400,000 ALREADY IN CHURCHES

Missionaries Seek Conversion Of All Japan To Christianity

TOKYO, March 28 (AP) — Several hundred missionaries are trying to convert the 82,000,000 Japanese to Christianity. Fewer than 400,000 have only accepted Christianity so far, church figures indicate, but missionaries regard Japan as a promising field.

There is rivalry to win converts, since an outstanding Japanese brought into the fold or another brightens the prospects for getting others.

Both Catholics and protestants have regained their prewar strength, according to latest available figures.

Membership in the Roman Catholic Church was 111,224 in 1940. The various protestant churches claimed an aggregate membership of 290,000.

Membership and open adherence to Christianity dropped seriously during the war because, according to Japanese Christianity was as unpopular as pacifism under the war lords.

But by virtue of stepped-up missionary activity after the war, Christianity gained back its losses and in some cases exceeded its old membership. In 1949 the Catholics claimed membership of more than 138,538 and the protestants claimed 261,221.

Although the main religion in Japan is a combination of the native primitive Shinto religion with Buddhism, Christianity is not new to its people. St. Francis Xavier introduced Christianity to the Japanese in 1549 and during the regime of one early emperor, it was forced on the people as a state religion as a means of defeating the Buddhists.

The Buddhists, nevertheless, have held the greatest sway over the people of this island empire. Most of the population belongs to one of the 12 organized Buddhist sects, all of which contain some of the old Shinto beliefs. The most

Nationalists Claim 'Annihilation' Of Chinese Commie 'Steel Corps'

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 28 (AP) — Red Gen. Lin Piao's battle-hardened "steel corps" stormed ashore at three beachheads on South China's Hainan Island yesterday. But Chinese Nationalists said today the invaders were "completely annihilated."

The Nationalists asserted 4,000 Chinese Communist troops were killed, wounded or captured. They said large amounts of equipment were seized.

The landings were made at three points of the Northern Hainan coast — Yusueh, Taihsung and Chang-han. Hainan second largest Nationalist island — is separated from Luchow Peninsula by only ten miles of water.

Nationalists reported a landing of their own on the Chinese mainland at Sammen Bay 150 miles south of Shanghai.

The Nationalists said their troops landed at Chientiao, Chekiang Province, at dawn Wednesday under cover of warships. This landing came one week after the commie-type raid on Sunmen village, 50 miles to the south.

The Nationalists gave this account of the Hainan action:

The landings began at dawn and 118th Regiment troops of Lin's 40th Army poured ashore until after-

1,360 IN FIRST CHURCH

Building Losses Spurred Baptists

Three times plants of the First Baptist church have been destroyed, and three times the congregation has turned adversity into opportunity.

From a charter membership of eight when the church was organized formally on Nov. 11, 1886, the rolls have grown until today the resident membership is 1,360.

Those who were listed as charter members were Dr. A. and Mrs. John Anglin, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Mills, P. N. Bressie, Rachael Bressie, a Mr. Drake and I. E. Harmon. Mrs. Mary Willis, was a member of the congregation before organization but was not present the day the church was constituted. She was the last surviving member of the original group.

First pastor was Rev. S. B. Caloway, state missionary, who had followed in the steps of Rev. L. R. Millican in serving the congregation which met informally. By the turn of the century the church had a full time pastor and around 1905 supported the minister independently of the state mission board.

The first church building, located originally at 5th and Gregg streets, was lost in a tornado in July 1897. The second plant, on the present location, was lost in a fire in September 1908, and the third, a brick structure, also went up in flames in October 1928. The present building was raised to replace that one, but even it has proven too small. Last year the church purchased two lots and a pair of apartment buildings to the north of the plant, using the structures for educational purposes. Even how it is planning on ultimately adding to the main plant to meet growing needs.

Pastor of the church since being called on Pearl Harbor Day (Dec. 7, 1941) is Dr. P. D. (Dic) O'Brien, Director of education and music is J. B. Langston, and church secretary is Mrs. Inez Lewis.

Car Smashup Kills Two Men Monday

LIVINGSTON, March 28 (AP) — Two men were killed yesterday when their automobile smashed into a tree near Segno.

Dead were W. E. Mosher, 57, of Houston, and O. B. Harrell, 25, of Fort Worth.

Weather Fatality

GATESVILLE, March 28 (AP) — The high winds which buffeted parts of Texas yesterday caused the death of B. E. Smith. He was struck by the roof of a barn, 100 ft by the wind. The accident occurred about 13 miles northwest of here.

PRINTERS RISE TO SITUATION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 28 (AP) — A spunky little skunk held a squad of policemen and bystanders at bay here before he was captured by a pair of carefree newspaper printers.

A patrol wagon and squad cars rushed to the scene early yesterday after the skunk made its presence known in downtown Chattanooga.

Frank Gardner Jr., and John W. Warren, members of the Chattanooga Times composing room staff, invaded the area which had been reserved by the officers and spectators for the skunk. They swept the skunk into an empty container.

Skipper Tells Diamond Hands To Don Suits

The Big Spring Broncs, who arrived here during a howling gale over the weekend, dusted off their uniforms this morning and prepared to get along with their training chores.

Although a sharp north wind cast a chill over Steer park, Field Boss Pat Stacey hoped to get his charges limbered up today. Time is growing short, since the Hosses have an exhibition game scheduled for Thursday night here with the Del Rio Cowboys of the Rio Grande Valley league. The game, of course, has been scheduled subject to weather conditions.

Some 34 Cuban youngsters are in camp and ready for action. Stacey expects two or three more to put in appearances later this week.

Most of them are in excellent condition, having played and participated in practice sessions in their native Cuba before making the trip here.

Stacey believes he will be able to field a fairly well-trained nine after a couple of drills on the home diamond.

Several Changes In Cage Rules May Be Made

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—College basketball coaches discussed the controversial two-minute rule in a closed session today, with indications they would urge its removal from the books.

The rule provides that the team fouled in the last two minutes keep possession of the ball. Its purpose is to reduce intentional fouls near the end of the game.

Opponents of the regulation declare the rule not only has failed in this, but has created these other flaws:

1. It drags out the game.
2. It virtually reduces the game from 40 to 28 minutes.
3. It favors the team in front at the time it goes into effect.

College coaches are expected to recommend a change in rule to the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada, which meets here tomorrow and Thursday.

The National Committee is made up of representatives of the colleges, the Amateur Athletic Union, YMCA, the National Federation of High Schools and Canadian amateur groups.

The two-minute rule is just one of the changes to be studied by the governing body. The others deal with substitutions and basket standards.

Several proposals have been advanced which would allow a substitute may enter a game. At present, a sub may come in any time the ball is dead.

Another proposal is that there be uniform standards in the methods of attaching a basket to the transparent type backboard.

For the high school game, consideration will be given the question of whether the official's time-out in the second and fourth quarters could be eliminated on the grounds there are now a sufficient number of game stoppages to take care of health needs.

Here Is Why You Should Let Us FIGURE YOUR CONCRETE

1. You don't need an architect on your job. We know our concrete.

2. We not only specify washed sand and gravel designed to meet certain specifications, but we use materials that are washed clean and will meet the most rigid specifications.

3. With grades of materials considered, we can save you money per cubic yards poured in your forms or turn key contract for finished concrete.

4. We are not connected with any kind of gravel business. We buy our material on the open market. Therefore it is only logical that we use the best material.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The field as a whole isn't apt to be as classy as it has been in recent years but at least three records are due to go by the boards in the Big Spring Relays coming up Saturday.

Odesa's Jim Hall set a 220-yard sprint standard back in 1945, first year of the annual carnival, that still endures. Hall covered the first leg in 23.2 seconds.

It will take some running but Graham's Dean Smith may be just the lad to do it, if only no more than a split second.

Marvin Swink, one of the three seniors on the Amarillo squad, is apt to establish a new mark in the pole vault, now held by Duane Hendley of Abilene. Hendley lifted himself over a 16-foot 8-inch barrier back in 1945. Swink bested that by two inches only last week in Odesa.

If Ed Jackson of Amarillo performs anywhere close to par in the discus throw, he's a good bet to shatter Bryce Townsend's two year old record in the discus throw, which was an even 143 feet. Jackson flipped the plate 150 feet 8 1/2 inches at Odesa last Saturday and probably can do better.

