Red China Trade Modifications To Be Talked

WASHINGTON, April 20 (UP)—The United States announced today that it has advised 14 allied nations that it is prepared to discuss "certain modifications" in allied controls on trade with Red China.

The State Department's announcement came shortly after Tokyo dispatches quoted Japanese sources as saying the United States had agreed to relax a western embargo on shipments of strategic goods to Communist China.

The dispatches said jubilant Japanese business and government leaders immediately began preparing for increased trade with the Chinese Reds.

The State Department emphasized there will be no change in this country's own embargo against any type of trade by Americans with Red China.

The State Department announcement did not go quite as far as the Japanese indicated. The department said its proposal, made to embassies of the 14 nations during the past week, involved three basic points:

- Certain items, which were not identified, would be removed from the list of items banned for allied trade with Communist China. The items could only be used for "peaceful" purposes.
- Certain other items now embargoed would be transferred to the same status and would be subject to a "lesser degree of control" than before.
- So-called "exceptions" procedure would be tightened so that Britain, for example, could step up its trade despite allied trade controls.

The department added: "It was emphasized to our allies that there is no change in United States policy with respect to trade with Communist China."

Russians Would Ban US Nuclear Testing

By WHITMAN BASSOW
MOSCOW, April 20 (UP)—Communist Secretary N. S. Khrushchev today offered to join Japan and Britain to ban nuclear tests, it was reported here.

Sources close to the Japanese embassy said Ambassador Seimitsu Kadowaki did not reply immediately to the Soviet proposal, Western observers doubted that the Japanese government would accept the idea of a joint protest.

Khrushchev made the proposal to Kadowaki during an hour-long meeting at the offices of the Communist Central Committee. Kadowaki urged that Russia halt its H-bomb tests without waiting for the West to do likewise.

Japanese Demonstrate
(In Tokyo, 2,000 demonstrators massed in a driving rain to shout their disapproval of all nuclear tests.

The crowd yelled approval of resolutions opposing American and Russian tests, the forthcoming British test explosion at Christmas Island and demands for an "immediate" treaty by the big powers prohibiting such tests.

The Communist secretary has rejected proposals to hold tests in the past, and it appeared that the ambassador's visit today was intended mainly as a propaganda gesture.

"The Soviet Union is unable to terminate the testing of nuclear weapons without a stable agreement with the West," Khrushchev said today, echoing the stand he has taken on the same question in the past.

Dulles Asks Jap Leader To Meeting

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
WASHINGTON, April 20 (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today invited a Japanese leader to a special Sunday meeting at his home to explain why the United States opposes banning atomic weapons tests.

The Dulles invitation came as Soviet Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev proposed that the Soviet Union and Japan make a joint appeal to the United States and Britain for an immediate ban on nuclear weapons tests.

It also coincided with a demonstration in Tokyo by 2,000 Japanese against tests held by Russia, the United States and Britain. The rally was especially aimed at forthcoming British tests at Christmas Island.

At the same time, a Radio Moscow informed Japan that Russia will continue nuclear weapons tests.

Dulles scheduled an appointment Sunday at his Washington home with Dr. Masatoshi Matsuoka, president of St. Paul's University in Tokyo. Matsuoka is a personal envoy of Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

GOOD WORK—Calvin Whatley, left, head of the recently completed Pampa Chamber of Commerce membership drive, is shown shaking hands with Elmer Fite, high man in the drive's point system for all workers. Fite topped all other workers in the short but intense campaign put on by the chamber with a total of 355 points. This total also helped in putting Fite's team in the winner's column with a grand total of 500 points. The campaign was concluded with a check-in coffee in the chamber conference room yesterday at noon. (News Photo)

Elmer Fite Winner In CoC Drive

The annual membership round-up campaign of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce came to a successful conclusion yesterday at noon when teams made their final reports in the conference room of the chamber.

E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the local chamber, yesterday reported that the drive brought in a total of $2,300 with the count still incomplete due to a number of membership cards still out.

Winning team in the membership drive, with a total of 500 points, was team No. 4, headed by Elmer Fite. Fite captained a team consisting of Charles Cook, Roy Smith, Fred Thompson and Jack Vaughn.

Coming in second with a total of 480 points was team No. 3, captained by Ed Myatt, and team No. 6 came in third with 320 points. This team was headed by Warren Hasse.

High individual honors went to Fite, captain of the top team, with a total of 355 points. Second in this field was Newt Secret with 265 points with Dick Stowers of team No. 9 coming in third with an even 100 points.

The division coming in with the highest number of points was Division A with a total of 1,533 points. This division was headed by Paul Crouch, president of the chamber. Division B followed with a total of 1,215 points. This division was captained by E. L. Henderson.

Solon Thinks Ike Should Utilize TV

By RAYMOND LAHR
WASHINGTON, April 20 (UP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) suggested today that President Eisenhower go to the country by television to enlist public support for his embattled legislative program.

Case, a charter member of the "modern Republican" bloc, said he thought it would be "an excellent idea and very timely" if the President made "several TV speeches on major items in his program — domestic and foreign."

"These would be enormously helpful and increase greatly the possibilities of getting legislation enacted," he told a reporter. "In addition, they would immensely strengthen his own role of national leadership."

Items in Trouble
Asked what topics the President might discuss, Case mentioned administration proposals which seem to be running into serious trouble in Congress.

He listed foreign economic policy and mutual security, "civil rights legislation, federal aid for school construction and bills to liberalize the immigration and refugee laws.

Foreign economic policy and mutual security would cover the administration's foreign aid program, the priority target of lawmakers who want heavy cuts in the Eisenhower budget. The other items listed by Case are stalled in Senate committees.

Veterans' Groups Set Big Easter Egg Hunt

A giant Easter egg hunt for all residents of Pampa and the surrounding area will be held at 3 p.m. today, one-half mile west of Highland General Hospital.

The hunt is being sponsored by the local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts and approximately 7,000 eggs will be hidden prior to the beginning of the hunt.

Prize coupons worth one silver dollar each will be wrapped up with 40 of the eggs and children finding these eggs can obtain the silver dollars from those persons directing the egg hunt.

The area of the hunt will be divided off into four sections and different age groups will hunt in each section. One group will be for all children three years and under, another group will be for children from four through six, the third group will be for children from seven through nine and the fourth group will be from ten to 17.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliaries of the two posts have assisted in the preparation of the eggs. All candy eggs are wrapped in cellophane bags. Both candy eggs and hen's eggs will be hidden.

Another Easter egg hunt, sponsored by American Legion Post 888, will be held at 2:30 this afternoon one block south of Carver School.

This hunt will be open to all colored children between the ages one and 13. Over 1,500 eggs will be hidden in this area by members of the post and will include 30 eggs containing prize certificates, W. M. Windom, post commander, reported.

Lawmakers Return To Work Tuesday

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
AUSTIN, April 20 (UP)—Texas lawmakers, most of them home enjoying the Easter recess, return to work Tuesday for what may be the final lap of the 55th session.

The constitutional 120-day deadline, marking the end of the 25-day pay for legislators, falls on May 7. There is little indication work would be completed by that date. However, hope was expressed by legislative leaders in both House and Senate that the session might end shortly after that date, possibly as early as May 10.

The issue of segregation, carrying with it the threat of a filibuster, moves into the Senate.

Five pro-segregation bills passed by the House are scheduled for hearing Wednesday night by the Senate State Affairs Committee. Two members — Sens. Abraham Kazen Jr., of Laredo and Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio — have indicated that if necessary they may resort to a filibuster in an attempt to block enactment.

Talkathon tactics have sometimes been successful in the Senate — where unlimited debate is allowed — if the maneuver falls in the waning hours of a session.

Under those circumstances, two things can happen — the filibuster can continue until the session adjourns, in which case no action is taken, or the minority opposition may pick up support from other members who will vote against the controversial proposal in order to break the barrier against action on other matters.

Clouds Dump .41 Inch Of Rain In Pampa; Storms Strike Elsewhere

Heavy dark clouds once again visited Pampa and the Top o' Texas yesterday and brought more rain. A total of .41 of an inch of rain was recorded by The News rain gauge between 12:30 and 4:30 p.m. It quit raining in Pampa shortly after 4 o'clock.

Severe storm warnings were issued for yesterday afternoon throughout the area by the weather bureau but no reports of any storms in the area were received by late last night. Light, general rain covered most of the Panhandle.

A huge tornado funnel — at least the 13th reported in Texas within 24 hours — roared for 17 miles through the countryside near Brownfield Saturday while 300 miles to the Southeast flood warnings went up along an 80-mile stretch of the swollen Brazos River.

A big sector of the central Texas countryside including Waco and the area south of it suffered some of the heaviest deluges and worst floods in memory. The town of Moody in southern McLennan county got a total of 9.8 inches of rain Friday night and Saturday.

A tornado struck the Grady Skaggs farm home near Paducah, floods struck Tyler and Vernon, and lightning caused a spectacular fire at Hawkins, 24 miles from Tyler, when it set five oil tanks and a service station ablaze. Hall accompanied the rain at Vernon.

The weather bureau warned of severe thunderstorms and tornadoes in the southeastern part of the Texas Panhandle, and most of the South Plains until 9 p.m. and predicted severe thunderstorms with high winds and hail — but not tornadoes — over parts of east and central Texas. The central Texas area includes Hill and Bosque counties which were hit by rain Friday night.

Hundreds of persons — at least 100 families — were driven from See Clouds, Page 3

First Sunrise Service Held

The Pampa Ministerial Alliance was to conduct a Sunrise Service in Central Park this morning with the Rev. Neval Haynes, Negro pastor of the Church of God in Christ, delivering the first sermon. This morning's service will have marked the first community-wide service to be held on Easter morning by the Alliance and should it be termed a success, members of the Alliance have expressed the hope that it will become a city-wide tradition.

The Rev. James Minnich, president of the Alliance and pastor of the Church of the Brethren, announced the selection of Rev. Haynes and another Negro minister, the Rev. Jonah Parker, pastor of the Negro Methodist Church, to deliver two of the sermons at this morning's service. Both ministers are members of the Alliance.

PHS Officers To Be Elected

Class officers and cheerleaders for the coming year will be chosen in an election to be held in the Pampa High School on April 30.

The student council secretary will be elected one week after election of class officers in contrast to the previously existing policy of having the secretary elected in the fall. The reason for this action, according to Mrs. Ruby Capps, student council director, is so that the secretary may attend the various student council workshops which are held during the summer vacations.

Stores To Observe Pampa Value Days

Charles Cook, chairman of the merchants activities committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, has announced the holding of three special bargain days in all Pampa stores. The three days are Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, and will be known as "Pampa Value Days."

Cook said yesterday morning that on those three days the committee's slogan of "values galore in every Pampa store," will hold true.

All participating firms will give free tickets which will entitle the holder to a chance on an $800 roll of television set. Cook said that there will be nothing to buy in or der to secure a chance on this set, however, no tickets will be given to anyone under 18 years of age.

The drawings for the television set will be held on Saturday evening at 7:15 p.m. in front of the LaNora Theater, and since the winner must be present to win, drawings will continue until a winner has been selected.

All stores in the Pampa area are arranging special offers for the three days and local citizens have been asked by Cook to take advantage of the bargains.

If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hdws.

