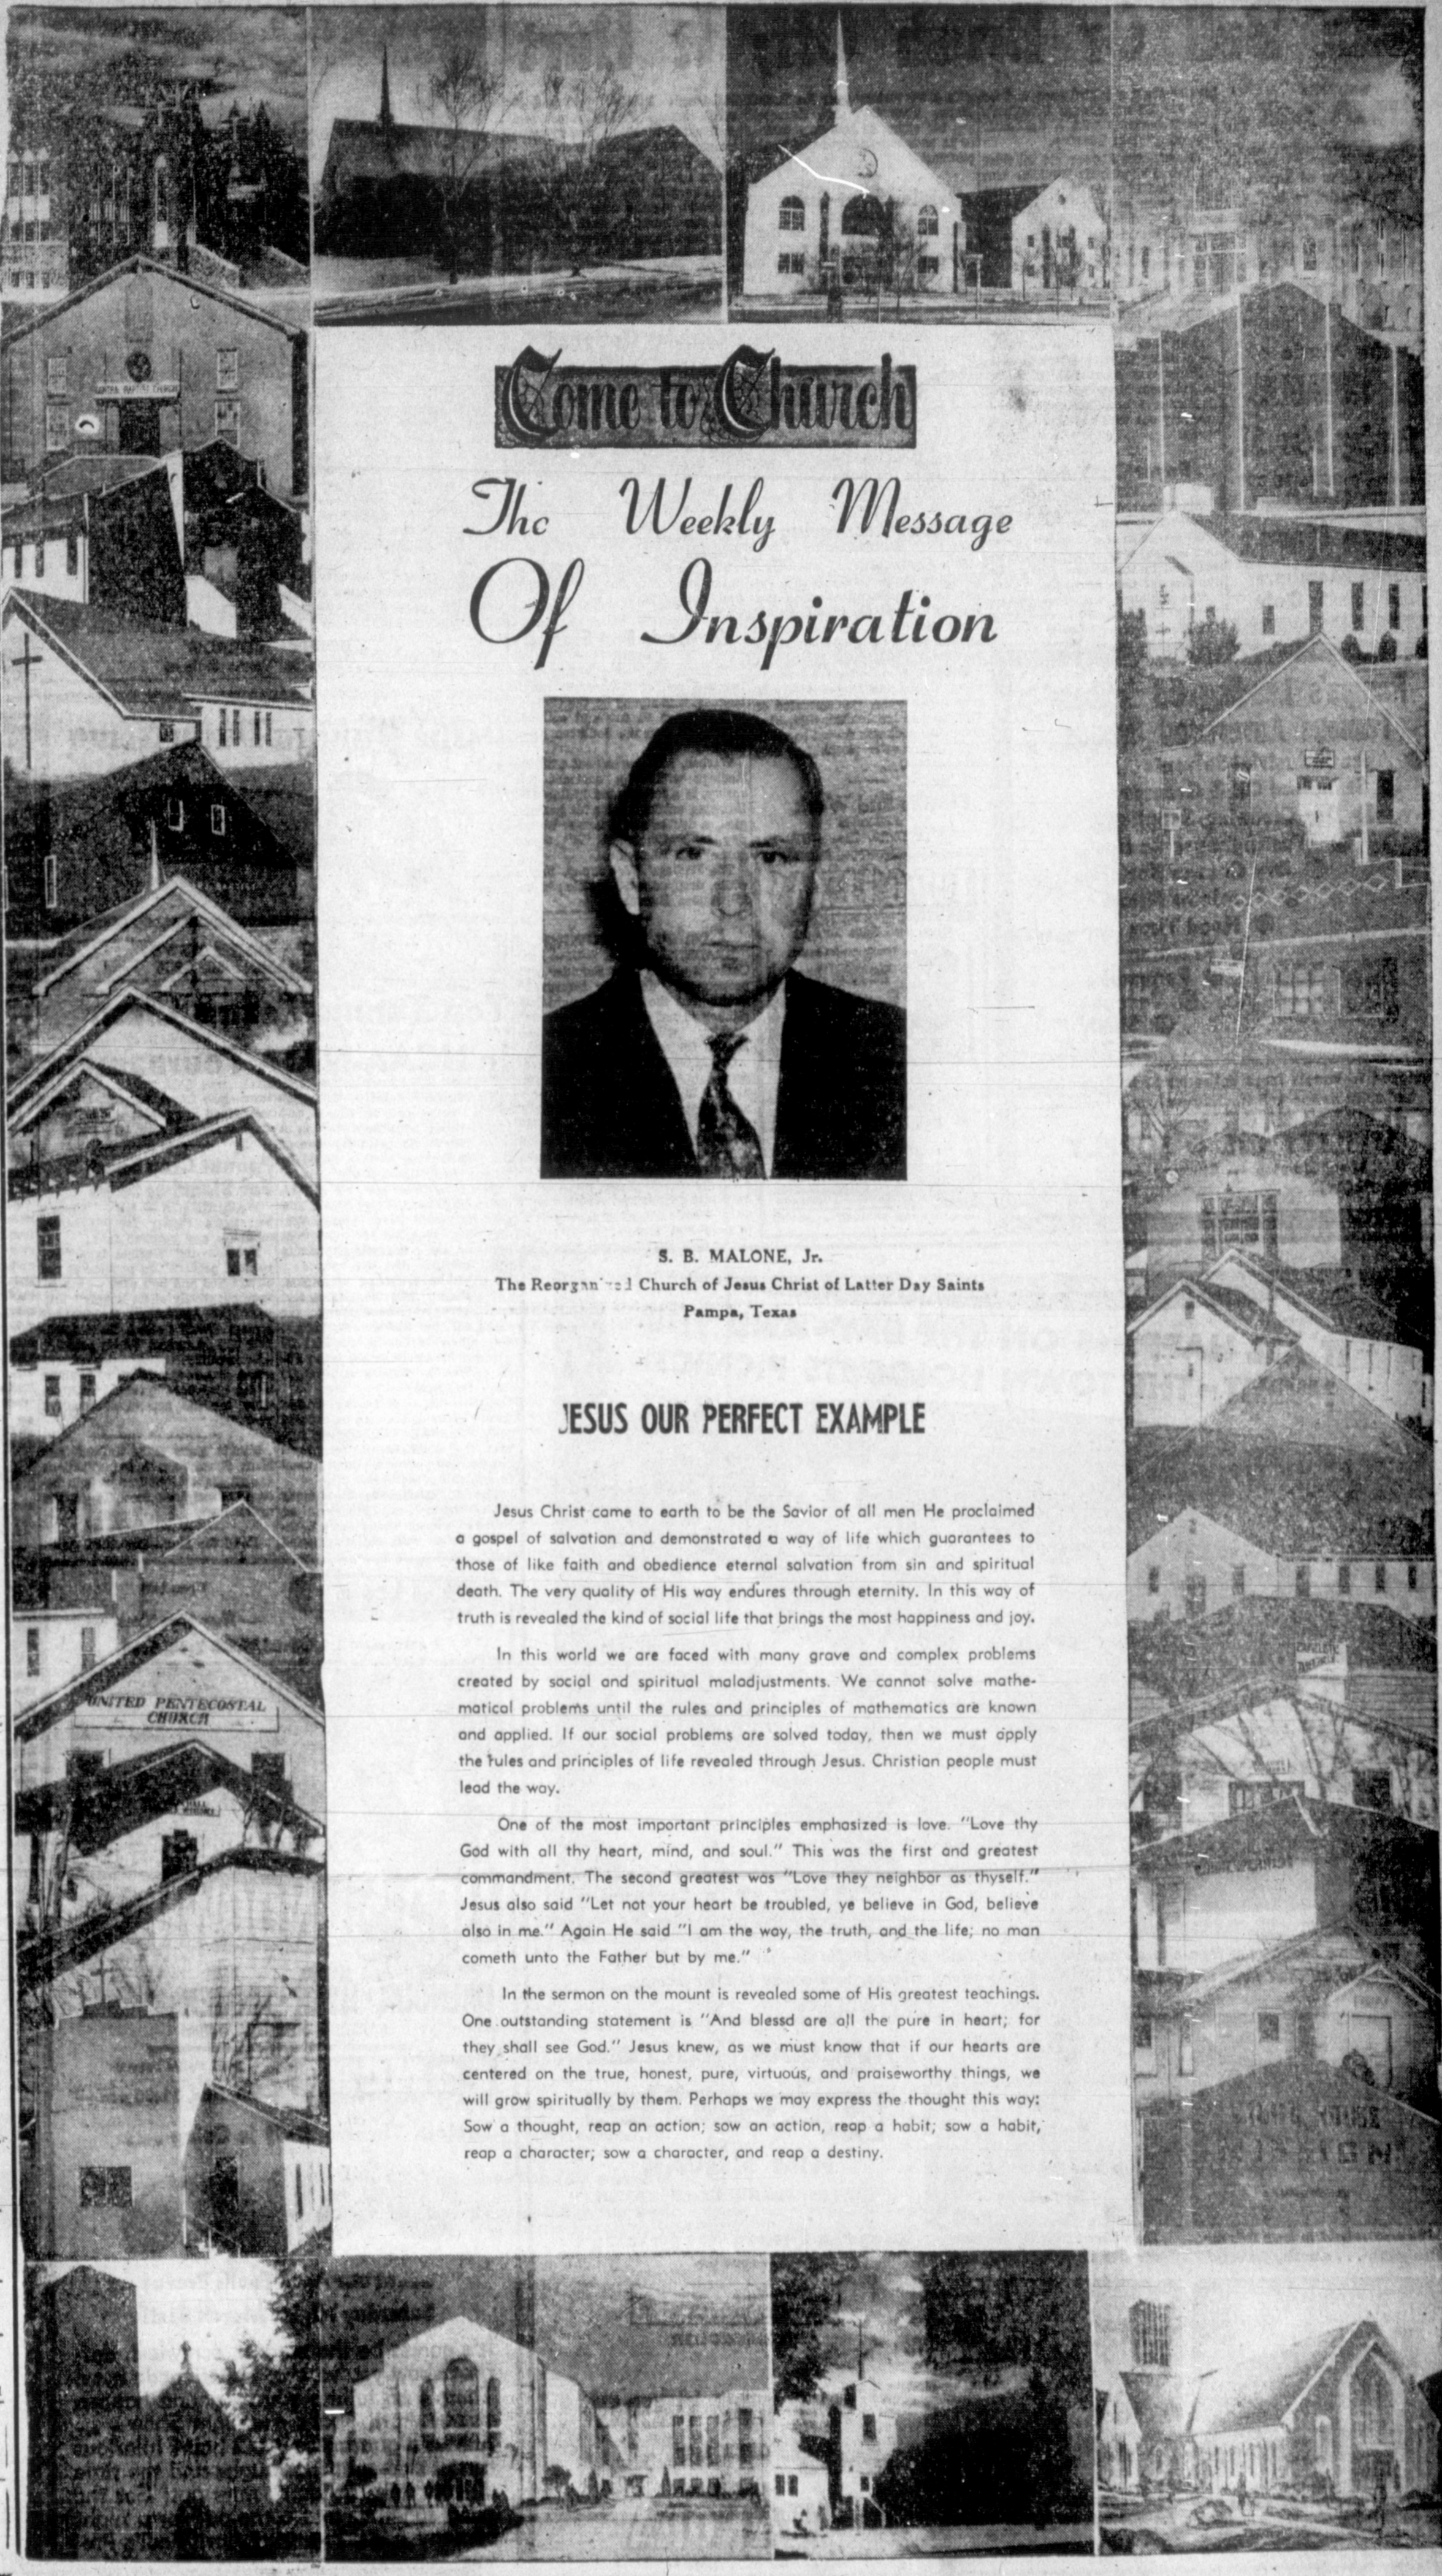

JESUS OUR PERFECT EXAMPLE

Jesus Christ came to earth to be the Savior of all men. He proclaimed a gospel of salvation and demonstrated a way of life which guarantees to those of like faith and obedience eternal salvation from sin and spiritual death. The very quality of His way endures through eternity. In this way of truth is revealed the kind of social life that brings the most happiness and joy.

In this world we are faced with many grave and complex problems created by social and spiritual maladjustments. We cannot solve mathematical problems until the rules and principles of mathematics are known and applied. If our social problems are solved today, then we must apply the rules and principles of life revealed through Jesus. Christian people must lead the way.

One of the most important principles emphasized is love. "Love thy God with all thy heart, mind, and soul." This was the first and greatest commandment. The second greatest was "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Jesus also said "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me." Again He said "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me."

In the sermon on the mount is revealed some of His greatest teachings. One outstanding statement is "And blessed are all the pure in heart; for they shall see God." Jesus knew, as we must know that if our hearts are centered on the true, honest, pure, virtuous, and praiseworthy things, we will grow spiritually by them. Perhaps we may express the thought this way; Sow a thought, reap an action; sow an action, reap a habit; sow a habit, reap a character; sow a character, and reap a destiny.

