

Navy Plane Missing After Damage By Red Chinese

By WILLIAM MILLER

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Peiping United Press Staff Correspondent today said today that Communist Chinese fighter planes "damaged" an aircraft in the same area where a U. S. Navy Martin Mercator plane is missing off the China coast with 16 men aboard. The Red Chinese broadcast said the engagement took place "before 1 a. m. this morning." In Washington, the Navy said the plane radioed at 12:25 a. m. to day, Formosa time (10:25 a. m. c. s. t. Wednesday) that it was under attack over international waters 32 miles off Red China and 160 miles north of Formosa. The Navy said the plane's radio transmission "suddenly stopped" and it "presumably" was shot down. The Communist broadcast said the plane "flew off in the south-east direction after being hit." Peiping radio gave no details of the type of aircraft which it said "intruded" over Communist coastal islands not far from Shanghai. It identified it only as "a Chiang Kai-shek plane." Nationalist forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek based on this island use American type airplanes. It appeared likely that the Communist pilots were unable to see the plane involved clearly in the darkness over the China Sea.

This disclosure was the first clue to the fate of the missing U. S. plane. It was given in Peiping radio's regular daily communication on military activity in South China. The Communist station normally groups all aircraft in these reports under the heading "Chiang Kai-shek" aircraft. The Peiping station mentioned only one air action in today's broadcast. If this was the missing Mercator, there was hope that the 16 American fliers aboard might be safe. The broadcast said the plane "flew off."

Massive Search Begun It was possible that the plane had made a crash landing at sea, where a massive American air-sea search effort was underway. Two American destroyers protected by Navy and Air Force jet fighters with orders to "shoot if attacked" darted in close to the Red China mainland in the hunt for the men. The U. S. Air Force sent F-84 Sabrejets from Formosa to fly cover for the search groups and a spokesman said, "We mean business out there." No Communist air force planes were sighted. The Navy ordered the search "intensified" this afternoon, in a race against darkness. President Eisenhower, in San Francisco for the Republican National Convention, was immediately informed of the attack, and James C. Hagerty said he was keeping in touch with developments.

Term Incident "Tragic" Members of Congress reached there called the incident "tragic" and "wanton" and said it was a "further indication of the complete lack of sincerity" by the Chinese Reds when they talk peace. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in London for the Suez Conference, was told of the newest incident. He was expected to fly back to Washington tonight. Adm. Stuart Ingersoll, commander of the 7th Fleet, met in Taipei with his top officers today. He told the United Press he was trying to learn the exact location of the attack. He said search results thus far have been "negative." The Chinese Nationalist air force had no comment on whether it was participating in the search. The nationalists fly regular jet patrol flights in the same area where the American plane was downed. Acapulco, Mexico's resort city on the Pacific, once was a coaling port for steamships and a harbor for Spanish galleons bringing treasure from the Philippines.

State Department Waiting Report WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department said today it is waiting for a full report before taking action regarding the Navy plane attacked off the Red China coast. A department spokesman said the shooting down of a plane over international waters is "a very serious thing." But he said the department "can't do anything" about filing a protest or taking other diplomatic action until it has a full report of the incident including identity of the attackers. If the attacking planes are identified as Red Chinese, the United States would have to lodge a protest through some intermediary because it has no diplomatic relations with the Red Chinese government.

The United States faced a similar situation in 1954 when Red Chinese warplanes shot down a British airliner 30 miles south of Hainan Island over the south China Sea and two Red Chinese warplanes attacked U. S. Navy planes searching for survivors. The Navy planes shot down both attacking Red Chinese planes. The United States later filed notes of protest with the Red Chinese government through the British. The Red Chinese refused to accept them.

GOP Chooses Ike And Nixon

President Puts Blowtorch To Candidates

By MERRIMAN SMITH United Press White House Writer SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—President Eisenhower put a blowtorch behind Republican candidates for the House and Senate today, urging them to campaign vigorously to regain GOP control of Congress. The President himself was ready to undertake a slamming campaign against the Democrats, opening up about mid-September. Mr. Eisenhower's decision to begin moving against the Democrats in the middle of next month did not represent any material change in his plan to confine his campaign to five or six basic television appearances. According to close political associates, the Chief Executive was paving the ground. He wanted at the first opportunity to take a roundhouse swing at his opponent Adlai E. Stevenson.

Something's Fishy!

CONVENTION HALL, San Francisco (UP)—Delegates stared in disbelief Wednesday at an assistant sergeant-at-arms strolling the corridors of the Republican National Convention hall. Turned out it was Hedda Hopper. She not only wore an assistant sergeant-at-arms badge but a blue hat made of fish-hooks and fish net.

Team Given Chance For Second Term

By RAYMOND LAHR United Press Staff Correspondent SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The GOP today threw its 1952 winners—President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon—into a no-complacency campaign to retain the White House and regain control of Congress. Mr. Eisenhower and Nixon were renominated by unanimous votes at the Republican National Convention Wednesday night to oppose the Democratic ticket of Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver. President Eisenhower plunged immediately into campaign chores. Two score Republican candidates for Congress hurried to his hotel suite today to grip his coat-tails for their own campaigns this autumn.

Suez Situation Deteriorates, British Cabinet Meets

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON (UP)—The Suez Canal situation deteriorated suddenly today, and the British cabinet met in emergency session to discuss the deepening crisis. A crack British regiment moved out of its barracks to a destination described only as "somewhere in the Mediterranean" and Moslem leaders in Cairo prepared to ask the Arab world to take up arms. The western big three foreign ministers also met today to find some means of presenting the Dulles plan for internationalizing the Suez Canal zone to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser despite Soviet and Indian delaying tactics. In Cairo the government newspaper Al Gomhouria said official sources "categorically denied" that Egypt would agree to negotiate on the Dulles plan. Other newspapers heaped abuse on the plan as a "snake inside a bouquet of flowers."

Tax Cuts Predicted

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado told the Republican national convention today that "all Americans can look forward to tax cuts during the next four years. Thornton made the prediction in an address prepared for delivery to the convention in which he answered charges made at the Democratic convention last week. He said the Democrats claimed that "Republicans deny tax relief to middle and low income families." "The truth is our people—all of our people—not just a few, have lower taxes across the board, and they're going to be lower, and some more in the next four Republican years," he said. Thornton said the Eisenhower administration in 1954 put into effect a $7.4 billion tax cut, 80 percent of which went to low and middle income families. Further, he said, reductions in government spending made by the administration saved each American a total of $1,200. Thornton also took issue with Democratic statements expressing doubt whether any labor reformer "believes that the Republican party is his true friend."

British Offer Eoka's Amnesty

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UP)—British planes dropped leaflets offering amnesty to members of the Eoka anti-British underground today, but there were no immediate takers. While the planes showered leaflets on forest and mountain underground hideouts, army trucks toured villages and cities throughout this troubled Mediterranean island to tell the rebels of Governor Sir John Harding's offer of peace. Harding Wednesday gave the Greek Cypriot extremists the choice of going to Greece or remaining on Cyprus with the possibility of being brought to trial. But he said underground members would be prosecuted only for crimes of violence.

Stevenson Welcomes Eisenhower

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson joined his political enemies today in welcoming President Eisenhower's nomination for a second term by the Republican National Convention. Stevenson congratulated Mr. Eisenhower on his unanimous endorsement by the San Francisco convention Wednesday, and said "I am pleased to be matched against him again" as the Democratic nominee. The Democratic candidate made an oblique reference to the President's health, which Stevenson's managers said would not be made an election issue. "It is no secret that I look forward to this contest, and I am glad he finds himself able to be the Republican candidate," Stevenson commented. Stevenson issued the statement from his nearby country home, where he has been resting and plotting strategy since the Democratic National Convention closed last Friday night.

BRITISH DESIGN "FLYING CANTALOUPE"—The above drawings by British artist John W. Wood show a projected man-made satellite for outer space. Looking like a monster cantaloupe, it was designed by three members of the British Interplanetary Society. At left, the 16-ton, three-stage rocket is shown jettisoning its ballistic nose-cone prior to the inflation of the lightweight metal-foil satellite. At right, the fully inflated satellite, six to eight feet in diameter, commences its orbit around the earth at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour. The satellite would be tracked from ground stations just before dawn and shortly after sunset by means of reflected light from the sun. The design was first presented at the second International Congress on astronautics in London in 1951.

Stevenson Scoffs At Republican Promises

By TOM NELSON
LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., Aug. 22.—Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday scoffed at Republican platform promises of a tax cut for the "little man" as "so much election talk" and a contradiction of President Eisenhower.

The Democratic presidential candidate said "President Eisenhower repeatedly has been against a tax cut and has been in favor of applying any surplus to the reduction of the national debt."

The GOP platform "sounds to me like an expressed contradiction (of the President)," Stevenson said.

"I think it's so much election talk, myself," he commented.

Takes Pot Shots at GOP
Stevenson took pot shots at the platform adopted at the Republicans' San Francisco convention in a news conference at his farm, four miles from this Chicago suburb.

He was preparing for an all-out whistle stop campaign for the White House, starting out next Monday with flying trips to eight parts of the country for "grass roots" talks with local Democratic leaders.

Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, and James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, were to dine with the candidate at his home Wednesday night. Stevenson said they would talk over campaign plans and make arrangements for "integration of the national committee staff and my staff in Washington."

HEAR NO EVIL—"Oka," female gorilla in New York's Bronx Zoo, looks like the famous "Hear no evil" monkey as she covers her ears and stares at visitors. She holds this pose for hours at a time.

Attacks Budget Claim
Stevenson admitted he hasn't spent much time watching the GOP convention on television. But he was quick to attack the platform pledge to work for tax cuts "with particular consideration for low and middle-income families" and the boast of Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut, chairman of the platform committee, that "we have balanced the budget."

"This was certainly an accurate reflection of what interests the Republican leaders most," Stevenson said. "Not the education of our children, not a fair break for farmers, not the growing menace of communism in the world, not America's waning influence, but a balanced budget."

Stevenson added that "Bush did not say that they succeeded in balancing the budget this year only by postponing necessary defense expenditures until next year after the election."

"Nor did he say that under Truman the national debt was reduced by $12 billion while under Eisenhower it has been increased by $13 billion in four years."

The former Illinois governor also wasn't impressed by the Republican civil rights plank. He said it was "just about the same" as the Democratic plank, except that "they didn't come out for any change in the filibuster rule in the Senate, which the Democrats did."

Soldier Faces Court Martial Because Of Overweight

FORT CARSON, Colo. (UP)—Sgt. James Love, a 34-year-old Army cook who claims he's already lost 64 pounds, may face a general court martial because his officers say he should lose another 19 pounds.

Love has been in the Army 12 years. He returned from duty in Germany weighing 276 pounds, he said Tuesday, but now has slimmed down to 212. He has lost 25 pounds under the slim-down-or-else program enforced at Fort Carson by Maj. Gen. Thomas Morgan Wallington — who's been skinny all his life.

Wallington argues that he's only carrying out Washington orders and that he's trying to whip the Eighth Infantry Division into shape for duty in Germany this fall. At Fort Carson, all overweight personnel have been told to get rid of their fat and have been prescribed diets.

Those who won't diet, or who don't lose enough weight to satisfy the Army standard, are faced with court martial, or may appeal to a board of officers which determines whether they should be discharged under honorable conditions for the good of the service.

Love said he weighs less now than he did during World War II and the Korean conflict, but this argument gets him nowhere with his superiors.

Constitution Party Meets Saturday

FORT WORTH (UP) — A Constitution party leader today raised to 600 his estimate of the number of delegates expected at the party's "national convention" starting in Fort Worth Saturday.

E. G. Brown, an accountant who is temporary chairman of the organization's Fort Worth unit, at first had expected only 100 delegates from 26 states.

"It looks now like there will be that many from Texas alone," Brown said.

He said party delegates will come from Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, Austin, Houston, Waco and Longview.

Brown was asked if the Constitution party and Citizen Councils overlap.

"The Texas Citizens Councils were organized without any tie-up with anybody," he replied. "But I can see that Citizens Council members might swell the Constitution party because many of the principles they uphold coincide."

