Reds' Shepilov Proposes 'Hands Off' In Mid-East

Developers Balk At City's Plan

Soviet Leader Warns West Of War On Communism

By WHITMAN BASSOW
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov asked the West today to stop trying to "roll back communism," and informed sources said he had proposed a four-power "hands off" declaration for the Middle East.

Shepilov, in a major foreign policy address, said war is not "fataлистically inevitable," but he warned it would be "an act of sheer madness" for anyone to raise the sword against the 900 million-person Communist bloc. Shepilov spoke before a joint session of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) barely 24 hours after he addressed his Middle East proposals to the American, British and French ambassadors here. Infomed sources said he proposed halting arms shipments to the Mideast if the West would give up its bases.

Major Points Listed

Infomed sources said his notes to the Western Big Three contained six major points:

1. A promise to maintain peace in the Middle East.
2. A policy of non-interference in the area.
3. Agreement not to organize military blocs in the area.
4. Liquidation of military bases and the withdrawal of all troops.
5. An agreement not to supply arms to any Mideast countries.
6. Mutual economic assistance to the Middle East countries.

The entire Presidium of the Soviet government was present today for the foreign policy address with exception of Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, now in Burma on a tour of Southeast Asia.

In his appeal to the West to halt its campaign against communism, Shepilov said:

"Life itself suggests to the ruling circles of the capitalist world the only sensible and possible solution—to give up finally all intentions of rolling back communism."

Instead, he said, the West should "embark upon the road of peaceful co-existence between states with different social systems. If this principle triumphs in international policy, peace will be preserved and consolidated."

Shepilov said in compliance with the Soviet wish for peace and co-existence "the Soviet government displays and will continue to display in its policy the greatest self-control, patience and persistence."

"It will not fall from any provocations. It will use every opportunity to avert new complications and conflicts."

"It continues to work persistently for the settlement of the fundamental problems on which the maintenance and strengthening of peace depends."

Shepilov spoke of the solidarity of the communist world and said of the growing might of the socialist camp is the firmest guarantee of the freedom, independence and sovereignty of each socialist state taken separately."

Communist China came in for unusual praise and he said China and Russia "are united forever" and that "any provocative action by the aggressive imperialist forces aimed at undermining the socialist states will be more resolutely rebuffed."

Shepilov said a new trend developed in the Western world towards the end of 1956 threatening peace, but Russia is still convinced that "war can be prevented and stopped."

School Board Meets, Talks Insurance

At their meeting last night, the school board voted to pass the final question of insurance to Roy McMillen, business manager for the Pampa School System. McMillen reported this morning that he was still reading bids of insurance agents, some of whom offered to write the insurance for 10 per cent reduction and others who would do the same for 20 per cent. At this time letters were still coming in.

The board also paid bills and invoices and heard a report from a representative of a flame-proofing firm on the various operations and expenses required to flame-proof some of the old parts of the school buildings. However, no action was taken on that at this time.

Board members discussed the question of the Hobart St. underpass, and the rights-of-way asked by the city.

Although the board took no definite stand, members felt at this time that the city should go further east on their right-of-way than they now want to go, so that the children attending the Horace Mann School, which the proposed Hobart Street underpass drainage would pass through, should have enough area to play in.

The school board also approved the fixing of the baseball diamond west of the High School. The diamond this year, however, unlike previous years, will be put in the east side of this area, in order that any balls hit out may not endanger anyone passing in the streets or result in any broken windows of homes in that area.

Fifth Safe Since First Of Year

Burglars hit the fifth safe in Pampa since the first of the year when between $1,000 and $1,200 was taken from the safe in the office of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, 1515 N. Hobart, last night.

The burglary was discovered at 1:50 this morning by Chief of Police Jim Conner and Assistant Chief J. O. Dumas.

The two officers were checking businesses in the area when they discovered that the bottom of the safe had been opened.

The burglars had crawled over a wooden fence on the south side of the property between the two buildings. Entry to the building was obtained by prying open a door on the west side of the main building with a pry bar.

While in building, the burglars ransacked several trucks, including breaking open the tool box on one truck, and obtained tools used in the opening of the safe.

Evidence indicated that they tried to pry open the door but did not succeed. The handle had been pried from the safe by the pry bar.

Unsuccessful in opening the door the burglars turned the safe on its back and started to work on the bottom. A seam in the middle of the bottom plate was pried open and the halves pried back. The fire clay was knocked out and the inner lining was cut open.

Late this morning, the bookkeeper for the firm was still checking the books and reported that between $1,000 and $1,200 was taken that was accounted for at that time. She reported that when the records were completely checked the total taken might even be higher.

Within minutes after the burglary was discovered, all roads leading from Pampa were blocked by officers at the nearest towns. Local cars began stopping all vehicles on the streets in Pampa and checked occupants and the contents of these vehicles.

A late model Oldsmobile ran a road block set up by Wheeler County Sheriff Buss Dorman in Wheeler. Dorman reported by radio that he chased the automobile into a Sayre, Okla., at speeds in excess of 120 miles-per-hour.

The car also broke a road block at Sayre and disappeared.

Dorman obtained the identity of the driver of the car and was watching his house at 5 this morning when Sheriff Rufe Jordan and (See BURGLARS, Page 3)

Hotel Directors Reschedule Trip

A meeting of the board of directors of the Pampa Community Hotel Company was held this morning in the conference room of the chamber of commerce.

At this time, a rescheduling was effected on the postponed trip of ten board members to six cities from here to Lawton, Okla., to Jennings, La., where hotels have recently been built, and where the group felt they may obtain some management and construction.

The group will leave Pampa early Thursday morning in planes supplied them by the Cree Drilling Company and the Cabot Carbon Company.

Firm Says 24 Commissioners Have Busy Session

Mobile Phones Are Installed

George Newberry, local manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, reported this morning that approximately 24 persons are now "hooked up" with mobile phones.

Newberry stated that the local firm would put in about 50 of these mobile phones and then conduct a study to see if the channel, channel 11, is overloaded. If it is, he said, they will apply for another channel with the Federal Communications Commission.

The phones may be installed on any vehicle that moves regulations forbid them being installed in any permanent establishment and the person leasing the phones may use them in any city which operates mobile service. A set number of calls is permitted each month for a standard rate and the lease is charged for long distance calls and any local calls over his maximum.

Newberry reported several other activities being undertaken by the company. At present they are putting in new additions in the building which will add 1,100 new lines or 1,100 new numbers. At the same time, 1,500 new terminals will be installed. This new addition will fill (See FIRM, Page 3)

In what was their busiest meeting yet for the depositing of county funds, accepted a bid for two two-ton trucks, named election judges for the various precincts, paid bills, and heard a report on the completion of Highland General Hospital Addition.

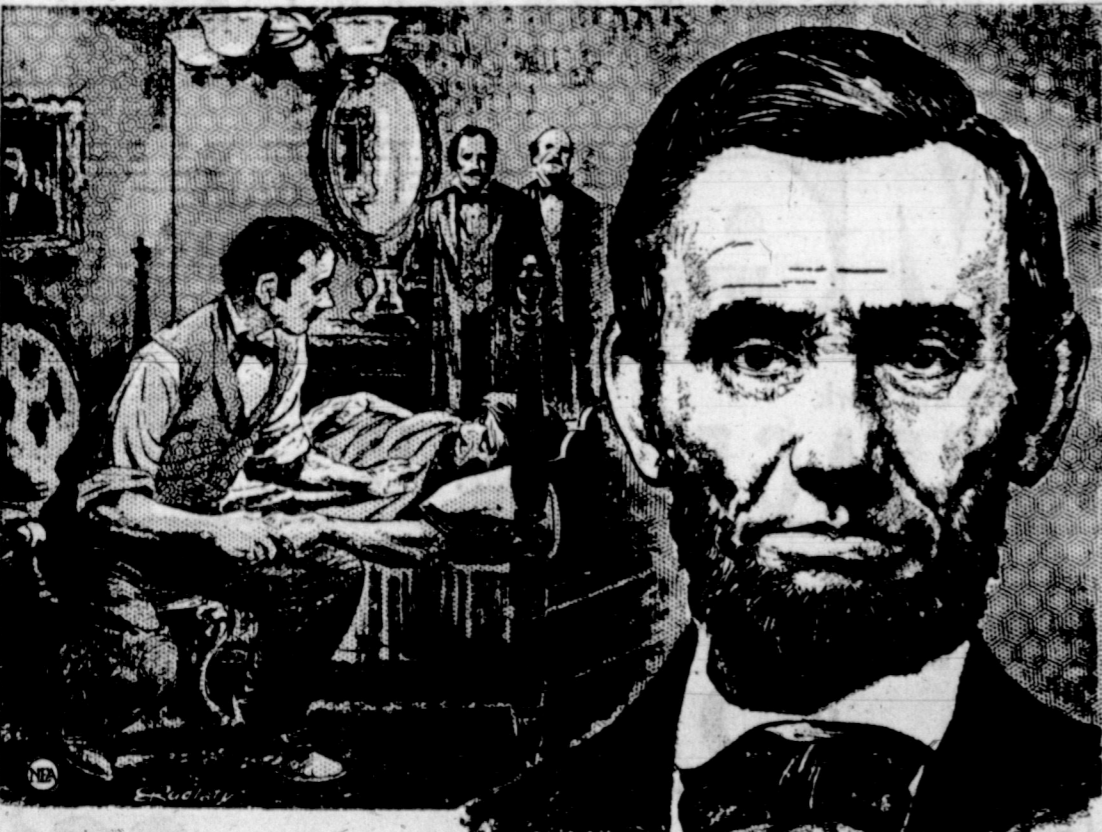

The commissioners accepted a bid from the First National Bank for the depositing of county funds. The bid, after tallying and comparing of the various inclusions, amounted to 1/2 per cent more than the only other bid. The accepted bid was for 3 per cent on six months and for 2 1/2 per cent for 90 days with 1 per cent on all loans.

In an effort to cut down on voting expenditures which the commissioners felt were far too high, and in many areas, overlapped, the group named election judges for 12 precincts instead of the 18 which had been used in previous elections.

ONE LAST, KINDLY FAREWELL TO LINCOLN

Abraham Lincoln's kindly life was climaxed at the very end, with one final, touching act of kindness shown him in return.

A young assistant Army surgeon, by mere chance, was snatched into the center of the drama surrounding Lincoln's last hours.

Charles A. Leale, because he was first to respond to the call for a doctor in Ford's Theater, became the doctor in charge of the case.

Dr. Leale's memoirs give a terse report of the humble gesture of friendship which was a final symbol of human compassion.

Lincoln was a hero to Dr. Leale. Earlier in the evening the doctor had joined a crowd outside the White House to hear the President say a few words about the conclusion of the war.

"I was profoundly impressed with his divine appearance as he stood in the rays of the light which penetrated the windows of the White House," the doctor wrote later.

