Ralph Yarborough Is Elected U. S. Senator

Winner Gets Gray County

Gray County voters went along with many of the rest of Texas counties in giving Ralph W. Yarborough of Travis County the most votes in yesterday's special senatorial election.

Yarborough received a total of 1,323 of the 3,303 votes cast in Gray County in unofficial returns compiled last night in the county clerk's office.

Only two other candidates received a sizeable number of votes from Gray County voters. These were Martin Dies of Angelina County, who received 1,088 votes, and Thad Hutcheson of Harris County, who received 799 votes.

Elmer Adams of Dallas County received three votes, Rev. M. T. Banks of Jefferson County received one vote and Searcy Bracewell of Harris County received 31 votes.

Frank G. Cortez of Bexar County, J. Cal Courtney of Dallas County, J. Perrin Willis of Cherokee County and Hugh Wilson of Jefferson County all received one vote each.

Ralph W. Hammonds of Harris County received three votes, James P. Hart of Travis County received 27 votes, Charles W. Hill of Tarrant County received three votes and John O. White of Wichita County received 21 votes.

H. J. Antoine Sr. of Bastrop County, Jacob Bergofsky of Wichita County, John C. Burns Sr. of Harris County, R. W. Currin of Hopkins County, C. O. Foerster Jr. of Hidalgo County, Curtis Ford of Nueces County, Walter Scott McNutt of Marion County and Clyde R. Orms of Dallas County did not receive a vote from Gray County voters.

Voting by precincts was as follows, according to the unofficial returns:

Two Fined In Assault And Battery Case

Two youths, both 18, were fined $25 each and reprimanded verbally in Justice of the Peace Court yesterday after pleading guilty to charges of assault and battery on three younger boys last Thursday while a third youth entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a jury hearing.

This was the latest step taken in the case of five boys who had reportedly edged another car off the road with the car they were driving and "beat up" the three boys who were passengers in the first car.

The case had been pending in County Court since Friday morning, but it was turned over to Justice of the Peace Court yesterday afternoon when it was felt by both the county attorney and the county judge that the county lacked sufficient jurisdiction to try the case.

One of the persons involved was seen this morning by the County

Liberal Democrat Wins In Fifth Try For High Office

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—The Democrats retained control of the U. S. Senate today on the hard-fought victory of liberal Ralph Yarborough in a Texas special election.

Yarborough torpedoed his Democratic-opponent and Republican hopes in his first success in five tries for high office. He previously had lost three bids for the governorship and one for state attorney-general.

His election meant that the Democrats will continue to hold a 49-47 edge in the U. S. Senate. The Republican Party went all-out in an effort to get a GOP candidate elected and win a 48-48 tie in the Senate.

20 In Race
With Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tie-breaking vote, this would have given the Republicans control of the Senate. But Thad Hutcheson of Houston, upon whom the Republicans had pinned their hopes, never was in the running.

All told, there were 20 men in the race—18 Democrats and two Republicans. The Republicans, concentrating on Hutcheson, had hoped that the Democratic majority would split its vote so widely that a Republican minority would be enough to elect Hutcheson.

Yarborough will fill the 21 months remaining on the term of Price Daniel, who resigned from the Senate to become governor of Texas.

The race was one between two Democrats—Yarborough and Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies.

Dies Close Second
Dies ran a close second as the Texas Election Bureau closed its doors for the night. Dies needed from 75 to 80 per cent of the remaining uncounted vote to catch Yarborough.

When the election bureau quit counting Tuesday night, Yarborough had 310,842 votes to 255,016 for Dies and 202,721 for Hutcheson. A total of 184 of 254 counties had been heard from with 78 complete.

The figure gave Yarborough a flat 37 per cent of the total vote. Dies had a percentage mark of 30.35 and Hutcheson 24.13.

Robert Johnson, head of the election bureau which tabulates returns for newspapers, and radio and television stations, estimated that between 80,000 and 100,000 votes were still out.

Johnson said only "the deep forks of the creek" are to be heard from and the trend from that vote had been toward Yarborough.

Yarborough in three previous campaigns for governor had taken on some of the state's most powerful figures and lost. He dropped two bids against Allan Shivers and lost by a scant 3,000 votes out of nearly 2-million cast last summer when he went up against Price Daniel, the man he will succeed as senator.

But Yarborough hit the campaign trail again when a special election was called to elect an interim senator to fill out Daniel's term.

Daniel stepped down when he was elected to governor. Then Gov. Allan Shivers appointed Dallas insurance man William Blakley to Daniel's post but Blakley announced he would serve only until a successor could be elected. He declined to run for election and the post went up for grabs.

Four New City Commissioners

Unofficial returns in yesterday's city elections indicated that voters in Ward 4 will once again have to go to the polls to decide which of two men will be commissioner in that ward.

The returns showed that none of the four candidates received a majority of the votes. The runoff election will be between Robert D. Olson, who received 95 votes; and Glen T. Radcliff, who received 91 votes. The other two candidates, M. V. "Red" Watkins and H. C. Hall, received 48 votes and 15 votes respectively. Three written votes for commissioner were also cast for T. M. Brooks.

The unofficial returns, tallied last night by Ed Vickers, city secretary, show that Mayor Lynn Boyd was re-elected by a 1,000 vote margin. He received a total of 1,318 votes while the other candidate, J. H. Saunders, received a total of 318 votes.

Written votes for mayor in Ward 1 gave three votes to T. M. Brooks while Crawford Adkinson received one vote. Brooks also received one written vote for mayor in Ward 2.

Ed Myatt, the only candidate for commissioner in Ward 1, received a total of 638 votes while four other men received written votes. They were: John Pitts, one vote; Gene Fatheree, two votes; Dick Bayless, two votes; and Mitchell Hill, one vote.

