Republicans Proclaim Ike Can Win Again

Negro Coed Goes Back To Classes

By KENNETH BEENE
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — UP — The all-white University of Alabama made plans Thursday to insure the safety of Negro student Autherine Lucy when she returns to classes Monday in the face of warnings that she might be killed by a mob.

University President O. C. Carmichael said he would ask for extra police if necessary to comply with the order of Federal Judge Hobart Grooms that the Negro be readmitted to the institution.

Gov. James E. Folsom said he would supply whatever protection was necessary to prevent a recurrence of the three days of rioting which prompted university trustees to bar her from the campus Feb. 8 for her own safety.

No rule on Dorm Occupancy Grooms ruled Wednesday after an all-day hearing that she must be readmitted to classes by 9 a. m. Monday. He said he would rule at 9 a. m. on Friday on Miss Lucy's suit for full rights to the woman's dormitory and the campus dining facilities.

The ruling produced a mixed reaction over the state. In most areas the attitude was one of resignation. But from many quarters came predictions of danger if the Negro coed, the first non-white student in its 128 year history, returns to the university.

John Caddell, president of the Alabama Alumni Association and a member of the university board of trustees, said Friday that Miss Lucy returns to the campus "she probably will be killed."

Says Safety Not Certain "No steps could be taken now or in the near future to ensure she would be safe," he said.

Grooms said his ruling was made to uphold the U. S. Constitution and the rulings of its higher courts. He pointed out that it was made in spite of testimony warning of possible renewed violence.

FRED BROOK ... heads Rotary Club

Fred Brook To Head Rotarians

At yesterday's meeting of the Pampa Rotary club, President Jim Chase announced that the board of directors had elected Fred Brook the club's new president.

Brook, city manager for the City of Pampa, has been active in the club since he became a member and is currently responsible for the publication of the organization's weekly paper, Rotaspokes.

The day's program was presented by Doyle McKinney, manager of the Lone Star Gas Co. in Childress, who talked on the elements of employer-employee relations.

Shoemaker And Newsman Are Indicted

WACO — UP — A busy McLennan county grand jury which ended its work late Wednesday indicted A. B. Shoemaker and accused the Texas Insurance Commission of neglecting its "primary duty" by permitting Shoemaker's fabulous U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. to sell "certified drafts" without a license.

In an entirely separate action, the jury returned two indictments against Vern Sanford, executive secretary of the Texas Press Association. Sanford was accused of violating the new Texas election code through his work for Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's 1954 campaign.

The jury's 11-page report touched on Shoemaker's jumbled financial deals, columnist Dewey Pearson's television programs and the insurance commission's purported lack of diligence.

Refused to Re-License U. S. Trust said "certified drafts" on which it promised 5 per cent interest. The jury observed that the new state insurance laws went into effect Sept. 4 and that the commission, acting under these laws, refused to re-license Shoemaker's firm to sell the drafts.

But U. S. Trust went on selling them without a license until it was shut down Dec. 15 by court order. The jury said the commission should have stopped the sales.

Take-It-Easy Campaign Seen For The President

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower's team jubilantly proclaimed Thursday that he can win again with a take-it-easy campaign.

Party leaders predicted that his re-nomination will be automatic. They began cutting a campaign pattern to fit the conditions he made a part of his second term decision — no barn-storming, no whistle stops.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall scheduled a news conference Thursday to outline an Eisenhower campaign keyed to television stumping.

While Republicans shaped their campaign, the President's second term decision brought these other developments, which he discussed Wednesday night in a nationwide radio-television address:

1. Democrats left no doubt that they would make a major issue of Mr. Eisenhower's health, charging that, if elected, he would be a "part-time" President.

2. The fight over whether Vice President Richard M. Nixon should be retained. If Republicans who want to ditch him win out, a likely substitute appeared to be former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Sources said Dewey probably would accept.

3. Congressional leaders of both parties agreed that Mr. Eisenhower's decision will help him keep Republicans in Congress in line and sharply improve prospects for his legislative program.

4. Officials said the decision means that foreign policy can move off "dead center" where it doped to remain because of doubts about the President's intentions.

5. Economists generally agreed that the decision by the President, considered a good friend by the business world, will increase business confidence and tend to bolster the economy in 1956.

GOP chiefs were elated by the response to Mr. Eisenhower's decision.

Says He's Willing, Able From the moment the decision was flashed around the world at (See IKE, Page 4)

Second Term Bid May Help Ike Program

WASHINGTON — UP — Congressional leaders said Thursday President Eisenhower's second-term decision greatly improved the chances of his program getting through Congress.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders predicted the President's decision to run will solidify GOP support for some of his controversial bills such as expanded foreign aid. And they predicted present Democratic support for most pending issues will remain generally unchanged.

Thomas E. Dewey Likely Substitute

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON — UP — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is an election-year storm center. If he is forced off the 1956 Republican presidential ticket, a likely substitute would be former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York. Dewey probably would accept.

Some of Nixon's friends fear that the movement to bounce him got a green light Wednesday in President Eisenhower's announcement that he would accept renomination but leave the selection of a vice-presidential candidate up to the Republican national convention.

Some of Nixon's adverse critics read it the other way — as a solid endorsement of the Vice President. Didn't Commit Himself

The facts are that Mr. Eisenhower emphatically praised Nixon's ability and his performance as Vice President. He used to commit himself when asked if he wanted him on the ticket again.

Time for that, said the President, is after the Republican national convention has nominated a presidential candidate.

Mr. Eisenhower's refusal to commit himself on a running mate is sufficient to put new muscle and enthusiasm in the organized effort to ditch Nixon. Some of the President's longtime military associates and more recent golf cronies are active in the movement against the Vice President.

Is Controversial Figure Nixon is primarily on the spot because of public awareness of Mr. Eisenhower's September heart attack. The fact of that seizure inescapably leads to unusual speculation whether the President would survive to complete a second term.

Moreover, the President is 65 years old and would be 70 on leaving office after a second term.

