De-Stalinization Takes A New Turn

A United Press Extra By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UP)—The de-Stalinization of Russian Communism has taken a new turn with charges that the late Generalissimo was guilty of violent anti-Semitism.

These charges were published in the New York Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker. They were a reprint of a report published by British Communists after a delegation of Jews had investigated in the Soviet Union the story of anti-Semitism during the Stalin regime.

The British investigating delegation included J. R. Campbell, editor of the London Daily Worker, and Hyman Levy, described as a Marxist philosopher and mathematician. The investigators bluntly accused the Stalin regime of seeking to liquidate by violence the Jewish culture of the Soviet Union.

The Black Years
 "The years 1948-52," the report said, "were known among them (Russian Jews) as the black years, the period during which many Jews were dismissed from their posts, Jewish poets and writers were arrested and charged with treason and executed; Yiddish disappeared from the streets and market places."

Husbands were arrested, tortured and murdered, the report continued, and whole families were transported to remote areas of forced labor. The investigators insisted, however, that since Stalin's death a real effort was being made to make amends for the anti-Semitic campaign and to prevent a repetition.

The British investigators were not satisfied that Stalin should bear the blame alone. Anti-Semitism under Stalin, they concluded, may have been a holdover from the Czarist society which the Communists liquidated by wholesale murder after taking over during World War I from the revolutionary Kerensky government.

Were American Targets
 However that may be, the report of British investigators now

DRAGON LADY—Rose Wong, 23, top contender for Queen of San Francisco's Chinese New Year celebration, prepares the ceremonial dragon that will lead the traditional parade. The three-day fiesta, starting Feb. 1, will mark the year 4455—the "Year of the Rooster."

END OF AN ERA—A P-51 Mustang, right, makes one final pass over Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio, as an F-100 jet's exhaust keens for the passing of propeller-driven fighters in the USAF. Henceforth, all fighters will be jet-propelled. The P-51, pride of Uncle Sam's World War II air armada, will take its place beside other famous planes in the Air Force Central Museum at the field. The F-100 jet fighter is the Air Force's newest operational jet, and recently became the first plane to crack the speed of sound in level flight.

Search For Hoblitzelle Award Underway In Five Regions

Five regional committees representing every section of the state have begun their search for the winner of the $5,000 1957 Hoblitzelle Award for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life.

The Award will be presented to the Texas farmer or rancher who has made the most notable contribution to agriculture in the state for the three year period from January 1, 1954 through December 31, 1956.

Presentation of the Award, consisting of $5,000 cash and a gold medallion, will be made at the Annual Field Day and Awards Dinner of Texas Research Foundation at Renner May 22, 1957.

"The purpose of the Award is to encourage and to give suitable recognition and financial reward for personal accomplishment in the field of rural life improvement by a farmer or rancher," Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the Foundation, reports.

Regional committees throughout the state have been named to receive and to make nominations of the candidates for the Hoblitzelle Award. In the Panhandle - Plains area, the regional committee is headed by Mr. Jason Gordon, Farm Chemicals Inc., Plainview. Other members of this committee are: Mr. Myles A. Kelly, Soil Conservation Service, Pampa; and Mr. Casey Fine, Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Nominations will be received by the regional committee through March 1, 1957, and may be made by individuals, groups or agencies in performing their functions, the committees are requested to give equal consideration to all farmers and ranches operating in Texas, irrespective of creed, color and nationality.

The Hoblitzelle Agriculture Awards were established in 1950 by Karl Hoblitzelle, Texas theatre man and philanthropist, to recognize outstanding contributions to agriculture and to the sciences which serve agriculture.

Fred M. Shaw, secretary for the Awards, reports that the Hoblitzelle Awards for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life and the Hoblitzelle National Award in the Agricultural Sciences are presented at Renner on alternate years.

The 1957 Award is intended for "adult individuals actively participating in farming or ranching who have made an outstanding direct contribution to the betterment of rural life," Shaw says.

Shaw says anyone who wishes may nominate a farmer or rancher for the Award. The nominee may live either within or outside the region in which he is nominated. These nominations must be forwarded not later than March 1, 1957, to the chairman of the Regional committee, together with a full description of the achievement of the candidate and with any available printed supporting data.

Counties included in this Region are: Dallam, Sherman, Handford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hall, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Co. Arlan, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Hardeman, and Foard.

Ernie Kovacs Has Come To The Crossroads Now

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Ernie Kovacs has reached a crossroads. Within the past year, he has hit solidly as a TV comic. But he wants now to move himself and his cigar out of-camera range. "I want to get behind the camera and NBC seems to want me to do it, too," said Kovacs today. "They're pitching a producer writer contract at me and the only thing holding it up, I guess, is that I've asked for a little too much money."

"Another thing is, they want to add 'actor' to the terms of the contract. But I've reached a point now where I really don't want to perform too much."

Gets Sylvania Award
Kovacs, a veteran funnyman who labored in comparative obscurity inside TV-gulch, romped off with a recent Sylvania award for the comedy show he turned-out on NBC last summer, last month, he reaped heavy critical applause for a special 30-minute color show on the same network.

"That Sylvania thing was a complete 'abooker,'" confessed Ernie. "I thought they had made a mistake. I had three different people call up for me to make sure. And the color show was really gratifying—we got letters from all over the country on that one."

"But you know, stardom in this business is a kind of euphemeral thing. It's so intangible. "Another thing is that my biggest effort on all my shows goes into the writing. That, and the detail-work. By the time you get the costumes set and the shots and the action, along with the sets, the sound and the lighting, you're kind of lost when it comes to your own place in the show."

"The very last thing you want to do, is go on and do the show. It seems like the least important thing."

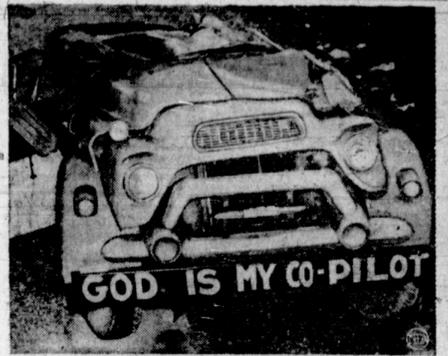

Kovacs, who last worked steadily on the old "Tonight" show, currently is filling his time by writing. "I started writing a novel last Thursday," he said, "and a publisher is pretty interested in it already. There's also a chance I may do a Kraft theatre."

Home of Banana Split Doomed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—They are spitting up the home of the banana split. Ralph Folger, co-owner of a drug store being razed to make way for a new expressway, said Tuesday the late Mrs. Loretta Lally made the first banana split in the store in 1870 when a customer asked for "something different."

Forbids Snow In City

BRAWLEY, Calif. (UP)—The Brawley Chamber of Commerce, noting reports of snow in Los Angeles, Tuesday took measures to avoid the need of a snow plow in this city. It passed a resolution forbidding snow within the city limits.

FORTUNATELY—The legend on the bumper of this truck tractor would seem to be justified. Driver jumped clear of the cab and suffered bruises only scant seconds before his rig careened down an embankment near Gainesville, Ga. The trailer smashed the cab flat, and fire geared the wreckage in wake of the accident.

West Germany Is In Critical Period

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
West Germany is entering a critical period which seems certain to last for many months. The danger of revolt in East Germany, the threatened withdrawal of Allied troops assigned to the North Atlantic Treaty Forces and the pace of Germany's own rearmament are among the problems to be faced.

In addition, there is a serious threat that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who comes close to being an indispensable man from the Allied viewpoint, may be overthrown in the election to be held next September.

The East German situation is the most dangerous one at this time.

Statements by East German Communist leaders leave no doubt that they fear a popular uprising like those in Poland and Hungary.

Rebel Fight Feared
West German leaders, in turn, fear that their own people might cross the border to fight with the rebels.

They would be fighting the Russian Red army as well as the east German armed forces. What Russia might do then can only be guessed at. The United States and the other Allies are pledged to defend West Germany.

There is little doubt that British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan intends to pull two of the four British NATO divisions out of West Germany as part of his drastic economy program.

American military commanders in West Germany are already figuring out how to trim their units in line with administration plans to put more emphasis on striking power instead of manpower.

Action Opposite Of Allies
This leaves Adenauer trying to carry out the unpopular West German rearmament program, and drafting men for the armed forces, while his Allies are reducing their military strength.

United Press dispatches from Bonn, the West German capital, say the threat that Adenauer may be overthrown in the September election is quite serious.

Adenauer's Christian Democratic party has lost strength in recent local elections. The Socialist Party, the principal opposition group, has gained correspondingly.

If the election is close, the Free Democrats, who used to belong to Adenauer's coalition, may hold ably would join the Socialists to overthrow Adenauer.

The Socialists oppose rearmament. They have announced that if they get into office they will abolish the draft.

Guarantee Security Asked
Erich Ollenhauer, the Socialist leader, says he wants a unified Germany to be included in a "European security system" which would be guaranteed by both the United States and Soviet Russia. To this end, he says, he would be willing to surrender west Germany's membership in NATO.

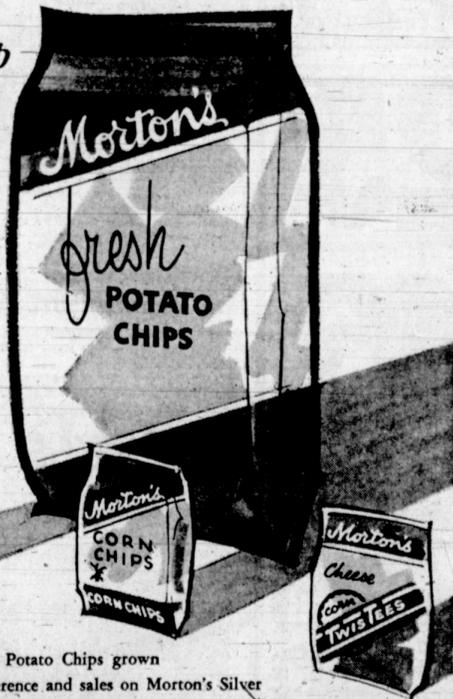

The East German Communists opened a pre-election propaganda week-end. Like the Russians, they campaign against Adenauer last week-end. Like the Russians, they hold out the promise that German unification would be possible if Adenauer were thrown out.

RUNOFF

a system of grading eggs in Texas. The measure, sponsored by Rep. Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham, was sent to the House floor by voice vote. A similar bill has gained Senate committee approval.

The bill calls for state regulation of egg handling, with payment of license fees by dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers.

Sudderth said his boat and motor fee would yield an estimated $200,000 to $300,000 per year. He criticized the Game and Fish Commission and sportsmen who opposed a similar levy last December when it was proposed by the Texas Water Resources committee.

Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth charged that pressure was brought to force passage of the run-off bill.

"In my four years as a member of this House I have never seen so much pressure put forward in one piece of legislation," Kennard said.

He specifically named Daniel Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and Texas House Speaker Waggoner Carr as having exerted "pressure" for the bill.

Pool, the bill's sponsor, had warned that a Republican — Thad Hutcheson of Houston — could win the election if the Democratic votes were split over a large field. Hutcheson calls Bill "Infamous."

The election of a Republican Senator from Texas would give the GOP control of the U.S. Senate.

But some backers of Ralph Yarborough, an announced candidate, said the legislation was intended to hurt Yarborough's chances.

Hutcheson called the bill "infamous" and amounted to "changing the rules in the middle of the game." Yarborough said it was unnecessary as he "will win a clear majority in the first election."

Two other candidates, James F. Hart and State Sen. Searcy Bracewell, endorsed the measure.

Two other candidates, Congressman at Large Martin Dies and Hugh Wilson, Port Arthur chemist, were not available for comment.