VALUE DAYS PRIZE—Ed Myatt (left), member, and Charlie Cook, chairman, of the merchants activities committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce are shown above looking over the $800 TV set which will be awarded at the conclusion of this week's Value Days to be observed by all local merchants in Pampa Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The observance will be concluded with raffling off of the above TV model to the possessor of one of the tickets which will be given away in all stores during the special sales. No purchases will be necessary to obtain a chance on the television set, and the lucky number will be drawn at 7:15 p.m. Saturday in front of the LaNora Theater. (News Photo)

EXTRA! EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT! JOE GORDON, LOCAL ATTORNEY, KIDNAPPED! Hold on now, before you call the cops. This was strictly a friendly kidnapping.

Joe Gordon, a member of the local Kiwanis Club, had agreed to go to a Kiwanis meeting in Guyton, Okla., Thursday night. The Kiwanians were going to hear the district governor speak.

About 40 went in and Joe Gordon was one of those who had "signed up" to go earlier in the week. At the last minute, however, "Rosy" (because he turns absolutely red when he blushes) explained that he had an important meeting that night and must convey his regrets.

Warren Hasse, president of the Pampa Kiwanis Club, tripped up to Joe's office, about a block from the First Methodist Church, where the bus taking the Pampans to Guyton was parked, to see if Joe had decided to go. He hadn't. Meanwhile, someone among the 38-or-so persons waiting at the church to leave, said, "Let's get the bus driver to pull up in front of his (Joe's) office and honk for him."

The affable driver immediately agreed to do it and drove the pretty, new monster up in front of the ing the underpass, on the north side of the Canadian River. This last portion of the trip takes the motorist to Lake Marvin. Along the way one should watch for the wild game in the area. This road passes through the Gene Howe Game Preserve where all types of wild fowl and animals native to this area can be found. The children should see plenty of wild turkey, deer and antelope.

During duck season plenty of this type of fowl can be observed at the lake and, according to recent reports, ardent fishermen can also catch some fish there if they have the time and the family will let them.

All along this route the motorist will observe the beauty of nature, the rolling hills, plenty of trees and all types of wild flowers. So if it is a scenic drive you have in mind why not load the family in the old buggy some afternoon this summer and see what the Top of Texas has to offer.

Remember not so many years ago that when you wanted to go fishing you simply cut an old willow pole, dug up some worms, borrowed some string from the kitchen and grabbed a hook and went fishing? How times have changed.

Today the fisherman books reservations for a cabin on a big lake, oils up his well-mechanized spinning equipment, overhauls his boat and high-speed motor and checks his tackle box for the proper plugs, lures, spinners, monofilament line, etc.

Recently an article in a Texas magazine stated that Texans during 1955 spent twice as much money to hunt and fish as they did for admissions to all football, baseball and basketball games, plus all other spectator sports, movies and stage attractions.

They also spent more for medical care, dental care and insurance. The average Texas fisherman spent almost $90 in 1955 or a total of $123,000,000. The nation spent $2 billion to fish.

Manufacturers of sporting goods equipment, knowing that over 25,000,000 people in the United States go fishing each year, have come up with every type of fishing device imaginable. The run-of-the-mill hooks, corks, cotton lines and bamboo poles that were big sellers a decade ago have now become a sideline and the dazzling metal and plastic plugs, spinners and lures have taken their places on the display shelves.

When you go into a sporting goods store today you may ask for a spoon, a jig, a hula skirt, a creepy nitwit, a popper, a super-duper, a night crawler, a shysler, a stinger, a punkinhead, a super-sonic or any one of a thousand variations of devices to catch the bass, crappie, trout or other types of game fish.

Display cards advertise that the company's product darts, dives, flashes, wiggles or transmits sound. Many new products are invented each year to catch the fisherman's eyes. Latest thing on the market is a plug that transmits supersonic sound (despite the fact that it's long been rumored that fish cannot hear).

One sporting goods store employee stated that most fisherman continue to stick with the tried-and-true plugs and spinners and only occasionally buy a new product on the market. The old reliables are still the biggest sellers.

The last time you went fishing did you ask yourself if all of this furor over the new-fangled method of trapping the wily fish was a wasted effort?

Congressmen 447 Church Bells Protest Cut Sound Resurrection

WASHINGTON, April 20 (UPI)—Wheat state congressmen today vigorously protested Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson's cut in wheat price supports. Two Democrats called on President Eisenhower to fire him. Benson announced Friday that 1958 support prices on wheat would be lowered from $2 a bushel to $1.78. This is about 75 percent of parity as compared with this year's level of about 80 percent. Rep. George S. McGovern (D-S.D.) wrote Eisenhower denouncing Benson's proposal as "irresponsible." He said it will mean a loss of more than 150-million dollars in income to the nation's wheat farmers next year. McGovern told the President that Benson should be removed immediately and replaced "with someone more knowledgeable and understanding of farm problems and their effect upon all rural America."

A similar demand was made by Rep. Merwin Coad (D-Iowa) in a telegram to the President. Coad suggested that Eisenhower replace Benson with former Rep. Clifford Hope (R-Kan.), longtime chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. Coad said farmers already are "living on inventory and not on income." He added that "we cannot keep cutting the price and cutting the acreage and expect the farmer to live."

Boy Scouts Plan Leader Training

The Boys Scouts of America are expanding in this area and are in the process of starting several new Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts. A series of training sessions are to be held for each group and all interested persons have been urged to attend. This includes all parents. A great deal of time and thought has gone into planning the training sessions and they will be interesting and beneficial to those who attend Scout representatives say. These sessions will be the only ones held for several months. The Cub Scout training sessions will be conducted in the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church parish house Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 4 o'clock on May 4 and 18. The Boy Scout sessions will be conducted at Camp Mel Davis (Girl Scout Camp) on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning of April 27 and 28. Check in time will be 3 p.m. Saturday. The Explorer sessions will be conducted in the Lions Club Scout House in Lions Club Park on Monday evenings, April 22 and 29 and May 6, and 7:30 will be the meeting time.

During the worst of the flood in and around Waco, firemen swam to trees to rescue marooned travelers. Three fishermen floated down the angry South Bosque on a privy until they could find shelter in pecan trees. Washed Out Bodies At McGregor, 18 miles southwest of Waco, the raging flood washed 22 bodies and caskets out of the ground in the town cemetery. Chief of Police Joe Burks reported that 11 had been found — one as far as half a mile from the cemetery — and a searching party was out looking for the others. Most of them had been buried four or five years. "Some of them are so badly deteriorated I expect we'll never find them," he said. "I guess there are 1,000 or 1,500 cars down there at the cemetery now. They are still coming in droves, more out of curiosity than anything else."

Miss Florence May Guthrie, 28, formerly of Pampa, died Friday morning at approximately 9:30 in an automobile accident 30 miles south of Dumas. Miss Guthrie was born April 30, 1928, in Pampa. She had attended school in California and moved back to Pampa eight years ago before moving to Guymon, Okla., where she lived prior to her death. Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Fay Taggart of San Diego, Calif.; her father, Kyle Guthrie of Denver, Colo.; a grandmother, Mrs. Florence Guthrie of Pampa; two aunts, Mrs. Oil Crossman and Mrs. Opal Kuykendall, both of Pampa; and four uncles, Luna and Troy both of Pampa, Lane of Las Vegas, Nev., and Willard of Clayton, N.M. Twister Wrecked Barns

The twister near Athens damaged a church and parsonage and tore trees up by their roots in addition to wrecking barns and outbuildings at the community of Stockard, four miles to the northwest. The Brazos River, which caused Lake Waco to flood out 50 homes around it, crested at 32.25 feet. Seven of the lake's 16 floodgates were closed, but below the dam the river still ran a mile wide and 40 feet deep, as big a stream as the Mississippi. The danger dwindled in Waco, however, as the North Bosque, the South Bosque and the Middle Bosque, which join to form Lake Waco, all fell. The combined Bosque rivers flow less than a mile as one stream before they join the Brazos. Waco got 5.25 inches of rain. Other rainfalls in the area included McGregor's 7.95 inches, Hew-

Archery Club Is For Persons Of All Ages; Has Large Following

By FRED M. PARKER
Pampa News Staff Writer

There are many activities for residents of Pampa and one of the most unique is an archery group, the Pampa Bowmen.

This club is composed of high school students, teachers and parents of the students. Under the set-up of the club all members participate on an equal basis.

This is one of the few activities where students and teachers meet on the same basis and share in the same interests.

At the present time the club has 45 members, including six teachers. It was organized on Feb. 12 of this year and the members take an active part in the club and in archery.

Meetings are held each Tuesday night in the wood working shop at the high school and following the business session the members adjourn to the gym where an indoor range has been set up. Here they fire at the target and see which one can fire the best score.

Classifications of bowmen, archer and novice are established in the club with the top third of the members as bowmen, the middle third as archers and the bottom third as novices. The member making the best score places highest on the lists.

A member goes up in order in classifications by challenging someone above him and beating him. The person making the challenge is limited to the five persons ahead of him in making such a challenge. If he beats the person challenged, the members change places on the list.

Challenges are limited to two each meeting.

Bowmen shoot at the target from a distance of 30 yards, archers shoot from 20 yards and novices shoot from 10 yards.

The club has an outdoor range located east of Pampa and when the weather permits practice is held on this range. At each meeting members answer the roll call by giving the highest score they have made on the outdoor range during the previous week.

In addition to the shooting, several of the members are engaged in making their own bows and arrows. Forms for molding the shape of the bows have been made and are kept at the woodworking shop. The various pieces of wood and plastic are laminated together and placed on the forms with strips of rubber holding them in place. The laminations are dried under heat.

After the laminated bows are removed from the form the work begins. Each bow must be carefully sanded to the required shape and the intricately shaped of the hand rest are made. Special care is taken in forming the narrow notch in the style of bow being made at the present time.

Darrel Raines is president of the club, Jim Brown is vice president and Meradith Meeker is secretary-treasurer.

Sponsors of the club are Myles Morgan and John Plaster, teachers at the high school. Other teachers that are members are E. L. Albritton, B. G. Gordon and A. R. Nooncaster, J. M. Thompson.

Other members are: Bill Breshers, Bobby Brown, Billy Brown, David Butcher, Jerry Carlson, Hunter Chisum, Tommy Covalt, Gene Dalsing, Gary Dockery, Fred Epperly, Larry Flaherty, Bill Gaut, Tommy Gindorf, Jimmy Goff, Jerry Hayes, Larry Hunt, Gerald Johnson, Jim Lunsford, Kenneth

McWaters, Roy E. Morris, Fred Neslage, John Pittsberger, Kenneth Raines, Charlie Rietholler, Arthur Rohde, Fenley Schlumbohm, Gene Simms.

Jack Smith, Mack Shirley, Fred Spalding, Bob Steed, Larry Stokes, Jerry Taintor, Terry Timmons and Rex E. Williams.

The club is making plans for emblems for the members and are discussing the possibility of purchasing jackets or shirts.

Anyone that is interested in archery or would like to learn archery can join the club if they meet the qualifications of membership.

Eisenhower Has Thrown Congress Much Of Budget Responsibility

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has thrown much of the responsibility for the federal budget back at Congress. He has given Congress a lot of advice, which probably will be ignored, on how it should exercise its control of spending.

The President also told the House its votes on appropriations bills have included some heavy cuts which won't save the taxpayers any money. He didn't use the term but he meant the cuts were phony. Many of them were Eisenhower pointed out his thoughts on the budget Thursday in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn. It was written in reply to a House resolution, adopted last month, for his recommendations as to how to make "substantial reductions" in his budget.

