Pick Four Jurors In Whiteard Trial

Only four men had been selected as jurors in the murder trial of James William Whiteard in Wheeler when the 31st District Court recessed at 5 p. m. yesterday. Whiteard is being tried in connection with the death of Victor Lee Stephens, 19, a farm youth who lived near the scene of the December 1 manhunt east of Shamrock which involved over 200 officers and volunteers in an all night search. The manhunt resulted in the death of Whiteard's half brother, Junior B. Myers, also sought by the officers. A total of 119 residents of Wheeler County had been called on a special venire from which to select the jury but yesterday nearly 20 of these persons had been excused either because of serious illness in the family or because they had moved from Wheeler County. Of the remaining names on the list, 45 were called, including seven women, during the day. Most of those being disqualified or challenged during the day were on the grounds of prejudice to the defendant. Bill Waters, district attorney, was qualifying the jurors on the death penalty. The only juror chosen during the morning was Sam Wright of Montecito. During the afternoon session M. M. Sanders of Wheeler, Henry Lee of Briscoe and W. H. Boydston of Allison were chosen. Whiteard's parents and two sisters attended the selection of the jurors yesterday. The courtroom was nearly filled on the first day of the trial. Wearing a sport jacket, Whiteard was taken to Wheeler yesterday morning from Pampa where he has been in jail since his capture on the morning of December 2. He was handcuffed until he arrived in the courtroom and the handcuffs were removed when he arrived at the counsel table. D. O. Reene of Wheeler is the court-appointed attorney for Whiteard and the case is being tried before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Commission Names Dates Of City Bids

Dates for the opening of bids for the purchase of water pipe; gasoline, oil and greases for city equipment; and for the construction of foundations for the elevated water storage tank; were set by the City Commission this morning. Bids for the construction of the foundations for the elevated water storage tank will be opened by the commission at 10 a. m. on May 7. The million gallon over-head storage tank will be located east of North Creek addition. Also set for May 7 is the opening of bids on 5,400 feet of four inch water pipe to be used by the city in constructing additional water mains. May 14 was set by the commission for the opening of bids on items of fuel and lubricants to be gasoline, oil, greases and other used by city equipment. The commissioners decided this morning to place these items on bids and the necessary specifications will be supplied to all dealers. CONSTRUCTION WORK The commissioners approved the first reading of Ordinance 472 dealing with the closing of the street on the paving of 2 1/2 blocks of unpaved streets within the city limits was held last Tuesday by the commission. The property owners will pay a portion of the cost of paving the streets and the city will pay the remainder. Engineers estimates on construction work on the water and sewer lines authorized under last year's bond issue were approved. (See COMMISSIONS, Page 3)

Charwoman, 104, Gets $300,000

DETROIT (UP)—A 104-year-old charity patient, who worked as a charwoman to raise a family of 10 children, was awarded $300,000 Monday from the estate of a millionaire daughter who tried to cut her off without a cent. The award to Mrs. Wilhelmina Van Eiten, a city-supported patient at a rest home here, climaxed a two year legal battle in courts in Michigan and New York. Mrs. Van Eiten's attorneys, in a suit filed two years ago, contended that her six-times wed-

By Senate Racket Group's McClellan Union's Practices Called Crime

By HERBERT FOSTER, United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee began new hearings today on what it called "a classic example of the use of force and violence... and terror tactics" by union leaders. The investigators concentrated on the Scranton, Pa., area and called as their first witness Paul Bradshaw, a former Teamsters Union official convicted in connection with dynamiting of a house. Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said in an opening statement the hearings will show that "some union officials engaged in bullying tactics and made use of violence and terror tactics to impose their will not only on certain segments of the business community, but also on members of their own unions." Can't Tolerate Crime McClellan said such practices are a crime against the whole community and cannot be tolerated. He said he hoped the hearings will lead to corrective legislation. The chairman said the Scranton hearings—the committee's first since its sensational investigation of racketeering in Portland, Ore., and the finances of Teamster President Dave Beck—will develop "what may be a classic example of the use of force and violence in labor-management relations."

McClellan said in the 1930s most violence in labor relations was started by employers to keep workers from joining unions. But he said that does not justify union violence now. He said the committee has received complaints from all over the country of "threats, intimidation, physical violence and the destruction of property." Most of them he said, are directed against "officials or hired thugs and goons of labor unions." But some are charged against management, he added. Complaints Widespread McClellan said complaints of the use of force have come from New York City; Nashville, Tenn.; Philadelphia; Joplin, Mo.; Charlotte, N.C.; Los Angeles; Chicago, and Portsmouth, Ohio. He said his committee will investigate some of these complaints later. He gave no details of the cases. The Scranton case was expected to involve at least four unions: the Teamsters, the Carpenters and Joiners, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the Hodcarriers and Common Laborers. All are old-line AFL unions which are now members of the merged AFL-CIO. The investigation was expected to touch on the 1954 dynamiting of a house being built by a non-union contractor. Four leaders of building trades unions were convicted of conspiracy to damage the house. Four others confessed having a part in the blast. Bradshaw was a steward of Local 229 of the General Drivers and Helpers Union, a Teamsters'

Russia Intervenes In Jordanian Coup

By GEORGE BITAR, United Press Staff Correspondent BEIRUT, Lebanon (UP)—The Soviet Union intervened in the Jordan political crisis in an unsuccessful effort to keep leftist Premier Suleiman Nabulsi in power, informed Arab sources said today. The sources said the Soviet sent warnings to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, Syrian President Shukri El-Kuwatly and King Hussein that Israel was preparing an armed attack that could come at any time. The warning was made to persuade Hussein not to insist on the withdrawal of Syrian troops from Jordan and to persuade him to retain Nabulsi as premier on grounds it would be fatal for Jordan to be without a government when attacked. Hussein suspected the intrigue but did not leave anything to chance, the sources said. He called in the foreign ambassadors in Amman to check the reports and then went ahead with his original plans when informed the reports were without foundation. It was Nabulsi who announced two weeks ago that Jordan planned to establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. The 21-year-old King was known to be violently opposed to this, and the sources said this action helped him take the warning with a grain of salt. However a Foreign Office spokesman in Amman said Monday Jordan will "repulse by force" any Israeli aggression. The Foreign Ministry said it had informed all Arab and Western embassies of this decision. Diplomatic observers speculated that the Soviet warning may have been aimed at bolstering leftists in Syria as well as Jordan. Hussein has reported to have protested alleged reinforcement of the Syrian force in north Jordan, but Foreign Minister Salah El Bitar denied in Damascus that Jordan had asked for its withdrawal. Hussein went ahead and ousted Nabulsi last Wednesday to touch off a week-long power struggle. The two appeared to have struck a compromise Monday night when Hussein Khalidi, a former foreign minister and a staunch supporter of the King, formed a cabinet which included Nabulsi as foreign minister and minister of communications. Informed sources here said Jordan's position was still far from clear although King Hussein apparently had won. But they said the basic issue of whether Jordan will pursue a pro-Western or a leftist foreign policy remains to be seen. Reports from Jordan gave a confused picture of the situation. A Western diplomat who arrived here from Amman said leftist politicians, a segment of the army and Syrian agents had plotted to overthrow Hussein.

Treat Pleads Not Guilty In Assault Case

Donald Ray Treat pleaded not guilty in county court this morning to a charge of aggravated assault. He was released after posting a $500 bond set by the court. The charge was filed against Treat following a disturbance call received by the police department at approximately 10:30 last night at Bennie's Place, 1210 S. Barnes. Upon arriving, two officers learned that the men that caused the disturbance were not there and as the officers were leaving the three returned. After the other two men had been taken to patrol cars, Treat was being taken by Patrolman H. L. Kay when Treat is alleged to have struck the officer upon the head. Another officer assisted Kay in stopping the fight and Treat was taken to the city jail and the aggravated assault charge was filed this morning.

Police Seeking Borrowing Pair City police were looking for the persons that took a 1950 Chevrolet from the place they were parked during the night and returned them before daylight today. A 1953 and a 1954 Chevrolet were taken sometime during the night from the places the owners had left them. Apparently after driving them for some time the persons responsible for the thefts returned the cars. The 1954 Chevrolet had been full of gasoline when parked and the tank was empty when returned.

Special Order Restoring Postal Services Planned

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee called a special session today to rush action on a postal "money order" aimed at restoring full postal service by Saturday. Quick committee approval was expected. Leaders hoped to get the $1 million dollar emergency appropriation before the Senate for action late today. But there was no assurance the Senate would actually go to work on the bill today. Unanimous consent is required for the Senate to waive its rule that appropriations must "lie over" for three days before the Senate acts on them. Summerfield Stands Pat A single senator could block action. This would delay the bill until Friday and might prevent restoration of full postal service this Saturday. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has said he will not restore service until the money bill is passed and signed by President Eisenhower. There is not even an assurance the Senate will meet Friday. It is scheduled to quit for a long Easter recess at the close of business Thursday. It might, however, be held over until Friday if necessary to pass the postal bill. Odds generally seemed to favor Senate action in time for restoration of mail deliveries and reopening of postal windows this Saturday. A post office spokesman has told the United Press full service could be restored "within 24 hours" after the money is available. Actually, chances were Summerfield would give the order to restore service as soon as the Senate acts. Eisenhower's signature then would be just a matter of getting the final measure to the White House.

