Supreme Court Convenes Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court convenes for its 1956-57 term today faced with an exceptionally heavy backlog of cases.

The nearly 500 appeals and motions filed since last June and 60 previously accepted for review put before the court a number of questions that have far-reaching effects in the fields of civil rights, state and federal powers, labor relations and business law.

The new term will also find the court with a new member. Associate Justice Sherman Minton retired in two weeks for reasons of health and will be succeeded Oct. 15 by William Joseph Brennan Jr., who was named to the high court by President Eisenhower over the weekend.

Brennan is an associate justice of the New Jersey Supreme Court. His nomination must be passed on by the Senate when Congress reconvenes next January.

Brennan is a Democrat and, like Minton, a Catholic. His appointment leaves the court lineup of six Democrats and three Republicans unchanged.

CAB Investigating Hughes' Operation

WASHINGTON Sept. 29 (UP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board revealed Saturday it is investigating whether multimillionaire industrialist Howard R. Hughes has gained control of a second major U.S. airline "to the detriment of the public."

The board said there are indications that Hughes, who already may have acquired control of Northeast Airlines earlier through use of his corporations. The CAB said no application has been filed for approval of any interest Hughes may have acquired in Northeast.

It said in a statement that it will seek to learn if Hughes controls two airlines and if so "what further action the board should take to eliminate any common control situation... which would be detrimental to the public interest."

Hughes' financial activities through the years have ranged from movie making to tool manufacture. He long has been a figure in the field of aviation.

The CAB inquiry is the second involving Northeast launched by New England airline a New York to Florida route this summer.

The first is still underway. It is to determine if any CAB employee leaked information of the board's route award to persons involved in large stock purchases of Northeast.

Newsman To Interview
Nixon On TV

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

ENROUTE WITH NIXON (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced today that eight newsmen in various cities across the nation will interview him Thursday night on a nationally-televized program based on his current 32-state campaign trip.

The show is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. EDT Thursday on more than 150 stations. The eight newsmen, who will be cut in from their home cities to question the vice-president, will be named later. Each will come from a city Nixon has visited on his current swing.

The announcement was made by Nixon's traveling headquarters as he left at daybreak for the toughest one-day schedule of his 16-day, 15,000-mile swing that ends late Wednesday night in Washington.

Nixon's headquarters said the Thursday night telecast from Washington also will include motion pictures filmed during his current trip. A staff newsreel photographer accompanied the party for the first half of the trip and worked under the direction of Nixon's radio-TV consultants.

Nixon left his beach hotel near St. Petersburg, Fla., this morning by automobile and departed by chartered airliner from Tampa, Fla., for Grand Rapids, Mich. The day's program also called for an evening speech in Milwaukee followed by a midnight takeoff for Hartford, Conn., and a Tuesday morning rally there.

Heard Through The Barryl

By BARRY A. LITTMANN
Pampa News Sports Editor

I arose out of my usual late number on Sunday to find decidedly dark outside and without the latest news. In particular, I wanted to find out who won the National League pennant and whether or not Mickey Mantle won the triple crown. You see, by the time I got back into the land of the living on Sunday, everything is finished. The marriages are over, the golfers are playing the 19th hole and the baseball and football games are now dinner table discussion. That puts me in pretty much of a predicament since I have no idea of what happened in this world since about 4:00 a.m. Sunday. I immediately got dressed and made my way down to the office and got the news. The Dodgers had won the National League Flag and Mickey won the triple crown.

As I sit here and write, I have the uncanny feeling that I along with millions of others, have been left hanging in mid-air by the Milwaukee Braves. With the exception of the few old pros, Spahn, Aaron and a few others, the Braves have taken on the appearance of paper boys with a thousand kiloliters of lead in it. In other words, they folded and folded fast.

I remember this past summer sitting in the press box of the Polo Grounds in New York where the wise old pros were saying that the Braves would fold before it was all through. It's true, they never could win that clutch game that would have further solidified their position atop of the NL heap, but they were still league leaders until the next-to-last day, which is more than I can say for the New York Giants.

