GETTING READY — An unidentified workman is shown installing the X-Ray equipment at the McLean Hospital which will be the scene of dedicatory services at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. All Gray County residents are invited by the citizens of McLean to attend the dedication and open house, according to Ed Lander, McLean mayor. (News Photo)

Clinic Dedication Is Set For Sunday

Formal opening of the McLean Hospital will take place with a dedicatory ceremony in front of the building at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, according to Ed Lander, McLean mayor.

The hospital was built by the county and has been leased to the city of McLean to be operated by the city. McLean has secured Drs. Norma and Don Schultz to operate the hospital and serve the residents of McLean and the southern part of Gray county.

Shoppers' Survey Is Approved

The Merchant's Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce this morning unanimously passed a resolution approving a shopper's survey tentatively planned for the middle of September.

The object of the survey, as explained by C. C. Manager E. O. Wedgworth is, "to see if we can find out what our townpeople are thinking in terms of shopping services or needs, to tabulate the information and to make same available to all local merchants."

Swimming Classes End Today

The first session of the water safety program of the Red Cross completed classes this morning with exercises demonstrating the proficiency of the students at the Municipal Pool.

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, Red Cross director, stated that 180 students were enrolled in the water safety program this summer and that all students showed great improvement in their swimming ability.

Pampan Is Injured In Accident

Mrs. Ralph Tyler, 1012 Prairie Drive, was hospitalized late Monday night after suffering injuries in an accident on the Borger highway, about six miles west of town, her husband, Tyler, reported today.

Tyler reported that he struck a sand embankment while driving along the detoured part of the under construction highway. His daughter, Christy, was also riding in the car but was uninjured.

Tyler reported that his wife suffered a broken nose and face lacerations.

Wilson Says Defense Is Adequate

By JOHN W. FINNEY
WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson asserted today that the administration's defense program is adequate. "It would be a serious disservice to our country and the morale of the free world to be little it," he said.

Capitol Hill Roundup

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Russell E. Long (D-La.) claimed substantial support in both parties today for another try at cutting the Senate's $4.5 billion foreign aid bill.

But Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland disputed Long's prediction. He told newsmen he thought the final figure would run close to the $4.5 billion approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Defense: The Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on Air Power Called Its Last Witness in a Three-Month Investigation Over Whether the United States Is Losing Air Supremacy to Russia.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson who has recently been the subject of stinging criticism by some Democrats, House-Senate conferees Thursday agreed to a $900 million increase in the Air Force budget — a major rebuff to Wilson and the administration.

Chotiner: The Senate Investigating subcommittee called Murray M. Chotiner, Vice President Richard M. Nixon's 1952 campaign manager, to surrender subpoenaed records of his law practice. But Chotiner indicated to reporters that he might still balk at turning over some files.

Atomic: Chairman Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) of the congressional atomic energy committee said four hydrogen bombs exploded on the East Coast would cause millions of deaths. His comment followed disclosure that the Defense Department estimates an all-out nuclear attack on Russia would cause several hundred million deaths, both in Russia and neighboring countries.

Schools: Rep. Adam C. Powell (D-NY) planned to take the House floor to urge adoption of his anti-segregation amendment in the $1.6 billion school construction bill. A final vote on the bill is expected next Thursday. Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D-W.Va.) said Powell's amendment would punish all the nation's children.

Sobeloff: The Senate Judiciary Committee makes another try at getting a vote on the long-delayed nomination of Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff as a judge for the Fourth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals. The vote was stalled Thursday when Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) objected to having the committee meet while the Senate was considering the foreign aid bill.

Lobbying: Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said his special Senate committee on lobbying is "making some progress" in its investigation of lobbying and campaign spending. The hearings are laying the groundwork for legislative recommendations, McClellan said.

Demonstrations Are Also Reported In Baltics, Tibet

By JOSEPH E. FLEMING
BERLIN —UP— New fighting raged early today in the Polish city of Poznan where Communist Poland officially admitted that 38 persons had been killed and 270 wounded in the uprisings.

Anti-Communist demonstrations also were reported in the Soviet occupied Baltic states of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania and in far-off Tibet where the Communist Chinese have taken over.

Steel Strike Looms

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)— United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald asked the top executives of 12 major steel companies to meet with him today in an 11th hour effort to head off a paralyzing steel strike.

Meet Called To End Deadlock

Industry spokesmen said the chairmen or presidents of the 12 giant steel producers are in New York and would "give serious consideration" to McDonald's request.

Informed sources said they hoped the dramatic meeting would prove the solution to breaking the hopeless deadlock which threatens to trigger a strike by 500,000 steelworkers at midnight Saturday.

Raging Fire Hits Waterfront

By JAMES BENEDICT
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)— A raging fire, touched off by an explosion and fed by thousands of gallons of gasoline, heavily damaged a pier and a machine shop on the San Francisco waterfront early today.

Flames Fall on Water

Witter told fire officials some gasoline spilled onto the water as he was preparing to pump it into the lines. The gasoline apparently was carried under the pier and to the other side, where welders were working on a small Navy gasoline tanker.

The tanker was undamaged despite the fierceness of the blaze. Further beyond was the Navy cargo ship Whiteside. Four Navy tugs pulled it to safety.

Forty pieces of equipment and 162 firemen were sent to fight the flames, which shot 400 feet into the sky and were visible from many parts of the Bay area. Several more policemen also went to the scene to control traffic.

Sen. Price Daniel Makes Talk Here

Senator Price Daniel, the third gubernatorial candidate to visit Pampa this year, told an enthusiastic group of supporters yesterday. "The best government is the government closest to the people."