In Ward 2, the voters elected Jack Vaughn as commissioner for the next two years. He received a total of 341 votes while the incumbent, Frank Dial, received a total of 165 votes. The third candidate, Roy C. Bennett, received a total of 65 votes.

Voters in Ward 3 elected R. K. Parsley as commissioner from that ward by giving him a total of 113 votes while the incumbent, W. B. "A" Neel, received 69 votes.

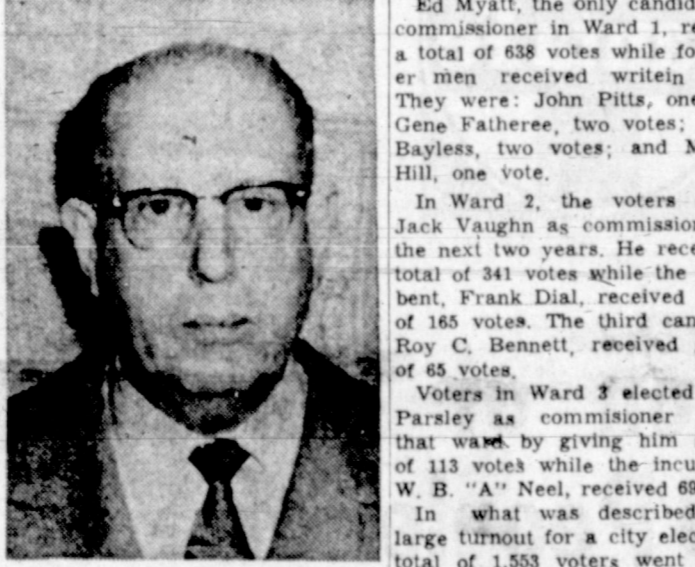

In what was described as a large turnout for a city election, a total of 1,553 voters went to the polls yesterday and expressed their opinion as to which of the 12 candidates, for the five positions on the city commission, were the best qualified. The unofficial returns indicate that only one member of the present commission, Mayor Lynn Boyd, will be on the new commission.

The official canvass of the votes will be made by the City Commission at 3 p. m. Monday and it is expected that the date for the runoff election in Ward 4 will also be set at that time.

The new commission can take office as soon as the official canvass of the votes is completed but it is not known on what date the new commission will take office.

ROBERT D. OLSON
A run-off will decide which of these two men will represent Ward 4.

Texas, Oklahoma Slammed By Tornadoes; Dallas Hit

At Least Sixteen Persons Killed

By W. LEE BOND
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, (UP)—Killer tornadoes whirled slowly through North Texas and southern Oklahoma late Tuesday, crushing hundreds of homes, killing at least 16 persons and injuring upwards of 800 others.

Ten persons were killed in Dallas—the hardest hit area—more than 700 others were injured. An 11th person was killed in Texas 100 miles northeast of Dallas and black tornado funnels swept on into Oklahoma.

BULLETIN
FORT WORTH (UP)—The weather bureau reported at 10:35 a. m. today that a tornado funnel was eight miles southwest of Hensley Field near Fort Worth moving toward Amos Carter Field, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Five were killed in Oklahoma and 14 others were injured there, bringing the two-state death toll to 16. An estimated 800 homes were destroyed in Dallas alone.

Hundreds Injured
At least 170 persons, many of them in critical condition, were injured enough to require hospital treatment in Dallas. The State Department of Public Safety estimated that 800 others were hurt, but not enough to go to hospitals.

Five of the victims in Dallas were children, ranging from five years to one month old. The latest death victim was two-year-old Milton Hilliard who died today at Parkland hospital.

Fathers returning from work went berserk when they found their homes wrecked and families gone and police had to hold them until they calmed down.

"I heard my wife and children crying and I dug them out," T. M. Davisson, 41, and J. C. Newton were caught squarely in the path of the tornado and dived into a 1,900 gallon tank lying empty on the ground. The tornado didn't blow the heavy tank away.

"It sounded like a thousand freight trains," Davisson said. "I've never spent such a nightmare. We would have been cut to pieces if it hadn't been for that tank."

The tornado broke gas pipes and electric lines. Many persons stayed in partly wrecked homes all night, despite threatening thunderstorms, because they feared looters.

Tuesday night, hours after the Dallas tornado, a twister to the west near Fort Worth licked up a house, carried it 70 yards and dashed it against a school. The house was smashed and the school badly damaged.

The tornado that hit Dallas was part of a brood of tornadoes that struck at least eight Texas counties and southeastern Oklahoma. Total casualties in both states were at least 15 dead and 190 injured.

Weather bureau tornado forecasters issued a severe thunderstorm and tornado alert for most of Oklahoma, extreme western Arkansas, northeastern Texas and north-central Texas until early today.

Million-plus Damage
Continued thunderstorms—the same type of weather that bred Tuesday's tornadoes—were forecast for part of that area through today, but forecasters declined to predict possible tornadoes that far in advance.

Besides the nine killed in Dallas, a 10th person was killed 100 miles northeast of Dallas and eight persons were injured in outlying areas.

Five were killed and 30 injured in the Oklahoma community of Little City, in Durant, Okla., in a sector north of Ardmore, Okla., and near Stratford, Okla.

A fisherman and his boat were missing in Eagle Mountain Lake in Tarrant County (Fort Worth). It took the tornado that hit Dallas more than 30 minutes to make its way with a vast roar from Red Bird Airport in Southwest Dallas to Northwest Dallas, where it broke up and vanished.

Thousands of persons watched the tornado's progress, some until it hit them. Some leaped terrified from their automobiles and took shelter; it almost hypnotized others who couldn't stop looking at it until it was upon them.