You can't blame the defeat on anyone in the Brave organization. People are going to take pot-shots at Fred Haney now for blowing the lead and the flag. You can't knock the front office; they gave Milwaukee fans a permanent contending ball club right down to the last out of the season. You can't knock anyone!!! All you can do is reach right out and pat the old pro Brooklyn Dodgers right on their backs for hanging in there until the bitter end — which wasn't so bitter for them after all. What the Dodgers ought to do, each and every one of them, is to give Sal Maglie 25 per cent of their world series check, because without the Barber, they'd be packing their bags for the Orient now. However, our Asian friends will now have to wait a week or so before the Burns can get into the land of Shinto shrines for a few weeks of exhibition ball.

For the rest, it's all over. The Milwaukee go home to sweat out another winter and get ready for the annual hassle over contracts.

Wearily but determined after their spine-tingling, final-day triumph in one of the most nerve-racking pennant races of all time, the battling Brooks found themselves in a familiar position. The oddsmakers are saying they can't do it and have installed the Yankees as 7.5 "man-to-man" choice to win their sixth world championship in seven tries under Casey Stengel.

The odds-makers also listed the Yankees as 6-5 favorites to win the opening game at Ebbets Field Wednesday on the assumption that 15-game winner Whitey Ford will pitch for them against Sal Maglie, the Dodgers' 39-year-old no-hit comeback veteran.

Laugh At Odds
But the Dodgers grew accustomed to laughing at the odds during their season-long, uphill battle with the Milwaukee Braves. They're certain they can break the senior circuit's long-standing jinxes. For, not since 1907-08-09 has the National League won three straight World Series and not since 1921-22 have the Yankees dropped two straight classics.

The Redlegs go home and try and find pitching to augment their many sluggers and on the Banks of the Gowanus, Brooklyn fans get ready to give battle with their hated inter-boro rivals from the Bronx, "d' Yanks." Yes, I know, the Dodgers won last year, but don't bet on it happening twice in a row. Remember, before you select Brooklyn to win again, that last year's Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer, two men with whom the Yankees could not do without, saw very little service in the series last year. This year, with a well Bauer and a Mantle who became the fourth man in the history of baseball to win the triple-crown, that is homers, runs batted-in and batting average, don't look for the series to go more than five games, maybe even four. The winnah and once again champion, the Yankees of course.

Although Brooklyn has been known to murder left handers all over the league, from Spahn on down, it's a known fact that Casey Stengel is going to open with his ace lefty, Whitey Ford. This guy can pitch to spots, and keep the ball low which is so important in Ebbets Field with its narrow, small confines. Brooklyn would like to go with Sal Maglie, but if Walter Alton uses him, it will be at his own risk. Maglie, no youngster, can stand more than three days rest, especially after pitching three complete games in thirteen days as he did to close the season, and incidentally, win the flag for the Brooks. If Sal isn't ready, watch and see if his right hander, Don Newcombe gets the starting nod. No one else on the staff has pitched well enough to be trusted with this important role.

INCIDENTALLY AND BY THE WAY - Jolie Wilhelm, that swell guy who devotes so much time to the Optimist Club's boxing program, tells us that his son Bobby is back at Wisconsin U. after spending a year at Oklahoma. He was a water-wrestling boxer for Wisconsin's fine team, and transferred back there after Oklahoma dropped their boxing team. Should make the skaud easily this year. Noticed a whole bunch of Pampa area boys on the West Texas State football roster. It includes Ed Cummings, a freshman tackle from Perryville, Jack McCabe, a freshman tackle from White Deer; Ron Ald Mills, a varsity halfback who is also from White Deer and a junior; and Johnny Ramp, a freshman tackle from Canadian. We hear that the Groom Tigers are planning a gala homecoming on October 12. All alumni will be invited back to the high school for some reminiscing and after the football queen is crowned, the Tigers will play Darrouset, a conference rival.

Incidentally, I don't know if you saw the article in the Pampa News about the Yankees and the Dodgers. It was a pretty good one.

