Rotarians Hear Quentin Williams
The program at yesterday's meeting of the Pampa Rotary club featured Quentin Williams in a classic talk on the real estate business.

Williams pointed out that being a realtor consisted largely of rendering a contact and negotiation service between the buyer and seller of real property. He also explained that the rising trend in home trading has brought new problems to realtors.

Until recently, Williams stated, Texas had very loose rules and regulations governing those licensed to sell real estate but the state legislature last year passed a comprehensive law which now makes standards more stringent.

vote. But what happened a couple of days before that was an announcement by Reuther that he was a Stevenson man.

Williams countered then that Reuther was a nice fellow but that the Michigan delegation would make up its own mind. Reuther may or may not be nice. He is undoubtedly powerful—more powerful in the councils of the Democratic Party in the state of Michigan than is Williams who has been elected governor four times running.

The switch of the Michigan delegation not only ended the presidential contest here with Stevenson the winner, it also disclosed who is Michigan head man of the Democratic Party. Some shine has gone from Williams' prestige. It was 9 hours and 48 minutes after Williams' small hours announcement that the Harriman camp tossed in the towel. A Harriman manager spoke briefly with a UP reporter. At 1:17 p. m., EDT the United Press bulletin:—"Gov. Averell Harriman's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination collapsed today."

"The governor's campaign managers private admitted that Adlai Stevenson 'apparently has enough votes' to win the presidential nomination."

Johnson Says He Is Still A Candidate

CHICAGO (UP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson said today that he is still a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and said he has participated in no convention moves to "stop" any other candidate.

Johnson made the statement at a news conference in his campaign headquarters. His statements left the status of his candidacy unchanged.

He said he is still not seeking voting strength outside the Texas delegation, which is pledged to him. He said, however, that he probably will receive some out-of-state support and might get more "if I made a big issue out of it."

Spurns Invitations
But Johnson said he had refused invitations to visit with two delegations this morning. He did not identify them. Delaware and Alabama were understood to have issued invitations to him.

Discussing his attitude toward other candidates and toward former President Harry S. Truman's attacks on Adlai E. Stevenson, Johnson said he has been "religiously neutral" on matters involving the nomination.

"If I have done anything to lend credence to reports that I was trying to 'stop' anything, I am not aware of it," Johnson said.

Stresses Platform
Johnson hammered away during most of the news conference at the theme which he has stressed since arriving in Chicago—that the first important business of the convention is to draft a platform acceptable to all segments of the party. He expressed confidence that such a platform will be drafted. And he said he believes that "whoever is nominated will be elected in November."

Johnson said he has seen several drafts of platform language on the touchy civil rights problem. He said he did not want to pass judgment on the drafting subcommittee's final version until he had seen it but he said "early reports are good."

Earlier he had assailed rumors he was withdrawing from the race for nomination.

Officer Is Transferred To A Florida Post

By CHARLES CORDDRY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—UP—The Army officer whose office was said to have leaked documents attacking administration military strategy was transferred Wednesday to a Florida post concerned mostly with reserve affairs.

The officer is Brig. Gen. Loyal C. Metheny, 50. He headed a top-level planning team called the "co-ordination group" directed under Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff.

The reported leaks from Metheny's office were in the form of documents questioning the administration's emphasis on air-atomic strategy. They reached the press last May and helped fan the flames of a smoldering intra-service row which drew sharp comment from President Eisenhower.

Metheny's transfer to be chief of the Florida military district in Jacksonville followed a move by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson Monday to prevent unauthorized disclosures of confidential material. Wilson set up a special committee to plug leaks headed by Charles A. Coolidge of Boston, a former assistant defense secretary.

Wilson asked Coolidge for a fast interim report on how to "assure greater protection" of secret or confidential data.

The secretary was sufficiently perturbed about the May leaks at the time to call a special news conference on the subject at which he attributed the disclosure to "egg beavers" in various services.

Robert's Rules is important. At your lodge meeting, for example, things go much smoother if both the chairman and the members on the floor follow Robert and stick to the business at hand. That way you'll get home before the wee, small hours, and still have time for some relaxation after the business session.

There are many simple guides to Robert that will help, and unless you are chairman of a large or important meeting it probably isn't necessary to know all the details in the whole book.

Now we move to adjourn until next week — a motion which General Robert says takes precedence over everything else.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

IT'S THE LAW ★ IN TEXAS ★

Whether it's the nomination of a presidential candidate at one of the national political conventions, or the monthly meeting of your neighborhood PTA, a set of procedural rules compiled 80 years ago by an almost-forgotten Army General usually has much to do with the way the business is conducted.