Assistant Police Chief J. E. Curry of Dallas estimated that 800 homes were destroyed or damaged and that damage totals at least $1,500,000. Rescue squads

Arabian Raiders Sought By Israelis

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Israeli officials announced that "large security forces" moved almost to the Jordan border today in pursuit of Fedayeen (Arab commandos) who ambushed an Israeli police patrol.

Israel announced several new outbreaks of Fedayeen terrorism and Col. Nehemiah Brosh, the Israeli military spokesman, reported a 20-minute border clash between Syrian and Israeli troops Tuesday night.

In other incidents raising tension in Israel, Jordanians stoned an Israeli patrol in Jerusalem itself from the walls of the old Jordan-held city and an Arab farmer was killed by a mine near Talleh village Tuesday on the Israeli-Jordan border.

Military sources said the Israeli police patrol prevent heavy losses through swift action but that two men were wounded seriously in the attack.

Jordan was reported in political turmoil, but reports from there his struggle with Premier Suleiman Nabulsi over Hussein's efforts to keep Jordan from falling into the Communist camp.

Dispatches from Jordan's capital of Amman said a powerful segment of the Cabinet had joined with the King who would like to strengthen Jordan's ties with the West and who approves the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Both Syria and Jordan have been reported torn for weeks in a struggle for power between pro-Communist and anti-Communist groups. The fight in Syria apparently still was unresolved; Hussein appeared to be gaining strength in Jordan.

Political unrest also was reported in Iran, an ally of the United States and a member of the Baghdad Pact. A Tehran dispatch said Premier Hussein Ala called his cabinet to a final meeting this

Tornado Hits Farm North Of Wheeler

(Special to The News)
WHEELER — A tornado struck yesterday on the Bill Lowry farm two and one-half miles north of Wheeler between 6 and 6:30 p. m., destroying a chicken house, the garage, machinery shed and doing slight damage to the house.

Twenty-five chickens were reported killed this morning. The Lowry car was destroyed and several pieces of machinery were damaged beyond repair.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowry were in the house at the time and reported that the first inkling they had of the disaster was when a chicken was blown in through the window. The storm also resulted in Wheeler being without power for some time.

Observers reported that the tornado came out of the southwest, and sped to heading for a residence owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Sims when it changed direction suddenly heading northeast and hitting the Lowry farm. The distance between the two homes was about one mile.

The Sims family reported that they had been watching the progress of the tornado and that it kept hitting the ground and bouncing up on its way toward their farm, but that there was nothing in its way at that time. The next thing they knew, they said, it changed, sending it off to the Lowry's residence.

City's Policy Is Discussed

Members of the Pampa Real Estate Board and guests heard Jay Thompson speak on the topic of "The City's change in attitude in water and sewer payback agreements," at a luncheon meeting yesterday.

Thompson reviewed the former policy of the city of paying back, over a ten-year period, the cost of installing water and sewer lines in new additions. The developer paid the original cost and revenue from the addition was used to pay back the contractor's cost of installation.

He further explained that under the new policy of the city the person buying houses in new additions were having to pay for something that earlier buyers were given. He also reported that the average cost increase on a 70-foot lot would be about $300 and that in many instances this cost would increase the overall cost of the residence to a point that some prospective buyers could not qualify for a loan.

He went on to explain that this change was working a hardship upon the developer and upon all real estate men.

Following the discussion of other points, used to explain his stand, Thompson recommended that the Pampa Real Estate Board adopt the following resolution:

"Resolved, we as builders, developers, sellers of real property, be repaid 50 per cent of the revenue derived from the installation for a period of 10 years—or 33 1/3 per cent of revenue for a period of 15 years—instead of the former basis of 100 per cent of revenue for 10 years; such repayments to come only from revenue derived from the purchasers of service from our installations, and should not sufficient revenue be secured to pay us back for the cost of installation within a contracted agreed period of time, that we continue to absorb our loss as we originally did under the previous agreement."

FINES

Gary Green, 18, of Pampa was charged with hitting Bob Coombes, 16; and John Nutting, 18, was charged with hitting Neil Fulton, 15, last Thursday night, and both were fined the maximum of $25 after pleading guilty to the charges.

Gene Vinyard, 19, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault and battery on the person of Billy Gene Tidwell, 14, on that same evening and his case was set to be heard on April 30.

Two others who were implicated in the case, but who were said not to have taken part in the "beatings" were Ronnie Martin, 20, and Lynn Love, 21. The boys who were beaten testified that these two had not participated in the actual fray and had, in fact, told the others to stop.

The case was alleged to have started when the car with the three boys pulled out of one of the local drive-ins. According to the boys tried yesterday, one of the three boys in that car called out some sort of remark. The car with the five boys then went after them, and when the car stopped, a scuffle followed. The boys who were beaten, however, denied that they had made any sort of remark.

Love testified this morning that he had not known that a fight would ensue when one of the boys jumped out of the car in which he was a passenger and told the boys in the other car that he "wanted to talk" to them. He said that it all happened so quickly that he only had time for a verbal warning to the others to stop.

Parents of the beaten boys seemed rather disturbed at yesterday's hearing that the penalty was not more; however, County Attorney Don Cain pointed out that he had done what he could under the law and added that under the circumstances there was nothing to warrant a stronger conviction because of the very testimony of the beaten boys themselves.

Cain warned the five boys yesterday that such "nonense" would not be tolerated in Pampa. He told them that no matter what they had or had not been called, there was no justification for such an attack. He concluded his reprimand by warning the group that he did not want to see them in court again on any kind of a charge.

Clues Sought In Auto Theft

Local officers are attempting to locate the person that took a '55 Chevrolet from the parking lot at the High School yesterday and wrecked it on Harvester near the end of Magnolia Street.

