House To Cut Ike's Budget $4.5 Billion

By RAYMOND LAHR. WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) predicted Saturday the House Appropriations Committee will cut President Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget at least $4.5 billion in cutting a $3.5 billion slash in defense funds. He said the committee believes it can make the defense budget reduction without hurting national security. The committee has offered the Defense Department a chance to say by April 1 where the cuts can best be made but, Cannon said, 'this doesn't mean we will take their advice.'

Bracewell addressed a group of local supporters in an informal meeting in Johnson's Cafe. Emmys Given To Jack Palance, Claire Trevor

By ALINE MOSBY. HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (UP)—Jack Palance and Claire Trevor were awarded coveted Emmys Saturday night for the best television acting performances of 1956 at the ninth annual presentation of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. "Playhouse 90," the first hour and a half dramatic show that was regarded as revolutionary when CBS launched it last fall, snared the most Emmys, six. "Requiem for a Heavyweight," the show's first program was responsible for five trophies. Sid Caesar's show was honored by the television industry with five Emmys, although in public acceptance it often has been beaten in the ratings by Lawrence Welk. CBS came in first with 14 Emmys, followed by NBC with 13 and ABC with 2. Palance was honored for his role of a punch-drunk prizefighter in "Requiem for a Heavyweight," on "Playhouse 90," a show that ran off with a king-sized share of the Emmys.

The company rigged up a diesel bus with a tape-recorder that delivers safety slogans as passengers depart. It is the nation's first talking bus. The bus named Gus wears a painted smile on the front end. It has a wide vocabulary of safety slogans, ranging from "be alert today," be alive tomorrow" to "keep your mother-in-law unhappy. Be careful."

Money, Bribe Spotlited Texas House

AUSTIN, March 16 (UP)—Money and investigations into bribery and insurance scandals held the spotlight Saturday as Texas lawmakers moved deeper into the third month of the 55th session. A "progress report" was scheduled to be made Monday by a special nine-member house committee investigating charges of bribery against former Rep. James E. Cox. The committee, headed by Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, was scheduled to resume hearings Tuesday. Senate and House committees investigating the collapse of ICF Insurance Co., recessed for the week-end after issuing an invitation to Ben Jack Cage, former head of the firm who is now in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, to return to Texas to testify.

UN Emergency Forces May Be Told 'To Get Out Of Way'

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, March 16 (UP)—Foreign Minister Hms. Golda Meir may tell U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to "get the U.N. Emergency Force out of the way" of an Israeli push-back into the Gaza Strip, an informed diplomatic source said Saturday night. The source said Hammarskjold does not want to hold new talks at this time with Mrs. Meir, who is en route to New York. However, he said the secretary general agreed to a meeting at the insistence of the United States. Mrs. Meir, who flew to Paris for talks with French officials before proceeding to New York, said earlier she wants to confer with Hammarskjold and U.S. leaders on the "grave situation" growing out of renewal of Egyptian control of Gaza. Claim Force Justified Hammarskjold is likely to order the UNEF to withdraw from the Gaza Strip altogether because Israel will not consent to foreign troops patrolling its side of the border, the source said. He is expected to announce that U.N. troops must be stationed on both sides of the Israeli-Egyptian border if they are to remain in the area, the diplomatic source added. Earlier Saturday, Israeli government officials said the Jewish state has the moral right to re-take the Gaza Strip by force if necessary. The state-owned Jerusalem Radio said the government would consider "other possibilities" if diplomacy failed to oust Egypt from the Strip. The government, from Premier David Ben-Gurion down, made no attempt to disguise the fact that alternatives included the possibility of attack to oust the Egyptians from the 30-mile long Strip they began re-occupying this week. Izhhar Harari, an Israeli delegate to the United Nations, told the United Press he believed Israel is morally entitled to go back into Gaza, within 48 hours if it so desires. Other government sources echoed Harari's statement, which charged that Egypt's return to the Strip was a breach of an agreement under which Israeli troops withdrew in the belief the United Nations, not Egypt, would control the Strip. Ben-Gurion met his military leaders late on the night Friday night. Sources said they reviewed Israel's armed strength in the light of the Gaza developments. The Premier has drawn extreme criticism, even from members of his own Mapai (Labor) party, for agreeing to withdraw from Gaza and the Gulf of Agaba to the south without ironclad guarantees that Egypt would not take over again. But the Jerusalem Radio emphasized there would be no drastic measures taken until Foreign Minister Mrs. Golda Meir tries to settle the Gaza issue by diplomatic negotiations with American and U. N. officials in New York. Ben-Gurion already had put Israel on record with a statement this week that if peaceful measures fail, "other, more forceful means" are being kept in mind and that "the Israeli government will not give prior notice of them." Egyptian-Led Police Take Over Gaza

By GERALD ARATHOON. GAZA, March 16 (UP)—Egyptian-led Palestine police took over responsibility for law and order in the Gaza Strip from United Nations troops Saturday. It was another blow to Israel. U.N. Emergency Force detachments abruptly vanished from the streets of Gaza. A Yugoslav detachment pulled out of the strip entirely and returned to El Arish, the UNEF advance headquarters in Egypt's Sinai Desert, 30 miles west of the Gaza Strip border. U.N. authorities said the Yugoslavs were no longer needed. Other U.N. troops, however, continued to guard UNEF installations and the supply warehouse of the U.N. refugee organization where food and clothing for the 215,000 Palestine Arab refugees in the strip are stored. Hunt Two Fugitives Capt. A. Wik, of Norway, chief of U.N. security operations in Gaza City announced: "We handed over public security responsibilities to the Palestine police since control of order would revert to local authorities." One of the first jobs of the Egyptian authorities was to organize a search for two prisoners who escaped Friday night from the local jail. U.N. authorities identified them only as "criminals."

UN Emergency Forces May Be Told 'To Get Out Of Way'

But UNEF troops were remaining in the strip at least for the time being. A UNEF spokesman in Cairo denied reports in the Egyptian press that U.N. troops would be evacuating most sectors of the strip within 48 hours to take up position on the Gaza-Israel demarcation line. Israel, which opposed Egypt's return to the strip, has forbidden U.N. troops to enter Israeli territory. The spokesman said there was no time limit for such a move which would leave Egypt in virtually complete control of the 30-mile long and six-mile wide strip.

Concert Association To Begin Membership Drive

The Pampa Community Concert Association will begin its 14th annual membership campaign tomorrow evening with a dinner for campaign workers and members of the board of directors of the association at the Parish Hall of the Holy Souls Catholic Church. The membership drive, which will last from tomorrow until March 23, will have headquarters in the Southwestern Public Service Company office. A special phone has been installed for the exclusive use of the association, the number is MO 4-3360. The dinner will begin at 7 p. m. tomorrow in the Parish Hall and the program after dinner will consist of a performance by the Amarello Civic Ballet company under the direction of Gene Gallie. Curt Beck is program chairman for the event and Mrs. Leora Rose is chairman of the arrangements for the dinner. Mrs. Clifford Jones and Mrs. R. H. Neustel, campaign chairmen, have announced that, as in the past, new members will be admitted to the last concert of the season by presenting their receipt stubs. The last concert will be "Ballet and Ballads," a unique combination of song and dance with dancers Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder and guitarist Will Holt. Dues for yearly membership are $6 for adults and $3 for students. The only requirement for joining or renewing membership is to contact one of the workers or to call the headquarters any day during the coming week. The board of directors has obtained a "hold date" for a concert for next year. This concert will be "Vienna on Parade" featuring the Deutschmeister Band under the direction of Captain Julius Herrmann. Also included in this program will be the "singing boys and girls of the Vienna Woods," well as the Grinzing Schrammeln Ensemble and soprano Hedy Paster and tenor Erwin Gross, all under the direction of Captain Herrmann. This attraction is being offered for the first time in the United States, and Dr. Carl Lang has said that the Association is proud to present it to its members next season. The Deutschmeister is famous throughout Europe, having been founded in 1741 and serving as a band for the Vienna House regiment of the Emperor. It very soon became a part and parcel of the Viennese musical culture. Eventually the band became separate from the military and when, in 1918, the military was forced to disband, the band remained intact. Most of the musicians have been playing in the band for more than 20 years and the director, at 63, is its youngest member. Other programs planned by the Community Concert Association for next season are unknown at this time, according to Dr. Lang, but he added that the Association would do everything in its power to make them all as outstanding as possible.

