Optimist Week Is Proclaimed In Pampa

Mayor Lynn Boyd has signed a proclamation declaring this week to be Optimist Week in the city of Pampa. The mayor signed the document at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office with Jerald Sims, president of the local Optimist Club.

The Proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS, for the past several years, the Optimist Club has been active in the City of Pampa, Texas, and

WHEREAS, the Optimist Club is a growing and flourishing civic organization in the City of Pampa, Texas, and

WHEREAS, the week beginning November 11 is being designated throughout the nation as Optimist Week.

NOW, THEREFORE I, Lynn Boyd, Mayor of the City of Pampa, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week beginning November 11th as OPTIMIST WEEK in the City of Pampa, Texas, and do urge every citizen to take time out from their duties to observe the same.

Hotel Group Has Check-Up Meet Today

The executive committee of the proposed community owned hotel for Pampa met this morning in Johnson's Cafe at 7 o'clock for a check-up meeting.

They reviewed prospect cards and discussed which member of the committee was best qualified to contact the prospect. Several prospect cards were interchanged so that the person best qualified would make the contact.

The executive committee has decided to hold the meetings each morning at Johnson's Cafe through Friday morning and officers of the group urge all members to attend these meetings.

At 4:30 p.m. today all group sales managers of the general sales force were to meet in the Palm Room to reserve names of prospective subscribers for salespeople in their groups to contact for stock subscriptions in Pampa's community owned hotel.

At 5 p.m. the entire general sales force is to meet in the Palm Room for the final check-up rally before the general sales campaign begins Friday.

At the meeting demonstrations on how not to sell stock and on how to sell stock will be given in addition to additional instructions on the various forms the sales personnel will use.

UF Contributions Total $32,255

Clinton Evans, Pampa - Lefors United Fund drive chairman, reported this morning that a total of $32,255 in contributions had been turned in by UF workers.

Evans remarked that Monday was "another fine check in. The big problem, however, is that there are so many cards out that haven't been turned in."

Evans urged UF workers to contact all the names on the cards they had been issued and report their results in order to wind up the campaign. "Our biggest need now is to hear from all the workers," Evans said.

U. N. Force Debarkation Reports Are Contradictory

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON — UP — British military leaders on Cyprus warned today of the possibility of a "sneak" air attack from Syria during the period a United Nations police force is taking over the duties of preserving peace in the Middle East.

The semi-official Mideast News Agency in Cairo announced the first detachment of a U.N. force of 45 men arrived today at Abusweir Airfield, south of Ismailia. But in Naples a U.N. spokesman said no U.N. troops had yet left the staging area.

New Fighting In Budapest Erupts

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

VIENNA (UP) — New fighting erupted today in Budapest where Soviet leaders were reported trying to quell the Hungarian rebellion.

Reports from an unimpeachable source in Budapest said it was impossible to pin down definitely where the battle was raging, since it was some distance from the center of the city.

It was evident, however, that diehard bands of freedom fighters were still battling Soviet tanks and troops on the outskirts of the shattered capital, the source said. He added there was no fighting in the inner city.

A delegation of top Soviet leaders flew into Budapest in a desperate attempt to find ways of ending continued resistance to the Communist regime.

Refugee Flood Continues
Austrian authorities reported the flood of refugees from Hungary continued with more than 2,300 men, women and children crossing the frontier into Austria since noon Monday.

The Austrian radio said Hungarian Communist border guards opened fire on a group of refugees trying to cross near Rechnitz. The radio said two of the refugees were wounded and the others beaten and dragged back bodily.

United Press correspondent Russell Jones said in a dispatch from Budapest there were reports a group of Russian leaders, including Nikita S. Khrushchev, flew there to try to restore order and bring the puppet regime of Janos Kadar.

Hungarian reports told of continuing resistance throughout Hungary and no sign of an end to the 21-day-old general strike that has produced chaos.

U. N. To Discuss Hungarian Revolt

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — The United Nations General Assembly is expected to put aside other issues today and take up on an urgent basis the revolt in Hungary.

The Soviet-backed regime of Premier Janos Kadar rejected Monday a U.N. request that it admit observers into shattered and starving Hungary. In effect, the Budapest government said the anti-Communist revolt and its suppression by Soviet tanks and troops was none of the U.N.'s business.

It was a foregone conclusion that the 15-nation Steering Committee meeting today would decide to place the issue immediately before the assembly.

When the assembly ended its twin-emergency sessions Saturday on the crisis in Hungary and the Middle East, provision was made to bring the problems up before the regular session.

Quick action was necessary, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold planned to leave by plane at 5 p.m. to supervise setting up of the U.N. police force in the Middle East. He will not return before Sunday.

If the General Assembly wanted him to make any immediate moves in the Hungarian situation, it would have to decide before he left New York.

Hammarskjold received the latest communication by cable from the puppet Kadar regime late Monday. The message was signed

Mexicans Gun U. S. Shrimp Boat In Gulf

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP) — A Mexican gunboat seriously wounded the captain of an American shrimp boat last night, seized the fishing craft and headed toward a Mexican port.

The international incident occurred about 70 miles from the Mexican port of Tampico and 11 miles from the Mexican coast, Bascom Cox, attorney for the Texas Shrimp Fisherman's Association, said.

It was the first time an American boat captain had been wounded in a series of fishing incidents in the lower Gulf of Mexico, although Mexican craft have fired on American fishing boats before.

The wounded captain was Tom Wilson, in command of the Peasacore, sailing out of Brownsville, Cox, who had been in radio contact with another fishing boat that witnessed the incident, said Wilson was shot twice. He said the captain was hit once by a rifle bullet. Another glanced off the boat structure and hit him a glancing blow.

The direct hit was in the kidney.

Cox said radio contact was kept up with the Joyce Carinhaz, a

Pole Secret Police May Be Abolished

By KONRAD OSTERLOFF

WARSAW, Poland (UP) — Parliament was expected today to abolish the Polish secret police on the eve of the departure of Polish leaders for Moscow for top level talks on Poland's future.

A resolution to abolish the secret police (UB), officially known as the Committee for Affairs of Public Security, was placed before the Sejm (Parliament) Monday and political observers said there was little doubt it would pass.

day, but he was expected to wait until after Parliament ends Thursday.

The report said Edward Tchab, the Communist Party leader replaced by Gomulka, and Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz would accompany him.

Shrine Club Will Sponsor Grabel Show

The Pampa Shrine Club will sponsor the Lee Grabel Revue next Wednesday, Nov. 21, John Pitts, secretary of the club, announced yesterday.

The Revue is a combination illusionist - Musical extravaganza, and will perform in the Junior High School Auditorium at 8 p.m.

In the transaction which led to the visit to Pampa by this group C. A. Frank of the C. A. Frank Agency Office made a special trip to this city and personally made all arrangements with the local Shrine Club, who are the sponsors of the revue.

Frank stated that acts from Grabel's two hour program caused a national sensation on the ABC television network a few months ago when it appeared on the program "You Asked For It." Within hours of the performance, Frank said, more than 13,000 letters were received praising what some called an unbelievable performance in which a pianist floated in mid-air, turned head over head, and played on without missing a single note.

D. E. Holt, president of the local Shrine Club, said, "The Shrines are more than delighted to have the opportunity to bring this outstanding attraction to Pampa. This might not have been possible presently on a transcontinental tour and fortunately this date was open so that our city could be included in the itinerary."

There will be a matinee and evening performance. Prices for the matinee will be 35 cents for students and 50 for adults; and the evening performance will be 75 cents for children (under 12) and $1.50 for adults.

Texas Demos For Ike Open Control Fight

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP) — Texas Eisenhower Democrats and liberal-loyalists opened a new fight today, with control of the new U.S. Senate possibly in the balance.

The pro-Eisenhower group was led by Gov. Allan Shivers who demanded that Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) resign from the Senate immediately. Daniel is Texas governor-elect.

The senator submitted a resignation Sept. 27, to be effective Jan. 15.

The new Senate lineup includes 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans. If Daniel's seat were vacant when the new Senate is organized, a 47-47 tie vote could result, since Sen. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) had said he will take his seat some days after the new session opens.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon would cast the deciding vote in case of a tie. If the Republicans should elect a GOP candidate as Daniel's successor, the new Senate would line up 48-48, with Nixon again breaking the tie.

Daniel's Senate term has two years to go.

Shivers released a letter sent to Daniel Monday, saying:

"If you do not resign effective immediately, with no strings attached, I must agree with many of your friends that, in spite of your promises to the contrary, you now seek to control both offices — governor of Texas and the United States senate — and plan to appoint your own successor."