Pampa Works On Offense

Still smarting from the 27-0 defeat handed them by the Midland Bulldogs last Friday night, the Pampa Harvesters are going to be hard at work this week restoring their lost confidence in preparation for the Wichita Falls game this week. In addition Coach Jack Lockett and his assistants are going to devote much time this week to work on the offense, a thing that the Harvesters sorely lacked last Friday against the Bulldogs.

One of the main reasons that the Harvesters found things so difficult was because of a different type of block that was used by the Bulldogs. Most split-T teams use the "pressure-type block" where they block on a man's head and move him out of the play, either to the left or the right depending, of course, upon the play. The Bulldogs used the side-body block, just falling in front of the man and piling him up. Bill Kivela and Don Jones, the two fine tackles for the Harvesters, found things disagreeable all night on account of this type of blocking.

Another reason the Harvesters didn't do quite as well as expected was Mr. Larry Cooper, the fine left-handed quarterback for the Bulldogs, who ran and passed with amazing dexterity for a high school lad. On one play Cooper was being chased and had no one to throw the ball to. Instead of grounding it, which would have brought about a penalty, he threw the ball through the end zone. The line of scrimmage was the 45 and the pass must have carried 60 yards in the air. Besides passing with accuracy, he ran beautifully, faking well and doing a heads up job all the time. So much so, that Coach Lockett when questioned, rated him as "probably the best all-around quarterback in the area and definitely college material. His best move was the roll-out, either to the left or right, and either passing on the play, or faking a pass and punning."

Actually, the Bulldogs weren't what one would call a fast team. They used the inside belly series gram, tells us that his son Bobby is back at Wisconsin U. after spending a year at Oklahoma. He was a water-wrestling boxer for Wisconsin's fine team, and transferred back there after Oklahoma dropped their boxing team. Should make the skaud easily this year.

After reviewing the film and rating the ball players, as is usually done by Lockett and his staff after every game, it was decided to put the top 11 men at each position on the first team this afternoon and have a prolonged scrimmage to find out just what didn't make the Harvesters click Friday night, after looking so sharp the first two games. Films will be taken of the scrimmage and graded in a further effort to determine the men for the Harvesters.

It is hoped by heavy contact this week, the Harvesters will have their confidence restored so that they can give a good account of themselves against Wichita Falls Friday night.

Three games - San Angelo at Lufkin, Snyder at Levelland and Kilgore at Paris - headline the Class AAAA-AAA sections of the Texas schoolboy football picture this week.

San Angelo, ranked No. 2 behind powerful Abilene in the AAAA division, will be faced with a marauding band of Lufkin Panthers that got a big bite of upset this last week when they knocked the stuffings out of AAA's No. 1 club, Fort Neches, 41-7.

Snyder, already pushing Fort Neches for the AAA No. 1 rating and now the heir-apparent to the choice spot, will face what looms as the Tigers' toughest opposition yet in Levelland, which holds down the sixth spot in the United Press schoolboy football coaches board ratings.

Majors Have Big Year; Slug Most Homers Ever

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
The 1956 season went into the record book today as the greatest homer-hitting campaign in major league history.

No fewer than 1,293 homers were walloped as five teams established club-season home run marks and a sixth equalled its previous high. The American League established a new high of 1,074 homers while the National League's total of 1,219 fell just short of 1,263.

The Cincinnati Redlegs staged the greatest offensive team effort, clouting 221 home runs to equal the 1947 New York Giants' major league record while Mickey Mantle of the American League champion New York Yankees was the season's individual-offense hero. Mantle became only the fourth player in modern history to win the "triple batting crown" when he led the American League with a .333 average, 52 homers and 130 runs batted in.

Sharing individual honors with Mantle was Hank Aaron, the Milwaukee Braves' 22-year-old outfielder, who won his first National League batting title with a .328 average that beat out Pittsburgh's Bill Virdon by nine points.

The Redlegs failed to connect for the homer which would have set a new team record Sunday when he led the American League with a .333 average, 52 homers and 130 runs batted in. TCU-Arkansas TV'er Top SWC Football Game

By ED FITTE
United Press Sports Writer
Rested and eager Texas Christian University opens its Southwest Conference title defense at home Saturday before a national television audience against an underdog Arkansas Razorback team riding the momentum of two straight warm-up victories.

