New Arms Race Looms If SALT Session Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States may halt production of its Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile and build a larger, more powerful new ICBM if it cannot win significant cuts in the Soviet nuclear arsenal at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks.

Such a U.S. move, which would risk a deadly rebirth of the arms race, is known to be one of several hard alternatives that senior U.S. defense officials are considering should SALT fail to produce what they regard as a true nuclear balance between the superpowers.

Other less drastic options also under preliminary consideration include: — Full-scale land-based deployment of the Minuteman III, the most advanced version of the mainstay of the U.S. ICBM force. The present deployment lineup is 550 Minuteman IIs and 450 of the older Minuteman IIs.

— Developing a new mobile land-based ICBM force to provide a much more difficult target in event of attack.

— Increasing the firepower of each Minuteman III to six or seven hydrogen bombs capable of being aimed at separate targets. The present

Minuteman III warhead carries three such bombs, each with an explosive force of about 200 kilotons, equal to 200,000 tons of TNT.

U.S. officials would much prefer to see a negotiated nuclear balance emerge from the second phase of the SALT talks, which are expected to begin Sept. 20 in Geneva.

But they believe they have no choice but to consider the alternatives, despite their political and economic consequences, because of Russia's recent breakthrough in multi-warhead missiles and because of doubts about the Russians' willingness to negotiate away any part of their arsenal.

The interim Soviet-American nuclear balance which President Nixon signed in Moscow last year played the technological superiority of U.S. warheads against the greater number of missiles allowed the Soviet Union.

U.S. officials believe this interim balance would be tipped unacceptably in Russia's favor if she kept all her missiles and armed them with up to six warheads each, thus threatening survival of the U.S. Minuteman.

Kuwaiti Foreign Minister Sheikh Jaber Al-Ahmad As-Sabah talked to the hijacker by radio from the airport's control tower and persuaded him that his demand could not be met, the sources said.

He surrendered after 90 minutes of negotiations upon receiving a written promise that he would not be prosecuted, the sources reported. The man was arrested and held for questioning.

The plane had circled the airport for nearly two hours with smoke trailing from one of its propeller driven engines before officials gave it permission to land at 6:55 p.m. (10:55 a.m. CDT).

Kuwaiti authorities said they allowed the plane to land because "one of its engines was out of action, the fuel was running short and the hijacker threatening it with destruction," a statement by the Kuwaiti Interior Ministry said.

"After it safely landed, a dialogue took place between the hijacker and the foreign minister who was at the airport control tower. Following this dialogue, the hijacker was persuaded to surrender his weapons and himself," the statement said.

"He was taken into custody by security authorities for questioning and the passengers and crew were safely released."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Was there a serious threat on President Nixon's life last Monday in New Orleans, or did the Secret Service and local police fall embarrassing prey to nothing more than bizarre rumors and scare stories?

Yemeni Hijacker Gives Up

KUWAIT (UPI) — A Yemeni armed with a pistol and hand grenade and attempting to secure the release of persons sentenced to death in his homeland hijacked a North Yemen Airlines DC8 to Kuwait Saturday. He surrendered after being assured he would not be prosecuted.

The 10 passengers and six crewmen, Yemenis and Italians, were released unharmed, Kuwait's Interior Ministry said.

The hijacker, identified as Nasser Ahmed Abu Bakar, said to be in his 30s, had threatened to blow up the plane unless prisoners held in the Arab Republic of Yemen were released, Kuwaiti government sources said.

The Secret Service and New Orleans officials insist the threat was real. Six black militants are reported to have conceived the alleged death plot, and are still being watched closely.

Charges have been dropped against another suspect, Edwin Michael "Punchy" Gaudet Jr., 30, in what might have been a case of mistaken identity.

Gaudet, a former New Orleans policeman and prizefighter, contends he was in New Mexico, 1,000 miles away, at the time he allegedly threatened Nixon's life in a New Orleans drugstore.

A presidential assassination plot, real or suspected, is never routine but the New Orleans affair has aroused unusual interest for several reasons:

— The threat was made known by the Secret Service in advance of Nixon's arrival in New Orleans from Key Biscayne, Fla., a virtually unprecedented action by the agency.

— Nixon's speech before a Veterans of Foreign Wars convention, which he gave as scheduled despite the assassination scare, was regarded as the first of public presidential appearances after months of silence on the Watergate scandal.

— Nearly a week later, no one had been arrested or even charged in the conspiracy case, and charges against Gaudet, subject of an intensive manhunt in New Mexico at one point, have evaporated.

Was the threat a false alarm? New Orleans Mayor Moon Landrieu doesn't think so.

Jack Warner, spokesman for the Secret Service, dismisses suggestions the service pushed the panic button when it publicized the threat beforehand.

"We have to take appropriate measures to safeguard the life of the President. We do not believe we overreacted," Warner said.

Nixon had planned on the way to the convention hall Monday to wave to spectators along Canal Street from his partially open limousine, and even to get out of the car and walk into the crowd at one point.

Following its usual routine, the Secret Service had been reviewing its files of people in the area who were known to have threatened the President in the past. Many on the list were mentally disturbed and considered relatively harmless, but others were taken seriously.

One of those on the list was Gaudet, who three years before had thrown a burning American flag at Nixon's limousine.

On the Wednesday before Nixon's visit, a man identified as Gaudet reportedly walked into a drugstore in New Orleans and said, "Somebody ought to kill President Nixon. If no one has the guts, I'll do it."

Authorities intensified their search for Gaudet without success.

A clearer threat had emerged a few days earlier when an informer tipped New Orleans police that six black militants were overheard planning to gun down Nixon during the parade.

The Long Island, N.Y., newspaper Newsday said one of the six was "a known hater (assassin), a bad actor known to carry guns."

The Secret Service was said to have urged the police to put the men "in the icebox until Nixon leaves town." The police refused for lack of evidence, but promised to keep the six under surveillance.

Heightening the concern was New Orleans' reputation for exotic "conspiracies" and racial unrest.

With Nixon relaxing at his Key Biscayne, Fla., home during the weekend and in reports of security problems mounting, the Secret Service decided to act.

In Washington, Deputy Director Lilburn "Pat" Boggs telephoned the President's staff in Florida with a "strong recommendation" that Nixon not take the prearranged and publicized motorcade route on Monday.

Nixon reluctantly agreed. "Like any good politician, he didn't relish the idea of passing up a demonstration of support," said Alexander M. Haig Jr., the White House chief of staff.

The Secret Service, according to Haig, made two other suggestions vetoed by Nixon: that the New Orleans trip be scrapped entirely, or that the President drive swiftly down the motorcade route "buttoned up" inside his bulletproof limousine. The agency denies it requested these steps.

Meanwhile, some strange incidents were causing headaches for the New Orleans police.

Late Saturday night, a police uniform was stolen from the car of Officer Bennett Lacour, about 2 a.m. Sunday, the car of Police Commissioner Clarence Giarrusso was stolen from in front of his home. It was recovered six hours later, abandoned but with nothing missing.

Just before Nixon's departure from Florida, Warner called news services and broadcast networks in Washington with a brief statement saying the original motorcade route had been cancelled because of a "possible conspiracy" against Nixon's life.

"We had already started to get inquiries," Warner explained later, adding it would only have increased confusion and inquiries from reporters had the service kept quiet.

Gaudet was traced to a commune called Morning Star, 12 miles north of Taos, N.M.

Space Spiders Spinning Webs

HOUSTON (UPI) — Skylab's astronauts, happy possessors of man's spaceflight endurance record, Saturday retired space spider Arabella and gave her backup, Anita, a chance to defy gravity by spinning webs in weightlessness.

The Skylab 2 crew broke the old mark as the station crossed the equator above the Pacific Ocean after circling the globe for more than 11.5 million miles.

Garriott, who has been sharing his filet mignon with the crew's spider companions, shoed Arabella back to her traveling vial and coaxed Anita into the glass cage for the rest of the 59-day mission.

Garriott took pictures of the transfer and will return the film of Arabella's work, a sample of her web and the spiders to earth for more study.

Wheat Allotment Plan Explained

By EVELYN MASON
Executive Director
Gray County ASCS

Wheat allotments for Gray county farms will be about three times the size of the 1973 allotment. This will be in effect for 1974.

Wheat allotment will be based on the national allotment in 1974 of 55.0 million acres, announced on Aug. 16 by Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz, and the individual allotment notices will be mailed to farmers very soon.

The allotment represented the number of acres of harvested wheat, based on the estimated average yield, which would result in production equal to estimated domestic and export disappearance in the 1974-75 marketing year. The allotment does not restrict the amount of wheat that can be planted.

The 1974 wheat program was announced by Secretary Butz shortly after the four-year Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 was signed into law. He states the program is designed to encourage all-out production.

Following is 1974 program details: New to the wheat program is the target price feature. If the average market price for wheat is at or above the $2.05 per bushel target price, the producer will receive no payment.

If the price average is below the target, the producer will receive the difference between the target price and the average price received by all farmers during the period from July through November, 1974.

There will be no preliminary payments. Any payment due will be paid after Dec. 1, 1974.

If the five-month average price falls below the $2.05 target, a producer would be paid on an amount of bushels determined by multiplying the farm allotment times the projected yield established for the farm by the county ASC Committee.

As announced earlier, there will be no set-aside requirements for 1974 and there will be no conserving base requirements for the four-year life of the 1973 Act.

And, for 1974, producers may substitute any annual non-conserving crop or a cropland conserving crop used for hay or grazing in order to preserve their wheat allotments and to make them eligible for any payments under the target price feature. Crops for which a marketing quota is in effect are, of course, excluded.

Mobeetie Planning Annual Picnic Day

MOBEETIE — Labor Day will see the annual picnic and Old Settler's Reunion in this eastern Panhandle town, Mayor Calvin Stuart has announced.

The day's events begin at 9 a.m. and a free barbecue dinner will be served at noon on the grounds of the old jail.

At a recent meeting of the Historical Development Committee of Old Mobeetie, it was decided to restore the old town as it was between 1876 and 1900, a committee spokesman, said.

The town is to be restored on the original site, with main street running north and south from the courthouse square to the site where Uncle Johnny Long's general store stood in the early 1900's.

The Daughters of the Mobeetie Pioneers are asking for "white elephants" and arts and crafts to be donated to be sold at their booth on Labor Day. A cake sale will also be held.

Thirteen lots in the old town, directly opposite the jail, have been donated to the Old Mobeetie Restoration Association by the G.W. Seay estate but more lots in the old town are needed.

Robert Finney of Pampa and Kent Sims and Harry Wofford, both of Wheeler, will be the speakers at the picnic.

Wheeler County Sheriff Bus Dorman and his string quartet will provide entertainment.

The next Historical Development Committee meeting will be Sept. 10 at 5 p.m. at the Church of Christ in Mobeetie.

Turbine Blast Kills Panhandle Resident

BORGER — A Panhandle man was killed Friday at the Phillips 66 Butadiene Plant near here and another man seriously injured when a steam turbine on which the men were working "just blew up" and spewed shrapnel across the interior of the building in which the men were working.

Dead at the scene was C.L. Sams, 53, an employe of Phillips since 1945. In satisfactory condition yesterday at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo was E. R. Johnston of Borger.

Hospital officials in Amarillo said Sams was killed by pieces of metal that ripped through his heart. Johnston received similar injuries with several pieces passing through or lodging in his throat.

The explosion occurred at 3:40 p.m. Friday immediately after Sams and Johnston had completed repair work on the turbine.

Both Sams and Johnston were employed as pump and turbine repairman for the Phillips Butadiene plant.

Funeral services for Sams were pending yesterday with Smith Funeral Home in Panhandle.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, a daughter, five brothers, five sisters and six grandchildren.

Phone Co. Adjusts Rates For Long Distance Calls

Southwestern Bell Saturday announced an adjustment of telephone rates for long distance calls within Texas which will produce an after-tax revenue gain of less than $12 million ($23 million before taxes) to the company. This amounts to a little less than 2 per cent of the company's total operating revenues in Texas.

T.O. Gravitt, vice president for Southwestern Bell operations in Texas, said the new rate schedule will increase the cost of most three-minute intrastate calls from a few cents to a dime. The change is effective Sept. 24. Rates for local service and charges for long distance calls to other states will not be affected.

One Plus calls within Texas, which constitute about three-fourths of the calls, will still generally be lower than the average for 41 other states offering a One Plus rate. The other states do not have a One Plus rate schedule. On calls requiring an operator, Texas rates generally compare favorably with other states, with some states higher and some lower.

"The increase on long distance rates in Texas is needed to partially offset sharp increases in the cost of doing business," Gravitt said. He cited that telephone wages for 1973 will be $10 million higher than in 1971, and taxes for the year will be $40 million more than two years ago when the last intrastate rate adjustment was made.

The largest portion of the increase will be on One Plus calls, but this type of call will still be considerably cheaper than operator handled calls.

C-C Directors Plan Meeting

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet in monthly session Monday at 10 a.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices, according to Jerry Sims, president.

A number of reports concerning activities of the chamber during the summer months will be given and plans for the annual meeting of the chamber will be discussed in detail. Tuesday, Oct. 30, has been set as the date and the speaker will be Dr. W.C. Newberry, Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos.

A nominating committee will also be named at tomorrow's meeting to prepare a ballot from which Chamber members will select seven directors to serve three-year terms on the board of directors replacing the following whose terms expire: Ray Duncan, Warren Fatherree, Dale Greenhouse, Newt Secret, Jerald Sims, Roy Sparkman and Jim Stallings.

Sims urged all directors to attend the Monday morning meeting.

Bombing Wave Extends Against British Society

LONDON (UPI) — A bombing wave blamed on the Irish Republican Army extended into the upper echelons of British society Saturday. A bomb injured three persons at the Bank of England, another was found in a fashionable boutique and a bomb scare halted a cricket match, forcing 28,000 persons to evacuate the grounds.

Scotland Yard said the bombs were part of an IRA campaign to export the violence of Northern Ireland to England. Saturday was the seventh day of bombings in England.

The militant Provisional wing of the IRA said unofficially in Dublin that it was not responsible for the bombings, but Scotland Yard indicated the London branch of the IRA or a splinter anarchist group might be behind the bombings.

Prime Minister Edward Heath ordered an alert in all government offices and in nationalized industries.

Heath personally instructed that all government departments be reminded to take all possible precautions and be reminded of guidelines on recognizing and handling of letter bombs and other suspicious packages.

Police put heavy security precautions into effect on flights from London to Belfast. Passengers were frisked and all suitcases and handbags were searched.

At the Bank of England, a bomb went off in the mail room. Derek Woodward, 44, a member of the bank staff, lost a hand in the explosion. St. Bartholomew's hospital said.