Daniel Says Prosperity Is Threatened

In a statement to The Pampa News yesterday, Senator Price Daniel declared that Texas prosperity is threatened by the net decline in farm income and foreign aid programs which build up production in other countries to compete with our own farmers and ranchers for the export market.

Two Union Meetings

McDonald then will meet with his executive board and later his key wage policy committee to "report on the progress of the negotiations."

McDonald's request came as the steel industry cooled its multi-billion dollar furnaces in anticipation of the walkout which threatens to be the longest in the history of the steel industry.

Morell In TV Talk

McDonald made his request for a meeting "at the summit" late Thursday night after Adm. Ben Morell, chairman of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., defended the industry's five-year contract offer on a coast-to-coast TV program.

Daniel Also Called for a Positive Program of Improvement in State Government and Also Improvement in the School System, remarking that of all areas of government the federal government should not trespass upon, it is the school system.

Daniel also urged a stronger narcotics control law in Texas and remarked that 50 per cent of all crimes committed in metropolitan areas can be traced to the use of dope and 25 per cent of all crimes committed could be traced to "living death," or, in his words, "murder on the installment plan."

Daniel Denied that he was "closely aligned" with persons in the state administration and also denied that he would try to appoint his successor in the Senate if elected.

"These jobs belong to the people," he said, and remarked that they should be acted upon by the people.

Daniel expressed his dislike for "mad stinging" in politics and urged his supporters to refrain from using his opponents' names degradingly in the campaign.

Union Shop Poses 'Danger' To Firms

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Attorneys for the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway and 13 employees argued Wednesday signing of a union shop agreement would pose a "grave danger" to their constitutional rights and liberties. Arguments in the far-reaching case involving Texas' "right-to-work" law were presented at a two and one-half hour morning session. Amarillo attorney E. A. Simpson argued on behalf of the employees, and Preston Shirley, Galveston attorney, argued for the railroad. Attorney General John Ben Shepperd offered arguments for the state. L. N. D. Wells of Austin argued on behalf of the railroad and 13 non-operating unions. The U.S. Supreme Court, in a related case from Nebraska, recently held the union shop is legal in the railroad industry even in states which have outlawed the union shop through right-to-work laws. Simpson contended that in the Nebraska case, the U.S. Supreme Court held only that the union may exact payment of dues, fees and assessments but does not authorize "full" union membership. Under that opinion, Simpson said, "the employe does not have to take any oath of fealty to the union...and does not have to bend his will, but only has to pay his

Ike Thought Of Heading New Party

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower once became so angered over the actions of right-wing Republicans that he gave "prolonged thought" to the idea of heading a new political party, a just-published book reports. The President dropped the idea finally, but his dissatisfaction with the same elements of the party played a major role in his decision to run for a second term, the book says. The book is "Eisenhower: The Inside Story," by Robert J. Donovan, White House correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune. It already is the center of a controversy. The book is filled with accounts never before made available for publication what went on at close quarters in legislative and other executive conferences held during Mr. Eisenhower's first three years as president. These secret accounts were furnished to Donovan by the White House. McClellan Demands Explanation
Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) has demanded that the White House explain why Donovan was given secret documents from executive files when the administration has refused to make similar documents available to congressional committees for use in investigations. Maxwell Rabb, secretary to the cabinet, this week rejected an invitation to explain this to McClellan's Senate investigating subcommittee. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has called for contempt action against Rabb. The President later dropped the idea of a third party in favor of efforts to "modernize and unify the party" by bringing into it "younger Republicans devoted to his philosophy..." the book says. Second Term Meeting
Other highlights of the book: —Mr. Eisenhower on Jan. 13 of this year called in 12 of his closest associates to discuss whether he should run for a second term. They unanimously said he should. —The factors which decided the President in favor of a second term attempt were his disappointment over "reformation" of the Republican party, his interest in world peace, his belief that he had "somehow got through to Soviet leaders" at the Geneva summit meeting and his utter boredom

Claim Eden Selling Out In Cyprus

LONDON (UP)—A Conservative party revolt over Prime Minister Anthony Eden's Cyprus policies threatened the Eden government today in the midst of the Commonwealth prime ministers conference. The revolt was led by the same empire-minded conservatives who fought British withdrawal from the Suez Canal zone base. They were pacified only when Eden promised that Britain would hold firm elsewhere; now they complain Eden is "selling out" in Cyprus.

Capt. Charles Waterhouse, a conservative member of Parliament who led the "1922 committee" in the Suez revolt, called a protest meeting Wednesday night to try to head off any plans to give up the big Mediterranean island base. A total of 56 "back benchers"—normally solid supporters of the government leaders but who take an inactive role in the House of Commons—attended the meeting. This would be enough to topple Eden if they voted with the Labor party on the Cyprus issue. A significant development was the presence, by invitation of the rebels, of Edward Heath, chief government whip in the house. He listened in silence to one and one half hours of stormy protest against the Eden plan for Cyprus political development. The invitation to Heath was a declaration the rebels mean business.

Look Who's Cheated

We trust our readers will avail themselves of a delightful few minutes of reading "Are U. S. School Children Being Cheated?" in the June Reader's Digest.

Frances V. Rummel writes the story of what happens to an exchange teacher from India who comes to this country and is suddenly injected into our polyglot governmental educational system.

Rachel Thomas, an Indian native, albeit a Christian, took up a job of teaching third grade students in Sunnyside, Washington. She discovered to her horror that American school children have been cheated and are being cheated.

Since she was from a foreign country, the superintendent of the Sunnyside school extended latitude to her which he might not have done for a native American.

Reader Questions My Means Of Promoting Peace

A couple of weeks ago in an article contending that peace could not be secured by supplying like with $4,800,000,000 to give to foreign governments, I contended that we were taking up the sword by protective tariffs and immigration quotas.