Size Of Reduction

The President indicated that even if Congress makes a cut, only about $500 million dollars of it will actually be taken off his 72 billion dollar spending budget for next year. This would be little more than a pin prick alongside the spending slashes of two to five billion dollars proposed by potent figures in Congress.

Eisenhower pointed out that his budget is really two budgets in one. One of them is a spending estimate of nearly 72 billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The other is a request for new spending authority—largely in appropriation bills—authorizing spending not only in the coming fiscal year but also in future years. The President also pointed out that about a third of the money to be spent in the next fiscal year was granted by Congress in past years.

Of the House-approved reductions in appropriations bills, now amounting to more than one billion dollars, the President politely told Rayburn:

"Some of the House 'cuts' have involved large sums that the executive branch is compelled by law to pay. 'Cuts' of that kind do not save money and must be later restored through supplemental appropriations unless the governing statutes are revised."

The "Mandatory" Spending

Eisenhower computed that 24 per cent of his federal budget, or almost 18 billion dollars, covers spending rigidly fixed by law like interest on the national debt, veterans benefits and public assistance grants. The House voted to cut administration budget requests for the last two items a total of 225 million dollars with full knowledge it was saving nothing in the long run.

The President also calculated that 63 per cent of his next year's budget is slated to go for national security and related expenses, leaving only 9 billion dollars or 13 per cent for possible non-defense reductions.

Congress undoubtedly will challenge him on his 45 billion dollar item for national security because it includes the foreign aid program. Even so, Congress will not know how much any cuts it makes in the foreign aid program will reduce spending for the coming year.

Good And Bad Of The Week's News

Foreign News Commentary By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:
Twenty-one-year-old King Hussein of Jordan won a victory over the leftist-slanted, pro-Egyptian elements in his government and armed forces who had threatened his throne.
After ousting Premier Suleiman Nabulsi, leader of his political enemies, Hussein named moderate, pro-Western Hussein Fakhri Khalidi as his successor.
Hussein then led Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nuwar, his chief army officer, as chief of staff. In Nuwar's place Hussein named Maj. Gen. Ali Hayyari, leader of loyal army forces.
Disarmament Hopes Rise
Hope rose that a United Nations disarmament committee, meeting in London, might get started soon, after years of effort on the first stage of reducing the armaments of the great powers.
President Eisenhower disclosed at a press conference in Washington that Harold Stassen, chief American delegate at the London conference, had sent a most optimistic report of prospects.
Stassen told the President that the atmosphere in the talks had improved and that the negotiations were in the most serious—that is, the most promising—situation since the end of World War II.
Makarios Comes To Athens
Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek-Cypriotes who wants Great Britain to turn over the Mediterranean island of Cyprus to Greece, arrived in Athens and was welcomed as a national hero.
Britain, in a new attempt to negotiate a settlement of the dispute, had released Makarios from imprisonment on an Indian Ocean island.
But prospects for a settlement seemed remote. Makarios said on his arrival in the Greek capital that he intended to intensify the fight to compel Britain to give up Cyprus. Turkey indicated clearly that it is unlikely to agree to any Cyprus settlement which would be satisfactory to Makarios and to Greece. Cyprus is only about 45 miles from the Turkish mainland and nearly 600 from Greece.
Greece never has possessed Cyprus. If Britain ever gives it up, Turkey wants it. Turkey ruled Cyprus for centuries before Britain took it over.
Jordan
The struggle in Jordan between King Hussein and his enemies had not only threatened the young monarch personally but had brought the possibility of a war involving Arab countries and Israel that might have ended Jordan's short life as a nation.
For months, pro-Communist, anti-Western elements in the government and army had been in control of Jordan's policies. They had allied themselves with Pres-

Television Channel Swim

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The channel swim...

NBC is trying to work out a TV version of "The College of Musical Knowledge," the old Kay Kyser radio quiz. Dennis Fay is shaping up as emcee. If the show comes off, it'll probably replace the Tennessee Ernie Ford variety timer.

The William Morris Talent Agency is pitching a TV comedy series at Carl Reiner and Howdy Morris, Sid Caesar's bananas. It's called "Up Front" and is based on the Bill Mauldin war cartoons. Neither Carl nor Howdy, however, wants to make a move until NBC makes a decision on the NBC status of the Caesar Hour.

Jim Lowe, the fellow who recorded "Green Door," may get the nod as emcee of "Lucky Lady," a new giveaway in preparation for an ABC-TV afternoon slot.

Arthur Godfrey wants to dabble in legit acting—he's been offered a part this fall on "G. E. Theatre"... Gen. Douglas MacArthur turned Mike Wallace down when Mike tried to woo him for his new ABC-TV interview show.

Lynn Dollar of "The $64,000 Question" dyed her hair fire red. "Wide World of Sports" has taken on a temporary staff member who is a millionaire—she's Anne Giamini of the banking clan. "The Buccaneer" will walk the plank at CBS-TV... BI And Co. Baird, the puppeteer, shoot the pilot of a new series, "Sinbad the Sailor," next week.

Henry Kaiser, the industrialist, is furious at NBC-TV for wanting to switch the starting time of his "Kaiser Aluminum Hour" on Tuesday night. He's ordered his ad agency to yank the drama show and move it to another network. NBC-TV has eyes for the "Bob Cummings Show," now in the CBS-TV stable.

The African elephant can charge through the bush at speeds of 15 to 25 miles per hour.

Train Bows To Auto
TOLEDO, Ohio (UP)—Trainmen on a northbound train took one look at the southbound truck early Thursday and flagged down an oncoming southbound train. The southbound train stopped just in time to prevent a head-on collision with Marion T. Watson's car. Watson, 59, was locked up on a drunk and disorderly charge.

This One Figures
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Director Delbert Mann stopped production on the movie, "The Bachelor Party," so actors portraying bookkeepers could go to school. Mann sent them to business school to learn the proper handling of computers.

A Firm Return
CHICAGO (UP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today Chicago firm has paid enough in 1956 income taxes to give every person in the United States $1 and still have nearly four million dollars left over. The firm, which the IRS refused to identify, paid a 174 million dollar income tax.

Little Grabs Las Vegas Lead

By HAL WOOD
LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 20 (UP)—Blond Gene Littler, who plays the best in the gambling town of Las Vegas where the stakes are big, vaulted into the lead at the end of three rounds in the rich Tournament of Champions today as he fired a three-under-par 69 for a 215 total.

But even with that brilliant shotmaking, Gene was only one stroke in front of yesterday's leader, Don January, who had a 73 for a 216 total; and two in front of such young stars as Dick Mayer and Billy Casper.

But since turning professional a few weeks before this event two years ago, he has won twice and now stands to make it three in a row.

At the 218 mark came Dow Finsterwalk with 75-73-70 and the veteran Jimmy Demaret, who has 73-72-73. Demaret chipped into the cup on the 18th hole from about 30 feet before the 5,000 spectators.

The 219 bracket included Billy Maxwell (69), Ed Furgol (70) and Arnold Palmer (74). Dr. Cary Middlecoff had a 73 for 220.

LEAGUE PLAY IN THE YOUNG SOUTHWESTERN LEAGUE opens Tuesday and it's hard to predict this early as to the power in the circuit.

Plainview, it would seem, has one of the top teams in the eight-team circuit. The Ponies got an early start in spring training and they've played several exhibition games. Only two teams, Midland and Clovis, have signed working agreements and that should help them some.

Other teams in the league—Pampa, Ballinger, El Paso, Hobbs and Carlsbad—have received player help from major and minor teams.

Financial difficulties may be the chief cause for concern in the league this year. All of the teams appear to be loaded with plenty of players, thus giving them a choice of the best players.

Attendance was low in most of the Southwestern League cities last year despite some fine playing. Pampa stayed up near the top and finished in the playoffs, but the club drew poorly. The Oilers may have another good team again this year, everything indicates they will, but their success will depend upon the gate receipts.

From the roster of 21 players, Manager Allan Cross should be able to select a representative team. He has some fine rookies, his limited service players are showing promise and his veterans are performing like veterans should.

Some of the Oilers who are Cincinnati property and had been working out with Redleg farm clubs in Douglas, Ga., reported that Clovis may not have a good team this season despite the working pact with the Reds. Clovis reportedly has over 40 players on the roster but most of them are rookies and are unproven. That list must be cut to 16 by Tuesday.

Midland, Pampa's opening opponent, has a working agreement with the Washington Senators. The Indians may come up with one of the top clubs in the Southwestern League. Manager Jim Basco has been given a free hand to acquire players for the El Paso Texas and Ballinger has several of its 1956 players on the roster. Carlsbad has been receiving help from Shreveport and Oklahoma City has been aiding Hobbs.

In Kansas Relays Longhorn Sprinters Break Relay Mark

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 20 (UP)—Texas University's great sprinters dashed the 440-relay in 39.9 seconds today to break the world record during the 32nd Kansas Relays. The team also broke the relays 880 mark.

With the weather ideal and track fast, 14 meet records were revised in this track and field classic.

The team of Wally Wilson, Hollis Gainsy, Olympic hurdler Eddie Southern and Bobby Whilden was pushed by a speedy Houston University team in the quarter-mile but zoomed to a 10-yard margin at the finish to shave three-tenths of a second from the world standard of 40.2.

Whilden ran a brilliant anchor leg in the half mile relay to beat Oklahoma A&M in 1:24.2, four-tenths better than the meet mark. At the recent Texas Relays, the Texas foursome ran 1:42.7, peeling the world record by 1.3 seconds.

man running unattached, sped the 400-meter high hurdles in meet record time of 51.9. Gene O'Connor of Kansas State, defending champion and record holder, was second. O'Connor's record time of 52.2 was set last year.

With Lowell Janzen doing his anchor 880 leg in 1:50.6, Kansas shattered the two-mile relay record in 7:32.3. It was 87 seconds faster than the mark set by Oklahoma A&M in 1949.

Olympic champion Al Oerter of Southern broke the meet record with a toss of 178 feet 1 inch. The old mark was 171, 6-3-4. He won at Melbourne with a record 184, 10-1-2.

Southern Methodist University's Don Stewart went 6 feet, 8 inches to win the high jump, 3-4 inch off the record. Basketball All-American Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas lifted his seven-foot frame over 6-6 for second.

Yankees Edge Red Sox In 12 On Bauer Homer

BOSTON, April 20 (UP)—Hank Bauer belted a two-run homer in the 12th inning and Mickey Mantle doubled in the third Yankee run of the frame to give New York a 10-7 victory today over the Boston Red Sox in a slugfest that lasted nearly four hours.

Elston Howard, who singled in the winning run against the Red Sox Thursday, opened the Yankee line with a single to center. Bobby Richardson sacrificed him to second and pitcher Bobby Shantz popped out to shortstop. Then Bauer unloaded his second home run of the young season over the left field wall off reliever Ike Delock. Billy Martin followed with a double, his second of the game, and Mantle came through with his third hit of the contest and his second RBI.

Delock, the third Boston hurler, relieved injured Bob Porterfield in the seventh inning and was charged with the loss. Porterfield suffered a severe bruise on his pitching hand when he was struck by a wicked grounder hit by Gil McDougald.