"The influence thus produced gave me an intense desire again to behold his face and study the characteristics of the 'Savior of his Country.' I changed into civilian dress and hurried to Ford's Theater."

Dr. Leale was the first person to enter the box after Booth's shot was fired. He gave first aid but knew immediately that the assassin's blow was mortal.

He directed the knot of distraught men who carried Lincoln across the street through sobbing crowds. Then in the small room where they laid him he kept vigil during the remaining hours.

It was Dr. Leale who offered the fallen hero mankind's final, gentle gesture of farewell.

These are his words:

"Knowing that frequently, just before departure, recognition and reason return to those who have been unconscious, caused by a few several hours to hold his hand firmly within my grasp to let him in his blindness know, if possible, that he was in touch with humanity and had a friend."

Mayor Lynn Boyd this morning instructed the city attorney to draw up an ordinance that will eliminate the paying by the city of the cost of paving and utilities in new developments to be brought into the city but would provide that the city would pay the cost of all loops, fire hydrants, manholes, larger lines to serve the area and engineering.

Boyd reported that the portion the city would provide would still represent approximately 25 per cent of the cost of providing utility lines in a new addition.

The instructions to the attorney followed a lengthy discussion this morning in which the City Commission informed developers and other business men interested in the development of new additions to the city of the commission's plans to discontinue the paying of part of the cost of paving streets and the making of rebates for the cost of water and sewer lines in the new additions.

Under the old plan the developer paid for the water and sewer lines and the city refunded the cost to the developer as revenue.

The developers pointed out that the new plan would add about $200 to the cost of each lot in new developments added to the city. This cost represents the cost paid previously by the city but it will now have to be added to the cost of the lot when the new system becomes effective.

The developers requested that the closing of the public hearing be delayed two weeks to allow those concerned to further study the proposition and to obtain information of their own.

The mayor reported that the commission had studied this matter for several months and reported that it needed to be taken care of immediately. Following this statement he made the instruction to the city attorney to write the ordinance.

Due to the length of the discussion this morning the commissioners did not have time to take up other business scheduled. The only items discussed were the approval of monthly bills and construction of a new dog pound.

Fifth Safe Since First Of Year

Burglars hit the fifth safe in Pampa since the first of the year when between $1,000 and $1,200 was taken from the safe in the office of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, 1515 N. Hobart, last night.

The burglary was discovered at 1:50 this morning by Chief of Police Jim Conner and Assistant Chief J. O. Dumas.

The two officers were checking businesses in the area when they discovered that the bottom of the safe had been opened.

Evidence indicated that they tried to pry open the door but did not succeed. The handle had been pried from the safe by the pry bar.

Unsuccessful in opening the door the burglars turned the safe on its back and started to work on the bottom. A seam in the middle of the bottom plate was pried open and the halves pried back. The fire clay was knocked out and the inner lining was cut open.

Reds' Shepilov Proposes 'Hands Off' In Mid-East

Developers Balk At City's Plan

Soviet Leader Warns West Of War On Communism

By WHITMAN BASSOW

United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW (UP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov asked the West today to stop trying to "roll back communism," and informed sources said he had proposed a four-power "hands off" declaration for the Middle East.

Shepilov, in a major foreign policy address, said war is not "fatalistically inevitable," but he warned it would be "an act of sheer madness" for anyone to raise the sword against the 900 million-person Communist bloc.

Shepilov spoke before a joint session of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) barely 24 hours after he addressed his Middle East proposals to the American, British and French ambassadors here.

Intensed sources said he proposed halting arms shipments to the Mideast if the West would give up its bases.

Major Points Listed
Informed sources said his notes to the Western Big Three contained six major points:

1. A promise to maintain peace in the Middle East.
2. A policy of non-interference in the area.
3. Agreement not to organize military blocs in the area.

4. Liquidation of military bases and the withdrawal of all troops.
5. An agreement not to supply arms to any Mideast countries.
6. Mutual economic assistance to the Middle East countries.

The entire Presidium of the Soviet government was present today for the foreign policy address with exception of Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, now in Burma on a tour of Southeast Asia.

In his appeal to the West to halt its campaign against communism, Shepilov said:

"Life itself suggests to the ruling circles of the capitalist world the only sensible and possible solution—to give up finally all intentions of rolling back communism."

Instead, he said, the West should "embark upon the road of peaceful co-existence between states with different social systems. If this principle triumphs in international policy, peace will be preserved and consolidated."

Shepilov said in compliance with the Soviet wish for peace and its demand for peaceful co-existence "the Soviet government displays and will continue to display in its policy the greatest self-control, patience and persistence."

"It will not fall from any provocations. It will use every opportunity to avert new complications and conflicts."

"It continues to work persistently for the settlement of the fundamental problems on which the maintenance and strengthening of peace depends."

Shepilov spoke of the solidarity of the communist world and said the growing might of the socialist

In what was their busiest meeting bids for the depositing of county funds; accepted a bid for two two-ton trucks, named election judges for the various precincts, paid bills, and heard a report on the completion of Highland General Hospital Addition.

The commissioners accepted a bid from the First National Bank for the depositing of county funds. The bid, after tallying and comparing of the various inclusions, amounted to 1/4 per cent more than the only other bid. The accepted bid was for 3 per cent on six months and for 2 1/2 per cent for 90 days with 1 per cent on all loans.

In an effort to cut down on voting expenditures which the commissioners felt were far too high, and, in many areas, overlapped, the group named election judges for 12 precincts instead of the 18 which had been used in previous elections.

Commissioners Court yesterday afternoon in what was their busiest meeting this year, the Gray County judges named for a two year term were: Park Brown, Precinct 12, Odd Fellows Hall in Pampa; Marvin Webster, Precinct 7, Horace Mann School, Arthur Rankin, Precinct 10, Court House; Ed Anderson, Precinct 9 at Woodrow Wilson School; John Schoolfield, Precinct 2, Baker School; Mrs. H. B. Neill, Precinct 11, Phillips Camp; Marvin Hall, Precinct 4, Alameda; Charles Cousins, Precinct 5, McLean; Jimmy Davis, Precinct 6, Laketon; Ennis Jones, Precinct 1, Lefors; Johnny L. B. Johnson, Precinct 3, Grandview and Ollie Crossman, Precinct 8, Hopkins.

The commissioners have figured that by cutting out the previously existing voting precincts, the County can save up to $5,000.

The commissioners also accepted a bid from the Tom Rose Ford Company for two, two-ton trucks for use in precincts one and two. The accepted was for $2,774.76, which was $175 less than the lowest bidder.

The commissioners also heard a report on the progress of the Highland General Hospital addition which is scheduled to be ready for opening on Friday.

Decline Of Stocks Continues Today

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks continued their decline at an active opening today.

New selling came into the marketplace overnight after the list Monday had experienced its widest decline since Oct. 10, 1955, and the industrials had broken through last year's staunch resistance level at 460 in the industrial average, confirming a previous drop in rails.

Trading picked up after the opening blocks were out of the way. The tape fell behind the floor transactions.

Losses for the most part were small. Here and there bargain hunters bid up stocks. Douglas Aircraft, one of these selections, ran up a point to 79 1/2 on 1,000 shares.

A long list of blocks of 1,000 shares or more dotted the tape. These represented orders piled up overnight and bunched by the specialists at the opening. General Motors featured with 7,000 shares at a small decline.

The floor under the market caved in Monday.

That so-called floor was the 460 level in the Dow-Jones Industrial average. Last year, the stock market made its low on Jan. 23 at 458.21 in the average and then rose to its record high at 521.05 on April 6.

A series of declines for the remainder of the year brought the average to within touching distance of that low level and each time there was a swift rebound. The market touched 463.89 on Feb. 14; 463.85 on May 28; 463.83 on Oct. 1, and 460.41 on Nov. 29.

This floor was considered almost a part of the market. But Monday when the list started down selling increased at the floor instead of support.

When that happened the traders dumped stocks and the market touched a low at 456.01 and closed at 457.44, a loss for the day of 8.85 points, widest break since the Eisenhower drop of October, 1955, when it fell 13.27 points on Oct. 10.

Immediately word went around Wall Street: "The bull market is dead."

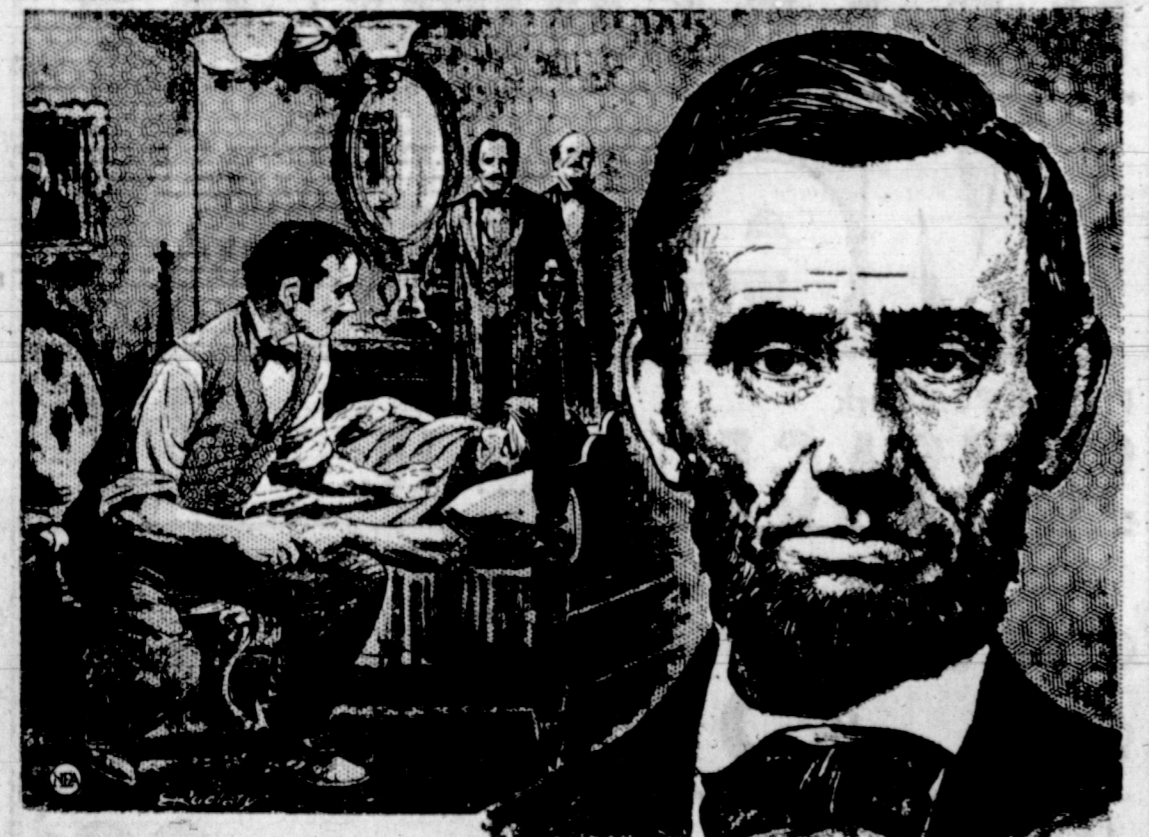

Some market men said the bull died last Aug. 2 when the industrials touched 520.95 within 10 cents of the April 4 top. Some said he died Monday.