Nixon has been an acutely controversial political figure from the outset of his congressional career when he was a prime factor in the exposure which led to the conviction of Alger Hiss on perjury charges growing out of denial of his association with the Communist party.

In 1954 he enraged former President Truman and other Democratic leaders by his discussion of the Roosevelt-Truman handling of the problem of Communist infiltration of the federal government. Nixon accumulated more enemies than most men encounter in a life time.

The charge against him now is that he would weaken the 1956 Republican ticket, jeopardize Mr. Eisenhower's re-election.

Gray County Is Drouth Area

WASHINGTON — UP — The Agriculture Department designated counties in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico as drouth disaster areas Wednesday where eligible farmers and ranchers may participate in the emergency feed grain program.

The 21 Texas counties are: Archer, Borden, Carson, Dickens, Gray, Grimes, Haskell, Hood, Martin, Montague, Parker, Roberts, Somervell, Stonewall, Tarrant, Wise and Young.

Bachelors Balk At Most Leap Year Proposals

By WILLIAM EWALD
NEW YORK — UP — Leap Year Day arrived along TV row Wednesday and caught the girls hoping and the men hopping.
An informal poll taken along the network trail failed to turn up any unmarried major performer who had an immediate altar-ego in sight. Most indicated they would look before they leaped.
Phil Silvers, once married to 1942's Miss America, Jo Carroll Dennison, snubbed a question about his future marital plans. He plans to spend the day nursing a fellow bachelor, Sgt. Ernie Bilko.

He Wants to Ask
Steve Lawrence, singing star of NBC-TV's "Tonight" show, indicated he felt no enthusiasm about the day either. He plans to duck if any girl gets that gleam in her eye. "I want to do the asking," said Lawrence.
Sandy Wirth, a former Miss America finalist from Florida and now a star of ABC-TV's "Super Circus," revealed she wouldn't be one of the poppers on this Leap celebration. "I plan to visit an income tax consultant today," said the shapely $600 exemption.

Most of the stars, however, were willing to discuss the kind of mate they were prowling for.
Margaret Truman, who recently pulled out of NBC radio's "Weekday" to concentrate on TV work, described her dream man this way:
"The two most important qualities I would want in a man are integrity and a good sense of humor."
Gisèle Mackenzie, who'll celebrate Leap Year Day by rehearsing for NBC-TV's "Your Hit Parade," said of the man in her future:
"He must look like a composite of Edward R. Murrow and Gregory Peck and he must have a good sense of humor, as well as appreciate the problems of my career."

Nice Neighbors
Andy Williams, another vocalist on "Tonight" said he was willing to match down the aisle anytime if he could turn up his ideal woman.
"I'd like a girl just like the girl next door," said Andy. "I live next door to Zsa Zsa Gabor."
And finally, a few words from Mortimer Snerd, a dummy for whom love has been a many-splintered thing.
"What I look for and what I get are two different things," said Snerd. "I haven't been bothered by any proposals so far this year. Or any other year, for that matter. I think my mail is being intercepted by Edgar Bergen."

BEACONS OF WELCOME—Four beacons, together generating almost two billion candle power of light, are being installed atop New York's Empire State Building, and this sketch shows how they will look up there. They will be placed 1022 feet above 5th Avenue and 34th Street. Engineers say they will be visible from the air as far away as Boston and Baltimore. Persons on the ground up to 60 miles away will be able to see the beacons, which will cost some $250,000. The building's management hopes the lights will be regarded by visitors as "an air-age supplement to the American welcome so long extended to ship-borne visitors by the Statue of Liberty." Installation of the beacons is expected to be completed by April 1.

Crop Report Says Strong Winds Can Damage Topsoil

AMARILLO—UP—The Santa Fe Railroad said Thursday strong winds, which usually hit this time of year, could inflict heavy damage to topsoil in the winter wheat belt.

The railroad's monthly crop report said alternate freezing and thawing of surface soil has left it very loose and finely divided, resulting in a surface soil condition "very susceptible" to damage by wind over most of the High Plains except areas protected by a vegetative cover.

Most of the area, ranging from California to Louisiana and from Kansas City to South Texas, received effective amounts of moisture from winter storms that started late in January.

Small Amounts Elsewhere

However, only small amounts of moisture fell over the Oklahoma Panhandle, the Texas Panhandle north of the Canadian River, and adjacent areas in northeastern

New Mexico, southeastern Colorado and southwestern Kansas.

A portion of the Texas low rolling plains also received little moisture, but most of the remainder of the winter wheat territory has received adequate moisture for present needs.

Range conditions over the area showed some improvement, the report said.

Storms improved prospects for grain and native pastures in Oklahoma and Texas and provided moisture to start spring grasses in other areas.

Prospects were particularly favorable on the Texas high plains south of the Canadian River where as much as one to two feet of snow fell.

Cattle Wintered Well

Cattle and calves have generally wintered in good conditions, with a few exceptions. Supplemental feeding started early in the northern areas, and this resulted in some local hay and feed shortages.

Early February storms caused some shrinkage in cattle, especially in areas of heavy snow. However, death losses were relatively light.

Sheep on western ranges generally have been maintained in good condition, and prospects have been improved by recent moisture.

PHILADELPHIA —UP— Newspaper circulation in the United States broke all records last year in spite of newspaper shortages, according to the 88th annual edition of N. W. Ayer & Son's directory of newspapers and periodicals.

Circulation of English-language dailies climbed to 55,837,000, nearly a million copies a day more than the previous year, the directory stated. The increase was the largest in five years.

At the same time the directory said there was a slight drop in the number of daily newspapers because of a merger trend.

The nation's evening newspapers boosted their circulation by 800,000 copies to a total of 33,720,000, the directory reported, while morning papers gained 90,000, reaching a total of 21,327,000. Forty-three states reported increases.

One indictment said he sold or tried to sell drafts to Sam Fuller Jr., a former Waco policeman who now runs an ambulance firm. Fuller was only one of 5,600 investors in the collapsed firm.

"The history of U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. is largely a history of A. B. Shoemaker," the jury reported. "The company and its affiliates were 99 per cent owned and 100 per cent controlled by Mr. Shoemaker."

