Policemen Are Going To School

Members of the local police department are attending a special school in criminal investigation.

Two classes have been completed with another one scheduled at 4 p.m. today.

The first class undertook the study of case preparation and was taught by J. W. Blackwell, captain in charge of the Amarillo office of the Texas Highway Patrol. This class was held Monday at the police department.

The second class, which was conducted by the Bureau of Identification and Records at Austin, studied scientific aid in investigation.

Lewis E. Berry, public information officer of the Texas Department of Public Safety, was to talk on public relations at the class this afternoon.

No Report By Phillips On Projects

No report has been received by the Gray County Commissioners from the Phillips Petroleum Company on the findings of their engineers in the joint survey recently completed among the county, state, and company engineers to see whether certain changes can be made in the routing of the roads where they come near the Phillips' plant, for safety purposes.

The county and state engineers, reported that they had gone over the survey with the Phillips company engineers on what could be done in the way of adjustments around the plants for safety's sake, and had made recommendations to the Phillips Petroleum Company how far back they felt they could move the road in order to avoid the danger of explosion from cigarettes being thrown out of cars or anything similar, should the road be built too close to the plants.

Should no word be received from the Phillips Petroleum company prior to the commencement of activities on the contracts recently accepted last week for the road and bridge construction to be undertaken within the county, the commissioners have stated that the building will go on, but that the part of the roads that would have run by or to the Phillips plants will be left out.

United Fund Gifts Total $26,097

After suffering a "little election day let-down," the Pampa-Lefors United Fund campaign got back on its feet today, Clinton Evans, drive chairman, reported.

Evans said a total of $26,097 in contributions has been turned in by UF workers.

He said that the first report from Lefors came in this morning and that the results are surprisingly good. The goal at Lefors this year is $500. J. R. Sparkman, chairman of the drive in that town, turned in $342 this morning. Last year the total amount contributed by Lefors citizens was $190.

Evans said the Lefors showing was "wonderful" and he praised the efforts being made in that town.

Evans added that the contributions from Calnes had not come in yet but that reports from the plant indicate that the contributions are running "well over last year."

All in all, Evans said, it "looks very encouraging."

New Patrolman Is Hired Here

Bowers, who is 25, is married and has one child. He was recently discharged from the Air Force after serving four years.

2 More Elections Facing Texans

By UNITED PRESS

Texas voters, after voting for a Republican president and a Democratic governor, today faced two more elections — one for a special amendment and another to elect a U.S. senator.

The voting on the amendment is next Tuesday. But when the election will be held to replace Governor-elect Price Daniel in the Senate is a top political question.

The state legislature had recommended nine constitutional amendments for approval by the people, but a legislative date error kept one off the ballot. As a result, a special election will be held Tuesday, at a cost of about $200,000, for voting on an amendment that would set in motion a welfare program for giving persons totally and permanently disabled a physical or mental handicap up to $20 a month.

Other Amendments Pass

All the other amendments, the eight voted on last Tuesday, received overwhelming approval.

Texas voters also gave President Eisenhower a thumping endorsement for the second time, making him the first Republican to win the state twice. But Daniel was the champion vote-getter.

The latest Texas Election Bureau figures from all 254 counties, 136 of them complete, gave Mr. Eisenhower 975,368 or 55.35 per cent of the vote, to Stevenson's 775,881, or 44.03 per cent. T. Coleman Andrews, Constitution party candidate, had 10,907 votes.

Daniel garnered 1,175,372 votes against only 238,597 for Republican hopeful William Bryant and Lee O'Daniel, former senator and governor.

The TEB, after releasing those figures late Wednesday, said no more reports would be made until sometime Saturday. The total vote counted was 1,762,156 out of between 1.8 and 1.9 million cast.

Texas Democratic leaders attributed the President's victory in the state to his tremendous popularity. House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who was to fly to Washington today to take part in an urgent White House-called conference on the Middle East situation, said the fact that the Democrats kept control of Congress proved to him that "the people just don't like the Republican party."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson said the war crisis in the Middle East caused many people to vote for Eisenhower to show this country is still united.

Hungarians Renew Fight In Budapest

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

VIENNA (UP)—Diehard Hungarian patriots have renewed their fight against the Soviets in Budapest and opened a "third front" near the Yugoslav border, radio reports from Hungary said today.

"Faint signals from a radio transmitter inside the ruined Hungarian capital served notice the Soviet spirit had not been daunted by Rebel firepower.

"The freedom fighters are becoming tired, yet enthusiasm is even greater than before," the broadcast said. "Please help us save our country."

It added they had food left for less than a week.

Expect Purge

The broadcast followed other rebel reports the Soviets were expected to purge the new puppet Premier Janos Kadar for his failure to command the support of the Hungarian people.

The broadcast said the Russians had dropped his name from the Soviet-controlled broadcasts and newspapers in Budapest and that chances were that he would be "liquidated" for his failures.

Refugees who poured across the border into Yugoslavia disclosed the freedom fighters had retreated into thick swampland along the frontier to open yet another "front" against the Russian troops and tanks.

A freedom radio report said fighting rages in the eighth district of Budapest and the Pestszel, Koebanya, Ujpest and Kelenfold districts.

The broadcast said as long as the civilian population can buy food in the stores the insurgents will have enough to eat, but "unfortunately this will run out within a week."

Strategists Are Seeking Clues In Election

By WARREN DUFFEE

WASHINGTON (UP)—Political strategists combed election returns today for clues to how the Democrats won majorities in Congress while President Eisenhower was defeating their presidential ticket so overwhelmingly.

But they could not agree on any discernible trends. Republicans made congressional inroads in some long-established Democratic strongholds, and Democrats ousted some staunch Republicans in normally GOP territory.

Democrats were assured of House control, even though a handful of seats still were in doubt. Final control of the Senate, while apparently Democratic, rested on the outcome of the hairline race in Kentucky between Senate Democratic Whip Earle C. Clements and Republican Thurston B. Morton and also on whether independent-minded Democrat Frank J. Lausche of Ohio votes with his nominal party to organize the Senate.

Duff Defeated

Texas Company Workers Honored

Twenty-eight Texas Company employees and their wives were honored at a banquet held last night at Poole's Steak House. The affair was held in recognition of the fact that the employees of Texaco's West Pampa area had worked in excess of 450,000 man-hours without sustaining a serious industrial injury.

S. R. Lenning, superintendent of the Texas Company's Panhandle district, presented an appropriate trophy to C. O. Fitzgerald, production foreman, who received it in behalf of the entire group.

E. E. Callaway, division supervisor of the industrial relations department of the company's Fort Worth office, acted as master of ceremonies.

Other personnel who participated, and who are officers in the safety department are: T. A. Cook, chairman, G. R. Ibsen, secretary, and L. E. Jordan, first aid instructor.

Demo Senate Control Is Jeopardized

By RAYMOND LAHR

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—A photo-finish race in Kentucky and the undisclosed intentions of an Ohio Democrat who frequently doesn't stick with his party today jeopardized Democratic command of the Senate.

In Kentucky Republican Thurston B. Morton, surged out in front of Democratic Sen. Earle C. Clements by more than 3,000 votes with 3,656 of the state's 4,082 precincts counted.

The race was so close that it was a fair guess that whoever loses will ask for a recount.

Should Clements lose, the Democrats would be assured of only a 49 to 47 edge in Senate seats.

In that event, the deciding vote on control of the Senate could rest in the hands of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, senator-elect from Ohio. Lausche hinted before the elections he might vote for a GOP-controlled Senate in the event President Eisenhower was returned to the White House.

If Lausche voted with the Republicans, Vice President Richard M. Nixon could then vote to break the resulting 48-48 tie and give Republicans control of the Senate.

Lausche's secretary said at Columbus, Ohio, that the governor would "clarify his political position in the Senate" "within a few days."

There was no doubt the Democrats would be in command of the House when the new Congress meets in January. They had elected 231 members and led in three undecided races for an indicated total of 234, 15 over a majority. They hold 231 seats in the expiring Congress.

The Republicans had elected 198 members and led in three undecided races for an indicated total of 201.

Never before has a president been elected by a landslide majority as Mr. Eisenhower was this week and failed to carry his party with him into control of both houses of Congress.

In 1848, 1876 and 1884 when the president's party lost one or both houses of Congress, the man elected actually polled less than a majority of the popular vote.

Late returns continued to swell the majority by which Mr. Eisenhower won his second term.

The latest United Press count in the presidential vote gave Mr. Eisenhower 33,345,653 and Adlai E. Stevenson, the defeated Democratic candidate, 24,441,368. About 6 per cent of the precincts in the nation were still untallied.

Appeals To Egypt

The President, who must work with Democratic majorities in Congress for the next two years, was anxious to show the world that both parties had put the divisions of the election campaign behind and were striving for common foreign policy goals.

Mr. Eisenhower also took another step Wednesday toward trying to restore peace in the Middle East. He sent an urgent appeal to Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion asking that Israeli troops be pulled out of Egypt in compliance with the United Nations resolution calling for withdrawal of all foreign forces and their replacement by a U.N. "police" army.

Israel's threat to hold onto its Sinai Peninsula gains in Egypt looms as a major stumbling block to U.N. efforts to re-establish the status quo in the Middle East.

Fear Delay

The United States fears that any major delay in getting the U.N. contingent into Egypt would be seized on by Russia as an excuse to intervene in the area.

In addition to the message to Ben-Gurion, the White House said there has been a continuing exchange of views between the President and Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru on the Middle East situation. A spokesman declined to specify the nature of the exchange.

Britain, France May Ignore Pull Out Call By U. N.

By DANIEL F. GILMORE

United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)—Israel defied the United Nations and a personal appeal from President Eisenhower today and began digging permanent fortification 10 miles east of the Suez Canal — some 120 miles beyond its old borders.

There also were strong indications that Great Britain and France would ignore the U.N. call to withdraw all their forces from Egyptian territory, at least until a U.N. international police force actually arrives on the scene.

Scattered fighting still was reported in Port Said a full day after a cease fire was ordered there. But dispatches from the city indicated the fire came from a handful of Egyptian snipers and Anglo-French troops sent to wipe out the snipers nests.

Report Minor Clash

An Anglo-French communique today said "an Egyptian patrol broke the cease fire Wednesday in a sharp clash with a British tank force in the canal zone. Two Egyptians were killed and one British soldier was wounded, the communique said.

The Allied report said the patrol penetrated north past forward British patrols which did not fire. But the Egyptians opened fire on a tank unit and the tanks returned the fire, the communique said. Two Egyptians were killed, another was wounded and captured and the remainder fled.

An Amman, Jordan, dispatch said UN truce supervisor Gen. E.L.M. Burns flew to Cairo this morning to plan for arrival of the UN police force. A Cairo report said the international police force would not be allowed to operate until Anglo-French troops withdraw.

The situation remained tense throughout the Middle East and diplomats feared that war could flame anew at any time. Diplomats were disturbed at Soviet insistence on sending troops to the Middle East and at reports of Iraqi and Syrian troop movements into Jordan.

Possible Showdown Looms

There were unconfirmed reports Saudi Arabia also was moving troops into Jordan in preparation for a possible showdown with Israel, and unconfirmed rumors in Damascus that Soviet troops were massing on Iranian frontiers to the northeast.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold warned Israel Wednesday he would ask for United Nations action unless it withdraws its forces. Israel has declared the Egyptian-Israeli armistice dead and said it would allow no foreign troops to enter the territory it now occupies.

President Eisenhower also sent a personal appeal to Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion asking him to comply with the U.N. resolution of Sunday calling for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory.

There was no official comment on the Eisenhower message, but highly placed officials asked how the United States would have liked it at the end of World War II if it had been requested to (See ISRAELIS, Page 2)

Uniting Nation Ike's Purpose

By MERRIMAN SMITH

United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower, backed by a landslide vote of confidence from Tuesday's election, turned his full attention today to uniting the nation for peace efforts in the Middle East and Eastern Europe.

He called the top-level National Security Council into session today to review the international crisis. He also set about repairing alliances both at home and abroad.

To restore bipartisan unity on the home front, Mr. Eisenhower invited Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to a White House conference Friday on the foreign situation.

Hotel Project Talked In Rotary Club

The community hotel project was the topic of the program of the Rotary Club at its noon luncheon meeting yesterday in the Palm Room.

George Scott was in charge of the program and introduced Ed Myatt, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, who discussed the history of the effort by Pampans throughout the years to obtain a modern hotel for Pampa. Myatt told the Rotarians that the history of the work dated back several years and that much work and thought had gone into the project before the current campaign began.