Stamps and six-cent air mail stamps and hikes in other mail costs. Although committee members said the squabble over his postal cutbacks would have little effect on his case for stamp price hikes, members were likely to question him closely on reasons for the postal curbs. Summerfield faced a possible rough session today when he appears before a public session of the House Post Office Committee to plead for an increase in postal rates—a penny boost in three-cent stamps and six-cent air mail stamps and hikes in other mail costs. Although committee members said the squabble over his postal cutbacks would have little effect on his case for stamp price hikes, members were likely to question him closely on reasons for the postal curbs.

Wheat Crop May Not Be Boosted

No big boost in prospects for this year's wheat crop is expected in spite of recent rains, a report from the Texas Employment Commission indicates. A farm labor bulletin from the wheat harvest control office at TEC's Amarillo office indicated that the Amarillo-Vega-Pampa-Claude area had reported to them that recent rains were only temporary relief, and only a fair yield could be expected even if conditions are normal until harvest dates. The bulletin continues to report that condition of the crop in the northern Panhandle is also uncertain at this time. Should hot, dry weather begin early, it is doubtful that this late wheat can produce yields worth combining, the report continues. Also, weeds could be a major problem in the acreage that germinated after the February rains. There is approximately 100,000 acres of spring oats and barley in the northern Panhandle area considered to be in fair to good condition at this time, the report concludes. "That many prominent names have been thrown around maliciously in this inquiry is shown by the injection of the name of former Texas Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Mr. Shepperd had absolutely nothing to do with ICT affairs and I regret that in this smear campaign his and other names have been deliberately introduced. "It seems obvious that some of my former associates are attempting with reckless abandon to have been mine and all the good decisions appear to have been theirs. These associates are the ones I named earlier. I feel certain that clear thinking people will see through that smoke screen. "The National Association of Insurance Commissioners made a convention examination by examiners representing all 23 states in which the ICT operated, after I left the company, "According to letters to stockholders and published reports, this examination was favorable. In addition, the company was re-licensed for 1956 at a time when renewing insurance company licenses in Texas was not a routine matter. I think the record speaks for itself. "Stewart E. Hoppes of San Francisco, Calif., is a reinsurer who in the early stages of the ICT advised on reinsurance matters. In later years, other brokers assumed our accounts. "Hoppes and Sheridan "His knowledge of reinsurance matters is well recognized. "Ed Sheridan is an insurance agent in San Antonio and represented the ICT. Mr. Sheridan also is a state representative, and, as far as I know, is a responsible man." (Two of the questions specifically concerned Cages dealing with Hoppes and Sheridan.)

Teamster Boss Dave Beck's Future At Stake In Board Meeting Today

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP)—The executive board of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters decides today whether to answer May 6 to AFL-CIO charges of corruption or thumb its nose at the united labor body. Also at issue, although less directly, may be the future of Teamsters President Dave Beck, who was suspended from his AFL-CIO vice presidency after he invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times, before Senate questions into his handling of union funds. Beck was quoted Monday night as saying that if he answered those questions "it might blow the lid right off the Senate." He said he was "taking the rap" for "a lot of fine people." He was quoted as saying: "I think these restrictions on contributions are all wrong, but if I start talking about contributions it's going to embarrass a lot of fine people whom I don't want to hurt." The inference was drawn that Beck had made political contributions in violation of the Taft-Hartley law with the union funds, which the Senate charged he had diverted to his own use. Beck had previously said in a TV press conference that he had borrowed the $300,000 without interest and had paid it back.

Details Committee For Hotel Is Named

A executive committee to handle routine details connected with the construction of the community-owned hotel was formed this morning by the board of directors of the Community Hotel Company of Pampa. The executive committee was formed for the purpose of handling routine matters without the call of the entire board of directors for the purpose of taking action. Members of the committee are: George Cree Jr., president of the hotel firm, chairman; C. P. Buskier, chairman of the building committee; H. O. Darby, chairman of the collections committee; George Scott, chairman of the operations committee; E. L. Green Jr., chairman of the finance committee; and Hugh Burdette, chairman of the site committee. The executive committee will make monthly reports to the board of directors as to action taken by the group during the month. Any important decisions will be referred to the board of directors for action.

BenJack Cage Tells United Press

Fight For Power, Union Contracts Helped Ruin ICT

By JOSEPH A. TAYLOR, United Press Staff Correspondent Copyright by United Press SAO PAULO, Brazil (UP)—BenJack Cage charged in an exclusive interview today that a fight for power and an overgenerous contract with the office workers union helped ruin ICT Insurance Co. He said his former associates were trying to make him the goat, by blaming him for all the bad decisions and taking credit themselves for the good ones. He said that when he finishes his present "project" in South America, he is willing "to return to go into this matter further." But he indicated that he may be digging in for a long stay. Detailed Founding I interviewed Cage for eight hours in a small restaurant in Sao Paulo. He explained in detail If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hilde. (Adv.)

the founding of the company in 1951, "at a time when the insurance industry in Texas was ready for a powerful expansion." He told about his departure from ICT, now under investigation by two Legislative committees, a grand jury and the Federal government, and why he thinks it blew up. The only time during the eight hours that his voice betrayed any emotion was when he mentioned his former associates. His cousin, James G. Cage, who took over as president after he left, Jerry Holleman, executive secretary of the Texas State Federation of Labor, and Otto Mullinax, a labor lawyer. Cage's pretty blond wife, Dorcas, sat beside him. Both were wearing warm, but conservative sports clothes, because of heavy rains which have taken the edge off the summer warmth in Sao Paulo. Learning Portuguese Cage and his wife disclosed they are learning Portuguese, the language of Brazil, and Cage said he is investigating business opportunities here as well as Rio de Janeiro. He feels that opportunities are almost unlimited in Brazil. We first went into a specific list of questions that had been made up by the Houston Press, in collaboration with United Press. Some of these "reserved" answer on until later" and never did reply to. "Most of the questions already have been answered by the people in question," he told me. "Furthermore, in most cases I think that former State Insurance Commissioner Garland Smith and J. Byron Saunders have outlined adequately the facts. Sound Investments "I definitely feel that the investments which the ICT made while under my management were sound. If the companies had continued to function as a group and had carried out my expansion program, the ICT group would still be operating today. "The efforts by James Cage, Mr. Holleman, Mr. Mullinax and associates to smear me and to tear down what the ICT previously had gained should have been spent creating confidence and arranging adequate financing for the group. If this had been done, the stockholders would still have a going concern. "The personal friction and fight for power by a few labor and ICT officials continued to the collapse. I definitely do not refer to the rank-and-file of labor, as they were not part of the fight. "Among the items which apparently have been covered up for some reasons was the excessive cost of the office workers union contract which probably exceeded by $500,000 to $750,000 what competing insurance companies were paying. The records to verify and analyze these facts are all still in Texas where they can be examined easily. "That many prominent names have been thrown around maliciously in this inquiry is shown by the injection of the name of former Texas Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Mr. Shepperd had absolutely nothing to do with ICT affairs and I regret that in this smear campaign his and other names have been deliberately introduced. Post Office Department Urges Postal Savings System End

Postmaster O. K. Gaylor said today the Post Office Department is urging Congress to liquidate the Postal Savings System because it has outlived its usefulness.

Social Security News Block

Social security payments can be paid retroactively for only one year before the formal application is filed, if entitlement exists in the earlier months, according to John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo District Office.

"There are some rare occasions," he went on, "when a person claims benefits, fails to prove entitlement for a number of months, then succeeds and gets back payments for more than a year from the time he furnished the last bit of evidence on which his eligibility depended."

"Ordinarily, such occasions are few and far between, as a social security office is usually able to help people gather, in about three weeks or so, any evidence needed to prove their rights to benefits," added Sanderson.

He further stated that the vast majority of the more than nine million people now receiving monthly social security payments had no trouble getting their checks started. It was thus not necessary to pay them retroactively for more than a month or so unless they had delayed filing their claims for many months past their initial eligibility.

"We have always suggested that the nearest social security office be notified when a possible claimant reaches the age of 65, or when a person insured under social security dies," Sanderson concluded.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, the local postal head explained, has urged that the Congress approve legislation which would permit liquidation of postal savings in such a way that there would be a minimum of inconvenience to depositors.

Such legislation, which is in line with recommendations of the second Hoover Commission and the Comptroller General of the United States, is now pending in Congress, Postmaster Gaylor noted.

Pointing out that postal savings deposits have dropped rapidly — from $3,393,000,000 in 1947 to $1, at the rate of about $20 million a month — Postmaster Gaylor said the system "no longer meets today's social conditions and savings habits."