Now I have a letter from a reader, Mrs. Esther B. Warner, which reads: "Dear Sir: In your column of June 11th in the Register, you made the most amazing statement that I have ever read in a pro-American paper."

"Do you really believe that, Mr. Hoiles? If so, I have been subscribing to the wrong paper for too long. What are you trying to do to this country with such ideas?"

"Anyway, you have asked for it, and that is fair enough." Answering Mrs. Warner: Yes, I certainly believed exactly what I said. I believe it because immigration quotas and protective tariffs violate such moral laws as the "love thy neighbor as thyself," the Golden Rule and the Coveting Commandment.

Note the word "all." That means each and every person, not only in the United States but in the world are endowed with these rights. It does not mean that people who happen to be born in the United States have these rights and other people born in other parts of the world do not have these rights.

The belief in the necessity of immigration quotas and protective tariffs undoubtedly comes from the erroneous belief that producing wealth in a free enterprise system, one man gains and another man loses; that it is like war or gambling. But in free enterprise in producing wealth, both parties of an exchange benefit. Not only do both parties gain, but every other person in the world gains by people producing wealth and freely exchanging it.

People probably also believe in immigration quotas and protective tariffs because they seem to think that men are like lower animals; that their wants do not consciously increase. They do not seem to realize that when they have one want satisfied they have many more and that these wants are only satisfied by labor. Anything that interferes with free competition — that is, the natural division of labor — is harmful to everybody in the world.

In answer to Mrs. Warner's question, "What are you trying to do to this country with such ideas?" I am trying to get more persons to see that immigration quotas and protective tariffs are immoral and wicked, and I can think of no moral law or principle that they are in harmony with.

Warren May Warn Of 'Semi-Politics'

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Earl Warren may take advantage of a rare opportunity to warn members of the Federal Judiciary against engaging in embarrassing, nonjudicial and semipolitical activities.

The drafting of Supreme Court members for outside work began with F.D.R., and it was continued by Harry S. Truman. Neither thought it incongruous to assign the nation's top jurists to tasks far afield from their constitutional duties.

F.D.R. named the then Justice Owen Roberts as head of a commission to fix responsibility for the surprise Pearl Harbor attack, an assignment that involved the Philadelphia in acute political controversy.

Truman tried to persuade the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to go to Moscow as a Presidential emissary to the Kremlin. But Vinson declined on the ground that for him to confer with Stalin on "cold war" difficulties would plunge the Court into international politics.

Chief Justice Warren's opportunity results from a classic exposition of a jurist's responsibilities by Federal District Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, Jr., of Boston. He wrote it in declining Secretary Dulles' offer of an appointment as United States delegate to the General Assembly of the United Nations — a signal honor.

Or So It Seems

Fair Enough

Senate 'Investigates' Bridges, Waterfront

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Senate Sub-Committee on Internal Security recently digressed from the study of the fascinating "investigation" of the Harry Bridges case to an imaginary invasion of the New York Waterfront by Harry Bridges.

This was a wanton waste of taxes to create phony publicity. As long as Joe Ryan was master of the International Longshoremen's Association, Bridges never set foot on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts from Eastport to Brownsville. He did conquer the Pacific coast, however, under a series of New Deal governors and the citizenry.

In recent years, a cabal of political underdogs under George Meany, now of the Eisenhower party, have broken Ryan and forced his union to retire him on pension, but, even in defeat, Joe licked them for his men voted for their old union in two elections.

There has been no "invasion" of the New York docks by the Communists of the Harry Bridges following. But Reds like to fish in troubled waters and, with Ryan ailing and stricken in his heart by the death of his wife in the midst of his torment at the hands of in-grates, they have been circling and snarling, at a safe distance.

There have been rumors, circulated by the AFL-CIO publicity machine, that Bridges' agents have sifted into some of Ryan's old locals. That is not true but if it were the blame would belong to Meany and the others who broke Ryan, knowing that as long as he ran the waterfront, Bridges' people could not come ashore.

The indecency of false insinuations that Ryan's people have opened the docks to Communists should need no laboring. Ryan hates Reds, not by mere word of mouth, but with a glorious loathing and the man doesn't live who can accuse him of having truck with such vermin.

Harry Bridges is a creature of Franklin D. Roosevelt's reign of terror in the industrial centers of California, including a terrible general strike in San Francisco. Communists were in the center of all these bloody commotions. Officers of the American Newspaper Guild, some of its publications and many of its rank and file members

AVILA, SPAIN — If Cary Grant doesn't hurry back to his dressing room he isn't going to have a fan left in Spain. I figure I am costing him fans at the rate of a hundred a minute. The explanation is that I am in his portable dressing room writing this, he having graciously lent it to me while he went to do a scene with Sophi Loren and Frank Sinatra.

FOR REFLECTION

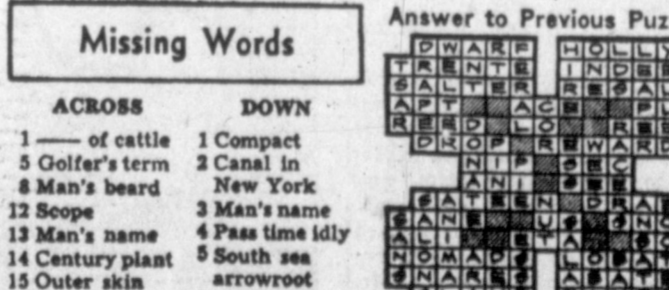

...with JAMES C. McBRIDE, President, Southern Mobilization

The Supreme Court has finally held, in a 6-to-3 decision, that Federal labor laws do not prohibit States from banning mass picketing, use of force, or threats of violence by strikers.