You have probably heard of "Robert's Rules of Order" which was published in 1876. General Henry M. Robert ordered only 4,000 of his original edition, but since that time almost 1,500,000 copies have been printed. The rules have been modernized from time to time, but the revisions have been slight.

Actually the rules for conducting a meeting go back to the early days of the English Parliament, although General Robert based his upon the rules and practice of the U. S. Congress.

Robert's Rules come close to being "law of the land". They are given added legal status by the fact that the charter, constitution, or by-laws of almost every organization you work for (large or small) — ordinarily state somewhere that all meetings will be "conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order". Special rules may be made by any organization contrary to Robert, but if such provisions are not in the by-laws his little book — where incorporated in such by-laws — remains the "bible" to be followed strictly.

All this means, in effect, that if a serious question arises over the legality of action taken by an organization, a court might have to consider General Robert's rules with the same care as it does the law to determine whether the action in question was proper.

THIS MOTOR'S RUNNING—For the first time, an X-ray photo has been made of an engine while it is running. Using radiation pulses of a five-to-15-million-volt betatron, and special equipment, engineers can now get slow-motion and stop-motion photos through the engine block and cylinder walls. The revolutionary process gives designers their first glimpse inside a completed machine operating at normal speed under load conditions. The technique was developed by the General Electric Company in cooperation with the Detroit Arsenal. The X-ray, above, was taken of a two-horsepower, four-cylinder engine.

Rich Spanish Cream With Coffee Sauce Makes Superb, Party-Perfect Dessert

Spanish cream is a mixture of custard, unflavored gelatin and stiffly beaten egg whites; a dessert of light, fluffy texture, delicate flavor and snowy color. Pour over this a tawny coffee sauce and you have something really superb.

You can make the Spanish cream in one large mold or in individual molds or custard cups. However you do it, a clear jelly layer will form in the bottom of the mold with the custard layer on top — very pretty when unmolded as you can imagine.

Evaporated milk provides the base for the coffee sauce and also adds its richness to the Spanish cream. It's undiluted in the sauce so you can expect an extra smooth creamy product.

SPANISH CREAM
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 eggs, separated
1-3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Mix milk and water in top of double boiler. Sprinkle gelatin over top and let soften about 3 minutes. Beat egg yolks slightly with a fork. Place gelatin mixture over boiling water. Add sugar and salt. Heat, stirring constantly, until sugar and gelatin are thoroughly dissolved. Slowly pour small amount of hot mixture over slightly beaten egg yolks, stirring constantly. Stir this egg mixture into hot mixture in double boiler. Cook over hot, not boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into hot mixture, blending well. Pour into individual molds or custard cups, or into a 1-quart mold. (When mixture is set, a clear jelly layer will be on bottom and custard layer on top.) Unmold and serve with Coffee Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

COFFEE SAUCE

1/2 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 tablespoon butter
1-8 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon instant coffee
2-3 cup evaporated milk
Mix sugar and corn syrup in a small heavy saucepan. Add butter and salt and stir to mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved, about 10 minutes. Then cook over medium heat to soft ball stage (230 degrees F.), stirring constantly, about 6 to 7 minutes. Cool 15 minutes without stirring. Meanwhile add vanilla to the milk and stir to blend well. Stir in the instant coffee and mix until smooth. Add very slowly to cooled syrup mixture, stirring constantly until blended. Makes 2 cups.

Bran Biscuits Make 'Deluxe Shortcake'

Probably no one dessert brings on more oh's and ah's than fresh peach shortcake. And with a peach in peak season, now's the time to try this super-deluxe shortcake made with hot-from-the-oven Bran Shortcake Biscuits. The biscuits, made with whole bran cereal, have a rich nutty flavor, good moist texture, and make a wonderful taste combination with fresh sweetened fruit. Simple to make, they require just a 10-minute baking period.

BRAN SHORTCAKE BISCUITS (with peaches)
1/2 cup All-Bran (ready-to-eat bran)
1 egg, well-beaten
3/4 cup milk
1 2-3 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1-3 cup shortening
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
Combine All-Bran, egg and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Add All-Bran mixture and stir only until combined. Turn dough out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few times. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness; cut with floured 2 1/2-inch biscuit cutter. Place half the biscuits on ungreased baking sheet; brush with melted butter and top with remaining biscuits. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 10 minutes.

Split and serve with sweetened fresh or frozen peaches between halves and on top. Yields 8 shortcakes.

Frosty Iced Coffee Makes Summer a Breeze

"When the glass is at ninety, a man is a fool Who directs not his efforts to try and keep cool!"