Bean Ball Or Brush Off; It Hurt

PHILLIES CLEARWATER, Fla. — UP — Will Jones of the Philadelphia Phillies wants it clarified once and for all. He did not charge Brooklyn's Don Newcombe with a deliberate "beating" last Tuesday.

Because the 31-year old infielder of the Philadelphia Phillies was misquoted in some quarters Thursday, Jones again told the United Press: "I didn't mean that Newcombe was trying to hit me, I think he was just trying to brush me back."

A "brush back" pitch is a pitch thrown close enough to a batter to make him back out of the batter's box. This is opposed to the malicious "bean ball" when the pitcher actually tries to hit the batter. Jones was scheduled to be released from Morton Plant Hospital Friday and probably will resume working out with the Phillies in a week.

Boyer Optioned
ATHLETICS
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — UP — Pitcher Cloyd Boyer, who posted a 5-5 record in 20 games with them last season, was among 12 players optioned to the minors Friday by the Kansas City Athletics. The Athletics, who break camp Friday to head north, completed the Florida phase of their training with a 2-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday. Art Ceccarelli ran his string of scoreless innings to 14 with seven frames of two-hit pitching.

Orioles Swat Cubs
ORIOLES
MESA, Ariz. — UP — The Baltimore Orioles scored four runs with two out in the 11th inning to defeat the Chicago Cubs 9-5 Thursday for their sixth victory in 19 exhibition games.