The ruling came on an appeal by the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers Union from a Wisconsin supreme court decision. The latter decision upheld a ban on mass picketing, coercion of employees who wanted to work, and threats to their families during the strike against the Kohler Co., Kohler, Wis. This strike started in 1954 and has never been officially ended although early this year the union practically admitted defeat by discontinuing most of its financial support of the strike.

It is pointed out that a congratulatory letter from the Congress might be accepted by his colleagues, as well as members of lower courts, that they should not stray from the strict and narrow path.

Mac Wows 'Em In Cary's Dressing Room

By HENRY McLEMORE

AVILA, SPAIN — If Cary Grant doesn't hurry back to his dressing room he isn't going to have a fan left in Spain. I figure I am costing him fans at the rate of a hundred a minute.

Half the population of Avila, and hundreds of country folk from miles around, are here to see the shooting of the climactic scenes in Stanley Kramer's production of "The Pride and the Passion."

"Look at this," he said. "The world is really getting small." It was a note from Art Linkletter and Robert Cummings, saying they were in Madrid and would try to hop out and see him.

"And yesterday," Cary said, "my next-door neighbor in Palm Springs dropped by to see me. He was on his way to some far place on the earth."

Summertime projects such as gardening and painting the front porch can be hard on a woman's fingernails. A thorough manicure using professional techniques and equipment keeps hands lovely in summer. The old polish is first removed with an oily remover. Nails are then shaped with emery board. Nails are soaked (top center) one hand at a time in warm, soapy water. After application of lubricating lotion, cuticles are shaped (top right) with an orange stick. After fingernails are rinsed, nail polish (bottom center) is applied, working from cuticle to tip. Hand lotion (bottom right) is last step.

Restore Beauty To Hands With Home Manicure After Garden, House Work

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Summer projects beautify the home and the garden, but aren't recommended for the fingernails. Picking encrusted cereal off the range top, planting new bushes, painting the front porch, pruning and spading flowers, plus a liberal dose of the beach or pool and the usual laundry add up to a battered set of fingernails.

A woman can give herself a creditable manicure at home, if she has a steady left hand, professional equipment, know-how.

This is the step-by-step procedure as the professionals do it. Remove the old polish with a good remover, preferably an oily one.

Shape the nails with an emery board, using a movement from the outside to the tips.

Soak the nails, one hand at a time, in warm soapy water in a bowl. The length of time of soaking depends upon condition of the cuticle. Fingers should remain in water until the cuticle is soft.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

"WHEN THE UNPROTECTED HUMAN SKIN IS overexposed to strong sunlight, there is no reprieve. You pay, inevitably, in lost beauty," Helena Rubinstein, the world's leading beauty authority—who has made a lifetime study of the feminine skin—warns women of the drastic effects of exposing themselves unwisely in an effort to achieve a beautiful tan.

"THE NEWEST findings by foremost experts on the process of aging reveal that the leading cause of the appearance of age in the skin is dehydration," she says, "and nothing contributes so quickly to dehydration, and the consequent wrinkles and freckles, as unprotected exposure to sun, wind and salt water. It gives me great distress to see a woman being careless in this regard, as though she had no concern for her looks. I know that there is no need for the dry skin, sun-spotted complexion and innumerable wrinkles that result. Anyone can have the necessary amount of sun and a clear, beautiful skin—just by taking advantage of the protection scientifically prepared lotions and sprays can give.

"A woman over 30 goes out in the sun and comes in with glowing face—she glances in the mirror and thinks how young and pretty she looks. But she doesn't realize that two days later she will turn an ugly dull yellow and which makes her look years older. The texture of her skin has grown coarser and older—wrinkled and leathery. In fact," Madame Rubinstein added, "her complexion has become really ugly—all because she neglected to take basic precautions."

Recent tests, she points out, have shown that blondes dehydrate more quickly than brunettes—and certain very fair and ultra-sensitive skins do not tan at all. However, if such women love the sun, they should use heavy applications of a suntan oil containing emollient ingredients.

"It is the distribution of protection pigment in a type of skin which determines its ability to withstand the effects of radiation—not its thickness or oiliness," Madame Rubinstein explains. "Based on this fact, I have developed a sun-screen product suitable for wear under make-up as well as at the beach. Women of Anglo-Saxon background, whose eyes are usually blue or gray, have less pigmentation than olive or darker skinned women, whose eyes are usually brown. That's why more blue or gray-eyed women show wrinkles and sagging contours earlier in life than women with brown eyes."

"The explanation," she continues, "is that the lighter skin loses its ability to slough off toxins more quickly than the more pigmented skin. There is a piling of freckles and brown spots, and the skin becomes dried and wrinkled. And so, while all women must be very careful of their skin and never overexpose themselves to the sun, it is necessary for those with fair skins to take extra precautions, and start doing so at a younger age."

The first lady of beauty reminds women that the first day of sun is the crucial time. Once the tan is started, the skin is less apt to be sensitive; but don't be deluded by an overcast day because the sun can be every bit as strong on such a day and there is always the danger of windburn.

"The dreams of a fine healthy tan can turn into a nightmare of unattractive and painful red skin, peeling and blistered, if one is over-zealous about sun-bathing," she concludes. "The first concern should always be toward protection of the skin—and the second toward achieving a beautiful tan."

to maintain strict time schedule for travel and work are past masters of fitting head to toe grooming into a busy work week.

If you've been skipping a few steps in your beauty routine lately because there's so much to do and time seems to run out, here are a few tips the Woman's Home Companion passes along from the career girls:

Evening is the best time for baths—mornings they have to dress in a flash. Evening is their favorite time for shampoos too.

