COYOTES NOT WELCOME NOW

LOS ANGELES, March 7. (U)—It's getting so a respectable coyote can't walk down the street any more. Not in Los Angeles.

This particular coyote was strolling leisurely through the Wilshire district yesterday when folks suddenly start hollering at him. So Melvin Ward shoots the beast into a garage and slams the door.

Today, the critter, a six months old pup, is as solitary as the city pound. He'll be given to the zoo if nobody claims him.

Spurlock Says Colorado Citizens Entertain Communists Unawares

COLORADO CITY, March 7.—Joe Spurlock, Fort Worth attorney and state department commandant for the American Legion, told Colorado Citizens, Monday, that "most of you have entertained Communists in your homes and didn't know it."

Spurlock's address before a luncheon sponsored by the Hooker-Pond Legion post and the V.F.W. here, was the first in a weeklong series. Assisted by Kiwanians, Jaycees, Lions and the chamber of commerce, the veterans' organizations have designated the week "Democracy Beats Communism" week.

Introduced by T. J. Goss II, local Legion commander, Spurlock, who served with the Army Intelligence during World War II, gave a rapid fire presentation of facts and figures concerning infiltration of communism in America. He said they were now a matter of open record. His charges and warnings were based, he declared, on "investigations by Army Intelligence, the F. B. I., and the Congressional investigation of Un-American Activities—all records which are now public and available to any American interested in preserving Democracy."

The responsibility of keeping Democracy alive in this country is not Washington's, it is yours!" he said.

He named organizations he called "fronts" of the Communist party. A major radio network through certain performers pours vast support into the Communist line, he said, due to an unwitting sponsor and tinted entertainers.

Although Communists have infiltrated into the executive branch and even the military, they have not been able to seize control. Consequently, they have turned to the grass-roots to undermine democracy, according to Spurlock. He said 400 copies of the Daily Worker (Communist paper) went to Breckenridge and 200 to Abilene.

The Communist party may be found everywhere today—except in the Legion and VFW," he asserted. Centralized government is becoming a threat to democracy, also, as Spurlock added, and he said Christian faith was the chief answer to combat communism through unity and overcoming prejudices.

Two district Legion commanders, Louis Jordan, Abilene, and W. T. Bridges, Levelland, were honor guests at the affair. Harold Bennett, district Jaycee head, led the group in singing "America."

Mrs. L. B. Elliott, 19th district Legion auxiliary president, led the pledge of allegiance. Spurlock also addressed the high school assembly Monday afternoon. High schoolers are busy electing city officials from the student body, the winners to be presented at the Jaycee luncheon on Wednesday.

Taft Fights Steel Price-Fixing Move

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) led a fight today against an administration move he said was pointed toward government price fixing for steel.

Taft told a reporter he and other Republican members are ready to fight issuance of a report of the Senate-Economic Committee which the Ohio senator said "smears the steel industry."

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) called the committee together today to pass on the report. O'Mahoney denied flatly there is anything in it that even suggests price controls for steel.

On the other hand, Taft said two provisions in the report "call for committee studies that certainly point toward price fixing."

One of these provisions would recommend that before any steel price boost is put into effect, the steel companies should file a schedule of proposed price increases with appropriate government agencies.

STATE EDUCATION BUDGET STUDIED BY BOARD, LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

AUSTIN, March 7. (U)—A proposed budget for a new streamlined state board of education was under study today of the State Board of Education and the Legislative Audit Committee.

Budget recommendations were drawn in a closed meeting of the board here late yesterday. Details were withheld pending their submission to the audit committee which must approve them before they can become effective.

Streamlining of the department was authorized at the board's meeting yesterday on the recommendations of Education Commissioner-elect J. W. Edgar.

Edgar's plan calls for two assistant commissioners and an executive director of vocational education to direct the functional divisions of the state department. They and a business manager would be directly responsible to the commissioner and his deputy.

One assistant commissioner is to be in charge of all administrative matters, overseeing four divisions: Finance; census, statistics and reports; administrative services; and textbooks and instructional materials.

The other assistant commissioner is to oversee three instructional divisions devoted to curriculum development, professional standards and special education.

Former State Supt. L. A. Woods will hold the post of advisor to the commissioner. His duties are entirely advisory.