With two out, rookie Johnny Briggs filled the bases on two walks and a single by Chuck Dieing. Fred Marsh then signed home one run, Briggs forced in a run with another walk and Bob Boyd followed with a double that drove in two more tallies. It was the 10th loss in 19 games for the Cubs, who held an early 4-3 lead on the strength of a two-run homer by Dee Fondor.

Bessent Recovering
DODGERS
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — UP — Brooklyn Dodger officials said Friday they expect pitcher Don Bessent to recover from an operation for a herniated stomach muscle in time for the April 17 big league opener.

Bessent, who had an 8-1 record after joining the Dodgers in mid-season last year, was operated on Thursday at his Jacksonville, Fla. home. Bessent was forced to retire last Sunday after pitching to only four batters.

Pittsburgh Pirates prepared to break camp Friday after completing the Florida phase of spring training with an 11-9 record. The Pirates hopped on $100,000 bonus rookie Frank Baumann for eight runs in two innings to score an 11-10 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday. Jack McMahan was the winning pitcher but rookie Art Swanson had to replace him in the ninth and retire the last batter with the tying run on second base.

Chrisley Optioned
SENATORS
ORLANDO, Fla. — UP — Outfielder Neil Chrisley, one of the five young players acquired by the Washington Senators in their big winter deal with the Boston Red Sox, was optioned Friday to Louisville in the American Association. The 23-year old left-handed hitter had a grapefruit league average of only .143 with two hits in 14 trips to the plate. He hit .320 for Nashville of the Southern Association last season. The announcement on Chrisley came after Thursday's 12-2 loss to the Chicago White Sox.