Frank Leads To Pump

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (UP) — Two young pranksters who let the air out of the tires of a parked car had the tables turned on them by the car's owner who had caught them in the act. While the boys' fathers and car owner Ralph Black stood by, the two youths pumped the tires full of air again — with a hand pump.

City Cancels Water Contract

HURST, Tex. (UP)—About 300 unhappy citizens who packed the Hurst city hall won their plea Tuesday night as the city council cancelled the franchise of a private water firm. City Administrator William Thompson said Hurst will now try to negotiate to buy that part of the Tarrant Utility Co. system which lies in Hurst. The city bought out another water system last year and officials believe it can serve up to 60,000 persons should the community increase from its present approximately 7,000. The private firm also serves parts of Smithfield, North Richland Hills and adjacent areas. Several residents have complained to the Tarrant county Health Department of inadequate service.

Jury To Get Charge In Sheffield Trial

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UP)—Closing arguments and the charge to the jury were scheduled for today in the 17-day old veterans land trial of B. R. Sheffield, a Brady real estate man. Writing the charge to the jury took up all of Wednesday's session as defense attorney Everett Looney raised 55 objections to the first draft of the 17-page charge. The first count of the double-barreled charge alleges that Sheffield aided and assisted a notary public in making a false acknowledgment to an instrument affecting the title to land.

Stassen Tries To Repair Damage

By GLENN STACKHOUSE United Press Staff Correspondent SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Harold E. Stassen today tried to repair the extensive damage his political career suffered in the wreckage of the "dump Nixon" drive at the Republican National Convention. Stassen appeared confident he could put himself back in the good graces of the party, even though his fight against the renomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a total failure and drew criticism and even ridicule from GOP leaders.

He said he would be back in Washington on Monday to resume his White House post as Mr. Eisenhower's disarmament adviser. He took a 30-day leave of absence from the job before the GOP convention began to have a free hand in pushing his "stop Nixon" move. Retains His Post There had been speculation that Stassen would voluntarily resign or would be requested to do so if he failed to prevent Nixon's renomination. But he told reporters Wednesday, "I have never divorced myself from the job."

Mr. Eisenhower backed him up on this point. "He has never left it, except to take leave," Mr. Eisenhower told a press conference when asked if Stassen would be allowed to resume his White House position. Nevertheless, the question remained: Would Stassen be allowed to remain high and secure in the President's official family after backing Nixon? From the very start of his drive against Nixon, there were reports from administration sources that even if Stassen did remain in his cabinet-level job, he would be assigned to political isolation by having his authority reduced and being given less and less to do. Formally Abandons Fight Stassen started his efforts to get back in line with the party by formally abandoning his fight against Nixon and then going before the convention Wednesday to second Nixon's nomination "with humility and forthrightness."

He first told Mr. Eisenhower of his about-face and Mr. Eisenhower announced it at a news conference so that the convention itself would know what Stassen planned to do and grant him the right to speak. As a non-delegate, Stassen could not address the convention without its unanimous consent. The delegates were in a forgiving-and-forget mood and stood cheering when Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr. introduced Stassen as a "long-time valuable worker for the Republican Party."

Stassen conceded in his speech that Nixon was "the overwhelming and considered choice" of the delegates.

Victoria Geaney Says "What's The Difference What I Wear"

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—It was Victoria Geaney speaking: "What's the difference," she said, "if I have a dust cap on? Also what is the matter if my slip is showing. I'm house cleaning."

Mrs. Geaney, who is lovely even with a slip showing, was cleaning—or helping to—one of the most famous mansions in the world: That would be Blair house, where the lady is hostess to the great and near-great from all over—presidents, kings, queens,

Ike's Hideaway Exclusive, Modest

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UP)—President Eisenhower's hideaway at Cypress Point Golf course is about as exclusive as you can get in this country—and about as modest.

The President and his party are expected to move into the seven-room Cypress Point lodge after the Republican national convention is adjourned in San Francisco, 125 miles to the north.

As far as the men who have the job of guarding the Eisenhower are concerned, Cypress Point is almost a perfect spot for the President to take a four-day rest. The club is located inside the famous scenic 17-mile drive which winds through the Del Monte forest and along the shore of the Pacific Ocean. The entire drive is privately owned and all its entrances and exits are blocked by toll gates.

The lodge itself stands back from the road and is only yards from the ocean and the first tee. Secret Service agents have blocked off all roads into the lodge. The agents have also made an investigation of all the residents in the forest and have drawn comprehensive maps and charts of all features of the surrounding area.

prime ministers and the like. Mrs. G. has met them all. She has one of the most fabulous collections of autographs in the world. In 30 years of doing business with Blair house she also has collected a fabulous array of autographed pictures—Halle Seelassie, the "Lion of Judah"; Winston Churchill; The duke of Windsor, and Chiang Kai Shek.

But today she was feather dusting and seeing that rugs were sent out to be cleaned.

The house was built in 1826 and has not been changed much since, except that the furniture has to be prettied up once in awhile and sometimes replaced.

When a king or a princess or another dignitary comes in from a foreign land, Mrs. Geaney is ready to bed 'em down and furnish the kind of grub that fits their fancy.

Shortly after the Harry Trumans came to the White House across the street, the creaky old floors gave way under the weight of Margaret's grand piano and one leg stuck through the ceiling of the suite below.

A remodeling job was indicated and the family from Independence, Mo., moved into Blair House.

That was when Mrs. Geaney fixed herself a little apartment in the cellar. It is a cozy little nest, equipped with kitchen, shower, etc.

After the Trumans moved back, some redecorating was done in the basement and Mrs. Geaney is proud to say that for a while she slept in the bed Mr. Truman once used.

"The Trumans were most cordial. They always were nice to me," she said. "I had met them many times at parties here at Blair house before Mr. Truman became President, so we were not exactly strangers."

And, she hastened to add, the Eisenhowers were gracious, too. "They were guests here when he was a general," she said.

Grillwiches Go Fast And Fancy

LONG hours of summer fun. Then suddenly it's mealtime, big appetites and no food ready! Save the day with GRILLWICHES!

Made with canned spaghetti sauce with meat, these hot sandwiches hit a new high. Spoon the sauce (right from the can) onto bread or rolls. Top sauce with onion rings, shredded cheese, fried bacon or ham strips or what-have-you. Then grill a few minutes under the broiler; and voila! — a bubbling delicious main course.

With GRILLWICHES, serve watercress and garden lettuce salad, a vinegar and oil dressing. Tall glasses of iced tea or coffee and chilled melon wedges make a perfect finale.

Spaghetti Sauce Grillwiches
8 slices white bread
1 can (1 1/2 cups) spaghetti sauce with meat
1 thin onion slice or 1/2 cup shredded mild process cheese or 5 slices bacon, cut in half, partially cooked
Toast one side of 8 slices of bread under the broiler. Make open-face sandwiches by placing a couple spoonfuls of sauce and one onion slice on each slice of bread. Broil about 3 inches from heating element until hot and bubbly. 8 sandwiches.

Spaghetti Sauce On Rolls
1/2 pound boiled ham, cut in strips
1 can (1 1/2 cups) spaghetti sauce with meat
8 hamburger rolls, split in half
Place ham strips on half of roll; broil until ham begins to brown. Top with a couple spoonfuls of sauce; broil 3 inches from heating element until hot and bubbly. Makes 8 servings.

Bouillon And Onions Mix: This will be one of the stars at your table if you like onions. Cook 1 cup thinly sliced onion in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Stir to separate the onion rings. To the onion, add 1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed bouillon and 1 soup can water. Simmer gently for 30 minutes. Pour into hot bowls. Garnish each serving with grated Parmesan cheese, croutons or slices of toast, sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 5 to 4 servings. Ham soufflé and fresh green buttered spinach, cooked with a dash of nutmeg, might be your choice to complete the meal.

Lowly Hamburger Becomes Heavenly

If any food can be called heavenly by the greatest portion of the American population, it would be the hamburger. There are those who might dispute applying the adjective "heavenly" to this comfortable food, but what could be more out of this world than a sizzling, pink-in-the-middle hamburger eaten hot off the grill in the great outdoors.

The hamburger sandwich was introduced to the public appetite at the great St. Louis Fair in 1904. The hamburger is no longer merely the economy food to be served to the family on the night before payday. It stars at any number of family get-togethers and parties... picnics, barbecues, cookouts, teen-ager parties. They're quickly prepared, gentle on the budget, and so compatible with innumerable favorite foods.

HEAVENLY HAMBURGERS
1 pound ground beef
1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent (monosodium glutamate)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Shake Ac'cent, salt and pepper over entire surface of meat. Toss gently with fork to distribute seasoning. Shape into 4 patties. Cook in ungreased skillet or on open grill until meat is desired degree of doneness, turning to brown evenly. Yields 4 servings.

Pork In Sandwiches Sparks Picnic Menu

No matter where you go for a picnic — to the beach, the park, a roadside table, or aboard a boat — you'll need lots of big, meaty sandwiches. Picnickers want lots of hearty food to satisfy their ravenous appetites, and sandwiches made with meat help satisfy such appetites. Meat sandwiches provide minerals and vitamins necessary for maintaining good health, too.

tritious as well as good tasting is roast pork. Slice thin pieces of the cooked roast and place them between slices of white or whole wheat bread. Spread the meat with pickle relish, chili sauce, or mayonnaise, if you prefer. To assure crisp lettuce for the sandwich, wrap a few leaves separately and add them at serving time.

Cheers Thundered As Old Man Spoke

By LYLE C. WILSON

San Francisco (UP)—Cheers rolled and thundered up to the old man on the convention platform and from across the years-old-timers heard the whistled echo of cheers long gone.

There was whispered echo, too, of a world and a way of life gone as surely as though in some great convulsion. Of all about him, only the old man had not changed and was not yet gone. His farewell address, the old man called it, as his eyes ranged over the chosen of the party he once had led.

The many younger among them stared. They knew the name but not the man. The oldsters smiled encouragement. Veterans who had known him when claimed rank by commenting on this or that occasion when the old man had stood before them in the past.

"Safeguard human freedom," the old man was saying, and from down the years the whispered echoes came in many tongues. The soft Armenian accents of a mother whose infant had been warmed and fed. The Flemish and French of the Belgians whose sick had been tended, whose starving had been given food.

Whispered Echoes Came
Whispered echoes came of the spitting Russian in which the old man had been so often blessed and in all the languages of the Middle East and of Europe, in the dialects of China the echoes came, hollers long past. Twenty years ago in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago twice and now San Francisco to send new echoes down the years to come.

"Legislative socialism," the old man was saying but without hate in his voice for he is a Quaker. "Communism, Fascism, atheism, materialism." He condemned them all.

"Alien Ideas," the old man was saying and the convention cheered him for the enemies he had made. "Malign forces that beset us from within and from without!"

Seventh Appearance
The old man was near the end now of his speech and in his mind

did not count many years ahead. "Integrity and faith," he was telling them, "is the way to the Holy Grail of freedom."

Seven times this man has stood before a national convention of the Republican Party. Twice, in 1928 and 1932, he received its nomination for president of the United States. Much older—now 82—the famous hard collar shucked for something soft and comfortable, the familiar double-breasted suit, the same halting style of oratory, the same theme: Human freedom.

His third farewell, the old man called it, and his listeners wondered. Four more years is a long time in the eighties. The old man smiled down on them.

"I have lived a long time. My faith—in the future." Cheers rolled and thundered up to the old, old man on the convention platform and across the years the echoes came. The old man stood silent there and listened. Then the first gentleman of the United States turned slowly and walked away.

Second Attempt Successful
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Horace Lindsey started sleeping with his pants under his pillow because a thief had stolen them out of the closet earlier this month, Tuesday night the prowler sneaked the pants right out from under the pillow along with a wallet containing $25.

Backward Steering Column
LONDON (UP)—Mechanic James Tomsett was fined the equivalent of $11.20 Tuesday for driving a car whose wheels turned left when the driver turned right. Tomsett explained the steering column had been installed backward.

Charges Result Of Train Chase

CHICAGO (UP)—A train chase that resembled a hunt for the stack paid off for federal narcotics agents with the arrest of the men.