WORRY CLINIC

Heed Howard's shrewd criticisms! For Jesus said, "Let the dead bury their dead." Christ thus focused on the current needs and vital interests of his congregations, using narrative style and parables, plus plectrics and stage materials to fascinate his audiences.

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

CASE X-596: Howard J., aged 22, is a seminary student. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I wonder why we don't get more stress on your practical psychology?"

"For our professors fill us full of Greek and Hebrew, plus some archeology, but fail to show us how to captivate the interest of parishioners."

"Since I handle a little church on weekends, while I am attending seminary, I have already learned the value of what you stress."

"For I have heard several of our seminary professors take church pulpits on Sunday and they almost put the congregations to sleep!"

"Why don't we get a course on magic tricks to illustrate sermon texts?"

"I'd also rather learn how to be a ventriloquist and thus attract young people, than to hear lectures about the Dead Sea Scrolls."

CONSUMER SURVEYS

In many fields of business and industry the stress has been on "Consumer Surveys."

Advertising agencies thus try to find out what the customer wants!

But seminary professors often try to focus on what THEY want!

If a teacher thus wishes to write an article to inflate his own scientific or professional prestige, he keeps lecturing on his pet hobby to his students.

Yet what will advance his own prestige may be of very little concern to those students who must occupy pulpits and try to fill the pews.

This same need for church "Consumer Surveys" would also permit the choice of far more popular hymns and special numbers by the choirs.

For Music Directors, like seminary profs, pick music to please themselves instead of the congregation!

And it is stodgy pulpit sermonizing plus strange or unpopular hymns, that are largely responsible for the decline of churches.

Now, dramatically, there is a sudden interest in "Key 73," which involves a census of each town and more stress on what the churches have ignored during the past liberal generation.

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Some of our most popular pulpit orators employ magic tricks to illustrate fascinating sermonettes for the kiddies.

Meanwhile, just watch the adult congregation, for they, too, lean forward in rapt attention to watch the sleight-of-hand performance by these enterprising pastors.

And ventriloquy on the part of preachers would bring far more people to church on Sunday than serious analyzing the Dead Sea Scrolls.

If you young pastors want to learn how to fill your church, go to your local library and read Chapter 18 in my college textbook, "Psychology Applied."

It is titled "Psychology Goes to Church" and covers the practical techniques for pulpit oratory, better choir music, church summer camps for teenagers, etc.

And send for my booklet "Public Platform Psychology," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

It will show you the surefire formula employed by Dr. Peale, Rabbi Samuel Silver, Bishop Sheen, Billy Graham and other superb "pros" of the American pulpit.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Worry Clinic, Hopkins Bldg., Hobart, Indiana 47388. Enclose a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Nice 'Pot' Display
ABILENE, Kan. (UPI) — A floral display with marijuana stems as greenery won a blue ribbon at the Central Kansas Free Fair this week.

Faye Harper of Junction City submitted the display, which was predominantly red.

"I thought it looked pretty nice because of the long, fern like leaves," Mrs. Harper said.

Marijuana grows wild in her backyard.

"I've tried killing it out, but the more I chopped it down, the more it came up," she said.

Police Chief Fred Garten permitted the floral arrangement to remain on display for three days, then he took it to his office.

Drugs toppled '50s star

Jay Robinson makes comeback

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — There's a light at the end of the tunnel. Jay Robinson can see it now even though it's been a long time in coming.

Jay's story — his early triumphs, his fall and now his comeback — is as dramatic as anything you will see on any screen. It is the comeback, that difficult but rewarding period he's now going through, which is the most heart-warming.

When he was still in his 20s, in the mid-1950s, he was a big star in Hollywood. He played Caligula in "The Robe," with Jean Simmons and Richard Burton, and repeated the role in "Demetrius and the Gladiators." He had big parts in a string of Twentieth Century-Fox films.

"Perhaps it was a case of too much too soon," he says now. Whatever the reason, he couldn't cope with all the glory coming his way. He had a Bel Air mansion and a Rolls but time was hanging heavy on his hands. Being a stage-trained actor, he didn't know what to do with himself between pictures.

He began experiments with drugs — nothing heavy, he insists, just pot and pills. He was arrested for possession of narcotics. Everything went — the mansion, the car, all his money and his career. His parents died, too.

He couldn't get a job. Even after his conviction was reversed it was tough.

"Those were the bad years," he says. "I got married and we lived in New York. I worked as a fry cook and I cleaned zoo cages. We were poor. We were often hungry."

When he came back to California, he was re-arrested on a technicality. This time, he had to go to jail, and served 15 months. They were traumatic months for a sensitive man.

While he was in jail he heard that "The Robe" was going to be shown on TV for the first time. He asked the warden for permission to watch the movie.

"Why do you want to see it?" the warden asked.

"Because I'm in it," Robinson said.

He was allowed to see it. After the show, a fellow con-

and Greer Garson rallied to my support."

He began his comeback with a role on Mannix, then did two other guest appearances on the same show. He began working regularly on TV in many shows. His first movie role since his release was with Bette Davis in "Bunny O'Hare." He did a bit with Woody Allen in "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex," has a good role in the upcoming "Deadly Honey-moon" and stars in the current release, "This Is a Hijack."

"It was the combination of the love of a good woman," he says, referring to his wife, Pauline, "and my own determination that is enabling me to overcome. Now I feel I may be a better man because of going through all those troubles."

His son, Jay Paul, who is now 12, is now violent on the subject of drugs. Knowing what happened to his father, he wouldn't touch a drug, his father says, for anything in the world. Jay Robinson today often lectures on the subject of drugs and what harm they can do to a person.

"I think," he says, "that my best era and my best roles are still ahead. I'm in my 40s now, and better parts are written for 40-year-olds than for 20-year-olds. How many Caligulas are written?"

In prison, they used to say "Hail, Caesar."

This might be a good time for a few "Hail, Robinsons."

Cable Station To Change Hands In Broadcast Deal

About 120 cable television systems in the Southwest that would have had to pay for about 30 hours per week of independent, original programming from the Christian Broadcasting Network (CBN) will soon get it free, according to an article in the Aug. 6, 1973 issue of Cable News.

The systems, including Pampa Cable Television, will also get a greatly expanded broadcast day from a new Texas "superstation."

The expansion is a result of a proposed switch in the management of KDTV, Channel 39, in Dallas coming up this fall, the magazine said.

CBN has announced an agreement is at hand with Doubleday Broadcasting Corp. involving a $5.4 million purchase of Channel 39.

CBN recently put KXTX-TV, Channel 33, on the air in Dallas but seeks a switch because of the improved production facilities and sizeable audience of Channel 39. If the deal is accomplished, call letters KXTX will shift over to Channel 39, Channel 33 will go up for lease and CBN will pick up the cable outreach of 39.

The broadcast day will be expanded, with the best shows from the old 39 and the new 33, plus all the independently produced CBN programs carried by 33.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

If you could virtually insure your child against having five dangerous diseases, would you make the effort?

State Health Department officials strongly emphasize that immunizing children against early childhood diseases is worth both the time and expense — for the child's health and the health of others.

Under ideal circumstances, only a few visits to a clinic or private physician are needed to complete the immunization schedule during the child's first year and a half of life.

You say "it's an inconvenience? There's no real threat you say? Don't fool yourself into thinking the "conquered" diseases are really conquered. Sure, your child is safer from disease than his or her grandfather might have been, but consider this:

—Two of the four cases of paralytic polio reported in Texas last year struck children under two years old.

—Children under the age of five were the target of almost 30 per cent of the 41 cases of diphtheria and about 35 per cent of the 20 cases of tetanus.

—43 per cent of the approximately 1600 cases of ordinary measles reported by age in Texas last year occurred in children under the age of five.

—Of the 185 reported cases of whooping cough or pertussis in Texas last year, 50 per cent of those whose age was recorded were four years old and under.

You say your child is strong and healthy and can withstand a few days in bed with a communicable disease? Think about children still to be born.

If your child has rubella and infects a susceptible neighbor, friend, or acquaintance during the first months of pregnancy, the chances are that the newborn, if the newborn does arrive, might suffer blindness, deafness, retardation, and heart disease.

Is it worth taking such a chance, when a single immunization for rubella could eliminate the possibility of your child causing such a tragedy?

A 1971 State law requires that all children entering school must be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles and rubella.

In those areas where no local facilities exist to provide immunization services, the State Department of Health will provide or administer the required vaccines.

OF LBJ Lady Bird Plans To Note Birthday

AUSTIN (UPI)—Lady Bird Johnson, marking "a poignant date" for her family, commemorates her late husband's 65th birthday Monday in Austin with the first issue of the Lyndon B. Johnson postage stamp and in Houston where the Space Center will be officially renamed for the former President.

"It is inevitably a poignant date for our family but any sadness is overcome by our gratitude for the many warm, kind things that are happening Monday," Mrs. Johnson said.

The former First Lady will visit Johnson's grave Sunday afternoon when Marine Col. Haywood Smith, LBJ's former military aide, will place a wreath at the site for President Nixon.

Starts Sunday Evening
A two-day round of receptions and dinners will begin Sunday evening with Mrs. Johnson hosting U.S. Postmaster General E. T. Klassen and three former postmasters general for a brief party at the LBJ library.

A reception for more than 500 former Johnson aides, Texas state officials, University of Texas administrators and postmasters from all over Texas will follow at 7 p.m.

The LBJ library on the UT campus will be the site at 10:30 a.m. Monday, for first day of issue ceremonies for the 8-cent LBJ commemorative stamp.

42 MAY DIE DPS Director Warns Of Labor Day Traffic

AUSTIN — Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today warned that 42 persons may lose their lives in Texas traffic during the long Labor Day weekend.

The holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 31 and runs through midnight Monday, Sept. 3.

Speir said the DPS is making preparations to cope with increased holiday travel.

"Every available Department of Public Safety patrolman will be on duty during this three day weekend, utilizing all resources we can put our hands on to prevent accidents," he added.

The DPS director noted special attention will be paid to hazardous traffic violations normally associated with a high holiday death toll. Patrolmen will be especially watchful for such offenses as speeding, driving while drinking, improper passing and driving on the wrong side of the road.

In addition to stepped-up enforcement activities, the DPS will also work with local law enforcement agencies and the news media of Texas to conduct an accident prevention program called "Operation Motorcade."

During "Operation Motorcade," tabulations and pertinent facts about all fatal holiday traffic crashes will be compiled three times daily and released to the news media. Notation will be made as to where and why accidents are happening.

Speir called the holiday program "a life and death struggle for the lives of our children," and he urged every motorist to cooperate in the effort.

Venezuela has a network of 11,590 miles of superhighways and first class paved roads.

IRS Makes Gas Pump Audit

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Morning News said the Internal Revenue Service has failed to find anything significant in a refinery to gasoline pump audit of the petroleum industry.

The audit, announced July 11 by James W. McLean, Cost of Living Council deputy director, was ordered to determine whether there were any inequities in distribution of fuel among outlets.

"We have not come up with anything significant," the News quoted a Cost of Living source. "If we had, it would surely have been published."

"It would have been made public because of all the claims that the oil industry has conspired to eliminate the small guys in refining and retailing."

The Federal Trade Commission and states of Florida and Connecticut recently filed charges against major oil companies that they were not allowing free competition.

Monday New State Holiday
AUSTIN (UPI) — Approximately 68,000 state employees, plus staff and faculty of state colleges and universities, will get a holiday Monday in observance of the birthday of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The 1973 Legislature approved a bill declaring Johnson's birthday a state holiday and made it effective this year.

Johnson, who died Jan. 22 of a heart attack on his LBJ ranch, would have been 65 Monday.

University of Texas officials announced that most of the school's employees will have the day off, but a minimal staff will be kept on duty to process students arriving for the opening of the fall semester.

In creating a new state holiday for LBJ's birthday, the legislature combined the holidays for the birthdays of Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis, making Jan. 19 "Confederate Heroes Day."

First Woman
AUSTIN (UPI)—Judge Mary Lou Robinson of Amarillo is the first woman ever appointed to an appellate level court in Texas.

She was named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe Thursday to replace Justice James A. Joy Sept. 1. Joy resigned.

Judge Robinson currently presides over 108th State District Court in Amarillo. She was selected earlier this year as state Woman of the Year by the Texas Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Three women were temporarily appointed to the State Supreme Court in 1925 when all the male justices disqualified themselves from hearing a suit involving Woodmen of the World, a fraternal organization to which they all belonged.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A new craze on the West Coast is hang gliding.

All you have to do is grab a pair of wings, strap them to your car and head for the nearest hill—preferably a steep one.

From there on it's hang gliding, and one of those who's tried her hand at it is Sue Weiniger, 26, who first tried the sport reluctantly.

Miss Weiniger made her first glider flight a few weeks ago and is doing okay for a beginner. She is one of the first women in San Diego to fly a hang glider and join UFO (Ultralight Flyers Organization.)

"I went up 200 feet on my first flight," Miss Weiniger remembers. "It was a thrill and I wasn't even scared. You feel like you're just floating through the air like a bird."

In a sport as dangerous as hang gliding, a few hours of preparation aren't wasted.

Tough cookie

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Cookie Monster, who swallowed an Emmy during the nationally televised award ceremonies, was so well known through his daily appearances on "Sesame Street" that he wasn't even introduced to the audience.

But few people remember when the same character was known as "Boggle Eyes," a monster who devoured everything, was far from lovable, and never cried out for "COOKIES." That changed when Jeff Moss, head writer for the popular educational series, wrote a sketch in which the ravenous and indiscriminate Monster coveted Muppet Ernie's milk and cookies. This fare whetted his obsession and gave rise to the name Cookie Monster.

Weiniger says: "We normally don't do that kind of thing. We just promote the sport and go out and jump off a steep hill for the fun of it."

She insists the few people injured suffered because of their own inexperience.

The UFO club goes out on weekends to places selected for good soaring conditions.

controlled by the pilot shifting weight on the control bar. While in flight, the pilot holds on to the control bar, which allows him to move left or right, skyward or downward.

A good jump will send a person from 500 to 3,000 feet high, but there's a drawback. The flight lasts only about two minutes, and once on the ground, there's that long walk back up the hill.

Youth Center Report

Memberships and Participation
Newcomers to Pampa should be interested in this full explanation about our use of the Center. First of all the Center is a private non-profit organization run for the pleasure of Pampans and persons from surrounding areas.

Our operational revenue comes from two sources — memberships and donations. Several individuals and businesses and civic clubs donate to the Center each year so that the cost of your membership can be kept at the very minimum of cost.

Memberships are divided into two categories according to use. The limited membership allows you to use the gym, recreation hall and swimming pool along with locker room use. Any activity in these buildings is included in your membership.

For an individual limited membership the cost is only $5 for six months or $8 per year. For a family limited membership the cost is only $12 for six months or $20 a year. This includes all members of the immediate family.