Podres Hurls Dodgers Past Pirates, 2-0

BROOKLYN, April 20 (UP)—Johnny Podres, the 1955 World Series pitching hero, turned in a sparkling six-inning performance in a homecoming game today to give the Dodgers a 2-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was the Dodgers' third consecutive victory of the young National League season and the 2-0 score was the same as Podres scored over the New York Yankees the last time he pitched for the Dodgers—on Oct. 4, 1955.

Podres, who spent last year in the Navy, struck out nine batters, walked only two and permitted only one Pirate to reach third base. That was Lee Walls, who stole third in the fourth inning and had to leave the game when he was spiked on the right index finger by umpire Tom Gorman.

Walls' steal was part of a double theft with Frank Thomas and put runners on second and third with one out, but Podres pitched out of the jam by striking out Dale Long and retiring Dick Groat on a fly.

Bob Friend, who beat the Dodgers seven times the last two seasons, retired the first 11 batters to face him, but then was tagged for successive home runs by Duke Snider and Carl Furillo, producing the two Dodger tallies.

Those blows sent Friend down to his first loss of the year despite a four-hit seven-inning performance.

Oilers To Open Season Tuesday

The Pampa Oilers lost a valuable veteran shortstop but gained a well-recommended rookie catcher and outfielder yesterday as they neared the starting gate for the Southwestern League season opener.

Jackie Wilcox, a 1956 Southwestern League performer with Clovis, informed the club Saturday that his thumb had been broken and he would not be able to play until late in the season. Wilcox, who was being counted upon by Manager Allan Cross to play shortstop, injured his thumb early last week. At first it was believed that he had only jammed it, but x-rays indicated the thumb was broken.

Probably play the shortstop position with rookie Alex Triggs in center. Other outfielders will probably be Jeral Landrum and Smith with Bob Flores at first, Henry Francis at second, Pat Platt at third and Goose Goff catching. Cross will probably start either Tommy Hartman or Roberto Martinez on the mound.

Plainview's first home game is against Ballinger. Clovis hosts Carlsbad and El Paso plays at Hobbs. All are Saturday games.

The Oilers slugged a short work out Saturday morning before the rain began pouring down. They have two more work outs planned before going to Midland for the Tuesday night contest. The roster must be trimmed to 16 players by the Tuesday deadline.

Pampa will open the season needing a centerfielder and a shortstop although players already on the team will be able to play the two positions. Felipe Valdez will centerfield.

Harvesters Bow To Hard-Hitting Dons

The Palo Duro Dons allowed the Pampa Harvesters an early two-run lead in the first inning and then the Amarillo school opened up for runs in five of their six innings at Palo Duro to take a one-sided 18-6 win over the Harvesters there Friday afternoon.

The victory kept the Dons out in front in the District 3-AAAA baseball race and kept the Harvesters out of contention for a part of the league lead.

A Lubbock victory over Monterey gave the Westerners second place in the seven-team race and dropped Pampa and Borger in third place with 1-2 district marks. Lubbock beat Monterey 19-5 while Borger was losing to Plainview 2-2. It was Plainview's first win of the season.

Pampa's loss was the second of the week to Amarillo schools. The Sandies edged the Harvesters 4-3 Tuesday. Pampa's season record now stands at 3-5. All three victories have been over the Borger Bulldogs.

Pampa used three pitchers in trying to halt the Dons' 15-hit attack. Ray Stephenson started on the mound for Pampa and lasted three innings, giving up nine hits for 11 runs.

He was replaced by David James in the fourth with none out. James went one inning in giving up three hits for three runs and Ronnie Burlingame finished the game.

Monday's Main Event Is Rematch

A rematch for the main event is scheduled for the Pampa Shrine Club's wrestling program Monday night at the Top of Texas Sportsman Club.

Rocky Columbo and Rip Rogers will go against Tommy Phelps and Jim Blood in a tag team match for the top attraction. Phelps and Blood won over the duo of Columbo and Rogers last week.

The main event is slated for one hour and the best of three falls. The semifinal event has the Great Bolu returning to the Pampa ring once more to meet new comer Sonny Myers. Bolu will be wrestling without the aid of his second, Leo Newman, who has been suspended. The bout is for the best-of-three falls with a 45-minute time limit.

Pony, Little League Tryouts Scheduled To Start Tuesday

Tryouts for 12 Little League and Pony League teams will begin Tuesday night at three ball parks, according to Gerald Sims, president of the sponsoring Optimist Club.

The tryouts will be held for approximately two weeks in order to give all of the interested boys a chance to make the teams. Each team will be allowed to carry only 16 players on the roster.

Western Little League trials are scheduled to start at 5 p.m. Tuesday at Kiwanis Park. Tryouts for the Eastern Little League clubs will be held at Lions Club Park at 5:30 p.m. Pony League Park will be the site of the Pony League tryouts at 5:30 p.m.

NO KICK HERE—Joe Gordon, manager of the San Francisco Seals, seems to be kicking Ump John Nenech in the rumber seat, but that's only the camera angle. Gordon was left to beef on his own when the ump headed for the outfield after a call on a close play at third.

Rain Causes Cancellation Of Pampa-Lubbock Contest

A heavy downpour of rain caused cancellation of the Pampa Harvesters-Lubbock Westerner baseball game at Oiler Park Saturday afternoon.

Rain also postponed the District 3-AAAA contest between the Amarillo Sandies and the Palo Duro Dons in Amarillo yesterday. The two teams were leading the district race with perfect records.

The Harvesters must now play a doubleheader at Lubbock when the two teams face each other again in May. Another twin bill is slated between the Harvesters and Monterey at Lubbock later this month after bad weather caused cancellation here last week.

Pony, Little League Tryouts Scheduled To Start Tuesday

The Little League tryouts have been divided into age groups because of the number of applicants. Boys from 8 to 10 will work out on Tuesday and Thursday of each week and the 11 and 12 year-olds will practice Wednesday and Friday. The Pony League boys, 13 and 14 years of age, will try out at the same time each week.

Any boys who did not register last week will be eligible to register for the teams at the tryouts, according to Sims. Teen-Age League tryouts will be held after school is out. League play is tentatively scheduled to start in the Pony and Little Leagues on May 14.

Stock Market Weekly Report

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL, United Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks finished in higher ground for the fourth straight week, thanks to a late spurt in Thursday's session. Railroad shares were the jagged ends all week and finished lower. Industrials were lower going into the final session, but a good rally in steels, oils and metals pulled that group up for the week. Utilities improved, touching a new 26-year high.

Despite the weakness in rails, more than 4 billion dollars has been added to market values in the past four weeks. There were a number of standouts this holiday-shortened week. Addressograph-Multigraph ran up 17 points to 167 on stock split rumors. Luken's provided more fireworks, jumping 1 1/2% on the week and extending its gain for the year to 2 1/2%.

Paper Stocks Down
A dividend cut and an unfavorable earnings report sent St. Regis Paper down 3 1/2%. Other paper stocks took their cue from St. Regis and moved lower.
Chesapeake & Ohio lost one in the rails. Others generally lost fractions but Western Maryland countered with a gain of 3%. The oils made one of the best showings in the industrial list, reflecting President Eisenhower's support of a bill to ease federal controls over natural gas producers. Belief the Suez Canal soon will be operating at its pre-crisis level also buoyed this group. Gulf was the standout, jumping 5%. Getty ended the week up 3 1/2% and Seaboard Oil rose four. High-priced Superior Oil of California tacked on 105 points to close at 1,495.

DETROIT: James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union vice president, on the recent meeting of the Teamsters Executive Council: "We agreed that Dave Beck is entitled to his constitutional rights and we are not making any judgments about him until he has his day in court on any and all charges."

ROCHDALE, England (UP)—Clara Leach, 75, arrived home without her keys and found her front door locked so she decided to slide down the coal chute into the cellar. Police found her in the cellar 31 hours later. That door was locked too.

Aluminum, which introduced a new method for mass producing seamless aluminum cans, spurred 9 1/2% to spark the non-ferrous metals. A bright shipbuilding outlook was mirrored in Newport News' 3 1/2-point gain. McIntyre-Porcupine Mining jumped 8 1/2% in a continued response to rumors it was interested in acquiring an interest in a Canadian steel firm. The outlook for improved business this year helped the tires. U.S. Rubber jumped 3 1/2% and Goodyear and Goodrich more than two each. Chrysler firmed in the autos, on a glowing first quarter earnings report but General Motors lost more than one. Chemical shares were mixed. Eastman Kodak jumped 1 1/2% and DuPont firmed. But Allied and Dow both lost more than one.

Some Senators Want Big Oil Firms To Pay More Taxes

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE, United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Three senators are taking out after some of the big international oil companies to try and make them pay more federal income taxes. Behind them is another group determined to make domestic producers follow suit.

The first drive is aimed at the four companies which own the Arabian American Oil Co. (Aramco), source of the fabulous wealth of King Saud of Saudi Arabia. The second goes back to an abortive attempt in the Senate on March 27 to cut the domestic industry's income tax depletion allowance from 27 1/2 to 20 per cent.

In the forefront of the moves are Sens. John J. Williams (R-Del.), Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), and Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.).

Whether either campaign gets off the ground depends in the Aramco case on whether the Treasury Department continues to uphold its tax policies and in the second whether the anti-depletion bloc can convert enough senators to their cause to pass a reduction bill.

O'Mahoney, a member of the subcommittee, asked Sen. Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, to investigate. Byrd said he would have the staff of his joint Senate-House Committee on Taxation look into the matter after which the finance committee will determine whether further inquiry is warranted.

Membership Drive Starts By Realtors

The Pampa Board of Realtors is joining this month with hundreds of other boards in a drive to raise the total on the membership rolls of the National Association of Real Estate Boards to 66,000 by year's end. Quentin Williams announced today.

Williams, who is chairman of the membership committee of the local board and on the NAREB membership committee, said that April has been designated as Realtor Action Month. During this period special efforts will be made to bring qualified real estate men and women into affiliation with the Pampa Board of Realtors and NAREB. Arch I. Madden, D. S. Mines, Iowa, is the chairman of the NAREB membership committee.

Only those who are members of local boards affiliated with NAREB are permitted to use the term "Realtor," Williams pointed out, since it is a trademark owned by the national organization. "The public has an interest in the subject because Realtors are pledged to observe NAREB's strict code of ethics in their everyday business, and they must have demonstrated an ability to handle properly the real estate matters entrusted to them before they are admitted by the local board," he said.

"Under this code, the Realtor is pledged to uphold the public interest as well as the welfare of his client in every transaction he undertakes," he continued.

"Furthermore, those who have become Realtors value the distinction highly and feel that they have an obligation to see to it that the standards of their profession are elevated. Realtors are assisted in this through board activities, through educational programs of NAREB and its specialized institutes, and through the publications which are made available."

Special emphasis is being placed on membership in NAREB this year because the organization will begin the observance of its golden anniversary at the national convention which will be held next November in Chicago.

One of the good points about visiting New York is that I always run into Harry Fishbein of the Mayfair Club and Harry always has a good hand for me.

I will let him tell about this one in his own words.

"Forget about the bidding, I still don't know how to bid the hand and, played from my seat, a heart lead will beat me. Fortunately West opened spades, the suit bid by his partner."

"Look at the hands now and see if you can figure out how Mr. Fishbein played the hand."

"I had 11 top tricks and lots of finesses for the twelfth," he said.