The chase began last Saturday when Israel Menchaca, 28, of Del Rio, Tex., boarded a Southern Pacific train for New Orleans. A conductor first became suspicious when he noticed a white powder falling from Menchaca's metal satchel. Menchaca and the bag transferred to an Illinois Central train for New Orleans. The conductor, however, notified government officials, who began trying to catch with the train. Agents finally located the train in Chicago, where Menchaca disappeared late Tuesday. He handed the baggage claim check to Ray Davis, 35, of Chicago, who took it to a porter and instructed him to bring it to a nearby taxi. The piece of luggage was handed in to Davis, but was promptly removed from his grasp by federal agents.

Inside were 24 one-pound bags of ready-to-use marijuana.

The two men identified James "Reddy" Williams, 36, Chicago restaurant owner, as the third member of the dope ring.

Albert Amann, head of the Federal Narcotics Bureau at Chicago, said that Menchaca had apparently been supplying the others with marijuana, and had avoided immigration by giving the baggage upt to one of his "customers."

Clean Escape
CHICAGO (UP)—County prisoner Albert Haynes, 25, made a clean escape today. While a jailer reached to get him a towel, Haynes darted out of his bath and sped out of the county hospital in the jailer's pursuit. Haynes was on only his pants and shoes and lost one of the latter fleeing jailer.

BARGING ALONG TO PROFITS—In an unusual five-hour moving job, the two houses seen above were transported by barge from Cleveland, Ohio, 50 miles along Lake Erie to Huron, Ohio, where they were placed on lots for sale at a nice profit to the enterprising mover. The houses were up-to-the-minute remodeled homes, used in Cleveland to publicize a remodeling campaign. Mural & Son House Moving Company bought them from the campaign sponsor for $2,000 apiece. They are being sold in Huron for $8,500 apiece, exclusive of lot.

Great Night At Cow Palace

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
COW PALACE, San Francisco (U.P.)—It was a great night for

NO GLARE—The sun proves no hazard to 18-year-old Eileen Llesner, of Monticello, N.Y. She uses gag glasses in lieu of her lost sunglasses.

Eisenhowers, Nixons, Romanis, and Smiths.
An Eisenhower named Ike and a Nixon named Dick got nominated.

A Romani named Marcelino retrained from asking for a poll. A Smith named Joe — "whoever he is" — a Smith named Dorothy A., and a Smith named Margaret Chase got so mixed up in the vice presidential nomination business that it looked for a time as if it would take a Smith named mighty-man-is-he to straighten things out.

Before the Republican National Convention got all smithed up last night, Marcelino Romani, Puerto Rico's gift to the stage, seemed about to steal the show. He was the center of attention four times during the evening — a bald-headed little man with heavy black-rimmed glasses — waving and smiling to the delegates.

Responding to the balloting roll call for President Eisenhower, Romani was thought by many to have put the convention right back into 1952 by asking a repeat of his delegation's hilarious polling of that year.

What he actually had said in his rich, often unintelligible dialect was: "There is no need to poll the delegation this year." Then, after a pause while convention officials blinked rather uncomprehendingly, he said: "Puerto Rico is proud to cast its three votes for Dwight D. Eisenhower."

But actually it was a night to make all Smiths feel proud. Never since a Smith named Al was named by the Democrats as their standard bearer in 1928 has a political convention been so Smith conscious.

Shortly after Terry Carpenter, of Scottbluff, Nebraska, let it be known through the Nebraska chairman that he intended to nominate good old Joe Smith for vice president, Mrs. Dorothy A. Smith, a delegate from Florida and a candidate for Congress, went to the podium and seconded the VP nomination of Richard M. Nixon. And soon after that, during the balloting for Nixon, the Maine delegation announced it had hoped to place the name of its "favorite daughter," Margaret Chase Smith, in nomination. However, it said, "as circumstances have developed, Maine is happy to join in supporting Vice President Nixon for re-nomination."

When Chairman Joseph W. Martin chose, finally, to ignore the whole issue of Joe Smith — who, it turned out, was a segment of Carpenter's fertile mind — he did so by simply saying "there being no other nominations" than Nixon's, the balloting roll would be called.

From far back in the delegates' seats, then, there came a long call: "How-wow about Joe Smith!" There was no answer from the podium.

Valley Farmers Try To Get Mexican Water

WESLACO, Tex. (UP) — Rio Grande Valley citrus farmers, who are trying to get Mexico to loan them water from Falcon Reservoir, may carry their appeal directly to President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines.

Mexico turned down a Texas request for 95,000 acre feet of water from Mexico's portion of international Falcon reservoir on the Rio Grande Tuesday.

But Jack Drake, manager of the Valley Chamber of Commerce, planned to attend a meeting of the Good Neighbors Council in Monterrey today.

He was expected to ask the Mexico group to make a direct request to Ruiz Cortines.

The Mexican government has put limitations on withdrawal of water from the Rio Grande for irrigation, and irrigation bans also are in force for Texas citrus farmers. Mexican authorities, through U. S. Ambassador to Mexico Francis White, told the citrus farmers that a loan would deplete Mexico's reserves to too great an extent.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I have a lovely white all wool baby blanket that has become very gray from being packed away several years. I want to use it again and I washed it thoroughly, but it is still discolored.
Is there any means at all of bleaching white wool?
D. K.

Dear D. K.
The best you can do to bleach wools is to use a mild sodium perborate bleach and that is not too satisfactory.

Would it be possible to have the blanket dyed? Some color which would hide the discoloring.

WEDDING GIFTS
Dear Grace Friend

Is it correct for the bride to take time out at the church to open packages which are brought there for her? If so when should it be done, before or after the ceremony.
Martha

Dear Martha
I don't believe that a bride would find time to open packages at the church either before or after the ceremony.

She might be able to open some if the reception is to be held in her home and she has a few moments to spare before dressing to leave on her honeymoon.

However, if the ceremony and reception take place in the church, she probably would have to leave the packages until she returns from her honeymoon.

THANK YOU NOTES
Dear Grace

My daughter is to be married soon and already has received a number of wedding presents. I have tried my best to get her to write thank you notes to the senders as the gifts arrive but she insists that it is quite all right to wait until she returns from the honeymoon.

I finally got her to agree to write the notes now if you say that it is proper.
Mrs. K. L.

Dear Mrs. L.
A wise bride writes her thanks to those who send wedding gifts as soon as possible after the gifts arrive. This is a small courtesy in consideration of the time and thought spent by those who sent the presents.

Notes should be written on note paper, not cards, and always the bride should write the letters herself. It is never correct to send printed cards of thanks.

Manners

Make Friends

The child who has not been taught at home that it isn't polite to stay through the meal hour at a neighbor's house can get to be a nuisance. It's quite all right to say, "It's our dinner hour now, Tommy. Could you come back later?" It is possible to teach a neighbor's child manners without embarrassing him.

And it is sometimes necessary to teach a child things he should have been taught at home.

Groom Bride-Elect

Feted With Shower

GROOM — (Special) — A bridal shower was presented for Miss Janet Evans in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church recently. Hostesses were Meses. O. P. Blackwell, Ed Hughes, Sam Kotara, Walter Ollinger, Mattie McAdams, John Hickox, John Krizan, O. R. Major and Manuel Ruthardt.
Guests were registered by Miss Helen Hickox, and piano selections were played by Meses Wilma Hickox, Elaine Kotara and Aimita Ruthardt.
The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over blue, centered with an arrangement of snapdragons and roses. Flanking the centerpiece were white tapers in blue holders. Mrs. Ed Hughes presided at the punch bowl.
About 98 persons attended or sent gifts.

Attending were Messrs. and Meses. Ralph Alexander, L. S. Hardage, Percy Hill, Carl Cansler, Harry Rathjen and Pat Murphy.

Sub Deb Pledges To Fete Shut-ins

Pledges of the Sub Deb Club are busy today making cookies which will be delivered to 50 Pampa shut-ins Friday. The project, in which they are cooperating with the Pampa Red Cross chapter, is part of the club's pledge activity.

Duties of the pledges for the week were outlined during a meeting at the home of Miss Joan Jones, 900 Christine, Monday afternoon. The cookies will be delivered during the pledges' "dress-up" day.

This final week of pledging will wind-up Friday with an Emancipation Dance, slated for 8 p.m. in Parish Hall of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. After the dance, the Sub Deb members and pledges will hold mock and kangaroo courts, to be followed by a slumber party.

A CHERRY SLUMP is not a pessimistic prediction of the market value of that tasty fruit. But it can be predicted that if Adlai Stevenson is elected President, the White House chef will be preparing cherry slumps at least 52 times a year. For this deep dish pie, filled with cherries, is among his favorite foods.

FIVE generations of closeness to the Illinois land and its traditions are reflected in Stevenson's preference for wholesome, simple foods. His tastes are rooted in generations of family "receipts" as well as his mother's old-fashioned authority, "Mrs. Rohrer's Cookbook."

For a summer's breakfast, Stevenson will have a bowl of shredded wheat covered with berries or peaches. This is only a little more sophisticated than his boyhood breakfasts of oatmeal, which sat simmering in a double boiler till morning on the back of the coal stove. Accompanying a winter's supper, chances are one will find tomatoes simmered in cream on the Stevenson menu. A summer's lunch might contain a large platter of fresh vegetables topped with a light butter sauce. During the family holidays, Thanksgiving and Christmas, his sister reports that Stevenson insists upon "carving the turkey at the table and likes to get all the little bits left on the carcass on Christmas night supper."

Among Stevenson's favorites are a variety of vegetables and fish; watercress for salad, turnips diced and dotted with black pepper and butter. For vegetables he likes tomatoes, corn, eggplant, asparagus, beans. His Springfield, Illinois, friends, knowing of his fondness for catfish, regularly brought this fish to the Governor's kitchen. His cook always served it with slaw.

Stevenson has dismayed his sister many a time with a plaintive appeal for "simple desserts." If you were to ask him to be specific, he'd most likely reply, "cherry slump" or "hubbard squash pie." His first encounter with the squash pie was during the 1952 campaign. The chef on the campaign train, W. Banks, prepared this especially for Gov. Stevenson and his staff.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ives, a skilled and gracious hostess, has submitted the two recipes of her brother's favorite desserts.

CHERRY SLUMP

Make a soft dough by sifting together:
1 cup flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup shortening (Crisco)
Moisten with 1/2 cup milk, or more if needed.
Wash and pit one quart of cherries or more to fill the baking dish. Mix into the cherries:

1 1/2 cup sugar
2 1/2 tablespoons flour (if corn starch is used, a little less)
1/4 teaspoon salt
Mix this all together in the baking dish and then drop the dough over it by the spoonful.
Bake in a 350 degree oven until the juice bubbles and the crust becomes a golden brown.

HUBBARD SQUASH PIE

Steam 1 lb. Hubbard squash; put through fine strainer. Blend:
1/4 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 pint scalded milk
3 eggs
Add to cooked squash. Pour in milk. Add pinch of salt and blend. Fill one unbaked pie shell and bake in oven, 350 degrees for one hour. Top with whipped cream. Nine inch pie shell serves seven.

RUTH MILLET

Here's good news for all less than perfect housekeepers whose homes often have more clutter than just a proper "lived-in" look. A home management expert in speaking at a recent meeting of the American Home Economics Association knocked the perfectionist housekeeper right off her well-dusted pedestal.

Said she: "The perfectionist housekeeper may overtax her strength and antagonize her entire family by her desire for perfection. She is frequently a person who has lost sight of the forest for the trees."

That assurance, coming from an expert, ought to give a lot of comfort to the average housewife. For most women want their homes to be real homes, where husband and children can relax, putter in the kitchen, clutter up the living room with their work and hobbies. They want them to find places to put their treasures even though they don't always add to the decor (like the mounted deer's head in Junior's room and the coffee table Pop built that no one has to be told was his first attempt at cabinet making).

But even though they turn over their houses to their families, housewives sometimes yearn for a house that looks as neat as the one down the block.
Often the not-perfect housekeeper comes home from a visit in a perfectly groomed house looking down her nose at her own standards.
But she needn't do that any more.
She has an expert's word for it that a home isn't primarily a showcase but a place for family living.
So long as her way of keeping house keeps her family happy, relaxed, and homeloving, she need never be ashamed of her home.