Galen Fowler, still another Amarillo lad has done the quarter mile in an even 50 seconds, 1.3 seconds under Bill Bauman's mark, set here in 1947. (Bauman also re-remembered Amarillo) Fowler has been sick and whether he can reach top shape again before Saturday remains to be problematical.

LONGHORNS TOPS, ALL SPORTS CONSIDERED

They may not have been overly successful in football but the University of Texas teams have more than held their own in all athletics down through the years, records released by Wilbur Evans of the UT sports publicity department show.

Of the 218 team championships that have been awarded in the 35 year history of the Southwest Conference, more than half (113) have gone to UT.

Of the additional 92 awarded in 201 singles and tennis singles and doubles, 65 have gone to the Longhorns.

The nearest approach to Texas' total of 178 titles is Rice's, 35% with A & M's 34% a close third.

Second to Texas' 113 team titles is the Aggies 34%.

Eddie Skrabacz, a regular for the Lamesa baseball professionals a couple of years back, has signed to play with Bryan of the East Texas league.

Eddie played semi-pro ball at Elk City, Okla., for a while in 1949.

Moose Womack, the ex-Odesan mentioned here recently, is trying to win a regular berth with the Milwaukee Brewers of the AAA American Association.

Record of Bobby Sykes, the sensational Texas middleweight who won his first fight in Madison Square Garden not so long ago, was tarnished recently by one Gaby Ferland of Montreal.

Ferland held Sykes to a draw in a ten-rounder and staged such a rally in the last few rounds that the fans thought he had won. Newspapermen at the ringside opined Sykes had a paper-thin edge.

Roy Parker, the WT-NM league's leading pitcher of 1949, has been returned to the Pampa Oilers by the Shreveport Sports. Parker won 23 games, lost 10 for the Oilers last season.

Millard (Dixie) Howell, former Alabama university grid great, and new head coach at Idaho university, and Hirschel (Red) Ramsey, former San Angelo mentor, were fast friends in the Navy during World War II. Which is the big reason why Ramsey caught on as an end coach at Idaho recently.

Browns Appear To Be Better Than '49 Club Could Finish As High As Sixth

By BOB MYERS AP STAFF

BURBANK, Calif., March 28. — The St. Louis Browns appear to be in a lot better shape this year than they did as they broke camp and headed east a year ago.

As it turned out, the 1949 club finished seventh, which is about one under par for the club. Zack Taylor's 1950 Brownies should do no worse than seventh this year and they might just possibly sneak by another American League entry.

This will take some doing, of course, because the sixth place Chicago White Sox and the fifth-placed Philadelphia Athletics appear stronger than a year ago.

But — St. Louis has played and performed better this spring despite the loss of such valuable articles as infielders Bob Dillinger and Gerry Priddy this year and confusion, of course, because a team seldom improves, even if the pitcher does, with the "rule of gentlemen like Dillinger and Priddy."

You have to see St. Louis and its host of youngsters to understand this paradox. The kids seem to want to play ball. Credit this to them, to Taylor or quite possibly to Dr. David Tracy, the eminent hypnotist who has been persuading the lads they can play giant killer and get away with it.

Who ever is responsible, the Browns have refused to roll over and play dead to anyone on the circuit. "I honestly believe we're going to make more trouble than most people suspect," promised Co-owner Charley De Witt.

There are several regulars on the pitching staff who might have winning seasons, and Taylor has several excellent freshmen who bear watching, if not this year, then next. Of the former, there's Cliff Famin, Dick Starr, both of whom were physically hampered last year. There's Ned Garver, Tom Ferrick, Louis Kretlow, Stubby Overmire and Bob Kennedy. Lefty Kennedy could win 15 or 18 if he gains control. All have promise.

Blackwell And Chumley Visit Posse Grounds

Training activities as well as exhibition races arranged for the Sheriff's Posse grounds last Sunday were at a standstill due to adverse weather conditions.

Trainers had all stables buckled up tight to shield their wards from the sun.

Sam Chumley, Big Lake rancher and a prominent horse breeder, was a visitor at the Posse grounds. Chumley has a My Texas Danny colt, Texas Tick, nominated for the Futurity. He also handles the D. E. Hughes Estate's entry, Adios.

Chumley brought Adios, a fine looking strawberry roan along for shoeing.

Adios, a native bred animal, appeared in excellent condition. The part thoroughbred, though young (he was a June foal), is a definite contender in the quarter-mile division.

L. M. Blackwell, Amarillo, was also a visitor Sunday. He made the trip from Amarillo to watch his Stymie in the special race against Peter Pan, which was cancelled due to weather conditions.

Blackwell owns the well regarded young stallion, Hard Twist, which has some six sons and daughters nominated for the Futurity.

Blackwell said the only thing he'd rather see than a Hard Twist colt win the Futurity was a general rain. Range conditions on his Amarillo and New Mexico ranches are becoming critical, he reported.

Beavers Choice Over Bradley In NY Game

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP STAFF

NEW YORK, March 28. — City College of New York rules a two-point favorite tonight to subdue Bradley for the NCAA championship and thereby gain basketball immortality.

The victory for the once-unsung Beavers, who have been hot as a stove lid for the past two weeks, would make them the first team to win the sport's fabulous "double" — the two big national tournament titles in a single season.

It would be the hardwood equivalent of Bobby Jones' "grand slam" in golf or, say, Citation's "triple crown" in racing.

The championship game will take the floor at Madison Square Garden at approximately 10-15 p.m. (EST) following the third place consolation tilt between Baylor and North Carolina State (8-15).

The game has been a sellout for weeks, and ticket demands indicate it would draw 100,000 if space permitted. But the famous midtown arena accommodates little more than 18,000.

The fact that Bradley is the nation's No. 1 team based on season's play and CCNY wasn't even regarded highly enough to rate in the first 20 has become immaterial.

Since the boys started knocking each other over in the postseason eliminations, the aroused CCNY sophomores have acted as if they owned the place.

They went to the National Invitation Title on a series of upsets, turning back Bradley in the final round, 69-61. Then they gained the NCAA finals by routing Ohio State and North Carolina State in the eastern playoffs—all at the Garden.

During that binge they have been five of the top six teams in the Associated Press rankings and four conference champions—Kentucky of the Southeastern, Bradley of the Missouri Valley, N. C. State of the Southern.

Bradley, which has been forced to do a lot of traveling in its tournament endeavors, won the western play-offs at Kansas City by humbling UCLA and Baylor.

The Braves' young coach, Forrest Anderson, said today his boys were "dead tired."

"But they are very anxious to get another crack at CCNY," he added. "You can bet we'll give them a game."

Nat Holman, who coaches City, declared his athletes also were beginning to show wear from the strenuous tournament schedule.

"They haven't let down yet," though, he said. "I think we can beat Bradley again."

Cubs A Poor Draw

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 28. — The Chicago Cubs began their homeward trek today only to find poorest spring exhibition attendance record since pitching camp in California in 1922.

With poor weather also a factor, the Cubs drew only 39,371 customers in 15 games—at least 50 per cent below normal.

Officials Named To Relays; 26 Teams Entered In Meet

Several hundred boys, representing 26 schools from over a wide area, will flock to Big Spring next weekend for the Fifth Annual Big Spring Relays, track extravaganza sponsored by the American Business club of Big Spring.

The carnival, which will be held at Steer stadium, gets underway at 10 a. m. and continues through until 9 p. m.

Joe Bailey Cheney, well known coach and a starter of nearly every major meet in the state at one time or another, will serve in that capacity here.

The following men will assist him here:

Jim McWhorter, assistant starter; Walter Read, clerk at microphone; Walker Bailey and Obie Bristow, recorders; Harold Davis, head timer; Ted Phillips, Johnny Dibrell, Jack Odle, Jack Smith and J. A. Jolley, timers; J. D. Jones, Roy Bruce, Tommy Hutto, Merrill Creighton, Jack Johnson, Jake Morgan and Ken Sawyer, catchers; James Vines, Omar Jones, Don Anderson, John Stanley, C. A. Tonn and Garner McAdams, judges; J. B. Neely, Bud Purser and Skeeter Salisbury, broad jump attendants; Larry McCulloch, Roy Worley and Pete Harmonson, high jump attendants; Wayne Bonner, Homer Williams and Mac Rodgers, discus; Earl Crawford, Bob Mead and Mack Stuphen, pole vault; Roy Baird, Perry Johnson, Roy Reeder and George Melear, shot put; and Pete Green, official in charge of field.