Attend Bible Class Thirty Persons

Thirty persons were present when the Ladies Bible class of the Main Street Church of Christ met at the church Monday afternoon. Lloyd Connel, church minister, directed the study concerning the story of the prodigal son. He told how the younger son first became restless, then rebelled, and left the home of his father to lead a life of revelry which led to his ruin. He told how he began to reflect on his past action and how his reflection led him to repentance and back to his father's house. He told how he was received and reconciled with his father. He was reinstated into the household and rejoicing followed. Connel emphasized the fact that though the son was lost, he was still his father's son and that repentance brought immediate reconciliation. Connel stated that the older son was jealous of his brother and did not join in the rejoicing. This was not the proper attitude said Connel.

Edwards Scores At San Angelo Rodeo

Top, calf-roping honors in the San Angelo rodeo were sacked up by Sonny Edwards, Big Spring.

His 13.6 on his initial calf put him on the inside track and he hustled in with a total of 30.2 for two calves. This was nearly two seconds ahead of Don McLaughlin, second in the chase. Toots Mansfield, who had hard luck with a 21 tie on his first calf, came back with 16.1 Sunday for his second, but it was not fast enough to put him in the two-calf money. Junior Hayes, Big Spring, tied in the Sunday steer wrestling division with 6.8 seconds.

Meteor Crater Believed Found

DARWIN, Australia, (AP) — A big hole that may be a meteoric crater has been found in a wild part of Northern Australia. The hole, in unknown Arnhem Land, was found by flier Harry Moss. It is about 300 miles east-south-east of Darwin, is 100 feet across, and of unknown depth.

If the find is a meteoric crater it is of world geologic interest. There are only eight proven meteoric craters in the world. Two are in America, two in Australia, two in Russia, one in Argentina, and one in Arabia.

GOOD TRUCK DRIVERS ARE KEY MEN

It Cost Money, But American Forces Learned Lot In North

WASHINGTON, (AP) — American taxpayers spent $1,200,000 on the recent war games in the Canadian Yukon and Alaska, in addition to the regular running expenses of the 3,110 U. S. ground and air personnel who took part. What did they get for their money?

Their correspondent was there for the first week as an observer. It was time enough to see something of what the Army and Air Force men have been working more and more on the problems of fighting and flying in the Alaska area. Since 1947 they have had occasional field tests, involving a few hundred men. These 1950 exercises, however, were the first large-scale try-outs for men and equipment.

The maneuvers proved that a large force of men could be quickly transported by air into the Arctic, ready to live and fight in frigid temperatures. A battalion (750 men) was flown from Camp Carson, Colo., a distance of 2,600 miles to Whitehorse, Canada, with all their arms, equipment, cold weather clothing and sleeping bags. Officers said it was the longest airlift of fully armed men ever attempted.

In addition 2,000 men were transported by truck in midwinter from the United States to Alaska over the Alaska Highway. The trip went off smoothly, without traffic tie-ups or other serious incidents. These achievements are important because they prove the feasibility of one phase of America's strategy for Alaska defense. The U. S. plan is to garrison the territory with relatively few troops, then depend on rapid and heavy reinforcements.

Men with no Arctic experience from the States in case of trouble, proved that with a few months' indoctrination they could live, fight and keep healthy in the deep snows, in temperatures ranging from 20 to 57 below zero. At the base camp they tried out the new Jamesway shelters — a two-layer, quilted semi-cylindrical tent, insulated with fiber glass. In the field they lived in eight-sided five-man tents. The outer layer was canvas, the inner layer was nylon. An oil stove, its smokestack the tentpole, kept the inside quite warm.

White felt snow boots got their first large scale work-out, and a sizeable number of frost-bitten feet resulted. Maneuver leaders believed, however, that the boots were good, although they had to be worn with care. Men who were frost-bitten, they said, had failed to use the proper precautions. In that climate you must use the utmost care to see that no moisture from sweat, snow or water ever reaches the feet.

Almost half of the weasels, the tracked vehicle built specially for Arctic use, broke down by the end of the first week. This was anticipated, however. A new type of Arctic vehicle is now being designed.

"The thing we learned the first day here," said Lt. Col. Lloyd J. Hellmann, chief umpire, "was that good truck drivers are the key men in this kind of war."

In a region where there is only one highway and no possibility of wheeled vehicles moving off of it, a traffic tie-up could be disastrous. Hellmann pointed out that where there had been stoppages the whole battle had bogged down. Men who could skillfully handle heavy trucks on the hard packed snow were as valuable as expert marksmen.