Homer Technique Keeps Redlegs In Race

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

A homer-a-day technique has the Cincinnati Redlegs threatening two records today and making it plain they'll be in the National League pennant race to the bitter end.

The experts expected the Redlegs to be floundering out of the race by now but Birdie Tebbetts' maulers simply refuse to fold. They beat the Pittsburgh Pirates for the ninth straight time Wednesday, 6-3, to remain only a game behind the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers and cut the first-place Milwaukee Braves' lead to three games.

Gus Bell walloped his 24th homer to extend the team's string to 19 straight games in which it has hit at least one homer. The club is within five games of the National League mark of 24 straight games set by the 1933 Dodgers and within six games of the major league record set by the 1941 New York Yankees. In addition, Bell's homer was the club's 180th of the year — leaving it 41 shy of the major league mark of 221 for a season held by the 1947 New York Giants.

The Redlegs also took advantage of errors by Bill Mazerowski and Dale Long to score four unearned runs as Joe Nuxhall gained credit for his ninth win. Bob Friend was the victim of the Pirates' loose support and lost his 13th game.

Musial Makes Two Errors
PeeWee Reese collected three of the Dodgers' five hits as they downed the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3, for a sweep of the two-game series. Stan Musial committed two errors and Don Blasingame one to help the Dodgers score four unearned runs.

The last-place New York Giants turned on their season-long tormentors to deal the Braves a 2-1 loss and give Dick Littlefield his first victory since last Aug. 30. Dusty Rhodes singled home the decisive run in the sixth inning as the Giants beat Milwaukee for the fourth time in 20 meetings.

Bob Rush pitched a five-hitter for his 12th win and the Chicago Cubs tallied five unearned runs to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-3. The Cubs backed Rush with a nine-hit attack.

The New York Yankees virtually ended the American League pennant race when they defeated the Cleveland Indians, 3-2, and restored their lead to 3½ games with only 34 left to play. Al Rosen's two errors on the same play enabled the Yankees to score the winning run.

Pierce Gets 18th
Billy Pierce became the A.L.'s first 18-game winner of the season when the Chicago White Sox won a daytime game, 6-3, but the Boston Red Sox gained a split in the night game of the "doubleheader" with a 7-6 decision. Ron Northey's sacrifice fly snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning of the first game and Fred Hatfield followed with a clinching two-run homer. In the nightcap, homers by Ted Lepcio and Dick Gernert helped the Red Sox tie the score at 6-6 and Billy Consolo singled in the winning tally in the ninth.

Golf Immortal Bobby Jones Doubts Game's Improvement

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY

HASTINGS ON HUDSON, N.Y.

(UP) — Bobby Jones, one of the golfing immortals, said today that top-flight golfers would not improve as long as "man is built like an ape and plays like a monkey."

Jones, appearing at a party introducing the drastically new Spalding Dot golf ball, said that equipment has improved tremendously but that the "modern and old-time swings still are essentially the same."

On the 34th hole, a par five, I pulled my second into a bunker and had a tremendously bad sloping lie," he said. "It was a miserable shot and I said to myself, 'If this wedge doesn't play it, nothing will.'"

"I blasted it out of there and it rolled 60 feet to the lip of the cup. That shot saved me two strokes—and I won by two shots."

It was that wedge which carried him home, too, in the U.S. Amateur finals. There in the last round he buried his third hole tee shot in deep, fluffy sand, but with the wedge "popped it up to within a foot of the hole to start me on my way to victory."

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

Why people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevrolet

Sales and official registration figures show that the higher priced cars are losing more and more buyers to Chevrolet. And it isn't just because a Chevrolet costs less, either!

If you buy a higher priced car instead of a Chevrolet, what do you get in return for those extra hundreds of dollars?

More room? No, because the difference in room is usually measured in fractions of inches—often in Chevrolet's favor! Better road-ability? Not with Chevy's wedded-to-the-road stability and sure-footed cornering ability. Better performance? Well, Tom McCahill, automotive expert for Mechanix Illustrated, called Chevrolet "the greatest performance buy ever offered at any time in America!" Result: more buyers are deciding they'd rather drive a sweet-handling Chevrolet even if it didn't cost less! Wouldn't you?

America's largest selling car—2 million more owners than any other make!

Records 'Prove' Babe

(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — Mickey Mantle's home run hammering mauls Babe Ruth's long-standing record of 60 but only when you dust off the records can you appreciate the tremendous hitting show which the Bambino put on back there in 1927.

Mantle is staging quite a scene, too, with his 42 homers, batting average in the .360's and 107 runs batted in as of Wednesday. Yet time is running out fast on the Mick and it begins to appear that only in the average department will he beat the Babe's big year.

Because Ruth was a homeric hitter in that season of his most fabulous mark.

Take a look at the Babe's overall marks that year: 151 games, 540 times at bat, 158 runs, 192 hits, 28 doubles, eight triples, 60 homers, 138 bases on balls, 164 runs batted in, 89 strikeouts and a .356 average.

Mantle has .361 Average. Mantle's figures through 115 games were: 421 at bats, 104 runs, 152 hits, 16 doubles, four triples, 42 homers, 91 bases on balls, 107 runs batted in, 75 strikeouts and a .361 average.

Which meant that with 30 games remaining, Mantle—needing 28 homers to match Ruth's 60—also trailed Ruth by 54 runs, 40 hits, 13 doubles, four triples, had received 47 fewer bases on balls, was only 14 strikeouts short of Ruth's seasonal total and had knocked in 57 fewer runs. In batting, Mantle holds an .006 shade in the average.

The major factor against Mantle, or anyone else who hopes to break the big 60, is the tremendous surge which Ruth made in September when he blasted 17 homers.

Against Boston, early in September, he walloped five homers in two days. In the opener of a double header he got one off Tony Welser. In the nightcap he hit another off Jack Russell. The next day, in a single game, he got one from Danny Mac Fadden and another off Bryan Harris.

Hit Against Best
From Sept. 11 through Sept. 30, at Yankee Stadium, the Babe collected 11 home runs. And he wasn't batting against paties, because one was a bases loaded clout against Lefty Grove. That was on Sept. 27. Two days later he nicked Horace Ilesbee of the Senators and in the same game banged a bases loaded round tripper off Paul Hopkins.

The next day, in the Yank's 15th game, he collected his 60th off Tom Zachary of the Senators. Ruth's total came off 32 different pitchers and the leading victims, yielding four each, were Rubs Walberg and Milt Gaston.

If Mantle thinks the pitchers are fearful of "coming in" when he's at the plate, consider that of Ruth's 138 walks he twice was given free trips to first in 27 games, walked three times in six others and once drew four walks in one game.

All of which points up the chore facing the kid from Oklahoma as he goes for the big record. It takes a lot of big hitting.

Hobbs Pulls Away From The Field

By UNITED PRESS
The pitchers instead of the batters generally made the news in Southwest League action Wednesday night as the Hobbs Sports edged further away from the field.

The Sports downed Carlsbad 2 to 1 as Jim Grimm outpitched Harry Young, who walked in the winning Hobbs run in the eighth. The victory stretched the Sports' lead over El Paso to 12 games as the latter club split a twin bill with San Angelo.

Stan Patchell both won and lost for San Angelo as he checked in with a 4 to 3 verdict in the opener against the Texans, then was charged with a 1 to 0 second game loss during a six-inning relief stint against the Texans' Jim Ackers.

Midland's Joe Dominguez allowed Rowell but five hits, while Rowell's Gene Armstrong was touched for only four. But an error and Ike Jackson's double gave Midland its margin for a 2 to 1 victory in the top of the ninth. Eddie McKay and Bob Leach each checked Covic with six hits as Ballinger ran Covic' losing streak to 13 games with 6 to 4 and 9 to 4 victories.

Plainview edged to within 1-2 games of a playoff spot by whipping Pampa 5 to 2 with a five-run outburst in the eighth.

Tonight Pampa moves to Carlsbad, Plainview to El Paso, Covic to Hobbs, Rowell to San Angelo and Midland to Ballinger.

Yanks Buy Wilson
NEW YORK (UP)—The New York Yankees, taking no chances despite their 8 1/2 game American League lead, today added George Wilson to their roster in an effort to bolster their pinch-hitting department. The 30-year old Wilson was purchased from the New York Giants Wednesday for an amount "above the $10,000 waiver price."

SEASCAPE—Apropos of its name, the Vision forms a picturesque contrast as it sails by a vessel of conventional style. The blue and white spinner adds a colorful touch to the fleet bobbing in the water off the Isle of Wight in Cowes Regatta.

Pirate Manager Wants New Men
CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Manager Bob Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who said Wednesday that he would resign unless the club gets better players next year, indicated today the team was hitting on only half its cylinders.

"We have the nucleus for a real good ball club," he said. "About a dozen of the players can justify calling themselves major league ball players and about a dozen cannot."

Ponies Trip Oilers, 6-2

Locals Hit Road For Five Days

Friday Fight Gets Cash, Attention

Plainview's Ponies downed the Pampa Oilers, 6-2, here last night in the final game of a nine-day home stand. The locals journey to Carlsbad tonight where they take on the Potashers with Art Perina tabbed for mound duty.

It was the first win for Plainview in Pampa this year. The Ponies tagged right-hander Hoyt Benedict for the loss, getting six runs on 10 hits. Benedict pitched eight innings and was pulled for a pinch hitter, Ernie Bartolomei, in the bottom of the eighth. Buddy Woods pitched the ninth inning for Pampa and got 'em out three up, three down.

The Ponies jumped ahead by a run in the first inning when they got three hits, singles by second baseman Jack Poppel and shortstop Sam Goody, followed by a double by right fielder Don Stokes. Pampa got that one back, however, plus one in their half. Second baseman Frank Kempa got a single and came in when right fielder Jimmy Robinette doubled. Third baseman Johnny Bruza then singled to score Robinette. Bruza was later picked off trying to steal second, however, to end the inning.

The Oilers were quiet the rest of the way. The Ponies got back ahead in the eighth, scoring five runs after going scoreless six innings. The visitors got their runs on two doubles, two errors and three bases on balls. That ended the scoring for the night. Tucker's ninth inning single going for naught. Plainview made three double plays and Pampa one in the game which saw 22 players participate.

Saxton Favored
WORCESTER, Mass. (UP)—Welterweight champion Jimmy Saxton rated a solid favorite for his 10-round non-title bout tonight with Don Williams of Worcester at the Auditorium. The "tune-up" fight will be Saxton's last before he defends his title Sept. 12 against Carmen Basilio at Syracuse, N.Y.

HONOR

DECENCY

MORALITY

Ralph Yarborough is FOR:

- A $30 per month raise in aid age pensions—for the fathers and mothers, the builders, of Texas.
- A real water conservation program.
- A real soil conservation program.
- More and better schools.
- Higher teacher pay (and the retirement pay raise to be voted on in the fall).
- A real youth development program.
- A real juvenile delinquency program.
- A real anti-narcotics law for Texas, with the strongest possible penalty for heroin peddlers.
- A lobby registration law.
- Adequate legislative pay.
- Higher workmen's compensation and better industrial safety laws.
- Expanded public health and hospitalization.
- An honest program for Veterans Benefits.
- Modern medical treatment for the mentally ill.
- State to pay fair share of cost of rights-of-way for State Highways.
- More and better rural electrification, farm-to-market roads and highways.

Ralph Yarborough OPPOSES:

- Any additional State sales taxes or any State income tax.

Pampa News Women's Editor

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LOOKING CHIC and looking like a mourner in midsummer black lies in accessories chosen to wear with it, says Max Factor, Jr. High on the list of gloom-dispellers is flower-fresh make-up. The more like a flower it looks—bear down on the pink tones, he urges—the less deadening it is to a skin. THE MORE pink flesh you bare, with lowered neckline and less sleeves, the gayer and more alluring a black dress looks, he thinks.

For relieving all-blackness—which every woman passing her 35th birthday should seek to do—here are some dependable techniques:

Play a peek-a-boo texture (black lace or chiffon) against opaque black fabric, like linen, faille or cotton.