The police department received a call at 1:40 p.m. yesterday that a car had turned over on Harvester and upon the arrival of the investigating officer the driver of the car could not be found.

Upon checking the registration the officer contacted the owners of the car and learned that their daughter had driven it to school yesterday and that she did not drive it from the school parking lot.

A witness reported to the officer that a teen-age boy was seen running from the car after it turned over and late this morning officers had been unable to learn the identity of this youth.

Four Points Hit Hard

The tornado hit four points particularly hard: Edgesfield Street in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas; an industrial-residential section in the Trinity River bottoms, along the edge of Love Field (municipal airport) and near the point in northwest Dallas where it broke up.

United Press Staff Correspondent Kyle Thompson, who was sent out to follow the tornado, reached the section in the Trinity River bottoms shortly after the tornado hit. It was along Record Crossing Road and Riverside Drive.

"I hit a row of three and four unit apartment houses along Riverside Drive," he reported. "It looked like about 10 apartments were leveled."

"The twister sailed down to earth in the middle of the first apartment house, jumped it, hit the second and then went down a two-block area, leveling other houses."

"I saw one human foot — it looked like the foot of an adult — twisted off and lying against a corner of a house across the street from the apartment houses."

We do not know the names of these people.

Therefore, we are taking this opportunity to express our gratitude publicly.

To everyone who helped, we send a sincere and grateful "thank you" from the Santa Fe.

Book Dulles Wrote Now Haunting Him

A United Press Extra
By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—John Foster Dulles wrote a book seven years ago. It has been haunting him ever since on one point—the question of Red China's admission to the United Nations.

Many times since 1950 Dulles must have thought of the Biblical words in the 31st Chapter of Job, Verse 35—"My desire is... that mine adversary had written a book."

Newsmen and diplomats over the last four years have reminded Dulles that before he became secretary of state he wrote on page 190 of his book "War or Peace."

"which in the winter of 1949 and 1950 were not predictable." He referred primarily to Communist China's aggressive actions against Korea and Indochina.

The State Department has disclosed that Dulles now has written a 2,000-word "foreword" for new editions of his 1950 book, about one-fourth of which is devoted to an explanation of the Red China question.

In 1957, Dulles junks the idea that Red China should be in the United Nations to make it a truly "universal" organization whether member nations are "good" or "bad." He recalls now that he did say the regime should be tested over a reasonable period of time.

"This testing has indicated the ability, so far, of the Communist regime to maintain itself in power, although by ruthless, police-state methods," Dulles now writes. "However, it is equally demonstrated that that regime does not possess the qualities which entitle it to speak for China in the United Nations..."

Mel Ferrer A Svengali?

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Mel Ferrer a Svengali? The handsome actor insists he and wife Audrey Hepburn lead such separate careers that it may be a long time—if ever—before they work together again.

Movietown gossip that the actor-director rules his pixie-faced wife with an iron hand brought a chuckle to Ferrer as he visited here before flying off to Mexico for a movie location.

"I'm flattered if people think I'm responsible for her success because Audrey is doing great," he laughed.

We agreed when we married that each of us would make separate decisions. When I get a script I decide whether I want to do it before I show it to her, and vice versa, Audrey is a person who knows her own mind."

Since their marriage the Ferrer benefit of its sales people only. Half is paid in cash directly to the employees and the other half to a Trustee to provide deferred benefits.

ers have appeared together in "War and Peace" and on television in "Mayerling," two stories in which he thinks they were well cast. They have no plans to act together again "because we don't want people to think we will work only that way, that she will accept a script if I get a part in it, and vice versa. That's not good for her or me."

If the Ferrers co-star again, it probably won't be on live TV. They were plagued on "Mayerling" by everything from broken zippers to bottomless bottles.

"Live TV is a silly waste of time and money," declared Ferrer. "That show cost $650,000. We're in no hurry to do live TV again."

"In another scene I was supposed to be shooting at a mirror and I had to throw the gun at the mirror. Another time I was supposed to drink from a bottle and the bottom fell out. No liquid! I had to pick up another bottle and try to hide the hole in the other one."

"In another scene I was supposed to sink into a chair—and no chair! The camera was on me for a close-up so I was able to signal to the camera operator to move away."

Audrey almost appeared in "Mayerling" minus her dress when a wardrobe woman broke the zipper on her ball gown during one of the hectic 10-second changes. The bodice had to be held together with three big safety pins. She played another scene with her arm stuck in the sleeve of a jacket.

"It's hard to get a performance when your main preoccupation mechanical—I'm sure my performance showed it," he sighed.

The Famous Coconut Grove Is Getting Its Face Lifted

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A couple of Moorish archways, 200 little iron lamps in the shape of palm trees and two plaques are all that is left of the old, world-famous Coconut Grove.

The Grove, since 1921 the film (Advertisement)

capitol's best-known nightclub that has been featured in numerous movies and radio broadcasts, is getting its sagging face lifted—a complete remodeling job.

The other day I looked in on the rejuvenation of this early landmark of Hollywood and can report that the new Grove still will be in that Spanish-Moorish style, but the old features have been demolished.

A small army of workmen were plastering the new, solid ceiling to replace the canvas canopy that made the old Grove look like a mammoth tent. The Moorish-Spanish columns and archways have been chopped up to be sent to the press as souvenirs.

The incinerator claimed the phony palm trees that Joan Crawford once did the Charleston around. Lionel Barrymore used to let his five pet monkey scamper among the papier mache monkeys that swung, lighted eyes gleaming from the fake branches. The monkeys landed in the ashcan, too.