There's as much difference on his birthday. Most when the industrial average stood at 161.60. Others put the date back to April 28, 1942 when the average closed at 92.92.

Others put the date back to April 28, 1942 when the average closed at 92.92. Others put the date back to April 28, 1942 when the average closed at 92.92.

ONE LAST, KINDLY FAREWELL TO LINCOLN

Abraham Lincoln's kindly life was climaxed, at the very end, with one final, touching act of kindness shown him in return.

A young assistant Army surgeon, by mere chance, was snatched into the center of the drama surrounding Lincoln's last hours.

Charles A. Leale, because he was first to respond to the call for a doctor in Ford's Theater, became the doctor in charge of the case.

Dr. Leale's memoirs give a terse report of the humble gesture of friendship which was a final symbol of human compassion.

Lincoln was a hero to Dr. Leale. Earlier in the evening the doctor had joined a crowd outside the White House to hear the President say a few words about the conclusion of the war.

"I was profoundly impressed with his divine appearance as he stood in the rays of the light which penetrated the windows of the White House," the doctor wrote later.

"The influence this produced gave me an intense desire again to behold his face and study the characteristics of the 'Savior of his Country.' I changed into civilian dress and hurried to Ford's Theater."

Dr. Leale was the first person to enter the box after Booth's shot was fired. He gave first aid but knew immediately that the assassin's blow was mortal.

He directed the knot of distraught men who carried Lincoln across the street through sobbing crowds. Then in the small room where they laid him he kept vigil during the remaining hours.

It was Dr. Leale who offered the fallen hero mankind's fina, gentle gesture of farewell.

These are his words: "Knowing that frequently, just before departure, recognition and reason return to those who have been unconscious, caused me for several hours to hold his hand firmly within my grasp to let him in his blindness know, if possible, that he was in touch with humanity and had a friend."

A Look Ahead At Future Headlines

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

Heat's On
The administration is turning the heat on plans to give economic aid to independent Communist Poland. The reason: To offset the collapse of arrangements for a visit by Yugoslav President Tito. Polish-American talks start in Washington this week. The administration wants to show countries of Communist East Europe that they can get American aid if they show some independence of Moscow domination. Tito's visit, stopped by domestic opposition, was intended to emphasize that.

Much Smoke; No Fire
Look for the national furor over oil price increases to simmer down slowly and finally peter out. Even if indictments are returned charging the big international companies with price-fixing collusion, there will be long delays in any trials. For example, a criminal antitrust action was filed against five companies, charging conspiracy to control prices, under the Truman administration. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. substituted civil for criminal charges. But the suit is still hanging while oil company lawyers file thousands of documents they say are pertinent to it.

Blockbuster
Western diplomats expect the proposal at the meeting of the Russians to drop a blockbuster proposal at the meeting of the five-nation disarmament subcommittee in London next month. The Soviet government has already tipped its hand by asking that the foreign ministers of the five countries — United States, Canada, Britain, France and Russia — attend the meeting in person. That denotes a death. Every two minutes a green light heralds the arrival of an immigrant. Every 24 minutes a red light announces the departure of an emigrant. A separate set of gears flashes a white light every 12 seconds and operates a numbering device to indicate a net increase of one in the population.

Population Of US To Hit 170 Million

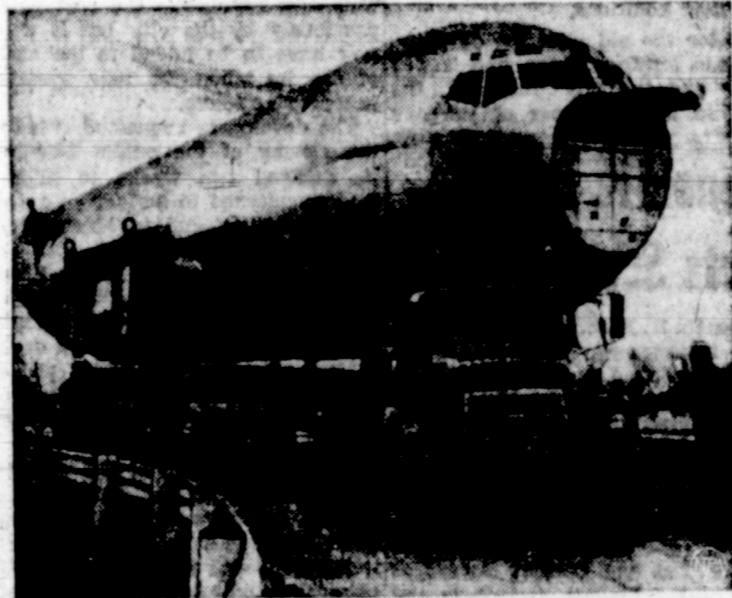

WASHINGTON (UP)—The population of the United States will hit 170 million a few minutes after 11 a.m. EST Friday.

That's a guess, of course. But it's an educated guess and one that probably would prove quite accurate if the government had the facilities to count every American at that precise moment.

In lieu of an accurate counting of noses, the Census Bureau depends on a huge electric clock in the lobby of the Commerce Department Building here which is geared to recent averages and adds one person to the population every 12 seconds.

Shortly after 11 a.m. Friday, the clock will pass the 170 million mark. Dr. Robert W. Burgess, census director, will commemorate the occasion by posing before the clock for photographers.

Every eight seconds a blue light on the clock denotes a birth. Every 21 seconds a purple light

We've Cleaned Lot Of Goo Out of Valentines

By DOC QUIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Say what you want about the times we live in, but you've got to admit there's one heartening thing—we've cleaned a lot of the goo out of valentines.

A quick look at the history of these billy-cooey billets-doux discloses they started around the 1600's as outright, no-fooling Feb. 14 letters proposing marriage, and within two centuries had become lace-gooey monstrosities.

Some of the poetry—borne by these salady siddishes of love in their literary heyday is hair-curling stuff. Here's one sent in 1812 by a Massachusetts lady named Amy Harger to one John Angell. In that day the custom was to make your own, by hand.

The First 'Dear John'
It is a "puzzle-purse" folding type which when unfolded discloses the penned sentiments of the sender. The message to John says, in part (the spelling are Amy's):

"Your hair is pallid brown, in wringlets flow,
"And charms beyond the reach of art bestow;
"Your forehead white as snow, your radiant eyes
"Reflect the celestial blue that paints the sky."

"I've paid up to $75 apiece for this sort of thing," said Mrs. Finch, dropping Amy's valentine in a file. "Not long ago I paid $125 for an English valentine with a lover's knot woven all over it."

Finch presides over a collection of 25,000 antique valentines owned by the Hallmark Card Co. He dipped into another file containing 14 valentines from the "jilted lover" series that flowered in England in 1830-35. Aquatints, they're worth about $7.50 apiece now.

One showed a sobbing lady, and below it said: "O broken vows for him I mourn. Yet sooth my soul in soft sensation rise. And oh! these dear youth I must ever prize."

Strangely—well, maybe not so strangely, at that—the comic valentine reared its lovely head while the despondent, lover school flourished.

Bricklayer's Don't Rate
One of Finch's collection of early comics shows a watermark of 1822, and he figures it was published about 1830.

This "valentine to a bricklayer" has a bright, color caricature of a snaggle-tooth, tatter-hair guy in sharp Sunday clothing laying bricks. The cruel verse underneath says:

"I ne'er will wed one of your trade; Your head of mortar sure is made. Such a lazy loon I ne'er will wed, for fear at home I want for bread."

The valentine business was senstive to current events. One ancient card, bowing to Halley's comet, shows Cupid setting lovers' hearts on fire with the comet's blaze. Another, in 1869, probably marks the birth of the gimmick valentine. It contains a "thermometer of love" with emotions staked out by temperature: "esteem" at 10 to 25 degrees; "friendship" 23-40; "love" 40-60, and "enrapture" unity and bliss" 60-80.

The girls opened the door of the plane and stepped into a screaming, screeching mob of 300 monkeys which had broken out of their cages while being transported to the London Zoological Gardens.

Second Ike Administration In More Trouble Than Foreseen

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The second Eisenhower administration is over three weeks old and in more trouble than might have been foreseen when the President agreed about a year ago to run again.

No. 1 trouble is Mr. Eisenhower's failure to hold the line of government spending. The administration's 1958 fiscal year spending program is for a peacetime record breaker—nearly $72 billion.

From trouble No. 1 flows trouble No. 2: The increasing possibility of disastrous money inflation in the United States.

No. 2 leads directly, although not instantly, to trouble No. 3 which could be a block buster. No. 3 is the certainty that a major inflationary spiral would be followed by disastrous depression.

FDR Outspen Hoover
Fear of an Eisenhower depression probably haunts the President. There was a so-called Hoover depression way back there before the Roosevelt era. The citizens still are talking about it and sometimes voting against it.

Mr. Eisenhower could—but probably will not—get some comfort from the fact that presidents before him have talked big about cutting government spending without making it stick. An almost forgotten big issue of Franklin D. Roosevelt's first campaign for president was his ridicule of Hoover administration spending and FDR's promise to cut government costs by 25 per cent.

That was in the 1932 presidential campaign and before FDR had heard about the John Maynard Keynes theory that big-time deficit spending would haul a nation out of depression. Mr. Roosevelt adopted the Keynes theory, and the record will show that he outspen the Hoover administration many times over any way you figure it.

Keynes theory did not work for FDR, but he stuck with it until the World War II boom lifted the United States out of depression toward present business levels.

Mr. Eisenhower inherited boom-time employment and business from the Truman administration. He was distrustful of their soundness, however, during his 1952 presidential campaign.

Mr. Eisenhower ended that presidential campaign with a list of 10 pledges to the people of the United States. One of them was to throw "the full resources of our new administration into the battle against inflation." The effective method, he already had indicated, would be by controls over money and credit.

A paradox is something which seems opposed to common sense but which may yet be true in fact. So, perhaps it is a paradox that in the field of national economics, Mr. Eisenhower is almost as troubled in the midst of his boom as FDR was in the midst of unemployment and depression—and almost as powerless, maybe, to cope with the problems involved.