The more elaborate membership called our unlimited membership allows you use of all of the above facilities plus the use of the new health facility.

Our new health facility is one of the most used buildings we have. Housed in it is all our exercise machines, weights, dumbbells, health walkers, incline boards, sit-up boards, bicycles (both manual and motorized), jungle pulley machine, multiple press machine, leg and thigh curl machines, leg press machine, beauty bars, sun area, punching bag and many other machines.

Also there are two handball and racquetball courts, dressing room, reception room and sauna room.

Hours for the women are from 9 a.m. till 11:45 a.m. each morning Monday through Saturday and also on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7-10 p.m. Men's hours are from 11:45 a.m. till 9:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11:45 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursdays and 12 noon till 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Membership fees for the unlimited membership for individuals are $65 for six months or $118 a year. We have an installment plan for your convenience. A husband-wife combination costs only $90 for six months or $166 a year.

Square Dancing

The Center talks more about the teen dances because of the Youth Center name, but we do have an adult dance club which meets at the Center. This is the Calico Capers Square Dance Club for adults.

They meet on Saturday nights from 8-11 p.m. and dance to an out-of-town caller. The club gives lessons twice a year and participates in several jamborees each year.

Membership is open to the Calico Capers at all times. If you know how to square dance or not, the club will make provisions to teach lessons. You may visit the club on Saturday nights if you like them and they will explain how you may join.

Women's Exercise Class

Women! Set your sights on Sept. 5 this year for this will be the beginning of our fall exercise and swim class for all you women. Each school calendar year at this time, we kick off our program for the women.

At 9:15 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday all women members of the Center meet in the gym and exercise to a recorded session led by our resident instructor. Immediately following the exercise class most of the

NEW YORK (UPI) — Make way for something that doesn't happen often — money reverting to the U.S. Treasury because it couldn't be spent the way it was supposed to be. The news is in a bulletin from the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. To wit: "The $1 million authorized for the improvement of teacher preparation at the undergraduate level will revert — unspent — to the Treasury following an opinion of a consultants' review panel that none of the approximately 100 proposals met the criteria for funds."

Investment Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Industrial materials shortages, widely blamed on the freeze, are being seen to have more basic causes, now the freeze is over," according to Research Institute Recommendations. Worldwide inflation, environmental controls, the energy crisis and relentless demand are vital factors, the letter says. The shortages in the supply of plastics, for example, stem from the petroleum industry's inability to produce enough benzene and chlorine, heavily used in plastic, it adds. And the petroleum industry is beset by basic energy shortages, the letter says.

"The whirling winds have chilled the hearts of those who venture the Street," says Harris, Upham & Co.'s Market Interpretations. The astronomical price of gold in May and its impact on the U.S. dollar abroad, and the Watergate affair were countered by America's first trade surplus in 19 months and the easing of dividend guidelines, the letter says, but overall the market faltered during the summer months. "Summer will end, and autumn will bring with it a change in tides and a brighter moon," the letter adds.

Lionel D. Edie & Co. says higher projections for inflation in the second half of the year should reduce flows of savings and push interest rates toward still higher peaks. "One key pressure period is likely to occur in early September when banks have very large amounts of certificates of deposit maturing," the firm says. This should send "bank-sensitive money market rates" spiraling upward and may even inflate corporate bond yields, it adds.

Against a background of "monetary disparities and the inability of foreign governments to resolve them, many American companies have been looking into the possibility of picking up companies in other countries," says Alexander Hamilton Institute, Inc.'s Business Conditions Weekly. Although these acquisitions by U.S. and overseas companies are occurring at a rate of about 4,000 a year, nearly half end in failure, the letter says. A recent study of 407 foreign acquisitions revealed 25 per cent were money-losers and another 25 per cent barely profitable and likely to be unloaded shortly, it adds.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, AUGUST 28

Your birthday today: The drift pattern of the year is to wind down from whatever can be classed as overextended about your situation, to simplify and to seek the inner spiritual meanings of everything you are doing. Greater understanding makes possible a far richer life style with less material struggle, less waste of time and energy. Relationships firm up, become clear to all. Today's natives are perennial students, always exploring something new.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: If you let nature take its course, this can be a smooth-running, happy Sunday. Do what your community normally expects of you without undue fuss, then pursue personal projects, favorite pastimes.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: The trend is for you to find yourself in the center of a spiral of social activity, doing a share of the entertaining. Maintain close communication wherever you have a sentimental interest.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Beware of keeping up with the neighbors or anybody who seems to be a rival; you may wind up where you hadn't planned going. Find an amusing tale to tell, some story long enough past to have no bearing on the present state of affairs.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Plan a clear path for what you want to do rather than expect last-minute miracles of yourself in finding a way thru the unfamiliar. Stay with people you know; shy away from those who have different goals or none.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Life smooths out. The temptation is to simply let go and drift when you really should rouse yourself to make a few precautionary or decisive moves. Be sure to keep in touch with anyone you care about.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Bring your friends and loved ones along to share your favorite pastimes, an outing or a visit to familiar people and places. Those eligible are more than apt to find joy in romance.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Wear your best outfit, project your inner qualities to match the pleasing surface. Make it a fun Sunday as well as a search for personal serenity. Young people pose minor crises unless permitted to manage their own affairs.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Move gently but surely to acquire those things you are entitled to have, being consistent with your previous moves. Present to your local world the facade of your choosing; take whatever the consequences may be.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Now that at least some people are thinking of you in a serious way, get busy to develop a suitable environment for your favorite project—including romance if that's what your interest is.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Get your own diverse ideas and schemes straightened out. See if you can involve others in their expansion. Avoid flippant attitudes, practical jokes, amongst those you hope to stay near.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: All in all, letting well enough alone brings the most satisfactory results. Review your progress; see the blessings that have come to you; pray for more of the same thru the coming complexities of life.

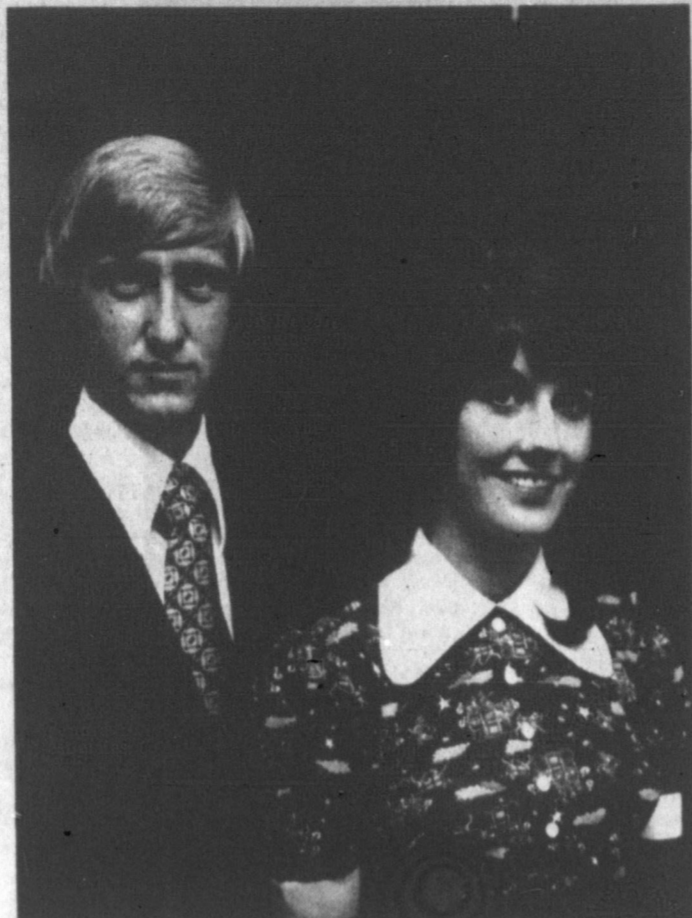

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Leave business and commercial activities, plus your after-hours concern with them, aside. Transform your holiday-mood sort of Sunday into a special celebration of being alive and free.

American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary met Aug. 16 at Furr's Cafeteria for a Dutch supper with seven members present. After the meal the president, Mrs. F.W. Shotwell, called the business meeting to order and the pledge of allegiance to the flag was given followed by a prayer by Mrs. Shotwell. The group gave the Preamble to the ALA in unison.

A letter from the state secretary was read and the group was informed that the national dues had been raised to $4 a year. If the local members pay their 1974 dues by October the 22nd of this year, each member may pay $3.50 for this year. The Auxiliary is urging each member to pay their dues as soon as possible, and take advantage of this saving. The group voted to purchase bronze grave markers for the Fairview Cemetery to be placed on deceased Veterans graves. They also voted to pay their Council of Club dues for another year.

Mrs. Bessie Foster gave the nominating committee's report with the following elected for officers for 1974 year: President, Mrs. Frank Shotwell; Vice President, Mrs. Lee Harrah; Secretary, Mrs. Ruth Sewell; and Treasurer, Mrs. J.M. Turner.

The next meeting will be Sept. 20 at Furr's Cafeteria.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, AUGUST 27

Your birthday today: Exploration of the unknown is the theme, direct or symbolic, for your daily living in this year of personal development. Relationships take an unexpected turn, require deep insight, prayerful reflection, bring you lasting joy when you find the upward path, sustain those you love. Today's natives are thrifty, seldom pay much attention to any advice, are willing to work hard to achieve worthy goals.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: There's a special premium on getting preparations done promptly, having a sound understanding of existing opportunities. No rush or need for final action—mid-week is soon enough.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Romantic possibilities lend excitement to the day. Get routine duties out of the way, even tho it's a lick and a promise kind of coverage. Ask for backing from those who can offer it, but late in the day.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Many ventures of speculative nature begin, and some of the most unlikely will succeed. Since you have no special gift for sorting them out, save your money for the sure thing. Social contacts bring good news.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: An early start has a definite effect on whatever you do today. Concentrate on effective communications, realizing that the same words can mean different things to different people. Find time for meditation.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: It's a good day for general progress, but with much temptation to get caught up in lavish outlays. Your friends let you in for extra expenses, as well. Home life turns a new corner, can improve.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: The week opens with some good questions and a puzzle or two to solve. Be definite about the business items you have worked out, seek advice on anything unfamiliar. Overtime is possible.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Actively pursue conservative programs. Keep an eye and an ear out for stray bits of information that do not fit the story you have thus far. A mystery begins to unravel for those who are alert.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Make sure your resources are readily available. Have a care how you utilize them. In the main, clear up and terminate whatever connections have turned out to be difficult or troublesome.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: The sudden opportunity for a side trip or a spot of fun along the way pops up. Be on the move, learning new things, but making no hard commitments. Later hours find you putting plans together for new enterprises.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Don't be overly serious about anything, and don't stay put. Someone you care about receives a promotion, good advance. Your enthusiasm is welcome according to the way you express it.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: News and information gathered today can put a whole new outlook on your enterprises—not for immediate reaction, but for a plan yet to be worked up. Keep essential routines going without fuss.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: It's quite easy to stir your local environment with your commentary. It's up to you what sort of influence you wish to exert. Today's questions are complex, but interesting to work out.

Cancer warning OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— Because their mothers were treated with diethylstilbestrol (des), many young women may be in danger of vaginal cancer, two California physicians believe. Dr. Robert R. Williams and Robert J. Schweitzer, writing in the California Medical Association's journal, urged that those daughters be sought and checked regularly. Early detection is imperative, they wrote.

How To Recognize Ragweed And Hay Fever Symptoms

Tons of ragweed pollen are blown across the country during the flowering season. It is often found along the highways, on vacant lots, in abandoned fields, and in your own backyard.

Common ragweed has hairy green stems, feathery parted leaves, and long spikes of green to yellow flowers that produce the pollen. It reaches a height of one to five feet. Giant ragweed ranges in height from 5 to 15 feet. Its lower leaves are usually three-lobed while the upper levels are three-lobed or simple.

For those allergic to ragweed pollen, the symptoms are classic: sneezing, nasal congestion, itching of the eyes and ears, running nose and breathing difficulties.

Medical treatment may include injections to desensitize the individual, medications to relieve the symptoms such as NTZ, a nasal spray containing Neo-Synephrine and an antihistamine. The physician may recommend other preparations or treatments, some available only on prescription, and particularly effective in stubborn cases. Air conditioners and room air filters have been found to help many victims feel better.

Although the hay fever season varies in various parts of the country, it is most widespread from mid-August to mid-September, when the weed flowers. Although the plant usually does not survive frost, it has been known to survive severe weather conditions.

Public health officials recommend that ragweed be destroyed before the flowering season when the tough pollen is produced. They suggest that the best way to prevent the spread of ragweed is to keep idle land covered with heavy growths of grass or other harmless plants.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By United Press International
To keep frozen foods from drying out use good moisture-resistant containers. If it's clean and durable, it will help preserve food value, color, flavor and texture.

Food should be packed tightly for freezing, but not too tightly. It expands as it freezes.

Don't overload your freezer, or it will slow down the rate of freezing and foods may lose quality and spoil. Usually, two or three pounds of food for each cubic foot of the freezer will freeze within 24 hours.

If the power to your freezer goes off, keep it closed. Food will stay frozen for two days, even in the summer. If the freezer is off longer than that, move food to a storage locker.

Wouldn't a nice strawberry shortcake taste good in January? Freeze some garden variety berries now and you can enjoy that treat when Jack Frost's knocking at the window pane.

Fruits and vegetables, if properly frozen, will keep a year without losing quality. Most vegetables that need to be cooked will freeze well. But cucumbers, lettuce, radishes and tomatoes lose their crispness when frozen and become limp.

Group To Needle Way Across Sea

By FRED McNEESE
RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Embroidery, once primarily limited to everyone's rich maiden aunt, has become more democratized as Americans turn to the various handicrafts to express their creativity.

But the embroiderers are still able to handle the democratic method with style consider: an Embroiderers' Assembly sponsored by the Textile Resource and Research Center of the Valentine Museum here.

While other groups may go the various convention centers throughout the country, the embroiderers have decided to go strictly first class—first class aboard the Queen Elizabeth 2, bound for England.

Embroidery workshops will be conducted while the Queen is at sea. After docking in Southampton, the group will go to London for special tours of textile and embroidery collections at the various museums, including a trip to the Royal School of Needlework.

Mrs. Mildred J. Davis, consulting curator of the Valentine Museum, said 30 persons have signed up for the 11-day assembly with more expected before the Queen Elizabeth 2 sails from New York Sept. 14.

"We are going to England because we feel that it is the fountainhead for many of the needle arts," Mrs. Davis said in an interview in the garden of the museum. "It abounds in marvelous museums. People still like to go back where it all began."

The Textile Resource and Research Center, open for three years, has sponsored Embroiderers' Assemblies every year with the number of persons attending the sessions jumping dramatically every year.