'Irish Haven' Open Today

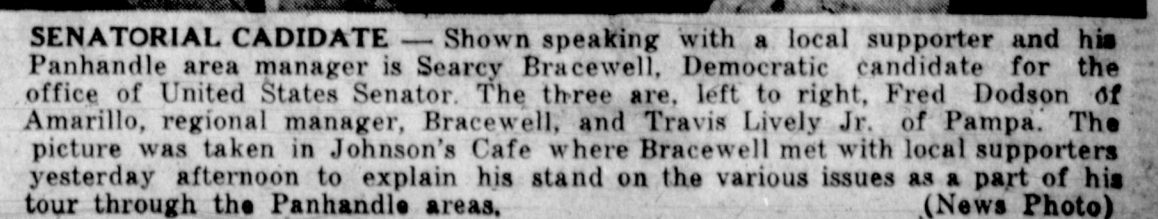

An "open house" is to be held this afternoon in the "Irish Haven" recently completed development of the Hughes Development Company. The affair is being held in conjunction with St. Patrick's Day and the decorations within have been supplied with furniture and articles from Montgomery Ward and the decor is made up in a spring fashion in keeping with the season. The house itself is located at 1104 Seneca. Plans call for the continuous playing of Irish music while visitors look the house over. On the living room wall will be a framed reproduction of the Irish Republic's declaration of independence with a gilt shamrock dressing scene of the rooms. A shamrock will be given to each visitor. Pioneer of this home is R. G. Hughes who has completely merchandised his homes starting two years ago with his "Christmas Home" in Wichita Falls when he gift-wrapped the entire house in cellophane and ribbons. Hughes brought his merchandising idea to Pampa when he designed the North Crest Valentine Homes "with a heart."

Proper use is achieved by keeping livestock in balance with the forage produced. Naturally, there are problems that confront the rancher in obtaining proper use from year to year. Fluctuating weather conditions, frequent droughts and type of operation are only a few. About 40 percent of the grazing herd could be flexible and consist of a breeder herd and a "float" herd such as short yearling steers and heifers and heifer replacements.

Rangeland is limited in production if moisture is lost to runoff and evaporation. Even with very slow rains, there is a limited moisture penetration on bare hardland range sites and drought quickly returns. If winter and spring rains come, we sometimes get a buildup of annual weeds and other weedy vegetation on our bare rangeland. This is good. This is nature's way of preparing and conditioning bare land for a better type of vegetation. This weedy vegetation should also be properly used so that a litter cover will

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

By ODIS CURRY
Range Conservationist

The primary objectives of a range management program are (1) to establish and maintain an adequate ground cover that will prevent excessive loss of water and soil by runoff; (2) to provide a good quality of year-round forage that will insure better condition of livestock and minimize the amount of supplemental feed; and (3) to distribute grazing uniformly over the range to prevent the development of "sore spots".

Proper use is the one practice upon which the ultimate success of all other range practices depends. Without proper use of grass, all other practices will surely fail.

Proper use represents a stocking rate, grazing system, and class of livestock that will produce the greatest total volume of forage, and livestock gain, on a continuous basis. Forage plants make their living by manufacturing their food in green leaves. A part of the plant food, in addition to feeding man and beast, is necessary to the plant to produce more leafage and vigorous roots which will enable the plant to maintain itself while feeding others. Therefore, the green leaves of the plant cannot be grazed off completely at any time without serious injury to the plant. Excessive reduction of the foliage of grasses and its subsequent effect on root systems weakens the plant to the extent that it cannot resist adverse weather conditions.

The degree of forage utilization is tied in very closely to animal performance. Maximum weight gains per animal are dependent largely on forage availability to the extent that cattle can obtain food easily. When livestock are forced to remove a higher percentage of forage or roam about in search of food, the gains are less since they seek more tender growth rather than graze into dormant, stubby clumps; maximum gains generally indicate a higher market grade for cattle; ability of cattle to make greater gains should enable cows to calve more consistently; less supplemental feed is required to keep cattle at an adequate level of nutrition during fall and winter.

be provided. True, it takes rain to grow grass but if our ground is bare we won't get very much.

A planned scheduled range deferment, by pastures, is a practice that goes along with proper use, especially if an increase of the better plants is needed. Usually, the better plants should be used in judging proper use since they are grazed more often. Deferred grazing allows the grasses to seed out, renew vigor and build up litter. A forage reserve on the ground at the end of the growing season is not lost. It is insurance against the possibilities of late or deficient growth in the following season.

Yes, it takes leaves to grow roots to produce more leaves. Grass is the ranchers crop. Without proper use of grass we can expect crop failures.

Caesar Show in a flurry of controversial rumors last June was a surprise winner as the best comedienne of 1956.
She won three Emmys last year.
Best dramatic series award went to Robert Young for "Father Knows Best" and Loretta Young for the "Loretta Young Show."
A trophy at this most colorful, star-studded presentation of the TV academy's nine year history also went to "Requiem for a Heavyweight."
Two of the biggest surprises of the evening came when two members of Caesar's cast, Carl Reiner and Pat Carroll, won the supporting actor and actress awards.
"The Phil Silvers Show" won the first Emmy of the evening for the best comedy writing, the gold statuette going to writers Nat Hiken, Billy Friedberg, Tony Webster, Leonard Stern, Arnold Rosen and Coleman Jacoby.
Murrow Wins Award
The presentation was made by Silvers himself.
The Emmy for the best writing for a half-hour show went to James Cavanaugh for his story "Fog Closing In" on "Alfred Hitchcock Presents."
Rod Sterling was honored for the best writing of a drama of one hour or more, "Requiem for a Heavyweight" on "Playhouse 90."
CBS was given an Emmy for the best coverage of a news-worthy event, Edward R. Murrow's "Year of Crisis." Murrow also was handed a coveted gold statuette for the best news commentator of 1956.
Paul Barnes won the best art direction of a half-hour show for the popular "Your Hit Parade," while "Requiem for a Heavyweight" snared another Emmy when Albert Heischock was honored for best art direction for a show of one hour or more.

Congress To Get Shirts

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP) — Congress is about to get some more shirts from residents of Centralia, Mo., who think current high taxes are taking the shirts right off their backs.
The first shipment went to Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee which has been trying to reduce President Eisenhower's record peacetime spending budget of $71.8 billion.
Cannon sent the shirts on to Budget Director Percival Brundage. He said Brundage bore much of the responsibility for the size of the budget and the fact taxes must be kept high to finance it.
Saturday, A. B. Chance, a Centralia manufacturer and sponsor of the Send-Shirts-to-Congress campaign, announced new shirt shipments will be sent to Missouri's two Democratic senators, Stuart Symington and Thomas C. Hennings Jr. They also will go to Democratic Rep. Morgan M. Moulder whose district includes Centralia.
Chance appeared at a news conference at which Cannon announced his committee is cutting Mr. Eisenhower's budget at the rate of $4.5 billion and expects to do "even better."
Cannon praised Centralia's economy stand. He said the demand for a budget cut is nationwide.
Cannon also speculated facetiously that Brundage may have sent Centralia's first shirt shipment on to the President.