Noting that today nearly all postal savings system depositories are concentrated in post offices in communities which have commercial banks, he added that "today funds are invested with confidence in United States Savings Bonds and in government guaranteed bank and savings and loan deposits."

Locally, postal savings total $290,000 today, compared with $950,000 ten years ago.

Kim Stanley To Sip Sweet Wine Of 'I-Told-You-So'

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Kim Stanley, an outspoken young actress who has jousted with drama critics in the past, hopes to sip the sweet wine of "I-told-you-so" next Monday.

She'll star in a CBS-TV "Studio One" version of "The Traveling Lady," a Horton- Foote play that laid a gentle bomb on Broadway three years ago.

"It ran about six weeks," said Miss Stanley with a slight trace of testiness. "Well received? Well, if it had been well received, it would probably have run a little longer. Actually, the reviews were mixed—three favorable and four unfavorable."

"It deserved a better fate. And I've been interested in re-doing the play for some time. It's one of the greatest plays I've ever worked in. Obviously, I think the reception was not right. I look on the whole thing as a kind of unfinished business."

"The Traveling Lady" set for April 22 on the hour drama segment, centers around the reunion of a young girl with her husband after he has been sprung from prison.

Kim, who has performed in Broadway's "Picnic" and "Bus Stop" and such TV jaunts as "Joey," "Death is a Spanish Dancer" and "Flight," is convinced that TV should turn more often to plays that thudded on the boards.

"I can think of several works not well received on and off Broadway that should be revived. One of our troubles, I think, is that we have come to think that if something is labeled a ' flop,' it must be bad.

"It would be terrible if, say, all the good music we would be missing. The important thing of each individual should be his own reaction to a work, the important thing is that it moves you."

DeMolay Boys Pick April 30 Officials

Final plans for DeMolay Day, chosen City Commissioners, C. Myers, Winton Roundtree, Andy Epps and Bill Tidwell were elected county commissioners.

Following the activities of running the city and county governments were chosen by elections and appointments, on April 30 all city and county officials will be run by members of DeMolay.

Votes cast in secret balloting last night selected the boys to be mayor, city commissioners, sheriff, chief of police, county judge, county attorney and others.

The campaigning and electioning became interesting as the balloting came near. After the smoke cleared the following boys were elected to serve in the offices listed:

Robert Grider, mayor; Ted Mastin, county judge; Davey Smith, sheriff; Glenn Howell, deputy sheriff; Dickie Mauldin, city manager; Corky Cambern, chief of police; Jerry Carlson, fire chief; Gabe Crossman, assistant fire chief; Eugene Shirley, assistant chief of police.

Robert Collett, Bill Gaut, Jim Gardner and Grant Cambern were

Funeral Held For J. O. Hudson

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 p.m. for J. O. "Shorty" Hudson, Jr., 43, who died Saturday in Veterans Hospital in Big Spring.

The services were held at the Bethel Assembly of God Church with Rev. H. H. Woods, pastor of the Berger Assembly of God church, officiating, and Rev. Paul Bryant, pastor of the Pampa Church, assisting.

Survivors include his wife, Bonita; a daughter, Charlotte Miller, both of Pampa; six brothers, Walter of Houston, Sam of Bridgeport, Lee of Seminole, Floyd and Cecil of Dumas and Emmett of Des Moines; one sister, Mrs. Hodges of Houston; and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hudson of Bridgeport.

Pallbearers were Dean Young, Elmer Nunley, Jim Wilkerson, Edwin Hogan, A. B. Wade and Blake Laramore.

Mr. Hudson was buried in Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Hudson had lived here 12 years and moved to Dumas in 1954.

Injury Suit Filed In District Court

A suit and bond for removal were filed this morning in the 31st District Court in the case of Roy Cleo Bennett vs. the National Fire Insurance Company.

The petition arose out of injuries sustained allegedly while Bennett was in the performance of his duties as an employee of the Tri-State Petroleum Company.

Humble reduced the price it pays for crude in Carson, Gray, Hutchinson and Wheeler Counties by 13 cents a barrel to a new price of $3.02 a barrel.

Humble said that since the January general increase in crude prices that 60 per cent of crude in the Panhandle area was being bought at 13 cents a barrel below Humble's posted prices. The Humble reduction brings the company's price in line with that of Phillips Petroleum and Magnolia Petroleum who are also large buyers commissioners approved estimates No. 1 on both projects for payment of the amount approved. The city secretary was authorized to pay $7,398.02 to Brodie and Enix of Amarillo for work completed on the sewer lines, and $1,177.16 to the same firm for work completed on the water lines.

Title insurance on water rights was approved by the commissioners and engineer's estimated in the amount of $5,430 for the drilling of water test holes by H. H. Heiskell was approved. The test holes will be drilled on land located south of town on which the city has recently obtained options to the water rights.

Commissioner W. D. Varnon, held over as commissioner of Ward 4 pending the election of a commissioner from that ward in the May 14 runoff election, acted as mayor in the absence of Mayor Lynn Boyd.

The commissioners were still in session this morning and items scheduled for discussion were: the Hobart Street underpass and related right-of-way; a report on departmental activities; a report on the financial condition of the city and a project and equipment and status report.

Memorial For Ernie Pyle Set

NAHA, Okinawa (UP)— Memorial services will be held on Sunday April 28 for famed American war correspondent Ernie Pyle who was killed there during the closing days of World War Two.

The memorial services, sponsored by the Okinawa American Legion Post, will honor the little Scripps Howard correspondent who earned the reputation as the "bitter fighting in Italy."

After slogging through the mud and sharing K-rations with the infantrymen in Europe and telling their stories that earned him a place in American hearts, Ernie went to Okinawa to report the fighting there.

A sniper's bullet ended his writing career in the last hours of the final major battle of World War II.

The Ernie Pyle Memorial Services are sponsored yearly by the Okinawa American Legion Post.

Part Of New York's Easter Parade Will Be Indoor Affair

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)— Part of New York's famous Easter Parade will be an indoor affair this year.

Next Sunday, at least nine style "spectaculars" in various hotels will compete with the traditional toe-bruising show on Fifth Avenue.

Everyone attending the new-style shows, with lunch included, is helping a cause — from the American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation.

Shows, not New
Admission ranges from $5 to $25 per person (champagne is included in the latter charge). The benefit shows aren't new, but each year their numbers increase as the Fifth Avenue Association and the New York Police Department attempt to curb the hi-jinks on the avenue. This year, for instance, is the seventh for the Kenny lunch and children's fashion show.

The association said it expected about two million persons to jam the avenue... a sharp contrast to the few hundred strollers who turned out when the parade had its beginnings at the lower end of Manhattan Island more than a century ago.

Then, the fashionable churches were downtown and it was the custom for the churchgoers to take a stroll along the streets when the services were over.

As the city grew, the churches and fashionable residences moved uptown. Some sources say that by the 1870's the parade was pretty well established, but it wasn't until the 1880's that the newspapers began to give it much space.

The Easter Parade had its unusual attractions early in its history. One account of the parade in the 1920's told of a party of "cigarette smoking girls" who strolled past St. Thomas and St. Patrick's Cathedral "puffing with assurance and invoking the sensation for which they had hoped."

The parade survived the Wall Street crash, and a United Press dispatch on the 1931 event began this way:

U. S. Didn't Fight In Egypt But Is Kicking In The Cash

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)— The United States, which didn't fight in Egypt last fall, is kicking in about 70 per cent of the money to help the United Nations untangle problems left by the British-French-Israeli invasion.

This country is putting up $15,330,000 of the $26,500,000 being spent to clear the Suez Canal and to station U.N. Emergency Forces at Middle Eastern trouble points.

If all goes well the United States will get $9,500,000 back some day. A minimum of $8,850,000 is earmarked as a gift.

Just A Loan
The United States in early January offered to advance half of the 10 million dollars asked by the

Parents Build Speed-Stopper

LIBERTY, Mo. (UP)— Parents angered and worried by speeding motorists built a "governor" into Hillcrest Street here Sunday.

Eight couples pitched in to dig a three-inch trench across the black top road, which is used as an access route to a state highway.

Debris from the excavation was piled along the top of the trench to create a three-inch mound and a total dropoff of six inches.

This, the parents figured would provide quite a jolt for a speeder. Along the approaches the group erected warning signs, including some reading "Slow, Mad Parents."

Parents acted after the city council said it had no funds to finance a slow-down project but had no objection to do-it-yourself installation of a slow-down obstruction across the road, along which 30 children live.

said it would be paid back "eventually." He didn't say how. There is a move underway now to get the repayment funds from a surcharge on canal tolls. This, however, hasn't been accepted by Egypt which collects the tolls.

Britain, France and Israel, who joined in the Egyptian invasion, aren't paying anything to clear the canal. The Soviet Union has refused to pay any of the U.N. Emergency Force costs.

United Nations for Suez clearance operations. This five million dollars is to be repaid.

So far eight nations have pledged another six million dollars for Suez clearance. Therefore a total of 11 million dollars is on hand for this project. The cost is estimated at 10 million dollars or more. Canada, Australia, Norway and Western Germany each have pledged one million dollars. Sweden $500,000; Denmark $500,000; Italy $400,000; and the Netherlands $300,000. Belgium was asked to chip in but declined.