"I knew East's bidding and was sure that he held the king of hearts and at least six spades for his vulnerable overall. If he also held the queen of diamonds, he would be dead but he did not need that card for his bid. Since I only held two spades and dummy only one diamond, I could not concede a trick somewhere and play for a squeeze. East could break that up completely by playing a diamond. I finally worked out a play that came close to being a sure thing and that I have never seen before."

"I simply cashed my high spades and high diamonds discarding a low heart from dummy. Then I ran dummy's six clubs so that dummy's last three cards were the ace-queen of hearts and the nine of spades. East saw what I was doing and discarded the jack and eight of hearts and held the ten and deuce of spades. It did him no good. I had marked him with six spades at the start, played the ace of hearts and dropped his king."

Railroad Requests Injunction Against Track Relocation

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP) — The Fort Worth and Denver Railroad Co. has asked a temporary injunction against relocation of Rock Island railroad tracks south of Amarillo Air Force Base.

The move is necessary before runways at the base can be extended. The government planned to move the tracks south of a proposed runway, requiring construction of more than 10 miles of new track.

Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth, vice president of Fort Worth and Denver, said his company contends in the suit filed yesterday in U.S. district court that legal procedure in moving the tracks would violate federal law. He said it proposed another route that would save the government at least half a million dollars.

Armstrong said his company protested the move because it would take Rock Island into a business area served by Fort Worth and Denver, jeopardizing the interests of its stockholders.

Armstrong said he proposed constructing only three and a half miles of track connecting the Rock Island to his company's line and another short connection further west. He said the two companies could operate over that portion of the tracks on a joint usage basis.

Peg O' Pampa

HELLO . . . and we wish you a speedy recovery if you have a case of spring fever . . . have you seen the glorious display of dandelions in the Hobart street park . . . truly, it is a sight worth driving out to see this afternoon . . . that is, unless they have mowed them all off by now . . . hope not . . . the lowly dandelion may be the despair of the immaculate lawn-grower, but it is certainly beautiful en masse . . . and tulips are ever so much prettier if they are in a colorful group, rather than stretched out singly . . . but on to other things.

Blessings ever wait on virtuous deeds, and though a later, a sure reward, succeeds.
(William Congreve)

NEW MEMBERS of the "station wagon" set are the Syperfs, Bob and Johnnie . . . and speaking of them, their son Mike is certainly sharp as the proverbial tack . . . and such a friendly little fellow . . . guess he and Mike Vendrell, next-door neighbors, are good friends . . . but the mothers probably get them mixed up when they lean out the doorway and yell for one of the other . . . news from the bowling alley this week was the Women's Bowling Association City Tournament . . . Pete Elem, Delia McGonigal, Glenda Terry, Mildred Fulfer and Elizabeth Lewis were the winning team . . . saw lots of little kiddoes having Easter-Egg hunts during the past week . . . in the parks . . . Thelma Lewis and Madge Rusk are new members of the Business and Professional Women's Club . . . and the Altrusa Girl for April is Beth Spencer . . . another pretty and intelligent and talented choice to be congratulated.

THIS AND THAT . . . a very uninspired caption for this section . . . nevertheless . . . let it stand . . . Peg is anxious to see the homes on the Parent Education Tour . . . and the cause is very worthy . . . the women who are throwing open their homes are to be praised for their contribution . . . Mrs. Crawford Atkinson . . . Mrs. J. C. Daniels . . . Mrs. L. L. Garren . . . Mrs. John Hines . . . and Mrs. Leroy Miller . . . saw Mrs. L. L. Milliren in a pretty yellow blouse the other day . . . golly, she is a worker . . . red-headed Malcolm Brown was sauntering down the sidewalk the other day, looking just as if he had no thought in his head other than to keep a stone rolling along in front of him, or to go fishing, maybe . . . he well deserves the honor he won recently . . . things are certainly looking busy along Hobart street lately . . . what with preparations for the underpass, and for the new Hotel, both going full blast . . . we have a feeling there will be some justified inconvenience throughout the summer . . . but, oh, how Pampa will be the better for it!

QUIET LAUGH for the week . . . the record album business continues growing by logarithms . . . and more and more you run into albums like: "Music to Relax With," "Music to Slumber By," "Music to Live By,"—the list is endless . . . here a few suggestions . . . to pass along to the album makers . . . "Music to Neutralize Elvis Presley With," "Music to Keep Your Wife (or Husband) Quiet for a Short Period of Time," "Music to Offset the Effects of Extra Dry Martinis, for the Most Part," and we hear that there is really one called "Music to Soothe the Savage Ballroom Beast" . . . and another "Music to Speed the Parting Guest."

Nothing will make us so charitable and tender to the faults of others, as, by self-examination, thoroughly to know our own
--- Fenelon.

POTPOURRI . . . this column is hard-up this week . . . it being Holy Week, nothing has been going on socially, at least not as much as usual . . . expect the neighborhood coffees are . . . but bridge parties are cancelled . . . and people spend their time thinking about much graver things . . . and planning trips to see relatives . . . grandchildren . . . aunts . . . and so on . . . Mr. and Mrs. Don George and their children went to Nebraska over the weekend . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Nienstiel were out of town . . . Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones did a fine job of singing the "Messiah" Wednesday night . . . Mr. Hunt surely has done a fine job directing . . . and did you see the exhibit of paintings by Texas artists that has been in the Lovett Memorial Library the past week? . . . Peg happened to wander in one day and was quite surprised . . . some of the paintings are by "amateurs" and some were done by college professors of the arts . . . one is by Mona Pierce (need we explain she is Judy Russell's mother?) . . . don't you wish that the new houses that are being built were labeled as to owner, as well as builder?? . . . Peg is consumed by curiosity as to who is going to live in some of the beautiful homes going up in East Fraser . . . dog-gone it, you-all put your names on your houses . . . how many Easter eggs have you dyed over the years . . . ever keep count?

There is great beauty in going through life without anxiety or fear. Half our fears are baseless, and the other half discreditable.
(Bovee)

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH . . . a marriage license gives a woman the right to drive a man . . . middle age is when you don't care where you go just so you are home by 9:30 . . . if you meet a man who looks you straight in the eye, you'd better do something about your figure . . . well, we tried to bring some sweetness and light into your day!

Time is so precious that it is dealt out to us only in the smallest possible fractions . . . a tiny moment at a time.
Irish Proverb

WHEN YOU ARE OUT for a drive this afternoon . . . there are a few flowers to see . . . we took a drive to see . . . and while there is nothing absolutely spectacular . . . still, there are some colors and some greennesses to be observed . . . take a look at the forsythia at the Cree house on Charles . . . and at 1013 Charles . . . and the bank of flowers in purple and red at 1701 Russell . . . and the beautiful green rye and grass that the Donaldson's have . . . my, it seems no time at all since there was only bare dirt around their new home . . . and notice the interesting leaves of the plant in the window at Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vaughn's house on Christine . . . and the brightest spot in Pampa is now, not flowers, but the roof of Mrs. Wilson's house on Charles street . . . did she just have it newly painted, or is it just that we did not pay attention to it before this? . . . methinks it is not the latter.

THAT IS ABOUT IT FOR THE WEEK . . . sorry the pickings are so slim . . . but business should pick up a little as we progress into the summer and all its activities.
love you all,
Peg.

EASTER FASHIONS

PAMPANS PREPARE FOR EASTER HOLIDAY

Pampa women are as fashionable as ever in preparing for the annual Easter Sunday when everyone turns out in their finest suits, dresses, and bonnets. Glancing around at this week's social events proved their usual good taste and up to date fashion interest. Even the children are being influenced by the holiday spirit, as is shown in Mrs. Floyd Smith's first grade class in the upper left photo. The youngsters have been making some very colorful and cute "Easter bonnets" out of wall paper and cut-out flowers. Shown left to right are Tommy Winborne, trying to decide which bonnet Miss Becky Buck looks best in, while Miss Ladema Cole holds another one for her to try on.

Mrs. Eben Warner, 1221 Christine, is pictured in the upper right showing her wide-brimmed black straw with a single black rose.

Lower right is Miss Karen Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jordan, 1217 N. Russell, and Miss Cathy Thut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thut, 2113 N. Russell, modeling their new Easter finery.

MRS. JERRY AGATE HERZBERG

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Agate Herzberg Are Married In Double-Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Agate Herzberg were united in marriage at 4 p.m. April 20 in a double-ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church in Pampa.

Mrs. Herzberg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Miller, 1033 Charles. Mr. Herzberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barnett, 1201 W. Wabash, in Enid, Okla.

The ceremony was read by Jon James, minister, before an altar banked by palms and spiral candelabra with pink candles on either side.

Pre-nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Jerry Dye, organist and cousin of the bride, who also accompanied Jerry Dye, also a cousin of the bride who sang "Oh Promise Me," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of subdued pink glow with a peau-de-soie alencon lace top, portrait neckline, and cap sleeves. The peau-de-soie fell over the full skirted taffeta Empire lines, and a high placed bow decorated the back of the dress. Her headpiece was a large rippled mushroom-shaped hat made entirely of imported Lilies of the Valley. She carried a white Bible centered with a bouquet of a white orchid and stephanotis, and wore white gloves.

Mrs. James Hart, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore an ice pink linen dress with a draped chiffon scoop neckline ending in a high raised back bow with flowing streamers. She carried a bouquet of three pink lilies.

Bridesmaids, Misses Carol Hughes and Helen Hickox, wore wedgewood blue cotton lace dresses over net with draped chiffon scoop necklines. The dresses also were emphasized with a back bow with streamers. They each carried a pink lily.

Al Herzberg, brother of the bridegroom, was bestman. Ushers were Bill Johnston, of Enid, Okla., and Richard Miller of Pampa, a brother of the bride.

Other attendants were Miss Janna Harvey who served as candle lighter, dressed the same as the bridesmaids, and Christ Hart, flower girl, who wore an ice blue cotton satin dress. Mike Miller, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Miller wore for her daughter's wedding a coco crepe dress with matching hat and shoes. Her corsage was two gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue silk dress also with matching hat and shoes, and a corsage of two gardenias.

A reception was held in the bride's parents' home. Miss Janna Harvey presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. Jerry Torve, aunt of the bride, served the cake, and Mrs. Richard Miller, sister-in-law, registered the guests.

For the wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the bride chose a navy blue silk dress with white trim and a navy blue sailor hat, also trimmed in white. She wore black patent shoes and white gloves and carried a matching black bag.

Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Herzberg finished high school in 1956 and was employed with Cabot Carbon Company until March 15. Mr. Herzberg finished his college work from Oklahoma A&M College in 1955 and was in the U.S. Army until April 10, 1957. He finished high school in Enid, Okla., and will be working there. The couple's address will be 801 W. Indiana Avenue in Enid, Okla.

Do Easter Tricks With Baby Chicks

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

The Easter celebration, always joyfully anticipated, offers special promise to the small fry when it falls late in April. There's an excellent chance the weather will cooperate for an outdoor egg hunt on lawns already green and soft. Flowers will decorate the landscape and the house.

Thanks to the bumper crop of spring birthdays, seasonal symbols such as chickens, eggs and bunnies, which engage the particular affection of most youngsters, will appear repeatedly as party decoration motifs.

Small children usually relish bright, strongly accented decorations, with favors for all. With three birthday parties in prospect I've been giving special thought to these decorations. I am partial to those which the youngsters themselves can help make and which require only inexpensive, readily available materials.

For centerpiece, cut out two identical chicken shapes from yellow construction paper. Snip a beak and comb from red construction paper and paste or tape in place. From white plastic tape, snip out small triangles. These decorate the chicken's sides for a feathery wing effect.