Decision On Water Problem Due To Turn On Original Factor--Cost

Now that the Bureau of Reclamation has made its recommendation for a solution of the water supply problems of Big Spring, Snyder, Midland and Odessa, what is the status of this continuing search for water security? When will we have abundant water?

Its position vastly different. Other points, however, might find that the greater supply for longer periods would entail substantially higher costs.

How To Throw A Dinner For The Relief Of Eskimo Architects

NEW YORK, (U)—TODAY WE TAKE you for a behind-the-scenes peek at a great American industry. It is the business of getting people to attend a public dinner. And right now it is one of the most active industries in the United States.

"WHY, I MAY," YOU SAY LAMELY, and she remarks, "don't be pitiful. We gotta get some big name talkers."

LET US TAKE A TYPICAL CASE. Suppose you are president of the Society for Relieving Impoverishment Among Eskimo Architects. You want the society's annual dinner to be a success, so you go to a professional arranger.

WHAT IS A "TESTED DINNER-goer?" Well, believe it or not, in Manhattan there are thousands of people who make a career out of going to public dinners. Some want to run for office, others want to "keep my face before the public."

Can We Risk A Declaration Of War Before We Attack Enemy?

WASHINGTON, (U)—HERE'S A NICE one to think about. This country and Russia are spending billions on arms and bomb-making. So far as can be seen, they'll continue doing that.

Just because times have changed, this same Democratic process, the wide open declaration of war by Congress, might in the next war mean the end of the republic by giving the enemy a chance to attack first.

WHAT COULD BE DONE TO BE SURE we weren't attacked first? As commander-in-chief of the armed forces the President, if he thought the danger great enough, might try to save the country by ordering our bombers to start the war and attack Russia without waiting for congressional action.

Yet, if he did so, he might be impeached by Congress. Whether that happened, of course, would depend upon what Congress and the people thought after the war started.

COULD RUSSIA TEE OFF ON US SUDDELY without a formal declaration of war, which would be enough warning to us? Sure.

Under the Constitution, only Congress can declare war. But, if we reached a point where Congress gathered to declare war, the Russians would have plenty of warning and time to attack first.

IN THE PAST THIS ARRANGEMENT--no war unless declared by the people's representatives in Congress--has worked all right. It was the Democratic way, the backbone of this country's way of life.

But times have changed, and this story has tried to point out, because of the advantages that would go to the one who attacked first with hydrogen bombs.

New Big Four Meet Slated

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
AP Staff
WASHINGTON, March 7. (U)—A war strategy seemed today to be a certainty.
The State Department said the United States is willing, but officials forecast it may be two months before Secretary Acheson is ready for another conference with British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.
There was no hint from responsible officials that the State Department has given any serious thought to making it a big four affair by inviting Russian Foreign Minister Vishinsky. That could come later, as was suggested by Schuman yesterday at Paris, if western officials should decide that a new approach to Russia holds any promise of success.

Plans for the first face to face meeting of the western leaders since last September began to take shape yesterday. Schuman said he would discuss arrangements with Bevin.
He predicted the foreign ministers would take up Far East problems, including the Japanese peace treaty, relations with Communist China, support for Indo-China and other Southeast Asia lands, relations with Germany, and also the possibility of a big four meeting. Acheson's aides had discussed a big-three meeting informally among themselves. But, as yet, there has been no talk about arrangements with the British and French, they said.

Ex-Red Takes Stand In Espionage Probe

WASHINGTON, March 7. (U)—Victor Kravchenko, author of "I Chose Freedom," was called today to give House spy hunters his account of how Russia misused diplomatic mail privileges during the war.
The expatriate Russian author broke with the Soviet regime in 1944. His appearance here is before the House un-American Activities Committee.
Kravchenko was kept waiting yesterday while the committee heard an FBI under-cover agent tell behind closed doors of Communist activity in the Pittsburgh area.
The witness, George Dietze, 51, told reporters afterward that he had given the committee "a few hundred" names of Communists.
Dietze also said that since Matthew Cvetic, another FBI under-cover agent, testified before the committee two weeks ago Communists in Pittsburgh were looking at each other with suspicion, and that large gatherings no longer are being held.
Dietze said he told the committee that hundreds of Communists meetings were held in his music studio and later in his jewelry engraving shop.
He said he actually joined the party in 1944, but for nearly four years before that he had mingled with Communists and supplied the FBI with information on the activities.
Dietze, who used to be a piano teacher and hopes to be one again, said he often played the "Internationale" to make his Communist friends happy.
A Republican member of the committee, Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), said he hoped it would be possible to get witnesses such as Cvetic and Dietze from other cities. He specifically mentioned Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and San Francisco. While hopeful, Velde said he had no idea whether witnesses would be available to tell of Communist goings-on in those cities.