Werber's Son Signed
KEDGLETS
TAMPA, Fla. — UP — Bill Werber Jr., son of the former major leaguer, was signed by the Cincinnati Redlegs Friday and optioned to Nashville in the Southern Association.

Werber, who worked out with the Redlegs without a contract this spring, is a left-handed hitting and throwing outfielder. He hit two singles, a double and a homer Thursday in a Cincinnati "B" squad game with Nashville.

Conley Improving
BRADENTON, Fla. — UP — Gene Conley's ailing right shoulder was pronounced "definitely improved" Friday but the six-foot, eight-inch pitcher is not expected to resume working with the Milwaukee Braves for a week.

Dr. Michael Di Cosola of Sarasota said Conley's arm had improved but prescribed daily physiotherapy and heat treatments for at least a week before he begins throwing. Conley remained behind when the remainder of the team broke camp. Conley won 10 games up to early July last season but finished with an 11-7 slate after his arm started to give him trouble.

Top Tennis Teams Clash In NCAA-NAIA Tournament

BEAUMONT — UP — Champion tennis teams of the NCAA and NAIA clash here Saturday in a dual match certain to end one of the long winning streaks owned by Tulane and Lamar Tech. Tulane, winner of the NCAA crown and headed by NCAA singles champion Jose (Pepe) Aguiero, has won 48 straight dual matches since its last setback in April, 1951. Lamar Tech, NAIA champion, and boasting both the singles and doubles championships among the small colleges, has won 17 straight and taken 25 out of its last 26 matches—the only defeat being administered by Tulane at New Orleans last year. Aguiero handled Lamar Tech's James Schmidt his only defeat last season and their rematch will furnish the highlight of Saturday's competition of six singles and three doubles matches. The No. 2 man on the Lamar Tech team is Moreira of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil—which, incidentally is also Aguiero's home

Tough Field Seen For Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Texas, March 30—Only outstanding Olympics prospects will be heavy favorites to repeat as Texas Relays individual champions here next week as newcomers and men from the ranks threaten those who wear the crowns. Sprinter Bobby Morrow, Abilene Christian College, named the meet's top performer as a freshman last year, and Kansas' massive Bill Nieder are odds-on choices to successfully defend their titles in the 100-yard dash and shotput, respectively. Three other champions and perhaps a fourth, may not have it so good in the strongest field ever assembled for the Texas Relays. However, Robert Van Dee of Oklahoma, a two-time winner, has indicated he will make a mighty stand in his quest for a third straight discus throw championship. In competition this week he reached 168 feet, 8 inches, the second best distance recorded by a collegian this year. The road looks much rockier for the defending champions in the high jump, hurdles, oar jump, and javelin. Morrow, who appears to have one foot on that boat to Australia, comes into the Relays with a wind-assisted 9.3, 9.4 and 9.5 to his credit this season. That should establish him as a threat to the 21-year-old Relays mark of 9.4, held jointly by Chink Wallender of Texas and Ed Neugass of Tulane. Just two years ago Nieder was an unsung sophomore who was runner-up in the Texas Relays with a toss of 51 feet, 1 1/2 inches. He has improved steadily since and followed up his '55 triumph here (53-10) with first place in the NCAA meet at 57-3. Already this season he has tossed the 16-pound ball 39 feet, 9 1/2 inches, which is the greatest distance ever made by a collegian. Only Parry O'Brien, the world record holder, rates ahead of him as an Olympic prospect. The Relays shot record, set in 1951 by Texas A&M's Darrow Hooper at 54-7 1/2, appears a cinch for the Kansas star. In comparable peril is the javelin throw record of 219 feet, 8 1/2 inches set by Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons in 1937. And the chief menace is Les Bitner, another Jayhawk star from Kansas. Bitner had to content himself with fourth place last year at 190 feet, 9 1/2 inches. After that he switched to the Heit-type javelin and made an art of throwing it. He won the national collegiate crown with a meet record distance of 246 feet, 1 inch. Even a third weight record could be in jeopardy, with Van Dee and his challenger heaving in the vicinity of 170 feet. Al Oerter, a Kansas soph who reached 171 feet, 6 inches as a freshman; Ray Burrus of West Texas State, last year's runner-up and NAIA champion, and perhaps Carl Vreen, the Georgia Tech star, will be his leading rivals. Vreen won at the Drake Relays last year with a toss of 172-11. The Relays discus mark is 172 feet, 5 1/2 inches, set in 1948 by Minnesota's Fortune Gordien who five years later established the world mark of 194 feet, 8 inches. Rice's Wesley Hight won the hurdles last year in 14.8, beating Kansas' Bill Biberstein, a two-time winner. The favorite this year, however, will be Bill Curtis of TCU, who missed the event here in his sophomore season two years ago. Back after a year's layoff, Curtis has been timed at 14 flat and has scored successive victories over Eddie Roberts of Oklahoma A&M; the Sugar Bowl champion who outran the Frog star at Laredo. Kim Ellis of Oklahoma A&M won broad jump last year at 24 feet, 9 3/4 inches, and back in 4th place was Raymond Vickery of Baylor. After bowing to Ellis in the Border Olympics this season, Vickey outjumped the Cowpokes setting a meet record in the latter meet. Also highly regarded as contenders are Kent Floerke, Kansas soph who did 24-3 1/2 indoors and Erwin Cook of Oklahoma, who hit 24-1 indoors.