LONDON, March 16 (UP) — The British press charged in a growing anti-Eisenhower campaign Saturday that the President is a sick and tired man who is leaving the United States "leaderless."
Newspapers of both conservative and socialist persuasion raised the arguments that the President is sicker than generally known.
In the press at least he has fallen from the heights he once held as a beloved and respected world leader.
Government officials kept a discreet silence, but privately admitted worry. They expressed concern that the United States might not react fast enough in a sudden crisis.
The news impasse in the Middle East is blamed squarely on Mr. Eisenhower rather than on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who bore the brunt of European criticism during the abortive Anglo-French invasion of Egypt last fall.
Lord Beaverbrook's conservative Daily Express said Saturday: "America, the greatest power in the world, is bereft of leaders and leadership as the Middle East crackles ominously along from day to day."
"The vice president, Mr. Richard Nixon, is in Africa... the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles has been in Australia... President Eisenhower, still ailing and visibly aged, climbed aboard a cruiser — to spend nearly a week at sea on his way to Bermuda."

Good And Bad Of The Week's News

By CHARLES M. McCANN
Foreign News Commentary
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Danger of new fighting between Egypt and Israel arose in the Gaza area in Palestine.

United Nations forces took over the area from Israelis who had held it since their invasion of Egypt last October.

With the agreement of the U.N. President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt named a governor general to assume civil administrative control.

Israel objected angrily, and threatened to take military action

if Nasser moved troops into Gaza.

Rebels Storm Palace
Cuban rebels stormed the presidential palace in midtown Havana in an attempt to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista. At least 36 persons, including an American tourist bystander, were killed in a two-hour battle before palace guards routed the invaders.

Hungarian Communist authorities took extraordinary precautions to head off a threatened new uprising in face of indications that anti-Communists planned an outbreak today. Warned by the arrival of troops and tanks in Budapest, underground leaders distributed leaflets urging "all freedom fighters to refrain from any action on March 15.

GAZA
When Israel, at the demand of the U.N., withdrew its troops from the Gaza Strip area on the Israel-Egypt border, Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said that he would not tolerate its reoccupation by Egyptian forces.

Troops of the U.N. Emergency Force occupied the area.

Nasser, who regards the U.N. occupation as temporary, named a governor general to organize Egyptian control of civil affairs.

But Israeli leaders believed Nasser might plan to move Egyptian troops into Gaza. Later, they left no doubt that if he did, Israel would attack.

CUBA
Fidel Castro, 30, a student leader who had been living in exile in Mexico, landed a small force of rebels in Oriente Province, in the extreme eastern part of Cuba, last October to challenge the rule of Batista. Since then, the rebels have been holding out in the mountains against strong army units.

The rebels who stormed Batista's palace in Havana Thursday were believed to be allied with Castro. Cuban authorities charged that both groups are supported by former President Carlos Frio Socarras, now in Florida, whom Batista ousted in 1952.

Old-Fashioned Girl Probably Is The Teenager Next Door

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, (UP)—This week in Manhattan:

That old-fashioned girl probably is the teenager next door.

The youth research institute reported that although today's younger set is apt to label mom and pop fuddy-duddies, the teenagers themselves are old-fashioned in many of their tastes.

The girls collect Elvis Presley records, and then vote Clark Gable, old enough to be their grandfather, as their favorite male movie star. Old-timers Gary Cooper, Robert Taylor and Bing Crosby are runners-up.

The boys drive hot rods and then select Elizabeth Taylor and Grace Kelly as their favorite actresses. "Elizabeth Taylor is more like the girl next door," one 15-year-old youth in Pasadena, Calif., explained to the institute.

"Grace Kelly looks understanding," said a 15-year-old Philadelphian.

"Marilyn Monroe is too obvious," said a 17-year-old boy.

Lester Rand, head of the institute which studies youth's tastes and opinions, said these findings came from a recent study among 3,700 teenagers. A look through other institute statistics showed, he said, that "teenagers are not always the super-sophisticates and ultra-moderns they fancy themselves."

48th Year THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS SUNDAY, MARCH 17, 1957

One national study showed most girls think it is wrong to telephone a boy. Another showed more girls are sewing and cooking than ever before.

Rand said one study found 77 per cent of the teenagers think parental consent is necessary before getting married; most of them believe in bringing up large families; and 80 per cent of the boys said they liked the old-fashioned idea that "woman's place is in the home."

Worms Cause Ills
LANSING, Mich. (UP)—Flint, Mich., bait dealers have complained to the state Conservation Department about "unfair competition. They asked for protection against little boys who are selling worms below the dealers' set price."

How Sight Works
Humans would become confused if they "saw" only with their eyes, because the image on the retina always is upside-down. The brain translates the images and conscious vision takes place in the mind, the eye merely recording light stimuli and setting off a pattern of nervous impulses.

Chamber Of Commerce Clinics Lead To Better Understanding

By BOB PEREZ
Pampa News Staff Writer

To most persons, the thought of any sort of clinic in relation to chamber of commerce work would seem as nothing more than another effort to get that group together for a festive chicken dinner.

This comes as a timely note since there have been two such clinics held in Pampa during the past week. One was called the "Human Relations Clinic," while the other was the "Special Highway Permits Clinic."

However, as euphonious as these titles might sound, they each one had a very special purpose and were more than successful in the achievement of that purpose.

In the case of the Human Relations Clinic, which was conducted in the auditorium of the Southwestern Public Service building, the purpose was to promote the betterment of service and the quality of food served within the community.

Now to those who might feel that such a clinic was not or is not necessary, it would be noted that in Pampa quite a few people use restaurants on Sundays and Saturday evenings, more so than in other cities of similar size. Restaurant service, therefore, as well as the food we are served, does very definitely affect many of us.

The classes were conducted by Travis Elliott, an expert in the field of restaurant management, and were well attended by both managers and employees of many of the local restaurants. The results might not be too noticeable now, but the clinic has certainly started many of the managers, as well as employees, thinking as to how they can fulfill their part in the promoting of better service and food to secure more satisfied customers. In any case, the clinic will have helped promote much needed stimulation in the minds of those who attended.

The second clinic held this week was the Special Highway Permits Clinic. While this may not come very close to many of us, it has a very strong meaning for the men who must travel the highways and roads of Texas to deliver loads of supplies and equipment to waiting customers. Their schedules and their very operations are heavily affected by the rules and regulations of the State Highway Department.

Loads of over so many tons may not use certain roads even though to take an alternate route may be miles out of the way leading to extra expense and loss which in many cases, the trucker might never make up. There are also certain qualifications and restrictions as to the procurement of permits after a given hour when the permits offices may be closed. Where then can the trucker go to secure his permit for the delivery of a load upon which his very livelihood and his profits depend so highly?

These and many other questions were brought to light Friday by a panel made up of officials of the State Highway Department, the Texas State Highway Patrol, the License and Weights Division, and permit clerks from the Amarillo, Perryton and local offices.

For example: One of the leading questions was that of the use of farm to market roads, which will not allow any vehicle weighing over a certain tonnage to travel them. To many truckers, perhaps this has always seemed an unfair mystery. The answer given was that when the roads were built, they were made primarily to take the farmers off the dirt roads and give them a decent road to bring their merchandise in to market. Most of these roads could not tolerate the burden of excessive weights imposed by constant heavy trucking.