Predict Israel Will Pull Out Of Egypt

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—
Western diplomats cautiously predicted today Israel will pull its forces out of Egypt as a result of U.S. support of its claim to free navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba.
The diplomats warned that Egypt could upset the predictions if it chose to reject the American contention the gulf is an international waterway.
The United States disclosed in Washington Monday it had told Israel it will declare publicly it considers the gulf open to shipping of all nations if Israel withdraws from Egypt. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the assurance to Israeli Ambassador Abba S. Eban.
U.S. ships even will enter the gulf to prove the declaration, newsmen were told.
To satisfy Israeli fears that Egypt would launch commando raids from Gaza if Israeli troops left the strip, the United States will support a move to send the U.N. emergency force into Gaza.
A dispatch from Jerusalem last week said that Israel would withdraw if it got such assurances from the United States. The United Nations has refused to give such assurances in advance of withdrawal.
Await Soviet Notes
The General Assembly is expected to meet Wednesday or Thursday to take up Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's look-ahead report.
He advised the world parliament to be certain it understood the consequences of voting sanctions against Israel.
Diplomats at U.N. headquarters also were anxiously waiting publication of notes handed to the British, French and U.S. ambassadors in Moscow Monday by Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov. The notes were reported to concern the Middle East situation. The Russians consistently have supported Egypt and other Arab states against Israel.
A dispatch from Jerusalem said first official reaction to Hammarskjold's report was that it did not bring the situation any nearer solution.

BURGLARS

Late this morning no report had been received from Jordan as to whether the man had been located.
Conner reported that a pry bar and a small hammer had been left at the scene which apparently belonged to the burglars but that the remainder of the tools used in opening the safe had been obtained in the bottling plant.
Conner was checking evidence this morning which was left at the scene in an effort to determine the persons responsible for the burglary and to see if any of the evidence resembled evidence obtained at the other safe jobs.
The other four safes opened in Pampa since the first of the year either had the door peeled or the knob was knocked off. The safe at Wards Super Market had the knob knocked and the safes at Panhandle Lumber Company, Reeves Olds Company and Jack B. Perry and Company were all peeled, had the door pried apart.
The amount taken last night brings the total taken in the five safe burglaries to well over $1,000.

GOP Demands Spark Early Voting

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN (UP)—Republican demands for investigation of alleged "political bossism" today sparked indications of an early show-down vote in the Texas Senate on legislation providing for a run-off in the April 2 special U.S. Senate election.
The bill needs the votes of 21 senators to become law.
Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, sponsoring the measure in the upper chamber, declined to say exactly when he will seek final action on the House-approved bill. But there were strong hints debate will open this week, possibly tomorrow.
The controversial bill, which Republican candidate Thad Hutcheson calls a "sordid" attempt to "change your laws to fit the circumstances," was given approval by the Senate Privileges and Elections committee Monday night.
Hutcheson, meeting with newsmen today, proposed a special investigation by the House, Senate and Gov. Price Daniel into circumstances surrounding House approval of the bill last week.
The GOP candidate alleged political "bossism" in "jamming" and "mean literally jammed" in getting the bill through the lower chamber.
Hutcheson said if an investigation was ordered, he was ready to furnish such information as he had, including an allegation that Rep. W. S. Healy told a constituent at Paducah he was opposed to the bill—and then, as chairman, cast the deciding vote that sent the bill out of House committee with a favorable majority.
The committee also approved a bill which would do away with the special election to fill Gov. Price Daniel's vacated Senate seat.
Tests Later This Week
The proposal, by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, would continue interim appointee Sen. William A. Blakely of Dallas in office until the term expires in January, 1959.
Herring disclosed that in a recent conversation with the governor, Daniel said "he should have resigned" from the U.S. Senate when he first announced for governor. "He said it was a mistake, and he would be the first to admit it," Herring said the present election problem would not have arisen if Daniel had not held one office while running for another.
"But I don't think the Legislature should take him off the limb—that's not good government," the Austin lawmaker said.
Herring also quoted the governor as having suggested "Maybe we can just abolish the office of congressman-at-large in event Martin Dies, the incumbent, wins the Senate race and thus avoid another series of special elections."
Both Herring's measure and the controversial runoff bill authored by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas may meet their final legislative tests later this week on the Senate floor.
It may not be the final test for the Pool bill, however, if it passes its Senate test. Republican leaders have threatened to file suit.

Two Injured In Mishaps

Two persons were hospitalized as the result of injuries received in three collisions yesterday afternoon in Pampa and on Highway 70 east of Pampa.
Those injured were Chloe Bell Caylor, Canadian, and Edward Cecil Burba, 507 N. Sumner. Both were taken to Highland General Hospital for the treatment of minor injuries.
Chloe Caylor was injured when the Oldsmobile which she was driving collided with the rear of an International truck, driven by Harvey Roy Brown 228 W. Craven, owned by Panhandle Packing Company. Investigating highway patrolmen reported that the collision occurred as the truck was slowing to make a left turn from the highway onto the road leading to the packing firm at approximately 4:50 p.m. yesterday.
Burba received slight injuries to the head when his '56 Plymouth collided with a load on a '50 GMC truck on Hobart, 95 feet north of the railroad crossing. The truck had been parked off the road by Glen Hollon, 632 E. Craven, but the load on the truck extended approximately 10 feet into the street, the investigating officer reported.
The load on the truck received damages estimated at $250 and the Plymouth encountered damages estimated at $275.
Burba's car struck the load with the windshield, the officer reported.
The only other collision within the city occurred at 5:23 p.m. yester-

Davis had been arrested Feb. 11 at 12:03 a.m. in front of the Court House Cafe on Kingsmill. He was released on $1000 bond.
Edgar E. Ethridge, who had been charged with driving while intoxicated Feb. 8, pleaded not guilty to that charge and his bond was set at $50.
Billy Gene Chase, 23, of 106½ Francis who was arrested by city police Feb. 12 at the intersection of S. Barnes and E. Foster, and Charles D. Norman, 24, of 417 Crest, who was arrested by city police at the intersection of S. Barnes and Cuyler were tried on charges of driving while intoxicated.
Both pleaded guilty and were sentenced to three days in jail and given a $100 fine.
Wilburn L. Stevens of Pampa was fined $1 plus costs after pleading guilty to a charge of swindling with a worthless check. The charge was filed by the Central Tire Works on a check dated Dec. 14, 1956 for $5.

He reported that about the middle of the year the firm will let a contract for an addition to the building. He said that at present, he did not know if another story would be constructed on the building or if they would expand on the ground.
He added that the city of Gruver had been converted to dial phones Jan. 30 and the local office is handling all the long distance and information calls for that town. In addition, Miami is supposed to convert to dial Mar. 7, and the local office will also handle the long distance and information calls. He added that White Deer is also supposed to convert to dial sometime this year and when they do this office will handle the long distance and information calls.
Newberry also reported that the local firm will soon begin running telephone cable to the north part of town in order to give some of the people in that section of town individual phones who are currently on party lines. He said that he hoped to see that job completed by July 15.

Seawolf Submarine Chef Has Woes Providing Meals Daily For 103 Men

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Any housewife who thought the dawn of the atomic age would cut her hours at the cook-stove is in for a disappointment.

Cooking with atomic energy is just like cooking with gas or any other fuel, and still means using a stove to heat water for soups, stews and appetites satisfied.

This report on nutrition among the neutrons comes from William J. Crow, commissary man first class on the nation's second atomic submarine, the Seawolf.

Actually Crow cooks with electricity, supplied indirectly from an atomic reactor. He, as top rated galleyman, and six assistants prepare all the meals for the 103 enlisted men and 10 officers aboard the submarine.

The 27-year-old Crow, born a landlubber but now regular Navy, is stationed at Groton, Conn. He Crow serves the crew fancy recently was in New York for a refresher course in food preparation at the Hotel Biltmore.

"The biggest problem of feeding a submarine crew is keeping the meals from becoming monotonous," said Crow, in an interview. "After a few days at sea, just like cooking with gas or any other fuel, and still means using a stove to heat water for soups, stews and appetites satisfied."

With the tremendous range of the atomic subs, the problem will be greater than on other craft. Crow said the Seawolf has been on trial runs only, unlike her sister ship, the Nautilus, which earlier this week completed 20,000 leagues and is still at sea. But the runs have taught him that some inspired cooking must come from his small galley — it is four salads, special pastries and desserts. And at the Biltmore, he studied various sauce methods, under the direction of the hotel's head chef, Maurice Goueau.

"Like any other part of the Navy, the favorite dish is steak," said Crow. "And the crew sure likes chicken caeciorator."

And what of the possibility of thickening waistlines for crewmen confined to a submarine? "That's their problem," said Crow. "Mine is to see that they get three good, well-balanced meals a day."

The first thing to do with any dress you buy is to note any artificial flowers or paste jewelry attached. And when you get the dress home, strip it of these oddsends. They only cheapen a dress. Then add a piece of really good costume jewelry and see how much richer and more expensive your purchase looks.

Hot Down

By MRS. VERNON SAVAGE

Now is a good time to inspect all the stored bulbs you may have on hand to see whether they are dying out or rotting. Be sure to destroy the decayed ones. You can monitor lightly the backing around any bulbs that may be withered.

With the freezing and thawing at this season of the year, it might be well to look at your plants to see if the crowns of any plants may have beamed-out. If this has happened, press the crown of the plant back into the soil and cover with light mulch.

Perhaps you are fortunate enough to have a rock garden. These are bulbs that are ideal for rock gardens. For instance, there are several miniature iris and they are among the earliest flowers. Some bear fragrant orange-marked violet flowers up to twelve inches high.

Then there are the zephyr lilies; colors range from purple-tinted white and bloom until late spring; others bloom from June to late fall. Their colors vary from rose through orange and copper.

"Pearly" from Holmes.
When woke the violets, winter dies,
When sprout the elm buds, spring is near,
When lilacs blossom, Summer comes,
"Bud little roses, Spring is here!"

Lightweight wool jersey dresses should have skirt linings in order to stay in shape. But the heavier, or suit weight, wool jersey doesn't need a lining.

The very best leather handbag that you can afford is always the best buy. A leather lining in a sound handbag investment since the lining takes much wear.

Any Small Boy CAN Love Bathing

When a little boy can have this much fun in the bathtub, he'll soon realize that cleanliness is a Good Thing!

MOST ADULTS ENJOY THEIR DAILY TUBBING because it's so relaxing—and because being clean makes them feel comfortable and civilized. A little boy, who has no burning interest in being either relaxed or civilized, can hardly be expected to share that point of view. He needs something else to get him into the tub without protest. For a little boy, a bath must be fun.

Perhaps the first step toward bath fun is a leisurely approach. If he's dumped in, scrubbed, dried, and dispatched to bed, no little boy will find it much fun. If he's still being bathed by his mother, it will pay her richly to allow enough time for little jokes and games and for conversations about what he's been up to all day.