MYRTLE THE TURTLE FACES MOTHERHOOD

CHICAGO, March 7. (U)—Myrtle the Turtle of the Brookfield Zoo is fertile, and apparently is going to be a mama.
Myrtle the Turtle, Zoo Director Robert Bean explained, isn't exactly a turtle. She's a 26-year-old, 300-pound giant tortoise from the Galapagos Islands off the west coast of South America.
Bean said Myrtle's babies will be the first of the species to be hatched in an American zoo. Until last Valentine's Day when Myrtle laid five eggs in the zoo's reptile house, she was just another tortoise.

But until yesterday Bean and Robert Snediger, curator of reptiles, had been in the dark as to whether Myrtle's eggs were fertile.
They said Myrtle's secret was laid bare on X-ray film after they placed one of the tortoise eggs, weighing 3 1/3 ounces, under an X-ray machine at a dentist's office. On the film, vaguely and mistily, were depicted the beginnings of a tiny tortoise, they said.
Snediger estimated the blessed event will take place in six to 10 weeks. The eggs are in a special incubator.
"Myrtle wouldn't lift a flipper in their defense," Snediger said. "She just lacks all instincts of motherhood."

TRUMAN PLANS FLORIDA TRIP

WASHINGTON, March 7. (U) — President Truman will leave Sunday for a three-week vacation at Key West, Fla. The White House announced the President will leave Sunday aboard the Presidential Yacht USS Williamsburg. He expects to reach the naval station at Key West Thursday morning. His present plans are to make the return trip by plane.

Churchill Due To Clash With Labor Regime

LONDON, March 7. (U) — Winston Churchill headed today for his first clash with the Labor Government since the elections which nearly wiped out Prime Minister Attlee's majority in the House of Commons. Churchill's Conservatives decided last night to press for a vote expressing dissatisfaction with labor's policies on nationalization of steel and construction of housing.

The Conservative chief was expected to pen the debate today in common on the government's mild program announced yesterday. With its majority cut to shaky seven votes, the Labor Government yesterday ducked all mention of new nationalization of industry. Prime Minister Attlee told the commons later, however, that his government was determined to go ahead with taking over the ownership of iron and steel plants. They were ordered nationalized by the last parliament in which Labor had a 148-seat majority. The Conservative challenge—which conceivably could bring the government's resignation if successful—was contained in two proposed amendments to the customary government motion for approval of the king's speech which laid down the program yesterday. One amendment expresses regret that the speech contains no reference to the future of the iron and steel industry. The nationalization law, unless repealed, goes into effect Jan. 1, 1951. The second amendment charges a "continuing decline" in house building. It will criticize the government program for not including "more effective measures to deal with the situation."

Border Patrol Denies Cruelty

MISSION, March 7. (U) — Inspector Norman Phillips of the U. S. Border Patrol says he's "thoroughly convinced" none of his men "rough-handled" four boys last Thursday. A Mission businessman, Mattias Cavazos, complained that four patrolmen entered the rooms above his garage to question his sons, handled them roughly and kicked one. Congressman Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., said Saturday he would ask for an investigation of the incident.

SNAKE WINDER BEING SOUGHT

HULL, Eng., March 7. (U) — Animal Inspector B. U. Kahn is looking for an expert snake winder. A fifteen-foot python which Kahn hopes to ship to Antwerp has become so hot tempered no one can approach the box in which it is coiled. "It's because the snake was coiled into the box the wrong way," Kahn explained. "I'm trying to find someone who can unwind it the other way."

Jato Climb Is Elevating

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff It was an elevating experience. Normally, big, four-engine airliners climb 400 to 500 feet per minute. But this one climbed at the rate of 6,000 feet per minute. And the angle of ascent was an amazing 85 degrees.

Several thousand people saw the big ship nosed spectacularly into the sky at Dallas. It was part of a Jato demonstration given by Braniff International Airways. Jato means jet-assisted take off. Brother, it really assists. On one takeoff, Pilot Bill Walner cut one of his four engines just as the ship left the ground. At the same moment, he fired two cylinders of Jato. The plane went right on up.