Place the two chickens around a waxed container (such as a cottage cheese carton); hold them in place by joining them with cellophane tape at the head and tail. Into the container pop a few flowers.

The chicken can be "nested" in artificial grass, or more elaborately, in fluffy lavender ribbon bows. Home-dyed and decorated eggs also look pretty circling the chicken.

If you have scraps of self-adhesive plastic shelf coverings, use these as well as colored plastic tape for easy-to-handle decorative motifs on hard-boiled eggs.

Do you know this trick for trimming tiny shapes from colored plastic tape? Stick a strip of tape to waxed paper first, cut out the desired shapes, then remove the paper.

Perky little chicken nut-cups are made from yellow paper cups or white cups wrapped in yellow construction paper.

Al Herzberg, brother of the bridegroom, was bestman. Ushers were Bill Johnston, of Enid, Okla., and Richard Miller of Pampa, a brother of the bride.

National Piano Auditions Will Begin Soon In The First Methodist Church

The National Piano Auditions will begin Tuesday when Miss Billian Buchanan of Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, arrives to begin the annual hearings, sponsored each year by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. The auditions will be held in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Buchanan has served as a Guild judge in New York, Texas and New Mexico. Before joining the School of Music at Easter a number of years ago, she taught piano at Ranger.

Pampa is one of 550 centers from coast to coast, where 50,000 piano students of all ages are heard by 200 adjudicators, constituting the largest piano tournament in the world. National Guild Tournaments were started 28 years ago in Texas by Irl Allison, who is now president of the movement. Its headquarters are in Austin.

The auditions here will continue for five days. Local teachers whose pupils will participate include Mrs. H. A. Yoder, Mrs. Lois Fagan, Mrs. Lily Hartsfield, Mrs. Lillian Land, Mrs. Ann Howell, Sister Mary Catherine, Bill Haley, Mrs. Willie Boyett of McLean, Mrs. Spilner of Canadian and Robert Hoffman of Amarillo.

The students prepare between two and twenty pieces for these auditions and receive certificates and pins according to type. For two or three pieces they receive local certificates and pins; for four to six pieces, district; for seven to nine pieces, state; for 10 to 14 pieces, national; and for 15 to 20 pieces, international. Piano students of any age may participate if they are pupils of a teacher who is a guild member.

It's unwise to allow towels to become so soiled that they need long soaking or harsh laundering methods. Change the family towels often during the week if you want to make your laundry load easier to handle.

A good way to use up leftovers is to plan for them when you make out menus for the week. Don't let leftovers get spoiled before you get around to using them. You know your family's eating habits and can plan accordingly.

MRS. H. F. McDONALD

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE Though the bus was crowded, half of the seat in front of me was still available. Then, on a new surge of passengers, it became occupied. A young mother carrying a small girl about two years old, deposited her in the seat. She just had time to give her a packet of peppermints and a reassuring "I'll be right behind you" when the crowd shoved her past us to the rear of the bus.

The small girl relaxed. Wriggling back more comfortably in her seat, she set herself to unwrap her candy. But the stiff folds of its silver foil wrapping resisted her. After a moment's struggle with it, she looked hopefully at the middle-aged woman who sat beside her.

But she got no help. Instead of opening the candy for her, her neighbor said, "You do it. Just pull the paper away, a little piece at a time."

The small girl stared for a moment. Then, obediently she went back to work on the candy wrapper. When, after several pulls, a piece finally tore off, she looked to her seat mate for new guidance. "Good," the woman said, "Go on."

Six blocks later, when the small girl achieved her first peppermint, her friend gave her a quiet little round of applause.

Instead of putting the candy in her mouth, the small girl leaned back against the seat, the peppermint forgotten, to beam devotedly upon her friend.

School Ex-student Homecoming in 1956, as well as District Director of the B&PW Clubs of District 9 in 1955-56. She was also chosen Business Women of the Week by the Pampa club during National Business Women's Week last fall, having served as past president, parliamentarian of local club and also of the district conference in Amarillo, recording secretary and on most committees of the Pampa club. She was selected as one of the three judges for the state program contest this year, and has attended all except one of the district conferences since joining the club in 1948.

The past few years she has attended the state conventions and the biennial convention last year. She represented Pampa on a TV program at the State Fair in Amarillo and sold stock for the new hotel.

Daughter of J. M. Patton and the late Mrs. Patton of Pampa, she married Harry F. McDonald Jr., in 1939 and has one daughter, Linda Joyce. Through Linda she became interested in Girl Scouts and served in various positions with that organization some of which were, assistant leader and leader of Troop 14, unit leader of Day Camp, assistant Day Camp director, delegate to the National Girl Scout Convention, President of the Leaders Club, and Executive director of the Girl Scout Association where she directed the Day Camp, Troop Camping and Adult Training for volunteers. She has remained an associate member since her five active years with the Girl Scouts of this area. Early in her career she managed a Postal Telegraph Company.

Plan to add to your stock of items each year at the rate of a pair of sheets for each bed and a pair of cases for each pillow. This will keep your linen supply in good shape.

 One of the wonderful things about spring is fresh asparagus. The season is not very long, so let's make the most of it.
COOKED FRESH ASPARAGUS
 For 6 servings, select 2 pounds fresh asparagus. Cut or break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Remove scales and wash thoroughly. Cook, covered, in a small amount of boiling water (about 1 inch deep in saucepan) to which 1 teaspoon salt is added for 15 to 20 minutes or until just crisp-tender. Drain. Serve with one of the following sauces:
FRESH ASPARAGUS WITH PAPRIKA SOUR CREAM SAUCE (Six servings)
 Sauté 3 tablespoons chopped onion in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Add 2 tablespoons paprika, 1 cup sour cream, 1-3 cup mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon ground white pepper. Serve at once over hot cooked fresh asparagus. Garnish with paprika.
FRESH ASPARAGUS WITH ITALIAN TOMATO SAUCE (Six servings)
 Heat ¼ cup olive or salad oil in a saucepan. Add ½ cup diced onion, ½ cup finely diced green pepper and 1-3 cup finely diced celery and cook until limp and transparent. Stir in 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups finely diced fresh tomatoes, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper and ½ teaspoon whole basil leaves and cook until medium thickness, about 10 minutes. Serve at once over hot cooked fresh asparagus.
TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cold sliced boiled ham, or cold boiled salmon, creamed mustard, new potatoes with parsley butter, fresh asparagus with paprika sour cream sauce, fresh whole wheat bread, butter or margarine, strawberries, light cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Theta Rho Club Is First Place Winner

The Pampa degree staff of Theta Rho Club No. 18 won first place in competition at the Junior Branch of the IOOF Panhandle Association meeting in Borger recently. Other clubs represented were two first place medals. Twenty-six girls attended the meeting from Pampa.

Sponsoring the girls at Borger were Misses V. J. Castka, mother advisor; Lenney Johnson, team captain; H. B. Lawley, Panhandle Association secretary; and T. A. Mastin, Homer McNeil and E. M. Stafford.

The Pampa club has three new officers for the 1958 association meeting to be held in Hereford. They are Miss Linda Herd, president; Miss Lynda Wilhelm, vice president; and Miss Barbara Whitney, chaplain.

The group plans to go to Houston in June to attend the Junior Branch of Grand Lodge of IOOF.

Sheets should be changed twice a week to prevent them from becoming too soiled. This saves wear and tear since they won't need drastic laundering to get them clean.

Never use pillow cases or sheets as laundry bags. This is hard on them, both in strain and soil. Buy a heavy duty laundry bag and use it regularly.

Mrs. Nell Ralston, A Top Authority, Knows Exceptional Child Problem

Mrs. Nell Ralston, considered a top authority on exceptional children, is one reason why members of the Parent Education Club have taken as a project the purchase of some equipment for a group of exceptional youngsters in Pampa. The club's "Tour of Beautiful Homes" is scheduled for May 4 with proceeds earmarked for this project.

Mrs. Ralston is teacher and guide to two groups of youngsters, who because they are special cases known as "exceptional," do not derive adequate training in the regular classroom.

Mrs. Ralston has been with the Pampa Public Schools for five years. She was employed to work with exceptional children. A native Kansan, she received all of her early education in that state, and became a grade school teacher on a permanent certificate after two years of college.

After her marriage she became the mother of two children and the step-mother of four others all of whom she reared while teaching school. After losing her son from diphtheria she became a boarding mother in Wichita, Kan. During this time she was enrolled in every available child guidance course. Later she taught at a Boy's Farm, which worked with boys from six to 16.

In 1951 she received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Wichita University and also completed several courses at the Institute of Logopedics where she received training in speech correction.

Mrs. Ralston's daughter, Mrs. B. O. Buck of Pampa, heard of a need for a teacher for the exceptional children's class here, and made the two known to each other. Soon Mrs. Ralston was in Pampa teaching. Since coming here, she has acquired a Master's Degree from West Texas State College at Canyon.

Mrs. Ralston explains that there are six classifications for exceptional children: the blind, the deaf, the nervous (emotionally disturbed), the orthopedic (crippled), and the mentally retarded. All too frequently a child will have more than one of these handicaps; and with any one he is almost sure to have emotional problems.

Each type of exceptional child needs a specially trained teacher and special equipment. Mrs. Ralston says, Many Pampa children have to be taken to Borger, Amarillo, or Dallas to receive their particular type of therapy. All have to be taught as individuals, at their own pace.

Mrs. Ralston's morning group has nine children and there are more she would like to take. In the afternoons she teaches a class of four who are on a different achievement level, then goes three days a week after school to teach a homebound child.

Mrs. Ralston believes that these children deserve every chance to have their full potentialities realized. They will all become citizens, voters, and probably parents. She has made a life's work of helping these children achieve their full potentialities.

A CHANGE OF DRESS

A meat pie is a stew with a top on it. So whoever stew is left over from dinner, make it into a meat pie for another meal. Tamale pie always has corn meal topping.

If your hair goes limp on rainy days or in a steamy kitchen, a pin curl home permanent will probably give it the body it needs. Add to this a lanolin type hair dressing to encourage your hair to curl and you'll find you've eliminated straggly, straight-ends.

Danger In Reuther

Anyone who has watched the rise of union bossism in this country during the past two decades cannot help but be disturbed by the ever-increasing power of Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers and the most powerful man today in union labor.

There was a time in the history of Russia, for instance, when the Bolsheviks were terrorizing the country, when little attention was paid to the wild-eyed man with black beards who wanted to blow up the world. And the influence these men had on the rest of the world was negligible.

Later the Communists of Russia "became civilized," and it was at this point that Communism began to make itself felt in the world. The subtle approach was used when that served the purposes of Communism and the mailed fist was used when necessary. And the hold that Communism has on the world today is proof that the subtle approach is infinitely more successful than one made with bluster and bombs.

Americans never could be sold the nihilism and anarchy of the early Communists. But when Communism was given a cloak of respectability all too many Americans went for it hook-line-and-sinker. Today, although there are millions of Americans who decry the word Communism, they are most vocal in their praises of the things for which Communism stands.

It is in this sense that Walter Reuther presents a far greater danger to the future of this country than a dozen Dave Becks. Beck was and is a self-seeking and heavy-handed union boss who was at least mighty careless with union funds entrusted to him. What success he has had as a unionist came largely as the result of terrorism, gangsterism and political pressure and a regime based on such a flimsy foundation could not long hope to succeed.

