Senate 'Rackets' Probe Continues

By HERBERT FOSTER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Stanley G. Terry, a pinball operator with a yearning for dignity, will be asked today whether he paid $10,000 to a union boss to buy into a union-controlled pinball machine monopoly.
Terry, who dazzled Senate investigators Thursday with tales of $50,000-$100,000-a-year profits, was recalled this morning before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.
The committee's star witness, racketeer James B. Elkins of Portland, Ore., testified earlier that Terry bought his way into Portland's pinball monopoly by paying $10,000 "for more" to Frank W. Brewster, West Coast Teamsters Union boss.
That ended the union-controlled monopoly, Elkins said, because Terry was a big operator.
Room For Explanation
There was no immediate explanation of why Brewster allegedly took the $10,000 and gave up a pinball machine monopoly controlled by his union which, according to testimony, could have grossed $250,000 yearly.
Brewster's turn to talk, if he will, comes later. He has been subpoenaed to testify Monday. He was "invited" to be on hand Thursday. But if he was present in the crowded, klieg-lighted Senate committee room, he did not make his presence known.
Brewster, a vice president of the giant Teamsters Union and head of its Western Division, already is under contempt of Congress citation for refusing to answer questions of a previous Senate investigation.
Robert F. Kennedy, the special committee's "prosecuting attorney" and brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), promised another testimony today about a bribe involving the Teamsters Union - chief target thus far of the headline-packed investigation.
Kennedy refused to give any advance details of the alleged bribe. Terry, who said he operated 200 or more pinball machines in Portland, had his first session with the committee Thursday.
Amuses Onlookers
He caused more than one chuckle by such remarks as, "I have done everything in my power to lend dignity to coin machines."
An account of Terry's relations with the Teamsters was spread on the record Thursday by Elkins, who has described himself as "disenchanted" with his attempted dealings with the Teamsters.
Elkins, a smooth gray-haired Texan with a record of arrests, previously testified that Brewster sent two of his Seattle gambler friends to organize Portland's vice and gambling.
They were to contact Elkins and take over the city's gambling, prostitution and other vices after electing a union-backed district attorney.

Clearing Of Right-Of-Way Is Requested

Property owners along the section of Hobart affected by the underpass were being told verbally today to clear structures from the right-of-way obtained from them.
All of the property owners were to be contacted today and tomorrow and told that the state highway department requested the city to have the right-of-way cleared as soon as possible, Fred Brook, city manager, stated today.
Plans call for the mailing of the official announcement to the property owners Monday.
The date when all of the property must be cleared has not been determined but all those who sold right-of-way to the city are being requested to clear it immediately, Brook reported.
Brook reported that several of the individuals and firms affected by the order have already either cleared the right-of-way or are in the process of clearing it.
No definite progress has been made on the obtaining of the remainder of the right-of-way needed for the storm sewer. Brook reported that work is progressing on the obtaining of the right-of-way but that no definite agreements have yet been reached.

Possible Hotel Sites Considered

In a meeting of the site committee of the Community Hotel Company of Pampa yesterday afternoon several possible sites for the erecting of the new community-owned hotel were considered.
No action was taken however, Hugh Burdette, chairman of the committee, reported. He stated that in several instances all the information needed about the property was not available and that in others the cost was beyond that budgeted in the funds obtained by the sale of stock.
Plans call for at least a city block to be used for the site of the hotel and also specify that it be as close to the business district as possible.
The site must be obtained before the drawing of plans for the hotel can be started. The exact size and arrangements of the site must be known so that the structure can be designed to fit the shape of the site.
If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Howe. (Adv.)

Proclaim 4-H Club Week Here

Tomorrow, National 4-H Club Week begins and in recognition of the 4-H Club activities in Gray County it has been proclaimed by County Judge Bruce L. Parker as 4-H Club Week in Gray County.
The following is the proclamation:
"Activity, achievement and adventure await the 363 4-H Club members who participate in the 4-H Club program in Gray County.
"4-H Club work is the youth phase of the Federal Agricultural Extension Service. This voluntary youth program has a nationwide enrollment of more than 2,000,000 members, and 49 foreign countries now have organizations similar to 4-H Clubs.
"4-H Club work in Texas is directed by members of the Agricultural Extension Service which is a part of the Texas A&M College System. County Extension agents in the 254 counties work with 4-H members, their parents, adult leaders and friends of 4-H to develop the future leaders of our state mentally, spiritually, socially, and physically.
"Continuous opportunities and challenges are offered to 4-H Club members in agriculture and home economics, as well as in preparation for better citizenship. 4-H work aids young people in useful, happy living through "helping them to help themselves."
"NOW, THEREFORE, I, as County Judge of Gray County do hereby designate the week of March 2-8, 1967, as 4-H Club Week in Gray County.
"In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 28th day of February 1967."
Bruce L. Parker, county judge.

Marilyn's Hubby Faces Arraignment

WASHINGTON (UP)—Arthur Miller, playwright husband of movie queen Marilyn Monroe, today faced arraignment in federal district court on contempt of Congress charges.
Miller was scheduled to be arraigned this morning before Federal Judge Charles F. McLaughlin for refusing to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities about former associates.
Economist Otto Nathan, executor of the estate of the late physicist Albert Einstein, also faced arraignment this morning on contempt-of-Congress charges.
He refused to tell the Committee on Un-American Activities whether he was or ever had been a Communist.
A federal grand jury last week indicted Miller on two counts of contempt and Nathan on four. Each count carries a maximum penalty of $1000 fine and a year in jail.