The final demonstration—the first public one ever given by an airlines company in the U. S.—was scheduled as a takeoff at full engine power, plus four cylinders of Jato. The cylinders are attached to the underside of the fuselage. They are 10 inches in diameter and three feet long and contain fuel and oxygen to burn it. When they are set off, a smoky gas spurts out, giving the plane a big push. We climbed aboard for the ride. At the beginning of the runway, Pilot Walner held the brakes till the propellers spun at full power. He let go, and the huge craft shot ahead. With half the runway gone, the plane lifted into the air and swallowed its wheels. And then Walner threw the switch. The Jato cylinders blasted in unison, the ship trembled with power and nosed breathtakingly into the sky, trailed by a tremendous column of white smoke. Passengers were pressed back into their seats. Fourteen seconds later the rocket fuel was gone and Palmer leveled off. "I had figured on a climb of 45 degrees," he said later. "But we did 85 degrees or better. We really were hanging on the propellers." Braniff planes flying into the 14,404-foot high airport at La Paz, Bolivia, carry Jato as a precautionary measure on takeoffs in the rarified air. But no Braniff plane has ever had to use it.

Lilienthal Enjoys Sweets Of Revenge

PHILADELPHIA, March 7. (U) — David E. Lilienthal, who gave warning of senatorial heckling as part of his reason for resigning last month as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has taken a poet's revenge on two of his most outspoken critics. They are Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) and Kenneth McKellar (D-Tenn.). Lilienthal said in a speech here last night he found that as a private citizen he had to have a card to use the Georgetown, Md. public library, near his home. He also needed two references. So, he said, he put down the names of Sens. McKellar and Hickenlooper.

'KIDNAPPING' JUST ECONOMY

HOUSTON, March 7. (U) — An excited woman called the sheriff's office here tonight and spluttered: "Quick! I just saw a man stuff a boy into the trunk of a car and drive off with him." The woman had jotted down the license number of the car, and a general alarm was broadcast for a possible kidnapping. An hour later two deputies apprehended the owner of the car. "I was taking some kids to a drive-in movie," he explained, "and I put the boy in the trunk so I wouldn't have to pay for him."

British Curb German Riots

BRUNSWICK, Germany, March 7. (U) — British troops marched into a section of the big Hermann Goering steel works here today to curb bitter German demonstrations against dismantling the industrial plant. Demonstrators overturned 10 automobiles, tore down scolding and burned records of a British dismantling firm at the plant yesterday. It was the sharpest protest yet to dismantling of potential war plants ordered by the allies. Light armored cars were sent to bolster the British army detachment of 2 men. The soldiers occupied the section of the plant containing coke ovens. German police who broke up the demonstration yesterday said the 1,500 rioters dispersed so rapidly they were unable to make any arrests.

Ford Setting Up Philanthropic Fund

DETROIT, March 7. (U)—The Ford Motor Co., fulfilling its obligations as an "industrial citizen," is setting up a special philanthropic organization.

Formation of a new non-profit corporation, known as the Ford Motor Co. fund, was announced yesterday by Henry Ford II, president of the family-owned motor firm.

Ford did not divulge the amount of money which the corporation, chartered under Michigan law, would handle. But he said that contributions would come "principally" from the Ford Co.

The fund's purpose, he said, "will be the alleviation of want and human suffering and the betterment of mankind."

It will make contributions "in the fields of charity, education, public and private health and hospitalization, civic and community development," he said.

"It is our observation," he continued, "that traditional sources of financial support of private institutions operating in these fields are tending to disappear."

"We do not like the consequences inherent in the alternative facing such private institutions — that of having to turn to government for needed financial aid."

"In our opinion, this situation places an increasing responsibility upon American businesses in their role of industrial citizens."

Big Bug Crop In Nation This Year Is Feared

NEW YORK, March 7. (U)—One crop that may be bigger than ever this year has the farmers and the planners worried. That's the crop of bugs.

Thriving on the mild winter, a record horde of insects have burst forth to forage through the nation's grain fields. Later, others may attack cotton fields, orchards and home gardens.

Last year, with government storage bins groaning and more bumper crops on the way, federal bug-fighters spent nearly $3 million to hold down damage to crops. This year they may ask up to $4 million for the battle.