Indicted on Campaign Costs

The two indictments against Sanford had nothing to do with insurance, Sanford was accused of paying $41.25 on July 25, 1954, and $35 on June 25, 1954, for newspaper campaign advertising for Ramsey.

Ramsey was running for re-election against C. T. Johnson of Austin, who brought the allegations against Sanford to the jury's attention.

Texas law states that a citizen may contribute any amount he wishes to a political campaign, but that if he takes it upon himself to spend the money directly, either for or against a candidate, he cannot lay out more than $25.

Sanford was freed in $1,000 bond each on the two counts. No bond was set for Shoemaker. The 36-year-old insurance man is in the Veterans Administration hospital in McKinney.

Try to Save Rice

COLOMBO, Ceylon —UP— Two military officers and 40 enlisted men battled Ceylon's long drought with water-filled trailer tanks and pumps Monday in an effort to save thousands of acres of rice fields.

Missing Spearman Boy Found

(Special) — Larry Dale Evans, 11, son of Dale Davis, who walked away from a school bus Monday afternoon in the Holt community, was found yesterday after more than 30 hours of search.

Men on foot, horseback, and in airplanes directed the search in a pasture near the old home place of Manuel Brall.

Sheriff J. B. Cook, Deputy J. W. Jenkins, and the boy's father found tracks in a pasture 18 miles south of Spearman, which matched the heavy-soled shoes worn by the boy. The tracks lead southwest towards Stinnett and the searching party followed them until the boy was discovered.

Three planes from the Berger area and Judge McLain, flying farmer, helped in the search. Sheriff Cook directed the search from the pasture entrance, calling for horses and riders. Earnest Archer and Joe Day, county commissioner, provided a posse.

Cook also called for Guy Fuller to bring his jeep to help in the search because of his knowledge of the terrain.

Arrest Here Clears Up Burglaries

A 14 year old boy, admitted Wednesday afternoon to the recent break-in at Miller Grocery in which approximately $40 was taken.

The boy, accompanied by another 14 year old boy, also was involved in the burglary of the Fox Rig Lumber Co. about one and a half weeks ago.

Chief of Police Jim Conner stated that as a result of this investigation the pilfering of automobiles during November of last year has been cleared up. The 30 caliber Army ammunition found near one of the cars at the time was taken from a car, according to the boys involved. The police have not been able to find out where this ammunition came from originally.

SCENE STEALER—Some top British television stars refuse to work with burlesque Rochelle Loffing because they say she steals the show, which is natural. After all, her measurements are 42-23-36, and that's hard to beat. Rochelle is shown above studying posture in London before leaving for the U.S. and a TV appearance.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Many people scarcely look at the endorsements on a check, even though they accept it from a stranger, and that can lead to trouble. Take Jack Storm down at the neighborhood hardware store, for example. He's one who will warn you — emphatically, with gestures — that it's smart to follow the simple rule: "Know your endorser".

Our laws set up many rules to protect us, and one of these rules protects the holder of a check by declaring that if he can't collect from the person who wrote out the check (the drawer), he can collect from the person who signed the check over to him (endorsed). This, of course, applies only where a check changes hands at least once.

We mentioned Jack Storm. He accepted a $100 check from a nice looking fellow who said he needed to buy a kit of tools for his new job. We won't use real names, but let's say the check was made out to Will Works and signed by Art Jayson.

"Sure, Art Jayson's lived in the neighborhood for twenty years," Jack said. "I know him well. Just sign your name on the back."

Jack forgot to identify the endorser, and it turned out that Will Works was a phony name, and that Art Jayson's signature was a forgery. Jack had no idea where to find the stranger, and he ended up losing about $40 in tools and $60 cash.

Right after that a good friend, we'll call him Bob Samson, bought a $2 paintbrush from Jack, and gave him a $60 check. It was made out to a Paul Smart and signed with "Regno Canning Co., Inc., Rex Rogus, President". Bob Samson placed his signature beneath Smart's endorsement, and Jack gave friend Bob the paintbrush and $58 change.

Well, there wasn't any "Regno Canning Co., Inc.," and this check also was worthless. But it was a different story this time for Jack. He contacted Boy Samson, and, of course, Bob had to make good on his endorsement.

Bob Samson managed to find Paul Smart, and it was Paul who ended up minus $60. But, what if Smart had been a stranger to Samson?

In a nutshell, any one who endorses a check guarantees that any previous signatures are genuine and that the check will be paid. If the check is worthless, or the original maker's signature has been forged, then you may collect the amount of the check from the last endorser. Be sure you know the endorser personally, so you can fall back upon him in event it becomes necessary.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts change the application of the law.)

Woman Buys Her Own Casket

HONEY GROVE, Tex. —UP—Emma Hawkins, 80, will get the "decent burial" she wanted when she is buried Thursday in a casket she bought 18 years ago.

The aged Negro woman was found dead by neighbors Wednesday in her home.