Israel Will Announce Its Withdrawal Today

Legislator Bribery Case Goes Before Grand Jury

AUSTIN (UP)—Rep. James E. Cox, who has agreed to take a lie detector test about bribery charges against him, goes before Travis county grand jury today.
Cox "cried on occasion" and even threatened to "kill himself" when he first learned he would be charged with agreeing to take a $5,000 bribe. But he made no mention of any plan to "trap" crooked lobbyists, House Speaker Waggoner Carr told an investigating committee Thursday night.
Cox said Thursday that he only "pretended" to take the bribe because it was part of his plan to trap crooked lobbyists in Austin, Bob Looney, Cox's attorney, may file charges of bribery today against Dr. Howard Harmon, who accused Cox of consenting to accept the bribe.

him it would hurt many innocent people."
Carr said Cox told him "he didn't intend to go through with it—that Dr. Harmon had called and had the money but he was scared and was not going down there."
Called in Heflin
Carr revealed he called in Rep. James Heflin of Houston after hearing Heflin had information of the recording having been made. "I called Jim in and told him this might be a serious thing and asked him not to be spreading the rumor and he agreed to it."
Heflin was one of four witnesses before the grand jury Thursday. Others included Dr. Verb Howard, a Waco naturopath, and Reps. Ford and Sheridan. Ford said "I know nothing in the world about it."
Sheridan, twice a member of the public health committee, said he was being called in "probably to see what I know about Dr. Harmon."
District Attorney Les Procter said Sandall would be subpoenaed. (See LEGISLATORS, Page 3)

Agrees to Lie Test
Cox Thursday agreed to take a lie detector test if the operator of the test was a "nationally recognized" expert and not employed by the State of Texas. Looney said this was against his advice.
Carr testified for two hours Thursday night before the nine-member committee set up to investigate charges Cox agreed to take $5,000 to kill his measure outlawing naturopathy in Texas.
The charges are based on an alleged tape recording made by Harmon in his hotel room Feb. 20 when Cox purportedly agreed to the bribe. Harmon is president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Association.
Carr specifically denied Cox made any mention of a plan to "trap" crooked lobbyists when he exposed to the speaker after being subpoenaed.

Eyes Of Texas Legislature Focused On Investigation

By O. B. LLOYD JR., United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN (UP)—Legislative eyes today were focused on investigations of charges that a state representative agreed to accept a bribe.
The lawmakers had other inquiries on the fire, but they will wait until the Legislature convenes again Monday. Meanwhile, the Legislature will be watching closely the grand jury investigation into charges that Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe agreed to accept a $5,000 bribe.
The House's own nine-man investigating committee heard Cox say Thursday he "pretended" to accept the bribe in "a plan to expose to the people of Texas the crooked lobbyists that are in Austin."

Gray County Commissioners Court Meets

The Gray County Commissioners Court met this morning in a regular session in what was a rather light day with only one other item on the agenda other than the usual payment of bills.
The commissioners heard from Paul Crouch of the Panhandle Packing Company who explained the requirements of meat inspection throughout other areas, and suggested that a uniform policy of meat inspection be set up by the county in order that meats packed here may meet the standard requirements of inspection in other areas.

Rumblings Of Discontent, Suspicion Already Heard

By WALTER LOGAN, United Press Staff Correspondent
Israel announces to the world today its historic decision to withdraw its forces from Egyptian territory. But already there were rumblings of discontent in Jerusalem over the "surrender" and suspicions by the Arab world of a "deal."
Mrs. Golda Meir, the Israeli foreign minister, planned to go before the United Nations General Assembly this afternoon to report compliance with a U.N. resolution demanding Israeli withdrawal.
The decision, reached in Washington conferences between American, Israeli and French officials, eases the immediate threat of war in the Middle East but may not end the crisis.
Arabs Reported Suspicious
Egypt and her Arab neighbors were reported suspicious of any "deal" that would reflect on Egyptian sovereignty, and there were stirrings of rebellion in the Israeli government against what some politicians called Israel's "surrender."
Britain welcomed the decision but the British press said the crux of the problem was still Egypt's insistence that a state of belligerency remained between Egypt and Israel.
An Israeli spokesman in New York said Israel would withdraw its forces behind the 1949 Palestine armistice lines in compliance with that resolution.
Israel has insisted throughout the long negotiations it would never give up the Gaza Strip without guarantees against a repetition of Egyptian Fedayeen (Commando) attacks on Israeli villages near the Gaza area without guarantees against the resumption of Egypt's blockade.
The United States, Britain, France and other maritime powers are expected to follow the Israeli speaker this afternoon and declare the Gulf of Aqaba an international waterway open to shipping of all nations.
This would run head-on into the Arab position that the waters are territorial waters of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan.
UNEF Occupation Planned
The United Nations is to send groups of its emergency force into the Gaza Strip to maintain order. Israel has stated it would never leave if administration of the area reverted to Egypt; Egypt was awarded control over the area by the 1949 Palestine armistice. The dispatch of UNEF troops there could still come under terms of the armistice, U.N. informants said.

Oil Men Set Annual Dance Here Saturday

Panhandle oilmen and guests will dance to music of the West Texas Collegians from West Texas State College, Canyon, at the annual membership dance of the Panhandle Chapter, American Petroleum Institute, Saturday night at the Top 'O' Texas Sportsman's Club, south of Pampa.
Dancing will be from 9 p.m. until midnight. No table reservations will be required. Admission will be $3 a couple.
Tickets are available from API members in Amarillo, Borger, Pampa and other Panhandle cities. The club will be colorfully decorated for the annual dance which closes the chapter's membership campaign.
Chairman J. G. Glenney of Pampa says the membership drive is progressing favorably.
Membership cards at $1 each, and dance tickets may be secured from Bob Sidwell, George Cree Jr., Dr. Joe Donaldson, Jimmy Kline, or the Agaha area without guarantees against the resumption of Egypt's blockade.
The United States, Britain, France and other maritime powers are expected to follow the Israeli speaker this afternoon and declare the Gulf of Aqaba an international waterway open to shipping of all nations.
This would run head-on into the Arab position that the waters are territorial waters of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan.

Israel has stated it would never leave if administration of the area reverted to Egypt; Egypt was awarded control over the area by the 1949 Palestine armistice. Wheat Crop Improving

AMARILLO (UP)—Condition of winter wheat in the eastern and southwestern Oklahoma and Texas areas, except for the High Plains, continued to improve during the last month, the Santa Fe crop report said today.
The monthly railroad report said recent snow and rain over the areas provided much beneficial moisture.
However, it warned that recent reports released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that the land damage by soil blowing in the Great Plains increased from 2.7 million acres on Jan. 1 to 3.3 million acres on Feb. 1. It also said another 29.3 million acres were in condition to blow due to lack of cover and surface moisture.
The report said 90 per cent of the acreage was in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado and Kansas.
The Santa Fe report said many Texas points report the moisture which has fallen since Feb. 15 as the heaviest February moisture recorded. However, a considerable portion of this was lost through runoff due to the lack of soil cover to retard the flow of water.