"It is growing beyond the wildest expectations of any of us who have been in this field for a long time," Mrs. Davis said. "Embroidery is big and growing all the time and without a doubt attracts some of the most dedicated people in the world."

With an eye to that increased popularity, Mrs. Davis said the textile center decided to sponsor a trip to England for persons who wanted to combine an overseas vacation with increased expertise in embroidery.

Men as well as women have signed up for the trip.

"The stigma is quietly and very effectively being erased concerning men participating and enjoying this activity," she said. "They enjoy doing it and they realize that you are not a sissy simply because you like to make beautiful things."

Mrs. Davis said some of the husbands attending the assembly, while doing no embroidery themselves, have become tremendously interested in the research field.

A fishing trip to Ireland has also been scheduled for the men.

The price of the assembly is $979, with caviar every night at dinner while aboard the Queen, complimentary wine on every dinner table and first class travel and hotel accommodations while in England.

Some of the persons going on the cruise are those who embroider only as a hobby while others will be embroidery teachers hoping to pick up new teaching methods. Mrs. Davis said finding qualified teachers is now a major problem.

"Embroidery is growing in such leaps and bounds that teachers just cannot be trained fast enough," she said.

Enjoy fruits and vegetables from your garden throughout the fall and winter by freezing them now. It's a simple way to preserve foods, according to Ethel Dieckrich, Extension food and nutrition specialist, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

FIRST BAPTIST WOMEN
Mrs. Alfred Cross, chairman, was in charge of the meeting when the Mission Study Group of First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. George Warren, 1800 W. 22nd, at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

She announced that the mission projects for the month of August are to help furnish school supplies for Girlstown and to bring items for "Christmas in August" which will go to The Grace Rescue Mission in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mrs. Cross reminded the group that Girlstown is still collecting Betty Crocker coupons to purchase a pickup truck. The coupons, supplies and gift items are to be given to

Mrs. H.A. Muns, Mission Action Chairman. Mrs. Muns has assigned the mission project for the month of September which is to visit shut-ins and homebound people. She feels the need for this personal contact in mission emphasis.

The "call to prayer" was given by Mrs. Paul Turner and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. A.N. King.

Mrs. Warren concluded the study of the mission book, "Mama Was A Missionary," by Charles Ludwig. A new book will be taught when the group meets in October for their first meeting in the church's new year.

The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Smith.

PTA
People Taking Action—For Every Child!

PTA is known by many names... Parent-Teacher Association... National Congress of Parents and Teachers... People Taking Action. Whatever it's called, PTA is one dynamic nationwide organization, with a membership of more than 8,000,000 people united in their efforts on behalf of every child.

In fact, the scope of the PTA is so great—it's the country's largest volunteer organization—that many members find it difficult to realize that they automatically become a part of this nationwide network when they join the PTA at their child's school.

Many are also unaware that a number of services to children which we take for granted today were accomplished with the help of PTA. Benefits as varied as the hot lunch program in schools... making kindergarten a part of the public school system... the Pure Food and Drug Act... child labor laws... automatic fire sprinklers and fire escapes in schools... the planning and promotion of an educational campaign for prevention of polio... the Drug Abuse Education Act... all were either sponsored or endorsed by the PTA.

Today, the PTA continues to be active in causes for children. Recent continuing programs designed by the PTA for action in the local community include "Project RISE" which can help assure every child the right to read; "Volunteers In The Courts" which can help a parent in trouble to a more productive life; "Smoking and Alcohol Education" which helps seek solutions to two of America's serious health problems; and a "Continuing Education for Parents" which can enhance family life.

PTA as an organization is not just concerned with tea-and-cookie meetings in a classroom or with raising funds to buy school equipment. PTA proves that achieving for children can be an exciting and challenging adventure. The PTA in Idaho sued the state for misusing and mismanaging land endowment funds intended for public education—and won. The PTA in Appleton, Wisconsin, supported a drug abuse education project which gained national attention. And PTA's in many parts of the country are taking a more active role at the decision-making level in their public school systems.

In PTA, there is something for everyone interested in being an achiever for children.

Membership in PTA is probably the best buy around these days. Only a few cents from your dues goes to support PTA's work nationally, and not much more for state branches.

When schools open this year, why don't you call and ask where you can join the PTA? If there's not a PTA at your nearest school, write the National PTA, 700 North Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611, and ask how to start one.

You, too, can be an achiever for children. Join the PTA—People Taking Action for every child.

EVERY CHILD NEEDS YOU is the theme for the administration of newly elected National PTA President, Mrs. Lillie E. Herndon. She invites you to share an adventure of greatest purpose and deepest commitment, that of becoming an achiever for children by joining the PTA.

The serving table was spread with a white lace cloth over blue. Vicki's chosen colors. The centerpiece was a miniature bride and bridegroom standing in a heart covered with white nylon ruffles with lilies of the valley at the base of the heart.

The large white sheet cake was decorated with a blue border with white sugar wedding bells in the left corner. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Grady McWhorter. The table was appointed with crystal nut and mint dishes and punch bowl.

Mrs. Kent Kelp, served the cake and Miss Debbie Maddox served the blue punch. Others assisting at the table were Mrs. Larry Owens and Mrs. Rick Smith.

Grizzard 'Country Girl'
NEW YORK (UPI) — George Grizzard will star with Jason Robards and Shirley Knight Hopkins in the Hallmark Hall of Fame production of Clifford Odets' "The Country Girl." Grizzard will play the sympathetic director, Bernie Dodd, who persuades his producer to give has-been actor Frank Elgin (Robards) a chance to redeem himself as the lead in his play when the original star becomes unavailable.

THIS IS WHAT THE AMERICAN FAMILY LOOKED LIKE IN 1897 when PTA was founded. PTA was working for the family then, and it continues to work for the family today. Millions of PTA members are working in your community, in your state, and across the nation to help strengthen family life. PTA members know about continuing education for parents... improving reading skills... the dangers of smoking... and alcohol and drug misuse... the importance of securing legislation favorable to education. PTA members just plain know how to get things done. Call your nearest school and join the millions of PTA "People Taking Action" for the welfare of the families of today and the future. If there's not a PTA in your school, you can write the National PTA, 700 North Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611, for information about how to start one.

Home Sewing Boom

COLLEGE STATION — Home sewing is one of the ten fastest growing industries in the United States, according to Mrs. Becky Culp.

"Because of this, the number of fabric outlets has quintupled since 1967," the clothing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension, Texas A&M University System, noted.

"Reported sales for sewing machines, patterns, notions and fabrics totaled over $3 billion in 1972.

"...rently there are over 45 million homesewers — and predictions indicate that by 1977, this figure will increase by 25 to 30 per cent."

Popularity of sewing stems from several factors — two of which are leisure time utilized for creative purposes and the resulting satisfaction gained by a sense of accomplishment, the specialist continued.

"Other important factors include high ready-to-wear prices, lack of selection and poor workmanship.

"Ease of sewing today's fabrics, abundance of available time savers and sophisticated promotional programs also have greatly boosted sewing popularities," Mrs. Culp said.

Another influence comes from menswear.

"From neckties to designer suits, menswear fabrics, patterns and notions are in demand."

Men sew too, the specialist added.

"Home economics programs have offered all-male sewing courses for several years — and surveys reveal that many new students take sewing more seriously than women.

"However, their interests are more highly associated along career aspirations — as tailors or retailers — than women students."

The average seamstress doesn't sew for necessity — but to stretch family income. For example, with today's rapid increases for food and housing, home sewing serves to release additional dollars in these areas as well as others held in special values by the family.

With today's wide variety, homesewers easily remain in vogue with the assistance of fashionable pattern designs and fabrics.

"As a result, home sewing has reached a level of maturity and sophistication that can challenge and motivate every consumer — no matter where his or her interests and needs may lie," the specialist concluded.

Name HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Hartford's Asylum Avenue was named for the site of the Asylum for the Education and Instruction of Deaf and Dumb Persons, founded in 1817. The school pioneered deaf and dumb teaching in the United States and is now the American School for the Deaf. The old site is now occupied by insurance company offices.

Tell daughter no more holes in the head

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 14-year-old daughter wants to have her nose pierced. She says all her friends are having it done. We let her have her ears pierced last year, and she got an infection which took a long time to get rid of.

Her father and I are against this nose-piercing business, but she is begging and begging. Please advise us.

OLD FASHIONED

DEAR OLD FASHIONED: Tell her as long as she's a minor and living in your home, she will have to abide by your decision, and you don't approve of the nose-piercing bit. When she's of age, and on her own, she may do as she pleases. [What's one more hole in her head?]

DEAR ABBY: Our mother passed away after a lingering illness two years ago. She carefully listed all of her possessions, stating what should go to each daughter and son after her death. Mother had some priceless antiques and heirlooms, including silver, glassware, china, furniture, and jewelry. She gave the list to Dad.

Dad did nothing about the list, and no one wanted to mention it to him for at least a year after Mother's death.

Three months ago Dad married a divorcee he had known only five weeks. [They met on a cruise.] Dad's new wife decided that she and Dad should sell Dad's home and move to an apartment with new modern furnishings. Then she announced she was going to auction off all of Mother's possessions, but she'd give "the family" a chance to BUY whatever we wanted first, at the appraised price.

We reminded Dad about the list Mother had left. He says he can't find it.

We are heartsick and don't know what to do. Don't suggest we consult a lawyer. If we were to sue, it would be a public scandal, and we're too proud a family for that.

DISGUSTED IN BUFFALO

DEAR DISGUSTED: Where is Dad while all this is going on? Tell him how you feel about this greedy maneuver and ask his cooperation in dividing your late mother's possessions according to her wishes as you remember them.

DEAR ABBY: About three years ago you printed "A Mother in Law's Prayer." I thought it was hilarious and carried it around with me for a long time. Somehow it got away from me. Will you please print it again? There must be quite a few people who haven't seen it. And those who have will enjoy a good laugh repeated.

YOUR FAN IN FLORIDA

DEAR FAN: With pleasure. Here it is:

"O, Lord, help me to be glad when my son [or daughter] picks a mate. If he brings home a girl with two heads, help me to love both of them equally. And when my son says: 'Mom, I want to get married,' forbid that I should blurt out: 'How far along is she?'"

"And please, Lord, help me to get thru the wedding preparations without an squabble with the 'other side.' And drive from my mind the belief that had my child waited a while, she or he could have done better."

"Dear Lord, remind me daily that when I become a grandmother, that my children don't want any advice on how to raise their children any more than I did when I was raising mine."

"If you will help me to do these things, perhaps my children will find me a joy to be around, and maybe I won't have to write a DEAR ABBY letter complaining about my children neglecting me."

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 6970, L. A., Calif. 90008. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90008.

A plaintive letter from Florida reads in part, "I am sure that I have read in bridge books and newspaper articles that when you hold the three top honors in trumps you should play a high honor from the hand with two of them when you start to lead the suit."

"I won the club lead, played my king of spades and had to go down one since West showed out."

"Was I wrong, or were the books wrong or maybe was my partner wrong to raise me with just three trumps?"

We'll answer the last question first. North was right to raise immediately to three spades.

Now for the second question. The books were not wrong. Give North the 10 instead of the eight of spades and our correspondent would have made the book play because if both opponents followed he could claim; if one showed out he could finesse against the jack irrespective of where it was located.

Finally, our correspondent was wrong. He had no worries unless all four trumps showed up in the same hand. He could do nothing but go down if West held all four, but if he started by leading a spade to the ace and West showed out he would be able to lead twice through East's jack and 10 and make the grand slam in spite of the bad break.

Too much BONN (UPI) — Germans eat too much and their food is too rich and sweet, says Katharina Focke, Minister of Public Health.

One in every three German adults and one out of every 10 children is overweight, Mrs. Focke said in her annual health report. She said a survey disclosed that many Germans consume more than 3,300 calories per day when 2,600 should suffice.

How can a woman get the job she wants? If she becomes pregnant, must she quit? Such questions and others are among those answered in the newest almanac, the Illustrated Women's Almanac (Armitage Press Inc.). The publication is being brought out in regional editions. The publisher says they are aimed at women living in Washington D. C., Baltimore, Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Louis areas. The publisher also says the Almanac is useful to anyone adopting a child, selecting a daycare center, using credit, volunteering for community work, going back to work. Editor Nancy Morrison Torrey of Cambridge, Mass., says the Almanac aims to provide a guide for city women to organizations, services, advice and ideas in their immediate neighborhoods, and in the wider world of society.

En-Lightening Information

"En-lightened" homemakers use electricity more efficiently — they study light bulb labels and keep bulbs, fixtures and ceilings clean.

Package labels list three ratings — watts, lumens and bulb life. Lynn Bourland, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, explained.

When purchasing bulbs use this information to achieve more economical home lighting, she continued.

"One guide commonly used in buying bulbs is the wattage rating.

"Wattage measures electricity used in bulb operation — it doesn't indicate how much light is received from the bulb."

The specialist noted that several bulbs using the same total wattage as one bulb may not produce an equal amount of light. "As wattage increases, amount of light per watt also increases. For example, a 100-watt bulb provides at least 50 per cent more light than four 25-watt bulbs."

Lumens, on the other hand, indicate bulb efficiency — or the amount of light, on the average, consumers can expect when using a bulb.

"The third rating, bulb life, is the number of hours of use expected before the bulb burns out. This figure indicates average life expectancy, although some bulbs last longer.

"Several factors affect bulb life. For example, excessive heat, high voltage and vibration reduce it," Miss Bourland said.

Until recently, longer-life bulbs meant less light — so they weren't recommended where seeing was important. These conventional longer-life bulbs don't produce enough light for reading, studying and working, she said.

"They're ideal for hard-to-reach areas or fixtures — such as stairwells, attics or high ceilings.

"Recently, however, bulbs have been designed which last longer than regular ones without severe light output reduction.

"Improved longer-life bulbs feature different sources of power. One uses Krypton gas, and another relies on an improved strength or power coil.

"Compared to a regular 75 watt bulb — which has an average life of 750 hours and average output of 1170 lumens, the new 'super coil' 75 watt bulb is rated to have an average life of 1500 hours and light output of 1075 lumens.

"Naturally, improved bulbs cost more than regular ones," the specialist added.

"Incandescent bulbs usually found in homes give from 10-20 lumens for each watt of energy consumed. Most have a life expectancy of 750-1000 hours.

"Fluorescent tubes furnish 80 lumens or more per watt, with an average life of 7500 hours on a cycle of three hours burning per start.

"Frequent starting of fluorescent tubes shortens their life," she warned.