The champion Horned Frogs, ranked fourth in the nation after their 23-0 breeze past a good Kansas team two weeks ago, will be a strong favorite to get away to a flying start in question of a second straight title—a feat seldom accomplished in the 41 previous seasons.

The TCU-Arkansas clash, which will get under way a half hour later than usual in order not to conflict with the World Series, is the only conference clash on the schedule, which has the other five rivals going against outside foes.

Southern Methodist, still the "surprise team" of the circuit despite its 9-7 setback to Georgia Tech last week, travels to Columbia, Mo., against the twice-beaten but dangerous Missouri Tigers; Baylor goes after once-mighty Maryland's scalp at College Park, Md.; Texas hosts West Virginia's potent Mountaineers at Austin; Rice entertains stubborn Louisiana State at Houston, and Texas A&M meets Texas Tech in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas as a State Fair of Texas opening attraction.

Coach Abe Martin will field virtually the same outfit that blanketed Arkansas 26-0 a year ago in the Frogs' first step to the crown, but Arkansas will be without the services of two of its finest backs, quarterback George Walker and halfback Don Horton—both now lost apparently for the season with injuries.

SMU Favored
SMU, which has blossomed into a potential title threat after knocking Notre Dame and being squeaked out by Georgia Tech, will have the paper edge over a Missouri team that has fallen on successive Saturdays to Oregon State and Purdue and one which hasn't beaten an SMU team since 1948.

Baylor, looking progressively stronger in 7-6 and 27-0 victories over California and Texas Tech, will have its work cut out for it against a Maryland team that, like Arkansas, has had to operate without its two mainstays—a quarterback and a top ground balm halfback, in losing to Syracuse and edging Wake Forest.

Texas, which has looked anything but impressive in being mauled by Southern California and barely getting by Tulane 7-6 last Saturday, will have to change character if it hopes to whip a West Virginia team that pushed Pittsburgh all over the field only to lose by an extra point, then splattered Richmond 60-6 last week.

Rice, idle last week along with TCU after tripping Alabama in its opener, with need all the resources at its command to outscore a battling LSU team that held Texas A&M 9-6 last Saturday night, while the Aggies themselves should have a comparatively easy time of it against Texas Tech.

Experts' Wounds Healing; Favorites Return To Form

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
The football "experts" who were so badly battered in the first week of the college season are some-what revived now and able to take nourishment, thanks to old reliable Oklahoma and some strong teams from the Big Ten.

National champion Oklahoma, the nation's top-ranked team, set the pace for a return to the form sheet during the past weekend with its 31st straight victory, 36-0 over North Carolina. In fact, the only two high-ranked teams to lose—seventh-ranked Southern Methodist and 10th-ranked Syracuse—bowed to higher-ranked squads.

This was a welcome change for the experts from last week, when upsets dealt to Notre Dame, Maryland, and a number of others rid- dled the "forecasts" like swiss cheese.

Mantle Wins Triple

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—For Mickey Mantle, fourth man in baseball history to win the major league triple crown, the final day of the season was the toughest one of the year.

"Boy, am I glad that's over," Mantle's sigh of relief exploded as he heard the news that Detroit's Al Kaline had fallen two short of tying him for the runs-batted-in championship. "I really wanted that triple crown."

And in the end, the furrows of worry fading from his brow, he got it — to join Rogers Hornsby, Lou Gehrig and Ted Williams as the only men to lead the majors in batting, home runs and RBIs.

Mickey had two of those titles all wrapped up Sunday as the season ended. His 52 home runs and his .333 batting average were unassailable by anybody in the majors.

But, with Kaline only three RBIs away as the final game got underway, that third championship was several worrisome hours in coming.

Mickey, benched to nurse an aggravated groin muscle so that he will be fit for Wednesday's start of the World Series, wasn't able to help himself much. However, in the ninth inning, going up as a pinch hitter, he knocked in one run to boost his total to 130.

But out in Cleveland, Kaline was making a desperate bid. And Mantle's frown deepened when word was relayed to the Yankee dressing room that Kaline had batted home two runs in the sixth inning of that game to close the gap to two.