That's what a wise 19th-century poet wrote many long years ago, but the logic of his simple verse counts back in style each summer as "the glass" zooms up toward ninety or above. The fact is that it's not only completely sensible to keep oneself as cool as possible in hot weather — it's also the most pleasant and happy way to get along with the heat. How about a long, tall, ice-dripping drink of something good?

Just about the most refreshing and reviving of all summer coolers is a glass of frosty iced coffee. At its best, iced coffee should be the same strength as hot coffee. Here is an easy, excellent way to make it:

Iced Coffee With Coffee Cubes
Brew extra breakfast coffee. When cool, freeze into coffee ice cubes, turning temperature control to coldest point for rapid freezing. Then make iced coffee anytime by pouring regular strength hot coffee over the cubes.

extra touch of cream and sweetening. One of the best ways to sweeten iced coffee is with simple sugar syrup. This goes into solution in an instant and sweetens the coffee thoroughly.
Another interesting way to sweeten iced coffee is with chocolate syrup — this will give you a delightful Mocha Cooler. For flavor variations, you may want to try a touch of bitters or a drop or two of vanilla extract.
Here are several other ways to make delicious iced coffee:
Quick Double Strength Iced Coffee
Make coffee double strength by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee. Pour hot over ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra strong coffee allows for dilution caused by the ice.
Pre-Cooled Iced Coffee
Make regular strength coffee and cool in non-metallic container in refrigerator, not more than two hours. Pour over ice in tall glasses.
Instant Iced Coffee
Mix twice the usual amount of instant coffee with a little water (hot or cold according to brand) in each glass. Add ice cubes, cold water and stir thoroughly.

Waffles Make Hit For Sunday Supper

Every home has a Sunday night supper that has a charm all its own. In some families the children are responsible for the preparation and in others the whole family joins in the frivolity of this creative experiment.

Waffles lend a light note to this Sunday supper. Variations to satisfy all tastes are numerous. The batter is easily prepared, this recipe is one so easy that children can prepare it by themselves. Made with lard, these waffles contain a richness and flavor that is hard to top. Lard also adds nutritive value, according to Reba Staggs, well known home economist.

Waffles
2 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1½ cups milk
6 tablespoons melted lard
1 tablespoon sugar, if desired
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add egg yolks and milk and beat thoroughly. Add melted lard. Beat egg whites and fold into batter. Yield: 8 4-inch waffles.
As a variation add ¼ cup chopped crisp bacon or ¼ cup chopped nuts to the batter before baking.
For a novel idea, serve honey butter as a spread for the waffles. As a dessert, spread waffles with cream cheese and crushed sweetened fresh peaches, raspberries or strawberries.

Iced Tea - A Summer "Must"

Luncheon for the ladies? Something light and easy to prepare is the basic thought behind meal planning when the club or neighborhood women get together for luncheon. Shrimp à la King made with frozen defrosted shrimp and either homemade or packaged waffles can be made in a matter of minutes. As for the beverage, in the summertime a refreshing glass of iced tea is almost a "must". If guests have had any difficulty in reaching the hostess's home such as waiting for a babysitter, traffic, heat-exhaustion, etc., there's nothing like a glass of iced tea to refresh and relax them.

Of course, it's important to have the tea made right—not too strong—not too weak. Here's a fool proof recipe that requires fewer ice cubes and less preparation time than old-fashioned methods: First, premeasure 1/3 cup loose tea (or remove tags from 15 teabags). Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and while water is still bubbling, add all the tea at one time. Stir. Brew 5 minutes, uncovered. Stir and strain into pitcher holding an additional quart of freshly drawn cold water. (Do not refrigerate). Serve in ice-filled glasses, with lemon and sugar to taste.

SHRIMP A LA KING
(Make about 4 servings)
Soak ¼ cup each of minced onion, sliced mushrooms and dried green pepper in 2 tablespoons butter. Stir in ¼ cup diced pineapple and 1 package frozen shrimp which has been defrosted and cut into small pieces. ½ teaspoon salt and dash of cayenne pepper. Let stand 5 minutes. Set aside. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in top of a double boiler. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Gradually add 2 cups of milk, stirring constantly till thickened and smooth. Stir in shrimp mixture. Continue to cook 5 minutes. Serve immediately over waffles, rice or noodles.

Plenty of protein — meat, chicken, fish, milk, eggs and cheese—is as necessary in summer as it is in winter for the daily life processes that include growth, tissue maintenance and repair, blood regeneration, and building of resistance to infection.