Other factors — besides lumen ratings — affect how much light a bulb gives off. Miss Bourland pointed out,

Finalists Announced In Blue Ribbon Food Fair

The Blue Ribbon Food Fair, a national awards program open to Home Economics Teachers in junior and senior high schools across the nation, was held last spring in Chicago, Ill. The Food Fair Program, sponsored by Favorite Recipes Press, one of the nation's largest cookbook publishers, awards a total of $5,000 for the best recipes submitted in specific categories. These cash awards were presented during a reception and dinner at the Drake Hotel to honor the five Food Fair finalists.

At the Food Fair, the five finalists, who were selected from hundreds of entrants, prepared their own recipes for sampling by a panel of judges. The judges were Ruth Stovall, Program Services Branch Director, Division of Vocational - Technical and Higher Education, Alabama Department of Education; Sue Spittler, Food Editor, Sphere, The Betty Crocker Magazine, Chicago; and Jeanne Voltz, Food Editor, Woman's Day magazine, New York.

The grand award of $2,500 was presented to Mrs. Margaret Ann Bruce, Forestville, Calif. Runners-up received cash awards of $1,000, $750, $500 and $250. They were: Miss Borghild Strom, Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. Linda E. Bailey, Powhatan, Va.; Mrs. Donna N. Ray, Vancouver, Wash. and Mrs. JoAnn Bailey, Elkton, Md.

Approximately 500 of the best recipes are collected in a new cookbook just off the press, the Blue Ribbon Poultry Cookbook, which is sold for $3.50 by Home Economics classes for their fund raising programs. Big Bubbles Shaping ...Up On Campus

NEW YORK (UPI) — They're blowing bubbles on college campuses — bigger than the wildest dream of a kid fashioning soap bubbles.

The bubbles are known as encapsulated structures or air-supported shelters. Such buildings are held up by air pressure. They were developed in 1946 by the U.S. military to protect radar stations.

Later the armed services used the huge bubbles for supply depots and hangars. Industry went to bubbles for warehouses. Private athletic clubs used the bubbles as cold-weather covers for pools and tennis courts. The bubble structure next hit the world's fair scene. Some 10 years ago, the Forman School in Litchfield, Conn., made a bubble athletic field.

That first use of the bubble on the academic trail proved that such structures could be erected for $2.14 a square foot compared with the going rate then of $8.28 for a conventional gymnasium.

Economy is one reason the Educational Facilities Laboratories (EFL), a Ford Foundation creation, is supporting the development of bubbles on eight college campuses in 1973. The aim at the schools: encapsulate all or parts of the campus.

The schools: Antioch College, Columbia, Md.; LaVerne College and the University of Santa Clara in California; Milligan College in Johnson City, Tennessee; the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis; South Dakota State University in Brookings; Florida Junior College in Jacksonville; and the Charles Wright Academy in Tacoma, Wash.

For several of these projects EFL retained David Geiger, the engineer for the air-supported U.S. Pavilion at the World's Fair in Osaka, Japan. He studied changes in the Osaka design that would permit use of this structural form for fieldhouses, stadiums and the eventual encapsulation of complete college campuses.

The Johnson City building for Milligan College is modeled after the U.S. Pavilion. It will be supported by four blowers and will be completed in the fall.

South Dakota State University is doing a feasibility study for a multi-purpose facility that will meet the needs for physical education, the arts, an exposition area and a museum to serve the state as well as the university.

The bubble structures aren't a passing fancy. Last spring the First National Conference on Air Structures in Education took place in Columbia, Md. From America and abroad came some 400 educators, architects, engineers, businessmen and students.

The bubble on view showed that inflation has pushed up the basic bubble price. But it's still a good buy, just as was the one at Forman school.

The 1973 price comes to around $5.50 a square foot. That compares to the current cost of conventional building, from $20 to $40.

A chewing gum manufacturer had a cool idea for an old-fashioned product. So chewing gum now comes in three popular ice cream flavors — vanilla, chocolate and strawberry, eight sticks to the package.

A new model 8-ounce vacuum bottle is virtually unbreakable. It contains no glass, says the manufacturer. The plastic containers were designed especially for children's lunch boxes. Urethane insulation keeps milk cold or cocoa hot for up to five hours. Bottles have leakproof stoppers and are stain and odor resistant.

A manufacturer says he's tackled the rolling waistband and wrinkled cuff. The Los Angeles company has introduced a combination hanger with a spring-loaded spreader for trousers and skirts. One hand squeezes while the other positions the garment. The jacket hanger portion is constructed of quality hardwood with a stainless steel cross bar. The skirt and pants spreader detaches.

Maddox-Slagle

Mrs. Jackie Maddox, Chanute, Kan. and Ken Maddox, Borger, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Vicki Dianne Skellytown, to Johnny Al Slagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Slagle of White Deer. The ceremony will be solemnized at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 29, in the White Deer United Methodist Church with Rev. Roark, pastor, officiating the ceremony. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of White Deer High School and attended Frank Phillips Jr. College at Borger. Her fiancé, a 1969 graduate of WDHS, served three years in the armed services and is presently employed with Celanese Corp., Pampa.

Appliance Service Contracts

COLLEGE STATION — Today's appliances perform many modern wonders — until something suddenly goes wrong.

"Repairing these appliances is expensive. As a result, many consumers turn to service contracts," Lillian Cochran, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, said.

Usually these contracts are offered consumers when an appliance is purchased, she noted.

Some consumers consider a service contract "a way of insuring appliances against high repair bills."

"For an annual fee or set amount, the buyer receives an agreement to repair the appliance as often as needed without further charge."

"This eliminates concern over cost of appliance repairs. Purchasers won't see another repair bill — as long as the service contract is in effect."

Another big advantage is "deliverance from lemons." A chronically ailing appliance becomes someone else's "headache," Miss Cochran added.

"Nevertheless, a service contract may or may not be a good deal."

"If a repair bill is higher than the service contract cost, the consumer saves money. But when service isn't needed in a given year, money was paid out unnecessarily."

Also keep in mind that some appliances are less likely to need service, the specialist continued.

"Those with numerous mechanical parts — such as automatic washers or dishwashers — usually require more service during their lifetime than appliances with few or no moving parts — such as ranges."

When considering a service contract, read it thoroughly to understand its terms, Miss Cochran emphasized. "Make sure you know precisely what it does — and doesn't — cover."

"Find out your obligations — as well as the seller's agreement."

Before signing a service contract, determine:

—What is covered — parts, labor, number of calls.

—What are the time limitations? A contract may appear to be a bargain, but cover only 9 months instead of a year.

—Is there a limit to number of service calls?

—Are you paying for protection on parts already covered by warranty?

—If you move out of the

When buying shoes, fit is first.

Have pants had it with the girls heading back to school? Some fashion seers say the student in a skirt no longer will be in the minority in the classroom — as was the case in many schools last academic year.

For party time there's no argument about the skirt length for little girls. Long dresses of gingham or calico score everywhere.

Blue jeans are so neaten that it's hard to tell them from dress pants. The blue jean shape, at least, comes in plaids, stripes and solids other than blue.

Little flirts this fall will flaunt their shiny patent T-straps on Sunday-go-to-meeting occasions. Or else they'll keep up with big sister in their nearly grown-up pumps, bowed at the throat with a golden rand sparkling the toe and heel.

Ostrich facts
CHICAGO (UPI) — The ostrich is a watcher, and that's how he got an undesired reputation for foolish cowardice.

These birds, which sometimes weigh 300 pounds, are equipped with keen eyesight, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. When resting or hiding may sit and stretch their lanky necks along the ground to peer intently at some far-off object. At a distance only the ostrich's bulky body is visible, hence the belief that the bird hides its head in the sand.

A tragedy
HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — One of the city's greatest tragedies came July 6, 1944, when the "big top" at Ringling Circus caught fire, killing 168 persons. The body of a girl, 6, never claimed, was buried by the city. The grave was marked "Little Miss 1565."

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

It's Almost Unbelievable... Stocker Cattle Numbers Also Show Increase... Screwworm Season Approaching.

Crop conditions throughout the state are described in almost unbelievable words: excellent, best ever, prospects couldn't be better.

Already, a wheat crop of more than twice the size of last year has been harvested in Texas, a total of 95,200,000 bushels plus a new record high per acre yield of 28 bushels. Texas is the fourth ranking state in the nation in winter wheat production.

Grain sorghum harvest is virtually complete in Central Texas with excellent yields reported. Several farmers have reported yields of 5,000 pounds and above on dryland. Prices, too, are the best ever.

Over the state, grain sorghum harvest is halfway finished. On the High and Low plains, good rains have increased dryland crop potentials.

Peanut harvest is active in the southern half of the state, but is still behind last year's schedule. A good dryland crop is now indicated.

Cotton harvest in the southern area is also lagging behind schedule. Cotton from the High Plains to the coastal bend is making good to excellent progress.

Insects, as usual, have been problems in many areas. Cotton root rot is also a problem in Central Texas due to rains in June and July.

Soybeans, a crop which is going to become more and more important in Texas in the years ahead, are making excellent progress throughout the state in areas where it is produced—the High Plains, East Texas and the upper Gulf Coast.

Soybean acreage in Texas this year is twice that of last year. Total acres are now set at 450,000.

Good rains recently throughout parts of the state have revived short-range conditions and replenished stock water. Range conditions are described as generally quite good.

One of the best hay crops in history has been made in Texas this year; the only problem is a shortage of baling wire in some localities.

Fall sheep and goat shearing is underway on the Edwards Plateau and the Trans-Pecos areas.

STOCKER cattle on Texas farms and ranches as of July 1 is estimated by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at 5,495,000 head. This compared with 4,911,000 as of Jan. 1. Stocker cattle exclude cows, replacement heifers, 500 pounds and above, bulls, and cattle on feed.

Stocker cattle numbers as of July 1 are sharply above Jan. 1 where the cow-calf operations are dominant. Numbers as of July 1 are down from Jan. 1 levels on the northern High Plains where Jan. 1 numbers were at a higher level because of stocker cattle shipped in for winter wheat pastures.

Stocker heifer, steer and bull calves under 500 pounds total 4,534,000 head, which represents 73 per cent of the 1973 estimated calf crop.

SCREWORM build-ups are expected throughout the state as the fall season approaches. Generally, this has been one of the best screwworm-free years in Texas in a decade.

With the fall season's approach, producers are urged to check livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock for screwworm control, and submit suspected screwworm samples to the fly laboratory at Mission for verification.

Cooperating with this plan can mean a continuance of the success of the screwworm eradication program the rest of this year, officials at the fly lab at Mission say.

Corn, Grain Sorghums Helped By The Heat

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Heavy corn and grain sorghum harvests moved ahead the past week with dry, sunny weather providing good conditions for the operations, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today.

August's traditional dry weather, however, is provoking more and louder pleas for rain in many areas of the state. Only the Gulf Coast and the Lower Rio Grande Valley regions reported generally adequate to surplus moisture, and frequent showers have delayed harvesting and planting of some crops.

The Extension Service noted that beef cattle marketing is on the increase in a few parts of the state, and prices have actually dropped a little where runs have been heavy. Weather conditions have been generally good for hay making, one of the main farm activities, but baling wire shortages continued.

Grain sorghum harvesting is about done in the state's southern third, about half finished in the central region and is starting strongly in the north. Good yields are reported almost everywhere. The overall pecan crop is expected to be light because of unfavorable weather, and insect and disease attacks.

Corn harvesting is underway, with fair to good yields reported. Rain would help late-planted fields.

Cotton looks generally good in most areas. The crop is opening and fruiting in North Texas and well along in the central growing sections. Showers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley have slowed cotton harvesting and damaged the grade somewhat, but more than 43,000 bales have been ginned so far.

Vegetable harvesting is going on in the north and northeast, while fall planting in the Valley is waiting for dry fields.

Overall, ranges and pastures are holding up well, but will need rain soon, particularly in West, North, East and Central Texas. Livestock also are in good shape, and the market is strong.

Texas Farmers Using Restraint
COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Farmers in Texas are deciding with "cautious restraint" how much wheat acreage to plant in 1974, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service grain marketing specialist said Thursday.

"Wheat producers are skeptical that prices will remain at profitable levels through the harvest of 1974," Dr. Roland D. Smith said. "These growers vividly remember the mid 1960s when they were asked for maximum production which ultimately led to several years of depressed prices."

"Some major reasons for apparent changes in the world wheat situation include the opening of markets in Russia and China, the changing international money values favoring U. S. products and the rapid economic growth allowing more of the world's people to upgrade their diets. These factors are causing strong consumer demand for wheat and other products abroad," he said.

THE CRITTERS are in short supply indeed in this view of the Union Stockyards at Omaha, Neb.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
Several irrigation farmers have visited the Water Conservation District Office in recent weeks requesting advice on the advantages of installing underground irrigation pipe.

According to the Soil Conservation personnel of Gray and Carson Counties the advantages are many.

According to figures released by the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District approximately three miles of underground irrigation pipe were installed during the past year. This pipeline will cut down on the waste of irrigation water through leakage and evaporation.

Li. Gov. Bill Hobby was in Perryton Tuesday night of the past week to participate in ceremonies honoring Sen. Max Sherman. In a news interview in Perryton, Hobby showed that he has an awareness of the water problems of West Texas. He took a strong stand on the proposal by Water, Inc. that water be imported from the Mississippi River by below New Orleans to the High Plains.

His statement concerning the excessive costs indicated that he had studied the cost figures in relation to the economic gains and agreed that the cost was too great. He suggested that we start looking to other sources. He mentioned Arkansas and the Arkansas River as possible sources where the cost would not be excessive.

In line with his ideas and those embodied in a Senate resolution, he has set in motion a statewide regional committee to find a solution for the water problems of the state.

The state has been divided into four regions with a committee set up in each. Sen. Jack Hightower heads the West Texas Water Study Committee. Sen. Max Sherman has been named as the Coordinator for all four committees.

The goal is to come up with water problem solutions and any necessary legislation needed for implementation of those solutions.

Many national business leaders and congressmen are now taking another look at the contribution of irrigated agriculture toward easing our foreign balance of payments. Current figures released by the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce show that the huge agricultural exports during the second quarter ending June-30, 1973, have contributed to the first surplus in U.S. balance of payments since 1969.

The April, May and June quarter report revealed that the U.S. had an eleven billion dollar turnabout from the ten billion dollar deficit during January, February and March of 1973.

Atty. Gen. John Hill indicated, in a Texas Water Conservation speech in February of 1973, that his office was going to get tough with the water polluters of the State of Texas. He apparently meant what he said.

The first-jail term for water pollution is hanging over the head of Harold W. Jones, plant manager of Rhodia, Inc., located on the Houston Ship Channel. District Judge Arthur Leshner sentenced Jones to 60 days in jail, but suspended the sentence if the Company corrects an arsenic discharge problem by November 30, 1973.

The Company was fined $2000 for four contempt of court cases on a 1971 order requiring an end to arsenic discharges. Engineers have estimated that the French owned company will have to spend approximately $95,000 to correct the problem.