Amarillo, strong in all departments, will be favored to take home the team trophy but Graham, Monahan, San Angelo and Pecos will all field strong teams.

Dean Smith, Graham, will be favored to win the 100 and 220 yard dash events. He'll be pushed, however, by two Pecos boys, Christian and Fairley. Christian's time tied that of Odesa's Joe Childress in the preliminaries of the West Texas Relays last week. Fairley ran second and Christian third to Childress in the finals.

Graham is entering strong teams in the sprint, 880-yard and 320-yard shuttle relays.

Monahan's Hubbard, who finished first in the mile at the West Texas Relays, is entered here and will be favored to churn home in front.

Stymie To Run In Alamo City

Stymie, one of the better quarterhorses in training here, is to be shipped to San Antonio Wednesday.

Trainer Bill Morrow has the fine gelding entered in an "Open to the World" quarter-mile race, to be run at the Storey and Wood park in San Antonio next Sunday.

A minimum purse of $500 is guaranteed the winner. The field will be limited to eight starters.

Peter Pan, Jess Hensley's great stallion from Wink, is another nominee for this event.

Peter Pan and Stymie were matched for a special 220-yard race here last Sunday, but bad weather forced track officials to call off the program.

Car Mishap Reported

Cars driven by Walter E. Eubanks, 203 E. 3rd, and B. J. White, Big Spring, were involved in a traffic mishap at 711 Runnels about 5 p. m. yesterday, police said. Both vehicles were moved from the scene of the accident by wreckers.

Rookie Benchd

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28. — Big Steve Bilko has been benched as first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals—which leads to speculation the rookie has muffed his chance, at least for the moment.

Manager Eddie Dyer says it isn't so. But the nod has gone to Glenn Nelson, who yesterday made three clean hits and handled 10 chances with ease.

Bilko, a 240-pounder, has made only eight hits in 82 times at bat.

Charles Battle Is Off Again

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 28. — The twice-scheduled NBA heavyweight title bout between Emard Charles and Challenger Freddie Besore was definitely "off" today.

The New York State Athletic Commission announced last night the fight had been "postponed indefinitely" because a rib injury had bruised one of the champion's heart muscles. The commission said Charles would be able to fight in two months.

But, promoter Dewey Michaels of the Fairview Athletic Club washed his hands of the whole thing and said the fight was cancelled.

Michaels had sunk about $10,000 into trying to promote Buffalo's first heavyweight championship fight and apparently wasn't willing to go along with another postponement.

Even a sell-out at $20,000, with Charles collecting 40 per cent and Besore 17 1/2, wouldn't leave Michaels with much of a margin over the additional outlay.

The Fairview A. C. said it was advised of the commission's decision in a telephone call from New York "after an assortment of unusual antics by the champion and his co-managers, Jake Minto and Tom Tamm."

"Apparently Charles and his managers left for New York last evening (Sunday) after Eszard's workout, at which some 200 spectators and veteran newspaper observers failed to detect anything wrong with him."

Number Of Yanks Out Of Action

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28. — The New York Yankees' current hospital list has Dr. Gaylor hopping around.

Henrich, with a strained left knee, hasn't played since March 13. Mize, suffering from a shoulder ailment, still can't throw.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

Those who heard Dr. Franz J. Polgar during his appearance here as one of the first Town Hall members of the current season, might be interested in hearing some of his views on the current flying saucer talk.

As the only hypnotist listed in Who's Who, Dr. Polgar, who claims much more than just being "an old beat up magician from the vaudeville stage," says that flying saucers are nothing but mass hallucination.

According to a recent report from his current lecture tour, he can cite a remarkable instance of mass hallucination which occurred one night during a demonstration in Santa Fe, N. M.

Santa Fe was only just recovering from an outbreak of flying saucers seen disking over Farmington, N. M., 25 miles away or a hop-skip-and-jump by a B-29.

The doctor thought it was the psychological time to test out his theory that all those saucers people are seeing are flying fragments of the subconscious mind or something.

So he called eight people to the stage, including the local newspaper editor, and proceeded to hypnotize them. Soon they were all seeing flying saucers. Even some of the people in the audience were seeing the saucers. The newspaper editor was quite unhappy because his photographs failed to try to photograph the saucers that weren't there.

"As for the 'Men from Mars' idea, Dr. Polgar says 'Bah! I'm beginning to believe that flying saucers are nothing more than a variation of the Hindu rope trick.'"

Witnesses to the speeding saucers, he believes, are victims of mythomania which is a nice word for pathological lying, the kind often indulged in by imaginative small boys who see lions and tigers in the back yard.

Speaking of backyards, there's a wealth of theory in the flying saucer idea that making very interesting back fence chatter. And what better way is there to get acquainted with your neighbor than through the aid of back fence chat? Just be sure what side of a flying saucer your neighbor believes in. This column is not responsible for black eyes received in back fence combat.

A Bible Thought For Today

Dishonest and dishonorable people characteristically lack faith in others. Never trust a person who has no faith. "They are a very forward generation, children in whom is no faith."—Deut. 32:20.

Despite Some Odd Questions, The Census Is Part Of Our History

When census forms went to the farmers last week, it marked the prelude to the greatest nose count in the country's history. Farmers are to ponder these so that when the census takers call they will have most of the information complete. They are to let the enumerators pick up the completed forms, not mail them in.

The general census starts April 1. Farmers are given more time, and they will need it. There are more than 300 questions on the farm forms, 27 of them regarded as basic, the rest pertaining to various crops the farmers may or may not raise. The farmer is supposed to fill out these forms and hold them for delivery when the enumerator gets around to pop the population question next month.

Penalty for refusing to answer a census question is $500 and 90 days in jail, maximum. If a census enumerator discloses any information on anybody's census returns to unauthorized persons, he is subject to fine up to $1,000 and prison terms up to two years. The law specifically forbids the use of anybody's return for "purposes of taxation, investigation or regulation."

When they start out next month, the census enumerators will have been thoroughly briefed in their work. They are officers of the government, and all the questions they are authorized to ask must be answered truthfully. Their work can be speeded by prompt answers, and to facilitate the business, citizens can help a lot by being prepared to answer questions immediately.

It is to the interest of every community to make the census complete. No individual or family should be overlooked. If anybody has reason to believe he has been left out, or knows of anyone else who might have been overlooked, the information should be passed on to the proper authorities.

So, tie up the dogs and put out the mat for the census takers, many of whom will be women. They are merely performing their duties, and if you are annoyed by their visit, reflect: the nation has been taking the census since 1790, so it's a part of our history.

U.S. Border Stretched Another 400 Miles; Texas Will Claim It

One of the innumerable questions every Texas is supposed to answer at the drop of a hat is: How long is the border between Mexico and Texas? The answer: Eleven hundred miles, following the course of the tortuous Rio Grande del Norte.

That may turn out to be an understatement, something Texans are seldom guilty of committing where their state's bigness is concerned; for the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry has completed "Operation Measurement" and discovered that the border between Mexico and the U. S. from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean is 408 miles longer than supposed.

The actual length, long considered to be 1,900 miles, has been officially established as 2,308.1 miles, from near Brownsville, Texas to near San Diego, Calif.

Four hundred thirteen rangers did the measuring, using an ingenious device concocted by Ranger Rider Max R. Kimble, stationed at San Antonio, Texas. Kimble rigged a speedometer to a bicycle wheel hitched to the wheel by shafts to his mule

Maud, and took off along the Rio Grande below Brownsville. Maud didn't finish the course, but other animals, plus jeeps, took up the task and carried it to completion near San Diego. The going was rough—up hill, down dale, across gullies, over mountains, but the range riders of the BAI got their answer to the fraction of a mile.