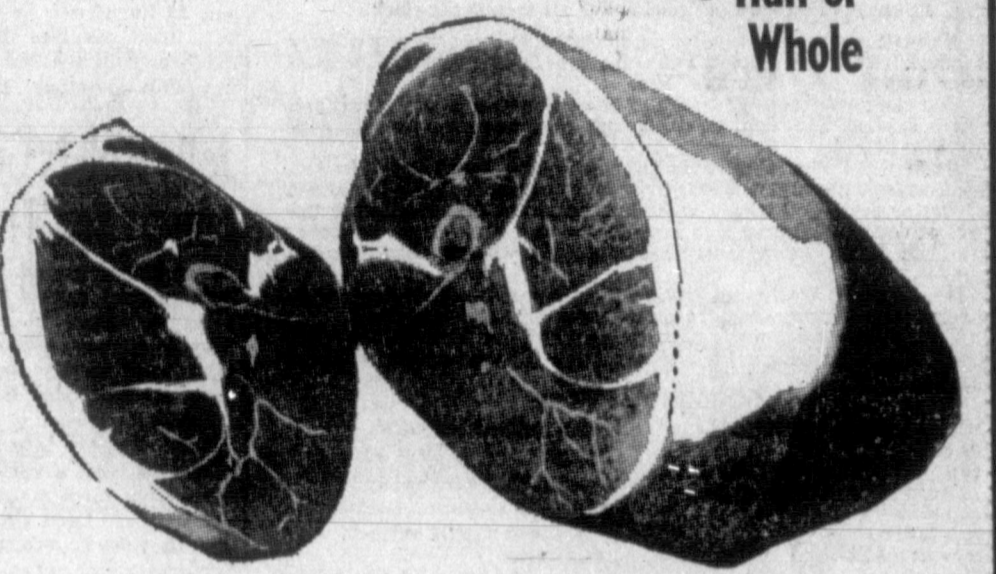

Ms. Hawkins, a native of Arkansas, bought the casket 18 years ago when she lived on a farm near Honey Grove. She brought the casket with her when she moved into town several years ago.

She had no immediate survivors. When she bought the casket she told friends she got it to "assure me a decent burial."

Circulation Up For Newspapers

PHILADELPHIA —UP— Newspaper circulation in the United States broke all records last year in spite of newspaper shortages, according to the 88th annual edition of N. W. Ayer & Son's directory of newspapers and periodicals.

Circulation of English-language dailies climbed to 55,837,000, nearly a million copies a day more than the previous year, the directory stated. The increase was the largest in five years.

At the same time the directory said there was a slight drop in the number of daily newspapers because of a merger trend.

The nation's evening newspapers boosted their circulation by 800,000 copies to a total of 33,720,000, the directory reported, while morning papers gained 90,000, reaching a total of 21,327,000. Forty-three states reported increases.

know that such sales were being made," the jury reported, "and that such sales were a violation of the law and it was their primary duty to see that these sales were stopped...even though they claimed they needed much more time to make the securities division function properly."

The report said, "They should have been able much sooner after Sept. 6 to stop the sale of certified deposits without a permit by Mr. Shoemaker."

"History of A. E. Shoemaker" Shoemaker, who fired a bullet into his head Jan. 7 and is still hospitalized, was indicted twice on charges of either selling or offering to sell his certified drafts.

One indictment said he sold or tried to sell drafts to Sam Fuller Jr., a former Waco policeman who now runs an ambulance firm. Fuller was only one of 5,600 investors in the collapsed firm.

"The history of U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. is largely a history of A. E. Shoemaker," the jury reported. "The company and its affiliates were 99 per cent owned and 100 per cent controlled by Mr. Shoemaker."

"We find no indication that he ever delegated any real authority

Missing Spearman Boy Found

9:32 a.m. cat Wednesday, a torrent of well-wishing and congratulatory telegrams and message poured into the White House in the greatest volume since the President's Sept. 24 heart attack.

Thousands more flooded in after Mr. Eisenhower went before the American people by radio and television Wednesday night to tell them in person that he is willing—and able—to run and serve if the Republican party and the people want him.

"...Let me make one thing clear," the President told the great nationwide audience. "As of this moment, there is not the slightest doubt that I can perform as well as I ever have, all of the important duties of the presidency...so far as I am concerned, I am confident I can continue to carry them indefinitely."

"Recovered Heart Patient"

"Otherwise, I would never have made the decision I announced today."

The President said he is a "recovered heart patient." This means, he said, that he must eliminate many of the less important social and ceremonial activities of his job. He must cut down on public speeches, office appointments with individuals and with groups, ceremonial dinners, receptions, and some correspondence. And he must reduce the amount of travel.

He said that if the GOP delegates want a nominee who would be a more active campaigner, they would have the right—"indeed the duty"—to choose someone else.

Then, addressing himself to the voters, he said he is determined that "every American shall have all available facts concerning my personal condition and the way I am now conducting the affairs of this office." That way, he said, when the voters go to the polls next November they will have a "full understanding of both the record of this administration and of how I propose to conduct myself now and in the future."

SCENE STEALER—Some top British television stars refuse to work with buxom Rochelle Lofting because they say she steals the show, which is natural. After all, her measurements are 42-23-36, and that's hard to beat. Rochelle is shown above studying posture in London before leaving for the U.S. and a TV appearance.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Many people scarcely look at the endorsements on a check, even though they accept it from a stranger, and that can lead to trouble. Takes Jack Storm down at the neighborhood hardware store, for example. He's one who will warn you — emphatically, with gestures — that it's smart to follow the simple rule: "Know your endorser".

Our laws set up many rules to protect us, and one of these rules protects the holder of a check by declaring that if he can't collect from the person who wrote out the check (the drawer), he can collect from the person who signed the check over to him (endorsed to). This, of course, applies only where a check changes hands at least once.

We mentioned Jack Storm. He accepted a $100 check from a nice looking fellow who said he needed to buy a kit of tools for his new job. We won't use real names, but let's say the check was made out to Will Works and signed by Art Jayson.

"Sure, Art Jayson's lived in the neighborhood for twenty years," Jack said. "I know him well. Just sign your name on the back."

Jack forgot to identify the endorser, and it turned out that Will Works was a phony name, and that Art Jayson's signature was a forgery. Jack had no idea where to find the stranger, and he ended up losing about $40 in tools and $60 cash.

Right after that a good friend, we'll call him Bob Samson, bought a $2 paintbrush from Jack, and gave him a $80 check. It was made out to a Paul Smart and signed with "Regno Canning Co., Inc., Rex Rogue, President". Bob Samson placed his signature beneath Smart's endorsement, and Jack gave friend Bob the paintbrush and $58 change.

Well, there wasn't any "Regno Canning Co., Inc.," and this check also was worthless. But it was a different story this time for Jack. He contacted Bob Samson, and, of course, Bob had to make good on his endorsement.

Bob Samson managed to find Paul Smart, and it was Paul who ended up minus $80. But, what if Smart had been a stranger to Samson?