Stationing of U.N. Emergency Forces in the Middle East is going to cost about $14,500,000 this year. The United States will provide $6,500,000 of this as a gift.

Others Stand Pat
Beyond these costs the United States provided air transportation to move the special U.N. police force to the Middle East. The commercial equivalent would have cost $2,250,000. This too is a gift.

The United States also is providing $4,500,000 of services and supplies for the U.N.E.F. This is to be repaid when the Defense Department submits its bill to the United Nations.

How will the United States get its five million dollars for the Suez clearance back? When U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld asked for the money he

Schools And Leaders

Mark Hopkins is credited with having once said: "A good school is a log, at one end of which is an apt student and at the other end an inspired teacher."

The statement is peculiarly important today when so much emphasis is being placed on providing elaborate and costly school construction to replace the log, and when such great importance is placed on universality of education so that instead of the two persons depicted, government education could be likened to one teacher trying to instruct a whole forest.

We have just received a most important bulletin put out by the A. N. Marquis Co. of Chicago. This is the publishing house which gives us "Who's Who in America," the authoritative voice respecting persons of importance and substance in this nation. The Marquis company has conducted an appraisal of the backgrounds of every person listed in their vast catalogue. The findings are significant.

It seems that back in 1920, private schools were carrying more than one-third of the secondary schools burden. And it was during that time that many of our present crop of leaders got their education. We suppose the findings will prove shocking to some who insist that government education is the best that can be provided, but according to this completely reliable survey, persons who were graduated from private schools predominate "Who's Who" on a per capita basis.

The ratio is startling. According to the record, for every person with a private school education who was admitted to "Who's Who" there were 157 enrolled. Thus, the chances of a person's being admitted to "Who's Who" on the basis of his recognized leadership is 6 to 1 in favor of the private school background.

The editors of "Who's Who" are themselves rather intrigued by what their own research reveals. They say: "Politics in a democracy interferes with anything educational that savors of tax-paid special opportunity."

And again: "In a period that has been termed the 'era of the common man,' the private schools continue to produce more than their share of the much needed 'uncommon man.' For this they deserve the support of every element concerned with the future good of the country. How else, in a democracy such as ours, can we compete with the intensive educational grooming of the few to the exclusion of the many that seem to be getting results behind the iron curtain?"

Eight significant finds come from this report. They are:

1. The government schools today predominate in "Who's Who" with regard to numbers of graduates listed. (An inevitable situation because of the numerical superiority of government schools.)
2. The private schools predominate in "Who's Who" on a per capita basis.
3. Private schools tend to develop the superior talents which come their way to a much greater extent than do the government schools.
4. There is little connection between rates charged at private schools and leadership-production as gauged by representation in "Who's Who."
5. There is a connection between endowments and leadership production.
6. Leadership production among the private schools cannot be gauged by age of the school, prominence or difficulties encountered in gaining admissions.
7. Private schools provide a valuable balance wheel in our system of secondary education just as private colleges do in higher education.
8. The nation has lost tremendously by the demise of private schools that have furnished a surprising number of leaders still active in the business and professional worlds.

When it comes to leadership, "the private schools that dot the country from one end to the other give the nation real coverage in this extremely important field, and the common good demands that more of them be equipped with endowments to care for gifted students unable to pay their own way."

The full report is extremely valuable! Copies can be had for only 5 cents by writing directly to A. N. Marquis Co., Chicago, Illinois.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Special Report: Social Gospel - 1957 IV.

In a recent issue I was quoting an article in "Faith and Freedom" on the socialistic trends of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

In this issue I want to quote what Dr. Kenneth W. Sollitt writes in this magazine about the various resolutions passed by the Baptists in their conventions.

From here on I am quoting: "No man in his right mind would presume to speak for a million and a half American Baptists. (Resolution Committees, take note.) This is merely the opinion of one of them, but I base it on several years of observing convention antics and the experience of serving on Resolution Committees. Our resolutions must be evaluated rather than accepted at face value. Facts to consider in evaluating them are these:

"Of our more than 6,000 churches, less than half are ever represented at an annual convention. Some never are. The larger and wealthier churches always are.

"We elect one man from each of the 36 states of the American Baptist Convention to serve on the Resolutions Committee. Sometimes we elect him because he speaks for a certain type of social philosophy; sometimes because he can't talk himself out of the job. Once elected he must try to represent churches ranging from the most conservative to the most liberal, both theologically and socially.

"At the first meeting the committee is haunted by a representative of the Council on Christian Social Progress (not a committee member) who has a briefcase full of resolutions for the committee's consideration. The committee can rubber stamp them and get back to the convention, or haggle over them in extended sessions that often last into the wee hours of the morning. The committee usually chooses the latter course for good Baptists make poor 'Yes men.'

"Near the close of the convention with half the delegates traveling home, and the other half too tired to show up or too tired to resist, the printed resolutions reach the convention floor. Seldom more than ten to twenty per cent of the convention delegates attend this session, thus reflecting their wholesome disrespect for resolutions. The delegates present are usually those who seek their passage.

"The resolutions usually pass with a minimum of debate, whereupon the Council on Christian Social Progress which originated them in the first place seizes upon them as 'the mandate of the denomination' and publicizes them as the expression of a million and a half Baptists, scarcely one half of one per cent of whom had anything to do with them, or is likely to have after they are passed.

"Pushing Wheelbarrows" "One picture emerges clearly from this procedure: the picture of a few eager beavers pushing wheelbarrows loaded with printed resolutions around for the exercise. The only thing I can say with certainty: those who are pushing them are also following them.

"American Baptist resolutions last year included support of civil rights, refugee relief, Social Security, the U. N. and the expenditure of 'private, local, state, or federal funds' for housing, aid to education and grants to hospitals. They opposed peacetime military conscription, alcohol, narcotics, harmful literature and H-bomb tests by the United States Government. One guess is as good as another as to how much they really mean.

"Hold me to just one thing on which American Baptists are completely united and I say 'their insistence on rejecting all man-made creeds.' This applies only to theological creeds, however. Someday, we may wake up and apply it to social creeds as well. Then we can eliminate the arduous task of preparing meaningless resolutions. Until then, one of the great sources of amusement in our Convention is the observation of the Social Action forces in the denomination take themselves. Baptists know that a better tomorrow depends on better people, not better resolutions."