Others who have been mentioned as possible candidates include Agricultural Commissioner John White and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

National Guard Adopts Resolution

At a recent meeting of the Executive Council of the National Guard Association in Washington, D.C., the council adopted a resolution which suggested that the following program of active duty training for all persons in the Army National Guard be set up:

1. That all men who have attained the age of 18½ years and who are members of the Army National Guard on Mar. 31, 1957 be permitted to volunteer for a six months active duty training program provided they have not already completed a prescribed basic training course.
2. That all men who have attained the age of 18½ years who become members of the Army National Guard on or after April 1, 1957 be required to perform six months active duty training provided they have not already completed a prescribed basic training course.
3. That all men age 17 to 18½ years who are members of the Army National Guard on 31 March 1957 be permitted to volunteer for either eleven weeks active duty basic training or the six months active duty training program provided they have not already completed a prescribed basic training course.
4. That all men age 17 to 18½ years who become members of the Army National Guard on or after 1 April 1957 be required to perform eleven weeks active duty basic training or volunteer for the six months active duty training program provided they have not already completed a prescribed basic training course.

Over 20 Eagle Scouts of the Adobe Walls Council, will leave Pampa tomorrow morning at 7:45 for Austin where they will visit the Governor on Saturday morning.

The trip is being held in connection with Boy Scout Weeks and the Scouts will spend Friday and Saturday nights at Bergstrom Air Force Base, with tours of the capitol and other places of interest.

They will also attend the Explorer Ball scheduled for Saturday as a get-acquainted affair for Scouts from all over the state.

Suite Filed In District Court Here

A suit for $5,000 was filed in 31st District Court yesterday afternoon by Roy L. Bumgarner against the Texas Employers Insurance Association.

The suit, which asked for $25 per week for a total of 200 weeks, arose as a result of injuries allegedly sustained by Bumgarner while "in the course of his duties as an employee of the Pampa Foundry Company Inc."

The suit further alleges that while in the course of these duties, the plaintiff had his right hand caught in a "V-belt motor which resulted in bones of the hand and arm being fractured (or) dislocated."

The petition states that this injury has caused the total loss of the use of Bumgarner's right arm for a lifetime.

No date has been set yet for a hearing.

RIOT

there will be no reprisals, the governor said the "law will take its course" and prisoners causing damage would be dealt with.

A member of the Board of Corrections, Kingsley Clawson, said that the "boys gave us their word they would release the hostages and give up their arms and they did... we took a long gamble but it was worth it."

Four of the hostages — Dale Peters, Howard Condie, Brant McKay and Paul B. Smith — had been forced into the open at machinegun point once during the night when convicts feared guardsmen might storm the prison.

However, these four were unanimous in praising treatment given them. They said that when the machinegun was pointed at them, its wielder smiled and said "don't worry, everything will be okay."

Condie said "they treated us royally... they just feel that too many 16, 17 and 18 year old kids are being sent to prison and that they don't get a fair shake in the parole matter."

Smith told newsmen that "one guy said he got eight years for just stealing $5." Condie added that many of the prisoners wanted racial segregation, particularly between Mexicans and Negroes.

When Randall, as head of the convict committee, posed for photographers, Clyde told him "you are to be commended for helping end the riot."

Randall replied "as long as I'm alive and didn't get shot, the riot ended the way I wanted to." The convict told the governor he was sorry the felons "cussed" Clyde when the governor was in the cellblock conducting negotiations.

The riot started shortly before 10 p.m. EST Wednesday, while members of the Letter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church basketball team were playing a convict five.

The church squad was leading by 10 points with only five minutes to play when a convict came in, announced prisoners had taken control and herded team members into the recreation room over the gymnasium.

There was chaos afterward but the convicts did not harm the basketball players.

Paul Smith, coach of the team, spent six hours as a hostage before he was released.

"Some of the boys were frightened at first," he said. "Eventually everyone relaxed, watching television in the recreation room. The prisoners fed us like kings— pork chops, milk and candy."

Monte Hammond of Draper, Utah, a guard on duty in solitary confinement, said the convicts threatened him.

"They told me they would kill me if I didn't let the men out of my block," Hammond said. "They looked like they meant it. There were 21 men in those solitary cells — and the cons said they had to be released 'or else.'"

An explosion rocked the prison shortly after midnight. It was a blast in the boiler room. It was not known whether the boiler was exploded by the prisoners or because of lack of attention. Lights went out immediately.

Destruction of the boiler left the prison without heat and temperatures inside dropped below freezing.

The governor said more than 40 demands by convicts for improvement of penitentiary conditions — ranging from better food preparation to establishment of a convict-cited newspaper — would not be considered until all hostages had been released.

Two Accidents Reported Here
Two collisions within the city limits yesterday afternoon were reported to the police department.

The first of the collisions occurred at 5:11 p.m. on Cuyler, 30 feet south of Kingsmill. Nancy Durant Myers, 901 S. Reid, driving a '59 Chevrolet, was in collision with Meck Harmon, 425 N. Russ, driving a '53 Ford. The Chevrolet encountered damages estimated at $25 and the Ford was reported to have been undamaged.

At 8:45 p.m. the second collision occurred on Hobart, 168 feet north of Worrell. Earl Luther Jr., Pampa, driving a '56 Chevrolet, was in collision with Richard P. Barrett, 1221 Russell, driving a '51 Ford. Damages to the Chevrolet were estimated at $200 and the Ford encountered damages estimated at $175.

The other alarm was received at 8:35 this morning. A roasting fire in a trailer house at 709 E. Malone and resulted in light damage to the trailer, according to firemen who answered the alarm.

whether to call for court martial trials.

The investigation was the second to be conducted at this Marine recruit training center, one of the nation's largest, since a publicized recruit "death march" of less than a year ago.

An investigation of a series of similar incidents late last summer and last fall resulted in disciplining of a number of drill instructors.

The trial of former S-Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., in connection with the "death march" became the forum of a nationwide controversy over recruit training methods.

Burial will be in the Mobeetie Cemetery under the direction of Duengel - Carmichael Funeral Home.

Two Alarms For Fire Department

Two alarms were received by the local fire department since 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

At 11:25 a.m. an alarm was received from 431 N. Wagon. A fire resulted when wallpaper being removed from a wall was ignited by a heater. The firemen reported that the blazing wallpaper in turn ignited chair and the sofas.

Only light damage resulted to the house, according to the firemen.

ROADS ARE ANCIENT, TOO—A sedan chair is the appropriate conveyance in which to travel Britain's roads, according to Britain's Roads Campaign Council, which is petitioning Commons for better highways against the day when gasoline is once more plentiful. Shirley Deane, custodian of 150,000 signatures to the appeal, occupies the chair in London. More than a half-million persons are expected ultimately to add their names to the petition.

Oil Problem Gets Ike's Attention

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Mr. Eisenhower said today that the federal government may have to step in if U.S. oil producers do not ship as much oil to Europe as transportation facilities permit.

The President told his news conference that this country must not allow Western Europe to go flat on its back for want of oil if the United States can supply it. Europe currently is pinched for industrial fuel because the Suez Canal to the oil rich Middle East is blocked.

Mr. Eisenhower said he has certain powers to move in on oil production controls set up by the states. But he added that he does not believe the federal government should disturb the economy of the nation unless an emergency requires it.

One way the President could step up production is to suspend the Connally Oil Conservation Act, which controls production of crude oil shipped in interstate commerce. If the act were suspended, as some oil industry quarters have demanded, there would be no curbs on the amount of oil that could be produced for shipment over state boundaries.

The Chief Executive gave his views when a reporter pointed out that the United States was lagging on oil deliveries largely because the Texas Railroad Commission, which controls state production, has refused to step up production in appreciable amount.

Felix E. Wormser, assistant secretary of interior, said meanwhile, that the Texas Railroad Commission is the single most important factor in increasing U.S. oil production because it has absolute control over "the largest supply in the United States."

Wormser told two Senate subcommittees there is no doubt the commission has not increased Texas production because it fears the state's producers might be caught with over-production when the Middle East crisis ends.

But, he said, "it is a very complex problem" and "I would expect them to do the right thing."

Too Much Moon Shines
CHOSHI, Japan (UP)—A fire tower lookout spotted a red glow in the sky last night and shouted to the station below, "Fire, to the east!" Three engines, sirens screaming, tore out toward the red glow. They kept after it until they reached the Pacific shore. There was the moon's weak red glow on the horizon.

Foreign Imports Have Double Advantage For Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—How to combat the movie star shortage and also beat the dwindling U.S. movie business: Hire a foreign film favorite.

Germany's O. W. Fischer (stands for Otto Wilhelm) is the latest box-office success of Europe to be imported for a Hollywood picture by Universal-International studio. Last year U-I signed Rossano Brazzi for a film.

Mike Todd outdid all the producers by using an international cast in "Around The World In 80 Days" to insure its boxoffice success the world around — everybody from France's Fernandel to England's Noel Coward and Mexico's Cantinflas.

Foreign imports have a double advantage for Hollywood. For one thing, top stars are as scarce as snowballs in Hollywood because so few new luminaries have hit the top. Only a handful of graying actors and actresses control the top jobs, and good scripts go begging for lack of stars to play them.

Furthermore, 55 per cent of a Hollywood film's revenue comes from outside the U.S. now. The patrons of theaters in Tokyo, Rome, Berlin and Glasgow are as important — or more so — to movie producers than S. f. a. s. Importing Cantinflas, for example, not only solves a casting problem but insures that his devotees in all Spanish-speaking countries will flock to his movie.

Fischer, No. 1 at the boxoffice in his country, was lured to Hollywood by a re-make of the William Powell-Carole Lombard success of 21 years ago, "My Man Godfrey." The Vienna-born actor plays a penniless Austrian count hired as a butler by the pert June Allyson.

Blond, handsome Fischer arrived in Hollywood last week for his first visit to the U.S., leaving his wife and five cats at home.

"The studio asked me to come here and I said I would when they offered a good script — and they did," the suave, poised actor said between scenes on the set. "I now have signed for five pictures at the studio, when scripts are available. Meanwhile, I will return to my home in Germany."

Fischer is a veteran of the stage and 42 films in Germany and Italy but has never before appeared in a U.S. movie.

"Don't rub it in just because they don't serve anything to drink when we call!"

Eat-It-In-Your-Fingers Is Permissible When You Serve Chicken-In-Basket

Want a good excuse to pick up or thighs if the folks like dark meat, breasts or wings if they like white meat fanciers. Or get some of each and divvy them up.

(sometimes called chicken-in-the-rough) has long been a favorite at roadside restaurants. But why not have this popular eat-it-in-your-fingers-meal at home sometimes? All you need are a number of small wicker baskets — or wooden bowls — or even small cardboard boxes. Line these with heavy paper napkins — and in each one put a couple of pieces of crisp fried chicken, a handful of potato chips, a hot buttered roll and a bunch of crisp garden relishes (crot strips, celery, green onions, radishes). Then carry your baskets out to the porch or to the backyard if it's still warm enough — and fall to!

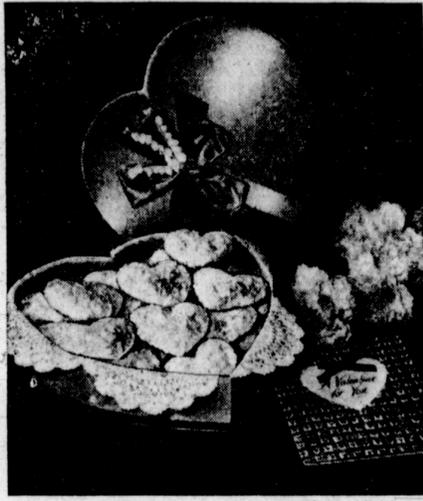

To make sure that everyone gets the kind of chicken he likes the best, the thing to do is use those convenient packages of quick-frozen chicken parts. Buy drumsticks

Casserole Complete Meal In One Dish

Hot and fragrant casseroles are wonderfully appetizing these wintry nights. The recipe below, from February Family Circle Magazine, is a wholesome combination of meat and vegetables, and can be completely prepared in less than an hour.