70-Year-Old Cage Coach Not Rehired

LAWRENCE, Kan. — UP — The lengthy and sometimes verbally violent coaching career of Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen probably will come to an end Friday, the United Press learned. The Kansas University athletic board secretly began the retirement procedure Thursday night by refusing to recommend that the 70-year-old mentor be rehired. Instead, sources close to the board said, Allen's assistant coach, Dick Harp, 36, was recommended for the head spot. The recommendations were presented to the board of regents, which govern state schools, by Kansas University Chancellor Dr. Franklin Murphy Friday. Usually Routine Matter The acceptance of recommendations made by the athletic boards usually is a matter of routine. Allen, in 48 years of coaching, has won more games than any other coach in the nation. His record is 771 wins and 233 losses—a total of 1,004 games. Harp was a standout guard on Allen's 1940 team — a group that won the NCAA western title and advanced to second spot in the national NCAA tournament. He coached at William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., for two years, and returned to Kansas as freshman coach in 1949. Allen on March 14 asked to be allowed one more year as coach at Kansas, so he could handle Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, who he terms "the best I've ever seen." He offered to give up his professorship if he could stay on. Retirement Required by Law State law requires that professors retire at the age 70. The general feeling in the more than a year that Allen's retirement has been an issue was that if he were allowed to stay on under any sort of a plan, it would ruin morale of other lesser known professors who are facing retirement. Besides recommending Harp, sources said the board discussed trying to keep Allen on at the school through a job under the endowment fund. But the source said, his staying on must in no way interfere with Harp's having a free hand to run the basketball team.

Harvester Track Field Men Busy This Week-end

The Harvester thin clad left yesterday at noon for Big Spring where they will be entered in the A.B.C. Relays. The track meet is an annual affair which some of the better schools in the area enter each year. The traveling squad of 14 boys made the trip. Some of the Harvester's point getters are Ed Strickland, Dicky Mauldin, Earl Cooper, Jim Fischer, Dick Barrett, Don Allen, Jimmy Enloe, Richie Gardner and Tommy Rhoten. Others who will be making the trip include Walter Hell, Pampa's miler, Gary Dearen, pole vaulter; Don Jones, weight man; Kenneth Keith, sprinter; Gary Peterson, sprinter; Frank Snow, sprinter; and Robert Warren, sprinter. Coaches for the team, Dwaine Lyon and Marvin Bowman were accompanied by Weldon Trice to the Big Spring meet. The boys are going from the Big Spring meet to the Bluebonnet Relays in Brownwood. The Harvester will be competing again this week against the Amarillo Sandies who are also entered in the Bluebonnet meet. This will be the final test before the district meeting in Canyon Saturday, April 7.

Baxter Leads Way In College Golf Tour

HOUSTON —UP— Rex Baxter of the University of Houston led the way into Friday's play in the Southwestern Intercollegiate golf tournament with a four-under-par 68 Thursday.

Right behind Baxter with 69's were Frank Wear of Southern Methodist and Arlyn Scott of Hardin-Simmons. In all, eight of 64 players managed to tie or break par on the 8,500-yard, par-72 Pine Forest Country Club course.

Team play continues also with four 36-hole matches scheduled in both the winner's and loser's brackets.

Louisiana State University plays SMU, Oklahoma A&M meets Texas A&M, North Texas faces Texas Tech and Houston takes on Texas in the winner's bracket.

In the loser's bracket it is Rice vs. Colorado, Hardin-Simmons vs. Nebraska, Oklahoma vs. New Mexico and Baylor vs. Wichita.

The University of Houston's four-man team of Baxter, Frank Wharton, Jimmy Hiskey and Richard Parvino hold a big lead in the team medal play with a 286 total—two shots better than par.

SMU is second with 297, North Texas State third with 299 and Oklahoma A&M fourth with a 300 total.

Baylor's No. 1 two-ball team of George Hale and Ronnie Honeycutt shared the two-ball lead with Baxter and Wharton of Houston, each team with a best ball of 66.

Philadelphia Meets For Wayne In Pro Playoffs Saturday

By UNITED PRESS For a time, it seemed that neither of them would make it, but regular season winners Philadelphia and Fort Wayne both were safely berthed Friday in the final round of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Each clinched its best-of-five semifinal series, 3-2, Thursday night on its home court—Philadelphia by ousting defending playoff champion Syracuse 109-104 and Fort Wayne by nipping St. Louis 102-97.

The two finalists, who finished on top of the Eastern and Western divisions, respectively, during the regular season, will clash in the first game of the best-of-seven final round at Philadelphia Saturday.

the shortstop post and Robert Langford or John Lee will do the catching. The Harvester coach is using almost all his boys in the exhibition games in order to look them over and know who will make the traveling squad.

Others on the roster include Buster Baird, Tommy Richardson, Harry Ward, Cecil Reynolds, Jimmy Parris, Bill Conway, David James, Jerry Hopkins, Bobby Dehis and others.

The Clinton, Okla. nine will be in Pampa for a double header Saturday afternoon. Game time for the first of the twin-bills has been set at 1.