The Doctor Says

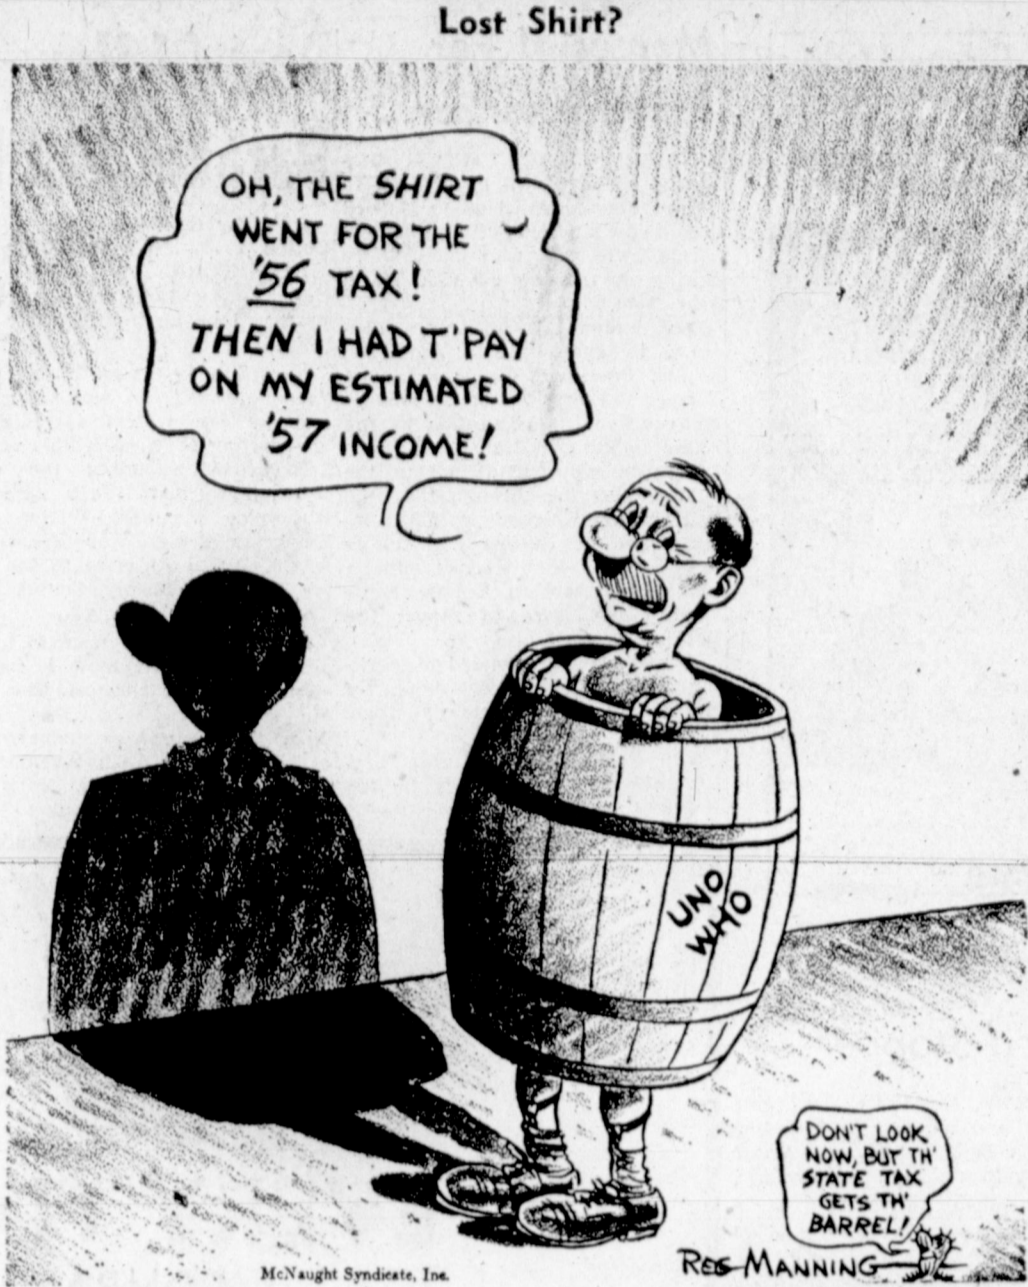

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D. A man who writes that he is 84, asks two important questions about cataracts, which he says he has in both eyes.

First, he asks if surgery is not performed would his vision decrease and later would total blindness be possible. His second question is whether there is a percentage of failure from surgery.

Now a cataract is a clouding of that portion of the eye which serves as a lens. This clouding produces some blurring in vision, just as a dirty lens would do with the picture taken by a camera. Ordinarily the cloudiness of the lens increases slowly and with it the fuzziness and haziness of the vision.

IN ANSWER to the first question, the vision does tend to decrease and blindness is a possibility.

There is little reason to believe

THE NATION'S PRESS

BUREAUCRATIC AWAKENING

(California Feature Service) An encouraging sign that the federal bureaucracy may be growing alert, instead of allergic, to public opinion is indicated in the recent comments of Interstate Commerce Commission Chairman Owen Clarke. Discussing the public relations problems of regulatory agencies, Mr. Clarke said that one of any such agency's most important areas of needed improvement involves the problem of cases which grow old before the agency reaches a decision.

Mr. Clarke pointed with justifiable pride to the fact that the ICC has cut down delays and generally speeded up its case work. "Government, the industry regulated, the users or persons served directly by that industry, the general public... all of these are vitally concerned with how long an agency takes to do its work," he said. "These are words of wisdom all regulatory bodies—including State agencies—should take to heart. Legislation now pending in Sacramento would require California's Public Utilities Commission to give early consideration to rate increase requests based on increased wage costs. This undoubtedly is a step in the right direction of making sure that State, as well as federal, regulatory bodies keep their work loads current."

With all the talk in Washington about economy you would think that any department would seize the opportunity to save $5 million. Not so. A government accountant told the House Armed Services Committee that it was sometimes easier for a company to make an additional $5 million on a federal contract than to get the Air Force to accept a refund. The situation involved the Ford Motor Co. which agreed to produce wings for one of the large airplane companies under Air Force contract. After starting the work Ford Motors found that their profit margin was much higher than expected and asked the plane manufacturer to revise the contract.

The company said it couldn't afford to keep changing the terms. Ford then offered to return $5 million of the profits to the Air Force. The Air Force didn't seem interested in the matter, the accountant declared. Finally Ford sent the $5 million to the Treasury Department. If this report from Washington is substantially correct, and we have no reason to believe it is not, it shows clearly one of the reasons why defense production costs are so astronomical. It also demonstrates that a tough crackdown on military waste is long overdue.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND, IKE

(N. Y. Daily News) Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States, where 12,000,000 aspirin tablets are consumed yearly, has taken three different stands on taxes and government spending in four days.

On Monday, the White House allowed for publication that it was agreeable to a few cuts in the $1.4 billion foreign aid item in the Eisenhower budget.

On Tuesday, Gen. Eisenhower told the Advertising Council that his peacetime-record budget represented eye strain, variations in the general health, or other factors, directly influence the development of a cataract and its progress. Most cataracts come in the later years of life and are probably associated with the aging process.

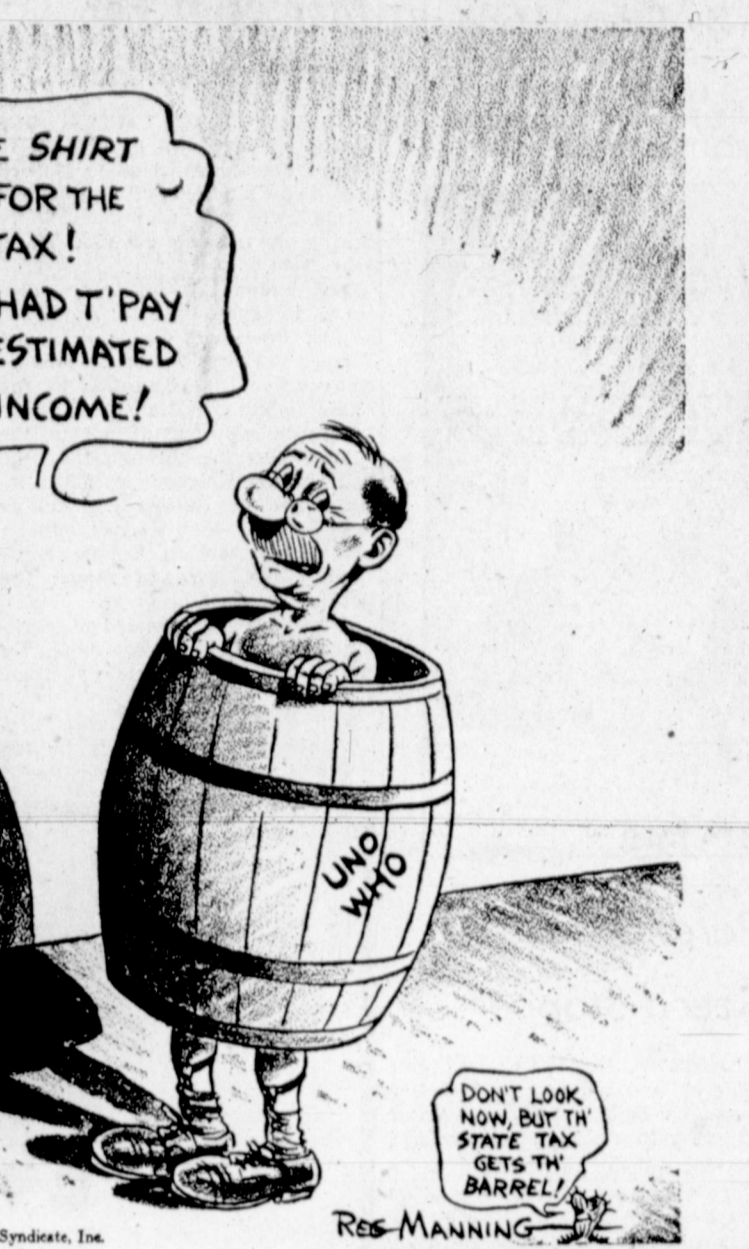

As yet no method has been discovered to prevent their development, nor to treat them medically, either in the way of delaying the progress of the cloudiness of the lens or dissolving the cataracts. AT THE beginning a cataract is called "incipient." When the process of clouding has been completed it is called "ripe" or mature. It is common for the cataract in the two eyes to be at different stages of development.

As the writer implied, surgery is generally the best treatment for a cataract. One has to use judgment in this operation, however, and it is a delicate one. However, improvements in methods of surgery for cataract have been so great in recent years that full vision can often be restored in uncomplicated cases.

Furthermore, it is now sometimes possible to remove the lens with the cataract in it before it has become ripe or mature.

IN ANSWER to the second question, it must be admitted that some failures from surgery are always possible. However, in properly selected cases and with the skilled surgery now available, the percentage of failures has greatly decreased and the outlook for retaining the vision has improved. Thus, while cataracts still constitute a threat to the vision, progress in solving the problems has been real. What we all hope for is the discovery of some method to prevent their development, or to treat them successfully by non-surgical methods.

FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. INGEBRETSEN President, Spiritual Mobilization

Our coercion-minded social planners seem to be getting ready to "come out and fight" instead of leaving American community decisions to what they regard as "the political primitives and the hatchet men of the intellect."

Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N. Y., reportedly called on an audience of planners the other day to use audacity and boldness in facing critics. He was the keynote speaker at a National Planning Conference in San Francisco sponsored by the American Society of Planning Officials.