New 'Doctrine' Challenge Capitol Hill Report

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East today faced a new challenge in the Senate.
Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) and others drove for a vote by tonight on their proposal to strip the doctrine of military and economic aid.
Administration forces believed they could defeat the proposal. But the vote could be close.
The State Department said the amendment would "largely destroy" the doctrine's effect.
Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) took the floor to warn the Senate that approval of the amendment would "embarrass our government and shake friendly Middle Eastern nations."
Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson called the Senate into session two hours early and scheduled an unusual Saturday session in a strong push for a final vote on the doctrine itself.
Other congressional news:
The Senate Rackets Committee recalled a Portland, Ore., pinball operator. It wanted to ask him whether he paid $10,000. (See CAPITOL HILL, Page 3)

Hollywood Detective Testifies

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A handsome Hollywood private detective told a state Senate hearing Thursday how he once romanced Anita Ekberg and then later spied on her and Anthony Steel for a scandal magazine story.
The testimony of 33-year-old, black-haired Fred Otash climaxed an investigation into whether information gathered by private detectives winds up in expose magazines, a violation of their state license.
Today's hearing centers on debt collectors.
Otash testified that two stories in Confidential magazine—the "wrong door" raid on Marilyn Monroe and another tale on Gloria De Haven and Jeff Chandler—came from files stolen from the office of another private investigator, ex-New York cop Barney Ruditsky.
Then Otash told how he himself works for Hollywood Research, Ltd., literary agents for Confidential and Whisper magazines, by checking on stories the research company bought from "writers I don't know."
"One of his assignments was to photograph Anita Ekberg at her Red-Ale home and beach house when Anthony Steel was visiting her before their marriage last May."
"I dated her for seven months in 1954," the private detective told the state senators.
Later he was asked by the research company to photograph the Swedish actress, Otash said, and his operatives took movies of her at her home with a telephoto lens.

3 Fined On Check Charges

Three cases of swindling with worthless checks were tried yesterday afternoon in County Court resulting in fines amounting to $11.
Mrs. John Moles of Elk City, was fined $1 plus costs after pleading guilty to a charge of swindling with a worthless check on a check for $85 given to the First F&G Store Feb. 7, 1967.
Dean Daney and Gene Williams, both of Pampa, received fines of $5 plus costs; Daney for a check dated June 25, 1956 for $34 given to J. C. Daniels Motor Co., and Williams for a check for $10 dated Sept. 16, 1956 and given to Montgomery Ward.
All three made restitution for the checks.

A Joint Kiwanis, Lions Club Meeting Set For Next Friday

The Pampa Noon Lions Club and the Kiwanis Club will meet in a joint session at noon next Friday in the basement of the First Methodist Church.
The Lions decided to cancel the Thursday meeting of the club and meet with Kiwanis Club so that members of the Lions Club could hear Mrs. Mary D. Cain, editor and manager of the Summit, Miss. Sun, when she speaks to the Kiwanis Club next week.
Mrs. Cain is to speak in Wellington Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet and has agreed to be in Pampa Friday.
She is to speak on the topic of "Our Greatest Trust," a powerful expose of the manner in which "Big Government" has practically nullified the Bill of Rights, which was created to protect individuals in their homes and their property rights.
At the meeting of the Lions Club yesterday, Maj. Donald Kern of the Amarillo Army Reserve office, informed those present of the present laws in regards to the Army Reserve and the compulsory service in the reserve of any man entering the army, either by draft or volunteering, since Aug., 1965.
He explained the six-months active training, with 7 1/2 years in the reserve, that young men can enter instead of being drafted, Maj. Kern told the Lions that the purpose of the program was to build up a reserve of trained men that could be immediately called into service in the event of an emergency.
The Lions also honored women that had birthdays during February. At the last meeting each month the club honors all members' wives who had a birthday during the month.
All members of the club were reminded of the Ministerial rehearsal each Monday at 8 p.m. in the High School music room. They were urged to attend the rehearsal and become a part of the Ministerial chorus.

Manners Make Friends

If you are smoking a cigar or cigarette when waiting for an elevator get rid of it before you step into the car. The smell is often annoying to others and a lighted cigar could be dangerous on a crowded elevator.

Surely you can part with a smoke long enough for an elevator ride.

Looking for a big, wonderful, surprise dessert for Sunday dinner? Well, if you are, we think you'll agree that this is the answer — a luscious banana spice cake.

BANANA SPICE CAKE
(20-24 servings)

One cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 3½ cups sifted, all-purpose flour; 2 teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1-1½ cups evaporated milk, 1-1½ cups mashed ripe banana (about 2 bananas).

Cream butter. Add sugar; cream until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs. Sift flour together with soda, salt and spices. Stir lemon juice into evaporated milk.

Add milk mixture alternately to the egg mixture with the dry ingredients, beginning and ending with dry ingredients.

Add mashed banana and mix thoroughly. Turn into greased 15½ x 10½-inch roasting pan.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes, or until toothpick, inserted in center, comes out clean. Cool.

Frost with penuche frosting; decorate with ornamental frosting.

PENUCHE FROSTING
Two cups firmly packed dark-brown sugar, 2-3 cup evaporated milk, ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar.

Combine evaporated milk and brown sugar in saucepan. Place over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil.

Boil gently, stirring often, to 284 degrees F. on candy thermometer, or until a small amount of mixture dropped in cold water forms a soft ball. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.).

Stir in confectioners' sugar until smooth and creamy, adding a small amount of evaporated milk if necessary.

ORNAMENTAL FROSTING
Two to 2½ cups confectioners' sugar, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 egg whites, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Sift together confectioners' sugar and cream of tartar; add egg whites and vanilla.

Beat with a rotary or electric beater until frosting holds its shape. (Cover with a damp cloth and possibly others would be called today. He declined to elaborate.

The jury term ends Saturday. The report of its findings may be issued today, Procter said.

Editor Confirms Talk
 Cox told the House committee Thursday he told Ed Watson, editor of the Conroe Courier, of his plan to trap crooked lobbyists, which he said he had been studying since the Legislature opened.