This column reported earlier this year that the Environmental Protection Agency and the Texas Water Quality Board were in disagreement over which of the two should have the authority to issue permits on the disposal of wastes in Texas. The impasse has still not been reconciled. The Environmental Protection Agency is unhappy over the low penalty of $1000 per day levied by Texas for violations of permit conditions.

Many of the smaller cities located around the perimeters of the states larger cities are finding needed water supplies hard to come by. Farmers Branch, located on I-35 on the northern edge of Dallas, had a big hassle with Dallas on Monday of last week over acquisition of a water supply contract. Farmers Branch has appealed to the Texas Water Rights Commission to set a fair rate.

Dallas water officials stated that water will be supplied to Farmers Branch, up to a maximum of eight and one-half million gallons daily. On August 12, the usage went over that amount and Dallas closed the pipeline valve to Farmers Branch and refused to open it. Farmers Branch used vigilante action and forcibly opened the valve.

The next day Dallas watermen cut the flow back to 8,500,000 gallons per day. Farmers Branch watermen immediately opened it up to 9 million gallons per day. This time Farmers Branch police stood by to watch as the Farmers Branch water engineers changed the locks so Dallas could not lower it to the contract agreement of 8,500,000 gallons per day.

Farmers Branch then instructed its attorney, Frank Brought, to go into court to secure a temporary restraining order and injunction against Dallas.

What Caused Current Shortage On Market?

COLLEGE STATION — (Sp) What factors really caused the current "shortage" of meat — the boycott earlier this year or the government price ceiling?

This question was posed by Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock market specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, to about 600 people attending the opening session of the two-day Combined Beef Cattle and Forage Short Course at Ramada Inn here.

"The old concept that a producer is a price taker rather than a price maker is undergoing a rapid change in this instance," Uvacek said. He emphasized that while the boycott in April was real and probably did have an impact on the total price of beef, it may have caused the producer to pull back on production, thus creating shortages.

"We have moved from the boycott phase to just the opposite viewpoint where consumers are concerned," Uvacek added, pointing to trends of hoarding meat.

The marketing specialist said that after Sept. 12, when the price ceiling is scheduled to be lifted, fed cattle prices were expected to rise and then fall back to about 51 cents per pound during the pass-through phase. "This price rise, however, may actually already have been anticipated and therefore realized," Uvacek added.

His prediction for November saw fed cattle selling from 52 to 53 cents a pound, with the price range for the first quarter of next year prevailing around the 50 to 52-cent level.

"Feeder animals — those weighing 600 to 700 pounds — are currently selling from $5 to $7 a hundredweight above the comparable fed steer prices. By this fall, however, feeders should move more in line with finished cattle prices and should range from $2 to $4 per hundredweight above fed cattle prices," Uvacek forecast.

"Cow prices should follow along with feeder trends, but here we are talking about salvage value, since there are few cow offerings," Uvacek added.

Dr. H.O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture with the Texas A&M University System, spoke on general production trends and the overall economic impact of beef cattle and forages as he welcomed participants to the short course, entitled "Increasing Beef Cattle Profit Opportunities With Forage."

"There is a fine potential for increasing profits through the use of improved forages and overall management, careful attention to the concept of three-cows-per-acre per year grazing systems, and the high intensity - low frequency grazing systems," Kunkel said.

Emphasizing that the discussions on protein supplementation, minerals, winter pastures, forage-related disease problems, and current and future forages are extremely important to producers, Kunkel said the short course is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with A&M's Animal Science and Soil and Crop Sciences Departments.

Raw isn't better
ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—It is not true that foods are always more nutritious in their raw state, says Dorothy Weack, a University of California home economist.

Carrots, cauliflower and spinach are made more digestible because cooking breaks down the cellulose walls, releasing nutrients, she says.

Guesswork Preventing Production
CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — As long as the Nixon administration keeps farmers guessing about economic strategy, no "all-out" effort to produce more food can be expected, according to American Farm Bureau Federation President William J. Kuhfuss.

"Farmers and ranchers do not know from one day to another whether the Nixon administration, responding politically to uninformed consumer pressure, will announce export controls on wheat and feed grains," Kuhfuss told the Charles Town Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

Kuhfuss said the President's Food Advisory Committee to the National Cost of Living Council, of which he is a member, did not know what new methods President Nixon planned to employ until they were reported by the news media.

"Farmers are by nature risk takers, but with the government controlling the odds through price manipulation, agricultural producers are operating under a major handicap," he said.

A hearing has been set by the Texas Animal Health Commission for 9 a.m., Sept. 18 in Room 117 of the Sam Houston State Office Building in Austin for the purpose of receiving views from producers on a proposed Brucellosis Eradication Program to be implemented in the State.

We have, for several years, operated under a modified brucellosis free program. Under the present program, it is recognized that some brucellosis does exist. I have two copies of the newly proposed regulations and I would be happy to lend one to you if you are interested. Today there are 30 States that are Brucellosis Free. These states are pressuring the other states that are not in this category to attain a certified free status. There are several ways, none of which are easy to qualify a county.

It is my understanding some area meetings are to be held. It boils down to an effort to completely wipe out any remaining brucellosis in each of the counties in Texas. We have known for some time this would be coming. As this progresses we will keep you informed.

Chief Choctaw
Lately the Chief has been too busy to look into his crystal ball. He will have something to say later. If you need stocker calves and you now have a home for them, some time within the next two to three weeks would be an excellent time to lay them in.

They will not follow the pattern of wheat but look for some real strength to develop in the stocker market. Then, it will be a slow but sustained price rise. More about this later.

Swine Meeting.
A Top of Texas Pork Producers meeting is scheduled to be held at the Courthouse Annex Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Lacy Montgomery from Memphis will talk on Building Systems and John Fair, executive vice-president, will give a report on activities of the Texas Pork Producer's Association. The public is invited.

Two Testify Buyers Using High Pressure

AUSTIN (UPI)—Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, and farmer Marvin Stole of Taylor told the House Agriculture Committee Thursday buyers used "high pressure" tactics to get growers to sign cotton contracts this year.

The contracts, signed in early spring, will cost Central Texas farmers millions of dollars, Kubiak said.

Kubiak, who attended the meeting with 36 farmers from Falls, Milam and Williamson counties, said the farmers signed contracts to sell their cotton prices ranging from 22 to 35 cents a pound.

Since the agreements were signed, the cotton prices have jumped to as high as 55 cents, he said.

Kubiak and the farmers asked the committee to push legislation requiring cotton buyers to honor the contracts when cotton prices drop below contracted prices as well as when they skyrocket.

The lawmaker said some farmers had contracted to sell their cotton in the past, and buyers skipped out on the contracts when prices dropped below the agreed sale price.

"For many of us, this was our first experience at going into contracts, and we went into it too hastily," Stole told the committee. "I wouldn't say that I'd never contract to sell again, but I don't think I will."

AUSTIN — About 300 lawyers will attend the State Bar of Texas section and committee assembly here Sept. 14-15 at the Joe C. Thompson Center of The University of Texas. Bar executive director H.C. Pittman announced.

The group will honor members of the Constitutional Revision Commission and other state officials with a reception Sept. 14 at 6:30 p.m.

The general session, including some 70 committees and sections, will open Saturday, Sept. 15, at 9 a.m. with remarks by Bar president Leroy Jeffers of Houston. This will be followed with individual section and committee meetings during which program plans for the Bar year will be made.

The section and committee assembly is held semi-annually — in the spring and fall.

Braniff Admits To Illegal Contributions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Braniff Airways Inc., bowed to the urging of the special Watergate prosecutor and admitted making an illegal contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

It was the seventh major corporation to disclose a contribution. Braniff officials said in Dallas the airline gave $50,000 in personal and corporate funds to the Nixon campaign. Federal law prohibits corporate contributions to political campaigns. The New York Times reported government investigators believe a total of 15 or 20 corporate names are on a coded White House list of donors. The report said these donations, which would apparently be illegal, totaled as much as $1.5 million.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox, who is investigating illegal contributions, had no comment on the report. Cox has urged corporations to admit such contributions and promised to consider voluntary disclosure as "mitigating circumstances" in his prosecution of the cases. Earlier, American Airlines, Ashland Oil, Gulf Oil, Goodyear Tire and Rubber, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing and Phillips Petroleum admitted contributions ranging from $30,000 to $100,000.

D&D Guest To Review Geology, Energy Crisis

Pampa Desk and Derrick Club will host Richard L. Parker, vice president of exploration for Alpar Resources, Inc., Monday night at Jim's Steak House.

The meeting will begin with dinner at 7 p.m., followed by a presentation by the guest on "Geology and the Energy Crisis."

Parker, a native Californian, attended the University of Alaska and graduated from Stanford University. While in Alaska in 1946-47, he prospected for gold within the Alaskan Arctic Circle area for New York-Alaska Gold Mining Company.

Parker moved to Midland in 1952 as assistant stratigrapher to Dr. Ted Jones, Union Oil Company of California, and helped open their Amarillo office in 1955. The following year, Parker, along with Boone Pickens and Bob Aikman, started Petroleum Exploration, Inc.

Since 1958, Parker has been independent, having operated with Bill Allen in the early '60's as Allen & Parker. Afterwards, he formed Alpar Resources, Inc., with Jack Allen. The company operates approximately 63 wells in the Anadarko Basin, the majority of which are in the Texas Panhandle.

Parker co-authored a paper on the Morrow Series of the Texas Panhandle for AAPG in Tulsa. He was instrumental in the discovery of the Farnsworth Field, the Allen and Parker Marmaton Field, the Hutch granite wash and Pre-Penn Field, and the new Gem Tonkawa Field in Hemphill County.

IN MATCH PLAY

Super Mex Downs Jack

CARY, N.C. (UPI) — Lee Trevino, with an eagle and three birdies, upset Jack Nicklaus in a battle of titans Saturday with an overwhelming 4 and 3 victory in the second round of the $150,000 U.S. Professional Match Play Championship.

Trevino's stunning victory followed a wave of upsets that swept U.S. Open Champion Johnny Miller and Masters Champion Tommy Aaron out of the rich event.

Trevino squeezed past Dan Sikes 1-up in the first round earlier in the day, then said, "I shot about par this morning, and that's not good enough to beat Jack. I might last through about the 15th hole this afternoon."

But Super Mex charged into the afternoon match with Nicklaus and reeled off birdies on the first and fourth holes at MacGregor Downs Country Club to take a two-hole advantage.

He gained another hole when Nicklaus bogeyed No. 8 and then gunned in a 12-foot putt for an eagle three on the par five ninth hole for a four-hole advantage after the front nine.

Trevino and Nicklaus both parred the 10th and 11th holes, then Big Jack took a bogey four on the par-three 12th hole to fall yet another hole behind.

They parred the 13th with fours, but Trevino ran into trouble on the par-four 14th with a bogey while Nicklaus finally caught fire with a birdie, dropping Trevino to a four-hole advantage with four holes to play.

They then parred the 15th hole and it was all over.

Trevino will meet John Schroeder and DeWitt Weaver goes against Tom Weiskopf in the semi-finals of the match play Sunday over the 6,786-yard, par 71 course.

Trevino and Weiskopf were the only two of the eight players who prequalified for the match play to survive the first two rounds.

Vikes Down Oakland

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Rookie running back Chuck Foreman scored two touchdowns Saturday to lead the Minnesota Vikings to a 34-10 pre-season victory over the Oakland Raiders.

Foreman, the Vikings No. 1 draft choice from Miami of Florida, gained 62 yards in 10 tries and scored on runs of 29 and 6 yards.

The Raiders took the lead in the first quarter when Willie Brown ran 82 yards with a blocked field goal.

From then on the Vikings dominated the game. They outgained Oakland 385 to 279 yards in total offense and had a 258-188 advantage in passing yardage.

The victory was the third straight for Minnesota in pre-season play. The Vikings have given up only one touchdown on defense in those three games.

HS Players File Suits

DALLAS (UPI) — Two high school students filed separate suits Friday in federal court asking that their school districts be ordered to allow them to play football.

The first suit was filed by Walter R. Stock, father of John C. Stock, a senior and football captain at Bishop Lynch High School in Dallas. The parochial school had kept Stock from playing his senior year because of his alleged role in an altercation last November during a game.

In the altercation, Stock — captain of the team — and others allegedly started a disturbance which followed "one game official making an obscene sign."

Stock said in the suit filed with U.S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes that he has not been told of charges against him, and that the school's refusal to allow him to play eliminates any chance he might have of obtaining a college football scholarship.

Blue Pitches A's To Win

OAKLAND (UPI) — Vida Blue pitched a four-hit shutout for his sixth straight victory and 15th of the season and Sal Bando gave him all the help he needed with his 22nd homer in the fifth inning Saturday in leading the Oakland A's to a 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

It was the A's 12th victory in the last 13 games while the Yankees suffered their fifth consecutive defeat.

Blue, who has seven losses, didn't give up a hit until the fourth when Mike Hegan lifted a long fly to right-center which went for a triple when Bill North lost it in the sun. But Blue saved his shutout when he retired Bobby Murcer on a short foul to leftfielder Joe Rudi and then the A's infield ran down Hegan on a smash to short by Thurman Munson. Munson made second on the play but Blue retired Graig Nettles on a tap to second.

NFC East:
Dallas Cowboys

By Murray Olderman

PROSPECTUS

The Cowboys profess hunger again. You got to reckon with a team that has the most successful record in pro ball for the last 10 years. But Tom Landry has depth problems. The key to their season will be how healthy their starters stay. Retirement has rubbed out a lot of the old championship guys. It'll be interesting.