"If a suggestion is made to do something—anything," Dr. Taylor is said to have declared, "a thousand little men run out from everywhere with reasons why it should not or can't be done." (Silly little reasons, no doubt, such as exorbitant cost, destruction of liberty, or violation of the Constitution.)

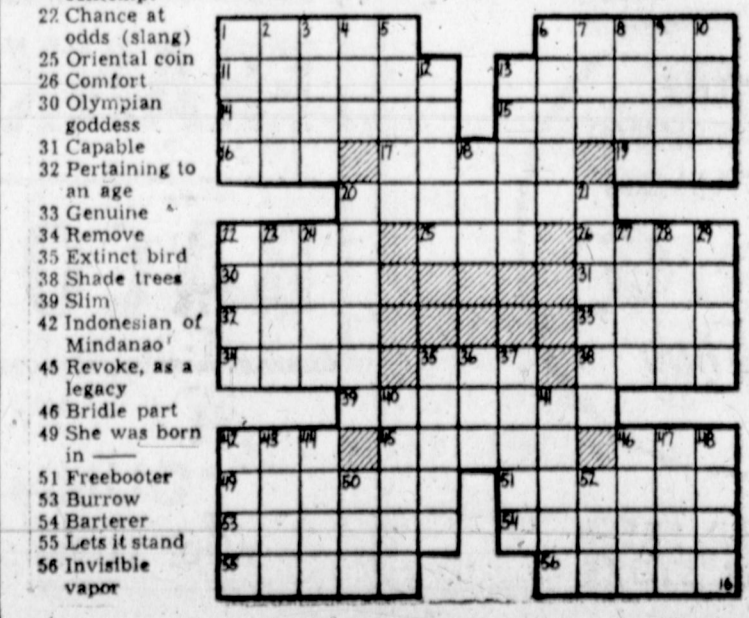

But, after all, aren't we, whom they sneeringly dub "little men," the ones who have to pay for these decisions? And aren't we the ones who are most affected by them? If we have at last got these social planners on the defensive, so that they have to be challenged to "come out and fight," then I think we "political primitives," who believe that government should be our servant and not our master, have cause to rejoice. Don't you?

Several Years Work Being Sent In To Union Probers

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The thousands of union members' letters pouring into Senator John L. McClellan's office depict conditions in many industries which they brought into on easy terms because of their power to order a destructive strike.

Certain union officers, according to some letters, have promised to organize groups of workers, accepted preliminary dues of $10 for expenses, and then "vamosed." Beck and Frank W. Brewster, head of the Western Teamsters' Conference, are charged with having addressed such a meeting, and failed to set up the promised union.

Numerous letters say that Beck has broken strikes at certain plants by driving his trucks through the picket lines, and then moved in to organize the plant himself. The McClellan Committee is especially interested in Beck's reported role of union leader and friend of employers. It has evidence that Beck has, in this respect, violated that Taft-Hartley Act, which is extremely repugnant to the men who trusted him.

Several letters report that employers have been forced to buy group insurance policies from the unions' insurance systems, although they could have obtained a cheaper policy from private firms. Union officers' friends—or relatives—it is charged, often collect large commissions on these transactions.

A slick and old-fashioned device for transferring unions from local to international officers' control is to place them in "trusteeship." This can be done because of alleged local officers' misbehavior, but it is frequently invoked on a mere pretense. The "trustee" is named by Beck, and is answerable only to Beck or the head of the Conference involved — Brewster in the West, and James R. Hoffa in the Central and Southern states.

The "trustee" handles all union affairs and funds, sometimes for many years. He is an absolute czar. The Oakland Teamsters' Union, for instance, was recently discharged from "trusteeship" after eight years under Brewster's sole control. At one time 100 of 300 of Hoffa's unions in a relatively small area were under a "trustee." Finally, the "trustee" has exclusive right to name the delegates — one to every 750 members — to local, state and national conventions.

There are no regular audits or reports on collections of dues, special assessments, or the use of funds. When they are made, they are alleged to be sketchy and untrustworthy. Local officers give well-paid union jobs to their wives, children, in-laws and friends to such an extent that the organizations are known as "family corporations."

They own fine homes, although none are as luxurious as Beck's, enjoy expensive vacations and buy the finest cars. They retire on lush pensions, although it may

Tips On How To Save Money While Visiting In Europe

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME — Summer, with its vast migration of tourists to Europe, is not too far away, and I feel it would be neighborly to pass along a few tips on how to save money in Europe.

Travel books have suggestions along this line, but usually they are aren't too practical or comfortable. No one wants to subsist on bread, cheese, and red wine for weeks on end, and even the most easy-to-please tourist eventually grows weary of living in a walk-up pension run by deaf old ladies. Sitting on your luggage in a third-class railway car for 300 miles has its drawbacks, too.

I have never seen mention of how to save money on guides by not hiring one, and at the same time enjoy the benefits of one. It's easy, and the savings over a period of a month are considerable. All a traveler needs is gall, and gall costs next to nothing. It works like this: You are going, say, to St. Peter's. Stand near the entrance until a bustful of tourists, escorted by a guide, unloads. Then follow them, taking care to move along in the rear, far enough back to be mistaken for a straggler but still close enough to hear the guide as he points out the wonders.

Occasionally, I forget myself and move in too close, and am spotted as an interloper by the guide and asked to go away. When this happens you simply move back to a straggler's position, confident in the knowledge that there isn't a law on earth that can tell you where to walk, and when, in a museum.

If the guide draws the members of his party in real close, and attempts to fool you by talking very softly, simply stoop down and yell, "Louder, please!" Unable to tell exactly who is calling, the guide will raise his voice nine times out of ten.

Do your own on-the-spot dry cleaning. Dry cleaning costs a fortune in Europe, especially in hotels, where, for some reason, it is considered an art on a par with in the afternoon Amarillo paper can expect an apology to Coach Clifton McNeely in the near future. In one of those rare moments where he failed to verify his remarks, the dean of Amarillo sports writers committed a faux pas—better known as a goof.

Putt is still stunned over the fact that Wendell Cason was not selected on the North All-Star basketball team for the Texas High School Coaches Association's game to be played in Dallas Aug. 8.

Mr. Powell commented: "I just can't believe that Clifton McNeely didn't pick Wendell Cason of Amarillo High to play with the North Texas High School All-Star basketball team. The clash is set for the night of Aug. 8 in Dallas.

"McNeely is the basketball coach at Pampa and a member of the selection committee for the North. He also will coach the North. It's especially odd since McNeely told me there wasn't a better player in the state than Cason. I thought maybe Cason wasn't eligible since T. G. Hull (Sandie) might have paid his Texas High School Coaches Association dues.

"But Hull is paid up.

"I also checked to see if Wendell couldn't be in Dallas in August. But he was available—and anxious.

"Of course it's McNeely's right to select the players he wants. He has to pick so many out of each division including one who didn't play in the state meet and ones who did.

"McNeely also failed to select Bub Farrell two years ago. McNeely was even higher in his praise of Farrell than he was Cason. Farrell is taller.

"Each time McNeely picked one of his own Pampa players.

"Again I say that Coach's right and he must have a reason but it's hard to understand.

"McNeely is a nice fellow and one of the better basketball coaches in the nation—including high schools, colleges and pros."

PUTT WAS RIGHT about ONE thing: McNeely is a nice fellow and one of the better basketball coaches in the nation.

I say that's his right (to let the chairman select the team) and he does have a reason that's not so hard to understand.

Camp Swells To 17

Oilers Start Final Week Of Pre-Season Workouts

The Pampa Oiler baseball camp swelled to 17 players yesterday as the Southwestern League members started their final week of spring drills in preparation for the league opener Wednesday, April 23.

Only four players have not shown up and they are reported to be on their way. Yet to report are outfielder Ken Post, pitcher Russ Harris, infielder Walter Laurie and pitcher Tommy Harrison.

Harrison, a veteran hurler, has been playing with Shreveport and he was only recently optioned to the Oilers. Post has an off-season job as a policeman in Texarkana. Laurie has been with Crowley, La., of the Evangeline League and Harris has been working with Shreveport.

Players in camp now include Manager Allan Cross, catcher-first baseman Bob Flores, catcher Goose Goff, outfielder Alec Triggs, second baseman Henry Francis, third baseman Pat Platt, outfielder Jeral Landrum, pitcher Roberto Martinez, pitcher Roy Sorenson, shortstop Jackie Wilcox, pitcher Tony Rodriguez, pitcher Jim Allen, pitcher Dick Braconi, pitcher Tom Ruston, pitcher Mike Sanabria, second baseman Felipe (Chico) Valdez and pitcher Jerry Jones.

Sorenson, Wilcox, Rodriguez, Allen, Braconi, Ruston, Sanabria, Valdez and Jones arrived here over the week end and took their first work out Sunday afternoon. Five of the players came on option from Cincinnati, including Allen, Braconi, Ruston, Sanabria and Valdez.