Unhappily the news item telling of this didn't say how much of the border belonged to Texas, but Texans are warranted in assuming that most of the 408 additional miles were picked up by following the twisted course of the Rio Grande. On the map, El Paso is about the half-way point, but the border is a lot straighter from there to the Pacific than the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville—or Boca Chico ("little mouth") if you must split hairs.

We shall have to look into this, in the interest of Texas pride. If the Texas-Mexico border is more than 1,100 miles, we're going to call it at least 1,400 hereafter, unless some jealous outsider challenges us with something different.

State Department Handicapped By Relations With White House

President Truman has had four secretaries of State during the five years he has been in the White House. The first, Stettinius, he inherited. The other three, Byrnes, Marshall and Acheson, have been his own choice, and few would deny that in each case his standard has been high. But all his Secretaries of State have run into difficulties, and always the crux of the difficulty has been in the relation between the White House and the State Department. The difficulty has turned on the fundamental fact that the American government—particularly in an era of crisis—foreign relations can be directed only by the President himself from the White House.

Yet, Mr. Truman though deeply concerned about the consequences of foreign policy, has had no taste for and little interest in the actual conduct of foreign affairs. Unlike Wilson who had Colonel House and Roosevelt who had Harry Hopkins, Mr. Truman has no one among his intimates and inside the White House who is his alter ego in the conduct of foreign affairs. Thus virtually the whole business of dealing with foreign powers, with the departments which must collaborate, with Congress, and with the press has devolved upon the Secretary of State.

The burden is too great, and as the complexity and scale of our foreign relations has expanded explosively, the burden is intolerable. Mr. Byrnes carried the burden for a while because he had so much political power in his own right. General Marshall carried it for a while because his personal prestige was legend and he was politically untouchable.

Mr. Acheson is unable to carry the burden. He has inherited a foreign situation which is deteriorating, and demands a review and revision of many of the basic policies of the post-war period. He is himself vulnerable in that if he changes his position at all, he will be attacked as an appeaser; and if he adheres rigidly to his position, the situation abroad will deteriorate still more.

What is required is not the abandonment of our ideal goals and vital objectives but a major change in the strategic plan of our foreign relations. Such a change could only be carried out by a united government under the leadership of the President and in full collaboration with the responsible leaders of the Republican party.

50-50 Chance Of Holding Red Drive In Southeast Asia Seen

AMERICA IS ABOUT TO EMBARK ON a new phase of effort in Southeast Asia in an effort to halt Communist expansion in that area.

The Red success in China has given the Communist a powerful base from which to operate. Burma and Indochina are in such grave danger that they are expected to be about the first to which help will be rushed.

What are the prospects? Well, John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic expert in Washington, says officials in the capital feel there is better than a 50-50 chance of holding the Communist offensive.

Roving Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, who has just made an intensive study of the situation on the ground, is back in Washington for conferences.

The Far Eastern problems facing the western nations are titanic. In many quarters the great powers are about as popular as the plague, because of hatred engendered through the generations by western colonialism—exploitation is what the Asiatic nations call it. One of the West's toughest tasks is going to be to convince Asia that no mischief is intended.

THE ARMAGEDDON WHICH IS DEVELOPING in Asia is partly military, partly ideological and partly economic. It isn't enough for democracy to prove arms and the necessities of life for the Asiatic countries, they must be convinced of the superiority of democracy's way of life.

These Asiatic countries not only must be given material aid to withstand force, but they must be convinced that democracy provides the better way of life. Moreover, they must be convinced that the citizens of the democracies get all that is coming

It Isn't Easy To Mobilize U. S. Energy Behind Such A Prosaic Goal As Peace

WASHINGTON — A deluge of mail has poured into this office lately outlining ideas on how to win the peace. This mail highlights one of the most important problems faced by government—so far largely neglected—how to mobilize the energy of millions of Americans behind the prosaic goal of peace.

It is easy to mobilize during war. There is an urgency, a drama, a danger behind war. But peace is humdrum. It is easy to sit back, pay taxes, let the diplomats wrangle about peace. Then, when they fail, as they have of late, the rest of us go back to fight all over again.

Of late, however, large numbers of the American people are getting vigorous in their demand that they be allowed to play some part in moulding the peace. They realize that peace is like the soil; a little erodes here and a little erodes there, until the international pastures are all gullied up and war is inevitable.

It's when the first small gully starts eroding that you have to begin patching up both your pastures and the peace.

Realizing this, the American people should like to help a little bit more in preventing war rather than merely fighting to win wars after they have started. The problem of the government is to take advantage of this vast goodwill and boundless energy.

PLAN OF IDEAS

Undoubtedly this has been behind the stream of peace ideas which have deluged this writer since a brief mention, one week ago, that we set up a Marshall Plan of ideas to win the peace.

Some of these ideas may not be practical. Some overlook the difficulties of permeating the iron curtain with a passion for peace. Some fall back on religion, which is fine in the western part of the world, but neglects the fact that worship is difficult inside Russia. But all the ideas show how actively the American people are thinking, and how willing they are to do their part if they can get an ounce of leadership from their government.

Tragedy is that instead of leadership, they sometimes get discouragement.

Last year, for instance, the junior chamber of commerce in Charleston, W. Va., worked out a plan to bring 20 young men from various parts of the world, including iron curtain countries, and give them one year's combined work and training in West Virginia. Various West Virginia employers were delighted with this plan to win friends, and the young men were even picked for the trip.

DEPARTMENT STYMIES

Then the State Department, believes it or not said no. It refused to give these 20 youngsters passport visas. The State Department was not asked for money, or for any assistance other than visas. West Virginia businessmen were ready to do everything. But Bureau Chief Francis C. Colligan, chief of the State Department's exchange of persons, ruled that "international goodwill and understanding were the primary purposes of the trip" rather than technical training.

everywhere, so the people of the world can understand."

A big industrialist (who asked that his name be withheld)—"I will contribute $100,000 for the purpose of buying 100,000 short-wave radio sets to be parachuted or smuggled behind the iron curtain. If enough of the Russian people know us or can hear us through the Voice of America, the politburo cannot force them into war."

Roy T. Granger, Nevada City, Calif. — "We have been thinking chiefly of destructive uses for atomic energy. Let's emphasize the opposite. Let's challenge Russia and the Russian people to a contest to see which—or us—can produce the greatest application of atomic energy to the art of peaceful living during the next 50 years."

Irwin Jolly, Dallas, Tex. —

"Let's print millions of copies of mail order catalogues—Montgomery Ward, Sears, Roebuck, etc.—and get them behind the iron curtain. That would show how much we can buy in our much maligned capitalist system, and for how little."

The above is just a small cross section of scores of ideas that have poured in to this writer in a week, indicating how vigorously the American people feel about being their own diplomats. When I can get them properly digested, I intend to take them down to the State Department and have a showdown with the bureaucrats as to whether they really believe they have a monopoly position when it comes to creating goodwill among peoples.

Columbia Picture To Be College Football Expose

HOLLYWOOD, March 28 (AP)—In its search of tales of oppressed minorities, Hollywood will treat the plight of the amateur football player.

Producer Buddy Adler announces that his Columbia film, "The Hero," will be an expose of college football.

"This will not be the kind of football film in which the hero dashes 90 yards to win the game in the last reel," he declared. "We are going to show how the college football machine works."

Football scenes for the film will be shot in about four weeks. "The Hero" will be an expose of college football.

Besides producing, Adler also owns 11 theaters. Four of them used to play western films exclusively, but have now been converted to foreign pictures. I asked why.

"Television is ruining the run-of-the-mill western," he answered. "Why should kids pay to see a horse opera when they can see two of them and a serial at home in one evening?" However, he said the big-budget western is still good for business. He is currently seeking one for Jimmy Stewart.

Application Of Physical Laws Is Interesting, But Perilous

Two physical "laws," or principles, that have been cornerstones in the development of modern science have undergone considerable modification in the past few years.

The Law of the Conservation of Matter and the Law of the Conservation of Energy, fundamental to students of physics and chemistry for more than 200 years, were regarded as separate and final rules governing chemical and physical change. Dr. Albert Einstein and the developers of the atomic bomb have demonstrated that they are only parts of a broader principle.

"Matter can neither be created nor destroyed, but only changed in form," is the text of the former. The Law of the Conservation of Energy regards the "ability to do work" in the same light.