Relieve a black dress with color, but use it in accessory pairs. A turquoise blue chignon scarf and linen sandals to match, a purple straw cartwheel and nosegay of violets, worn at the neckline or waist of a black linen sheath.

Use high-shine black as a foil against dull-surfaced black: a chinon cluster of lacquered black cherries, for instance, with a dress of delustered silk. Or wear a black satin hat with a black faille dress.

Belt a black dress with a bold black-and-white striped sash or cinch. Then strike a vibrant red note with another accessory—perhaps a clear, clear red lipstick.

THERE ARE almost as many skin shades in sunbats as there are people who sport them. To dramatize one at its midsummer peak, let Hollywood expert, Max Factor, Jr., call your cues.

First, decide which type of tan is yours, he suggests.

Is it rosy, like a deep pink beige shade of face powder? Or orange-yellow, like new copper? Or smoky, like coffee-and-milk?

Let's start, says Factor, by making up to your rich pigmentation. Dare to wear a deeper-than-your-tan make-up to exaggerate depth of color.

With rosy tan, wear a pink lipstick—luminous pink or shimmering rose shade.

With an orange-yellow tan, wear a clear, clear red or a dazzling coral lipstick.

With coffee-and-milk tan, do it up brown by evening up lovely smoky tones with matching make-up. A fluid make-up foundation will put the best high fidelity glow on your tan. To gain good contrast, between-skin and eyes, make-up up brows and lashes, to look a couple of shades darker. Spark this most coveted shade of tan with a

Mrs. Freda Vietor "Knows The Score" When It Comes To Kansas City Athletics

By MARY KAY FLYNN
NEA Staff Correspondent
KANSAS CITY, Kan.—(NEA)—In the kitchen and at the ball park Mrs. Freda Vietor, the first woman employed in full-time public relations work by a major league baseball team, knows what's cookin'.

A cooking expert and longtime baseball fan, the new Kansas City A's specialist says she's "no Myrt Powers but a typical woman fan who knows enough about baseball to thoroughly enjoy the game."

The only child of a country doctor, Freda and her parents attended practically all baseball games played by her Iowa hometown team from her childhood until going away to college. The family usually missed only when "someone was going to have a baby."

Like her late father, Freda regards baseball as the ideal family spectator sport. She recalls that her parents were such enthusiastic fans that on one occasion they sent her on a long walk home to get sandwiches during an all-day baseball outing because they were fearful of losing their seats.

Freda conducted cooking schools and demonstrations as a part of 17 years of public relations work for public utilities companies in Kansas and Iowa. Before taking her current post she drew up kitchen plans and decorations for her builder husband. She taught home economics for five years in Iowa public schools following her graduation from Iowa State Teachers College.

She applies this experience in assisting women's groups in presenting programs with a baseball theme. One of her innovations is converting ice cream snowballs into dessert baseballs.

Although sewing is one of her principal hobbies, Freda wouldn't think of taking her sewing basket to the ball park. "That just isn't done," she said.

When addressing women's groups, Freda models a size-48 A's baseball shirt and offers for inspection a baseball and bat belonging to one of the A's players. Women usually inquire about the extra long "no poke" length of the shirt, which hangs below the knees of the 3 foot 2 inch, 107-pound model.

Women ask Freda lots of questions pertaining to baseball but the one she hears most is: "Do you travel with the team?" She thinks the almost breathless query stems from the feminine fan's unexpressed desire to attend out-of-town games.

The petite baseball promoter has drawn up a "true and false" questionnaire on baseball with this as one of the toppers: "The dugout is a deep hole where they keep baseballs." The statement was included for amusement only, she explained, because "most women fans 'sknow the score.'" For her winners, she distributes a booklet explaining baseball.

Mrs. Freda Vietor knows what's cookin' when it comes to matters concerning the Kansas City ball club.

Most women are susceptible to the bite of the "baseball bug," Freda believes. She tells about the friend who "couldn't figure out what the sand bags were for" when attending her first ball game but now is such an avid fan that she "even uses binoculars."

The men and women Freda meets in her work think it's wonderful to have "a woman in baseball." She's already accustomed to such greetings as "Hi, Baseball Lady," and "So you're Mrs. Baseball."

Her services are not confined strictly to women's groups and occasionally she has a request to address men's organizations. A visiting chemist recently stopped her in a Kansas City hotel lobby and after inquiring if she is associated with the KC Athletics asked to hold, swing and check the weight of the bat she was carrying.

GRACE FRIEND

Grace Friend
Will you please give me the details about a grant deed. My father-in-law has made out grant deeds for all of us.
What is a grant deed?
We are to get these deeds after his death. He has not been well for a long time so we do not ask him to explain them. We have not seen them.
Myrtle

Dear Myrtle
A grant deed is not effective as long as it remains in the possession of the property owner. To be effective it must be put in the hands of an attorney or in escrow where it will remain until his death when the deed will be recorded in the name of the person to whom the property has been transferred.

The grant deed guarantees that the title to the property is clear and in the name of the owner. When the property is transferred at death it is subject to inheritance tax.

KEEPS BUSY
Dear Grace Friend,
I would like to answer the letter written by Genevieve in your April 20 article. You see I'm a widow with two children. I have interest that keep me busy and I don't have time to get lonesome. If Genevieve will get in touch with me I will tell her how she can get into something very interesting and she need not be lonesome anymore.
I read your column always and receive a lot of good advice from it.
Sincerely,
Mrs. M. H.

Mrs. Anno Feted At Bridal Shower

Mrs. George Anno, the former Jackie Robertson of Pampa, was honored with a bridal shower on the lawn of the Calvary Baptist Church recently.

Entertainment consisted of group singing and several vocal solos, "Without A Song" and "You'll Never Know," by the honoree's sister, Miss Joan Robertson. Refreshments of punch and cake were served from a table decorated in white. Other decorations included a pink gift tree.

Approximately 70 guests attended or sent gifts.

Manners Make Friends

If an outing has already been planned and you are invited at the last minute to join the group, go along with the plans as they are. The latecomer who starts trying to change plans to suit himself is usually resented. If the plans don't suit you, you can always turn down the invitation.

Because the insect world begins its end-of-summer march, spray all basement screens and joints around windows, inside and out. Helps to prevent the little ones from sneaking inside where they grow to become king-size nuisances.

Maybe her husband doesn't perk up when she says half-heartedly, "Would you like to see a movie tonight?"

But if she gives the movie she wants to see a big buildup, and dangles a little bait before him by mentioning that his favorite Hollywood glamor girl is in the picture she might get a better response.

Perhaps her husband doesn't ever offer to take over the children while she gets away for a few hours. That doesn't necessarily mean she has to be tied down.

If she can't afford a baby sitter she can usually find a neighbor who will be glad to take over her children occasionally if she will reciprocate by doing the same for the neighbor.

She may be sold on the idea that her husband doesn't like entertaining and so has stopped inviting people in.

But did she ever try inviting HIS friends instead of hers for an evening and then watch him shine as a jovial host?

So her husband doesn't talk to her about his work? Lots of husbands don't.

But wives who have plenty of outside interests of their own don't feel shut away from the world just because they don't share in their husband's business lives.

So her husband throws cold water on most of her plans and ideas. Let him throw. He'll get tired of throwing cold water if it never does him any good.

No, husbands aren't responsible if their wives lead dull and boring lives. With a little gumption and imagination a wife can get some of the things she wants out of life, no matter how little cooperation and encouragement she gets from her husband.

Giving up is never the fault of anyone but the one who decides to give up.

HOLLYWOOD (UP)— In the early days of movies two reels gave way to features, silent films to sound and black-and-white to color. The still-growing television industry is looking for ways to add to its stature.

And, following the course set by motion pictures rather than by radio, TV is being directed more and more toward the big epics, picked up a gruesome rubber mask — a pink job, hairless, with but two teeth sticking from the mouth. A crooked nose made it look like anything but a Republican delegate.

JOE SMITH

Finkle borrowed a white, floor-length coat from a porter, had a sign painted saying "Mr. Martin, THIS IS Joe Smith."

Caught Midway
The New Jersey alternate got onto the floor. But mid-way up the center aisle, right by the United Press floor telephone, the sergeants at arms — four of them — caught up with Finkle.

Ex-Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado was speaking at the time and the sergeants-at-arms insisted Finkle was acting improperly by attempting to disrupt the proceedings at such a serious moment.

They made Finkle put down his sign, take off his robe — and remove the mask.

When the trucker took off the mask, the head sergeant-at-arms looked at the alternate closely and observed: "Well, you look a little better." He emphasized the word "little."

When I asked Finkle more about his mask, the would-be merry maker handed the Halloween contraption over saying: "Here, you take it, Joe Smith is through."

Personalities Needed In Movies Instead Of Talent

EDITOR'S NOTE: Aline Mosby is on vacation. Today's guest column is by famed director Mike Curtis — directed to the young folks who want to get into the movies.

By MIKE CURTIS
Written for the United Press
HOLLYWOOD (UP)— A week doesn't pass when someone doesn't come up with a fine theory about what's wrong with the movies. The drive-ins and TV are their excuse, along with the feeling we've been making too many dreary movies — about dreary people. The latest idea is that we should have two sets of actors — one for movies and the other for TV and never should the two meet.

I think the movie industry itself has been to blame because for a long time there's been a concerted campaign to deliberately keep the new Clark Gables and Lana Turners away from Hollywood.

For the past decade, potential new talent has been consistently warned to stay away from the movie capital.

"We don't discover stars on soda fountain stools any more," the youngsters are told. "Movie-making is a big business with no more time for cinderella tales — so get your training in schools, little theaters, television or the stage and wait-until we send for you," the big producers say.

So what has happened? Only three new box office stars were developed within the last couple of years — Marilyn Monroe, Marlon Brando and Jimmy Dean. No one else can match the excitement and glamour of the stars who made the movies what they are today. Twenty years ago we had them by the dozens.

It may be that movies today have become such a cut-and-dried proposition that the spirit of adventure has been lost. Yet any director who firmly believes in his own convictions should try to remedy this situation.

I helped make stars of such one-time newcomers as Errol Flynn, Eleanor Parker, Ann Blyth and Doris Day.

The movies don't need talent as much as they need personalities. It doesn't matter if a personality can act — as long as he or she looks good on the screen. If they have the talent, so much the better. But the important things are to be natural and make that warm contact with the audience.

Many of the people we have been getting for pictures come to us from New York overtrained, with little affectations, which we have to knock out of them before we can make picture actors out of them. That's why I think that a lot of wonderful personalities have been chased away from the soda fountain stools. They think they aren't picture material and yet they may be the people we could use!

But the hits outweighed the misses and prompted the network to go ahead with bigger shows which a few years ago could have been considered only by major motion picture studios.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

WOODROW ADCOCK, Pastor
First Methodist Church
Pampa, Texas

RECEIVE HIM AS A BROTHER

"I appeal to you for my child, Onesimus, whose father I have become in my imprisonment. (Formerly he was useless to you, but now he is indeed useful to you and to me.) I would have been glad to keep him with me, in order that he might serve me on your behalf during my imprisonment for the gospel; but I preferred to do nothing without your consent in order that your goodness might not be by compulsion but of your own free will.

"Perhaps this is why he was parted from you for a while, that you might have him back forever, no longer as a slave but more than a slave, as a beloved brother, especially to me but how much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord. So if you consider me your partner, receive him as you would receive me."

—Philemon 1:10-17.

Paul and Philemon were partners in the work of Christ. Philemon had a young slave by the name of Onesimus. The slave ran away from Philemon and came in contact with Paul in prison. Under the influence of Paul the slave became a Christian and was a source of great inspiration and help to Paul.

Paul felt it was his duty to send Onesimus back to Philemon. He writes a letter requesting Philemon to receive his former slave, not as a slave, but as a brother. Paul says receive him with the same respect and love as you would receive me.

This runaway slave became useful when he became a Christian whereas before he was a problem and a liability to society. The church is engaged in the business of bringing all people under the power of the gospel of Christ that they may become useful and helpful to each other as brothers.

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. Our endeavor is to be consistent with truths expressed in such great guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent in these moral guides.

NOTE FOR DANIEL

Tomorrow's election brings into focus the Texas governor's race which seems to have resolved itself into a fracas which obscures the underlying issues at stake.