"I sure would like to have that triple crown," Mantle said over and over, pacing the room.

"Ya still got two so quit worryin'," barked Yogi Berra, sitting in front of his locker ala natural. "Y'll win it."

Yogi, as it developed, turned out to be quite a prophet. And when the Detroit-Cleveland game ended without Kaline yetting any more runs batted in, Mickey's smile took in the whole room.

"I guess that the most satisfying one of the three is winning the batting championship," he said, shrugging a brown sport coat over a checkered sport shirt. "That tickles me even more than the home run championship or getting the most RBIs."

The Yankee pitchers, Mickey allowed, deserved "a big assist" in his being able to beat out Ted Williams.

Statistics showed that Williams, who finished eight points back of Mantle with 345, hit only 198 against Yankee pitching this season with 11 hits for 56 times at bat. And in games at Yankee Stadium, the Boston crashed hit by .120 with three for 25.

Heavies Go At Sportsman's

In what shapes up as another attractive wrestling card, tonight at 8, three big bouts will take place in the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club.

The Shriner, promoters of the weekly events, have booked six big heavyweights in the three matches. In the first event, the demon doctor from Houston, Dizzy D-v-i-s, matches his muscles with the veteran Hans Schnable. He is known around these parts as the amiable burgermeister from Milwaukee.

In the semi-final event, two of the biggest men around Texas will trade hammerlocks and back breakers. Big Bob Orton, a mere brood of a boy at 6-4, 240 pounds, and John Tollas, a very good wrestler with probably the biggest feet in Texas, he wears a size 14 John, a California product, also doubles as a referee and does a good job at that too.

The final will have Louis (Shoulders) Newman, another lightweight at 245 pounds against Dory Funk. Dory, a rough and tough customer is the star of his own television show on wrestling and has always been a crowd pleaser in this area.

Tickets are on sale at Modern Pharmacy. General admission is 90 cents, reserve bleachers $1.25, ringside $1.50 and children, as always are admitted for 25 cents.

NEW YORK (UP)—The New York Giants completed their big summer deal with the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday when they obtained pitcher Gordon Jones from the Redbirds. Jones, a right-hander, pitched for Omaha in the American Association this year, compiling a 13-8 record.

NEW YORK (UP)—Tommy Heinsohn, who scored 1,789 points in three seasons for Holy Cross, has agreed to play for the College All Stars in their annual basketball game with the New York Knickerbockers Oct. 20.

St. Green of Duquesne, Joe Hol-up of George Washington and Bill Thibben of Hofstra already were named to the all-star team.

Pittsburgh, which has scored 14 points in each of two games and won both, may have to step up its scoring to handle California. Syracuse licks its wounds this week before meeting West Virginia next week.

Amoros: From Bum To Hero

BROOKLYN (UP)—Pride and a big Havana cigar stuck out today all over happy Sandy Amoros, the smiling little Cuban who completely vindicated himself after nearly blowing the pennant for Brooklyn.

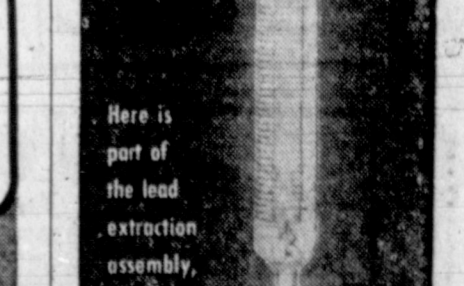

"Lucky, lucky," he kept chanting over and over again in the noisy, triumphant Dodger clubhouse Sunday. "I just have good day...lucky for me, that's all."

But his Brooklyn teammates who watched him smash two towering home runs in the 8-6 pennant-clincher over Pittsburgh "couldn't buy that."

"Lucky my eye," snorted Jackie Robinson. "Those homers of Sandy's were really hit and as it turned out, they were the ones that won the game for us."

Don Newcombe, the winning pitcher, and catcher Roy Campanella also joined in the bouquets for Sandy and their words of praise were particularly sweet for the sawed-off Dodger outfielder since they were the ones who criticized him most in his dark hour against the Phillies last Wednesday.