Co-Captain Ready to Play PHILADELPHIA — UP — Hal Reinfeld, Temple co-captain who is recovering from a back injury, is expected to see action Thursday night when the Owls play Iowa in the semifinal round of the NCAA basketball tournament at Evanston, Ill.

Jerold Clark or Dale Lake will start at the first base spot. Both are expected to see some action.

Buddy Sharp will probably start at third base and Bill Hogan, who is presently leading the Harvesters hitting attack, will surely start in left field. Hogan has five hits for six trips to the plate.

Billy Brown, one of the better fielders on the squad, will start at

Harvesters Favored In Golf Meet

The Harvester Golfers lead off this morning in a practice tourney which will see Borger, Shamrock and Pampa competing for low scores. The Herford golf team indicated that it might make the meet.

Leslie Howard, Melvin Chisum, Bert Watkins, Don Prigmore and Bill McLeod will be swatting the ball for the Harvesters while David Houck, Donald Howard, Vance Moxom, Elgie Seamster and Frank Castleberry will be playing for Borger.

The names of the Shamrock golfers were not known before tee-off time.

The Green and Golders, coached by Weldon Trice, have defeated all of the teams in the district at least once and some of them more.

The Sandies have fallen four times to the local golfers. Borger lost two matches to the Harvesters earlier this season.

Pampa golfers have fallen to Odessa on two occasions but were second in the Fort Worth Field and Recreation meet and third in the Odessa tourney. They probably have the best team Pampa High School has ever produced.

Pampa is expected to take top honors in the practice session and Shamrock, the darkhorse in the meet, is rated third. Borger should run a close second to Pampa.

The purpose of the meet is to give the Harvesters a chance to play under pressure in preparation for the district meet which will be held, for the first time, on the Pampa County Club links. The date for the district tournament has been set for April 6.

Panhandle Relays Gets Underway Friday Afternoon

PANHANDLE — March 30 — The Tenth Annual Panhandle Relays opened here this morning with over 30 of the top teams of the field entered. The meet will continue through Saturday.

The meet got underway with the preliminaries, in many of the running events shortly after noon. No preliminaries will be held in the field events but the finals of all events will get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Teams from Ferris, Gruver, Dumas, Simnett, Canadian, Spearman, Pampa, Farwell, Frieman, Herford, Abernathy, Kress, Lockney, Ralls and 16 others are slated to complete the two-day affair.

Preliminaries in the 100-yard dash and the 150-yard low hurdles and the 120-yard high hurdles were slated to start Saturday morning along with the finals in the field events.

Dumas, defending champion, will be attempting to retain the championship this season. Only a single day was required to complete the meet last year but the addition of teams entered required a second day this year.

Four new records were set last year and several are threatened this year. More records are expected to be set this year than at any other meet in the 10-year history with the largest entry ever recorded.

Sparks will serve as starters and Nolan Sparks will be in charge of the timekeepers. Gerald Julian and Lester McCoy will be the statisticians for the relays.

Dumas holds four records in the Panhandle Relays. Joel Lummas set the 220-yard dash record in 1953. Jerry Cashion ran the 850-yard run in 2:08.9 in 1952 and Mike Salor pole vaulted 11 feet 6 inches to set a record in 1955.

The Dumas Relay team composed of Dale Little, Jim Tiner, Bill Hibber and Andy Hicks, set the record for the 440-yard relay last year.

Phillips holds the record for the mile relay, and the high jump, Memphis holds two records, the 100-yard and 220-yard dash, with times of 10 flat and 22.2 White Deer's Dale Imel holds the record for the mile run with 4:45.9.

Canyon holds the shot put and discus records and O'Donell set records in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard low hurdles in 1953.

Childress owns the broad jump record with a leap of 20 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Tennis was first played in the 1870's on Staten Island in New York bay and it mystified passing sailors who reached port with tales of "leaping, dancing figures playing some kind of strange game," reveals the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

About Mental Health

Being naturally suspicious we cannot help but look behind all the furor in Washington over the House-approved measure to set up what has been called the plan for a U. S. Siberia in Alaska.

Certainly if there were not considerable federal pressure the bill would have gone on its sweet way and arrangements made for doing over the Alaskan system of care and treatment of the mentally ill. Ordinarily such measures dealing with any of the territories are fool-proof to the extent that there is no real cause for debate.

But debate there has been — and some of it mighty acrimonious — as more and more opposition to the bill appears and the pressure of the administration increases.

So we are prompted to look behind the bill and see what might be some of the causes for this pressure.

So far, at least, the federal government cannot operate in total defiance of the various Constitutions of the 48 states. Our "state's rights" policies are still sufficiently in effect that state constitutions have not been completely set aside by the actions of federal officials.

For this reason it is difficult for federal authorities to go into the several states and pick up citizens who are in disagreement with one or more federal agencies or policies. In order to move, as the federal government did in the case of Lucille Miller and the Finn twins, there must be a federal charge.

But if the individual states can be "induced, cajoled or coerced" into approval of interstate compacts on mental health — to tie in with the Alaska Mental Health Bill — then the individual states automatically surrender their sovereignty in regard to "individuals" suspected of mental illness. Then states' rights will no longer apply.

To further indicate that there is danger in this direction, we would like to point out that the State of Connecticut legislators met in a special session and passed "An Interstate Compact on Mental Health." It will do everything the Alaska bill will do. It is an agreement whereby mental patients in Connecticut may be shipped to any other state. And "state" is defined as "any state, territory, possession of the United States, the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico." And Alaska is a territory.