"If you will submit an unconditional resignation, effective immediately, I will call the election at the earliest possible date that the law permits."

Daniel has said he will be on hand for the opening of the new Senate so that he may vote with the Democrats. Daniel backed Mr. Eisenhower in 1952, but took no part in the 1956 presidential campaign. Shivers backed Mr. Eisenhower in both years.

Shivers said that under Texas law he could not even call a special election until after Jan. 15, the effective date of the resignation. The election would have to be at least 60 days after the proclamation calling it.

Firemen Are Repairing Toys

Members of the local fire department are busy repairing toys for Santa Claus to give to local children that would not otherwise receive toys at Christmas.

The firemen are rebuilding the toys and are painting them so that they look like new.

Anyone that has toys he wishes to donate for the firemen to repair for needy children is requested to bring them by the Pampa Fire Station.

US To Agree On Meeting, But Not Soon

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States is almost certain to agree to a Big Three meeting with Britain and France on critical world problems, but not in the immediate future, informed sources said today.

They declined to predict when a conference of President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet might be scheduled. Consideration of a parley has been under way for some days.

Reports from Paris said Mr. Eisenhower has agreed in principle to another Big Three meeting, probably in Washington.

But White House spokesman Murray Snyder said Monday that there are no plans for such a meeting "at this moment." His statement did not rule out a conference in the coming months.

Officials said a Big Three session is certain to be held if the British and French want it strongly.

There are two chief reasons the United States is not rushing into the proposed top-level round of discussions on world problems:

It wants to concentrate its main efforts for achieving peace in the critical Middle East in the United Nations.

Also, the United States, as the only Big Three power which did not get involved in the Middle East fighting, is reluctant to sit down quickly with two of the belligerents. If it did, some other nations might suspect that the United States really had supported the British and French in their military stab into the Suez Canal Zone.

Train Derailment Damages Given As $16,500 By Santa Fe

Some of the cattle have been shipped back to Amarillo and the remainder are being held in pens in Pampa pending word from the owner as to what disposition he wants made.

Work is still in progress on repairing damages to the tracks and signal wires used by Santa Fe. The two main lines were repaired before daylight yesterday and work is still in progress on the sidings and signal wires. No report was available this morning on when the repair work would be completed.

Right-Of-Way For Underpass Is Discussed

The securing of right-of-way for the Hobart Street underpass was the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the City Commission in City Hall this morning.

DeLea Vicars, who has been working on obtaining the right-of-way, reported to the commission that agreements have been reached on the purchase of all remaining outstanding right-of-way with the exception of one tract.

Plans call for the completion of the purchase of the right-of-way as soon as possible.

In other action the commissioners approved the payment of $2,272.40 to Ray Boswell for the paving of the 900 and 1000 blocks of W. Kentucky. The money was paid to the city by the owner of the property and the city acted only as the collection agency on the paving.

Monthly bills in the amount of $16,806.21 were approved and bills in the amount of $200.64 for Lovett Memorial Library were also approved by the commissioners.

An estimate from Roberts, Merriam and Bowden, for engineering services rendered the city, was also approved.

The first reading of a zoning ordinance which will zone lots 13 through 18 of Block 2 of the Sawyer Addition for commercial use was passed. The property is that which Fox-Rig Lumber Company will use to erect a new lumber yard. The move is caused by construction of the Hobart Street underpass. This property is located on the south side of Alcock.

Texas License Plates To Have A 'New Look'

Texas license plates will have a "new look" as of Jan. 1, 1957, Jack Back, county tax assessor announced this morning.

It will be a "new look" in that the color combination will be changed for the first time in several years.

The new plates will have a white background with black letters and numerals. Also included will be a small star which will separate the prefix from the base numbers.

In a letter from D. T. Harkrider, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department, which made the change official, he expressed the opinion that these changes will be welcome and at the same time offer more legible plates for enforcement purposes.

1957 plates for trucks, truck trailers and trailers will have a green background with black letters and numerals.

There's New New Deal In Demo Party's Future

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—There's a new "New Deal" in the future of the Democratic Party. A sharp move to a more left-of-center position on domestic issues is in the cards.

President Eisenhower also will be offering United States voters a political new look. He calls it modern Republicanism. Mr. Eisenhower's modern Republican Party is Mr. Eisenhower himself much more than it is the party and the party organization which he leads.

Modern Republicanism is a blend of the old time GOP religion with the Roosevelt New Deal of 20 years ago. Mr. Eisenhower did not borrow all of FDR's deal. The Republican President balked, for example, at Roosevelt public power policies. He regards the Tennessee Valley development as creeping Socialism. Modern Republicanism is inclined toward placing responsibilities on the states and away from centralization of big government in Washington.

Mr. Eisenhower would like to be a budget balancer first and a big spender, if necessary, afterward. FDR put the Democrats on the big spending thoroughfare, and it paid off big at the polls. Roosevelt and Truman policies, however, were modified somewhat as those administrations faded into history.

Adlai E. Stevenson sought to make it official before the Democratic National Convention by suggesting that the time had come for moderation in all things political. Gov. Averell Harriman, New York, and Gov. G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, Michigan, rebuked Stevenson for that.

"There is no place in the Democratic Party," said Harriman, "for moderation."

That was what much of the battling was about in Chicago when the Democrats gathered to write their platform and to nominate a presidential candidate. Stevenson, the moderate candidate, won in Chicago but took a bad beating in last week's election.

The Democratic Party as represented by its other candidates throughout the nation did much better than Stevenson. These less-

Students In Vienna Are Fleeing Reds

DALLAS (UP)—Alessandra Cominik, a Dallas girl who is taking graduate work at the University of Vienna, reports that her friends are fleeing out of fear that the angry Russians will invade Austria.

Miss Cominik wrote her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralberto Comini, that the Russians are enraged by the help the Austrians have been giving Hungarian patriots. Her letter was dated Nov. 7.

"It seems to me that Russia is pretty ready to fight and what better time to extend her borders once more than now, when she has all her troops mobilized and has almost a 'legal' excuse to cross over into Austrian ground," she wrote.

"Many people here fear it and although just yesterday people were saying that in case of a third world war Austria was one of the safest places to be, as no one would bother with it, today these sample people are panicky and several have left town.

"This is the oddest thing of all. Three people that I know quite

Supreme Court Meets Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court meets today to hand down opinions before hearing this month's final week of arguments.

Arguments on the big Dupont-General Motors anti-trust suit start Wednesday. The government is trying to show that the two giant corporations are working together in violation of federal anti-monopoly laws.

Among cases under advisement of the court are two Communist cases. They involve a constitutionality test of the "membership clause" in the Smith Act of 1940 and the appeal of 14 California Communists from a conspiracy conviction.

A Doctor and his telephone

by Don Davis, Telephone News Reporter

Dr. Robert N. Crews, physician and family doctor for more than 60 years. His practice has touched the lives of thousands of friends and neighbors.

His hand is steady, his step is firm, his spirit is brisk. It's as if the passing years were bent on keeping Robert Crews eternally young, so that a life of dedicated service might continue on and on.

For, you see, Robert Crews is a doctor. Still active at 85, he's been healer, advisor and friend to his neighbors since before the turn of the century.

BRINGS BACK BYGONE DAYS
To sit and talk with Dr. Crews is to reminisce of the horse-and-buggy and the Model-T, to picture in your mind a lonely figure in the dead of night on his way to answer a call for help, to feel deeply grateful for such men who ask so little and give so much.

But Dr. Crews neither seeks full credit nor thinks it's due him. Not that he belittles his career. He is quite proud of it. He only insists he had help—and lots of it. Maybe that's why, when the conversation got around to his telephone, he spoke with the warmth of a man talking about an old and valued friend.

"I guess I share more memories with my telephone than with almost anyone or anything," said Dr. Crews. "My telephone's been a part of my life and my work so long we're an inseparable team. Why, taking away my telephone would be like taking away my stethoscope and thermometer!"

TELEPHONE TAKES OVER
To illustrate his dependence on the telephone, Dr. Crews' favorite story concerns a worried mother, a child sick with the croup, and a raging blizzard.

The mother's frantic telephone call came late at night. Could the doctor help her child who seemed to be growing worse every minute? With eight impassable miles of blizzard and deep snow between him and the child, Dr. Crews had to rely on the telephone.

He prescribed and explained treatment for the mother to give—then kept in touch by telephone until he was sure the child was out of danger.

Can you imagine the comfort and peace of mind Dr. Crews and his telephone brought that mother that night?

NO GREATER VALUE
We owe much to men like Dr. Crews. For telephone service to have shared so fully in his accomplishments is a high honor indeed. No service could offer a greater value than that of providing a day-and-night link between you and your doctor.