VEGETABLE SAUSAGE
Bake at 350 degree for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.
2 packages frozen chopped spinach
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon basil
Dash of pepper
1 can tomato sauce
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 lb. (12 ounces) whole kernel corn, drained
1 package heat-and-eat sausages
1. Cook spinach according to package directions; drain well; season with 1 tablespoon butter or margarine; hold for Step 3.
2. While spinach cooks, saute onion in remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine just until tender in medium size frying pan stir in flour, sugar, basil, and pepper, add tomato sauce and water; eat to boiling.
3. Place spinach in bottom of baking dish, 8x8x2; top with drained corn; arrange sausages on top; pour sauce over.
4. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes, or until bubbly hot.

TRAP HIM WITH THESE... HEART KISSES

Heart kisses are Valentine lures you can make from ingredients found in the kitchen or pick up easily at your grocer's. Typical meringues are turned into rich candy-cookies by the addition of chopped coconut or mint bars plus crumbled corn flakes. The stiff egg white batter is piped and formed into heart shapes on cookie sheets, then popped into the oven to bake.

Here's a Valentine sweet guaranteed to bring pleasure to that someone special come February 14th — heart kisses which you've baked yourself. Easy and pretty, the morsels are pale pink meringues baked in heart shapes. The main ingredients used — egg whites, candy bars, and corn flakes — are items the well stocked kitchen may have on hand and can be quickly mixed for baking in a few minutes. As developed by home economists at Clark Candy Company, the result is rich, candy-cookies, appealing fare for most masculine tastes. Finely chopped mint or coconut

Cereal Snack Mix Is Simple To Fix

CEREAL SNACK MIX
1 1/2 cups ready-to-eat cereal
1 1/2 cups shredded rice, bite size
1 1/2 cups shredded wheat, bite size
2 cups slim pretzel sticks
1 cup salted peanuts, skinless
1-3 cup butter or margarine
4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 to 1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 teaspoon celery salt
Mix the dry cereals, the pretzel sticks broken in smaller pieces, and the salted peanuts in a large, oblong baking pan or a roasting pan. Heat the butter or margarine until melted; stir in the Worcestershire sauce and seasonings. Pour over the cereal mixture and mix well. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) stirring every 10 minutes or so, for about a half hour or until lightly browned. One cup of oven-toasted rice cereal may be added to the ingredients, if desired.

Old Favorite Recipe Is Now Up-To-Date

Here is grandma's favorite potato pancake recipe brought up-to-date with a modern pancake mix.

POTATO PANCAKES
1 cup Pancake Mix
1 tsp. salt
1 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
2 cups grated raw potato
1 tsp. grated onion
1 T melted shortening.
Mix together pancake mix and salt; stir in milk and beaten eggs. Lightly stir in potato, onion, and melted shortening. Pour 1/4 cup batter for each pancake onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. Makes 14 to 16 pancakes.

HEART KISSES (2 1/2 dozen)

2 egg whites
Dash salt
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Red food coloring
2 cups corn flakes, slightly crushed
3 coconut or mint bars, chopped finely.
Add salt to egg whites; beat until frothy. Gradually add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating until egg whites are stiff and glossy. Add vanilla and a few drops of red coloring to tint a deep pink. Fold in corn flakes and candy. Make a 2 1/2-inch heart pattern. Cover a cookie sheet with brown paper and on it make hearts with this pattern, spacing them about 2-inches apart, to allow for spreading. Spoon mixture into center of hearts, then use narrow bladed spatula to fill heart outline. Bake at 300 degrees, pre-heated oven, for about 15 minutes. Cool slightly; remove and cool on cake racks.

This Salad Dressing Can Be Stored Away

Boiled salad dressing may be kept in the home freezer for two to four months, according to the home economics institute of Deep-freeze Home Appliances.
Here is a tested recipe which the institute recommends:
Mix 1/2 cup cider vinegar and 1/2 cup water. Bring to a boil on medium heat. Reduce to medium low heat and slowly add mixture of 1/4 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon dry mustard.
Stir constantly with wire whisk or perforated spoon. When smooth return to medium heat and add 4 egg yolks, beaten (without froth). When dressing boils again, remove from heat and cool, uncovered.
Seal in freezer carton and store in home freezer.

Appearance Is One Important Pointer When Preparing Rump Roast Of Beef

Juicy and faintly pink on the inside, rich brown and slightly crisp on the outside — that's the way an oven-roasted boned, rolled rump roast should look when it is served at the table. It's a feat easily achieved if the rump roast is of high quality and oven-cooked at a constant temperature of 325 degrees F. until the meat thermometer registers the preferred doneness.

Rump roast is well known for its deliciousness as pot roast and the lower grades of the cut are ideally suited for the browning and braising that constitutes "pot roasting." Whether pot roasted or oven cooked, boned, rolled rump roast offers delicious beef flavor and ease of serving, for the cooked meat is easy to slice.

OVEN COOKED RUMP ROAST
Place high quality rump roast on a rack in a shallow pan. Insert a meat thermometer so the bulb rests in the thickest part of the muscle away from fat. Place in a 325 degree F. oven and cook 35 to 40 minutes per pound for medium, or until the meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 160 degrees F. (Bone-in rump roast will require less cooking time — approximately 30 minutes per pound.) Do not add water, a cover, or baste the meat during cooking.

ROLLED RUMP POT ROAST

Flour the meat and brown it slowly on all sides in hot fat in a heavy skillet. Add a small amount of liquid — no more than 1/2 cup — some chopped or sliced onions, and a generous sprinkling of salt and pepper. Cover, and cook on top of the range or in a 325 degree F. oven three to four hours depending on the size of the roast. Add more liquid — in small amounts — as it cooks away.

To make gravy, skim off all but 3 tablespoons of fat and add enough water so that amount in pan is about 2 cups. Mix 3 tablespoons flour to a smooth paste with a few tablespoons of water and stir into liquid. Cook and stir until gravy is thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

RUMP ROAST WITH POTATOES
Potatoes are almost a "must" with oven or pot-roasted beef rump. The full-flavored gravy which accompanies the meat tastes wonderful over potatoes. With the oven roast, plan oven-browned potatoes. Parboil whole medium-sized potatoes 10 minutes, drain, and place around the roast the last 30 to 40 minutes of cooking. Turn the potatoes and baste with beef drippings several times during cooking.

Potatoes for rump pot roast may cook right along with the meat. Add the potatoes, whole carrots, too, if you like, the last hour of cooking. There's no need to turn the spuds that cook along with the roasts, for they nestle into the braising liquid and absorb its meat flavor.

Brand-New Instant Coffee On Shelves

Just appearing on your grocer's shelves is brand-new Instant Hills Bros. Coffee, a product that claims true coffee flavor and aroma in the cup like that of coffee freshly brewed from the ground product. This latest product of one of the nation's oldest coffee roasters is the end result of twenty years of research by the company's own scientists, engineers and technicians. It is available in two and six ounce sizes.

This new instant coffee features a new idea in the packaging of instant coffee. The product is packed in a flavor-protecting vapor which is locked inside the jar by an inner-seal of aluminum foil that "keeps taste in — keeps air out." Hills Bros. Original "Taste-Lok".

The label for the new Instant Hills Bros. Coffee was designed by Raymond Loewy, one of the world's most noted industrial designers.

One Of N.Y.'s Hardest Working Persons Is Harlem-Born Gent

By DOC QUIGG
NEW YORK (UP)—One of the hardest working persons in our town is a Harlem-born gent who started off toward juvenile delinquency but was rescued by an intense desire for the stage.
This tornado of energy now is 31 years old, stands five-foot-six, weighs 121 pounds, drinks a case and a half of cream soda a week, works constantly at professional photography, makes phonograph records, plays benefits, and practices the old west fast draw so assiduously that he can get a .45 off his hip, cocked, and fired in one-half second.
Between these activities he appears six nights and two matinees a week in a Broadway show in which he sings, dances, plays trumpet, drums, bass, and guitar, does impressions and impersonations and a bit of dramatic acting. Three years ago he lost an eye in an automobile wreck. It slowed him up for only 11 weeks, for convalescence. Then he plunged into work as hard as ever.

His game is Sammy Davis Jr. When his show, "Mr. Wonderful," closes this month, after a run of a little more than a year, he is scheduled for a two-day vacation before starting night club work. "Mr. Wonderful" is a two and one-half hour show, and he is on stage for an hour and 40 minutes of it.
Sammy did not go immediately into show business. He lay around the house, doing nothing and earning no money, until he was two and a half years old. Then his father and uncle, who were headlining at a Philadelphia theater,

Equipment Sale Set By Engineers

Thirty-eight items of surplus property are being offered for sale to the highest bidder by the Tulsa District Army Engineers. The property is located at the Cactus Ordnance Works, near Dumas.
Included in the assortment are 34 electric motors with centrifugal pumps, ranging in size from 7½ H.P. to 60 H.P.; 6 gas cooking ranges; 8 chairs; 2 tables; miscellaneous parts and hardware; and 10 gas heaters.
Sealed bids, in single copy, will be received until 2 p.m. on Feb. 14, at which time they will be publicly open at the Resident Office, Corps of Engineers, Box 2000, Dumas.
All bids must be accompanied with a deposit of not less than 20 percent of the total amount bid, and bidders may bid on one or more items. Such deposits must be in the form of a cashier's check, certified check, or postal money order. Personal checks will not be accepted.

Daniel Calls For Safety Program

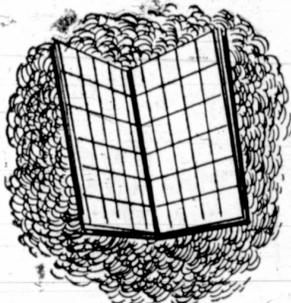

AUSTIN (UP)—Traffic accidents which kill 2,600 in Texas in a single year must be brought to an end, Gov. Price Daniel told a gathering at a Hobbs Knight of the Road awards banquet recently. The Governor said "an even worse record" than last year's all-time high will occur this year unless "we establish a dynamic and forceful program of traffic safety. This is an emergency matter and I have so submitted it to the Legislature."
Daniel presented the Hobbs Knight of the Road award to W. L. Lotspeich, a Houston truck driver, for saving the life of a woman pinned inside her car when it crashed into roadside trees.
Daniel said there must be "courage, vision and forceful action" on all levels of law enforcement and by Texas citizens.
He pointed out that Texas is one of only five states which do not have some sort of traffic committee.

Number Of Women Gamblers Increase

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—These days when a homemaker talks about a full house she may be discussing cards. Not kids.

The number of women gamblers is on the increase, reported John Scarne, a well-known authority on card games, the nation's gambling habits, and the financial gains and losses involved. Poker faces, four to one, now belong to women, he said, and some of the girls are more skilled than the men at the game.

Scarne estimated that close to $2 billion changes hands annually among women gamblers, and their annual losses in poker run approximately $100 million.

Some Can Afford It

"I know of women who drop $200 or $300 a week," said Scarne. "Here in New York, I would say there are 80,000 women playing poker one, two, sometimes three nights a week."

How do they cover their losses? "Well, some of them don't have to... they can afford it," said Scarne. "But a lot of household budgets are being wrecked. I know of one woman who ran up a $7,500 debt before her husband found out. What could he do when he discovered the mess... nothing but borrow money to pay off the debt."

Poker Favorite Over Bridge

Scarne, who said most of his mail now is from women, said poker has outrun bridge as woman's favorite card game because bridge "taught them about cards."

A trump lead would have settled South's hash immediately when the hand was played in the recent regional tournament in Hartford. Practically every West player led the king of hearts, however, hoping to get a heart trick and the ace of clubs.