But Walter Reuther, as the boys say, is a horse from another riding academy. Reuther is the undisputed leader of approximately 4,000,000 auto workers in a union with assets of approximately $40,000,000. In many circles he has become symbol of "American Labor."

Victor Riesel reports that: "He (Reuther) has in his private files, for example, a cancelled check for $8.50 which he once dispatched to an aide who picked up a batch of colored beads for a Girl Scout troop she supervises. The aide said he forgot it. The check came nonetheless out of Reuther's personal funds. So it was with the left-handed refrigerator which the Reuthers may have gotten wholesale."

Reuther has shown great disdain for huge personal funds. His salary is $18,000 a year, the lowest salary among officials of all the big unions. He could just as easily get $50,000 if he wanted to. Moreover, he has been almost ostentatious in the manner in which he goes out of his way to use cheap methods of transportation and housing while some of his brother union bosses go first class all the way.

Thus, the problem of Walter Reuther is not the same one that is presented by a Dave Beck, a Jimmy Hoffa or a Jimmy Patriello. The difficulty with Reuther is that his story of lowering the work week and increasing the price of labor is an attractive one to those who have not thought it through sufficiently to see the end result.

If, through some magical formula, the scheme presented by Reuther would actually result in an increase in the standard of living of all the workers it would be more acceptable. But Reuther would limit production, rather than increase it and the inevitable question "where will it come from?" must be answered.

Now there is no doubt but that automation and increases in technical skills will in many fields bring about some increase per man in production. And if the increase in production exactly balances the reduction in time of productive effort we will not be any worse off than we are today. But neither shall we be moving toward an increased standard of living.

This is a purely materialistic approach to the danger that is presented by Reuther and those of his following. The real danger of Reuther lies in desire to limit through law or intimidation the lives of others—to limit how much time one man may spend in productive work. Reuther wants a law which would have the government pay workers for moving and finding new jobs if they are replaced by machines in their home town. In short, Reuther is no respecter of the individual and wants to control the lives of others through political control by government. This is the danger of Reuther.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Mrs. A. writes that she would like to know all about "yellow jaundice." Of course, the subject cannot be covered in a few words, but a brief general discussion may be helpful.

If the bile is not eliminated from the body normally, the bile is carried in the blood stream to all parts of the body and produces a typical yellowish color of the skin and mucous membranes.

It is not necessary to say "yellow" jaundice as there is no other kind.

JAUNDICE COMES as a complication of several different kinds of infectious diseases or can result from anything which blocks the outflow of bile, such as a gallstone lying in the passageway, or a clump of parasites.

Jaundice can be produced also by certain poisons or infections. Poisons, such as trinitrotoluene (TNT), act on the liver.

In other cases, accumulation of bile coloring matter in the tissues is caused by increased destruction of red blood cells which are the original source of this pigment or of disease of the liver itself.

JAUNDICE IS often accompanied by an uncomfortable itching which may be virtually in-

AIR FORCE MERITS PRAISE

Over the years in this column, I've had much to say about wasteful government spending—have pointed out that many government agencies are prone to vie with each other to spend as much of the taxpayers' money as possible.

There, it is indeed a pleasure to have found a government agency that is buying the most of the best for the least. What makes it really something to cheer about is that it is charged with purchasing the most of any government agency. The department making this enviable record is the Air Force, which during a fiscal year, purchases approximately $10 billion of material, consisting of about 1,250,000 different items.

Nearly all these items are purchased through Air Materiel Command at Wright Patterson Air Force Base. Testifying to the high moral standing and the patriotism of the men engaged in spending this huge sum is the fact that

The Presbyterians—
Social Gospel—1957.

Here is the last installment of "Faith and Freedom's" study in Social Gospel in 1957. It is an article written about the Presbyterians. The article is written by Dr. W. Clarence Wright on the Presbyterians' movement in the Social Gospels. From here on I am quoting:

"We in the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America have always held high the Saviourhood and Lordship of Jesus the Christ. Traditionally, our church insisted that Christian faith was relevant to social relations. As a whole Presbyterians with respect to Social Action tread close to the middle of the road—with some radical pronouncements creeping in."

"Here is what they said about the United Nations in 1952: 'The United Nations should be, in fact, as well as in word, a cornerstone of American foreign policy and not an instrument of convenience to be used or ignored as expediency requires.'"

"Pronouncements about business—(1955)—'We call upon the members of our churches... to urge the passage of fair employment practice laws with enforcement provisions in states in which the legislation of this type is not already in effect.'"

"The Presbyterian judiciary also touches upon the relationships of Federal intervention and aid. The 1955 General Assembly re-affirmed the statement 'that Federal aid be approved to strengthen public education,' but in 1956, 'Recommendations to local communities that they make full use of their resources before requesting Federal aid.'"

"Extend The Draft?" "The denomination had recommended to its ministers to participate in the Social Security plan, but in 1956 instructed its Board of Pensions not to urge the clergy further."

"On the matter of aid to other countries the 1955 conclusion: 'As for government programs of foreign aid,' we believe that they should not be trimmed down or withdrawn as long as they serve human needs.' But Presbyterians were urged to use volunteer agencies as much as possible, working through CARE, CROP and Church Welfare Service."

"The Presbyterian Church never has modified its pronouncement of several years past: 'While we recognize the necessity for military conscription in time of national emergency, we reaffirm the historic position of our church in opposition to peacetime conscription and universal military training.' And in 1955 added: 'We believe that the drafts should be extended only as "the national emergency" warrants, and then for not more than two years at a time.'"

"Two Statements And A Word" "They defeated proposals to change the calendar to a thirteen month cycle. Matters of a judicial nature have received but moderate attention or have been bypassed. In 1952 the General Assembly approved two statements together with a word of commendation on the improved labor relations: 'We urge a greater emphasis upon free collective bargaining in labor-management relations, with decisions mutually and voluntarily arrived at, rather than reliance upon public agencies for decisions,' and 'We suggest that Presbyterians laymen participate more actively in management organizations and labor unions as an expression of Christian vocation.'"

"Tensions Ease Off" "Although the Assembly of 1955 did ask the Department of Social Education and Action to conduct a survey with special attention to 'new trends in labor-management relations, guaranteed annual wage, "right to work" laws, automation, and to report back to the 1956 body.' The 1956 Assembly did not make or adopt a statement on these areas. Thus it would seem to follow that tensions on this level are greatly reduced."

"To follow trends in thought and propaganda in the realm of Social Action, see the Presbyterian social action and education monthly, 'Social Progress.' For a more general tone read the approved articles in the bi-weekly publication, 'Presbyterian Life' (circulation slightly less than one million copies)."

"In The Light Of Christ" "We Presbyterians hold fast to one vital constitutional right: 'God only is Lord of the conscience.' Pronouncements of the General Assemblies on matters of Social Action therefore are not mandatory but advisory. Official minutes of 1953 emphasize this in the words, 'The General Assembly, in seeking to discover the mind of Christ in relation to critical and sensitive moral issues. The purpose is not necessarily to express the popular thinking of Presbyterians ministers and church members on these issues but to survey the life of men in the light of Christ's teachings.'"

"As long as Social Action bodies suggest and in no wise attempt to coerce, they have their place to direct attention to issues in a world of free speech. And only in so far as this scope is not exceeded, can such work be healthy."

Right now we are all very tired, our initial enthusiasm somewhat subdued, and our dispositions more than a bit frayed around the edges. (Just ask our children!) Right now, like so many times before, there isn't one of us who would dream of going through all this again next year. Right now, we would all give our eyes teeth to go to Bermuda for a couple of weeks and just lie in the sun doing absolutely nothing—not even think. Right now, none of us is eating very regularly, or sleeping very well, or keeping up either manly business affairs or female household chores. Right now, all our kids have "had it" with their many weeks of "take over for Mom and Dad" extra duties at home.

Yes indeed—this is the low point, when a nagging inner voice persists in asking over and over again: "Was it worth it? Are you sure it was worth it?"

This question must wait a few more days for an answer. If the 1500 ticket-buyers say "yes"—if the cast wins the reward of genuine applause and says "yes"—and if our beneficiaries (the parents of retarded children) total up a result of several thousand dollars, and say "yes"—then—how can we weary ones say "no?"

BETTY KNOWLES HUNT
ON WITH THE SHOW!

By the time this column appears in print, the curtain will have gone up on the Fifth Musical Comedy in five years, created and produced by an amateur group to which this columnist belongs.

As always, these hours just before Opening Night are fraught with acute misery, bordering on panic, for we have just viewed our entire efforts in toto for the first time—the acting, singing, dancing, scenery, lighting and costumes all put together, and this first viewing is heart-breaking indeed.

Fortunately, we have lived through this zero hour before, and thus we have the consoling knowledge that our Opening Night, a wondrous miracle takes place, and somehow the ugly duckling becomes transformed into the beautiful swan it was meant to be, and our long months of dedicated creative effort finally pays off with success, which spells satisfaction for us and monetary benefit for others.

—We—meaning our amateur group—consist of seven married couples here on the North Shore above Chicago. We all love musical shows, and each of us has some particular interest or talent which he or she can contribute to such a creation. There is no money incentive, for we produce our shows solely as a benefit for some worthy cause. Last Spring, for example, we raised $8,000 net for The Hadley School for the Blind, and this coming week, we are hoping that this, our fifth show in a row, will accomplish as much for The North Shore Association for Retarded Children.

—No one but we could know or believe the amount of time and energy that we expend in this purely voluntary endeavor. Time-wise, this one began last October when we started working on the Book, or Script, a chore which took most of November to complete. December was devoted to composing the music and lyrics. We took a brief Christmas Holiday, and then it was January "try-outs" to select our cast and choruses. February called forth the scenery, lighting and costume designers, and also signaled the beginning of eight weeks of rehearsals, three times a week for the cast. March brought our sponsors' (and beneficiaries) into action with publicity, program advertising and ticket-sals—and now, all of a sudden, it is April morn'g too soon. Nearly fifteen hundred tickets have been sold, and the curtain is about to go up!

Right now we are all very tired, our initial enthusiasm somewhat subdued, and our dispositions more than a bit frayed around the edges. (Just ask our children!) Right now, like so many times before, there isn't one of us who would dream of going through all this again next year. It's Up To You

By HOWARD E. KERSHNER, L. H. D.

The Encyclopedia of Social Sciences is hardly a textbook but it is found on the reference shelves of many libraries, including those of a great many schools and colleges.

In "Conquest of the American Mind" Felix Wittmer labels it "poison." Its editor is described as an "ancient opponent of our free market economy." Its associate editor "has aided and abetted more alien socialists and Soviet-mongers than has probably any other American," and the managing editor is referred to as "the veteran communist front, materialist, and social misleader."

As evidence of the slanting in this reference work, Dr. Wittmer calls attention to the fact that the article on "Democracy" was written by the British Socialist apologist, Harold J. Laski. As expected, "democracy" turns out to be Socialism. The same author wrote the article on "liberty."

Another Socialist leader, G. D. H. Cole, writes on the topic "Laissez Faire." He calls it "hardly consistent... with modern economic conditions." Many will agree with that, but is a leading exponent of the Socialist theory qualified to write objectively on "Laissez Faire?"

The Bible is no more than one of the sacred books along with the Confucian classics of China, the Koran, and the sacred writings of the Hindu and Buddhist religions.