May Dr. Crews and his telephone be together for many years to come.

Local Polio Head Says Needs High

"The 1957 financial need for the fight against polio will be $46,900,000 for patient care, rehabilitation, research, vaccination program, professional and public education," it was reported today by Rev. Edwin L. Hall, Gray County campaign director following his return from a regional conference of March of Dimes leaders in Dallas.

"Rehabilitation of those already stricken with polio, and those who will still contract the disease is also a big job which the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis must see through," Rev. Hall said. "To a frightened child depending on an iron lung for the breathing of life, the Salk vaccine is poor consolation. We must return as many polio victims to happy, useful living as the increasingly effective techniques of medical rehabilitation will permit."

Rev. Hall met with Raymond H. Barrows, executive director of the National Foundation and 450 polio officials, state chairmen, campaign directors and chapter chairmen at the one day meeting.

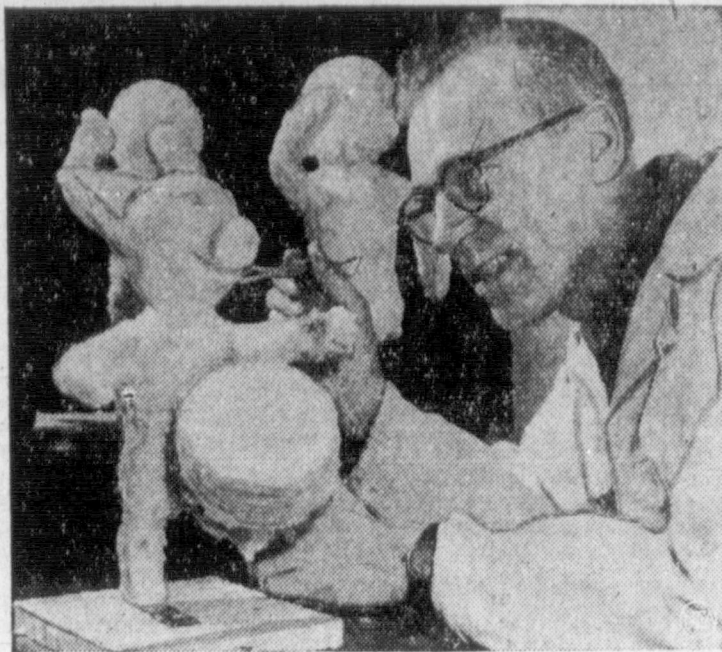

He pointed out that polio is not beaten yet. It is still striking, as evidenced by the recent outbreak in Chicago. And there are still millions of unvaccinated persons, children as well as adults. "Far too many of these have been stricken already, or will be in the future," Rev. Hall stated. "It is for this reason that our efforts must be unrelenting until the battle against this disease is finally won."

"The chief practical problem in cutting polio incidence is to get more people to take advantage of the Salk vaccine. The National Foundation recognizes that there will be families who cannot afford vaccinations and, to meet this need, ten million dollars has been included in the 1957 budget to be used wherever other resources are not available. Studies are now being made to determine most effective method of expanding these funds. After the 1957 March of Dimes when this amount of money is available, it will be administered by National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis chapters with the advice of the medical profession," Rev. Hall said.

Pampan's Father Dies Monday

Mrs. Ted Maguire, 1326 Charles, has left for Oklahoma City, Okla., to attend the funeral of her father, Mr. C. F. Bervinkle, who died Monday at Mercy Hospital, Oklahoma City.

Mr. Bervinkle resided with his daughter here off and on for the past 15 years. He was 83 years old. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at the Guardian Funeral Home in Oklahoma City.

Missing Boys Are Returned

Juvenile officer H. A. Doggett announced this morning that the two Pampa boys who have been missing from their home for about a week, have been found and returned.

The two boys were picked up yesterday in Ballinger, by police officers there and were returned here last night.

The boys ran away from home about a week ago and were the subject of a state-wide alarm before being found yesterday.

They apparently went to the home of a brother of one of the boys who lives in Wingate, which is about 30 miles north of Ballinger. When the brother went to get them a bus ticket back to Pampa, they ran away from him and were eventually picked up by police officers in Ballinger and returned here.

Man Fined On Driving Charge

A Lefors man was fined $100 plus costs and given 3 days in jail after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

The man, Lawrence W. Gross, was arrested by Constable Clendenen of Lefors at about 5:30 p.m. on Nov. 10, 1956, after being involved in an accident with a car owned by Roy Howard.

Gross backed into Howard's car causing an estimated damage of $35 to it. There was no damage incurred to his own car.

MEXICANS

Gunboat Seizes Wounded Man Cox said the Joyce Carinhas reported that Tom Wilson was taken aboard the Mexican gunboat and that the captain of the Mexican craft "tried to get him to sign a blank piece of paper."

When Wilson refused, he was returned to the shipmer and a Latin American crewman was taken aboard the Mexican boat and an attempt was made to get him to sign a statement.

There was no immediate report on whether either United States Coast Guard vessel had reached the scene. Cox said it was reported to him that Tom Wilson had asked for medical aid and was refused it by the Mexican crew.

Hungarian Boys, Girls To Get Aid

Money and more than 10 tons of clothing from Save the Children Federation are being rushed from America for aid to Hungarian boys and girls, SCF President Dr. Richard P. Saunders announced today.

The Federation has cabled funds in answer to an urgent appeal for assistance from its representative in Vienna. A substantial shipment of children's clothing and layettes left the SCF warehouse in New York City last Friday to be flown via Pan American Airways free of charge to refugees in Austria. This week the S.S. Export Lines will embark from Hampton Roads, Va., with more SCF clothing.

"More than 15,000 refugees have fled from Hungary into Austria, mostly women and children," Dr. Saunders stated. "Countless unaccompanied children — Cold, hungry and lost — wear tags around their necks saying 'Please take me in. My mother and father are fighting to free Hungary.'"

"For the relief of such youngsters Save the Children Federation is launching a nation-wide campaign to raise more clothing and money." SCF — an international nonprofit, nonsectarian organization — has served needy children without regard to race or creed for the past 25 years.

Dr. Saunders stressed that his organization was emptying its warehouses in order to meet "one of the most tragic events in modern times." He urged Americans to help by sending cash contributions to "Hungarian Refugee Relief," Save the Children Federation, United Nations Plaza, New York 17, N.Y. Bundles of child and adult clothing, also urgently needed, should be sent to Save the Children Federation Warehouse, Knoxville, Tennessee.

14,426,000 Over 65 In US

WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation now has about 14,426,000 persons 65 years and older, more than twice as many as in 1930, the Census Bureau said Monday. This represents about 8.8 per cent of the total population—the highest percentage of oldsters on record.

Light Vote Is Expected On Amendment

By UNITED PRESS One of the lightest statewide votes in recent Texas history — probably not more than 200,000 — was expected for today's special election on a State Constitution amendment.

The election would have been held last week except for a legislative error. Eight new amendments were approved at last Tuesday's general elections, but the Legislature, in setting the election date for the ninth amendment, decreed the vote would be on the second Tuesday of November.

The amendment would provide state welfare aid to totally and permanently handicapped persons. It would set up a welfare program providing for payments up to $20 a month to those disabled by a physical or mental handicap.

New Building Permits Are Issued Here

Building permits for the construction of new business buildings and new residences totaling $65,700 have been issued by the city engineer's office this week, James Cowan, city engineer, reported.

Two permits for the construction of business buildings were issued. One of the permits was issued to Raymond Parker for the construction of a concrete block building at 520 Wilks at the cost of $2,300. The other permit for a business building was issued for the construction of a $15,000 building at 728 N. Hobart by E. V. Ward, contractor.

Three residential permits were also issued. Two of the permits were issued to Highland Homes, Inc. One was for the construction of a residence at 2106 N. Nelson at a cost of $12,500 and the other permit was for the construction of a $11,750 residence at 2206 N. Nelson.

The other permit for a new residence was issued to H. R. Jeter for the construction of a $24,000 residence at 2112 Christine.

20th Century Cotillion Given Program On History, Tourist Spots Of London

A program on London, "Mother City of the British Empire," was presented at the meeting of Twentieth Century Cotillion Club in the home of Mrs. Jim Campbell by Mrs. W. D. Price Jr. and Mrs. John Campbell.