1 cup cooked macaroni
¾ cup French dressing
Combine tongue, vegetables, pickle and macaroni with French dressing. Chill thoroughly. Serve on lettuce cups. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Convention Sidelights

By DON QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (UP)— Television came of age Tuesday night. Sam Rayburn appeared on stage at the Democratic convention without any makeup on his naked head. There was no reflected glare on the screen. Science marches on. During the 1952 Democratic National Convention, Chairman Rayburn was forced to submit to a topsoil application of dulling, orange-brown powder, one of the world's most famous bald pates. The reason given was to keep him from casting a baby-spot beam upon the screen with the reflected glory of the bright TV lights turned on the convention platform. Now, apparently electronic has learned to cope with baldness in the raw.

It was 8:30 p.m. when Rayburn came on to take over as permanent chairman. A great throng of delegates had gathered in front of the lectern to greet him, and he had been playing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." In strode Mr. Sam.

Scientists gasped. His head was glowing pink. Reporters on the platform blinked and took a closer look. The skin was pure Rayburn—and no pancake.

"I'm sure there's no pancake makeup," a newsmen with a vintage view reported. "If there is any at all, it's mere crepes a-tette—and very little of that."

Chairman Sam nodded twice at the yellow crowd, banged the gavel, said "The house will come to order," banged again, frowned, smiled, and got right down to business.

It was pretty certain, after his appearance, who has earned the title "Mr. Democrat." Temporary Chairman Frank G. Clement introduced the permanent chairman as "Mr. Democrat himself, the great one, the honorable Sam Rayburn."

The paraders bore signs saying "Mr. Sam is Mr. Demo," "Mr. Demo Rayburn," and "Uncle Sam Rayburn." Sen. Wayne Morse later said it was a great honor for him to be introduced to the convention "by Mr. Democrat himself."

Delegates from the voteless District of Columbia turned up wearing fancy Indian-type headdresses depicting the capitol dome and the Washington monument. Each was inscribed: "We want to vote. The DC wants a vote."

Texas Fair To Use Monorail

DALLAS (UP)— For a quarter, visitors at the State Fair of Texas in October can get a pleasure ride and also transportation 21 feet above the ground on the nation's first commercial monorail system. The train will be suspended above the ground on a single rail which is 4,000 feet long. It will take customers from one side of the fairgrounds to the other. The "Monorail Skyway" will be built by Monorail, Inc., of Houston, Texas. It will be a single-rail system on display in that city.

Throw Money Away

LOS ANGELES (UP)— Fountain clerk William Clark, 39, was stopped by police Sunday as he drove along towing up $300 in $20 bills and $400 in travelers' checks and tossing the pieces out the window of his car.

"I'm feeling bad" was his only explanation.

WHEREVER MILTON GOES—His bull fiddle goes, but the Armed Forces Induction Center in Los Angeles didn't agree. When Milton Nadel, 22, refused to be inducted without his fiddle, instrument, authorities called in the FBI. Nadel, after spending a night in jail, reluctantly conceded the point. The Army says he can have his fiddle with him after his two months' basic training.

Truman Uses Political Pros

CHICAGO (UP)— Former President Harry S. Truman has a team of political pros helping him to woo delegate votes for New York Gov. Averell Harriman for the Democratic presidential nomination.

They include two former Democratic committee chairmen — William M. Boyle Jr. and Frank McKinney. Also in the group are California oil man Edwin Fauley and Donald Dawson, former administrative assistant to Mr. Truman when he was in the White House.

Russian Cab Drivers Make U. S. Brand Look Like Kids

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)— My friend Bob Loftus of the National Association of Home Builders, has nothing much against the Russians — except their cab drivers.

Bob has just returned from a long look at housing behind the big curtain.

The cabbies over there would make a New York cab driver look like a small boy in a Buster Brown suit riding down Fifth Ave.

Bob hit 12 cities in Russia, including Moscow, Leningrad, and Biala, the late Josef Stalin's home town.

The former leader's villa is at Lake Riza, up in the hills, and now is a boarding house for Russian workers.

Loftus and his party attempted it by cab. These drivers would squeal their brakes around a mountain curve, honking horns like crazy, "hoping," as Bob put it, that there was nobody coming at us from the other side of the mountain.

The housing man who does, and always did have a way with words, said the Russian hacker "cute things close."

"Russian pedestrians don't seem to worry," he said. "They seem to play it as a game — to see how close they can come to an oncoming fender without getting blood on the driver's windshield. For some reason, though, there are few bad traffic accidents."

The group traveled some 6,000 miles in the Soviet Union by plane, river boat and car.

The plane rides were interesting for the Americans. The Russians provided two planes, the Russian version of our DC-3's. Pilots were good. Most of the landings were on grass strips.