Stars from Mae Murray, John Gilbert and Charlie Chaplin to Eddie and Debbie and Tony and Janet have held hands and tested glasses over the green-painted tree-shaped table lamps. Those, too, are being snapped up as souvenirs.

The Hollywood Foreign Press Awards banquet was the last event held in the famous old club Feb. 28. When the old Moorish balconies were torn out the workmen uncovered two plaques—one marking the first load of airplane passengers to the Grove (including Charles Lindbergh) and the other the arrival of the Graf Zeppelin.

"Too corny, shuddered the decorator.

WASHINGTON: Senate Labor Rackets Committee member Irving M. Ives (R-NY) asked if he agrees with committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) that Teamster Union President Dave Beck is "a thief."

"There is every evidence he may be one."

"I have now come to believe that the United Nations will best serve the cause of peace if its assembly is representative of what the world actually is, and not merely representative of the parts which we like."

"Therefore, we ought to be willing that all the nations should be members without attempting to appraise closely those which are 'good' and those which are 'bad.'"

Must Prove Ability

"If the Communist government of China in fact proves its ability to govern China without serious domestic resistance, then it, too, should be admitted to the United Nations. However, a regime that claims to have become the government of a country through civil war should not be recognized until it has been tested over a reasonable period of time."

Dulles hadn't been secretary of state for long when he had to come to grips with the actual issue of Red China's possible place in the United Nations. He took a strong stand against admission of the Peiping regime' particularly after Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) declared in 1954 that he would fight for American withdrawal from the UN if Red China got in.

After Knowland's blast, Dulles was asked at a news conference whether his views on the issue "have been modified since your book in 1950?"

A Lot Happened?

Dulles took the position, in his answer, that a lot had happened

James Hurts Pampa By Borger, 4-1 Harvesters In 2nd Win Over Bulldogs

Young righthander David James allowed only one hit in a six-inning home run by Neal Simpson to hurl the Pampa Harvesters to a 4-1 non-conference victory over the Borger Bulldogs yesterday.

It was the second victory of the season for Coach Deck Woldt's Pampa team. Both victories were over the Borger squad and it evened their season mark to 2-2. The two losses came at the hands of Lawton and Mangum.

James went six innings for the Harvesters and held the Bulldogs scoreless for five frames. He got in trouble only once, that in the first inning when he walked two and hit a batter. But he finished the inning by striking out the side.

Simpson's four-base blow came in the lead-off spot in the sixth inning. The Harvesters retired the next batter, James hit two consecutive batters and then Pampa used some fine fielding play to eliminate the last two batters.

Mike Conway came in from second base to hurl the final frame. He struck out two and an infield play from Merle Terrell to Robert Langford ended the game.

HOP, STEP AND A JUMP—The White Deer Bucks scored a big portion of the points in the field events and the dash events in the three-way meet here yesterday. The pitcher at left shows White Deer's Jerry Mills (right) finishing a stride ahead of Pampa's Alton Thyngerson in the 100-yard dash and the one at the right shows Courtney White of White Deer taking third in the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet. Veteran Stan Musial Slugs Cards To Easy 9-2 Win Over Cincinnati

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer
Manager Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals isn't kidding when he claims Stan Musial "is like good whiskey; you get better the longer he's around."

Now 6 years old and approaching his 16th season with the Cardinals, Musial no longer has the "kick" of aged-in-the-wood goggle juice, but he still gives most pitchers a hangover.

The veteran outfielder had a perfect five-for-five day at bat Tuesday, stroking out four singles and a homer as the Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Redlegs, 9-2, to complete a sweep of their three-game spring series.

In the batfest against the Redlegs at Tampa, Fla., Musial helped the Cardinals raven up Joe Nuxhall, who gave up seven hits and three runs in the first three innings. Herm Wehmeier, meanwhile, blanked the Redlegs until the sixth when he was nicked for three hits and two runs.

At St. Petersburg, Fla., Enos Slaughter, another old-timer and a former redbird, ignited a ninth-inning rally that enabled the New York Yankees to edge the Boston Red Sox, 1-0. The Yankees put together a single by Slaughter, a forceout, and back-to-back singles by Gil McDougald and rookie Tony Kubek for their only run.

Dodgers Blast Bucs
The Brooklyn Dodgers snapped a "three-game losing streak by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-5. Rany Jackson and rookie John Roseboro homered for the Bucs, who shelled Paul Minner for six runs on eight hits in the first three innings.

Homers by Wes Covington and Joe Adcock helped the Braves down Atlanta, 6-2, Tuesday. Warren Spahn went the route for Milwaukee, although he was touched for 10 hits, including four homers.

Pampa's Clifton McNeely Named All-Stars' Coach

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—M. N. Cotton Robinson of Buna and Clifton McNeely of Pampa were named today as coaches of the rival all-star basketball teams which will compete in the North-South game at the Texas High School Coaches school in Dallas Aug. 8.

Robinson, who has tutored two straight state championship teams—in Class A in 1956 and AA in 1957, will coach the South team, while McNeely, whose Pampa teams are perennial district or state contenders, will pilot the North squad.

They were selected by a poll of the coaches association membership.

Pitching Should Determine Red Sox' Strength

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
SARASOTA, Fla. (UP)—The Boston Red Sox' million dollar offer for pitcher Herb Score was interpreted as an admission by their front office that they can't win without what they've got.

Last year at this time the Yankee millionaires were tabbed as a likely pennant winner, but Manager Mike Higgins' pitching went sour and they wound up in fourth place, 13 games behind the Yankees.

That's why Higgins says that pitching will determine how far the club will go in 1957. He also admits he has to "straighten out my infield."