HISTORY
The history of the city was given by Mrs. Price, who stated that London may have been occupied before the Roman settlement although its recorded history begins in 43 A.D. It was invaded by the Romans, the Saxons and William the Conqueror, in that order, she pointed out.
She explained that William began the erection of the Tower of London in 1078. The second Norman king, William II, was the builder of the Westminster Hall, and the first London bridge was completed during his reign.
The chapel at Westminster Abbey was built during the reign of Henry VII, who ascended to the throne at the close of the War of the Roses, Mrs. Price stated.
Elizabeth's reign is associated with the first attempt to limit the size of London, she continued, by her order in 1580 forbidding building within three miles of the city gates. She added that Shakespeare "helped to make her reign glorious." The first playhouse or theater was built in 1576 during her reign. The famous "Globe" or "Bankside" theater was opened in 1598, she added.
The banqueting hall of Whitehall was built during the reign of James I, the women were told. Mrs. Price went on to tell of the diary of Samuel Pepys and his description of the Great Plague (1665) and the Great Fire (1666), which caused more damage than the German bombs of World War II.
Mrs. Price told of the building of the second London bridge during the reign of George II; the Carlton House built as the residence of George IV; the building of another London bridge by William IV in 1830; and the first steam train in 1836.
She explained that Queen Victoria's long reign was marked by many changes, including the rebuilding of the burned Royal Exchange in 1844, the first tram car in 1860, the second Westminster Bridge in 1862, the first underground railway in 1863 and the first permanent tramcar service in 1870.
"Of all the great cities of the world, many people have found London the friendliest and the least pretentious," she concluded. "It is the largest collection of buildings ever erected on an equal area of the earth. . . Many of its wonderful cathedrals and churches, and other buildings as well, are revered for their age and beauty and have been the subject of poem and song."
"London is a museum and a fair. The world comes to London to study and to play. It is a market where the whole world trades. It is a capital where world-changing decisions are made."

SIGHTS FOR TOURISTS
Mrs. John Campbell told of the sights for tourists to see in London, including "Westminster Abbey where coronations have taken place since the year 1066," its fine examples of English architecture, St. Paul's Cathedral, whose "large dome dominates the London skyline," the House of Parliament on the Thames, and Big Ben located in the Tower.
"You'll want to see Buckingham Palace," she told the women.

MEMBERSHIP
Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. Rufe Jordan led a short discussion on the new hotel project. Mrs. John Spearman was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. E. W. Meaders of Cordell, Okla., was introduced as a guest by Mrs. Martin Stubbe, president.
Fifteen members were present.

THE HAT IS THE FOCUS OF FALL FASHION, in both silhouette and color news and wonderful wool felts richly deserve first place in color appeal and adds depth and glow to high fidelity shades with kitten-soft finishes, brushed furry luxury, tempting tweedy mixtures and a fine hand for quality and a "more expensive" look.

THIS SEASON'S "hatter hats" excel in face framing flatterings and are the strong personality types of "this year of the hat." Easy-to-wear clothes have deeply satisfying crowns and a nice choice of brim widths for easy - to - please verve and variety. There is a becoming cloche for every fall hat wardrobe - and a more comfortable, flattering hat would be hard to find. The newly bulky clothes compound their fashion interest in tweedy mixtures of beiges and grays, coppery browns and forest greens. Trims are tailored to a T . . . twined and tasseled gay color wool bands, triple trims of contrasting narrow felt stripping, tall or tip quill and feather fancies. A really new look is triple tiered, in clothes and bonnets with height, depth and the bulk of excitement! Many brims are cushioned in the luxury look and animate fashion with flatterings fringe. Others outline their smartness with luxurious braid. Fine soleil finishes distinguish the creamy white and beiges, warm the new ice shades of pink, blue and gold in tiered silhouettes that dramatize fall fashions.

Dressier hats are brimful of news, in the casablanca silhouette with shallow crown and deep brim. Here, the width of the brim is a versatile span-close and curving or broad and beautiful and at least two versions of the casablanca belong in every new season hat wardrobe - for both the New Look and for new color interest. The new blue matches Monaco's Mediterranean and a glowing copper tone that sheds flattery on the wearer by reflection. Both Mediterranean blues and copper hues are deep in color consciousness this fall, with brilliance sparking fashion highlights on becoming brims for dining and dating.

Beloved berets have added bulk to their comfortable fit and fitness for many occasion wear. The same desire to please is apparent in the bulkier pill boxes that cushion their edges for a new look. These wearable hat favorites win the popularity voice in fire red, forest greens, all the grays including charcoal and are a mine of great richness in copper tones. Tweed mixtures in berets and pill boxes are the tailored terrifics, with flat ribbon bows and button trim accenting their fashion alertness.

Among the sophisticates, domes rise to new heights and are poised for assured importance in a variety of sizes to suit every taste, with bumper edge bulk to satisfy the smartest wish, in a choice of glitter bands, swathed veils, appliqued sparkle studied felt leaves or scrolls, or a flurry of fringes. The glamour magic of face veils in still with us, for domes and cloches and casabancas. Veils, too, are a matter of preference and personal taste - veils can be added or subtracted with stunning effect, either way.

Reporter Tells Of Ravage In Hungary

EDITOR'S NOTE:
United Press Staff Correspondent Anthony Cavendish flew from Warsaw to Budapest Oct. 29 aboard a Polish Red Cross plane and walked into Budapest past long lines of Soviet tanks leaving the burning capital. He still was in Budapest when the Russians returned to begin the destruction of the once beautiful city on the Danube. Cavendish now has arrived in Vienna after being captured and held by the Russians more than 50 hours in the Hungarian town of Győr. In the following dispatch he tells the story of the rape of the Hungarian capital by the Red Army.

line against armor and big guns. It was suicide to be a Red army infantryman in that kind of battle without quarter. Soviet headquarters in Budapest are established in the Hungarian defense ministry. The Soviet commandant is a Major General Grebennik. No one seemed to know his first name — if it matters. But the mastermind behind the Red army's efforts to crush free Hungary is generally believed to be Marshal Georg Zhukov himself, conqueror of Berlin, hero of the Soviet Union, Soviet defense minister.

MaJ. Gen. Pal Maleter, hero of the first rebel stand at Kilian barracks and now Hungarian defense minister, was caught at Soviet headquarters negotiating with the Russians. A Soviet officer marched up to the main door of the Kilian barracks and demanded entry. A rebel sentry opened the door. He was shot dead on the spot. Red army tanks converged on the yellow skone building, already pock - marked from the earlier fighting. The tanks opened point-blank fire on it. Within an hour it was blazing and more than 300 of the 700 original defenders were either dead or dying. Children's Clinic Attacked Directly in the line of fire was a children's clinic with more than 200 sick youngsters in it. Doctors and nurses sent out desperate pleas to spare the building. But the Red army gunners were ruthlessly deaf to the appeals. Hospital authorities telephoned the British legation, which in turn appealed to the Soviet embassy. The Red embassy replied it could "do nothing."

How many were killed there never was known for sure. But certain it is that few escaped. And still, in the midst of battle raging all around them, old women wrapped in black shawls scurried through the ruins and smoke seeking a cabbage or a loaf of bread to feed their starving families. The young men were all out fighting. Or their bodies lay mangled in the streets. Soviet tanks drove callously over them. Almost all had been shot down by the Red army tank guns. Outside the dingy old Duna Hotel on the Danube, headquarters of all foreign correspondents in Budapest, lay the crumpled body of a man in a green hunting cape. On the house opposite flew a green-white-red tricolor flag of Hungary with a large round hole where the Communist red star had been cut out. Writer Restrained United Press Correspondent Russell Jones was about to tear the flag down to drape over the body when someone restrained him. The body was that of an AVO secret policeman chopped down in error by a Russian tank gun. Western observers put the Hungarian casualties in the first four days of the battle at around 5,000 Hungarians and perhaps 500 Russians. But when the city morgue was called to remove a body last Wednesday a harassed official replied that he already had 12,000 bodies stacked there. That may or may not have been so. Most likely it was vastly exaggerated. But the world probably never will know the true toll of death in Budapest — let alone the rest of Hungary — in that week that staggered the world. The Russians blasted away a whole house to kill a single sniper. Palace Ground Up They pulverized the Korvin National Theater. They put the historic former royal palace through a cannon meatgrinder.

48th Year THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1956 5
Even the Duna and Astoria hotels came under shell-fire. To add to the terror of the Hungarian population, many of the troops they used were Mongols, slit - eyed fighters from the steppes of innermost Asia, turned loose for the second time in 11 years on European cities. Hungarian rebels tore up paving blocks and ripped down street-car wires and piled them into barricades. The tanks flattened the barricades and the men behind them, roared down on street lamps and signs and kept on their way. Newsmen in the Duna Hotel were awakened that morning by the explosion of Soviet artillery and found their communications with the outside world severed. Almost 100 in all, we hurried for the shelter of the already crowded U.S., British, French and other legations. We bedded down mostly on cellar floors.