"The Russians feel that grass is safer to land on than concrete," Bob said. "And when we landed we had no seat belts. You could stand up, if you wanted to."

"We had no hops over six hours," he said. "We were served sliced cucumbers, tomatoes, cav- iar and jelly fish. Filling enough in bumpy weather."

Wolves annually kill about 24,000 Canadian caribou, or about five per cent of the herd.

Traffic Violations Deluxe
DETROIT (UP)—Traffic Judge George T. Murphy looked at the charge against 20-year-old Gordon Pohl and then revoked his license and sentenced him to 60 days in jail. Pohl was found guilty of speeding through 50 intersections and running 10 red lights while traveling at speeds up to 110 miles an hour.

Canadian To Have Community TV Tower

CANADIAN — (Special) — Installation of a 400 foot Community TV tower, cable and equipment capable of carrying 12 channels, will be started as soon as equipment, which is now on order, can be delivered, according to Williams J. Jackson, general manager of Canadian's newest business enterprise, TV Cable Service.

The project, which has been in the mill for several months, got the green light this week as final financial arrangements were completed. The company will be entirely locally owned and operated, Jackson said.

Target date for getting the system in operation with service on at least one channel is Oct. 1.

"If we are not held up on delivery of materials and supplies, we might beat that date by a couple of weeks," Jackson said.

A site for the tower has been located adjacent to the city water tower on a hill south of town and a lease agreement has been made with the City of Canadian for use of its utility poles to carry the service cable to Canadian homes.

The company is accepting advance subscriptions, which cost $100, plus tax, and include connection fee and six months advance rental of $6 per month. For subscribers tying into the system after it is in operation, Jackson said, a $25 connection fee will be charged and the monthly rental fee will be $7.50 plus tax.

Mobeetie Plans Settler Reunion

MOBEETIE — (Special) — A public meeting was called Monday evening in the American Legion Hall in Old Mobeetie, to begin plans for the fourth annual Old Settlers Reunion and Picnic, to be held on the grounds of the Old Jail, which has been converted into the Legion and Auxiliary building.

Jim Hathaway was elected president of the Old Settlers Reunion. The financial committees, appointed by the president are, J. H. Scribner, Henry Johnston and John Dunn.

The public is urged to get in touch with any one of these men if they are interested in helping in financing the barbecue and other expenses connected with the reunion and picnic.

Dallas Man Shot
DALLAS (UP) — A 44-year-old man was shot and killed Sunday night in a house in southeast Dallas and authorities questioned his former wife, The victim, J. C. Yankie, was shot five times with a pistol. A detective said he had wounds in the head, chest and stomach.

DROUGHT—Wayne Worley, office manager of the Midland, Tex., Agriculture Commission, sits the dry soil in what once was a fertile and productive cotton field. Drought has stricken the area, and the cotton is barely above the ground. At this time it should be ready for picking.

Texas Farmers, Ranchers Get Government Boost

By UNITED PRESS
Texas farmers and ranchers, faced by the bleakest crop and cattle situation in 22 years, got a lift from the federal government yesterday.

Gov. Allan Shivers announced that the government has allocated $1 million to put into effect "immediately" an emergency roughage program.

In another development, Sen. Price Daniel discussed with livestock men from 25 South Texas counties a long-term credit program.

Daniel told the group, "If some of the foreign countries we've been pouring money into had half of the disaster of this kind, we'd already be over there helping them."

Pasture Conditions Poor
The lowest pasture conditions since 1934 were reported in Austin by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Ranges and pasture were bare over a large part of the state, particularly in the central, southern and western counties," the USDA said.

"Only in the Panhandle where May, June and July showers kept grass coming along was any green grass available." Feed crops are "very short" over most of the state, the monthly range and livestock survey revealed.

Approval by Benson
The federal allocation followed formal approval by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson of a program worked out in Austin last Friday under which eligible farmers and ranchers will be allowed $7.50 per ton for purchase of hay, cottonseed hulls and other roughage.

Shivers said he was notified of the action by Wesley D'Ewart, special representative of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

D'Ewart attended a conference in Dallas of field personnel of the Farmers Home Administration.

The governor's office said county offices of the Farmers Home Administration will begin accepting applications "within a short period of time."

Polio Decreases In Chicago Slums

CHICAGO (UP)—A decline in the number of polio cases reported in the hardest hit area of Chicago's record outbreak of the disease was apparently offset by an increase in another congested area.

Health authorities reported that only 11 of the 25 new cases reported for the last check period occurred in the slum-ridden West Side area, which previously accounted for more than half of the new cases daily.