Some 45 years ago, Dr. Einstein came up with the Theory of Relativity, based on the assumption that matter and energy are equivalent, or that one may be changed to the other.

His claim was generally accepted without proof from 1905 to the early thirties. Its validity was definitely established with the explosion of the first atom bomb during World War II.

The bomb actually changed large quantities of matter into violent energy. What has been most surprising is the enormous amount of energy that results from the "destruction" of matter.

But not to Dr. Einstein. He foresaw the possibilities of the transformation of mass into energy as soon as he completed his famous theory.

Expressing the transformation mathematically, he declared that the energy resulting would equal the weight of the matter twice multiplied by the velocity of light. Since light travels at the rate of about 186,000 miles per second, it was evident to the theorist that considerable energy would be released.

Just how much is illustrated by application of the formula to a weight of two and a half pounds of matter:

If that quantity of any type of material were completely changed into energy it would equal 25 billion kilowatt hours of electricity, or the total output of the U. S. electrical power industry for a period of two months, which would make a pretty good-sized spark.

It might also be an indication of what could conceivably happen to this planet if an atomic blast should get out of hand. —WALTON JAYES.

Home Building Facilitated By Federal Nat'l Mortgage Ass'n

WASHINGTON, D. C. — THIS IS THE story of Fannie Mae.

Take a man named Jones who wants to build or buy a home. He doesn't have enough money to pay for it in full. So he borrows from a bank.

But the bank doesn't want to be left holding the bag if anything goes wrong. It wants some insurance, which means assurance that it won't lose its depositor's money that it loaned Jones. What can it do?

It can go to the FHA (Federal Housing Administration) or, if Jones is a veteran, to the VA (Veterans Administration). In some cases, if Jones is a veteran, the bank can go to FHA and VA.

The FHA will insure, and the VA guarantee, the money the bank let Jones have—provided his property meets FHA or VA requirements. In that way, the bank is protected on its loan.

(This story won't go into details on how great a percentage of the loan FHA or VA will stand back of or how much Jones has to put up out of his own money.)

THIS IS THE REASON THE GOVERNMENT protects a bank on such loans: To keep business booming, it wants people to build and buy as much property as possible.

It knows most people can't do that unless they get bank loans. And it knows banks will be a lot more willing to let people borrow for building if they know the government protects their loans and they can't lose.

So the government, meaning Congress, gave the FHA and VA power to insure or guarantee these loans for the general good of business and the country and the people. But now comes another problem:

Banks, particularly the small ones, don't have an inexhaustible supply of money to hand out in loans to home-buyers. For example: A small bank which put out $100,000 in home loans might not have a lot left for things like personal loans or loans to people who want to buy or expand a business.

In short, banks don't like to put all their eggs in one basket. So the government—besides insuring banks' home loans—had to find a way of enabling banks continually to have a supply of money on hand for home loans.

IN 1948 CONGRESS TOLD A GOVERNMENT agency—the Federal National Mortgage Association, which is called "Fannie Mae" because of its initials—to step into the picture. It does so in this way:

When a bank makes a loan on property it doesn't hand out the money without having a hold on the property. It holds a mortgage. Then if Jones, who got the loan, doesn't pay up when he is supposed to, the bank can foreclose the mortgage and take over the property.

This is where Fannie Mae steps in. Congress gave it authority to buy the FHA-insured or VA-guaranteed mortgages from the banks. In this way, the government, or Fannie Mae, pays the bank in cash for the loan it made to Jones and then takes over Jones' mortgage. Thus, the bank has more money to make more loans and keep home-buying and home-building going. But—

When Congress arranged all this in 1948, it told Fannie Mae it could spend up to $2 billion. And Fannie Mae went to work, buying up the mortgages from the banks.

BY THE END OF FEBRUARY, 1949, it had taken over from the banks, or agreed to take over, more than 275,000 mortgages totaling more than $2.2 billion. Since its $2 billion has nearly run out, Fannie Mae had to stop taking on any new mortgages. But it will go through with those it had agreed to take over up to three or four days ago.

What now? Congress will have to approve more money for Fannie Mae to keep on with its work. It's expected to do that.

One thing should be remembered: Fannie Mae doesn't just buy up mortgages and keep them in a government vault.

It sells them where it can at a small profit to outfit such as other banks and insurance companies which in turn make money off the interest which turns out to keep on paying on his mortgage, no matter who holds the mortgage.

Meanwhile, FHA has had to slow up on the home loans it will insure for banks because it's been using up the money Congress voted FHA to do such insuring. Congress will have to take care of FHA soon, too.

Authority On Proper Eating Is Against Restrictive Diets

NEW YORK—"The best exercise for people over 40 is to lie down," Dr. Gaylord Hauser said very convincingly. He was sitting in the luxurious living room in his house in the East Forties of Manhattan, a room where you usually can find many of the stars of stage, screen and radio.

"You have to live mostly other people's lives, your children's, your relatives, your friends' until you are 50 years old," he said. "After you are 50 is the time to forget your family and let them get along by themselves. After you are 50 relax and think only of yourself. Remember that it's earlier than you think and you'll live longer. But the worst thing for you in old age is self pity. So keep working as long as you can."

Dr. Hauser is an international figure travelling from Hollywood to Broadway to Piccadilly to the Riviera telling stage and screen stars and other famous figures how to eat properly. He doesn't believe in restrictive diets, saying that they should eat all you want but to be careful in your choice of foods. It not only keeps your weight down, he says, but also makes you live longer.

Ina Claire, Blanche Yurka, Greta Garbo and Paulette Goddard are a few of the famous stars who follow his ideas about proper choice of foods. In his new book, "Look Younger, Live Longer," Hauser urges that people quit thinking about their old age, stop brooding over the traditional "three score and ten," and concentrate on being normally healthy and laughing more than usual.

"I looked up that 'three score and ten' in the Bible!" he said. "and I found that Moses died 'with undimmed eye' at the age of 120. That was because he continually had things of absorbing interest in life to occupy his mind. Age has nothing to do with ailments. I recommend one day a week rest cure when you cut off your telephone, get away from everything you do daily and take it easy. For that one day of complete rest I particularly recommend to women that they don't talk, talk, talk. It will rest them and everyone around them—a double benefit.

"And take that one day a week to catch up on your eating, proper eating. You notice that singers who eat a lot and breathe deeply never have trouble with high blood pressure. By breathing deeply they get a lot of oxygen into the body and that relieves tension. Overweight is not unhealthy. It is just unbecomely."

As for food values, Hauser, who is the author of six books on proper eating, thinks that a half-cup of powdered skim milk has the protein value of four steaks. "You could walk to the top of the Empire State Building and down," he said, "and it would hardly walk off a club sandwich."

Fire Losses Reduced

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspapers of the United States are given much of the credit for the decrease in fire losses in the past year. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that 1948 fire losses were 6.1 per cent below the all-time high of $11,114,000 recorded in 1948.

Wendell Sother, public information director of the National Board, says "newspapers in all parts of the country helped people save lives and property by educating the public to prevent fires, support modern fire departments and adopt better fire prevention laws."

ROSSELLINI ONLY LAUGHS

Sen. Johnson Charges Ingrid's Lover Is Drug Addict, Runner

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP) — Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) says that narcotics are being smuggled into Hollywood from Communist China.

Johnson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, made this statement on the Senate floor yesterday in the course of a fresh attack he launched against the movie capital's distribution of the film "Stromboli."

Lashing out at RKO studios for backing Roberto Rossellini, Italian director of the film and father of Actress Ingrid Bergman's son, Johnson said:

"He (Rossellini) has been for many years and is now a notorious cocaine addict. He associates habitually with an international gang of narcotic smugglers and dope runners. This criminal gang is credited with being the pipeline through which the supply of narcotics is smuggled into Hollywood from Communist sources in China."

Arguing that RKO had full knowledge of Rossellini when the studio entered into an arrangement with him for production of "Stromboli," Johnson added:

"Rossellini sold them on the idea that he would produce just what they were looking for, a red-hot, sexy film, lurid and devastating.

Johnson said he made the statements because "I want the American public to understand clearly what type of individuals are making pictures for them."

He added that he would have more to say about Hollywood and narcotics at a later date. It is, he said, "one of the most revolting and at the same time heart-breaking stories of all times."