OFFENSE

PASSING — Landry talks competition, even figuring Jack Concannon as challenge to Roger Staubach-Craig Morton duo. But this year Roger gets the full shot to emerge as the sole boss of the attack. Good

RECEIVING — Not many teams could afford to lose Lance Alworth. Ron Sellers, Mike Ditka and still feel confident about their pass-catching. Need strong comeback by Bob Hayes as split receiver and Otto Stowe, who came from Dolphins, to realize his potential. Jean Fugett, coming strong, looms as the light end by himself. Good

RUNNING — Only question is depth. Calvin Hill, with strong 1,000-yard season, and Walt Garrison, tough monkey, are fine one-two punch. Squat Bob Newhouse backs Garrison and maybe Bill Thomas, hurt year ago, will justify top drafting in '72. Can also use Mike Montgomery, who's getting trial as wide receiver. Very good

LINE — Solid and veteran. Only change in sight is John Fitzgerald replacing recalcitrant Dave Manders at center, and his size is better suited to the odd defenses. All the other four — Rayfield Wright, Ralph Neely, John Niland, Blaine Nye — are all-pros. Very good

DEFENSE

LINE — Increasing gap between caliber of tackles and ends. Bob Lilly, even at 34, is class of NFL, and Jethro Pugh complements him perfectly inside. Cowboys won't be embarrassed by Larry Cole, Pat Toomay at ends, but they aren't devastating pass rushers. Good

LINEBACKING — With a Chuck Howley, Cowboys never had to apologize for fact their linebackers are small. They're still small, but there's no longer (we think) Howley. D. D. Lewis now joins Lee Roy Jordan and Dave Edwards, with rookie Rodrigo Barnes moving into a support role. He's also a small linebacker. Fair

SECONDARY — Look for Cowboys to keep up trend toward zone defense. Mainly it's because that covers any flaws in Charley Waters at corner and Cornell Green and Cliff Harris at safeties. The ace of the deep coverage remains Mel Renfro, with a sound leg now. Good

KICKING — Marv Bateman has no ball of fire as rookie punter, but Cowboys still feel he'll develop. Tiny Tom Fritsch looks like the best suited goal kicker, long or short, the club's ever had. The kick return units have been just fair. Good

This is a squad that still has winning poise and it gets a good break in the early schedule — first in division.

Pampa--Looking To 1973

By PAUL SIMS
Sports Editor

"We still haven't had enough contact to know who's going to start for us this year," said Harvester head football coach Buddy Williams, whose philosophy is a logical one — play the best man at each position.

While most high school coaches have already decided on starting lineups, Williams is waiting before making any definite decisions.

"If a kid's doing a better job than someone else, we'll put him in the game." And so Williams finds himself with 11 slots to fill both offensively and defensively.

"We looked real good last week, we had four good practices. Our offensive and defensive lines have got to come along — and so do our linebackers."

"Our running backs are doing a good job," said the head coach.

"We've been pleased with our quarterbacks. Leverich (Rick) and Quarles (Chuck). They're both better now than they were in the spring."

"Our split ends, Lewis (Howie), Smith (Ricky) and Price (Willis), have been doing a good job too. Joe Watkins, who plays tailback and corner back, has been coming along real good, and so has Terry Moore. We moved him from the backfield to offensive guard."

Four offensive and six defensive starters return off last season's 5-5 team, which tied for third in 3-AAAA with Tascosa, Caprock and Berger. Williams' Harvesters were picked to win the district title prior to last season. Amarillo High has been labeled as this year's team to beat.

Pampa will run an 11-slot offense, compared to the Washburn Williams tried last year. Defensively, the Harvesters will go into a 5-2-4.

Centers contending for the starting job are juniors David Hampton (6-0, 167), Eldon Taylor (5-10, 161) and Roy Morris (5-10, 178), and Steve Weatherly (6-9, 172).

Senior Keith Mitchell (5-10, 172), junior Joe Holt (5-9, 174), senior Rick Carpenter (5-11, 157) and junior Dick Blain (5-10, 214) are left guards. To the right of center are junior Joe Graves (5-11, 219), senior Ronnie Minnick (5-10, 169), senior Moore (5-9, 172) and senior Jimmy Staus (6-0, 170).

HS Players File Suits

DALLAS (UPI) — Two high school students filed separate suits Friday in federal court asking that their school districts be ordered to allow them to play football.

The first suit was filed by Walter R. Stock, father of John C. Stock, a senior and football captain at Bishop Lynch High School in Dallas. The parochial school had kept Stock from playing his senior year because of his alleged role in an altercation last November during a game.

In the altercation, Stock — captain of the team — and others allegedly started a disturbance which followed "one game official making an obscene sign."

Stock said in the suit filed with U.S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes that he has not been told of charges against him, and that the school's refusal to allow him to play eliminates any chance he might have of obtaining a college football scholarship.

Left tackles are junior Dane Rasmussen (6-2, 195), junior Ron Willett (5-10, 167), senior Randy Linville (6-0, 163) and senior Mark Warren (6-1, 220). Right tackle are seniors Bill Cox (6-2, 180), Dennis Chance (6-6, 212) and Steve Randall (5-10, 194), and the only sophomore on varsity, Joe Coutts (6-0, 185).

Seniors Tony Frogge (5-11, 165), John Thomas (6-0, 150) and Deanie Lewis (6-0, 160), and Mark Baird (6-1, 168), a junior, are tight end candidates.

Senior fullback candidates are Jack King (5-11, 171) and David Nipp (6-1, 179). Junior fullbacks are Coy Free (5-10, 166), Bucky Arrington (5-8, 133) and David Smith (5-10, 170).

Slotbacks are junior Mike Adair (5-9, 147), senior Chuck Reeves (5-9, 147), senior Johnnie Cook (5-10, 152) and senior Robert Yeager (5-9, 140).

Contenders for starting tailback are junior Tim Thornburg (5-10, 156), and seniors Joe Curtis (5-10, 152), Watkins (5-9, 165) and Steve Mathis (5-10, 159).

Mathis is recovering from knee surgery and Williams doesn't know when his best running back will be able to play.

"Mathis was released by his doctor Thursday, and when he'll play depends on how hard he works to get his knee ready. It all depends on him now," said Williams.

Defensive life ends are King, Thornburg, Cook and senior Eddie McCarty (5-10, 140), and on the right side of the line are Carpenter, Frogge, Baird and Staus. Tackles (left side) are Graves, Linville, Chance and Warren. Right tackles are Cox, Rasmussen, Willett and Blain.

Rounding out the five-man front are noseguards Mitchell, Randall, Minnick and Couch.

Left-side linebackers are Nipp, Hampton, Arrington and Free, and Moore, Holt, D. Smith and Weatherly are Williams' right-side linebackers.

Cornerbacks are R. Smith, Reeves, Curtis, Watkins, Adams, Adair and Thomas. Safeties are Leverich, Quarles, Hendricks, D. Lewis and H. Lewis round out the defense.

Williams lists Leverich, H. Lewis and Willett as punters; Watkins, Baird, King and Yeager as place kickers, and H. Lewis, Watkins, Couch and Rasmussen as kickoff men.

Pampa coaches besides Williams, who will also coach linebackers, are James Kauffman, offensive coordinator and defensive tackler; Scott Dunham, defensive coordinator, defensive secondary and offensive backs; Jim Morgan, quarterback, split and defensive ends, and Eugene Jennings, offensive line and defensive noseguards.

Shocker coaches are Bruce Davis, head coach and offensive line, defensive ends and linebackers; Gary Newcomb, offensive and defensive lines, and Ronnie White, offensive and defensive backs.

Sandy Miller is Pampa's trainer.

Pampa opens against Hereford at 8 p.m. Sept. 7 in Harvester Stadium.

U.S. Athletes Return Home From Russia Satisfied

MOSCOW (UPI) — On the heels of triumphant victories by their men's basketball team and swimmers, United States athletes went home happy losers Saturday with the close of the Seventh World University Games.

Although beaten, 68-19, in the gold medal chase by the host Soviet Union, the Americans restored much of their prestige on the final day of competition with a surprisingly easy 75-67 victory over the Russians in the finals of the men's basketball competition.

Coupled with that, the U.S. swimmers, led by Jack Tingley's second gold medal of the games, swept five of the seven firsts contested and wound up with a 16-6 edge over the Russians in that category.

It was the basketball final, however, that gave the Americans their most satisfaction. Haunted by the memory of last year's 51-50 defeat by the Russians at the Olympics, and wearied by the unending publicity from Wednesday's chair-slinging brawl with Cuba, the U.S. cagers fast-broke the Russians to an early death with a crucial 13-point spree midway through the first half.

Thompson Leads Again
Once again, it was North Carolina State's high-flying magician, David Thompson, who was the hero for the United States, scoring a gamehigh 24 points and tacking on to that at least a half dozen blocked shots.

"I'm glad I was able to have a part in this," said 7-foot-4 Tom Burleson of Newland, N.C., an N.C. State teammate of Thompson's. "It's a personal satisfaction beating the Russians. I only wish the other 11 guys in Munich could be here too."

Burleson, the only member of the American team to have also played at Munich, scored 10 points—all in the second half—while Quinn Buckner of Indiana was the other U.S. cager in double figures with 12.

The American swimmers also were ignoring the Russians' overall gold medal total and, in the third straight day of chilly, autumnlike weather, took firsts in the women's 100-meter backstroke, 200-meter medley and 400-meter freestyle relay plus the men's 1,500-meter freestyle and 400-meter medley relay.

The 6-foot-7 Tingley had the easiest time of it, using long and powerful stroke to win the 1,500-meter freestyle by a half pool length in a game record time of 16:02.2.

Tingley Joins Teammates
After winning the 400-meter freestyle on Thursday, Tingley thus joined teammates Allen Poucher of Jacksonville, Fla., and David Johnson of San Diego as the only three U.S. athletes to win two individual gold medals in the Games.

The American women did their share with 1-2 sweeps by Ellen Feldman of Virginia and

Elizabeth Tullis of Scottsdale, Ariz., in the 100-meter backstroke and Susie Atwood of Long Beach, Calif., and Cathy Carr of Albuquerque, N.M., in the 200-meter medley.

Miss Feldman, matching Miss Tullis stroke for stroke over the last 50 meters won by a half-stroke in 1:07.0, while Miss Atwood's medley time was a games record of 2:26.4.

"I think we did very well under weather conditions more fit for football," was head U.S. Coach Peter Daland's observation.

Only solace of the day for the Russians was a 1-2 sweep in the men's 100-meter breaststroke behind Nikolai Pankin and Igor Tcherdakov and an 82-44 rout of the Americans in the finals of women's basketball.

Perryton Rangers To Contend With Demons For 1-AAA Crown

PERRYTON — One of the best offensive combinations in the Panhandle, center David Johnson to quarterback Jim Dear to end Russ Elledge, is the reason forecasters are saying Perryton will probably be the team that dethrones 1-AAA champ Dumas in 1973, if anybody does.

Don Beck's Rangers are returning only those three players offensively and three on defense, so inexperience could overshadow a strong passing offense.

But Beck's optimistic. "Everybody's coming around pretty good. We looked real good the first few days of workouts but when we put on pads, we didn't look so good."

"But we're coming around now, people are getting better." Perryton came one touchdown short of winning 1-AAA's title last year, losing to the Dumas Demons 12-7 the ninth game of the season. Dumas went on to lose to Burk Burnett in the quarterfinals, 7-6.

What forecasters are really saying is that the winner of this year's Nov. 9 Dumas - Perryton contest will again represent the district in post-season play.

Beck will run a Split-T offense and a 5-2 defense. Johnson and Dear are returning both ways, and the team's other defensive regular is senior linebacker Bryan Wyman (5-9, 180), who is also Perryton's starting fullback.

Johnson, a 6-5, 193-pound senior center, heads the offensive line.

"David's an extremely fine football player, he's one of our most aggressive people," Beck said.

Right guard is junior Bobby Click, 5-11, and 201 pounds, and directly to the left of Johnson is senior guard Rod McGarraugh, 6-0 and 201 pounds.

Tackles are (right) Robert Blodgett (6-0, 220), a junior, and (left) Jess Boyles (6-1, 181), also a junior.

Elledge, a 6-0, 185-pound senior, is Beck's split end. Elledge made all - district at that position last season, and according to Beck, "He has good hands, he's aggressive, and he has adequate speed. Speed is probably his shortcoming; if he had 10-flat speed, he'd be tremendous."

Time end is junior Perry Kennedy, (5-9, 150).

Dear, a senior, 6-4 and weighs 191 pounds, was 1-AAA's honorable mention all - district signal - caller last season. Dear is also the Ranger punter.

Wyman (5-9, 180) will start at fullback.

Beck is looking at two men for the right halfback position — senior Robert Palmer (5-10, 161) and senior Dale Deike (6-1, 183).

Senior Rodney Shank is the Rangers' left halfback. Shank, injured much of last season, is 5-10, 176 pounds.

Elledge and Johnson will start at defensive ends, while McGarraugh and Click will fill the tackle slots. Dallas Stwalley (6-3, 275), a senior who will also play a lot of offensive guard for Beck this season, is the defensive middle guard.

Linebackers are junior Mike Osborne (170), junior Chuck Bohner (180) and Wyman.

Defensive halfbacks are Deike, Palmer and Dear.

Perryton opens against 3-AAAA's Borger Bulldogs at 8 p.m. Sept. 7 in Borger.

Amarilloan Wins

VANDALIA, Ohio (UPI) — Larry Gravestock of Amarillo, Tex., won the over-11 championship of the 74th annual Grand American Trapshooting tournament Saturday by breaking 958 of the 1,000 targets during the six days of competition.

The All-Around title went to Ray Stafford of Denver, Colo., with a 390.

Cart Is Milestone To Tohill

By MIKE RABUN
UPI Sports Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — It was just a plain, white electric golf cart with a fringed canopy.

But to Billy Tohill, whose life was almost snuffed out in an automobile wreck five months ago, it represented another major milestone in his remarkable return to full football coaching duties at Texas Christian University.

Tohill had put aside his crutches and was sitting in the driver's seat of the car on a hot morning late last week. He stared across the practice field where his players will begin workouts Monday and said:

"This is the first time I've had my foot on an accelerator. But I've got to try sometime." With that the fashionable white loafer on Tohill's artificial right foot eased down on the pedal and the golf cart hummed across the grass. Tohill, alone in the cart, motored to the far end of the field, made a tour around the block and then drove onto the red cinder tract surrounding the practice area. He scooted down the track, cinder dust swirling in his wake.

"It's not as hard as I thought it would be," he said, obviously pleased with the experience. "I had more feeling than I thought

I would have. I lost sleep last night wondering if I could drive this thing. Now, I might go home and drive the car. Well, no, I'm not that courageous yet."

In the early morning hours of last March 14 Tohill, 34, lost control of his car on a Fort Worth freeway and after hitting a highway sign the car stopped upside down on an access road. He suffered fractures of his face, ribs, pelvis and wrist. His right foot had to be amputated and he spent weeks in traction.

His face carries a large scar where his left cheek was fractured and he has many pounds yet to put on — he says he is going to gain 20 more pounds and stop — before he returns to the robust form his players and opponents had become used to seeing on the sidelines.

But even though he has a way to go Tohill has already traveled a long distance from that March morning and when the 89 varsity players report for work Monday Tohill will be there.

"I can't wait for Monday to get here," he said. "I'm tired of sitting around talking about it. I'm ready to get in it. Wait until I start getting after them in this thing."

"I'm planning on doing everything on the sidelines I used to do. I won't do anything different."

"For the first game, though, I guess I'll have to be on these damn crutches."

Tohill has yet to learn how to balance himself on his artificial foot.

Little Lies And Big Lies

Editorial writer Don Oakley of Newspaper Enterprise Assn. discusses deception by the U.S. government in a current column about Cambodia.