Watson confirmed Cox had told him of the plan last weekend.

Cox said under his plan he was going to accept the money and ADD PI 3-48 Legislation then turn it over to Speaker Carr and law enforcement authorities.

Asked how he would substantiate his evidence, Cox said it would be his word against another's, and the only evidence he would have had would have been the money. He said under questioning he had made no plans to use recording equipment.

Cox said when he talked to Carr, the speaker asked him "why don't you take the money? Are you getting cold feet?" Cox said he told Carr he didn't do business that way.

Carr specifically denied Thursday night ever having asked Cox "Are you getting cold feet?" He said the intent of his comment about taking the money was in the nature of asking "why was he getting out now?"

Cox testified Harmon attempted to cut the amount of the alleged bribe to $3,000 but the figure was fixed at $5,000 on Cox's insistence.

Committee member Rep. John Lee of Kermit said "What difference would it make between $5,000 and $3,500 as far as this trap? Couldn't you trap him with $3,500 as well as $5,000?"

"That's true," Cox admitted.

One cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 3½ cups sifted, all-purpose flour; 2 teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1-1½ cups evaporated milk, 1-1½ cups mashed ripe banana (about 3 bananas).

Cream butter. Add sugar; cream until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs. Sift flour together with soda, salt and spices. Stir lemon juice into evaporated milk.

Add milk mixture alternately to the egg mixture with the dry ingredients, beginning and ending with dry ingredients.

Add mashed banana and mix thoroughly. Turn into greased 15½ x 10½-inch roasting pan.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes, or until toothpick, inserted in center, comes out clean. Cool.

Elections—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) proposed a "tough" new elections bill that would make candidates responsible for all money spent in their behalf. The bill would limit campaign spending on a per capita basis. The proposed scale would hold presidential campaign funds for each major ticket in 1960 to about $12.5 million.

Security—The Senate Internal Security subcommittee charged the "Communist underground apparatus" of the late Assistant Treasury Secretary Harry Dexter White brought about Nationalist China's economic destruction. The subcommittee said White and "his fellow conspirators" held back millions of dollars in gold shipments to China during World War II.

Porter—Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) temporarily waited to demand a congressional investigation of his charge that the regime of Dominican strongman Rafael Trujillo was guilty of "liquidating" U.S. citizens. Porter said he wanted to see if his charge "aroused the American conscience."

4 Deacons To Be Ordained

"You Can't Shortchange God," will be the sermon topic Sunday morning, as announced by Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The special music by the church choir will be Fred Waring's arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers." At Sunday evening worship hour the church will ordain four deacons. These men are Clifton McNeely, L. S. Richardson, D. V. Biggers and Lewis Tarply. Dr. Carver will direct the service assisted by the other deacons of the church. The church choir will sing "My God and I" by Sergei. Sunday School begins at 9:45, Training Union at 6:30 and the two worship services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The Brotherhood of the church meet Tuesday evening for a supper meeting at 7 o'clock. Ed Myatt, program vice president, has announced that the Rev. E. N. Rue, pastor of The First Church in Phillips, will bring the inspirational message. Paul Biggs, former music director of the First Baptist Church, will bring the special music. The ticket sale is under the direction of Ham Luna and Ed Anderson, president, will preside during the program.

JOY AND SORROW—Shown joining hands over successful month-and-a-half drive to solicit $200,000 in pledges from the parishioners of Holy Souls Church for the construction of a new church and school are, left to right, the Rev. Philip Lefevre, Fred Neslage, fund drive chairman, Rev. Miles Moynihan, pastor, and E. J. Dunigan, executive committee chairman. Although the occasion was a victorious one, it also marked the departure of Father Lefevre, who had been assistant pastor of Holy Souls for the past year and a half, to the Diocese of Tucson, in Phoenix, Ariz. Holy Souls Parishioners Get New Church; Lose Priest

In a quiet but intense campaign, the fund raising committee of Holy Souls Catholic Church, captained by Fred Neslage, reached their goal last week of $200,000 in pledges for the building of a new church in less than two months from the time the drive was started.

The affair was climaxed with a banquet which was held in the parish hall of the church.

The drive, which was started two months ago with Fred Neslage as fund drive chairman and E. J. Durigan, as executive committee chairman, was completed in a very short time and with subscriptions being taken much sooner than anticipated.

The victory banquet, held Sunday afternoon, took on a sadder note, however, with the announcement of the transfer of Father Philip Lefevre to the diocese of Phoenix where he will start a new parish.

The young of the Intermediate and Young People's Sunday School departments will meet Wednesday at 7 p. m. for Youth Activity Night. The program will conclude with a fellowship and refreshments at 8:30 p. m.

Mid-week services will be under the direction of Dr. E. Douglas Carver at 7:45 p. m.

Save Your Gall Bladder From Surgery

Cutting out a gall bladder is an admission of failure. If you want it cured so your body can continue to benefit from its beneficent function, don't have it removed... until you have investigated all the curative methods available in the licensed healing arts.

Bile, a by product, is manufactured continuously by the liver and emptied into the gall bladder which acts as a reservoir. During digestion as food leaves the stomach, the bile is forced into the small intestine where it aids in the digestion of fats, has a bactericidal action and lubricates the intestine. The gall bladder merely stores it until used.

The gall bladder has nervous control under the central nervous system. Interference with the nerve can cause a local elevation of temperature, the formation of gall stones, or predispose to infection. Restore normal function of the controlling nerves and under ordinary circumstances the gall bladder will expell its contents into the intestine and return to normal function.

The following case from our files is a good example: a lady was brought to the Miller Chiropractic Clinic by a friendly patient of ours, suffering from a very serious gall bladder disorder (gall bladder removal had been advised). Arthritic, rheumatism, nervousness, extreme weakness and unsteady, dizzy feeling were other symptoms given by her upon entrance. X-Rays and spinal analysis revealed misaligned vertebra in the spine. Corrective adjustments were given in time the patient reported she was well and able to do her own work. Now she is rounding up her sick friends.

Why not take your friends advice and investigate? You have nothing to lose except bad health.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

ENVOY H. C. SEAGO
SALVATION ARMY

I am wondering as I write this message who will read it; and if they read it, will they apply it to their lives. Maybe one out of ten will read it; but if they buy the paper, then they should get as much out of it as they can.