He explained that all discussions and surveys pointed to the need of a modern hotel for Pampa and that the conclusion of the men working throughout the years was that only way to acquire adequate hotel facilities was to build it as a community project.

Following his explanation of the needs for the hotel, Myatt introduced Philo C. Dix, a representative of the Hockensbury System who is acting as campaign manager. Dix told the group of the method of operation of the campaign and outlined the work necessary before the actual sales campaign begins.

He told of the formation of the executive committee composed of businessmen and women of the community who are interested in the hotel.

He summed up his talk by saying that it is a community owned hotel for Pampa by Dec. 1 or it will be a long time before the people of Pampa can successfully build a hotel.

Suit Is Filed Here

A suit for $10,025 was filed in 31st District Court yesterday afternoon by R. G. Chick against the Traders and General Insurance Company.

The suit was filed as a result of injuries sustained by Chick while in the course of his duties as an employee of Tom L. Enright.

Chick claims that while he was dressing tools on a cable tool rig, he was putting a bull chain on the drilling drum when the chain fell through the rig hitting him on the inside of the left knee. This caused injury to the patella and a torn cartilage, which he claims has given him constant pain ever since.

The suit calls for $25 per week for 401 weeks or the total sum of $10,025.

No date has been set for a hearing yet.

Democratic former Rep. John A. Carroll.

However, the Republicans made serious senatorial inroads in Kentucky, where Clements was driven to the wall in one battle and Democratic former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby lost in the other to former Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky).

All told, the Democrats picked up Republican-held Senate seats in Idaho, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Colorado while the GOP took seats away from the Democrats in Kentucky, New York and West Virginia.

The House returns presented an even more remarkable checkered board.

Upset in Michigan
The Republicans knocked off two Democratic congressmen in normally Democratic Jersey City. They picked up the only Democratic seat in Connecticut. And in Michigan, they upset Rep. Don Hayworth (D-Mich), who represents the heavily unionized area around Flint, a Democratic-CIO stronghold.

The GOP also annexed a normally Democratic seat in West Virginia and unseated Democratic Rep. James C. Murray in Illinois.

But the Democrats invaded the GOP Ozark stronghold of southeast Missouri to unhorse the veteran Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo). Short was beaten by Democrat Charles H. Brown.

Defeat Lovre
Democrats also defeated veteran Rep. Harold O. Lovre in staunchly Republican South Dakota and Rep. James I. Dooliver in Iowa.

The Democrats also annexed the Fifth District congressional seat in Kansas.

The Democrats earlier had won one House seat in Maine. But they topped that Tuesday by defeating two Republican representatives, Sam Coon and Harris Ellsworth, in once solidly Republican Oregon. In the shambles, Oregon Republicans found themselves left with only one of the state's four congressional seats while the Democrats held the other three, plus both Senate seats and the governorship.

Besides Duff and Thornton, two other senatorial candidates, whom Mr. Eisenhower urged to run and went out of his way to help, both lost. They were former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay in Oregon and Washington Gov. Arthur B. Langlie.

UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The Soviet Union and its gun-supported puppet regime in Hungary today demanded that the United Nations stay out of Hungary but the General Assembly began debate on the problem of getting a U.N. mission into the revolt torn satellite.

Twenty three nations were on the list of speakers on the Hungarian situation before the emergency General Assembly session opened today. More were certain to be added before the debate was through.

The assembly adopted early Sunday by a vote of 50-8 a resolution condemning the Soviet Union for sending troops to crush a rebellion of Hungarian citizens. The resolution called on Russia and Hungary to permit U.N. observers to investigate the situation.

Wednesday night, however, Janos Kadar, the new Soviet-backed Hungarian premier, and Imre Horvath, his foreign minister, cabled U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to keep the world parliament out of Hungary.

Kadar and Horvath repudiated pleas for U.N. action sent by Imre Nagy who held the premiership of Hungary briefly last week.

The Soviet Union already had served notice it regarded the Hungarian question as an internal one and not one falling under U.N. jurisdiction. Russia contends her troops were legally in Hungary under the Warsaw Pact, the Communis NATO, and says they were called in by the Hungarian government to restore order.

Democrats also defeated veteran Rep. Harold O. Lovre in staunchly Republican South Dakota and Rep. James I. Dooliver in Iowa.

The Democrats also annexed the Fifth District congressional seat in Kansas.

The Democrats earlier had won one House seat in Maine. But they topped that Tuesday by defeating two Republican representatives, Sam Coon and Harris Ellsworth, in once solidly Republican Oregon. In the shambles, Oregon Republicans found themselves left with only one of the state's four congressional seats while the Democrats held the other three, plus both Senate seats and the governorship.

Besides Duff and Thornton, two other senatorial candidates, whom Mr. Eisenhower urged to run and went out of his way to help, both lost. They were former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay in Oregon and Washington Gov. Arthur B. Langlie.

Approve Police Force
Latest U.N. action came Wednesday night when the General Assembly voted 65 to 1 (Israel) to ask Britain, France and Israel to quit Egypt and Israel to pull back to the armistice line. By a vote of 65 to 0 the assembly approved completion of a police force.

Paris dispatches said Premier Guy Mollet said France "warmly approves" the U.N. plan to send police into the Mideast. He called this the best guarantee of Egyptian sovereignty against "attempts of any nation to include Egypt into its influence zone"—a reference to Russia.

British Prime Minister Anthony Eden refused Wednesday to give guarantees Britain and France would leave the Canal Zone if the U.N. asked. He also pointed out that the composition of the police force was still under discussion. A Foreign office spokesman said it "would be natural" for Anglo-French troops to be included.

Moscow dispatches said the Soviet probably would continue all-out support of Egypt and would propose sending more military and economic aid. The dispatch of Soviet "volunteers" was expected at any time.

Alger Defeats Wade
State Democrats had a lot to cheer about in the congressional field, although Bruce Alger, the only Texas Republican in Congress, was an easy victor over District Attorney Henry Wade in the fifth district (Dallas).

Four other Democratic candidates for Congress won easily. They were Lindley Beckworth, third district; Albert Thomas, eighth district; John Young, 14th district, and J. T. Rutherford, 18th district.

Daniel has announced he would resign from the U.S. Senate upon selection of a successor. He said Wednesday in a statement from his home at Liberty that the closeness of the Democratic senatorial majority made the question of his successor very important.

Daniel said that was the reason for timing his resignation to be effective Jan. 15 or such earlier date as a successor might be named.

Democrats, GOP

Divide Victories

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republicans and Democrats finished with an even number of victories today in 28 of Tuesday's 29 gubernatorial elections.

Balloting was so close in the 29th contest that absentee voter will determine the outcome.

Although each party captured 14 of the state houses, the Democrats scored a net gain of two. Their candidates ousted Republican governors in five states while Republicans upset Democratic control in only three.

Counting holdovers and Gov. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, who was re-elected in September, the Democrats are assured of control in a majority of state capitals. They went into Tuesday's election with a 27-21 edge. The new lineup will be 28 Democrats and 19 Republicans with one election—Rhode Island—still up in the air.

Absentees Held In Zapata

LAREDO, Tex. (UP) — Absentee ballots, seized while they were being counted in Zapata county, were being held by the U.S. marshal's office today as the result of charges of election law violations.

Zapata county GOP chairman John Rathmell, Adan Gutierrez, a GOP election supervisor, and Lauro Garza, a resident of Escobas, Tex., charged that the Republicans were denied an alternate judge at the absentee ballot counting and that a number of non-residents and aliens had cast absentee ballots.

Gutierrez listed 10 persons he said were not entitled to vote in Zapata county because they had moved away. He listed 23 absentee voters he said were not qualified.

Most of the 23, he said, had moved out of the county. One, he said, was a resident of Nueva Ciudad Guerrero, Mexico, and had never lived in Zapata.

U.S. District Judge Joe Ingraham issued an order in Houston Monday temporarily impounding the absentee ballots and restraining Zapata county officials from opening, removing, destroying or secreting them. A hearing on a motion to make the restraining order an injunction will be heard in U.S. District Court in Corpus Christi next Monday.

The regular votes in Zapata county also were impounded by order of 49th District Judge R. D. Wright and have been placed in a bank vault at Laredo.

The approximately 60 absentee ballots could not change the Zapata county election results, it was believed. All officials on the ballot were re-elected. Adlai Stevenson polled 461 votes to 440 for President Eisenhower.

Hearty Eating For Hearty Weather

Crisp fall football weather calls for food as hearty as the sport. But it's unfair to expect the cook to stay in the kitchen preparing a dinner while the others are enjoying themselves in the open air. So why not get a sturdy beef vegetable dish ready a day ahead, refrigerate overnight, then top it with delicious biscuits and pop it in the oven just before serving? Crisco Kitchens submits the following recipe with the suggestion you use an oblong casserole. Just for fun, top it with this highest and lightest of biscuit toppings in the shape of a football. The recipe will turn out fluffy, sure-fire biscuits every time and the decoration can be done with strips of green pepper or pimento.

Football Pie (Makes 8-10 servings)

Ingredients:
 3 pounds beef cut in 1-inch cubes
 1/2 cup flour
 2 teaspoons salt
 3/4 cup chopped onion
 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
 1/2 cup Crisco
 3 cups hot water
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 4 cups diced raw vegetables (carrots, celery, potatoes)
 2 cups sifted flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 3/4 cup milk
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/3 cup Crisco

Directions:
 Dip beef cubes in seasoned flour. In a heavy skillet, brown beef and onion in melted Crisco. When browned, add water, cover and cook over low heat for about 35 minutes. Add seasonings and vegetables. Continue cooking until vegetables are almost tender (about 20 minutes). Remove from fire, cool and refrigerate until ready to serve. Place in casserole or heavy baking dish, top with biscuits and bake in hot oven (425°F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Topping:
 Sift flour, baking powder and salt into bowl. Cut in Crisco with knives, fork or blender until the mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Remove 1 cup of this mixture to a small bowl; blend with milk to form paste (do not try to smooth). Add paste to Crisco mixture and mix just enough to hold dough together. Transfer dough to a board or pastry cloth which has been dusted with flour. Knead lightly. Roll dough to half-inch thickness. Cut in shape of a football about 6 inches long. Place on top of meat and vegetables and decorate with strips of green pepper to look like a football. Cut leftover dough with floured cookie cutter and bake on cookie sheet for extra biscuits.

Tricks With Stuffing Can Be Inside Secrets To Creating Elegant Dishes

This is the year you've promised that the holiday bird will be something to talk about from the inside out — from stuffing to roasting and serving. What's more these stuffing tricks can be inside secrets to creating almost elegant dishes with meat and fish.

Spark Thanksgiving Meal With Dessert

As traditional as turkey on Thanksgiving is mincemeat, that spicy and irresistibly aromatic fruit mixture that adds its exciting flavor to many recipes. Along with the mincemeat pie you plan to make Thanksgiving, try this Mincemeat Upside Down Cake as a second choice for those who are fond of mincemeat but prefer a lighter dessert. Simple to make, the cake needs no additional frosting. Just cut into squares and serve hot with whipped cream.

Ingredients:
 1/2 cup prepared mincemeat
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1/2 cup sifted flour
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups Pep (whole wheat flakes)
 1/4 cup shortening
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
 1-3 cup milk

Directions:
 Combine mincemeat and brown sugar; spread evenly over bottom of greased 8x9-inch pan. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Crush Pep into fine crumbs; combine with flour. Blend shortening and sugar; add egg and vanilla and beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Spread over mincemeat. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Turn upside down on serving plate while still hot; remove pan. Cut into squares and serve immediately with whipped cream, if desired. Yields 9 servings.

Cinnamon Cake Has Light, Moist Texture

Light, tender, and delicately spiced is this two-layer cinnamon cake made with lard. Well known for the flakiness and tenderness it gives to pie crust and biscuits, lard is excellent for cakes, too. Lard has high shortening power and produces cakes with fine moist textures which have a tendency to stay fresh longer than most cakes.

CINNAMON CAKE
 3 cups sifted cake flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon cinnamon
 1/2 cup lard
 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
 3 eggs
 2 cups sourd milk

Directions:
 Sift flour with soda, salt, and cinnamon. Cream lard, blend in sugar, mixing thoroughly. Add eggs and beat until mixture is fluffy. Add sifted ingredients alternately with milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Pour batter into two lightly greased 8-inch layer cake pans. Bake at 375 degrees F. 20 to 25 minutes. Cool on cake racks.

Once your poultry selection is made — turkey, chicken, duck or goose — pair it with a stuffing which best complements it. High on the list of best stuffings will be those using enriched bread cubes, either soft or toasted. Bread, always available, captivates the illusive savor of herbs, spices and fruits which give the stuffing its character.