The one department of the Red Sox which is of solid pennant-winning caliber is the outfield with Ted Williams in left, Jim Piersall in center and Jack Jensen in right. Williams, eager to win the batting title, hit .345 in 1956 with 82 RBIs while Jensen batted .315 with 97 RBIs. Piersall, without a peer in the field, hit .293 with 87 RBIs.

But beyond the outfield the Red Sox lineup is uncertain. There are three candidates for each infield post. At first, it's even a battle against rookies for the veteran Mickey Vernon, who batted .310 last year with 84 RBIs.

Billy Goodman, a good hitter who can't make the double play; Ted Lepcio and two veterans of the baseball trail, Gene Mauch and Billy Klaus, are the second base candidates.

Klaus also is in the running for shortstop along with Billy Consolo and Milt Bolling and also can play third. So can Lepcio. Frank Malzone, for whom the Red Sox had such high hopes last spring and then wound up sending him down to San Francisco, and rookie Ken Aspromonte are the other third base candidates.

Sam White and Pete Daley, who divided the job last year, and bonus rookie Haywood Sullivan, will handle the catching chores.

Sisler "Real Comer"
As for pitching, Higgins tabs Dick Sisler, who won nine while losing eight last season, as "a real comer." Only Sisler, Tom Brewer (19-9) and Ivan Delock (13-7) lived up to Higgins' expectations last year.

Right hander Frank Sullivan won 14 games while losing seven but he started the season in the potential "20 game" class. Bob Porterfield was a disappointment with his 3-12 record and so was the veteran southpaw Mel Parnell, with his 7-6 record. Better things also had been expected of Willard Nixon (9-8) and George Susce (2-4).

Those eight hurlers are sure to stick, so it's little wonder, off 1956 pitching performances, the Red Sox were willing to pay a million dollars for Score. With him the Red Sox feel they could win the pennant. Without him—and that's how they are going to be—they may have more of a battle than they can handle to finish in the first division.

Pitching Should Determine Red Sox' Strength

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
SARASOTA, Fla. (UP)—The Boston Red Sox' million dollar offer for pitcher Herb Score was interpreted as an admission by their front office that they can't win without what they've got.

Last year at this time the Yankee millionaires were tabbed as a likely pennant winner, but Manager Mike Higgins' pitching went sour and they wound up in fourth place, 13 games behind the Yankees.

That's why Higgins says that pitching will determine how far the club will go in 1957. He also admits he has to "straighten out my infield."

The one department of the Red Sox which is of solid pennant-winning caliber is the outfield with Ted Williams in left, Jim Piersall in center and Jack Jensen in right. Williams, eager to win the batting title, hit .345 in 1956 with 82 RBIs while Jensen batted .315 with 97 RBIs. Piersall, without a peer in the field, hit .293 with 87 RBIs.

But beyond the outfield the Red Sox lineup is uncertain. There are three candidates for each infield post. At first, it's even a battle against rookies for the veteran Mickey Vernon, who batted .310 last year with 84 RBIs.

Billy Goodman, a good hitter who can't make the double play; Ted Lepcio and two veterans of the baseball trail, Gene Mauch and Billy Klaus, are the second base candidates.

Klaus also is in the running for shortstop along with Billy Consolo and Milt Bolling and also can play third. So can Lepcio. Frank Malzone, for whom the Red Sox had such high hopes last spring and then wound up sending him down to San Francisco, and rookie Ken Aspromonte are the other third base candidates.

Sam White and Pete Daley, who divided the job last year, and bonus rookie Haywood Sullivan, will handle the catching chores.

Sisler "Real Comer"

NEEDLE-LESS WORK—These volunteer Red Cross workers in Chicago are attacking this haystack in search of—you guessed it—a needle. The stunt was held to dramatize the current fund-raising drive. A local firm promised a substantial contribution if the needle were found. But after much feverish searching the volunteers wearily conceded the old "like-finding-a-needle-in-a-haystack" simile still symbolizes the impossible.

Scientists Trying To Build Wall Mighty Enough To Hold Hot 'Star'

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (UP)—Scientists are striving to build invisible walls mighty enough to hold an artificial star twice as hot as the sun. If they succeed, man's constantly growing demand for power will—for all practical purposes—be forever appeased.

That briefly is the story of Project Starwood, the Atomic Energy Commission's multimillion-dollar research quest for a way to harness the H-bomb's fusion reactions for peacetime power.

As AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss told reporters at a news conference Monday, "Power from fission (the A-bomb reaction) is here today—a constantly expanding reality. Power from fusion is a hope of the future—the somewhat distant future."

But "encouraging progress is being made and certain discoveries are narrowing our approach to the major scientific problems involved" in controlling hydrogen power and making it a servant of peace.

The sun and stars continually manufacture power from fusion in amounts too enormous for the average mind to grasp. Strauss said he is "more confident than ever" that man can do it too though the difficulties are great.

In man's case, the container for a fusion power reactor cannot be of any material substance. At the temperatures involved, a material container would flash instantly and violently into vapor.

So, lacking the gravitational forces which hold superheated gases together at the sun's center, man must fashion a container of another kind.

As an approach to doing that, scientists have thought up the "stellarator," otherwise known as a "magnetic bottle." It is a device for holding hot electrified gases together in non-material walls of sheer magnetic force.

Fusion Controllable
 The trick is to bunch such gases long enough—for several millionths of a second, at least—for them to fuse and liberate power in the form of electrical current.

The sun's fuel is ordinary hydrogen. It fuses hydrogen nuclei to make helium and energy. Its gravitational forces are powerful enough to hold the reacting nuclei together even at temperatures of 50 million degrees Fahrenheit.

Though man has a better fuel in the heavy hydrogen inexhaustibly available in the seas, he has to resort to higher temperatures, 100 million degrees or more. And he cannot invoke the forces of gravitation which serve the sun and stars.