Eight of the 21 players are limited service, six are veterans, five are rookies and two are NDS (National Defense Service). The team must be pared down to 16 players (not including NDS players) by opening day. Player limits include six veterans, three rookies and seven limited service.

The team took advantage of the warm sunshine yesterday to go through a two-hour drill including batting, running and fielding. The team has not gone at full strength as yet because of the cold weather and no intra-squad games have been played as yet.

Harvesters, Amarillo Clash In Sandie-Land

Barring rain, as forecasted for today, the Pampa Harvesters were scheduled to meet the Amarillo Sandies at Sandie Field today at 4 p.m.

Both teams were trying for their second District 3-AAAA victory in two starts. The two teams won their openers last week and then conference play while Pampa edged Borger, 11-10.

Coach Deck Woldt was unsure of his starting pitcher for the Harvesters although he was expected to choose between David Jumper and Ray Stephenson.

Other probable starters included Mike Conway, second base; Bill Brown, shortstop; John Lee, catcher; Robert Langford, first base; game with a 3-3 record for the Harvesters. The Harvesters were in the game with a 3-3 record for the Harvesters. The Harvesters were in the game with a 3-3 record for the Harvesters.

'Wiffi' Smith Wins The $7,500 Women's Open Tournament

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—Margaret Chamberlaine (Wiffi) Smith, the freckled fledgling who was the latest of this country's top amateurs to join the play-for-pay golf brigade, has broken into the title circuit after four months after joining the tour.

The break-through for the husky former U.S. girls up ace came in the wind-blown $7,500 Dallas Women's Open golf tournament Monday when she parlayed a new set of clubs into a 72-hole total of 285 that bested all the veterans and added $1,316 to her bankroll.

That boosted her three notches, to fourth, among the money winners with $3,990.42, one of the most suspicious starts of any of the lady amateurs who have chosen to play for keeps.

Industrial League Meeting Tonight

Managers and sponsors of the Industrial League (softball) were urged by league officials to meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Purpose of the meeting will be to re-write and revise the league's by-laws. Teams in the league include Celanese, Phillips Petroleum, Sinclair, Magnolia and Frontier Performing.

Palermo, Sicily (UP) — Giuseppe Merlo of Italy won the men's singles title in Palermo's 18th international tennis tournament Sunday when he beat Hamilton Richardson of the United States, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-0.

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals reduced their roster to 28 players today when they optioned pitchers Don Liddle and Roy Mabe to Omaha in the American Assn.

Warren Spahn, 20-game winner

Warren Spahn, a 20-game winner last season, is handling the Braves' opening day mound chore against the Cubs' Bob Rush; Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants is opposing Bob Friend of the Pirates and Vinegar Bend Mizell is hurling for the St. Louis Cardinals against surprise starter Johnny Klippstein of the Redjacks.

The races start with the Yankees a lop-sided 2-5 pick in the A.L. and the Braves a slight choice in the N.L.

A crowd of 23,872 saw the Orioles finally beat out the Senators Monday when Dick Williams doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on a sacrifice fly by rookie outfielder Carl Poy.

Orioles Stumble By Nats, 7-6

Casey Stengel, seeking his eighth pennant in nine years, sends 19-game winner Whitey Ford against the Senators, who are opening with Chuck Stobbs.

Strikeout whiz Herb Score was Cleveland's choice to open for the Indians against Jack Harshman of the White Sox; Frank Sullivan or Tom Brewer is going for the Red Sox against the Orioles, and 21-game winner Frank Lary of the Tigers is facing Tom Morgan of the Athletics.

Reese Sideline

In the National League night opener, the Dodgers are sending against Robin Roberts of the Phillies. The Dodgers will be without the services of PeeWee Reese in an opener for the first time in his career, excepting the war years, because of a strained back muscle.

Majors Get Pennant Race Started In Earnest Today

The major league pennant races start in earnest today after a presidential opener in which baseball put its worst foot forward.

Some 250,000 fans are expected at the eight openers with primary interest focusing on the New York Yankees' attempt to make a fast getaway in quest of a third straight American League pennant and the Brooklyn Dodgers' embarking on what is figured to be another season-long National League battle with the Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Redjacks.

A Ragged Start

The season got off Monday to a somewhat ragged start when the Baltimore Orioles scored an 11-inning, 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators in a three-hour and 17-minute struggle marked by 26 hits and five errors. President Eisenhower tossed out two ceremonial "first balls" and looked like the best pitcher in the ball park until Billy Loes came along to pitch two scoreless innings and pick up the triumph.

Something more like big league

Something more like big league competition is anticipated today and tonight from a schedule that has Washington at New York, Chicago at Cleveland, Boston at Baltimore and Detroit at Kansas City in the A.L., and Brooklyn at Philadelphia (night), New York at Pittsburgh—Cloudy and warmer, low 60s, 35,000.

'Sugar' Hart Back In Winner's Circle

NEW YORK (UP)—Life was sweet again today for Garnet (Sugar) Hart.

The 21-year-old Philadelphia knockout artist regained his winning touch Monday night by stopping Willie (Pineapple) Stevenson of Boston in the seventh round of their widely-televised fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

Hart's heavier firepower started to take its toll in the sixth and just before the end of that session, Stevenson was flattened for a two-count by a wicked left hook. He hit the deck again for an eight-count midway in the seventh and, when another flurry of punches sent Willie reeling, referee Barney Felix halted the action at 2:55.

Wrestling Results

Last night's Sportsman Club wrestling results:

Jim Blood and Tommy Phelps, substituting for Roy Shires and Frenchie Oulmet, won the first and third falls over Rip Rogers and Rocky Colombo to take the main event.

Juan Garcia won the second and third falls over Phelps in the semifinal event. Blood and Colombo were both disqualified in the opening match, referee Larry Wright calling the match "no contest."

They Kept It In The Family

It was the daughter-in-law and not the mother-in-law who was the best bowler in the Jeffries family during the Pampa Women's City Bowling Tournament last week end.

The News reported that Mrs. Dorothy Jeffries, teamed with Candy Baker to win second place in the doubles division. It was Mrs. Dorothy Jeffries' daughter-in-law, Alberta Jeffries, that helped to win second place. Both were bowling in the tournament.

SPORTS BRIEFS

HALLANDALE, Fla. (UP) — Jockey Arthur Sherman of Brooklyn, N.Y., suffered a slight concussion Monday when his mount, Gold Rins, threw him shortly after the start of the first race at Gulfstream Park. He was taken to a hospital for observation and X-rays.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP) — El Khobar, one of New Zealand's best thoroughbreds, is expected to arrive here Thursday for the forthcoming Hollywood Park meeting. The five-year-old horse will be trained by W. J. (Buddy) Hirsch during his American invasion.

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — The Georgia Tech basketball team established a precedent today when it named three players as co-captains. They are Jim Johnson, Gary Phillips and Terry Randall.

CHICAGO (UP) — The Chicago Cubs, with a 35-21 record, have the best mark of any National League team in opening games. The St. Louis Cardinals have the poorest record with 22 wins and 34 losses.

CHICAGO (UP) — The Chicago land Indians cut down to 28 players today when they sold outfielder Dave Pope and optioned pitchers Bud Daley and Hank Aguirre to San Diego in the Pacific Coast League. The Indians also signed outfielder Roger Maris, infielder Larry Raines and catcher Russ Nixon to major league contracts.

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Outfielder Tony Kubek of the New York Yankees and shortstop Andre Rodgers of the New York Giants were chosen today by the Sporting News as the rookies most likely to succeed this year.

DID Y'SEE THIS? OOO-REE, LOOK IT!

Mickey Finn

BUT, UNCLE PHIL, IF YOU GO DOWN TO FLORIDA WITH MOONEY, THE OPPOSITION PARTY WILL START YELLING THAT YOU'RE NEGLECTING YOUR DUTY AGAIN!
I'D BE NEGLECTING MY HEALTH IF I DIDN'T GO, MICHAEL! AND NOTHIN' IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN THAT!
YOU WON'T BE NEGLECTING YOUR HEALTH BY STAYING HOME! THE WINTER IS OVER NOW, AND IT'LL SOON BE AS NICE HERE AS IT IS IN FLORIDA!
OH, NO! IT'LL BE WEEKS BEFORE THERE'S ANY REAL GOOD WEATHER! AND I NEED THAT PHYSICAL CONDITION THAN HE IS HIMSELF!
SUNSHINE TO GET ME BACK IN SHAPE!
YOU'RE IN GOOD SHAPE, UNCLE PHIL! THE DOCTOR SAID YOU ARE IN BETTER PHYSICAL CONDITION THAN HE IS HIMSELF!
HE JUST SAID THAT GO YOU WOULDN'T BE WORRYING! HE'LL ADVISE ME TO GO--I'LL CALL HIM RIGHT NOW!

Freckles

FRECKLES, BEFORE I GIVE YOU YOUR ALLOWANCE THIS WEEK I WANT YOU TO WORK OUT A BUDGET--KNOW WHAT YOU'RE DOING WITH YOUR MONEY--BE SYSTEMATIC!
OKAY, DAD!
GASOLINE--MOVIE--DATE--MAGAZINES--LUNCH--SCHOOL SUPPLIES--
THEN THERE'S MISCELLANEOUS--GOOD ITEMS--AND UNEXPECTED EMERGENCIES!
I NEED A RAISE!!