As far as announced programs are concerned, of course, there is little difference between Senator Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough. Both are for all the programs which are stock with most politicians and against all forms of sin already condemned by 99.9 per cent of the voters.

Behind the scene, however, is a marked battle between the conservatives who support Daniel and the CIO-New Deal faction which is firmly wedded to Yarborough. Both candidates hedge considerably in stating this fact in a straightforward manner on the basis that they might gather a few votes in the opposition camp if they don't make their stand too obvious.

On the whole, Daniel best illustrated his general philosophy of government while in the United States Senate where he fairly consistently voted in opposition to the "big government" idea. Yarborough, with no significant public spotlight other than the campaign platform, must be largely judged by the "birds of a feather" rule which finds him roosting in the nest of the left-wingers.

There is probably nothing which illustrates Yarborough's basic lack of ethical concept better than his often repeated charge that Daniel failed to support the national party's candidate in 1952. This business of demanding that support of a party label, right or wrong, gives view to such a low level of understanding that it is hardly debatable, except in the realm of Truman politics.

The record of Price Daniel clearly shows that of the two candidates, he is for and away the best choice and every holder of a ballot will do himself a favor by casting his vote for Daniel tomorrow.

THE NATION'S PRESS

INTEGRATION SLOWS TOWARD HALT

The Tulsa Tribune.

The process of desegregating public schools is gradually grinding to a halt. With the famous Supreme Court decision now more than two years old how does the score stand?

Only about 14 per cent of the districts in the "Jim Crow" states have desegregated.

By the end of the school year last May an estimated 280,645 Negro children, previously required to attend all-colored schools, were in "integrated situations." Most of these children live in large cities like Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Louisville, St. Louis and Kansas City.

The term "integrated situation," however, doesn't necessarily mean schools with mixed white and colored pupils. Both Tulsa and Oklahoma City, for example, have all-colored schools but are still integrated in the sense that there is no longer a requirement that a Negro child living near a predominantly white school must attend a Negro school.

In rural areas integration has made most of its gains in those counties where the Negro population is least. Northern Delaware, for example, is integrated while southern Delaware is still fighting the court ruling. While 15 of Maryland's 22 counties have some degree of integration in progress the plantation country of the Eastern Shore generally resists. In west Texas counties, where the Negro education was expensive, segregation has ended.

Besides Tulsa and Oklahoma City there are 86 integrated school districts in Oklahoma. These include some counties along the Kansas border that contain no Negro population at all.

In Kentucky, where 41 out of 184 school districts are already desegregated, nearly every district is planning "some stage" of desegregation in September. But to the south the public attitude stiffens. There are only three desegregated districts in Arkansas involving fewer than 50 Negro pupils. Tennessee, so far, has only one desegregated area — the high school at Oak Ridge, under federal control. Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville have announced their "intention" of complying with the Supreme Court order, but no date is specified.

From Virginia through to Louisiana there has been no desegregation at the public school level. The NAACP has pushed court battles in several states where desegregation is resisted. In those states where the Negro population is least, Northern Delaware, for example, is integrated while

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"What's Wrong With Education?"

The American Legion Magazine for August has a critical article on our schools. It was written by Harold W. James, president emeritus of New Mexico Western College. He is retired. Thus he is free to express his opinion as to what is happening in government schools.

The Legion Magazine is performing a service by running articles criticizing the sacred cow of government schools. I want to quote from this article.

"We have learned to invent things to kill each other, but how much more do we know than our fathers knew about living and getting along together? How much better are we helping our young people adjust to life?"

"Last year Mrs. Florence Sweeney, an outstanding teacher of English in the Detroit schools, a person who had been president of the Detroit Federation of Teachers nine years, retired at the age of 53. In writing about her retirement she stated that she was 'glad to retire' because 'in these days high school students have simply become too difficult for a teacher to handle'... 'years ago you found only a few students who were openly hostile'... 'today, teachers confront classes in which hostility outweighs co-operation, and willing students are unable to set the pattern of class behavior.' Mrs. Sweeney was not a failure; she had attained unusual recognition as a teacher in one of our outstanding school systems. Detroit is not a 'horrible example'."

"While I was writing this article, I heard of an incident in a local school which points up this condition. A ninth-grade teacher asked one of her boy pupils to come up before the class and explain something in the lesson. The boy told her to 'go to hell.' He was not punished; he stayed in his seat and did not recite. You say this is an unusual case. Maybe so, but we are having too many unusual cases. I have just talked to a fine teacher in another high school. This person, a man who has had some 20 years' experience and who is a better disciplinarian than the average teacher, makes this comment, 'Schools seem to be run to keep young people off the street.'"

"Another teacher, a woman who is recognized by the teaching profession in New Mexico as one of the outstanding high school teachers of the State, told me recently that she would teach for nothing if she could just teach a group where the main emphasis was on learning rather than having to be under the tension of keeping discipline."

"Records show that juvenile delinquency is rampant throughout the country, and yet the eminent educators on the radio forum suggested no major deficiencies in education other than technical problems of subject instruction and a shortage of teachers."

"Our psychologists have long stated the principle that the best way to learn proper behavior is to practice the desired behavior. Why do we fail to apply this principle in our schools?"

"In order to see where the next generation is going, it is necessary to see where it came. The Chinese have a saying, 'Give a boy and a pig all they want, and you end up with a good pig and a bad boy.' What kind of an educational environment do we give our younger generation? Our main effort seems to be to make schools pleasant and soft for students."

"Children are taken to school in cars or buses. Students do not clean up after themselves; we have janitors to do it for them. Tennis courts and other playing fields are smoothed and marked by hired help. The school grounds are littered by the students but cleaned up by others. All school equipment is bought by tax money and paid workers do the repairing. We have cafeterias operated by school employees. We provide parking space for students' automobiles. We provide a place to buy candy, soft drinks, and peanuts. We schedule class meetings and other extracurricular activities on school time because the student will not attend on their own time."

"The list could go on and on — dances, summer play programs, swimming pools, etc. Lastly, after the students have had such strenuous years in high school, we reward them with a senior trip; parents buy them a gold watch and class ring; and the school gives them not a great deal of significant learning but a diploma and a hypothetical (very hypothetical) social adjustment."

"The tragedy of soft education is that when people are taught not to do their best the attitude is hard to overcome. It may end in either resentment or an attitude of waiting to get the $50,000 to a giveaway program. It is a trip to Rome by signing their names, or at least get one of the free bicycles given by the grocery store. This get-something-for-nothing complex is not one that will help keep America in front as a vigorous nation."

"What do we expect of our graduates? We evidently expect our students to undergo a metamorphosis after leaving school, since we desire them to be people who will take an active interest in, and who will work for, the betterment of their community. What a foolish expectation when we have taught them that politicians get hired help to do this. Do we expect graduates to take pride

Chicago And San Francisco

Fair Enough

Man Attending GOP Resembles All

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Cow Palace, San Francisco — A man hurrying through the crowd in the lobby of the St. Francis Hotel accidentally fell a sheet of papers. He bore a strong political resemblance to the Hon. Jake Javits, Attorney General of the State of New York; Senators Ives of New York, Case of New Jersey, Wiley of Wisconsin and Bush of Connecticut; and to Sherman Adams, the sergeant of the White House palace guard. He even looked enough like President Eisenhower to be trusted to play his hand at bridge should official emergency call him from his relaxation on the golf course.

The text of the papers follows: "My friends: I am happy, indeed, to find myself among ladies and gentlemen of like mind and moral and constitutional principles. In the circles of our sanctimonious, if sometimes somewhat puzzled, group, I venture to examine our political prospects and to predict another victory in November. 'We will re-elect our great leader whose devotion to the program and principles of the immortal Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman, Harry Hopkins and Avello Harriman was defiantly expressed soon after his election in 1952. I refer to his bold acknowledgment of Paul Hoffman, the Democratic Party's Grand Almoner to all the world, with special generosity to areas of darkness and hostility far beyond the boundaries of western civilization.'"

"Under President Truman, Mr. Hoffman created a force of 30,000 unemployable political mendicants of Democratic faith and, by the diligent, unrelenting incompetence and misanthropic zeal of these white-collar bums in remote areas of the world, amassed a monument of financial debt and ferocious hatred of the American people. In our humble way, we have loyally striven to enlarge this by multi-billion dollar grants for foreign aid. This is our destiny. 'Our Mr. Hoffman took off the whiskers a few days after we had beaten Senator Taft in Chicago. In a glorious declaration of our political faith which I propose for reverent adoption as a preamble to the charter of our party, a declaration published in a California paper, he scattered the last little platoon of true Republicans, wiping his shoes on the fallen colors of their crumpled constitutional redoubt.'"

"Caught pilfering Texas delegates, or, as they said, stealing them back, these desperate renegades were driven to little pockets of conspiracy where they continue futile opposition in plaintive whines that we done them wrong. (Laughter. Prolonged cheers!)"

"General MacArthur, jerked from the vanity and ease of his command in Korea, was met halfway by that magnificent soldier, Harry Truman, and came unconditionally for disputing the super-

In doing things well, better than other people? Why should they? As students they have been carefully guarded against being compared with others in school."

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

Most of the allergies are not confined to the warm months of the year although a few of them, like ragweed hay fever, are. One of the most important of these is urticaria or hives.

Usually, the first attack of hives starts suddenly and without warning with the appearance of large raised red spots on the skin. These are associated with severe itching, may appear anywhere on the skin, and often involve large areas of the skin's surface. Not infrequently, an attack appears suddenly, disappears in a short time, and the cause is never discovered and the hives never appear again. Sometimes, however, there are repeated attacks and the most difficult situation of all is when the condition becomes chronic.

L. M. ASKS what causes hives resulting from certain foods and what is the treatment. She says she has hives almost constantly unless she watches her diet closely. For 10 years she has broken out very time she ate lettuce but recently she has had trouble also with celery, cucumbers, buckwheat pancakes, oranges, apples, pickles, strawberries and tomatoes.

Unfortunately, this is by no means an unusual experience. When a single food is involved and can be identified, the problem is usually simple. One avoids eating it.

OF COURSE, if the hives result from something like milk or wheat, both of which are used in the preparation of many kinds of food, it may be quite difficult to avoid the particular substance which causes trouble.

However, often hives comes from certain fish foods like crab-meat or strawberries and if one of these is the only thing responsible it is not too difficult just to omit the particular substance from the diet.

Urticaria can also result from such things as drugs, furs, insect bites, or infection. Occasionally a person breaks out in hives when exposed to heat or cold. Every once in a while, for example, hives develops if a piece of ice is placed in contact with the skin or even when a person goes from a warm room out into cold air.

THE PROPER LINE of attack on hives is to try to identify the cause. Unfortunately, the skin of many people with hives does not react to testing with the substance which is causing the trouble. Perhaps this is because they are sensitive to the offending substance when swallowed but not when applied to the skin. Carefully devised trial diets may then reveal the responsible agent.

A contribution to treatment has been made available in recent years. This consists in the use of certain drugs called "antihistamines." A great many antihistamine preparations are marketed under a variety of names. Each of them has some good points, and some not so good.

They should not be taken except under competent medical advice. Also, people differ in their reaction to different products. Antihistamines do not cure, but frequently bring relief from the itching and improvement in the appearance of the skin—sometimes for long periods.

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

Role Of Women No Accident

WASHINGTON — The prominence and heading role accorded to women in the proceedings of both the Republican and Democratic national conventions is no accident. More than at any time since they obtained suffrage in 1920, the women will be wooed by the two major parties in wondrous ways.

Economic statistics help to explain this new concern with the feminine element of the electorate. They show that more women are working now than ever before, that they own more property than men, especially securities, and that they handle the household budget gives them a singular interest in politics and economics. So have two world wars into which they sent their sons, and husbands.

In short, the politicians believe, women have come of economic as well as political age. Magazines generally devoted to feminine topics — fashions, foods, house decorations have found it necessary to run articles on public affairs and personalities. The "woman's page" in daily newspapers today specializes in similar material. F.D.R. and President Eisenhower thought it wise to include a woman in their Cabinets.