At most tables the rest of the play was fairly easy. Dummy won the first trick with the ace of hearts, cashed the ace of diamonds, and led a diamond for declarer to ruff. South next led a club for dummy to ruff and cross-ruffed hearts and clubs to make sure of 12 tricks: six trumps in his own hand, four ruffs in dummy, and two side aces.

At one table West managed to throw a monkey wrench into the works. When declarer ruffed a heart in his hand, West dropped the queen. Fearing an overruff, South concentrated on ruffing diamonds in his own hand, and West got an early chance to overruff with the ten of spades. West then returned a trump, and South wound up with only 10 tricks instead of 12.

There was no risk at all in West's falsecard, since his partner could obviously control the rest of the hearts. The important thing was to steer South away from the winning play into a line that would lose.

TALKS HIMSELF OUT—Charles Edmundson, U.S. Information Agency officer in Seoul, Korea, has handed in his resignation on demand from the agency. Edmundson denounced the Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine as a "blank check for one-man rule" in a statement issued to reporters while on a visit to Tokyo. USIA demanded his resignation on the ground that he violated a regulation forbidding employees from issuing unauthorized statements.

A good bridge player knows a poker one; but women think poker is more a game of chance."

Scarne figured that feminine gamblers are on the increase because more women work, so have more money; some gamble to escape boredom; others have only one goal—the winnings.

"And all are following the gambling instinct which each of us has," said Scarne. "Only women's seems to be stronger. Look at the way they gamble on the selection of a husband."

Educational TV Boosted By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has expressed his preserve TV channels for educational purposes.

The following exchange on this subject occurred at his news conference:

Question by Sarah McClendon, Longview (Tex.) News and Journalist:

"Sir, there is quite a controversy that has developed over this matter of educational television channels which were assigned to schools and colleges, which some commercial enterprises want to take away and have reassigned to them. I wonder if you think we should leave these educational channels with the schools and colleges, for their development?"

The President: "Well, I have not had a recent study presented to me on this question, but speaking only from what I believe to be the eventual good of the United States, and not knowing as of now anything of many more channels being available through improvement of techniques and equipment, I would say we must preserve channels for educational purposes."

"Nobility wants to vote against brought relief because everybody is for it."

HE REVOLVES PARKING PROBLEM—This Ferris wheel-like parking device may help solve the parking problem in Dusseldorf, Germany, once a full-size installation is in use. So maintains engineer Paul Schumacher, shown with his model of the machine. The wheel has space for 51 autos, and requires a ground area of 21 by 75 feet for installation.

Chests Expanding

NEW YORK (UP)—American women are busting out of their raincoats, the Almar Manufacturing Co. reported today. The company said it had increased the frontal expansion of its medium size raincoats to 40 inches to rectify the situation. Its surveys show the average American woman's chest measurement is an inch and a half larger than in 1947.

Workmen Search Explosion Area

RENO (UP)—Crews of workmen poked their way gently through a section of blasted downtown Reno today in a search for hidden gas pockets waiting only a spark to touch off another catastrophe. The workmen were from the city of Reno and the Sierra Pacific Power Company, both of which agreed to check the gas explosion potential in a six-block area. The area included the site of Tuesday's destructive explosions and fire that killed two persons, injured 42 others, destroyed five buildings and damaged a score of other structures in varying degrees. Early today, a block and a half of large business buildings remained evacuated lest an undetected pocket of gas suddenly ignite. Martial law was proclaimed in the area.

Proposal Studied To Switch Channel

WASHINGTON (UP)—Dr. Mortimer Brown, chairman of the Texas Commission on Educational Television, today studied a proposal filed with the Federal Communications Commission which would switch a Denton educational TV channel to commercial use.

Brown is in Washington with Dr. Lee Wilburn, assistant superintendent of the Texas Educational Agency, and Texas State Teachers Association President Dana Winters to see "what steps can be taken to safeguard educational TV in Texas."

The proposal over which Brown is "deeply disturbed and concerned" was filed with the FCC by Gregg Television Corp., seeking to have very high frequency channel 2 at Denton switched from educational to commercial and re-assigned to Longview. The corporation suggested "ultra high frequency channel 17 for educational use at Denton."

Counter-Proposals Filed
Three counter-proposals have been filed against the Gregg request with the FCC. Texas has already lost an educational channel at College Station to commercial use. "We wish to do everything to hold the six educational VHF channels the state still has," Brown said.

Several Texas legislators in the capital have received mail from backers of educational TV protesting any change in the Denton channel, but Brown said he had no plans to confer with the lawmakers. Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, a supporter of educational TV and

Industrialist Blasts Hoover, Humphrey

HOUSTON (UP)—A top industrialist has sharply criticized Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Former President Herbert Hoover for hoisting a flag over complete collapse of the U.S. economy.

"To harp on complete collapse of the U.S. economy was utterly silly," said Edward T. Ragsdale, a vice president of General Motors Corp. and general manager of the Buick division. "I have no doubt that Secretary Humphrey and Mr. Hoover were well-meaning in their efforts to encourage federal budget cuts but they should have exercised moderation in their approach," he said.

"Actually, there is room for optimism today. We think business is on an upturn and we think it will continue that way. We (General Motors) are backing up this belief with a $1.25 billion expansion program in 1957."

Ragsdale, in Houston to address Buick dealers, said he views the economic picture as one in which "any businessman who can't make money should reappraise his operation." "We are operating in the greatest market the world has ever known," he said. "Never before has a nation had so much money to spend and so many things to spend it on." Ragsdale predicted that 4 million cars would be produced in the U.S. this year, as compared with 5.8 million last year. He said he foresees production of 7 million units by 1958 or 1959.

"ARMY'S OWN" FOR THE HOUSE—Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker, left, presents an Army flag, symbol of the 181-year history of the United States Army, to Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) at right, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. The flag's 145 battle streamers represent all major battles, dating back to the Battle of Bunker Hill, June 14, 1775. The Army has had its own flag only since June 14 of 1956. Flag-bearer is Sgt. 1/C Robert Goddier, of Red Wing, Minn., and congressman seated, foreground, is Rep. Paul J. Kilday (D-Tex.).

WIRED FOR DREAMS—Volunteer subject at the Sleep Research Institute in New York City dreams away her tour of duty while tiny electrodes, attached to various skin surfaces of her body, transmit electric waves generated by the brain, heart rate and body temperature. The minute currents pass through the panel on the head of the bed and are recorded as part of a continuing, 11-year study of the mystery of sleep. Readings have been taken while hundreds of men and women have racked up a total, to date, of more than 20,000 sleeping hours in some 3,500 nights of study.

New aluminum inner-seal keeps taste in, keeps air out... Hills Bros. original TASTE-LOK®

The first instant coffee that smells like coffee!

If you'll just inhale the aroma, then take a taste of our new coffee, we honestly believe you'll find it—new Instant Hills Bros. Coffee—different from any instant coffee you've ever tried. And you'll like the difference.

Coffee aroma, fragrant with flavor

A gentle sniff, when the coffee's steaming in the cup, gives you a heart-warming whiff, a fragrant promise of real coffee flavor. You have the pleasant feeling that you're already tasting wonderful coffee.

Coffee taste, rich and rewarding

A sip, a swirl on the tongue, a swallow gives you the full impact of real coffee flavor. It's that deep, full-bodied coffee flavor that lingers in your taste-buds. You'll probably want to follow your first cup with another—have it again next meal—you'll taste and smell the same rich coffee flavor in every cup you make.

We're finders, keepers

The real coffee goodness you notice and enjoy is in our new instant, because we've found the way to hold the elusive flavor "esters"—the delicate flavor tones that are usually lost in processing. Ours is a new, special process that is different from anything else in the industry.

We've found the way to keep aroma and flavor for you. We pack our new instant coffee in a flavor-protecting vapor which is locked inside the jar by an inner-seal of aluminum foil that keeps taste in, keeps air out... Hills Bros. original TASTE-LOK®.

It's a happy ending

For many years—twenty, in fact—we've worked and tested. Because coffee is our only business, good coffee, to us, is a matter of pride and reputation. We wanted to bring you an instant that we could call, without a doubt, good coffee. We refused to introduce it until it was right and ready. Now, we've got it for you.

We hope you'll try it

We think you'll agree, when you inhale the aroma and when you taste Instant Hills Bros. Coffee, that it brings you something new and wonderful in coffee drinking enjoyment, as well as convenience and economy. It costs no more than other good instants. You can make it in cup or pot—there's never any waste—you get really good coffee, fragrant and flavorful, in every cup.

Instant Hills Bros. Coffee is on your grocer's shelves right now—in 2-ounce and 6-ounce jars. Our family is proud of it. If good coffee is important to your family, we hope you'll try our product and share our pleasure. Today's a good day to start.

Palm Springs Story

It is too early to know the outcome, but a most interesting effort is being made to provide a beneficial atmosphere for both labor and management at Palm Springs, California. So far as is known, this is the first city to attempt to enact a "right to work" ordinance.

Palm Springs is a desert community in Riverside County, California. It is a center for the social elite and the Hollywood elite. There is no particular business enterprise in the city, saving that enterprise provided by what is known as "tourism," and by the various trades and services which take care of the wants of those who patronize any such resort.

But with unabated ferocity, the various unions in California have been seeking to unionize clerks and construction workers, filling station attendants, hotel employees and virtually anyone else who works for a living. Since there is no basic industry other than that provided by desert climate and hosts of travelers, a strong union situation in Palm Springs would be most detrimental to the rather precarious economy which must manifest at any seasonal resort town.

The upshot of union attempts to coerce workers in Palm Springs has brought about city council action which prohibits the alleged right of a union to insist on membership before a person can be employed. So far as is known, this is the first city in the nation which has taken this step.

And the question becomes a large one, since there is objection from union bosses who claim that a city is not an extension of state power, and that while it is manifestly true that a state can declare for right to work legislation, that a city cannot.

California does not have a right to work law, although 17 states in the nation do have such laws. In the absence of that state law, the Palm Springs citizens want a local law. It provides an interesting excursion into the realm of legal force to see just who prevails in this situation.

The Palm Springs legislation was scheduled to go into effect last December 15. However, labor bosses took the case to the NLRB claiming that the city fathers were indulging in unfair labor practices. To any labor boss, the right of a free man to make his own way without a union is unfair to the labor boss and his exclusive right to invoke force and violence to maintain his dues-paying membership at a high level. However, to everyone's surprise the NLRB regional office found in favor of the city and now the labor bosses have appealed to the federal NLRB. The outcome remains in doubt.

We can certainly congratulate the City of Palm Springs for its efforts to offset union dues paying and terrorism. However, the fact remains that if our basic document, the Constitution, including its Bill of Rights, were to be enforced, there would be no necessity for right to work laws anywhere.

Unions never did have much appeal to the working man until the federal government got into the act by passing the communistically inspired Wagner Act. When that occurred, membership in unions trebled in a few years. When the Taft-Hartley law was written, although labor bosses adopted a universal policy of opposing it, the law was based on the Wagner act and actually resulted in still more union membership and a general increase in the violence and predation instigated by labor lords such as Reuther, Bridges, Dubinsky, Beck and Hoffa.

And we are not so certain that right to work laws, if and when they are passed by enough states will not have a similar overall effect.

What is needed in the labor management picture, is a return to our basic principles enunciated by the founding fathers. Then government will not intrude into the business and industrial complex of the nation, and whatever friction may develop between management and labor can be successfully worked out between them without invoking the force of government and without calling upon the taxpayer to foot the bill.

While this is the end we should still keep in mind as most desirable, it is still gratifying to see the city council of Palm Springs standing up to the lords of labor and telling them what for. We wish them luck.

THE NATION'S PRESS

DISAPPOINTING BUDGET

(N. Y. Daily News)

We can't find much to cheer about in the budget message President Eisenhower sent Congress.

It's praiseworthy that the budget submitted for fiscal 1958 (begins next July 1) is balanced. We can applaud the resolve to pay a little something on the national debt.