However, the new total was only three cases below the record one-day total of 28 cases Aug. 2. The latest figures brought the total to 741 cases and 21 deaths.

RCA President Big Money Winner

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Rodeo Cowboys' Association President Bill Linderman last week was professional rodeo's biggest money winner for the third week out of the last six.

Taking the all-around championship at the C. M. Russell rodeo in Great Falls, Mont., and placing second for the same title at the Caldwell, Idaho, night rodeo, Linderman collected $2,037 for his week's work, according to association information. He is a veteran of 15 years professional competition from Walla Walla, Wash.

Bill George of Fort Worth, Tex., won $114 in steer roping at Colorado Springs, Colo. George took home the gold and silver Spencer Penrose trophy buckle.

The all-around champion at the Crooked River roundup at Prineville, Okla., won the trophy in one event alone. Veteran Everett Shaw of Stonewall, Okla., who now competes only in steer roping, won the biggest share of the overall purse for $796.65.

Insect Invades Farmers' Homes

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UP)—The homes of farmers living southeast of Lubbock are being invaded by a strange looking insect that resembles a brown beetle and has a mild bite.

It isn't the bite that victims complain about; it's the sheer numbers of bugs.

"The only damage I've heard about is that they get in people's houses and get in sinks and cabinets," Ben Mansker of the county fogging (insect eradication) department said.

He said he had inspected a garden covered with them and the vegetables were not hurt. W. L. Owens of the State Experiment Station at Lubbock sent some to Austin for identification.

"They have been getting steadily worse right before sundown and right after dark," said W. C. Hobbs, who lives six miles southeast of Lubbock. "They swarm in from the northwest like bees. They hit you and just cover you."

Persons in the bug invasion area serve meals before dark, because if they have to turn on the lights to eat, the bugs swarm into the food.

It isn't hard to kill them, but those that are killed are replaced by live ones. Some housewives pick them up in their vacuum cleaners and burn them with kerosene.

Fast Moving Dog
AMARILLO, Tex. (UP)—Police at a radar speed trap clocked a fast-moving airspeeder going 26 miles-per-hour in a 30-mile zone Monday. Officers said the dog approached a dead bird laying in front of the radar unit, picked up the bird and darted off. Metal studs on the dog's collar were picked up by the radar which registered him almost exceeding the speed limit.

Dewey Predicts Nixon To Be Veep

By DONALD J. GONZALES
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 —UP—Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey predicted after a conference with President Eisenhower Wednesday that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be picked as the No. 2 man on the 1956 GOP ticket.

Dewey said he was "quite confident" the controversial vice president will be renominated at the Republican national convention at San Francisco next week because he "is entitled" to it.

The former governor, a leading GOP strategist, would not say whether he and Mr. Eisenhower discussed Nixon's future during their 30-minute White House meeting. He said only that they talked about politics and the Republican convention.

Stassen Declines Comment
Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament adviser, declined to comment on Dewey's prediction but kept on with his campaign to replace Nixon with Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as the GOP vice presidential nominee.

Stassen, who is on "political" leave from his White House post, defended Nixon against Democratic attacks. He told a news conference that Democrats at their Chicago convention tried to "put words in Nixon's mouth that he has never spoken." He did not elaborate.

Claiming his drive for Herter is "steadily growing," Stassen said he will leave for San Francisco Friday to press his dump-Nixon campaign at the Republican convention which opens Monday.

No Hint of Ike's Views
Dewey gave no direct hint of Mr. Eisenhower's views on Nixon's candidacy. The President has said he would be "delighted" with Nixon as a running-mate but has refused to slam the door, at least publicly, on a possible alternative.

Asked for his own views on Nixon's renomination chances, Dewey said: "I have assumed all along that he will be nominated. I have personally felt he has been the most useful vice president in history. He has lent more stature to that office, grown more, and done more than anybody else."

"He certainly is entitled to renomination, and I am quite confident he will be renominated."

Tests May Aid Iron Recovery

WASHINGTON (UP)—Laboratory tests by the Bureau of Mines may greatly increase the recovery of iron from ores in East Texas, the Department of Interior announced.

The tests were undertaken at the bureau's Rolla, Mo., plant to find methods of utilizing the limonite brown iron ores of the Lone Star State more efficiently. Samples from mines in Morris, Cass and Rusk counties were used in the experiments.

The metallurgists found that roasting, grinding and magnetic separation recovered more than 80 per cent of the iron in concentrates of usable grade. Commercial treatment, employing crushing, washing and screening, reportedly averages about 50 per cent recovery.