Women's political importance, although it was not realized or publicized at the time, was responsible for President Eisenhower's approval of two measures which he had opposed. They were the proposals fixing $1 as the minimum wage per hour (Ike had favored 90 cents), and lowering to 62 the age at which women may collect partial Social Security payments.

Republican research informed the White House that it is women doing part time or full-time work who would benefit most from the $1 per hour minimum. Although this standard applies only to people engaged in interstate commerce occupations, it has tended to increase the scale for all women workers. In fact, it has inflated baby-sitters' charges at Washington.

Social Security applications under the new law indicated that about 500,000 women will take advantage of the lower-age retirement plan before the election. With their husbands, relatives and friends, they make a sizable number of voters.

It is true that Capitol Hill Democrats forced both the $1 minimum wage and the 62-year Social Security program upon the Administration. The opposition will not forget to mention this fact in its campaign speeches and advertising, seeking to obtain what ballot-box good will it can because of its legislative efforts.

But, the Republicans will reply, it was President Eisenhower who approved this legislation, bowing to the will of the Congressional majority and political evidence, and put it into effect. And, so hopes Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, the beneficiaries will be thankful to Ike for immediate favors received, and forget that basic credit should go to the Democrats at the east end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

In their wooing of the feminine block, the Republicans admittedly suffer because they have nobody to match such a greatly admired and respected woman as Eleanor Roosevelt. Her moderate advice and behavior at the Democrats' national convention erased many bitter memories which her conduct as "First Lady" had stirred.

Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce will not fill the role. She is too controversial, in the opinion of GOP strategists. She is not a moderate or middle-of-the-road personality. She blasted the Marshall Plan and subsequent foreign aid programs as "globaloney," whereas Ike has expanded these Roosevelt — Truman systems of loans and grants. She will assist in Rome.

So, Ike's offset to Eleanor will be "Mamie." She will accompany him on all his campaign trips, and appear with him, discreetly, of course on all of his television programs.

Occupants Of Jeep Are Fascinating

By HENRY MCLEMORE

MANHEIM — If you are a student of contrasts or a collector of the incongruous, then you would be fascinated by the occupants of a jeep which is making a tour of the United States Army in Europe.

The occupants offer a study in contrasts besides which black and white, night and day, quinine and sugar, and Whistler's Mother and Kim Novak, would appear perfect matches.

One of the jeep's riders is myself and the other is Major Raymond Harvey of Pasadena, California. Major Harvey drew the assignment of acting as my escort and guide on this tour of America's shield against Russian aggression in Europe, and it is a credit to his self-control and to Army discipline that he didn't go AWOL — and in the first jet aircraft he could lay hands on.

We are unlike in many ways, Major Harvey and I — age, appearance, and shape, to name a few. But it is not until you peer into our records as infantry soldiers — mine in World War II, and his in that one and Korea, as well — that the dazzling difference between us really comes to light.

Major Harvey, a quiet, friendly, easy-mannered young man in his middle thirties — or thereabouts — owns every decoration for valor that the United States bestows on its soldiers, including the top one, the Medal of Honor.

Working down from the Medal of Honor, which is the only way you can go, the Major owns the Distinguished Service Cross, the Silver Star with two clusters, energy Purple Hearts to make an elderly lady a dress, and what I assume is a bushel basket of Bronze Stars.

When the Major drew me — or much better, when I drew him — I didn't know that he had so much as one medal to his name, or had even heard a gun fired. He has the medals, but he doesn't talk about them.

How different from me! Just the opposite, in fact. I don't have them, but talk as if I did. I never have gone so far as to claim the Medal of Honor, but I am sure I have dropped hints that would lead a listener to believe that I fully deserved one, and that sooner or later Congress would vote me one. About all I have is a Ruptured Duck discharge button and a Good Conduct Medal which, I am sure, was meant for a Harry McLemore who was in my company. So, wanting the Major to know that he wasn't travelling to "kinky" installations with a greenhorn, I told him about these distinctions. He listened with good grace and what even seemed to be interest. Congratulated me, in fact, on such a splendid record.

It was not until I reached Stuttgart, Headquarters of the Seventh Army, that I got a fill-in on my escort. I still don't know his about how Major Harvey got his medals, for getting the information from him is like yanking up stumps, barehanded. But I have heard enough to know that he got his DSC by single-handedly fighting and beating a matching pair of Tiger tanks. It appears that he thought up the bright, if slightly risky, idea of walking up to them, climbing aboard uninvited, lifting their hatches, and dropping grenades inside.

I'm blank on the gallantry that earned not one but three Silver Stars, but I found out a bit about the Medal of Honor. From what I can gather, the Major fought more in a few minutes in Korea than a normal battalion does in a week. A company commander then, he went out alone, all by his lonesome, and worked steadily forward in the face of unmerciful enemy fire, knocking out emplacement after emplacement as he advanced. Also, in seeking momentary cover, he dived into a fox-hole occupied by five Chinese Reds, and they were subdued by carbine fire in what must have been a highly personalized battle.

Somewhere along the line he was nailed by a slug that cost him five ribs, but he kept on going and refused to leave the premises until he had reorganized his men and seen them accomplish their mission.

The Major and I do have one thing in common — friends. We know lots of the same people from New York to Los Angeles, including Harry Brand of 20th Century-Fox. Harry is going to fall out of his swivel chair when he learns who is leading me through Germany. Harry might well do a picture based on it, with some such title as "North and South Poles Shake Hands in Cinemascope."

Anyway, I'm proud to be with the Major. He's the kind of man I might well follow if he decided we ought to do a little reconnaissance in the Bad Place.

Earl C. Casey, five miles south of town, brought in several nice Bass from Lake McClellan yesterday. Casey, who builds boats as a sideline, caught the fish on plugs between 7 and 11 a. m. yesterday. He didn't weigh the fish individually but the total catch, shown above, weighed 17 pounds.

Pampa News Managing Editor Juel R. Combs, who has been a member of the Southwest Conference this year or will be as the Aggie next year, is the "darkhorse" of the Fort Worth team as the Aggie next year.

Football enthusiasts all over the Top o' Texas keep their eyes on the doings of the Southwest Conference and Frog backers in this area think their team can't be stopped this year, Cotton Bowl and all.

At least three potential Frog players are from Pampa and the Pampa area.

Bill Culpepper, former Harvester star, is one reason why local sports fans should be interested in the doings of last year's Southwest champs.

Culpepper is a tackle prospect in the Fort Worth camp and, as a sophomore, stands a chance of getting into some games this fall. Culpepper is now 19, six feet, three inches tall, and weighs 225 pounds.

Two other area hopefuls for the team are Bill Farrington, a sophomore end from Perryton, and Don Cooper, a senior tackle, also from Perryton.

Cooper is a two year letterman "It we had an entire line of Don Coopers, then your worries would be over," says Allie White, varsity line coach. This youngster can do everything well and makes the old boy friend and ice cream.

"I live on ice cream, just love the stuff," she said. "I'm pretty lucky in that I'm one of those people who can eat all they want and yet never put on weight."

Jackie's eyes sparkle when she discusses her gymnastics.

"I can't exactly explain how I feel about this," she said. "It's sort of a combination of a lot of things. I like the people I work with, especially my coach, Mrs. Lina Wachel, but more important even is the sense of accomplishment I get from mastering the different tricks. It's a challenge."

Since the trials Jackie has been working out three nights each week, but she'll soon step up the pace to nightly.

"It's work all right," said Jackie, a physical education sophomore at Northwestern University. "And I don't know if I'd want to go through it all again. But right now I feel it's worth it."

The 124-pound, 5-5 brunette began attending private gymnasia at the age of six.

"Both my parents belonged to this combination gym - social club," she said. "Besides, I was a real tomboy, used to climb trees and jump fences and everything so I guess they figured I'd be safer in a gym than on the street."

Jackie still gives the impression she's not above climbing trees on occasion, but at the moment her interests are equally split between the Olympics, her 21-year-money play for you, the school's press book says.

Other facts about Cooper: Played a lot as a soph in 1954, was regular last season. Is co-captain of the 1956 squad. Is a student leader and has been chosen campus class favorite for three years. Was top star at Perryton High, captaining both the football and cage teams for two years. Very agile, and especially rugged on defense. Will be most important cog in 1956 machine. Business major and ROTC member.

Such talk from a coach and the school itself makes this corner think that perhaps the Top o' Texas will have a prospective All-American candidate this fall. We're pulling for you Don Cooper of Perryton.

Of course with All-American Jim Swink back again for his final year, the 80th edition of the Horned Frog team is, barring injuries and "senioritis," one of the top teams, if not the top team in the history of the school, the Frog football press book says.

Coed Jackie Klein Is An Olympic Gymnast

TODAY'S PORTRAIT

By IRA LURVEY

United Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (UP)—Nineteen-year old Jackie Klein, a brown-eyed coed who won a prize at the age of four by standing on her head longer than anyone else, is more a typical teen-ager than an Olympic gymnast.

"I don't know what all the fuss is about," Jackie said. "I don't think I've done anything great."

Jackie, one of five women gymnasts who'll represent the U. S. at this fall's Olympics, captured the women's central AAU crown in 1955, was fifth in the national AAU and third in national balance-beam competition in 1955 and 1956, and was first in balance beam at this spring's pre-Olympic tryouts.

"I watch all these athletes qualifying for Olympic competition and I say, 'Boy, that must be thrilling for them. Yet for me it's different,'" Jackie said. "In gymnastics there aren't any real records to break, like there are in track or swimming."

The 124-pound, 5-5 brunette began attending private gymnasia at the age of six.

"Both my parents belonged to this combination gym - social club," she said. "Besides, I was a real tomboy, used to climb trees and jump fences and everything so I guess they figured I'd be safer in a gym than on the street."

Joe Brown, 'Bud' Smith Tiff Tonight

By JACK CUDDY
NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Here in the cradle of modern boxing, Joe Brown—a rangy, 30-year-old New Orleans Negro—tries to wrest the world lightweight crown tonight from Cincinnati's Wallace (Bud) Smith, who may be "washed up."

Although Smith is a lack-luster champion and Brown an obscure challenger, the promoters hope for a gate that may approach or better the all-time Louisiana record of $60,518, established by John L. Sullivan and James J. Corbett in 1892 at the New Orleans Olympic Club.

The fight will be televised and broadcast nationally over NBC networks at 10 p.m. EDT. There's a local TV blackout.

Brown and Smith, both Negroes, are combination boxer-punchers. But Brown is favored at 7-5 because he outpointed Bud in a non-title 10-rounder at Houston, Tex., May 2, and because that defeat was one of three straight suffered this year by the champion.

Meanwhile, challenger Joe boasts six straight victories. And he was impressive in training, whereas Smith appeared listless in his workouts. His excuse was, "the Brown people got spies watching me and I don't want to show 'em nethin'."

Oilers Tumble, 9-4

CARLSBAD — UP — The fast-cooling Carlsbad Potashers suddenly caught fire here Thursday night to roar from behind and dump the Pampa Oilers 9-4 in the first of a two-game series.

The Potashers, who had become the hitless wonders during the last seven games, blasted out five safeties good for seven runs in a big seventh inning which saw Pampa parade three hurriers to the mound in an effort to put out the fire.

The winners added two more insurance counters in the eighth to clinch the win for Martin Perez, who came on in relief in the fifth inning with Carlsbad trailing 4-0.

The Oilers jumped to a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning as starter Al Diez served up a leadoff single to Frank Kempa and then watched Dory Funkman power a homer over the left field fence.

It stayed there until the fifth when Diez served up a leadoff walk to Bob Flores and a single to center to Joe Kretschmar. Pitcher Art Perina grounded out, as did Frank Kempa, but Guzman

4 Matches On Tap At Mat Arena

The top wrestling card of the season has been scheduled for the Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club next Monday night to usher back in the fall season of wrestling. The four-event program sounds like a "Who's Who of Professional Wrestling."

Highlighting the card will be such Panhandle favorites as durable Dory Funk, beloved Bob Geigel and two top feminine grapplers, Bonnie Watson and Mars Bennett. Funk makes his return to the Pampa arena against one of the great foreign wrestlers, Germany's hulking Hans Schnable. It will also mark the first appearance in Pampa for Schnable. He and Funk meet in a three-fall, one hour main event.