It is a short, non-committal, detached piece, quite in keeping with the materialism so popular in the social sciences.

"Socialism" is described in a twenty-three page section of the reference work, while only six pages are devoted to the American Constitution. The "Russian Revolution" is given three times as much space as our Constitution. George Washington rates two columns and Lenin seven.

At least one of the members of the Encyclopedia's Board of Directors, Mary Van Kleeck, was identified under "ethnology" at the International Pacific Relations Hearing as a member of the Communist party.

If our children are to be nourished on such books, "long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light" will prove to be a vain prayer.

Briton Admits His Old Age Program Has Gone Haywire

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—The author of Britain's famous "cradle to the grave plan," which has been copied so extensively in this country, now admits that it deprived him of sufficient income for his old age. He says that the resulting inflation of wages and prices has far outweighed the benefits of government handouts and social services. He admits that his grandiose program has "gone haywire."

Lord Beveridge's public admission of failure has aroused keen interest in Capitol Hill, where it has been almost required reading since he delivered his sensational speech for conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats last year. President Eisenhower's financial and economic policies will eventually have the same disastrous effect in the United States.

Roosevelt-Truman aides frequently compared the New Deal reforms to Lord Beveridge's achievements under the Atlee-Bevin Labor Ministry. Indeed, in jests not printable in a family newspaper, they used to boast that they had progressed far beyond his "cradle to the grave" arrangements.

Since President Eisenhower has continued and even expanded his predecessors' social and economic services, Capitol Hill critics now cite Beveridge's admission as living and demonstrated proof of their arguments.

But the British peer's complaint, which echoes King Lear's lamentations over his ungrateful children, will have greater effect on Congress than domestic political oratory and condemnation. For the optimistic originator has now repudiated heavy government spending as a means of maintaining the economy, bolstering purchasing power and providing full employment.

As if in answer to Walter P. Reuther's demand for a four-day working week with five days' pay and other wage gains, Lord Beveridge attributes his present plight to the persistent and spiraling increases in British wages and the inflationary effect upon the consumers, including the workers themselves.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's warnings during Britain's recent strikes confirm the Beveridge indictment. Macmillan pointed out that the rising wage scale, even though low by American standards, had reduced exports by making British goods too expensive for overseas buyers. And he noted that England can survive only by exporting more than she imports.

In short, Beveridge's threnody seems to be a criticism of many of the social and economic policies which some nations, including the U.S., have pursued for the last quarter of a century. Here is his sad tale:

"Most of my working life was spent in University services. When I left that service in 1946, a politician in 1945, I was able to take with me for superannuation enough thousand pounds to feel fairly happy about my future."

"Now, each of those pounds is worth about 6s 8d (about $1—Ed note). Like many other healthy people in the seventies, I am in danger of living longer than I can afford to live. Our plans for useful old age are all going haywire."

"The underlying reason for that is the claim of each industry to fix its own money wages by sovereign action. (He means strike action—Ed note.) Under full employment, that is leading to destruction of the value of money, and is causing widespread poverty among all who are trying to live in savings or fixed pensions."

VENICE—Every traveler dreams of finding a beautiful, unspoiled spot where he can live on a shoestring—or half a shoestring if he catches his pennies.

In these dreams, the traveler happens on a tiny, sun-washed fishing village situated on a sandy cove, and finds a comfortable room and three superb meals a day for about ninety-five cents a day. The surf is wonderful, and the native wine (priced at about five cents a quart) is fit for a king.

Or he finds himself in a small village in the mountains, inhabited by gay but simple folk. He loves them and is loved in return, and rents a cottage for two dollars a month. He dines on clotted cream, berries with the dew still on them, home-made cheeses, and from his front porch he looks out over a valley that is a riot of wild flowers.

When he adds up his living expenses at the end of the month he finds them to be less than the cost of a mile-long taxi ride at home.

These are fine dreams, and great fun—until you get up and start looking for such places. Then comes the rude awakening.

There just aren't any such spots. Oh yes, I know one is always reading about them, and hearing about them, but try to find one. I've been searching almost as long as Ponce de Leon did for the Fountain of Youth, and so far have come just about as close to my goal.

I have found plenty of small villages on the ocean, all right. But either they didn't have a place a man would live in, even if it was thrown in, or someone had smothered up the locals concerning the price of board and room in the rest of the country.

There are any number of secluded hamlets high in the Alps, where the view takes your breath away. But a man doesn't like to live exactly like a goat, or a grazing cow, even if he is likely to trip over the Matterhorn while going to the town pump to draw his shaving water.

There must be places right in the United States where a man can live for half a song if he cares to. What about the beachers at Yankee Stadium? There must be some cozy corners under there that the rain doesn't get to, and certainly the delicatessen dealers in the neighborhood are simple and friendly enough to suit anyone.

There's an empty lot in Buffalo that I know of where a man could stay without paying much rent. And he wouldn't be too far from Niagara Falls, one of the great scenic wonders of the world. And there's no end of unspoiled spots in the Okefenokee Swamp.

It's no trouble to live on a dollar a day anywhere in the world, if one doesn't care for any of the creature comforts. The down payment on a dog house is very little, and there are thousands and thou-

Watching Pennies, Living On A Shoestring In Venice

By HENRY McLEMORE

VENICE—Every traveler dreams of finding a beautiful, unspoiled spot where he can live on a shoestring—or half a shoestring if he catches his pennies.

In these dreams, the traveler happens on a tiny, sun-washed fishing village situated on a sandy cove, and finds a comfortable room and three superb meals a day for about ninety-five cents a day. The surf is wonderful, and the native wine (priced at about five cents a quart) is fit for a king.

Or he finds himself in a small village in the mountains, inhabited by gay but simple folk. He loves them and is loved in return, and rents a cottage for two dollars a month. He dines on clotted cream, berries with the dew still on them, home-made cheeses, and from his front porch he looks out over a valley that is a riot of wild flowers.

When he adds up his living expenses at the end of the month he finds them to be less than the cost of a mile-long taxi ride at home.

These are fine dreams, and great fun—until you get up and start looking for such places. Then comes the rude awakening.

There just aren't any such spots. Oh yes, I know one is always reading about them, and hearing about them, but try to find one. I've been searching almost as long as Ponce de Leon did for the Fountain of Youth, and so far have come just about as close to my goal.

Ever Eat Any Octopus Boiled In Its Own Ink?

Approaches to High Fidelity By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press Staff Correspondent
A fraction of the music the late Arturo Toscanini conducted is available on phonograph records that meet present standards for highest fidelity.

This is to the regret of thousands of persons with high quality musical reproducing equipment, who considered Toscanini the greatest of conductors.
In any case, Toscanini is gone and record companies are casting about for a successor to him in the public fancy. Naturally, a suitable successor has to have what broadly goes by the name of glamour, as well as a touch of genius.

London Records' Entry
London records has put, within the past few days, three 12-inch LP's, conducted by its entry, on the market. Their entry is Ernest Ansermet, a Swiss with a fine set of chin whiskers.

This Week In Manhattan

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—This week in Manhattan:

Miss Florida Citrus of 1957 says that these days personality rates higher than pulchritude in winning beauty contests.

Frances Layton, 19, beautiful, engaged and busy promoting citrus, stopped briefly in Manhattan on her way to Europe for two weeks vacation—part of her prize for winning the title bestowed annually by the Florida Citrus Commission.

"Oh, curves help," the 35-23-35 Miss Layton conceded in an interview. "A girl isn't thought about much if she doesn't have a passable figure. But personality and poise count more. General appearance is important, too."

Worked Up
Miss Layton worked her way up to the present title the same way most other beauty queens do—by first impressing the home town folks. She was Miss Duval county (her home town is Callahan, Fla., pop. 1,000) by the time she was 16.

She since has been queen of several Florida festivals, was Miss Dixie one year, and last year reigned as Florida Watermelon Queen.

"If you want to win 'em, you have to keep entering them," said Miss Layton.

She also has modeled and given water skiing exhibitions at the Cypress Gardens, in Winter Haven. It was there she met her fiancé, Dick Pope Jr., son of the Gardens' owner.

"Read Up"
These days, she said, most titles mean work. She no sooner was named Citrus Queen than she was treated to tours of plants where chilled citrus sections are processed. Someone from the commission handed her a batch of books and said, "read up on the industry."

Said Frances, "want to hear some figures? Last year, the industry processed 135 million boxes of citrus, of which..."

Film star Paulette Goddard may go to work in fashion.

Manufacturer David Klein of New York disclosed that his firm is talking with the actress about her helping to promote the firm's new line of soft, daytime dresses. If Miss Goddard takes the job, she would help to stage and commentate fashion shows. Klein said she would not design.

Every dog has his day... a dog named "Butch" will have his on Easter. Butch, a Cocker Spaniel, is mascot for a fashion show at one of the local hotels Sunday. He will wear a scaled-to-dog size bonnet, of natural Milan straw, trimmed with red poppies and tied under the chin with a red gros-grain ribbon.

Will You Hear Him?
You'll be seeing Timmy Thurston, 3, of Cincinnati, Ohio, in newspapers and on billboards soon, but will you hear his plea? The hard-of-hearing lad is the American Hearing Society's poster boy for this year, and his picture will key appeals for funds during National Hearing Week, May 5-11.

Sulace Romande in 1918 and has directed it since, in addition to other American and European orchestras.

The three records, all London LP's, recorded on the RIAA curve, are Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 6 in B Minor, Op. 42" and "Symphony No. 4 in A Major, Op. 53" on one record (LL-1485) and Bartok's "Concerto for Orchestra (LL-1692)." Tchaikowski Best

The Tchaikovsky symphony is the best of the three although listeners won't be disappointed with the musical quality of any.

But a point of unquestioned quality is the recording in these three records. London is a strict adherent to the "one microphone, on location" technique of recording.

This, in addition to its long experience in high fidelity recording, lends to these records a rare quality of realism.

A new record for the high fidelity listener attracted by out-of-the-way musical sounds is MGM's "Zing Went the Strings of My Harp" (E-3486, 12-inch LP, RIAA curve). The 12 pieces on the record, most of them popular standards, were recorded by Robert Maxwell, who plays the harp, and his orchestra.

Better on Up-Beat
The recording is good; pieces played on the up-beat sounded better from a personal standpoint, than the others.

Pianist Dick Hyman has gotten 60 pieces, most of them old ones, on another new MGM record (E-3535, 12-inch LP, RIAA curve). There is a guitar, bass and drum accompaniment with the piano and the recording work is of high quality.

This is one of the records that it takes little concentration to listen to. The music will appeal especially to the age group that was living it up in the early and middle 30s.

Lenore Engdahl, a pianist who was born in Minneapolis and now lives there with a husband and three children, is featured in a new record in MGM's classical catalogue.

Miss Engdahl plays Paul Dukas' "Variations, Interlude and Finale on a Theme by Rameau" on one side of the record (E-3421, 12-inch LP, RIAA curve) and Cesar Franck's "Prelude, Choral and Fugue" on the other.

Georgia was the first state in the Union to grow cotton for use in industry.

LONG, LONG AGO—The first U.S. Navy submarine, the USS Holland, cruises with her trial crew on deck way back in 1900. Built by the firm headed by John Holland in Groton, Conn., the sub has influenced design of the newest underwater U. S. Navy craft, the Skipjack, now building, which has borrowed the Holland's shape. The USS Holland was accepted by the Navy April 11, 1900.