But sticking out like a sore thumb is the fact that this budget calls for the biggest federal peace-time spending in history — $71.8 billion.

Another galling fact is that the President is against any personal or corporate income tax cuts or excise reductions this year — except that he does favor some sort of tax relief for small business, provided this doesn't cut down federal revenues. That's a neat trick if you can do it.

The President wants to hike defense spending $2 billion over this year's, to $38 billion. It's hard to quarrel with that; but we do hope the bulk of the money will be spent for actual weapons and productive research, instead of flung around with all too typical military extravagance.

Foreign aid is earmarked for $4,383 billion—$256 million above fiscal 1957.

All this is in sad contrast to Gen. Eisenhower's 1952 campaign promises of tax reductions and strict governmental economy — promises he kept for a while.

Has the Administration gone completely over to the old New Deal tax-and-spend, spend-and-spend, elect-and-elect philosophy, if so, why? We think it owes the people some answers to those questions.

We're intrigued, too, by the President's scheme to call on business and labor to use great self-restraint about pushing up prices and wages, while the Federal Government shows no signs of self-restraint about taxing the people blind and spending their money like the prodigal son.

Altogether, we'd call this a disappointing performance, and we hope Congress can find the courage to slash the Eisenhower budget deeply, as urged by — surprise — none other than Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

Socialism

I want to point out how Bela Hubbard, in his "Political and Economic Structures," pictures primitive and modern socialism.

Primitive Socialism

He points out that, "Like communism, socialism is a primitive system. It is known from earliest historical records, and undoubtedly, was practiced by prehistoric tribes and nations. Elements of the socialist economy are revealed in records of early Egyptian dynasties."

"Modern" Socialism

In describing modern socialism, he writes: "The father of 'modern' socialism was the Greek philosopher Aristotle, better known as Plato (427-347 B. C.). In two of his works, 'Republic' and 'Laws,' he portrayed his conception of the ideal state, with an economic structure in some respects communist, but primarily socialist. The world of Plato was limited to the Mediterranean countries. It is probable that he never knew that even as he was formulating his ideal 'Republic' of the future, there existed savage tribes in the distant African jungles, who enjoyed the very type of economy envisioned in his utopia."

"Through the centuries that followed Plato's time, there were others who, at different times and in different countries, but particularly in Europe, proposed forms of economy on the socialist pattern. The subject seemed to hold a fascination for many intellectuals. Surrounded by scenes of cruelty, oppressed by tyrannical rulers, and angered by the injustices of chattel slavery and serfdom, these intellectuals sincerely regarded a socialist economy as the ultimate goal of nations. When all property or all means of creating wealth were owned by one or by a few, communal ownership seemed to be the only alternative. What they failed to realize was that they were seeking a change in form of government, not in economic structure. The means of production, where owned by the state, constituted socialism, whether the state happened to be an autocracy, oligarchy, monarchy, or democracy."

He gives the history of the leaders of modern socialism. He explains the influence of the Fabian Society:

"The Fabian Society's accomplishments were not restricted to England. By the close of the nineteenth century they had made converts in the United States. Under Fabian influence and guidance, the Intercollegiate Socialist Society was founded in New York City, in 1905."

"Three years later, in 1908, the Rand School of Social Science was founded in New York and became the headquarters of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society. It was largely in this early headquarters that the plans originated to disseminate socialist propaganda in our schools and colleges under the designation 'social science.'"

"In 1921, the name of the Society was changed to 'League for Industrial Democracy.' Here is to be seen one of the earliest examples of the Russian weapon for conquest, previously described—the deliberate distortion in the usage of words. Starting in 1921, the term 'socialist' was dropped and 'democracy' substituted. In line with this policy, most American school textbooks now employ the word democracy where socialism is actually meant. The League for Industrial Democracy, successor to the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, is still strong and active in 1955. It exerts great influence in the National Education Association, on our public school system, and on college courses."

School Children

"That there will be future attempts to socialize our capitalist economy is practically certain. The Fabian softening-up process continues, unchecked, and is aided by the Communist party propagandists. The minds of American school children are being indoctrinated with socialist propaganda, presented as 'democracy' in substantially all the social science textbooks. The coming generation is being prepared for the acceptance of a socialist economy. A future 'New Deal' may be more successful than the 'last.'"

"MODERN" SOCIALISM IN RETROSPECT. Socialist economic structure, as has been shown, is a primitive type of economy, dating back to prehistoric times, and practiced today by savage tribes as yet practically untouched by civilization. The truth of this statement can be demonstrated both by reference to historical records and by direct observations. This is known to students of the subject, yet practically unknown to the general public.

"Socialism, to most people, is not the primitive system of economy here described, but a wholly modern social philosophy. Popular notions on the subject are based very largely on the writings and teachings of doctrinaire idealists and intellectuals who are the proponents of what we have designated as 'modern' socialism. Since 'modern' socialism was said to have originated with Plato, it is actually not modern at all. The adjective is justified, however, because the propaganda for this type of economy has continued into modern times, and has been augmented greatly in recent decades."

"It (modern socialism) is a mental 'throwback' to the Stone

Comes The Day When We Ask 'Where Have I Been?'

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

CHICAGO — The very fact that the press and public are willing to trust the so-called executive council of the AFL-CIO to "clean-up" criminal conditions in this monstrous state is proof that we in the United States were crazy at some undetermined time within the last 30 years.

Who is this moonface boss un-loneer, George Meany, rolling his dull eyes and fluttering his thick wet lips in pious ruminations, who is Walter Reuther, risen to power by wild riots in terrorized communities of good citizens, that editors and docile, voiceless millions of good people politely defer to them even when they acknowledge in their high consistency that their gangs are dominated by extortionists, embezzlers, thugs and traitors to the cause of labor?

All this has been notorious for years but the very bums who finally concede the flagrant fact do so only by implication and with a proviso that they must be allowed to put their own lid on it. There must be no interference by the same cops and prosecutors who deal with crime in other phases of our society.

If the officers of a bank go crooked and rob the jug, do we agree that we must not set the law on the rats lest we impair the rights and hopes of all the millions who keep their savings in the banks? Do we stand back and leave it to the Bankers' Association to reprove them but without restitution to the victims?

The hell we do.

The examiners, the federal and state flycops and prosecutors descend on the ruins like vandals and we grab everybody in sight and crank up the grand juries. And the Bankers' Associations, far from interceding with a plea that punishment will shake confidence in capitalism, egg on the law to give the crooks the limit and sell out their homes and auction their furniture and cars and make horrible examples of their families. If a father and mother come to understand that their son is a stick-up who has done a few incidental rapes and murders on the way home from the bowling alleys, do we tactfully concede that this is an intimate family problem and that interference will wreak harm on the wilful child and his ma and pa far worse than the injury to the public? Does a bar association claim exclusive jurisdiction to punish a thieving advocate?

So now, after more than 20 years of stalling and counter-attacking and looting of the workers and the federal treasury and only after an avalanche of proof, these fakers

Age. Modern communist and socialist colonies would appear to have psychological affinity with nudist colonies. An interesting aspect of the phenomenon is the fact that, almost without exception, the leaders of 'modern' socialism, from Plato to Einstein, have been individuals of high intellectual development. They may be even more accurately defined as intellectuals of the doctrinaire type. Any attempt to explain the phenomenon would be beyond the scope of study. It is sufficient to make observation, leaving solution to psychologists."

hour of Ryan's overwhelming sorrow, tried to send to prison on an income charge so phony that even the buzzards of the Department of Justice gobbled and dashed for the gets.

Reuther has a strike still running at Kohler, Wis., against a fine American manufacturing firm which pays taxes where Reuther's mob pays none and never even parks beside a hydrant whereas the criminal conduct of his goons in this one terror, alone, to ignore a hundred others, is enough to call for a thousand years in prison. And Reuther prattles ethics and statesmanship and the papers publish his face.

Now the plain truth is that the AFL-CIO is an umbrella for criminal societies holding charters as "unions" and that public authority alone has rightful jurisdiction over the crimes which have been the regular program of this evil power. It is pathetic that American public opinion and the popular knowledge of law and of right-frowned feebly concedes to the head racketeers a nobility of character and purpose which past performance throws into grotesque absurdity.

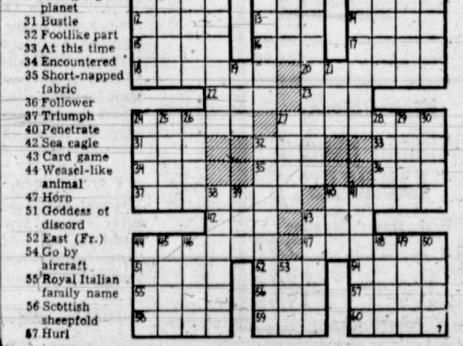

I note that the AFL-CIO is taking firm steps against three little cats-and-dogs of the union-racket but they have no money left to steal and so little voting power that they may be kicked around fearlessly. Moreover, once their present bosses have been kicked out, Meany and Reuther can send "organizers" around to chivy the poor faceless dolts into new unions under "charters" which are just blank documents with phony gold seals on them. But they aren't seeking out Dave Beck and you will never see the day when they call the cops and, pointing to John L. Lewis, bawl, "Officer arrest that louse!"

They are all strictly no-dam good and that is flattery and when like other public enemies the press and people of the United States may begin to blink and mutter, "Where am I? Where have I been?"

Red China Has Turned Into Strong And Equal Partner

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Red China has finally emerged as a strong and equal partner with Communist Russia in their international movement, in the opinion of observant diplomats here and abroad. Her role as the greatest economic and military force in the Far East may soon compel the United States and the United Nations to extend recognition to Peking.

In drafting Premier Chou En-lai to appease rebellious satellite peoples, especially the Gomulka regime in Poland, Moscow showed its need and reliance on China's support. Had it not been for the disturbances in Poznan, Warsaw and Budapest, the Kremlin would not have sponsored Chou En-lai's recent tour of that area and India, with the added prestige it conferred upon him. Until comparatively recently, he and Mao Tse-tung have been almost mythical figures who moved only vaguely in the European mind.

Despite Prime Minister Nehru's contrary claims, Mao Tse-tung is virtual leader and strong man of the Asian-African bloc, which has such great voting strength in the United Nations. With other nations sympathetic to China's application, including Britain, they may be able to obtain U.N. membership for Peking over American objections.

President Eisenhower still opposes Red China's entry because of its claims on Formosa and its continued imprisonment of ten American soldiers. There have been indications at the State Department that we might withdraw our objections, if these differences can be composed. Freeing of the Americans and an agreement not to try to regain Formosa by force would undoubtedly satisfy Washington, especially as William F. Knowland plans to quit the Upper Chamber at the end of 1958.

China's permanent enmity, combined with Russia's might, it is recognized, could change the whole face of the Far East.

Internal feuding between political and military cliques in Indonesia, together with prospective reduction of British forces in such outposts as Singapore and Hong Kong would open the Indonesian archipelago and all Southeast Asia to Chinese conquest, in view of the fact that in 1941-42.

According to all reports and observations, Red China is modernizing economically, industrially and militarily, at an amazing pace as she begins her second Five-Year Plan, Mao is concentrating at great human cost on construction of steel mills, heavy industry of all kinds, railroads, highways, trucks, etc. He realizes that lack of transportation links has been the basic cause for a want of material progress and spiritual unity. He is wending a mighty nation, albeit slowly, of 400,000,000 people.

He is building up the interior as far as the borders of Russia and India, virtually controlling Tibet and Afghanistan. Railroads and highways are fingered toward underdeveloped regions rich in food, oil, minerals, gold. Tent hamlets for a nomadic population are being transformed into industrial hives.

In fact, many engineers and economists foresee the not too distant day when China will be the world's fifth industrial nation, ranking behind the United States, Russia, Britain and Germany.