Pedicures, hair removal and corrective hair or skin treatments are reserved for either weekends or week nights—so take your choice.

Most of the girls surveyed keep grooming supplies in their desks—cleanser, foundation, face powder, fragrance, hand lotion, nail polish, comb and other beauty items—for lunch-hour or late afternoon grooming touch-ups. A similar supply kept handy to your work area at home will give your spirits a boost during the day.

If you've neglected your setting-up exercises, you're not alone. The Companion survey found that practically none of the career girls does corrective exercises, and this is one finding they hope you won't follow.

Chest and table tops of new furniture designs have hard-to-maintain surfaces of laminated plastic, clear and textured glass, ceramic tile, cork, marble and leather.

GOOD LOOKS depends not only on what nature endowed you with but on a regular schedule for grooming. Career girls who have

Mrs. Bill Crowson Becomes President Of B&PW Club At Installation Banquet

Mrs. Bill Crowson was installed as president of Pampa's Business and Professional Women's Club at the annual installation banquet Tuesday evening. Mrs. Hattie Holt, outgoing president, presented her with the president's gavel, and Mrs. Roy L. Chisum was installing officer.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Gladys Jaynes, vice president; Mrs. H. F. McDonald Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Emmett Gee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ivan Howard, treasurer; and Mrs. Virgil Howell, parliamentarian.

The theme of the banquet was "The Key To Our Clubhouse," and each incoming officer and chairman was presented a key by Mrs. Chisum. The chairmen were also presented the club by-laws.

Mrs. W. A. York gave the invocation. Mrs. Hattie Holt, gave the welcome to the group following the dinner. She also introduced the guests, who were Mrs. Katie Beverly, club mother; Mrs. Maxine Fulcher, the club's business school representative; Miss Catherine Eslick, high school winner of the club's best citizen award; Miss Sylvia Grider, junior high winner of the best citizen award; and Misses Frank Shotwell Jr., Lucille Moore and Mary Wilson.

Mrs. Mary Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Hawkins, sang "Just A Cottage Small" and "Bless This House." Mrs. Wilson was given a gift by the club for her services.

Mrs. W. A. York presented the district director, Mrs. H. F. McDonald Jr., and the outgoing president, Mrs. Hattie Holt with year's perfect attendance pin. Mrs. Holt was also given a gift by the club. The table was decorated with miniature brown club houses with white picket fences and flowers surrounding them. The programs

Make Friends Manners

A girl should never accept a corsage from a boy in such a casual manner that she seems to have expected it as her due. A young man goes to trouble and expense to bring or send a girl flowers and she should act surprised and pleased by his thoughtfulness. There's nothing charming about taking even the smallest gift for granted.

A furniture fashion note this year: The new look of old woods. They're finished in colors of citron, avocado and tobacco. New pastie upholstery fabrics look like leather and tweeds. They are tough, durable materials that resist soil and stains.

Calvary Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. ENNIS HILL, Pastor
Calvary Baptist Church
Pampa, Texas

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors."

—Matt. 6:12

One of the things Jesus taught and practiced Himself was the spirit of forgiveness. On one occasion Peter asked the Master how often he should forgive his brother who had sinned against him. Peter tried to be broad-minded by saying, "shall I forgive him seven times," and Jesus answered by saying "You must forgive him seventy times seven." Christ has never asked us to do something He would not do. You will remember the crucifixion hour just before He died, He cried with a loud voice, "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do." Christ also said if we will not forgive our brother his sin neither will the heavenly father forgive us our sins.

There was once upon a time a bishop of Alexandria, in Egypt, named John the almsgiver. A nobleman came to see him one day, and the conversation turned on grievance. So-and-so had wronged him cruelly, and never to his dying day could he forgive him. He spoke with warmth and anger, his face darkened with passion, and his eye sparkled. Just at that moment the bell tinkled for prayer in the bishop's private chapel, and he rose and bade the nobleman follow him. John the Almsgiver knelt at the altar, and the nobleman knelt immediately behind him. Presently the bishop began in a loud voice the Lord's prayer, and the Nobleman repeated each part with him. "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread." The Bishop stopped abruptly. The nobleman, not thinking went on alone; "And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us"; then, finding he was alone, stopped short also. The bishop did not go on, but remained silently kneeling. Then suddenly the sense of the words of the petition he had made rushed on the nobleman's mind. The grace of God worked. He silently rose and finding the man who offended him, frankly forgave him.

LOS VIGILANTES OF EL CENTRO WELCOME YOU TO IMPERIAL VALLEY, MISS DUGAN. SORRY WE ARE LATE.

WELL, HOW NICE.

THE AIRLINE WIRED YOU WERE COMING—OUR JOB IS TO HELP YOU FIND A PERSON NAMED NORMAN HASTOR.

The Jackson Twins

WE STARTED 'EM IN ON SAWING AND NAILING UP A FLAT, BUT YOU KNOW THE TWINS? JAN SLAMMED HER TOGETHER IN FIVE MINUTES AND JILL TOOK HER TIME?

I WISH I HAD NOW, WIFE?

WELL, ER, MAYBE THEY COULD USE YOURS IN A WOODWORKING SETTING.

ETHERE THAT OR FOR KINDLY? HADTA BE THE THEATRE.

Blondie

HOLD THE HAMMER FARTHER BACK, LILLY.

HOWS THE CARPENTRY LESSON COMING, BOYS? WILL THEY BE ABLE TO BUILD SETS TOMORROW?

DEPENDS ON WHO HAS TO BUILD 'EM.

IT'S NONE OF MY BUSINESS, BUT THIS DOESN'T SEEM FAIR.

HOW COME YOU'RE PULLING HIM? HE'S A LOT BIGGER THAN YOU ARE.