According to the Connecticut compact, the transfer of a patient may be for the entire period of care and treatment or for any portion or portions thereof. Moreover, the compact says that the state may appoint a supplemental or substitute guardian over the patient and relieve the previous guardian of power. This obviously means that a relative who was a guardian and who objected to the patient being shipped to Alaska would be bounced, legally, and a substitute guardian appointed in his place. And there will be a compact administrator, appointed by the governor, who will have the authority to do the determining of what the rules and regulations mean and will be empowered to carry out the terms of the compact.

Pressure is being brought upon women's clubs and others to give their support to this program and to bring into line other states in the nation. An expensive nation-wide telecast is planned to provide more propaganda for the program. In some states as many as 40 bills dealing with different phases of mental health are pending or already passed — and all strangely similar to companion bills in other states.

With all of this strange similarity and with all of the record of the past to go on, it is not stretching credibility too far to worry about what is behind all of the mental health propaganda.

The Rights Of Property— A Refutation Of Communism And Socialism XVIII

In Adolph Thiers' book, "The Rights of Property: a Refutation of Communism and Socialism," he divides his book into several sections. Book I, he called "On The Right of Property," Book II, "On Communism," and Book III, "On Socialism."

I have devoted considerable space on Communism. It seems to me our danger is not so much from Communism but from creeping Socialism. The public pretty generally knows that Communism is based on aggressive force. There is much more danger of people accepting Socialism, which leads to Communism, than there is in their accepting Communism.

Under his book on Socialism, Thiers introduces the chapter with this statement: "Showing that the adversaries of property, not daring to deny it positively, have invented, in order to correct its effects, the different systems known as ASSOCIATION, RECIPROcity, AND THE RIGHT TO LABOUR." Then he proceeds as follows:

"The adversaries of property in these times have not all attacked it directly. Many of them, not daring to deny it in an absolute manner, have confined themselves to seeking and proposing means of correcting what they style its prejudicial effects; as if a holy and sacred institution, which is nothing more than the free and unlimited development of the human faculties, producing what they have the power to produce, sometimes riches, sometimes mediocrity, sometimes indigence; exactly similar in this respect to the vegetation of a forest, in which, by the side of a young or feeble tree, grows another of majestic size and strength; as if such an institution, which is but nature herself obeyed and respected, had need of excuse and correction."

Corrections Of Proprieties

"Accordingly, these correctors of Providence have arrived at discoveries worthy of the aim they have proposed to themselves.

"The first and most sensible thing they did was to attack each other violently, to statter contempt on one another's systems, to fall under the disguised title of socialists, upon the communists themselves, the more logical adversaries of property, and not more unreasonable, in my opinion, than those who assume the name of socialists. For, after all, property being the commonest part, they draw the necessary consequences, and place men in the condition in which he ought to be, when men and turn" (To fail to distinguish one's own property from that of others.) "are denied — in the complete community of all enjoyments, both physical and moral. But, however, that may be, the socialists, treating the communists very cavalierly, and, I repeat, in a manner not likely to inspire much respect for their own logic, have, each on his own part, imagined means of correcting the effects of property, more ridiculous, perhaps, from their desire that they should be less revolting. These means are Association, Reciprocity, the Right to Labour. As surely, communism is a great and serious madness, for it consists in treating man like an animal, in supporting and keeping him, as the sportsman keeps his dogs in a kennel, which he feeds, and which he feeds, exercises, and controls to the sound of a whistle — a whistle with a whip at the other end. But when once man's distinctive existence has been denied, by contesting the personal fruits of his labour, what remains to be done, except to stink everything into one — into the community? To leave him a home, that he may accumulate and commit the crime of economy — to leave him a family, that he may endure the punishment of living without the power of doing anything for them, would be the greatest of inconsistencies. I know that the system is absurd, but it is at least specious, for it is consistent. A monster has been created, but the limbs of this monster are fitted to each other. What next be said, on the other hand, of those who, rejecting the monstrosities of Communism, while they allow the old society to exist, endeavor to change this part or that, to substitute others that will not work with the old ones, and thus compose the most incoherent assemblage that can be imagined."

"We shall see, by a plain account of these systems, whether the instrument is too severe."

"The socialists admit of property, they say, but according to them, capital is a tyrant: he will not lend himself to the working man, or else does so on very harsh conditions, and on such that the working man cannot live. There is, moreover, a frightful struggle among men. Society is a foul den, in which men seek to destroy each other by their rivalry. A new machine, destined to facilitate labour, to render it more productive, less costly, becomes an arm to destroy their manufacturing rivals. Thus they create a struggle — a competition of cheapness which renders the condition of the workman insupportable. According to certain socialists, the workman should combine among themselves; thus combined or associated, they would have the means of obtaining the capital which is refused to them, to make head against it, and to prevent their being oppressed by its exigencies. Moreover, they will concert together, and put an end to that cruel war of rivalry, by producing only in accordance with the settled prices and quantities. Two things will then come straight-

Mac Is Thrilled By Invitation To Wedding

By HENRY McLEMORE

My invitation to THE WEDDING will be no testimony after the wedding. The bride and groom are keeping their honeymoon in the back yard of the bride's home. I was on pins and needles for a while, no joking. When day after day went by, with an invitation, I began to wonder if I were being left out in the cold like Dave Schary, Jerry Lewis, Spike Jones and his band, Lennie, Governor Goodwin Knight, and thousands of others.