However, the state highway engineer did state that in view of the inconvenience caused to many of the truckers, a revision in the weight limitations would be looked into and hinted that perhaps for limited periods, these roads might be opened for trucking.

This was a sample of the spirit with which this clinic was conducted. Truck drivers and their employers sat down to lunch with members of the highway patrol and other law enforcement agencies and discussed their problems in an open manner which, if it did not amend all the laws governing the subject, did lead in the short run to a better understanding on the part of the truckers as to just

Now You Gotta' Have Swimming Pool To Keep Up With Joneses

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Nowadays to keep up with the Joneses you need a backyard swimming pool. The pool seems destined to replace the two-car garage and the fur coat for Mamma as a symbol of a family's financial standing. Or, maybe we should say family's credit rating. For, about 20 percent of the home pools are bought on the "swim now, pay later" plan.

I gathered all this from a talk with Robert M. Hoffman, publisher of the trade paper, "Swimming Pool Age."

Hoffman estimated 45,000 pools will be built this year — two thirds of them in the nation's backyards. He gave several reasons for the industry's boom, which started four years ago. The move to suburbia, the trend to outdoor living, and the ease of financing.

You can buy just about any price pool you want these days—made of inflatable plastic, to the permanent and costlier concrete, complete with ladders, diving boards and underwater lighting.

Becoming Common Place

He said almost one third of the permanent pools built last year were larger than 20 by 40 feet. The time was, when the backyard pool was largely confined to the Southwest, Southern California and Florida. Hoffman said the greatest concentration still is on the Pacific Coast. And Florida alone will have 6,000 pools by the end of the year.

But they are becoming commonplace in the East and Mid-West. Many Northern and Eastern builders offer pools as optional equipment with homes costing $22,000 and up. In the Southwest and California, you can get a pool tossed in with a much lower cost home.

Hoffman said he figured the record offer is being made by John-

PAMPA VISITORS — Mr. and Mrs. Christian Knud Westphal are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schneider this winter. Pampa Visitor Knows The Hotel Restaurant Business

By FRED M. PARKER
Pampa News Staff Writer

Pampa is fortunate to have as visitors for the winter Mr. and Mrs. Christian Knud Westphal. The Westphals are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schneider, who operate the Hilton Hotel. Mrs. Westphal is Alex Schneider's sister.

Mr. Westphal has been in the hotel restaurant business all of his life and has worked at leading hotels throughout Europe and the United States.

He reported that he started in the restaurant business as a page boy when he was nine years old. This was in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1893.

After working as a page boy, in the kitchen and finally in the dining room of the hotel in Copenhagen, he left for Germany where he worked in Berlin for one year and learned the German language.

Upon leaving Berlin he then went to London, England, for three years and worked in various hotels, both learning the language and more about the hotel restaurant business.

To complete his education he went to France and worked in hotels in Paris and the south of France for five years.

During this time he served royalty, including Queen Victoria, King George I of Greece and other important people. He was in charge of the preparation of their menus and the serving of the meals for these people and received decorations and citations from some of the royalty.

He also became acquainted with Fred Harvey, who started the dining car and restaurant service on the Santa Fe that bears his name. Harvey told him to look him up if he came to the United States.

Upon arriving in the US in 1905 he went to work in Frankfort, Ky., and then went to Chicago where he was put in charge of a dining car between Chicago and Kansas City by Fred Harvey. He worked on the dining car for a year and then left to go to New York City where he worked at the Rector night club. This was the same place that Alex Schneider had worked.

When the night club was torn down he went to work at the Hotel Astor as restaurant manager. He stayed at this hotel for 10 years and left in 1919 to go to work as restaurant manager of the Hotel Commodore, where he stayed until he retired in 1946.

He is honorary restaurant manager of the Commodore.

As manager of the restaurant portion of the Hotel Commodore, Westphal was responsible for the preparing of the menus for the coffee shop, four dining rooms, banquet room and other eating rooms within the hotel.

He stated that each of the dining rooms had its own kitchen and that arrangements must be made far in advance for each group using a dining room.

The banquet room seated 2,500 persons and on several occasions, he reported, all of the people wanting to attend a banquet could not be seated.

When asked how he managed to serve that large a group, he reported that having enough experienced help and planning in advance solved the problem of serving all of the people at the same time.

He reported that the hardest problem to solve during his 36 years at the Commodore was that of serving over 1,000 breakfasts each morning during the war. He stated that this was no easy accomplishment with the lack of trained help and rationing.

In talking with Westphal, it seemed that his greatest thrill came from having taken care of the menus for important people, including President Eisenhower who used to live in the Commodore.

Westphal met his wife while her father, Alex Schneider Sr., was operating the Hotel Swiss in Biel, Switzerland. He stated that he visited there several times and it was in Switzerland that they became engaged.

In concluding the interview, Westphal stated that he was surprised to see how much Pampa had grown. He said that he first

Washington Party Whirl

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—In the Washington party whirl: Telephone wires are humming with talk of party-giver Perle Mesta's continued absence and the court summons that awaits her in district court here.

Mrs. Mesta has been out of town, with her phone "temporarily disconnected" since last July when the ex-wife of her nephew filed a complaint accusing her of "wrongfully taking and detaining" $8,700 worth of antiques and paintings.

The complaint is gathering dust in court files which as yet bear no "answer" to the charges from Mrs. Mesta. Court officials say her absence has prevented the serving of a summons to notify her officially of the charge.

Cherry blossom festival officials hoped that Mrs. Mesta—who has been sojourning in New York and Nevada, advising on a TV script of her life story on the West Coast, and staging a huge benefit in Philadelphia—would return next month to teach state princesses how to curtsy. But she has sent word that she is going to Brazil instead.

"There are no votes here," cracked Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) to Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) as the latter handshook his way to Wiley's table at a father-daughter luncheon for law-makers and their Girl Scout daughters.

"Oh, there are lots of votes," replied Kefauver as he surveyed the pig-tailed future voters, including his own Diane.

The solon with the greatest number of potential voters of his own at the affair was Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-W.Va.). He acquired his four daughters, Girl Scouts all. Crashing the party was Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) who entered on the claim that his married daughter is a past Girl Scout and his one-year-old granddaughter a future one.

India-born Rep. D. S. Saund (D-Cal.) told a Democratic Women's Club audience this one to illustrate his understanding of the American way of life:

Two shoe salesmen, one British and one American, arrived in Africa and discovered the natives wore no shoes. The Briton called his office: "Am returning. Natives wear no shoes." The American called: "Double initial order. Natives have no shoes."

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., is especially happy over one aspect of President Eisenhower.

He came to Pampa about 36 years ago and stayed in the old Hotel Schneider, located where the tourist court of the Pampa Hotel, formerly the Schneider Hotel, is now located.

The Westphals now live in Candelwood Isle, Conn., but are spending the winter in Pampa due to Westphal's health.

So Pampa is indeed fortunate to have visiting here a man that knows so much about the hotel restaurant business and one that has lived in so many countries.

er's nomination of Charles Evans Whitaker to fill the Supreme Court vacancy. "Now," says Brownell, "all those rumors about my being named can stop. It got so tiresome."

The AG says anyone with a careful eye could have picked out the new nominee before he was named by noting a "pattern" in Whitaker's elevation to a district court in 1954 and an appellate court in 1956.