By ANTHONY CAVENDISH United Press Staff Correspondent VIENNA (UP) — The smell of death hangs over Budapest. Hunger and disease stalk the living. More than 200,000 Soviet troops — equal to 15 full Red Army divisions — hold shattered Hungary in their grip. Yet last ditch rebels fight on against the Red invader. When I left Budapest Thursday to bring out the story of the city's martyrdom, the bodies of freedom fighters and dead Russians still lay in its streets. The crump of Russian artillery fire shook the ruins. Smoke rose from still burning buildings. Every now and then the crack of the rebel-guerrilla's rifle shot rang out, followed by the boom of Russian tank guns and the staccato rattle of Soviet Tommy gunners. In alleyways, in darkened streets and from the glassless windows of shattered buildings, the fight goes on.

Crack Units Enter Hungary Westerners estimate that crack armored units make up 80 per cent of the Red Army troops throughout Hungary. The Soviets launched their attack at just 4:30 a.m. (12:50 a.m. est Saturday) on that Sunday Nov. 4. A thunderous artillery barrage crashed into the old city around the former royal castle on the west side of the Danube. A heavy Red army battery perched on Gellert Hill overlooking the city blasted Hungarian rebel strong points. Elephantine T-54 tanks with 100-millimeter cannon lumbered into the streets of the city, still only half-awake and unaware of the torture it still faced. Within an hour the Russians occupied all main centers and the bridges across the broad Danube River.

Red army guns fired right through the clinic as nurses and doctors sought to shield the screaming children. In an hour the building was a shambles, piled deep with the mangled bodies of children and other patients.

Control Of News

Radio and television are supposed to be reliable media for news dissemination. But are they?

We believe that there are many splendid newsmen working in both of these fields who are conscientiously striving to serve the public without fear or favor.

But there is something wrong with both radio and television when it comes to giving out unbiased accurate information. What is this thing that is wrong?

Both radio and television are in effect, instruments of the federal government. Every radio and television station operates solely on the basis of permission it receives and on a frequency assigned to it by the Federal Communications Commission. And since there is keen competition for these frequencies, every radio and television station vies with every other in an effort to prove that they operate in "the public interest."

This means, in effect, that every such medium of communication makes its facilities available at no cost to the federal government. Vast quantities of slanted propaganda are received by every station every day. This stuff, dreamed up by the promoters of big government, is aired by these stations in a constant din. And every radio and TV newsmen is faced with this fact when he prepares his news copy. He dare not carry a story which reports information which is displeasing to the high moguls of the F.C.C. To do so, may place his job and the operation of his own station in jeopardy. Therefore, material of this kind is simply kept off the airwaves in great quantities.

There are a few commentators and newsmen who make an honest effort to crack through this federally invoked iron curtain of silence. Among the foremost of these are men like Fulton Lewis Jr. and Paul Harvey. Yet, neither of these men is ever free completely from the nefarious pressures brought to bear by big government out to control the thoughts and opinions of the public at large.

Here is a case in point.

Captain Eugene Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colorado, recently filed a law suit against President Dwight Eisenhower and former President Harry Truman, for their conduct in the Korean War in abandoning American men to their Red Chinese captors.

Paul Harvey got the story and addressed a letter and a copy of his advance broadcast to Captain Guild. His letter said:

"My present plan is to broadcast the attached this Sunday evening (5:15 p.m., CDT), September 29. If you see necessity for corrections or additions, don't hesitate to telephone me Sunday afternoon in Chicago at Andover 3-0800."

The proposed broadcast report contained a reference to the Uniform Code of Military Justice, adopted by Congress May 5, 1950. It also referred to Article 2, Section 2 of our Constitution. Both of these documents specify that the president is a member of the armed services; that he is bound by military law; and that he is obliged to do all in his power to "encounter, engage, capture and destroy any enemy troops, combatants, vessels, aircraft, or any other thing..." and not to abandon any American service man to the enemy.

Captain Guild was delighted. He notified the wives and mothers of the missing servicemen in order that they might hear this report as made by Paul Harvey. But when broadcast time came around Mr. Harvey made no mention of the affair in any way. The iron curtain of silence had been clamped down so that no one, by means of radio or TV, could ever learn the fact that there were grounds for a law suit against the commander-in-chief of our armed services.

As things stand in this country, about the only way you can hope to get the complete report in news is to read your daily newspaper. The radio and TV men operate under a terrible handicap. However honestly they may attempt to perform an unbiased job, the power of federal censorship hangs over them.

Taxes Pay Subsidies

Taxes are but the price that must be paid for the still widely acclaimed "blessings" of the rigged market and the Welfare State. And the charge that taxes are excessive is simply an admission that this compulsory intervention is not worth the cost.

Real progress back toward freedom will be evident when numerous individuals and groups welcome the risks and opportunities of open competition and stop seeking special privileges at the expense of someone else. When individuals become more reasonable in their demands for governmental protection and service, then government tax claims against individuals will diminish accordingly—and automatically.

"Excessive Taxation," by Paul L. Poirat, page 27, The Freeman, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York, November, 1956.

Iron Curtain Silence

Eugene R. Guild, Capt., U.S.A., Ret. sends out from his headquarters at Glenwood Springs, Colo., some interesting facts as to how some radio commentators are silenced on certain subjects. This is the way he puts it:

"(1) Some months ago, a reporters' panel program was scheduled over Mutual to cover our 400 soldiers still held by the Communists. Suddenly it was postponed, and finally the program director admitted to me that for the first time his headquarters in New York had overruled him and cancelled the program.

"(2) Last June Columbia requested Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, famed air commander in the Korean War, to tape a 2-minute statement for a program commemorating the Korean armistice. The General consented on the condition that his statement be broadcast exactly as taped (it was, of course, critical of the conduct of the war.) When the statement was broadcast it was censored of everything except some innocuous generalities.

"(3) Recently the curtain of silence abruptly descended in front of ABC commentator Paul Harvey. He prepared a script quoting me on the two lawsuits about to be filed by 77 mothers and wives of soldiers killed in the Korean War or still held by the Communists, claiming damages from both Truman and Eisenhower for the betrayal and the abandonment to the enemy of their men.

"His script quoted a law, the Act of May 5, 1950, expressly forbidding the commander in chief (president) to fail to do his utmost to defeat the enemy, or to fail to give support and protection to his troops. The law makes the tying of our forces' hands in Korea a felony.

"He sent me a copy of the script, stating that he planned to broadcast it Sept. 23. I alerted the key mothers. So delighted were these desperate mothers that their cause was to be taken before the public by this famous commentator that they spent $200 on wires and phone calls to alert other mothers to listen to Harvey's message of hope. But the mothers received a crushing disappointment; without notice Harvey replaced their program with a commentary on his Louisiana trip.

"What of the GI mothers' wanted $200? Well, to date neither Harvey nor his sponsor, Bankers' Life and Casualty, has offered reimbursement — or even regrets."

Radios and televisions, of course, have to get permits from the government in order to operate. They are thus more careful about what they permit their readers to hear about government than the newspapers need be.

Too many newspapers follow a policy that promotes their own transitory personal interest rather than being guided by eternal principles. In order to promote their own personal interest, they quite often do not report news that the readers need to know in order to intelligently draw conclusions.

Newspapers do not need to get permits from the government. Any one can start a newspaper. He does not have to pass any examination or any test by any government agency. On the other hand, radio and television have to survive by the permission of the government. They thus become, in a way, a subsidiary of the government and cannot really too drastically describe government action as can the newspaper without any risk of retaliation from the government.

In other words, the newspapers are entirely separated from the government. They should be the watchdogs to protect the public from the government.

As someone has said, "Everyone is for peace but few people are for the things that make for peace." Which, of course, is the real reason why we don't have much peace.

Paul tells us to "follow after the things which make for peace." And James says: "From whence come wars and fightings among you? Come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? Ye lust, and have not; ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not."

What could be truer or plainer than that? We have not because we pray — instead of pray. Isn't that something to give us pause and upon which we should seriously reflect?

Recent "Allied" Aggression Shows CIA Is Slipping

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — President Eisenhower's surprise when Israel, France and Britain started their aggression makes it clear that the Central Intelligence Agency and David Dubinsky's Lovestone-Brown political and espionage apparatus overseas are no good and ought to be wiped out.

The CIA is administered by Allen Dulles, a brother of John Foster. It does not even deign to tell Congress how much money it receives or how much it squanders on what.