Perhaps the most remarkable transformation affects the people's spirit. Like the Germans, they seem willing to endure continued low living standards because they have been inoculated with the belief that progress will benefit them and their children, not a corrupt government and a few grasping war-lords.

Their behavior in the rugged Korean and Indo-China conflicts proved that they make mighty fine fighters, when properly trained, armed and led. And readers of "The Last Parallel" cannot doubt that they match Western soldiers.

Arnold Toynbee says that the rise and downfall of nations pursue an East-to-West circuit — Persia, Greece, Rome, Spain, France, England, the United States, diplo-mats and international experts note that China and Russia stand next in that historic path of empire.

By that, I mean I throw in remarks that would lead strangers to believe that if I just had the time I would be out on the slopes on skis, or that there is nothing I would like better than a shot at a difficult peak. I even dropped a strong hint that I could handle a team of sledge dogs, and once swam the Mississippi during flood time.

I am in mortal fear that Colonel Harrison, CO of the Tenth, will find out that I am not in a hurry at all, and will invite me to take part in a practice maneuver. It wouldn't be a practice maneuver for me at all — it would be a final one.

To make sure that he believes I am in a hurry, I always carry a suitcase in one hand and a railroad ticket in the other whenever I go to visit Colonel Harrison to talk about his Tenth Group.

The Tenth, in case you don't know, consists of trained teams which will be dropped behind enemy lines to organize, direct, and supply guerrilla groups in event of war. They will stay there for the duration. They are all double-volunteers. They volunteered first for the air-borne troops (from which they are drawn) and then again for Special Forces.

The men of the Special Forces are far and away the most highly trained and disciplined in the Army, and are super hand-picked. The lightweights come to the surface real quick, and are quickly skimmed off. Those who make it are morally, mentally, and temperamentally sound, as well as hard as nails physically.

Slender, Blue-Eyed Wife And Mother Heads Important Government Office

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Slim, gray-haired Dorothy McCullough Lee leaned forward in her swivel chair, rested an elbow on her large desk, arched her eyebrows and looked over the schedule for the day.

"You know, I'm not a long-range planner type," said the blue-eyed new chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board. "I figure it's best to take each day as it comes."

Her's what she had on the desk for the day, among other things:

Filling out an involved questionnaire from a Congressional Committee.

Fixing deadlines for the pleading of several cases.

Singing a number of orders.

Completing some important reports for Congress.

Answering a batch of letters.

And studying a pending case that would decide whether to fix a "Communist front" label on an organization.

With a heavy load of administrative responsibilities.

"Don't get the idea that I sit here in an ivory tower and send out directives," she warns. "On important matters, the board operates as a team and we make decisions together."

After 25 years in one public office or another, it's not easy to envision Mrs. Lee in an ivory tower under any circumstances. She's practical, down-to-earth and business-like, but at the same time a devoted wife and mother. She would just as soon talk about her husband and children as her own activities.

Her daughter, Priscilla Dorothy, 19, is a sophomore at Maryland University. Her son David, 20, works at a Washington bank during the day and takes business administration courses at George Washington University in the evening.

Mrs. Lee is somewhat concerned that he may be trying to do too much, but she's not going to prevent David from doing what he chooses.

For one thing she has never taken it easy herself.

Soon after she received her law degree from the University of California she became involved in politics in Oregon. Married just a year and only 25, she was asked by a group of women to run for the state legislature. That night she called her husband Scott, who was across the state on a business trip. "Well honey, it will probably be a lot of work," he said, "but it might be interesting."

That was all she needed, and since then she has always had the strong support of her husband.

When the President asked her to become a member of the Federal Parole Board in 1953, Mrs. Lee decided to come east only after a job opened up for her husband here as a representative of a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company. He has been with the company more than 30 years.

"I wouldn't have thought of coming here without Scott," says Mrs. Lee.

"Gunching" Art Is Shown Art Group

The Pampa Art Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. D. Hills, 1911 N. Russell.

Mrs. Howard Johnson gave the program on "gunching", which is her original term for decorating bottles, boxes, and other articles with pearls, rhinestones, sequins, and glitter. For the demonstration, she decorated a perfume bottle and a cigarette lighter.

During the social hour, apple pie with ice cream, and coffee were served.

The following club members were present: Mmes. O. W. Appleby, J. Cornutt, A. C. Cox, H. L. Gregory, A. C. Houchin, C. P. Pursley, W. Purviance, C. G. Shirley.

The club will have its next meeting in the home of Mrs. Loyol-Davies, 1910 Hamilton, Feb. 19, at 1:30 p.m.

Grandchild's Art Is Birthday Highlight

LEFORS (Special) — A painted picture from his little granddaughter, Karen Sue, in Fairbanks, Alaska, was one of the highlights of the day on the sixty-first birthday of Orval O. Bishop, Sunday, Jan. 27.

The honoree also received a surprise telephone call from his son, Lt. Bobby J. Bishop, with the U.S. Army in Ft. Knox, Ky.; and his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clayton of Muenster. An airmail congratulation was received from his son and family, T-Sgt. and Mrs. Harold J. Bishop of Fairbanks, Alaska, the parents of Karen Sue.

Mrs. Bishop prepared a surprise oyster supper for the honoree Sunday night. As the guests arrived, they presented the honoree with a variety of shrubs which fits in nicely with one of his hobbies, gardening.

Guests present for the supper were Messrs. and Mmes. Sam Corberly, Judy, Jody, and Mack; Walter Morris, and Bill Giles.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
In the evening 15-year-old Cathy was almost constantly on the telephone. If her older sister or one of her parents interrupted with a wish to use it, she'd complain and complain.

So, as her birthday neared, her mother said to her father, "How about giving the child her own telephone? There doesn't seem to be any other solution. I could order a blue one to match the wallpaper."

Cathy's father put down his paper. "That's no solution — it's a convenience to us," he said. "The problem is teaching the girl to share with other people. If we give her her own phone, we make it unnecessary for her to earn it. Sure, we get rid of her griping — but Cathy gets cheated of a lesson we owe her."

After a long moment, his wife smiled at him. "All right," she said. "You know, I think I'll just tell Cathy how we came to this decision. If she realizes how we've resisted indulging ourselves for her sake, maybe she'll start trying to do the same for us."

Cathy did start trying. Told why her parents had decided against the private telephone, she was so impressed by their genuine concern for her that she began to show more for them.

Many American parents are much too hasty in giving children their own cars, their own TV sets, their own checkbooks.

Their custom is, when Bill bursts out against their use of the car on Saturday night, to reward his disregard of their right to it. Instead of respecting their right themselves that he's willing to share the car with them; they offer Bill money for the down payment on his own jalopy.

In effect, they agree with their inexperienced son that sharing is intolerable. They cooperate with his childish demand for exclusiveness in use of a car either by giving him theirs — or buying him one for himself.

It is crucial to encourage this excluding, don't-touch-a-mine demand by adolescent children.

When they go to work, they will have to start sharing their time and energies with their employer. When they beget a child, they'll have to share their bodies and income with it. Their adult happiness will largely depend on the ease and cheerfulness with which they share themselves with other people.

B&PW Club Plans Informal Recitals

The executive board of the Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday noon in the City Club Room. Mrs. Gladys James, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Mattie Crosson.

Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, Red Cross executive secretary, reported on the death of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rodgers, Los Alamos, N.M. in an auto accident last October. Mrs. Rodgers was the former Mildred Hill, who was associated with the Red Cross office here.

Mrs. Lucille Turner reported on the Papa Council of Social Agencies. Mrs. Hazel Jay announced plans for the International Banquet to be held Feb. 26 in the City Club Room beginning at 7:30 p.m. A report was given by Mrs. Ruth Hutchens that more than 200 fruit cakes had been sold this year.

Mrs. Jaynes announced that a make-up meeting would be held Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Club Room. The purpose of this meeting is to complete the blood-typed, will have this opportunity to club last month. All members who have not, as yet, had their blood type, will have this opportunity to make the club 100 per cent participating.

RINK-TAILED MONKEY—This monkey business on skates isn't part of a circus act, but it should be. Mrs. Norma Lee Johnston's unusual-skating partner is Vickie Lynn, a two-year-old chimpanzee from a St. Joseph, Mo., pet shop. The little animal is taking skating lessons from Mrs. Johnston, and she's doing as well as anyone else.

NEW RACKET BRACKET—Taking a swing at bigger things, former National Boys Singles champion Ned Neely of Atlanta, Ga., is shown in Miami Beach, Fla., warming up for the Junior Orange Bowl Tennis championships in Flamingo Park. Neely is stepping up into another age bracket of competition after winning the Boys title.

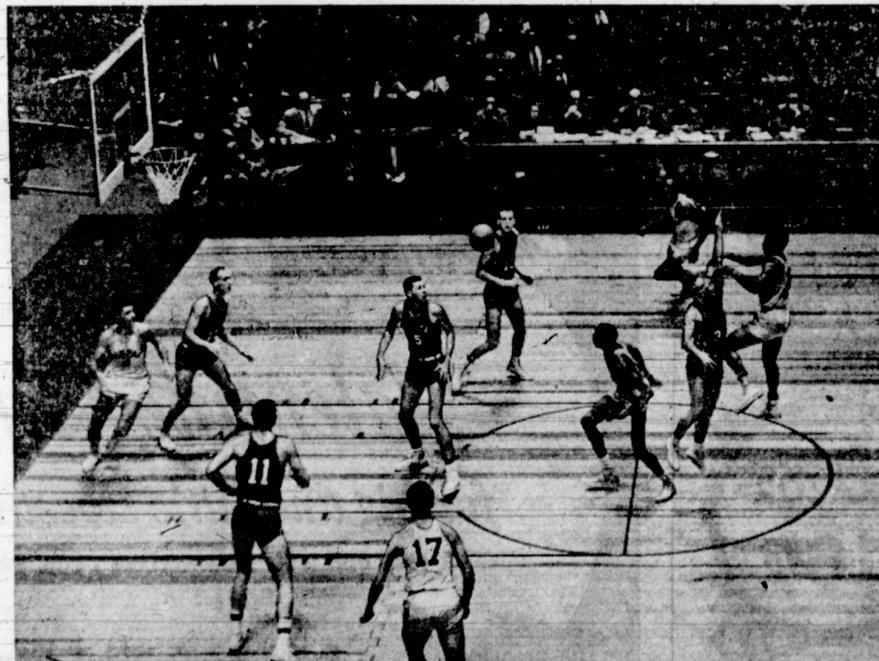

END OF A VOYAGE—Two Irishmen, Michael O'Herlihy, 26, left, and Terry Murray, 32, center, were greeted by Joseph Failla, as they disembarked from the 30-foot yawl in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. They had completed a 6,000-mile, 103-day voyage from Dublin. The men crossed the Bay of Biscay, sailed to the Canary Islands, then made the 3,000-mile hop to Puerto Rico before reaching the shores of the U. S.

MISTAKE OF NATURE—Arthur Rogers, a mailman in Claremont, N. H., is proud of his first deer, a very unusual one. Bagged before Rogers started his rounds, the animal is a relatively rare albino. Its white fur would have been good camouflage against the snow, but it was plainly visible against the unnatural deer's natural habitat of trees.

LENDING A HAND—From his wheelchair, David Nolchos feels the strong legs of bruising Miami fullback Don Bosseler, as Vanderbilt quarterback Don Orr looks on at the Variety Hospital in Miami. Bosseler and Orr were members of the South All-Star team which met the top college players of the North in the Shrine All-Star game for charity. The proceeds of the game were intended to help children like David.

BASKET ON THE WAY—The camera catches all 10 players in action on the court during play in the Ohio State-Temple game in Madison Square Garden. This play resulted in an under-the-basket score for Temple as Owl's Guy Rodgers, right, threaded pass through defending Buckeyes to teammate Mel Broasky, left, under hoop, who tossed it up and in. Ohio State nipped the Temple team with a final, and very close, 64-63.