MILWAUKEE BREAD STUFFING

Ingredients:
 1 1/2 quarts soft 1/2-inch bread cubes
 1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/2 cup chopped celery
 1/2 cup milk
 1 egg, slightly beaten

Directions:
 Toss bread cubes together with caraway seeds, salt and pepper. Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and celery. Cook over low heat until onion becomes transparent, stirring frequently. Combine beaten egg and milk. Toss lightly with toasted bread cubes. Add celery and onion with butter in which they were cooked. Use to stuff chicken, turkey or meat. Yields 1 1/2 quarts stuffing.

MINCEMEAT BREAD STUFFING

Ingredients:
 1 quart soft 1/2-inch bread cubes
 1/2 cup mincemeat
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Dash, pepper
 1/2 cup melted butter

Directions:
 Toast bread cubes until slightly crisp. Add mincemeat, salt, pepper, and melted butter. Toss lightly with two forks until well-blended. Use to stuff chicken or turkey. Yields 1 quart stuffing.

PENNSYLVANIA BREAD STUFFING

Ingredients:
 1/2 pound (1 cup, firmly packed) ground pork sausage meat
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 quarts soft 1/2-inch bread cubes
 1 pint coarsely chopped pared cooking apples
 1/2 teaspoon sage
 Dash, pepper
 1 egg, beaten
 1/2 cup milk

Directions:
 Place sausage meat, in a hot skillet. After it starts to brown, add onion and saute until tender and meat is cooked. Combine soft bread cubes, apples, pepper and sage. Add sausage - onion mixture, beaten egg and milk and mix well. Use to stuff chicken or turkey. Yields 2 quarts stuffing.

Recipe Is Given For Perfect Mayonnaise

You can make fresh mayonnaise in five minutes with a foolproof recipe demonstrated at the unique cooking seminar for food editors and expert cooks held this fall by cook-author James Beard and Cordon Bleu graduate Andre Burmann. The secret of success is using a wire whisk. Into a bowl drop one egg yolk and half a teaspoon of dry mustard. Start whisking, then slowly add half a cup of Spanish olive oil, drop by drop, no faster than one drop a second. This is easy, but it sounds hard; you don't have to whisk rapidly, but you do need to do it steadily. The aim is to get the egg yolk and mustard to absorb the oil. Once the mayonnaise forms, you can add the oil at a faster rate until you have the quantity you need. At this point, add vinegar, salt and pepper to get the desired taste and consistency. It will keep in the refrigerator for a week or more.

Features Scallops For Quickie Meal

"It can be quick but let's make it tasty." That's the lord of the manor's only compromise with the meal planning problems that beset his harassed 20th century lady. There's no reason why "quickie" meals have to be served the same way every time. A dash of reasoning here and a pinch of ingenuity there, can produce some pretty exciting variations in foods that are basic favorites. . . and in short order, too. A good example of what can be done when appetites are strong and time is short, is found in this recipe.

Wife Aids Spouse With Carving Skill

The man of almost every house stands in the spotlight when it comes time to carve a roast. Whether it's guests or just the family, all eyes are on the host. Reba Stages, home economist, suggests the hostess give a helping hand while the man in your house is executing the art of carving.

How — quite simple. Just follow these six easy tips:
 1. If a large roast is to be served, allow it to stand 20 to 30 minutes before carving. The host will find that it carves more easily.
 2. Give the carver plenty of platter room and plenty of elbow room. The platter should be large enough to accommodate slices; if not, an additional warm platter should be furnished.
 3. When garnishing the carving platter, don't be over-generous; leave space for the work to be done.
 4. Servings cool quickly so plates and platter must be heated.
 5. An inexperienced carver will appreciate a hostess who keeps the guests' attention diverted from his carving.
 6. The most important preparation for carving is proper cooking of the meat. The roast should be neither over nor underdone.

If things are tight in the budget department, now's the time to shop the stores for counter-soiled gloves in cotton or nylon. Stores are clearing stocks for Christmas merchandise.

The highest fashion in the world would look dowdy if it weren't kept spic-and-span. Regular brushing of your coats takes moments only, pays off in big dividends of smartness.

Hearty Appetizer Tray Pleases Men

The men at your party will agree the zesty appetizers have the most appeal. They like their snacks on the heartier side, such as those made with meat. Try these for your next party: pieces of liver wrapped with strips of bacon served hot with a peppery cocktail dip; maul; bawly cornucopias, made by spreading a slice of salami with chutney, rolling it into a cone, and skewering with a cocktail pick. The canned cocktail franks are handy for the party tray. Make individual sandwiches or cut the little franks in half, skewer with a pick and serve them with a spicy tomato sauce, kept hot in a chafing dish. Miniature hamburgers make a hit with men, too. Buy or make tiny hamburger buns and fill them with pan-fried hamburger patties, seasoned with chopped onion and parsley.

New High In Employment

AUSTIN (UP)—A new high of 2,917,500 in Texas employment was reached in September, the Texas Employment Commission announced Wednesday.

The rise, exclusive of farm jobs, was caused by reopening of school and the impact of farm harvesting, the TEC said.

The commission predicted steady monthly increases until the end of the year, with the largest expected in retail trade. Transportation, compressing and warehousing groups also were predicted to add more workers.

Unemployment, dropped in September to 107,500, or 3.5 out of every 1,000 persons in the labor force.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UP)—Charles A. Guy, Lubbock Avalanche Journal editor, will be the featured speaker at the annual Journalism Day program at Texas Tech Saturday, Nov. 17.

Students and teachers from 143 West Texas high schools have been invited to attend the event. The possibility of forming a press association for West Texas high schools will be discussed.

Guns Boom Abroad
But then the guns began to boom abroad. Political strategists, seeking to discover how a single man can lick a party, will look overseas for some of the answers.

Peace and prosperity was the campaign package offered by Republicans to American voters. But in the closing days of the campaign, the Middle East caught fire. The United States' two most powerful allies joined in an armed police action to regain control of the Suez Canal.

It must remain largely a matter of the politicians' belief and judgment that a "Middle East" fiasco added some millions of votes to Mr. Eisenhower's total. While the guns blazed, the Republican campaign package was substantially reassembled. It now contained: Peace, prosperity and Ike. And Ike! That made a difference. With the possibility that the United States could shortly be in another war, the voters picked up their option on Mr. Eisenhower for another term as President and commander-in-chief.

The phrase "police action" as used by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden to describe the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt startled Americans who remembered the beginnings of the bloody police action in Korea. The Israeli-Egyptian conflict had on the United States political campaign almost the impact of a raid across American borders.

Didn't Match FDR
Mr. Eisenhower might wish that his triumph had been less personal and more party. It has not matched FDR's political blitzes in which remote candidates down to the county level were swept into office on a tide of Roosevelt votes. The contest for control of the new Congress remains undecided. It is likely that the voters have elected a divided government — Democratic Congress and Republican President.

The voters have not so divided government since 1848 when Zachary Taylor, Whig, was elected President and Democrats won control of House and Senate. Republicans in 1876 and Democrats in 1884 elected a President but lost one house of Congress or the other.

And, for all of his personal triumph in yesterday's voting, Mr. Eisenhower is the first so-called lame-duck President. He is forbidden by the Constitution to take another term. This certainty that his political future lies behind him may somewhat hazard his party influence as this second term draws to a close.

Accepts Job Solemnly
But he thanked the voters and accepted the proffered job last night in good spirits, if solemnly. He was introduced to a Republican victory throng here by his running mate, Vice President Nixon. Much of the Democratic campaign was based on warnings that Mr. Eisenhower's inability to succeed himself almost automatically would project Nixon into the party leadership by 1960 and gain for him in that year the Republican presidential nomination.

That sequence of events seems likely, Adlai E. Stevenson, now a two-time loser, probably is dead politically. Sen. Estes Kefauver, the democratic vice presidential nominee, however, was projected to new and more substantial national prominence in this campaign. He will be a hard man to stop in 1960 if he goes out again for the Democratic presidential nomination, which he probably will do.

Oil Well Drillers To Save Cash

DALLAS (UP)—Texas oilwell drilling contractors will save $100,000 in workman's compensation insurance premiums this year as the result of a rate reduction, it was reported today.

Insurance consultant Joseph M. Shelton, in a letter to the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, said the State Insurance Department's decision to reduce the rate by seven cents per $100 of payroll is based on the previous two years' experience.

Angus McDonald, casualty actuary to the Texas Insurance Board, commended the drilling contractors' association for its safety program, which he said was instrumental in reducing drilling accidents in the state.

The 11th annual drilling industry safety clinic opened today in Dallas and will continue through Friday.

ETCHED BY HORROR—The strain of 25 years' imprisonment in Siberia shows on the face of Sevkil Bekture, 60-year-old Turkish professor, following his release and return to Istanbul. He obtained his freedom by writing three letters to Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev. Bekture left Turkey in 1917 to teach Turks in the Crimea, but was arrested in Tachkend, Turkistan. He was condemned by the Russians for provoking nationalism because he was teaching Turkish. His comment, after being reunited with his wife and three children: "There is nothing like freedom."

NEW MODEL CHANGE IN '57 OLDSMOBILE

Completely new styling from hooded headlamps to taillights features Oldsmobile for 1957, with the most sweeping model change in 20 years, as presented in this Super '88' Holiday coupe. "Sky-line" beading down the roof extends into the rear deck and sets off the twin-strutted rear windows with three separate glass areas. Distinguishing the new front end are the new "hi-lo" bumper, twin front fender rocket emblems and parking lights adapted from the experimental Golden Rocket. Mechanically, there is a new 277-h.p. "Rocket" engine, known as the T-400 because of its high torque through out the driving range offering livelier-than-ever performance when you need it. The new Oldsmobiles are on display at Reeves Olds, Inc., 833 W. Foster.

SUPERSONIC BOMBER—This sketch shows the Air Force's new B-58 "Hustler," America's first supersonic bomber. At Convair's Fort Worth, Tex., plant, it made its first taxi run, prelude to test flight. Designed for altitudes above 50,000 feet, the Hustler's triangular wings have a span of about 55 feet. The plane is 93 feet long and 30 feet high. It carries a crew of three—pilot, navigator-bombardier and defensive systems operator.

It will leave Friday in a flight of three Canberra jet bombers for Cairns and from that point will be carried the final 2,700 miles to Melbourne by relays of runners.

Rochester Reverses Early Season Ways

By UNITED PRESS

Believing that turnabout is fair play — and also a good idea — the Rochester Americans now are reversing their early season losing ways.

Rochester scored four times in the second period Wednesday night and then held on to defeat Springfield, 5-1, in the American Hockey League's only game. The Americans, who previously had gone seven games without a victory, now have won their last two starts to move into a tie for fifth place.

Earl Balfour scored the only goal of the first period to give Rochester a lead it never was to lose. The Americans added two more scores in the second period on goals by Bronco Horvath and Gary Collins before Bob McCard countered the only Springfield goal of the night. Gordie Hannigan and Ab McDonald also scored for Rochester.

Letters visited in the J. W. Meacham home, Monday. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Meacham went to Amarillo and came back by way of Panhandle stopping to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Murry and family.

Eye-Witness Report From Hungary, Where

A Yankee GI Fights With Hungarian Rebels

SOMEWHERE INSIDE HUNGARIAN BORDER — Freedom fighters prepare to meet the Russians. NEA Correspondent Kenneth Gilmore brought this exclusive photo out from rebel headquarters near Sopron, where it was taken by an American GI on leave from Germany who had joined the rebel forces.

By KENNETH GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent
VIENNA — (NEA) — "Hi ya, chief, how you doing?"

That incongruous greeting were the first words I heard at temporary rebel headquarters in the hills outside Sopron, Hungary.

They came from a blond American GI in a dazzling blue suit and a Texas string tie who had come from Vienna on leave from Germany and slipped across the border to join the men and women making a last stand against Russian might.

His German Volkswagen was parked on the muddy snow-covered driveway of a Communist workers rest house five miles inside the Hungarian border, where the fighters for freedom had set up an outpost.

The leader of the Sopron rebels stood by as I talked with the GI — an American with a strong Hungarian accent.

"Look," he said. "You don't believe I am an American." He handed out his military identification and his leave papers as proof.

"Can you come back with arms?" he asked me. "Can you come back to the border tonight?" He was carrying a camera, and gave me a packet of films to carry on the 40-mile trip by car and foot back to Vienna.

The last picture he had taken was of the rebel leader standing at my side with his fellow fighters armed to the teeth, but in his excitement he left the shutter closed, I discovered later.