In the scripture found in Proverbs 22:6, we read these words—"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Of course we know the home and church is the proper place to train the child, but if he is left to himself then it becomes the responsibility of the community. This seems, to me, to be the last resort.

In Galatians 6: 7, 8, 9 we find, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

A ship that has no power and is not anchored will drift on the rocks and be destroyed. A child left to himself and not properly trained will, without doubt, come to destruction. They will, without exception, have to reap what they have sown.

Don't neglect your children. God bless you.

Yours in His Service,
H. C. SEAGO

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such grand moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

'Liberal' Influence

Fortunately there appears to be a growing concern in this land respecting the unbridled advance of unlimited government. With each new week, literary efforts exposing and defining the threat to our freedom come thundering from our presses. The forces of liberty are on the march and are gaining new adherents. There is still a long, long way to go.

Recently there has come to our desk a book from the pen of H. E. Spitzbergen. Mr. Spitzbergen writes and broadcasts under the name of Henry Plowdecker, and his conclusions both on the air waves and in print are deserving of serious consideration by all students of liberty.

The book to which reference is made is entitled: "Liberals and the Constitution" (Liberty and Freedom Press, 1211 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D.C.). It is a monument to clear thought and reasoned conclusions.

To begin with, Mr. Plowdecker is concerned with the general misconceptions extant respecting communism. He recognizes that most Americans are distinctly unsympathetic when it comes to this alien and destructive creed. But what do they think communism is all about?

"The following definitions represent the faulty but popular political and religious conceptions of communism:
"A communist is a bleary-eyed, ignorant, vicious and dumb agitator who believes in having everything in common."
"A communist is a person who is in favor of the brutal and vicious conduct of the Russian leaders."
"A communist is a person with a fairly good government ownership program, but who foolishly tries to introduce it by violence."
"A communist is a person who is in favor of the brutal and vicious conduct of the Russian leaders."
"A communist is a person who is in favor of higher wages, shorter hours and more government control than the dominant labor leaders recommend at the present time."
"A communist is a Russian spy or traitor who wants to destroy the United States regardless of whether it has a good or bad government."

whether it has a good or bad government."

While there is some truth in each of these beliefs, there is some falshness too. Plowdecker proceeds to the Russian Constitution itself and performs a penetrating analysis comparing its aims with those of the Constitution of the United States. He then shows that out own Constitution has been and is being subverted to make it conform to the Russian orthodoxy.

The villain of the world dilemma emerges, not as the bristly-bearded Bolshevik, but as the "liberal" in American political circles who is out to debauch the sacred name of liberty, by turning government into a repository of all money, all goods, means of manufacture, all means of distribution and all power of thought and action. It is with our own government that we must be primarily concerned, he warns us. And while the advocates of "liberalism" are not communists per se, they are in the process of stealing our economic and political rights and converting us to a status of abject slavery.

One of the charms of the book is that it is easy to read. Too many of our tomes on liberty are obtuse and densely worded.

"Liberals and the Constitution" is easy to read and even easier to understand. Meanings are clear. Comprehension of the basic issues is assured any intelligent reader. We strongly recommend this book for those who have recently become concerned but have a natural hesitancy in selecting a particular point of beginning.

One of his key propositions is this:
"Free enterprise is not without hardship and corruptions. But if civilization cannot maintain high standards under free enterprise, it certainly cannot do so under government control; procedure which only adds more graft and corruption to the already heavy load. Under such circumstances security is bound to vanish."
"Liberals and the Constitution" is not only a good volume for your personal library on liberty, but it is the kind of a book you can curl up with on a chilly evening. And what it contains is more useful in your mind than on your bookshelf.

His latest appearance was in New Jersey, where the GOP hopes to defeat Governor Robert E. Meyner next fall as a filip to a victorious Republican feast in the 1960 election. Nixon showed considerable diplomacy on this visit, as he does on all these missions. He appeared before two opposing Republican factions, although they had assembled on the same evening.

Nixon will invade many states having important elections within the next year or so. Should success at the polls follow his steps, he will command 1960 support of the kind that counts, and which will insure to no other rival.
The name of Thomas E. Dewey bobs up continually as a possible candidate or nominee for public office, despite his insistence that his retirement to the law is permanent.
He has been mentioned for the Supreme Court, for Secretary of State, as a candidate for the U.S. Senate or even for the 1960 Presidential nomination. It is generally believed now that he would accept any offer.
In view of his pre-eminence, his friends consider it unfortunate that a wealthy and successful industrialist, Gerard B. Lambert of the Listerine dynasty, wrote too frank an autobiography. For the swash-buckling and adventurous author Dewey as pleading guilty to trait offenses and frequently blamed for this 1948 defeat by Truman. According to the book, Dewey once said to Lambert:

The title of the autobiography is "All Out of Step."

since inauguration, he has been speaking before state and local Party organizations as they prepare for next year's gubernatorial and Congressional contests. More than any other member of the official family, including Secretaries Dulles and Humphrey, he is most in demand for these "grassroots" get-togethers.

George Russell Harrison, in his book "What Man May Be," has considerable to say about human personality and the kind of education and religion that develops mankind. Under the chapter of "The Human Personality" he writes:
"One of the greatest developments of evolution has been the emergence of the human individual as an important and unique being in his own right, rather than as a member of a swarm of similar beings....Humanity makes progress by using these individual differences to produce changes in the most advantageous direction for further evolution."
"Our methods of education, somewhat deficient in the production of reason and perhaps overly emphasizing tradition, need to guide each human being toward the balancing of all aspects of his personality."
"Reason, that function of the conscious mind most directly affected by science, helps us to proceed directly from causes to effects, and to relate human experience of the past to that of the present and future. Other attributes of consciousness are intuition, expediency, common sense and imagination, which together with reason make up intelligence."