In a nutshell, any one who endorses a check guarantees that any previous signatures are genuine, and that the check will be paid. If the check is worthless, or the original maker's signature has been forged, then you may collect the amount of the check from the last endorser. Be sure you know the endorser personally, so you can fall back upon him in event it becomes necessary.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts change the application of the law.)

Woman Buys Her Own Casket

HONEY GROVE, Tex. —UP—Emma Hawkins, 80, will get the "decent burial" she wanted when she is buried Thursday in a casket she bought 18 years ago.

The aged Negro woman was found dead by neighbors Wednesday in her home.

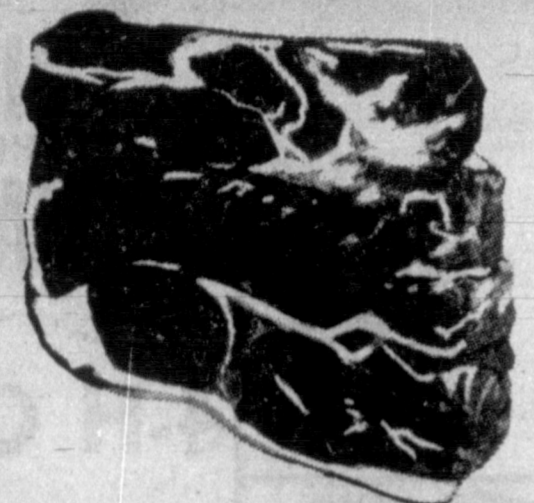

Ms. Hawkins, a native of Arkansas, bought the casket 18 years ago when she lived on a farm near Honey Grove. She brought the casket with her when she moved into town several years ago.

She had no immediate survivors. When she bought the casket she told friends she got it to "assure me a decent burial."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

When the Vanderbilt Cup tournament begins in New York a week from today, the rubber bridge players will come into their own. There is a difference between rubber bridge and ordinary tournament bridge, and the experts at one game don't always fare well at the other. The Vanderbilt is scored at total points, like rubber bridge, so this is the one tournament that the rubber bridge experts enjoy.

Curiously enough, one small bridge club in the Bronx consistently turns out players who do well at both games. Perhaps the reason is that the Paradise Bridge Club holds total-point team constant every weekend. Today's hand is taken from one of these team matches.

Admire the bold but quite reasonable jump to six spades. Give North any good club suit for his bid of two clubs, and the hand is a cinch for six spades.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace, whereupon Sydney Hecht, playing the South hand, ruffed. It looked as though the hand would depend on club finesse, but there was a chance to develop dummy's hearts.

Which finesse—the heart or the club?

As it turned out, south took neither. Hecht drew trumps, discarding low clubs from the dummy, and then led out the ace and king of hearts. When the queen of hearts dropped, luckily, no finesse was needed. South could get rid of two clubs on dummy's ten and nine of hearts.

If queen of hearts hadn't dropped, Hecht would have tried the club finesse later on. His line of play gave him two chances, therefore, while either finesse would have given him only one.

CABBAGE FOR EYES—A cabbage to look at rather than eat is displayed by pretty Joan Verstraete of St. Louis, Mo. It's the delicately hued specimen of hana kabatsu, Japanese species. First of its kind to be shown at the Missouri Botanical Garden in St. Louis, the flowering cabbage is a kale-like plant about three feet high with five or six flowering branches. Leaves are pale pink with ruffled green edges.

Walk Around Capitol Gives One A Scare, History Lesson

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON —UP— Want a wonderful scare and a history lesson at the same time? Well, take a walk around the capitol building after they dim the lights.
There are shadows. And there are whispers in the wings behind the statues of Presidents, great orators and other heroes who made America great.
At eventide, the sensation is the greatest. The great men stand in silence and in silhouette. There is Daniel Webster, distinguished in a cutaway. You can almost hear him speaking to the U.S. Senate as the "great expounder and defender of the Constitution."
And yonder in Statuary Hall stands old Sam Houston of Texas, who "adopted Texas and Texas adopted him..." Sam is wearing the "leather" gear of his day, but the buckskin has been replaced by the more permanent garb worn by statues.
A bronze likeness of George Washington looks down on the capitol in the slow light of dusk. He stands there with swagger: stick in hand, seeming to echo that the father of his country was, indeed, "first in war, first in peace...etc."
The shadows collide, and the first President appears to be leaning against a golf bag. It's only a shadow cast by a pillar, but the dim light can certainly fool a man.
Robert E. Lee, who shared with Jefferson Davis the tragedy of the "lost cause," looks in the gloom of the approaching night like he was sharing it, too at the moment.
Down the line always sits Sen. Robert Marion LaFollette, wearing button shoes, his fuzzy hair combed straight back.
In another dimmed hall there is a statue of Benjamin Franklin. An echo seemed to echo something from "Poor Richard's Almanac." Like "a penny saved is a penny earned."
And in another spot of honor, stands the likeness of lovable old Will Rogers. The whispers around the hall seemed to pick up something like:
"All I know is what I read in the papers."

Southern Approaches Protected

OKLAHOMA CITY —UP— Protection of southern approaches to the midsection of the United States will be boosted to 100 per cent coverage with the adjustment of boundary responsibilities of the 33rd Air Defense Division Thursday, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, commanding officer, said Wednesday.
Nuckols said the 33rd's air defense capabilities in the Southwest will be strengthened by the newly organized 20th Air Defense Division and the addition of eight new aircraft control and warning squadrons and 10 new automatic auxiliary radar sites in Texas and Louisiana.
The 20th air defense division will be responsible for Kansas, Missouri, half of Arkansas and the northeast half of Oklahoma, beginning March 1.
Nuckols said the new radar squadrons scheduled for operation this year within the 33rd area will be located at Osona, Eagle Pass, Zapata, Rockport, Port Isabel, Killeen and Lufkin, Tex., and at Lake Charles La. The 10 automatic radar sites will be at Fannett, Van Vleet, McCamey, Carrizo Springs, Comstock, Delmita, Laredo, Riviera and Palacios, Tex. and at Weeks Island, La.