Nobody knows exactly what a hydrogen power plant will look like, but Strauss is certain it will be immense by present power plant standards and will cost "scores of million of dollars."

But, said Strauss, "We are making progress." He quoted a scientist as saying: "Anyone who thinks fusion cannot be controlled is a fool; but anyone who thinks it is going to be easy is an idiot."

Robert Strom To Resume Chase Of $

By WILLIAM EWALD
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK (UP)—Robert Strom, a 10-year-old phenom who houses a giant brain inside a Lilliputian frame, resumes his chase Tuesday night of a quarter of a million dollars.

Rob, a 51-inch, 65-pound fifth grader from the Bronx, N. Y., is the youngster who safely tucked away $44,000 on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Question." Under the revised rules of the show, Rob was permitted to shoot for three more $64,000's—or $256,000 in all.

In his second go-around, Rob, a former quiz kid, has reached the $22,000 level, giving him a tentative $96,000 total. He has climbed to this giddy height by polishing off a series of science questions over seven weeks in categories as chewy as electricity, math, astronomy and chemistry.

Dot Collins Torn Between Chagrin, Grin

By WILLIAM EWALD

 NEW YORK (UP)—Dorothy Collins, winding up a seven-year stretch on "Your Hit Parade," finds herself torn between chagrin and a grin.

Miss Collins, a blonde honey, got her walking papers from the NBC-TV show in February along with her husband, bandleader Raymond Scott, and vocalists Gisele MacKenzie, Snooky Lanson and Russell Arms. The entire crew will depart when the program ends its current cycle in June.

"People have been saying to me for years — 'quit the show, Dorothy, get out on your own,'" said Miss Collins today. "But I didn't want to."

"I've never been ambitious. I always thought about 'Hit Parade': This is my career, this is what I always want to do. I don't think Raymond and I ever would have left on our own."

Had Many Offers
 "The first day I heard about being let go, I felt terribly sad. Raymond expressed it best — he said it would be like moving to another city. But the next day when I woke up, I felt elated. I knew I was free. It was as if a big load had been lifted off my shoulders."

Miss Collins, who began doing cigarette commercials on "Hit Parade" in April, 1950, and started singing on the show two months after, was not completely unprepared for her departure from the program. She has been taking dramatic lessons since last September.

"I've had all sorts of offers the past few years," she said. "I've been asked to do Broadway shows, TV, movies. But I never really had much time for them."

May Have Own Show
 "This summer, I'm going to do 'The Wizard of Oz' in St. Louis and maybe, 'High Button Shoes'."

Kadar Seems To Have Made Good

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 PREMIER JANOS KADAR of Hungary seems to have made good. Only a few weeks ago there were reports that Kadar might be ousted in favor of his No. 1 enemy, Matyas Rakosi, because of the continued ferment of unrest in his country.

But during a 10-day visit to Moscow, Kadar has consolidated his position.

He has made Hungary again completely subservient to Russia and has emerged as the picture of a Communist puppet.

Promises Tougher Policy
 He has denounced Imre Nagy, whom he betrayed during the revolution of last fall. He has denounced President Tito of Yugoslavia for supporting Nagy and the rebel movement.

He has said that his government has not been harsh enough in suppressing the last vestiges of unrest, and has promised to get tougher.

He has promised to start a new purge in order to root out any remaining colleagues who might be guilty of liberal thinking.

He has praised the Russian Red army for its part in suppressing the revolt and has "asked" — as if a request were necessary — that Russian troops remain in Hungary to protect it from "the aggressive schemes of the imperialists."

Reds Extort Billions
 In return, the Soviet government has agreed to supply Hungary with goods worth $2.7 million this year and to grant it a long-term loan of which $175 million will be made available this year.

Considering that Russia extorted billions of dollars from Hungary during the 11 years before last fall's revolt, the aid that is giving to strengthen Kadar is not extravagant.

Kadar has had a rugged career even for a Communist of his standing. He was betrayed and purged by his friend Rakosi, tortured and put into solitary confinement. After the death of Josef Stalin Imre Nagy freed him. Rakosi then managed to get Nagy expelled from the Communist party.

Kadar did nothing to help Nagy. Then Rakosi lost out. During the revolution, while Nagy was premier, Kadar became leader of the Communist party. In a speech, Kadar praised Nagy and proclaimed full support for his independent policy.

Mamie Van Doren May Have Brains As Well As Bosom

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—Mamie Van Doren, a sexy creature in the Marilyn-Jaune-Diana-Monique mold—or should it be axis?—May be dangerously near to violating the code of her tribe. There are distressing signs that she has brains as well as bosom. This development could ruin the whole popular concept of what the "Monroe Cult" constitutes valid membership in. Miss Van Doren, at least, has the beautiful ability and grace to laugh at herself. She has the same hair as the others, the same nose tilt, same apertures and out-growths, also the same distaste for underclothing ("it bunches and spoils the line").

Pair Planned Homicide

ST. LOUIS, April 2 (UP)—Two Texans, both confessed former convicts, told police today they came here to murder a man who gave information against one of them in a bank robbery. The pair, who identified themselves as William Clayton Timberlake, 50, San Antonio, and Oscar C. Swain, 46, of Dallas, were picked up by St. Louis county police last night after a wild auto chase. The men have been fingerprinted and police are checking their statements. Timberlake said he was on parole from the Texas state penitentiary on a 45-year sentence on five charges of armed robbery and Swain said he has served sentences for armed robbery, auto theft and interstate transportation of firearms. Police found a loaded luger pistol in a traveling bag in the back seat of the men's car and a loaded .45 caliber automatic under the front seat. They were captured after an earlier flight from officers, only after Timberlake wrecked the car trying to escape.