G. W. McCULLOUGH ... to speak at ISA

McCullough To Speak At ISA Meet In Borger

G. W. McCullough, manager of Phillips Petroleum Company's natural gasoline department, will address the Panhandle Section of the Instrument Society of America and guests at the group's banquet meeting in the Hotel Borger ballroom at 7:30 p.m. March 21.

His subject will be "Instrumentation—Management Viewpoint," and should be of interest to all as it pertains to the new era of automation.

McCullough's extensive experience in various engineering and administrative capacities with Phillips provides him with an excellent background to discuss his subject. He is affiliated with many engineering and technical groups, including the Natural Gasoline Association of directors.

He is the author of several papers relating to natural gasoline plant operation, hydrocarbon separation and distillation and instrumentation and control processes. In addition to his writings, he holds a number of patents pertaining to these subjects. The banquet and program will climax a two-day Instrument Show which will be held from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. on March 20 and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on March 21. Equipment exhibits will be displayed at the Bunavista Cafeteria building, located two miles west of Borger.

No admission will be charged to see the exhibits and tickets for the banquet will be on sale at the registration booth at the exhibit.

First cup of tea sold publicly was served in Garraway's famed London coffee shop in 1687.

Look who upset the "Low-price" Applecart!

This one's had them rubbing their eyes ever since it landed smack in the middle of the "low-price" field! The handsome rebel you see right here is upsetting tradition right and left on what a modest budget should buy. It's pricing a big 122-inch wheelbase right down with cars from four to seven inches shorter! It's adding a big bonus of extra road-hugging heft—and powering it with an all-new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 for highest horsepower per pound in the field! A lot of might and muscle for sure—but it's gentled like nothing else on the road by Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride and Precision-Touch Controls. And remember—the Chieftain's standards of luxury and quality were set by the same men who gave America the incomparable Custom Star Chief Catalinas. What we're leading up to is this: If smaller cars have gotten you down, you can actually buy a Chieftain Pontiac for less than 30 models of the "low-price three"! Why wait any longer to give your spirits and your budget the lift of a lifetime?

Rookies Heroes Of Grapefruit League

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

Three rookies who've never been as high as a Triple-A league stood out Saturday as the heroes of the week-old Grapefruit League season.

One 25-year-old Dick Stuart of the Pittsburgh Pirates is an outfielder who hit 66 homers for Lincoln, Neb., last season. Another, Jim Landis of the Chicago White Sox batted only .247 at Memphis in 1953. And the third, infielder Andre Rodgers of the New York Giants hit only .267 for Dallas. Yet, for at least the first week of the exhibition grind, they outstripped the exploiters of Mickey Mantle, Stan Musial, etc., in an effort to rewrite baseball's oldest story: The unknown rookie who makes good.

Landis Hitting .400

Stuart, a brash 200-pounder from Culver City, Calif., who announced he is out to top Ted Williams' $100,000-a-year salary, astonished the experts with his tremendous power as the Pirates won six of their seven games. Stuart blasted three home runs in game-competition and walloped numerous 450-foot drives during batting practice.

Landis, a 22-year-old native of Richmond, Calif., made an early bid for a regular job in the White Sox' outfield with a .400-plus batting average. He turned in his peak performance when he hit two home runs on March 14 to lead the Sox to a 12-2 rout of the Washington Senators.

Rodgers, a 22-year-old Bahaman, smashed three homers and played spectacularly at shortstop in an all-around performance that had the hard-luck Giants singing "Happy Days Are Here Again."

One of Rodgers' homers was estimated at close to 500 feet and manager Bill Rigney already is talking of batting the rookie third and shifting Willie Mays to clean-up.

Yanks Suffer Blow

The player-ribe, world champion New York Yankees presented a rookie of only slightly less-spectacular accomplishments in pitcher Al Scott. Tabled early as the rookie pitcher most likely to make good with the Yankees, Scott was the first of Casey Stengel's pitchers to go five innings.

The Yankees, already odds on favorites to win the American League pennant, suffered an early blow when Bill Skowron sustained a broken right thumb when hit by a pitched ball. Stengel had made the possible shift of the husky first baseman to third base a key project but Skowron now is estimated as lost for a month and, perhaps into the first few weeks of the season. The No. 1 prospect to replace him at first is rookie Marv Throneberry, with Andy Carey now virtually assured of retaining his third base job.

The Cleveland Indians won five of their first seven games and the White Sox won four of seven but two other A.L. contenders — the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox — ran into trouble early.

In the National League, the champion Brooklyn Dodgers played 500 ball in their first six games but twice saw 1953 World Series hero Johnny Podres pounded hard and had yet to un-ash their famed power.

The Milwaukee Braves, meanwhile, won four of their first seven games and were delighted by the early showings of such key veterans as Warren Spahn, Gene Conley, Bob Buhl and N.L. batting champion Hank Aaron.

Solid performances by pitchers Brooks Lawrence and question-mark Warren Hacker encouraged the Cincinnati Redlegs, who had a 5-2 record at the end of the first week of competition and Stan Musial's slugging at an unusual "errry" rate helped the St. Louis Cardinals overlook a spotty record.

SCORING HELP — Quarterback Dickie Mauldin gets an added push when he crosses the goal line in the first quarter of the Exes' game with the future Harvesters Friday. Halfback Harry Ward tugs at Mauldin to send him across the final stripe and a 6-0 lead. Others in the picture are Don Bigham (behind Mauldin), Robert Langford (on the turf) and Jess Ingle, all on the Harvester team, and the Exes' Glen Howell. The Exes won 19-0. (News Photo)

Burke, Cooper Take St. Petersburg Lead

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (UP) — Jack Burke of Klamath Lake, N.Y., had to shoot a birdie four on the final hole Saturday to grab a tie at 204 with Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., at the end of the third round of the St. Petersburg Open.

Don January of Abilene, Tex., who fired a stunning seven-under-par 64, vaulted into a tie for third place with Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., at 206. Wall, who won the Pensacola Open last Sunday, shot a 69 Saturday.

Tied for fifth place were Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., at 207. Harbert had a 67 and Finsterwald a 68 on the third round.

Cary Middlecoff, of Dallas, who was tied at the end of 36 holes with Cooper, started out badly on the third round, running into bogies on two of the first three holes. He was never able to recover completely and wound up with a 72-208.

January's 33-31-64 was the lowest by two strokes of any round in the tournament. His 64 was only one stroke over the competitive course record.

The low amateur was Don Bishlinghoff, Miami, with a 73-72-67-212. Jim Trezevant Jr., of Tampa was second with a 72-72-74-218.

Illinois Team In ABC Doubles Tie

FORT WORTH, March 16 (UP) — Carl Larson and Lawrence Lindquist of Sycamore, Ill., rolled 1,243 Saturday to tie for second place in the doubles standings of the 54th American Bowling Congress championships.

Their opening 471 game equaled the tournament's high.

Larson shot 245-243-173-661. Lindquist had a 282 series.

John di Floria of Buffalo, N.Y., hit 298-214-213-653 to take third place in the singles.

Tom Harnish and Len Zon of Buffalo moved into fifth place in doubles with 1,238.

Herb Flam Into Everglade Semis

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16 (UP) — Herb Flam lost his touch in the first set Saturday but rallied to whip Don Candy of Australia, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the semifinals of the Everglades Tennis Tournament.

Flam, the defending champion of Beverly Hills, Calif., scored 17 placements in the second set after he steadied down to his normal game. This rattled Candy to the extent that he had three double faults in the fourth game of that set.

In the other semifinal match, Mervyn Rose of Australia will play Giuseppe Merlo of Italy Sunday. Flam meets the winner of that match for the championship on Monday.