When a boy is old enough to bathe himself, bath-time can be a play period when he runs his steamboat over sudsy ocean waves or dives his submarine through sudsy foam. Other fun topics can be his own gaily patterned towels and facecloth, soap, and soapdish. In such an atmosphere, you'll find that he'll swallow the all-important idea of cleanliness readily—if it's spooned out like sugar candy instead of castor oil. (ANS)

LONDON (UP) — The Sunday Dispatch printed without comment the problems column of the nudist magazine, "The Naturalist".
"Question: 'I am, I believe, rather an oddity in nudist circles: A young, unmarried girl. My problem is that I think nudity is rather austere and I feel I want to add some distinctive touches like jewelry, necklaces, earrings and so on. What is the general view about this?'
"Answer: 'Certainly, but anything too ostentatious will merely make you look undressed instead of naked.'"

U.S. Diplomatic Situation Improves

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The diplomatic situation of the United States is showing notable improvement in four important areas of the world.
President Eisenhower has just concluded an agreement with King Saud of Saudi Arabia, one of the two most influential Arab leaders. The State Department has announced that it intends to open economic negotiations with Poland, which only a few months ago was merely one of Soviet Russia's satellite countries.
It seems certain that the President will soon confer with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and that they will restore the close Anglo-American alliance which the British-French attack on the Suez Canal zone strained so severely.

A conference with French Premier Guy Mollet undoubtedly would follow.
Finally, new Japanese government of Premier Tanzan Ishibashi appears to have made up its mind to maintain its close relations with the United States instead of turning toward Asian "neutralism" or closer ties with Russia and Communist China.
This strengthening of the American position comes at a time when Russia's position, in eastern Europe and in the world at large, has been materially weakened.
Kind Saud, Crown Prince Abdullah of Iraq and Lebanese Foreign Minister Charles Malik all expressed approval of the Eisenhower Doctrine to combat Communist aggression in the Middle East as the result of their visits to Washington.

They should help in persuading the leaders of the other Arab countries that the Eisenhower Doctrine is well-meant, and that it contains no threat of "colonialist" interference in Middle Eastern affairs.
May Meet in Bermuda
There can be no doubt that the Soviet government will frown on the negotiations with Poland, Russia has nothing to gain and a lot to lose by direct talks between the United States and Poland.
President Eisenhower and Macmillan are likely to meet in Bermuda. London dispatches mention March 21 as the probable date.
The president probably would like to have Macmillan visit him in Washington. But British public opinion is still quite sensitive after the open snub which Eisenhower gave Anthony Eden, whom Macmillan has succeeded. The president refused to invite Eden to Washington when, after the strain of the canal crisis, Eden went to Jamaica to rest.

THIS "GROUNDHOG" CAUSED SOME REAL TROUBLE—No matter what the weather was like on Groundhog Day elsewhere, things were pretty rugged in General Electric's metallurgical laboratory at Schenectady, N. Y. Metallurgists discovered this little fellow peering from his burrow inside a broken stud on an electric motor, and photographed him with a cobalt camera. Mr. Groundhog and the entrance to his lair is actually a greatly magnified view of a minute fracture in the metal that caused the motor stud to fail.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — Abraham Lincoln didn't live to realize it, but he received what may have been one of the first income tax refunds in history.
The famous Civil War President, whose 148th birthday anniversary is being marked today, was in office when the nation's first income tax law was passed and became effective Sept. 11, 1862.

The tax provided a three per cent levy on all income between $500 and $10,000 and a five per cent levy on income of more than $10,000.
The vast Lincoln collection at the Illinois State Historical Library indicates little of Lincoln's attitude toward the tax, which was repealed shortly after the war, but it does show the tax refund.

An attorney general's opinion in 1869 held that the war-time income taxes were not valid as far as they concerned the salary of the president and the justices of the Supreme Court and consequently a treasury refund of $3,555.95 was paid to Lincoln's estate.
The refund represented taxes withheld from Lincoln's salary under a withholding plan applicable only to federal officials and employees, plus a special five per cent tax on all 1864 personal income, levied by joint resolution of Congress July 4, 1865.

"My friend said it was impossible, so here I am," Negley announced. He will lose only $1,000 if his bowmanship proves faulty.

Pattern For Downfall

When you simplify, the only problem in the world is one of human relations. As hermits we would have to get along with ourselves. As members of a community we must get along with others. How to do so while maintaining our freedom and independence, and without committing trespass, is the old, old problem.

So far as we can understand the problem, education appears to be only valid solution. Men and women who have been correctly trained can manage this most difficult assignment. Men and women who are not properly educated, inevitably turn to aggressive force as the means to bring about an harmonious arrangement between peoples.

In general, there are only two kinds of education. There is the kind which is voluntarily given and voluntarily received. It is the oldest and the best. There is the kind which relies upon coercion and violence. Nations which adopt this second method of education have, without exception, fallen upon evil days.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR F. JORDAN, M. D.

A number of interesting problems connected with the raising of children have been brought up by correspondence in this column recently. One mother asks for some discussion of retrolental fibroplasia.

This is an eye disorder of premature infants. It is serious and has resulted in a good deal of concern on the part of pediatricians, eye specialists and others. It is now known to be caused by giving too much oxygen to premature infants. For this reason the procedure of giving a good deal of oxygen over a prolonged period to premature infants has been discontinued and the amount of retrolental fibroplasia has been greatly lessened.

ONE OF THE most curious problems is the condition known as pica. This is a situation in which a child (though a grownup may also have pica) develops an abnormal appetite for some strange substance such as plaster or flour and swallows these substances in large quantities.

independent tutorage. But when Pericles ordained a government school, the die was cast and it wasn't long before the stolid Romans overthrew the Grecian political bosses.

Rome rose to power during its days of independent schooling. When education was relegated to the government and naught but government policy was used for indoctrination purposes, Rome collapsed.

The Moslem world was built on voluntary education. But when that was finally organized and, under the Caliphs and Sheriffs became a tax-supported venture, the Moslem empire split open and the pieces fell into intellectual rubble and decay.

The same story is being written today in what we call the modern world. So long as education is strived by individual desire and supported by individual initiative, a nation which practices it flourishes. When the government steps in and finally achieves mastery over teachers, students and subject matter, the fall is not far away.

The outlook for recovery is good and the symptoms usually respond favorably to treatment. Quite often immobilization of the joint by splint or plaster of Paris cast for five weeks or so is desirable. Occasionally, in severe cases, surgery is necessary. In other words, this is a well-known orthopedic problem.

BID FOR A SMILE

To a very thin man who had been having him, Douglas Jarold said: "Sir, you are like a pin, but without either its head or its point."

Before the honeymoon spell has worn off the husband may be followed by the wife. The husband is the client. A year later he will be lucky to get five or six letters regularly inspected and are carefully read. Have you weighed your little boy?

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. NOILES

Lock Of Space, Time, Energy J. J. Trotter of Harlingen, Tex., seems to think that I neglect pointing out the ill effects of doctors' monopoly.

I may have appeared to be neglecting opposing this monopoly. The reason is that one cannot scatter his ammunition too much without weakening his opposition to things that he regards as of the utmost importance.

If we were properly educated to believe in the American way of life as set forth in the Declaration of Independence, we would not have laws that prevent men who have not had a certificate from the state from practicing medicine.

Mr. Trotter writes as follows: "Dear Sir: "Quoting from your column in Harlingen Star of January 14: 'Anything you have pay for whether you want to use it or not, is the worst kind of a monopoly.' I was both pleased and impressed by the above statement. I was reminded of another potent quote: 'The ignorance of the educated has always been a problem little less serious than education of the ignorant.' Prof. George N. Shuster, of Hunter College, N. Y. said that:

"About a year ago I started reading your crusading newspaper, which I consider tops in this country, as I've read none better or more in touch with realism and the problems plaguing this nation and the world. You are a real crusader, a quality which should be basic for all publishers, for without it they are only gossip mongers, falling far short of their responsibilities.

"Now I hope that I won't embarrass you by pointing out a field of endeavor which, so far, has escaped a much-needed exposure of its amazing list of sins, abuses, and inequities. Organized commercial medicine is this shameless and arrogant culprit. By their studious inattention to this monster, and their failure to bring it to book in public print, all publishers stand convicted of abject fear of this adversary of public health and truth. Perhaps this fear is mostly economic. I don't know, but I would like for you to tell me, honestly and simply. Naturally I have reason to believe that all crusaders have limits. Newspapersmen avoid the subjects of religion, race prejudice and medicine. That is, until the public clamors for it.

But aren't competent newsmen supposed to be molders of public opinion and chart new and untried courses in the interests of truth? Evidently Joseph Pulitzer thought so. It doesn't take much courage to expose a person or a thing when that course is in accord with public opinion.

"The above thoughts do not detract from your courage and discernment regarding matters of education, taxation, politics and union corruption. But why stop there? Exposing the perfdy of medicine would really test your mettle. True, ignorant people who adore their doctors would almost have your scalp, as attacking the sources of their hope would be almost like disparaging their chosen Church. And no one can be insulted quite so well as one who doesn't know what the hell he is talking about! The ignorance of the public, collective and individual, regarding matters of health and disease knows no decent bounds. And, as a result, medicine is the richest, juiciest and biggest racket in the entire world. Incidentally, it is a shameless dictatorship and monopoly, stopping at nothing to maintain its privileged position. Within reasonable bounds, medicine is a good and necessary profession. But when its bounds are exceeded by avarice, greed and deceit, and today is being perverted and regulation—the very things which it most fears. In case you are interested, I can tell you much more, with proof which is unimpeachable!"

Oppose All Monopolies I, of course, am opposed to any form of the government giving any group—teachers, lawyers, doctors, professional men—exclusive right to practice their profession. I think all our progress comes from competition. I believe that each and every individual has a right to hire a blacksmith to cut out his appendix if he so desires, and the state should not interfere.

Frederic Bastiat had an essay pointing out that giving doctors exclusive right to practice medicine is the camel putting his head in the tent to promote socialism and a planned economy.

Doctors, of course, are in cahoots with the state. Most doctors contend that licensing doctors is necessary to protect the public. What they do not seem to see is that it also retards development of the medical science.

I have a friend whose wife had been an invalid for years and she was cured by a chemist. He wanted to get the chemist's ideas preserved so that at the death of the chemist, who was a lady, the information would not be lost. He spent a small fortune trying to promote her methods but met with a lot of opposition from the doctors. He told me that the laws in California were so strict that if he recommended a certain toothpaste it would technically be a violation of the medical code.

The state might give doctors licenses to practice but that should not prevent others from practicing medicine. To give them an exclusive right has a tendency to retard their research and experimentation. And being lined up with the state has a tendency to corrupt them. Remember, Lord Acton said: "All power (political power) tends to corrupt. Absolute power (political power) corrupts absolutely."