Realtor Is Professional

"A Realtor is more than just a real estate man. He is a member of a professional organization who adheres to a strict code of ethics and is pledged to the highest standards in every phase of real estate activity." E. L. Campbell, president of the Pampa Real Estate Board, said today. He issued the statement to stress the importance of the Realtor's Pledge which is being emphasized during the celebration of Realtor Week, Mar. 31-Apr. 6, by the Pampa board and by hundreds of others throughout the country. Campbell said that every member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards has this Pledge as his business guide. The Realtor affirms that he will uphold the lofty ideals of the NAREB Code of Ethics, and that his every undertaking shall be in the interest of his client and the community. "Realtors not only meet state licensing requirements where they exist, but have qualified as professional members of NAREB by demonstrating a high degree of business competence and also a desire to adhere to high business standards, thereby insuring their clients of the highest degree of integrity and honesty in all business dealings," he added.

figure measure? "Well, she said, arising, "I'm five-foot-four and weigh 110, and I have to say I'm a 38 bust but that's not fair because lookit how my back goes in hollow—all my measurement is in the front." "It is, indeed. How do you propose to measure?" "She's Wide-Busted" "You should measure the... what do you call it? There's a name..." "Factoral protuberances," said a hovering press agent. "Yes," said Miss Van Doren, standing there picturesque as a mountain range, across which she drew a protuberant line with her finger. "From here to here, and here to here. Also, I can wear a dress that plunges in front right down to the bottom of my rib cage, because I'm wide-busted. Some girls are so close, pigeon busted, that they can't wear this neckline the way I'm doing." "They're so what?" "Kelly Flattens 'em" "Pigeon busted," said Miss Van Doren. Oh, Well, tell me, how come people have got so all-fired bust conscious in their idea of beauty? "I don't know. Maybe a reaction from the flat 1920's. And then Grace Kelly came along and flattened 'em out again—and boy was I sick! And those house dresses that she wore." One gathered there was a sense of relief that Monaco gained a princess and things in America were back in proper perspective.

Herbert Hoover Jr. Defends Depletion Tax Allowance

ST. LOUIS, April 2 (UP)—Herbert Hoover Jr., son of the former president and recent under-secretary of state, today defended the oil industry's tax allowance for depletion as vital to future petroleum reserves. Hoover, now a consulting geological engineer in Los Angeles, was the keynote speaker at the annual convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. "The present rate of 27 1/2 percent has been applicable to the petroleum industry for over 30 years," he said. "Any revision downward could have the most serious effect on our national security in terms of our future petroleum reserves, especially at a time when the costs of exploration and development are increasing at a rapid rate." Hoover noted that while the domestic producing capacity of the United States was sufficient to meet the emergency caused by the Suez crisis, there was not adequate pipeline capacity from some areas to seaboard. "Had it not been for the unexpectedly high reserve capacity that became evident in Venezuela, this situation could have been far more critical," he said. Hoover linked petroleum security to the industry's success in finding new oil more rapidly than it is consumed. He said that the amount of oil added to reserves in recent years has been slowing down and not keeping pace with the increase in domestic consumption. "This trend is highlighted by the situation in Texas, our largest producing state, where production for the second year in a row has exceeded the amount of new oil added to our reserves," he said. Because of this factor, Hoover said, petroleum exploration is not an activity that can be turned on and off like "a water faucet whenever an emergency arises."

Russia Alarmed Over The Missile Situation

Foreign News Commentary By CHARLES M. MCCANN United Press Staff Correspondent Soviet Russia, seems to be seriously alarmed over the guided missiles situation. It is now clear that Russia's warnings to Norway and Denmark against establishing atomic weapons bases on their territory are part of a pattern. It is quite probable that a similar warning may be sent soon to West Germany. Warnings may go also to Great Britain and France. President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced on March 24, at the end of their conference in Bermuda, that the United States would make "certain guided missiles" available to Britain. Already in Germany But even before that, it had been reported authoritatively that United States troops in Germany were now equipped with atomic warheads. Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin sent a letter to Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen on March 21 warning him that Norway would face a catastrophic attack by H-bombs if it continued to let its territory be "utilized by certain big power aggressive circles to set up military bases against the Soviet Union." Bulganin sent a similar warning to Premier H. C. Hansen of Denmark last Friday. It will be noted that Bulganin's warning to Norway was sent three days before the Bermuda announcement that guided missiles would be made available to Britain. "Predicted" NATO Plan Bulganin, however, mentioned that American troops equipped with atomic weapons were to be stationed in "a number" of coun-

A Look Ahead At Future Headlines

By CHARLES M. MCCANN United Press Staff Correspondent The United States may stage some atomic tests this summer which foreign countries won't be able to detect. Wife Happy To Bring Home Bacon

By GAY PAULEY United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—A new study of the working wife indicates she is happy bringing home the bacon as well as cooking it. Details of an office worker survey arrived at my desk, just as my heart was working up a good case of sympathy for the nation's working women. I was considering them over-worked—22 million (a record number) of them putting in 40 hours a week on the job and heaven knows how many more hours at home cooking, cleaning, marketing and mending. But this study indicates some sympathy should go also to husbands. Their wives are assigning them an increasing amount of household chores. The nation's largest independent automobile financing corporation (C.I.T.) mailed questionnaires on a variety of subjects to its 3,613 women employed in offices in this country and territories. Nearly three fourths of the women reported they liked their two-part role as wage earner and homemaker. Eighty per cent of them added that their husbands help with housework. This may sound to the men like an ominous trend. But it should inspire them to know one wife said, "my husband doesn't help, and I don't know one out of 10 who does." Read The News Classified Ads.