"Newton and Einstein both did their most important work before the age of twenty-six. Geniuses are always persons with a consuming interest in their specialties, and are most clearly characterized by the addition of imagination to concentration."
"One of the highest IQ's ever measured was that of a little colored girl who had no white blood."
"One of the greatest defects of education in America today is its diffuseness. Teachers tend less to insist that their students learn to focus their attention on trains of thought which etch sharp patterns in the brain, instead of producing a chaotic opening and closing of mental switches at random, governed by the emotions of the moment. Disciplinary studies of the past, such as Latin and Greek, gave all sorts of little mental hooks on which associations could be hung. Science gives equally good associative hooks, and proper study of the humanities gives additional ones. But so superficial is much of our modern education becoming that many of the available mental hooks are not being provided for our citizens of tomorrow."

"Religion in All Societies
"No human society is known to have existed whose members have not developed religious beliefs, beginning with magic and leading to spiritual awareness."
"Nearly all the great world religions use what we Christians call the Golden Rule as a basic guide for conduct. Hindus have read for more than three thousand years, 'Do unto others that which you would have done unto you.' Buddhists have read 'Administer to your friends and familiars by treating them as you treat yourself.' Confucianism is a Silver Rule, which says, 'What you do not want done to yourself, do not do unto others.' In Taoism the Teacher says, 'To those who are good to me I am good, and to those who are not good to me I am also good.' In Zoroastrianism, more than six hundred years older than Christianity, the statement is, 'Whatever thou dost not approve for thyself, do not approve for anyone else.' To the Jew comes the command, 'And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man.'"
"I have not been able to find in the Old Testament this Golden Rule of the Jews—I will be under obligation to anyone who will tell me where to find this."

"Miracles
"It is not that scientists cannot conscientiously believe in miracles if they want to, for science involves many acts of faith, and nothing is more miraculous than the detailed operations of nature. But a scientist is likely to resent any arbitrary suspension of a natural law. Although there is much in the universe which he cannot explain, it is important to him that the universe be as orderly as it looks when he experiments with it, and subject to law, not whim. Especially does he consider suspicious reports of miracles that occur under circumstances in which people strongly desiring a particular result have an interest, no matter how unselfish in origin, in influencing the beliefs of others, and show unwillingness to check their facts."

"Essence of Morality
"All religions concern themselves with good and evil, and teach ethics and morals. The essence of morality is the balancing of immediate desires against long-term results. The forces acting on a troubled spirit are usually active and strong, whereas the long-term effects are likely to be tenuous and extremely difficult to fix in mind."
"The lower a creature lies in the reaches of organic evolution, the less freedom of action does it appear to have."
"As man gains in experience, and in sensitivity to new experience, he becomes increasingly able to take on and master new powers such as the release of nuclear energy. He learns increasingly that his security must come from within as well as from without. He attains greater dignity and lessens that he must accord this same dignity to all his fellows."

"The 'service' company's job was 'to produce business and promote business, to serve as business agent,' for Lewis's insurance business. Public Service got 12 1/2 per cent of all business done by Union Casualty in the State of New York and 15 per cent on business done outside the state.
Perلمان sold out his 560 worth of Public Service, acquired at $1 a share, for $200,000. He had held this property for about two years and got rid of it to comply with a change in a New York Law. He preferred to retain his interest in Union Casualty.
The Dorfman, Allen and his mother, Rose, got their agency for Union Casualty in Chicago through the hustling enterprise of their father and husband, Paul, and of Hoffa, the Teamsters' Union boss. Both Paul Dorfman and Hoffa have police multiple records, but no serious convictions.
An official report of the investigators who scrutinized the books and other affairs of Union Casualty, Dorfman's Chicago agency, called the Union Insurance Agency of Illinois, was published in the Congressional document called "Hearings Before a Special Sub-Committee of the Committee on Education and Labor, House of Representatives, 83d Congress." The report says in part:
"The company's (Union Casualty's) principal income is derived from underwriting group accident and health and group life insurance for a number of labor unions. From ception the management and operations were controlled by Leo Perleman, one of its incorporators, now executive vice president. He owned 2,600 of the 4,300 shares of common stock at the time of our investigation in August 1953.

"The Michigan conference of Teamsters welfare fund is the largest holder of the company's preferred stock, 2,500 of the 4,200 shares outstanding. . . . The company has shown rapid growth between 1948 and 1952. In 1948, direct premiums were $1,460,000 and in 1952, about $8,900,000. Of the direct premiums written in 1952, nearly 77 per cent applied to three large policies, namely Central States Drivers, Michigan Conference of Teamsters and Local 1031 of the Electrical Workers."
"A witness at one hearing flatly charged that the Teamsters forced an organization of truck operators by veiled threats of strikes to accept the proposition offered by Alfred Baker Lewis' Union Casualty, although this company charged the purchaser about twice as much for its 'services' as the lowest bidders were asking. Moreover, the witness insisted that Union Casualty was not even rated in the standard guide of the industry. Testimony showed that Perleman spent extravagantly entertaining the Dorfmans and others in night-clubs and other expensive places."
Continuing, the report said:

Moreover, the witness insisted that Union Casualty was not even rated in the standard guide of the industry. Testimony showed that Perleman spent extravagantly entertaining the Dorfmans and others in night-clubs and other expensive places."

Perlman Is An Insurance Expert From The Old World

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Leo Perlman is an insurance "expert" from the old world. He has been also a successful practitioner of "human relations" with two of the most formidable union bosses of the time, James Hoffa, of the Teamsters, and Paul Dorfman, who "took over" the Chicago Waste Handlers' Union at the invitation of William Green, late revered president of the American Federation of Labor, in four years Perlman's company received about $2 million and $2 1/2 million in premiums from Dorfman's son, Allen, on Local 1031 of the RFL Electrical Workers alone. He paid Allen commissions of $250,000 on this.

Perlman's partner in this remarkably successful business directed out of a small office with fewer than 40 employees in a low-rent office of Mount Vernon, N.Y., is Alfred Baker Lewis, Lewis's devotion to the cause of "labor," is expressed in tremendous vox-pop letters. Perlman bought for $60 a one-half interest in a company called the United Public Service, which made a business of "managing" other companies. One of the clients of United Public Service was Lewis' Union Casualty Company, which does a big business in group policies for unions of the AF of L. Most of those unions are dirty outfits of the infested Teamsters' Brotherhood and the United Auto Workers of the AFL, which hands out charters to criminal gangsters. As "executive" of the "service" company, Perlman made a "long-term agreement to act as the sole and exclusive agent, or manager, of Union Casualty and Life," apparently in the spring of 1942.