Beck And Hoffa Have Money And Will Shoot The Works By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Now, the Senate is starting all over again under the Democratic majority but with two Republican Senators thrown into prominence only a few months ago by Paul Hoffman with President Eisenhower's delayed approval. There is a Joe McCarthy and Barry Goldwater, minority members of the Senate Subcommittee on Government Operations. Actually the Committee is evenly divided, with four Democrats and four Republicans, but the chairmanship went to John McClellan, of Arkansas, a very good man. This Committee is Joe McCarthy's old hunting ground.

Goldwater was included because he has been fighting compulsory unionism ever since he entered the Senate from Arizona four years ago. His selection for membership was special recognition of his courage, initiative and efficiency in opposing compulsion.

For the first time since Roosevelt loosed the goons of Walter Reuther, John L. Lewis and Dan Tobin on the country in 1936, to drive millions of uncompromising workers into their compounds, subject to private taxation, extortion, banishment from their jobs and even from their home regions and physical injury or death, the Democratic Party is actually leading a campaign against not only graft running into billions but coercion of workers and denial of their constitutional rights. It was to be the reward of many years of labor. But now he has given up his dream and contributed the thousand dollars to the relief of refugees from behind the Bamboo Curtain. May God bless the last days of this selfless old man.

Washington Pendulum Of Power Switches Hands By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The most striking phenomenon at Washington within the last few weeks has been the sharp shift of the pendulum of power from the conservative to the liberal faction in the Eisenhower Administration. Singlehandedly, Ike is dragging the Republican Party to slightly left of center, as F.D.R. did with the Democrats during the 1933-35 recovery era.

Eisenhower had supplanted conservatives with men of his own viewpoint, from State and other policy-making departments to the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee. He has turned from conservative advisers within the Cabinet and on Capitol Hill to men more favorable to his ideas for "modernizing" the GOP.

The transformation has affected major policies in the domestic and foreign fields. It is reflected in his "welfare state" budget of $37.8 billion, which exceeds Roosevelt-Truman goals and expenditures. It is behind Attorney General Brownell's plan to throw the Federal government's authority, wherever possible, behind movements to implement a Civil Rights program.

It shows up in the $5 billion Ike has asked for foreign economic aid. This is a far larger sum than such once influential officials as Treasury Secretary Humphrey and Herbert Hoover, Jr., former Undersecretary of State, thought necessary or advisable.

It breaks out again in the $5 billion which the White House seeks for subsidies, parity payments and soil bank advances to the farmers. Here again, the President is far more generous than Secretary Ezra Taft Benson considers essential. The tight-fisted Mormon believes that less "pampering" of agriculture will enable it to stand on its own feet.

Whereas many associates believe that it is Uncle Sam's task to curb the public appetite for Federal funds, Ike says that the public will get "what it demands" and, as he thinks, "what it deserves."

Most significantly, the change over appears in Ike's attitude toward financial and economic questions. Despite official efforts to reconcile their expressed views, the President has broken with Secretary Humphrey's philosophy and with that of Arthur Burns, former head of the White House Economic Advisory Committee.

When a slight recession developed in 1954, there were demands within the Administration and in Congress for a pump-priming operation. But Humphrey and Burns insisted that the economy would right itself without emergency action. They maintained that the principal danger was inflation, and they supported the Federal Reserve's tight money program. Humphrey even opposed deficit spending to ward off a depression.

But Ike and Burns' successor, Raymond Saulnier, now governor of the Humphrey-Burns caution. The President says he will do anything the Constitution permits to prevent an economic crisis. In his 1957 report, Saulnier said that continued tight money might jeopardize Ike's plans for school construction, home building and highway expansion. His ideas are reminiscent of Ickes-Hopkins days.

In every other field, Ike has moved leftward. At Interior, Fred A. Seaton has a broader outlook on natural resources use than his predecessor, Douglas McKay. Having successfully fought Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks' attempt to run the Labor Department, James F. Mitchell shows unusual sympathy for unions for a Republican Cabinet member. So has the reorganized Supreme Court, which now has three Eisenhower appointees.

Other liberals mobilized by Ike are Christian A. Herter as Undersecretary of State, Professor Arthur Larson as head of the United States Information Service, and General Alfred M. Gruenther. Gruenther now heads the Red Cross, but he may eventually step into the Cabinet in place of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, another ultraconservative.

Finally, Ike has a new circle of Congressional advisers. He no longer relies on such leaders as Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland, Senator Styles Bridges, President Pro Tem of the Senate, or Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. He listens to men more sympathetic to his actions. Despite official efforts to reconcile their expressed views, the President has broken with Secretary Humphrey's philosophy and with that of Arthur Burns, former head of the White House Economic Advisory Committee.

A Game That A Man Of Forty Or Over Can Play By HENRY McLEMORE

BAD TOLZ, Germany — I swallow low whole everything that doctors say, be it pills or advice. That's why I'll always be grateful for my visit to the Army's 10th Special Forces Group brought me to Bad Tolz. For here I have found what I have been looking for ever since I reached the age of forty — a game which a man of that age or over can play without endangering his life.

If you can read, you know that doctors — those with literary agents, anyway — spend half their time scaring the daylight out of men around my age. We are fools if we play more than one set of tennis, and then only in the shade of late afternoon, and with someone as decrepit as ourselves. We are courting the undertaker if we run for a bus and should walk backwards up stairs whenever possible. We should ration our golf, and whenever possible play on a course where all the holes lead downhill. If we mow the lawn in a hot sun we should be prepared for our fate by wearing blue serge suit and carrying a bouquet of lilies, and any of us who are mad enough to play squash or handball should always notify our nearest of kin about what we are up to.

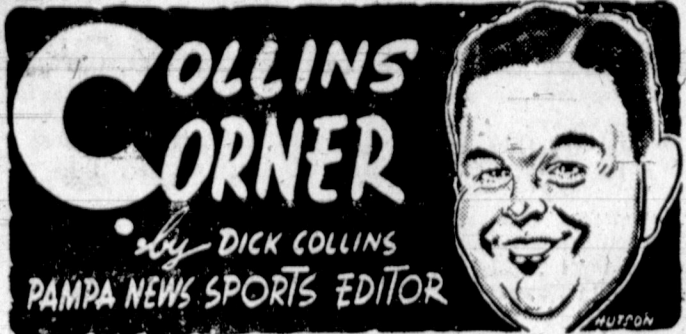

If one believes the doctors, one is convinced that one 40 is reached, a man is held together by the thinnest of threads, from toe to toeknot, and that it could be snapped by stretching out too violently on the sofa, or overdoing things in the petunia patch.

The result is that since I reached that dismal age my sports activities have come almost to a standstill. I love golf, but who wants to collapse in a sand trap, and that's where I most certainly would be, I like tennis, too, but the picture of being lifted off the net like a bit of wet wash is dismaying. And a handball court isn't my first choice for final resting place, either.

Now, thanks to my visit to Bad Tolz, I can resume sports, and get some much needed exercise without an unrelieved departure from this world. I discovered the game when I happened by the city's "Eisclub." It was being played on one side of the hockey rink by ten or twelve men, most of whom looked at least as old as I. One of the best play-

Lubbock Tests Harvester Power Here Tonight

The Lubbock Westerners will be attempting to knock Pampa's Harvesters from the throne room when two District 3-AAAA teams collide in Harvester Fieldhouse tonight at 8.

The Westerners are out of the championship picture but a victory for them would be a feather in their caps. The Harvesters must win tonight's game and the one here Thursday against Plainview in order to hold onto a tie for the 3-AAAA lead.

Pampa and Borger are tied for the conference lead with 9-1 records. Both have two games remaining on the schedule. A loss for either team would almost drop them from contention.

The Westerners come into Pampa with a mediocre 3-8 district record but they boast the second highest scorer in the circuit. He's 6-3 forward Max Hood who has accumulated 209 points in 11 district games.

Coach Clifton McNeely's Harvesters will be trying for their 23rd victory of the season. They have lost one game, a one-point decision to Borger. Lubbock has won 11 of 24 games. The Westerners' last victory was Friday night against Crosstown rival, Monterey, by a 69-43 count. The two other district wins have been over Palo Duro.

The Harvesters were idle last Friday night, thus giving Borger the chance to jump into a district tie.

While Lubbock has one of the top scorers in the district, Pampa has three of its starters among the top ten. Hood, a probable all-district pick; has made 462 points this season, a new Lubbock High School record. Dwayne Key has scored 254 this season and Scott Mack has made 225. Key is a 5-10 guard and Mack is a 6-9 guard.

Lubbock's other starters are Bill Spitzer, 6-6 center, and Jerry Cowan, 6-2 forward. Coach Max O'Bannon's Westerners will boast a height advantage off the boards with Hood and Spitzer operating off the tandem posts.

Pampa's tallest player is 6-6 center Tommy Gindorf. Sam Condo, 6-2 forward; Jerry Pope, 6-1 forward; Bill Brown, 5-11 guard; and Dickie Mauldin, 5-11 guard, are the other Pampa starters.

Condo paces the Harvesters in district pointmaking with 149 points in 10 games. Pope has 145 points, Dickie Mauldin 135, Bill Brown 119 and Tommy Gindorf 101. Pope leads the Harvesters in season scoring with 342 points in 23 games and a 14.9 average. He is followed by Condo with 324, Mauldin with 308, Brown with 278 and Gindorf with 239.

Pampa has been averaging 75.1 points per game this season and 67.7 in district play. The Harvesters have allowed 54.2 points per game for the year and 55.4 in district competition.

In other games tonight in 3-AAAA, Borger plays at Amarillo and Plainview at Monterey. Borger finishes out Thursday night at Palo Duro and Pampa hosts Plainview. Monterey plays at Amarillo Friday night.

The Shockers will not play a preliminary game tonight but will host the Plainview B team here Thursday night at 6:15. After that the Shockers are entered in the Hobbs, N.M., tournament on Feb. 21-22-23.

THE TEXAS INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE'S ruling on playoff games will no doubt cause several of the bigger schools to lose some money on the basketball eliminations scheduled the next two or three weeks.

The T.I.L. ruled this year that all playoff games must be for one of the best-of-three series. Several games of sudden-death and more schools, including Pampa, make their best money in playoff games in the larger gymnasiums. The new ruling will eliminate at least one game, and possibly two, from district, bi-district and regional playoffs.

If Pampa and Borger end the regular season tied for the championship, they will likely play the single game at West Texas State Fieldhouse, just as they did last year. At least that's the opinion of the Harvesters' Clifton McNeely.

McNeely, who is thinking of each opponent as he meets them and merely speculating on happenings outside of the district race, favors the two-of-three series. He also believes that Pampa, should it win the district title, would play a bi-district game with District 4-AAAA winner, Poly of Fort Worth. Instead of a four-team tournament involving the winners of Districts 1-AAAA, 2-AAAA, 3-AAAA and 4-AAAA.