In the women's semifinals, Angela Buxton of London, top seeded foreign girl, was upset by Yolanda Ramirez of Mexico City, 7-5, 6-1.

Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., plays Shirley Bloomer of England in the other women's semifinal match Sunday.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The Shrine East-West football game, played here on Dec. 29, 1956, netted $251,008.28 for the San Francisco Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children, marking it the first time in the 32 year history of the game the take has topped a quarter of a million dollars.

NEW YORK (UP) — Jockets riding at New York's thoroughbred race tracks this year must wear protective helmets under a new rule passed by the state Racing Commission, but the helmets need not be included among the equipment which make up the weight a horse carries.

Harvesters Blanked As Drills End

"The team will have to sacrifice size and ability for teamwork next season," commented Coach Jack Lockett after he had watched his future Harvesters fall to the graduates, 19-0, in the football game that ended Pampa High School's spring football drills Friday afternoon.

Lockett was quick to praise his Harvesters despite their loss to the exes, the team that made up most of last year's starting eleven. "It went about like we expected," added the Harvester head coach. "That week we missed because of the weather hurt us. The boys played pretty good, considering that. I think you could tell by the game that we didn't have much work."

Lockett also added that "they just had too many horses for us." Most of the exes on the team had been playing together since junior high days. The Harvesters used five sophomores most of the time against the senior grads.

The Pampa coach would not single out an individual for his outstanding play, but emphasized that the team would have to work together to win next season. "We've got a long way to go before we're next fall," added Lockett. "All in all, I guess we are not too optimistic. Spring games are not always an indication of a team's ability. We were not overly disappointed and not too enthusiastic. The thing we're trying to do is teach basic fundamentals, this spring, how to block and tackle. The team was playing without

Palmer, Higgins Added To Colonial Golf Field

FORT WORTH, March 16 (UP) — Former champion Johnny Palmer, perennial money winner Freddie Haas and newcomer Doug Higgins were added to the field for the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament Saturday, bringing the number of acceptances to 34.

Fourteen places remain to be filled in the May-25 event, the most exclusive of the regulation PGA competitions.

Palmer, who won here in 1954, shares with Ben Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum the honor of having been in the money here most times, nine, while Haas has collected eight of his nine appearances here.

Other entries today include Julius Boros, Tommy Bolt, Jack Burke, Billy Casper, Joe Conrad, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Jimmy Demaret, Mike Fetchick, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Ed Furgol, Dutch Harrison, Fred Hawkins, Jay Hebert, Hogan, Don January, Gene Littler, Lloyd Mangrum, Billy Maxwell, Dick Mayer, Cary Middlecoff, Byron Nelson, Arnold Palmer, Bob Rosburg, Doug Sanders, Mike Souchak, Peter Thomson, Ken Venturi, Ernie Vossler, Art Wall Jr. and Bo Wittinger.

The Harvesters were given first possession of the ball and they soon made a first down. But a fumble gave the exes the ball on the Harvester 30. Jesse Ring went to the 10 and Bobby Dehls carried to the two where Mauldin plunged over right tackle with five minutes gone.

The Harvesters missed a good chance to tie the score early in the second quarter when Don Bigham dropped a Gary Wilhelm pass on the exes 35. But the Harvesters were held and had to punt. The Green and Gold looked good in the second on defense when they held the exes on downs deep in Harvester territory.

Another Harvester fumble set up the second touchdown for the graduates. The Exes recovered on their own 35. Dehls took a pass from Mauldin, which carried them down to the Harvester 28. On the next play, Mauldin went around the right side for the touchdown and Dehls' run for the extra, point was short.

The Harvesters drove to their opponents' 25-yard line before the half ended for their deepest penetration of the game. Paul Brown's punting was one of the outstanding Harvester feats of the day. He booted one 61 yards in the second quarter and another 45 yards, with the aid of the wind.

The second and third squads took over the field after the first quarter and played for one period while the Harvesters and Exes took a breather. Little Ronnie Smith passed to end Frank Snow for the only two touchdowns of the contest as the second team stopped the third squad, 13-0. The first pass was good for 45 yards and the second covered 25 yards. Bill Brashears ran over one extra point.

The other two squads came back on the field after the battle between the reserves and most of the third quarter was a defensive battle. Henry Mitchell intercepted a Dehls pass late in the quarter and the Harvesters drove to the eight but were held. The longest run of the fourth quarter was a 35-yard scamper to the Harvester 22.

A fumble gave the Exes their third touchdown. They took over on the Harvester 40. Dehls went to the 25. Ring bulled over center to the 15. Dehls added two and Ward took a Mauldin pitchout and went around left end wide for the touchdown.

Big Budget Not Same As 'Modern Republicanism'

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Eisenhower administration is trying to stamp out the notion that "modern Republicanism" and a big budget are the same thing.

—This reaction indicates that the administration is being stung by critics who view President Eisenhower as a high spending New Dealer because of his peacetime record budget of $71.8 billion for the coming fiscal year.

At his news conference this week, Mr. Eisenhower said his "new Republicanism" had "nothing whatsoever to do with big budgets" but rather sought the greatest possible economy.

In a New York speech last weekend, an old conservative, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, said modern Republicanism is just what it used to be only dressed in up-to-date fashion.

More on this subject was heard in a speech here Thursday by Arthur Larson, director of the U.S. Information Agency, who is recognized as one of the most articulate philosophers of the new Republicanism.

Larson took a dim view of the "rather superficial inclination on the part of some people to equate modern Republicanism with the 1958 budget." He acknowledged that protests against the budget are jamming congressional mail boxes but said there were "many fallacies" in identifying the President's budget with "modern Republicanism."

The same type of Republicanism, he asserted, has prevailed for four years while government spending was being cut back. He admitted some of the current budget's features, like federal aid for schools, might inflate the budget. But he noted that defense costs, veterans' benefits and similar costs accounted for most of the total.

In the face of Democratic clamor for the administration to tell where the budget might be cut, the administration gave Congress a taste Thursday of what to expect. Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole announced his agency's budget request was being trimmed by $200 million. Apparently only part of this would have been spent in the next fiscal year anyway, Cole said his proposal was the first of a series from the administration to hold down spending.

Recommendations still to come may call for putting off reclamation projects here, flood control works there, and less drought relief some place else. Congress may or may not willingly accept suggestions for cutbacks that can offend local blocs of voters.

A substantial segment of the lawmakers wants at least first, to take a look in the administration's $4.4 billion foreign aid program, which Mr. Eisenhower has said is vital to national security.

Jacoby On Bridge

South's two no-trump bid was a sheer bullheadedness. He did have a good hand and he did suspect East's opening bid but North had indicated no strength and South should have realized that 17 points plus nothing equals only 17 points. Unfortunately justice did not triumph this time. East and West managed to work out an unbelievable defense and South not only made two no-trumps, he made six. Before going any further, see if you can figure out how they managed to do it. If you can't, here is the actual story.

West opened his fourth best diamond and South won East's jack with his king. A club was led toward dummy. West ducked (the proper play) and East ducked (the wrong play).

A heart was led and the jack finessed successfully. A second club was led toward dummy and West got in the act. He went up with the king, East's singleton ace overtook the king.

At this point, South's contract was safe. East and West could add four diamond tricks to their one club but that would be all. However, East was going wrong all the way.

He led the queen of spades. South won with the ace and ran dummy's three remaining clubs. East was now demoralized and let a couple of spades go whereupon South was able to make all the rest of the tricks.

The worst play of the hand was East's failure to win the first club. He had nothing to gain by ducking and see what he lost.