Elvis Buys 5 'G' Burger

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 29 (UP)—A brunette who collected $5,000 from Elvis Presley instead of swooning after he sat down at her table said Saturday he wolfed her hamburger and didn't even pay for it.

Robbie Moore, 20, confirmed an out of court settlement of her threatened suit against the rocking and rolling singer for "invasion of privacy." She said Presley was a "total stranger" when he sat down beside her, put his head on her shoulder and ate her sandwich while flashbulbs popped.

Tribesmen of New Guinea value the flesh of the python as food and the snake's skin as material for drumheads.

episode, with Presley's hoe-down hair-do, resting on Miss Moore's shoulder provided the evidence in her suit. A Presley rave magazine carried it.
Miss Moore, a traffic department employee of the telephone company, was getting the first reaction Saturday from others of her sex who were shocked by her treatment of their juke box hero. One woman called a dozen times to the effect that "I think that is the dirtiest, loudest trick," etc. Another caller, obviously a teenager, said "how can you take money from someone as great as Elvis?"
Miss Moore replied that she did not think Elvis was so great.

"Now how did she know we went to the candy store?"

The name Apache is said to be Zuni for "enemy." It was given those Indians by Onate, Spanish colonizer, in the 16th century.

COMMEMORATIVE — Featuring his signature on a background music score, stamp, above, commemorates 10th anniversary of the death of the opera composer Paul Lincke, best remembered for his "Glow-worm" music. Imprinted in red, it's a German federal post office issue.

REDS STRIKE SOUR NOTE — Prized item for philatelists is the stamp shown, above, issued and hurriedly withdrawn by East German post office. Commemorating the 100th anniversary of death of German composer Robert Schumann, hand-executed manuscript in background is reproduction of a work of Franz Schubert. Stamp is appropriately imprinted in red.

HEADS GOP WOMEN—Mrs. Peter Gibson, of Monroe, Mich., is the new president of the National Federation of Republican Women. She was chosen during the recent 9th biennial convention of the organization in Chicago.

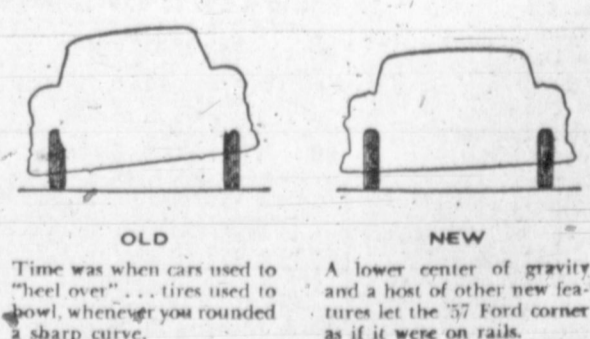

IT'S THE '57 INNER FORD IN ACTION

Special stretches of tortuous, twisting roads were set aside for testing the 1957 "Inner Ford." The result: A car that hugs a tough road... loves a tight curve.

You're seeing why the '57 FORD will take the curve without the pitch

You'll get lots of wonderfully new sensations when you drive the sensationally new Ford!
For instance, what happened to the sway on curves you used to feel in cars?
In this new Ford, there's hardly any "tik" even on tightest turns! Your slightest wish is an instantly obeyed command.
The proved-in-action "Inner Ford" is why!
A new frame that sweeps out between the wheels dips down for a lower center of gravity. New rear springs, mounted outside the frame, give wide-stance steadiness. New steering is a built-in "road sense" for handling that's truly true!

And the way this new Ford takes the bumps! Rough roads are millpond smooth. The new "Inner Ford" has logged thousands of tortuous miles to prove it.
Visit your Ford Dealer Wednesday and see how big, beautiful and powerful a low-priced car can be. Learn how much fun it is to drive a car with all the zip you can ever use... that handles like a polo pony. It's a thrill you won't soon forget!

Time was when cars used to "heel over"... tires used to "javel" whenever you rounded a sharp curve.
A lower center of gravity and a host of other new features let the '57 Ford corner as if it were on rails.

Your tomorrow starts with a New Kind of Ford—see it Oct. 3rd.