However, verified information was received in Washington that, in one case, agents of the CIA handed over $10 million in unmarked ten-dollar bills to the Secret Service of the Communist government of Poland in the belief that they were dealing with some "underground" organization which was opposing that government.

In another instance, the CIA brought to Washington Dr. Otto John, a German supposed to be an adherent of the Bonn Anti-Communist government, and took him into its confidence after which news dispatches reported that he had "defected" to East Germany. Still later, he was reported to be back in Bonn, under arrest.

This silly thing is a remnant of the OSS which General Bill Donovan, the Medal of Honor man of the old New York 68th Regiment of foot, organized for military espionage early in the war. We were not allowed to know how well the OSS did its work and secrecy probably is excusable for the safety of "contacts" who might be useful again. However, we did learn incidentally that agents of the OSS were given bundles of American currency to pay for information and, of course, such persons are not expected to bring in certified receipts.

Dubinsky had the gall to announce during the war that he had used money out of the treasury of the Garment Workers' Union for "espionage," presumably behind the German lines. He did not say how much money was spent nor how got it for what. Just after the war, in loose collaboration with the CIA, Dubinsky went to Europe with $50,000 in currency to make politics in areas liberated from the Nazis. This certainly is no legitimate concern of a labor union with powers of taxation over workers and industry, both.

For a while, General Bedell Smith was chief of the CIA. Ed Beatty, a war correspondent of the United Press, went into it in Washington for some time and may still be there. In Phoenix, Arizona, a few years ago, a handsome young woman from Kansas begged me with tears in her eyes not to criticize the CIA because it was a wonderful concern doing great work. A young lawyer from Indiana, living in Phoenix, also was an agent. The lady never had had any experience as an investigator and moreover, Phoenix and San Francisco, where she lived some of the time, are domestic points whereas the CIA is supposed to operate in foreign countries, leaving the United States to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI has had some failures, as every human organization must, but its record justifies confidence. All we know

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

I am dead set against people going around in a fog of fear of acquiring some disease, or having some accident; on the other hand, unnecessary risk-taking is equally undesirable.

Q—What, if any, would be the ill-effects of a pregnant woman doing a lot of indoor painting?—Mrs. D.W.

A—There would be some risk of acquiring lead poisoning. There would be some chance of inhaling excess quantities of some of the volatile components of paint. There would also be some chance of strain. Any of these things might lead to a miscarriage. Even though a woman might do a good deal of indoor painting without suffering harm, this is surely an activity which she should skip during pregnancy.

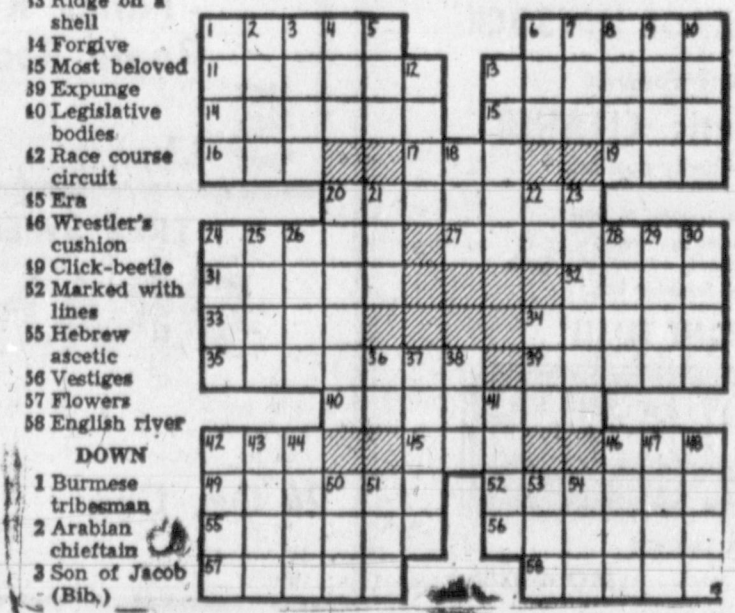

Q—A short time ago, you devoted a paragraph to alopecia areata, or baldness in spots, and said there was no known cause or cure. However, you did say that a person who had it should see a physician from time to time. Why do you say this if there is no known cure?—J.B.

A—I am caught. Treatments are often applied to the bald spots, but doctors do not like to call this a "cure," because it is somewhat uncertain as to just what these treatments accomplish. Perhaps I should put it this way: If I had alopecia areata, I should go to a physician from time to time, even knowing there was no sure cure. Q—Can you tell me why some people are more susceptible to cold sores than others? I average one every six weeks, and even get one from too much sun. —Mrs. J.S.

A—This is a common experience. It is believed that the virus which causes cold sores, or herpes simplex, may sometimes lodge permanently but quietly inside some of the tissue cells. Then if the tissues are weakened by too much sunlight, a serious infection or general run-down condition, the virus will become active and produce the cold sore. The general condition, therefore, has some-

Ike Will Soon Meet Charge He Favors Big Business

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower will soon have a chance to meet the Democrats' campaign charge that he favors "big business" interests in his appointments to powerful, independent, regulatory commissions with Federal jurisdiction over great industries.

Even more than the presence of so many corporation executives in his official family, Ike's alleged selection of conservatives — the Federal Trade, Federal Power, Federal Communications and National Labor Relations units — formed the basis of the opposition's indictment. Their contention was — and still is — that, without any revision of New Deal, Roosevelt-Truman legislation, the President has altered radically the government's fundamental attitude toward and treatment of business, industry and finance.

It is not a new or unique claim. Every incoming Chief Executive appoints sympathetic officials friendly to his program. The most notable example was F.D.R.'s attempt to "pack" the Supreme Court.

The current test involves Joseph P. Adams, Democrat from the State of Washington, whose term as vice - chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board expires within two months. There are demands from Republican politicians that a man more favorable to the great aviation interests be named in his place.

Adams' offense, in the eyes of influential lobbyists on and off Capitol Hill, is that he has voted consistently for lower airplane fares on domestic and foreign routes, for improved service and for an end to subsidies that have cost taxpayers more than a billion dollars. He demands that the great airlines stand on their own feet, as most of them do.

Adams, for instance, recently

Atomic Warheads To Teeth Rings - Army Port Has All

By HENRY McLEMORE

BRERMERHAVEN, Germany — You name it — and this United States Army port handles it. Tanks and teething rings. Pork chops and petroleum. Artillery and armchairs. Aspirin and ammunition. Howiters and hot water bottles.

Soldiers by divisions, civilians by droves. Frozen chicken gizards, atomic warheads, highchairs, helicopters, hairpins, and Holy Bibles. Babies, bazookas, blowtorches, and brigadiers. Trucks, tinners, cigarette lighters, flame-throwers, girdles and Gerards.

The Bremerhaven Port of Embarkation is both ends of the funnel that supplies the United States Army in Europe, and its dependents, with just about every earthly need. The Port lands our men overseas, and sends them home. It feeds their stomachs, clothes their bodies, and arms their guns.

It's an around-the-clock operation, and when the Commanding Officer of the Port, Colonel Irving W. Brooks of New York, gave me the figures in tons, cubic feet, etc., I didn't even bother to take them down. They were astronomical, and might well have broken down this correspondent's mind.

I did write down one or two figures to do with the susceptibility about which Mrs. S. complains. She might also get some help give her a skin specialist who could put over her lips (assuming that is where the cold sores occur) before she gets too much sun.

Q—Please say something about body odor. I always have this trouble, although I bathe frequently and watch my diet. — Mrs. E.G.W.

A—This question of body odor is a common and serious one, though it has little effect on the general health. The most likely cause is the excretion of sweat with an offensive odor; this often comes after taking certain kinds of drugs, or foods like onion or garlic. Poor general health and emotional upsets also affect the situation. If the source of trouble can be traced, it may be possible to correct it by dietary change. If the source of the odor is a restricted area, as under the armpits, it may be treated successfully by the use of chemical agents, or even cautiously administered X-rays.

Q—Is it true that twins have less chance for survival than single births?—Mrs. L.T.

A—The mortality rate of twins during the first month of life is more than three times that of single-birth babies.

Reserves Lauded For Pampa Win

The man who coached the Pampa Harvesters to a 34-7 victory over Plainview's Bulldogs in a District 3-AAAA game here last week credits his reserves for the 34-0 halftime lead enjoyed by the home team.

Jack Lockett, who has seen his team win three of eight games this season, stated, "Frankly, I think we would have had only a seven point lead at halftime if I hadn't put them in. I told the starters that if they started loafing after they got a touchdown I was going to take them out. We got the lead and I was forced to keep my word."

He went on, "My boys haven't become accustomed to playing under pressure. When they get a touchdown lead they think they have the game won."