Poly would probably go along with this idea although it undoubtedly would be left up to a vote of the four representative schools and the regional chairman, Minton White of San Angelo. If the bi-district method of playoffs is used, the Districts 3-AAAA and 4-AAAA winners would probably flip for the home site. The same would result in the other two districts.

McNeely believes a playoff game would be played this Saturday night if it is necessitated. Both teams will likely end up with comparable district records of 11-1. The results will be known Thursday night.

NOTES FROM THE CORNER

FILE: A note from Pfc. Joe P. Bynum, former Pampa and now in the U.S. Marines at Camp Pendleton, informs this corner that Jimmy Bond, ex-Harvester cager, was injured in a basketball game last week. Bond left a game matching his Pasadena Nazarene College against Chico State College after suffering a stretched ligament in his left foot. Polytechnic of Fort Worth has already clinched the District 4-AAAA basketball title although the Parrots have one more game to play. A new National Association of Baseball Writers has been formed. The group will be composed of writers of the minor league cities. Entry deadline for the Pampa Bowling Association's City Tournament is Wednesday at midnight. The tournament starts Saturday.

Kentucky, Bradley Suffer Basketball's Major Upsets

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Kentucky and Bradley, two of the nation's five top teams, both suffered "insult" in road games Monday night, but when the dust settled today it was found that Bradley had the greater "injury."

Kentucky, ranked No. 3 in the nation, went tumbling, 89-81, before Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss.—only the fourth loss in 21 games for the Wildcats but still leaving them with a half-game lead and a schedule edge in the Southeast Conference.

Bradley, ranked No. 5, lost an 86-86 heartbreaker to Drake at Des Moines, Iowa, and dropped a half-game behind both Wichita and St. Louis in the Missouri Valley chase.

Sophomore Bailey Howell was the sparkplug of Mississippi State's win over Kentucky, sinking 37 points and grabbing 20 rebounds. Jim Ashmore added 24 points and Wayne Lemon chipped in with 13 rebounds to complete the picture. John Cox led Kentucky with 28 points but was one of three Wildcats to foul out of the game.

Drake beat Bradley at the free throw line, sinking 36 of 43 attempts. And it was at the stripe that Charley Sedgwick of Bradley

Carver Wildcats In State Tourney Play

The Carver Wildcats are getting ready for the State Negro Basketball Tournament this week following their triumph in the District 1-B meet last week.

Coach C. E. Petty's Wildcats sport an outstanding record in play this season. They have lost only five of 24 games and all of those were in non-conference play. The Wildcats fell to Amarillo twice, Lubbock, Borger and Wellington once, Amarillo and Lubbock are Class AA teams.

Carver went through 10 games in District 1-B play undefeated, beating Quanah, Childress, Wellington, Memphis and Shamrock. The Wildcats won the district meet in Childress Saturday by taking two games, beating Shamrock 63-48 and Wellington 74-52.

The state meet is slated to be held Friday and Saturday at Prairie View College. An estimated 12 to 16 games of Classes A and B will participate.

Petty is finishing his eighth season at Carver. During that time the Wildcats have won two district titles. Carver has been affiliated with league play only three years. The other district win was two years ago.

Pie-Faced Wrestlers Aid March of Dimes

The referee, Red Graham, ruled "no contest" in Dory Funk's rescheduled main event match with the Great Bolo at the Top O' Texas Sportsman Club last night, but it was far from meringued pie.

A big, juicy, meringued pie, left over from the March of Dimes' pie-tossing auction earlier in the program, was the flame that ignited the big four-man fracas.

The masked Bolo took the first fall over Funk with a shoulder hold in 7:14. Funk came back to make Bolo submit with a spinning toe hold in 5:07. Funk tossed Bolo into the turnbuckles twice and then grabbed him on the rebound to administer the toe hold.

Leo Newman, Bolo's manager, came into the fracas following Bolo's submitting and Funk immediately applied the same hold on him. The two came out in the third fall to wrestle, but before activities got underway Rip Rogers brought the pie into the ring and gave it to his partner, Funk.

Dory tossed the pie in Bolo's face, much to the delight of the fans, and the fight was on. The four matmen tangled in the ring and referee Graham, failing to stop them, ruled the bout no contest.

Tommy Phelps won the opening match of the night after Newman was disqualified in 7:33. Phelps pinned Newman in the ring ropes and had Newman at his mercy. Bolo jumped into the ring and helped Newman. That was when Graham disqualified Newman.

Rip Rogers won the last two falls over Duke Keomuka in the semifinal event. Keomuka used a body press to gain his fall in 14:50. It came after a series of karate chops and slashes to Rogers' neck and head, rendering him helpless. Rogers came back to take the second in 10:24 with a reverse cradle after Keomuka's body slams had backfired. Rogers used a body press in the third.

The March of Dimes was $210.69 better off following last night's pie auction. Those hit by flying pies were Keomuka, Newman, Funk, Rogers, Graham, Phelps and Warren Hasse as well as several ring spectators.

DETROIT (UP)—Dorne Dibble, veteran end, wandered into the Detroit Loops office Monday to pay a bill and wound up signing his 1957 contract with the National Football League team. He also paid the bill.

MANHASSET, N.Y. (UP)—Ron Murphy, star forward for the New York Rangers, became a father for the first time Sunday night when his wife gave birth to an eight pound, one ounce boy at the North Shore Hospital.

Tarheels Remain On Top

SMU Holds Fourth In Cage Rankings

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—The North Carolina Tar Heels headed the United Press college basketball ratings today for the fourth straight time, but the runner-up, Kansas Jayhawks gained ground because the southern team won its two games last week by a total of only six points.

Kansas, Kentucky and Southern Methodist remained 2-3-4. Four of the other leading teams switched positions but California, which advanced from 12th to ninth, was only newcomer in the top 10. Ohio State dropped from ninth to 15th.

The 35 leading coaches who rate the teams weekly for the United Press based their votes on games played through Saturday, Feb. 9.

Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels raised their record to 18-0 last week but needed a double-overtime to defeat Maryland, 65-61, and two foul shots in the final seconds to edge Duke, 75-73. After these close shaves, the coaches gave North Carolina 22 first-place votes and a total of 333 points.

Kansas, which whipped Nebraska by 15 points in its only start last week, received 11 first-place votes and 312 points. Kentucky and Louisville split the other two first-place votes.

Bradley advanced from eighth to fifth while UCLA, its 23-game Pacific Coast conference victory string snapped by Washington, dropped from fifth to sixth. Seattle remained seventh but Louisville, which was upset by Morehead (Ky.) State last week, slipped

The sweetest way to say "I love you" to your Valentine is the tribute of beautiful flowers from Roberta's Flowers, 217 N. Ballard, MO 4-3309.

Hearts and flowers go perfectly together... and what better time to give your sweetheart a beautiful bouquet or corsage than on St. Valentine's Day? You know the surest way to your Valentine's heart is the tribute of fresh flowers from Roberta's selection of bouquets, corsages, plants.

Bouquets, Corsages, Plants

Choose from the favorite bouquets of roses, carnations, gladiolas, spring flowers; or from the popular corsages of orchids and gardenias which clever cupids often send; or from the beautiful, blooming, potted azaleas, tulips, jonquils, or pink, blue, white hyacinths; or select the cool beauty of green plants like ivy to lend a decorator's touch to her home or office.

Eloquent bouquets, corsages, plants—more expressive than words—tell your Valentine of your love and respect every time she sees your flowers and plants.

For Shut-Ins

Flowers, always beautiful and always appreciated, are most appreciated by your Valentine at the bedside. For your Valentine who is shut-in or in the hospital Roberta's has planned specially decorated arrangements of flowers, plants, corsages for your floral messages.

To be sure your Valentine or friend in the hospital receives your flowers promptly, Roberta's makes several deliveries each day.

Roberta's Anniversary

Tomorrow and Wednesday, Feb. 12 and 13, Roberta's will observe its second anniversary. Mrs. Roberta Valliant, J. C. Hopkins, and Cecil Gill thank all their friends years successful, and dedicate Roberta's to making life in the Top of Texas florally beautiful and pleasing.

You are invited to visit Roberta's tomorrow and Wednesday to see the special Valentine and anniversary arrangements in the show room.

Just a hint to help you make a hit with your date for the dances and parties: a corsage.

Vases Planters

Beautiful flowers and plants add to their own luster when you place them in a lovely vase or planter. For that reason you will find the unusual in vases, planters, glassware, snuffers at Roberta's. These pieces are beautiful with flowers and plants and are beautiful decorations in themselves.

To remember your out-of-town Valentine, and your friends away from home, wire flowers anywhere in the United States and Canada through FTD from Roberta's Flowers.

Lizabeth Scott Back Planning Singing Career In Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Whatever happened to Lizabeth Scott? She's back in Hollywood with big plans to surprise her fans by blossoming out as a singer.

The blonde with the satin-sleek hair and the husky voice has been seen little around Hollywood since she ended her contract with Hal Wallis Productions at Paramount studio four years ago. Now she's got her second wind and will start making news again with a three-point campaign: She's back in big pictures, co-starring with Elvis Presley in "Loving You" at Paramount. She's turning singer and also has launched a dress business.

"Those people who call me a mystery woman—to heck with 'em," said the lively actress.

"The last few years I made a film in England, I've been deep sea fishing in the West Indies and

Rock Hudson Takes Another Giant Step In Acting Bit

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Rock Hudson, a good-looking ex-truck driver who soared to the top with "Giant", has taken another step: playing a grizzled drunk to get away from that "handsome boy" category.

Lunchers at Universal-International's commissary today hardly recognized Rock. He wore a two-day beard and a cheap suit and his hair hung to his eyes.

"I thought I'd try something different than straight leading man stuff which isn't too much fun," he said with the grin that helped make him one of Hollywood's few young stars.

"In this picture I try to build a little character."

Talking to Rock you realize how a non-actorish type man must suffer when he has to make faces and display intimate feelings in front of a camera while two dozen bored electricians, prop men and actors look on.

"Playing a character part gives me something to hide behind," Hudson explained thoughtfully.

"Giant" not only made Rock a Grade A star but may bring him an Oscar nomination, the thought of which makes the non-talkative, bashful actor "a nervous wreck." Now his current picture, "Eylon", promises to open new doors.

In the film from the William Faulkner book, Rock plays, if the press will pardon the expression, a slightly alcoholic newspaperman "creep" who works for the New Orleans Times-Picayune (which Faulkner once wrote for).

has been crisply groomed, combed before every take, but this guy is a crumb," Hudson said happily, pulling his hair over his eyes.

"I'm dying to play a heavy. It would be such fun to chew up the scenery and bay at the moon. My next is 'Farewell to Arms', a handsome man part which will be done in Rome, but then I'm back here to play a broke-down sea captain."

He rubbed his hands over his eyes and said, "I'm not doing very well today. Tired. Sat up late talking to friends."