THAT'S WHAT HE SAID WHEN HE MADE ME PULL HIM.

Alley Oop

WELL, WHETHER YOU LIKE IT OR NOT, THE GRAND WIZER SHOWED US WHERE COOP IS.

YES, HE DID, OOOO, OR SO IT SEEMED.

BUT THE DECISION IS WONNIGLS. IF HE BUYS IT, WE'RE DUE FOR A CHANGE OF SCENERY!

WELL, THAT WAS QUICK, WASN'T IT?

YEH, DOC'S RIGHT ON THE BALL!

CONGRATULATIONS! CYNTHIA IS FINE—AND SHE'S THE MOTHER OF TWO HEALTHY MALE PUPS!

OH, THANK YOU, DOCTOR? I MUST SHOW THEM TO MY FRIENDS.

I'M HONORING BOTH OF YOU BY NAMING CYNTHIA'S BABES JOE AND STEVE!

JOE AND STEVE PALOOKA!! SAY—HOW ABOUT IT, YOU BELLA EVER GOING TO FIGHT EACH OTHER?

DOCTOR—DO SOMETHING—JOE AND STEVE ARE FIGHTING!

Martha Wayne

I TOLD YOU ANANDA'S SAFE, BEFORE I TELL YOU ANYTHING ELSE I WANT TO KEEP MY PROMISE TO HER SHE ASKED ME TO GIVE YOU A MESSAGE.

YOU SEE, SHE'S AFRAID YOU WOULDN'T LISTEN TO HER, SHE WANTS YOU TO KNOW SHE'S TIRED OF HAVING A MOMMY OR DADDY. SHE WANTS A MOMMY AND DADDY!

MRS. WAYNE, DO YOU THINK HER RESENTMENT COMES AS NEWS TO US? DO YOU THINK WE LIKE RUNNING A PARENT-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB?

Mutt & Jeff

JEFF, DID YOU EVER TAKE OUT AN INSURANCE POLICY?

OH, SURE!

ACCIDENT? NO, I TOOK IT OUT ON PURPOSE!

LISTEN, I'M SELLING INSURANCE! TAKE OUT A $50,000 POLICY AND MAKE YOUR WIFE BENEFICIARY!

NIX! WIFE? I HAVE NO WIFE!

AH, BUT YOU WILL HAVE AS SOON AS THE NEWS GETS OUT!

SIGH THERE!

A SIMPLE THING TO FIX, FORTUNATELY, I AM HANDY WITH TOOLS.

WHAM! WHAM! WHAM! WHAM! WHAM!

BET YOUR LIFE THAT WON'T FLAP ANY MORE! CALL ON ME ANY TIME, MORTY, I LOVE TO FIX THINGS!

Little Doc

HOW MUCH DO YOU WANT TO WALK MY DOGS, LIL DOC?

25 CENTS FOR THE LIL ONE AND 5 CENTS FOR THE BIG ONE!

WHAT? 25 CENTS FOR THE LIL ONE AND ONLY 5 CENTS FOR THE BIG ONE? HOW COME?

SIMPLY DON'T WALK BIG DOGS.

I RIDE 'EM!

Wash Tubbs

BUT, MR. PATRICK, I'VE NEVER COMPLAINED OF BEING OVER-WORKED!

I KNOW, RITA... YOU WOULDN'T BUT EASY MAY BE RIGHT, AND THERE IS A CHORE I CAN RELIEVE YOU OF. KEEPING BOOKS ON THE PETTY CASH WE KEEP ON HAND!

MRS. WALLIS IS CAPABLE AND TRUST-WORTHY, SHE CAN TAKE OVER THAT TASK!

BUT I DON'T MIND IT! IT DOESN'T TAKE MUCH TIME, BESIDES, NOTHING IS A CHORE—PAT, THAT HELPS KEEP ME NEAR YOU!

WHEN RITA TAKES THE $200 SHE OWES TODAY JUGGLING THE BOOKS TO HIDE THE DEFICIT.

Boots

SHORTLY NOW, UNCLE WILLBUR, YOU WILL EXPERIENCE AN INCIDENT WHICH WILL HAVE A GREAT INFLUENCE ON YOUR IMMEDIATE FUTURE!

WHAT I CAN'T FIGURE IS HOW IN TOPHET YOU KNOW ALL THESE THINGS!

STOP HERE, PLEASE.

BUT... TO THE RESCUE, FELLOWS!

Mickey Finn

YOU K-K-KNOW WHERE H-HARRIS IS H-HIDING?

I THINK I DO, M-FUDDLE—IN A CAVE OVER NEAR SILVER LAKE! AND THAT'S WHERE WE'RE GOING!

B-BUT, PHIL, I-I JUST CAME OVER T-TO TALK TO YOU A-ABOUT GETTIN' A RAISE!

IF WE CATCH HIM, YOU'LL GET MORE THAN A RAISE, M-FUDDLE! C'MON—WE'LL GO IN YOUR CAR!

B-BUT, PHIL—S-SUPPOSE HE'S A-ARMED? HE COULDN'T BE M-FUDDLE—IF HE'S BEEN HIDING IN THE CAVE SINCE HE BROKE OUT! F-THAT'S WHAT I'M COUNTING ON!

Freckles

YOU HAVE A PROBLEM, CALM—NOW DON'T SAY A WORD—I'LL HELP YOU SOLVE IT, WHATEVER IT IS!

FIRST YOU GOTTA KNOW WHAT YOUR PROBLEM IS, THEN YOU GOTTA FIND OUT WHAT'S CAUSING IT—THEN IF YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT, YOU GOTTA KNOW WHAT IT IS YOU CAN DO.

OKAY, WHATS YOUR PROBLEM?