With the American GI, I had a last talk with the slim, gray-haired rebel leader as he and his fighters prepared to go out into the bitter night and meet the Russians.

"Our only aim is to die and fall under Russian bullets," he told me. "We never give up. We fight to the last."

Why was he fighting?
"Many reasons," he said. "When the Russians came in after the war they raped my sister and strangled her. The situation is very dangerous. Go back and tell them we need help. We have a bad opinion of the Western nations. They do nothing."

I was one of the first to cross the border and witness the Sopron evacuation and my transportation had been an ancient Mercedes driven by an old man who was in touch with the rebels.

We passed thousands of refugees who were making pitifully slow tracks in the opposite direction to ward the border. As we pulled up in front of Sopron's university building the shouts of soldiers ready for battle filled the air.

Some were lined up and marching; others stood limply, resting on their guns. A teen-ager with a tommygun was smoking what seemed to be his first cigarette. From a truck, others passed out ammunition — a tiny supply.

On a building was hung a crude picture of Kossuth, the heroic leader of the 1848 Hungarian revolution. The rebels point to him and then toward the unseen Russians. They smile and grip your hand. In their eyes you see the look of men whose stomachs are in knots. But they have guts.

"We hate the Russian Communists, we do, my people and my nation," a 25-year-old furniture polisher spat out.

Everyone who has weapons fights, and out of his pocket came a pistol, and he got ready to join the rebels packed in trucks roaring out of the university courtyard.

With our grizzled, walrus-moustached driver we followed the trucks over the hills for three miles to the outpost and our meeting with the Sopron rebel leader.

As we talked, gunfire began to rumble in the distance. Our driver was impatient to return.

We shook hands with the leader. "Please keep my name secret," he said as we left. "My parents are in Communist hands."

The American soldier with the string tie handed us a note as we left. He did not appear to be a man in a hurry to get out but he had scribbled in Hungarian to one of the rebels on the frontier.

"Today in the afternoon I return," it said.

He took my name and promised to look me up in Vienna. I have not seen him yet, but I hope to shake his hand again.

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UP)—The election made Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Estes Kefauver the most likely heirs in their respective parties to the 1960 presidential nomination.

Angry stop-Nixon and stop-Kefauver campaigns are just around the corner. They are loaded with political trouble for both major parties. Kefauver has been stopped before this. He came to the 1952 Democratic National Convention with solid delegate backing won in a spectacular blitz of important presidential primaries.

Kefauver led the field on the first two 1952 nominating ballots. He was stopped, finally, by a combination of big city Democratic machines, organized labor, conservative Southerners. The successful effort to cut Kefauver down to size was sparked by Harry S. Truman, then president of the United States. Mr. Truman was out front again this year in preventing Kefauver's nomination for president, an office for which Mr. Truman says the senator is unfit.

The 1960 play will be for bigger stakes and, correspondingly, it is likely to be noisier, angrier and more newsworthy than was the effort to keep Nixon off the ticket this year. Both the senator and the vice president are favored by new political circumstances. President Eisenhower is barred by constitutional amendment from seeking or serving a third term. Adlai E. Stevenson, who headed the Democratic ticket this year, has lost two successive presidential contests and is not likely to be chosen to lead a third.

Prior to the anti-third term amendment, a member of a presidential administration was forbidden by the rules of polite politics to go out after the top place on his party's ticket until given the nod by his chief. His friends were equally handicapped.

It will be no challenge to Mr. Eisenhower's political future, however, for any member of his administration to reach now for the 1960 presidential nomination. It is beyond Mr. Eisenhower's grasp in any event. Presidents do, however, frequently prefer to choose their successors. They like to handpick men to complete the program which no president ever is able to complete, however many White House terms he may serve.

The stop-Nixon campaign will be a double barreled affair, directed both at persuading Mr. Eisenhower publicly to endorse some other man for the 1960 presidential nomination and at persuading the American people that Nixon is unfit to be president. The vice president's fitness for higher office was a major Democratic campaign theme this year. It seemed not to set the prairies afire.

There were Republicans, too, who warned that Nixon's re-nomination would jeopardize Mr. Eisenhower's re-election. Harold E. Stassen took leave as White House disarmament aid to expound that view in a pre-convention stop-Nixon campaign. He ended by seconding Nixon's nomination before the Republican National Convention.

NEW STYLING FOR BUICK

The classic design of Buick's new dream car styling for 1957 is exemplified in the Super four door hardtop with its low silhouette and racy lines. Powered by a 300 horsepower V-8 engine, with a 10-to-1 compression ratio, the Super is one of the most agile cars on the highway. Bigger panoramic windshields, roomier bodies and a completely new chassis are featured on all new Buicks. Buick's variable pitch Dynaflo transmission and power steering are standard on the Super. The new Buicks are on display at Tex Evans Buick Company, 123 N. Gray.

How Money Was Spent By Baptists

The Taylor Baptist Church, with Robert L. Wimpee as its pastor, won the first place annual Town and Country achievement award Wednesday.

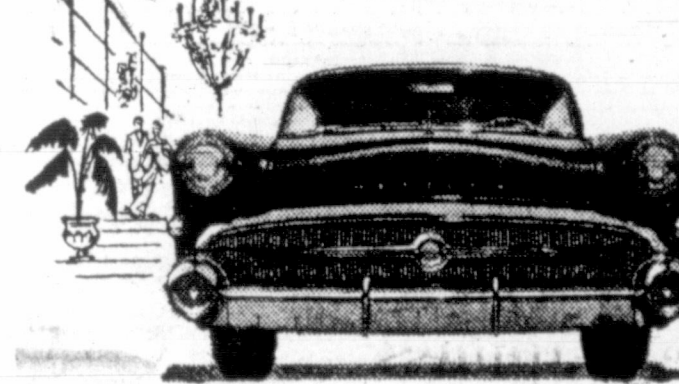

Other winners were: Second, Pioneer Baptist Church, near San Antonio, Roger C. Walker, pastor; tied with New Hope Baptist church of near Fort Worth, Gene Garrett, pastor.

Third, First Baptist Church of Cooldige, James C. Springfield, pastor; and honorable mention, First Baptist of Balmorra, Jimmy Wilson, pastor; Antioch Baptist of Liveady, Kenneth Bradshaw, pastor, and First Baptist of Celina, Edward Seabor, pastor.

Newest Buick Yet

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new? Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true—gospel true.

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense. We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to glossy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—so instant in the starting range—so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

BARBECUE SAUCE MAY SEEM like a rather inappropriate relish to be talking about so late in the outdoor cooking season. Yet recently I came across a recipe I'd like to pass on to you. And this particular sauce is good on indoor barbecued beef or chicken, regardless of whether you use your oven or a rotisserie in which to do the cooking.

SOY SAUCE is the flavor secret in this barbecue sauce. That popular Oriental condiment discovered hundreds of years ago by the Chinese and still one of the essential ingredients in Chinese cooking today, adds that something "extra" to this strictly American sauce.

Of course the soy sauce prepared by modern processors in this country is vastly different in quality from the Chinese kind. Processors have developed a product that won't sour or mold. Nor does it have to be kept under refrigeration. Essentially, however, it is the same elusive seasoner the Chinese have always used.

Here is the recipe: Soy Barbecue Sauce.
 4 tablespoons minced onion
 1 cup tomato puree
 1/2 cup water
 3 tablespoons vinegar
 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon paprika
 1 teaspoon chili powder
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 Dash ground cloves

Combine all ingredients in order. Heat to boiling and brush generously on your favorite meat or poultry, during cooking. This recipe makes a bit more than 2 cups, so you'll have plenty.

Use this sauce too, on slices of roast beef or pork left from a Sunday roast. It will taste more like "planned overs" as most home economists say today, rather than just plain leftovers. Simply lay slices of meat in a baking pan, drizzle a little sauce on top, cover pan and heat in a slow oven until the meat is warm.

IN COLONIAL Virginia a tremendous operation was often involved in the preparation of soup or broth. Miss Kathleen Ann Smallz found the following recipe for chestnut soup in "The Williamsburg Art of Cooking."

Take a Half Hundred of Chestnuts and notch them; put them in an earthen Pan, in a warm Oven for Half an Hour. Slew them one Hour in a Quart of Veal or Beef Broth; in the Meantime, take three or four Pieces of lean Ham or Bacon and put them at the Bottom of the Stew-pan, one Pound of Veal, one pound of Beef, a Pigeon cut into Pieces, two Onions stuck with Cloves, two Blades of Mace, a Bundle of Sweet-herbs over the Ham, with half a Pint of Water; stew it gently till it sticks, but must not burn; pour off boiling Water, and skim it well; stuff two Pigeons with Forc'd-meat, and stew them in the Soup till tender; then take the Pigeons out and strain the Soup to the Chestnuts; season it with Pepper and Salt to your Palate, and boil it for five Minutes; put the Pigeons into the Turken, the Chestnuts round them and pour the Soup, boiling hot, over them. Add two or three Pieces of crisp Bread at the Top; garnish the Edge of the Dish with some of the Chestnuts, split in two.

N.B. — If you have a Partridge, you may use it instead of the Pigeons cut to Pieces.

Publisher Marshall Field Dies Today

NEW YORK (UP) — Publisher Marshall Field died today in New York hospital. Field, 63, entered the hospital Oct. 21 and underwent brain surgery. A hospital spokesman said he died this morning. His third wife, Ruth, was at his bedside. Field, a new dealer, became president and publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times in 1941. Six years later he turned the paper over to his son, Marshall Field Jr. In addition to his newspaper interests, Field also headed Field Enterprises, publishers of the World Book Encyclopedia. He was a director of Parade Publications Inc., Simon and Schuster Inc., and Pocket Books Inc., and president and director of radio station WJJD, Chicago. Field was raised and educated in England after his mother married a British officer. He was educated at Eton and Cambridge and served with the U.S. cavalry during World War I.

Aid For Farmers Reported

DALLAS (UP) — Texas farmers and ranchers in 233 of the 254 counties can apply for federal aid in buying grain and roughage through Dec. 3, the Farmers Home Administration reported Wednesday. State FHA director Walter T. McKay said 91,787 applications for grain assistance and 37,406 applications for roughage assistance under the program were processed in the four-month period which ended Nov. 1. Farmers and ranchers in the state received federal aid during those four months in buying 1,443,867 pounds of grain and 1,375,170 tons of roughage. The government subsidy on grain is $1.50 per hundred weight and $7.50 per ton on roughage. McKay added that while applicants must show a financial need before they can receive the federal aid, they are not expected to exhaust their total resources before applying.

Adlai Ponders Future In Public Affairs

CHICAGO (UP) — Adlai E. Stevenson rested at his nearby Libertyville, Ill., farm today and pondered his future course in public affairs. The defeated Democratic presidential candidate held a post-mortem huddle Wednesday with top advisers, most of whom told him the Middle East crisis provided the impetus for President Eisenhower's landslide victory. Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's chief press aide, said the beaten candidate probably would release by the end of the week a statement on his future plans. The former Illinois governor early Wednesday conceded defeat to President Eisenhower for the second time in four years and called on all Americans to "give the administration all responsible support in the troubled times ahead." Aides speculated that Stevenson probably would like to enter the public service field, such as education, rather than return to his profession of law. Stevenson also was reported worried about a $1 million deficit piled up in the presidential campaign by the Democratic Party. Fritchey said Stevenson might possibly help raise funds as he did after his first defeat by President Eisenhower in 1952.