But now the invitation is right in front of me. Want to read it? It is printed a lot fancier than this, but this is the way it goes: "Mr. and Mrs. Jud Cubbins request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Bonnie Belle, to Mr. Luther (Butter) Wiggins, Tuesday, the eighteenth of April, at midnight, office of the Justice of the Peace, Yancey, Switz, Georgia."

Those of us of the press who were fortunate enough to get in invitations will leave for Yancey, Switz by bus early in April. We have been assigned seats over the wheels or next to windows that are stuck. But what reporter would pass over minor discomforts when given a chance to cover a wedding that has gripped the imagination of the world?

This is a fairy story wedding; if there ever was one. They are high-class folks on both sides. Bonnie Belle Cubbins was Miss Cotton Ball of 1931, Miss Peach Orchard of 1932, and she also christened the new Ferris wheel at the Stumpman County Fair Grounds only last year.

Miss Cubbins' father, Seth Cubbins, owns and operates the feed store that has been in his family for six generations, and his three children make it the tallest structure in the county, if you don't count the water tank near the depot.

He also holds the county record for the biggest small-month bass, and has played first base for the Fat Man's team on the Fourth of July for the past twelve years.

The bridegroom was a six-letter man at Stumpman High School, plays the "Flight of the Bumblebee" on the harmonica, without using sheet music, and is the youngest volunteer fireman in town. He can trace his ancestry on the maternal side to the remarkable Claude Kilchens, first wholesale dealer in lightning rods in the whole State of Georgia.

The pre-wedding rituals are under the direction of the bridegroom's Uncle Jack, who has completely abandoned his peasant crop to make the whole thing come off with a bang.

There'll be a watermelon, cutting; if the early crop ripens in time. There'll be horseshoe pitching, with pony shoes for the ladies. There'll also be a possum hunt, full moon or not, a landing chopping contest, and plans are in the works to get the Bahra Municipal Band for a night before the wedding concert.

The Yancey Switz police force, Constable Pete Snapsy, has deputized three citizens to assist him in keeping order. He says there easily to and end — the tyranny of capital, and the fratricidal war of brother-slavery. Such is the system of Association."

The 'Truman Scandals' Are Being Revived

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Were two of Harry S. Truman's windup radio speeches in the 1948 campaign paid for by an admitted income tax evader who was then seeking to escape prosecution at a time when T. Lamar Caudle of tragicomic memory headed the Tax Division of the Department of Justice? The cost was $70,000, and the bill had to be paid in advance because the Democratic National Committee was "broke."

Federal authorities and the McClellan Lobby Committee may try to answer this question in a revival of the so-called "Truman Administration scandals" on the eve of another Presidential campaign. On the basis of an expose by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Senator John J. Williams of Delaware, nemesis of crooked Internal Revenue Bureau officials in 1951 and 1952, has demanded action by Attorney General Brownell or the McClellan group.

The case has unusual political and historical interest, for Truman's slashing radio talks, just before the election admittedly turned the tide against a seemingly victorious Thomas E. Dewey. In that year, normally heavy Democratic contributors refused to give a nickel to Truman, who was hard put to pay for his "whistle stop" campaign train or time on the air. But money flowed in from somewhere for his last week's Garrison finish.

It is a tangled tale of intrigue and political high finance as unwound by the aggressive Post-Dispatch and placed in the Congressional Record by angry Senator Williams: Joseph Mitchell, owner of the Jefferson Loan Company at St. Louis came under investigation for income tax evasion as early as 1947. He eventually pleaded guilty, and served part of a three-year sentence. But he managed to elude prosecution and conviction for three years through political influence.

In late October, 1948, according to admissions by associates, Mitchell showed up at Democratic National Headquarters here with the $70,000 in a brown paper bag. He denies having made the alleged contribution. But S. Acey Carraway, then Finance Director of the National Committee, has told of Mitchell's appearance with the money. Carraway says he rejected the offer when he learned from Caudle that the donor was suffering from income tax pains. Vernon Neubauer, then president of the Jefferson Loan Company, says that he heard Mitchell agree to pay the 70,000 gift. Neubauer is now under sentence to prison on conviction of using the mails to defraud. Mitchell hoped to get him convicted because he charges, he lost $1,000,000 because of Neubauer's activities.

Carraway admits that he interceded with the Justice Department on Mitchell's behalf after receiving a $5,000 loan from Mitchell's firm on an unsecured note, to buy two farms in nearby Virginia. Only $100 has been repaid, although Carraway supposedly organized a $1,000,000 firm that obtained lush contracts from the Navy.

In testimony before Congressional Committees, it was brought out that Caudle and Representative Frank W. Boykin of Alabama intervened many times on behalf of Mitchell. Carraway, Caudle and Mitchell frequently hunted and fished at the wealthy Boykin's place near Mobile. Ironically, it was an Assistant Attorney General named John Mitchell who obtained the St. Louis Mitchell's conviction in the face of these political obstacles. But because of his persistence and success, Caudle ordered that no more tax cases be assigned to him.

Caudle, who was a picturesque figure during "mink coat" era — his wife got one — was eventually fired by Truman. He is now under indictment at St. Louis for conspiracy to defraud the government in another tax case.