Pampa took the opening kick against the Bulldogs and marched to a touchdown. Later in the first half Lockett sent in Gary Dearen, Dale Lake, Jesse Ring and Harry Ward to add reserve strength to the Harvesters' drive. Although Ring can not be considered a reserve, he has alternated with Robert Langford at fullback most of the season. Ring scored on a 55-yard drive. Lake caught a 27-yard touchdown pass. Dearen scored from two yards out and made two more good runs and Ward galloped 17 yards to score.

The Harvesters went through a regular workout Monday afternoon in preparation for their district game here Saturday at 2 p.m. against Lubbock's Westerners. The two teams are tied for fourth place in the 3-AAAA standings. Pampa's final game is scheduled for Nov. 24 against Berger. The Harvesters stand a good chance of beating the Westerners Saturday. A good, stout defense might mean victory for Pampa.

Pampa ranks fifth in the district in total defense, having allowed 268 yards per game in three games. The Harvesters rank sev-

Terror, El Diablo Create Excitement

Any time the matchmaker schedules the Golden Terror and El Diablo to wrestle on the mat card, excitement can be expected to be at its highest.

Those two masked marauders of the mat caused plenty of excitement last night at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club. Although they lost in the main event tag team match, they stole the show from the above-board duo of Roger Mackay and Tommy Phelps.

Much of the wrestling and slugging took place outside of the ring where chairs were battered, ash trays tossed and referees were handed rights to the head. The packed throng had to scamper for cover several times to escape the wrath of the foursome.

In the end, Phelps and Mackay won the main event in two falls in a time of 17:46. The Terror and El Diablo were disqualified in the first fall after 9:46 when they got Phelps in a corner and pounded him helpless. The referee ordered them to stop the ruckus and when they failed to heed his warning the match was stopped.

El Diablo and the Terror in the second when Mackay dealt a body press to El Diablo in eight minutes. All four wrestlers got into the ring in the second fall and amused the crowd with the antics. Phelps catapulted over Mackay to land feet first into the Terror and knock him down. Then El Diablo tried catapulting over the Terror in the same fashion only to land flat on his back in the attempt.

Hans Schnable, subbing for Bob Geigel, and big Bob Orton tangled in the semifinal event which was the most exciting of the night. It ended up with Commissioner Pete Schmalz declaring the match no contest, holding up the purse and rematching the two with winner take all next week.

Intra-Squad Boxing Event Slated Friday

Four teams in the Pampa Optimist Club sponsored boxing team will be matched in an intra-team event Friday night at the Gray County Community Building east of Pampa.

Teams entered are First National Bank, Citizens Bank, Panhandle Insurance and Pampa News. This is a warm up or try out match for boys who will be on the team when Pampa meets Guymon, Okla., at the Community Building Friday, Nov. 23.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. The matches start at 7:30 p.m. Any boy who wishes to box on the Optimist team is asked to be on hand at the matches where he will be assigned a team and will be informed as to the days and time of workouts.

Vols Take Over Second In Poll

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Tennessee's Sugar Bowl-bound Volunteers took over second place in the United Press college football ratings today and assumed the quest of overtaking mighty Oklahoma for the national championship.

Oklahoma was the No. 1 choice of 28 coaches on the 35-man board of experts which ranks the teams weekly for the United Press, but Tennessee moved into a challenging position following its 6-0 victory over Georgia Tech. Seven coaches made the Vols their first choice.

Texas A&M, the once-tied Southwestern Conference leader, moved up to the No. 3 ranking this week, and Oregon State, the likely Pacific Coast Conference entry in the Rose Bowl, broke into the top 10 in the eighth spot.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners, with a modern major college record of 37 straight victories, now have topped the United Press ratings for seven of the eight weeks of this season.

Oklahoma, seeking its second straight national championship, has Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma A&M remaining on its schedule. Tennessee's last three opponents are Southeastern Conference rivals—Mississippi, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Class AA Closes Friday

By UNITED PRESS
A half dozen games in which unbeaten district leaders close out their schedules against each other and another half dozen in which undisputed leaders need only a victory or tie to set up playoff berths highlight the Class AA Texas schoolboy football state this week.

Only in one district does the situation appear so muddled that a district committee ruling may be necessary to determine the winner. That is in 2-AA where Abernathy, Spur and Lockney each boast 4-1 records and all are favored to win this week to project a three-way tie. Spur beat Lockney, Lockney beat Abernathy at 1 Abernathy beat Spur in regular season play.

Already definitely in the playoffs are Canyon in 1, Perryton in 3, defending state champion Stamford in 4, Coleman in 7, Hamilton in 8, Seagoville in 11, Terrell in 12, Gilmer in 15, Hillsboro in 17, Crockett in 18, Lockhart in 22, Navasota in 23, Liberty in 24, Floresville in 27, Devine in 28 and Hebbroville in 31. Districts 6, 16 and 30 are vacant and their first-round opponents draw byes.

The games in which the winners automatically win the district and the playoff are Olney at Burk Burnett in 9, Commerce at Bonham in 13, Georgetown at Belton in 20, Giddings at La Grange in 21, Boling at West Columbia in 26 and Edcouch-Eissa at Mercedes in 32.

These first-named teams are undisputed leaders and must win or tie to clinch honors: Crane vs. Seminole in 5, Lewisville vs. Atlanta in 14, Brady at Burnet in Whitesboro in 10, De Kalb vs. Atlanta in 14, Brady at Burnet in 19, Deer Park vs. Angleton in 25 and Sinton at Refugio in 29.

Stamford, Hamilton, Lewisville, Bonham, De Kalb, Deer Park and West Columbia are unbeaten and untied while Gilmer and Hebbroville are undefeated but once-tied. Stamford and Gilmer have completed their schedules.

UP's Schoolboy Rankings In 4A Gives North Power

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (UP)—With Abilene, Wichita Falls, Highland Park and San Angelo ranking 1-2-3-4 in the United Press Class AAAA Texas schoolboy football ratings, the northern bracket of the playoffs seem to hold the balance of power.

Actually, the UP's top 10 as picked by the board of coaches, has five teams from each bracket, but only Amarillo High from the North failed to make it into the top five. The Sandies rank eighth.

The South is represented by Corpus Christi's twin, Miller and Ray in fifth and sixth, Baytown in seventh, Galveston ninth and Houston Laar 10th.

This week's balloting also was noteworthy in that there was little doubt as to the makeup of the top 10. Only 17 teams were nominated and none of the other seven came anywhere close to getting the support of Lamar in 10th.

As usual, Abilene's defending state champs, got 15 first-place

| TEAM                           | FIRST TEN | POINTS |
|--------------------------------|-----------|--------|
| 1. Abilene (15)                | (8-0)     | 150    |
| 2. Wichita Falls (1)           | (8-0)     | 132    |
| 3. Highland Park (8-0)         |           | 121    |
| 4. San Angelo (8-0)            |           | 107    |
| 5. Corpus Christi Miller (8-1) |           | 82     |
| 6. Corpus Christi Ray (8-0-1)  |           | 79     |
| 7. Baytown (7-1-2)             |           | 61     |
| 8. Amarillo (7-1)              |           | 58     |
| 9. Galveston (7-0-1)           |           | 30     |
| 10. Houston Lamar (7-0-2)      |           | 24     |

OTHERS—11, Fort Worth Arlington Heights (6); 12, Midland (5); 13, Tyler (4); 14 (tie), Pasadena and Houston S.F. Austin (2 each); 16 (tie), Waco and Amarillo Palo Duro (1 each).

Quarterback Club Will Meet Tonight

The weekly Quarterback Club meeting will be held tonight at Sam Houston Elementary School at 7:30 with films of the Monterey and Plainview games to be shown.

The group did not meet last week because of the election. Coaches will discuss the games and narrate the game films. The Pampa-Plainview game was photographed in color.

The public is invited.

The two fullbacks who will share their duties for Pampa this Saturday when the Harvesters play Lubbock High are Jesse Ring (left) and Robert Langford. Both were instrumental in Pampa's win over Plainview last week. Ring scored on a 55-yard run and Langford intercepted a pass for a 25-yard touchdown. (News photo)

Ward, Colorado Turn Tables On Big 7 11s

By LYLE SCHWILLING
United Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (UP)—Coach Dallas Ward of Colorado, heading for his first bowl game at Miami Jan. 1, turned the tables on other Big Seven teams this season to grab the Orange Bowl bid.

Two years ago when Oklahoma wasn't eligible, Ward had what apparently was the second best team in the league and the probable bowl entry. But late game results, including a tie, knocked Colorado out of the bowl and sent Nebraska instead.