The reason for the fight is a matter of dollars and cents: Bugs take a $4 billion toll a year from food and fiber producers. This year the toll could go much higher, the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine thinks. And letting bugs run riot is the last way the nation should control the size of crops, the bureau says.

Insecticide makers have new formulas ready to combat the horde. Prices of the lethal sprays, powders and fumigants may range as much as a third lower than last year. Still, the Department of Commerce estimates that $100 million may be paid out this year for bug killers.

The horde is expected to be larger this year because: 1. The mild winter has left untouched billions of insect eggs which normally are killed by cold; and 2. Some pests have the annoying ability to build up immunity to a new wonder killer and, after a faltering season or two, to go right on multiplying again.

The bug bureau estimates that last year three pests alone—the European corn borer, the boll weevil and the grasshopper—did $1 billion damage in this country. The bureau thinks that this year the trio will do at least $2 billion damage.

Bug damage to crops last year was one of the worst in recent years. By late August, the trade reports, demand for insecticides was swamping supply in some sections of the country.

Supplies this year are expected to be adequate.

Mexican Newspaper Hits U. S. Measures To Halt Immigration

MEXICO CITY, March 7. (U)—The leading newspaper, Excelsior, said editorially Monday that U. S. measures to halt illegal immigration of Mexicans are "not in harmony with a good neighbor policy."

These are "scarcely justifiable in the case of wild beasts," the paper said.

The paper said Mexican laborers were welcomed when the U. S. needed them during the war but now "they receive bad treatment in the South of the U. S.—by a bitter paradox, in the land which was cured." It also said U. S. patrols had been ordered to "shoot without warning those suspected of trying to enter the country."

But Excelsior added that a great part of the blame lies on Mexico for conditions "which oblige our workers to emigrate."

Sub Atomic Power Plant Being Built

PITTSBURGH, March 7. (U)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. is building an atomic power plant for a U. S. Navy submarine.

The work is being done, the company said yesterday, at the old Bettis Airport near Pittsburgh.

Previously, the company had disclosed only that it was making an atomic power plant for a naval vessel and the project had been the subject of much discussion.

Scientists have said an atomic powered submarine could run virtually forever without refueling.

District court in Big Spring has jurisdiction over a case styled Parker Jarman vs. Zale Jewelry Co., the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland has ruled.

Two Texas Escapees Cleared in Slaying

BAY MINETTE, Ala., March 7. (U)—A highway patrol officer said Monday two escapees from a Texas mental hospital had been cleared in their investigation of an Alexander City, Ala., mystery slaying.

Lt. Joe Smalley said it had been learned that a pistol found in their car had been stolen near Foley, Ala., Feb. 27. This was several days after the death of the unidentified woman at Alexander City.

The two, however, are being held in county jail here on grand larceny charges in connection with the alleged theft of the automobile in which they were traveling. They are listed as John L. Davis, 28, and Margaret Wilkerson, 20.

'CAT AND MOUSE' PAIR ARRESTED

Two youths, one from Lamesa and the other from O'Donnell, playing 'cat and mouse' in automobiles north of town Sunday night, wound up explaining the rules of the game in justice court.

State highway patrolmen, who eventually stopped the two, said the two cars were running "close enough to touch bumpers" at speed of about 85 miles an hour.

Each was charged with speeding. Sentence was to be passed on them later in the week.

HALTERED—Skipper, a cocker spaniel, is tied up for the moment. This was an airline employee's solution for localizing Skipper at New York's La Guardia Field after he chewed through his leash. The dog is being sent to Mrs. Paul H. Jordan of Washington, D. C., by T. W. Oberhelman of Waller Air Force base in Trinidad. (AP Wirephoto)

Brannan Says Price Supports Put Eggs, Milk Out Of People's Reach

DENVER, March 7. (U)—Farm price supports are pricing eggs and milk out of the reach of many Americans, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said last night.

"We must get eggs to market at a fair price or tell American farmers to quit producing them," he told the National Farmers Union Convention.

The farmers union presented Brannan its 1949 award for outstanding service to American agriculture for his farm program. It would substitute direct payments to farmers for price supports.

The per capita consumption of milk is not far from its depression level, Brannan said, while the government has the equivalent of two to two and a half billion pounds of whole milk it bought to keep prices high.

Americans ate 11 eggs less per capita last year than in 1948, he said, yet the government has about 210 million dozen eggs stored in caves.

Brannan cited these as two examples of why his plan should be adopted.