Besides the drug addiction allegation, Johnson accused Rossellini of black marketeering and wartime collaboration with the Nazis.

Rossellini directed "Stromboli," which starred Miss Bergman. It is now being shown in the U. S. movie houses under the auspices of RKO.

Johnson, who has proposed licensing of actors and actresses and regulation of the interstate transportation of motion pictures, told the Senate that Rossellini "admitted" his drug addiction in open court while seeking an annulment of marriage to his last wife in Austria.

ROME, March 28. (AP) — Italian

FFilm Director Robert Rossellini, target of charges by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) that he was a Nazi collaborator, black market operator and drug addict, said today he would make no reply until he had seen the official record of Johnson's speech.

Rossellini laughed when the senator's charges were read to him.

"Such statements speak for themselves," said Rossellini. "I will wait for the official record of the Senate for any reply. I am not like Senator Johnson."

36,000 Telephone People
Will Get Raises This Year

Regular, scheduled raises are important feature of union contracts which the company offers to continue.

Under existing union contracts, which the company has offered to continue, 36,000, or three out of every four telephone people, will get raises this year. Averaged over all employees, these raises will amount to 5¢ per hour or $2 a week per employee.

Unlike most industries where an employee must wait for a vacancy in a higher-paid job before he can advance, telephone people get regular, scheduled raises from the day they start until they reach the top rate for their jobs.

Also, in this up-from-the-ranks business, several thousand telephone people move up the ladder to positions of greater responsibility and higher pay every year.

Basic wage rate increases have more than kept pace with increased costs of living.

-COST OF LIVING UP 66% SINCE JAN., 1941

BASIC TELEPHONE WAGE RATES UP 94% SINCE JAN., 1941

Provisions for the security of telephone people have improved, too.

The company's Benefit and Pension

Plan, long recognized as one of the best in industry, was improved in November to provide pensions of at least $100 a month, including social security, at age 65 after 20 years' service. Actual-

HOW DO THESE EARNINGS LOOK TO YOU?

The real test of telephone wages is how they compare with those paid in the same communities for jobs requiring similar skill and experience. Here are average weekly and annual earnings of telephone people.

Fully experienced Plant Craftsmen	$75	$3,915
(Such as Repairmen) A Week A Year
Plant craftsmen with five years' service: $61 a week, or $3,184 a year. One year's service: $42 a week, or $2,188 a year.
Fully experienced Operators	$45	$2,349
A Week A Year
Operators with five years' service: $42 a week, or $2,182 a year. One year's service: $38 a week, or $1,988 a year.
Fully experienced Business Office Women	$47	$2,453
(Service Representatives) A Week A Year
Business Office women with five years' service: $44 a week, or $2,307 a year. One year's service: $37 a week, or $1,981 a year.

The above figure includes basic wages for a 40-hour week plus extra pay for overtime, night, Sunday, and holiday work.

ly, under terms of the plan, many employees will get substantially more.

The Plan also includes liberal sickness benefits—up to a year's full pay depending on length of service—plus disability, accident, and death benefits of as much as a year's pay. The plan doesn't cost employees a dime.

Working conditions are equally attractive under the contracts the company offers to continue.

Telephone people enjoy one to three weeks' paid vacation, depending on their length of service. Also, they get seven holidays a year with pay.

Judged by any standards you may choose, telephone jobs are good jobs—as they should be to attract the able people it takes to give you good service.

RATE INCREASES WAGE INCREASES

Rate increases in Texas have covered less than a third of the current cost of wage increases already granted — to say nothing of other increased operating costs.

This has been a big factor in pulling the company's rate of earnings down to the lowest level in its history.

Obviously, any further increase in wages, beyond those already provided in existing contracts, will have to come from pockets of telephone customers.

Borger 'Non-Virgin' Club Faces Probe

BORGER, March 28. (AP)—A grand jury today may investigate reports of a "non-virgin" club, a group that requires its teen-age members to have illicit sexual relations. "We don't have any concrete evidence" of such a club said District Attorney Bob Galloway last night. "But we've heard lots of talk in this town." Galloway said the grand jury was not called to investigate the alleged club. However, he said he expects it to consider "any evidence we can give it."

The Borger News-Herald ran a series of stories on the alleged club and said some officials believe it is master-minded by an adult. The newspaper said all its information had not been proved but that there had been enough "talk" to give the reports credence. The paper said some information came from "plants" who had attended meetings. The paper said one plant, a boy, was invited to join and as an in-

Fertilizer Said Needed On Texas Rolling Plains

CHILLICOTHE, March 28. (AP)—Tests at the agricultural experiment station here indicate that fertilizer now is needed in lighter soils on the rolling plains of Texas. For many years, the only factor limiting production was the amount of rainfall. But experiment results announced recently show that the original plant food has been used up. This applies to farms that have grown crops for 40 to 50 years in this area. The report states that results of the single year of tests cannot be used for final recommendation. But it does say that the experiment indicates fertilizer would be worth the cost. This report was written by J. Roy Quinby, superintendent of the station, and J. C. Smith, associate professor of the Department of Agronomy of Texas A&M College. The authorities say the results indicate that an application of 300 to 600 pounds of 10-10-5 fertilizer mixture would be profitable. These amounts of fertilizer increased lint cotton yields in 1929 by 279 and 367 pounds respectively. The report adds that "such large increases in yield could not be expected every year."

Circus Elephant Must Die For Killing Child

SARASOTA, Fla., March 28. (AP)—Dolly, a circus elephant, must pay with her life for crushing a five-year-old child to death. The 27-year-old work beast stomped the child's head beneath her massive foot at the Ringling quarters here Sunday. The child, Roger Schooley, was feeding peanuts to several elephants, when Dolly seized him with her trunk and dashed him to the ground. The animal had a reputation for gentleness. Henry Ringling North, the circus' vice president, said last night that Dolly would be led to a huge pit dug for the purpose, given an overdose of some narcotic, and will be buried where she falls and dies. Dolly's execution will take place before the circus breaks its winter quarters here Thursday.

10 Cities Will Be Represented At Vocational Meeting

Representatives from 10 cities will be here April 14 for a meeting of the West Texas District Vocational club. J. B. Neeley, coordinator of the trades and industrial cooperative training program in Big Spring high school, anticipated a large attendance for the party. Plans will be developed for the approaching state meeting, set for April 28-29 in Fort Worth. Proposals of policy will be advanced by the district along with nominees for state officers. Although each city has its own delegates to the state, there may be some coordination of voting strength at the district party. The sessions will start at 9:30 a. m. and following a welcome by W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, business sessions will get underway. There will be special evening entertainment to climax the program.

20-Ounce Baby Given Little Chance To Live

DALLAS, March 28. (AP)—Parkland Hospital doctors today kept their fingers crossed for a tiny Negro boy that weighed about 20 ounces at birth. The baby is one of the smallest ever born. Seventeen hours after his birth late Tuesday night he had gained an ounce. The baby was three months and ten days premature. His mother, a 20-year-old who asked her name not to be used, was ill with the flu. This was given as the reason for the premature birth. A Parkland authority said chances of the baby living are "slight." Records of the American Medical Association show that smaller infants have lived. The smallest baby on record with the AMA weighed an estimated 12 ounces at birth in 1936 and now is a normal child.

HOOVER PREFERS GOING TO JAIL TO MAKING PUBLIC FBI'S DOCUMENTS

WASHINGTON, March 28. (U.P.) — Given a choice between opening up the FBI's investigative files to public inspection, or going to jail, J. Edgar Hoover would rather go to jail.

He almost risked just that last year, but Atty. Gen. Tom Clark, now on the Supreme Court, vetoed the idea.

High government officials recall the closely guarded incident with a chuckle today in connection with the FBI director's emphatic declaration before a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee that the bureau files must remain confidential.

It happened during the trial of Judith Coplon, Justice Department employe, convicted of lifting official secrets for her Russian friend.

Valentine Gubitchev, Miss Coplon's attorney challenged the abstracts of FBI investigations of the case, offered in court by the government and demanded to see the full documents. The presiding judge granted the request and directed that the files be brought in for public reading.