This year, Colorado has the bid sewed up, even though in the current official statistics, Colorado ranks third behind Oklahoma and Missouri. A 14-14 tie with Missouri, turned the trick, and the Colorado bid probably will be less after Oklahoma plays Missouri this week. An Oklahoma win gives it the Big Seven championship for the ninth straight year.

Butts Weak On Passing
The statistics show that Colorado is the weakest passing team in the Big Seven with 364 yards in eight games, yet a pair of passes Saturday provided both touchdowns against Missouri.

Missouri leads in passing with 777 yards, yet couldn't complete an aerial to capitalize on three excellent scoring chances that were halted. Missouri also is stronger on the ground than Colorado with a total offense of 2,803 yards to 2,280, both for eight games.

The tie at Columbia, Mo., Saturday, probably will be a conversation piece for months to come, particularly one key play. That play saw Missouri's Paul Brownling penalized 15 yards for slugging, put Colorado on the Missouri 22 and set up the tying touchdown.

Actually, Brownling and team officials claimed that the slugging was caused by Colorado Fullback John (The Beast) Bayuk biting Brownling on the arm. Brownling showed the teeth marks to officials after the game. Officials say only the slugging at the time.

Bayuk Falls to Star
Bayuk, who had led Big Seven rushing for several weeks, got only 26 yards Saturday as Colorado failed to penetrate Missouri territory except for one kickoff runback to the 45 and by recovering two fumbles. Bayuk dropped to fourth among rushers with 526 yards in 95 carries. Bob Stranaky, a Colorado Junior, picked up 27 and was sixth in the conference with 85 carries for 401 yards.

Even though Colorado may go into the bowl the third best team, Commissioner Reaves E. Peters said he felt the Big Seven would have an excellent chance of coming up with a win without Oklahoma, something it has never done.

Colorado winds up its season with two non-conference games, against Utah this week and Arizona the next. Iowa State is at Kansas State in a battle of cellar-dwelling teams, Kansas is at UCLA and Baylor at Nebraska. Detroit is at Oklahoma A&M in the only conference clash in the Missouri Valley Conference. Houston, the champion, plays Villanova, Wichita is at Dayton and Texas Tech at Tulsa.

Happy Days Here Again With Yanks Back In Melbourne, Voice Australians

(First of four dispatches on the Olympic Games written for NEA Services and the Pampa Daily News.)

By FRANK SAMPSON
NEA Special Correspondent
MELBOURNE—(NEA)—News headlines have to do with nations refusing to send athletes to the Olympic Games, which open here Nov. 22.

Australians are taking this lightly. The Americans, they tell you, are not going to pull out and that's all that counts.

For this city and the surrounding nation haven't forgotten the ones they call the Yanks—the happy-go-lucky, free-sending, light-hearted boys so like their own Diggers—who took over this country when it needed help the most.

It was a war-time invasion then. Melbourne now has a peaceful influx of Americans, who will do their battling on a cinder track or in the field, ring and swimming pool.

"Happy days are here again; the Yanks are back again..." is something you hear throughout the land.

John Drysdale, who runs the Olympic Bar of the Royal Mail Hotel in the heart of the city, is a barometer of this.

"Too right, we've been looking forward to seeing the Yanks. Not only the hotel keeper and the business man, but the man and woman in the street. Who could ever forget them?"

"They did something more than help to save Australia. They built the foundations of a friendship that will last for all time, fair dinkum. They're bosker blokes, generous to a fault and they're dinky-die coppers."

"Maybe they skite a bit at times, but who doesn't? And they've certainly got something to skite about. If I had to hump my bluey I'd much rather have the average Yank for a China-plate than lots of other people I could mention."

This Australian slang translates into a friendly hand stretched across the sea.

Handy Australian - into - English too:

FAIR DINKUM—John Drysdale speaks for the Melbourne hosts. Framed above and beside the hotelier is Marjorie Jackson, the Australian holder of the women's world record for the 100-yard dash—16.7; and winner of three gold medals at the 1952 Olympic Games in Helsinki.

NCAA May Announce Violations Today

DETROIT (UP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association's powerful policy council was expected to announce late today its decisions on rules violations—possibly the cases of the University of Miami (Fla.) and Texas A&M.

The council held its first session Monday and heard a report by the infractions committee but refused to disclose what transpired.

AROUND THE SPORTS WORLD

HITTING THE ROAD—Charlie Jenkins, left, and Andy Stanfield, who will participate respectively in the 400 meter and 200 meter events of the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne, Australia, are shown in Berkeley, Calif. They took part in the Olympic Preview to help raise funds to send the entire U. S. Olympic team to the games in Australia.

DISCUS TECHNIQUE—Using perfect discus form to throw the javelin, Spanish athlete Felix Errazuquin prepares to hurl a spear in Barcelona. His unusual way of throwing the javelin like the discus won for him the record in Spain, 74.32 meters (243 feet, 10 inches). Unofficially, he has hurled the javelin 262½ feet in this manner.

SPACE-BUSTER?—Don't look for this three-wheeled rocket to soar into the wild blue yonder at an unbelievable speed for it wasn't built to break the sound barrier. It looks mighty impressive in take-off readiness, top photo, but is much less so with its top off, below. START OF A SAFARI—Cowboy star Roy Rogers, right, and Elgin Gates, motor boat racer, are examining a rifle to be used during their safari in Africa. They're shown at a New York airport, en route to Paris from Los Angeles. Rogers plans to spend six weeks in Africa; it's his first hunting trip there, but the second one for Gates.

IN A TANGLE—Although there's a snarl in her line, Cordelia Wysard is having fun surf fishing at a beach near Honolulu, T. H. She knows that if a fish doesn't bite, she can always go for a swim, or just get a good sun tan.

BULLDOG BITES BEST—Yale quarterback Dean Loucks gets ready to dump Columbia halfback Ed Spraker near the mid-field stripe in the third quarter of the Columbia-Yale Ivy League game in New York. Before a homecoming crowd at Baker Field, the Bulldogs put the bite into the Lions by a final score of 33-19.

IT'S AN IDEA—Launching an unusual campaign, French youngsters are starting their paper boats off on a race in a pool in Paris. Children of all nations were invited to send their paper boats for an exhibition in the French capital. The campaign is based on a poem, a line of which goes: "If all the children of the world launched paper boats upon the sea, no room for warships would there be."

IN SCHOOL—Eddie Le-Baron, quarterback for the Washington Redskins pro football team, is concentrating on legal terms as well as T-formation plays. He's enrolled in the George Washington University Law School in Washington, D. C., for a few years.

IN TRAINING—Prince Cortauld, fourth leading all-time money winner in Australia, has begun light training near Hyde, Md. He'll compete with other champion thoroughbreds in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International at Laurel Race Course in November. Anzac star is shown with his trainer, young Rainier Vandernet, of The Hague, Holland.

SPORT SPECIAL—This sports outfit has been introduced in Rome for the well-dressed man-about-town-and-country. The chamois coat is nut colored and features "hunter's" stitching on the lapels, cuffs and pockets. It's worn with an open-collar fancy shirt and leather belt.

OVER THE TOP—Colgate University's fullback Robert Deming crashes through a pile of Rutgers University resistance from the third yard line for a touchdown during their game in New Brunswick, N. J. In on the play, but unable to keep Deming from hitting paydirt are Rutgers' Bill Gatyas (47) and Don Mozzochi, bottom of pile. Colgate won, 48-6.

Filmed TV Commercials Unsung 'Spectaculars'

By ALINE MOSBY
 United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Those filmed commercials may look like easy jobs knocked off in an hour before a camera, but they're the unsung "spectaculars" of TV.

Filmed spots for cigarettes, beer or what-have-you take up only an instant on the screen, often when the viewer is snatching a drink of water or letting the cat in.

But he's ignoring a production that, according to a man who makes a small fortune announcing them, comes close to perfection.

Bill Edwards, for example, announces one filmed commercial for a hair spray lacquer.

That commercial that zips by between programs took from 7 p.m. to 2:30 a.m. to shoot. Edwards had to keep his please-buy smile on all that time while ad agency executives argued about the script.

Naturally on those filmed commercials, the products always work.

In Edwards' hair spray film you see a girl with half of her head lacquered and the other half plain.

Bill turns a wind machine and a bucket of water on her locks but the lacquered half stays in place.

 "Well, her hair had so much pray on it it would have taken a pick axe to move it," grinned Edwards in an interview. "We had to do several takes and she was sprayed for each one."
 In fact, it's well known along advertising agency row that some sponsors will use a competitor's product for a commercial if it will work better.