YOU REALLY WANNA KNOW?

I DIDN'T HAVE ANY, BUT NOW I'VE GOTTA FIGURE OUT WHAT YOU JUST SAID!

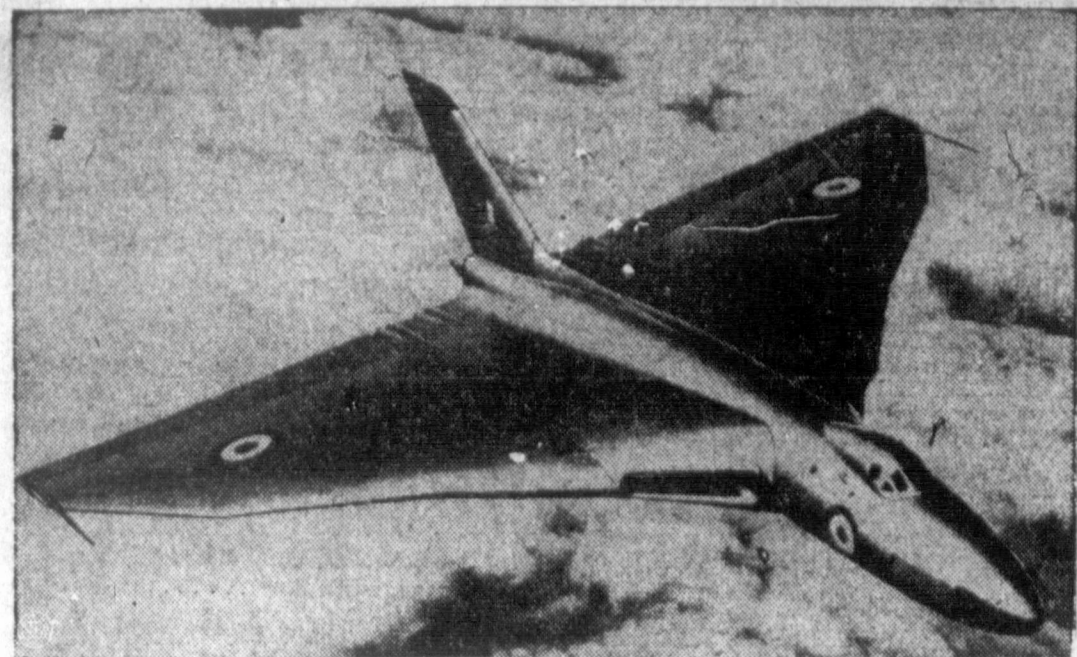

Susie Q. Smith

WHAT? NO BIG DATE TONIGHT, SUSIE?

NO, FATHER—I DECIDED TO STAY HOME AND READ!

SOB! DON'T TELL ME YOU'VE ACTUALLY GOT SOMETHING ON YOUR MIND...

BESIDES BOYS!

Here's Box Score On Adlai, Averell

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—Nose-counting by managers of Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman produced this current box score Thursday on national convention delegate votes:

Stevenson, 592
Harriman, 190.

These delegate counts came in the wake of the annual governors' conference at which each rival camp argued that a stand-off was a victory for its candidate.

Since 686 1/2 votes are needed for the nomination, supporters of neither candidate were prepared to claim that the game was over.

However, Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, chairman of Harriman's western campaign committee, said his candidate's position was "advanced greatly" during the governors' conference.

No More Commitments
Gary, only governor publicly backing Harriman, said Stevenson managers came to the conference expecting to make a showing that would indicate his nomination was assured. No additional governors joined the eight previously committed to Stevenson, he said.

Harriman's advisers said his objective was to make a good impression on fellow Democrats and keep them from a hand-wagon rush to Stevenson.

But Stevenson partisans were contending that Harriman had laid an egg and were asking, "Who's in charge?" They professed surprise that there was no sign of any organized Harriman effort to corral support from the democratic governors and their aides.

To the Stevenson people, what they called an unimpressive showing by Harriman was a victory. And if the conference did nothing else, it emphasized how solid is the opposition to Harriman in the Democratic South.

To the Harriman camp, the fact that there had been no Stevenson blitz was a victory. But it was also admitted that Harriman has a long lead to overcome during the slugging campaign which he intends to campaign between now and Aug. 13 when the Democratic convention opens.

He makes his next trip next weekend when he goes to Oxford, Ia., Saturday, Montivideo, Minn., Sunday and Fargo, N.D., Monday. Another speaking trip is already scheduled to Kansas and neighboring states and one Southern speaking date has been accepted.

The delegate vote claim of 602 for Stevenson and 190 for Harriman were not subject to serious challenge as current estimates. Stevenson's total was said to exclude Massachusetts, New Jersey and Indiana, where he expects to get the bulk of the delegations after the second ballot.

The figure did include a heavy 154 votes from 13 Southern and border states. On the other hand, it counted only 68 from the Mid-west, where Stevenson can now bank on about 50 votes from his home state of Illinois alone.

Forty five friends, neighbors and relatives gathered in the backyard of J. R. Hetley, Jr., Friday night for a "surprise" birthday party, honoring him. When the youngsters began to sing "Happy Birthday," he looked at his wife and said, "Whose birthday is it?" The group presented him with a shirt. A covered dish supper was served.

Had a talk with Eugene Collingsworth. He is taking a correspondence course and hopes to get his degree in January at Canyon. He wants to teach History. He and Clint Collingsworth have been cutting wheat and almost made a failure he said.

Mann Neaville fell while running in the yard Saturday and hit a steel rim and broke his nose. He's the five-year-old son of the Walter Neavilles.