FINAL SALUTE FOR "BABE"—Eight elephants at the Paul Kelly animal farm near Peru, Ind., give "Old Babe" a final salute before she is buried on farm grounds. One of the oldest elephants in the circus world, Babe had outlived a host of circuses and trainers. Always at the head of the herd, she had spent the last years of her life "on pasture." Babe was buried among abandoned wagons of the Cole Brothers Circus, which she worked during 70 years of captivity.

Highlights In The Demo Convention

By DOG QUINN

CHICAGO (UP)—Fay no attention to talk about a struggle over civil rights. The real struggle in the Democratic national convention is between Chairman Sam Rayburn and the bad boy delegates.

Both factions are pretty tough. But Rayburn seems bent on keeping the aisles cleared even if he has to go down to the floor in person and hew a path through the jabbing humanity with his trusty gavel.

The first Rayburn-delegate clash came Wednesday night shortly after former President Truman and his wife arrived and took mezzanine seats. The aisles were jammed with yacking delegates.

Rayburn banged the gavel and said: "Will you listen to me for a moment? In the House of Representatives we have a saying that those who desire to converse please go to the cloakroom. Those who desire to walk and talk here will please cease walking and talking or retire from the chamber."

There was applause, but the two main aisles stayed blocked during the address of Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, who didn't seem to mind.

Oklahoma delegates with red, blue, and white Indian chief headdress whopped obstreperously during Kerr's address. But they were so enthusiastic that their whoops came off cue most of the time—in the wrong places of Kerr's speech.

The Oklahoma delegation came equipped with plenty of signs, the most arresting of which read: "Muskogee, O.K., plenty of dam water." Another in red letters, said simply: "Soonerland."

While Kerr spoke, a big black-and-white banner appeared in the aisle beside the New York delegation: "New Yorkers for Stevenson." Chairman Sam was on his feet at once and elbowed onto the lectern, displacing the speaker. His gavel barked:

"If there is an officer or a sergeant-at-arms in this chamber, I want that banner removed from

Strong Civil Rights Plank In Demo Platform Defeated

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (UP) — Democratic moderates and southerners defeated early today a bid of northern liberals to put over a stronger civil rights plank than the south would swallow.

The Democratic national convention shouted down a proposal of those northerners to pledge the party to carry out the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools.

The convention then adopted a lengthy campaign platform containing a compromise civil rights plank that recognized the Supreme Court decision as the law of the land. This plank as adopted said nothing about enforcing the decision, except that in any event force should not be used.

Former President Truman joined with party moderates in urging adoption of the compromise on civil rights in the interests of party unity. This put Mr. Truman at odds with many supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman whom he had backed unsuccessfully for the presidential nomination.

Leaders Happy Party Party leaders were jubilant over the convention's action.

Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Ill.), platform committee chairman who led the fight for the compromise, said, "The sound action of the delegates means unity and victory in November."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler called it "a tremendous demonstration of unity and solidarity in the party."

"The platform contains a forthright and unequivocal program on civil rights," he said.

While the convention stalled for two hours Wednesday night, the liberals tried in backstage huddles to get the others to go along with a tougher plank. Those efforts failed. So they forced their views to the convention floor with a minority report presented by 38-year-old Robert E. Short of Minneapolis.

Rayburn put the issue to a vote, the minority report was rejected on a voice vote. No delegates seriously challenged Rayburn's ruling at 12:25 a.m. est that "the noes have it". No real effort was made by the losers to get a roll call. They knew they had been defeated.

Soon after the start of Wednesday night's convention session, northern liberals opened a behind-the-scenes drive to get the resolutions committee to reconsider its action of a few hours earlier and strengthen the civil rights plank.

The band played unprogrammed numbers. Vaughn Monroe sang solos and led the delegates in song. Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma spoke before the platform was taken up, instead of after.

All these changes in the program to cover up the last-minute bargaining over the controversial plank.

Gubernatorial Candidates Still In There Pitching

By UNITED PRESS
The national Democratic convention may have taken some of the edge off of the governor's race, but the candidates still were in there pitching today.

Ralph Yarborough, for example, took time out to film some speeches which will be shown later on television. He did this in Dallas. The films will be shown in the nine days remaining before election day.

Sen. Price Daniel campaigned along the Gulf Coast and spoke at Corpus Christi.

Yarborough planned to spend today attending the Dallas encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which he is a member, make a 15-minute telecast, and then go on to Quitman for an old settlers reunion tonight.

East Coast Watches Betsy

MIAMI (UP) — Officials from Florida to North Carolina today kept a weather eye on the slow, uncertain retreat of killer hurricane Betsy from the U.S. mainland.