"The 'service' company's job was 'to produce business and promote business, to serve as business agent,' for Lewis's insurance business. Public Service got 12 1/2 per cent of all business done by Union Casualty in the State of New York and 15 per cent on business done outside the state.
Perlman sold out his 560 worth of Public Service, acquired at $1 a share, for $200,000. He had held this property for about two years and got rid of it to comply with a change in a New York Law. He preferred to retain his interest in Union Casualty.
The Dorfman, Allen and his mother, Rose, got their agency for Union Casualty in Chicago through the hustling enterprise of their father and husband, Paul, and of Hoffa, the Teamsters' Union boss. Both Paul Dorfman and Hoffa have police multiple records, but no serious convictions.
An official report of the investigators who scrutinized the books and other affairs of Union Casualty, Dorfman's Chicago agency, called the Union Insurance Agency of Illinois, was published in the Congressional document called "Hearings Before a Special Sub-Committee of the Committee on Education and Labor, House of Representatives, 83d Congress." The report says in part:
"The company's (Union Casualty's) principal income is derived from underwriting group accident and health and group life insurance for a number of labor unions. From

Harvesters In Abilene Game Saturday Night

State Cage Tournament Berth Is At Stake

By DICK COLLINS
Pampa News Sports Editor
ABILENE, March 1 — The Pampa Harvesters blew in here today like the first March wind as the Panhandle champions settled down for one more hard day of drills before taking on the Abilene Eagles Saturday night for the Region I basketball championship.

The two teams square off here Saturday night in Eagle Gym at 8 in an all-important contest that sends the victor to the state basketball tournament in Austin next week. Although the previous state champions from the Panhandle have been favored in their march through the playoffs so far, the Harvesters will likely face their toughest test of the season Saturday night.

Pampa's record stands out more brilliantly than that of the Eagles, but Abilene started out slow and when the Warbirds finally got rolling they were hard to stop. Abilene has a season mark of 19 victories in 27 games. Pampa has won 26 of 27 games. A one-point defeat by Borger spoiled an otherwise-unbeaten record.

A standing-room crowd of over 2,000 is expected for the game. All seats in the small-but-new field-house are general admission. Pampa fans, expected here by the droves, have been given a special section in the stands.

The Harvesters of Clifton McNeely are fresh from an 83-69 victory over the Poly Parrots of Fort Worth in bi-district play. The Eagles, at the same time, were stomping the Thomas Jefferson Silver Foxes of El Paso, 72-49, in bi-district.

The Harvester team of the two which may add them in rebounding and tips, but the Eagles have a fast, hustling team that is accurate from the floor and handles the ball well. The tallest starter for Abilene is their 6-3 center, Ralph Bruton. Others include forwards Glenn Gregory at 6-2 and Ted Lucas at 6-11 and guards Bill Warlick, 5-10, and Randy Hurst, 5-9.

Perfect Season Is On Line For N. C.

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
North Carolina seeks to complete a perfect basketball season tonight against a Duke team "steamed up" for an upset.

If Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels can win this old-rivalry battle at Raleigh, N.C., they'll finish the regular court campaign with a 24-0 record and become the South's first perfect record team since the Kentucky Wildcats of 1954.

But Duke, unbeaten on its home court this season where its victims include the 1957 Kentucky squad, lost to North Carolina by only 75-73 on the Tar Heels' court earlier this season and is burning for a victory that could destroy their No. 1 national ranking as well as the perfect season.

Notre Dame was added Thursday to the field for the NCAA Tournament as a "member at large." The Irish, with a 16-7 mark and two left, will meet either Miami of Ohio or the Ohio Valley Conference champion in a game at Columbus, Ohio, March 12.

Wheeler Plays Knox City In Regional Game Today

The Wheeler Mustangs are expected to make a strong bid for championship honors in the Class B Region I basketball tournament which starts at Canyon today.

The Mustangs, coached by J. D. Atwell, will meet Knox City at 8:30 tonight in their first test. If they win they will play again Saturday morning at 11:15 in the semifinals.

Also on tap tonight is the start of the big "showdown" in the Pacific Coast Conference — the first of two games in two nights between UCLA and California, the arch-rivals for the league title.

Other Leaders Mark Time
None of the five leading contenders for the scoring crown are playing tonight, but three will see action Saturday. After Wallace and Gibbon, the top five include Elgin Baylor of Seattle (30.9), Walt Chamberlain of Kansas (29.2) and Chet Forte of Columbia (29.14).

Johnny Longden In 5,000th Win

ARCADIA, Calif. (UP)—Jockey Johnny Longden set his sights today on 6,000 riding wins in his ageless turf career after having achieved his 5,000th victory Thursday at Santa Anita.

In other leading games Thursday night: St. Louis bolstered its lead in the Missouri Valley Conference race with a 60-58 thriller over Tulsa, stalling out the last minute and four seconds as Hal Alcorn led the way with 20 points; Henry Kimple's 23 points led Oklahoma A&M to a 63-47 win over Drake; St. John's moved closer to the mythical New York City title by upsetting NIT-bound Manhattan, 81-59, on Al Seiden's jump shot with two seconds left in the third overtime period; Washington and Lee clinched second place in the Southern Conference with a 62-53 decision over Davidson; NCAA-bound Canisius topped Holy Cross, 87-6; and tourney-hopeful Duquesne beat Brandeis, 86-73.

A Five Club National League Race Seen

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Birdie Tebbets envisioned a five club race for the 1957 National League pennant today, putting the Pirates and the Cardinals in the contending group along with the Dodgers, Braves and his own Redlegs.

Ennis and pitchers Sam Jones and Jim Davis "will make a big difference in the Cardinals."

"I don't see why I can't go on for 6,000 wins," Longden said, "and I intend to keep on riding as long as I feel I can do justice to my mounts."

The 5,000th victory was notable chiefly as a milestone in the 47-year-old rider's career. Every year time Longden has ridden a winner since last Sept. 3 he sets a record. It was on that day he surpassed the previous all-time riding mark of 4,870 winners held by Sir Gordon Richards of England.

As for Pittsburgh's hitting, the Redlegs skipper pointed to Dale Long, Frank Thomas, Bill Virdon, Lee Walls and Bob Clemente.