Daniel And Murray Differ About Oil

AUSTIN (UP) — Gov. Price Daniel and Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray Jr. had separate opinions on how Texas can produce more oil in compliance with President Eisenhower's statement Wednesday that unless U.S. producers ship as much oil to Europe as possible, he may have to take a hand.

Gov. Daniel urged him to do just that. The governor said "if the President wishes more production of oil in Texas he should use the powers of his office to prevent excessive oil imports and his power of persuasion to get gasoline refiners to reduce their excessive stocks."

Murray, one of the three Texas Railroad Commissioners who regulate the state's oil production, said Texas' production allowable will be increased as soon as "in 15 The governor pointed out that the commission has tried to prevent "further increase in excessive gasoline stocks" in the interest of "preventing waste and preserving the domestic oil industry."

"Texas can and will produce more oil if these circumstances are corrected, and Congress gave the President the power last year to limit foreign imports of crude. Definite action under this authority would help more than anything else to solve the present problem," the governor said.

Daniel said imports are remaining "just as high as before the Suez controversy and this just does not make sense." He expressed hope Mr. Eisenhower will not "interfere with state conservation procedures which have always resulted in sufficient oil to meet national emergencies."

Production Highest Ever

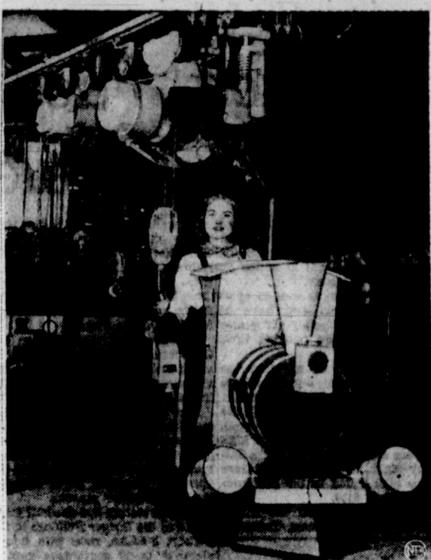

Murray noted that Texas is now producing oil at the highest rate in "all history," and pledged his commission would "make oil available, as they have always done, to meet every demand, domestic or foreign, as long as this oil can be produced ratably and non-wastefully."

Daniel said the oil imports and excessive stocks, "together with the failure of major refiners and pipeline companies to provide adequate connections for independent producers are the reasons why the Texas Railroad Commission has not granted a larger increase in production allowables."

Rain And Fog Cover Nation

By UNITED PRESS

Rain doused much of the nation and fog lingered over the eastern sections of the country today.

The wet weather pattered across a swath of land from the Mississippi Valley eastward through the Ohio Valley and Tennessee to the Atlantic Coast. Thunderstorms crackled over the southern plains and ranged as far east as the Mississippi Valley. Occasional showers dampened the northern and central Pacific Coast, also.

Misty air loitered over an area that extended to the east coast from northern Texas to northern Illinois.

A chunk of cold air, swept from the northern plains into the northern Great Lakes region, and sent snow flurries swirling over the lakes states. The northern Rockies and parts of the central plateau were also visited by flurries.

Snow fell across Idaho—eastward through Montana and into North Dakota, Wednesday, but amounts were not heavy. Temperatures climbed as much as 15 degrees higher than the previous day's reading in many spots from the Great Lakes to northern New England. Early today the temperatures averaged in the 30's in those areas. Night-time weather reached the 70-degree mark in Florida, but halted in the 60's elsewhere along the Gulf Coast region.

Tucson Tournney Starts

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Aspiring newcomers to the professional golf tour began the scramble today for top money in the tumultuous Tucson Open.

Bill Casper Jr., who won the Phoenix Open last week, Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., pro golfer's second leading money winner last year, and burly Mike Sweeney, Cranston, N.Y., were among those listed most likely to win.

Such name pros as National Open champion Cary Middlecott, former National Open titlist Lloyd Mangrum, and even some of the shining new stars bypassed the tournament here, leaving it wide open to lesser lights of the fairway.

13-Year-Old Sets Torried Golf Pace

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Just when folks along the winter golf circuit were beginning to talk about young Ann Quast of Marysville, Wash., along came 13-year-old Saron Pladoos, an eighth grade student from Dubuque, Iowa, to steal the thunder.

Little Miss Pladoos, a semifinalist in last year's National Junior championships, started the steady golf fans in this winter resort town Wednesday when she chalked up an 81 in the opening round of the 39th annual Palm Beach Women's Amateur golf tournament.

Basketball Program Will Start Tonight

The Kiwanis Club's basketball program for youngsters in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades gets underway tonight at Baker and Lamar schools.

Coaches Clifton McNeely and Terry Culley and members of the Pampa Harvester basketball team will work with the boys. Games will be played on Saturday mornings.

The Thursday night sessions are to be used for teaching the fundamentals of basketball. If the attendance is great enough, other school gyms will be available to the boys.

The session tonight starts at 6:30, and continues until 8:30. Saturday morning games will start at 9:30 and continue until 12. The Ministerial Alliance will work with the Kiwanis Club. Art Atergut is director of the program.

Rice Owls May Give Mustangs Bad Time

HOUSTON (UP)—Don Suman, a pessimist who hopes for the breaks, took a resigned look at Southern Methodist's high-riding Mustangs today and opined, "well, if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

But with Suman, in his eighth year as basketball mentor at Rice Institute, that was by way of warning that "loop-leading SMU can expect an uneasy time with Rice here Feb. 23."

"I think we're capable of beating 'em in Houston, and Texas might whip them in Dallas, and Arkansas' home court is a no-man's land for SMU, too," Suman said.

SMU dumped Baylor Tuesday night to jump into a 1 1/2 game lead over Rice, with Baylor shaky third in the title race with a 4-3 record. Suman can pick up a half-game by turning back Texas Christian this Saturday night.

SMU Meets Raiders SMU will be tackling Texas Tech at Lubbock but it won't count. SMU has four conference games to go yet, against Rice five, three of which are on the home court.

"Believe me," Suman said, "that home court game means a lot. But don't make me sound too optimistic. My boys have been off for three weeks for exams. We needed a rest but not that long."

Harvesters Idle Friday Shockers Face Heavy Schedule

While the Pampa Harvesters are idle during the rest of this week, Coach Terry Culley will have his experienced Shockers in action on Friday and Saturday.

The Shockers have won 25 of 26 games this season and have at least three and possibly six games left to play before packing their uniforms.

The Pampa B squad plays the Shamrock Irish varsity team here Friday night at 8 in Harvester Fieldhouse. Saturday they play the Childress B team at Childress. Coach Pernal Scoggin's junior high Reapers also play at Childress Saturday night, meeting the Childress junior high squad in the preliminary game at 6:30.

The Shockers tackle the Plainview B team here next Thursday in a preliminary game to the Harvester-Bulldog contest at 8 p.m. The Shockers are entered in the Hobbs, N.M., B-team tournament there on Feb. 21-22-23 and will meet Carlsbad in the opening round. The Hobbs meet will finish the season for the Pampa team.

The Shockers recently won the Chess sophomore tournament to chalk up their 23rd, 24th and 25th victories. The Reapers lost in the finals of another bracket.

The Harvesters' next game is scheduled for Tuesday night at Harvester Fieldhouse when they meet the Lubbock Westerners. Pampa plays Plainview here following Thursday night to complete the regular season.

The Harvesters are one-half game ahead of the Borger Bulldogs in the District 3-AAAA race with nine victories in 10 conference games. Borger can jump into the Friday night by beating Plainview.

Victorious Giardello After Rory

CHICAGO (UP)—A victorious but thoroughly dissatisfied Joey Giardello today rated Rory Calhoun as the next target on his path toward the middleweight title.

"I'll do better against Calhoun than I did in this one," Giardello said after scoring a split decision over Randy Sandy, a 9-2 underdog in a 10-round battle at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

The win was Giardello's seventh straight ring triumph and ended Sandy's string at five.

"I was overconfident," Giardello said. "I thought I'd knock him out in two rounds. I thought that for the last couple of weeks, ever since I signed for the match."

"But I just wouldn't get off. I don't know what was wrong," the Philadelphia brawler said.

Giardello, ranked second among the middleweights by the National Boxing Association, was unimpressive in beating Sandy for his 65th win in 83 professional starts.

Referee Walter Brightmore gave him a 48-44 edge and Judge Spike McAdam's 47-45 margin. Judge Frank Clark's vote went to Sandy, 47-46.

Of eight writers at the ringside, six gave Giardello an edge of one, two or three points, one gave Sandy a five point margin and the United Press card had the fight a draw.

Chamberlain Loses Scoring Lead To Columbia's Forte

By JOHN GRIFFIN United Press Sports Writer The little man's day dawned at last today in college basketball.

Five-foot, nine-inch Chet (The Jet) Forte of Columbia has taken the national scoring leadership away from seven-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas on the strength of a 36-point performance Wednesday night against Yale.

Forte's brilliant showing wasn't enough to save his team from an upset, for Yale, notched a 103-87 decision to take undisputed possession of second place in the Ivy League.

But it did give the little Lion an average of 30.2 points per game, passing the 29.8 mark held by Chamberlain who has been No. 1 in the national scoring parade almost since the start of the season.

Two Other Upsets Forte notched only nine points in the first half Wednesday night, then got 26 in the second half. But Larry Downs' 31 points led Yale to victory.

Forte's feat took the national spotlight despite two other major upsets, both featuring that of devil zone defense.

Louisville, the nation's No. 6 team and highest-ranked independent squad, was handed its second straight upset, 85-74, by 68-67 win over Miami of Ohio;

Morehead State of Kentucky and Canisius ranked No. 11 nationally, fell short in a late rally and bowed to Marquette in a thriller at Milwaukee, 81-80.

Morehead used a "two-three" version of the zone against Louisville and forced the high-ranked Cardinals to commit a bushel of fouls. It also held six-eight Charley Tyra, Louisville's All-America candidate, to nine points during the first half while Morehead was rolling up a 47-37 lead.

Louisville actually outscored Morehead in baskets, but Morehead got 43 free throw chances and sank 33 while Louisville canned only 16 of 22. Tyra rallied in the second half and finished with 21 points, but Steve Hamilton had 35 and Dave Kelleher 22 for Morehead to outshine him. It was Louisville's second straight loss and fourth in 18 games.

Canisius was so baffled by Marquette's zone that it sank only 31 of 90 shots, but even so staged a superb rally that almost wiped out a seven-point deficit in the last minute. Six-eight sophomore Mike Moran led Marquette with 34 points and soph Jim McCoy had 23.

In other leading games: Carmen Riazzi's tip-in with 14 seconds left gave Dayton a double-overtime, second straight upset, 85-74, by 68-67 win over Miami of Ohio;

Nascar Races Get Started

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP)—More than 100 sports cars, including almost every major American and European make, were scheduled to compete today in "flying mile" runs in the NASCAR "speed week" competition on Daytona's sand-packed sands.

The target will be the record of 164.24 miles per hour held by Bill Walters of Long Island, N.Y.

Today's racing will be strictly against the clock. Each driver will have two miles in which to get his car up to maximum speed, one mile in which to clock its high speed for the competition, and two miles to slow down.

Fords dominated yesterday's competition in the main event acceleration trials.

In the event for souped-up experimental cars, Ford Thunderbirds were first and third, a Mercury second, and a Plymouth with a Chrysler engine fourth. In the acceleration race among pickup trucks, a Ford was first and a Chevrolet second.

Regional Gloves Champs On Benefit Boxing Show

A 15-bout boxing card matching fighters from Pampa, Borger, Amarillo and Memphis will be held Friday night at the Gray County community building to benefit the March of Dimes.