Two Convicts Are Captured

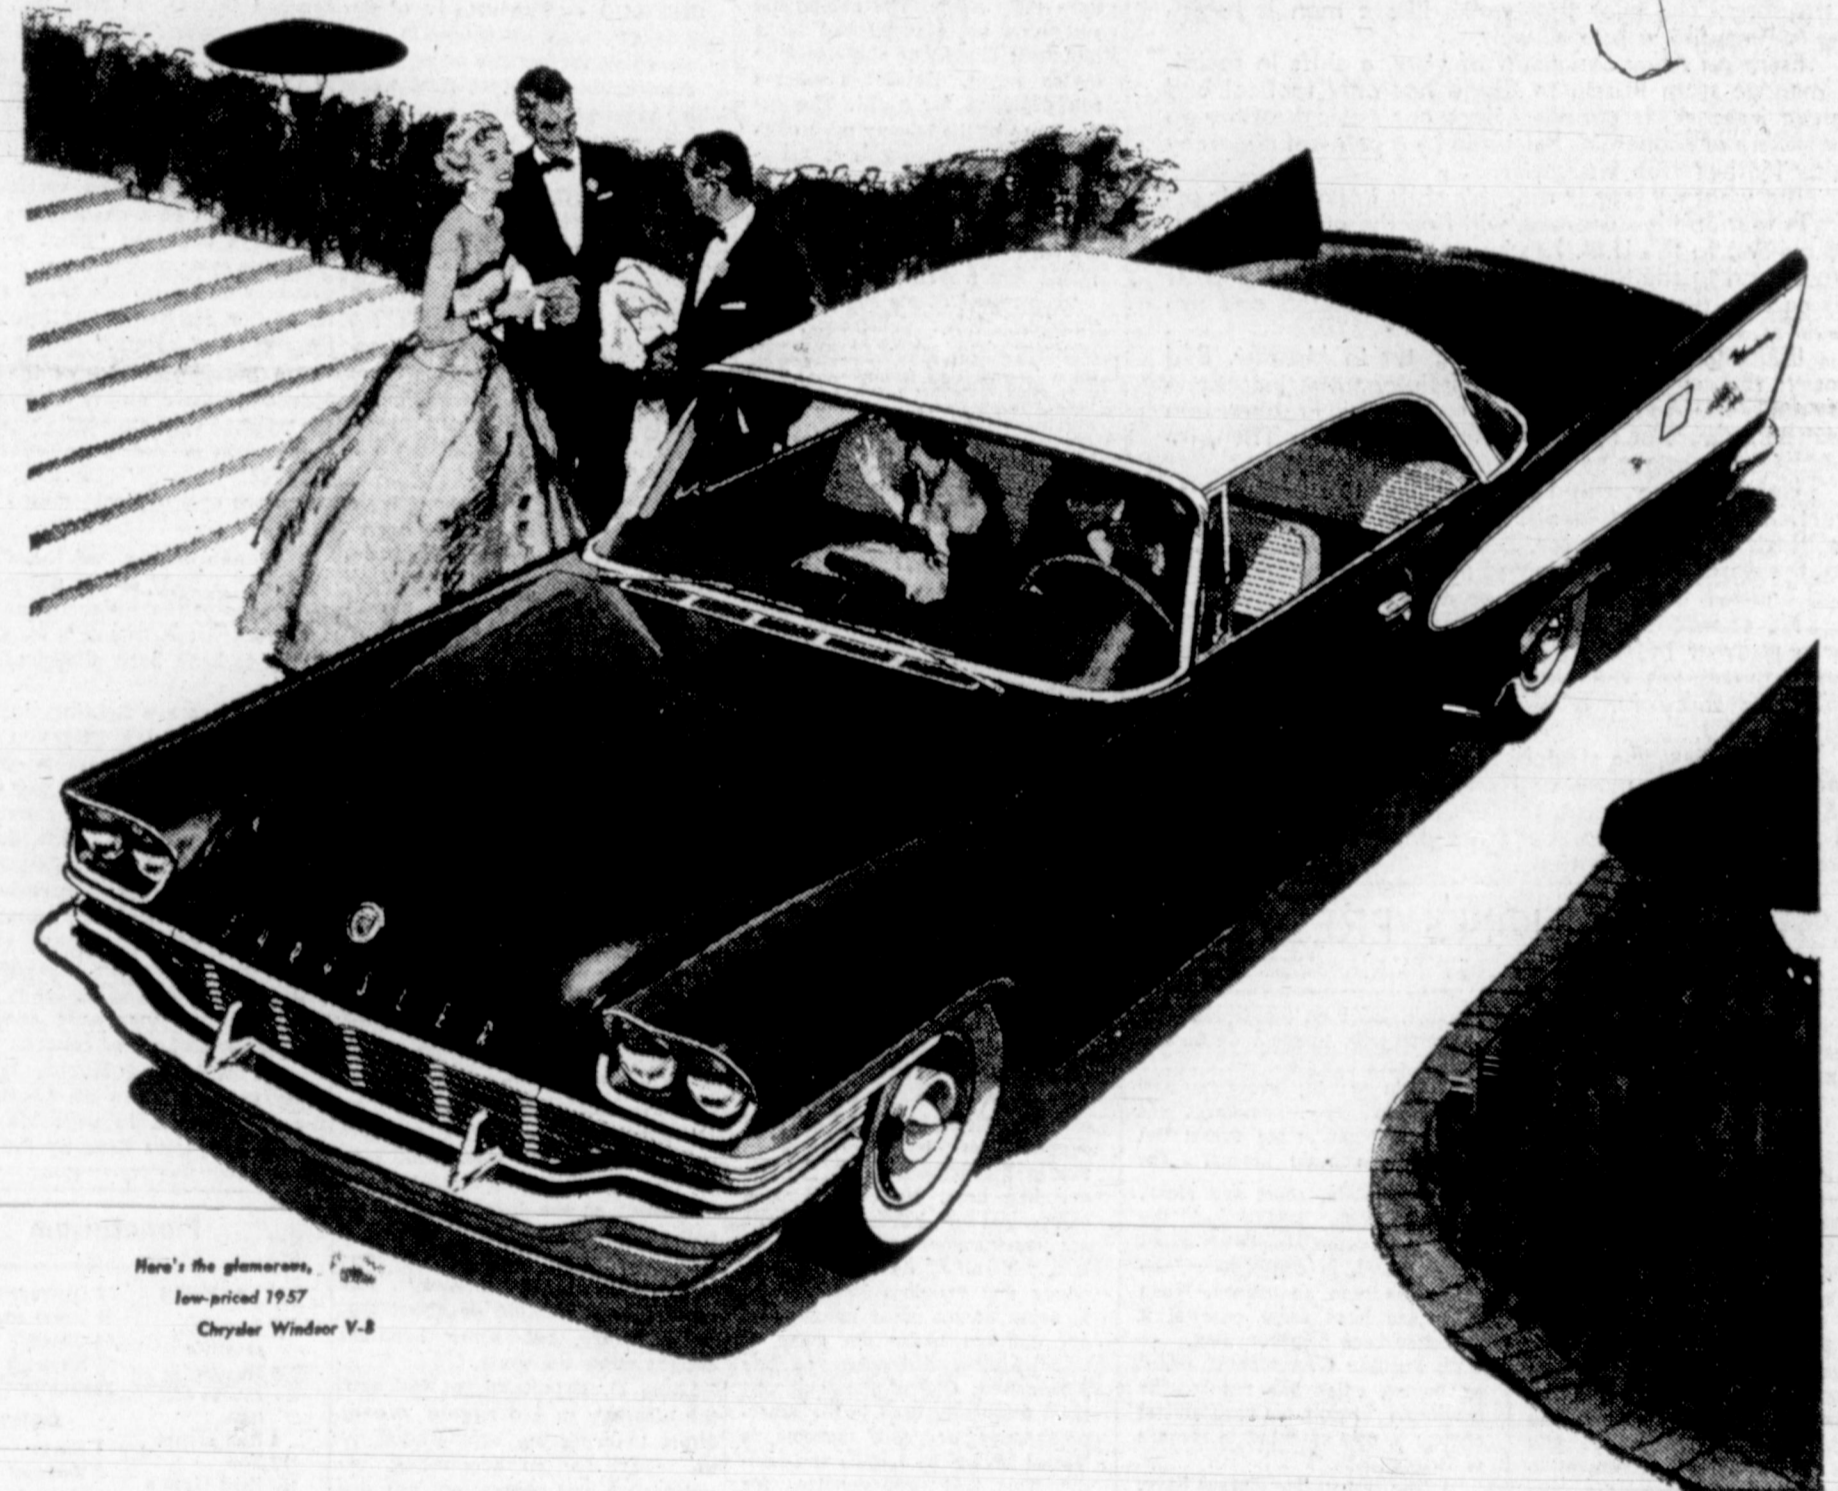

SAN ANTONIO (UP) — Two ex-convicts who were captured a few hours after they held up the Sabinal, Tex., State Bank last Thursday, have been sentenced to 35 years in prison. Joe Douglas Nance, 35, of La Pryor, Tex., and Harold Seago, 35, of Odessa, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of robbing the bank of some $17,000.

Federal Judge Ben Rice Jr. accepted the pleas and sentenced the pair to 25 years each for jeopardizing the life of bank cashier A. J. Durham during the robbery and another 10 years apiece for the actual robbery. The men took the money at gun point last week and escaped in a stolen car. In their rush to San Angelo, where the duo were arrested, the men were stopped by Benjamin Franklin helped establish the Canadian postal system. Shift In Power

A monumental shift in power can be observed through the flaming windows of the red world.

Communist China is on the rise, with its military tentacles like the arms of Siva, reaching out to strangle and choke off the struggling border states.

Communist Russia is moving into eclipse, its long extended corridors of power clogged with blood, its satellites in revolt, its internal workings chaotic with self-inflicted hemorrhage.

The spirit of freedom has been invoked throughout the Asiatic world.

And while in the Far East the world sits astride their pyramids of skulls in bonafide splendor, the edifice of Muskovy is splitting at the seams.

Is the new headquarters for world communism about to be proclaimed? The coordinated direction of spies and saboteurs now find its nerve center at Peiping instead of in the Kremlin? We may see this come.

It is clear that the theory of world socialism is in firmer hands in the Orient than can hold it now in Russia. Premier Chou Enlai and his crimson satrap, Mao Tse-tung, are grinding down the Chinese people and the neighboring populace with a fury and a vengeance only possible where absolute power sits lightly on the conscience and the throne of kings.

But by the murky Muskovy, lordly ambitions of destiny's twin fools are losing their direction. The men who inherited Stalin's might are shouting at the gathering gloom. But their words, though loudly spoken, echo away into nothingness and die in a pale whisper near the tombs in Red Square.

Eastern Germany is disgruntled. Poland is proclaiming independence. Riot torn Hungary is nose-thumbing the arch villains. Tito has gone his own way and made it stick. And even Nasser, a potential extension of Red power, is on his hands and knees looking for a new oasis in the sand. The bear that walks like a man is beginning to howl like a hunted wolf.

From an American point of view, a shift in socialistic menace from Russia to China has only tactical and logistic interest. It cannot affect our basic hostility to any system of economics bolstered by a political oligarchy which loathes free enterprise.

But what we fear is that this shift in power, if it occurs in fact and is sustained, will find the hub of centralism moving to the U.N. headquarters in New York City, rather than to the ancient home of eastern dynasties. If this occurs, then our interest becomes pointed and immediate.

Bad enough, a predatory monster in Moscow. Bad enough the beast enthroned in Peiping. But inconceivably dangerous to American interests is this Frankenstein creation glowers at us within our own borders. Then, indeed, will our plight be perilous.

Unfortunately, this U.N. thing is not submissive to American ideas and ideals. It, too, is a creature from the black loogoon of terror, conceived in the proposition that the world must be enjoined in a hideous marriage . . . good and evil chained to one another.

Never was it more important for this nation to follow a path of independence and liberty. If we become involved, through the U.N. or otherwise, as red-power makes its foray for a new home, then will we have gravely erred.

As we view the stretching and cracking of the red hierarchy we are more and more convinced that from the American standpoint, this entire affair must be looked at as a quick sand. Let's not participate, especially through the United Nations.

THE NATION'S PRESS

JAPAN GETS POOR BARGAIN IN ENDING WAR WITH RUSSIA

(The Houston Chronicle)

Japanese Premier Hatoyama came out second best in the declaration he signed Friday with Soviet Premier Bulganin ending the 11-year state of war. It is to be feared that it will set in motion a severe defeat for both Japan and the United States' position in the Far East.

The Russians, as usual, drove a hard bargain. Japan gets the doubtful political advantage of no longer being in a state of war with Russia and an agreement to expand trade between the two countries greatly, which may or may not in the end prove advantageous but which looks good now to the trade-hungry Japanese.

More nebulous is the Soviet promise to support Japan's application for admission to the United Nations after "relations have been normalized."

There is no forecasting how long that will take. The agreement signed Friday is not a treaty of peace. Russia can delay as long as she chooses to normalize relations and support the Japanese U.N. bid.

Equally nebulous is the Soviet pledge to return to Japan the tiny Habomai and Shikotan islands just off the Hokkaido coast. The Reds refused even to discuss at this time Japan's claims to the larger islands of Etorofu and Kumashtiri, a little farther from Hokkaido.

The booby traps buried in the agreement are such that Japan sooner or later may find herself drawn into the Soviet orbit. And that would be a catastrophe for the free world comparable with the loss of mainland China.

BANDON REFLECTIONS

(Christian Economics)
Edited by Rev. Irving E. Howard
Writing in Intelligence Digest

(August, 1956) on the situation in Great Britain, Kenneth de Courcy says:

"Britain is ill; everyone now knows that. The symptoms are daily publicized in the Press. But what is the basic illness? The answer is plain, short and clear.