During a night-long conference at the Justice Department, it was almost decided to drop the case rather than produce the confidential information reports, which contained the names of many prominent persons not connected in any way with the case.

But Attorney General Clark felt very strongly that as a matter of principle, the government could not abandon a prosecution of a government employe charged with violating government trust.

GOOD NEIGHBORS — This area abounds with Good Neighbors, a contest last week showed. Here are three people who submitted the winning letters in the event, together with those they nominated as their favorite Good Neighbor. More than a score other people had favorites of their own and good reasons to give. At left is Mrs. Louise Porter, who took time after coming off a case to congratulate Shine Philips, the object of her first nice letter. The genial drug-gist's buoyant attitude and regular hospital visitation were among the reasons he was nominated. In the center, Rosalind Bunch sits beside Mrs. Dorothy Davis, whom she nominated as her favorite. Mrs. Davis, principal of Kate Morrison school, was just preparing to leave a hospital after convalescing from surgery at the time this picture was snapped. She was cited for many things, among them spending of her own funds to help Latin-American constituents. At right is Mrs. H. R. McKenzie, left, congratulating Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pittman, whom she nominated. Included in the many nice things she had to say about her favorites was that they provided a house that was desperately needed. (Culver Photos)

5,000 Homosexuals In Capital Reported

WASHINGTON, March 28. (U.P.) — A Senate Appropriations Subcommittee has heard an estimate that there are 5,000 homosexuals in Washington—three-fourths of them working for the government.

Senators said today this estimate was given to the committee by a District of Columbia official they declined to name.

One senator described him, however, as "the man in the best position to know what he's talking about." The senator added, however, that the official's estimate was only an approximation and was given as such.

Disclosure of this testimony came at a time when the State Department faced a demand from Senator Bridges (R-NH) to know the identity of the persons involved in the hiring of 91 sex perverts the department said had been fired in the last two years.

Bridges told the Senate yesterday that Secretary of State Acheson would like to contend that "The spying is all over and ended and the spies are gone" from the State Department "because 91 homosexuals have been kicked out and have been allowed to resign." "By the department's own count, some 91 homosexuals—everyone a logical target for blackmail by spies—have been caught," Bridges said. "Even by the half-hearted and self-serving investigations the department has been conducting of itself in the very recent past, these perverts were exposed."

Bridges urged a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee now investigating charges that there are Communists in the State Department to call for a report on how long the sex perverts were employed before they were let out.

"How many other cases does the department have on file, pending action?" Bridges demanded.

DUST WHIPS ACROSS KANSAS — Two cars, one of them almost obscured, move down a road northeast of Lawrence, Kansas, as winds of 70 to 80 miles-an-hour whipped clouds of dust into the air in conditions reminiscent of the black blizzards of the 1930's. McCarthy Dared To Repeat Red Charges

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Haldore Hanson today challenged Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) to waive his senatorial immunity and repeat his charges that Hanson is pro-Communist.

Hanson, 37-year-old State Department official, told a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee that he is not a Communist, has never been a Communist and never belonged to a Communist front organization.

McCarthy, in testimony to the committee, said Hanson had "pro-Communist proclivities." He also described Hanson as a man "with a mission to communize the world."

McCarthy cannot be sued for libel for any statements he made to the committee.

But Hanson said that if McCarthy would repeat the charges "without benefit of senatorial immunity, I assure him that he will be called upon to answer to me in a court of justice at the earliest practical moment."

Asserting that he had been cleared after a thorough investigation by the FBI, Hanson continued: "I deeply resent this attack on my loyalty. I wish to state now, under oath that I am not a Communist. I have never been a Communist."

"I have never belonged to an organization cited by the attorney general as being a Communist front organization. I have never knowingly associated with an espionage agent of a foreign power."

Hanson was the fourth person to come before the committee and deny charges made against them by McCarthy. The others were Dorothy Kenyon, former American representative on a United Nations commission; Ambassador at Large

IDENTIFIED AS RUSSIA'S TOP SECRET AGENT — Owen Lattimore (above) was named as the man Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has charged as a top secret agent in the United States. He is now in Afghanistan. He, his wife and John Hopkins University associates hotly denied Sen. McCarthy's charges made March 13 that Lattimore is "pro-Communist" and a "bad security risk." (AP Wirephoto)

Philip C. Jessup, and Mrs. Esther Brunauer, who is on the State Department's UN Relations Staff.

All had been named by McCarthy in detailing his charges that the State Department is shot through with Communism and Communist sympathizers.

Attorneys for Owen Lattimore, another of those named by McCarthy, advised the committee today that Lattimore "will be eager to speak for himself at the earliest possible moment."

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor and some time consultant to the State Department, is now in Afghanistan on a UN mission. McCarthy said he believes Lattimore is a top Soviet espionage agent. Lattimore called the Associated Press that McCarthy's "rantings" were "pure moonshine."

There are increasing indications that the whole matter is going to be a big issue in this year's political campaigns, regardless of what may yet come out of the Senate investigation of McCarthy's charges.

In a Senate speech yesterday, Senator Bridges (R-NH) said Russia must have a master spy in the American government who is "using our State Department as his will." He demanded that Congress find out "how did Stalin manage it."

UT Researchers Seek To Develop 'Target Drones'

Speed In Technical Progress Seen By Engineering Prof.

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—Efforts to develop "Target Drones" for guided missiles were revealed here today by the University of Texas Defense Research Laboratory. The University announced that Dr. M. J. Thompson, associate director of the laboratory and aeronautical engineering professor, has been named to the research and development board panel on Target Drones.

"The name drone doesn't mean that we are working with an inferior device as its identification with the lazy male bee suggests," Dr. Thompson said. "In fact, our job is to perfect a drone which will out-perform the missile it is to test. Scrimmages, with the drones running enemy plays, will help us find and correct flaws in our weapons. That will speed our technical progress."

Dr. Thompson's statement, cleared by Dr. C. P. Boner, nationally known physicist and director of the defense laboratory, was released by the University of Texas news service.

A spokesman for the university news service said both Dr. Thompson and Dr. Boner, informed that the announcement would touch off "flying saucer" speculation, said that all they knew about the "saucers" was what they had read in the papers.

Dr. Thompson was at the Ryan Aeronautical Co. in San Diego today. Dr. Boner was at the University of Oklahoma and en route to Washington by way of the office of naval research in Chicago.

"Guided missile development is an extremely complex technical problem, and Target Drones, which are needed to test adequately our missiles' combat performance, are just as complicated," Dr. Thompson's statement said.

He said the targets were called drones because the term has been applied to such devices for testing guided missiles since the research began. Radio-controlled airplanes were the first drones.

U. S. Diplomat Is Air Crash Victim

Borden Discovery Flows 100 Barrels

Barnsdall Oil No. 1 Wilson, southeastern Borden discovery near the Howard county line, flowed at the rate of 102 barrels daily on a drillstem test Monday evening.

At the same time, George P. Livermore No. 1 Whittaker, south offset to the Livermore No. 1, Reinecke discovery in southeast Borden, topped the Canyon reef, and there was some speculation it was structurally high.

Flow of the Barnsdall test was one of the most prolific in this general area. Last week it had topped the reef at 4,410 and drilled 15 feet of section to 7,425 and flowed an unestimated amount of oil to pits. Electric log corrected the depth to 7,429.

From that point it cored to 7,452 after setting seven-in. string at 7,429 and drilling plug. Packer was set at 7,408 feet in the casing.

When the tool was open gas was to surface in three minutes, drilling fluid in six, oil at eight minutes. The flow was to pits for 31 minutes and then cut to tanks for four hours, through 3/4-inch choke. Total flow was 400 barrels or 100 barrels per hour.

Flowing bottomhole pressure was 850 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 1,060-1, and gravity of oil 45.9.

The operator was pulling testor at last report and may drill deeper.

Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 16-27, H&T, 2 1/2 miles west of the abandoned Standard No. 1 Griffin and six miles southwest of the Reinecke pool. It is about 10 miles east of Vearmoor production.

George P. Livermore, Inc. No. 1 B. F. Whittaker, et al. south offset to the Reinecke discovery, topped the Canyon at 6,734 feet, and most geologists picked this 21 feet high on the reef to the discovery No. 1, Reinecke. The Whittaker drilled to 6,794 and was taking electric log preparatory to running a drillstem test late Tuesday.