Miss Patsy Arnold And Arthur Smith Are Married In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Patsy Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry F. Arnold, Gainesville, became the bride of Arthur Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith, Route 2, Pampa...

The candle-light ceremony was performed by Rev. Gerald Martin before a background of palms and white gladioli. Mrs. Alfred Cowan, pianist, played "Love You Truly" and "Always" as the wedding guests assembled...

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white brocaded satin, long gown styled with Peter Pan collar and three-quarter length sleeves. The shoulder-length nylon tulle veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of white brocaded satin.

The information I would like to have is—I have a little granddaughter, which we had pictures made of her. Naturally all grandmothers think their children are the prettiest, but everyone that sees her picture says it belongs on the front of a magazine or some advertisement.

Traffic Education Discussed By Club

Mrs. J. G. Doggett was hostess to the Varietas Study Club on Tuesday afternoon at her home at 915 N. Somerville. The business meeting was directed by the president, Mrs. J. R. Spearman. It was announced that Mrs. W. A. Wagener, president-elect for next year, and Mrs. Lee Harrah, yearbook chairman for the coming year, will be the club's representatives at the district convention in Amarillo this week.

Following roll call, the afternoon's program was presented, the topic being "Creating a Safer Community." Program chairman was Mrs. Dow King, who spoke on "Traffic Safety and Driver Education." She presented each club member with a pamphlet on the motor vehicle laws of Texas, put out by the Highway Patrol.

She stated that, according to statistics, 15 per cent of the highway accidents are caused by bad roads, 10 per cent by poor vehicles, and 75 per cent by bad drivers. The nation and the state, she said, are attempting to solve the traffic problem by driver education, especially for teen-agers.

Following the program, the hostess served refreshments, in the St. Patrick's Day motif, to the following members: Mmes. H. H. Butler, H. P. Dosier, H. T. Hampton, Lee Harrah, Dow King, J. E. Kirkman, F. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, Ois Nace, George Sims, J. R. Spearman, Ralph Thomas, J. C. Vollmert, W. A. Wagener, Sherman White, L. L. Harkins and Mary E. Weaver.

She stated that there were 23 graduate nurses at Highland General and 150 in white uniforms.

Roses Are Topic At Garden Workshop

The Pampa Garden Club met recently with Mrs. W. F. Yeager, 1225 Charles, for a workshop on the topic, "Roses," presented by Mrs. Sam Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor discussed the various ways to take care of roses, starting with the purchase, planting, care and pruning, and the final step, the correct cutting of a rose. She stressed the important feature of correctly planting the bush, which will insure having pretty blooms. Mrs. Taylor illustrated her talk with pictures to show how each step was taken in the process of planting.

Senior Citizens Prepare And Present Program For Altrusa Club And Guests

By DORIS WILSON
Pampa News Women's Editor
Senior Citizens entertained the Altrusa Club and their guests with a delightful program and refreshments on Thursday afternoon in the Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. H. M. Norris, who was assisted in the program's preparation by her husband, presented the program.

Mrs. N. Dudley Steele discussed the origin and fallacies concerning St. Patrick's Day and interspersed her comments with delightful bits of Irish poems and will. She concluded with an authentic Irish jig.

J. M. Patton, who seemed the reincarnation of St. Pat himself, gave a talk on the Irishman's Special Day with interesting facts. He stated that there are more churches in Ireland than there are filling stations in the U. S. and that it was true that the Patron Saint of Ireland was really a Scotchman, who had been kidnapped by the Irish.

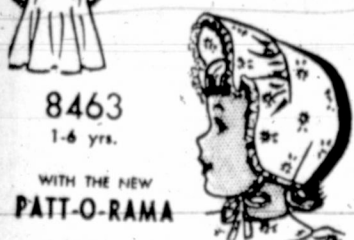

Mr. Patton stated that statistics disagree on the date of St. Patrick's birth; some said it was the ninth of March, others that it was the 8th, a compromise was struck by adding eight and nine together and celebrating his birthday on the 17th of March.

"St. Patrick died on Mar. 17, 469," Mr. Patton said. "So, in reality, it is his death, in memory of his life, that we really celebrated."

SENIORS' PROGRAM—At a recent meeting of the Senior Citizens, Uncle Billy Frost, left, suggested that the Citizens prepare and present a program of their own in appreciation of the many fine programs that had been presented for them. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Norris, center, went along with the idea and prepared the program, which was presented Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Lizzie Collins, right, baked five cakes, which were served for refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

Plans are being made to present Nursing Scholarships again this year to senior girls. Mrs. F. J. Venzell is chairman of the scholarship committee with Mrs. R. D. Falkenstein and Mrs. F. W. Kelley serving with her.

Mrs. Jack Foster talked to the group about the Cancer Crusade and presented ideas for helping in the rehabilitation of cancer patients.

Members attending were Mmes. C. H. Ashby, Walter Bertinot, J. K. Donaldson, J. F. Elder, N. J. Ellis, George Hrdlicka, F. W. Kelley, C. M. Lang, M. McDaniel and E. S. Williams.

A wife and mother should remind herself occasionally—
When she grows weary of cooking three meals a day, that it is a real blessing to have a man to cook for. The only woman who has any excuse for being bored with cooking is the woman who cooks only for herself and eats alone.

When she is fretting because with small children around she can't keep the house in order, that there will be plenty of years later when the house will be quiet and orderly — and LONELY.

When she finds that what SHE thinks seems to have less and less influence on her children, that their opposition to some of her ideas only means that they are beginning to think and figure things out for themselves.

When she envies some successful career woman her exciting job, that there isn't any more challenging job in the world than creating a happy home.

When she grows restless at being "tied down," that being needed by others is absolutely necessary to most women's happiness.

When she feels that all she does for her husband and children is pretty much taken for granted, that the only real satisfaction of any job is the self-knowledge that it is being done to the best of one's ability.

When she is sure that her husband's job is full of excitement and adventure compared to hers; that if that were so why does he look forward to the weekends when he can be at home?

Many of a housewife's attitudes she picks up from other women. It's well for a woman to remind herself occasionally that there may not be any real reason for her to feel the way she does.

Sharp Group Meets In Bohlander Home

The Sharp Group, First Christian Church, met recently with Mrs. D. E. Bohlander, 245 Barnard. Mrs. John Gill gave the opening prayer and the devotional was given by Mrs. E. K. Haner.

The program, "Keys to the Kingdom of God" was given by Mrs. O. H. Odom, who also closed with a prayer.

Members heard the report that fifty dozen cookies had been mailed by the group to the Juliet Fowler Children's Home in Dallas last week. They were reminded that Lone Gifts are to be turned in this week.

The general meeting of the CWF will be Mar. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the church. Mrs. D. V. Burton will give a book review. The Sharp Group will have the May CWF Program.

Members brought kindergarten supplies to send to the Mexican-Christian Institute and were reminded to bring the same to the next meeting.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served to the members present.

Those attending were one visitor, Mr. T. M. Keys, and the following members, Mmes. Norma Schale, L. H. Kirkendall, O. H. Odom, C. C. Dunham, Lloyd Larimore, E. K. Haner, John G. Hill, Buri Graham, and Pearl Thurman.

The next meeting of this group will be held with Mrs. Norma Schale, 418 Doudette, at 7:30 p.m. on April 8th.

Altrusans Hold Election Of Officers And Hear Spech On Mental Health

The Pampa Altrusa Club met this past week in the Pampa Hotel Pine Room with 31 members present. Mrs. May Foreman Carr played dinner music while the members gathered and accompanied the group as they sang, "The More We Get Together."