"I, a whole section of the Church has ceased to preach sound doctrine and, in consequence, religion has been abandoned. When there has been some renewal it has often been compromising.

"2. Popular Government based on buying votes has reached its inevitable result. Constitutional change is now essential to the life of Britain.

"3. The responsible classes have, in consequence of both of the foregoing factors, been deprived of their independent, legitimate wealth, and can no longer play an honest part in public life for the mere sake of public service.

"4. The nation, having abandoned any idea of an inspired mission derived from its traditional religious convictions, doubts its role in history and its duty to stand for unwavering principles. . . . The Conservative Party is afraid to tell the truth; the Socialist Party seeks popularity in further confiscatory measures which would eliminate the last of the best in the nation. . . . It is the leadership which is rotten, and, in consequence the nation drifts. It drifts toward a very grave disaster."

"If the watchman see the sword come, and bow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come and take any person from among them . . . his blood will I require at the watchman's hand." (Ezekiel 33:6)

Thought from "Progressive Education is Re-education"

I want to pass on a few gems and thoughts from Jones and Oliver's book "Progressive Education is Re-education."

On Page 63 the authors observe: "Since 1920 enrollment in the public schools has increased 42 per cent, while enrollment in the private schools has increased nearly 100 per cent."

Kind Of Material
On the kind of material, they make this observation:

"Examination of the material which the unfortunate progressive children are asked to read tells the rest of the story. Instead of graded selections of standard semi-classical prose intended to develop literary discrimination and a good sense of values in preparation for life — honesty, thrift, courage, patriotism, love of nature and mankind — what are they given? Inisipid selections of poor literary quality and low interest level about neighbors, animals, workers, and visits to relatives. Memories of so-called educators prattling about 'language tools' while this is going on made Oliver boil. These reading texts, purged of traditional literature, are a deliberate effort to break with past, and proven, beliefs. Are the 'social change agents' afraid that if a child is permitted to become acquainted with traditional literature, he may find in it ideas which appeal to him more than that of becoming a humble servant of the State?"

In another observation of note, Oliver says that "a patriotic American educator was one who would point out to the teachers that Elizabeth Bentley, a Vassar graduate who took a leading part in the secret Communist underground for ten years, blames her being taken in by Communism on her failure to study American history, political science, and civics."

Teachers Manual
No wonder the teachers are teaching socialism when the teachers' manuals have material like the following:

"Capitalism is based on the principle of profit to the owner rather than service to the masses of the people. The methods of distribution of goods in a capitalistic society tend to direct social products into the hands of the few. Production is based upon the amount of goods purchasers can be induced to consume, rather than upon their needs. The capitalistic system is not planned and lacks direction; thus waste and economic cycles result. Natural resources are exploited for profit. The dependence of the laborer upon capital tends to reduce him to a servile status."

It is any wonder the teachers are confused when they are studying instructions containing statements like the above.

"The report of the Fifth Annual Teachers' Work Conference, the last 'workshop' which recommended a 'revision of the grading and reporting system' acceptable 'to the philosophy of the group.' The recommendation for 'increasing self-direction' and for letting the students 'control and direct in planned activities.' The instruction that a child be given only 'activities in which he will attain success.' The advice that a child's disobedience was 'beyond the child's control.'"

"Worse yet was the blanket statement in the report that 'it is psychologically wrong to mark errors.'"

Here's what progressive education says the child should be taught:

"If the parent has the courage to investigate progressivism further, he will find that the process of true education is being denied his child. The child will not be required to transfer the information in his textbook from the printed page to his head. The wisdom of the ages, as much of it as can be taught him, will not be his."

"A general discussion of the slanted nature of basal and supplementary texts currently in use in the schools cannot be undertaken here. However it is a categorical fact, particularly at the secondary school level, that socialism, with all its political, economic and religious implications, is being taught great numbers of our children under the guise of Social Living, Citizenship and Life Adjustment. One of the textbooks most frequently used in the super-progressive or 'core' schools is 'Social Living' by Landis and Landis. This text propagandizes for collectivism with no holds barred. The use of such a book, written or not, turns the classroom into a cell for the study of Statism. It is little wonder that American youth is learning that 'every day in every way the State should get bigger and bigger.'"

"Traditionally, education is supposed to hold for itself principles superior to worldly society. When the atmosphere of the school becomes commonplace, the spirit of erudition vanishes. The school is charged with setting high standards of academic achievement. Only then does it fulfill the function for which Americans are tentatively paying the bills. Its job is to elevate the society of the future by passing on as much of the knowledge of mankind as it can. Its goal for the individual, and therefore for society, must be a high level of mental self-discipline, firm ethical values, precision of thought, historical perspective, plus a store of accurate knowledge. With such a goal the school is performing its service to free men and not subordinating the individual to the mass, as in socialism, communism, fascism or nazism. It is not the 'distribution of wealth,' nor the 'good of the proletariat,' nor

Cruel Unions Now An Accepted Fact

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

CHICAGO — The cruelty of unions toward working people is now an accepted fact of life after years of disclosures which at first were either rejected as boss propaganda or excused as rare exceptions to a rule of consecrated nobility.

But, though few honest and intelligent Americans deny that unions are brutal toward the people whom they profess to love, we have come to a slack situation of toleration. We do not press for prosecution, punishment and reform. There are many cases of monstrous wrong in which the offense is not criminal but a mocking insult to the rights of the victims and to conscience.

The $10,000,000 loyalty bond issue of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers comes within this description. This brotherhood, an arrogant, secretive band of executives living high on the faith and earning of about 80,000 members, has flatly refused to discuss even the names of those who have been denied the bond.

There were 70,000 members in 1927 when the late Alvin Karpis was sent forth from the national headquarters in Cleveland, a gentlemanly appeal for help to redeem the folly if not the personal rapacity of the executives.

In the brotherhood's name, they had speculated in Florida land and other ventures. In that jam, they hit upon a scheme to appeal to the "loyalty" of the brothers to their union and to one another as co-workers. The "issues" of these bonds, called "certificates," was nominally $10,000,000 or about $130 per member, but some brothers bought more than one.

Louis D. Friedman, of Chicago, the attorney in a dragging, dreary effort to bring the brotherhood into court for an accounting, discovered one "investor" who, with his wife, staked their life savings of $7,000 on the good faith of the national officers. They have yet to recover one cent.

The secrecy of the national offices in Cleveland is such that the nine little plaintiffs in a class suit, representing an unknown number of other victims, actually do not know how many certificates were sold or how many were surrendered without payment when in 1936, the union bosses appealed to one and all to turn them in without payment except a little lapel button.

The accounting might clarify these problems but thus far in a suit which has been going five years in the circuit court of Cook County, Ill., the bosses at headquarters have disclosed nothing.

The gimmick in the certificate is as heartless as any such clause devised. It says the face value and the 'glory of the State,' nor the 'glory of the super-race' to which we turn for freedom. Only the individual liberty of the individual man to pursue his individual happiness will bring liberty to mankind.

FOR REFLECTION

As someone has said, "Everyone is for peace but few people are for the things that make for peace." Which, of course, is the real reason why we don't have much peace.

Paul tells us to "follow after the things which make for peace." And James says: "From whence come wars and fightings among you? Come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? Ye lust, and have not; ye kill, and desire to have, and yet ye have not, because ye ask not."

What could be truer or plainer than that? We have not because we prey — instead of pray. Isn't that something to give us pause and upon which we should seriously reflect?

Wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen it in a magazine photograph, England's "Red Dean" of Canterbury has been over in Tibet conferring with a seven-year-old boy who is the leader of Communist sect of Lamaism. Sometimes it seems to me that the "Red Dean" don't know any more about politics than the late Dean Inge knew about music when he said he couldn't tell "God Save the Weasel" from "Pop Goes the King."

Friedman advertised and distributed all but $1,500 to original victims or their estates.

Whenever there is a ceremony involving Germans and Americans, Herr Goulash wears his ten-gallon hat, and if there is an American band present it always plays "Deep in the Heart of Texas" for the honor and the pleasure of the Oberburgermeister.

The result: no United States Army installation in Europe — and the Army has a big one here — can boast a more impressive record of American-German goodwill than the one between our Port of Embarkation troops and the community of Bremerhaven.

There have been no incidents of any consequence. No stabbings, no assaults, no wrecking of gas houses, no enmity between town and soldier. This would be unusual anywhere, but it is doubly surprising in a seaport city, with a typical waterfront with all its attractions, and a shifting population of seamen from all over the world. Of course, the Army has had a lot to do with this lack of friction, but Colonel Irving W. Brooks, Commanding Officer of the Port of Embarkation, is quick to credit Herr Goulash — and his big, Texas cowboy hat.

"The Oberburgermeister is the most cooperative official you can imagine," Col. Brooks told me. "And the warmth of his feeling toward our country — especially Texas — has reached his people. They, too, understand our problems, and work with us in every way possible. So far our troubles have been negligible."

And Bremerhaven, like all seaport towns, presents a multiplicity of problems. There is a section of it known as "Bin City," dedicated to honky-tonks and dives beyond all description. The center of this area is known as "Court Martial Square" by GIs. They stay clear of it, and they are helped along, not only by the MPs but the German police as well.

For the most part, "Court Martial Square" and its surroundings, the playground of the merchant marine sailors from all parts of the earth.

"We have just let it be known," Colonel Brooks said, "that any of our soldiers who gets in trouble in that area has had it. No ifs, ands, or buts about it. He's had it."

I want to see Herr Goulash wearing his big hat before I leave. He sounds charming, and should let's the same, if he comes up to descriptions of him. He is, they tell me, the perfect Oberburgermeister in appearance. A Mr. Five-by-Five, with a balding head, florid face, the proper number of creases on his neck, and the perfect bay window to go with his chin.

All this under a ten-gallon hat.

Economic Council Needed For Overseas Problems

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — An official report sharply critical of the "waste and misuse" of foreign aid money was suppressed by the Eisenhower Administration for fear of its adverse effect on the Republican ticket in the election.

Although the blunders responsible for the failure began under the Truman Administration, principal criticism is directed against Harold E. Stassen, former head of the Economic Co-operation Administration and now disarmament adviser to the White House. He was committed to the United States to huge expenditures for the next four years, especially in Turkey and Pakistan, although he did not have such authority.

Besides Turkey and Pakistan, the other countries failing to use American money to strengthen their economic systems and military defenses in the West's worldwide anti-Communist alliance are reported to be Korea, Formosa, Thailand and the Indo-China areas still in control of pro-West governments.

The report, which was submitted to the National Security Council on October 26, says that these countries would be virtually bankrupt without our aid. Our money, therefore, is being spent for routine and current expenses instead of preparing them to resist Communist aggression or politico-economic penetration.

President Eisenhower cancelled a scheduled press conference for October 26 in order to meet with the National Security Council, when they discussed this report and unrest among Moscow satellites.

Even if American aid is continued until 1960 in accord with Stassen pledges, which future congresses may not underwrite, the report doubts that conditions will have improved by that time. It recommends a more detailed survey of the situation, and more intelligent planning if the program is to be continued.

The committee which made the survey consists of representatives of State, Defense and Treasury Departments and of the International Co-operation Administration.

The adverse conclusions of the National Security Council's document confront Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles with a serious dilemma. Withdrawal of funds would plunge these Allies into even worse difficulties. It might result in the overthrow of regimes friendly to the West.

It would be a confession that the "containment of Russia" program, which he expanded after inheriting it from his predecessors, has failed. Turkey and Pakistan are the strongest members of the Baghdad Pact, which was set up by Dulles along the Soviet's southern border after he failed to persuade Egypt and the Arabian states to form a similar anti-Communist league.

Nationalist China, Thailand and the Southern Indo-China nations are the only Asian members of the SEATO Alliance. Both President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have cited both these anti-Moscow organizations as evidence of the strengthening of the free world in the campaign.

The most likely effect of this alarming study will be Congressional reduction of the current foreign aid appropriation from $4.1 billion to half that figure, post-election ouster of Stassen and re-staffing of the Hollister organization with practical men — engineers, economists, industrialists — instead of starry-eyed, holdover idealists. Barring visible improvement, 1960 will be fixed as a wind-up date for foreign handouts.

Whenever there is a ceremony involving Germans and Americans, Herr Goulash wears his ten-gallon hat, and if there is an American band present it always plays "Deep in the Heart of Texas" for the honor and the pleasure of the Oberburgermeister.

The result: no United States Army installation in Europe — and the Army has a big one here — can boast a more impressive record of American-German goodwill than the one between our Port of Embarkation troops and the community of Bremerhaven.