Several champions and runners-ups of the recent regional Golden Gloves tournament in Amarillo will compete, many of them in rematches of title fights. Champions entered are Jesse Ring and Charles Snider of Pampa, Raymond (Doc) Williams of D&D Boxing Club of Amarillo and Barney Ward of Borger.

Runners-ups planning to enter are Dickie Wills and James Snider of Pampa, Austin White of Memphis and others.

Eye Treatment May Aid Sandy

NEW YORK (UP)—Doctors expressed hope today that a new dehydration treatment will avoid the necessity of an eye operation for retired featherweight boxing champion Sandy Saddler.

Saddler, who said when he gave up his crown last month because doctors had advised him he might become totally blind if he fought again, entered Flower, Fifth Ave. Hospital for treatment last Monday.

The former champion claims that the injury to his right eye is the result of an auto accident in which he was involved last summer.

Dr. Arthur Alexander Knapp, Saddler's physician, said Wednesday an examination has revealed the retina of Saddler's right eye is pulled out of position and also there is fluid in back of the eye.

THIRD MAN—Dizzy Davis will serve as referee of the Monday night wrestling program at the Sportsman Club. All proceeds from wrestling and pie-tossing auction will go to the March of Dimes.

MOST VALUABLE—President Maurice Podoloff presents the President's Trophy to Bob Pettit. The award goes annually to the combatant elected by the players in a poll conducted by NEA Service as the outstanding player in the National Basketball Association, and Pettit was so adjudged throughout the season of 1955-56. Behind the St. Louis Hawk forward is his mother, Mrs. Robert Lee Pettit. Murray Olderman, NEA cartoonist-sports writer, is on the right. It was his idea.

ARCADIA, Calif. (UP)—Ted Atkinson has asked Willie Shoemaker to appear in his behalf next Tuesday and accept the 1957 George Woolf Memorial Award at a public ceremony at Santa Anita. Atkinson will be unable to come here to receive the award because of riding commitments at Hialeah.

Kentucky Treasury Rolls In Track Loot

LEXINGTON, Ky., (UP)—State treasuries hauled in a record total of $207,453,272 from horse racing of all types in 1956, the National Association of State Racing Commissioners announced today.

The staggering total, ranging from the $73,851,755 realized by New York to the $75,981 collected by Nebraska, represented an increase of $22,998,684 over the 1955 total of $184,454,588 reported by the NASRC for its 44 members.

Thoroughbred racing was responsible for the lion's share of the staggering sum with a contribution of $161,062,687 to state treasuries while harness racing turned in $39,879,246 and quarter horse and fairs raised $3,514,339.

These same sources raised only $5,022,193 among them in 1954, when the NASRC issued its first report.

New York State, which takes the biggest cut and has the largest betting total throughout the land, realized the greatest income, almost triple its closest rival, New York received $73,851,755 while second place California got $25,342,293. Racing proved a major revenue producer for several other states, too, with New Jersey getting $23,793,068, Illinois getting $17,536,242; Florida getting $14,694,943; Maryland getting $8,763,519; Michigan getting $7,536,309; Ohio getting $7,107,370; Rhode Island getting $6,421,574; Massachusetts getting $5,641,282; and New Hampshire getting $2,819,719.

Racing also provided more than $2 million in state income for West Virginia with $2,693,551; Delaware with $2,094,764; Kentucky with $2,078,639; and Louisiana with $2,068,975. No other state received more than $1 million.

New Bill Will Tax Pleasure Boats, Motors

AUSTIN (UP)—Additional revenues for the Texas Fish and Game Commission was proposed Wednesday by a bill filed by Rep. Ben Sudderth of Gustin.

A three per cent excise tax on pleasure boats and motors in Texas would yield an estimated $200,000 to $300,000 per year for the Fish and Game Commission.

A similar bill, proposed by the Texas Water Resources committee last December, was abandoned after protests by sportsmen's clubs, boat and motor dealers, and sporting goods stores.

The first bill proposed a five per cent levy on small craft, and higher hunting and fishing license fees, with revenue to go toward purchase of conservation storage space in dams and reservoirs.

Sudderth pointed out that a bill has been introduced, which he said carries Game Commission backing, to raise hunting and fishing license fees 50 cents to $2.15.

Sudderth said it appeared much of the revenue from the increased license fees were to be spent by the commission on the Gulf coast.

"Who will pay this tax," he asked, "to support such a program by the Fish and Game Commission?"

"It is the poor rural and small town people whose greatest enjoyment is shifting. The poor and financially desperate will be sorely hurt by this license tax," Sudderth added.

Sudderth's proposed tax would be levied on retail sales of all pleasure craft, exempting law enforcement boats and boats used in line of business.

Kansas City Eyed As New Franchise

KANSAS CITY (UP)—Former Chicago White Sox manager Marty Marion left the impression today he favored Kansas City for a professional basketball franchise.

Marion and his St. Louis partner, Milton Fishmann, are surveying four cities with the idea of entering the National Basketball Association with a team next year. The other cities are Louisville, Ky., Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Marion, who has not dismissed baseball from his plans entirely, was eager about the potential of pro basketball.

"It seems to us," he said, "that the game has a tremendous future." He said he was impressed by Kansas City's acceptance of major league baseball. It convinced him this was one of the "greatest" sports centers in the country.

"Whether we can come to Kansas City depends on a great many things," Marion said. "For one thing, we will be going into this thing cold and we will be gambling a great deal of money."

Only 3 1/2 Games Separate Teams In Western NBA

By UNITED PRESS

Only three and one-half games separate the top and bottom teams in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race and all signs point to a knock-down drag-out fight right down to the wire.

The first-place Fort Wayne Pistons dropped a 108-93 decision to the Boston Celtics, the Eastern Division leaders, Wednesday night. The second-place St. Louis Hawks also lost, but the third-place Rochester Royals and fourth-place Minneapolis Lakers won to tighten things considerably.

The Royals held on in the closing minutes to beat the St. Louis Hawks, 103-100, and move to within a game of second place and two of first place. The Lakers, on Charlie Mencil's free throw with 15 seconds left to play, defeated the Philadelphia Warriors, 101-100. In the night's game the New York Knickerbockers beat the Syracuse Nationals, 119-100.

Lack Of Pinch Hitting May Hurt Dodgers In NL Battles

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Right now, the horseshoe nail that might lose or win the battle for Brooklyn in defense of its National League pennant this year seems to be a left-handed pinch hitter.

At least that's the impression one gets at Dodger headquarters, where there's actually more talk about a portside clutch guy than about Roy Campanella's surgically sculptured hands.

The retirement of Dale Mitchell after the World Series, to go into business, left the pinch-hitting gap. And the question now is whether any one of six possibilities can fill it.

Campanella, PeeWee Reese, Sal Maglie, Carl Furillo, Duke Snider, Carl Erskine and Gil Hodges.

Meanwhile Manager Walt Alton and his aides will be more than ever intent during spring training on trying to pick out youngsters who can be blended in with the veterans—soon.

Pitching hopefuls are Fred Kipp, southpaw knuckler from the Montreal club; and Roger Craig, Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and Chuck Templeton, who were with Brooklyn last season.

Jim Gentile, a first baseman who hit 41 home runs with Fort Worth last season and led the Dodgers in all batting departments on their post-season tour of Japan, may stick in Brooklyn this time. Likewise third-sacker Dick Gray from Fort Worth. And their outfield teammate, Don Demeter, who hit 41 homers in '56.

CLEMSON, S.C., (UP)—Tommy Simonovitch, often described as one of New Jersey's finest high school athletes, has accepted an athletic scholarship at Clemson College. Simonovitch, who lives in West New York, N.J., excelled in football, baseball and basketball in high school—but plans to concentrate on baseball and basketball at Clemson.

I'M SORRY, MOM! HONEST, I AM!
IT OUGHT TO COME OUT OF MY ALLOWANCE!
YOUR ALLOWANCE WOULDN'T BEGIN TO PAY FOR IT!
IT WOULD IF I GOT A RAISE!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

NOW, MAJOR, KEEP LOOKING AT MY EYES! YOU ARE PERFECTLY CALM, PEACEFUL, TIRED, RELAX! THERE NOW-- YOU ARE GOING FOR YOUR FIRST RIDE IN AN AUTOMOBILE-- AND WHEN YOU COME BACK WE'LL TAKE A SHORT FLIGHT IN AN AIRPLANE!
AUTOMOBILE? AIRPLANE? WHAT KIND OF BALDER-DASH IS THIS?
MY WORD! I DO BELIEVE THIS UPSTART IS TRYING TO HYPNOTIZE ME! DOESN'T HE KNOW THAT I AM ONE OF THE GREAT HYPNOTIC MASTERS OF THE AGE?
NOT AN IDEAL PATIENT

OUT OUR WAY

FORGOT TO WEAR YOUR GALOSHES AGAIN, HUH? I DON'T WATCH YOU EVERY TIME YOU GO OUT, YOU WIND UP WITH WET, SLUSHY FEET!
YOU'RE JUST LUCKY YOU DON'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT THE DOGS-- HE'S GOT FOUR FEET!

The Berrys

GOODBYE, DEAR... EMILY AND JEAN ARE GOING WITH ME TO THE SALE!
WHAT'S A SALE, DAD?
A SALE, M'BOY... IS WHERE A WOMAN GOES...
TO SAVE MORE MONEY THAN HER HUSBAND CAN AFFORD!

Morty Meekle

YOU MADE QUITE A HIT AT THE PARTY IN THAT SUIT OF ARMOR, JILL!
IT COULD HAVE FIT ME BETTER. I CAN PULL MY HEAD DOWN INTO IT, LIKE A TURTLE.
...RRR-RK!...
WHAT'S THAT YOU'RE MUMBLING ABOUT A HEADLESS HALINT?

Little Doc

MOM, I CUT MY FINGER!
NOW STAND STILL!
? IDEA
YOUR BANDAGE DIDN'T SHOW HARDLY AT ALL!

Wash Tubbs

I AIN'T BLIND AND DEEF YET, CLEM! THESE ARE TH' EASIEST ONES WE EVER NABBED!
CARS HAS RUIN'T THIS BUSINESS, LIKE! THIS WOULDN'T A-HAPPENED IF WE STILL USED HORSES!
WELL, WE DO UNCLE JAKE! WE CAN'T SHAKE 'EM WITH THAT SHANK WERE DRAGGIN' STIRRIN' UP ALL THIS DUST!
NO, WELL, TURN IN AT TITUS'S DUDE RANCH AND TRY TO LOSE OURSELVES IN A PASSLE OF KINFOLKS!

Boots

BAH! DO YOU THINK RUBENSTEIN WOULD HAVE PLAYED IT THAT WAY?
BUT FATHER, I'M NOT A RUBENSTEIN.
YOU WILL BE! YOU WILL BE!
MORE'S THE PITY! I NEVER HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO PREPARE MYSELF FOR A CONCERT CAREER.
NO! IT REMAINS FOR THAT BOY TO CARVE THE NAME OF THROWN IN MUSICAL HISTORY!

Mickey Finn

AND REMEMBER, MOONEY, WHEN THE CHAUFFEUR COMES FOR YOU, DON'T LET ON THAT YOU THOUGHT THE DOG WAS LOST!
I WON'T, PHIL! HE'S A HARD GUY TO TALK TO, ANYWAY!
I WAS REALLY WORRIED, MICHAEL! I THOUGHT SURE THAT SOMEBODY HAD GRABBED HIM!
SO DID I, UNCLE PHIL! HE'S SO EASY TO PICK UP-- AND HE THINKS EVERYBODY IS HIS FRIEND!
THAT'S THE FIRST TIME I'VE HEARD HIM GROWL, JAMES! I WONDER WHY HE'S DOWN IT!
I--AH-- WOULDN'T KNOW!

Freckles

LARD'S ACTUALLY HURRYING!!
DR. C. KAVITY DENTIS...
HE WAS EVEN WHISTLING!!