Man-Catchers Of Hollywood Hand Out Advice To Women

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD —UP— This being Leap Year Day, the town's leading man-catchers — Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor — handed out free advice to women: Learn how to cook, don't play hard to get and use intellect and not sex appeal.
These free tips I wheeled out of the beautiful Hungarian blondes for the benefit of any single girls in the audience (me, too).
One point the two actresses agreed on: It's okay to propose to a man this leap year — or any year.
"I proposed to all of my husbands, darling," cooed Zsa Zsa, as she flitted about her Bel-Air home.
"Always tell the men. A woman has to make up a man's mind, anyway."
I ran down Eva at a CBS-TV television rehearsal and she agreed, "Why wait until the man asks you? And if he says no, wear him down." But first, they both believe, "You have to get the guy in love with you."
Zsa Zsa is regarded a sensual female, but her rule: Forget sex appeal and concentrate on the mind.
"It's very important to be intellectual," she said. "All this sex business — what a man wants is companionship in marriage. A woman makes a terrible mistake if she uses sex to get a man. He doesn't just want to make love or see low-cut dresses. He wants a companion."
A female should also "know how to do things — such as cooking," Zsa Zsa believes.
"I can even fix the electricity in my house," she beamed. "I can carpenter. I am a handy man. The more you know, the better it is."
Both agree another mistake a girl can make is to try to make a man jealous — or to play hard to get.
"And a man never likes a woman who yaks too much," Eva added. "It's also a good idea to wear perfume."

Ralph Yarborough Reveals Campaign Contribution

AUSTIN, Tex. —UP— Ralph Yarborough, rated a likely contender in the coming race for governor of Texas, revealed Wednesday he accepted $1,000 from Elmer Patman, oil and gas lobbyist who was the target of a U.S. senatorial inquiry.
Patman, an Austin attorney and representative of Superior Oil Co., was named as the man who provided $2,500, which Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) said was contributed to his campaign at a crucial time during debate on the controversial Harris-Fulbright gas bill.
Yarborough, who unsuccessfully opposed Gov. Allan Shivers in the Democratic primaries of 1952 and 1954, has not announced for governor. However, he has hinted that he will, and said if he runs for any office it will be that of chief executive.

Profit-Sharing Plan Set By C. R. Anthony

Pursuing and extending an established policy, C. R. Anthony Company, by action of its stockholders in annual meeting at Oklahoma City, adopted on February 28 a Profit-Sharing Plan and a Stock Issue Plan for the benefit of its qualifying employees. Lest We Forget Every now and then, if we search the back pages of our newspapers, we can find a brief report from the U.N. Commission in Korea to its "boss" in New York, solemnly detailing the continued violations of the Korean Truce terms by the Chinese Communists in North Korea.

The American government, and therefore its people too, also seem anxious to ignore and forget Korea. Any reference to Communist violations, or to our own unfulfilled promises, only arouses embarrassed silence or angry resentment.

Going through some old clippings the other day, we came across some correspondences between Korean President Syngman Rhee and U.S. President Eisenhower, just before we crammed the Armistice down Rhee's throat.

We have re-read President Eisenhower's reply to Rhee's plea, with an acute sense of guilt. Our President wrote: "The Republic of Korea has engaged all of its resources, human and material, in a struggle which will go down in history as one of the epic struggles of all time.

So, Rhee had no choice but to submit and "trust us." But the promised "political conference which will follow," during which our "central objective" was to be the unification of Korea, and which was to offer Rhee's "best opportunity" to gain liberty for his people, has been as non-existent as Rhee predicted it would be.

THE NATION'S PRESS

A QUESTION OF LOAFING

Our candidate for the man to watch in the labor movement is Mr. Andrew Harvey of Kansas City, Missouri, president of Local 124, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

This will include strict admonitions not to leave tools and helpers at home, and never to say they'll be there on Tuesday without making it quite plain which week they mean.

BETTER JOBS

I want to continue to publish a letter from A. H. Riley of Odessa, Texas asking me many questions on wages and profits. I have published 29 of his questions and attempted to answer them. The 19th question was: "Would it be unethical and dishonest to advocate profit-sharing as a means of combating labor unions?"

National Whirligig Dulles Reports Show That Russians Not 12 Feet Tall

WASHINGTON — Highly effective work by numerous Allied Intelligence Agencies and diplomatic outposts underlines the note of realism and reassurance recently injected into private analyses of world conditions by Secretary John Foster Dulles, especially concerning frozen Russia and the burning Middle East.

It is this well authenticated roundup which, despite boasts of atomic and ballistic supremacy, leads Dulles — and President Eisenhower — to feel confident that the Free World is stronger vis-a-vis Russia than it was a year ago.

Only desperate necessity could justify or necessitate such a revolutionary change, according to our Russian experts here and abroad. It is a frantic effort to check admitted failures on the home and foreign fronts.

Hankering Mac Is Sick And Tired Of Progress

Have you ever wished, as I have, that progress would go soak its head — and in a deep, deep tub of water, too? I am sick and tired of progress. Nothing ever stays put. # All-State Cage Teams Named In Classes AA, A, B

Footballers Can Also Be Good In Hardwood Sports

DALLAS —UP— Two all-state football players who excel just as well in basketball and one repeater from 1955 highlight in the 1956 Class AA all-state cage team compiled by the Texas Sports Writers Association. The two gridder who doubled up in basketball were Weslaco's Bobby Lackey and Nederland's Larry Ward, the former a tallback and the latter an end in football. Both, incidentally, were on the second all-state basketball team a year ago.

The repeater was Mount Vernon's WESLAC Don Meredith, who also has won all-state football honors. Others in Top Five Rounding out the top five men were Jacksonville's Johnny Johnston and Athens' Bobby Browning. Johnston is 6-6, Browning 6-5, Lackey 6-4, Meredith 6-3 and Ward 6-2. All are seniors.

Ward averaged 27.7 points this past season, Johnston 24.5, Lackey and Meredith 24 and Browning 21.7, but only Johnston will be seen in action in the state tournament. Jacksonville eliminated both the regional and Webster's undefeated Wildcats ousted Weslaco in the regional and Nederland in the district play.