There have been no incidents of any consequence. No stabbings, no assaults, no wrecking of gas houses, no enmity between town and soldier. This would be unusual anywhere, but it is doubly surprising in a seaport city, with a typical waterfront with all its attractions, and a shifting population of seamen from all over the world. Of course, the Army has had a lot to do with this lack of friction, but Colonel Irving W. Brooks, Commanding Officer of the Port of Embarkation, is quick to credit Herr Goulash — and his big, Texas cowboy hat.

"The Oberburgermeister is the most cooperative official you can imagine," Col. Brooks told me. "And the warmth of his feeling toward our country — especially Texas — has reached his people. They, too, understand our problems, and work with us in every way possible. So far our troubles have been negligible."

And Bremerhaven, like all seaport towns, presents a multiplicity of problems. There is a section of it known as "Bin City," dedicated to honky-tonks and dives beyond all description. The center of this area is known as "Court Martial Square" by GIs. They stay clear of it, and they are helped along, not only by the MPs but the German police as well.

For the most part, "Court Martial Square" and its surroundings, the playground of the merchant marine sailors from all parts of the earth.

"We have just let it be known," Colonel Brooks said, "that any of our soldiers who gets in trouble in that area has had it. No ifs, ands, or buts about it. He's had it."

I want to see Herr Goulash wearing his big hat before I leave. He sounds charming, and should let's the same, if he comes up to descriptions of him. He is, they tell me, the perfect Oberburgermeister in appearance. A Mr. Five-by-Five, with a balding head, florid face, the proper number of creases on his neck, and the perfect bay window to go with his chin.

All this under a ten-gallon hat.

The Oberburgermeister Is Most Cooperative Official

By HENRY McLEMORE

BRIMERHAVEN, Germany — The United States Army and the citizens of this seaport city owe the State of Texas a great, big debt.

The debt was incurred several years ago when the Oberburgermeister of Bremerhaven — a gentleman with the completely unbelievable name of Herrmann Goulash — included a trip to Dallas in his first visit to America.

There he was presented with a ten-gallon Stetson, and from the second he clasped it on his head until this, it became one of his dearest possessions. More than that, it made Herr Goulash feel as if he were almost an American citizen, and that he should always strive for the welfare of our country, as well as for his.

Whenever there is a ceremony involving Germans and Americans, Herr Goulash wears his ten-gallon hat, and if there is an American band present it always plays "Deep in the Heart of Texas" for the honor and the pleasure of the Oberburgermeister.

The result: no United States Army installation in Europe — and the Army has a big one here — can boast a more impressive record of American-German goodwill than the one between our Port of Embarkation troops and the community of Bremerhaven.

Home Sleet Or Snow, Pampa Ready

The brisk cold spell that breezed to Pampa yesterday failed to give the Pampa Harvesters time as they prepare for their Saturday afternoon contest against Plainview Bulldogs.

"If Saturday is no colder than it is today we should be all right," commented Coach Jack Lockett as he sat shivering in the Pampa dressing room following a two-hour workout Wednesday.

The Harvesters, who will be trying to get back on the victory trail after dropping a close one to Lubbock last week, renewed their defense yesterday as well as polishing their offense against dummies. Lockett was pleased because of the small number of fumbles during the chilly drills.

The squad will slack up some today and tomorrow and give the injured a chance to recuperate. Lockett also prevented further injury.

It appears that most of the squad will be in good shape for the game which is set for 2 p.m. at Harvesters Stadium. Robert Warren, a junior right halfback, will not be ready for the Plainview contest and is unlikely to see action the remainder of the season. Warren was injured in the Palo Duro affair. Jim Hopkins, a linebacker, to see action and will probably start Saturday on defense.

Lockett plans no changes in his offensive lineup for the game although two or three changes may be made on defense. James Weathered will probably get a call to start on defense for the Harvesters while Gary Peterson or Jerry Bonal may take over another defensive spot.

The Harvester coach rated Monterey-Pampa clash as a defensive game, although he commented that the offense moved the ball better than at any time of the year. "It was our pass defense that hurt us at times," Lockett stated. Four times, with third down and long yardage needed, the Plainsmen connected for passes for the necessary yardage. They threw only eight passes and completed four but those four airdrops were completed at crucial times for first downs. Another time the Plainsmen got a break on the Pampa yard line on pass interference.

3-AAAA Leaders Top Statistics

Two schools each from Amarillo and Lubbock grabbed a major share of the statistics in District 3-AAAA, according to the latest figures released today.

The Amarillo Sandies took more than its share of the team statistics while Lubbock Monterey, Lubbock High School and Palo Duro of Amarillo came through with the remainder of the honors.

The Sandies, who are currently leading the district race with four victories against no defeats, took the lead in total offense, rushing offense, passing offense, total offense, rushing defense and individual passing.

Pampa's Harvesters are leading in pass defense while Monterey leads in punting and Lubbock High takes over in the penalty department. In individual honors, Charley Moore of Lubbock High is ahead with 445 yards total offense, all of those yards by rushing. Moore also heads up the rushing department with 445 yards on 99 carries. Dickie Mauldin of Pampa rates ninth with 186 yards on 48 carries.

Sospy Sudsbury of Amarillo High leads the passers with 276 yards on 14 of 18 completions. Bobby DeHais is 10th with 31 yards on two of four completions. Fred Baker of Monterey has caught nine passes for 115 yards to lead in pass receiving. Fred Parson of Monterey has a 48-yard punt average to lead in that category while Mauldin is 4th with a 33.5 average.

Palo Duro's Warren Hunkapiller has scored 42 points on seven touchdowns to lead in scoring. The Harvesters rank seventh in total offense, sixth in rushing offense, seventh in passing offense, fifth in total defense and fifth in rushing defense.

A group of Pampa Optimist Club boxers will challenge three Amarillo teams in a four-way boxing event at Amarillo Air Force Base Friday night.

The Optimist mittmen, who have been getting in shape for the annual Golden Gloves warring later this winter, will send an estimated eight fighters to Amarillo. Other teams matched include the AAFB club, D&D Pharmacy and the Amarillo Boxing Club.

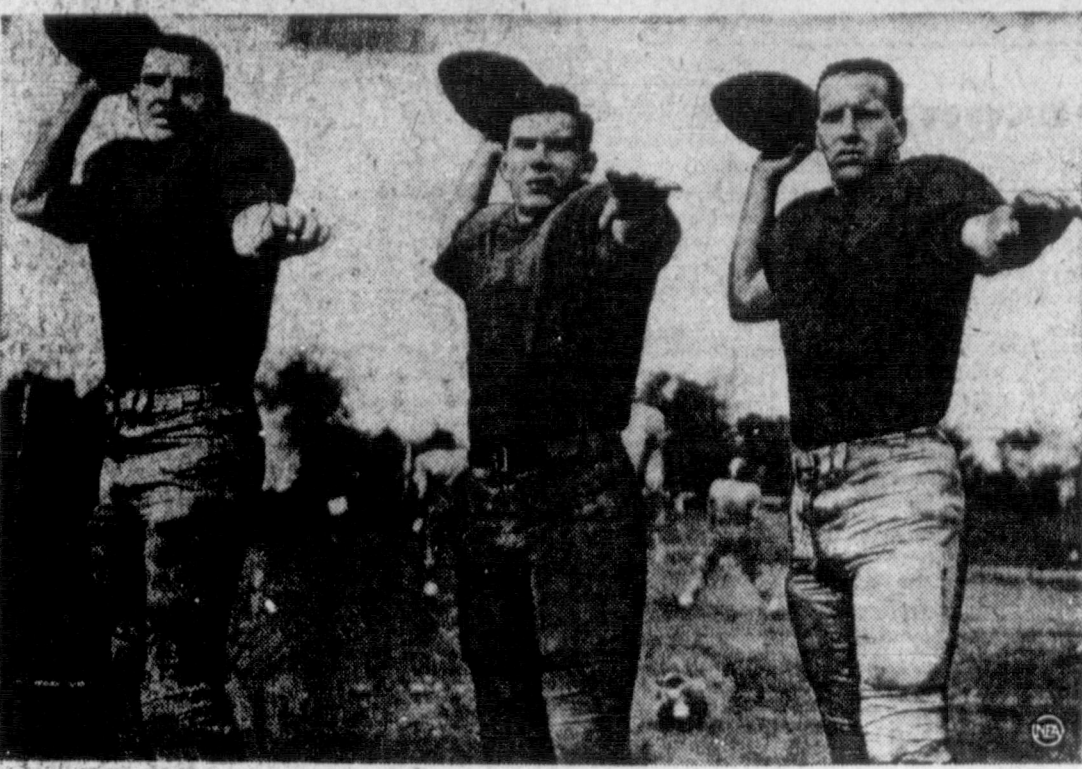

The bouts, to be held in one of Amarillo AFB's huge gyms, are slated for 8 p.m. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Expected to fight for Pampa are Gary Wills, 120 pounds; Larry Powell, 118; Kenny Powell, 85; Doug Simmons, 230; Tommy Lamar, 147; and possibly Gary Wilhelm and Charles Snyder. All except Simmons are veteran amateur fighters and well known in the Panhandle area.

Optimist officials expect more boxers to train as soon as football season is completed. The boys are in training daily under the direction of eight Optimist coaches at the Gray County Community Building.

The club plans to sponsor some dual matches in two or three weeks. Berger, Dumas, Guymon and Amarillo will possibly send teams here for matches. Fine prospects are foreseen for Pampa in Golden Gloves activities this year.

Aggies, Mustangs Tangle Saturday For SWC Honors

Both the Texas Aggies and the Southern Methodist Mustangs, who clash Saturday in the Cotton Bowl with the Southwest Conference lead-at stake, are having a little trouble getting ready.

At College Station, the Aggies didn't look sharp on offense. Coach Paul Bryant said. He ran his team against a freshman group using SMU defensive patterns and Bryant wasn't too pleased with the results.

And at Dallas, the Mustangs were preparing some tricky defensive plays. They were so tricky that even the SMU team was having a little trouble with them, frequently getting confused by its own tactics.

But Bryant thought his second and third squads looked pretty good against the freshman defense, with quarterback Bobby Conrad and halfback Carlos Esquivel looking most impressive.

SMU Bright Spot

And there was also a bright spot in the SMU camp. The Mustangs were taking their practice seriously, what with A&M having proved plenty adept at stopping any kind of an attack thrown at them.

The Aggies are 3-0 in the conference, and the Mustangs 2-0. A crowd of nearly 60,000 is expected to watch them slug it out.

Texas Christian University Coach Abe Martin was "real pleased" after the TCU workout as the Horned Frogs prepared to visit Texas Tech, newest member of the conference. Quarterback Charlie Curtis' ankle injury seemed to be a minor one and he will be ready for full action Saturday, along with Ken Wineburg, who worked out Wednesday at full speed.

Baylor quarterbacks Carrol Overton, Bobby Jones and Buddy Humphrey were all hitting on their passes Wednesday as the Bears tuned up for the Texas Longhorns. Fullback Charley Dupree, who missed three of Baylor's six games due to an ankle injury, is expected to be ready to play.

Rice wound up heavy workouts and are expected to be in good shape for the game against Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Rice will take 35 men to Fort Smith Friday for a short workout there that evening. Then go on to Fayetteville Saturday.

The Razorbacks worked on pass offense and defense. No. 2 halfback Donnie Stone has been working in the No. 1 backfield in the place of Rogers Overbey.

Shockers Tackle Bullpups Today

Coach Weldon Trice's Shockers were to face the Borger Bullpups here today in Harvesters Stadium at 3:30 p.m.

The Shockers were after their fifth victory this season. A loss would give the Pampa reserves a 4-4 record. The Shockers close out their 1956 campaign next Thursday by meeting Amarillo's Yannigans here.

The Shockers topped the Palo Duro Bees of Amarillo, 41-7, last week. Other victories have been over the Perryton B squad, Phillips B and another win over Palo Duro earlier in the season. Losses have been to Dumas B and Phillips B.

Roddy Osborne Is Busiest Back In SW Conference

By ED FITE

United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (UP)—Rolling back Roddy Osborne, a junior architectural student, drafted as Texas A&M's quarterback after turns at halfback and fullback, has been drawing some nifty plans on the football fields these Saturdays.

The rough-and-ready split-T signal caller of the nation's fifth-ranked Aggies has some of the finest tools in the Southwest Conference in jarrin' John Crow and joltin' Jack Pardee with which to work, but he's the kind of guy who likes to keep his own hand in things.

So, while Pardee, the blood-and-thunder fullback emigrant from six-man football, and the elusive Crow grab the headlines, Osborne has been methodically going about the "unspectacular" job of running the "keeper" or option play when the opposition gangs up on the stars.