Miss Judy Neslage was introduced as the Girl of the Month by Miss Jan Dyer, Altrusa Girl of the Month for February. Mrs. Iri Smith, vocational information chairman, presented Miss Neslage with the Altrusa Medallion.

Mrs. Jack P. Foster, president, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Margaret Payne, attendance chairman, for sending out the hankies-reminders for the luncheon meeting. The hankies were white with a shamrock stenciled in the corner with this verse:

A calico hanky with a touch of green,
To set off the dress of a pretty colleen,
Altrusa meeting is where you'll be seen,
To dine and to chat over Irish cuisine

The dining tables were decorated with green shamrocks and white carnations. The speakers' table was centered with a green-hat vase filled with white stock and white carnations, which was later presented to the guest speaker, Dr. Donald B. Baker, to take to his wife and son.

The president announced that a check of $100 had been given to the Altrusa Club to buy a road sign to be placed with other civic clubs at the entrance to Pampa city limits. This has been one of the projects of the Altrusa Information committee.

Thanks were expressed to Mmes. H. H. Hicks, J. C. Coston, and Roy Kay for the table entry in the Beta Sigma Phi Table Setting Contest, with which the club placed second.

Announcement was made that Senior Citizens would entertain the club Thursday afternoon at the Lovett Memorial Library and each member was urged to be present.

The nominating committee presented the following names for the coming year, and the roster was elected unanimously: Mmes. Jack P. Foster, president; Jay Flanagan, vice president; Vernon L. Hobbs, corresponding secretary; Miss Ila Pool, recording secretary; Mrs. Floy Heath, treasurer, and Mrs. Elma Vanderburg, director.

Mrs. Jay Flanagan, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Bea York, chairman of Public Affairs, who presented Dr. Donald B. Baker, who is with the Kelley Clinic and who spoke to the group on mental health.

He said, "Perhaps there is no phase of psychiatry that has given rise to so much discussion and dispute as has that concerning the causes and even the nature of mental disease." He continued, "Many ask about the hereditary aspects of mental disease," and he stated that the characteristics of the adult are no more present in the germ cells than are those of an automobile in the metallic ores out of which it is ultimately manufactured. He stated that there is not an increase in the number of persons having mental diseases, but rather that "there is an increase in the number of admissions to mental hospitals in recent years because of an increase in hospital facilities and a more permissive policy."

He commended the Altrusa Club on the study of this vital subject in their program.

The next meeting of the club will be Mar. 25, which will be a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. in the City Club Room.

For parents of teen-age sons: Without realizing it, you may be giving your teen-age boy more leisure, more freedom and more spending money than he knows how to handle.

It's a cinch that you are if you haven't the vaguest idea of where he is or what he is doing. If he has all the money he needs without working for any of it, he is probably killing time hanging around joints or aimlessly riding around in a car.

If you secretly feel that he shows less respect for you than he should, it may well be that you haven't demanded that he show respect for adults, simply because they are adults.

If you've listened without protest when he referred to a teacher as "Old lady so-and-so" or spoke of a friend's father as "Joe's old man," can you really be surprised that he isn't respectful to you?

If you have a daughter you know what you expect from the boys who take her out. But have you taught your own son that if he is old enough to feel responsible for the girl whose parents entrust her to him? Have you impressed on him that being responsible for her includes driving carefully, not taking her anywhere her parents don't want her to go, getting her home on time and not risking her reputation and her safety by parking, etc.?

Instead of going to bed before your son is in at night because you are too tired to sit up, do you have the gumption to see that he gets in at a reasonable hour?

Boys from "good homes" are getting into serious trouble for no apparent reason.

But there must be reasons. And it is well for parents to start looking for them before their own children get into difficulties that might have been prevented.

BRIDE—Mrs. J. W. Condo, 501 N. Sloan, is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Doris Corrine to Johnny Welborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welborn, Route 4, McKinney, Tex., on Feb. 9 in the Fairview Baptist Church, Durant, Okla., with the Rev. Correll Hooper, officiating. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McGarrath, Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Welborn are now residing in McKinney, where Mr. Welborn is engaged in farming and Mrs. Welborn is completing her nurses' training in Baylor Hospital, Dallas.

In addition, Miss Grider, to qualify for the camp, had to know how to sharpen, pack, carry, care for and store tools; know how to water-proof matches and prepare emergency tinder, such as trench candles; know how to use basic dehydrated foods, such as dried soups, fruit, vegetables, meats, powdered eggs, beverages and milk; know four types of lashing; know how to pitch, trench, and strike tents, such as pup tents or canvas tarps; know precautions to take when hiking in altitude 7,000 to 12,500 feet; and know how to use a compass with a topographical map.

Miss Grider is a sophomore in Pampa High School, where she is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, Latin Club and Las Cressas, and is a Junior Red Cross member.

"Breads For Dinner" And "Main Dishes" Are Demonstrations For HDC Meeting

(Special to The News)
LEFORS — A joint demonstration on "Breads for Dinner" and "Main Dishes" was presented by Mrs. Charles Roberts and Miss Helen Dunlap, county Home Demonstration Agent, at the meeting of the "Lefors Homes Demonstration Club."
Miss Dunlap presented the main dish demonstration using a chuck roast, carrots and potatoes explaining that, creamed eggs, cheese dishes, etc. also could be used. She stressed the time-saving, work-saving value of the dish she prepared.

She went on to say that a meal should include a protein food, potato, green or yellow vegetable and salad, either fruit or vegetable, and not necessarily a dessert depending on the age of the individual. Teenagers and growing youngsters for example need a well-balanced diet with lots of protein.

Mrs. Roberts prepared a no-knead roll and baking-powder biscuit using a recipe calling for cheese and pimento in the biscuit. She presented each one present a copy of the bread recipes and also a summary of the history of breadmaking and the different kinds of yeast in existence today.
The main dish and breads were served as refreshments.

Mrs. J. D. Smith, vice president, presided over the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. C. E. Vincent.
Mmes. O. A. Bishop and Charles Roberts were appointed to attend a training school Mar. 18 on the care and cleaning of equipment.
Mmes. B. J. Deihl, J. D. Smith, Nase Lofton and L. D. Rider represented the Lefors Club at the snack bar at the fatstock show, selling twenty-six pies which were furnished by the club members.
Those present were Mmes. H. L. Braly, L. D. Rider, J. D. Smith, Nase Lofton, Lonnie Ables, Charles Roberts, B. J. Deihl and Miss Helen Dunlap.

Manners Make Friends

If you feel you owe someone an apology, make it right away. The longer you put off making an apology, the harder it is to make one.

An unintentional hurt or injustice can grow in the mind of the other person while you are getting around to saying, "I'm sorry. I was wrong about that. And I apologize."

Book Is Reviewed Touches Of White For Lydia Circle Must Be Sparkling

The Lydia Circle, Church of the Brethren, met recently for a book review given by Mrs. Dean Burger entitled, "His Kingdom Is My Kitchen."

Using a quote from book, Mrs. Burger said, "We must put activities and interest in proper balance. Our concerns should be in this order: 1) God; 2) husband; 3) children; 4) church. Sometimes the church and God are considered identical, but this is not true, although they have a close relationship. In equalizing the church and God, church activities, worthy as they are, is not the place to find the intimate quietness we need with God. If we hear Him speak, we must be still enough to listen."

Others participating on the program were Mmes. Charles Beard, Bob Swope, and James Minnich.
Plans were completed to hold a bake sale in the Hughes Building, Mar. 15 with the proceeds given to complete the silverware fund.

Hostesses for the social and fellowship hour were Mmes. Charles Bard, George Maul and Dean Burger.