In this particular situation, Oakley says that Americans have been deceived before in history. "but never have the American people been lied to so consistently for so long a time and to so little ultimate service to the nation as they have been over Cambodia."

We agree that it is a serious matter when government officials lie to the public in such matters as conducting military activities. The concern of a free people should not be restricted to lies about military operations. But perhaps it takes some overt act in a specific situation to make the public painfully aware of the nature of politicians. If that is the case, we can go along with Oakley's agitation over Cambodia.

He writes that while professing strict adherence to Cambodia neutrality in 1969 and 1970, the Nixon administration was sending American bombers on regular sorties.

"It has now been revealed," he writes "that American ground troops made excursions into Cambodia long before the 1970 invasion."

"The American people were lied to. The parents of those soldiers who died in Cambodia were lied to. Congress was lied to. Even the secretary of the Air Force was lied to."

If this is the only point of Oakley's complaint, we question the effectiveness of his commentary. Government spokesmen, particularly military leaders, can find much acceptance of the use of secrecy in dealing with military operations. This sort of thing can be explained away as a "national security" matter, and

Surgery Catches Up

When the doctor sews you up after an operation, he takes a curved carpet needle, runs the point through both sides of the slit, and pulls a suture thread which he ties in a sort of square knot. Oddly, the carpet needle has fallen into disuse somewhat in the carpet business because carpet lawyers have found adhesives to be a faster way of joining materials. Now the Wall Street Journal reports technology has caught up with surgery: it's a medical staple gun that clicks your hide together snick - snick - snick, just like that. Nope, the docs haven't started using glue yet.

The Ultra-Sheltered Life

Those inmates of the Oklahoma penitentiary who rebelled as obvious candidates for parole. They are demanding steak instead of meat loaf. Obviously they have been out of circulation so long that they don't know that only people with food stamps can afford steak. The clear remedy is a turn at hard labor in the cold steaks world of unsubsidized reality.

Why All The Economic Problems?

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Why is the United States, the greatest nation in the world, having economic problems? What can be done to solve these problems? Everyone, of course, has his or her own answers to these questions, but I think a few facts should shed some needed light on the situation.

As recently as 1940, our national debt was $43 billion. Today it is over $455 billion, more than a tenfold increase in just over three decades. The interest alone on this debt is nearly $25 billion a year. Regardless of how we spent it, the fact remains that we spent nearly half a trillion dollars more than we took in during this period.

No wonder we spent so much—it has always been popular to advocate government spending. Since public money doesn't belong to anyone, there is always the temptation to bestow it on someone. The fact is, we cannot continue these same "political economics." We can no longer afford to embark on massive fiscal fantasies, broad-scale programs with small-scale planning.

In addition, Government is our single biggest business. Income from Government provides nearly one dollar out of five of our national earnings and has a most direct effect on our economy. Over-spending has created today's inflationary binge. Money spent tends to pyramid debt in our complex economy. The more we spend, the more down-payments are made and the more the money supply increases.

There is no doubt that we are living high on the credit card. Public and private debt totaled $2.25 trillion at the end of 1972, with 53 percent owed by business, 25 percent by Federal, State and local governments and 22 percent by individuals. Thus, we have a mountain of obligation hanging over our economy.

In the past, the solution to monetary woes was to tax. Just slap on a tax to lessen buying power, raise more revenue and set things straight. Unfortunately, this has not worked and the American people have made it clear they will no longer stand for this simple "solution."

If we are to solve our monetary problems, Americans must wake up and realize that Government is not some kind of benevolent, kindly old gent with a bulging purse, and that the same economic laws that apply to you and me also apply to Government. From now on we must begin to get a dollar's worth of government for a dollar spent and cure the insatiable appetite of Big Government for more dollars and taxes. Will Rogers once said that it is perhaps fortunate that we do not get all the government we pay for. Maybe so, but then let's not pay for more than we really get.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The mongoose is a small mammal famous as the predator of India's King Cobra. Mongooses rely on speed and agility to outmaneuver their prey and by fulfilling their fur they cause the cobra to miscalculate striking distances. The World Almanac says. The small animal is not immune to the cobra's poisonous venom.

The relationship of Russia with India is not clear at this time. The Indians needed the Soviet Union badly in their war with Pakistan and in handling their cool relations with China. But there are signs a number of Indian officials in high places are not completely happy with the way Soviet officials operate and would like to improve communications with Washington as a balance to what they perceive as a Russian threat.

Other reports indicate Soviet influence is declining in a number of African lands where the U.S.S.R. has invested most heavily in years past.

GLOBAL VIEW Russia's allies growing cynical

By Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Except for the breakthrough in U.S. - Russian relations, Leonid Brezhnev's foreign policy has been a failure these past few years.

The Soviet Union could be moving into a position of military superiority in both conventional and military terms. But Brezhnev's record to date in building alliances and subverting governments around the globe to his own ends has been an abysmal failure.

The headlines have pointed to Moscow's short-term gains, as in the Middle East with Egypt and Iraq. But lasting alliances are what count, not flashes in the pan.

The pressure of these foreign failures — and the Russian economic bobbles — should logically continue to push the Soviet Union toward even closer relations with the United States, assuming that logic determines such matters.

Note these details: A series of insider reports from the Middle East indicates Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's major ousting of Russians some time back has been followed by a further cooling of relations between the two lands. The Egyptians are increasingly concerned over what they believe to be Moscow's attempts at subversion of high officials and an attempted build-up of anti-government cells in Egypt. The Russians reportedly are more and more coming to the belief the Egyptians are a weak reed on which to base foreign policy.

The situation in Iraq is even worse in a way. The government is so unpredictable, and finds it so difficult to get along even with other major Arab nations, that Moscow is reportedly most uncomfortable in depending on the present Iraqi government as an ally.

The Soviet Union, for all its expenditures in the Vietnam war, may be on the road to losing a great deal of its influence in Southeast Asia to China. There has developed a great suspicion of the Russians, who have in recent years attempted to push a Soviet-sponsored SEA security alliance. Many local leaders see in this Russian move an attempt to use them in Soviet designs against China, and additionally as an attempt by Moscow to gain political dominance in the area as the United States lowers its stance.

The bill appropriates $1.06 billion to be distributed to the states for the development of state-wide zoning programs, under the direction of bureaucrats in Washington.

One provision of the bill requires that the states must regulate land sales or development projects to such an extent, according to Senator Paul Fannin of Arizona, "as to require the state to determine whether there is a need for the proposed project" and whether it should proceed.

Another provision gives the Interior Department power to restrict the use of all "areas of Critical environmental concern which are of more than statewide significance," defining "critical areas" so broadly that almost any real estate could come under the jurisdiction of the federal government.

Your Health Bad Breath Is Symptom

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am a young married woman and have had a problem with bad breath for as long as I can remember. You can't imagine how much personal embarrassment this has caused me at home, with friends and even on my job. I am concerned about the effects it may have on my future. Yes, I've read all the ads and tried all the different things that are recommended for bad breath, including every mouth wash that's been advertised, varieties of toothpaste, chewing gums, you name it, I've tried it.

I don't seem to have any dental problems. I go to the dentist regularly. I don't have any cavities. I brush my teeth at least three times a day, use dental floss and everything that's ever been recommended to me. But, I still have this problem.

The only time I have ever gotten any help for it is when I have taken penicillin for one reason or another. While I am taking penicillin, temporarily my problem of bad breath goes away, but it always comes back. I just can't understand why something can't be done for my bad breath. If you have anything to recommend, I would certainly appreciate it.

Dear Reader — I receive many letters complaining about this problem. It's not uncommon, otherwise the large amount of mouth wash and so forth wouldn't be sold to the public. A good place to start evaluating the problem is in the dental area, and I'm glad to see that you apparently have already done that. In addition to cavities and so forth, there is the problem of pyorrhea or inflammation of the gingiva (gums) which is often a source of bad breath, but I would assume from your regular dental evaluations and treatments that you must not have that problem.

The point that penicillin seems to relieve your difficulties suggests an infection. A common location for such an infection is the sinuses. Chronic sinusitis is a frequent source of persistent bad breath. Old diseased tonsils with necrotic cheesy material deeply imbedded within the tonsils are also a frequent source of bad breath. I would suggest you see an ear, nose and throat specialist and have him evaluate your sinuses and tonsils for possible infections which may be contributing to your problem.

There are other causes for bad breath, including diseases of the lungs (usually associated with other symptoms), disturbances in digestion, gall bladder disease and even bad breath associated with a woman's menstrual cycle (I suspect that this is often related to an associated disturbance in the digestive tract occurring at that time). Probably the most common sources for persistent bad breath are the dental-mouth area and the sinus, tonsils, adenoid area.

Incidentally, many people don't recognize that the tongue is a source of bad breath, and it should be cleaned regularly just as teeth are cleaned.

By TEK DeWEESE Editor Of The News

THE CITY OF Pampa has come up with a proposed budget of $2.8 million for the coming fiscal year starting Oct. 1.

But city officials can explain to you that it isn't actually a $2.8 million bill of expenses to run the city next year because $250,000 of it is in accumulated federal revenue sharing funds plus a $26,000 surplus in the city's Water & Sewer Fund.

And that extra $276,000 kitty merely supplements what the city fathers call the actual and "realistic" budget total of only $2.5 million for operating costs.

That way the operating budget doesn't look so big and the increase over the current year doesn't appear to be so great.

For that reason two budgets were filed with the city secretary — one calling for $2.5 million plus and the other for $276,000.

But any way you add the two figures it always comes out the same — Pampa will spend $2.8 million in the coming fiscal year if the current budget proposals are approved.

There's nothing wrong with spending that federal money — in fact it has to be spent within a specified time or Uncle Sam will take it back.

But, we think it would have been just as well to file the one $2.8 million budget and explain to the people that the revenue sharing money would go entirely for capital outlay and the purchase of much-needed replacement equipment for various city departments.

OF COURSE, filing one $2.8 million budget would show an increase of $607,014 over the current year's budget instead of just a $331,000 increase shown by filing two budgets — one for $2,574,714 operating costs and the supplementary budget for $276,000 in capital outlay.

After all, when you figure that $210,000 of the $331,000 increase in operating costs is charged to proposed salary increases and personal services, that leaves only about $120,000 in other increases.

In addition to inflation, it is understood the city manager plans to pinpoint many new expenses and costs which the city is faced now that it did not have to meet in preparing a budget for the current fiscal year. Like Topsy, expenses just keep on growing.

One gets the feeling there are some, but not too many places the proposed budget could be cut and that City Manager Wofford and his staff have done a pretty good job of trying to stay in the ball park. It is not a deficit plan, the city manager explains.

But, the point of these paragraphs is to make clear that the city proposes to spend $2,850,000 in fiscal 1973-74 in comparison with $2,243,000 in fiscal 1972-73.

Splitting figures to make the total look better is unnecessary, we believe, if the proper explanation of disbursements is given to taxpayers.

The Pampa school board recently had some figure troubles that caught up with them when voters went to the polls and turned thumbs down on a school bond issue about which there were too many unanswered questions.

Public officials need to recognize that the best way to deal with taxpayers is to put all the cards face up on the table.

SOME MAIL came in while Rearview Mirror was shut down for two weeks. Included was this letter from Bill Mackey, 952 Terry Rd.:

"Dear Editor: "Every once in a while I get to hankering so for a drink of good water that I get my jug and go down to the 'good water place' across from the Carmichael - Whitley Funeral Home.

"There I get a supply that lasts maybe a couple of days. When we run out of good water, we try Lake Meredith water again for awhile, but it just doesn't come up to the mark.

"It seems such a shame. All that delicious good water there under the ground so readily available, but so very absent from the city water mains.

"Maybe the City Fathers, in their infinite wisdom, could grant us a week's worth of good water every other month. Then we'd have a few days from time to time when we could once again brag to our visitors about how good our water is."

AND OUR old friend, Mitchell Hill (remember Mitchell's Grocery on S. Cuyler?) drops a line from down state where he and his son are operating the Dallas Hi-Ho Camp Ground on R. 1, De Soto, Texas.

If you remember Mr. Hill, he's the fellow who used to go up to city commission meetings and give the mayor and commissioners several kinds of fits.

Mitchell always kept a check on what was going on in Pampa and a double-check on city officials and how they were running the city's business. If he thought there was a fly in the City Hall ointment he wasn't a bit bashful about speaking out in public and trying to get the city dads to do something about it.

Mr. Hill enclosed a clipping from the Dallas Times - Herald about a Dallas auto mechanic being fined $100 in Municipal Court for grinding off an engine block's serial number and selling the block back to the original owner as a new one.

"This law should have been on the book years ago," Mitchell writes and adds, "some mechanics are pretty hard to deal with."

After suggesting that we are being messed-up with Watergate, welfare, busing, shortages and food stamps for strikers, Mr. Hill concluded by saying "some of our labor legislation should be changed."

FYI — A school board member was upset the other night because he said somebody had referred to board personnel as "a bunch of yo-yos." City Hall Cat reports Mayor Wilkerson got two parking tickets while tied up at City Hall and paid off both of them without a whimper.

Flyer's footwork decides air race

By ROBERT MUSEL
LONDON (UPI)—All you have to do to win 50,000 pounds ($125,000) is fly one mile over a figure-8 course. It sounds simple but there is a catch that has kept the prize in the coffers of the Royal Aeronautical Society since 1959 when it was first offered by industrialist Henry Kremer.

The catch is you have to fly the mile under your own power—that is, by fixing a bicycle-type undercarriage to the fuselage and wings and propeller you have to pedal yourself into the air and keep pedaling around the course.

It sounded like easy money when Kremer put up his initial prize of 10,000 pounds ($25,000) 14 years ago. But nine groups in Britain and at least six abroad have made official attempts on the prize without coming very close.

So recently Kremer raised the prize to 50,000 pounds and there are some who believe it is just as unobtainable now as it was at the lower figure even though a group of Royal Air Force apprentices at Hulton in Buckinghamshire—with the best mark so far—believe they may yet achieve it.

Last summer the apprentices built a glider of aluminum and balsa wood to the design of an expert named Chris Roper and covered 1,350 yards at heights of up to 20 feet. This is only a quarter of a mile from the prize but aerodynamics engineers regard it as a very long distance indeed.

The problems are twofold. In the first place even the fittest athlete pedaling his fastest to turn a propeller can only generate about one-half a horsepower for a very brief period. In the second the length of wing needed to provide lift is so long it makes it difficult to turn without tipping the ground.

Kremer frankly hadn't realized it would be so hard to win his original prize, thus the increase. This has already inspired three groups in Britain to prepare their aircraft for flight, though they are worried about a biplane with short wings. Built at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Kremer had another reason for raising the reward. As a businessman, he said he realized the value of the pound sterling had gone down drastically since he first offered it in November, 1959.