Time For Ike To Come To Grips With Another Political Question

A UNITED PRESS EXTRA
By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The time is approaching when President Eisenhower must come to grips with another political decision.

He must make up his mind whether he wants to support Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Perhaps Mr. Eisenhower will want to shirk that one.

But presidents, like kings, have responsibilities in common. One of them is to designate or, in the case of a king, to produce a bona fide, unquestioned heir.

A president's responsibility for an heir is more to his party than to the nation and has nothing to do with blood lines. It is a various responsibility, sometimes being without substance. In the case of President Eisenhower, however, it is real and substantial.

Old Guard Through
Mr. Eisenhower's responsibility to designate, rather than to produce, an heir is real and substantial because he is attempting to build a new party. He and others are telling the Old Guard Republicans that they are through, their policies outmoded and their appeal to the voters going if it has not already gone.

The President has set up the party of modern Republicanism, an Eisenhower party as clearly as the New Deal of the early 1930's was a Roosevelt party. The Roosevelt party never required an heir to succeed FDR. Mr. Roosevelt always was available and acceptable.

Mr. E will be benched after Jan. 20, 1961, by amendment of Constitution which forbids a third term. Like FDR, Mr. Eisenhower is sponsor of a new party which seeks to move party foundations considerably to the left of the old stand. He will urgently need someone to carry on to prevent the Republican Party from shifting back to its old moorings.

Terrific Pressure Expected
The time is coming and fairly soon, therefore, when a great many Republicans will be expecting Mr. Eisenhower to name his man. The pressure for that will build up and become terrific.

How can the President name his choice, however, in view of his public record. Through the long 1956 discussion of his vice presidential running mate, Mr. Eisenhower ducked a decision by holding that nomination of a vice presidential candidate was strictly the prerogative of the Republican National convention.

The President created the impression that it would be discourteous or impertinent for him to interfere. How much more discourteous or impertinent would it be, then, for him to interfere by designating his choice for top spot on the 1960 ticket?

The President's alternatives are difficult. Shall he permit a free convention at the risk of witnessing the nomination of an Old Guard man who would strangle the new-born party of modern Republicanism? Or, shall he take charge of the national convention and control it — as many presidents have done before him?

Soviets Open New Anti-Tito Drive

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Soviet Russia has opened a new campaign against President Tito of Yugoslavia as part of its attempt to tighten its grip on its satellites.

Criticism of Tito's "independent Communism" has been intensifying for several weeks in Russia and other Soviet bloc countries.

Now the Soviet government has put an economic squeeze on Tito by withdrawing from commitment to grant him promised credits of up to $250 million.

There is no doubt that the Russian leaders have opened up against Tito again because they regard him as a menace.

After the successful Polish revolt against Moscow domination, and the Hungarian revolt that failed, Russia is doing everything it can to safeguard itself against further trouble.

Tough "Stalinist" leaders are being strengthened in all of the East European Communist satellite countries.

It is reported that one reason Russia reneged on its promise of credits to Yugoslavia is that Tito refused to help in the build-up by recognizing the East German Communist regime.

Dangerous To Russians
But aside from that, Tito remains an ever-present danger to Russian domination of Eastern Europe.

He constitutes living proof that a Communist ruler can completely throw off Russian domination and get away with it. The surge of revolt in Eastern Europe has subsided, but it could start again at any time. Tito, to Soviet leaders, is a horrible example of independence who might give others ideas.

The new Russian campaign comes at an embarrassing time for Tito.

He has made no secret of his keen disappointment that he was compelled to cancel plans for him to visit the United States.

The cancellation was due to the substantial opposition in the United States to the reception by President Eisenhower of a Communist leader.

The refusal of Mayor Robert F. Wagner to give an official reception to King Saud of Saudi Arabia showed Tito what he might expect. But the cancellation was a distinct help to the Soviet government.

Reason For Attacks
It is probable that one reason for the sharpened attacks on Tito is that the Russians are taking advantage of his embarrassment. Tito is having a hard time economically, and he badly needed the credits which Russia withdrew from him.

But Tito is a fighter. Attacks on him by Russian and satellite Communist leaders certainly will not soften him up. On the contrary, they are likely to make him more eager, whenever he gets a chance, to strengthen his own influence in the satellite countries.

Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovich made a counter-attack on the Russian campaign in a speech in the Belgrade Parliament Tuesday.

He said that Russian and satellite leaders were trying to discredit Tito's policies and isolate Yugoslavia as it was isolated after Tito's break with the late Josef Stalin in 1948.

Popovich went out of his way to speak of the "precious" aid Yugoslavia has obtained from the United States. He said that differences between Yugoslavia and Soviet bloc countries could be eliminated only if Yugoslavia was accepted as it is, with an independent foreign policy. He said also that Russia's "Stalinist" policy

'Studio One' TV Graybeard, Gets Injection

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—"Studio One" a TV graybeard in its eighth year, is getting injections.

The man applying the hypo is Herbert Brodtkin, former producer of the Alcoa - Goodyear hour. Brodtkin was called in a few weeks back to take over a 10-week doctoring job on the CBS-TV hour in an effort to shoot some juice in it.

"I kind of think it was getting a little tired," said Brodtkin today. "But by the time we're through, we should have it jumping."

One of Brodtkin's key efforts in his rejuvenation program is "The Defender," a Reginald Rose play in two parts. The first half was seen this past Monday. Next week, Brodtkin will showcase the remainder. Some of the reviews for the first half were unenthusiastic, but they didn't bother Brodtkin. "I happen to think it was pretty good," he said. "In fact, I think it's close to the finest play I've had anything to do with. And I've done 'Tragedy in a Temporary Town,' 'Thunder in Washington' and 'Man on a Tiger.'"

Brodtkin plans to keep all future episodes of "Studio One" in a contemporary setting — there'll be no westerns, no period costume dramas, no excursions into the world of the future.

Helpful For Once
MANCHESTER, Conn. (UP)—Accused of driving 15 miles an hour too fast in a 35-mile-an-hour zone, Walter Kulak told the judge: "My wife is a back-seat driver, and she said I wasn't driving any 50 miles an hour." The judge, a family man himself, nodded sympathetically and dropped the speeding charge.