Second, Third Teams The other players honored on the mythical team included: Second team—Forwards Edwin Young, Seminole, and Buddy Ephraim; Pecos; center Junior Fritts, Tahoka; guards Jack Ireland, Brenham, and Ernie Sens, San Antonio Northeast. Third team—Forwards Jamie Cane, Jacksonville, and Carl Mitchell, Phillips; center Paul Blanchard, Webster; guards Hulien Yarborough, Lampasas, and John Roberts, Waxahachie.

Honorable mention—Billy Simmons, Colorado City; George Hale, Whitesboro; R. C. Christopher, Pecos; Carl Savant, Vidot; Milton Bond, McGregor; Frank Runyon, South San Antonio; Doug Burrage, Handley; Charles Benson, Seminole; Steve Smith, Marlin; Bobby Sales, Raymondville; Donnie Benham, Andrews; Billy Simmons, Pecos; John Hoggard, Waxahachie; Jimmy Wyrick, Athens.

Rob. Freeman Has Chance At Scoring Honors NEW YORK —UP— Robin Freeman of Ohio State has an outside chance of gaining the national scoring championship, but he'll have to score "real big" in his team's final two games to nose out Darrell Floyd of Furman, the current leader.

According to NCAA service bureau statistics, Floyd has scored 872 points in 26 games for a leading 33.5 points per game average compared to Freeman's 32.4 average on 647 points in 20 games. Floyd has finished his regular season and soon will be playing in the Southern Conference tourney. Freeman gets his chance to catch up against Michigan State Saturday and Minnesota next Monday.

In the all-time scoring rankings, Buzz Wilkinson of Virginia holds the 3-spot behind Frank Selvy, Buzz Wilkinson of Virginia holds 1955 average of 32.1 points per game. Freeman can move ahead of him by maintaining his current pace.

Dan Swartz of Morehead State is third behind Floyd and Freeman at 28.4 and Julius McCoy of Michigan State is fourth at 28.0. There were no leadership changes in other departments. Bill Von Wayne of Rhode Island is the free throw leader with an 87.2 percentage and Joe Holup of George Washington leads in field goal accuracy, .648, and in rebounds, 256.

Winter Is NCAA Coach

By LYLE SCHWILLING MANHATTAN, Kan. — UP— Fred (Tex) Winter — at 34 — is about to make his debut as a big-time basketball coach in NCAA play.

His Kansas State Wildcats have all but wrapped up the Big Seven championship and an NCAA regional berth. The handsome, curly-haired coach is anything but confident, though.

"We've got our two toughest games to go—the only way we'd have the championship sewed up is if they'd give it to us," he said. Winter, who turned 34 a week ago, has guided Kansas State to an 8-2 record. The other six teams have at least four losses each, so Kansas State can sew up the championship with one win in its last two games, against Missouri Saturday and Kansas Tuesday.

The championship would be the first ever for Winter, now in his third year as head coach. And if he gets to the regional, it also will be his first appearance in NCAA play.

Winter has built his near-champion team from a sophomore bench. He regularly starts three sophomores, 6-9 center Jack Parr, 6-3 forward Hayden Abbott, and 6-2 guard Roy DeWitz. Those three improving with each game, pair with seniors Pachtin Vicens and Fritz Schneider as the Wildcat front line.

However, there was still a possibility of a four-way tie in the Big Seven. Teams would be Kansas State, Iowa State, Missouri and either Colorado or Kansas, which still play each other.

The Missouri Valley championship race comes to an end this week with St. Louis (8-3) hoping to tie Houston (9-3) for the crown. St. Louis closes its season at Oklahoma A&M Saturday night. A win would force a one-game playoff with Houston for the NCAA tournament berth.

Holman registered his 30th victory in 42 fights.

Buna Center Heads List Of Class A 'Dream Team'

DALLAS —UP— James Mellard, six-foot, four-inch center who will carry Buna's hopes of repeating as state Class A basketball champion this week, heads that division's all-state team announced Tuesday by the Texas Sports Writers Association. Mellard averaged 27.3 points per game as Buna swept to a 31-4 season and then won two more games in the regional tournament.

At that, his record was only .2 of a point better than Merkle's Robert McLeod, who moved up from 1955's second all-state team to win one of the forward posts this time. Mellard made the all-tourney team last year.

The remainder of the first team included forward James Wells, a 25.4-point per game star at Teague; guard Glen Amerson, who hit at a 24.1-point pace for Monday, and guard Larry Stewart, who averaged 19.4 for Groesbeck. Amerson and McLeod are juniors, the others seniors.

The second team has one junior, Robert Lilly of Throckmorton, one sophomore, Horace Cruise of James Bowie, and three seniors—Craig Trotman of La Feria, Larry Williams of Thorndale and A. W. Shelton of Cooper.

The third team was made up of six players due to a tie for the center post between Wilbert Bigott of Deer Park and Johnny West of Sundeen. The other members were forwards Durwood Hart of Hale Center and Phillip Glasgow of La Fera and guards Leonard Bell of Duncanville and Thomas Callihan of Three Rivers.

The honorable mention list included: Fred Thompson, Stinnett; Monte Lee, Hale Center; Billy Davis, Throckmorton; Kenneth Cox, Co. Tulsa; Weldon Hart, Glen Rose; Tommy Rees, Big Lake; Bobby Haddock, Luling; Alfred Newman, San Antonio East Central; Albert Lock, Bastrop; Sonny Nichols.

Social Outcast Entry Expected ARCADIA, Calif. — UP — Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Social Outcast, who finished a disappointing seventh in last Saturday's Santa Anita Handicap, is expected to make his next start in the San Juan Capistrano at Santa Anita, March 10.

Marion Picks Yankees

TAMPA, Fla. —UP— Marty Marion, who picked his own Chicago White Sox to win the American League pennant last year, singled out the New York Yankees Thursday as "the club to beat" in 1956.