"But then," he reflected, "some people think our best scene in 'Giant' was when Liz Taylor and I reconcile at her sister's wedding. And yet we both were hungover from being up late the night before at the photoplay banquet."

Our interview ended, Hudson walked over to the studio still gallery.

"I hate to pose for still photographs—much harder than acting before a motion picture camera," he frowned. "The photographer has to say something funny or I can't smile."

"But then," he concluded frankly, "I'm self-conscious about everything."

Jacoby On Bridge

Today's hand is from the 1956 Winter Nationals. Sally Johnson and Peter Cabral of New York obtained a top score when they bid six spades and made seven on a swindle play.

The bidding is a trifle optimistic. Mr. Cabral expected another spade in his partner's hand and his partner would like to have held it.

Peter won the opening trump lead in his own hand; played a club to dummy's ace; trumped a club; led a spade to dummy's queen and trumped a third club with his next to last trump. This set up dummy's club suit and now Peter led his ace of trumps and held his breath until both opponents had followed suit.

Feud Erupts In Gunfire; One Dead

DALLAS (UP)—A year and a half of feuding erupted in gunfire Sunday night that left a teenaged girl dead, her sister wounded and a 17-year-old girl in the hands of juvenile authorities.

The girl signed a statement telling how she shot and killed Mary Antoinette (Tony) Salazar, 19, then wounded her sister, Janie Salazar, 15.

She said a grudge had been brewing between her and the elder Salazar sister for a year and a half, but would not give the reason. She told police she "didn't mean to hurt Janie."

She told how she rode in a car with four other girls to a house, in front of which were the two sisters.

She got out and ordered "Tony to walk to me." Both the sisters rose and approached her. She whipped a revolver from under her sweater and fired "five or six shots" at them. Tony was killed by a bullet in the abdomen, and Janie was hit in the throat.

The 17-year-old girl, winding up her vendetta in true gangster style, leaped back into the car and sped off.

Police arrested her about 30 minutes later.

"I discovered the fashion world is much more fabulous than the world of motion pictures," she said. "We think we're the only people who make fantastic money but these people are amazing."

Five Pampa Area Students Are In Contest At Wayland

PLAINVIEW — Five Carson and Gray County students at Wayland College, Barbara Evans, and Guyda Baten, White Deer, Bill Webb, David and Ben Cartwright, all of Pampa, are candidates for either campus beauty of handsomest man on the campus, after being nominated by the entire student body.

There's a mighty strong chance a girl named Barbara or Kay or Louise will be named Campus Beauty Feb. 15, at the "Midwinter Night's Dream" pageant which follows a talent show.

Guyda and Barbara are among the 16 nominees, eight of whom are named Kay, Louise or Barbara.

Of course, no one wants to count too heavily on it because the 1956 Beauty Queen is in the competition, and her name is Margery Whitten, Houston, but then Louise Short, Gallatin, is also on the list and she was chosen Beauty Queen for the 1955 National AAU Women's Basketball Tournament in St. Joseph, Mo.

ization. She is also faculty editor for "The Traveler," college yearbook. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, White Deer. Barbara's escort will be Jerry Phillips.

Bill Webb, David and Ben Cartwright will be among the 16 men who will contrast their brawn with beauty as the escort coed nominees. Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Webb, 412 North Hobart. Ben and David's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Cartwright, 618 West 18th Street.

David, a senior, is a four-year member of the colorful International A Cappella Choir. In addition to his busy schedule with that organization, he serves as music chairman for the Baptist Student Union, and senator to the Student Government Association for the Circle K, college branch of the Kiwanis Club. Besides his college work, David is youth director at Cedar Hill Baptist Church near Plainview.

Webb is not only one of the starting five on Wayland's varsity basketball team, the Pioneers, but serves the college as president of the Student Government Association. He came to Wayland last year as a junior transfer from Schriener Institute. On week ends he serves as music and educational director at Cedar Hill Baptist Church near Plainview.

Ben Cartwright is a sophomore guard who sees a lot of action with the varsity basketball team also. Like Webb, he is also an ex-stand-out cager from the ranks of the Pampa High School Harvesters. In addition to basketball, Ben is active in Wayland's speech club and Circle-K.

TV Show Has Cash For More Articulate Canines

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The letter started reasonably enough. It said: "Dear Sirs,"

After that, however, the going got pretty giddy. "I am now nearly four years old," it said, "and am enclosing a picture of me and a buddy of mine. As you can see I do not look four years old and the parakeet with me agrees."

Enclosed was a photo of a pooch and a bird. The communication was signed, "Tippy, The Talking Dog."

The letter is one of some 350

guided and misguided missiles that have looped into the offices of Jim Fleming over the past two weeks. Fleming is producer of "Good Morning With Will Rogers Jr.," a CBS-TV morning show that has set aside $20,000 for payment to reasonably articulate members of the canine kingdom.

Wired Dogs
"We've offered to pay $500 for any word over two syllables," said Fleming. "The only things barred are proper nouns, foreign phrases that don't appear in our dictionary and electronically wired dogs."

The response to the offer has

WHO IS THE FAIRER?—Now there are two Zsa Zsa Gabor. The haughty Hungarian with the gift for gab is shown as she plays twin sisters in her new movie, "Stalin Is Alive!" At left is sister Zsa Zsa as Stalin's girl friend, while at right is typical-American-newspaper-gal Zsa Zsa. The quotable cutie is sure the dual role will be a success. "I'll act good," she says.

been the doggondest. A minister in Deland, Fla., wrote in to say that he knew a dog who could say, "Good Morning." A Rock Hill, S. C., resident claimed acquaintance with a hungry hound who is able to announce: "I want a hot dog."

A lady in Kansas City owns a dog, she said, who pronounces "Amen" whenever it hears a prayer.

"So far," said Fleming, "we've been offered a talking chicken, a talking reindeer and a talking elk."

"One fellow in Florida claims he has a dachshund who says: 'Art, Art, Art Wiedersehen.'"

Dog Recites Poetry
"Another man has a dog who can recite 'Thanatopsis.' But only at sunset. On the west coast, somebody has a dog who is silent most of the time, but who occasionally talks back to H.V."

Deadline for Sinatra
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Promoter Lee Gordon indicated today would be his deadline for trying to persuade crooner Frank Sinatra to go, through with an Australian tour which the singer cancelled in Honolulu because of a dispute with an airline over reservations.

After More Exports
TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Natalien China will take part in a series of international trade fairs this year in an effort to promote exports, a commerce department official said today.

Only the Mercury Monterey 4-door sedan offers all these features at such a low price!

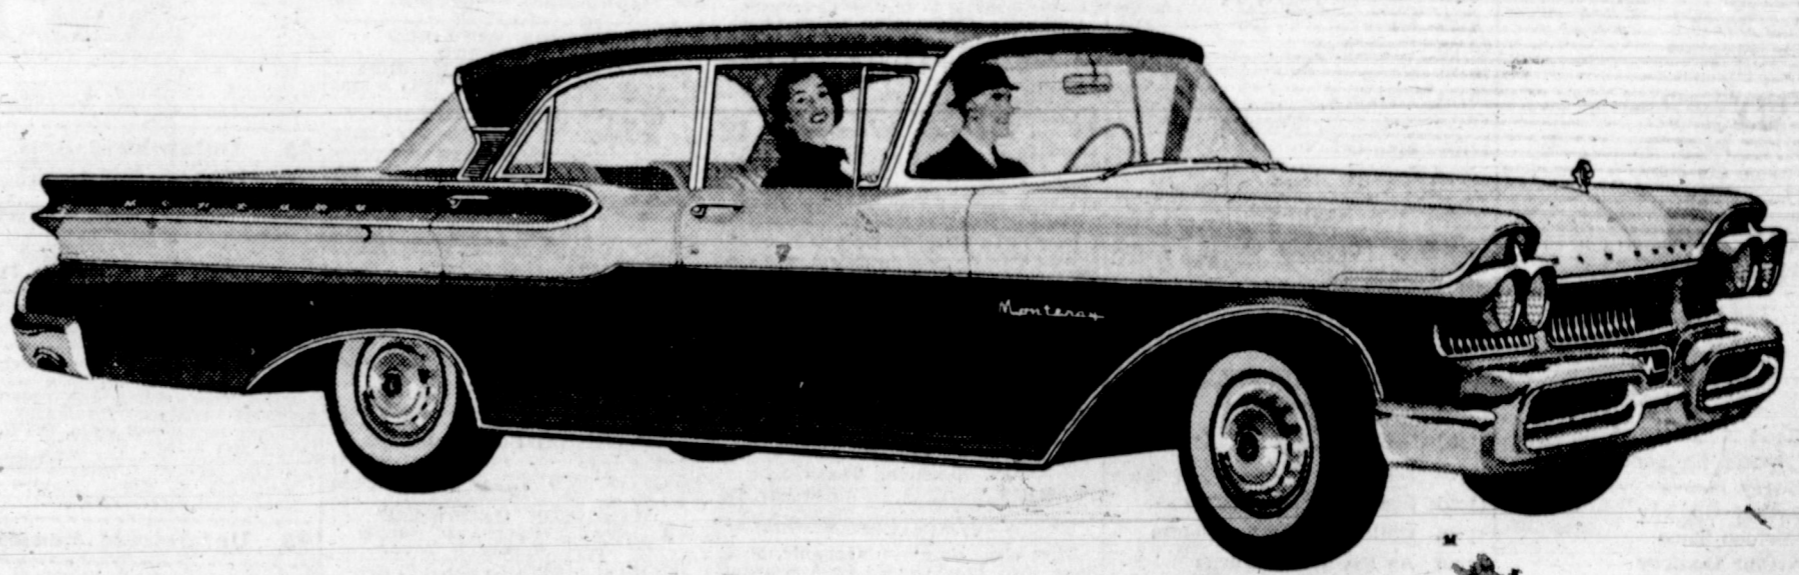

Style—The glamorous Monterey 4-door has two distinct advantages for sedan enthusiasts: it has the clean, crisp hardtop look, plus conventional sedan rigidity. Bright metal moldings frame the windows and conceal the thin, strong center posts.

Size—Lowest, widest car in its field... most spacious interiors in its field... easier rear seat entrance... giant trunk capacity (34 cu. ft.) and widest trunk opening in its field.

Visibility—Full rear-seat vision... largest back window, up to 50% more glass area.

Engines—Most powerful engine for the money as standard equipment... highest standard compression ratio for the money... Thermo-Matic four-barrel carburetor as standard equipment... three-way transmission choice.

Features—Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers... swept-back ball-joint front suspension... reinforced box-section frame... front-hinged hood... triple-braced roof panel... glass fiber roof panel insulation... rear windows go all the way down—not just half way as in some competitive cars.

NEVER BEFORE HAS SO MUCH BIGNESS, LUXURY AND POWER COST SO LITTLE. SEE YOUR MERCURY DEALER NOW FOR FULL DETAILS.