In the semi-final scrap, Geigel battles the tough Texan from Dallas, Tommy Phelps, loser last week to Shoulders Newman. They will battle for three falls or forty-five minutes.

In a very special half-hour event, one fall, the two lady (?) wrestlers will spice up the night's card. And for a one-fall warmup match, Ricki Starr makes his first Pampa appearance against Babe Zaharias, brother of the Great George, husband of the more famous Babe Zaharias.

The first event starts at 8:30 Monday night, and advance reserved seat tickets may be obtained at Modern Pharmacy.

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Tommy Butters, 18-year-old Delaware, Ohio, right-handed pitcher who starred on both the mound and at bat in high school competition, has been signed by Pittsburgh and will report to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League next spring.

Newcombe Is First 20 Game Winner In Major Leagues

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer Don Newcombe became the major leagues' first 20-game victor of the year today and set his sights on being the Brooklyn Dodgers' biggest winner in 32 years.

Newcombe yielded three home runs but hung on for a 6-5 triumph Thursday night to raise his season record to 20-6 as the Dodgers won the opener of a key three-game series with the Redlegs. The victory enabled the Dodgers to remain two games behind the first-place Milwaukee Braves and shoved the Redlegs four games out of first place.

Newcombe requires only three more victories to become the Dodgers' biggest winner since Dazzy Vance won 23 games in 1924. Since then, no Dodger pitcher has won more than 22 games in a single season.

Redlegs Continue Homer Pace — Carl Furillo and Duke Snider each drove in three runs to offset a Redleg attack that featured a three-run homer by Wally Post and solo round-trippers by Frank Robinson and Ed Bailey. The three homers raised the Redlegs' total to a new season club mark of 153 and also extended their team homer streak to 20 games—only four short of the National League mark held by the 1963 Dodgers.

Newcombe himself scored the winning run in the top of the ninth when he walked on Snider's double. Big Newk tallied one batter and struck out six in giving the Dodgers their eighth win in 18 meetings with the Redlegs.

The Braves retained their two-game lead with an 11-5 win over the Philadelphia Phillies featured by a grand-slam homer by Bobby Thomson in addition to round-trippers by Hank Aaron and Johnny Logan. Ray Crone won his 10th game of the season, although he needed help from Ernie Johnson. Stan Lopata walloped two homers for the Phillies to raise his season total to 17.

Vinegar Bend Mizell won his 12th game and Jackie Collum his sixth as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0 and 3-2. Ray Katt hit a two-run homer and scored the third run for the Cardinals in the opener while Bobby Morgan singled home the winning run in the ninth of the nightcap.

Johnny Antonelli chalked up his 13th win and Max Surkont his first when the New York Giants swept the Chicago Cubs, 2-1 and 8-5. Daryl Spencer singled home the winning run in the ninth of the opener and the Giants clinched the third inning.

Nelson Fox whacked out seven straight hits before he was stopped to lead the Chicago White Sox to 8-3 and 6-4 wins over the American League-leading New York Yankees. Fox had five hits in the opener and two in the nightcap as Bob Keegan won his fourth game and Dixie Howell registered his fifth.

Yanks Retain Lead Gap — The Yankees, however, retained an eight-game lead when the Boston Red Sox beat the second-place Cleveland Indians, 2-1. Three walks and Jimmy Piersall's sacrifice fly gave the Red Sox their winning run and Mel Parnell the decision over 16-game winner Bob Lemon.

Roy Sievers tied his own club record when he hit his 25th home run of the year to give the Washington Senators a 5-3 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. Chuck Stobbs pitched a five-hitter for his 12th win and also started the winning three-run, fifth-inning rally with a double.

Ray Moore yielded three hits before retiring with an injured shoulder in the seventh inning and beat the Detroit Tigers for the fifth straight time as the Baltimore Orioles scored a 3-0 victory in the other American League game.

Johnny Mize Says Pressure Hurts Homer Record Seeker

By DAWSON OFFENHEIMER

United Press Sports Writer DELAND, Fla. (UP)—Big John Mize, who once menaced the home run record of his distant cousin, Babe Ruth, looked wistfully back on his glory years today and remembered "pressure, pressure, and more pressure."

That mounted as he tried for Babe's mystic mark of 60.

That pressure, he said, could be the telling factor in whether Mickey Mantle will be able to achieve a new record with the Yankees this season. It boils up nearly to the bursting point in the September stretch where Babe left a lasting memorial with 17 homers.

"I can't answer the big question," Mize said. "Can he stand up under the pressure the fans and sports writers put on him? I haven't seen him play much in three years and when I did see him, he wasn't playing the kind of ball every one expected from him."

Mize, who was a Yankee himself from 1949 to 1953 and watched Mantle develop from a raw rookie, thinks he has more poise and polish now.

"I know he has a good chance to break the record," Mize said. "And if he doesn't make it this year, he may later on."

Mize admitted that he never really had any serious hopes of breaking Ruth's mark in the 1947 season when he hit 51 homers for the New York Giants.

"I believe only three of us — Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg and myself—ever were ahead of Ruth's record going into September," he said. "But I was only one game ahead of the Babe then and would have had to hit 18 in the last month. And I never hit 18 in one month in my career."

Mize recalled that he didn't even want to play the last two games of the season.

Hit on Elbow — "But the pressure from the fans was pretty tough, so I played and darned if I didn't get hit on the elbow the first time I was up. I got a couple of hits that day, but no home runs."

"If he gets close he could choose his fence in park where one field is closer than the other, no matter whether the pitcher was right or left handed," Mize said.

Fox lost no time, and today he is well on the way to keeping his promise with a total of 158 hits and a .318 batting average.

Could, as all his teammates call him, had himself a field day at the Yankees expense Thursday as he smashed out seven straight hits in pacing the White Sox to a doubleheader sweep, 3 to 3 and 6 to 4.

Fire Damages Country Club

DALLAS (UP)— A three-alarm fire, apparently starting in the boiler room, swept through the clubhouse at Preston Hollow Country Club, site of the recent $100,000 International Golf tournament.

Early estimates of the damage ranged around $200,000.

The fire broke out about 8:15 a. m. in the older portion of the recently remodeled clubhouse and employees of the club first tried to blot out the blaze with fire extinguishers, but it got out from under control.

Early reports from the scene indicated the club's locker rooms, its "19th hole" room, the Texas room and the building's lobby had been consumed.

Trailer Explodes, Driver Escapes

GROOM — (Special) — A. D. Eason, driver of a Yellow Transit Motor Freight truck, escaped injury when his truck exploded on Highway 66, at the west edge of Groom about 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Following the explosion in front of the Elmo Court, Eason drove the truck an additional 400 yards to avoid injuring anyone in the court.

The back of the truck, which contained 55 drums of chemicals, was reported a total loss, although the tractor of the truck was not damaged. Cause of the explosion is not known, although it is believed that a spark, caused by friction from going through a construction area on the highway near Groom, may have ignited fumes in the back of the truck.

Convention Conversation

What They're Saying At San Francisco By UNITED PRESS

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, placing President Eisenhower's name before the GOP convention for unanimous renomination:

"For all Americans, for all the world, I now place in nomination, as the candidate of the Republican Party for president of the United States, the name of the most widely beloved, the most universally respected, the most profoundly dedicated man of our times — Dwight David Eisenhower."

Marcelino Romany, chairman of the Puerto Rican delegation, when his turn came to vote on the ballot for the presidential nomination:

"There is no need to poll the delegation this time. . . Puerto Rico is proud to cast its three votes for Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Nebraska delegate Terry Carpenter, after telling the convention he wanted to nominate "Joe Smith — retired" for vice president:

"This is going to come as a real surprise to Joe."

Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, placing Richard M. Nixon in nomination for vice president:

"Let's not break up that winning team. Let's renominate the man whom Ike himself has called his most valuable member."

Harold E. Stassen in seconding the renomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon:

"As I second Richard Nixon's nomination, I immediately and earnestly urge the men and women of our country, especially the independent voters, members of organized labor, citizens who sometimes speak of themselves as minorities, who believe in the objectives of President Eisenhower, to join with me in cheerfully and wholeheartedly accepting (Nixon)."

Long Trail Between Mechanics Hall And Cow Palace

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)— There's a long, long trail a'winding between Mechanics Hall, Boston, Mass., back there in 1940 and this Cow Palace where the Republicans and President Eisenhower have just re-plighted their troth.

Nobody knows that better than Thomas E. Dewey, of New York. It was in Mechanics Hall some months more than 16 years ago that a brazen young county attorney made his first big speech as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Your correspondent was there. It wasn't a very good speech. Moreover, it ran over the allotted 30 minutes of radio time — there wasn't any television — by a good 12 minutes. And Dewey, in his freshman's uncertainty how to handle crisis in public, tried to cram all the words into that fleet 30 minutes. He had realized midway through his effort that the speech was far too long.

That January, 1940, swing from New York through Rhode Island and Massachusetts to Maine was Dewey's first clutch toward high office. He missed that year when Wendell L. Willkie charged out of the Wall Street boondocks to kidnap the Republican nomination.

Won Two Nominations
Dewey's capacity to make friends and enemies was hardly strained in 1940. But in 1944 and 1948 he won the big nomination prize and piled up a big score of those who admired him. More especially, those who did not.

Next time there was a war on and 1944 was not a fair test. The Republican candidate was hobbled, handcuffed, almost halted by the opposition of FDR. Four years later after 1948 there was another story which usually began like this:

"If that so-and-so Dewey had got off his pants and made a real campaign, he coulda licked that Truman."

It is fair to say that Dewey, after the 1948 election, was bucking for top honors as the Republican Party's most severely criticized public figure.

Times have changed. Dewey, more than any other, obtained Dwight D. Eisenhower's nomination for president in 1952 by making his own 1950 gubernatorial campaign a stem-winder. He was plugging Ike-for-president then, and he continued to plug.

A Skillful Strategist
More than any other, Dewey obtained the defeat in 1952 of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft who sought the Republican presidential nomination. Tie loose and sweating down there on the 1952 convention floor and in the hotel huddles, Dewey was a skillful strategist, and successful. More than any other, Dewey had to do with putting Richard M. Nixon on the 1952 ticket with Mr. Eisenhower.

There was that crackling night in 1952 when Illinois' Sen. Everett M. Dirksen fingered Dewey from the convention platform. Pointing to him out there with the New York delegation, Dirksen indicted Dewey as the author of Republican disaster and defeat. There was a time when such would have blistered Dewey and he might have slid hunch-shouldered low in his seat to escape the fire. But, times had changed and Dewey was standing on his chair seat the night Dirksen went after him to get the full flavor of the attack.

During recent months when some men-around-Eisenhower and elsewhere have been trying to ditch Nixon, Dewey backed his man. He said he had retired from politics, but it was known among Dewey's friends that if Nixon were knocked out he would take the vice presidential nomination had Mr. Eisenhower requested. From any angle there would not have been a better qualified candidate.

Speech Struck Fire
Dewey made a speech Wednesday during the nominating doings here. It was not a nominating or seconding speech, but it struck more fire from the delegates than anything which had gone before. His listeners whooped and cheered and a lot of them told each other: "There's a new Dewey about."

There's been a new Dewey about for some time now. He's only 54 years old and stands a reasonably good chance to be nominated for president again in 1960, or even in 1964. He's a man to watch and a lot of people have been watching him with vastly changed opinions since way back there in 1940 when the 38-year old district attorney of New York County first aspired to the White House. It was then that the late Harold L. Ickes convulsed a nation with the crack: "Tommy Dewey has thrown his diaper into the ring."

Thomas E. Dewey has come of ripe political age.

Strange Food
Tribes along Africa's Lake Kyoga, just north of the equator, eat fat roasted locusts. They also press dried gnats into cakes, and termites are a favorite food.

Water Well Spouts Oil
GEORGETOWN, Tex. (UP)— Mrs. W. H. Percy of the draught-hit community of Jonah, seven miles east of here, wasn't too happy for a woman who had drilled for water and struck oil. The draught had already ruined her grass, shrubs and trees. And now, she said, she can't even run her air conditioner on oil.