The government threw all of its planes into continuous scouting of the vicious tempest whirling off the upper Florida coast after killing at least 30 persons in a slash through the West Indies.

W. Lee O'Daniel, who ran third in the July 28th primary, also scheduled a television appearance at 7:30 p.m. from Fort Worth. He hasn't thrown his support publicly to either Daniel or Yarborough.

Speculation arose that O'Daniel, former governor and U.S. senator, won't endorse any candidate for governor, but will say that the voters "will have another opportunity in November to make him their servant." This would mean O'Daniel planned to run for the U.S. Senate in November.

The Miami Weather Bureau last night EDT located Betsy's center about 280 miles east of Orlando, Fla., and said the storm was moving in random directions with "a net north-northeastward drift."

The San Juan, P.R., Weather Bureau reported however that a new low appeared to be forming about 600 miles to the east-northeast in an area of squally weather with winds up to 30 or 40 miles an hour.

A report from San Juan said another 12 persons were counted dead in Betsy's path across Puerto Rico and two more on St. Croix. Some 20,000 houses were reported demolished and another 20,000 heavily damaged along a 25-mile wide path.

North Carolina remained as watchful as ever, "ready to go on an alert" if Betsy's net drift proves to be a northwestward one instead.

A North Carolina National Guard plane stood by at Chicago to fly Gov. Luther Hodges homeward from the Democratic National Convention if the hurricane were to turn about and head toward his state.

What They're Saying At Chicago

By UNITED PRESS
Former President Harry S. Truman: "I don't believe Stevenson can win and I think Averell Harriman can."

James Finnegan, Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign manager, when asked whether he thought Mr. Truman's statement would hurt Stevenson's drive for the nomination: "No, I don't. I think the delegates have definitely decided that Gov. Stevenson is their one hope of defeating Eisenhower this year and they will vote for him."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), on chances that the Democratic convention will demand a strong civil rights plank in the platform: "I am very apprehensive that there will be a strong movement on the floor to write a plank that would be very offensive to the white people of the South."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, favorite son candidate who holds Ohio's 58 votes: "Asking me when I will release my delegates is like asking a fighter going into the ring when he is going to quit."

Speaker Sam Rayburn in an attack on President Eisenhower during an address to the convention Tuesday night: "The American people want a man who is president in fact as well as in name."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, favorite son candidate who controls Texas' 56 votes: "No one has made any overtures to me to swing the Texas delegation, if I could. Let's have no mystery of what's happening."

Roger Tubby, Stevenson news secretary, on reports that Stevenson wants Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) as a vice presidential running mate: "No such understanding has been reached with Senator Kefauver or with any other candidate."

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The most enjoyable part of my work — and sometimes the most embarrassing — are the interviews I do with kids on CBS-TV's "House Party" every day.

One of the questions I frequently ask the children is how their parents met. One four-year-old states unequivocally, "My mom and dad were roommates in college."

Or the young cowboy who wasn't quite sure but ventured, "I think Mommy and daddy were twins and lived together in the same house."

Just about the most realistic answer was, "I couldn't possibly know because I was just a baby at the time."

We never rehearse the kids, reasoning that if the whole situation is new and exciting to them they'll be more spontaneous. We ask the school to send children between the ages of 4 and 10. These little ones are like very old people. After people reach 70 or 75 years of age they don't care much any more what people think of them, or what they say or do. All the inhibitions they build up over the years disappear as they enter the twilight of life.

Little children are much the same, but the reasons are in reverse. They haven't lived long enough to build up inhibitions. They're lots of fun.

Asked what his daddy did, one boy shouted from coast to coast, "I don't know exactly, but I think he steals!"

A girl of 5 confided, and apropos of nothing I'd asked her, "My whisker seeds." One little girl interrupted me with the information

In The Nick Of Time!

DENISON, Tex. (UP)—It's old stuff for film star Roy Rogers to ride up in time to save the homestead, but it is all rather new for Rogers' manager, Art Rush.

Rush, of New York, was returning from Lake Texoma late Tuesday when he saw flames billowing from a house along the highway three miles north of Denison.

Rush ran in and helped carry out the furniture. He noticed a small pond 100 yards behind the house, and organized a bucket brigade which got the fire out in a jiffy.

Then Rush got into his car and drove to Dallas where he was to catch a plane for New York.

The owners of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, had no idea who the stranger was that helped save their home.

There wasn't much to the play of today's hand. West opened a heart, and East ruffed East then cashed the ace of clubs, defeating the slam contract. South easily won the rest of the tricks.

South would have fulfilled the slam contract if West had led anything but a heart. South would be