A Martin of Minerals Wells passed away. He is the brother of

A. S. Martin and an uncle of Jack Martin of Shamrock.

James Merle Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Groves, returned home Saturday from Germany. The Groves' were mighty happy folks.

Mrs. Charley Brothers, always takes an extra look around these days before stepping out on the front porch. She killed a rattler on the porch one day this past week.

Matt Clay was picking cherries, so guess we'll all have an invite over to Matt's and Stella's place for cherry pie most any time.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leake are in Memphis with her mother, Mrs. J. K. Gibson who is seriously ill.

Richard Roberts of Lefors has been over for a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vernon. Richard attended Vacation Bible School at the Church of Christ while here.

Harris Zeigler of Fort Worth was up to get his sons, Billy Don and Randy, who have been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Purkey and Mrs. and Mrs. J. B. Zeigler.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Solomon and her father, J. L. Newton, went to Friona to their farm. They said they had started cutting wheat and were making an average of 30 bu. per acre, and that row crops were really pretty, and they were getting by without irrigating at the present time.

Mrs. V. L. Hollman of Cleveland, Miss., and son Van Hollman, Jr. of Memphis, Tenn. visited with the G. L. Harrisons and Lee enroute to California.

I hear that Uncle Levi Bumpers caught some nice fish this past week. Think he's keeping the place a secret, and wished he could have kept the fish a secret when all the kinfolks come in to get their part.

Mrs. Jimmy Itchner came home this week end from Roswell, N.M., where she has been with her mother who is ill. Jimmy and the girls took her back to Roswell Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Elliott spent Sunday in Amarillo, and Charles McNare of Samnorwood had the morning and evening service at the Samnorwood Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ray Thompson, Doug and Rebecca of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas, Sue and Alice of Sunray, all had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Douglas Sunday. It was Mrs. Douglas' birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols, Bill and Don of Pampa, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols Sr. and had Sunday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nichols Jr.

The Jim Abbotts and children, and his mother, Mrs. Hettie Abbott of Fort Worth, were here Friday for a short visit enroute to Arkansas on vacation. Abbott is former owner of Radio Station KEVA and is in radio and TV in Fort Worth.

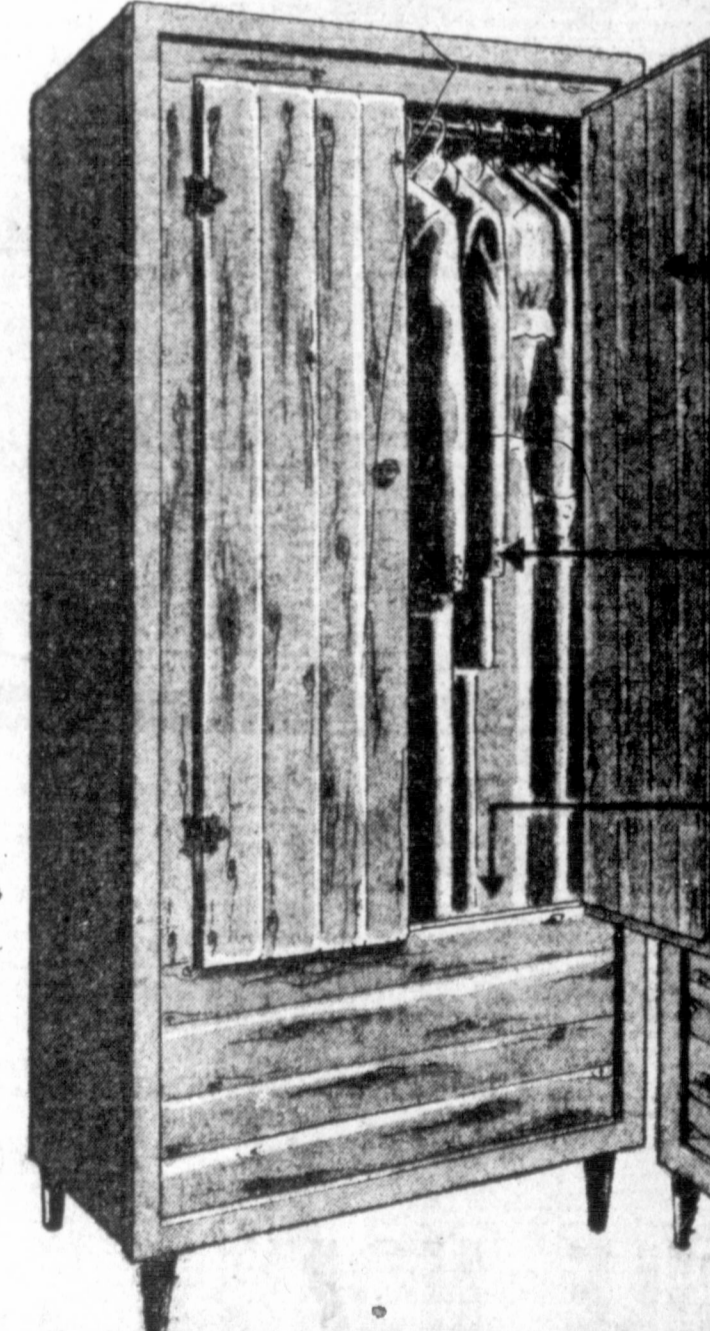

Bill Carver of Amarillo visited with the Clark Bumpers' Saturday. Bill had been to Hydro, Okla., to see his dad, W. E. Carver, who has been ill, but is now improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chandler and daughter, Betty Jean, of Cayuga, Tex., visited friends here enroute home from California. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hamill entertained with a covered dish dinner in their backyard, honoring the Chandlers who are former residents of Shamrock.

Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Bratcher of Pampa were in Shamrock Sunday, and Dr. Bratcher had services at the Methodist Church. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ben-