Juan Peron Directs 'Subversive' Activities From Argentine Exile

CARACAS, Venezuela, (UP)—Juan Peron, the Argentine dictator who fled his homeland in October, 1955, lives these days in an apartment on the 10th floor of a modern building in the Caracas residential district.

Decorating the front door of his flat are the silver initials "JP" standing for the Spanish words, "Vuelve Peron"—"Peron Returns."

They embody the essence of Peron's life in exile.

"Naturally I am directing from here all opposition and 'subversive' activities in Argentina," Peron told a newsman recently. "If I had decided to retire and relax I would have gone to Europe where friends have invited me. But I don't want to retire. I want to fight dictatorship. I want to remain as near as possible."

He laughed, jokingly, and added: "Of course, due to the distance, I cannot be consulted on every minor detail."

His talk with the newsman was a rarity. He has consistently avoided the press out of respect for Venezuelan hospitality and asylum. He finally admitted Colombian journalist Plinio Apuleyo Mendoza on condition it be regarded as a friendly personal conversation.

Peron lives in the small apartment with blonde actress Leonor Martinez with whom he strolls in a nearby park and occasionally makes trips to the countryside.

Mendoza submitted his story to Peron before publication. The only objections Peron made were first to the mention of Leonor and second to the newsman saying he was wearing a "pale blue navy shirt."

Seven Persons A Day Died On Texas' Highways In '56

The annual statistical breakdown of Texas motor vehicle traffic accidents for 1956 was released in booklet form today by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The report, entitled "7 A Day," got its name from the fact that an average of 7.13 persons per day were killed during the year 1956. In regard to this Col. Garrison took stock of the fact that the statistical picture probably will look no better during the current year.

"Today seven persons were killed; tomorrow seven more persons will die in traffic accidents and so on throughout the year until we reach the end of 1957 when our 1956 death count of 2,611 will be exceeded."

The report, compiled by Chief N. K. Woerner of the department's Statistical Division, shows that in addition to an average of 7 persons being sent to their graves daily in Texas 306 persons suffered injuries in 625 daily accidents. And in what is termed a conservative estimate, the report states that the average dollar loss per day during 1956 was just short of two-thirds of a million dollars.

Even though 64 more persons were killed in Texas motor vehicle traffic accidents in 1956 than in 1955 the statistical information does suggest a chance for improvement in the future. There were five deathless days in 1956, as compared with three the previous year, and two of those days fell together on June 5 and 6.

In rural fatal accidents the effects of better highways is evidenced in the fact that head-on collisions were reduced from 27.4 per cent in 1950 to 20.9 per cent in 1956. Woerner said this decrease was due primarily to an increase in the number of rural miles of divided highways.

A reduction in the number of sharp curves on rural highways has helped in reducing the "run-off-roadway" accidents from 28.8 per cent in 1950 to 22.2 per cent in 1956.

Younger drivers and newer vehicles were involved in more than their share of accidents. Of all drivers involved in rural accidents, 44.8 per cent were under 30 years of age — this group represents 31.2 per cent of the licensed drivers in Texas.

One-third of the vehicles involved in rural accidents were one year old or less. This is emphasized by the fact that 60 per cent of rural fatal traffic accidents involved only one vehicle. On this point Woerner concluded that possibly drivers are placing too much confidence in their newer cars.

November 24 was the black day in Texas last year with 29 persons killed — the greatest number of any day in 1956. This number, with an additional 9 killed November 25, made that week end the deadliest on Texas Highways for the year with 38 persons killed in 24 accidents.

In reviewing the traffic accident information in "7 A Day" the

Psychoanalysis Of A Tornado's Personality

DENTON — Tornadoes are like women. No matter what you say about them, they will make a liar out of you.

That's the view of Dr. Howard C. Key, North Texas State College English professor who has been collecting stories about the violent storms for 30 years.

He spoke of "Twister Tales" at the annual meeting of the Texas Folklore Society in Dallas recently, relating the best of the more than a thousand yarns he has heard about tornadoes. His interest is meteorological as well as literary, for he taught weather to aviation cadets in World War II.

"Tornadoes are pretty much like people," Dr. Key says. "They have their likes and dislikes, their whims and ambitions, their impulses good and bad. They are all individuals."

From the folklore he has gathered, he made this psychoanalysis of the tornado personality:

1. Tornadoes are partial to infants. He has collected 32 stories about miraculous preservation of infants. One tornado skipping through southeastern Kansas about 50 years ago gathered a six-week-old infant out of its cradle and deposited him unscathed but plastered with mud in a haystack a mile away.

2. A gentler aspect of the twister is its regard for flowers. On more than one occasion, houses and furniture have been scattered over many acres, but a vase of roses will be left undisturbed on the living room table. Dr. Key has heard this story from four states: Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Louisiana.

3. But chickens and farm animals, tornadoes do not care for at all. One well authenticated storm picked a whole flock of 30 chickens absolutely clean and left them bolt upright, but dead, on their perches. Another whimsical funnel popped a rooster into a jug, leaving his head sticking out.

A farmer and his mule were yanked into the air by the wind, and somewhere aloft set the farmer down on the mule's back. The pair landed right side up about half a mile away, but the mule hit the ground running and put another five miles between himself and home before stopping.

4. Tornadoes have a certain artistic quality. Dr. Key has talked to only one person who was actually carried away — Col. William Porter. He told of an 1893 tornado in Cisco, Texas. Here's the way the NTSC English professor relates it:

"He found that instead of running toward the back room as he intended, he was waving his arms and legs somewhere in midair. Seconds later he slammed into some object that felt like a wire fence. Then he heard music and decided he was either dead or dying. "It was their new player piano, the kind that had to be pumped with foot pedals. The suction of the storm had somehow started it going and it was appropriately playing 'Nearer My God To Thee.' Both Mr. Porter and the piano were lodged in a big pecan tree 30 yards away. Neither was much damaged."

5. Tornadoes can be accommodating. One lady in a farm town had written her sister in Ponca City, Okla., 35 miles away. The letter was lying stamped and addressed on the dining room table and state police director said speed continues to be the leading causative factor in traffic accidents.

"In 87 per cent of the rural accidents last year, one or more traffic law violations was a causative factor. At the top of the list driving too fast for conditions resulted in more accidents than any other violation."

Services Continue At First Methodist

Holy Week evangelistic services beginning at 7:30 each evening will be continued throughout the week at the First Methodist Church ending on Friday. Conducting this program is the Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Tonight's sermon will be entitled, "Woman, Behold Your Son." Tomorrow evening, the topic will be "God My Father, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?"; on Thursday the topic will be "I Am Thirst"; and the final sermon topic on Friday evening will be "Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit."

Special music will be provided by the Carol and Wesley Singers.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleanest" rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is available after years of research.

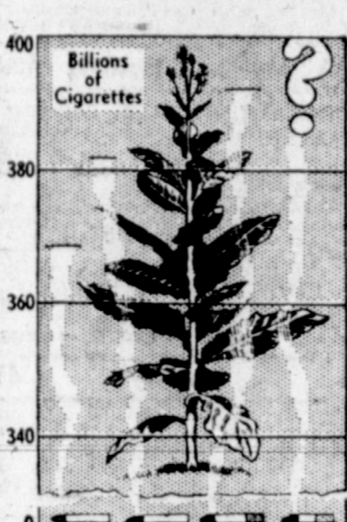

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical as 1/2 gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

disappeared when a storm struck. The letter fell uncanceled in Ponca City in the yard of a neighbor only a block away from its intended address.

6. Tornadoes like to show off.

SMOKE SIGNALS — Despite controversy over the possible effects of cigarettes on health, Americans consumed 392 billion cigarettes in 1956, 10 billion more than the previous year, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Tobacco men forecast an even greater consumption this year, continuing the trend evidenced in the Newschart. Export of cigarettes also is expected to rise. The 1956 total output of 424 billion cigarettes still was under 1952's 435 1/2 billion.

An eastbound Northern Pacific locomotive was uncoupled from its freight cars by a twister, which set it down full steam ahead on a parallel track headed west. Tornadoes in East Texas and Arkansas have turned east iron washpots inside out. One in central Kansas 40 years ago whipped together the branches of a 60-foot cottonwood tree and dropped a cast iron wagon wheel over it the way you would put a ring on your finger.

"The worst mistake tornadoes have ever made was to venture into New England in 1954," Dr. Key declared. "Up until that time tornadoes had been running wild all over the rest of the United States and people had been accepting them — like measles."

"But not New Englanders. They immediately set up a public howl and demanded that Congress do something. So now, through special appropriations to the U. S. Weather Bureau, the awful eye of science has been turned upon these murderous intruders. And justice is about to be done."

Dr. Key is apparently optimistic about the results. He admits that he doesn't own a storm cellar.