Location is 660 feet from the west and north lines of the southwest quarter of section 53-25, H&T. Elevation is 2,348 feet.

One location to the west of the No. 1 Reinecke, Hyser & Heard No. 1 Holly, which topped the reef for production although structurally low, was drilling plugs Tuesday.

Steinhardt, Four Others Die As Transport Falls

Air Force C-47 Plane Explodes Near Ottawa Farm

Ex-Glasscock Rancher Dies

Death came at 7:20 o'clock Monday evening to A. D. (ad) Neal, 62, of San Angelo.

Neal passed away in the Bexar County Metropolis hospital in San Antonio. The one-time Glasscock county rancher, well-known locally, had gone to San Antonio to attend the convention of the Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association.

Born at Blanton, Texas, Feb. 4, 1888, Neal spent his boyhood on a stock farm operated by his parents in Hill county.

He moved to West Texas around 1916 and formed a partnership with two brothers, Ike and the late Jesse J. Neal. They purchased a large ranch in Glasscock county. The partnership existed until about 1938.

At the time of his death, Neal had ranch holdings in Upton, Brewster and Jeff Davis counties.

Final funeral arrangements are pending, but members of the family have stated that the body will be returned to San Angelo for burial. Last rites may be held Wednesday.

Steinhardt, once ambassador to Russia and Czechoslovakia and for 17 years a career diplomat. Allan Harrington, son of the U. S. minister to Canada, Julian Harrington. Capt. Thomas Archibald, U. S. Army Air Force pilot. Lt. Col. W. F. Trueblood, U. S. Army Force, an exchange officer attached to RCAF headquarters in Ottawa. Lt. Mark Belanger, U. S. Army Air Force, a former U. S. air attaché at Ottawa who was in Ottawa on an exchange basis. The lone survivor was M-Sgt. Gwyn A. Long of the U. S. Army Air Force, crew chief on the flight. He was reported to have walked away from the wreck and was taken to a hospital.

The plane took off at 5:20 a.m. (EST). Witnesses at the scene, the Gould farm three miles southeast of Ramsayville, said the craft seemed to explode about 50 feet from the ground.

Wreckage was scattered over a wide area of the flat, cleared farmland.

Cause of the crash was not immediately determined. The weather was clear and visibility good when the aircraft took off.

Steinhardt was ambassador to Moscow during a critical period of U. S.-Russian relations. A New Yorker, Steinhardt gave up a profitable law and business career to enter the diplomatic service in April, 1933. He worked for the election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, whom he had known for several years, and was made minister to Sweden. He stayed in Stockholm until 1937, then was made ambassador to Peru. The Moscow assignment followed in February, 1939.

Steinhardt saw the war being in Moscow. He was bombed and nearly captured by the Germans after they turned on their Russian allies.

AIMED AT COMMUNISM

Major State Dept. Shakeup Imminent

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The first major State Department shakeup in months, designed to deal more effectively with communism in the Far East, is in the making.

In an outgrowth of McCarthy's charges of communism in the State Department, Senator Bridges (R-NH) yesterday opened the Republican attack on Acheson's conduct of the State Department.

In the State Department reshuffle, Dean Rusk, who has been deputy undersecretary for political affairs, was made chief of the Bureau of Far Eastern Affairs. This is the agency directly concerned with relations with Japan, China and with the aid measures now being put into shape to bolster South-east Asia against Communist pressure.

Whitney Resigns As Commerce Aide

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney said today he has submitted his resignation as "Undersecretary of Commerce" to President Truman.

Whitney told a reporter, he did so in a letter Feb. 1, and that he hopes to be released by Mr. Truman by May 1.

He declined to go into the reasons for his resignation.

But he recalled he had been away from his numerous business interests for "seven of the last nine years"—since he entered the Air Force in 1941. He said he would like to "get a rest" and return to his business activities.

GOP Pressing Drive To Cut Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Republican strategists pressed on today in their drive aimed at slashing up to half a billion dollars from foreign recovery spending.

Major parts of the Administration's foreign policy program were at stake as the House neared a decisive stage on President Truman's one-package $3,372,450,000 foreign aid bill. It covers the 1951 fiscal year which begins July 1.

GOP House leaders decided yesterday to press for sharp reductions in 1951 aid authorizations despite Mr. Truman's weekend plea to Congress to "strike a blow for peace" by approving the full amount.

Republican policy makers made equally clear: they have the whole Truman spending program — domestic as well as foreign—in line for attempted pruning.

They were reserving their first shots for the big foreign aid bill.

Following up yesterday's meeting, the Republican policy committee is to meet again with members of the appropriations committee to weigh the size of foreign aid cuts in relation to Mr. Truman's $29 billion domestic budget.

Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts told reporters: "If we are going to make cuts in the domestic field, we've got to make some in the foreign field, too."

GOP sights were set apparently on cuts ranging from $150 million to $500 million in the Administration's foreign aid requests.

A principal target was $150 million in unexpended 1950 European Recovery funds which Mr. Truman wants to carry over into the next 12 months.

Another was a request for funds to start the "point four" program to technical assistance to the so-called underdeveloped areas.

$5 GIFT GOES BEGGING

C. M. Burke waited in vain Monday at the personal loan department of the State National bank for someone to introduce himself to him.

But it was a bad, blustery day and people weren't stirring around much. And those that ventured out had their eyes almost shut and fused at the weather. It was not, in short, a very good "Get Acquainted Day."

As a result, no one received the $5 gift from the Herald for being the person to meet the mystery "Mr. Get Acquainted" for Monday. There was some handshaking going on over the town — but it just didn't happen to reach Mr. Burke.

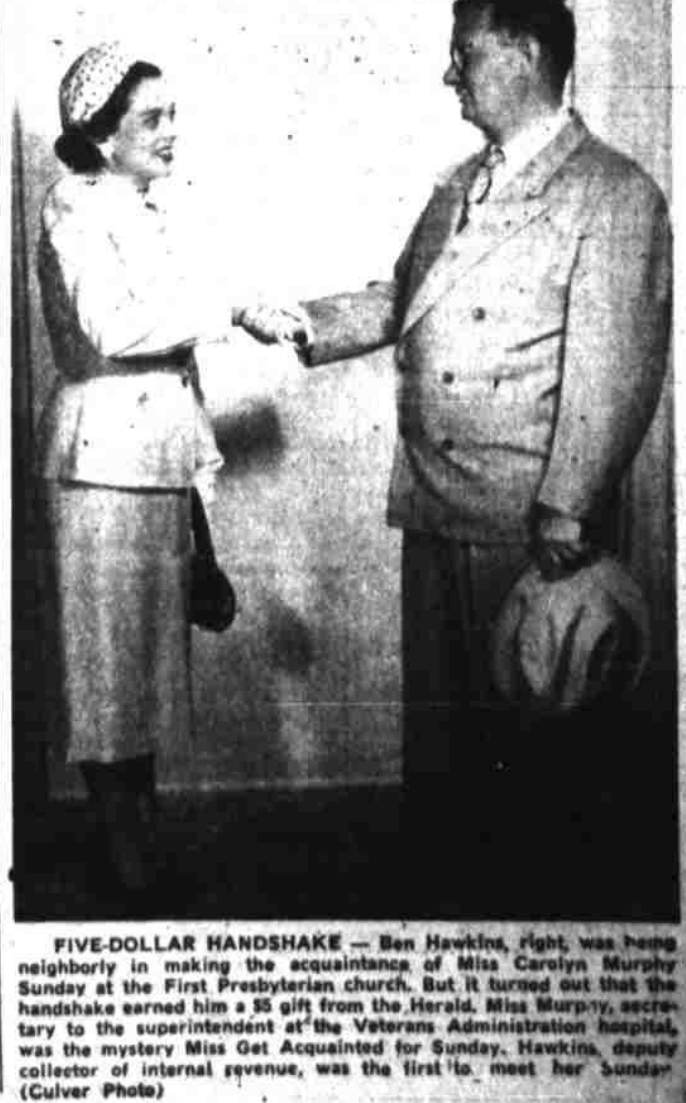

Burke is manager of the personal loan department for the State National, having resigned a position of assistant bank exam-