As a result, with Texas A&M heading into Saturday's "big game" against Southern Methodist in Dallas for the conference leadership, Osborne is the busiest back in the loop and he has picked up more yards on the ground than either of his more touted teammates.

He has lugged the ball 104 times in seven games for 471 yards, but an occasional loss suffered while being trapped trying to pass cuts 64 yards from that figure, so his 407 net yards is good for only third among the circuit's rushing artists. Pardee ranks fifth and Crow seventh.

Osborne loves contact. And that puts him in solid with his coach, Paul Bryant, who's built a reputation by fielding teams with vim and vigor and desire.

Home Is No Help To NFL

By UNITED PRESS

Playing at home is supposed to be an advantage but you can't prove it by the 35 games played so far this season in the National Football League.

The visitors and home teams have broken almost even as they move into the second half of the campaign. The home teams have won 18 games and the invaders have won 17.

Loyal home fans also have had plenty of chances to boo the officials during the first half of the pro season.

The home club has been penalized more yards than the visiting team in 22 of the 35 games. The visitors were penalized the most yards in 12 games and two teams were penalized the same number of yards in the other contest.

New York and the Chicago Cardinals, tied for the Eastern Division lead with 5-1 records, meet at Yankee Stadium in Sunday's top game. The Cardinals are favored by seven points.

The Cardinals, who scored a 35-7 victory over the Giants at Chicago last month, are picked to win because Ed Hughes, one of New York's best defensive backs, probably will not play and two other secondary performers, Herb Rich and Emlien-Tunnell, aren't in top condition because of injuries.

Sunday's other selections with season records in parentheses: Detroit Lions (6-0) over Redskins (2-3) at Washington; Bears (5-1) over Green Bay Packers (2-4) at Chicago; Rams (1-5) over San Francisco Forty-Niners (1-5) at Los Angeles; Browns (2-4) over Baltimore Colts (2-3) at Cleveland; Eagles (2-4) over Steelers (2-4) at Philadelphia.

Harvester Cagers Continue Working

With their first game over three weeks away, the Pampa Harvester basketball squad continues its daily drills under the guidance of Coach Clifton McNeely.

The squad opened practice Oct. 15 with ten boys working for the November opener. Other players will report after football season is completed.

The Harvester cagers, who won the northern division of the 1-AAAA crown last year only to fall to Odessa in the district playoffs, have two returning regulars in Tommy Gindorf and Dickie Mauldin. The Harvesters finished with a 20-6 record last season.

Reapers Take On White Deer Bees

The Pampa Junior High Reapers were to close out their 1956 football season this afternoon with a scrimmage against the White Deer B team at White Deer. The scrimmage was scheduled to begin at 4:30 p.m.

Game Of The Week:

Panhandle To Host Sunray This Week

The Sunray Bobcats will be the homecoming opponents for Panhandle High School Saturday afternoon in the Pampa Daily News' game of the week as Coach Bill Davis' Panthers near the end of their District 1-A race.

The Panthers march into the contest in a deadlock with the deadly Stinnett Rattlers for the 1-A crown. Both are unbeaten in conference play with the title to be decided next week should the Panthers get by Sunray.

Sunray appears to offer very little resistance for the once-beaten Panthers. The Bobcats of Coach Red Cleveland, former West Texas State lineman, have won only one game in eight this season. Sunray has been playing football for only a few seasons but the Bobcats are improving under the tutelage of Cleveland and may give the Panthers a good battle.

The Panthers have rolled into high gear after dropping their opening contest to Wellington. Since then the Panthers have rolled up seven consecutive victories.

Davis is assisted by Billy West in the coaching department. Both are former Hardin-Simmons University athletes.

Game time for the homecoming affair is 2 p. m.

In other area contests this week, Stinnett plays at Wheeler, Gruver goes to White Deer, McLean plays at Canadian, Shamrock meets Wellington at Wellington, and Groom plays at Vega.

Series Stars Will Be On Spot Next Season

By OSCAR FRALEY
Untied Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—The stars of two straight World Series—Johnny Podres and Don Larsen—will be on the spot together next season as they attempt to prove they weren't one-shot big shots.

Podres won two games to give Brooklyn the 1956 World Series and then marched off to service. Larsen, never a big winner, came out of nowhere in the past classic to throw the first perfect no-hitter in Series history.

Which means that in another "first" the stars of two successive series will be on the griddle at the same time.

The odds, incidentally, are long against both of them coming through. Neither has ever won more than 11 games in a major league season and Podres still is suffering from a back injury which limits his endurance and threatens his effectiveness.

A Long List

And there have been a long list of World Series one-shot stars who came briefly out of nowhere and then went right back.

Some of the most illustrious cases are those of Gene Bearden of the Cleveland Indians, Johnny Beasley of the St. Louis Cardinals, Willy Moore of the Yankees, George Whitman of the Boston Red Sox and "Lucky George" Rohe of the "Hitless wonder" White Sox.

Bearden in 1948 won the Cleveland pennant playoff against Boston, captured the third game of the Series and then raced to Bob Lemon's relief in the final game. Yet never again did the strapping Gene have a winning season and five years later he was back in the minors, another shopworn hero with taunting memories.

Beasley's is another dramatic case. In 1942 he won 21 games and in the Series twice lamed a slashing Yankee lineup. Then came three years in service and, on his return, Johnny didn't have it any more. After one mediocre season, arm trouble checked him to a pair of victories over a three-year span. Beasley, too, disappeared down the lonehorns road.

Yankee Relief Star

Willy Moore was the iron man relief star, with 50 appearances, for that 1927 Yankee team on which Babe Ruth hit his record 60 home runs. He won the final game of the Series as a starter—and never came close again. After six years of journeying from one club to another, Willy stepped down.

If this doesn't seem like many failures among the one-shot stars, remember that most frequently the proven veterans or players who are accepted stars. But despite their glittering laurels, both Lar-

Pettit Leads NBA Teams In Scoring Again

By UNITED PRESS

Big Bob Pettit, who led the National Basketball Association in most scoring departments last season, is picking up where he left off this season.

The 6-9 forward from Louisiana State, who was the pro loop's top scorer in total points and had a 28.7 point per game average during the 1955-56 season, poured 34 points through the hoop Wednesday night to lead the St. Louis Hawks to a 107-101 victory over the New York Knickerbockers. In the only other game played, the Rochester Royals snapped a four-game losing streak in beating the Philadelphia Warriors, 81-80.

Jack Twyman's tap-in shot with 13 seconds left in the game enabled the Royals to gain their narrow victory over the defending champion Warriors. Paul Arizin, who scored 19 points for the sevens, had a chance to tie or win it in the closing seconds but missed two free throws.

Logart In TKO Win Over Harris

CHICAGO (UP)—Cuban Isaac Logart knows the quickest way to win his welterweight fights, and thus he might get a little chance real soon.

"He just flicked me with a glove in the right eye in the first round," said latest victim, Duke Harris, "and it was the fourth round before I could see again. Then he got me again in the sixth round and in the seventh he started to work on the other eye. That's when the referee stopped it."

Logart, who weighed 148 for the scrap, two pounds more than his television opponent, took the victory, scored in 15 seconds of the seventh round with a technical knockout as a matter of course.

Now he wants to meet Tony De Marco of Boston with the winner to get a shot at Carmen Basilio's 147-pound title.

Wille Hartack Rides

LAUREL, Md. (UP)—Wille Hartack, the year's leading winner, will ride England's By Thunder next Monday in the $100,000 added Washington, D.C. International race at Laurel Park.

sen and Podres still have to prove themselves over the long haul.

It will be interesting to see whether they can do it.

It's Defense vs. Offense In Engineer-Vol Contest

OUTA MY WAY, SUHI

Baylor, TCU Among Statistical Leaders

NEW YORK (UP)—The meeting of Georgia Tech and Tennessee on Saturday will pit the nation's best defensive unit in the past decade against the top scoring team in the past three years.

According to statistics released today by the NCAA service bureau, the Engineers from Georgia Tech are the least scored upon team thus far this year, a department they have led the last 10 years. And Tennessee, with a 31.3 point per game average, tops the nation's major teams in scoring.

During the past decade, Georgia Tech has allowed its opponents just 391 points in 104 regular-season games, or an 8.6 point average. Thus far this season the Engineers have given up an aggregate of 27 points, or 4.5 per game. Last year they led all major teams in this department with a 4.6 points per game average.

However, the Engineers aren't so tight-fisted in permitting their opponents to move up and down the field. Last year they were 10th in yards allowed, while permitting the least scoring, and currently are 16th in total defense, though first where defense counts the most. Oklahoma's 5.2 figure is next in the points allowed department followed by Miami (Fla.), 5.3, Tulsa, 5.7 and Penn State, Baylor and Texas Christian, tied at 6.5 points.

For the third straight week, Mississippi leads in total defense and pass defense while Navy is on top in rushing defense and Colorado A&M is the punting leader.

Mississippi's total defense average jumped from 149.5 to 160.4 to top the other major schools. Texas A & M, jumped from 16th to second after allowing Arkansas only 82 yards, all on the ground.

Navy's line held Notre Dame to only 55 yards to take over in rushing defense. Boston College, last week's leader, slipped to third behind Miami (Fla.). Navy's average stands at 101.8, Miami at 110.2 and Boston College at 116.8.

The Colorado Aggies, who've been among the top kicking teams all season, finally took over the leadership on six punts that averaged 46.5 yards last week against Xavier (Ohio). Their season mark stands at 42.6 yards on 39 punts.

49ers' Morrall To Be Inducted

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Quarterback Earl Morrall, number one field general for the San Francisco Forty Niners, has received orders from his Muskegan, Mich., draft board to report for induction Dec. 10, he disclosed today. The 22-year-old Michigan State All-American said he received his induction notice in a registered letter Wednesday night.

Hollywood Hotel Gets A New Title

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Marlon Brando in a bikini suit by swimming pool... Montgomery Clift in the penthouse... and Greta Garbo in the garage... what other hotel but the Chateau Marmont can make that statement?

The Marmont is so exclusive ve plain folks often can't get in. When Brando lived there before renting a house he showed off a Bikini bathing suit he picked up in Japan. Marilyn Monroe bunked at the Chateau while she was working on "Bus Stop" and the switchboard lit up every night with calls from her then suitor, Arthur Miller, in Reno.

ALL-SEEING "EYE" — Shown in operation is the Army's compact, new, all-weather radar "eye" that can spot a single enemy moving half a mile away. Pfc. Anthony Devlin, right, picks "enemy" as Pvt. Thomas Hughes traces enemy movement on plotting board.

Pentagon Is Great Inventor Of Words

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — The Pentagon is a great inventor of words and phrases — like, for example, "spendable dough."

This phrase has a lot of meaning for Army reserves. It has to do with the one day's pay each reserve gets for two hours' training per week.

The services hope that the little woman of the reservist doesn't hear about it. This spendable dough is over and above what the old man makes in the shop or at the office.

Getting back to Pentagon Jargon, here are some classic examples:

It's mad money, that's what it adds up to.

Plenty of Dough
A reserve Army captain now can run his spendable dough up to about $900 a year.

Hunk of Brass
Another kind of a "flap" is a hunk of brass who wants a report pulled together within 30 minutes — or less.

Following his hospital stay, his long-time friend, Libby Holman Reynolds, flew to his side and arranged for the suite.

Across the land, some 208,000 army veterans in the reserve program got spendable dough counting up to $95,000,000 in fiscal year 1956.

File 13: The "round file," or wastepaper basket.

Garbo usually stays at the Marmont when in Hollywood. On one trip she saw actor Richard Burton tinkering with his car in the garage and mistook him for the attendant. Burton happily parked her car.

Veteran stars such as the Gish sisters and Helen Hayes stay at the apartment hotel when in Hollywood. And currently the old (for California) establishment is the vogue for young TV and stage players from New York, who apparently huddle together for protection and/or comfort.

The management of the exclusive Marmont is publicity shy, so details about the Hollywood landmark have to be ferreted out of the tenants. Currently they include Anthony Perkins (the new star of "Friendly Persuasion"), Tom Ewell, Imogene Coca, Boris Karloff, Jane Dulo of the "Hey, Jeanie" TV series and others.

Penitagon pallor: in expression some of the wheels, minor as well as important, apply from what happens to them when they work until it's too late to get to the golf course.

DUCKS IN DRY DOCK — The old swimming hole has dried up and these disappointed ducks were left dry, if not high, on the pond of Oliver Fink's farm near Columbus, Mo. Drought has dried up hundreds of such farm ponds and wells and cisterns are at low ebb.