"Let's face it, they have the talent, the best talent in the majors, so you have to pick 'em if you're going to pick anybody," Marion said.

"But we may surprise 'em," he added. Running down the clubs, Marion classified Cleveland as the team "with the best pitching," Boston and Detroit "about the same as last year," and his White Sox as "definitely improved."

The White Sox wound up third last season, only five games behind the pennant-winning Yankees, but Marion feels his club made up that difference with the acquisition of slugger Larry Doby from the Indians during the winter.

"I can't see Cleveland beating the Yankees because even though they're all right at second, third and shortstop, the Indians still have a problem at first base," he said.

Marion admitted the Indians have shown some interest in his big first baseman, Walt Dropo, "but we got him to hit for us and we don't plan to let him go."

"The Indians just don't have enough to catch the Yankees," he added, "but we certainly have a good chance to do it."

German Keeps Title SAINTES NAZAIRE, France —UP— Gerhard Hecht of Germany floored France's Charles Colin five times Sunday night and scored a technical knockout in the 13th round to retain his European light heavyweight title. It was the fourth defense of the crown Hecht won in April 1954. Each fighter weighed in at 173 1/4 pounds.

Avoca's Max Williams Makes It Third Time

DALLAS —UP— Marvelous Max Williams, who has averaged 23.2 points per game for a fabulous four-year career at tiny Avoca High School, has won Class B all-state schoolboy basketball berth for the third straight year.

But, the sharpshooting little (5-10) youngster from West Texas is only one of three repeaters on the mythical team picked by the Texas Sports Writers Association. Both Bill Pfluger of Eden and Bobby Coe of Detroit, the team's tallest man at 6-4, are on it for the second straight year after the 5-10 Pfluger averaged a remarkable 36.4 points per game and Coe 32 points per game this season. Pfluger was on the Class A team a year ago.

Mac Kehoe, a 6-3 forward from Texline who averaged 25 points this year, and stubby little Jerry Dyer, a ball-hawking ace who hit at a 17.5-point clip for Bedias, rounded out the top five.

Williams, who averaged 38 points as Avoca raced to a 32-4 this season, was the lone returnee from last year's state champion Avoca club, but the team seems headed for another state crown. He is the only first teamer whose team made it to the state tourney opening tomorrow in Austin.

Other players honored by the writers included: Second team — Forwards Oscar Williams, Big Sandy, and Jerry Comalander, Dilley; center Don Johnson, Quail; guards Filmon Talamentex, Brackettville, and John Bass, Anton.

Third team — Forwards Darrell Reed, Bovina, and Elliott Mattlage, Crawford; center Lloyd Smith, Johnson City; guards Billy Riley, Banquette, and Bobby Driver, Knox City.

Honorable mention — Jerry Mathews, Mosheim Jimmy Saeger, Pflugerville; Kenneth Smith, Delmar; Troy Mullins, Powderly; Oscar Galloway, Aspermont; Bill Patton, Clyde; C. W. Simmons, Bellville; Joe Thomas, Big Sandy; Eddie Celestine, Big Sandy; Don Letourgeon, Medina; Robert Davis, Whitharral; Howard Whitehead, Dilley; Weldon Schnautz, Kyle; Dandy Arrington, Union Grove; David Holstrom, Hutto.

McLean Junior Class Play Set

The Junior Class of McLean High School will present a three-act mystery comedy — accent on comedy — entitled "Finder's Creepers", Friday March 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.
 The cast includes Fred Smith as Wilbur Maxwell; Joe Dwyer as Hercules Nelson; June Dorsey as Celeste; Ann Silgar as Nina; Patricia Wiggins as Frankie; Betty Dickinson as Mary; Roy Hancock as Uncle Bob; Mauree Miller as Grannie; E. W. Riley as Mr. Quigley; Gayle Mullanax as Dr. Brown; Sharon Immel as Madeleine; Paul Garvin as Mr. Schuster; Martha Joe McCurley as Daphne; and Pat Miller as Claude.
 Miss Billie Brown and Harold Robinson, class sponsors have quoted the admission prices as 25 cents and 50 cents for general admission and 75 cents for reserved seats.
Another Crosby Performs
 LAS VEGAS, Nev. — UP — Cathy Crosby, 16, is the latest member of the famed show business family to perform in a nightclub. The girl joined her bandleader — singer father, Bob, in a number Tuesday night at the Sahara hotel opening. She and her dad kidded his oldest brother, Bing, in the song.

QUOTES IN THE NEWS

By UNITED PRESS
 WASHINGTON — Press Secretary James C. Hagerly on having to turn down 75 applications to attend President Eisenhower's news conference because of space limitations:
 "I haven't any idea why everybody wants to come to this press conference."
 WASHINGTON — Gen. Nathan E. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, on his belief that this country's ability to strike back with devastating force makes it safe from Russian attack:
 "No nation is going to attempt a war with us with the terrific losses he would have to take."
 WASHINGTON — Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of U.S. naval operations, on the role of U.S. naval forces in any possible future war:
 "After the initial blows are struck by both sides, United States ability to take further action may well depend on the mobile striking power available to us at sea."
 HOLLYWOOD — Comedian Red Skelton on a possible invitation by the Soviets to make a trip to Russia:
 "They're brave people, inviting me to their country. If I go, it'll never be the same."
 CHICAGO — Ralph Bunche, undersecretary of the United Nations, in a statement on "bigoted whites who 'smear' supporters of Negro rights as Communists:
 "This serves Communist purposes admirably but it will not deter the Negro."
 FLORENCE, S.C. — Negro leader Clarence Mitchell on Florence, S.C., officials declining to press charges after he refused to use a back entrance at a railroad station:
 "I hope this means the end of segregation in Florence."
 WASHINGTON — Abe McGregor Goff, Post Office Department solicitor, on his advice to people who receive unordered merchandise in the mail:
 "The public can do much to discourage the practice of mailing unordered merchandise by refusing to buy or return it. Personally, I just throw such stuff in the wastebasket."
 Excessive speed contributes to three out of 10 fatal highway accidents.
